BAYONET SENT THROUGH BODY OF DALLAS MAN

CLAIMED THAT HE ATTEMPTED TO CROSS GUARD LINE MAIN-TAINED FOR PROTECTION.

SERGEANT MANLEY IS UNDER ARREST

Whitman Claims That in Acting as He Did He Was Only Performing a Duty Intrusted to Him. In Custody.

PROFESSOR L. H. BAILEY. Professor Liberty H. Bailey, member of President Roosevelt's commission on country life, is one of the best known of American authorities on agriculture. He has been director of the college of agriculture in Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., since 1903.

Special to The Press-News. Dallas, Oct. 23.—Immediately before the arrival of the special train bearing President Taft and party at the Fair grounds late this afternoon, Peter Richenstein, deputy clerk of Dallas county, was probably fatally stabbed with a bayonet in the hands of Sergeant J. D. Manley of a local military company.

The incident occurred along the line march where thousands of visitors waited to welcome President Taft as he was escorted to the grand stand to deliver his address.

The bayonet was forced clear through Richenstein's body and he is reported as dying in a hospital. Sergeant Manley was arrested and held pending the outcome of Richenstein's injury.

It is said that Richenstein attempted to cross the guard line which the soldiers had been ordered to maintain in the protection of President Taft. Manley contends that he performed duty.

In Houston. Publishers' Press. Houston, Oct. 23.—President Taft arrived here this morning at 7 o'clock and the reception committee took him to the Alice hotel. A military salute was fired in his honor. He reviewed a children's parade and made a short speech. He stayed here only three hours, and left for Dallas, where he spent the night.

Carnival. Publishers' Press. Washington, Oct. 23.—Revenue cutters at Windom, which was detailed to carry President Taft from La quinta Cornus Christi and return, has been ordered to enforce regulations for safety in navigable waters at Houston during the carnival week from November 5 to 13.

Board Bill. Publishers' Press. Pittsburg, Oct. 23.—Former Congressman Clarence Dunnvander, speaker of the house of representatives of Nevada, was arrested in connection with a $100 board.

Harriman's Plans. Publishers' Press. New York, Oct. 23.—The report comes from Petersburg that at the time of his death, Harriman was planning to acquire control of all railroads in Asia.

Cup. Publishers' Press. New York, Oct. 23.—The international aviation cup which was won by Curtiss, the American, during aviation contests at Rheims, was brought here today on the steamer Providence from France.

Masons. Publishers' Press. Washington, Oct. 23.—The Grand Lodge of Scottish Rite Masons, which turned tonight, conferred the third degree on the following: C. Laderman, Big Springs; A. V. Lane, Dallas; J. J. Ormabee, El Paso; J. W. North, Dallas.

PURPOSES OF WEST TEXAS DEVELOPMENT CONGRESS

SAN ANGELO, OCT. 23, 1909.

To the People of West Texas: In order that the purposes of, and some of the ends to be accomplished by, those interested in the organization of the West Texas Development Congress at San Angelo, beginning 3 p. m., Monday, December 6, next, may be understood, this, the general committee, having in charge the preliminary organization, deems it appropriate and necessary to make this statement for the information and consideration of those expected to become interested.

The promotion of this congress is born of no selfish or political purpose, for, if the judgment and desires of the committee maintain, the organization will abstain absolutely from personal and party politics and will advance no special interest or locality to the detriment of any other interest or locality. The first meeting has been called for San Angelo, because those issuing the call reside in San Angelo, and it was proper that they should undertake the entertainment of the thousand delegates expected to attend in their home. If the first congress resolves itself into a permanent organization, thereafter the regular meetings will alternate, as we think they should, from place to place throughout the territory desiring them.

Neither is this organization being promoted to antagonize or to ask special favors over any other part of Texas, for this is both unnecessary and contrary to the desires of the west. On the other hand, one of its chief ends will be to disseminate such information concerning the resources, material conditions and economic needs of the west as will promote a thorough understanding among reading and thinking men everywhere, who must, in consequence, become friends of the west.

It is not within the province, nor is it the intention, of this committee to name all the subjects which will be considered by this congress—that, the delegates will control, and properly so,—but the subjects the needed consideration of which prompted this movement, and of which the public is entitled to know, are, in part, as follows:

(1) The bringing of the west closer together in one general organization through which united effort can be systematically directed, taking the place of individual action.

(2) The promotion of a still more friendly feeling on the part of north, east and south Texas for the west.

(3) The more speedy importation of farmers and capital—farmers to convert our prairies and valleys into farms and dot them with church houses and school buildings, realizing that in the end, the well being of our country must largely, if not almost entirely, depend on the agricultural class; and capital to assist in the installation of our much needed public utilities, and the building of needed public institutions.

(4) The encouragement of railroad building throughout West Texas.

(5) The improvement of our educational conditions.

(6) The necessity of co-operation in making better roads and public highways in general. While those we have are perhaps the best nature has given any country, yet, by concerted, well directed effort, they could be improved.

(7) The promotion of irrigation where needed.

These are some, but cannot be all, the questions which such a congress could well discuss and consider. Among others, not above mentioned, is the vital subject of general legislation. The economic conditions and needs of the west are universally misunderstood, which fact has, and will continue, as long as this misunderstanding exists, to result, on the one hand, in needed legislation being denied, and, on the other, in the enactment of laws inimical to our interests. Therefore, the committee believes that this congress should address itself to the consideration of such measures as will affect the west, or any part of it, and which has been, or should be, proposed for legislative enactment,—believing that no right thinking man would gainsay our people the right to inform their legislature of their conditions and needs.

With these ends in view, the committee indulges the hope that every county judge, mayor and head of every farming and commercial organization in the west, will attend this meeting, and that each will appoint, as duly accredited delegates, five or more progressive citizens, who will attend.

It is further desired that the editors of the papers of the west come, in person, and that before coming, they will consider the wisdom of this move, believing that when the plan is understood, they will encourage the attendance as affording the means of accomplishing a great public good.

GENERAL COMMITTEE. The foregoing address epitomizes in detail the aims and objects of the West Texas Development congress, and responses to this address, may now be expected from time to time.

Chairman Bartholomew has called a conference of the people of West Texas to be held at Abilene on November 22, for the purpose of fully setting forth the needs of such an organization, and the ends hoped to be obtained. This conference will not discuss the material side of the coming congress, as much as it will be devoted to the ends hoped to be accomplished. Inasmuch as the idea of holding a congress originated in this city it is deemed best to advertise the objects as much as possible, so that an intense interest and one in keeping with the importance of the movement can be aroused. The Abilene conference will, it is hoped, result in all who attend it returning to their respective localities and spreading the great gospel about the congress.

Committee. The program committee will hold its first formal session Wednesday, when invitations to several distinguished speakers will be decided upon. It may be stated that the first acceptance

JAS. BOOTH. Man Who Helped Capture Bad Indian is Dead. Publishers' Press. Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—Dr. James Booth, who helped to capture Geronimo, died today. He has had many close incidents in his life, especially while in the chase for the noted Indian chief.

MRS. WILLIAM J. BRYAN. Mr. Bryan acknowledges that much of his untiring activity is due to the efforts of his wife, who has been a constant help to him in all of his varied undertakings.

THOUSANDS THROWN OUT EMPLOYMENT

Publishers' Press. Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 23.—On account of an order issued by the governors of the American Textile associations, many thousands of textile workers will be idle next week in North and South Carolina.

All the mills in these two states will close and the laborers will be out of employment, which means hardships for many of them, as the country is already in hard circumstances.

Confusion. Publishers' Press. New York, Oct. 23.—Owing to the death of Senator Patrick McCarren, who died here at 1:15 this morning, the municipal campaign is but into confusion and the outcome of the mayoralty race is impossible to forecast now.

Senator McCarren died of appendicitis.

AUTO ACCIDENT. Publishers' Press. Oakland, Cal., Oct. 23.—Three fatalities today attended the petrola automobile races over Alameda track. C. J. Johnson, a spectator, was killed when the Knox car ran off the track.

Joseph Robinson fell from the automobile and was fatally hurt. A spectator named McKittrick had his skull fractured by a tire from Sunset tire No. 5 and will die.

ERUPTION. Earthquake Shocks Felt in Eastern Part of United States. Publishers' Press. Memphis, Oct. 23.—Since Mt. Vesuvius has gone into eruption again, several earthquake shocks have been felt in the United States, principally in the eastern states.

The shocks were felt at Memphis, St. Louis and Indianapolis early this morning, but no one was hurt and little damage done.

TAWNEY. Being Named as Probable Successor to Speaker Cannon. Washington, Oct. 23.—Representative Tawney of Minnesota, is being boomed for speaker to succeed Cannon.

Disappears. Mexico, City, Oct. 23.—No trace has yet been found of Gen. Reyes, candidate for Mexican presidency, who disappeared from Monterey.

COTTON SOARS TO NEW BASIS

PRICES REACH 14.05, BEING THE HIGHEST OF THE SEASON.

WALL STREET IS ACTIVE

Firms and Commission Houses Heavy Buyers—General Decline in Stock Market.

Publishers' Press. New York, Oct. 23.—Today cotton made a new high record for the season by selling at 14.05, and business was very active during the session. The market turned strong in a sensational manner at 11 o'clock and much selling was done.

Spots interested Wall street and firms and commission houses were heavy buyers. The market continued strong and many bullish spurts marked its course. There was frenzied trading when quotations passed fourteen cents.

The market opened firm, with an advance over yesterday of from 4 to 10 points for futures, and spots from 14 to 20 points advanced. Liverpool spots firm at 7.43d.

Stocks. Publishers' Press. New York, Oct. 23.—A general decline prevailed in the stock market today, which was due mostly to heavy selling orders cabled from London. Union Pacific and Southern Pacific stocks both opened lower. Steel opened under Friday's close, and Amalgamated copper behaved well all through the session.

It was reported that the Harriman estate was unloading Union Pacific, but this was denied. Wabash preferred and M. K. and T. recovered somewhat late in the morning. There was strong support for St. Paul and it was hard to trace the buying and selling, also it is thought to be unprofessional.

The market was weak and nervous and closed unsettled. Governments unchanged. Railroads and others were lower.

FOR WORTH. Completes Big Bonus and Lands Worthy Institution. Special to The Press-News. Fort Worth, Oct. 23.—Fort Worth this afternoon won the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary by completing a bonus of $100,000. Monday a committee will select a site for the building, and five are to be erected. The first edifice, which will be commenced January 1, will cost $100,000.

Jeffries. Publishers' Press. New York, Oct. 23.—Jimmy Jeffries will wait here till next week, when he will meet Jack Johnson and arrange the final details for the fight.

THIRD ESCAPE. John Brummer Gets Away From Fort Hamilton. New York, Oct. 23.—For the third time John Brummer, United States Army prisoner, made his escape from Fort Hamilton, despite the efforts of half a dozen sentries to shoot him down. This time he took with him Charles Cornell, also a prisoner, and the pair made a half-mile dash to liberty and safety amid a perfect fusillade of shots.

Private Brummer is the same man who, three months ago, sawed his way out of the Fort Hamilton prison hospital, but was arrested at Wallingford, Ct. for theft. When he and his companion made their break for liberty both wore the regulation United States convict uniform with the brand "P" upon the leg.

Contract. The contract for the electric wiring for the six-story Bank and Trust company was let Friday to Tavior & Ballock for about $5500.

UNITED, WE ADVANCE.

Those of us who were at our books when the West was young can recall with pleasant reflections the lesson learned in McGuffey's reader about the man with four sons—or was the number of sons greater than four? It was in this story that we first learned the great lesson of standing together in the affairs of life.

Failure marked every trial, and when the father again took the bundle of fagots he merely untied it, and by breaking the sticks one at a time, he soon had the entire number broken.

"This, my sons," said the father, "teaches you a great lesson. Stand together and the world cannot break or bend you.

Truly in union is to be found strength; from co-operation comes success; by standing together an army is effective, divided, it may be cut to pieces.

The West Texas Development congress that meets in San Angelo on December 6 is unto the West like the bundle of fagots was to the sons of the father that the old McGuffey's reader told us so well about.

Divided, the West can but hope to advance not with the aid and co-operation of all Texas, but despite the ignorance of the greatness of the West and the needs of the West that holds dominion over a great section of this state.

United, the West can move mountains that faith cannot budge; can overcome obstacles that individual efforts would quail before endeavoring to overcome, and can force the great white light of truth to shine where now nubian darkness holds full possession and where bats and mice contend with men for supremacy.

It has been preached by philosophers who have earned the right to be accorded the due that the world owes to learned men that all efforts come from given causes.

The effects that have become concentrated in this ignorance of the needs of the West are logical sequences of causes easily traced. The West inherited from an era that is now gone and gone forever the blood-curdling, desert-like reports of ardity and mad passions that no longer can be accepted as being indicative of the ways of the possibilities of the West.

Up to this hour these false impressions that with the passing years have become firmly imbedded in the minds of the nonchalant citizens of the effete and sedate East, have not been met with vigorous and truthful denials.

Out of the West Texas Development congress will come the means of measuring upon the death bed these false impressions and but of this congress will come the great enlightenment, agency that the West today stands in such sore need of.

If you love your state, the great state of Texas, and live in West Texas, there are two reasons why you should support this West Texas Development congress. The first of these is that you should gladly embrace the opportunity that is presented to you to educate people of your own state who are now dwelling in darkness, and the second is that you gladly do all that lies within your power to hasten a realization of the manifest destiny of this section.

Join the ranks of the great educators. Be a country builder. Help the West Texas Development congress in all legitimate ways possible.

GLORIOUS WEATHER THIS.

San Angelo has one asset that the people here deserve no credit for possessing, albeit they display great wisdom in realizing upon it.

The asset to which The Press-News at this time makes particular reference is the climate of this section.

It is not blasphemy to suppose that when the Lord made the weather and gave unto it the changing moods, that He reserved for the San Angelo section the most exhilarating, the most salubrious and the most invigorating of all the various kinds of weather that He decreed should envelope the earth forever and for aye.

It would be a hard matter for the average, or even the highly cultivated human being to picture in his mind or paint for his soul's eye weather more perfect than has been doing business, with but just enough delightful exceptions to lend a tangful zest to the general rule, in and about San Angelo since the ideas of fall first came this year.

The blowing winds have just enough of the breath of winter in them to put to rout the lassitude of the dog days; the sunlight coming in a stream of beaming refulgence falls with pleasing touch upon the heads of all mankind; the nights are clear unto crispness and the sparkle of the stars has worthy competition in the crystalline glow of the still and cameo hours of darkness.

And so let us give thanks on this day that we are blessed in such bountiful measure by the goodness of the Lord. It is worth making profound acknowledgement for—this invigorating and tissue-building weather. One cannot revel in it excess and it is not given to man to have powers of appreciation capable of drinking in all the beauties of our days and our nights.

PAYE CHADBOURNE STREET.

From time to time The Press-News has run a line in its editorial columns suggesting that Chadbourne street be paved. The Press-News now wants to buck this line a little harder.

Chadbourne street ought to be paved, and at once. It must be paved—and work should start at once.

