

VOLUME LXII

HICO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1946.

NUMBER 9.

Notes From Office Of County Home Demonstration Agt.

It's only four weeks until time for the annual Hico Reunion, and although details pertaining to this fair have been vexing the manager, S. J. Cheek, Sr., and his committee a great deal, we venture the prophecy that the affair will turn out satisfactorily.

Plans have been set for August 14, 15, 16, and 17, and most of the primary plans have been worked out. Mr. Cheek has always admitted that the cooperation he receives from the local public made for success, and this year is no exception. If the people of Hico and the community get behind the plans as they used to do before we put it out for four years, it will be a successful and enjoyable affair. If they are listless and take no responsibility for putting it over, it will be a flop for the first time in the past 60 years, and we'll all regret it.

During the war years, when so many of our boys and girls were away from home, almost one hundred per cent of Hico's businesses and citizens subscribed to a message inserted in the home paper and sent all over the world to the native members of our fighting forces. We pledged ourselves to give the boys a homecoming when the war should have been won. It was only a year ago when they were greeted with the statement at the top of a double-page spread, "Hico Greets You and Invites You to the Next Annual Reunion When Our Boys Come Marching Home."

Just to check up and see whether we feel the same way now or not, let's scan over the letter that appeared along with the premature and tentative invitation:

HEALTHY HICO On the Beautiful Bosque "The Heart of Hospitality" Hico, Texas Today and From Now On To All Sons and Daughters Wherever You Are Listen, Guys and Gals:

We folks here at home could go on and have our Annual Reunion just like we always have—maybe you would prefer it that way—but we just couldn't enjoy it without all of you here. Maybe we're sentimental, but we remember how you always enjoyed the community picnic and it wouldn't be the same without you. See?

The folks at home—right here in and around Hico, Texas, U. S. A. are still as good Americans as they always were. The old home town is a little ragged around the edges without you, but it's still holding together. We're just waiting for that glad day when you guys wind up that job you've been on and come back to take up here where you left off.

But put this down in your little book: When you return we're going to throw a Reunion that will make pickers out of the previous 59 picnics. It's going to be Your Reunion. We hope you like the idea and will look forward to it with the same anticipation we do.

Homefolks know you're doing a magnificent job. We're as proud of you as you were of that first pair of cowboy boots. While we realize you're giving your best, we thought maybe if we'd mention the good old Reunion you might add that extra touch like you used to do in games. When the going was rough, remember how you used to come through when you were certain the fans at home were backing you up? This is a rugged game we're in now, and we want you to know we're behind you 100 per cent!

In the meantime, take care of yourself. We can't help having jitters now and then thinking about your safety, in spite of how you tell us not to worry. Don't let anything happen to keep you away from Hico's next Reunion. But give the enemy a fit, keep your neck and ears clean, let us hear from you as often as possible, and hurry back to Hico. Yours for an early victory.

ALL OF US HERE AT HOME.

See what we mean? The boys and girls took care of their job admirably. They are the same ones you see now on the streets, and will have a chance to welcome to that big Reunion you promised. Let's not let them down, for they did their job and those that have expressed themselves latched onto the homecoming idea with longing.

They don't expect a lot of fanfare and hero worship. They more than likely would dodge the limelight if we tried to throw them into it. But the least we can do is to make good on that promise of an "old-fashioned picnic." And they will appreciate a little of the kind of understanding and warm hospitality that we can give them while enjoying doing it. At least let's give them a smile and try to show them they're welcome home! That's all they expect, and that's the least we can do.

COLLEGE STATION, July 17.—Home gardeners and landscapers need to look ahead, for jobs done now will pay rich dividends in the fall.

For flowers which bloom in the fall, plant now amaranthus, cosmos, cockscomb, four-o'clocks, marigolds, petunias, portulaca, sunflowers, tithonia and zinnias, advises Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

She suggests planting these in half-shade, using a cold frame or canvas covering to protect the seedlings from the hot sun. Some thriving young plants now may be placed in the fall sun. These include asteratum, bachelor's button, cockscomb, coleus, four-o'clocks, cosmos, petiwinkle, petunia, salvia and zinnia.

Bulbs and tubers which may be planted in July are dahlias, gladiolus, oxalis, water hyacinths, waterlilies, and waterpoppies. Texas bluebonnet seed may be sowed now, but these will not come up until fall, so plant where they are to remain, the specialist says.

