VISITING COUPLE DECLARE 'HANDICAPS' CAN LEAD A HAPPY, NORMAL LIFE

A crippled body doesn't necessarily mean a crippled life. Aulton A. Augler of El Cajon, California, said here last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Augler were visiting in the home of Homer Booth on Route 5, after having just completed 13,000 miles of a projected 20,000-mile cross-country automobile tour. They were met and greeted by many local people who considered very worthy their purpose in the trip—that of showing other handicapped people that normal, happy lives are possible.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Augler are confined to wheel chairs. Augler, a Navy pilot for over 11 years, was injured in a plane crash in 1940, sustaining a spinal cord injury. He has since learned the radio repair trade. He also flies again in a specially fitted light plane. He has had to unlearn a tire since getting the trip.

His wife, Marlene, the former Miss Marlene Booth of De Leon, Texas, had polio in 1937 and has the use of only one hand. She has learned the watch-making trade, also does her own house work and cooking.

This couple lives alone, calling on no one for help. On their trip they have been showing 16MM movies of handicapped persons at work and play. They have spoken before many civic groups in the interest of the Indoor Sports Club, Inc., an international organization. This club is run for and operated by the physically handicapped. Dues are so low anyone can belong. Members at large pay only 50 cents a year, which includes a monthly paper.

The Indoor Sports Club is sponsor in name only. They do not have the money to sponsor a tour of this magnitude. The Auglers are using his pension and savings to make this trip "in order to bring happiness to others not so fortunate as ourselves."

This couple is demonstrating that handicaps can live a happy, normal life. Any handicap who is interested and wants to know more can reach the secretary of the Indoor Sports Club at 2646 Fifth Street, Ocean Park, Calif. Augler's address is 740 South Lemon Ave., El Cajon, Calif.

State Fair of Texas To Get Under Way At Dallas Next Week

The thirty million dollar, sixty-third State Fair of Texas, which Lone Star Staters proudly call "The Show Window of the Southwest," will get under way next week with probably more fanfare than ever attended any previous state fair. Dates are Oct. 9-24. Officials say this is the largest fair, and the most costly to produce, they have ever attempted. It has required more people to put it together. More than 2,000,000 are expected to attend. Last year's attendance was 1,763,921.

Governor Beauford Jester will formally open the Fair and dedicate the new $800,000 Automobile, Aviation and Recreation Building. Topping the list of opening day attractions will be the Texas-Oklahoma football classic. This will be the "coming out" party for the renovated Cotton Bowl, just rebuilt and enlarged at a cost of $1,250,000. Almost as popular with Fair visitors will be the hilarious Jimmy Durante-Harty James show in the Auditorium, the new "Ice Cycles" show, the "Flying L" Rodeo, Million Dollar Midway, and the most colorful array of displays ever seen in the Fair's huge exhibit halls. These will include shows devoted to automobile, aviation, electrical industry, petroleum, foods, textiles, culinary and antiques, agriculture, livestock and poultry.

Opening day is traditionally Press and Radio Day in honor of Texas newspaper and radio men. Formal opening of the Fair will be preceded by a mile-long parade through downtown Dallas.

Despite its enormous size, the State Fair of Texas has managed to retain some of the flavor of the old country fairs. Advance interest in the 1948 show of pickles, preserves, jams and jellies, textiles and antiques has amazed even the Fair officials.

On Oct. 16, the rural youth of Texas, 60,000 strong, will take over the Fair, breaking all previous records for gatherings of 4-H Club members, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers.

Another outstanding event will be participation on Oct. 24 of twenty school bands and some 2,000 young Texas musicians in a Band Festival and massed concert in the Cotton Bowl.

Theme of the 1948 State Fair is "Everybody's Going," and the Fair's new singing commercial tells the world that "All Texas is rarin' to go." To see the country's biggest Fair!

TIGERS WIN OVER WALNUT SPRINGS IN CONFERENCE START

Inspired for Tussle With Cranfills Gap Here Tonight At 8

The Victory-Starved Tigers from Hico High School celebrated their coming back into Class B football with a smashing victory on the local lighted field last Friday night. In the presence of a large crowd of Tiger fans and visitors, they defeated Walnut Springs by a score of 47-12 in the first conference game of the season.

The Tigers opened by recovering a Walnut Springs fumble early in the first quarter on the opponents' 49-yard line. From there it took the Tigers only three tries to hit pay dirt, with Hill circling right end for the score.