Owners of property on Chadbourne street can well afford the cost, for it would not be an expense, but an investment. It is the history of every city in Texas that property values on paved streets enhance at least twice the cost of the paving, as the result of paving.

If a Chadbourne street lot sells for—or has a selling value of, say $25,000, should the street be paved, the $100 or so dollars that the owner of such a lot would be out would be returned to him when he comes to rent his property or to dispose of it. In other words, judging the future in San Angelo by the past in other Texas cities, a Chadbourne street lot that now has a selling value of $25,000, would, after the street is paved, have a selling value at least five and perhaps ten per cent greater than that amount.

As a business proposition Chadbourne street ought to be paved. As an investment the paving of Chadbourne street would prove of attractive earning capacity, and as a convenience to those who use Chadbourne street, the paving of that thoroughfare would be a blessing without disguise and a boon without compare.

Pave Chadbourne street.

Pave Chadbourne street.

Now San Angelo is to have a military company. In times of peace prepare for war. San Angelo ought to Jeffries says he will surely fight Jack Johnson. Yes, and Halley's comet will one day become visible, according to the astronomers.

Catch step with the times. Let's have a commercial organization in San Angelo in keeping with the possibilities of the hour.

Now the real misery of President Taft will have an ending. After basking in the sunbeams covering an acre in grand old Texas, he will have to return to Washington, where the malaria miasma at times gets so heavy that it clogs up the automobiles of the place.

The Devil's River News, conducted by Steve and Mike Murphy, has reached the ripe young age of two score years, and with the arrival of the anniversary it is better than ever. Steve Murphy is cast in a mould of vast intellectuality. With the wit of his nativity ever at his tongue's end, he also has the softness of heart and the bigness of character that causes true Irishman to dominate and influence in the four quarters of the globe. As an instrument in the up-building of Sutton county, the News has been of incalculable value. As the medium through which the sorrows of life have flowed with mournful movements and the joys have been fung with gladsome song, the News has played its part without ever being found wanting. Here's gladness that the two Murphys have seen their hope and dream become a thing of verle life; here's hoping that the future will deal them four aces in the game of life every time the cards are shuffled—and if this is done, the nerve of the sons of Old Erin will see that the results are commensurate with the value of the hands.

Pat McCarren, leader of Brooklyn Democrats, is dead, and a strange mortal has gone to his last accounting. Charged with being corrupt by enemies, they were never able to place their finger upon any movement he ever made where he didn't strike fair, never below the belt, and fight clean. They accorded him honesty of expression and attempted to damn him by asserting dishonesty of motives. They granted he used the bludgeon to attain his ends, but they asserted he used the cunning of man who fights with a rapier in laying his plans. To his enemies he was a puzzle. To his friends he was a paragon of fidelity and faithfulness. Fifty thousand people for nearly a generation accepted his word as his bond and followed his lead with enthusiasm. No man without redeeming features who is charged with corruption can hold the affection of his fellows through a single decade. Granting as true all the enemies of Pat McCarren have said him, he still left this life with the books decidedly in his favor. And through all the years of his leadership he ever had a smile for those who loved him, and a tear for those who hated. A rare mortal, an odd compound, a demon to his enemies, a saint to his friends—the world has but few Pat McCarrens at one time in the land of the living.

WHAT'S NEEDED.

San Angelo is wanting a new secretary for her commercial club, one that can comprehend the scope, advantages and needs of her section. The main cause of the failure of most commercial clubs is incompetent secretaries. Most of them drift into mere clerks and when they have written and answered a few letters and drawn their salary, they think they have accomplished their mission. Many of them are not capable of comprehending more than this. The result is that little good comes of the club and the people soon grow weary of contributing money, month after month, merely for the sake of supporting a dude on a fat salary. The whole life and usefulness of a club depends upon the secretary. He should possess a comprehension and generalship of a rare order. Mere clerical ability is of secondary consideration.—Coleman Voice.

Much Oblige.

Under its new management, The San Angelo Press News, having Publishers Press and state service, has grown to be a consistent, conservative journal of the first rank.—Eldorado Times.

Col. Pryor to Come.

A letter received from Ike T. Pryor, president of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, Wednesday morning, told of the proposed organization of a West Texas Development congress in San Angelo in December, and Mr. Pryor has earnestly requested to deliver an address at the opening meeting. The communication came from W. T. Bartholomew, chairman of the general committee, under whose charge the details for organization are.

Mr. Pryor accepted the invitation to speak before the congress the afternoon of December 6, and consented to speak of the methods employed by the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress in the work it has in hand. The West Texas Development Congress has much the same purpose as the Trans-Mississippi Congress. It will aim to do as much for the West as has the Trans-Mississippi Congress for the territory it represents.

In the letter from Mr. Bartholomew requests were made for all descriptive literature, plans for work and underlying rules upon which the firm organization of the Trans-Mississippi Congress stands. Mr. Pryor will discuss the objects and work of the Trans-Mississippi Congress as president of that organization for the year 1909-1910, and any other phase of the congress that might aid the San Angelo delegates in their organization.—San Antonio Express.

From Abilene.

Word has just been received from San Angelo that the promoters of the West Texas Development Congress desire to hold a conference at Abilene the middle of November, and of course this suggestion has met with a quick, most hearty and enthusiastic response from the Abilene people.

Messrs. Dalley, Bartholomew and McCaleb of San Angelo, are among the prime movers of this proposition, which is backed by the Business Club of San Angelo, while the Abilene 25,000 Club of this city will look after the matter from this end of the line.

Owing to the fact that the Central West Texas Federation of Commercial Clubs, an organization something over two years old, which has been conducting a similar campaign, though perhaps on a smaller basis than that intended by the West Texas Development Congress, is scheduled to hold its November meeting in Anson, Jones county, its is probable that a conference of representatives from both organizations will be held in Abilene at the above time, with a view of devising plans by which organization, either separate or together, may do greater work in the future.—Abilene Reporter.

Records Go to Show That There Are More Marriages During Winter Than in the Summer.

Little Dan Cupid, after a record of 149 nuptial knots tied during the year 1908, supplied his quiver with an entire new bunch of arrows of the 1909 model and went forth on an unparalleled era of conquest and so far this year his saccharine tipped darts have pierced the bosoms of 133 couples, with the prospects of continued business through the fall—excellent, indeed.

Much has been said of the sweet, soft breeze of summer tending to increase the marital ties during that portion of the year, but actual statistics go to show that during the month of December, 1908, twenty-nine marriage licenses were issued from County Clerk Keeting's office, and proves conclusively that the blustering breezes of Boreas have more effect in the line of marriages than all of summer's zephyrs.

If past events count for anything and the dying months of the year see as many marriages recorded as of yore, then 1909 will be the banner year in Tom Green county ledger of D. Cupid, Esq.

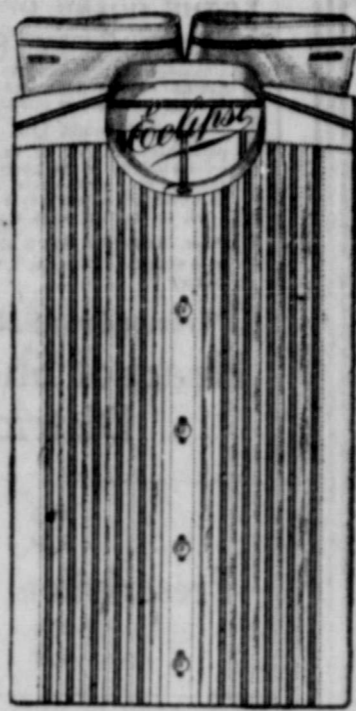

Following is a comparison of the marital records of 1908 and 1909 to date:

BUSINESS CLUB MEETS MONDAY

MANY IMPORTANT MATTERS TO BE DISPOSED OF.

BROOME MAKES PLEA

Asks That Full Attendance Be Present—Paid Secretary Idea Up for Consideration.

Monday night in the office of C. A. Broome & Company the San Angelo Business Club will hold the postponed meeting of last Monday, which failed to develop a quorum.

A vast amount of important business has accumulated, and it is the desire of President Broome that a full attendance be present. One of the main matters that will come up for attention pertains to the removal of headquarters and the question of having a paid secretary.

AT THE CHURCHES.

Harris Avenue Presbyterian Church.—Preaching at 11 a. m. and at 7:45 p. m. by the pastor. This is the beginning of a series of meetings to last for ten or twelve days. Sabbath school at 9:45 a. m. Junior Endeavor at 3 p. m. and Senior Endeavor at 6:45 p. m. C. W. Yates, Pastor.

Emmanuel Church.—Twentieth Sunday after Trinity. Sunday school 9:30; morning prayer and sermon 11; evening prayer and sermon 8. W. H. Meyers, Recor.

First Baptist Church.—Services will be held at the First Baptist church at 10:45 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. "Constraining Love" will be the morning theme. In the evening the pastor will preach a sermon to young men; subject, "Is the Young Man Safe?" Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Senior and Junior B. Y. P. U. at 4 p. m. Wm. E. Foster, pastor.

Church of Christ.—Jesse P. Sewell will preach at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend these services.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Nettie Word went to Dallas Saturday to attend the fair.

Charles Veck left on Saturday afternoon's special for Dallas.

Jesse Key went to Dallas Saturday. Horace Hill left Saturday for the Dallas fair.

Ross Cochran went to Dallas Saturday.

Mrs. W. A. Guthrie went to Galveston Saturday.

Fair Enough.

"San Angelo sure looks good to me," was the statement of O. C. Simmons of the Simmons-Owen Company, upon his return Saturday from a trip to Sweetwater.

"There are some nice little towns along the Orient," he continued, "but for the life of me I cannot see anything but San Angelo."

A Talk on DRUG STORE Purchases

Probably there is no class of merchandise on which you must depend so much on the integrity and business honor of a store as when buying Drug Store Goods. Few of us have the opportunity to become competent judges of the real value of the majority of the things sold in a Drug Store, and misrepresentation is easy, and alas—not infrequent.

Here you buy with a comforting assurance that the goods are just what the label says. We do business on strictly business principles, which will certainly appeal to you.

Naylor's always fresh. "Uncle Sam" charges but 1c. an ounce to carry it anywhere. A 1 to 5-pound box goes by express anywhere in United States for 1c. the ounce.

A CURIOUS CHIMNEY.

One in Wales Two Miles High With a Brook Running Through It.

Who ever heard of a chimney two miles high with a brook running through it? Yet such a chimney exists in connection with the copper works at Cwmavon, near Aberavon, in Glamorganshire, south Wales. This is how it came to be built:

About sixty years ago the copper smoke from these works was the plague of the neighboring countryside. It settled upon and destroyed the grass for twenty miles round, while the sulphur and arsenic in the fumes affected the hoofs of cattle, causing gangrene. The owners of the works tried all sorts of devices to remedy the trouble, but in vain. Finally Robert Brenton, who was afterward a successful railway engineer in India, solved the problem.

The copper works are at the foot of a steep hill. Mr. Brenton constructed a flue, or chimney, running continuously from the base to about a hundred feet above the summit, following the natural slope of the ground. The brick which lined it and of which it was largely constructed was burned close by. A small spring gushing out near the summit of the hill was turned into the chimney and allowed to flow through almost its entire length to condense the smoke. Once a year it is swept out and about a ton of precipitated copper obtained. Its top can be seen for between forty and fifty miles.—London Answers.

Losing Your Temper. "Losin' yoh temper don' pay," said Uncle Eben. "In a heap o' cases it don' do no mo' dan put you to de expense of hirin' a lawyer to show you whah you's wrong."—Washington Star.

BRAVE MME. ROLAND.

Her Last Request Before Her Death on the Scaffold.

How Mme. Roland bore herself on her journey along the via dolorosa of the revolution which led from the Conciergerie to the Place de la Guillotine the world knows. No recorded pilgrim of the long train that fared that way in those heroic days showed a sublimer indifference to its terrors. A spectator who saw her as she passed the Pont Neuf wrote of her as standing erect and calm in the tumbrel, her eyes shining, her color fresh and brilliant, with a smile on her lips as she tried to cheer her companion. An old man overcame by the fear of approaching death.

At the foot of the scaffold she asked for pen and paper to write the strange thoughts that were rising in her. When the executioner grasped her arm to assist her in mounting the steps she drew back and begged that her companion might be allowed to precede her. The custom of the guillotine allowed her, as a woman, the privilege of dying first, but she wished to spare the infirm old man a scene that would augment his fears. Sanson objected.

"Come, citizen," she urged him, with a smile, "you cannot deny a lady her last request."

Her wish was granted.—Editor of "Her Private Memoirs."

A Justifiable Protest.

"What's that?" cried the convicted incendiary. "Five years? Well, if you people ain't the worst I ever ran up against! Here I goes out in the evenin' an' sets fire to the tallest buildin' in town—sets fire to it so that in less'n a minute the thing's a shootin' blaze a hundred feet up into the sky. The whole poppylation is there quicker'n scat, all of you tickled to death at the sight! For four an' five hours you stood there watchin' the fire—hours of solid enjoyment, too—an' if not costin' you a cent! Why, a circus or the theater or a scandal trial wouldn't have given you half as much fun, an' you know it! An' yet you sit there an' bring in a verdict givin' me five years in the penitentiary—me that's shown you all a good time an' ought to be considered as a benefactor if there wuz any gratitude in the human boobum!"—Exchange.

MAKING HOMES

For young men whose salaries are small and who are too unselfish to ask a wife to share with him the discomforts of a rooming house. If that isn't the finest foundation in the world for a successful business career, then we don't know what is. That's why we have laid such great stress on getting a lot now at a small cost in LAKEVIEW ADDITION where $40,000.00 in improvements and 5 cent street car fares will enhance the value of your lot enough to enable you to build a house. Young man, get busy, get started towards a home.

Following is the schedule of cars of the San Angelo Street Railway company:

A car every fifteen minutes from Landon hotel to Twenty-fifth street. A car leaves the Landon hotel for Lakeview every week day at 7 a. m., 12 noon, 1 p. m. and 5 p. m. On Sundays when the weather and the crowds justify it two special cars will be run to Lakeview, leaving the Landon hotel at 3 p. m. and 4 p. m., and the regular car will leave at 5 p. m. The fare will be 5 cents each way.

Omaha, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of William J. Bryan, that her two children will be educated in Germany and not in American schools. While the children attending school in Berlin Mrs. Leavitt will devote her time to voice culture. The Leavitts will sail on December 1.

In the meantime Mrs. Leavitt will continue lecturing.

"I never had any intention of resigning for congress as has been reported," said Mrs. Leavitt. "That was pure fabrication. I think every man should vote whenever she has the right to do so."

NIXIE.
American M. D. Certificate No Good in Germany.
Chicago, Oct. 21.—A certificate of the Illinois state board of health, giving the recipient the right to practice medicine, has no force in Germany.

This has been established by a prosecution against Dr. Emma Helwig, in Berlin, of which the details have been cabled here.
Some years ago Dr. Helwig passed the necessary examinations and was authorized to practice medicine in Illinois. Later she went to Berlin and hung out her shingle. The public prosecutor brought action against her on the ground that she was unauthorized to use this title. The court ordered her to pay the nominal fine of ten marks—$2.50.

