HICO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1948

NUMBER 14

Higher Renditions, Along With August Heat, Raise Taxpayers' Temperatures

Tax Equalization Aim of Council In Current Program

Big cities of Texas are not alone in their taxation problems, judging from the reaction of Hico property owners to cards mailed out in the past few days citing them to appear before the equalization board next week and show cause why their renditions should not be raised or lowered. (No one falling in the latter category has been heard from.)

No official announcement has been released by the Mayor or City Council, but inquiry at City Hall developed information that the Council had met in special session on Monday, August 9, and worked out a program for increasing rendered valuations on real estate in the business district and, in some instances, in the residence section.

Mrs. J. R. McMillan, city secretary, said that at the same meeting an equalization board was appointed consisting of George Jones, Frank Fallis, and Mrs. J. E. Slaughter. She had not been advised whether they had agreed or declined to serve. The equalization board must get its work done up, she said, to allow for making out tax statements beginning shortly after September 1.

A member of the council, answering an interrogation from one taxpayer, said that the intention of the council was to equalize rendered valuations on real estate in the business section and in certain cases where they were too low in the residence section.

Another notice went out Thursday to property owners in four blocks of the business section advising that the City Council will meet in called session Friday, August 20, at 8:00 p. m. "As a property owner in Block 8, you are respectfully invited to attend," read the notice addressed to the News Review editor.

Meanwhile, taxes were the main topic of discussion along the street, and practically everywhere two citizens got together. Some realized the necessity of equalized valuations, while others were protesting that the suggested raise was too radical.

To say the least, there ought to be something to talk about in Hico besides the weather for the next few days.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

Veterans planning to get under the wire in buying surplus property before end of the War Assets Administration priority system August 31 will benefit from attending new sales planned for Aug. Latest Texas sale announced by the regional office will involve 8 lots of materials at two San Antonio locations. Items offered will include flying glasses, infra red lamps, and some very used office equipment, an air compressor, magnaflex machine and photographic equipment. Inspection may be made at Kelly Field and Fort Sam Houston Thursday, August 26. The sale by bidding will be held at WAA warehouse 610 S. Flores St., San Antonio, on August 27.

Surplus housing is again available to Texans at both sealed bid and on the spot War Assets sales of camp buildings. Biggest offering will be approximately 2,000 structures to be marketed at the Camp Shelby, Mississippi, location August 24, 25 and 26. It will be an auction type, cash and carry procedure. Another non priority offering includes a dental clinic, barracks, mess halls, administration and other structures making up a total of 16 at Amarillo and Childress Air Fields. Bids are invited on special forms which may be secured from the Grand Prairie office of real property disposal. Deadline for this sale will be Sept. 2.

World War 2 veterans are again reminded of their opportunity to purchase 17 government vehicles by submitting written bids at the WAA office August 29. Several of the machines are at the Temple VA hospital with others near Dumas, Midland, El Paso and McGregor. Bids must be accompanied by a 25 per cent deposit. The awards will be made at the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie office beginning at 10 a. m. August 29.

An unexpected withdrawal of about $900,000 worth of surplus hand tools at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, brought about cancellation of a War Assets sale there planned for August 29. The tools were claimed by Army Ordnance for national defense needs. Meanwhile, sufficient utility facilities for a Texas town were going on sale at this camp. The utilities include water, telephone, gas and electrical systems. The period for priorities will expire August 27, following which remaining materials will be offered on a non-priority basis.

The War Assets Administration's southwest region will undergo another contraction August 31. One result will be the closing of WAA offices at both San Antonio and Houston which have been in continuous operation since '44. Staffs at both cities have declined from upwards of 750 to skeleton forces, matching the dwindling of available surplus property in the areas. The newest contraction is another step in the agency's march toward liquidation by February 28. A Customer Service Center will continue to be maintained at Grand Prairie for the state of Texas.

Two tracts of land at surplus installation in Texas are available for acquisition by priority claimants. Slightly more than 386 acres located at Palacios Army Air Field on the Gulf Coast are to be disposed of by War Assets Administration to federal agencies, state and local governments, or non-profit institutions. Cut-off date for application has been set by the regional office as August 26. A small arms firing range located at Fort Bliss near El Paso is also being offered. Included are 1984 acres and one building. Priorities on this disposal will expire August 24.

