ZELAYA IN PERSONAL COMMAND OF TROOPS--CAN'T HOLD OUT LONG

General Estrada Receiving Aid from English Sources, for Which He Pledges Concessions When He Ascends to Throne

Publishers' Press. Bluefields, Nicaragua, Nov. 26.—It is reported here today from Managua where the regular army of Nicaragua under the personal command of President Zelaya is mobilized, that Zelaya and his men have been surrounded by Gen. Estrada and that the surrender of Zelaya is momentarily expected.

Mother's Appeal.

New Orleans, Nov. 26.—"I beg of you to help me clear the name of my son," is the substance of a message received today by Consul Luis Sequeria, of the Nicaragua provisional government, from Mrs. L. W. Groce, of Hempstead, Texas. She is the mother of Leonard Groce, who was shot by President Zelaya's orders.

The mother declares her son was not a spy, but a soldier in General Estrada's army. Consul Sequeria replied that Groce was captured on Costa Rican soil, which makes the incident more complicated.

Washington, Nov. 26.—More battleships are to go to Nicaragua. Orders are out for nine to assemble there altogether.

for October, which showed a tremendous gain as compared with the showing made in October last year, and which resulted in a stiffening of securities of that road.

Utah copper giddied up to 64, the best for some time, and trading in this stock possessed a healthy flavor. American Smelting and Amalgamated copper each rose a point and sustained the gain, with heavy trading. Southern Pacific, Atchison, Rock Island and Reading and Union Pacific were all in big demand, all each netted a gain of one point on the day's trading.

During the first hour London cables resulted in the sales of 25,000 shares of stock, chiefly consisting of steel common, Union Pacific and Amalgamated copper. Later in the day cables from London ordered the purchase of 30,000 more shares, chiefly of steel common.

All nervousness as the result of the Standard Oil decision is now gone and professional operators express a belief that the decision of the federal court in New Jersey will share the same fate the big fine of Landis memory shared when it reached the higher courts.

During the last hour of the market the big feature was the demand for Pacific Mail, based upon a belief that the coming session of congress will pass a ship subsidy bill. Under pressure a ship subsidy bill. Under pressure of heavy buying orders Pacific Mail skyrocketed 2 points. The whole list closed active and with manifest strength.

Government bonds remained unchanged and other bonds closed strong. Call money was freely offered at 4 7-8.

Cotton.

New York, Nov. 26.—The cotton market opened firm, with December ruling about 7 points over Wednesday's close, while far months showed gains ranging from 10 to 13 points. Toward the mid-day the trading became sluggish and less active, but after 1 o'clock there was a healthy reaction sustained by a decidedly bullish undertone that shot up the prices from 20 to 22 points all along the line. This reaction forced May selling to 14.98.

Spot cotton ruled quiet, with middling basis ruling at 14.75. Liverpool reported spots quiet at 7 62 d.

His expenses became so heavy that he appropriated from other students' rooms. He was fined $65.

Then he took a pretty good aim and Moore keeled over dead. The car was crowded at the time, but before the smoke cleared away, it was well emptied. Some of the passengers ran seventeen blocks before they stopped.

SENATOR CLARKE CONTINUES TOUR OF UNITED STATES

COPPER MAGNATE RETURNS FROM FOUR MONTHS' STAY IN EUROPE.

SAYS COPPER PRICES ARE NOW TOO LOW

"Standard Oil Too Great a Corporation and a Standing Menace to Prosperity and Peace of Nation," He Declares.

New York, Nov. 26.—Former United States Senator Clarke of Montana arrived here today from a four months' tour of Europe, and he says that he will continue to travel until he has made a complete tour of the United States.

Senator Clark, who is remarkably chipper for a man of his years, declares that the present price of copper is entirely too low, and he predicts marked advances in the price of that metal and its products within a short time. He further declares that until the price of copper advances it will be impossible to develop the great copper mines of the southwest.

When asked what he thought of the rap the federal court handed the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, Senator Clark merely smiled one of his winning smiles and added:

"I have never believed in combinations like the one represented by the Standard Oil company. It is too great, too all-powerful, and is in itself a standing menace to the peace and prosperity of this nation. It was never intended in the general scheme of things that power such as it is possible for a gigantic concern like the Standard Oil to exert, should be vested in any man or any set of men not responsible to some governing power, or to some influence of great scope.

"The fact that the Standard has cheapened the cost of production of things it handles does not to my mind furnish a reason sufficient to cause such a corporation to continue. A benevolent aspect may cover the dealings of the Standard Oil today and the dealings tomorrow may have a malevolent aroma. At best a corporation is the reflections of the personalities behind the corporation. There's no business as usual."

WOMEN BARRICADED HOUSE IN EFFORT TO STAND OFF SHERIFF

Charles Daniels Wanted for Killing of John Christian, Successfully Evades Officers for Weeks--Murder Result of Old Feud

Williamson, W. Va., Nov. 26.—In returning a volley from the windows of the home of Charles Daniels, at Devon, near here today, a sheriff's posse shot and instantly killed Mrs. Charles Daniels and wounded a 16-year-old girl so that she died in a short time. Mrs. Daniels and her 16-year-old daughter barricaded the house and took a station to head off the posse that was after the husband and father of the dead woman, in order that Daniels could effect his escape. The posse became insistent upon entering the place in its search for Daniels and when members started to advance toward the house Mrs. Daniels promptly opened the engagement, and the opening volley was as promptly returned, with the results here given. The fighting today grew out of a family feud between the families of John Christian and Charles Daniels. About a week ago George Christian was shot and effectually killed by Daniels, and since that time the officers have been looking for Daniels, as has also John Christian.

It was in pursuance of this search that the Daniels home was today surrounded by the posse, and it just so happened that Daniels was at home. Mrs. Daniels and her daughter determined that Daniels should not be captured, so they took station where they could make things warm for the entering party. The first volley created a confusion in which Daniels made good his escape, but by the time the posse got through riddling the house with bullets the interior of the place looked as if it had been bombarded with galling guns at close range. The bullets that brought death to the women went through inch planks before they found the marks.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 26.—Phillip Allen, Jr., who was vice president of the First National Bank of Mineral Point, Wis., and who was an active and able Sunday school worker at that place, entered a plea of guilty in the federal court here today to an indictment charging embezzlement of $168,000 funds belonging to the bank. He will do his time in Fort Leavenworth, and will serve ten years in that prison.

Prior to the time when it was discovered that he had varied Allen was regarded as being a perfectly model citizen.

PITTSBURG NEW HEADQUARTERS STANDARD OIL

BEAUMONT MAN PLACED IN CHARGE OF COMPANY'S NEW OFFICES.

NOW WITH GATES FIRM

Markham, a Former Vice President of All the Southern Pacific Lines in Texas, Is Slated For the Position.

