Friday, Sept. 3 to Be Hico Night At Annual Dublin Rodeo

The third night of the 9th Annual Pre-Madison Square Garden World Championship Dublin Rodeo has been designated as "Hico Night" in honor of Dublin's neighboring town.

Mayor H. V. Hedges, has officially appointed Willie Dean Hancock of this city as the Hico sponsor.

Dublin has reserved 12 box seats for the mayor's and the sponsor's parties.

The parade on Friday, Sept. 3, will be at 6 o'clock with the show beginning at 8:00 p.m. Hico's Mayor and sponsor will ride in both the parade and grand entry and will also be specially introduced at the beginning of the rodeo.

The Dublin rodeo will be four big nights of entertainment, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 1, 2, 3, and 4. There will be a parade each day, led by the Hardin-Simmons band. Bands from other towns will also be present.

Never before has the Pre-Madison Square Garden Rodeo had as many pretty cowgirls as will be here this year. Eight towns will have sponsors on different nights.

They are: Mary Ben Moody of Stephenville; Billy Faye Bauer of De Leon; Mrs. John Wright of Gorman; Willie Dean Hancock of Hico; Carolyn Dean of Comanche; Doris Streater of Hamilton; Billie Rose Wilson of Brownwood and Mary Ann Mayfield of Dublin.

Besides these there will be five trick riding beauties that will perform in Dublin before leaving on the special train for Madison Square Garden. They are: Edith Happy, Newhall, California; Mary Iler, Ft. Worth, Texas; Jeanne Godshall, Victorville, Calif.; Faye Blessing, Burbank, Calif.; and Nancy Bragg, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The clowns this year are the famous Jazbo Fulkerson, veteran of the N. Y. Show and Hoyt Hefner. The announcer is the same as has been here in the past and another veteran of New York and Boston shows, Abe Lefton of Hollywood, California. The loud speaker system, which is one of the best in the state, will be furnished by the Texas Company.

A specialty act other than the trick riders will be Bryon and Lee Hendricks of Hollywood, Calif. They ride Roman style, jump a high hurdle and even jump over an automobile on two horses with one foot on each back. Then there's Glorious Ann Hendricks and her famous dancing horse, King Richard. All of these make the trip to Madison Square Garden and Boston after showing at Dublin.

Hospital Bond Vote Set by Commissioners Court For Sept. 11

Fern Jordan, Commissioner from Precinct 3, said that the Hamilton County Commissioners' Court met last Monday in special session and set September 11 as the date for voting on a $200,000 bond issue to build a hospital at Hamilton.

The court order for the election was mandatory, according to members of the court who were petitioned by what they estimated a sufficient number of qualified voters the previous Monday.

Petition for the bond issue had its origin with the Chamber of Commerce in the county seat. It is heatedly opposed at Hico and in other sections of the county where taxpayers would pay the greater portion of the bill through higher taxes.

New Equipment Puts Kight Gin Out Front and Ready For Season

Burr Extractor, Drier and Seed Sterilizer Added

H. L. Kight, pioneer ginner of this section, came over from Dublin last Saturday afternoon to give his local plant a final inspection before the opening of the ginning season. While here throughout the afternoon, he invited various farmers, business men and citizens, including the News-Review editor, down to the gin for an explanation of the improvements he has made this year, and for a demonstration of what may aptly be described as "a real modern gin."

Some idea of just how modern the new improvements make it may be gained from the remark quoted to Mr. Kight upon his visit by H. G. Driver, local manager, and the rest of the crew. A West Texas cotton raiser, when told of the type of equipment that has been added, was rather doubtful. He didn't think there were any gins like that except in West Texas.

But the plant is there to show for itself, and Mr. Kight said he realized that he was out ahead of the field and didn't blame anyone for disbelieving unless he saw it. But he said he would be glad to have one and all visit the gin at any time and be convinced.

Ginning regulations this year required installation of a seed sterilizer, of which Mr. Kight bought and installed the latest type. While he was about it, he also added burr extractors on all four stands, and a drier which will allow ginning of cotton gathered in any kind of weather, without damage to the grade or staple.