Hospital Bond Petition Presented Monday to Commissioners Court

County Judge Eugene Tate said in a telephone conversation with the News Review editor Thursday that the Commissioners Court at Hamilton had met in special session last Monday and heard petitioners for a $200,000 bond issue for the purpose of constructing a county hospital.

Tate said that upon initial inspection the petition appeared to be signed by the necessary number of qualified voters, around 500 of them, and prospects were that it would be mandatory upon the court that an election be called at some date in the near future, as yet undetermined.

A representative of a bond company, prospective buyers of the bonds if and when issued, is working up details of the proposition, and formal orders are being prepared to be presented at another called session of the court next Monday, August 23.

At Hico and other points outside the county seat, discussion still indicates that the proposal is very unpopular, and that taxpayers of the county as a whole will oppose the plan to raise their taxes for the purpose of building an institution to serve the town of Hamilton, especially since they have put up their own money to build a hospital at Hico and operate it without benefit of tax funds or endowment of any kind from the public not directly served by it.

Infant Mortality Rates At Lowest Level In History

Austin, Texas, August 16.—Infant mortality rates in Texas are at their lowest level in the history of the state, according to figures released by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department. Infant mortality has reached a low of 41.2 deaths for every 1000 live births.

Compared to the figures for 1940, this represents a reduction of more than 39 per cent. In that year, there were 197,023 live births and 8,585 deaths. But despite these gains, Texas still has the sixth highest infant mortality rate in the United States, with forty-two states reporting lower rates.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, attributes the reduction to the increase in public response to the education efforts of the Texas State Department of Health. "We have reason for pride in our reduced infant and maternal mortality when it is realized that the reduction means in excess of 5000 babies are being saved annually which would have otherwise died," Dr. Cox said. "In addition, the birth rate is higher than the 1940 figure by more than 71,000."

The comparison between the live births figures for 1940 and 1947, shows white births up 22,707, Latin American births up 7,186, and Negro births up 3,297.

The report also shows maternal mortality has been reduced over 65 per cent. In 1940, the rate was 4.6 for every 1000 live births as compared to 1.6 for 1947.

Workers whose social security cards have been lost or destroyed may get duplicate cards bearing the number they have always used at any office of the Social Security Administration.

Veterans' News

A limited number of internships in Veterans Administration hospitals will be offered qualified medical graduates. VA announced this week.

The internships will be limited to the 75 VA hospitals now offering residency training programs in cooperation with 59 Class "A" medical schools over the country. They will be further limited to those hospitals which have bachelor quarters available on the station grounds. A survey is in progress to determine what housing is available.

Southwestern VA hospitals where internships are available are at McKinney, Dallas and Waco, Texas, New Orleans and Gulfport, Mississippi. Negotiations are in progress between VA and Deans' Committees of Medical Schools for similar internships at Temple and Legion, Texas, Jackson and Biloxi, Mississippi.

Two types of internships will be available:

(1) "Straight," for surgery, general medicine and other "straight" subjects, and

(2) "Rotating," in which interns study, under a rotating schedule, surgery, general medicine and other related subjects. Arrangements will be made for affiliated training in other than VA hospitals for obstetrics and pediatrics. Such affiliated training may not involve more than 20 percent of a year. The hospital at which such affiliated training is secured must be approved for internships by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association.

Final Tribute to Memory of Lon Ross Paid Here Thursday

Lon Ross, a native of Corrigan, Texas, who had spent his entire life here, passed away Tuesday, August 17, after an illness which had gradually sapped his strength for the past few years. News of his death came as a shock to his host of friends, who were so accustomed to seeing him almost daily that they could hardly believe his existence in this world was ended.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Barrow-Rutledge Funeral Chapel, conducted by Rev. J. L. Ray, local Methodist minister. Burial was in Hico Cemetery.

pallbearers were H. F. Sellers, F. M. Mings, Roy French, J. B. Ogil, T. A. Randalls, Lee Rainwater, H. N. Wolfe, and John Rusk.