The Tigers received the ball eight times, and seven of these times they scored without losing possession of the ball. The eighth time all the reserves were playing, and Hico was forced to punt for the only time during the game.

All the Tiger squad got to see action, and all looked good on offense and defense.

The touchdown makers were Hill, three; Ross, two; and Loden, two. Allen place-kicked two extra points and the remaining three were made by runs.

Tonight (Friday, Oct. 1) the Tigers entertain Cranfills Gap on the Tiger field at 8 p. m. This promises to be a thriller, since Cranfills Gap has two victories and no defeats. They have previously defeated Clifton and last Friday night swamped Whitney by a score of 39-0.

Let's everyone be out and pack the stadium full for the Tigers tonight against the Gap.

Coach Willie Sirman has turned in the following probable starting line-up for the Tigers:

Center—Ratliff or H. Terry.
Right Guard—Jagars or Chaney.
Right Tackle—Lane.
Right End—Collins.
Quarterback—Burden.
Halfback—Hill.
Halfback—Ross.
Fullback—Lively.

Probable starting line-up for the visitors from Cranfills Gap:

Center—P. Rohne.
Right Guard—A. Rohne.
Right Tackle—Grimland.
Quarterback—Rhodes.
Halfback—Sinderude.
Halfback—Holbrook.
Fullback—Taylor.

In World War II, Navy submarines were credited with sinking 201 Japanese merchant vessels of 500 or more gross tons, totalling 4,779,902 tons.

Chamber of Commerce Holds Meeting After Dinner at Texan Cafe

The Hico Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday night at 7:30 in regular session for a chicken dinner at the Texan Cafe and then went on to the Fireman's Hall for the business meeting. Seventeen members were present.

The following report is from the minutes of M. S. Norton, secretary:

J. N. Russell, committeeman on the "Stop the Bond Committee" reported that the County Hospital Bond proposal was defeated by less than 300 votes. This was largely through the efforts of Hico and the northern part of the county.

J. E. Lincoln, superintendent of Hico Public Schools, reported that the bond election of $50,000 and the maintenance tax carried by almost four to one. He further asserted that the school board is carrying through and as soon as the bonds can be authorized and other legal proceedings are out of the way, construction of the new grammar school building will get under way as the buildings for material have already been purchased.

A. F. Vandergriff announced that the plans for the local FFA Stock Show are under way and that it is to be held two days, the latter part of January. Prizes in the amount of almost $500.00 will be awarded this year in addition to ribbons on all winners. Motion by Norton, seconded by McEver, that the C. of C. cooperate in a money-raising plan, carried.

Norton reported that the street signs and house numbers should go up this coming month. He advised that Mr. and Mrs. Horsley have almost completed the long and tedious process of finding the correct numbers for each house. Early next week he will be able to give property owners the correct numbers.

The Chair appointed J. N. Russell, J. E. Lincoln, and A. F. Vandergriff to accompany the standing committee on roads, M. Moon, W. W. Carson Jr. and Fern Jordan, to Dublin Thursday night to a seven-county meeting on roads.

In view of the fact that the week of October 11 to 16 is National Oil Industry Week, it was agreed that the Chamber would meet on Wednesday night, October 13, for their October meeting, in cooperation with this new and important work for our oil industry.

Iredell Dragons to Play Methodist Home At Iredell Saturday Night

An open date in Iredell's football calendar has been filled out with an engagement this week with a team from the Methodist Home at Waco, according to a telephone message Wednesday from Superintendent J. M. McCroskey.

The game will be played Saturday night, starting at 8:00 o'clock on the Iredell field.

The Dragons lost last Friday night to Valley Mills by a score of 26 to 0, but are getting in shape again and hope to give the Hico Tigers a warm reception in a game scheduled for late in November.

GODMOTHER . . . Mrs. Harry S. Truman, wife of the President, holds her niece, Charlotte Margaret Wallace, at the infant's baptism in St. John the Evangelist church in Denver. Mrs. Truman, though not a Catholic, was honorary godmother. Charlotte Margaret is the daughter of David F. Wallace, Mrs. Truman's brother.

Review Club Observes Federation Day In Its First Meeting of Year

Mrs. E. H. Randalls Sr. was hostess to the Hico Review Club on Thursday, Sept. 23 at four o'clock. Roll call was answered by Mesdames Robert Jackson, L. J. Wood, Edgar Bradley, S. E. Blair Sr., Lusk Randalls, E. H. Randalls, Marvin Marshall, J. E. Lincoln, J. T. Appleby, Bryan Angell, Odie Patsick, W. F. Hafer, S. E. Blair Jr., W. M. Horsley, J. L. Goodman, Wayne Rutledge, and W. J. Moore. Visitors present were Mrs. E. F. Porter and Mrs. E. H. Randalls Jr.