I have on my desk a list of 1000 successful men of this nation. By "successful" I do not mean mere money-makers, but men who have given us new conceptions of steam, electricity, construction work, education, art, etc. These are the men who influence our moral as well as physical lives. They construct for better things.

How these men started in work is interesting. Their first foothold in work is a fine study.
Three hundred started as farmers' sons.
Two hundred started as messenger boys.
Two hundred were newsboys.
One hundred were printers' apprentices.
One hundred were apprenticed in manufactories.
Fifty—only fifty—had wealthy parents to give them a start.—Juvenile Court Record.

BIG COMPRESS TO LOCATE HERE

EASTERN MEN HERE LOOKING OVER GENERAL SITUATION.

RAILWAYS RESPONSIBLE

With Coming of Orient, San Angelo Promises to Develop Into Great Cotton Market.

Amid progress and prosperity in West Texas has come the news that in all probability a $30,000 cotton compress will be established here soon. Those who contemplate building this compress are from the Eastern states and have plants in other parts of the state and have found San Angelo to be a very desirable place to put in one.

"We have looked into this matter carefully and have scrutinized every point before entering in any negotiations," said one of the men interested in the movement. "The first thing was to examine the railroad situation and we have found it to be of the best sort. The cotton produced in this country is increasing every year and there is no reason why another compress should not pay here. The one great advantage is this: The Orient is here and a great amount of cotton that has gone to Ballinger and Brownwood in the past will come to this city, if a compress is established. The Santa Fe is extending and so is the Orient, and that will bring in more cotton, but the great thing that is attracting us is the Orient. It is contemplating, so I have understood, steamship connection just as the Santa Fe has at Galveston, and that will open another port and give better service to a compress here. Where this connection will be made, I am not capable of saying just now, but I have a pretty good idea. If this is done and these other roads get in here that are figuring on coming, then the plant is settled and sure. We have the means to do what we say we are going to do, and it will not be always coming to pass. A compress, if established by us, will be in operation by September 1, 1910."

This is the way the situation was left and the stately business man who gave the information walked away, but his countenance showed that he meant business. He asked that his name not be mentioned.

THE LOAFER.

Tom Browne, the English Artist, and One of His Models.
Tom Browne, the English black and white artist, told the following story of one of his models: I used to have as a model a long, thin youth who was a golf caddy on Blackheath. I made a water color study of him and put in a street corner background. Before sending it to the frame maker's I wrote on the back in pencil a suggestion for a possible future title, "A Loafer." The frame maker after framing the sketch put it in his window until such time as he could send it up to me, with a card on the picture bearing the title, "A Loafer—By Tom Browne."

One morning the caddy came to the side door and asked to speak to me.
"There's a picture of me in a shop winder darn in Greenwich."
"Really?"
"Yus, an' all me pals 'ave seen it." (With a sudden fury.) "I ain't no loafer, I ain't. I'm a respectable caddy, I ham, and you've got to take it hout of the winder."
I assured him that I knew nothing of the matter and was very sorry.
"That be blowed for a tile," he retorted. "I'll mike yer pye demages for this. I've been to my solicitor, and 'e sez 'e can mike yer."
In the end I fixed it up by a little tip, an old coat and a drop of something. Of course I had the picture taken out of the window. The caddy has not sat for me since.

THE NARCISSEUS.

Old Legends About This Beautiful and Ancient Flower.
The beautiful narcissus is a very ancient flower, and poets of all times have sung about it. It bloomed even as long ago as when gods and goddesses were supposed to live on the earth. The old Grecian legends say it was the flower the maiden Persephone was gathering when Pluto took her away to his dark home under the ground.

Another legend tells about a beautiful youth named Narcissus. His father was a river god named Cepheus and his mother a nymph called Liriope. The wonderful beauty of the youth caused many to love him, but he was cold and indifferent to all.

A poor little nymph called Echo loved him so dearly that she pined away and died because he would not care for her.

At last Nemesis, the goddess of retribution, decided to punish him for his hard heart.

She caused him to fall in love with his own image as he looked into a stream, and as he could never reach this beautiful reflection he gradually perished with hopeless love.

His body was changed into the beautiful flowers which have ever since borne his name.—Pearson's Weekly.

Laughing Disclosures.
Concerning the laughter of the Frenchman, it should be noted that our neighbors have worked out a system of character reading by the vowel in which one laughs. Laugh in A (our English "Ha, ha"), and, according to Larousse, you reveal yourself as frank, inconstant and fond of noise and movement. Laughter in E ("Heh, heh") would be the English rendering for phlegmatic and melancholy. Children and simple persons laugh in a French I ("He, he"), showing themselves devoted, but timid and irresolute, and it is observed that blonds laugh "He, he." "Ho, ho, ho" is not the laugh of an ogre, but of one who is generous in sentiment and bold in action, though of a woman who laughs like that one should beware. But both men and women who laugh in U should be shunned like the plague, since they have given fair warnings that they are misers, hypocrites or misanthropes.—London Chronicle.

To Rule a Husband.
To rule your husband, my dear lady, do exactly as you please, but always pretend that you do as he pleases. That is where your ability comes in. Men are ruled, as children are, by the prospect of a reward. The reward of your husband is your amiability, your sweetness, your devotion and your beauty, of which you should take a constant care. Love has to be fed constantly. Always let him suppose that it is for him that you wish to remain beautiful. The woman who believes that she is asserting her independence every time she puts on a hat particularly displeasing to her husband is as clever and as intelligent as the Irishman who buys a return ticket at a railroad office and on entering the car remarks to the passengers: "I have played a good joke on the company. I have bought a return ticket, but I don't mean to come back."—Max O'Rell in "Her Royal Highness, Woman."

Highest Village in Europe.
"The highest village in Europe" is the inscription on a post card which shows a group of wooden cottages on a bleak hill, with no sign of vegetation in sight and having as a background a range of ice-covered mountains. The name of the place is Cumeaz, in the Canton Wallis. It lies 2047 meters above the sea level, "where Monte Rosa raises its gigantic head into the clouds." The village consists of four families, and the latest census gives it a population of twenty-six. "The storms of spring and fall and the snows of the winter months," says the sender of the card, "make life ta dreary one and still the people look happy, and doubtless they are so."—New York Tribune.

The wool from San Angelo this year will no doubt bring the highest prices for it is clean and contains little oil. Let The Press-News get it for you. The cost is small and the results are sure.

Since the big rain that fell all over West Texas, wool has been slow about coming in, but Friday 118 bags, amounting to 25,850 pounds, were received from Pecos county by the West Texas Storage company. This is about the largest amount received in San Angelo this year at one time and indicates that the wool season is getting in full blast and the sheepmen are hurrying to get their sheep clipped. FOOTBALL FOR NEXT TUESDAY

HIGH SCHOOL WILL MEET THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

WARM GAME EXPECTED

College Has Taken Two Out of Three From High—Both Elevens Much Stronger Now.

With renewed force and energy the High School football team is down at work getting in shape to compete with the San Angelo College once more.

H. O. Jones was called away a few days ago on account of the sickness of his brother in East Texas, but he has returned and the boys are doing better work and are getting in fine shape.

Every evening practice for an hour is the program and this will be kept up all the time.

A game is scheduled with the College for Tuesday and the High School boys say they are going to put it on them, for they have better strength than they had when playing the College before.

"Of course that College has a good team, but we have a better one now," said one of the players, "and we are going to show them where they stand. Other games are on foot and we expect to make a better showing than we have heretofore. Two games will be played with the Brownwood High School team in a short time, and several are to be secured with the Ballinger boys.

"To my way of putting it, it will be useless for those fellows down the line to go up against us, but we want the sport just the same, and will play them in a short time."

MAESON.

In New Quarters Ready to Handle Increased Business.

"We are open and ready for business now," stated W. S. Mabson Saturday. Mr. Mabson has moved into his new apartments in the new Mays building and is well fixed up. A little over a year ago Mr. Mabson had his grocery department burned out and was out of business for a while. Later he secured a building on West Beauregard avenue, where he has had his store till a few days ago, when he moved into his new place.

He has a nice line of groceries and has ordered lots more to supply the demand. Christmas is coming on and he is preparing to carry a choice line of fancy groceries.

His store is neatly fitted up and courteously managed.

Henry Land left Saturday for El Paso, where he will make his future home. Mr. Land has accepted a position as bookkeeper in a bank there.

Mrs. J. C. Howard and Miss Gladys Howard, after spending two weeks with Mrs. Harry Lovelace, left Saturday for her home in Dallas.

In the Great Physical Effort required in the attempt to make out a case for the State Banks, some glaring misstatements have been published, especially so in the introduction of the names of several old established banks, the inference conveyed being that they were all State Banks. The names of four Banks and one Trust Company were furnished to the public, and of this number three of these banks have been operating under National charters for varying periods of time, from nine to forty years.

These are the banks named:

Bank of North America, Philadelphia. This bank has been doing business for over forty years under National Bank charter No. 602.

Bank of New York, National Banking Association, has been doing business for over forty years under National Bank charter No. 1393.

Bank of Pittsburg, National Association, holds National Bank charter No. 5225.

The Bank of the Manhattan Company, formerly supplied the City of New York with water, and is operating under a "special privilege" charter from the State of New York. The New York Clearing House statement of October 16, 1909, shows that bank to have deposits of $35,800,000, and not deposits of $84,000,000, as has been stated in the advertisement. The New York Clearing House statement of October 16, 1909, shows that there are six National Banks in the New York Clearing House whose deposits run from 72 millions to 167 millions. There is no wind in the New York Clearing House weekly statement.

The Girard Trust Company of Philadelphia (not Pittsburg), while a large concern, does very little commercial business, confining its operations to the handling of the various trusts in its care.

According to the statements of the banks, the Fourth National Bank, the Philadelphia National Bank, the Girard National Bank, all in Philadelphia, each carry larger deposits than does the Girard Trust Company.

The various bankers whose names have been so freely used are very largely identified with National Banks; in fact, the banker who wishes permanent financial prominence either for his bank or for himself, must be identified with the National Bank system, and frequent changes to the National system by State Bankers are noted.

The National Banks are pleased to have the public know of the laws regulating their operation, and want

"THE TRUTH,

THE WHOLE TRUTH

and

published about them. The National Banks are now more carefully supervised than ever before in their history. They have the capital and resources with which to conduct their business, and your patronage is solicited by one of them.

BUSINESS COLLEGE WORTHY INSTITUTION

INVESTIGATION MADE, REAL VALUE OF SCHOOL IS NOT APPRECIATED.

OPPORTUNITIES.

A prominent business man of San Antonio one day last week introduced a son of his, from a neighboring town, to the manager of the San Angelo Business College, and among other things had no idea that we had such an institution in our town until I saw it at the fair. I just took it for granted that it was a little two-by-four such as most business colleges but I was attracted by its exhibits and examined it closely and have fully looked into it and find that it is strictly up to date, high-grade institution. It has a regular bank, furnished and equipped with modern appliances, and conducts a regular business right in the college. It has separate and distinct wholesale departments with which the students transact business just as in the actual business world. Instead of giving the old-fashioned text-book course, taught in so many schools, it puts the student right into actual business from the very beginning.

He learns business, how to keep books and to handle all kinds of commercial papers in every conceivable way by actually doing the thing, and by reading and being lectured to at the same time. The typewriting room is equipped with old, worn-out machines—standard make. I was surprised to learn, as I have, that so many people trained in this school are in good positions with the largest concerns in this and other cities. Since I learned what San Angelo Business College is I am proud of it as a San Angelo institution, and if you have a son or girl you want to give a business education I don't believe you can do better than right here. The course the managers of this institution appreciate this commendation. The institution is continuously managed, and the courses of study and practice are thorough and practical. And it is hard to over-estimate the importance of a practical business education; in fact, a young person can hardly afford to enter the business world without such training. Especially is this true when such an institution is to be found in the home town, with day and night sessions. Frequently the young man or young lady can take the work at night, without interfering with present employment at all. In this way they can make expenses and at the same time increase their earning capacities. And then it is a great saving to be able to remain at home and get one's education.

Those people of San Angelo who have not looked into the merits of San Angelo Business College will be agreeably surprised when they do so.

TENT MEETING BEGINS TODAY

SPECIAL SERVICES HARRIS AVE. PRESBYTERIAN.

Beginning Sunday a series of meetings will be held at the Harris Avenue Presbyterian church, corner of Harris Avenue and Randolph street.

These meetings are to be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Callin W. Yates, and will be continued ten or twelve days. There will be no day services, unless it is so determined as the meetings progress. The evening services will begin at 7:45 o'clock. The members of the other churches of the city are cordially invited by the pastor to attend and to assist in these services in any way they may feel disposed. A special invitation is extended to those who are not members of any church. Any co-operation for the success of this meeting will be fully appreciated by the pastor and the members of the church.

There will be no sensational attraction of any sort, either in the preaching or otherwise, but the simple presentation of the Gospel message, with only one thing in view, viz., to help human life to appreciate and realize the better things.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES DESIRED

DOLD PACKING COMPANY WRITES REGARDING MATTER.

TO RECEIVE ATTENTION

Merchants Are to Confer With the Orient, and Success Will Doubtless Meet Effort.

H. B. Burrows, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association received a letter Saturday from W. J. McKeno, traffic manager for the Dold Packing company, saying he wants the merchants here to negotiate with him in order to secure a lower freight rate from Wichita, Kan., to San Angelo over the Orient. The present rate here is 95 cents and he wants it reduced to 76 cents, which is the rate to Sweetwater.

Freight can be sent into San Angelo over the Orient as easily as it can get to Sweetwater, and for this reason the packing company wants a lower rate. A lower rate will cause more freight to be shipped into San Angelo and will give northern markets better advantage in getting freight here.

The matter will be taken up by the merchants at their next meeting.

SALES.

Saturday J. W. Lawhon bought 430 head of cattle from Jacoby Bros. of Concho county, making about a $6000 deal.

E. W. Loftin sold 92 head of steers, from one to three years old, to Tol Cawley, for about $2000.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETS IN BRADY

T. K. Proctor, R. B. Leavell and S. C. Parsons Scheduled for Addresses.

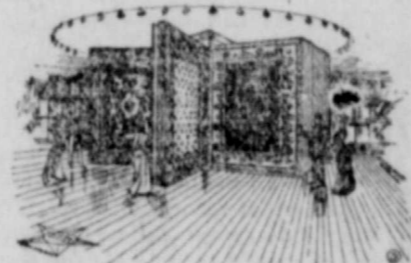

The program for the Brady meeting of the San Angelo District Medical Society, which will be held at the county seat of McCulloch county on October 26-27, has been issued and it is an attractively gotten up invitation, too. Among those who will deliver addresses at this meeting are the following physicians of this city:

Paper on "Diagnostic Significance of the Presence of Pus in Different Regions of the Nasal Cavity," by Dr. T. K. Proctor.

Paper on "Some of the uses of the Microscope in the Diagnosis, Prognosis and Treatment of Tuberculosis," by Dr. R. B. Leavell.

