HICO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1948.

NUMBER 47.

ELECTION BRINGS A NEW CITY ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Hedges Mayor; 2 New Aldermen, And 1 Re-Elected

Homer V. Hedges was elected to serve as mayor of Hico for the ensuing two years in balloting at City Hall Tuesday, April 6. Dr. Hedges succeeds J. C. Barrow, who has served several terms in the office both prior to and following his tenure of office as judge of Hamilton County.

Ollie Davis was the only council member allowing his name to be filed on the ticket for reelection at this time, and led the ticket for the council position by a large margin in a field of nine candidates, with three to be elected.

Wallace Ratliff and Bill Norton were indicated as winners of the two other council posts.

J. W. Autrey, who conducted the election, tendered the following report at the close of the polls:

For Mayor:
J. C. Barrow, 95
H. V. Hedges, M. D., 165

For Aldermen (3 to be elected):
Ollie L. Davis, 142
Wallace Ratliff, 99
Bill Norton, 116

A. H. Burden, 74
J. L. Goodman, 76
L. E. Chaney, 81
C. E. Lester, 42
Roy Barnett, 42
Willard Leach, 75

Roy French and Charlie Meador, other two members of the present board, declined to run for reelection.

Sandy Ogle and Paul Neel are the holdover members of the five-man council, having been elected last year for two-year terms.

Lively interest was shown in the balloting Tuesday, something unusual for a city race except at times. Only 108 votes were cast last year, which was over the usual average.

Traditionally the newly elected officers are installed at a called meeting within five or six days. Many times this has been held on the Monday night following the day of election. Meantime the present board continues to serve.

Mr. Ellington, who has not announced his plans for the future, speaks for his successor as continuation of the patronage so liberally accorded him during the many years he has been in business in Hico.

NEW KATY AGENT HERE
P. W. Hamilton of Parsons, Kansas assumed his duties in Hico this week as Katy Agent to replace Z. T. Wilson, who was recently transferred to Dublin.

He is a native Texan and has served as agent for the Katy at Stamford and Waco.

Other members of his family who moved with him to Hico Tuesday are his wife and 13-year-old daughter, Dolores June. They have an apartment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rainwater. The Hamiltons also have a son, P. W. Jr., 18, who is serving with the army in Tokyo.

COTTON PRODUCTION IN COUNTY UP IN 1947

Preliminary figures show the 1947 cotton production in Hamilton county as 2231 running bales, as compared with 1768 bales ginned in 1946. Ray L. Miller, Dallas Regional Director of the Department of Commerce Field Service, has announced. The figures were compiled by the Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce and final statistics will be released later, Mr. Miller stated.

The 1947 cotton production in Texas was 3,306,882 running bales, as compared with 1,635 bales ginned in 1946. Lubbock County produced 180,935 bales which was more than three times the county's 1946 production.

SINGING AT CARLETON
Regular second Sunday singing will be held at Carleton Baptist Church, starting at 2:00 p. m., according to announcement from J. W. Jordan, president of the class.

Mr. Jordan said they were expecting some real good singers, and added that everyone was invited to attend.

ATOM BOMB SHELTER... Clarence Booth, of Lakewood, N. J., does some welding on the two-story atom bomb shelter he hopes to finish this summer. The 54-year-old inventor is confident that his structure, one story above ground and one below, will be virtually atom proof.

Air Markers Completed by Scouts, C of C

Ten-Foot Letters On Locker Plant's Roof Will Guide Airmen

In cooperation with the Civil Aeronautics Authority's program of installing air markers throughout the country, the Hico Chamber of Commerce agreed to buy the paint and the local Boy Scout Troop agreed to do the work so that Hico could report completion of the requested project.

The markers have been constructed on the roof of the Hico Frozen Food Lockers plant. The letters and numerals are painted in chrome and stand 10 feet high. One sign reads, "HICO." Another is an arrow pointing toward Hamilton, 22 miles, and this is the nearest airport; the third is a huge 24-foot arrow, with the latitude 31 degrees 59 minutes and longitude, 98 degrees and 02 minutes, which is correct for Hico according to CAA.

These signs can be seen from several hundred feet in the air—and from the air only. The purpose of these air markers through the country is to enable fliers to locate their position and make possible a safe landing.

Widows and Minor Children Eligible For Social Security Aid

"The Social Security Act places emphasis on the importance of the family and gives special protection to women with young children," said R. B. Tuley Jr., manager of the Waco social security office. "Some women callers," Tuley continued, "think that benefits are paid only to 65-year-old widows. When a qualified worker of any age dies and leaves a widow who was living with him at the time of his death, she is immediately eligible to receive:

1. Monthly payments for herself and their unmarried children under 18, or
2. A single cash payment if there are no children.

"It should come as no surprise to the widow of an insured worker to learn that she and her minor children are eligible for regular monthly payments. Over 300,000 such benefits are now in force in the nation.

"Any News Review readers who know of a family that might be eligible for such payments are urged to suggest a check be made with the nearest social security field office," Tuley concluded.

