

Everyone who makes his abode in this Promised Land knows it is flowing with milk and honey.

Who dwell among these fertile hills and valleys have always realized our good fortune, more or less keeping the tidings to ourselves to avert traffic jams.

But it remained for William C. Barnard to publicize that fact to the outside world. And that's just what he did last week, when the following press bureau report appeared in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, The Waco News-Tribune and other state dailies—and was even spread across the bottom of the front page of the staid old Dallas News.

Our guess is that those boys at the Oilu store carried Bill a little fast upon his stop toward the goal on a deer hunt. But they brought it upon themselves, so if you need anything just go out there and insist on their making good on the free advertising.

They've Got Everything—Only Scarcities Are Scarce In Rural Texas Store was the head used on the Star-Tel article, which continues as follows:

Are you short on shortening? Screaming for soap? Move to the country, neighbor, and get a gander at July T-bone at 50 cents the pound. And all the fresh lean bacon you can tote home for the same price.

Country stores have had plenty of everything all along. Take an example right here in Hamilton County, 10 miles south of Hico. It's just a little wooden store with a couple of gas pumps in front but its shelves are stocked with all the goodies you've been pining for.

"Shortages?" W. E. Shaffer young pipe smoking owner said innocently. "I don't know anything about shortages. What do you need? We don't run out of anything out this way."

One shelf was loaded with all sorts of soap and washing powder. Plenty of toilet tissue. Take your pick of four brands of shortening. How'd you like some hamburger—35 cents per pound?

"Sure, we've got butter, but it's awful high," Richard Tooley, Shaffer's helper, said apologetically. "I'll cost you 60 cents. I reckon it's the highest priced butter I ever heard of."

He refused to believe that butter had been selling at $1 per pound in the cities.

W. O. Burris, an elderly customer who sat on a box near the stove, was amazed to hear that New Yorkers recently stood in line in front of a butcher shop all one rainy night to get meat.

He pondered a moment at the idea of such goings on, then said: "I'd killed me a beef."

A lady drove up in front and yelled at Shaffer:

"Get some water in this radiator, four these letters and bring me four-bits worth of pork chops."

"Coming up," said Shaffer.

He has about 100 regular customers. Many of them credit patrons. Sometimes he carried them three, four, five months while they wait for a crop to mature. In 14 months, he hasn't lost a cent through credit. The fellow who owed the store before him lost $2 in two years.

"There aren't any deadbeats in Hamilton County," Shaffer explained. "If there were, we'd run 'em out."

The store sells as much lye as it does soap.

"Most ladies around here make their own soap," Shaffer said, "and I guess it's better than any soap you can buy. Anyway, it satisfies them."

There never has been a run on Shaffer's store for hard-to-get items.

"Nothing's hard to get," Shaffer laughed, "and these folks out here would serve before they'd stand in line."

Annual Christmas Seal Sale Will Open In Texas Monday

Austin, Nov. 20.—Governor Coke Stevenson yesterday issued a proclamation officially designating the period from Nov. 25 to Dec. 25 as "Christmas Seal Month" and urged all Texans to support the Texas Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations by "buying and using Christmas Seals during this month."

The annual Christmas Seal Sale will open Monday and continue until Christmas.

In issuing the proclamation, Governor Stevenson pointed out that tuberculosis is the greatest disease cause of death among Texans between 15 and 35 years of age, and that because of its communicable nature, tuberculosis is our greatest public health problem.

Veterans' Survivors Eligible for Social Security Benefits

Waco, Nov. 19.—"The Social Security Administration field office, 605 Medical Arts Building, Waco, is attempting to contact the survivors of any World War II veterans of Hamilton county who have died since discharge from service," according to an announcement this week by Glenn T. Dunn, manager. "Benefits may be paid to such survivors back to the month of the veteran's death provided the survivors file their claim before February 10, 1947," Dunn said.

The 1946 Amendments to the Social Security Act extends Old-Age and Survivors Insurance to the survivors of such veterans who have died since being discharged if these conditions are met:

- 1. The veteran's discharge must be other than dishonorable.
2. The veteran must have served at least 90 days in the armed forces since Sept. 15, 1940, or must have been discharged or released because of disability or injury incurred or aggravated in service or line of duty.
3. The veteran must have died within 3 years of the date of his discharge.
4. Payments under this law are not due if any survivor is qualified to receive compensation or a pension from the Veteran's Administration, National Life Insurance is not considered as compensation or pension.
There is no requirement the veteran ever have worked in employment covered by the Social Security Act. (If you know the address of any veteran who has died since being discharged, please call their attention to this announcement.)

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration will provide the most modern facilities to aid deafened and hard of hearing veterans, according to an announcement this week by VA's medical director.

The program is designed to aid these veterans in rehabilitation, economic independence and adjustment to society and their own communities.

Dr. Norton Canfield, Associate Professor at Yale University, will be in direct supervision of the program. Dr. Canfield was closely connected with the hearing program of the Army in the Surgeon General's office during World War II.

There are already 35,000 veterans of World War II who are ear casualties. About 12,000 veterans of World War I are still receiving compensation because of deafness. VA anticipates that there will be about 200,000 veterans in need of attention due to impaired hearing, within the next 20 years.

Special rehabilitation centers for the deaf and hard of hearing will be set up throughout the country at strategic locations. Here, veterans will be trained and provided with the latest in hearing devices.

Veterans who wish to assign their terminal leave bonds to the Veterans Administration as payment on their GI insurance should get the necessary assignment forms from the nearest VA office. Although VA does not issue the terminal leave bonds, under the Armed Forces Leave Act of 1946, the law authorized VA to accept the bonds as insurance payments. When a bond is used for insurance premium payments, it must be assigned in its entirety, VA said. Any balance above the amount necessary to make the desired payment will be credited to the veteran's account and will be used to pay future premiums unless otherwise requested.