Where fall blooming plants are forming long awkward branches, these may be cut or pinched back. Among those which may require this attention are dahlias, chrysanthemums, poinsettias and larkspur. Tall growing plants may need to be staked. Cuttings made of shrubs, trees, and many flowers (such as petunias and cornflowers) will root immediately now if given half shade and plenty of moisture.

The specialist gives this advice on watering: Give all plants a long slow soaking and let them show signs of thirst before watering again. This keeps their roots deep in the soil. During dry weather, "use of the hoe instead of the hose" keeps plants moist.

Sanitation, proper care and handling of good foods are the main factors in the success of good freezer locker foods which were discussed at the Freezer Locker School held in Temple, Tuesday, July 2nd, which was conducted for farm agency personnel.

Miss Gwendolyn Jones, Food Preservation Specialist of the A. & M. College Extension Service, discussed and demonstrated the selection of cartons, foods and the proper method of preparing fruits and vegetables for freezer locker. Mr. Ray W. Snyder, Meat Specialist of the A. & M. College Extension Service, discussed the importance of the proper aging and curing of beef and pork, proper sanitation and care of the processing room, and demonstrated the cutting of beef. He stated that research work was being done at College on bacterial count of various places in the locker processing room which should at a later date reveal some interesting facts.

Those attending from Hamilton County were E. R. Lawrence, Co. Agr. Agent, Ethel R. Handler, Co. Home Dem. Agent, Wilburn H. Denham, F. S. A. Supervisor, Hamilton and Coryell Cos. Isabell A. Holladay, Assoc. F. S. A. Supervisor, Hamilton and Coryell Counties.

In selecting peaches for canning or other methods of preservation, color and texture of skin are sometimes misleading for the best tasting peaches ripen from the skin out. Gwendolyn Jones, food preservation specialist for the A. & M. College Extension Service, says that peaches of finest quality have a fresh appearance and when broken open are thoroughly ripe around the seed as well as under the skin.

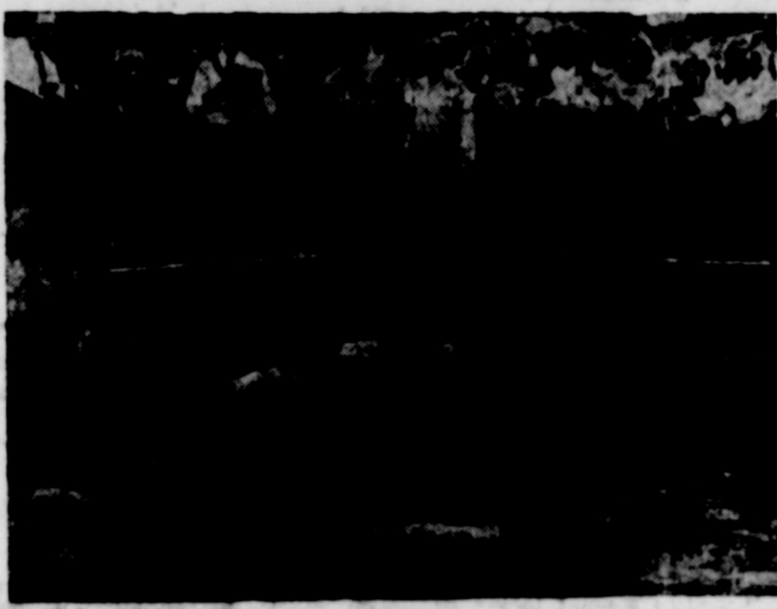

Care must be exercised with ripe peaches, as they deteriorate quickly and should be canned as soon as possible after picking. If they must be kept for several days, cold storage at 35 to 40 degrees F. is the best method for holding them.

A standard bushel of peaches weighs about 48 pounds and should yield about 39 No. 2 cans or pint jars, or 20 No. 3 cans or quart jars. This bushel of peaches, if a light syrup is used, will need about three pounds of sugar. For a light syrup, for each three cups of water use one cup of sugar.

Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for part or all of sugar. One cup of sugar and two cups corn syrup to six cups of water makes a desirable thin syrup. Brown sugar or syrups that have strong flavor are not desirable for canning. Honey may be used to replace a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. Never use saccharin in canning as heat makes it bitter. If used at all, add when the fruit is served. Miss Jones advises consulting a doctor before using it, as too much saccharin may be harmful.