Girl Scouts Learn to Tie Knots At Meeting

The first thing we did Monday night was to learn how to tie the knots. Miss Blair showed us how to tie the square knot, then the slip knot, and two others. We think everyone learned how to tie them.

We practiced again for our investiture ceremony. We hope to have it soon. We are going skating next Tuesday night at Fairy. "A Girl Scout is cheerful."

H. B. GORDON NOW IN THE RACE FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

To the Voters of the 32nd Judicial District.

I have lived in Hamilton County all of my life with the exception of the time I spent in the Armed Forces during the First and Second World Wars, and when I was employed as Revenue Agent by the U. S. Treasury Department. I entered practice of law in 1931 opening a Law Office in Hamilton County, Texas, with Jimmie Bolding as my law partner, and after Mr. Bolding went into the County Attorney's office of Hamilton County, I entered into a law partnership with the late Honorable A. R. Eldson under the firm name of "Eldson & Gordon." I practiced law with Mr. Eldson until March, 1938, when I was employed as a Revenue Agent in the Estate & Gift Tax Division of the U. S. Treasury Department, which job I resigned after I returned from the Army in the last war. I returned to Hamilton and reopened my law office on the 15th day of August, 1946.

I believe I am qualified to discharge the duties of the office of District Attorney, and I would like very much to have the job, and will greatly appreciate your vote and assistance.

In the event I am elected, I pledge you that I will do my best to make you as good a District Attorney as you have ever had.

Sincerely,
HERBERT (BUSS) GORDON.

Attend Stephenville C. of C. Banquet

J. B. Woodard, president, and Bill Norton, secretary of the Hico Chamber of Commerce, were invited guests at the annual membership banquet of the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday evening at the JTAC dining hall.

The Hico attendants reported a large crowd of about 600 members and guests present.

R. E. Jackson, a member of the faculty at TSCW, Denton, was guest speaker for the occasion. He made a humorous and interesting talk, stressing one point—"Your town is only as good as the individual citizen." If the people of a town sit down, the town is bound to go down.

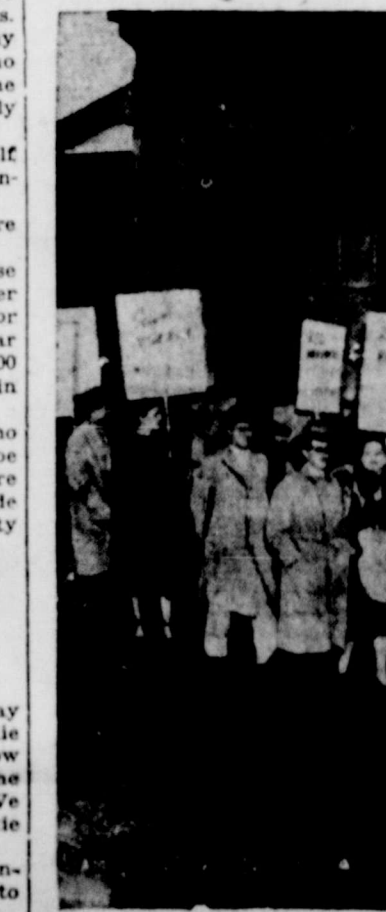

Mrs. J. D. Whitmire of Dallas, who wrote for a make-good copy of her old home paper when her failed to come last week, sends regards to her friends here whom she likes to read about in the paper.

COSTA RICANS PROTEST RED DOMINATION... The Russian consulate in New York is shown being picketed by members of the newly formed Costa Rica league against communist domination, as a protest against alleged communist interference in the civil war raging in Costa Rica. The league charges the communists want to control Costa Rica as a step towards taking over the Panama canal, in preparation for war. Costa Rica is 100 miles from the canal.

Clean-Up of City Asked Next Week

Trash Collected and Set Out Will Be Hauled Off Free

"Help Make Hico Beautiful" is the slogan in the current Clean-Up Campaign which will be in progress all next week.

The Mayor and City Council have a message on another page of the paper outlining the highlights of the drive, and calling on all citizens for cooperation.

Mosquito control is one of the main points of the campaign, and pointers are given on how to decrease this pestilence.

The week beginning April 12th has been proclaimed as City-Wide Clean-Up Week, and all individuals and various civic organizations are urged to take part.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are the days for getting trash together and setting it out in a place convenient for the haulers. Pick-up will be made during the week end.

Many stores are offering specials in line with the purpose of the program.

CANCER FUND DRIVE PLANS BEING MADE FOR MONTH OF APRIL

Sam Harelik of Hamilton, who has been named county chairman of the American Cancer Society fund campaign, notified the News Review Tuesday that Bill Norton of Hico had agreed to serve as local chairman for the drive.

Hamilton county has the responsibility of raising $600.00 in this campaign, which will be held throughout the state and nation during the month of April. Hico's quota and plans for conducting the campaign will be announced next week, Norton said.

The April campaign is part of the Cancer Control Month, designated by an Act of Congress and proclaimed by President Truman and Governor Beauford Jester as the official time for the Society's annual drive. This is the first time personal solicitation has been made locally.