LOCAL ARMY NURSE HAS ENJOYABLE 11-DAY LEAVE AT PHILIPPINE RESORT

BAGUIO, P. I., Oct. 31, 1946.—First Lieutenant Virginia H. Ramage of the Army Nurse Corps recently spent an eleven-day leave in Baguio, Luzon, summer capital and playground of the Philippines as a guest of the Camp John Hay Leave Center. Lieutenant Ramage entered the service Nov. 1, 1943, from her home town in Irredell, Texas, near where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Ramage, now reside at their ranch in Black Stamp Valley. After serving at Randolph Field and in the Army Air Field at Waco, Tex., she embarked March 1, 1946 for service overseas. Lieutenant Ramage was graduated from John Tarleton College at Stephenville, Tex., and also took up nursing in the Harris School of Nursing at Fort Worth, Tex. She is at present on detached service to the 13th Air Force at Floridablanca, Luzon. Her present station is with the 801st Medical Air Evacuation Squadron.

Overseas Veterans Urged to Attend V. F. W. Meetings

All eligible local veterans are urged to attend meetings of the Hico organization of Veterans of Foreign Wars. Meetings are held twice monthly, with the next one scheduled for December 4.

AAF SEeks ADDRESSES OF FORMER MEMBERS

In an effort to obtain the latest addresses of approximately two and a half million former Army Air Forces personnel, AAF headquarters has distributed fifteen million postcards throughout the United States.

The Civil Air Patrol and the Boy Scouts of America have distributed the cards to colleges, high schools, theaters, department stores, drug stores, and other places where former AAF men and women can obtain them conveniently.

General Spatz, Commanding General of the AAF, explained that up-to-date addresses of all former AAF veterans were desired so all former personnel could be kept informed of latest developments and plans of the Air Reserve program.

Each card bears the following message from General Spatz: "TO ALL FORMER MEMBERS OF THE ARMY AIR FORCES—

"Now that you are back in civilian clothes, renewing old friendships and picking up where you left off, we think that you might be interested to know what is going on in the AAF.

"I should like you to know the activities in which the Air Forces are now participating, the needs to carry out our programs in research and development and our aims for the Air Reserve and Air National Guard. We want you to feel that you are still on the team.

"That is why we are asking you to give us your name and the present address at which mail can reach you, and also to keep us up-to-date on any changes in your home address.

"We don't want to trust our old records to send out information that we think is important to you. That is why we should like you to fill out the attached card and MAIL IT NOW."

Volume 1, Number 1 of The Army and Navy Journal was published August 29, 1943.

HEALTH WITH A SMILE

When You Are Feeling Low In Spirit By DR. J. B. WARREN

If you are feeling low and your physician and dentist can find no reason for your feeling so miserable, sit down and try to think the matter over quietly. Ask yourself about your food, your bowels, your hours of sleep, whether everything is all right at home with all your family, whether it is some financial loss preying on your mind. Be honest with yourself and you may soon put your finger on the cause of your symptoms.

New Pastor and Wife 'Pounded' At Methodist Church

The Hico Methodist church was the scene last Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, of a real old-fashioned "pounding" for the new pastor Rev. J. L. Ray, and his wife. They have just recently been transferred here from Whitney, where he was pastor for four years.

Members brought a wonderful shower of gifts, including among other things more easily obtained during these days of shortages, a number of hard-to-get items and scarce commodities such as ham, sugar, butter, eggs, flour, preserves and canned goods.

A program consisting of songs and prayer was followed by inspirational talks from J. C. Barrow, Tyrus King, and others. The new pastor and his wife responded with assurances of their best efforts in the new charge, and their happiness at being numbered as citizens of Hico.

Following the program, those present enjoyed refreshments consisting of punch and cookies.

Farmers May Vote In ACA Election By Mail This Year

This year Hamilton county farmers will have an opportunity to vote for farmer-committeemen in all communities by mail, E. C. Gains, Administrative Officer, announced this week. The election will be conducted Tuesday, December 3rd.

Official ballots will be sent to each eligible voter, Gains said. On this ballot there will appear the name of one candidate for each position who was selected by a nominating committee of farmers in the community, and also a space for the farmers to write in the name of any farmer they want to represent them as community committeemen if they do not want to vote for the nominee. Each farmer will vote for three regular members of the community committee and two alternate members.

At the same time voters will elect a delegate and an alternate to represent their community at the county convention. At the county convention the delegates from all the communities within the county will elect three farmers to serve as the county conservation committee for 1947. Delegates may or may not be the same persons selected as committeemen.

The ballots are to be sealed, except ballots, Gains said. Voters may mail the ballots to their county ACA office, or bring them to the ACA office and place them in the ballot box in person, or they may take them to the polling place in the community on the day set for the election in that community.

Any person participating in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program or any person who has a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is eligible to vote in the election. This includes owners, operators and tenants on farms where the conservation program is being carried out. The wife of every eligible voter is also eligible to vote. Any eligible voter who does not receive a ballot may secure one by calling at the ACA office or may go to the polls on election day and vote.

Gains said that the voting procedure was changed to assure a greater participation in the elections so that the men who are elected truly represent the choice of the farmers in the community. He stresses the point of electing men with good judgment to the committeemen jobs. He explained that the farmers elected as committeemen will be called on during the next year to perform many important duties. They will make important decisions about soil conservation, about crop adjustments, about Government price supports, and other Federal farm programs. He urged that every eligible voter cast his ballot.

Immediate shutdown of 1642 OPA offices will make large quantities of surplus property available to educational institutions, WAA announced this week. Transfer of property to schools through Federal Works Agency will include typewriters, which many institutions turned over to the armed forces at the outset of the war. Estimates indicate that the average OPA office now to be cleared of property contains approximately 10 desks, 10 to 20 chairs, filing cabinets, typewriters and some office machines. The Public Interest Division of WAA is giving this proposal top consideration and speedy handling to get the needed property to the schools.

A little more "sales psychology" plus product research has saved many a dollar for your Uncle Sam in slow-moving items. When WAA offered "Salt Water Soap" at 12 cents a pound, buyers remained aloof, and the soap began to gather dust. A price cut to 6 cents a pound was ordered, but a WAA merchandiser decided something was wrong. Reasoning that the product should sell because of the soap shortage he decided the name was wrong and the explanation too vague. The price cut was rescinded, the soap was advertised as "all purpose" laundry and hard-water soap (which it is) and the entire inventory was sold out in 48 hours after the advertisement appeared.