Pittsburg, Nov. 26.—This point has been selected by the Standard Oil company as the center of its future operations. This fact became known today when it was announced that C. H. Markham, formerly vice president of the Southern Pacific lines in Texas, and later vice president of the Gulf Pipe Line company, a perfectly independent company in which John W. Gates, a bitter foe of the Standard Oil from the public viewpoint, is heavily interested, would be placed in charge of the local organization of the world eating octopus.

Markham will be brought from Beaumont, Texas, to take charge of the reorganized plans of the Standard. While he has heretofore been working for an apparent rival of the Standard, it is known that Mr. Markham is a man of marked ability, and it is surmised that he is not entirely ignorant of the ways and the means employed by the Standard to reach the ends that corporation desires.

The Standard has let the contract for a twelve-story office building here that will be devoted entirely to housing the clerks and other functionaries of the big corporation that will be needed to direct the affairs of the Standard from Pittsburg.

PLENTY OF BATTLESHIPS.

United States Is Prepared to Act Forceably if It Becomes Needed.

Washington, Nov. 26.—There are enough American battleships on both sides of Nicaragua, it was announced today at the navy department, to make it interesting for Zelaya in the event he fails to give a satisfactory account for the execution of Louis Groce and Leroy Cannon. The state department is unwilling to accept his contention that the Americans held commissions in Estrada's army as revolutionists.

No confirmation of reports was received today from Nicaragua.

CUT RATES.

Steamship Man Willing to Take Plenty of Credit for Work Done.

Fort Worth, Nov. 26.—S. L. Werden, general superintendent of the Texas steamship company, operating vessels between Texas City and New York, was here today and declared his company has saved Texas shippers more than a million dollars during the first nine months of its existence.

The dry goods rate has been reduced from $1.72 per hundred pounds to 75 cents, from New York. He contends his company has been instrumental in part in the immense growth of state interests.

Wool Sale.

Beginning with Saturday, Col. W. B. Sayers is expecting wool buyers from all sections of the country to buy the entire amount of wool that the Wool Growers Central Storage Company has on hand.

"None of the buyers have arrived yet, but I look for several Saturday," said Mr. Sayers. "Those who will not arrive Saturday will be sure to get in Sunday, as the big bidding comes off Monday morning."

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 26, 1909

FOR HOLY PURPOSES.

The Dallas News contained a very brief announcement to the effect that six novices had been received into the Order of St. Ursula, in that city on Wednesday.

Such self-effacement should be the inspiration of holy thought and pious sentiment. It is meet and proper that this fact was not accompanied by glaring headlines or by a detailed statement of the ceremony.

There are times when we all feel the call of the Great Consoler. There are times when we see the hosts of the after-spell beckon us to join the ranks of the invisible majority marching upon eternity's shores, never stopping, never ceasing. There are times when but for a sickled resolution we would fling the body's dust aside and unfetter the soul that ever craves for the things so unattainable.

These six young ladies who have taken their vows to see as long as life lasts consecrate their energies to His cause to subjugate all thoughts of worldly things, and to elevate thoughts of the great destiny, are the true heroines of the age. They are the exemplars of the spirit that has come adown the ages from Calvary's hill and they are the crusaders of the twentieth century, engaged in making the world better, not by the sword, but by the power of prayer.

We, in our mad rush for worldly ends, are altogether too prone to feel that such steps as these young ladies have just taken are out of tune with the times. We are more apt to think them foolish instead of regarding them as being sincere. The Press-News challenges the right of any man to read the consciences of his fellow-men. The Press-News knows the future lives of these young women will be along rugged paths, leading to higher things, but will not be lives of ease, not lives of pleasure as the world measures pleasure.

The Press-News has a sympathy for the derelict who enacts a tragedy that sends his soul stained with his own blood hurtling into eternity. The Press-News has an admiration for the young women who take the veil of such orders as that of St. Ursula, and when one feels with such sweet sentiments his heart is softened to tenderness and his soul is in communion with his nobler self, when accounts of such courses are read.

We, at least many of us, can not understand the prompting motives that should cause young women in the vigor of life and endowed by gifts far above the average, to join an order of sisters. Yes, my friends, and there are many of us who can find enjoyment in full flower from reading the songs of the poets, who to save our lives can not mix harmony and meter. The same spirit that causes one to find pleasure in reading poetry that has fire and life and hit in it, even though it is beyond us to write poetry, is the one that causes us to view such acts of self-effacement as being noble acts done in a sacred cause to serve a grand end.

It has been said that the Lord tempers His winds to the shorn lambs. Aye, and He plants in one heart a rose, in another a thorn, and in a third He fills the spaces with thoughts that produce neither good deeds nor inspire noble purposes. Into the hearts of those who forever forsake the world He has planted gentleness and appreciation of His powers and His glory. They will travel in paths that He has pointed out to them while they have communed with Him. He will guard them and protect them; He will keep them and will nourish them, for when He commands the sun to stand still, it stands still, and when He commands a heart to heed His calling, obedience is the result.

Pull together and pull all the time. That's one way to build up a country. We have everything here to make this section the greatest on earth, except people. We have got to have a greater population. The quality of the population we have is bully fine. The only fault is it is not large enough numerically.

WAKING UP.

The Press-News gladly reproduces the following from the Dallas News. ... West Texas understands East Texas, for those of West Texas either came from, or came through East Texas en route to this section. There are thousands and tens of thousands of people in East Texas, in Central Texas and in North and in South Texas to whom West Texas is a place of vastness possessed of but imaginary attractions. The object of the West Texas Development congress is to let the remainder of Texas know that West Texas is not only a part of Texas, but also is the best part. The News says:

"What questions are fermenting in the minds of the men who are captaining the development of West Texas is shown pretty well by the list of topics to be discussed at the meeting which will be held next month at San Angelo. They are going to talk about 'the promotion of a still more friendly feeling on the part of North, East and South Texas;' to consider 'how to get farmers and homeseekers in general,' and how to 'induce the investment of foreign capital;' to discuss what is needed for the encouragement of railroad building, and the improvement of educational conditions, and there is to be a 'consideration of needed legislation and how to secure the same.'

"These are some of the problems which, in the estimation of its most enterprising minds oppose the ambitions of West Texas. They are not unique, nor exceptional even. Indeed, they are not even peculiar to that section, a circumstance which emphasizes the fact that though it is a state of vast distances and varied interests, the problems whose solution means the growth of Texas are pretty much the same in their larger aspects. There are some things which perhaps West Texas more urgently needs to do than South Texas, just as there are problems that press South Texas harder than they do West Texas. That difference of degree justifies different distributions of sectional pride and energy; but it makes all sections, however remote, partners in the grand enterprise of making all Texas bigger and better. Does not Northeast Texas, too, need more railroads, more farmers and more developing capital? And hasn't Southeast Texas as much concern as West Texas in the quality of even that legislation which bears on industrial affairs?"