A three-fold program is supported by funds gathered during April. This is for education about the disease, service to the cancer patient, and research which may someday lead to elimination of this disease as America's number two killer.

Frank C. Smith of Houston is president of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, which functions through 15 districts paralleling those of the State Medical Association.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Forsythe and young son, Robert, Kearney, Neb., arrived last week end for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carmean, of Hico and Glen Rose. He returned home Sunday and Mrs. Forsythe and son remained for an extended visit. She is the former Caroline Carmean.

W. A. SHOFNER OF BELL COUNTY NOW IN STATE SENATE RACE

W. A. "Son" Shofner, well-known Temple attorney, has formally announced his candidacy for State Senator for the 21st district of Texas. This district is composed of Bell, Bosque, Coryell, Erath, and Hamilton counties.

Shofner is a former member of the Legislature from Bell county, having served in the 44th House of Representatives, where his work earned him an award from the American Legion for "Distinguished Service to Texas."

He was reared at Killeen, where he finished the public schools. He later attended Texas, Southwestern and Cumberland universities. He received his legal education from the latter institution.

Shofner has been especially active as a trial lawyer in connection with his practice, having engaged in a large number of civil and criminal cases. His friends have pointed out that his training and experience well qualify him to represent this district on the floor of the Senate and in committee rooms. His ability as a speaker and debater and his background of legal training, they say, peculiarly fits him for the post he seeks.

He stated that he expects to wage an intensive campaign over the five-county district, discussing with the people at first hand their legislative and governmental needs. He says that he will close his campaign with an extensive speaking tour of the district.

Shofner has stated that he thinks the senator should keep in close touch with the people he represents and that he intends to maintain, in the various counties of the district, offices in the courthouses, which he will visit in rotation on Saturdays, both during the legislative session and otherwise. This, he says, will permit the people to confer with him without having to travel long distances to Austin or Temple, from the far ends of the district.

Recently named as President of the 27th Judicial District Bar Association, Shofner, 42 years of age, is active in various other organizations in Temple.

Scouts Practice Tests At Recent Meeting

We met at the Scout Hall at 7:00 p. m. last Thursday, April 1, and played several games and boxed.

We were then called over to Mr. Norton's plant to take census on the Scouts.

When this was finished we practiced receiving Morse code, and other parts of Scout tests. Then we played some more games and talked over a few subjects. One was that we were going to have a Scout Court of Honor pretty soon. We then went out and marched around for about five minutes, then formed a Scout Circle and repeated the Scout Oath.

We were then dismissed and went home.

Mrs. Shaw to Greet Friends As She's 102

Annual Birthday Party Scheduled For Next Sunday

Hundreds of friends and neighbors will gather at the home of Mrs. J. A. Shaw (better known as Aunt Celia) next Sunday to join with her in celebration of her 102nd birthday, the date of which falls on Monday.

Oldest known resident of this section, Aunt Celia looks forward to meeting and talking with the friends and acquaintances of old as well as other visitors who gather to congratulate her and enjoy her friendly greetings. She has retained her memory and all of her faculties to a remarkable extent.

J. W. Richbourg of Hico, longtime friend of the family, is authority for the statement that a fat calf will be killed, and that the customary feast will be served at noon.

Mrs. Shaw was born in Louisa County, Ala., April 12, 1846, and with her late husband and family migrated to Texas, arriving at the site of the little town of Johnsonville the last day of 1877, before Hico, Stephenville and Dublin were settled.

Although her birthday falls on Monday, the celebration is being held Sunday in order that as many as possible can attend. Several are expected to go up from here to pay respects to a remarkable woman and tender small gifts which are always treasured.

Labels On Drugs Should Always Be Read Before Taking

Austin, April 6. — "Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the need for reading labels on drugs and medicines before taking them," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Frequent reports are received of accidents, some of them fatal, affecting people who have formed the hazardous habit of taking medicines without carefully reading the labels."

Equally dangerous is the habit of taking medicine after the directions on the label have become obliterated, which many people do, thinking that they can remember what the bottle contained. Reaching for a bottle and taking medicine in the dark is another dangerous practice. It is important to remember that the law requires labels to be attached to drugs and medicines in order to protect the public.

Dr. Cox urges people to follow the simple rule of reading the label before using anything from a carton or bottle, either as food or as medicine. In brief, his advice to the public is: "Be sure you know what you are taking, and when in doubt, don't take it!"

Senior Play to Be Presented Next Week

The Senior Class of Hico High School is presenting the annual senior play Friday night, April 16, at 7:45 p. m.

Be sure to come, because you are assured that it is a laugh from start to finish.

Funerals Held For Donald Driver and Mrs. Johnnie Driver

A highway collision six miles north of Hico on U. S. 281 early Sunday morning resulted in two deaths and injuries to three other of the occupants of two cars which ran into each other head-on, according to reports of the State Highway Patrol.