The president's message was given by Mrs. Robert Jackson, who urged that the club projects for the year be worthwhile ones. It was voted that the club sponsor a better library for the High School as one project. Presentation of the year books was then made by Mrs. L. J. Wood, chairman of the program committee, who led the club members in reading the following Collect for Club Women:

"Keep us, O God, from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking. May we put away all pretense, and meet each other face to face without self-pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment, and always generous. Let us take time for all things; make us grow calm, serene, and gentle.

Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight-forward and unafraid.

Grant that we may realize that it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things of life we are as one.

And may we strive to touch and keep the great common woman's heart of us all; and, O Lord, let us not forget to be kind."

Mrs. Marvin Marshall then gave a talk on "The Influence of Federation in Development of Inter-American Relations," mentioning Good Will Tours, Radio Forums, and Pan-American Scholarships.

The fact that 11,000 scholarships have been established by Women's Federated Clubs was noted. Sixty-one clubs have been organized in thirty-one foreign countries. In 1900 Pan-American Day was established to help bring about more friendly relations and a better understanding between the countries.

The Texas Federation is endeavoring to bring about closer ties with the Latin American people by teaching them how our government works; helping them with health improvement; taking an interest in their arts and crafts. Clubs, especially Junior Clubs, are studying the Spanish language. Club women are asked to study treaties between our country and Mexico such as the water treaty; control of foot and mouth disease, and other problems which concern both countries.

Mrs. Marshall also spoke of the exchange students between universities in our country and Latin American countries.

A letter from Church World Service in Manila, P. I., thanking the club for garden seed sent last spring, was read by Mrs. S. E. Blair Jr.

The resignation of Mrs. E. H. Persons was accepted with deepest regrets, and Mrs. Glenson was elected as a new member.

The club then adjourned, to meet again October 7.

CLUB REPORTER.

Voters of Hico County Line Independent School District last Saturday at the polls adopted two measures presented to them as necessary for keeping the local schools in step with progress.

There were two ballots. One was for the issuance of $50,000 in bonds for erecting a new grammar school building and remodeling present structures, and the other was for an increase in the tax rate from $1.00 to $1.40 as an enabling measure.

An unofficial report from the polls, presided over by A. A. Brown, at the close of balloting disclosed that both measures had been approved by more than three to one, with more than 250 ballots registered. The official canvass was to be made by the School Board, but has not yet been released. There was a difference of only two or three votes in the majorities polled for each proposition, it was reported.

W. M. Horsley, secretary of the local school board, was busy Thursday making arrangements to have the buildings recently purchased from Camp Hood moved to Hico. Present plans, he said called for moving intact three of the nine that have been arranged for, and wrecking the others for materials. He feels that the board has been fortunate in securing these particular surplus buildings, and is enthusiastic over the outlook for improving the school plant at the least possible cost, in spite of higher building prices.

Detailed plans for construction and remodeling are still in the formative stage, Horsley said, but no time will be lost in getting things ready for the improvements and enlargement authorized. Several plans have been presented, which are all being considered, and at the earliest possible date the board hopes to have the building program under control.

Necessity for the tax revision program lay in the fact that the outlook for the local school system is one of growth and progress. The board feels grateful to the public for their approval of plans which will enable the district to enlarge and take care of increased needs which seem to be in the offing.

Thanks Expressed for Assistance In Selective Service Registration

S. E. Blair Jr., Chief Registrar at Hico for Selective Service, has completed his work and sent all reports in to Local Board No. 23 for Hamilton and Coryell Counties.

R. H. Miller of Gateville, board chairman, sent the following communication: "This is to express our sincere gratitude to you for your help in carrying on the registration. Please convey our thanks to each of those who gave assistance."

In giving credit to those who gave assistance locally, Mr. Blair named especially members of the Hico Review Club, Joe Guyton, Parker Goodloe, J. T. Hitt, Jerry Dorsey, and Carolyn Holford, but added that there were a number of others who were due thanks for their aid.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING LINAGE UP IN TEXAS

Austin, Texas—Newspaper advertising linage in Texas edged up fractionally from July to August, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Advertising linage in 35 Texas newspapers totaled 29,018,763 lines in August, or 6 per cent above a year earlier.