Alonso Thomas Ross was born March 29, 1889, to the late Wm. Ross and Mrs. Ross. He was married to Miss Ruth Golden, and to them were born five children, one of whom passed away in infancy. He is survived by his wife, four daughters, Mrs. H. J. Perkins of Fort Worth, Mrs. C. H. Rierson, Mrs. T. N. Wilhelm, and Mrs. R. E. Donnell of Dallas; and three grandchildren.

His mother, Mrs. Wm. Ross, also survives, with two brothers, Watt of Hico and Scott of Shreveport, La., and two sisters, Mrs. P. A. Martin of Rotan and Mrs. Floyd Blakley of Sparks, Nevada. He was preceded in death by his father, one brother, and two sisters.

All of the daughters were present for the funeral, as well as a host of other relatives from out of town who joined local people in mourning the passing of a man who was loved and respected by all who knew him. He was a calm, unassuming business man whose integrity encouraged successful and satisfactory relations. He was a kind husband and father, providing well for his family and taking a special interest in his home. He was a loyal friend in whom many placed their trust and whose association was enjoyed to the utmost, on any occasion. He will be sorely missed from his accustomed place in Hico where he had conducted a jewelry and watch repair shop for many years.

Among the out-of-town relatives besides the daughters and their families here for the services were: E. E. Ross and son, Billie, Shreveport, La.; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Martin and son, J. D., Rotan; Mrs. Jack Moffett and two children and Moody Ross and Lyle Golden, all of Dallas; Mrs. Victor Schulze and daughter, San Angelo; Mrs. R. H. Peck and children, Richard and Jane, Galveston; and Wayne Gray, Mrs. Mellie Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Chittum, all of Fort Worth.

In the past 30 years, the number of allotments Navy personnel have asked the Navy to pay out of their salaries has increased from 44,541 to 802,270. In the peak period during the war, in December, 1944, a total of 5,924,000 allotments were being paid monthly by the Navy.

Showdown With Russia Urged In Address by Congressman Burleson

Congressman Omar Burleson delivered the principal address at the dedication of the new American Legion hall and the observance of the Page County Veterans Homecoming Day at Luray, Virginia, August 12th, at the invitation of the Luray American Legion Post.

A crowd estimated at between eight and nine thousand persons attended the ceremonies, which included a parade of the veteran units from Page and adjoining counties and units of the armed services, while units of the Air Force, including the latest Jet fighters, performed overhead.

With Congressman Burleson on the speaker's platform was Scott W. Donaldson, Special Assistant to the Secretary of Air, Admiral Morton C. Muma, head of Submarine activities in the Pacific in World War 2, and Congressman Burr F. Harrison of Virginia.

In his dedicatory address Congressman Burleson declared the United States must make its position clear as regards Russia. He stated in part, "We must let the Russians know what our policy and course will be and not retreat from our stand. We do not want war, but we will invite it if we fail to remain strong or show hesitancy in our dealings with those who would be our enemies."

Congressman Burleson has been invited to address the Virginia House of Delegates, and veteran groups in Pennsylvania and Ohio, but has not yet been able to accept due to the uncertainty of his future plans.

there are taxes in your talk

The United States Government takes its toll on all telephone service today. Federal tax on local service is 15 percent. On long distance service where the charge is 25c or over, the tax is 25 percent. Other forms of telephone service are taxed from 8 percent to 25 percent.

This tax is imposed directly upon you as a telephone user. Your telephone company has the added expense of acting as tax collector.

Just about everyone would agree that telephone service is a necessity. Yet the 25 percent tax on long distance and other telephone services is higher than the 20 percent rate for luxuries such as furs, jewelry and perfumes.

Telephone users everywhere have been expressing their views on this high excise tax to their Senators and Representatives in Congress. Their views will help to guide future Congressional action on the repeal of this most annual peacetime tax on a necessity. We are certain that your Congressmen would appreciate your views as a taxpayer and citizen on this telephone tax.

W. A. SON SHOFNER

For State Senator

WITH THOSE WHO KNOW THE CANDIDATES BEST,

IT'S SHOFNER THREE TO ONE!