Sgt. Donald M. Driver of Hico, stationed at Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth, was killed, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Johnnie Driver, 27, fatally injured shortly after midnight when the car in which they were riding collided with a car occupied by John England and Len Mefford of Stephenville.

Donald Driver was reported to have been dead when brought to the Hico Hospital by a Barrow-Rutledge ambulance, called to the scene when passing motorists stopped to render aid.

The two other occupants of the Driver car were also brought to the local hospital. Mrs. Johnny Driver died at midnight Sunday. Her husband was released the following day.

Occupants of the Stephenville car were also brought here, but a few hours later were transferred to the Stephenville Hospital and shortly thereafter discharged as patients.

The front ends of both cars were reported to have been torn entirely off, and parts scattered along the road.

Funeral Monday for Donald M. Driver

Funeral services for Sgt. Donald M. Driver were held at the Barrow Rutledge Funeral Chapel Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. E. Dawson. Burial was in Hico Cemetery, with W. H. Koonsman, Hugh Koonsman, Rudolph Koonsman, Dalton McEntire, Estes McEntire, and LeLand Wolfe acting as pallbearers. He was buried in uniform, and a United States flag was draped over the casket.

Donald was born October 18, 1920 and had spent the greater part of his life in and around Hico. He attended Hico High School before his entry into service. During the war he served overseas for almost three years, the greater part of which time was spent in England with a bomber squadron.

He re-enlisted for the second time in February of this year, and was stationed at Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Driver, who live between Hico and Carleton; four brothers, Terry of Escobedo, Calif., Nick of Fort Worth, Bud of Cleburne and Johnnie of Hico; and one sister, Mrs. J. W. Tindall of Fort Worth.

Funeral at Dublin, Burial at Stephenville for Mrs. Driver

Funeral services for Mrs. Johnnie Driver were held at Dublin, Wednesday at 2:15 p. m., at the Harrell Funeral Chapel. The services were in charge of Rev. Luther Johnson, Baptist pastor at Comanche, who had performed the wedding ceremony a month previously. Burial was in Stephenville.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Frank Canady, of Dublin; a sister, Mrs. Floyd Dezgrange of Harrisburg, Pa.; two brothers, J. C. Dunn of Dublin and Richard Dunn of Virginia; and two children, Julia Faye Duncan and Billie Owen Duncan.

TWO CLAIRETTE MEN ELECTED TRUSTEES

Bill Alexander and Herschel W. Sherrard were indicated to be the winners in last Saturday's voting to select two trustees for the Hico County Line Independent School District. J. W. Autrey, who was assisted by D. F. McCarty in the holding of the election, with A. A. Brown named as judge, submitted the following report:

Grady Wolfe, 45
W. E. (Bill) Alexander, 48
Herschel W. Sherrard, 71
Mr. Salmon, 6

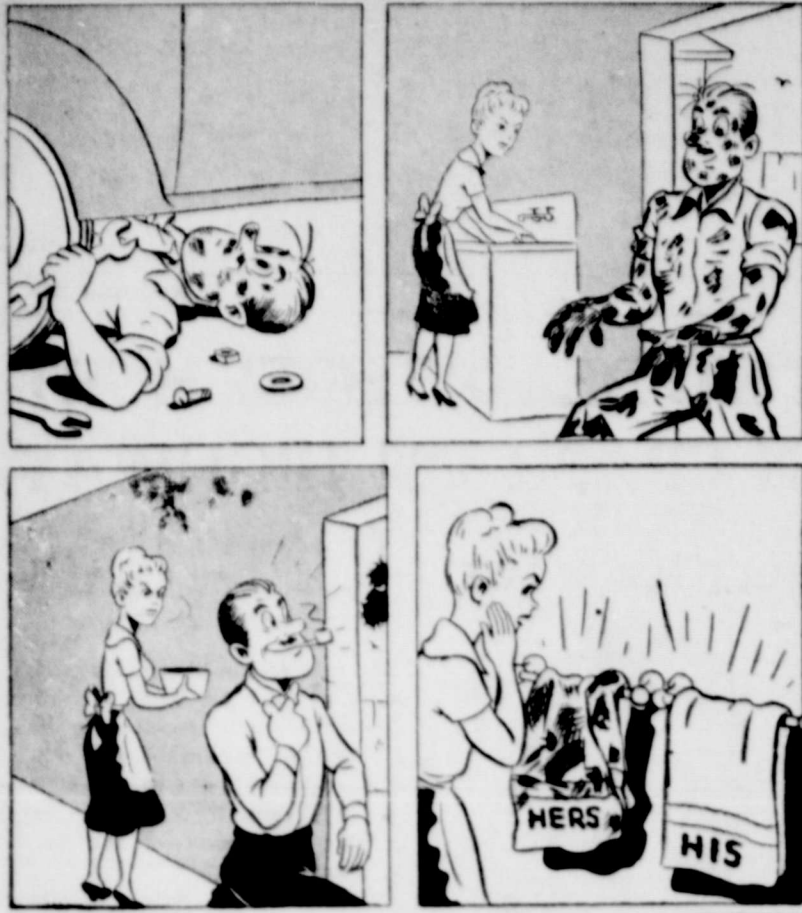

J. W. Jordan, only candidate for county trustee, received 89 votes, E. L. McKinley got 90 for county school trustee at large.