To reduce to a minimum the number of veterans' priority certificates in the active files, Harold Gish, chief of the Veterans Division, WAA, announced that a survey of all veterans on the WAA list will be made to determine their interest in the future purchasing. A letter will be sent each veteran, asking whether or not he wishes to buy surplus property. All who answer in the negative or who do not answer within 30 days will have their certificates removed from WAA files.

Next Week's Paper Will Be Issued Early For Thanksgiving

Due to the fact that next Thursday, Nov. 28, will be observed here as Thanksgiving Day, the News Review will be printed Tuesday instead of on the regular publication day.

There are two reasons for this, one of course, is to allow the force to take the holiday along with the rest of the citizens; and the other is that we can better serve our merchants and readers in this way. Cooperation in the way of early advertising copy and news items will be appreciated.

It is not too early now, but after Tuesday morning it might be too late. Correspondents will take notice, please, and mail their letters in by Monday.

Advertisers are invited to call on us for cut and copy suggestions on timely advertising.

New Locker Plant Will Be Ready Soon For Handling Pork

The pork-curing division of Hico's new frozen locker plant will be ready for operation within the next ten days or two weeks, according to a statement Wednesday by Y. C. Paschall. Mr. Paschall, who conducts a similar enterprise at Brownwood, owns the local business jointly with M. S. Norton, who expects to move here from Brownwood about December 1.

Mr. Norton will accept rents for locker boxes and transact other business upon his arrival. In the meantime reservations may be left with C. M. Hedges or J. E. Woodard. All equipment is here for the pork curing division.

Mr. Paschall said work was being rushed on all phases of the enterprise which when completed will include a complete service of slaughtering, chilling, cutting, sharp-freezing, pork-curing, rendering fat, poultry dressing, etc.

Locker boxes are expected to be shipped in December. Freezer compressors will be shipped out of Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 10, it was announced, and installation of insulation, hoists, overhead tracks and other equipment is progressing as fast as possible. Mr. Paschall said.

Turkey Egg-Laying Contest Planned for Tarleton College

Stephenville, Nov. 20.—What is believed to be the only Turkey-Egg Laying Test in the world will begin at Tarleton on January 1, with entries from six prominent Texas turkey breeders. W. D. Graves, head of the Tarleton poultry department, and superintendent of the test, announced today.

Many more breeders desired to enter, but the turkey test will proceed along the lines of Tarleton's famous chicken egg test; that is, it will start slowly and expand only if widespread interest develops among turkey breeders.

The six entries are the Williams Ranch, owned by Mrs. Stewart Williams, Gatesville; the James Ber-Nothing Ranch, owned by R. E. James of Austin; Winston W. Shean of Menard; the Lee & Smith Ranch owned by Homer P. Lee of Midlothian; Mrs. J. D. Welch, Gatesville, and D. S. Battery, Floydada.

The test will be financed by entry fees of $30.00 and sale of eggs and poults. The breeders will be given first choice for his eggs for 25 cents each and his poults at $1.00 each. If he does not buy them they will be sold unidentified to other purchasers.

The entry will consist of ten young hens and one tom. Normal eggs will be incubated during a period of eight consecutive weeks and hatchability and fertility will be recorded.

The test, which begins on January 1, 1947, will end on May 31.

A. A. Parks

All were shocked Sunday morning, Nov. 10, when the news went out that Archie Alexander Parks was accidentally shot to death about 11 that morning while squirrel hunting.

Archie Alexander Parks was born May 9, 1883, in Georgia. He came to Texas with his parents when an infant, and had lived in or near Iredell most all his life.

He was married to Miss Nannie Pendergrass, November 9, 1903.

In his early years he united with a Baptist church.

Arch, as he was called by all,
was a good man. He was a prosperous farmer. He and Nannie lived on a nice farm just inside the city limits. All are aware of the fact that he could raise fine watermelons and canteloupes, and he would tell his customers that he would make them all good, and they were fine. He was an upright and honest man, was on the right side of every good thing for the good of Iredell. He was a friend to all, and all were his friends.
All were made sad by his death and Monday was a holiday. Iredell was sad instead of glad, because one of Iredell's citizens was laid to rest, for he died a very tragic death and no doubt died all alone. He will be greatly missed by his wife, for he was a loving husband to her. He petted her very much, as they never had any children. He is also missed by his brothers and sisters and friends and neighbors. All the business houses here closed out of respect to him and his relatives. He came to town every day, and is missed in town very much by all.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two brothers, John W. Parks of Iredell, and David Parks of Graham; three sisters, Mrs. R. V.
Wilson of Arlington, Mrs. Ida Wyche of Iredell, and Mrs. Louella McLoughlin of Houston; also a host of other relatives. He was preceded in death by his parents, a sister, and a brother, Joe Parks,
who died a few years back.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the Baptist church, in a well-filled church.
The funeral was in charge of Mr.
Barrow of Hico, and Rev. Potter brought the message. He paid a glowing tribute to his memory. He was assisted by Rev. Norris. The floral offerings were large and beautiful.

The following ones were flower girls: Mrs. Rance Phillips, Mrs.
W. J. Cunningham, Mrs. Hayden
Sadler, Mrs. Viola Loader, Mrs.
Thelma Scott, Mrs. Lilly Ross,
Mrs. Graham Appleby, and Miss JoJo Wyche. The honorary and active pallbearers were: Jim H.
Parks, Billy Royce Newsom, J. P.
Ross, Howell McAden, Horace
Whitley, James Wyche, Bob Scott, Lamoine Fuller, Bill Ross, and Luster Simpson. The interment was made in the new cemetery.