"There has grown up a notion that because some sections of the state are more advanced industrially than other sections, the measure which helps one may hurt the other. That is very largely a fancy; a theory which has more of the appearance than the substance of fact. There is not yet that disparity of need between any two sections which makes the self-interest of the one conflict with that of the other. It is easily conceivable that West Texas should support some measures with more zeal than South Texas should; but the positive attitude of West Texas can afford South Texas, for example, no reason to assume a negative attitude. It might hurt West Texas thereby, but it would not itself wholly escape some part of the resulting damage.

"Those West Texans show a pretty firm grasp of their problems, but in defining them they have proved again that their interests are the interests of the whole state."

The Press-News hopes that should Gov. Campbell see fit to call a special session of the legislature as a result of the findings of the penitentiary investigating committee, that the governor will confine his recommendations exclusively to the penitentiary matters. But The Press-News fears that such will not be the case. Gov. Campbell plays the game with East Texas astuteness. He will use the report probably as the basis for calling the legislature together, and after the legislature convenes he will bombard it with recommendations to jimmie up the tax rate for railroads and pass a 2-cent fare. Let's keep our eye on this prediction.

Things are looking queer at this distance. For instance: The same men who own the Postal Telegraph company are said to control the Bell Telephone monopoly. The Bell Telephone monopoly is said to have secured control of the Western Union Telegraph company. The government is also said to be investigating this merger of interests. Perhaps by the time the people who take down the receiver in Fort Worth or Dallas are able to get 'Central' we shall learn whether or not the merger is illegal. In the meantime the monopoly infested places can come to San Angelo and see how well a really independent telephone company serves the people.

A well developed gasser has been brought in in the Palo Pinto oil field. Palo Pinto county was for years the home of Hon. F. C. Highsmith. Hence news of this great feat is not regarded with genuine surprise.

CHAMOIS FOR ALL PURPOSES

A finer lot of chamois skins never struck this town than the several kips of them which we have just opened. They are fine, very-soft and of even thickness. The color is also even, which makes them particularly good for fancy work.

We have these fine skins in all sizes from little ones for polishing, watch pockets, etc., to large ones suitable for chamois vests, carriage washing, etc. The sizes run unusually large for price.

If you have use for chamois this is an unusually good opportunity to select. All prices from 5c to $1.50.

CONCHO DRUG STORE

Let's don't permit ourselves to become frenzied over the execution of Cannon and Groce, the two young Americans put to death by President Zelaya. The latest accounts from Nicaragua say that Groce and Cannon were caught in an open and armed rebellion against that country. When foreigners come here and take up arms against this government they will find they will not only be promptly shot upon being captured, but that their country and their relatives will be told to cheese it when a claim is made for damages.

He is the original lady-in-waiting to His Excellency, Gov. Thomas M. Campbell.

There is politics and there are politics. The Press-News knows that politics at times preempts the realm of economics. The Press-News stands for the economic development of West Texas, not for today and tomorrow, but for all the time. That's why The Press-News urges the people of West Texas to be a little slow in pledging their support to any candidate until they find out how such candidate stands upon the measures that vitally affect West Texas.

Just suppose there were 50,000 farmers cultivating the rich lands in a radius of twenty miles of San Angelo. What, then, would be the commercial standing of this city? Let's see to it that inducements are offered to the tillers of the soil to come here. East Texas got an appropriation of $2000 for an experimental station. What has West Texas gotten?

MONEY POURING INTO THE COFFERS OF YALE

Graduates of That Famous College Are Making It Enormously Wealthy.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25.—Yale university has broken all financial records in its history by receiving bequests and gifts of more than $1,000,000 in the first six weeks of the college year.

First came a gift of $425,000 from William D. Sloane, '89, hon., and Henry T. Sloane, '66, of New York, for the erection, equipment and endowment of a university physics laboratory to be used by the college, the Sheffield Scientific school and the graduate school. Within the last few months these same donors have contributed to the Yale treasury $100,000 besides, which brings their total gifts to Yale up to three-quarters of a million dollars.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt, '99, of New York, presented to the general endowment fund $25,000, and George Hewitt Myers of Washington, a graduate of the Yale forestry school in 1902, started a fund for the endowment of the forestry school with a gift of $15,000. Simultaneously with the news of these gifts came the announcement that by the death of Chas. H. Farnam, '65, the American history department of the university had fallen heir to a large sum which will be available later. For the present an income of $4000 annually will be forthcoming.

Next word came from Wilkeshaere that by the death of Dr. Levi Ives Shoemaker, '82, the Yale medical school would eventually come into half a million dollars. Dr. Shoemaker, who was traveling in Germany with his wife and sister, was to have celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his birth on the following day; when he died on September 27 last. By the will of John Stewart Kennedy Yale gets $100,000.

Within the last thirteen months Yale has practically received a million and a half dollars in bequests and gifts from three sources. Two of the three are the Sloane gifts and the bequest of Dr. Shoemaker, while the third came in the form of a bequest from Frederick Charles Hewitt, '58, of Oswego, N. Y., who left $500,000 to his alma mater.

Aside from the recent gifts Yale received a million and a quarter of dollars last year in gifts and bequests. Of these one anonymous gift included $348,779 to be used for a new building and $279,486 was for the endowment of the extension fund.

Masked Musicians.

The Shakuhachi players of Japan are a privileged class of itinerant musicians. Their instrument, a kind of reed oboe, enjoys what is perhaps a unique distinction, it having been adopted as a unit of measurement, a sixth of a sen, or about two feet.

A peculiar headdress something like an immense peach basket hat serves as a cool variety of mask, permitting the wearer to see without being seen—a decided advantage to such people as have come down in the world and are undesirous of publicity.

It also serves as a further distinctive feature of this class of musicians to those who do not read the descriptive matter which is hung in front of each player.—Wild World Magazine.

Wild Turkey.

Alabama passed a game law one year ago prohibiting altogether the shooting of female wild turkeys. Previously these birds were hunted the year round. The result of the enforcement of this law has been a great increase in the number of wild turkeys, so that game wardens declare that there is no reason why every sportsman in the state should not serve to his family a wild turkey gobbler for Christmas dinner. What can be done in Alabama can be done in many other states. To be sure, some states would have to import their first birds and establish them on a range, but it can be done, and would add a new delight to the sportsmen of the state as well as add to the natural wealth of the state's resources. How would it do to try a turkey experiment in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont?—Manchester Mirror and Farmer.

The Sight Was Impressive.

Mrs. Newlywed: George said he went to a Turkish bath last night, and that's what kept him out so late.

