UNION REVIVAL MAY HAVE RINK

REV. F. F. WYATT ANNOUNCES WILLINGNESS TO GIVE WAY TO LARGER MEETING.

MUCH WORK IS AHEAD

Large Crowd Attends Services Monday Night—Interest Seems to Be Constantly Increasing and Sermons Are Better.

Rev. Frederick F. Wyatt, pastor of the First Christian church, under whose auspices Messrs. Haddock and Stanley are conducting the Riverside rink revival says that the revival will close Tuesday night.

The First Christian church, being in perfect sympathy with every movement to save people and bless and build up the city and vicinity, will be glad to cooperate with Mr. Cates and turn the rink over to him Wednesday night, giving the union revival the benefit of the unexpired lease.

Mr. Wyatt says that the fundamental for which the Christian church pleads is Christian union, and that it has always been and is now willing and ready to make any possible concessions consistent with the word of God for the sake of a united effort, and that it believes in faith, liberty and charity.

Rev. Mr. Wyatt says the Christian revival has surpassed his early expectations; that the members have been loyal and that greater results have been obtained than he anticipated; that the interest at the present time is more intense than at any prior date since the meeting began, and that a thorough determination to erect a new modern church edifice has been manifested by the congregation in a very substantial way and with no uncertain sound.

Sunday, Mr. Wyatt says, was by far the greatest day in the history of the Christian church of San Angelo, and a day to be long remembered by its members for its wonderful achievements. The church has been blessed in every way, and it is confidently believed that it will exert more force for good than ever before, and that it will continue to grow. Plans have been carefully laid for a great work, and the success already attained leads to the conclusion that they will be executed.

Mr. Haddock preached Sunday at 11 o'clock on "Faithful Continuance" and at 8:30 p. m. on "Salvation by Grace." Both sermons were well received, and eleven persons responded to the invitations.

Monday night Mr. Haddock spoke on "The Heart and Its Chastises." He said that while God did not give a dictionary definition of the heart, He told so much about its functions and faculties that it was easy to identify it, and that the Bible clearly taught that men thought, reasoned, understood, believed, loved, condemned, approved and willed with the heart, and that the change of heart, to be complete, must involve the intellect, sensibilities and will. He said that conversion, to be genuine, must involve the whole heart, changing the intellect, the sensibilities and the will. That in order to change the intellect the truth as it is in Christ must be presented logically; that to change the sensibilities or faculties of loving the goodness of God and the love of Jesus Christ must be truthfully placed before the people, and that to change the will the scriptural motives must be appealed to and applied, setting before persons the rewards and punishments incident to obedience and disobedience.

Incidentally, in illustrating his points, Mr. Haddock spoke of dancing, Sunday baseball and "other crimes popular in San Angelo" as he termed them, and delivered a convincing argument in favor of a pure-hearted and clean-handed church. He said: "These popular evils are damaging the churches of this fair city and they promise to wreck and ruin the rising generation. I appeal to the men and women of mature years to exercise their influence for good while it is possible to save their children from such blighting cruces."

Tuesday night's services will be the last of the series, and a cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend.

Mrs. Ed Pitmann and children, who have been visiting the family of Bert Brown the past week, returned Monday to their home in Amarillo.

Miss Bettie Cooper returned home Saturday from a visit to Holly Springs, Miss.

GEORGE H. EARLE, JR., Philadelphia lawyer, banker and manufacturer who pushed to a successful conclusion the suit of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company against the sugar trust and who accuses the federal government of recklessness in enforcing the anti-trust law against the sugar refiners.

LAST CALL ON LANIN BONUS

IF THE PEOPLE OF SAN ANGELO WANT THE RAILROAD THEY WILL SUBSCRIBE TUESDAY.

MILES STRONG BIDDER

Committee Meets at 3:30 O'clock to Check up the Day's Work—Railroad Promoters Want an Immediate Answer.

Tuesday morning bright and early San Angelo's hustling railroad committee will start out on its final effort to induce the people of this city to subscribe for a good thing. Mr. Lanin, who proposes to build a railroad from San Angelo to Sterling City, is here and wants an immediate answer.

In other words, Tuesday should be the day when things are to happen in San Angelo. If the people have at last realized that they are about to lose one of the best things that has ever been offered this town, and are willing to put up the proposition will go through. If they hold back as they have in the past on this deal, it will doubtless be dropped, and the road will go to some other town—possibly Miles.