Among the out-of-town relatives who attended the funeral were:
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Scott and Mrs.
R. V. Wilson of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ross and Mr. and Mrs. James Wyche and children,
Odessa; Mrs. W. R. Newsom, Big Spring; Mrs. Tevila Joe Silvers and children, Pecos; Mr. and Mrs.
McLoughlin, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. David Parks and son, Graham; Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Dearmond, Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris of Dallas. There were lots of friends here from nearby

SENIOR NEWS

Did you ever wonder what a Senior classroom was like on Monday morning? Well, you lucky people are going to find out from one who knows. This Senior class of whom I am writing has no homeroom teacher in the morning, so naturally they are quiet and studious. In the corner by the stove, there is a group of boys discussing some current event, no doubt. Sometimes Wendell and Ralph are in on this, but more likely they are in the small geometry class that meets in our room every morning. This class is made up of Billy J., Wendell, Ralph, and Mildred and Wynonne, who gravitate between these interesting characters, and another section of Seniors at the back of the room. Back there is a hen party—Annette, Frances, Dale and sometimes Fontell. You do hear the most interesting gossip back there. And over in another part is R. C. and L. B., discussing politics probably, if the loud tones of voice used are any indication. There are three more Seniors in this room, Margie Nell, Louise, and Willa Dean. They usually manage to be in all groups at once, or up in Mr. Parker's office having an important conference.

So there, dear children, you have what it is like to be a Senior Monday morning. Quiet, talkative, industrious, gossipy; but notice in all the groups everyone is, above all things, studying.

JUNIOR NEWS

We all enjoyed the game Friday night, and R. W. French made us proud—he was in our class when he made that touchdown.

We really had good luck selling our sandwiches and candy at the game.

We are reviewing and getting ready for our six weeks' tests—which will come the first of next week. We are also looking forward to the end of next week, when we have our Thanksgiving holidays.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

If you see this gentleman (?) around anywhere, he is the ideal boy as selected by the girls from the Sophomore Class. He would have the eyes of Tommy Arnold, the hair of Ralph Turner, dress like Melvin Jaggars, have teeth of Charles Goughly, the height of Tommy Arnold, the smile of Odell Terry, make the grades of Charles Goughly, be courteous like Arthur Mayfield, play football like Vernon Hill, have the physique of Ralph Turner, and have the personality of Charles Goughly.

The Tigers have their last game tonight. We wish them luck and want to say they have played very well this season. The people in the stands get pretty excited when Ellis gets going with the ball. We hope he goes on through the line for a touchdown, tonight.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Although Hico was defeated by Strawn, the Tigers played a very good game. We hope the Tiger fans enjoyed the band as much as they did the game. The band did very nicely for its first public appearance, and we hope to have many more soon.

Barbara Rodgers and Bud Norrod will be interviewed this week. Barbara has blonde hair and blue eyes. She's five feet nine and one-half inches in height, and her favorites are as follows: actor Joseph Cotton; actress, Esther Williams; food, chili; dessert, chocolate pie; subject, Homemaking; color, blue.

Bud has brown hair and blue eyes. He is five feet eight inches in height, and his favorites are as follows: actor, Robert Walker; actress, Joan Davis; food, rolls; dessert, ice cream; subject, Algebra.

BAND NOTES

The band made its first public appearance last Friday night at the football game. We enjoyed playing at the game, although it began raining just as we got out at the football field.

The baton leaders did very well. LaVerne Parker and Patsy Meador were the leaders for the game. We will vote for the majorette soon.

WOMEN'S EYE VIEW

This old building, which little Nillwonowillin calls home, is about to lose two of its prize pupils, and Nilly is weeping bucketsful. He doesn't want Lee Roy and Barbara to move—he wants them to stay here! These old rooms will be so dark and dreary after their bright faces are gone.

Nilly has already tripped up Lee Roy, and now he is converging on Barbara of the sandy hair, blue eyes, and Grade A personality. She's quite a character in any language and high school won't be quite the same without her. Why, to prove what a good guy she is, did you know she hasn't but one enemy in the world, and that is herself. She's so-o-o nice that Nillwonowillin chased her all the way down the hall to get her autograph and he put it right next to Betty Grable's; so you can see she's really something. And Nilly hopes that Barbara and her handsome brother have heaps of luck and fun in their new home.

SCHOOL SPIRIT—WHAT IT MEANS TO US

The most necessary thing in the world to keep a school alive and flourishing is that intangible something known to all of us as School Spirit. Everywhere you go, you hear the students complaining that this school is too dead—why, nothing ever happens here. Ask yourselves why and you're off on the road to discovering what's wrong here and what makes our school different from others. The answer is that there is no School Spirit. We don't have any extra-curricular activities besides football, basketball and band, and we really do need something for the rest of the student body to participate in. It would be grand to have a choral club, a literary club, and a debating club for all those who are interested in that sort of activity.

Another thing, we discontinued the practice of publishing an annual each year. An annual is a great deal of hard work, but when it is done, you have a sense of accomplishment and you really have something to show for it. Of course, it is too late to discuss having an annual this year, but it isn't too late to plant the seed of thought in the fertile minds of next year's Seniors.

Activities like this help to build up a school and revive the interest of the student body. This school can be a wonderful place to drink from the fountain of knowledge—all it needs is a little encouragement, and interest from you!

CRYSTAL BALL

I Zingara, have finally recovered from the holidays of Nov. 11, so I'll dust off the Crystal Ball and see what all and who all I can see. The first picture that comes before my green eyes is that of Dorothy L. with Delton S. at the show in Stephenville Saturday night. With them were Louise H. and Maldee A. with two other guys.

It seems there is a man shortage when Wendell K. brings both Patsy T. and M. Sparks to the show. Don't be so selfish Wendell.

Everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves at Shirley's party Saturday night. Especially Wendell B. I'll bet Joan G. could tell you all about the show Saturday night because she was certainly interested in it, or maybe more interested in who was next to her—Ray K. At least it looked that way. Speaking of shows, Margie L. and Billy E. must like to go to them, because we see them at both the first and the last show Saturday night. Also Pat M. and Ralph E.

Wonder who the guy was from Hamilton that Flossie B. was with Saturday night. I see, too, that Betty L. and Wesley G. and Betty H. and Bobby O. were together again Saturday night. Also Wednesday night.