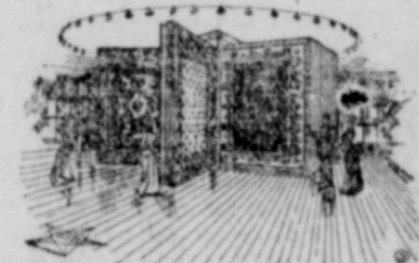

"A Few Thoughts on Rheumatism," by Dr. S. C. Parsons.

These district associations are unquestionably, according to physicians, accomplishing a vast amount of good and the attendance at Brady will likely be large.

SEVEN BILLION.

Estimated Number Spread by Tubercular Patient Each Day.

New York, Oct. 23.—That the death rate from tuberculosis has not materially decreased in the past seven years, although the death rate from other contagious disease has greatly decreased in New York City, was emphatically brought out at the last public hearing prior to the completion of the budget before the board of estimates.

The hearing was on the request for increases of $487,250 for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. Robert W. DeForrest, president of the charity organization society, pointed out that if similar conditions to those now existing in connection with tuberculosis obtained in cases of smallpox, typhus or cholera, the city would be immediately voted. The economic losses in this community from tuberculosis he estimated to be at least $15,000,000 annually.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson said that 5000 cases were allowed to remain in their tenement homes without care or supervision.

Dr. S. A. Knopf showed how families move into a tuberculosis infected apartment and contract the disease in the germs in the wall paper, in the woodwork on the floors, the ceilings, etc. He said that a single patient could spread seven billion tuberculosis germs in twenty-four hours. He advocated in the staff of nurses and employment of a sufficient force to disinfect every house and apartment from which patients may move.

FARMING.

Commissioner Kone Will Be Here Nov. 9 to Organize Farmers.

Several days ago a letter from Commissioner Ed R. Kone was printed in The Press-News which told of his coming to San Angelo on November 9, to organize a Farmers' Union. He will be accompanied by Prof. Weiborn of A. & M. College, Dick Bonner, a practical and successful farmer of Smith county, and Sam H. Dixon, chief clerk of this department.

The purpose of the institute is to organize the farmers into a business club so that they can discuss measures that will be for the betterment of farming.

Several topics will be discussed, such as using good seed, diversification, increasing the yield of cotton, hog raising, live stock on the farm, fruit and truck and markets, prices and transportation.

The matter will be taken up before the Business Club Monday night at the meeting, and plans will be made as to how to manage the affair.

In connection with this, all the farmers of the country are expected to be here and take a hand in the affair and listen to lectures on the subject of different men.

McBURNETT.

Will Increase Heald Stock of Fine Jewelry.

Buying the W. E. Heald jewelry store, C. C. McBurnett of this city, is ready to take charge and conduct the business from now on. Mr. McBurnett is a young man of San Angelo and is also a prominent jeweler and has a nice line of jewelry shaped up. His stock is not as good, however, as it will be in a short time, as he has ordered a lot more, such as fancy presents for Christmas.

The consideration that he paid for the establishment is private, but it has been assured to be a good sum, as the store is one of the leading establishments of the city and naturally had a valuable stock.

Under Mr. Heald the store had great success and he built up a fine establishment. Mr. McBurnett has the intention of putting in a larger stock so as to accommodate the people who want fine jewelry.

Be a city builder right. Attend the meeting of the Business Club Monday night. It will be worth your while. It is your duty to be there. Don't be a duty dodger.

FOOTBALL RESULTS

Publishers Press.

New York, Oct. 23.—Another batch of football games was played today and some heavy defeats were suffered.

The first on record is Princeton and Lafayette, who played a fast game and exhibited some great skill in football. Princeton never had a score attached to its board, while their adversaries obtained 6.

West Point and Leigh fought all over the gridiron for an extra long time to see who would get the better end of the game. At the wind-up the result was 18 to 0 against Leigh. The Army has been playing some extra football this year and has conquered nearly every time. The teams it has been up against are the best ranking ones in the world.

In the game between Yale and Colgate the climax was reached when it comes to playing high against low, and they ended up, standing 26 to 0 in favor of Yale. This game was a little on the bum, but the heavy players with Yale this season are hard to beat.

Harvard beat Brown 11 to 0.

Annapolis and Virginia pulled off a splendid exhibition. The Jeffersonian boys were hard fighters and swooped down on the Navy with a heavy tackle. The score was 5 to 0 in favor of Virginia.

Cleburne Loses.

Special to The Press-News.

Fort Worth, Oct. 23.—Cleburne High School football team was defeated by Fort Worth High School here this afternoon, 21 to 0, in one of the hardest gridiron games of the season. Quarterback Clayton of Cleburne, did good work on every maneuver, but his men lacked weight and training.

Austin 12, Houston 6.

Special to The Press-News.

Houston, Oct. 23.—West Texas Military Academy football team of Austin today defeated Houston High School here by a score of 12 to 6. The visitors scored twice in the first half and the locals once in the last.

AUTOMOBILE.

First Auto Show in Southwest to Be Held in Dallas.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 22.—The Dallas automobile show, given under the auspices of the Dallas Automobile Dealers' club, will be held in the City Park armory for two weeks ending October 30.

This is the first automobile show ever held in the southwest, and will, in many respects, be a better show than many of the eastern and northern shows.

The 1910 automobiles and motor cycles of all the prominent makes will be shown. The show will open with a grand parade of automobiles headed by a brass band, and will be formally opened by Senator Culberson. Then every day, except Sundays, the show will be opened at 3 o'clock and remain open until 10 o'clock.

There will be concerts by Reik's orchestra every evening and at night—new programs for every performance.

On Monday, Oct. 25, the great decorated parade will take place. Already diamond rings, silver loving cups, diamond-studded goblets, $100 selective trophies, etc., amounting to over $1000 are offered as prizes for decorations in this parade. It is known that there will be several hundred automobiles in the parade, which will be headed by a splendid brass band. The racers from San Antonio will arrive in time to take part in this parade. In the trades division the utility side of the automobile will be shown. The great parade will form at the City Park armory, in which the show is held, and will cover the main down-town streets of the city. The reviewing stand will be occupied by Mrs. Will R. Hassell of the Dallas Woman's Forum, Freeman Hall of the Dallas club, A. G. Chaney of the Dallas Advertising league, Otto Lang of the Texas Art League and L. O. Daniel of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. At night Mayor Hay will make formal presentation of the prizes. This is also to be society night. On society night there will be white and pink carnation favors, and punch will be served. A special musical program will be presented, embracing contributions by eminent local talent.

"Come in your automobile," you'll need it. Dallas has lots of good drives and much to see.

BRICK.

Local Plant Rushed to Keep up With Orders.

With 250,000 brick on hand ready for the mason and that many more coming in about ten days, Col. Maudsley, manager of the San Angelo brick company, says he will supply the builders of San Angelo.

"This will not fill the orders that I have, but it will help a great deal. I am behind with the orders. In fact, I have over a million brick ordered right now, and it is going to take a lot of work to catch up, but at the rate we are going now we will do it. We are turning them out without the slightest trouble and everything is running as smoothly as can be."

The brick demand in San Angelo is very great, owing to the vast amount of building that is going on. There are two six-story buildings to be built soon and several two-story structures.

BABE ADAMS A PHENOM

Pirate Twirler Now Twinkling in Top Notch Class—Football Season in Full Bloom.

By Manhattan.

Copyright 1909 by Publishers Press. New York, Oct. 23.—The world's championship baseball games between Pittsburgh and Detroit developed one fact that we never knew before. That is the marvelous ability of "Babe" Adams, the Pirate twirler. Adams was a young man, comparatively unknown as a pitcher although he had presided at one or two games earlier in the season. The easy manner in which he put it over the Detroit aggregation in the first two games of the past series in which he took part directed all eyes of fandom upon him.

The fact that Pittsburgh could hit we all knew. Also we knew that Hughey Jennings' bunch was there with the wallop, but we did not know that Adams was a star to be ranked along side of Wild Bill Donovan and Christy Mathewson. Just before the series commenced "Bix Six" Mathewson, who keeps an eye on all the players in the National league, said that in his opinion Adams was one of the fastest twirlers among the youngsters of the league, but even Christy didn't have the proper conception of the young gent's prowess.

Foxey Barney Dreyfuss brought Adams out as a dark horse. Both he and Fred Clarke knew what the boy could do and they kept him in the background and in training all season. Adams is a youth with iron nerve. When a swatter on the opposing team lines out a four base hit he doesn't go up in the air; he only grins and prepares a new shoot. Next season look to "Babe" Adams, he will be the big twirler of the league. See if he isn't.

Racing isn't so dead in California as we thought it was several days ago. Thomas H. Williams, president of the new California Jockey Club, who was in New York on a short visit, announced while here that the Los Angeles and new California Jockey Clubs have pooled issues. In talking of racing in California, Mr. Williams said:

"It is more than likely that no race meeting will be held at the Arcadia track this winter, but racing will begin on November 20 under the management of the new California Jockey Club at Emeryville.

"We will guarantee the horsemen sixty days of racing and we hope that the meeting will last longer. No purse less than $250 will be offered and the added money will be increased if the conditions make this possible."

This is good news to the Eastern horsemen as well as the Western, for it seems to give the turf a leg-hold in California.

Athletes and even prominent men interested in athletics who have never attended an annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union, will, in New York, on the third Monday of November, and probably several days before, do some vote gathering stunts for the president, according to advices here from Baltimore. For the first time there are four candidates in the field for this office and the election is sure to bring every delegate out for the meeting.

James E. Sullivan, who has served as president for three years—one more than the usual term—and who was forced to accept last year, will retire unless his countless friends in this great organization in which he has done more as secretary and president than any other man to build up, insist that he retain the honor and duties. For the office Henry Penniman of Baltimore, John J. O'Connor of St. Louis, Dr. George Orton of Philadelphia, and E. C. Brown of Chisago, are candidates. They are supported by their associations, all having large memberships.

From Baltimore comes word that a canvas of votes places Mr. Penniman far in the lead as a candidate for president. He is popular in the South and will draw strong support from that section. Mr. O'Connor is strong in the West and hopes to win on that account. While Mr. Brown also is strong in the West, especially the Northwest, the new outlaw association of the Y. M. C. A. in Chicago has greatly weakened his strength in that immediate neighborhood. With four associations fighting for the presidency, the meeting will be the liveliest ever held.

It is seldom that the staid old town of Philadelphia turns out a champion in speed events and when such a thing does happen, the acclamation should be quite boisterous. The Quaker Town, however, has turned out a few in her day, notably Mel Sheppard of Olympic fame, the late John B. Taylor, Jr., and others. Some credit is due too for Cartmell is a native of Louisville, Ky.

Now Philadelphia has a boy who can step along with the best of them over the quarter-mile route. His name is William J. Hayes and he carries the silks of the St. Gregory Club. Hayes first attracted notice here on August 7 last at the meet of the Asbury Park, A. C., when he raced home on the "440" in 47:3-5 seconds from the fourteen yard mark.

Since that time Mr. Hayes' starts have been almost an uninterrupted series of victories. Once at a meeting in Philadelphia he took four firsts. Now Hayes' latest program was a race tomorrow at Celtic Park when he meets "Yank" Robbins, the quarter-mile champion. The Monument Club sporting events will occur at Celtic Park tomorrow and a successful meeting is assured.

Now that the great Honus Wagner is in the limelight I will relate a little story which I do not believe has ever been told before. Maybe George Moreland, the baseball statistician, is responsible for it; maybe not. However, here it is:

The season of 1908 promised to see the Pirates without Wagner in harness. The big Dutchman said he was going to quit playing ball. The play was good, but the world was hard and he had enough money to live the rest of his days in luxury in Carnegie with his bank directorships and his pool and bowling places and his automobiles and what not. Therefore, he had elected to quit. Barney Dreyfuss argued and pleaded. Will Locke used every argument that human tongue is heir to. Nothing doing. Finally they got Pulliam to Pittsburgh. He met Wagner in the Farmers Bank building and showed his knowledge of character.

"All right, Hans, if you feel that way about it, go ahead and quit," said Pulliam, after he had tried all the stock arguments, "but it will be mighty tough on some poor people."

"How's that?" asked Wagner.

"Well, answered Pulliam, "there are a lot of working men who work hard all week and save and skip and then go to the ball game on Saturday afternoon. Do you know what they go for?"

"Sure, to see the game," replied Honus.

"No, stree, they come to see Hans Wagner swat the ball," said Pulliam.

"Gimme those papers, I'll sign 'em," said Wagner, gruffly.

"Never mind the money; I'll sign them anyhow."

It is now certain that, before the end of the ice hockey season of 1909-10 Boston will take its place as one of the leading centers for the great Canadian winter sport rivaling Ottawa, Saint-Sainte Marie, Toronto, Winnipeg and Montreal for interest in the game. Actual work on the Boston Arena, which is to be chief devoted to ice skating, has been started and the construction is now well under way.

Indeed, the hockey craze is growing throughout the country. Tom Prior, the Chicago sporting man, is building a big ice skating rink in the Windy City. In the Northwest and West there is keener interest in the game than ever. Pittsburgh has been an important hockey center for a number of years and Duquesne Garden was given to the sport every winter. The colleges are paying more attention to hockey, too. It is a foregone conclusion that the Harvard hockey schedule will be materially larger than last year.

All eyes to the November football schedule. The season is about ready to commence its annual wane now, and all attention is directed to the Thanksgiving events. The big teams developed all the steam there is in them and there is nothing now but watch the result. Yale, Harvard, Princeton, the Army, the Navy, Pennsylvania, Carlisle, Cornell, they all have nothing new to show now but the form which has been pounded into them by hard working coaches brooks weeks of effort.

INTERESTING FIND.

Negro Uncerth's Skeleton of Man and Horse in Gravel Pit.

Sherman, Oct. 23.—A negro who has been employed for some time by Lee Wilson at his gravel pit about four miles west of Sherman, today made a find which has caused a great deal of comment. The negro was about seven feet below the earth's surface, and while shoveling out the gravel dug out the skeleton of a man's head. He told Mr. Wilson of the find and a further investigation was made, which resulted in the finding of the bones of a horse, also.

No other bones of the man could be found, and a portion of the skull of the head crumbled away when it was touched. However, the jawbone, teeth and front part of the head are in good condition, and are unmistakably those of a human being.

The bones of the horse are in a good state of preservation, and were easily identified. From their size, it is thought they are the bones of a small animal, about the size of the mustangs that roamed the prairies here years ago.

Mr. Wilson has lived in the neighborhood of the farm on which he now resides, and on which the gravel pit is located, for the past thirty-six years, and he says he cannot account for the strange find on any other hypotheses than that it is the skeleton of an Indian and his horse, which were buried there many years ago. It is known that in the days before the civilizing influence of the white man had extended to this section that the Indians buried their dead warriors, placing them on the horse which they rode in battle, and burying horse and warrior together.

The negro who made the find told Mr. Wilson that hereafter he would have to wait until the sun got "good up" before he went to work, and he would not be caught at that gravel pit after night for any price.