The Clairette and Hico districts recently held a consolidation vote, and unanimously elected in favor of the proposal. Actual consolidation awaits approval of the higher authorities.

SENIOR NEWS

We are working very hard on our play. Everyone should start planning to come to the Senior Play one week from today.

At last we received our cards, after looking for them about four weeks. We think they are very pretty, even prettier than we remembered they were.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

We see six weeks' tests peering around the corner again. It hardly seems time for them again, but so long as they are here, let's all do our best on them.

JUNIOR NEWS

Those six weeks' tests are over once more. It won't be long now until school will be out.

We are sorry the boys got beat last Friday in baseball.

WORM'S EYE VIEW

Nilly has been very busy this past week trying to direct the Senior Play. Seniors sure can be dumb, especially a little brunette who plays the part of a stupid back-woods girl. Although she acts uneducated she is really a super actress. She is a cute brown-eyed girl who has personality plus. She is, of course, liked by all boys and also the girls. By this time you must have already guessed that she is none other than Erma Talley. She is known and liked by all—including teachers. "Lucy," as she is better known, is always happy and makes everyone else happy by her very presence. Nilly sure wishes "Lucy" would give him only one chance to show her how much he would appreciate being invited to the banquet by her. But with her mind on someone more important, Nilly will have to be satisfied with his old girl friend.

CRYSTAL BALL

Nilly and I were running 'round the school building Monday and we discovered so many interesting things. The Seniors received their invitations and were looking at them, but they would not let me see them. Nilly saw them, though. He crawled into the box and then told me what they had looked like to him. Gee, I wish I were getting some, but maybe some one will send me one. We also went skating Friday night at Carlton. I saw Mary Nell Battershell and Harold Norrod, Marlene Adams and Garland Latham, Patsy Roberts and Wendell Knight over there, too.

I went to town Saturday night and everyone was having fun. They were: Joan Golightly and Ray Keller, Betty Hefner and Bobby Ogle, Betty Hicks and Sunny Christian, Jo Nell Caughey and Max Burgans, Jean Caughey and Billy Bailey, Betty Land and Charles Hamrick, Jeanette Dowdy and Truman Loden, Patsy Meador and "Dub" French, Shirley Seago and "Bulldog" Hill, Betty Golightly and Paul Allen, Jo Nell Roberts and James Moore, Barbara Munnerlyn and Milton Clark, Mildred Ellis and James Rainwater, and Loretta Funk and Leroy Bobo.

SALADS WILL BE MORE TASTY

If you follow these tips for appetite appeal.

Lettuce should be washed and carefully dried so as not to bruise the leaves. Shake the lettuce in a small sugar bag for perfect drying.

All salad ingredients should be thoroughly chilled. It's a good idea, too, to chill the plates or bowls in which you serve them.

DRESSINGS can be more interesting if you add touches of seasoning to them. For example, two tablespoons of anchovy paste added to mayonnaise will perk up any vegetable salad.

A bit of Roquefort cheese crumbled into French dressing will make extra special a tart fruit or green salad.

COLD CHICKEN or turkey salad taste much better if a bit of chutney is blended with the mayonnaise.

A level teaspoon of curry powder added to 1/2 cup of mayonnaise is an excellent pep-up idea for fish salads.

ADDING CHILI SAUCE or catsup to mayonnaise will add tartness to lettuce, tomato, crabmeat or shrimp salad.

Pleasing color and unusual flavor is added to mayonnaise if it is colored with some chopped maraschino cherries and their juice. Serve this with any fresh fruit or molded fruit salad.

Children particularly like a mayonnaise dressing if you add one mashed, ripe banana along with 3 tablespoons of peanut butter to 1/2 cup of mayonnaise.

MAYONNAISE is also enhanced by cream. Use equal parts of the dressing with sour cream for vegetable or meat salads; or, whipped cream with mayonnaise for all fruit salads.

If you like really sharp French dressing add a dash of tabasco sauce or horseradish to it for green salads.

Add extra onion juice to French dressing for vegetable salads when serving a heavy dinner to increase palatability.

FRUIT JUICES added either to mayonnaise or French dressing give them a provocative flavor.

French dressing like mayonnaise may also be curried when it is served with meat salads. Add 1/2 teaspoon of curry powder and 1 teaspoon of onion juice to each cup of the dressing.

LOOK THIS WAY by JAMES E. FISK A Short-Short-Story

JOE's model "A" ford bounced toward the Jennings place with cockeyed dignity. Joe and his model "A" were a lot alike. Both had a dogged determination, and both were on their last legs—the model "A" because it was so old, and Joe because he hadn't harvested a decent crop of pecans since he left the Army Air Corps.

It was in Joe's mind to tell Midge Jennings exactly what he thought of her. Well, not exactly what he thought of her either, because Joe loved her, and he was certain he wasn't going to tell her that.