Mother: I don't believe there is such a thing as a Turkish bath.

Mrs. Newlywed: You don't? Why?

Mother: Because I saw a Turk once.—Exchange.

A. H. Denge of Paint Rock, left for his home Tuesday afternoon.

NEW FIELD IS OPENED FOR YOUNG WOMEN

By Paul Lambeth. Publishers' Press.

London, Nov. 25.—England will soon welcome heartily the first American lady Rhodes scholar. She will not be a Rhodes scholar in name, though she will stand in the same relation to the English varsity woman that the Rhodes scholar does to the English varsity man.

The American general federation of women's clubs is responsible for this new departure. The federation, desiring to show by actual demonstration what it would mean to American women to have the same academic privileges as are now enjoyed by the Rhodes scholars, decided some time ago to establish a similar scholarship open for competition by American girls. Funds were raised and the matter of selection was placed in the hands of Miss Laura Drake Gill of Washington and Mrs. Francis Squire Potter of the University of Minnesota. There were eight entrants for the examinations. They were examined under precisely the same conditions of Rhodes scholarship examinations. These papers are now in the hands of the Oxford authorities, who very kindly agreed to pass upon and mark them with the papers of the Rhodes scholars.

It will be January before this work is done and a selection can be made. I understand that the winner will be given the choice of a scholarship either at Oxford, Cambridge or London university.

The Rhodes scholarships have been so fully successful that the general belief is that this new field opened for young women will be equally successful and this experiment may lead to the establishment of a general fund for women similar to the Rhodes fund for men.

Two Americans, F. A. W. Wilkins and C. P. Crawford are the envied of all amusement promoters here and are making a fortune with startling rapidity.

These young Americans have upward of twenty roller skating rinks in full swing in the large towns of the United Kingdom, and in almost every instance the attendance since their opening in September has been far in advance of last year.

Messrs. Crawford and Wilkins cater for the family, and in a short space of time their names have become household words throughout the United Kingdom.

Like every other enterprise, the skating rink manager needs experience, and this time Mr. C. P. Crawford brings to bear upon the conduct of his huge undertakings.

For many years he has been one of the most successful skating rink managers in the United States.

Having covered the map of the United Kingdom, Messrs. Crawford and Wilkins have now invaded the continent and are meeting with a measure of success even greater if possible than that which they have achieved in Great Britain. In Paris, Hamburg, Hanover and Antwerp they have established rinks which are creating skaters at an extraordinary rate. At the big hippodrome in the Boulevard de Clichy, Paris, the old home of Boston, Parisians of all ages are exercising on the "wheels of Winslow."

Olympia, by the way, will reopen on December 4, but it will not be the only Crawford and Wilkins venture in the West End of London. In the latter part of November they are opening a beautiful skating palace in the hillside Park avenue.

This will be the largest building in the world built especially for roller skating.

Pumpkins Revived the Note.

A Sturgeon banker has two pumpkins in a glass case he values at $2,000. Thirteen years ago the banker said he lent a farmer $1,000 with which to buy stock. The farmer, of course, gave his note. The borrower lost on the stock deal and had hard luck generally, so he couldn't pay the note. Later he went West, and after many years he made good again and returned to Sturgeon. The banker tried to collect his note, but it was outlawed by a lapse of thirteen years. One day the banker stopped at the man's farm and admired his fine pumpkins. The farmer made him a present of two large ones.

"I'll just credit these pumpkins on your old note," the banker said. "All right," said the farmer.

That revived the obligation. The banker brought suit and recovered in full for the note and interest.—Kansas City Star.

SALE OF FRISCO AND TEXAS ROADS MADE TO YOAKUM

Publishers' Press.
New York, Nov. 26.—It is reported on Wall street that negotiations for the complete sale of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad and the lines owned and operated by the parent system, including several lines in Texas, to B. F. Yoakum, have about been consummated. Mr. Yoakum is already chairman of the executive board of the Rock Island holding company, which concern owns a majority of the Frisco, but it is believed that the disintegration of this holding company is now being worked out, all being caused by the Standard Oil company decision in New Jersey.

It is further stated in amplification of this report, that Yoakum will sever his connection with the Moores and the Leeds and will join forces with Edwin Hawley in forming the greatest railroad proposition in the west and southwest. The conferees of Yoakum on the Rock Island holding company have greatly hampered him in his plans to further enter the southwest, is the report now current here, and it is a desire to avoid this interference that prompts him to make a rearrangement of his affairs.

The systems contemplated by Yoakum and Hawley will surpass in power and possibility all other systems, save the one built up by Harriman in his lifetime.

Martia Shaw, who is traveling for a dry goods firm in Chicago, went to Ballinger Friday on business.

Austie Murray of Galveston, returned to his home Friday afternoon after a visit to this city for several days.

Mrs. Nat B. Jones, Charged With Death of Husband, Appears in San Antonio Court Room.

Special to The Press-News.
San Antonio, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Nat B. Jones, charged with killing her husband recently in her apartments here, appeared in public the first time today since the killing, at the habeas corpus hearing. She was veiled and clothed in black and was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Stephenson, who also was in mourning.

Several witnesses were examined as to the relations between Mr. and Mrs. Jones subsequent to a separation. The hearing will consume several days.

After visiting in San Angelo for several days, Miss Lellie France of Dallas, returned to her home Friday.

Tom Tynum Has Water Pumped into His Veins at Fort Worth—Scheme Works Well, Indeed.

Special to The Press-News.
Fort Worth, Nov. 26.—The life of Tom Tynum, white, was saved following a cutting affray in which he narrowly escaped death, by physicians who diluted his blood with water to augment the circulation.

Tynum was slashed by Charles Smith, a blind white man, on last Wednesday. Loss of blood caused a dangerous exhausted condition, but the water injected into his blood vessels assures recovery.

Morden Thompson of Sherman, after spending several days in this city visiting, returned to his home Friday.

Clarence Martin was a passenger on the Santa Fe Friday for Brownwood.

MESSAGE TAKES UP TIME OF THE CABINET

It is Completed in Sections, But Not Yet Been Formally Joined Together.

Publishers' Press.
Washington, Nov. 26.—President Taft and his cabinet wrestled two hours today with the forthcoming message to congress, which has been completed in sections, but has not yet been formally joined together.

It is understood that there was some friction brought about by a divergence of views of cabinet members as to how the trust question should be handled, but it is also understood that all matters were finally amicably adjudicated.

Chas. D. Fred of Dallas, who has been in the city on business for several days, left for Ballinger Friday.