The run-off candidates for State Senator for this district both live in Ward One, Temple. In the first primary Shofner received 659 votes in Ward One to his opponents' 230. In the City of Temple, Shofner led his hometown, run-off opponent by more than 2 1/2 to one! He carried Bell County over his run-off opponent, who also lives in Bell County, by more than two to one. Shofner also carried all five counties in this district over his run-off opponent, and only lacked 40 votes out of 26,000 receiving a majority over BOTH his first primary opponents.

Yes, With Those Who Know Them Best, IT'S SHOFNER OVERWHELMINGLY! Surely those who know the two candidates best and know their respective merits and qualifications are in best position to judge them. Their choice is Shofner by a very wide margin. We need no better recommendation. Let's all GO OUT AND VOTE again, and give Shofner his well deserved victory.

REMEMBER TOO, SHOFNER IS OPPOSED TO A SALES TAX!

Duffau

By Elmer Glesocks

We are still having that hot, dry weather with no prospect of rain at this time. We are glad to report that health is exceptionally good.

School will commence here Sept. 6 with a normal attendance.

Truett Walker, who is a bus driver for the Alexander school, and H. L. Cranfill, one of the faculty of that school, were in our community on school business Monday.

There was considerable visiting in this vicinity Sunday to mention a few: Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Shields and daughter of the Fairy community and G. C. Shields and wife and daughter visited the writer and wife Sunday.

Those visiting in the Stanley Roach home Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Leann Martin of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Martin of Iredell; Mr. and Mrs. Judd Hadler of Morgan Mills; Mitchell Hadler and daughter of Cleburne; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Spear and children; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Martin and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lackey all of Stephenville.

They put the big pot in the little one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cavitt Sunday. The occasion was a birthday dinner given for E. M. Cavitt, Mrs. Lucy Bowie, and Jimmie Witt. What a feed! The following were there to enjoy the dinner: Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cavitt and sons, Artie Van and Jean Arthur; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Magee; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Herod and daughters Jimmie and Sherry; Bob Wagner and wife and Joe and Shelah; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bowie, all of Duffau; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Witt and Sylvia and Betty; Mrs. T. W. Mayfield, Troy, Ronnie, Patsy and Ruth of Stephenville; Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Cavitt of Granbury; Mrs. Johnnie Humphries and Barbara and Mrs. P. T. Laswell and Mrs. Willard Hutson and Jo Ellen of Iredell; Mrs. Beulah Cavitt, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hodges and Aubry Smith of Menard; Also Mr. and Mrs. Crinty Roberson and sons, Billy Joe and James Roy of Duffau. Pictures were taken and some attended the baseball game played by Duffau and Clairette. The boys said, "Don't put it in the paper about the ball game as Clairette poured it on us." So we will keep mum about the game.

Texas Must Prepare For Huge Attendance School Official Says

Austin, Texas, August 17—Texas must adequately prepare for 150 thousand more children in its schools in the next decade or less, or its educational standards.

Charles H. Tennyson, director of public relations for the Texas State Teachers Association, sound ed that warning here today.

The huge increase in the birth rate during the last few years will add to the enrollment in Texas schools by nearly 82,000 pupils four years from now and by 152 thousand in 1957, Tennyson said.

The vastly accelerated birth rate throughout the United States since 1941 has cheered business men, but it is causing great concern among educators," the TSTA official declared.

"Texas is no exception. From figures on the annual birth rate provided by the United States Bureau of Vital Statistics, we know that birth increased 1,549,601 throughout the United States from 2,260,396 in 1940 to 3,910,000 in 1947.

"Enrollment started increasing throughout the country last year. In Texas it was up more than 7 thousand pupils. The State Department of Education this week estimated an additional 8,000 students would enroll this fall.

"That is just the beginning. Enrollment will snowball from then on. The situation will become acute in 1953. An accurate estimate places the hike in enrollment in Texas that year at 81,568 pupils. Nine years from now we will have 152,004 additional students in our schools, or a total of 1,660,004."