Norman G. has a special reason for coming back to Hico. That reason must be Mildred T.

Who is this I see bringing Loretta F. to school and coming after her every evening? It's a shame that every girl can't have a private bus and driver.

A MINOR shakeup of the Yankees is certain, Bucky Harris, new manager of the New York team admits. With his record, it could be more than that. He will buy, sell or trade anybody he pleases. Detroit never forgave him for disposing of Harry Heilmann. Nick Etten is sure to go. Most replacements will come from McPhail's "farms."

Bucky Harris
 Joe Baksi, second rate heavyweight, probably will be the next American fighter to cash in on the British boxing boom. He expects to be matched with the British heavyweight champion, Bruce Woodcock. Baksi defeated Britain's No. 2 fighter, light-heavyweight champion Freddie Mills by a technical knockout in London.

Ben Hogan, by capturing the 45th annual North and South Open golf tournament, has become the leading money-winning golfer of the year. He has now won about $40,000 in prizes. Billy Brown, 21, died shortly after being carried from the ring in Highland Park, N. J. He was the 11th fighter to succumb to boxing injuries this year.

Officials of the Pacific Coast Conference have reacted rather peevishly to boozing... a new ruling states: "If rooting sections yell or count off the yards as an official steps off a penalty, the official will keep on stepping off more penalty until the yelling or counting stops."

Stanley Musial expects the Cardinals to pay him around $30,000 for next season's work. Abe Phillips, West Coast fight promoter, was sentenced to one to five years in the federal prison and fined $1,000 for conspiring to fix a fight.

What sport do you think draws the biggest total gate? Football? Baseball? Boxing? Golf? All wrong. It's basketball, with 115,000,000 spectators a season, more than twice as many as all other sports combined. Coach Neal of the Philadelphia Eagles pro football club, long one of the most voluble exponents of the tricky T formation, abandoned it in the clash with the New York Giants. The Eagles came up from behind to win 24 to 14. Neal ordered the old single wing. Whether or not he will ever go back to the T is unknown.

DID anything ever smell better, I wonder, than the old-time Thanksgiving dinner cooking? Luscious fragrance of turkey roasting with its savory dressing, potatoes and turnips and onions and squash boiling, and spicy pies baking! I say "old-time" but I don't know why because the Thanksgiving aroma is about the same in the modern kitchen as it was in the old-fashioned one. Perhaps we can't provide with the lavish hands of our grandmothers but we stick to tradition when we plan our Thanksgiving feast.

Of course for the small family the roasting fowl may be chicken or duck or guinea hen instead of turkey but the good, mouth-watering odors are there anyway. Some of us may roast half a turkey, depending on the size of the family and number of guests.

In some parts of New England, chicken pie always has run a close second to turkey. My grandfather insisted that both be served, and the chicken pie is an ideal stretcher, by the way, if it's a large party.

Much of the preparation for the feast should be completed the day before. Replenish staples early in the week so that the Wednesday marketing can be devoted to fruits and vegetables for the special occasion.

Have the turkey delivered early Wednesday morning. This gives time to wash and drain the bird before stuffing late in the afternoon. The giblets are cooked and chopped, too, on Wednesday.

Wash salad greens and celery. Store in the refrigerator so that they will crisp and be ready to serve.

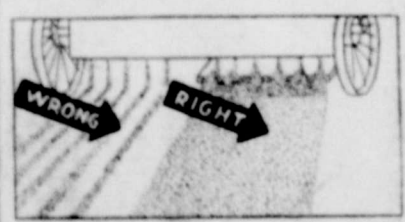

Check linen, silver, glass ware and china and persuade the man of the house to sharpen his carving knife. A dull carving knife plays havoc with the finest turkey ever roasted.

If you serve pumpkin pie for dessert you will have to bake the pie before you put the turkey in the oven to roast but you might like to serve pumpkin pie Alaska. Then bake the pie shell long enough ahead to allow the oven to cool to the roasting temperature.

Pumpkin Pie Alaska

Two cups coffee cream, 1 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 3 tablespoons cold milk, 2 cups light brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon salt, yolks 4 eggs, 2 tablespoons sherry, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatine, 1 cup cooked pumpkin rubbed through a sieve.

Scald coffee cream and add brown sugar. Stir until dissolved and stir in cornstarch mixed to a smooth paste with cold milk. Add spices and salt and cook and stir until thick and smooth. Soften gelatine in 4 tablespoons cold water and add to pumpkin. Beat egg yolks until thick, beating in sherry. Add to cornstarch mixture and cook and stir just one minute, removing from heat before mixture reaches boiling point. Stir in pumpkin mixture and chill. Turn into freezing tray and freeze until firm around the edges. Then fold in whipping cream whipped until firm.

When ready to serve fill pie shell with ice cream and cover with a meringue made with the whites of the eggs and 8 tablespoons granulated sugar. Be sure the meringue meets the pie shell perfectly in order to seal. Put in a very hot oven just long enough to brown the meringue and serve at once.

Successful Parenthood
 BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
 Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

MAKING Saturdays memorable is one of the many ways parents have always had of giving their children a happy life. When our grandparents were children there was usually a great deal of work for them to do on their day off from school. But there was excitement, too—the Sunday baking with cookies, especially the "crooked pieces," as hand-outs fresh from the oven. And listening for the clop-clop of the horse that would bring father home from his Saturday trip to the village with the bag of candy the grocer always sent to the children when the bill was paid.

Today there are fewer tasks to occupy families on Saturdays, as the children have almost the whole day free. And into this leisure time the movies have brought their enchantment. If this were an unalloyed idyll it would be cause for little comment. But ever since the movies began to talk, so that adult situations became too explicit for children's ears, parents and civic leaders have been working for week-end movies of special interest and suitability for children. From the beginning leaders of the motion picture industry have been cooperative, but it takes a long time for the needs of a minority to be recognized in a mass produced industry. If customers buy galoshes by the millions manufacturers aren't too concerned about the few who may prefer old-fashioned rubbers. And because the boxoffice take is usually bigger on adult films, it isn't every producer who wants to make movies for children and family audiences. Nevertheless, over the years there has been built up a priceless collection of films which children shouldn't miss seeing.