He'd gotten a sweet little letter from Midge's lawyer that morning. "Would it be convenient for him to come in and discuss the damage done to Midge's cotton crop at the earliest possible date," the letter had said. You bet your life he could, Joe thought. And he was going even further than that. He was going to tell Midge plain out that when he'd made it rain he had no intention of ruining her cotton crop. How could he have known the wind would come up. And anyhow the department of agriculture had told him how to do it, and he'd done it just that way.

Joe smiled when he thought how simple it had been. All he'd done was borrow a friend's plane, fly over his farm and shovel out dry ice. It worked, and how it worked! The only hitch was that it hadn't rained on Joe's place. The wind had done it, and that was the one thing he hadn't counted on.

The model "A" seemed a little tired as it came to a steaming stop in front of the Jennings farm. You could tell the place needed a man around. The front gate sagged, and a good many shingles had blown off the front porch. But Midge had done well with the place since her dad died. She didn't have any debts as most of the local farmers did. That is, right now she didn't, but with her cotton crop ruined she'd have to borrow to get new seed, and the time element had to be considered. She'd be late, and that was bad for cotton, and bad for the price, too.

Joe's knock was too soft for a man his size, but it didn't take Midge long to open the door. When she did, she just stood there distainfully searching all of Joe's six feet four inches.

with almost anybody. And she was pretty; almost too pretty.

"You might as well come in," Midge said in a somewhat more peaceable tone.

Joe felt better after that. He felt a lot better. But he couldn't think of anything to help the situation. He was broke, and he'd stay that way unless he got some water on those pecans. He was wondering why Midge had seen her lawyer before she'd talked to him. That wasn't like her at all.

"Here," Midge said, handing him a cup of coffee. "Now, Mr. Rain-maker, just what do you propose to do about my crop—my ruined crop, I might add?"

"Nothing I can do, Midge," Joe said without looking up. "You going to sue me?"

"I certainly am."

"Won't do you any good," Joe said seriously. "I haven't any more money than you have."

"Perkins says I can collect every dime I've lost."

"Still say you can't get blood out of a turnip," Joe said almost triumphantly.

"Maybe not, but I'll make you wish you'd never heard of home-made rain," said Midge.

"Couldn't make it stick," Joe said.

"That's an act of God, and first you'd have to prove that I made it rain. You couldn't do it, even the Department of Agriculture says there's nothing certain about the results of their experiments."

Midge kept insisting that it didn't matter whether she could prove anything or not, but Joe didn't hear her. He was looking directly at her, and yet rather than seeing a girl that was trying to convince him that she had been done an injustice, he saw something he wanted. He hadn't realized how much he'd needed her until now, and, as a matter of fact, this was the first time he'd had the courage to even think about it in her presence. Maybe, Joe thought, just maybe she might not be as mad as she pretended. This could be a good time to ask her. It was obvious that she needed him. And he needed her. Fried eggs were getting awfully hard to take.

"Midge," said Joe simply. "You didn't hear a word I said," she said sharply. "What do you want?"

"I was wondering, . . . uh, that is, I thought maybe you might . . ."

Joe was having a terrible time. There were too many "maybes" in his mind. "Well, uh, Midge, I . . . aw, the deuce with it. Midge, I love you, and always have. We could do a lot together, a lot more than fight about artificial rain. What I'm trying to say is, well, Midge, will you marry me?"

Midge didn't say a word. She simply got up, walked over to his chair, sat on his lap and snuggled up close.

"Look, Chief Rain-on-Cotton, if you weren't such a big dope you'd have asked me months ago. Certainly I'll marry you."

"You will—when?" Joe asked hurriedly.

"Just as soon as you can get that jalopy of yours into town," she grinned.

That was too much for Joe. He just held her tightly and said nothing.

Midge was looking over his shoulder into the mirror over the fireplace. She winked slyly at her own image and said to herself, "You're not so dumb, Miss Jennings, but you'll have a nice time convincing your grandchildren that you got your man through a fake lawsuit."

Then Joe pulled her down so he could kiss her. You knew they loved each other from the look in their eyes, and you knew they wouldn't have any more trouble over rain, or much of anything else for that matter. A slight, dainty rattle settled over the old house. Joe and Midge looked at each other and laughed. It was rain, real honest-to-goodness rain.

It didn't take Midge long to open the door. When she did, she just stood there distainfully searching all of Joe's six feet four inches.

Successful Parenthood

BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

Child's Time Sense Is Slow to Develop

IN our opinion, no conversations are quite so fascinating as the scraps overheard when children argue among themselves. We remember hearing, many years ago, two small boys who were loudly defending their respective fathers' rights to the position of greatest man in the world. The qualities which impressed them were all interesting, but one item which clinched the argument was this: "Well, my father can drive a car five miles an hour." To that, the other had no ready answer and so there was no further boasting.