Federal and state bureau and insurance company statistics show that nearly 80 per cent of the children born each year reach school age. Those experience figures make accurate estimates of future enrollment possible, Tennyson explained.

"An increase of 80,000 pupils in the short time of four years and 150,000 in nine years does not seem so tremendous until it is realized that we will need 2,719 more teachers by 1952 and 5,966 more classroom instructors by 1957," Tennyson declared.

"It stands to reason we will have to have that many more classrooms."

"Leaders in school districts and state government should take careful note. The situation calls for planning along practical lines in order that adequate provisions be made for education of these children."

"That is particularly necessary in more than half of the Texas schools in which children are already over-crowded.

"It will call for expenditures of large sums of money. If each of the 5,966 additional teachers was paid only the present minimum salary of $2,000 annually that would increase expenditures by $10,132,000.

"No one can hazard a guess as to how much additional money must be spent on classrooms and equipment."

A recent survey disclosed that about 50 per cent of students in Texas schools are in over-crowded classes. Educators agree that pupils cannot be given adequate instruction when there are more than 30 or 32 pupils in a class.

Some Texas cities have already recognized the impending situation. A recent survey made by Fort Worth school officials disclosed that by 1953 the district will need 327 more teachers and 3 additional classrooms, according to B. C. Shulkey, assistant superintendent.

Child Labor Found Employed In Many Texas Plants Inspected
 Dallas, August 16—Employment of under age minors, with its attending dangers and perils, is still prevalent in North Texas, according to Lawson A. Wood, who represents the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division, U. S. Department of Labor, in this section of the State.

Wood said the fiscal year report shows violation of the child labor sections of the Fair Labor Standard Act (Federal wage and hour law) and the Walsh-Healey (public contracts) Act were uncovered in more than 4 percent of the plants inspected in this state during the year ending July 1.

"A total of 1204 covered establishments were inspected in all parts of Texas during that period, and child labor violations were found in 51," he said at his headquarters, 1114 Commerce street.

"The wage and hour law prohibits the employment of children under 16 years old in manufacturing or processing occupations, or in workrooms where manufacturing or processing is being carried on. It also bans employment of children under 18 years old in occupations declared to be dangerous or hazardous. The Walsh-Healey Act, which applies to firms supplying goods or materials to the government on contracts exceeding $10,000, prohibits a boy under 16 or a girl under 18 years old from working on such contract goods."

"Department reports show many children have been injured, permanently crippled or killed working around machinery or in rooms where machinery is being operated. Among the occupations held to be hazardous for children under 18 years old are: Driver or helper on motor vehicles, logging and saw milling, coal mining, operating power-driven woodworking machinery and operating power-driven hoisting apparatus, including elevators."

Successful Parenthood
 BY
MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
 Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

IT ISN'T SO EASY for a girl to overcome the childhood blight of a mother's unspoken judgment. "You're not the type daughter I really wanted." For, despite honest efforts to hide their disappointment, too many mothers give it away in the lengths to which they go to make the girl over. Either that, or they show complete disinterest in how the child looks.

We advocate the middle of the road in this matter of improving on a daughter's looks. By that we mean, all the ardor and zeal you can muster for the task, but directed toward making the most of the girl's own particular type rather than in an attempt to pattern her on a set model. For many a girl never realizes a lot of attractiveness until she is grown and discovers her own type, usually after floundering through imitations of everyone from her best friend to a favorite movie star. Granted that during her early years she may be no more willing to accept her own type than her mother is for her. But dissatisfaction with one-self is one thing and a not very serious psychological hazard, while feeling that one's parents aren't pleased with one is something else and often creates lifelong personality ills.

So, begin by studying your child's possibilities and then accept them for what they are. Then, find out what manner of wearing the hair, what colors next to the skin will bring out the child's good points. Help her to achieve grace and good posture, a pleasing voice and considerate manners, all of which are usually acquired attributes and the teaching of them no more a reflection on a person's natural endowments than being taught to read.

As for actual attention to a child's looks, that should be centered on early instruction in the details of grooming without which the most radiant natural beauty is discounted today. But throughout all these years of training, casually but with conviction, show a child your pleasure in the appearance she is capable of making.