Influenza Incidence In Texas Surpasses Seven-Year Median

Austin, Texas, Sept. 27.—The 414 cases of influenza reported in Texas last week, bring the incidence of this disease up to forty per cent more than the seven year median, as shown from the figures submitted by 151 counties sending in reports to the State Health Department.

Influenza without complications may be a fairly mild ailment, according to Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, but, he pointed out, complications can turn this disease into a dangerous condition very quickly.

"Many cases of influenza are mild," Dr. Cox said. "Often they lend themselves to treatment readily. However, two important factors enter into the treatment of influenza, and they are, calling the family physician as soon as the first symptoms appear, and taking life very easy for a reasonable length of time after the acute stage has subsided."

Dr. Cox declared that influenza is not mass-controllable. He emphasized that maintaining the highest possible health level at all times affords an individual the best protection from contracting this disease.

"Getting plenty of sleep and rest, daily exercise in the open, nourishing foods, and strict personal hygiene are our best known defenses. A person who avoids all habits and practices detrimental to a maximum well-being and thus builds up a strong resistance to disease, is much less likely to contract influenza than is the individual who does not guard his health in this manner."

Veterans assigned "C" (claims) numbers by Veterans Administration are urged to memorize them, so they can use the numbers readily when they write or call VA about their benefits.

Use of "C" numbers speeds up service to veterans, VA said.

A number is issued to each veteran applying for compensation, pension, schooling, on-the-job training or other VA-administered benefits. The number, appearing on his case folder, will identify him in VA records the rest of his life, and may be used by dependents after his death.

With some 24,000,000 veterans' names in VA's files, "C" numbers often are the final means by which VA can distinguish one veteran from another.

The U. S. Navy has been authorized by recent legislation to enroll not over 6,500 women in its regular service in the next two years.

Veterans' News

The physically disabled, when properly placed, make slightly better workers than the able-bodied, a study prepared by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics for the Veterans Administration reveals.

The study matched the work of some 11,000 impaired and 18,000 unimpaired employees in all major industries. The survey discloses the following:

1. Handicapped workers suffered fewer serious accidents than the able-bodied.

2. The disabled experienced the same number of minor injuries as their able-bodied fellow workers.

3. Production records of the impaired were higher than records of the unimpaired.

4. The disabled were absent from work more frequently than the able-bodied.

5. The voluntary quit rate of the handicapped was higher than the rate of the able-bodied.

According to the study, impaired workers experienced 8.9 serious disabling accidents per 1,000,000 man-hours worked, compared with 9.5 accidents for the able-bodied.

Pioneer Patrol of Girl Scouts Takes Charge of Meeting

The Pioneer Patrol had charge of our meeting Monday night. We had several different things.

The Eagle Patrol will have charge of our meeting next Monday night. They elected a patrol leader and Shirley Prater was the one who was elected.

We had two girls to come to our scout meeting who think they want to become Scouts. We really hope they do.

The Pioneer Patrol went and got something for our first night patrol. We made a little bow and arrow.

Also several of the girls passed some of their tests. We played our meeting by repeating our Scout Promise after Louise Beth, and then we sang our song, "A Girl Scout Is Thrifty."

WILMA WOODARD, Scribe, Hico Girl Scout Troop 1.

AAA Administrative Officer Gives Some Timely Information

The ACA office of Hamilton County is still issuing Approvals and Purchase Orders for Heavy Vetch and Austrian Winter and Dixie Wonder Peas. Farmers who intend to plant winter legumes should get in touch with the ACA office and get your Approvals and Purchase orders as soon as possible. The supply of seed seems to be short this year. Now would be a good time to get your seed and not wait until all seed are gone and have trouble finding them. "The Early Bird gets the Worm," is an old saying but true in many instances.

The ACA office has plenty of funds but the county doesn't have enough seed. Be wise, see your dealer and ask about legume seeds. Remember that November 15, 1948 is the final date of seeding and no purchase order will be given after this date.

Your Most Important Right

Now that the bandstand has been painted, and the park re-landscaped, we have about the nicest village green in the county.

And it's all because, at the last town election, folks got out and voted—85 per cent of them! That way, they passed the amendment calling for park improvements—over those opposing it.

Reminds you again how important the right to vote is in this country. And it's a right we can retain only by exercising it! ... like all the other individual liberties—from freedom to enjoy a glass of beer or ale, to a woman's right to vote along with men.