For complete instructions on canning peaches, ask the local county home demonstration agent for a copy of C-224, Can Fruits in a Water Bath, or write the Extension Service, A. & M. College, College Station, Texas.

M-K-T Plans to Use Two-Way Radio As Safety Measure

DENISON, July 15.—The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad may become one of the first railroads in the Southwest to use two-way radio in its yards if tests which begin here Monday are successful. President Donald V. Fraser revealed today in St. Louis.

The tests, which are being conducted by the Katy's communications department and well known manufacturers, will be confined to the railroad's Ray Yard at Denison. During the next two weeks, Katy operating officials from the entire system will gather here to observe the radio tests which the railroad is considering adopting as a safety measure.

For the test, two switch-engines will be equipped with receiving and transmitting equipment and similar equipment will be placed in the yard office. The engineer on the engine then can keep in direct communication with the yardmaster and can be directed safely and quickly through the maze of yard trackage.

The Katy decided to make the tests after Herman Krattinger, superintendent of communications, observed two-way radio in use on some of the railroads in the nation which have adopted it. He recommended that the Katy test the equipment as a method of improving the safety of train operation and lowering operating costs.

President Fraser said that if the tests are successful, all Katy yards and switch-engines may be ultimately equipped with the new communications system. Later, tests will be made on through freight and passenger trains to determine the feasibility of installing radio on all trains.

U. S. Public Health Service Buys Huge Quantity of DDT

More than 300,000 pounds of powdered and 52,000 gallons of liquid DDT insecticide, widely used by the Armed Forces during the war, and now declared surplus, has been sold to the U. S. Public Health Service for $221,165.96. War Assets Administration announced this week.

USPHS officials said the insecticide will be distributed to state health authorities for the control of malaria and communicable diseases such as typhus and infantile paralysis. It also will be used as a preventative measure against possible carriers of yellow fever, dengue and bubonic plague. Due to strikes and shutdowns, the product cannot now be obtained commercially, it was added.

USPHS officials estimate that their requirements for DDT this year will approximate one million pounds and look to surplus as the only present available market. The San Francisco Regional Office of WAA, which, with the New York Office, already has filled the USPHS order, will make available an additional 129,556 pounds of powder and 248,943 gallons of liquid, for use in the health program.

"How, What, Where" To Buy Army Surplus Property Explained

"How, What, and Where" to buy surplus property is graphically explained in a 32-page illustrated booklet issued by the War Assets Administration.

The booklet is a handy guide for prospective buyers of surplus property of all kinds in the United States and its territories and possessions and is available at the Fort Worth WAA Regional Office, P. O. Box 1467, Fort Worth and at Post Offices throughout the country. A limited number are on hand at the local Post Office.

The priorities accorded veterans and other groups are explained, and priority holders are told what they must do to take advantage of the opportunities offered them in surplus disposal. The booklet tells where to get information on sales and lists sales offices of WAA and other domestic disposal agencies with addresses and telephone numbers. Also listed are veterans and small business certification offices. The booklet is being widely distributed in conjunction with surplus property advertising.

In an introduction to the guide, Lt. Gen. E. B. Gregory, War Assets Administrator, states: "The War Assets Administration wants to sell surplus property as rapidly as possible. If you do not find the answer to your question here, write, telephone or wire your nearest WAA Regional or Branch Office."

To the Voters of Precinct No. 3, Erath County

As a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct 3, Erath County, I am anxious to present my case to each and every voter. But since it is impossible to make personal visits with each of you, I am taking this method of pointing out a few facts which I believe are timely. I will welcome any opportunity to talk over other matters with you and get your views.

I have made a lifetime study of such duties as your commissioner is expected to perform. As a farmer, rancher, livestock raiser and business man, I think I know as much as anyone about the matters that confront the people of this precinct, and without any elaborate promises I point to my past record in the office as an indication of how your affairs will be handled in the future if you see fit to elect me again.

In spite of wartime conditions, I managed to keep things going along comparatively well, and since the glorious peace I have been making plans for taking advantage of every opportunity to further progress in my work. With scarce materials and machinery becoming available again, I think we can look forward together toward a period of constructive work and hope that I may continue to serve you and work out some of the plans I have under way.