The committee will meet at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of checking up and seeing what has been accomplished. About $10,000 is needed.

Miss Palmer of Houston is in the city, a guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Merchant of 208 East Twobig avenue.

Miss Mary Bugg, who has been visiting Miss Mona Utterback of this city, returned Saturday to her home at Bardwell, Ky.

OVERTURNS LAMP EXPLOSION FOLLOWS

House in East San Angelo Owned by Ben Stites and Occupied by Ed King and G. E. Alexander Burns

San Angelo's first casualty as the result of the Fourth of July came Monday morning about 4:30 o'clock, when Ed King in East San Angelo overturned a lamp in his haste to start a fire in the cook stove in order that he could get an early start for the Carlsbad barbecue.

When the explosion came kerosene oil was scattered all over the kitchen, and within a few minutes the entire house was enveloped in a mass of flames. Practically nothing was saved, the inmates considering themselves fortunate in escaping with their lives.

It is estimated that the total loss will amount to $2800, of which amount about $2000 is covered by insurance. The house was the property of Ben Stites, and was occupied by Ed King and G. E. Alexander.

CARLSBAD'S BIG JOLLIFICATION

ALL SAN ANGELO CLOSES SHOP IN ORDER TO ENJOY FOURTH CELEBRATION THERE.

BARBECUE OF MUTTON

Several Prominent Speakers Address Afternoon Gathering—Young and Old Dance During Evening. Everybody Happy.

That Carlsbad is a good entertainer, and the people know what to expect when that little town issues invitations saying "come, we are going to show you a good time," was exemplified Monday by the enormous crowd that attended the July Fourth barbecue and jollification there. Practically every store in San Angelo was closed throughout the entire day, and it seemed as if about three-fourths of the population had been suddenly transferred to Carlsbad.

From the dawn of day until sundown people were leaving in private vehicles, automobiles and wagons, all headed for one place—Carlsbad. The streets were deserted, except for the autos and other means of conveyance that were moving toward the scene of the big celebration.

During the afternoon speeches were made by S. E. Taylor, Col. C. C. Walsh, T. O. Woldert and L. H. Brightman, all of this city. They paid glowing tributes to the citizens of Carlsbad, told of the great future of that place, and closed with a few pointers regarding the necessity of making up that bonus for the proposed San Angelo and Sterling City railroad. "Why, if that road were running now, every man, woman and child of San Angelo would be here with you today," said one of the speakers. And "no one doubted it, either."

The visitors were fed on mutton and beef barbecue, and there was no shortage. Carlsbad people know enough about these San Angelines to always have plenty to eat. There was ample shade, an abundance of good, cold water, and the day was not overly hot. In other words, it was a "picnic" from start to finish.

At night the attendance was even larger than in the afternoon. A big dance was given, and both old and young had the time of their lives. It was an occasion that will long be remembered.

Garden City Sales.

Garden City, Texas, July 5.—The Garden City Land and Abstract company of this city reports the following real estate deals:

T. J. Seaboldt to J. M. Ratliff of Valley View, one section; consideration $4600.

J. W. Rodgers to William Buckley of Bowie, one section; consideration $7000.

Ed Stone to W. L. Lemmons, residence in this city; consideration $900.

J. W. Martin to Dr. W. C. Kincaid of Trent, one section near town; consideration $6500; also three business lots on the square; consideration $2500, and six residence lots for $1000.

The company reports that the outlook is brighter for business this season than it has been since the money panic. Many land buyers are making inquiries about this part of Texas and a great many are coming out and some are buying land for homes. The outlook is very flattering to have two railroads within the next two years.

Surprise Wedding.

A surprise wedding occurred Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when Miss Sophia Probandt was united in marriage to Robert Raphael at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Probandt on College avenue.

Mrs. Raphael is beloved by all who know her and she has endeared herself to them by her many lovable traits. Mr. Raphael is one of San Angelo's prominent young business men, having been associated with the firm of Probandt & Raphael for many years.

The happy couple left on Sunday afternoon's train for a bridal tour of three weeks, after which they will return to San Angelo to make their future home.

Hayney Blocker departed Monday for an extended trip through the great northwest.

Mrs. T. H. Edmondson of Lewisville is visiting her daughter Mrs. D. K. Aly of this city.