MEAT.

Packers in Convention Say Cost of Producing Cattle is Increasing.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Retail prices of meat will soon take another jump, in the opinion of nearly 1000 packers.

"Prices now are higher than they have been for years," the committee reports. "Prices probably never can go lower, and in all probability must go up. There is little chance for a decrease in live stock prices, and if they continued to go up it will be necessary to charge more for meat."

The report of the committee was read by James S. Agar, chairman of the committee.

"The prices of live stock foodstuffs have been extremely high throughout the year," the report continued, "and this consequently has resulted in the increased cost of production to feeders and raisers. It follows that the cost to us is increased, which means that we must charge more. The wholesalers and retailers cannot afford to pay the difference, and it consequently falls on the public, the consumer."

"It is not anything that this association has control over; it merely is a question of supply and demand."

Government condemnation of slaughtering animals at the expense of packers was denounced as "robbery" by President Michael Ryan of Cincinnati. This was indorsed by practically all present.

SOUTHERNERS IN NEW YORK CITY

ROBT. LEE CARTER TELLS ABOUT VISITORS IN GOTHAM.

STONEWALL'S GRANDSON

Sturdy Son of the South Making a Fine Record in West Point. Newsy Notes.

By Robert Lee Carter.

Copyright 1909 by Publishers Press. New York, Oct. 23.—A number of Southerners from New York will go down to Richmond next week to pay the last tribute of respect to the late Mrs. Margaret Davis Hayes, daughter of the president of the Confederacy. Her ashes will be laid away on October 29 in the Davis section at Hollywood, near the graves of her distinguished father and well beloved mother.

Mrs. Hayes died last June at her home in Colorado Springs, Colo. Her body was cremated and it is in accord with her express wish, I understand, that her ashes should be deposited beside the mortal remains of her father and mother. Memorial services will be held in St. Paul's church at Richmond and the burial will be at Hollywood.

Mrs. Hayes, while not so well known in New York as her mother and sister, Miss Winnie, who was younger, the daughter of the Confederacy, who lived in this city for years, had many friends and acquaintances here, and not only will a number of these go to Richmond, but many Southerners who, while not being honored with the personal friendship of Mrs. Hayes, deem it a duty and pleasure to show this token of respect to the last of the immediate family of the Confederate chieftain.

I learn that young T. J. Jackson Christian, grandson of the South's great soldier, Stonewall Jackson, is making a name for himself as an athlete at West Point. He holds the wrestling championship at the military academy and is substitute half-back on the football team.

Young Christian is a sturdy, clean built young fellow, who enjoys life with a hearty zest. He has many of the characteristics of his famous grandfather and is thoroughly well liked by his mates.

In every line of this great city's activities it's a safe proposition that you will find a Southern man up near the top. I met on Broadway the other day a man who is rarely heard of outside business circles, but who is recognized as one of the most forceful and successful merchants in the city. He is Frank L. Chambers, executive head of the great clothing firm of Rogers, Peet & Co. Mr. Chambers is an Alabamian. If I mistake not he went up to Montgomery from somewhere about Troy, shortly after the war, securing a place as a clerk in Alabama's capital. In the early seventies he sought the wider field of New York. He began literally at the bottom, wrapping bundles for delivery. By sheer force of merit he forced his way to the top and for some years has been the head of the firm. Its growth has been due in very large measure to his business ability and energy.

Judge Joseph H. Bell, city judge of Yonkers, N. Y., and the popular idol of all parties in his adopted city, is a virginian by birth. He has gained almost national fame as the "automobile judge." He has recently distinguished himself by two new and forceful decisions.

In one case he put a bridegroom in jail and declined bail or fine for three days for having willfully disobeyed and exceeded the speed limit, after having been cautioned by the authorities. The judge held that the bridegroom was practically in contempt of court and disrespected the regulations

STEAMSHIP LINE FOR GALVESTON

New Line to Run Between Galveston and Boston.

Galveston, Oct. 23.—On December 1 a new steamship line will be established between Galveston and Boston, calling at Charleston and Jacksonville both going and coming.

This announcement was made by the general agent of the Mallory line, who goes to the general offices of the company in New York November 1. The new service will be maintained by the corporation known as the Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies company, controlling the Mallory, New York and Porto Rico, Clyde and other coast-wise steamship lines. It is understood the Clyde steamers will be used in the new service.

The sailings are to be weekly at the beginning, with the possibility of adding a passenger department to the service later. Some of the large vessels of the fleet will be used to insure the quick dispatch of freight and other shipments between the port and New England.

The establishment of a new line will give the cotton mills and other manufacturers of Eastern New England a great advantage in reaching the Southwest, and the rates will be decidedly in their favor, both to local as well as through points.

At present those shipments come by water or rail to New York and are reshipped from there. The opening for the new line is said to be one of many possibilities and Galveston will be benefited thereby. This will give Galveston four big coastwise lines—three running to New York.

LIQUOR

New Michigan Law Keeps Graybeard and Youngster Alike Dry.

Examination of the new Michigan liquor law, which has just gone into effect, discloses that if it is rigidly enforced no student of any college or school in the state, whether he be a boy in knee pants or a man of middle age, can buy a glass of liquor in Michigan.

The law was drawn for the purpose of putting a stop to the frequenting of saloons by college and school boys, especially in Ann Arbor and Detroit. In an effort to make it airtight, the legislators overdid the matter. The law forbids saloon proprietors or their bartenders "to permit any student, in attendance at any public or private institution of learning in this state, or a minor, to play at cards, dice, billiards or any game of chance in any part of any building in which such spirituous liquors or intoxicating drinks are sold, or to sell or to give to any such student any such liquor, except when prescribed by a regular physician for medical purposes."

No age is mentioned. It is known that there are many students who have passed the age of minority. Indeed, a large number who study in such institutions as the Detroit College of Law, a night school, and the Detroit College of Medicine, both of which institutions soon will re-open, are of middle age. Not a few can be found who are gray-haired men of families. And if a saloonkeeper sells them so much as a glass of beer he has broken the law.

Former Judge William L. Carpenter has prepared an interpretation of the Warner-Cranton law, but he has given the barkeeps no instructions on how to tell whether a man with a yard of gray hair is a student.—Detroit Dispatch to New York Press.

FOOTBALL

Candidates for Varsity and Scrub Teams Being Singled Out.

Austin, Oct. 23.—Interest on the part of the candidates for the Varsity and Scrub teams has not abated in the least; on the contrary it has been intensified since Saturday's game, and on yesterday afternoon the weaknesses noted recently were being strengthened and general improvement made. The men are receiving steady instruction and practice in tackling, interfering and playing faster ball. The line is as good a line as ever represented the Varsity, and while the back field is not exactly weak or light, yet this section of the team is not just what it ought to be, but it will certainly be up to the standard within the next few days. Just at the present quite a bit of shifting is going on, and yesterday several new men were given an opportunity to show their strength, ability and football adumen. Now since the first four weeks of school are about over, during which time all freshmen eligible for the team must have made an average grade of "C," a number of promising youngsters will no doubt be given an opportunity to smooth off the rough edges.

Coach McNeill and Manager Stark of the Scrub team are bawling the fact that four or five of their best men have been added by Coach Draper for a tryout with the Dragons, and while they feel the loss of these men, yet, on the other hand, they are quite tickled to see some of their Scrubs making such a creditable showing. Each change in the Varsity makes some difference in weight, sometimes increasing, then again decreasing, but these days, when weight seemed the most important factor in the make-up of a football team are long since past. However, a good heavy line like Varsity's present one is a valuable asset, as was demonstrated in the two games played.

Rest After Meals.

Hurried eating of meals followed immediately by some employment that occupies the whole attention and takes up all of the physical energies is sure to result in dyspepsia in one form or another. Sometimes it shows itself in excessive irritability, a sure indication that nerve force has been exhausted.

The double draught, in order to digest the food and carry on the business has been more than nature could stand without being thrown out of balance. Nature does not do two things at a time and do both well, as a rule. All know that when a force is divided it is weakened. If the meal were eaten slowly, without preoccupation of the mind, and the stomach allowed at least a half hour's chance to get its work well started before the nervous force is turned in another direction, patients suffering from dyspepsia would be comparatively few.—The Family Doctor.

DISSOLUTION IS CALLED FOR

Goldwin Smith Demands Dissolution of Parliament—Socialists Kick.

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—Dr. Goodwin Smith is strongly opposed to Canada's spending $29,000,000 to establish a navy. Regretting the startling rapidity with which the agitation for a navy has gone forward, he says: "Before Canada is committed to the course proposed parliament should be dissolved and an opportunity given to the people after full and free discussion of pronouncing upon it."

"No parliament elected at a time when this question was not even thought of," he declares, "has the right to pledge the country to a complete change in its whole industrial and political course."

Dr. Smith says the cost of maintenance, including fuel, ammunition and base of supplies, will not be less than $5,000,000 annually, with an immediate capital account of $20,000,000.

Contending that there is no need for this, he remarks: "We have been at peace with the world for almost a century. No one threatens the safety of our ports or our ships today."

"Norway," he adds, "in the midst of armed Europe and with double our tonnage in mercantile shipping, maintains only two cruisers old enough to be ready for the junk pile and so slow that the Mauretania could play rings around them."

"If Norway, with all her shipping on the ocean, can afford to do this, what possible need can there be for Canada, with the greater part of her shipping on inland lakes, where no European warship can get near them, proceeding with a programme of naval defense such as has been outlined?"

"In any case no such step as is proposed should be taken until the people have had opportunity of pronouncing upon it. It will be almost impossible to retrace such a step once it is taken."

ROOSEVELT.

Joaquin Miller Says His Strenuous Theory Leads to Crime.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras, in an address to San Quentin prison convicts yesterday declared that President Roosevelt and his policy of strenuous life are responsible for more evils and crime in this country than any other cause.

After warning the convicts against the evils of lying, Miller said: "There is something wrong with the way people in this country live. They are too strenuous, too active, too highly aroused."

"Roosevelt as head of this great nation rushed people into all sorts of crime. His strenuous theory of life is criminal. He has infected us with a sort of insane activity. America's madness is energy. It is a mania peculiar to us, and Roosevelt is responsible for much of it."

The aged poet advocated giving many prisoners parole, and his theory was upheld by Lieut.-Gov. Porter.

continuance of their former course of conduct.

After the troops were disbanded, the most hostile of them, believing the Smiths eventually would be acquitted on the charge of treason, and the Mormons, still continued their depredations, and deeming that the only way to secure safety was by ridding them of their leaders, they still continued to fan the flame of revenge that had heretofore been burning but too brightly. Urged on by the Mormon dissenters, who were thirsting for blood, they collected, to the number of about one hundred and forty, armed and disguised, and proceeded to the jail about five o'clock in the afternoon of the 27th. Having dispersed the guard, they attacked the jail, and Joseph and Hiram Smith in an effort to escape were both shot dead. Four balls pierced each of them, and any one of the wounds would have proved fatal. Having accomplished this cold-blooded murder, (for surely no other name will apply to it,) and glutted their appetite for blood, the mob instantly dispersed. Great indeed has been the provocation, and revenge had been nursed and fostered by a long series of injuries, and yet they can, as we look calmly at the past, but little atone for the blood shed on that night, the breaking of the law and the wanton sacrifice of human life on the fearful altar of the human passions.

Post haste from Carthage, whose streets were now stained with blood, a messenger was despatched to Nauvoo, with the news of this double murder, who met Gov. Ford and suite on his return from Nauvoo, and a few miles from that city.

The Governor hastened to Carthage, and fearing that the Mormons would rise in force, massacre the citizens and burn the city, advised the immediate evacuation of the town. Most of the inhabitants fled in disorder, fearful that to avenge the death of their leaders, the Mormons would spare none. Gov. Ford, having placed General Demming in command of a small body of troops, with instructions to guard the town, and watch the movements of the Mormons, proceeded at once to Quincy, a distance of about fifty miles.

The effect upon the Mormons was far different from what had been anticipated, for, apparently disheartened by the loss of their leaders, no effort at revenge was made. Sad, silent and gloomy, they seemed to brood over the past, rather than think of violence, and all remained quiet.

The bodies of the deceased were conveyed to Nauvoo on the 28th, and at the entrance of the city by a large concourse of people of both sexes and all ages, who followed them to the late residence of the Prophet. Here they were addressed by several prominent men of their Church, and exhorted to keep from all violence, and quietly submit to the persecutions of their enemies.

All remained quiet for a few weeks during which time the Mormons reorganized, acknowledging the two apostles to be at the head of the Church. The building of the temple and other public works were resumed, and again security and peace were felt by all.

Soon, however, complaints from the surrounding country told that the ruffians were again at work, and heretofore, all attempts to bring offenders to justice proved abortive. If arrested, witnesses were always ready to swear them clear, and again was in a state of disorder and fear. The smouldering fires were again ready to burst forth, and bloodshed take the place of law and order. Another tragedy was enacted, fearful and bloody, and another victim sent unprepared into the presence of his Maker.

TALE OF THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY By EDWARD BONNEY

CHAPTER II.
THE MORMONS.

wo, the headquarters of the on chief and his satellites, had increased to a population of or eighteen thousand. The temple, which, by the way, was for the purpose of a fort or hold, was in process of erection, rapidly being pushed on towards completion. Like the old established of England, each member was, eye, even compelled to give a portion of all he possessed, and thereafter give one-tenth of his income to the leaders of the church. The male members were also to labor one-tenth of the time in the temple or pay an equivalent for, in case of failure in money, the amount of such labor to the committee. A red of iron—a of might was held constantly in their hands to enforce these and was betide the man who disobey the arbitrary mandates at church militant.

the Mormons were rapidly in- in numbers, and daily in- ing their power and wealth, the try around was suffering severely a succession of robberies almost out a parallel in the annals of Stock of every description and of all kinds were constantly and all in the vicinity trembled they like their neighbors, might of their all without a hope of restoration or revenge.

the spring of 1844, Wm. Law, a ng Mormon, openly charged the phet (Joseph Smith) with an at- pt to seduce his wife. (This soon r became the spiritual wife doc- e, and was believed, and even eched to some extent by the leaders e the Mormon Church.) This charge e promptly denied by the Prophet, Law was denounced in the most r terms for an alleged attempt to der the Prophet—the holy head of e Church, and as a persecutor of the nts. Summoned by the high tri- al of the Church, Law appeared, used to retract what he had said, e again avowed its truth, for which e was immediately cut off from the urch. Being a man of considerable e, Law drew with him a few e disaffected members of the urch, who were already tired of ng in humble submission, and ng tributes to the Prophet Joseph, e being held the ready subjects of e will and pleasure.

Among these deserters were Wilso- v, Frank, Higby, Foster, and others, e determined to put the world in e session of their grievances, by ublishing a long train of corruption d crimes, countenanced and prac- ed by the Prophets and heads of e Church, in which they had long e accomplices or accessory. In der more effectually to accomplish eir designs and bring themselves e notice, they at once set about eblishing a principal office at Nau- oo, in direct opposition to the will d special edict of the Prophet.