Have you bought clothes that were correct by all the rules of fashion and suitability for your type, and yet after wearing them a few times they seemed to lose their rightness? This frequently happens to those who are so little aware of their own possibilities that they live up to them only under the excitement of shopping or flattery.

Another asset you can build up in your daughter's early years is speed and skill in performing beauty routines. Most of the complaints about not having time for personal care come from those who start with the notion that it takes hours to accomplish. Complete special-occasion glamour, according to today's college girls, can be achieved in fifty minutes, and good everyday grooming, including hair, hair and teeth brushing, deodorant, nails, make-up and special skin cleansing can be done in an hour divided into morning, before-dinner and bedtime sessions. These techniques, along with good health habits, are most easily learned in childhood. But they can't be learned without instruction and without proper tools—good brushes, pure soap and cosmetics, and a full-length mirror for judging the hang of her clothes.

I wonder if another one can say the same. I lived in Hico for 45 years and used to know everyone's walk as far as I could see them, but times have changed. When I was there in the Spring there were as many I didn't know as there were ones I did. There are so many dear ones who have passed away—makes us feel sad. I read the Hico paper every week and enjoy every bit of it. I am getting used to Big Spring now and like the people very much, especially the East Fourth Street people where we go to church. I will be glad of every chance to visit Hico again for it is still home to me and will always be. Love and best wishes to all."

The ceremony was read by Rev. James L. Braswell before an altar of gladioli and fern. Mrs. DeWitt Jones of Fort Worth was matron of honor and Mr. Jones served as best man.

At the reception held immediately after the ceremony, Mrs. Emmett Smart of Hico, sister-in-law of the bride, served the three-tiered wedding cake. The miniature bride and groom which graced the cake were the ones used on the cake at the golden wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Mrs. DeWitt Jones presided at the punch bowl.

Other guests who attended the wedding were Miss Dorothy Garrett, Fort Worth; Ruby Arnold, Iredell; Harrison Smart, Bluff Dale; Emmett Smart, Hico; Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Collins, Stephenville, and Mrs. John G. Jackson of Leona.

After a trip to San Antonio and Monterey, Mexico, the couple will make their home in Fort Worth. CONTRIBUTED.

Granddaughter of McCarty's Makes Progress in Music

Mrs. D. F. McCarty was in Hillsboro last week to visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Clark, and attend the recital described below.

Miss Jane Ann Clark, 922 Park Drive, Hillsboro, Texas, gave her first solo recital at her home at 8 p. m. Friday, August 13. Jane Ann, who is a pupil of Karl F. Leifheit of Baylor University, is only 13 years old and has been studying piano for the past five years.

Her program was a varied and interesting one, containing classical, romantic and modern works by great masters. Jane Ann displayed a clear technique and a wide range of dynamics. She had a thorough understanding of her material and played with much ease and finesse. She showed complete control of her tone and had the poise of a young artist.

Hillsboro can indeed be very proud of this young pianist and can expect to hear great things of her in years to come.

Jane Ann had received much publicity concerning her recital due to the fact that she was playing on Friday the 13th, at the age of 13, and she played 12 numbers.

Mrs. D. F. McCarty left Thursday for a visit in Abilene with her children, Mrs. Frank Hobbs and family and D. F. McCarty Jr. and family of Abilene, and Mrs. Chas. Clark and family of Hillsboro, who are also visiting in Abilene.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufe C. Christian Sr. of near Clairette. He attended the Clairette and Alexander schools.

The couple will make their home near Hico.

UP IN THE AIR

A Short-Short Story
by Lillian E. Andrews

THE newest skyscraper was going up just across the alley from the window of the big office building where Mary Bronson sat at her typewriter. Just now the skyscraper looked like a huge bird cage but soon it would be a big hotel, glowing with lights at dusk and filled with guests.

"How I'd like to know some of them!" thought Mary wistfully. "This being alone in a big city is the worst kind of lonesomeness. Everybody wants friends."

As the young riveter half dragged, half carried the man across the improvised "bridge" she drew a long breath.