In road work, soil conservation work, and the investment of money in materials and machinery, I have tried to do the best for the most people. I respectfully call your attention to the conditions of the various roads, where I have made an honest effort to open up farm-to-market roads and improve them so that our excellent highway system may serve all of our people.

I propose to conduct the precinct's and the county affairs in such a manner that our returning service sons from this area may be offered extra inducements for working the soil they love, and for settling down to peaceful existence with better opportunities.

If this is the way you want your affairs handled, I will appreciate everything done in my behalf before the elections, and solicit your cooperation in the future.

Sincerely,
GEORGE E. HAMIC

Don't Make Your Children Pay For Your Life Insurance

It is a funny thing about life insurance — It has to be paid for whether or not it is bought — If you buy the life insurance your family needs, then you pay for it out of current income — You spend a little less here and a little less there — you do a better job of budgeting . . . of watching out for unnecessary expenditures.

But if you don't pay for the life insurance out of the money in your pocket today, then your family may have to pay for it someday.

You ask, "How will they pay for it?" The answer is that they pay for it out of the things they do without — The opportunities they do not enjoy — the schools they are unable to attend — the home which they are forced to leave — the sense of security they do not possess — the Mother's attention which is not theirs because she must work to live so that they may live — Ask yourself this question, "Who pays the biggest price for life insurance, my children or me?" — Then act in accordance with your answer.

"IT IS EASIER FOR YOU TO WRITE A CHECK FOR FIVE DOLLARS A MONTH WHILE YOU LIVE THAN FOR YOUR WIDOW TO EARN ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS AFTER YOUR DEATH."

THE RUSSIAN MENACE

There is no doubt that Russia is the greatest menace to permanent peace. Because of that it seems important for all of us to try to get better acquainted with the Russian philosophy and Russia's goals.

To do that, we highly recommend a new book by William C. Bullitt, former U. S. Ambassador to Russia, entitled: "The Great Globe Itself."

This book is frightening reading. It makes it appear as though Russia's interest in the United Nations is merely a means of stalling for time while she prepares for war against us. But Mr. Bullitt should know what he is talking about. And, even though some of his reasoning may prove to be wrong—we sincerely hope it is—every American should be put on guard against the possibility that he is right.

Read this book, or the summary of it in the July issue of Reader's Digest, and see what you think.

WHERE'S ALL THAT MONEY?

When we hear about the fortunes which are being spent in our country for every conceivable kind of luxury—diamonds, fur coats, expensive vacations and black market merchandise—it appears as though every American has an unlimited supply of funds. Actually, although the people as a whole are better off than they ever were from the standpoint of dollars, the bulk of increased wealth is largely in the hands of a small group of people.

For although wages in general are higher than they used to be, both in factories and on farms, they are more than offset by the increased cost of living and high income taxes.

Surveys show that the man with $1,000 in the bank today has far more than the average.

Security, for most of us, still depends as much as it ever did on regular, uninterrupted work at steady wages.

THIS AND THAT
By JOE SMITH DYER

SPOT LIGHT:
It was Mahomet who told the people that he would call a mountain to him and from that highest peak on that great hill he would offer up his prayers for the observers of the law.

The people assembled and Mahomet loudly called to the hill to come to him, but it did not move. Again he called and again, but the hill remained in place.

Not one whit was Mahomet abashed for he said: "If the mountain will not come to Mahomet, Mahomet will go to the mountain."

Prophets, seers, soothsayers and oracles get in the limelight by claiming the introduction of some new creed.

Sensational writers attract wide attention by making some unreasonable and startling statement, but when their publicity stunt fails, they go to the mountain and there they think up a new scheme again to get in the spotlight.

MR. CHARRINGTON:
Fred Charrington, a London attorney rejected an inheritance of $5,000,000 because the money was earned in the brewing of beer. One day Mr. Carrington was walking along a London street and saw a very drunk man coming from a pub and he tumbled into the arms of a woman. She was a poor and prematurely aged woman whose face plainly showed that her life was not easy. The woman offered to take the drunk man to his home but instead of being grateful for her kindness he abused and cursed her.

That moment Mr. Carrington of London made a vow that never so long as he lived would he profit from any enterprise connected with alcohol.

When his father died and left him his share in the brewery fortune, he duly rejected it.