Educators tell us that a sense of time is slow to develop, so it is no wonder that five to a youngster could appear just as great as sixty-five. This lack of time sense is often confusing to parents. Mother calls to Jimmy, "When are you going to bed?" and Jimmy answers nonchalantly, "Oh, next summer." However, this does not mean that children are unaware of time until they can count it. Long before then, they know that certain events follow in order—getting up, breakfast, play, mother says "Come in for a glass of milk, Jimmy," then play again and then big brother gets home from school.

By the time Jimmy himself starts off to kindergarten, he has learned other facts. First, he will learn that when the hands of the clock reach a certain point, the bell rings, school is out and he can dash home. Second, he will learn that on certain days there is no school.

Little by little he appreciates the changes in seasons, and begins to look forward to holidays. Perhaps one reason why all children love Thanksgiving is that one of the first historical facts they grasp is that other people, called Pilgrims, lived long ago and celebrated the feast. There is wonder in learning that there is a past as well as a present and future even if they do get all mixed up in your mind. In fact, even third-graders aren't too sure of their senses.

There are three other points of information regarding time that the third-grader has yet to master, and it will be comforting to parents whose children cannot tell time to know that few youngsters that age can read the clock. Neither can they tell with accuracy which day of the month it is. But the hardest thing to learn about time seems to be naming the months of the year in correct order. After four years of school less than one-fourth of the children questioned could do this.

We give you these facts about a child's time sense, facts supplied by a psychologist, merely as a gauge to your child's development in this respect. There is no need to force this learning as time seems to teach its own lessons eventually.

VETERANS' QUESTION BOX

Ed. Note: This newspaper has arranged with the Washington Bureau of National Weekly Newspaper Service, 1616 Eye St. N. W., Washington 6, D. C., to answer questions pertaining to servicemen and veterans. These questions will be answered in this column if addressed as above. No replies can be made by mail, but this paper will print answers to all questions received.

Q. I was discharged a corporal. After three months I re-enlisted for 18 months. I had to enter as a private because I didn't take the three years. I made the grade of PFC and never have been busted. If I go back in for three years can I enter as a corporal?—R. D. Hickory, N. C.

A. The Department of the Army says no, because the time when you could have re-enlisted as a corporal has expired. However there is legislation before congress which will change all grades and which is intended to insure at least a corporal's rating to all experienced men after basic training.

Q. I was not a member of the Army nurse corps but served as a dietitian in an army general hospital in the medical department of the army for three years during the war. I am wondering if I am entitled to privileges of veterans of the nursing corps or other women such as the WACS or WAVES.—Mrs. O. F. B. Pendleton, Ore.

A. Veterans' administration says that female dietitians, physical therapy personnel and technical and professional female personnel in the medical department of the army and their dependents have the same entitlement to benefits administered by the VA as members of the Women's army corps and their dependents.

Q. I am a veteran of World War II and have been confined in a veterans' administration hospital for the past year. My estranged wife applied for an apportionment of my compensation. I was sick and didn't care much so didn't put up any objection to her obtaining it and so it was granted by VA. Now my friends write that she doesn't need it and is spending the money on clothes and in taverns. What I would like to know is, is there any way I can get the apportionment annulled or cancelled?—O. O. R., Denver, Colo.

A. Our suggestion is to take the matter up with your contact representative at your hospital and discuss the matter with him. You can always appeal such an apportionment or apply for relief by means of a special apportionment to be adjudicated on the basis of hardship and fully explaining your reasons for objection.

Q. I made application for a disability rating and was given a 20 per cent disability. I have received my first check for this disability. I am not satisfied with the rating and think it should be increased. What I would like to know is, if I accept the check for the 20 per cent rating will it be taken as an indication that I am satisfied or bar me from asking for more disability?—W. T. R., Memphis, Tenn.

A. Veterans' administration says that acceptance of a check by a veteran has no significance whatever as to waiving any rights he may have in claiming greater compensation or pension than that which has been awarded him.

Answer to Last Week's Puzzle

Mrs. Clara Richard of Meridian, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Myers and baby of Fort Worth, and Rev. Blair were guests of Mrs. Sally French Sunday. Mrs. Ida Helm and daughter of Cranfills Gap called in the afternoon.

HISTORY OF A CAT

By Stella Jones

In the summer last year I noticed a little kitten in town, was sick and very weak and could scarcely move (the cat, that is). I would talk to it, but the poor little sick thing just barely could meow. One day I noticed that it was gone. I went to Mrs. Echols' who lives across the street from us, and told her about the kitten. It was black with some white on him. I just supposed it had crawled off and died after someone had put it out to starve.

Mrs. Echols said, "It is out here in the back yard." She fed it things that were good for cats, and it wasn't long until he got to mending. He fattened up and got to be such a beautiful cat—and very playful.

I am a lover of cats and dogs. I would go there and pet him so much he would look for me to come. He knew me from anyone else and loved me, and I loved him.

But alas! One night the past week he was out in the street and was hit by a car and killed. I was very sorry when Mayme told me that "Negro" had been killed. He is gone, but I haven't forgotten him. I sure miss him.

A good many cats have found a good home with Mrs. Echols, for she feeds them. Some stray off and get sick and die.