CUT THE WEEDS AND CLEAN CITY

CITIZENS URGED TO TAKE ON CONVENTION AIRS AND MAKE SAN ANGELO SPOTLESS.

MAYORS ARE COMING

If Everything Is Not in Perfect Condition the Visitors Will Be Sure to Talk About It—Several Hundred Expected.

San Angelo is to entertain the mayors' association of Texas this month; the time is only two weeks off. Great plans have been made for their entertainment, every effort has been exerted to draw a large crowd, and, in fact, every little detail has been looked after—with one exception.

Have the citizens themselves made any preparation? No, none whatever. The recent rains have had the effect of producing an elegant crop of weeds—they are to be seen in every section of the city. A great many lawns are unkempt, alleys are dirty and the mosquitoes are growing horse size and of mule strength.

Mayor Paul has noticed these things and he requests The Press-News to ask the good people of this town to try themselves during the next two weeks and see just how much they can improve the looks of San Angelo. He requests that every property owner see to it that the weeds are cut down—this is something that must be attended to. Weeds not only afford a splendid place for the breeding of mosquitoes, but they are unhealthful in other ways. First of all, get rid of the weeds. Then turn attention to tin cans and trash of every kind.

"We are going to entertain several hundred people and we simply can't afford to let them come to a dirty town," said Mayor Paul Monday. "I had an awfully hard time once before when I asked the people to clean up their premises, but I do not anticipate anything of the kind now. I believe that the common sense idea will appeal to everyone who has the interests of San Angelo at heart."

"I will see to it that the city itself puts all of its streets in a clean, sanitary condition. Last year while attending the convention I had several mayors to approach me and tell me that if San Angelo were not in a cleaner condition when they visit us than Mineral Wells was, they were going to go away from here and talk about us. Now, they didn't mean to give Mineral Wells a black eye, but at the same time they were of the opinion that the town should have been cleaned up for them, and they gave me a tip so that San Angelo could profit by it."

E. G. Titworth returned Saturday to his home in Miles after transacting business in the city.

Mrs. S. H. McConnell, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Clark for several days, returned to her home in Comanche Monday.

Miss Le Compte, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Holman, departed Monday for Sims' ranch near Paint Rock.

GLASSCOCK COUNTY VOTES BOND ISSUE

Architects and Builders Are Submitting Bids for the Erection of $32,000 Court House.

Garden City, Texas, July 5.—Glasscock county has voted a bond issue of $32,000 to build a court house. The commissioners' court is now in session and quite a number of architects and builders are here with plans and specifications for the proposed building, which will no doubt be put under construction in the near future.

Garden City will also build a $6000 stone school building this summer. The rainfall continues over this part of the country and crops and grass are fine. In fact, the county is in better shape than it has for a long time.

W. J. Crowder, who has been visiting his brother-in-law, J. R. Haras, of this city returned to his home in Sareveport, La., Saturday.

YOKUM BOOSTER.

Ed S. Cox Tells of Conditions in His Section—Corn Is Knee High.

Ed S. Cox, a Yoakum booster, is in San Angelo on a short visit. Mr. Cox states that the country tributary to Yoakum has had some pretty good rains of late, and that everything is in splendid condition. But it takes a great deal less rain there than in most other places. The ground is sandy and holds moisture a long time. Corn is knee high in most places and cotton is doing fine. Twenty sections of school land have been opened up and are selling off rapidly.

Mr. Cox is a brother of J. S. Cox of this city and is a close friend of W. D. Currier, who is the owner of a large farm about seven miles from the Cox place in Yoakum.

Henry Daniels and Miss Delcina Hubbard of Wall were married at the Protestant Methodist church parsonage at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, Rev. E. C. Corn officiating. Mr. Daniels is connected with the Orient.

MORGAN BOOSTS MINERAL WELLS

COMPANY TO OPERATE NEW RESORT HAS BEEN ORGANIZED AND OFFICIALS ELECTED.

SUCCESS IS ASSURED

Work on Large Hotel and Other Improvements Should Be Started Within the Next Sixty Days. Progress Rapid.

With T. J. Morgan, president; B. T. Welch, vice president; J. S. Lane, secretary, a company has been organized for the purpose of promoting the Morgan Wells near Christoval, and, according to latest information, the organization of stockholders will have been completed within sixty days. This accomplished, the actual work of improving the wells, building a park and a large hotel will begin. It will be recalled that The Press-News published an interview with George Hill of Comanche about two weeks ago, in which the plans of the company were briefly outlined.