Second: Lying alongside and just east of the above mentioned place I offer 300 acres; 50 acres in fine state of cultivation; good four-room house, barns, etc; about 65 or 70 per cent tillable. Price on this place $40.00 per acre; terms same as above. Alongside and just east of the above place I offer 300 acres; 85 acres in fine state of cultivation; about 60 per cent tillable. ## PRESIDENT ASKS MEETING WITH RAILROAD MEN

Publishers' Press.
Washington, Nov. 26.—President Taft has invited the railroad magnates of America to meet him here for a conference. Among those he has invited are B. F. Yoakum of the Frisco-Rock Island lines, E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe, James J. Hill of the Southern Pacific, and W. C. Brown of the New York Central lines. The object of this conference is to enable the president to obtain a better appreciation of the other side of the transportation question.

Raymond Teal at the Yale.

Raymond Teal and his excellent company of singers and dancers repeated their opening success packing the Yale last night to the doors to witness the second performance of Billie B. Friedlander's successful song show, "Variety Isle."

The seating of the big crowd was handled nicely, every one being placed quickly and handily.

Mr. Teal has certainly the goods and what San Angelo has been wanting for a long time, the only mystery is how he can offer such a show at the price, and the answer is if the high standard already set is kept up, the Yale won't be able to hold them.

Today a big souvenir matinee is billed for 2:30 at reduced prices and it no doubt will be packed.

"Variety Isle" will get its last performance tonight. Monday the bill will change to "The Man Behind." In this bill Raymond Teal will be seen in his famous role, that of Ginger, a negro waiter. Mr. Teal was for seasons the feature with West's big minstrel show and is acknowledged one of the leading back face comedians of the day.

WICKERSHAM BOSS STANDARD CONTEST

Frank B. Kellogg, the Minnesota Genius, Was Field Manager, However.

Publishers' Press.
Washington, Nov. 26.—Frank B. Kellogg, the Minnesota genius, who prosecuted the case for the government against the Standard Oil company, in which the decision ordering the dissolution of that corporation in New Jersey was obtained, arrived here today for the purpose of holding a conference with Attorney General Wickersham. While Mr. Kellogg has been the field manager of the fight against the Standard, it is well known in this city that the plan for the great contest was thought out and perfected by the attorney general in person, whose famous motto and guide for action is "Use smokeless powder and a Maxim muffer."

Mr. Wickersham has privately expressed himself as being confident that by the time he leaves the cabinet he will have a bunch of scalps hanging in his belt that will stay hanging. This is taken as an indication that the noisy end of the prosecutions conducted by the Roosevelt administration will be eclipsed.

Benefit of a Little Science.

Prof. Knowit: You've been studying about the scalp, Mr. Fresh. Can you tell me why my hair keeps falling out?
Fresh: The laws of gravitation, sir. If you had the least personal magnetism, sir, your hair would fall in.—Life.

OIL LANDS OF GREECE SOLD TO STANDARD

Publishers' Press.
Athens, Nov. 26.—King George has been able to secure plenty of money for his rather depleted treasury by the sale of the concessions on all crown oil lands in Greece, which property includes about all the oil lands in the kingdom, to the Standard Oil company of America. With this additional field of production at its command the Standard Oil question will likely become as acute in Europe as it is in America. But few of the countries of Europe, however, will run up against any bill of rights constitutionally in dealing with the Standard, should it become necessary to curb the powers of that corporation.

New York, Nov. 26.—Charles White, secretary of the Standard Oil company, tonight denied that the Standard had a monopoly in Greece.

PAY DAY LONG DELAYED.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 27.—The Russian Consul at San Francisco wired Gov. Hay that thirteen Russians employed as miners near Tenino had received no pay for forty-five days and were suffering. After investigation, the governor telegraphed the Consul that the men would be paid. William McArthur, former owner of the mine, had employed the Russians. He gave an option on the property to the King Coal Mining Company. Pay rolls were not promptly met and the Russians struck. The company offered to allow the miners to work the mine six days and take the product in lieu of overdue wages. The Americans accepted, but the Russians refused and later attempted to take possession of the mine. For some days a deputy sheriff has been on guard. Assurance was given the governor that enough coal now mined has been sold to meet the accounts due the Russians and that they will be paid this week.

BANGING OF GUNS HEARD IN THE LAND

Quail and Other Birds Flad but Little to Be Thankful For on Thursday Last.

By the time the dawn of the day had shown its face Thanksgiving, many eager hunters were out on the prairies and along the rivers shooting up the whole country. The crack of the gun and the fall of the birds was the result of the day's run.

Like milch cows turned from the pen, and spread out in every direction, seeking the best grazing parts, the huntsmen left the city, not in small numbers but scores of them.

People who came to the city in the morning to spend the day of thanks here assert that on every side nothing but the fire of guns was heard.

"It was more like a skirmish west of town," said a man who came into the city Thursday, "than merely hunting parties out killing game."

While Thursday was spent in hunting birds mostly, that is the smallest species of game hunted by the people of this country since the game law released its hold upon the obedient citizens.

Not only have local people been out hunting since November 1, but men from many other states. They have come here in bunches. And they were well prepared to kill the full amount of game permitted by law.

"These hunters have slaughtered everything from a snowbird up. The greatest sport has been in killing deer. Many deer have been killed in West Texas since the season opened. Today there are several different hunting parties down on the Pecos and at other places.

From what can be learned these hunters are having all sorts of luck in killing all sorts of game. One party returned Wednesday after a week's hunt and brought in eight deer tails to show what they had killed.

Hunting is a great sport in West Texas. The vacations are spent in that sport rather than in sitting around.

The season is about one-third gone. If the people of this county persist in hunting, with as much success as has been the case in the last month, the accumulation of wild game in West Texas will be thinned out to a great extent.

A Monkey Aigrette.

Fur is more and more employed for hats as the season advances. Skunk, sable, fox, ermine, chinchilla and opossum are all equally favored at times as a trimming, and also as entire turbans, toques or caps. There is still another fur much used for its long silky hairs and which forms the most effective of aigrettes. I am alluding to the skin of the monkey that most of the Paris furriers are supplying to our leading milliners. An aigrette on single, as it is called here, is one of the smartest innovations of the hour.—The Gentlewoman.

President Diaz a Carpenter.

President Diaz received at Chapultepec castle a committee of workmen who invited him to attend the velada to be given by the laboring element in the Teatro Arbeu, in honor of Jesus Garcia, the engineer hero of Nacozari who saved the town but lost his own life by pulling a burning train of dynamite out of the village.

"I was a carpenter," said President Diaz. "As a young man I was friendly with a Frenchman, who taught me how to work with tools and with my own hands. I made a chair which is still in the Chamber of Deputies of Oaxaca and in which I sat many times when I was governor of that state."—Mexican Herald.

SHORT.

Pecan Crop Out Here This Year Hurt By Early Rains.

This season the pecan crop is exceedingly short. According to reports made by pecan dealers only about four cars will be shipped from San Angelo this year.