This was a common cat, but he was pretty and very helpful all the time and I loved him very much. But like you and I will do some day, he came to . . .

THE END.

ANOTHER REASON WHY Cooking's going Electric

If you still cling to the old-fashioned idea that electric cooking is slow — prepare to revise your thinking.

New 1948 model electric ranges are fast — really fast. New high-speed surface units start foods cooking in a matter of seconds. Ovens reach baking temperatures with amazing speed. Broiling starts almost instantly.

Ask for a demonstration of today's fastest, more efficient electric ranges. It costs less than you think to cook the modern way — electrically!

Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We have had some real spring weather the past few days. Farmers are very busy planting maize and other row crops. Grain is looking fine.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Pauline Duncan Driver, who passed away in the Hico Hospital Sunday night from injuries received in a car wreck on the Stephenville highway Saturday night. She was a resident of this place at one time. We extend deepest sympathy to those bereaved.

We have been informed by a member of the cemetery committee that lawn fencing has been purchased for the remaining two sides of the cemetery, which will probably be disappointing news to some who wanted a rock fence.

Well, we too are disappointed, but since many had not made any donation and something had to be done at once—as the old fence was falling down, and only a little over $400.00 was on hand to start the project, which would have cost three or four times this amount. The writer is a strong believer in the saying, "Where there's a will there's a way" and feels that we could have put this over if we had got behind the project one hundred per cent. But when the new fence has been erected, all will look much nicer and we hope that all will help in every way possible to keep our

IT'S ONLY HUMAN NATURE

TO THINK THAT THE OTHER FELLOW HAS A BETTER RACKET, AND A SOFTER WAY OF MAKING A LIVING THAN YOU HAVE

— UNLESS you have heard about the prize-winning hen that worked hard all the time, laying more eggs than any other hen, yet earning only about five cents per day. She became somewhat discouraged when she heard that bricklayers were getting $10 per day, and decided that she was in the wrong racket... until she tried laying brick.

Which just goes to show that on a path strewn with roses you might occasionally step on a thorn. And if you sometimes think you take a beating on your eggs, just remember that the same thing happens to your local egg buyer. But we are still in the market and hoping to make enough off of you to pay the rent.

If you are looking for a good place to sell your eggs, cream and poultry — we wouldn't attempt to tell you how to run your business along that line.

Autrey Family Holds Get-Together Here

Mrs. J. W. Autrey entertained Monday and Monday night at her home for all of Mr. Autrey's living brothers and sisters.

Those present were Lee Autrey and wife and Mrs. Mary E. Horton of Hico, Mrs. Annie Farrow and W. C. Autrey, Dallas, and Mrs. Josie Hancock of Clifton.

IN MEMORY OF Y. G. STANLEY

Who passed away April 15, 1934.

Deep in my heart lies a picture of a loved one gone to rest; In memory's home I shall keep it because he was one of the best. As I loved so I miss him in my heart he was always near. Loved, long remembered for, always bring a silent tear. Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.

The world's weary trials and troubles are past. In silence he suffered, in patience he bore. Till God called him home to suffer no more.

DELLA STANLEY MILLER (47-11c)

Carl Moss and family of Fort Worth, accompanied by Carl's sister, Madge Moss, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moss.

Although priority claimants submitted purchase offers on all buildings for offsite use during a recent sale at Laughlin Air Field near Del Rio, these claims were allowed on only 144 buildings of the total offering. A public sale scheduled at the site was cancelled due to the belief no buildings would be left for non-priority buyers. But, following the awards to priorities including 87 school districts, there were 310 buildings remaining to be sold. So War Assets Administration will hold a location sale at Laughlin Field on these buildings April 14 and 15, open to all buyers on an equal, informal bid basis. The inspection period for this sale will run from April 1 through April 13.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our many friends and neighbors for the kind deeds and words of sympathy rendered in our recent sorrow. May God's richest blessings abide with each of you.

MR. & MRS. H. G. DRIVER AND FAMILY.

Part of the Oklahoma Ordnance Works at Choctaw will go into peacetime production as the result of action by War Assets Administration this week. The ordnance plant's power unit and water system was sold to the Grand River Dam Authority of the State of Oklahoma for $2,500,000. These facilities will be connected with an electric power system supplying electrical energy to four states. Transfer of title was made at the national capital between Jess Larson, WAA head, and Gov. Roy Turner of Oklahoma.

As the larger war surplus installations are cleared of consumer goods in the current series of War Assets location sales, additional smaller locations in North Texas and other places in the Southwest will be the scenes of emergency clearance sales. The WAA advises that due to the large number of these small sites and the small amount of property, only limited advance notification of these sales will be possible. It urges prospective buyers to watch local papers for such announcements.

Cities and towns with airports a-building will have an opportunity to acquire some airport buildings and equipment ready-made at Camp Swift, near Bastrop. The WAA has various airport buildings and equipment for removal and use off-site for public airport purposes. The cut-off date on proposals from priority groups will be April 16. Details are available by contacting the Grand Prairie office of real property disposal, Box 6030, Dallas.