Folks can thank themselves that on summer evenings they'll be able to listen to band concerts in a well-kept park... enjoying a bottle of beer or soda pop (whichever they prefer). Because from where I sit, that's a freedom they've earned by exercising a still more important freedom: Voting!

FRESHMEN NEWS

The Freshmen girls were informally initiated Thursday, Sept. 23. Some of them had to propose to certain boys, have onions and potatoes on strings around their necks, go barefooted, wear painted mustaches, sing songs, and eat a square meal. All of them were glad when 4:00 o'clock came, so they could act normally again.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomores are busy getting ready for their chapel program. The Seniors gave a nice musical program last Wednesday afternoon. Everyone thought it was nice but too short.

The old school house is beginning to look like the same old place, with speed records being set between the High School and the lunchroom and also between the football field and the studyhall.

SENIOR NEWS

Due to conditions beyond my control, I will be unable to interview a senior each week.

At the home football games we are going to sell popcorn and cold drinks. Bring along some extra change to buy some.

JUNIOR NEWS

We see many of our ribbons around. Most everyone in school has one and certainly every member of the Junior Class.

Everyone who saw it, enjoyed our snake dance and pep rally in town. We hope to see many there every time we have one.

Our chapel program came off very nicely and we wish all of the other classes the good luck that we had. We really didn't know that Bud and Darrell could play guitars that well, and we sincerely hope that Kenneth isn't quite that crazy.

HOMEMAKING NEWS

This is what happened last week in Homemaking.

We had a meeting to plan for a masquerade party that is coming up soon. Now everyone is trying to think how to dress for it.

The Homemaking II girls had the informal initiation for the Homemaking I girls Thursday. The way the Freshmen girls looked I think we did a pretty good job.

All the Homemaking classes are doing the same things as they did last week.

AGRICULTURE

The Hico F. F. A. Livestock Show Board of Directors met Monday, September 20 at 7:30 p.m., and have set up the following divisions and prizes for the show:

- Horses, $50.00 Beef Cattle, $50.00 Dairy Cattle, $50.00 Poultry, $50.00 Swine, $50.00 Sheep and Goats, $50.00 Shop, $50.00

The $50.00 prize money will be distributed between the first, second, and third prize winners of each division.

In addition to the $50.00 set up in Poultry Division, Mr. Woodard, Poultry Director, is awarding $22.50 in feed to be divided between first, second and third place winners.

The F. F. A. Sweetheart Contest is beginning this week. The candidates are: Freshmen, Billy Jean Fulcher; Sophomore, Betty Jane Gollightly; Junior, Wanda Nell Johnson; Senior, Jimmie Lee Barnett.

The chapter has started a cooperative charity effort and it has already distributed five boxes of clothing and four boxes of food.

Hollie Chaney has bought a 620 pound steer, and has started feeding him in order to show him in the Livestock Show.

SPORTS NEWS

Boy! Oh, Boy! What a game we had here Friday night! And I imagine everyone knew about it before the night was over, because of the kids having a shirt-tail parade and snake dance all over town.

Walnut Springs played a good game even if they didn't win, and we hope to play them next year. The final score was Hico 47, Walnut Springs 12.

The Hico scoring boys were: Ross, Hill, Loden and Allen. But of course we are very proud of all the boys, and it took them all working together to make the scores.

Well, it looks like Cranfills Gap is next on the Tigers' "Menu" for Friday night, and we will play them here.

The boys were really pleased at the way Hico turned out for the game last Friday night—maybe it helped them to win! So let's all go again and see what happens.

ATTENTION, HICO

This article is written to you, to let you know what we expect of you! Most of you have children in our school, so your interest for our activities should be strong.

We, the student body of Hico, have by a large majority voted for a new school song. Our former school song, "Eyes of Hico", has been discarded and a new song written especially for us has been accepted. Our first song, "Old Hico High" was sung for the first time on our own grounds, Friday night. The students have learned the song and are backing their school with it. We want you to learn it, sing it with us, and back the school—your school, too.

The student body has started having pep rallies down town each Thursday night. We want every one of you to attend and take part in our meetings.

Get on the band wagon and back your school by attending its activities and learning its song. Your interest and cooperation are what we want. In return we'll give you a school to be proud of!

"OLD HICO HIGH"

The school bells of Hico Are calling, are calling, For each one who names her.

To give her their best, Through all kinds or weather, We'll back her together—

The one school—the best school— The school that we love, We'll always stand by you, We'll never deny you.

In deeds—in song, One hundred strong, Old Hico High.

(Tune: Bells of Saint Mary's).