We have given you this bit of movie history as introduction to an important new development—the Children's Film Library, made available by the Motion Picture Association to managers of motion picture theaters throughout the nation. The library consists of feature films chosen from those recommended for children during the past few years. There has long been a demand from parents and motion picture councils for the showing of best children's films of other years for the benefit of youngsters who were not of movie age at the time of their release. But it was not the custom to keep prints in stock or to bother with old films when there were millions tied up in new films waiting to be exploited.

Parents can show their appreciation of the Children's Film Library by seeing that their children patronize the special children's matinees, where they are assured of fun, good entertainment, and a hearty welcome, instead of letting them go to highly publicized adult films. The motion picture companies have indicated that if the project is a success with children, parents and theaters they will expand the Library with additional tried-and-true features. So your cooperation is needed. Especially if you happen to live in a community where the theater operator still uses the excuse that he "can't get family films" for Saturday showing, remind him of the Children's Film Library. It would be wonderful if the lives of all the children in America were to be enriched by the grand story-telling these films will bring them.

This Week in WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C.

THE smashing Republican victory at the polls November 5 has left official Washington gasping for breath. Although there was a pessimistic feeling throughout the various governmental agencies and many believed that the GOP would capture the house, the feeling was that the Democrats would retain control of the senate, and the results are being viewed as a repudiation of the Truman administration.

So serious is this view taken that one Democratic senator, Fulbright of Arkansas, has suggested that President Truman resign. The Washington Post, Independent, while castigating the Fulbright suggestion, goes so far as to declare that President Truman owes it to the people to name a new cabinet composed of Republicans.

Insofar as the 80th congress is concerned, however, there is likely to be little difference except for the new faces and new committee chairmanships. As a matter of fact, due to the Republican - Democratic coalition which negatively controlled the 79th congress, the records show that there will be little difference in the attitude of the new Republican chairmen to the old Democratic chairmen and on all but a handful of the 19 committees in the house and 15 in the senate, conservative Democratic chairmen will be replaced by conservative Republicans and liberal Democrats by liberal Republicans.

There is indeed belief expressed freely here that the new congress may either repudiate the new congressional organization act which slashes the number of committees, or ignore that portion of the act which does reduce the committees and go ahead with the reorganization on the old grandiose scale.

The most conspicuous exception to the sameness in thinking, however, will be in the house banking and currency committee which handles such measures as price control, housing and foreign loans. Brent Spence (D. Ky.), thorough New Dealer, who went down the line for OPA and other administration bills, will be succeeded by Jesse P. Wolcott (R. Mich.), party-line Republican who sponsored many of the restrictive amendments to the OPA bill.

In the house, Clifford R. Hope (R. Kan.) likely will succeed John W. Flanagan (D. Va.) as house agricultural chairman; John Taber (R. N. Y.) will be appropriations chairman; Richard Welch (R. Cal.), education and labor; Charles A. Eaton (R. Pa.), foreign affairs; Charles A. Wolverton (R. N. J.), interstate and foreign commerce and either Peter G. Holmes (R. Mass.) or George A. Dondero (R. Mich.) chairman of the public works committee.

In the senate, Arthur Capper, 81-year-old Kansas Republican and veteran of the senate since 1919 may become president pro tem replacing Kenneth McKellar (D. Tenn.). This place may fall to Wallace White (R. Maine) or Vandenberg (R. Mich.). Sen. Robert A. Taft (R. Ohio), chairman of the GOP steering committee is the logical choice for the majority leader but may refuse it and it may fall to Kenneth S. Wherry (R. Neb.), relentless New Dealer foe.

Of course Joe Martin, Jr. (R. Mass.) will take over the speakership from the veteran Sam Rayburn of Texas and either Charles A. Halleck (R. Ind.) or Clarence Brown (R. Ohio) may become house majority leader.

If the reorganization act is followed and strict seniority rules apply, Capper will get the senate agricultural committee; Styles Bridges (R. N. H.), the senate appropriations; Chan Gurney (R. S. D.), armed services; Charles W. Tobey (R. N. H.) will get banking and currency; William Langer (R. N. D.) or Clyde M. Reed (R. Kan.) will get civil service; Taft will get senate finance; Vandenberg will get foreign relations; Wallace White, interstate and foreign commerce; Alexander Wiley (R. Wis.), judiciary; Owen Brewster (R. Maine) is in line for public works and C. Wayland Brooks (R. Ill.) for rules and administration.

The most conspicuous exception to the sameness in thinking, however, will be in the house banking and currency committee which handles such measures as price control, housing and foreign loans. Brent Spence (D. Ky.), thorough New Dealer, who went down the line for OPA and other administration bills, will be succeeded by Jesse P. Wolcott (R. Mich.), party-line Republican who sponsored many of the restrictive amendments to the OPA bill.

VETERANS QUESTION BOX

Q My son was discharged after serving 27 months in the Pacific theatre. His health is such that he is unable to do hard manual labor. He applied for pension but was denied that. He then applied for a civil service job in March, but up to this time he has heard nothing. Should he apply again, or have he forgotten so soon what the boys did for us? He applied for and drew unemployment compensation for a few weeks, then landed a job which doesn't pay much and which he doesn't like as there is no future in it. Can he draw compensation again if he quits this job for something better?—Mrs. R. L. V. Ararat, N. C.

A Would suggest that your son first ask for a review of his pension application if his ill health is due to his war service. As for civil service jobs, the civil service department has urged men to apply to government for jobs and have taken good care of returning veterans, so would suggest that you write again about a civil service job for your son. Write to U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. or to the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at any first or second class post office. Your son had better consult his local employment office before quitting his present job. They will decide whether his present job is "suitable." If not then he can quit it and draw additional compensation until he obtains a better job.

Q Could you please tell me if Headquarters company, 12th service and supply battalion, marine corps, is still overseas. It was stationed on Okinawa. My brother was in it and we haven't heard from him for some time.—Mrs. J. C. White Hall, Md.