In the month of May, A. D. 1844, the e press was put in operation, and e prospectus and first number of a e newspaper published under the title e the "Nauvoo Expositor." It con- tained a series of charges against Jo- eph Smith, and the leading men in e church, including bigamy, adultery, e, counterfeiting, &c. In reply e this, the "Nauvoo Neighbor," a e newspaper printed under the direc- on of control of the Prophet, charged e dissenters from the Mormon faith e the same crimes, and sustained e way of the charges by the publica- on of numerous affidavits, made, e, without doubt, by the Prophet's stand- ing witnesses. Each appeared deter- mined to out-do the other in the e magnification of slander and abuse, with which, according to their own stories, each had long possessed a knowledge of. If either were guilty of half they were accused of, the gal- lows had long been defrauded of its just dues, and earth was teeming with the base, the vile, and the blood- stained.

But while the surrounding country was suffering by and remonstrating against the perpetration of these crimes, and charging them justly upon the Mormons, they with one united voice echoed the cry of "Persecution for Righteousness' sake." Then was it that the old adage was freely proved, that when "rogues fall out honest men get their dues."

Upon the issue of the first number of the "Expositor," the Prophet and his adherents determined to at once silence them by the destruction of the press, and the total annihilation of the office. The subject was brought before the City Council, and many in- flammatory speeches were made, in most of which the members of the said Council participated. Smith, the Prophet, told them "that the time had come to strike the blow! That God no longer required them to submit to the oppression of their enemies, and that he should order it destroyed as such."

Hiram Smith spoke in substance the same as his brother, and also de- nounced in unmeasured terms, Sharp, the editor of the Warsaw Signal. He said "he would give any man five hundred dollars who would go into the Signal office with a sledge and demolish the press. That it should be done at all hazards, even if it took his farm to pay for it!"

Upon calling for the vote, eleven voted for, and one against, declaring the Expositor a nuisance, and im- mediate measures were taken for carrying the ordinance of its destruction into effect. This dissenting vote was a Mr. Waring, and the only anti-Mor- mon in the Council, and little was he regarded by the hot-headed ones who were bent on destruction.

The City Marshal, acting under the orders of the Council, raised a force of several hundred men, headed by Gen. Dunham of the Nauvoo Legion, armed with clubs, &c., and proceeded to the printing office. Meeting with no resistance, they entered the office, took the blank paper and other ma- terials and burned them in the street, tied the type, and taking the press into the street, broke it into pieces with hammers.

This done, they repaired to the house of the Prophet, who addressed them in terms of praise, applauding them for their services, and telling them that they had but done their duty and upheld the law. In return he was loudly cheered by the mob, after which they quietly and immediately dis- persed. Some of the leaders, however, remained and congratulated each other upon their success, and the downfall of the power of their enemies. Fore- most among them was the Marshal, who thus addressed the Prophet:

"General, this is the happiest hour of my life!"

"Thank you, my good fellow," was the reply, "you have done well, done your duty, and shall be rewarded for it."

This outrage upon the public press helped to fan the fame already kindled against the Mormon outlaws, by their repeated depredations upon the citi- zens of the surrounding country, and plainly foreshadowed the storm that was to burst with startling fury.

The dissenting Mormons at once united with those opposed to that sect, and various meetings were called, and all parties urged to arm and prepare themselves to resist any further ag- gressions; to be ready at all hazards to protect themselves and meet the worst. Warrants were issued against the Smiths, and other leaders, in the destruction of the printing office of the Expositor, and though served by the proper officers, they refused to obey the mandates of the law, and laughed at its power!

As in all former cases, the writ of habeas corpus was resorted to, and all the arrested at once set at liberty and discharged from arrest; the same persons that were arrested acting as officers of the Courts that discharged them! Thus effectually defeating the ends of justice, and compelling the officer to return to Carthage without a single prisoner!

This mock administration of law, added new fuel to the flame. The public being convinced that Nauvoo was the headquarters of nearly all the marauders who were preying upon the surrounding community, together with the full belief that the Mormon leaders were privy to their depredations, and the resistance and defeat of justice, now became enraged, and determined to rise in their might and enforce the law, even though it should be at the point of the bayonet or sabre. De- termined to rid themselves of the harpies that were gnawing at their very vitals, and if need be, rid them- selves of the whole Mormon popula- tion. Thoroughly aroused, and con- scious not only of their power but also the justice of their cause, they fearlessly avowed their purposes, and knowledge of. If either were guilty of half they were accused of, the gal- lows had long been defrauded of its just dues, and earth was teeming with the base, the vile, and the blood- stained.

The officer, from whose custody the Smiths and others were discharged, proceeded to summon a posse and re- new the arrest from the adjacent counties, rallied under the banner of law and justice. The Mormon leaders learning this fact, gathered also their forces. The Nauvoo Legion, organized at the call of the Prophet, fully armed and equipped and numbering nearly four thousand, with their pieces of artillery, prepared for a desperate re- sistance.

The City of Nauvoo was declared under martial law, and all necessary preparations were made to sustain the edicts of the Prophet and the freedom of the crime-stained ones, or die in the attempt.

The officer, finding his force, or posse, far inferior to that of the Mor- mons, called upon the Governor of the State for aid to enforce the law and allow right, for a time, to triumph over might. Governor Ford, learning the true state of affairs in Hancock County, immediately ordered out several companies of State troops, and repaired with them, in person, to suppress the disturbances, and enforce the law. On his arrival, he proceed- ed to examine into the causes of the difficulty, and despatched a messenger to Nauvoo, requiring the Prophet, Smith, to send a deputation to meet him at Carthage, and explain the conduct of the Mormons. Smith appointed John Taylor, one of the twelve apostles of the Church, and Dr. Burnhise, a lead- ing Mormon, to wait on the Governor.

A full investigation was entered into, and Gov. Ford, instructing the officer having the writs from which the Mor- mons had discharged themselves, to proceed to Nauvoo and demand the surrender of the Smiths and others upon whom the writs had already been served, and in case of a refusal to obey the law, to enforce it at the point of the bayonet. At the same time pledging himself, as the Chief Execu- tive of the State, to protect them from personal violence, and the troops under his command pledged them- selves to sustain him.

The officer with a sufficient guard set off for Nauvoo, having also an order to disband the Nauvoo Legion, which on his arrival was disbanded. The several persons named in the writs, also agreed to accompany him on the following morning without trouble; and how well it would have been, had their promise been faith- fully kept.

Morning came, and the hour of their departure arrived, but the Prophet could not be found, having crossed the Mississippi river during the night with his brother Hiram, and secreted themselves in Iowa, and the officer was again forced to return to Carthage without the prisoners.

Nauvoo was again a scene of con- fusion, all the inhabitants taking part in the trouble. Some rejoicing at the escape of the Prophet, while others were loud in their curses, avowing that he had deserted them, in the hour of danger left them to the mercy of their enemies, and was the cause of all their difficulty.

Smith before leaving had instructed his wife to take her children, with the family of his brother Hiram, on board the steamer "Maid of Iowa," then lying at the foot of Main street ready for departure, and leave the city. With these instructions, however, she refused to comply, and remained at home.

During the day, several despatches crossed the river to and from the Prophet; some advising him to seek safety in flight, and others urging him to return and save the city. Thus urged, the Prophet and his companion in flight, re-crossed the river about sunset, and on the following morning started for Carthage, and Nauvoo was again quiet. When within a few miles of Carthage, they were met by a detachment of State troops on their way to Nauvoo to demand the State arms there in possession of the Nauvoo Legion. The Smiths immediately re- traced their steps, delivered up the arms on the order of the Governor, and again left for Carthage on the morning of the 26th of June.

On arriving there, the prisoners were examined on the charge of riot in de- stroying the printing press, and held to bail for their appearance at the next term of the Hancock Circuit Court. Joseph and Hiram Smith were arrested on charge of treason, and committed to await their examination.

All being tranquil, and Governor Ford thinking an armed force no longer necessary disbanded his troops on the morning of the 27th, leaving but a small force to guard the jail, and proceeded with his suite to Nau- voo. Here he addressed the Mormons, urging upon them the necessity of ob- serving and upholding the laws; pre- serving order, and respecting the rights of their fellow citizens, and telling them the inevitable result of a

A Cruel Joke.
Miss Daisy Dimple found a love letter that her father had written to her mother in the halcyon days of their courtship.

Daisy read the letter to her mother, says Judge, substituting her own name and that of her sweetheart. Daisy's mother raved with anger and stamped her foot in disgust, and forbade her daughter to have anything to do with a man who would write "such nonsensical stuff to a girl."

Daisy then gave the letter to her mother to read. The house became so suddenly quiet that she could hear the flies walking across the ceiling.—Philadelphia Record.

Oriental Salutations.
Some of the oriental modes of salutation are very peculiar. For instance, in Central Tibet, the custom is for the saluter to stick out his tongue, hold his right ear, rub his left hip, and bow deeply, all these motions being carried on at once. Certainly the other fellow need have no fear of personal assault from the subject of these curious antics? Less ludicrous, but equally reassuring, is the Chinese custom of rubbing noses on bended knees. The salaam or profound bow of India and the Mohammedan countries serves a similar purpose.—St. Nicholas.

Religious Chickens.
Mrs. Nelson Sweezey of Sayville, N. Y., has a flock of what are known as "religious fowls," which answer to but one call or sound.

When Mrs. Sweezey wants to feed her fowls she gathers them together by whistling a familiar hymn: "Come, Ye Sinners, Poor and Needy," when the fowls will hasten to her side, knowing that temporal food awaits them. From mere chicks the Sweezey fowls have been thus fed, and they refuse to answer to the ordinary call of "chick, chick," which brings other flocks to the feeding place.—New York World.

Had Gone Visiting.
Mrs. A. was more shocked than amused when, in reply to her question, "Who was at Sunday school this morning?" her 4-year-old daughter said, "Everybody but Jesus." "Why, my dear," said Mrs. A., "where'd you ever get such an idea?" "He was out visiting this morning."

the little lady confidently said. "Daughter," said Mrs. A., "who told you such a story?" "Nobody didn't tell me, mother, but they kept singing it over and over again, 'Jesus is calling, He's calling today.'"—Success Magazine.

Fraud Order Against the European-American Transfer Agency.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The post office department has issued a fraud order against the European-American Transfer Agency, doing business at 53 Leroy street, New York City. After an investigation by the inspectors it was learned that one Dominica Forte wrote letters to numerous persons, usually in a foreign language, telling them the "agency" held a package for them which came by steamship, and upon which there were certain charges.

The European-American Transfer Agency, it was learned by the inspector, had received no such package or made payments referred to. On the receipt of the money asked for in the letter Forte prepaid a package, placing therein cheap jewelry, a small bottle of perfume and several Japanese handkerchiefs, or some such articles, and forwarded the same to the person as the package referred to in the letter.

Sea Islands Sold.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Fanning and Washington Islands of the South Sea group, made famous by romantic fiction, have finally passed out of the possession of the Breig brothers, James, George and William, the Scotchmen who were known as the Kings of Fanning and Washington Islands. The brothers officially lost their titles when the British government constructed a cable station on Fanning Island. James Greig, who was designated as the King of Washington Island, is here. Several months ago the two islands and two others near the group, Christmas and Palermis Islands, were bought for $250,000 by Father E. Rougie, a French missionary, well known in the South Seas, and who is acting as guardian for the invalid Count Cecilie. A stock company will be established, of which Greig brothers will be the directors, and the great guano deposits, which are accounted inexhaustible, will be worked to their fullest capacity, while the cultivation of coconut palms and the production of copra will be increased.

UNCLE SAM WANTS HELP

Lots of Good Billets Are Vacant in Government Service—New Kink in Sheriff Act is Found.

By Ralph Whiteside. Copyright 1909 by Publishers Press.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The return of Mrs. Taft to the White House means that the opening of the social season at Washington is close at hand. In a very short time now the cabinet, senatorial and congressional homes which lead in entertaining will be open and the round of gaiety which will last all the winter will be on. The social season bids fair to be as interesting in its way as does the political and in the judgment of those who are in touch with state affairs, no doubt is felt that the coming session of congress will be the red hot-test of recent years. President Taft will come home with a valise full of pet ideas which he will attempt to put through congress and unless all signs fall, what Uncle Joe Cannon and Senator Nelson A. Aldrich will do to them will be a shame.

To return to the social side, however, death will lesson the social activities of two cabinet families upon which Washington had counted much. Secretary of War Dickinson has lost a son and Mrs. Wickersham, wife of the attorney general, has lost her mother. Neither of these families will, therefore, entertain more than is absolutely necessary. I understand that Mr. Thomas F. Walsh of Colorado, and the world at large will entertain lavishly and that Mr. and Mrs. John R. McLean, who have returned from Europe, also will be prominent in social affairs this season.

There are an unusually large number of good berths in Uncle Sam's service vacant just now and the filling of them have some bearing on the ability of President Taft to put through his proposed regulation program. Among the positions which are to be filled are the Third Assistant Postmaster Generalship, Assistant Secretaryship of the Treasury, Assistant Secretaryship of Commerce and Labor, and some fine, juicy diplomatic plums, Minister to China and Ambassadors to England and France among them. Until these are off his hands, Mr. Taft is apt to be a very popular man among the office holders.

Washington is planning to make next Fourth of July an international affair. The Board of Trade and Commerce have in mind a pan-American pageant, recalling the epoch-making events in the history of the republics of the two continents, as the new feature of the "safe and sane" celebration of the Fourth of July in the national capital for next year, provided the participation of the other republics of North and South America is secured. Commissioner MacFarland says he believes when the matter is properly presented the other republics will be interested to participate by their representatives in a historical procession of high character. It is expected that Commissioner MacFarland will take up the plan with the diplomatic representatives of the several countries upon their return to the capital this fall. With the co-operation of the other countries, it is anticipated the next Independence day celebration here can be made to attract international attention and bring to the capital visitors not only from many states of the Union, but from many other countries of the American continents.

A kink of the new tariff bill has just been revealed through a decision of the Treasury department.

The question came up in connection with an importation of watch cases and complete silver watches. It was decided that as watch cases without the interior works were not designed to be carried on the persons, they were subject to a duty of only 40 per cent ad valorem. But the complete watches are subject to a compound duty, calculated to amount to 85 per cent as being articles, the chief value of which is the silver.

So an empty watch case of the most expensive variety can be imported at 40 per cent, but the little gun metal watch must pay 85 per cent of its value to Uncle Sam's treasury.

A remarkable result of the investigation of the Public Health and Marine Hospital experts into the hookworm disease and pellagra, and one which will interest not only the South but the entire country, is that they are led to believe that these two diseases were the chief causes of the mortality among Union soldiers who were imprisoned in some of the Southern prisons in the Civil war days, more especially among those who were imprisoned at Andersonville. It is asserted that it will not be long until the physicians who have been studying hookworm and pellagra will be able to announce this fact. They have been going into the subject with much care and are convinced that they have found out an important historical and medical truth. Its discovery will no doubt produce a sensation not only among medical men, but among the veterans of the Civil war and their families, who have never been able to understand the cause of the suffering and mortality among the prisoners at such places as Andersonville.