The burr extractors process the cotton, and get out all burrs, dirt and trash before it hits the stands. Upon starting the ginning process, this cotton looks like the best grade of picked staple, and when it comes out of the stands ready to be baled, it is indeed a pretty sight.

Moisture that might be in the cotton when it hits the gin, is removed by an ingenious drier which, by an intricate system of blowers, pipes and metal cabinets through which the cotton travels until it is properly processed. A new room has been built at one end of the gin to house the gas-fired burner for heating air which is drawn through overhead pipes by means of a blower. The cotton travels through these pipes diagonally across the gin, and is forced through a maze of compartments contained in a metal cabinet. All trace of water and even the slightest moisture is removed, increasing the quality tremendously in the process and reducing the danger of depreciation.

On the floor at the entrance of the gin Mr. Kight had assembled three piles of samples to show the various stages of cleaning. The first pile contained some of the dirtiest, trashiest, pulled cotton he could find; the second pile was composed of a sample of the same cotton after it was processed ready for ginning; and the third pile showed a beautiful clean sample after it was ready for the press. Even a newspaperman could see the advantage of this system of ginning, and a cotton farmer familiar with the old methods of handling his cotton should really appreciate the added investment made at this gin for his benefit.

The premises, buildings, and machinery at this local gin are kept in tip-top shape and apple order. Employees seem to appreciate the investment that has been made to provide a tidy, serviceable and smooth-running plant, and they keep things spic and span even during the rush of ginning season. From the engine room, equipped with steam engines powered from a gas-fired boiler, through the ginning and press rooms, and on out to the scales and office, everything gives the appearance of being efficient, well arranged and neatly maintained. The lot is enclosed by a sturdy wire fence, and the yard is kept free from trash while the buildings are kept painted and in the best of repair.

This is one Hico institution that has kept in step with progress, and Mr. Kight and his assistants are to be commended for providing such a modern gin for the convenience of and service to cotton raisers of this section.

a party line is like a barn raising

The same cooperation which made the community barn raising a fine American tradition has its equal in the rural party line. Telephone neighbors can make their party line an ideal example of cooperation by using their telephone sparingly.

The endless demand for low cost rural telephone service can be met from the equipment standpoint only by more party line installations. This expanding service increases the usefulness of every telephone. You can make the most of it and help yourself to better service by being a good party line neighbor.

W. A. SON SHOFNER

For State Senator

WITH THOSE WHO KNOW THE CANDIDATES BEST, IT'S SHOFNER THREE TO ONE!

The run-off candidates for State Senator for this district both live in Ward One, Temple. In the first primary Shofner received 659 votes in Ward One to his opponents' 220. In the City of Temple, Shofner led his home town, run-off opponent by more than 2 1/2 to one! He carried Bell County over his run-off opponent, who also lives in Bell County, by more than two to one. Shofner also carried all five counties in this district over his run-off opponent, and only lacked 40 votes out of 26,000 receiving a majority over BOTH his first primary opponents.

Yes, With Those Who Know Them Best, IT'S SHOFNER OVERWHELMINGLY! Surely those who know the two candidates best and know their respective merits and qualifications are in best position to judge them. Their choice is Shofner by a very wide margin. We need no better recommendation. Let's all GO OUT AND VOTE again, and give Shofner his well-deserved victory.

Local Man Delivers Principal Address At College Reunion

Whitewright, August 23.—J. N. Russell of Hico, who in the earlier years of the old Grayson College was known as a "silver-tongued orator," was the main speaker at the annual reunion of the Ex-Students Association on the Whitewright High School campus Sunday.

More than 300 students were in attendance at the affair which began at 10 a. m. Many came from all sections of Texas and from other states. The present high school is held in the same buildings that once housed Grayson College.

Russell, now a prominent business man, lawyer and ranchman, was a member of the Sam Houston Literary Society, rivals of the Henry W. Grady Literary Society. At that time the college was in charge of Prof. H. L. Piner and Prof. James F. Anderson. These debating and oratorical societies and compulsory military drill for male students under Professor Kemp were salient features of the college.

Frank H. Butler and James L. Truett were added to the faculty about the time the new three-story brick building was constructed. The entire history of the college runs from about 1887 to 1913.