A As of August 15, the Headquarters Company, 12th SS Bn. Marine Corps was stationed in Tsing Tao, China.

Q Can you tell me where the 31st US N.C.B. Company A is now? Also doesn't like as there is no future in it. Can he draw compensation again if he quits this job for something better?—Mrs. R. L. V. Ararat, N. C.

A The 31st was deactivated on June 3, 1946 and men not eligible for discharge were reassigned to the 5th Marines on Guam. The 72nd was deactivated Dec. 29, 1945 and men ineligible for discharge were transferred to the 31st.

Q My husband has been in service two years the 27th of June and has never been overseas. He reenlisted for three years. Will he have to go overseas before he gets his discharge or stay on this side his three years. He is a Pfc. and has one child. He is now at Seymour Johnson Field, Goldsboro, N. C. Will he have to stay his three years out? Mrs. N. C. M. Livingston, N. C.

A Your husband will have to go wherever he is sent during this three-year enlistment whether it's overseas or here in the States. Unless he is discharged for disability or other reason, he must remain for his three-year hitch.

SCALP TROUBLE!

You must find Durham's Resorcin Tonic the best ever used for itching scalp, dandruff, falling hair — or your money back. Large bottle only 75c at CORNER DRUG CO.

NWNS Radio-Screen Editor.

TAKE a huge helping of Crosby's crooning, a generous portion of Astaire's dancing prowess and some Irving Berlin songs—both old and new—mix well and toss in the loveliness of Joan Caulfield . . . and you have a sparkling musical desert called, appropriately, "Blue Skies." The plot's not original but there are a few good twists and a lot of hearty laughs . . . If it's true, as he says it is, that this is Fred Astaire's swan song, he'll bow out as every veteran snowman dreams of doing—in his final role to date . . . Attention is directed to one Billy DeWolfe who contributes a bright piece of buffoonery and in the process practically runs off with the picture . . . Keep your eye, also, on vivacious Olga San Juan.

The Rogers had been married for ten years and had two daughters.

Fairy

By Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We had another cool spell over the week end, and several were butchering hogs Saturday and Monday.

The Jonesboro girls and boys came up to play our boys and girls in basketball Friday night of last week. Each team made a strenuous effort to win. The Fairy teams were defeated by only a small margin.

Misses Daphne and Patsy Ann Hoover of Stephenville spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover.

Oran Williford spent the week end in Hamilton with relatives, and to be with his wife and little daughter, Doran Gwen, at the Hamilton hospital. Mrs. Williford and the baby accompanied him home Monday morning. The maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rice Edwards of near Hico, were on hand to greet their new granddaughter. Mrs. Edwards remained for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and Carolyn visited Sunday afternoon in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones, and family at Lanham.

Mrs. Truitt Turner and Mrs. D. Massengale were joint hostesses for a wedding shower last Saturday night, given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Moore, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Moore. The couple were married more than a year ago, but due to his leaving for the service so soon after their marriage, their wedding shower was postponed. Some fifty or more guests were present for the occasion. Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to each guest upon arrival, after which tables were arranged for "42." The youngsters enjoyed musical numbers played on the phonograph. After the serving was concluded and all had enjoyed a friendly get-together, the gifts were arranged on the large dining table which was completely covered and stacked almost to its capacity. The young couple were ushered into the room where they unwrapped each gift and passed them to the guests for inspection. They received a nice assortment of useful gifts and thanked their friends for their thoughtfulness of them. Vernon recently received his discharge from the service.

Mrs. Herman Sills returned home Thursday of last week from Gorman, where she had spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Vernon Chew, who had undergone an operation there on Tuesday of last week.

Miss Peggy Ruth Allison of Stephenville spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Allison and brother, Texie Dell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and Carolyn were in Dublin Thursday of last week, where they attended the Dalley Bros. Circus and visited in the home of their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Walker and little son, Jimmie, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Printis Newman Sunday afternoon.

Nat Grimes is driving one of the school buses now, having taken the place of Audie Parks, who resigned last Friday.

Mrs. Curtis Wright and little son, Gleam, of Hico were visiting with friends and relatives here last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover were in Stephenville last Saturday night, where they attended a Style Show creation at a ready-to-wear shop. Their daughter, Miss Patsy Ann, Miss Peggy Ruth Allison and Miss Mary Ona Whitson were among the number who were selected as models.

Audie and Elzie Lee (Rab) Parks left Monday for Kerrville, where they joined their brother-in-law, Dan Fulbright, for a hunting trip in the Kerrville section.

Our good friend, Mrs. Brittle Little, passed another milestone last week, Saturday being her 73rd birthday. She lives alone and spends much of her time making rugs and piecing quilts. And today (Monday, Nov. 18) calls to mind the birth date of our dear deceased son, James Dudley, who would have been 25 years old had he lived. It will be remembered by many that he met death by accidental drowning seven years ago last June 25th.

Why Bert Won First Prize

Folks weren't surprised when Bert Childers won first prize for his corn at the county fair.

Yet the judges admit it wasn't just because Bert had the finest ears of corn. He knew how to display them: neatly arranged, with the husks cleanly trimmed, and the booth white and spotless.

"Trimnings" sure make a difference no matter what you're offering—as Andy Botkin, keeper of the Garden Tavern, well knows. Andy doesn't just sell good beer. He sells it in a place that's clean and attractive . . . in nice surroundings that belong with the enjoyment of a wholesome beverage of moderation.

And Andy, of course, is a whole-hearted supporter of "Self Regulation." That's the system by which the Brewers and tavern keepers themselves make sure that lavern selling beer are clean and orderly.

From where I sit, people like Andy also rate a "first prize." Not just for the quality of the product—but for the "trimnings" too.

How much light is enough to safeguard young eyes?