Under the direction of Dr. Stiles, the hookworm disease has been most thoroughly investigated.

The hookworm is known scientifically as Necator Americanus, which means "the American murderer." This name was given to it because of the great number of deaths it causes, directly or indirectly. It is about one-fourth to one-half an inch long, and about as thick as a small hairpin. It has hard cutting plates or jaws guarding the entrance to its mouth and with the aid of these it cuts its way through membranes and fastens itself to the walls of the digestive organs. Highly magnified, the mouth of the hookworm looks not unlike that of the shark and seems fully as terrible. It makes a wound, sucks the blood and produces a poisonous substance which injures the person infected. It has been found a person may harbor several thousand hookworms at once. It may enter the body through being swallowed in contaminated food or it may bore its way through the skin.

The second Southern Commercial Congress will be held in Washington December 6 and 7, immediately preceding the important Rivers and Harbors Congress convention on the succeeding three days.

The large hall of the New Willard has been secured for these events and the attendance on both gatherings promises to be large and of national importance. Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel will preside over the opening session December 6, and the speakers at the various meetings will be men of national standing. Secretary Nagel says of this congress: "Permit me to say that I regard the questions to be considered by the congress as of the greatest importance, and that I believe it will be a most successful one."

The life of a baseball "scout" is no "joy party," if the word of Fred Lake, manager of the Boston American League team, is to be taken for anything. He has been quoted as follows on the subject: "About one of these chaps in a hundred lands a scouting job, and that one usually lands it because the particular owner he is applying to is hard up for some one to do scouting duty and will grasp at a straw."

"The only men qualified for duty as scouts, according to my way of thinking, are old-time players or managers who have seen the national game from all angles. Men like Pop Anson, Ed Donovan and Tom McCarthy make admirable scouts, because they have seen all sorts of ball players, have been in all sorts of ball games and know from actual experience just what a player must be capable of before he can hope to hold down a position in major league line-up."

"A major league scout may be a fine judge of baseball talent and yet be able to size up a winner in the bushes at a glance and yet be a failure as a scout. This same scout that is such an expert judge of players must also be a diplomat if he is to succeed. A baseball scout needs as much diplomacy as a foreign ambassador."

"Oftentimes a scout may see major league qualities in a young player that have wholly escaped the notice of the manager of the club the lad happens to be playing with. Then if Mr. Scout can go about it in a diplomatic way he can oftentimes secure the young player for a reasonable sum and land him without any delay. If Mr. Scout hasn't any such attribute as diplomacy up his sleeve he will probably blunder up to the manager or owner of the club where the youngsters plays, tell him his business and try to buy the player."

"Thereupon Mr. Minor League Manager will tighten up like a clam, refuse to sell the player for less than $10,000 or more and spring a lot of yarns about seven or eight other clubs being after the player just as fast as he can think them up."

"Another thing a scout must be able to do, and that is to refrain from picking up a bunch of lemons to turn over to his employers. A scout must be able to tell a nine-day wonder from the real young star every time. "It isn't always the star players that a real scout is watching in these minor league games. Oftentimes things will be breaking badly for some young fellow, who is working harder and covering more ground than a half dozen of the other players. His batting may be of the lowest, and yet he may be the best looking youngster on the team."

CATTLE TAKING ON GOOD FAT

RECENT RAIN PUT EVERYTHING IN SPLENDID CONDITION.

DABNEY HIGHLY ELATED

Returns From Trip to Ranch on Lipan Flat, Greatly Encouraged Over General Prospects.

"Great goodness alive! You who have not been out of town do not know how much good the recent big rain has done the country," said J. S. Dabney, who has been down on his ranch on Lipan Flat.

"Everything is as pretty and green as you please and the cattle are looking fine. That bunch of yearlings of mine is fattening right along and will make the winter on what grass we have now.

"Water is plentiful and I do not believe we will me without water any this year."

Mr. Dabney left town Friday morning for his ranch in his shirt sleeves, but before he got back he was doing the North Pole act, hunting some winter clothes, for the little norther came before he got back. However, he is walking around on the streets now as happy as a lark and seeing visions of prosperity since the great rain.

"That fine bunch of registered hogs of mine is at fat as butter and taking in more every day. I will make enough meat this year to supply that new factory for a while, anyway, if nothing happens. Talk about hog raising and come to West Texas if you want to do it. Here are more things than a hog can eat. While the corn crops are short in this country, still there is plenty of other things for them to fatten on."

of the city, and that he should be dealt with most drastically.

On the other hand he has also just sentenced a chauffeur, who had been discharged and in spirit of revenge, placed powdered emery in the working parts of the machinery, practically ruining it, holding it as his poison that such vandalism is in the same general category as arson.

"Why in the world do the people of the South stand the awful infliction of the 'silver dollar' querulously asked a friend the other day, who had just returned from a trip to the South. "I am prepared to admit," continued he, "that the country is great and the people the best ever, but actually I am lopsided from packing around those awful silver dollars. I had my first experience in Mobile when I tendered a $10 bill in payment for a small purchase. Well, yes. It was for a drink. I received nine cart wheels in change. Protests were unavailing, as that was all the man had. From then on until I got back to New York I felt like a hardware drummer carrying my samples in my pocket. They tell me the use of silver is due to the fact that the negro cotton pickers insist on the silver dollar in payment for their labor. I don't blame so many Southerners for wanting to get rid of the negro, if this is so."

I noted recently that Misses Louise and Florence Reed, sisters of the late Roland Reed, once one of the best comedians on the American stage, are in abject poverty in Philadelphia.

Reed was particularly popular in the South. He began his stage career as a call boy at the old St. Charles theater in New Orleans, then under the management of Maj. Birwell, whose name is still known and loved in the Crescent City. Young Reed attracted the attention of Major Bidwell, who took a deep interest in him, discovered his talent as a comedian and launched him on the career which brought him fame and fortune. While the comedian made a great deal of money, he left a very little, and now his sisters are in absolute want.

Major E. M. Tutwiler and Mrs. Tutwiler and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jemison of Birmingham, Ala., spent a few days in New York recently before their departure for a European trip.

Among the Southern people in New York I note these: Miss Jane Bowers, a beautiful and popular young lady from Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. D. B. Carson and Mrs. Edward Dougherty of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris of Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hall and Miss Mildred Hall of New Orleans; Mrs. W. H. Stows of Knoxville; D. P. Montague of Chattanooga.

A FAMOUS SENTENCE.

Steele's "To Love Her Was a Liberal Education."

The remark which Steele made in reference, as is generally supposed, to Lady Elizabeth Hastings has often been quoted and almost as often quoted incorrectly. Steele wrote, "Though her mien carries much more invitation than command, to behold her is an immediate check to loose behavior; to love her was a liberal education." There are two curious misquotations of this bright and famous sentence, which Thackeray declared to be "the finest compliment to a woman that perhaps ever was offered." One is in the essay on Pope contained in James Russell Lowell's "My Study Windows." "Was it not in this age," says Mr. Lowell, "that loose Dick Steele paid to his wife the finest compliment ever paid to woman when he said 'that to know her was a liberal education?'" Here are two distinct errors committed by so careful a writer as Mr. Lowell. Yet he is not alone in this. Arthur Helps in his romance of "Realmah" has this sentence: "Steele also did not ill describe, though briefly, the charm of being with a woman whom he greatly admired when he said 'that to be much with her was in itself a liberal education.'" We are also told that Leigh Hunt once in quoting the remark incorrectly ascribed it to Congreve. Here, then, are three distinct writers of high rank who have shown how in a moment of careless composition they were led astray by an inaccurate remembrance. They had no desire to misquote their author, and they gave the substance. But they grievously failed in the words themselves and one of them at least in their application.—Argonaut.

A LESSON IN LOGIC.

Lord Erskine's Way With a Ruffianly Horse Beater.

It is only within the memory of living man that legislation has undertaken to protect domestic animals from the cruelty of their owners. Ownership was held to be absolute by most, but there was one man in England a hundred years ago who could demonstrate the untenable nature of this theory. This man was Thomas Erskine, one of the greatest lawyers and advocates of his age. A tradition survives at Hampstead, the residence of Lord Erskine, which Charles G. Harper has put into his book, "Rural Nooks Round London," and which shows how this legal authority would have administered more recent laws.

It is related that the celebrated Lord Erskine, walking one day on Hampstead heath, saw a ruffianly driver shamefully thrashing a miserably ill cared for horse.

My lord remonstrated with the driver on the cruelty of it, whereupon the fellow retorted: "It's my own. Mayn't I use it as I please?" Then he started whacking the wretched animal worse than ever.

Erskine, greatly annoyed, laid his walking stick over the shoulders of the offender, who, crutching and grumbling, asked my lord—this is the drawing room version, not a verbatim report, which would read rather differently—what business he had to touch him with the stick.

"Why," said Erskine, "the stick's my own. Mayn't I use it as I please?"

Clearing House Operations.

A clearing house is an agency established by the banks of a city to which all checks drawn upon one city bank and deposited in another are sent for payment. Every morning there is a clearance, or settlement, of accounts, in which the checks deposited in each bank and the checks drawn upon each bank are separately summed up and compared. If there is more deposited in a bank than there is drawn upon it the bank receives the difference in cash. If the reverse is the case the bank pays the balance instead of receiving it. The term clearance means either the act of settlement or the sum of all the checks presented for payment. The amount of business done by the clearing house is a pretty sure index of the general condition of business.—New York American.

A Bavarian Apple Pie.

One of the most delicious ways to use apples in cookery is in a Bavarian pie: Line a deep dish with pastry. Fill it with breadcrumbs and bake it until the pastry is done. Then remove the crumbs and fill the cavity with chopped apples and nuts and some stoned raisins. Sweeten with sugar and flavor with nutmeg and cinnamon. Sprinkle with cake crumbs and bake till it is brown on top and the fruit within is thoroughly cooked. Spread over the top a lemon flavored meringue and let it become a light brown in the oven. Set the pie away to cool before serving.—New York Tribune.

PEARY MAY ENTER LECTURE FIELD TOO

COOK'S DELAY LEAVES HIM UN-NECESSARILY SILENT.

Scientific Societies His Choice of Audiences in Case He Does Conclude to Appear.

New York, Oct. 2. —There is strong probability that Commander Robert E. Peary will soon reconsider the resolve he made upon his return to civilization not to appear in public until after the controversy between Dr. Cook and himself should be settled. He finds, so a close friend and adviser of his said, that adherence to his original intention has thrown him directly under the dictation of Dr. Cook, who has postponed the submission of his polar data until next summer, and by so doing has postponed until that date the settlement of the question that Peary urges upon the immediate attention of a scientific board of referees.

It is probable that Commander Peary will soon take the position that his submission of observations and records made upon his successful dash to the pole to the board of managers of the National Geographical society in Washington, being the only course left open to him by Cook's delay, will absolve him from further adherence to his determination of reticence. These complete records he will place in the hands of the geographical society's managers at once, so he promised Willis L. Moore, the president, on Saturday last.

Probably the first semi-public appearance Peary will make will be as the guest of the Peary Arctic club at a club dinner tendered here in his honor. Heretofore the club has always greeted the commander upon his return by giving him such a dinner, but because of his desire not to be made the object of any honoring functions upon his last return this event had been postponed. A member of the club said that if Peary and his legal adviser, General Thomas H. Hubbard, the president of the club, decide that the pole finder had better abjure his desire for seclusion this dinner will be given some time in the near future.

There are several geographical societies of note, especially the Royal Geographical society of London and the Royal Scottish Geographical society of Edinburgh, that have sent pressing invitations to Peary to lecture before them. The two prominent British societies communicated with Peary by cable and wireless before he left Battle Harbor, urging his acceptance of their invitations, but to these, as to others inviting his presence Peary sent indefinite postponements of acceptance. It is likely that after Peary has appeared as the guest of the arctic club he will send the geographical societies notice of his willingness to appear before them.

The commander has made absolutely no plans for a possible lecture tour through this country, his confidant said, and if he does consent to lecture while the settlement of his controversy with Dr. Cook is still in abeyance, the geographical societies whose invitations carry much weight in the scientific world, will be the first to hear him.

Herbert L. Bridgman, the secretary of the Peary Arctic club, was asked if there was any possibility of a second statement from Commander Peary supplemental to the one issued by him last week.

"I do not know if Commander Peary has any second statement to make," he answered, "and I do not know of any reason for expecting such a supplementary statement beyond the deduction that could be drawn from the opening words of Peary's statement of last week, when he said 'some of my reasons' for believing that Cook did not get to the pole would be set forth. If he has other reasons I have not heard them."

CREEL.

Promotion for Former Mexican Ambassador to Washington.

El Paso, Oct. 23. —It is reported here on the best of authority that Enrique Creel, present governor of Chihuahua, and former Mexican ambassador to the United States, will succeed Ignacio Mariscal as Minister of Foreign Affairs in a very short time. Mr. Mariscal will soon retire for age.

Mr. Creel officiated as chief adviser during President Diaz's visit here.

OKLAHOMA BANK FAILURE BRINGS MUCH COMMENT

The recent bank failure in Oklahoma, which has brought forcibly and effectively before the country the advisability of such a measure, has brought forth instructive editorial comment from the popular press as well as from the banking organs. It is interesting to note that in the majority of instances, press opinion seems to be that if the depositors received their funds promptly, nothing else need be considered about the bank's affairs.

A Wisconsin delegation which went to Oklahoma for the sole purpose of viewing the working of the law were in time to look not at the theoretical side of it, but to discover the actual conditions when a banking institution had failed and the other banks were called upon to stand for the loss. They returned to their state convinced that it was impossible. Mr. Hsley, one of the gentlemen who composed the committee, declared after his return:

"The committee maintained an impartial attitude and obtained all the testimony it could on both sides of the question. My opinion that a deposit guaranty law is wrong in principle and would work out badly in practice was more than justified by the situation in Oklahoma City."

That is rather the point from a state, which has just been doing its utmost to bring its banking laws safely up-to-date, and it should be encouraging to the banking fraternity.

It is to be presumed, however, that the state officials have believed in the measure. A number of the bankers of the state have expressed themselves as believing the law upright and fair. They have had an opportunity to recognize the full value of it and it has been apparent that neither the governor, who has strongly advocated it, nor the official who has been required to enforce it, are altogether displeased with the way in which the bankers accept the necessity of paying up now that the time has arrived.

But there is another phase of the matter. It is a serious one, too, and those who are urging a federal enactment of this sort of a law should consider the situation very thoroughly, unless they have more regard for their own prejudices than for the welfare of the country. There are suits before both the Kansas and the Oklahoma courts attacking the validity of the guaranty law. The federal judge before whom the Oklahoma matters have been brought has issued an order restraining the state officials from enforcing the law. Nevertheless, both the governor and the bank commissioner, disregarding the order, have proceeded with affairs according to their desires and wishes. It is dangerous to disobey federal laws. It should be the first duty of every official of any grade in the United States to regard the courts and to give due respect to their rulings.