This is only one-tenth of the crop sold in San Angelo about twelve years ago. That year forty cars were shipped from this city. The average number of cars marketed in San Angelo for many years has been about fifteen cars. This year it has fallen far below the standard.

The price is also off. Pecans today are bringing about ten cents wholesale, at the best. That is a price sufficient for the dealers to make money however. Very little expense is at all added to pecan growing. In fact, no expense is caused in growing pecans in West Texas, as they are grown along all the rivers and creeks in this section of the state. Occasionally a pecan farm is found in West Texas but very few and far between.

The pecan market has not been affected by the shortage of the crop in West Texas. The crops in all other pecan sections, so it is understood are very good. That is why the market is low. These conditions have handicapped the Western part of the state.

Some reasons may be given as to why the crop is short. Pecans are very tender while young. It needs a lot of moisture in its youth to mature. Not too much, however. This amount of rain must come at about a certain time or it does no good. This year the rains have been plentiful in quantity for the pecans, but it came too late. Pecans had already begun to form a shell when the rains came. From some cause many of them blasted. Insects also destroyed many of them. This condition of affairs in the pecan crop happens once in awhile but on the average this part of the state produces more pecans than any other part.

The Secret Divorce Abuse.

One of the great restraints upon the sundering of the marriage tie is the publicity supposed to attend the performance, and the causes leading up to it. Most couples who come to find their married life hard to endure will hesitate a long time before consenting to undergo a public trial or exposure of their troubles or transgressions. Increasingly frequent as divorce is becoming in America, few will venture to affirm it would not become much more frequent if divorces were obtainable in secret. Yet in secret, so far as the courts are concerned, has it come to pass that divorces are obtainable in New York state among the wealthy, where divorce seems to be especially numerous. This secrecy of divorce for the rich is fast reaching the dimensions of a public scandal.—Springfield Republican

Cincinnati Man Alleges Conquerer's Remains Are Not Buried in Spain—Details.

Mexico City, Nov. 25.—Charles C. Gordon, a young man whose home is in Cincinnati, has just found evidence which proves to him as well as to those of many Mexican historians that Hernando Cortez, conqueror of this country in the sixteenth century, died and was buried here and not in Seville, Spain, as has been the generally received idea. Mr. Gordon has been in Mexico for several years studying the people and conditions, and the history of the country from unpublished manuscripts.

He has found that one of these purports to be the will of Cortez in which he said he wanted to be buried here. Another is an attestation of the will by a friend of Cortez, who details the death of Cortez in 1550, immediately after his return from Spain. The bones of Cortez, according to Mr. Gordon, are buried in the Temple de Jesus, Mexico City.

He says he will immediately bring the matter to the attention of President Diaz and have the bones taken up and reburied in state. He is prepared, he says, to refute the statements of historians that Cortez died in Spain, and says he has the records of his return voyage in 1550, as well as those of his death on his vast estate lying just outside of the capital of Mexico. According to all accepted evidence, Hernando Cortez, the conqueror of Mexico, died on a small estate which he owned near Seville on December 2, 1547, at the age of 62 years. If a body presumptively his should be produced it should be easy to identify it by the marks of old wounds. For instance, his skull was trephined and a silver plate inserted in it.

THE BANDITTI OF THE PRAIRIES

BY EDWARD BONNEY

forced to flee for safety. I promised to give him the particulars as soon as an opportunity could be had after reaching Perrysburgh. I then inquired for Long and Birch. Royce said they were coming on, and would meet him at the American Hotel in Perrysburgh that evening. I told him, that as we ought to avoid being seen in company, I would stop at the other house, while he and the boys might meet at the American Hotel, when I would call upon them and prepare to go to Adrian in company.

At Perrysburgh, I stopped with Sheriff Thrift at the Stage House, for the purpose of making arrangements unknown to Royce for the arrest of Long and Birch immediately after their arrival.

I called to my assistance J. C. Spink, Esq., to whom I had been referred by Mr. Dickinson, and our preparations were speedily made for the reception of the murderers.

I then held an interview with Royce, who at first manifested much distrust because Fox was not with me. I was obliged to manufacture a story to quiet his suspicions. I told him that after leaving him at Berkshire, I had returned to Columbus, and from thence to Cincinnati. I had there stepped into a reading room and seen an article copied from the Wabash Enquirer, headed, "Look out for horse thieves," and speaking of me by the name of Jack Brown. I also learned that the City Police were on constant watch for me. I have, as you see, cut the article from the paper in which I found it, and now show it to you.

Finding that Cincinnati was not a safe place for me, I went secretly and set the men at work filling up and signing the blank bills. I then left the city, but discovering that the Sheriffs and Constables back in the country were also on the alert for Jack Brown, it would have been rashness in the extreme, as I thought, and you will readily acknowledge, for me to have gone back to Indiana.

Under these circumstances I resolved to return through Columbus, and Berkshire, to meet you and the boys at Adrian. As soon as they arrive we will take counsel together, and decide upon the best course to pursue. If necessary, one of the boys must go after Fox.

This explanation, accompanied by the article purporting to have been cut from a Cincinnati daily paper, was a satisfactory explanation to Royce for the absence of Fox. He congratulated me on my fortitude and hair-breadth escape, and expressed the opinion that it would not be necessary to send for Fox to assist in the bank robbery, as from my description of the situation of matters, he judged that four of us would be sufficient to make the raise.

He stated that the name of the old Jersey farmer, who was about to have been robbed by Long and Birch, went by the name of Wilborne. He had mistaken the name, when he saw me in Berkshire. The boys upon learning that he had seen Tom Brown, and upon being informed of the project for robbing the South Bend Bank, had decided at once in favor of abandoning the Wilborne robbery. He said that they were in high spirits, and full of animation, at the prospect of uniting with their old friend Tom Brown, in an operation of so much promise. They had not seen him since he fled from Nauvoo, at the time the Hodges were arrested.

The afternoon passed away in conversation, and at evening we each returned to our respective hotels, to await the arrival of Long and Birch. I watched for the approach of the murderers until eleven o'clock at night, and was about to retire, when a messenger arrived from Lower Sandusky, bearing the welcome intelligence of the arrest of Long and Birch at that place, by a posse under the direction of R. Dickinson, Esq.

Sheriff Thrift, at my request immediately arrested Royce, keeping him in total ignorance of the part I was acting in the affair. Nothing was found upon his person of a criminal character, except one ten dollar counterfeit bill, upon the State Bank of Missouri.

Among the articles lost with the portmanteau was the silver watch of which the Methodist minister was robbed. Also the bowie knife that Birch flourished over the head of Mrs. Mulford, and a pistol belonging to John Long, which in all probability was the one from which Colonel Davenport had his fatal wound.