This happened back in 1906. The courts ruled that his rejection was not legal.

Last year Mr. Carrington died and on his death bed he stated: "I have lived a very full life without that inheritance. I now die refusing it."

Six-Inch Sermon
By REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Jesus and True Worship.
Lesson for July 21: Deuteronomy 8:11-14, 18-20; Isaiah 40:30-31; 11:25-34.
Memory Selection: John 4:24.

In his farewell addresses the old Lawgiver warned the people against the temptations that would come with prosperity in the Promised Land and the tendency of men in affluence to forget God. To forget Him would be a sure way to commit national suicide. Forsaking God, the Israelites would become like the nations driven out before them.

Isiah writes of that true worship that would enable men to mount up with wings as eagles, and run and not faint. Turning to fancy, we could find this promise verified in the present, with men soaring above the eagle or moving swiftly over the earth in wondrous machines. But the ancient writer refers to exaltation of spirit promised the true worshipper, and of the power of men to reach up out of all their sin and need and by faith lay hold upon the throne of God.

The prophet mentions young people who faint. They do sometimes faint, their dreams are dispelled by cruel circumstance, but they, too, can lay hold upon enduring things that will last down to old age and be throughout life the sources of blessing.

Jesus speaks of true worship. The opportunity was provided by the scribe who came to Jesus, asking him to name the great commandment in the law. Jesus told him that man should love God and his neighbor as himself. And the scribe agreed with Jesus and said that to obey such command is better than burnt-offerings and sacrifice.

"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

DISSATISFACTION LED TO SUCCESS
A FEW years ago a young man working behind a wire cage in a cashier's office became dissatisfied with his job. His name was Harry T. Wright.

He had taken a business course in a night school and had got a job behind the wire cage of an insurance broker's office. And there he was. And there he remained three years, but he did not like his work. He thought he was capable of handling a bigger job. But when he told his department head that, his department head smiled and said, "I've heard that story a thousand times. You go right ahead with your work. You're doing all right."

Young Harry T. Wright decided he was going to get out of that wire cage. But he could not give up his job. Vacation time arrived and he had two weeks off. How glad he would be to escape from the wire cage! Then he had a better thought. He would use that two weeks to try his wings. He was 22. He got permission from the office manager to solicit life insurance.

He never went into that wire cage again. He had done so well in his first effort that he was made "outside man." In exactly one year from the day he left the wire cage, he had earned $170,000.

His company gave him a gold medal in 1939 for being the man who had done the most for the institution of life insurance.

He has never made a "cold call." He always telephones in advance for an appointment. More than half of the interviews take place in his office, not in the prospect's office.

HOUSE AND HOME

During vacation time when children are at home all day luncheon presents a new problem.

Vacation or not, children must have a hearty noon meal. Hours of active play in the fresh air exhaust energy and make nourishing food necessary.

There are certain rules which govern the choice of a child's diet and some knowledge of these rules makes daily meal planning much easier. Every child should have in his diet every day one quart of milk. He should have three vegetables, one of which may be potatoes and one of the others raw or green. He should have two fruits, one preferably raw; one serving of meat, fish or eggs; a whole grain cereal, three slices of bread and four glasses of water.

All foods are better served as simply as possible, but care must be taken to make children's food palatable and attractive.

An easy way to plan a child's luncheon is to include in it these foods in his daily food requirement that are not served at breakfast or dinner when the family are together. Then if he is given his broiled chop or meat cake at noon he may have the dinner vegetable provided for the rest of the family.

Very often the luncheon dessert can be counted as the main dish because a large amount of nourishment can be put into a pudding. This type of dessert seldom is wanted for dinner and adds variety if used for the noon meal.

When dinner is early and hearty a simple luncheon of raw vegetable sandwiches, one hot cooked vegetable, a glass of milk and a nourishing dessert will prove satisfactory for hot noons.

No matter how hot the noon, one hot food should be included in the meal.

A point to keep in mind is that luncheon dishes should be easily digested because the meal comes at the hottest time of the day.

Insist on fifteen minutes rest before the meal and half an hour of quiet in the shade afterwards.

DESCRIBE TRIP THROUGH TEXAS AND ARKANSAS

Mr. and Mrs. John Howerton and Bob Priest returned home Saturday evening from a 32-day trip which took them through parts of Texas and Arkansas. They visited at Palestine, Texas, with Mrs. Howerton's brother and sister; from there to Kilgore, Texas, and on to Fort Smith, Arkansas.