President Morgan, who lives at Christoval and has been a resident of West Texas for the past twenty years, is now in Fort Worth furthering the interests of the company. He was the original owner of the wells, but on June 18 he took others in with him, and at present there are fifty shareholders.

Mr. Morgan writes The Press-News that everything is progressing rapidly. He says that with the natural advantages of the Concho country, which are far above those of any other section of the state, its good water, splendid climate and flowing mineral wells, the undertaking is bound to be a success.

As for the interurban line, however, Mr. Morgan says his people are not in position to do anything just now. "Possibly Mr. Hill and his associates will come in and build one," he continues, "and I am sure all the South Concho country will help in the undertaking."

At the Crystal.

The Crystal offered two new features Monday night, one of which was "Love Leads All Rafts." It was both pathetic and thrilling. It makes those who are in the ranks feel proud of themselves, while within the hearts of the lonely it inspires a strong feeling for that pleasure for which love only is capable of giving. After all, "what is more pleasure than the pain of being loved and loving?"

Thompson and Farrell appeared in their high-class English travesty, entertaining in their singing and talking act. From the expressions heard from the large crowds that visited the Crystal this team is one of the best that has ever visited San Angelo. There was fun galore and no one has been heard complaining of not being highly entertained.

Miss Kidd of Limestone county is visiting Miss Pearl Lee at the latter's home in Angelo Heights.

Father Mass of Rowena, who has been visiting Father P. F. Nichols, returned home Saturday.

ELKS GERMAN GRAND AFFAIR

SAN ANGELO'S SOCIETY SET DOES JUSTICE TO FOURTH OF JULY BY EARLY MORNING DANCE.

DECORATIONS COSTLY

Everything in Harmony With the Occasion—Sprinzer's Orchestra Furnishes the Music—Those Who Attended.

Shortly after 5 o'clock Monday morning San Angelo's society set assembled at the Elks' hall to celebrate the nation's natal day with dancing and conviviality.

The spacious ball room was decorated in purple and white, the Elks' colors, and the decorators had patriotically added a tinge of red, white and blue.

The billiard room was an entrancing forest of palms and potted plants and in this room was served a delicious little lunch, consisting of chicken sandwiches with coffee and chocolate.

The lodge rooms as a whole were elaborately and tastefully decorated and it was an inspiring sight to see so many young hearts gay. Sprinzer's orchestra furnished the music, and the selections were a delightful combination of harmony and good time.

The committees in charge of the affair were as follows:

Reception committee—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. DeBerry, Will Day, W. L. Hughes, J. P. Dumas.

Refreshment committee—Mesdames Barnett, DeBerry and Jones.

J. O. Henderson took charge of the catering.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames A. A. DeBerry, A. D. West, J. A. Barnett, J. L. Ely, T. O. Gorman, J. C. Landon, Silas H. Keeton, Mrs. J. M. Hanse, Mrs. Julia May Duggan, Misses Georgia McCall, Lurlyne Hindson, Anna Burns, Itasca Hill, Ellen Hillman, Jodie and Ethel Lee, Josephine Carruthers, Kathleen Wallace, Patsy Mason, Annabell and Bertha Potts, Odessa White, Mary Henderson, Addie Bishop, Mona Utterback, Maymie Utterback, Pearl Lee, Beas Tweedy, Erin Andrew, Stella Ricketts, Verma Ricketts, Willie V. Conger, Lillian Weathered, Helen Ragsdale, Madeline Taylor, Mary Pyle, Ruby Hillis, Anne E. May Hendricks, Ethel Timmins, Gladys Hall, Mary Conger, Bettie Cooper, Edna Oglesby, Vivian Humphries, Lula B. Adams, Sadie Stephens, and Miss Bugg; Messrs. L. B. Beazley, Will Day, James P. Dumas, Tully DeBerry, L. O. Dailey, J. C. Burnside, Dr. Proctor, J. H. Evans, E. H. Laidie, Charles Green, W. L. Hughes, J. O. Henderson, E. M. Johnson, Claude R. Jones, J. F. Little, L. L. Montgomery, B. F. Meador, Milburn McCarty, Lester E. Ogg, Rube Neely, Charles T. Paul, J. G. Schooler, Carl Patten, W. E. Japhet, Joe M. Taylor, Ed Newman, Bailey Adams, Gus Weathered, J. H. Wooten, Jose Tweedy, Jared Hill, John Abe March, Jr., F. O. Kirby, Willie Burns, Don Lee, C. C. McBurnett, J. Willis Johnson, Frank Farr, Alvis Clora, Harry Baker, B. F. Meador.