THE SPOTLIGHT

Oh! What I don't know about you-u, I've been traveling 'round this week and saw more people, doing more things!

It seems that all Hico turns out for a baby show! At least, I saw Jo Nell, O. J., Barbara, Garland, Myrna, Delbert, Patsy Ruth and Jimmie K. there. Also Shirley, La Verne, Betty Lou and Dolores sitting alone.

What's this I hear about Betty Knight and Coolidge Wade getting turned away at the door?

I heard that Jimmy and Milton got in before 9:30 Tuesday night. Was something wrong?

The Seniors had a nice chapel program, but you should have seen them practicing Tuesday night. Boy! Was that a scream!

Did you go and see Hico's first snake dance Thursday night? If you didn't you really missed something! I was eighth from the left. After the snake dance quite a few people went to the show. I see Frances Mc. was there, and Glen Ross with Patsy Salmon.

What's this I hear, some kids painted the school building green? I always thought you were supposed to paint the town red!

The boys played a fine game of ball Friday night. But could you blame them? They knew if they didn't win the shirt-tail parade was off. So they won and everyone paraded through town. Together were Wendell, Ione, Barbara, Garland, O. J., Jo Nell, Myrna, Delbert, and Jimmy and Milton. Also with our dignified pep sponsor, Miss Rohne (with her shirt tail out) was Sandy Ogle.

The cooler weather seemed to have kept some of the couples at home Saturday night. That or mama and papa.

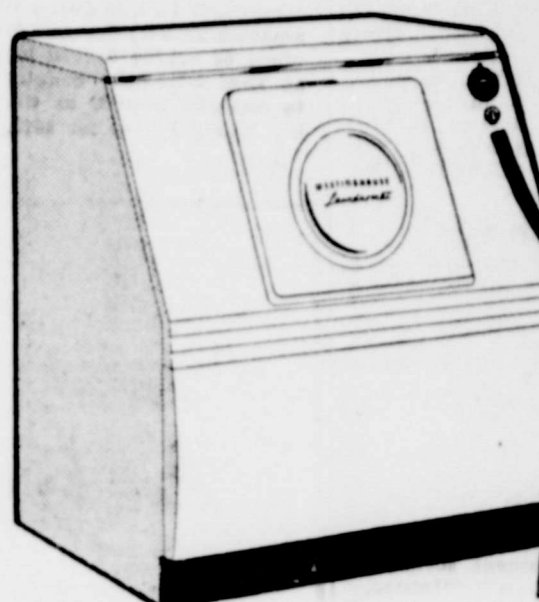

A few of the kids that survived Friday night, and were able to be about Saturday night were Barbara and Garland, O. J. C. and Jo Nell, and Audine and Ralph. J.

I see Mary S. and Pat S. going into the show. Behind them come Glen R. and Dub F. Coincidence?

Saw Odell and Mary, Betty Lou and James Leeth, all riding around in a pretty red pick-up.

Well, that's all the news. See you again next week.

DO YOUR FOOD DOLLARS go as far as you'd like, or are you guilty of these food wastes in your own home?

They bits of leftover vegetables being not in the garbage pail, but as garnish for soups; chopped fine and added to sandwich fillings; chopped and added to hash, macaroni and cheese or scrambled eggs.

Drippings from skillets will clog drain pipes. When saved and refrigerated, however, they may be used for sauteing vegetables, French toast, eggs, meats and fish. Use

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Sugar Buns
 (Makes 26 Rolls)
 2 cups sour cream
 2 packages dry yeast
 1/4 cup sugar
 4 cups flour
 1/4 teaspoon soda
 2 teaspoons salt
 Butter and Sugar

Scald, then cool cream until lukewarm. Place yeast in a bowl, then add sugar and cream. Sift flour with soda and salt. Add and mix the ingredients well. Brush with butter and let rise until doubled in bulk. Knead lightly for one minute. Form into small balls and place in buttered pan. Brush with milk and sprinkle with sugar. Let rise until light, then bake in a hot (425° F.) oven for 10 to 15 minutes.

them also for seasoning green beans, peas, lima beans, scalloped potatoes or Spanish rice.

MEAT AND POULTRY LEFT-OVERS are expensive to waste! Grind and use bits for sandwich fillings, hash or with macaroni, noodles or rice.

Cubed meats, fish, and poultry go well into salads or spaghetti dishes.

FRUIT JUICES make nice pudding sauces or fruit cocktails. Enrich with fresh citrus juice and tint with vegetable coloring if you're a bit shy.