"We visited in the Ozarks," Mrs. Howerton said, "and then went on to Nash Park on the White River, where we went bathing. We saw lots of lumber piled deep on the ground. We saw people plowing with one ox or one mule hitched to a single plow."

"There was lots of grass in all the yards, as they had spring water piped from the mountain all over the places there. One man mowing was bareheaded, barefooted, and had his pants rolled up to his knees, and was building him a house."

"We came back through Fort Smith to Durant, Okla., then down through Denton and Dallas and on home. They were still picking blackberries. We never saw so much fruit and berries, and we found fish for sale all the way. We had a wonderful trip."

ROBERT R. HERRING

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 17TH DISTRICT OF TEXAS:

Today, we citizens of the United States stand at a crossroads. Upon the decisions you make and put into action on July 27th may depend the future course of our American life. If we fail, through our aroused actions, to secure an honest, strong willed group of representatives in the Congress at this election, we will undoubtedly continue on this road of economic distress.

I have tried during my campaign to place my full and exact beliefs before you that you may justly consider my candidacy for the office of your representative. I have tried to point out that I believe many Americans today are blind to the true values of our life because of the greed for dollar bills, and I feel that enough men who realize the cost of these last four years, with all of its loss of life, can return our government to sound values and to you as average citizens.

I earnestly request your deepest consideration at the primary election, July 27th.

Sincerely,

Robert R. Herring

3 YEARS EXPERIENCE AS DEPUTY ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR IN HAMILTON COUNTY

To My Friends IN ERATH COUNTY:

On the eve of the election when the men and women voters of Erath County will select their public officials for a two-year period, I desire to ask in all sincerity that my name be given careful consideration for the office of county clerk.

As best I could I have tried to visit every home in the county. This is a tremendous undertaking and regardless of how hard I may have worked it is possible that I have missed a few. If I have not seen you or visited your home I ask that you kindly accept this as a personal solicitation of your vote. I believe I am worthy of your earnest consideration.

My life has been spent in Erath County and I have an ambition to be your county clerk. By business training I do know that I am qualified and if you select me to fill this office all can rest assured that I will render a service that will measure up to the general satisfaction of everybody.

With full confidence in the fairness of the people of Erath county I submit my claims to them and shall abide by their decision in the usual democratic manner.

TO THE CITIZENS OF HICO AND VICINITY:

First, I want to thank you for the courtesies and support you have given me in the past. It is always a pleasure to come back to Hico and renew friendships with those I have known here and in the communities about town; and also to make acquaintances with those who have moved in since I moved from here. And your support of my political effort has made me happy indeed.

Due to the fact that I am the only one in my office it has been impossible for me to be out and work in my race for reelection to County Treasurer, as much as I would like. However, I realized when I ask for this important trust that it would require close attention and I have ever been faithful to my promise to stay on the post. To those who have kept up with my reports, it is not necessary to mention that I have kept my records balanced perfectly. This you had a right to expect and I enjoyed doing it.

And now since it will soon be time for you to choose a treasurer for another term, I would like to ask you to consider my experience and service record. I appreciate more than I have words to tell you the assistance this work has been in supporting myself and son, and in keeping him in school; and if you can again extend that assistance, I feel that it will be a turning point in his life and I will owe you a lasting gratitude, and faithful service.

Thank you,
MRS. H. A. (OPAL) TIDWELL.

Fairy

By Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We have had extremely hot, dry weather for the past week. Threshing and combining are over for the present. Much of the stubble land has been broken.

The Baptist revival at Agee is in progress this week. Several from here have been attending the services.

The Baptist revival at Fairy will begin Saturday night of this week, July 20th. All are invited to attend.

W. L. (Toughie) Lewis, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lewis was carried to Waco last week for a check up. It will be remembered he has been ill for several months of bone infection. He has been confined to his bed for more than 60 days and doctors say he will have to remain in bed for at least thirty more. But he is very cheerful despite his misfortune. Friends and neighbors are making every effort to make the long, hot days more pleasant for him by bringing him cats, books to read, and other things of amusement and he also spends a part of his time picking at his guitar. To add to his misfortune, he is having to wear a cast on his right leg and portions of his body, a small bit of which was removed when he went for check up. He is under treatment of Dr. Hipps at Hillcrest Hospital in Waco, who said he was doing fine. If you are unable to visit this little fellow, drop him a card or letter which we feel sure he will enjoy and help him to pass the time away.