The next minute she gave a sudden startled exclamation. Walking straight toward her along a beam was a tall, young fellow. The wind ruffled his brown hair and seemed trying to blow him over, but he paid no attention to it. His merry whistle brought a quick touch of rose to Mary's smooth cheeks. He was whistling "I'm up in the air about you, Mary!" Did he know her name was Mary? No, he couldn't, she told herself. She had never seen him before. But he certainly was up in the air.

Almost involuntarily she glanced downward. Far below people looked like mechanical toys moving about. Six months before the city had seemed to Mary a sort of rose-colored dream town. Now it had begun to seem more like a teeming ant hill where everybody scurried about in a hopeless maze, thinking only of themselves. Other girls, plainer than Mary, boasted of the number of "boy friends" they had "picked up" but she disliked to copy their bold ways and flippant speeches. She noticed that the young fellow striding sure-footedly along the beam looked clean and respectable like most of the young men she had known in her own little home town back in Pennsylvania. Alone in the office for a few moments, she was moved by a sudden, homesick impulse.

"Good afternoon! It's a lovely day, isn't it?" she called through the partly-opened window.

A quick, boyish smile flashed across the young man's face.

"It's great," he agreed, "just great!"

Alarmed by her own impulsiveness, Mary began to tap her typewriter keys at a great rate. She berated herself for being so bold. Her conscience came to her aid.

"You didn't mean any harm," it said soothingly. "A little simple friendliness won't hurt anybody."

The young man was driving rivets. The steady rat-a-tat-tat sounded like the drumming of an enormous woodpecker. A moment later Mary looked out again. Her heart almost stopped beating. The young riveter was so busy he had not noticed the large, fleshy man walking along the beam a short distance away. A camera was slung over the man's shoulder.

Mary saw that his steps were growing slower and slower. His face was white and his knees sagged. It was evident that he had lost courage and was liable to fall at any moment. She tapped on the window and spoke quietly.

"Don't be afraid," she told him. "Just sit down and hold on to the beam. Don't look down. Somebody will come and help you. Close your eyes, if you are dizzy."

To Mary's intense relief, the man obeyed her. He sat down and clung desperately to the beam, his eyes closed.

The riveting suddenly stopped. Mary saw the young man running along the beam as lightly as a squirrel. He was carrying a stout board.

"Can you open that window wider?" he asked. "I'm going to shove the board across and make a bridge."

Mary controlled an impulse to scream, as the man on the beam swayed.

"Just a minute longer," she encouraged him. "Hold tight!"

Then she succeeded in opening the window. As the young riveter half dragged, half carried the man across the improvised "bridge" she drew a long breath.

"I-I thought I'd get some pictures," said the man. "I didn't ask anybody's permission. I thought I was a good climber but all at once I was so dizzy. No more high places for me. I'm going to get down to street level as fast as I can and stay there."

"That was a near squeak," the young riveter told Mary. "I thought he'd fall before I could get to him. I'm much obliged to you for keeping cool and helping me."

"I didn't really do anything," said Mary. "He owes his life to you, Mr. —"

"Call me Jim," he replied quickly.

"My name is Jim Sanders and I hail from a little town in Michigan."

Mary's brown eyes brightened. "I'm from the country, too," she announced. "My name is Mary Bronson. I - I heard you whistling and looked out. I hope you didn't think I was bold when I spoke to you."

"You don't look like the bold kind," Jim assured her. "I noticed you yesterday but you didn't pay any attention to me. I'm a good climber but I'm bashful with girls. If you'll let me, I'd like to take you out to dinner tonight. The boss will tell you anything you want to know about me. I hope you haven't got a date?" he added anxiously.

"Not tonight," said Mary. "I'll be glad to accept your invitation."

Jim laughed and waved his hand, as he went back to his riveting. He was whistling again. The same song. It gave Mary a joyous little thrill. Once more she glanced down at the toy men and women moving about so far below. Somehow they no longer seemed to be moving about in a hopeless maze. They were going about their work, taking care of their families, trying to the best of their humble ability to make the world a little better place for themselves and their dear ones.

"Big town, little town, folks are just the same," thought Mary happily. "There's always something worth living and working for. And there's romance even up in the air on top of a skyscraper."