Sunday's program also featured Mrs. Pearl Truett Johnson, Dallas, as soloist and Miss Janis Horton, who sang the college theme song. Russell was introduced by Joe Hamilton. The Rev. E. L. Silliman, Sherman, gave the invocation. Judge H. A. Cunningham, Bonham, president of the association, gave the welcoming address. Mrs. Lillian Ray Coffey, Fort Worth, read "In Memorium." A basket lunch was served free at noon.—Sherman Democrat.

A Few Facts about the Hamilton County Electric Cooperative Association

In 1936 T. D. Craddock, then County Agent of Hamilton County, and a group of Hamilton County farmers and business men, conceived the idea of getting electric power for farmers of Hamilton County.

For many months they labored unceasingly on this project and finally in 1939 they perfected an organization and obtained a loan from the Federal Government. The men who started this project, did so without the hope of gain or reward, but simply as a service to the farmers of Hamilton County.

There was not a single Evant man in that group; neither was there an Evant man on the board of directors.

They obtained applications of 800 farmers of Hamilton County and let a contract for the building of lines. They made a trade with the Texas Power and Light Co. for the purchase of electric current and the first pole was set at Evant, simply because that was the closest point to the T. P. & L. power lines.

As farmers of neighboring communities saw the advantages of electric power, they began asking Hamilton County REA for it and the Association began to expand in all directions.

The REA does not allow its lines into towns of over 1500 population, therefore its lines do not come into Hamilton itself, but the Association originated in Hamilton and has been there ever since. It has its office and warehouse in a large brick building for which they pay only $40.00 per month rent.

Recently they began to think about erecting their own building and to that end bought one-fourth block from the City of Hamilton, which is a part of the City Park that fronts on Highway 281. It has been rumored that they paid $15,000 for this lot, but this is not the case. The City allowed the REA to make their OWN price, which they did, and this was $1500.00 (FIFTEEN HUNDRED). This lot has been approved by the Washington office and also the building; to be erected in Hamilton, and the loan for the building is now under way.

About eight months ago the Hamilton County REA bought the light system of Evant from the LCRA and that little town suddenly awoke to the fact that they'd like to have the home office of this electric power system, that was originated and brought into existence by the patient toil and work of Hamilton County farmers. Not as an extra service to its citizenship, but purely as a commercial venture.

Hamilton is proud of the REA. It is also proud of its neighboring towns and villages. It thinks very highly of the town of Evant. It is a good town and has very fine people. It thinks so highly of it that just a few years ago, but for the heroic efforts of the Hamilton Fire Department, the entire business section of Evant would have been destroyed by fire.

Hamilton has never sought to improve itself at the expense of its neighbors. Its industries have originated there and it has not tried to coerce or otherwise take from its neighbors, businesses that rightfully belonged to them. It has grown into the city that it is by its own efforts and has not taken from someone else. It believes in the rules of fair play and clean business, not only between individuals, but also towns.

Now Let Us Reason...

The Hamilton County Electric Cooperative Association is approximately 75 miles long and 65 miles wide. Just what advantage would it receive by moving its home office ONLY 15 miles. A 2 1/2 million dollar concern from a thriving city of 5000 to a town of 500. This village does not have a hotel—Does not have natural gas Does not have adequate telephone facilities—Does not have an Express Office—Does not have a telegraph office—Does not have a fire department—Does not have a freight terminal—Does not have a sewage system—Does not have adequate housing for the 48 employes of the Association. The Association is a big user of all these things. Would you like to see it operate without them?

Have the 48 people who work for it, many of whom have their homes in Hamilton, been asked if they would like to move or lose their jobs?

Would the Association like to pay the additional high fire insurance rates on all its property, that it would have to pay in Evant?

The Association now has one of the lowest electric rates in the whole country, would you like to see these rates increased because of the move. This will be necessary because of increased expense. Do you think that service would be better or be improved, by moving it to Evant?

Who do you think would gain by such a move? Someone would, or they wouldn't be trying to move it, would they? Someone would greatly benefit financially, but every fair-minded, right-thinking person knows that it will NOT be YOUR REA.