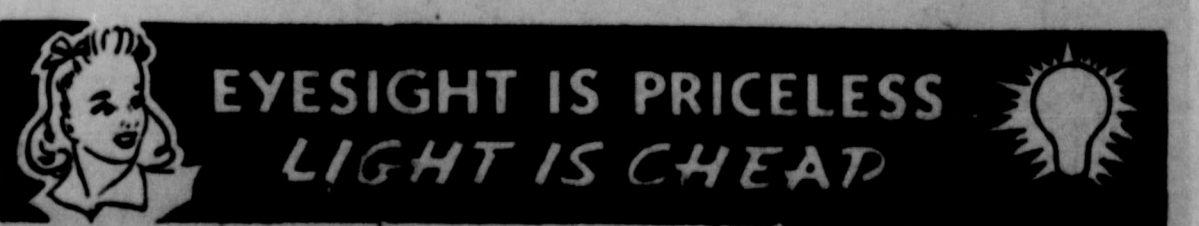

Of course, a baby can't read, but he can strain his eyes under poor light. It is an appalling fact that while most children are born with good eyes, by the time they reach school age one out of five suffers from defective vision.

Don't take chances with your children's priceless eyesight. Give them the protection of good light—and plenty of it—when they play or study indoors at night. Make sure the light is evenly distributed and free from glare. We'll gladly help you with suggestions for improving your home lighting. Ask about it today.

SOMETIMES CLOSED —FOR EFFICIENCY

Your pharmacist is not a superman. Like you, he requires a certain amount of sleep and recreation so that he may function efficiently for his community. That is why, late at night, or on a Sunday, you may find the lights of your pharmacy out, the door locked.

There are sound reasons why every pharmacy cannot remain open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Whether your pharmacist works alone or is assisted by others, his professional duties require exacting care and mental alertness—conditions he cannot fulfill if he works lengthy hours, day after day.

Like every other individual, your pharmacist requires rest and relaxation after his strenuous duties. Yet in cases of real emergency—when his science and skills are needed to preserve or save life—you will find him eager to serve with every weapon in his professional arsenal.

THIS AND THAT

TRUE HAPPINESS

When you tell me what you consider true happiness then I will try to tell you the way that most people find it.

That's the rub. We do not define the different brands of happiness or the different degrees of happiness.

We just call it "happiness," then start out with a shot gun and try to wing everything we see in the air.

True happiness is big game, right down on the ground. It does not fly high. It takes a rifle shot and not bird shot to attain true happiness. Our desires to be happy are so huge and so endless that we are always looking up into the sky hoping to find it there when, in reality, happiness is right in front of us—down low.

Happiness is what many call a by-product. It is a result of making someone else happy.

One is usually unhappy when he gets what appeals to his imagination because enthusiasm of expectation exceeds our real happiness of actual experience.

One way that we could make ourselves happy is to refuse what we know we can not have and then convince ourselves that we really didn't want the thing we declined anyway.

And then we should go out and do a friendly thing for someone who needs it. One's happiest hours come when he has made someone else happy—when he has made a miserable person see a ray of sunshine—no matter how small it may be.

JUST FOR FUN:

A train robber held up a Pullman car.

"Out with your dough," he said, "or I'll kill all men without money and I'll kiss all the women."

An elderly man said, "You shall not touch a single lady in this coach."

An old maid in an upper berth stuck her head from out the curtains and said, "You leave him alone. He's the one that's robbing this train."

"Now tell me, Do Frenchmen understand American slang?"

"I think most of them do. Why do you ask?"

"Well, you see, my youngest daughter has gone to Paris to be married to a French count and he has cabled me to 'come across.'"

FOUND JOY IN SEEING

HERE is a woman who tells how happy she is when she is washing dishes at a kitchen sink. And she means every word of it. She has two college degrees. One is Master of Arts from Columbia University.

She is Borghild Dahl, a woman of Norwegian parents, born in Minnesota. She was born with bad eyesight, but she had a desire to accomplish something worth while in the world. She tells about all this in her remarkable book called, "I wanted to See." As a child she could not see to jump rope with other children. She wanted to play hopscotch with other children, but she could not see the markings. So after the other children had gone, she got down on the ground crawled along, her eyes closer to the marks. Then, the next day, she could play.

She went to the Mayo Clinic for an operation, for she had only one-fifteenth vision in one eye. This helped her. But 28 years afterward she had to go back for another operation. She was helped and after some of her vision had been restored she said that the loveliest experience, she had ever had in her life was to lie down and watch dawn come out of the blackness of the night. "It was perfectly thrilling!" she says.

She started in the laborious process of again learning to read. And she learned to read in Mother Goose. And the story was the one about Bobby Shafto. The print was large, but it took her a long time to read the story. "When I got through, I thought I had accomplished a miracle."

When the second operation was performed, she was able to see 40 times as well as she had ever been able to see in her life. So that is what she means when she says she loves to stand at the kitchen sink and wash dishes. "Through the window I can see a flock of sparrows flying in the air. Oh! they are very beautiful. How much I have to be thankful for."

And indeed she has. She can go around once more without a Seeing Eye dog, she can make a living for herself, she does not have to depend on anyone. She is now called upon to lecture, and also she teaches.

budget straight?" asked Mrs. Tompkins.

"My dear, it's simply awful," wailed Mrs. Smith. "Why last month I had to put in five mistakes to make mine balance."

The street was thronged with thousands of pedestrians. All of them were in a mad rush. Suddenly a woman's cry arose shrilly from the crowd above the noise of the passing throng.

"Give me air," she cried. The crowds gasped and stood aside—and a woman triumphantly drove her car with a flat tire into a filling station.

We are all so prone to slight or neglect doing the little things when they should be done, and almost before we realize it they have piled up and get in our way every time we turn around and it is then that we say, "My, my! I have more to do than I will ever be able to get done."

There is no War Department regulation in effect at the present time which makes it possible to obtain a "purchase discharge."

Don't Kid Yourself!

Many people feel that good times are over and that the Old Booger Man Depression is just round the corner. Just the same, we still can't produce enough goods to satisfy everybody. Raw materials are still critically short. There are still nearly 60,000,000 people that have jobs, and more help needed. The banks are full of money. Most everyone is free of debt. That's not what depressions are made of!

Many items that were controlled by O. P. A. are just now advancing. Hoffman's policy is to hold prices as long as possible.