OUTER LETTUCE LEAVES contain more vitamins and minerals than those inside. Don't toss them out; chop or tear and use in a tossed fruit or vegetable salad.

A Short-Short Story
By A. R. Cooper

"YOU wished to see me, sir?"
"Yes, Roger. Sit down please. I understand that you are in a bit of a jam. I wonder if you could tell me the whole story?" The speaker was a tall, middle-aged man. Dressed in tan slacks and sport shirt, he observed the boy before him keenly.

The boy, poorly dressed but clean, sat forward on his chair. With el-

With elbows on knees and chin in hands, he stared at a spot of sunlight that shone through the window.

bows on knees and chin in hands, he stared at a spot of sunlight that shone through the window and reflected from the top of the desk at the man's side. When the boy spoke, he raised his eyes to meet the gaze of the man before him.

"Yes, sir. I stole a horse, and I'm to go to a reform school."

The man raised his hand impatiently. "I understand that. But you are not stupid, Roger, and I believe that you know you couldn't hide a horse—especially a five thousand dollar Arabian—for very long. But I want to know the reason, Roger. Did you go a just to get away from the orphanage, or did someone tell you to steal the horse? Would you have taken just any horse, or did you take Princess Toya because she was worth a great deal of money?"

"I knew the Princess was worth a lot of money, sir, but that wasn't why I took her. I've worked at the stables whenever I could leave the orphanage for two years. The Princess was foaled the same day I came to the home, and Mike, the man who was in charge of the stables, used to let me take care of her. I—she seemed like mine, sir."

"I see," said the man. "Tell me, Roger, just what did you intend to do with Princess Toya?"

"Well, sir, I heard that she had been sold, and Mike wasn't at the stables and I didn't have time to go see Mr. Arnold, because they were going to take the Princess the next morning. I couldn't think how to stop them, so when I took her out for exercise that night, I just took her away."

"You mentioned Mr. Arnold, Roger. Why did you wish to see him?"

"Oh!" said Roger eagerly. "If I could have seen him, I think everything would have been all right. Mike says he's a swell guy. Mike says Mr. Arnold likes his Arabs as much as I do. He just couldn't have known the kid who was getting the Princess, or he wouldn't have sold her."

"Hm," murmured the man, watching the smoke curl up from his pipe. "Why do you think he wouldn't have wanted this particular 'kid' to have her? Did you know the boy who bought her?"

"Yes, sir," said Roger. "He's a big kid, about fifteen, and heavy. He put a big saddle on the Princess, and was going to ride her. She's very gentle, sir, but she's nervous. When he started to swing on, she shied, and he kicked her. I—I hit him, sir, and the Princess got away. He beat me up, but not bad, and he said he'd 'beat some sense into her' when he got her home. I really didn't intend to steal her for keeps, sir, but just 'till I could think what to do. And then when I thought what to do, they caught me before I could do it."

The man smiled. "How old are you, Roger?"

"I'm nine, sir, but I only weigh sixty-eight pounds, so Mike says it was all right for me to ride the Princess if I didn't use a saddle."

"What had you decided to do with the Princess, if you hadn't been caught?"

"I'd rather not tell you, sir. No one told me to do anything, but people might think— The boy paused, apprehension on his face for the first time. Removing the pipe from his mouth, the man spoke gently. "You don't understand, Roger. Your trial is over. I am asking these questions for my own information, and I give you my word that I will not repeat a word without your permission. I shan't insist that you tell me anything, but if you feel that you can trust me, and don't mind telling, I should like to know."

"I'd like to tell you, sir. One time Mike let me ride one of the horses over to his place to spend Sunday with him. It's ten miles, but I thought I could remember the way, and I thought if I could find Mike and tell him about the Princess, he'd ask Mr. Arnold not to sell her. But it was dark, and I got kind of lost, and when they found us and thought I meant to steal the Princess, I was afraid they'd think Mike wanted to steal her if I told where I was going." The little boy leaned tensely forward, gripping the sides of his chair. "And now, sir," he said, "if you know, will you please tell me what became of the Princess?"

The man looked surprised, and spoke softly. "I'm sorry, Roger. I thought you knew. Your friend Mike was notified and returned the Princess to the stables. All of the papers hadn't been signed, and Mike wouldn't release her until Mr. Arnold returned. Then he persuaded Mr. Arnold to keep her." Smiling, the man tapped the ashes from his pipe into an ash tray and rose to his feet. "And now, Roger, I want to make you a proposition. I need a young man to help me. He must be loyal, courageous and small for his job. It's hard work, and I'd expect him to make good grades in school right along with his home work. Would you take the job?"