On reaching Chicago, the porter made and subscribed an affidavit before Esq. Kercheval, Justice of the Peace, setting forth the above facts.

Birch afterwards confessed that he threw my portmanteau overboard for the purpose of destroying the evidence of his guilt, supposing it contained the watch-chain and seal of Colonel Davenport.

I conveyed the prisoners from the steambot to the Chicago jail, and placed them in the custody of Sheriff Lowe, until eleven o'clock.

While in jail, Mr. Wentworth of the Chicago Democrat, called to see the prisoners, and informed them of the arrest of Bridge, Oliver and McDole, on Rock River, and also of the disclosures of West.

Birch became much alarmed, cried, and earnestly begged that he might remain confined in Chicago, until the excitement throughout the country should have subsided. He said he was afraid that he should be lynched; that he was a very bad man, was guilty of robbery, larceny, etc., but protested his innocence of the Davenport murder.

Long in the meantime appeared perfectly cool and unconcerned. He said that he had nothing to fear. He had never wronged a man in his life, and

"As for you, Birch, you are a d—d fool, for making such a fuss."

Being myself worn down by constant watchfulness, and having still one hundred and eighty miles to travel through a sparsely populated country, where Long expected assistance from his friends to aid his escape, I considered it only common prudence to put extra irons upon the prisoners. I also employed Deputy Sheriff Wisen-craft of Chicago, a vigilant and trust-worthy police officer, to accompany me to Rock Island.

Frink, Walker & Co. furnished us with an extra stage coach in which we left Chicago. Unfortunately for our quiet and unmolested passage through the country, the stage left immediately after the arrival of the steambot Champion, conveying passengers who had been with us crossing the lake, and who spread the news of the arrest of the Davenport murderers, several hours in advance of us, giving the friends of the prisoners sufficient time to rally to their rescue. If they were disposed to hazard the attempt. Orders, however, at our request were sent by the mail stage to the stage agent at Dixon, to detain the stage at that place, until the arrival of the extra. We hoped by this means to prevent the news getting in advance of us, beyond that point.

At Naperville, thirty miles west of Chicago, I met with Hon. Judge Thomas, then holding his court at that place. Judge Thomas, having some knowledge of the extent and power of the gang, in the interior of the country, advised me to leave the main stage road, on the line of which the news had preceded me, and by reaching Dixon on a circuitous route, avoid any concerted interception by the gang.

We however determined to go ahead on the main road, and if molested to cut our way through, if possible, and if overpowered, to put the prisoners to death, rather than allow them to escape their just reward.

We reached Little Rock about midnight, where the drivers made an effort to detain us until morning. After some altercation, however, we compelled them to go on.

We were now approaching the heart of the country most infested by the gang. Although not disturbed by fear, we were watchful and anxious. Not to have felt some degree of doubt, would have been unnatural. There was enough in the scene and place itself to create in our minds a certain degree of anxiety. It was midnight, and our little party was alone, in the midst of an almost boundless prairie. Every turn in the road, every little rise of the prairie, might be the ambush of deadly and determined men, ready to hazard their own lives, and reckless of ours, to set their old companions at liberty.

No wonder that we gazed out earnestly upon the moonless night, and were grateful even for the faint star rays which cast a feeble light upon the darkness and desolation of the scene.

We passed on in silence. Nothing was heard but the rumbling wheels, and the heavy breathing of the prisoners.

Each hour of that dreary night seemed almost like an age of ordinary existence; we were ready and determined to resist with desperation any attack which should be made.

After passing a few miles from Little Rock, two men made their appearance on horseback, emerging from a

All the Messages for 2,000 Miles

Geneva, Nov. 27.—Particulars have just been printed here showing the extraordinary attraction of the Alps for Hertzian wave currents. Experiments conducted by military aerographers have proved absolutely that Switzerland is able to intercept any wireless message within a radius of 2,000 miles owing to the influence of the mountains. It will thus be seen that no aerograms sent from any part of Europe can be kept secret from the Swiss republic.

During the tests, which were made from mobile military stations, the operators amused themselves by deciphering innumerable wandering messages from Berlin and other remote points in Europe as well as from the mid-Atlantic.

The chief object of the experiments was to try the interchange of messages within the boundaries of Switzerland, but communication was always unsatisfactory and at times impossible owing to the intervening mountains.

MOTHER GETS POSSESSION OF HER CHILD HERE

Tears trickled down the cheeks of Mrs. C. F. Sharpe Friday morning in the court room as she kissed 18-month-old Virgie Waddell goodbye and placed her in the arms of her mother, Mrs. Cleo Waddell, who choked back sobs of joy. It was the outcome of the proceedings Mrs. Waddell had instituted against Mrs. Sharpe, the baby's grandmother, to gain possession of the child.

Judge Timmins sustained the verdict of the court of San Saba county, which gave Mrs. Waddell legal possession of her child. Mrs. Waddell has been separated from her baby for a year, and the scene enacted in the court room Friday morning when the baby was transferred from the arms of Mrs. Sharpe to those of its mother brought tears to the eyes of several of the spectators.

Mrs. Sharpe will make another effort to take the child away from Mrs. Waddell. Directly following Judge Timmins' decision she gave notice of appeal.

Mrs. Waddell became separated from her husband a year ago and the husband took the baby. He placed it in the care of his mother, Mrs. Sharpe, where it has since remained.

The woman secured a divorce from her husband in the San Saba district court on November 12, when she was awarded the custody of the baby. She came here but Mrs. Sharpe refused to give up the child.

Mrs. Waddell left with the girl Friday afternoon for her home in Brady.

GOOD CAUSE.

Col. Bill Humphreys Has a Fine List Out—See Him.

For the purpose of securing $50.00 pay rent on the Farmers' Union warehouse, a subscription list is being circulated by the Business Club. Bill Humphreys is carrying the list.

The Business Club wants to secure enough men to contribute enough money each month for a period of five months, that will pay the $50. The amount is not yet raised, but Mr. Humphreys says he is having good luck.

The idea is to provide a good storage place for the farmers so as to get more cotton in San Angelo. A lot of cotton that should come here goes to other towns, because the other places have good warehouses. San Angelo has not got the amount of cotton that it generally gets by a large amount.

"If this warehouse is kept up and in good condition, San Angelo will get a very much greater amount of cotton than she has heretofore got," declared Mr. Humphreys.

Wedding Bells.

License to wed were issued to A. H. Goss and Miss May Rowe Friday by County Clerk Keating. The young couple were directly afterward married at the residence of Rev. C. W. Yates. The couple is from Mississippi.

CONSTITUTION IS BEING PREPARED FOR BIG MEETING

To draft by-laws and constitution for recommendation to the conference, as ordered done by the Abilene conference: T. C. Wynn, San Angelo; W. T. Potter, Merkel, and B. B. Stone of Ballinger.