You thought you settled this issue recently in the election of your old board of directors, but now it has come up again — WHY—Do you think if this carried, that it would be settled? What would keep some other town from doing the same thing? Remember that each of these elections costs YOUR Association about $500.00. You can settle it now with your ballots. Mark them "AGAINST CHANGING THE LOCATION TO EVANT" and MAIL them in.

the peddler ---

comes into town... makes his sales... and is on his way. Today he's in Hico... tomorrow he'll be in Ireddell or Stephenville or Hamilton, and by the end of the week he may be in Keokuk or Kalamazoo.

If you're lucky, you get your merchandise and your money's worth, more or less.

But the peddler—the door-to-door salesman—adds nothing to the community. You pay approximately the same prices for your goods, take a chance on the integrity of a man or woman you never saw before and who knows you'll never see him or her again.

He pays NO taxes... does NOTHING to support community enterprises... has NO INTEREST in the community in which we live.

In taking chances you are risking your money for something you don't know about until you see it. And you're sending it out of the community... where it can do nothing to help make your community better.

Fred Jones Family Honors Boy Scouts With Big Barbecue

At 8:15 last Thursday evening the Boy Scouts and council members assembled at the Scout Hall and proceeded to Blue Hole, on Honey Creek, where they were feted with a barbecue given us by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones and family.

Upon arrival a bit of exploring was done up and down the creek and then we played some games. At about 7:00 o'clock the barbecue arrived from the pit and we enjoyed all the meat and cold drinks we could hold, along with plenty of pickles, potatoes, bread, lettuce and cookies.

After supper we completed the contest at guessing at a jar of beans, of which Cecil Hovey won, and only missed by eight beans. For this he was awarded a show ticket.

We then assembled in a Scouting circle and Mr. Miller was allowed only five minutes to tell us something about his recent trip to Alaska. He kept his word and stopped at the end of the allotted time, but as we had some questions to ask, he continued.

Mr. Sirman, our new coach, was introduced and we were glad that he was able to be with us.

Plans were made for the coming year, and the Scoutmaster stressed the importance of studying Scout-ing now that school is about to begin again.

We returned to the Scout hall by 8:30 and expressed our appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Jones for a wonderful time and plenty to eat. "A Scout is reverent."

Health authorities of the State are urging parents to pay special attention to the health of their children before the opening of the fall school term.

"No longer," they say, "is it necessary to have school children provided with only books and some new fall clothing. Their health should be guarded closely, and at all times they should feel fit and able to do their best work."

Included in our stock are a number of tonics and remedies which will be of immense value in toning up the school child's system so that the maximum effort may result.

- Gathering them three times is even better! The sooner you get eggs out of the nest after they have been laid, the less chance there is for other birds to crack the shells or track dirt on them.
- The temperature of an egg when it is laid is over 100 degrees. If it is left in a hot nest in a hot hen house for half a day or longer, it loses a lot of moisture and freshness even before it's gathered!
- Get your eggs out of the nests quickly and keep them FRESH.

Government Releases Surplus Buildings For Grain Storage

All available surplus government buildings in West Texas will be released for emergency grain storage use in answer to requests by a number of congressmen and farm organizations representing six midwestern and southwestern states, it was disclosed today by Colonel Karl E. Wallace, regional WAA director at Grand Prairie, Texas.

In a move to make immediately available urgently needed storage space for grain sorghum and other products threatened with spoilage because of lack of warehousing facilities in the area, the War Assets Administration has designated the Grand Prairie office as local point for throwing open surplus government facilities. The Denver and Kansas City WAA offices will relay storage requests from states in their regions.

The action followed wires sent to Jess Larson, War Assets Administrator, by Congressman Geo. Mahon in behalf of his district and those five other congressmen. Similar requests have been received by WAA in the last few days from Walter Hammond, head of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, and from other farm cooperatives, all indicating that the storage is critical.

"All suitable buildings not yet sold nor classed by the military as contaminated will be made available to ease this situation," Colonel Wallace said. He added that the program called for utilization of surplus facilities by organized agricultural cooperatives and bonded grain warehousemen. Structures to be used include the greater portion of the sprawling Pantex Ordnance Works near Amarillo. Negotiation with WAA for transferring this installation to Texas Tech college are now in progress, but Texas Tech will cooperate in allocating maximum space, it was indicated.

The WAA will also release available portions of the South Plains Airfield, Lubbock. As they are needed, facilities in Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico and Colorado will be designated for emergency storage purposes.