At the Yale.

The pictures shown Monday night at the Yale were "How Mr. Jones Saw the Carnival," "The Duke's Motto" and "Old Love is the Best."

"How Mr. Jones Saw the Carnival" was one of the best comedy pictures seen here. "The Duke's Motto" was very tragic and was considered to be one of the best pictures of its kind. "While Old Love is the Best" was very pathetic and held the audience with that certainty of which all remembrances of love affairs are capable.

The Yale offered two vaudeville acts with each show. Teissedre and Atherton in their trick piano playing can not be excelled. They handle themselves admirably, and besides showing great skill and training, give the audience a pleasing performance.

The Earls in their comedy sketch, "The Country Girl and Her Guest," furnished a laugh from start to finish. If there were any laughs coming they succeeded in snuffing the tickle-box.

It must be remembered that it is something out of the ordinary for a playhouse to carry two vaudeville teams in one show, and the people seem to appreciate the efforts on the part of the management to give them something extra for their money, for there was an unusual attendance Monday night. The two teams will remain throughout the week.

Cody Thomas, who lives in Comanche and who has been visiting the family of P. R. Clark for the last few days, returned home Monday.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Skaags and Wyckholme, two eccentric adventurers, will the island of Japat and its ruby mines to their respective heirs, Robert Brown and Lady Deppingham, provided they marry each other within a year. If they do not marry, the island and its treasures revert to the Moslem islanders. Brown already has a wife, Lady Deppingham a husband.

Wyckholme held to his agreement with Skaags by bequeathing his share of the property to him, but it was definitely set forth that at the death of his partner it was to go to Agnes Ruthven, the grandchild—with reservations.

Skaags found that his daughter, who married Brown, the American, likewise had died, but that she had left behind a son and heir. This son, Robert Brown, was in school when the joint will was designed, and he was to have Skaags' fortune at the death of Wyckholme in case that worthy survived.

In order to keep the business and the property intact and under the perpetual control of one partnership the granddaughter of Wyckholme was to marry the grandson of Skaags within the year after the death of the surviving partner. The penalty to be imposed upon them if the conditions were not complied with, neither to be excusable for the defection of the other, lay in the provision that the whole island and its accumulated fortune, including the land (and they owned practically the entire island), were to go to the islanders. Wyckholme named Sir John Allencrombie as one executor, and Skaags selected Alfred Bowen of Boston as the other.

As Wyckholme was the first to die, Skaags became sole owner of the island and its treasures, and it was he who made the final will in accordance with the original plans.

The island of Japat, with its jewels and its ancient chateau, of modern construction, represented several million pounds sterling. Wyckholme's dream of erecting an exact replica of a famous old chateau found response in the equally whimsical Skaags, who constantly bemoaned the fact that it was impossible to spend money. For five years after its completion the two old men, with an army of Arabian retainers and Nubian slaves, lived like oriental potentates in the huge structure on the highlands overlooking the sea.

Skaags seldom went from one part of his home to another without a guide. It was so vast and so labyrinthine that he feared he might become lost forever. The dungeon below the chateau and the moat with its bridges were the especial delight of these lonely, romantic old chaps. One of the builders of this rare pile was now sleeping peacefully in the sarcophagus beneath the chapel; the other was lying dead and undiscovered in the very heart of his possessions.

The magnificent plans of the partners would have been a glorious tribute to romance had it not been for one fatal obstacle. The trouble was that young Miss Ruthven and young Mr. Brown did not know that their grandfathers lived, much less that they owned an island in the south seas.

Therefore it is quite natural that they could not have known they were expected to marry each other. Miss Ruthven, from motives peculiar to the head and not to the heart, set about to earn a title for herself. Three months before the death of Mr. Skaags she was married to Lord Deppingham, who possessed a title and a country place that rightfully belonged to his creditors. Mr. Brywne, just out of college, hung out his shingle as a physician and surgeon and forthwith, with all the confidence his profession is supposed to inspire, proceeded to marry the daughter of a brokerage banker in Boston and at once found himself struggling with the difficulties of Back Bay society.