The writer and daughter, Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and Carolyn, and our grand daughter, Ruby Jean Allison of Dublin visited a short while in the S. F. Dickerson home Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Powell and son of Plainville had also been visitors in the Dickerson home since Friday of last week. Mrs. Powell is a sister of Mrs. Dickerson. Mr. Powell stated it had been extremely dry on the plains, but they had received a very good rain recently.

Ernest McCoy of Fort Worth has purchased the Ben Washam place, Marvin Noland will be a tenant on the place the coming year, according to information given us.

Little Misses Wilma Grace and Lynda Lou Goynes spent a few days last week in Dublin visiting Ruby Jean Allison. Ruby Jean accompanied them home and is visiting with them and her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richardson and other relatives a few days.

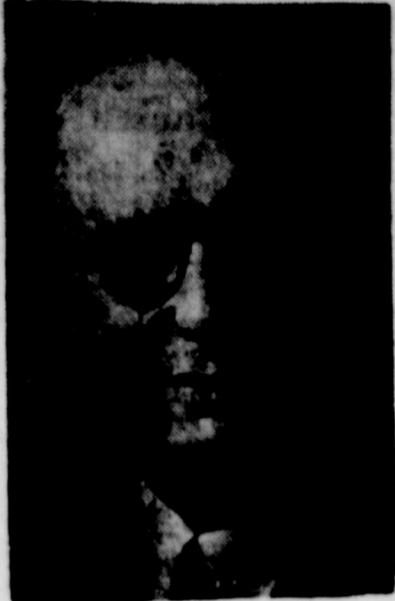

Mrs. Maud Strawn of Hondo and two small granddaughters of San Antonio, who have spent the past two weeks here with Mrs. Strawn's sister Mrs. Brittle Little, went to Fort Worth Thursday of last week. Mrs. Gene Miller, mother of the children, came for them. Mrs. Miller recently moved to Fort Worth and her mother will visit with her a while before returning home.

Frank Sellers of Hamilton visited a short while Sunday with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, and Carolyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Massengale and Miss Maggie Brummitt of Fort Worth spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brummitt and Mr. and Mrs. Judd Massengale. We are glad to report Mr. Judd Massengale improving at last report.

Mr. and Mrs. Elam and baby of Evans were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Williford last Sunday night. Raymond Baldwin of Henrietta, Okla., came in July 4th and spent a week visiting in the J. S. Jameson home. Mr. Baldwin has recently been discharged from the service and served more than three years in the same company with Jessie Jameson, son of J. S. Jameson.

Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers received a telegram from her husband Tuesday stating he had landed safely in New York. The telegram was dated July 13th.

R. M. WAGSTAFF

BOB WAGSTAFF STRESSES AID FOR FARMERS

R. M. (Bob) Wagstaff, Abilene candidate for Congress from the 17th District, announced a platform in which he emphasized support for agriculture, insisting upon maintenance of a high level of prices. Wagstaff charged that for many years the power of the federal government has been used to provide bonuses, subsidies and other favors for the industrial and manufacturing sections at the expense of the agricultural areas.

"The protective tariff on industrial products has forced the farmer to buy in a protected market and sell in a free market," his platform reads, "and has reduced the price of cotton and other export products."

Farm Program

He advocates tariff reform, a strong farm program, including payments for parity and soil conservation. Increased appropriations for farm-to-market roads, extension of the REA, support of all government agencies which are designed to place agriculture on an equality with manufacturing and industry.

The Wagstaff platform also calls for larger appropriations for research to seek new uses for cotton, peanuts, milo maize and other products, as well as additional funds for the Agriculture Department to enable it to find new plants and crops for semi-arid regions.

"So long as we can maintain high agricultural prices this district will be prosperous," the candidate says, "and as a member of Congress I will cooperate and work actively with the farm bloc to accomplish this result."

Will Support UN

"I will support the United Nations, adequate national defense, balancing the budget without further delay, abolition of unnecessary boards and bureaus, equality in freight rates, increase of payments to old age assistance to take care of increased living costs."