We have pointed out again and again the utter surface nature of the guaranty measure. It does not prevent the banking troubles—it merely so safeguards depositors that they are in effect preferred creditors to be paid by levying tribute upon other banking institutions and their depositors. It aggravates any banking weakness that might exist by inducing the opening of new banking institutions, thereby increasing competition and dangerous practices. A bank must profit and if the field is overcrowded it must indulge, however willingly, in somewhat risky investments or loans.

It is doubtful if this measure will stand the test of even this one failure with the consequent court ruling on its constitutionality. This is not, however, particularly comforting. The measure was not original with our newest state, which intended to have all things millenium-like within its borders. It was tried long before and found wanting. Probably, before many years have passed, some other one without a clear conception of banking as it should be, will spring it again on a public not always securely confident and always eager for innovations. It will be a sacred duty of the banking fraternity to keep actual historical accounts of the present trials with which to aid future bankers.—The American Banker.

DRESS BILLS VERY COSTLY

Dress Bills of French Royalties Compared With Present Prices.

The importance of the feminine headgear is an old story in many lands but in none is it more interesting than in France, where from time immemorial the women of all classes seem to have given it their particular attention. The Empress Eugenie and the Princess Mathilde, it is well known, were never women to waste money on frivolities such as puffs, sentimentales, although the descendant of Worth, the first man dressmaker in Paris, has many souvenirs of the Empress Eugenie's patronage of their house in early days. At that time 200 francs was a very high price to pay for a bonnet, and in the records of a fashionable woman of the day are the following details: A white straw bonnet trimmed with lavender ribbon and rosebuds, 100 francs; a wreath of roses for evening wear, 27 francs, and a night cap of fine lace and lawn, 25 francs.

Compare any of these prices with those of today and it will be seen that the increase is considerable. The feather hats of last season were sold for enormous prices, some being as much as 1000 francs, and none being under 300. The most simple of morning hats run between 100 and 150 and an evening coiffure can quite easily amount up to 200.

Yet it can not be that material is so very much dearer, for the same old record tells us that broad satin ribbon cost from 8 to 15 francs a yard, white crepe 20, and feathers varied between 45 and 100. It must be, therefore, that the work girls are better paid than they were, and in this case we can have nothing to say. Unfortunately, however, higher wages always create new wants, and there is the same story of poverty to be told all over again—Pall-Mall Magazine.

Hens Carried the Message.

When C. T. Miles of Great Barrington, Conn., saw his garden truck being ruined by a neighbor's chickens he took some corn and on each kernel tied a string with a tag bearing "Keep this chicken at home." The chickens went away with Miles brief but pointed epistle, but did not reappear.—New York World.

COTTON MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Farmers and All Says Crop is Better Than Was at First Announced.

Childress, Oct. 23.—It is almost unbroken history of the cotton business in Texas that the ultimate yield of a crop in any given season proves a surprise to even the best of judges, one way or the other. In Childress county, this season is proving no exception to the rule, and the fortunate feature of the situation is that the crop is turning out far better than was anticipated by the most sanguine. This is not merely a newspaper opinion, but is shared by the best farmers and cotton dealers.

The fleecy staple is coming into the Childress market at the rate of 100 to 200 bales per day. The compress people are expecting to receive at least 20,000 bales this season, which is slightly in excess of that received last year. Taking into consideration the handsome prices being paid this year, Childress county farmers should have little room for complaint about a short crop.

Present indications are favorable for a late frost, and this will very materially add to the size of the total yield. For two preceding years the crop has been cut short thousands of bales by early frosts. All over the county the cry is now going out for cotton pickers, and if plenty of help can be secured, the crop will be soon gathered and put where storms and cold weather can in no wise do it harm.

Farming.

San Antonio, Oct. 22.—All modern improvements which have helped to bring farming down to an exact science in recent years will require a vast area of floor space among the many exhibits to be seen at the International fair, which will open at San Antonio November 6 and close November 17.

Scientific and intensive raming has resulted in the development of new implements which were foreign to this state only a few years ago. Now that irrigation has made statewide strides in Texas, there is much that is new in the machinery that is required to secure the greatest results from stren-

Other things of more than ordinary interest to rural folk will be the newest machinery in use to date dairy establishments. All the models of the current year in cream separators and other dairy machinery will be in actual operation daily throughout the fair.

In the way of heavier exhibits there will be complete cotton gins in operation; immense pumps throwing tons of water hourly, windmills and a varied assortment of pumping jacks and other machinery that make the farm of today as independent as the highly systematized municipality.

A collection of exhibits of this character is of itself of exceptional worth to the fair visitor.

From all points in Mexico and Texas there will be low rate excursions throughout the course of the fair.

SUES.

Merely Alleges That Daniel Frohman Has Failed to Support Her.

Reno, Nev., Oct. 23.—Margaret H. Hington filed suit for divorce from Daniel Frohman in the district court, giving as grounds his failure to provide for her support the last two years.

The complaint simply recites this and the fact that the plaintiff has lived in Reno more than six months, that there are no children and no community property.

No alimony is demanded.

The actress has been in Reno nearly a year and has gone out only for early morning walks or horseback rides. She has gained flesh and looks very well.

Tire Themselves.

Washington Irving tells a story of a man who tried to jump over a hill. He went back so far to get his start for the great leap, and ran so hard, that he was completely exhausted when he came to the hill, and had to lie down and rest. Then he got up and walked over the hill.

A great many people exhaust themselves getting ready to do their work. They are always preparing. They spend their lives getting ready to do something which they never do.

It is an excellent thing to keep improving one's self, to keep growing; but there must be a time to begin the great work of life. I know a man who is almost forty years old who has not yet decided what he is going to do. He has graduated from college and taken a number of postgraduate courses—but all along general lines. This man fully believes he is going to do great things yet. I hope he may.—Success Magazine.

A woman is never old, anyway, if she is wise.

A woman is always wise. Therefore, she is Never, never Old.—Boston Herald.

The Wedding March.

Softly, softly, stir the chorus,
 Louder let the organ peal,
 Tenderly along the aisles
 Let the golden music steal.
 Hush, she comes, the radiant bride,
 Sweet the glorious tones with pride,
 See, her veil about her floats,
 Shril the gentle minor notes.

Every heart is her's this day,
 Flowers before her feet are cast,
 Stepping on her maiden way,
 Stepping from her sheltered past.
 May the years before her be
 Full of bliss and loyalty;
 May he whom she takes this hour
 Guard her with his manhood's power.

Heaven bless this fairest maid,
 Lift your voices myriad-bleat,
 Organ, by a master played,
 Tell of peace and long content,
 May these wedded hearts be leal,
 God Himeself their union seal,
 And His presence evermore
 Dwell within their happy door.

Wedding.

One of the most prominent and beautiful weddings of the autumn season was that of Miss Sadie Mills-paugh, the lovely daughter of Mrs. J. L. Mills-paugh, to Mr. Lemuel F. Boulware.

This marriage brings together two of the most prominent families. The bride has been reared in San Angelo and is loved by all. Her sweet and pleasant manner has won for her a host of admirers.

It was indeed an autumn wedding, as the decorations throughout the house were beautiful autumn foliage in the variegated tints.

The wedding was celebrated with great impressiveness on Tuesday, October 19, at high noon, at the palatial home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Chas. W. Hobbs, on West Twohig avenue.

Mrs. Sidney Mills-paugh sang very sweetly and effectively "I Love You Truly," and Miss Mary Bain Spence played the accompaniment. Then little Miss Mary Hobbs, a cousin of the bride, played very sweetly the wedding march, to the strains of which the bridal party appeared on the stairway. Little Miss Jean Guthrie was the ring bearer, followed by Misses Louise and Jeannette Mills-paugh, who were handsomely gowned in white and carried large bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Helen Mills-paugh, the maid of Honor, appeared in a beautiful yellow messaline gown, and carrying white chrysanthemums. Then into this sweetly re-posed scene, where were assembled the families and intimate friends of the bride and groom, came the bride on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Chas. W. Hobbs. She wore an exquisite white crepe de chine gown, over which the soft wedding veil of tulle fell in graceful folds. Her bouquet was a superb shower of bride's roses.

The bride was met by the bride-groom, who waited for his bride in the beautifully decorated chancel, which was a raised platform between two large windows, where a canopy was formed of autumn leaves. Autumn leaves also formed the background. Here the ceremony was performed very impressively by Rev. J. W. Slier, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. After the ceremony hearty congratulations were offered by the relatives and particular friends of the bride and groom. Delicious refreshments were served. The bridal tour will include a few weeks spent in New Orleans, and a visit to Mr. Boulware's home in Kentucky.

On their return they will reside at

No. 765 Oakes street, at the beautiful Sealy Flats.

On last Wednesday afternoon a most delightful game of basket ball was played by the girls of the High School. The score ran 19 to 10.

Autumn.

The society news is very scarce this week, and to me the month of October seems to be one of the most delightful months for entertaining, for the flowers are brilliant in coloring, the fruits are luscious and the charm of poetry and romance seems to hover over rare days of golden sunshine is indeed an interesting month for the children to make great jollification.

In autumn, when the year is old,
 And when the leaves, all brown and gold,
 By careless winds whirled round and round,
 Lie thick upon the frosty ground.

When all the world is crisp and cool,
 We hurry homeward after school,
 And pile the leaves up higher and higher,
 To build a jolly, roaring fire.

What fun to see it burn and glow!
 To heap on leaves, and puff and blow;
 To let it smolder down, and then,
 All quickly start it up again!

To hear it crackle with the heat;
 To sniff the smoke that smells so sweet;
 Or sit, with elbows on our knees,
 And watch the flames dance in the breeze.

Though some prefer to search the wood
 For ripe brown nuts that taste so good,
 Though flying kite and playing ball
 And setting traps are pleasure, all.

This is the best of autumn's fun,
 And lasts until November's done;
 I like to think her cold, dull days
 Are brightened by our bonfire's blaze.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Christian church met Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Jos. Spence. Quite a number was present and indulged in quilt-ing.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Harris Avenue Presbyterian church met Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. C. W. Yates. After the business session, quite an interesting Bible lesson was had, under the able leader, Mrs. Cochran, who had for her lesson the 21st chapter of Acts.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church met in the parlor of their beautiful church, on the corner of College and Irving streets, on Thursday afternoon. The usual form of meeting was held, after which a half hour or so was spent socially.

Idle Hour Club.

On last Tuesday evening the Idle Hour Club met at the pretty home of Mrs. R. W. Reynolds, in Park Heights. Forty-two was the game for the evening and the players played with great enthusiasm and interest. After the games a few hours were socially spent.

During the evening the hostess served a most delicious salad course to the following members: Mesdames J. M. Holman, W. B. Sayers, O. B. Coppege, W. T. Bartholomew, W. A. Hollifield, W. T. Franklin and J. M. Hollingsworth; Messrs. O. P. Coppege,

W. B. Sayers, W. T. Bartholomew, W. A. Hollifield, W. T. Franklin. The guests present were: Misses Veda Allen, Vera Mauldin, Lella Atwood and Messrs. John Christy and Dr. Nibbling.

Many San Angelo people are attending the Dallas fair this week.

The ladies of the First Methodist church have been holding interesting praise services during the week.

Baskerville-Magruder.

A very pretty wedding was consummated Tuesday at 5:30 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward G. Magruder, when Miss Hazel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Magruder, was married to Mr. Walter S. Baskerville.

The reception room was decorated in a very pretty way with mistletoe and trailing vines. Suspended over the door by which the bridal party entered the reception hall were two hearts, pink and green, while suspended from the entrance into the parlor was one large pink heart. Under this the bridal party stood during the ceremony. The parlor was festooned in English ivy, and over the entrance to the dining room was suspended a large green heart. The decorations in the dining room were pink and green, and hearts were everywhere. Two hearts were suspended from the center of the ceiling, over the table.

The bridal party former in an outer hall, was composed of Mr. Ward Magruder, brother of the bride, and Miss Ara Maddox. The bride and groom and Rev. W. E. Foster lead the way to the parlor, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Minnie Wheeler, where the ceremony was performed in the presence of a few intimate friends.

After congratulations and best wishes were extended the couple, the doors of the dining room were thrown open, and to sweet music, the bridal party lead the way to the dining room, where a dainty luncheon was served. The happy couple, amid a shower of rice, left on the Orient for points in Old Mexico and California.

They will be at home in San Angelo after November 1.

Carnegie's Silent Prayer.

Andrew Carnegie's splendid philanthropy was being praised on the piazza of an Atlantic City hotel.

"Mr. Carnegie," said an aged Pittsburg clergyman, "is as profoundly religious as he is profoundly charitable. All the same—"

He smiled. "Mr. Carnegie attended some years ago one of my business men's week-day services. Seeing him in the congregation and unaware that he was not used to praying extempore, I said after the first hymn:

"We will now be led in prayer by Brother Carnegie."

"Mr. Carnegie rose, red and flushed.

"Let us engage, first of all," he said, "in a few minutes of silent prayer."

"We all obediently bowed our heads and closed our eyes, and Mr. Carnegie, tiptoeing out, escaped."—Washington Star.

Bareheaded Wellesley Girls.

The Wellesley college girls are returning for the school year, and from present indications the students at this college will go bareheaded for the greater part of the year.

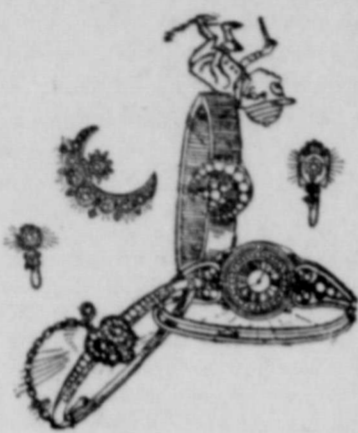

Saturday the campus and town were swarmed with young women, all of whom were wrapped in heavy coats or sweaters, but not a hat could be seen. They will continue to go without their headgear, with the exception of certain occasions, as one young woman stated, "It is the proper way to be."—Boston Post.

DEPOSED.

Rev. G. W. H. Troop Renounces the Episcopal Faith.

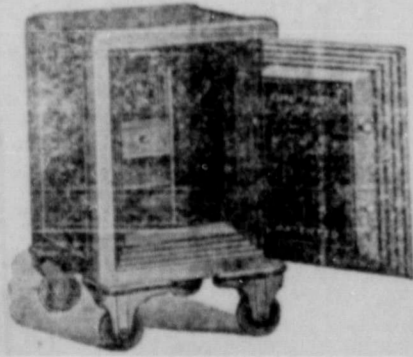

Washington, Oct. 23.—The Rev. G. W. H. Troop, formerly assistant pastor of St. John's church in Georgetown, or West Washington, was deposed from the Episcopal ministry by Bishop Alfred Harding of the Washington diocese. The ceremony of deposition took place at St. John's. Mr. Troop stood with bowed head while Bishop Harding pronounced the words which severed him from the ranks of the Episcopal ministry. In a statement given to the press, Bishop Harding said that the Rev. Mr. Troop had been deposed at his own request for causes not affecting his moral character. Mr. Troop renounced the Episcopal faith four months ago and declared that he would thereafter follow the tenets of Unitarianism.