A clause in the will, letter of instruction attached, demanded that the two grandchildren should take up their residence in the chateau within six months after the death of the testator, there to remain through the compulsory days of courtship, up to and including the wedding day. Four months had already passed. It was also stipulated that the executors should receive £10,000 each at the expiration of their year of servitude, provided it was shown in court that they had carried out the wishes of the testator or in failing had made the most diligent effort within human power.

"It is very explicit," murmured Mr. Mare for the third time. "I suppose the first step is to notify young Mr. Brown of his misfortune. His lordship has the task of breaking the news to Lady Deppingham."

"You are assuming that I intend to act under this ridiculous will."

"Certainly. It means about $50,000 to you at the end of the year, with nothing to do but to notify two persons of the terms in the will. If they're not divorced and married again at the end of the year you and Sir John simply turn everything over to the Malays, or whatever they are. I think it's easy sledding for you."

Young Mr. Brown hastened downtown in response to a message from the American executor and was told of the will which had been filed in England, the home land of the testator. To say that this debonair, good looking young gentleman was flabbergasted would be putting it more than mildly. "What shall I do—what can I do. Mr. Bowen?" he gasped, bewildered.

HORNISH GETS OUT NEW PHONE BOOK

Gain of 200 Names Shown as Compared With Old Directory, There Being a Total of About 1500.

Showing a gain of almost 200 names over the old directory, the new telephone guide for San Angelo, published by M. E. Hornish, is being distributed. The directory contains about 1500 names. In all there are fifty-eight pages, gotten up in a very attractive style. Railroad and automobile time tables are given; there is a handy numerical list of telephones, and an emergency sheet giving the numbers of the fire department, the city and county officers, drug stores, physicians and undertakers.

In fact, it seems that every little detail looking to the convenience of the subscribers has been attended to, and taken as a whole it is even a better directory than is gotten out in Fort Worth, Dallas and other large cities in the state.

In compiling this directory Mr. Hornish has given San Angelo by far the best telephone guide it has ever had and has demonstrated his ability to "do things." He is also publishing directories for twenty-two other towns in the state.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by indigestible food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dizziness, unnatural sleepiness, sick headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

DIVIDE HONORS DOUBLE-HEADER

SAN ANGELO AND BALLINGER PUT UP GREAT EXHIBITION OF NATIONAL GAME.

DUPREE AN IRON MAN

First Contest Goes to Blues, 2 to 0. Cliffdwellers Cop the Second, 4 to 0--The Ballinger Players Are Liked by Local Fans.

Great Scott! How they did play! Two fast games in less than three hours is certainly going some for the semi-professional teams that play on the West Texas circuit.

In the first game Jimmy Miller, the idol of the local fans, shot them in with such speed, precision and sharp breaking curves that not a single Cliffdweller was able to make his way to Gloryland. But he failed to connect when he attempted the "Iron Man" stunt and tried to pitch the second game also. In this round he was liberal with passes and the Ballinger boys made several good bingles, all of which combined to put the kibosh on the home team. Dupree pitched a great game the first round and only lost it by a score of 2 to 0, and he relieved Hancock in the first of the second and was even in better form, not allowing a single boy in blue to score. Dupree will be back in the league next year; just watch his smoke!

In the first game Ogden started the fireworks when he patted a long one to right, which the fielder failed to get, and "Ottie" went all the way around. San Angelo made its second score when Overby tapped out a scorching single, and "Big Boy" Standifer leaned up against the sphere with his wagon tongue. When the smoke cleared away Overby was across the pan and "Stan" was holding tight to the third sack. At this time none was out, but "Dup" settled down and nobody went.

In the second game, which only went seven innings, the Cliffdwellers strated the ceremonies by getting two in the first, and before the game was over they had a couple more to make it look nice on the score sheet. To deny that the boys from Ballinger are a fast team would be unspornsmalike, for they are undoubtedly the best bunch seen on the local diamond for several years, and best of all, they play an honest, straightforward game. All the home fans will welcome the Cliffdwellers on their return trip, for the sportsmen of this city love square sport and condemn rowdyism.

In Sunday's game Ballinger was victorious by a score of 4 to 3. It was a snappy game, with every player on both teams on his toes and playing as if his life depended upon it. Luke Robinson was on the slab for the locals and he pitched a swif game and battled like Haus Wagn, making two triples. Stanford, for Ballinger, was also in prime form, doing great work in close places. The box score for the