Mr. D. W. Williams, vice president for agriculture of Texas A & M college declared that the Bluebonnet Ordnance Works, which the college recently acquired from WAA, would be made available. Producers needing warehousing space, he said, should contact Mr. H. O. Hill, director of the Bluebonnet plant or Mr. J. D. Prewit of the extension service at College Station, Texas.

Veterans' News

Veterans carrying National Service Life Insurance term policies will be able to renew them for an additional five years upon expiration of the present term period, Veterans Administration announced.

GI term insurance taken out by veterans before January 1, 1946, carries a term period of eight years from date of issue. Policies issued after that date are for a five-year term.

Those who renew their term insurance when it becomes necessary will pay a higher rate than before, based on their age at the time of renewal.

The majority of veterans attending colleges and universities full-time under the GI Bill will be able to work part-time without having their subsistence allowances reduced, Veterans Administration said.

No reduction in subsistence will be made as long as income from productive labor and subsistence allowance do not exceed these monthly "ceilings" established by Public Law 512 last spring: (1) $210 for a veteran without dependents; (2) $270 for a veteran with one dependent; or, (3) $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent.

This does not mean that there is a limit on what a veteran may earn while attending college full-time. It does mean that a veteran student may receive his full subsistence allowance if his monthly earnings are not more than $135 if he has no dependents, $165 if he has one dependent, and $170 if he has more than one dependent.

Congressman Invited To Help In Plan for Military Unification

Congressman Omar Burleson has been invited by officials of the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Counsel for the Armed Services Committee of the Congress to participate in hearings and conferences on the revision and unification of military justice for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Congressman Burleson's invitation came as a result of his efforts and interest in modernization of court martial procedures. Congressman Burleson has been active in the promotion of such legislation since the third day he took his seat in the Congress when he introduced the first Bill for this purpose, and portions of his measure are incorporated in recent legislation revamping the military justice system of the Army. As introduced, his Bill was applicable to the three services, but was rejected in whole by the Navy.

Congressman Burleson has long contended that the present system of military justice is outmoded and belongs to the old Prussian type of militarism. In his opinion more equal treatment of Enlisted and Officer personnel is fundamental, and legislation to bring this about is definitely needed. "There is also favoritism between the Regular Navy and Regular Army Officers and that of Reserves on active duty, because of the fraternal associations established in our Military Academies," Burleson said.

The hearings and conferences are now being held in the Office of Secretary of Defense Forrestal's Office, and the resulting draft will be presented to the 81st Congress when it convenes next January.

Herringtons Return From Trip to Old Home In Neshoba, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Herrington returned home last Friday from a five-day trip which had taken them to his old home in Mississippi. They were accompanied here by Mr. Herrington's sister, Mrs. Wilson, who has been visiting them. They all visited in Brady the first of the week with a brother of Mr. Herrington and Mrs. Wilson, and a brother of Mrs. Herrington.

The following account of their trip to Mississippi was taken from the Neshoba Democrat: "That the city of Philadelphia has completely changed can be attested to by Andrew Herrington of Hico, Texas, who made his first visit back to the county this week in 35 years. Only one place looked familiar to Mr. Herrington, and that was the GM&O Depot. Everything else was changed.

"Mr. Herrington, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nick Herrington, was born and reared in the Johnsonville community and lived there until he went to Texas. For 25 years he has been operating a grocery business in Hico.

"His visit back home is a real pleasure in more ways than one, as he is a guest in the home of his sister, Mrs. Sam Wilson in Neshoba, whom he has not seen during the 35 years. He will also visit a half sister, Mrs. Cooper Saxon, whom he has never seen, residing in Newton County. Mr. Herrington has two other sisters residing in other states and two half-brothers, of Neshoba, Galen and Earl Herrington.

"Mr. Herrington is accompanied by Mrs. Herrington, their son, C. C. Herrington of Olney, Texas, the latter two making their first visit to Mississippi."

"All Texans have been urged by Governor Beauford H. Jester to attend the sixty-third annual State Fair of Texas, Dallas, Oct. 9-24, where 'the youth of the farm and ranch and the city find the inspiration for fine citizenship and happiness.'"