● The back porch or kitchen is no place to keep eggs. A cellar probably is the best place, unless you have a cave. An egg is two-thirds water and the shell is porous. If eggs are left where it is hot and dry, the air will draw moisture out of them.

● If kept where the air is cool and moist, your eggs will stay full ... and FRESH!

U. S. YUGOSLAVIA SETTLE UP... The United States and Yugoslavia have signed an agreement settling all their outstanding differences growing out of lend-lease, relief aid and the seizure of American property. The agreement returns to Marshall Tito's government 47 million dollars worth of monetary gold that has been frozen since Germany invaded Yugoslavia. Photo shows, left to right, secretary of state George Marshall looking on as Dr. Obren Blagohjevic signs the instrument. Also watching is Sava N. Kosanovic, ambassador from Yugoslavia.

A SURE-FIRE REMEDY FOR FEAR

MRS. Helen W. Carr, who is connected with the Veterans Administration, Lubbock, Texas, has told me a story that every mother should read, and most particularly those mothers who unwittingly are nurturing fear in their children, or whose children, for some reason are afraid of the dark.

When Helen was seven and her little sister Boots was five, their brother and a cousin cooked up a scheme to frighten them. Boy-like, they were full of prankish, madcap ideas, and, also boylike, they gave no thought to possible consequences.

One evening in the absence of their parents, those boys dressed in their father's clothes, donned masks and went up to the bedroom of the two little girls. They knocked on the door and in loud and disguised voices announced that they had come to take Boots away. The little girls screamed in terror and Boots got under the bed.

At that, the boys desisted, but the harm had been done. The next morning little Boots ran a temperature. She got over the illness, not the fright. She was afraid after that to get up in the night, and every unknown sound called her sister. Sometimes Helen herself was so terrified she couldn't move.

This fear pursued those girls for years, pursued Boots until she had children of her own when she had to learn to reassure them that there is nothing to fear about unknown noises. She had to assume courage, and finally her courage developed.

Helen herself earlier had conquered her fears in her own efforts to reassure her little sister that there was nothing to fear, and through learning to speak in public. In addition to her fear, of the dark, she had been afraid of people, which she thinks was largely due to having been taught as a child that she should be seen and not heard. In other words, she conquered her fear by doing the thing she feared to do. And this is a sure-fire remedy for fear.

AAA Officer Says Farmers Are Showing Interest In Terracing

Farmers are showing a great interest in terracing. During August 1948, the AAA has received approximately 20 farm sketches of terraces constructed and have issued approvals for approximately 25 farmers for terracing. Now is the best time you will find for terracing, while it is dry and the AAA office still has funds.

The AAA still has funds for 20 per cent Super Phosphate. Now is the time to prepare your seed bed and apply your phosphate.

We are glad to report that we had a state spotchecker, checking our mechanical practices. All items checked were O. K. with the exception of one terrace outlet system.

AN ELECTION ASKED

The property owners of Hamilton County are likely to have to decide soon whether they do or do not want to place a $200,000 Mortgage against their property --- this to be paid with a 15c per hundred increase in your taxes. Remember, if you vote this increase you and your children will be paying this tax fully twenty-five years from this date.

There is not a chance for a hospital of this magnitude located in a small town to pay expenses; therefore all losses would have to be paid by our county which would be done with your tax money, exclusive of the taxes you pay to retire these bonds.

It is our opinion that should this hospital be built, it will sell in less than ten years to some individual for not more than 20 per cent of its cost---still you will have this 15c tax to pay.

Remember, the personnel that man such institutions in most instances are appointed by politicians who do not weigh the qualifications of appointees but, instead they will be appointed to pay a debt of gratitude.

MR. VOTER, REMEMBER THIS--

That there are plenty of business men in our county looking for a paying investment, and if it was their opinion that a hospital would pay, they would not ask the taxpayers to build it.

SAVE THIS ADVERTISEMENT AND IF THESE PREDICTIONS DO NOT COME TRUE IN LESS THAN TEN YEARS RANDALS BROTHERS WILL DONATE $1,000 TO THIS HOSPITAL.