As to the labor problem, Wagstaff urges collective bargaining with a compulsory cooling-off period and federal mediation before any strike is permitted.

The candidate, 53 years old, is a veteran of World War I, having served with the 142nd Infantry in the old 34th Division. He was a member of the 42nd and 43rd State Legislatures and was author of oil and gas conservation statutes, laws affecting land titles, a water priority act and the act that created Big Bend park.

Revival At Fairy To Be In Progress From July 19 to 28

The annual revival at the Fairy Baptist Church starts this week, and the News Review has been requested to announce same.

The revival will begin Friday night, July 19, at 8:15 p. m. and continue through Sunday night, July 28. Night services will be held at 8:15, and morning services at 10:00. The singing is to be led by Rev. Jimmie Allen of Dallas, and the pastor, Rev. Grayson C. Tension, will do the preaching.

The general public has a cordial invitation to attend these services.

IN MEMORY OF MOTHER (Mrs. R. T. Cole)

Three years ago (Saturday) July 20, the death angel came and took mother out of her suffering to be with those that are at rest where there is no suffering. There is no one that can take the place of mothers, but Jesus saw best to take her and must say, "Thy will, Lord, not mine."

Some day I shall go to meet her. Where there'll be no more good byes. I can think of nothing sweeter, Than our meeting in the skies.

Her daughter,

(9-1tp) TENNIE PRIEST.

Come in and see us today for the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

The new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown has been tested by experts! By experts like Col. A. R. Killiam (shown here), Superintendent of Indiana State police, who helped put the tire through miles of carefully recorded road tests. Millions of miles of tests proved the super-safe construction of the new B. F. Goodrich tire. And they also proved that it OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES, even at high speeds. You can take the experts' word for that! Perhaps we have your size in stock—if not, an order placed now assures early delivery.

Enjoy COMFORT COOLING

with ATTIC VENTILATION

Your attic is a HEAT TRAP without ventilation

COOL Breezes replace heat with attic ventilation

In summer, your attic is a heat trap, building up temperatures as high as 25 to 35 degrees above outside temperatures. This stored-up heat acts like a blanket keeping your house uncomfortably hot long after the sun goes down.

Attic fan ventilation eliminates this prime cause of summer discomfort by drawing cool air in through the windows, circulating it about the house and blowing hot air out through attic vents, thus cooling the entire house. Instead of sitting up until midnight waiting for the house to cool off, you can retire early and sleep in cool comfort.

Attic fans are available now for immediate installation. Consult your electric appliance dealer or this company for the facts about this low-cost way to summer comfort.

LABOR-INDUSTRY LAW NECESSARY TO CURB INFLATION, MILES SAYS

STAMFORD, TEXAS, July 13.—Ted Miles, Stamford business man and ex-G.I. running for the U. S. Congress on the West Texas Farmer's ticket, today called on the present congress for immediate action to ward off a second series of devastating postwar strikes.

Miles declared that even more imperative than price manipulations were concrete laws which would impose equal responsibility on labor and industry to maintain the welfare of the people. "Laws which will bring strikes and shut-downs detrimental to the people into the courts instead of before powerless boards are the only means by which we can halt the deadly spiral now in progress," he said. His statement was prompted by the recent series of new notices served on industry by Union Leaders. [Political Adv.]

In my race for Commissioner of Precinct No. 3, Hamilton County, I find it will be next to impossible for me to make a house-to-house canvass and meet each voter personally, as much as I would like to do so. I have seen a lot of people, and shall see as many as possible in the remaining days before the Primary. I wish to thank everyone assisting me in this race.

WORLD'S LARGEST LAND-BASED BOMBER NOW BEING TESTED AT FORT WORTH

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Engine run-up tests have been successfully completed and taxiing tests have begun on the world's largest land-based bomber, the XB-35, at the Fort Worth, Texas, Division of Consolidated Vultee Corporation, Army Air Forces announced today.

The six 2,000 h. p. Pratt & Whitney engines powering the new Army heavy bomber are located in the trailing edge of the wing, three on each side of the fuselage. They provide a pusher effect by means of three-bladed propellers.

The Air Materiel Command supervised design and construction of the plane, which has already undergone safety inspection prior to taxi tests.

Wing span of the bomber is 230 feet, its fuselage length 143 feet, and its height, in taxi position, 55 feet.