To solicit funds for the meeting of the Congress: John Freeland, E. J. Farr, J. Y. Rust, T. F. Owens, H. C. Daniels. This committee was given authority to appoint such additional members as may be needed, and it will meet at 2 o'clock Saturday in the office of Garden & Farr, in the rear of the Western National Bank, to formulate plans of action.

The foregoing epitomizes the work done and reported at a meeting of the executive committee of the general committee having charge the temporary organization of the West Texas Development Congress that will hold its first session in this city on December 6, held Friday afternoon.

Mr. Wynn, of the committee to draft a constitution and by-laws to submit to the Congress, announces that he will start his work at once. The soliciting committee has $100 to build up the amount required to properly entertain the Congress, or just one-twentieth of the total amount needed.

Friday's mail brought announcements from the following delegates that they will be present when the Congress meets: H. C. Hord, Sweetwater; P. W. Howe, Mertzon; M. C. Smith, Ballinger; J. S. Chesser and D. R. McCormick, Mullin, and F. H. Shaw, Arden. From now on it is expected that these acceptances will come in big bunches, though of course a great many will come who will not give notice of their coming until their trains reach this city.

The local details are being worked out in a most excellent manner. Secretary Dailey has his work well in hand. The genius for organization displayed by Chairman Bartholomew is bringing the results anticipated. The state papers are giving considerable space to this Congress and no movement started in San Angelo in years has brought as much desired publicity to this city as has this coming Congress.

A big batch of delegates have been appointed this week and mail advices of names sent in make a list in excess of 500.

It is up to San Angelo to maintain the splendid reputation she has for entertaining visitors when this Congress meets. That's why it is so necessary to make generous subscriptions to the list when it is brought around.

Let's Decorate.

How about decorating the streets and business house fronts of San Angelo during the meeting of the West Texas Development congress that begins December 6? is the question propounded by one of the leading factors of that congress.

"It will help the appearance of San Angelo in many ways," he said. "The people who will come here, and they will be here from all parts of Texas, will form a better opinion of San Angelo if we fix up the city. We want to make old San Angelo look her best during those days. I think that will be one of the best things for the citizens to do in order to have more success and better results from the West Texas Development congress as far as it concerns San Angelo.

"If we show the visitors to this city a well decorated town, it will be of great service to us. Decorations make things look like some big celebration is on, and that arouses the spirit of the people. It makes everyone merry to see banners and bunting hanging out on every side.

"Let us get together and fix San Angelo up in style and make a good appearance as well as anything else."

At Last.

Contractors Friday began the building of the foundation of the new San Angelo Bank and Trust building, and during next week the work proper of erecting this six-story structure will begin. The blasting will be finished by next Tuesday.

Stock Shipments.

Thursday Tol Cawley received one car of steer calves from Miles that he bought from Jenks Blocker.

Mr. Cawley also shipped one car of calves to Fort Worth from Miles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Burrell and little daughter, Mary, left for Bonham Friday, where they will make their future home.

ORIENT NABOBS HERE ON NOV 29

Vice President Dickinson Heads Party of Men With Lots of Real Money.

No Details.

Semi-official advices have it that the Orient nabobs, headed by Vice President Ed Dickinson, will be in San Angelo on November 29 on a seeling-the-country tour. Mr. Dickinson will have with him a big bunch of prospective investors who are making this trip for the purpose of personally ascertaining the possibilities of the sections served by the Orient.

This party will travel in a palatial special train and the chances are that after the city of San Angelo is inspected that the money men in the crowd will be willing to take the word of Mr. Dickinson about the remainder of the country served by the Orient.

The exact hour, even the exact date for the arrival of this party is not known, but the prospect is that ample time will be spent in San Angelo to enable the investors to see a few of the sights of this city.

SALES DAY.

Saturday is sales day. It is the day when the farmer and other classes of people gather in San Angelo for the purpose of selling and trading their stock. It is a day when many business measures are on foot.

The so-called sales day was originated by the Business club about three months ago. It comes on the last Saturday of each month.

Practically all over Texas one day of the month is set aside by the business men of the towns for a trades or sales day. On that day many people come to town to exhibit their stock and products. Some towns have what is called the third Monday, on the third Monday in each month. The San Angelo business men found it a more potent idea to choose the third Saturday. The preceding sales days have proved to be very successful.

There are some measures on foot, so it is understood, to award prizes to the farmer who has the best stock and farm products. That has not been adopted, but it is being considered by some. The prizes are not to be given in money, but each business house contributes some of its goods, awarding it to the man who has the best products of different kinds.

French Method Developing the Bust

Mme. DuBarrie Explains How Bust May Be Developed 2 to 3 Inches in 30 Days.

"I am explaining for the first time to the ladies of America," says Mme. DuBarrie, "the French method of developing the bust. It is much more effective, the results appear more quickly, the breasts become more firm, plump and symmetrical; the method is more simple, the effect more lasting, and altogether beyond comparison with the results produced here.

"You know the French people have the development of the bust and bust down to a fine point.

"By this French method, the bust may be developed from 2 to 3 inches in 30 days. This applies to women of almost any age, from young girls to elderly matrons, whether the bust is absolutely not developed at all, or is grown weak and flabby, and hangs in a manner from what cause.

"It is beauty of form that attracts much more than the features. You will always find it so with both sexes. I will be only too glad to tell any woman who is interested what the simple French method is, if she will enclose a 2-cent stamp to pay for the postage. I will send an illustrated booklet in a plain sealed wrapper that will explain it all."

We suggest to our lady readers that they write to Madame De Barrie for particulars of this remarkable French method, enclose 2 cents in stamps for the illustrated booklet, and address it to Mme. Du Barrie, Suite --26, Quinlan Building, Chicago, Ill.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Saturday morning the moon suffered a case of eclipse. It was a mild, gentle like eclipse, only the west side of the face being blackened. It is not surprising that so few people saw this eclipse. The moon was riding the high heavens when it came.

SURETY COMPANY LARGE CREDITOR OF DEFUNCT BANK

Publishers' Press. Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 26.—The National Surety company of New York, today filed suit to establish itself as a $50,000 creditor of the defunct Columbia Bank & Trust company of Oklahoma City, which concern recently failed and as a result eat up practically all the deposit guarantee fund of the Oklahoma law.

It is thought that one of the objects of this step is to force an accounting in federal courts of the constitutionality of this guaranty law, the main hope being based upon the decision in the Nebraska case. It is also apparent that at the present rate that unless some steps are taken to cure the apparent defects of the Oklahoma plan that the nationalization of state banks will proceed with accelerated speed from now on. Not less than a dozen state banks have surrendered their state charters to take up national charters since the failure in Oklahoma City.