"You mean—?" Roger stopped, looked down, then met the man's eyes and began to smile uncertainly. "You mean I won't have to go— Could I live—"

The man laid his hand on Roger's shoulder. "I'm away a great deal on business. My wife and I like small boys, but we have no children. She'd like you to ride with her. And Mike needs a small lad that's good with horses. He said we couldn't afford to sell the Princess at all, if we could get you to train her. I'm Mr. Arnold—Uncle Matt to you, Roger—and I believe they should have the papers all ready for us, if you will come and live with us."

For answer, Roger stumbled to his feet and flung his arms around the man's waist.

"Mike said you were a swell guy," he choked.

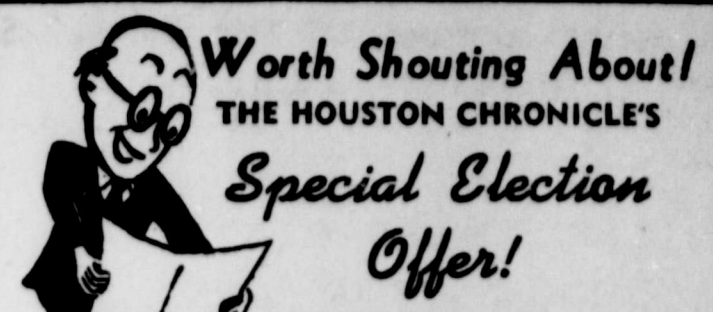

CODY FAMILY REUNION HELD LAST WEEK-END

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Cody held a family reunion at their home last Saturday and Sunday to celebrate the return of their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. D. M. Carrel, from Tokyo, Japan.

Captain and Mrs. Carrel arrived at Seattle, Wash., on August 24 after spending two years in Tokyo. Mrs. Carrel is the former Grace Cody. After visiting relatives and friends, Captain Carrel reported for duty in Tennessee.

Those present for the reunion were Mrs. Lucille Trammel and daughter, Mary Ann, San Marcos; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pittman and daughters, Joe Nell and Judy Beth, Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rongo, San Marcos; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hilley and children, Alton Lynn and Leota Dale, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cody and son, Willie Ray, Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Douglas and children, Joyce and Jerry, Stephenville; and A. E. Cody, Elmer Cody, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Cody, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chapman and son, Carl Daniel, all of Hico.

Visiting friends during the reunion were Sgt. Murray of Camp Lee, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, Dublin, and Mr. and Mrs. Auther Hendricks of Hico.

MONSOON

A wind that reverses its direction with the season, blowing more or less steadily from the interior of a continent toward the sea in winter, and in the opposite direction in the summer.

In losing 897 aircraft in combat during World War II, the U. S. Navy was making a record of losing only one plane to every 18 lost by its Japanese enemy, according to a recent study.

Mrs. John Chewning of Dallas spent the week end with her brother, Mr. Fuller, and wife.

Mrs. Ona Hudson and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Carr of Cleburne, and Mr. and Mrs. Duckworth of Valley Mills were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Thompson the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bowman were in Meridian this week.

Mrs. W. F. Turner returned to her home in Dallas Saturday after a visit here with his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis and son, Ronald Lee, and Danny Ray Walker spent the week end with Roy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Davis.

Mrs. Calvin Fossett and baby of Clifton spent last Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burns. Will and Guy Jones, both of Fort Worth, spent Saturday here visiting relatives and meeting old-time friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Wilson spent the week end in Dallas with their son, Bobby Jack, and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gosdin and daughter, Miss Marie, visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Jack Hummel and family of Fort Worth this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Heifer of Fort Worth spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes.

Mrs. Jack Noel and children of Dublin spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Gosdin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Frank and children of Hillsboro spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owens.

Mrs. C. L. Tidwell returned home Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kennedy of Plano and Mrs. Leon Roberts of McKinney brought her. She visited her children. She is feeling much better.

Major Jack Wortham of Freerport, La., visited his aunt, Mrs. Tom Davis, this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wortham.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hughes were recent guests of their son-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stennis Brown of Mineral Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Poinack of Walnut Springs were visiting here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Blakley of Kennedale spent the week end with his parents.

Mrs. Oris Bakke and children spent the week end in Fort Worth. Her husband works in Bowie, and he came over there to be with them.

Mr. E. P. Rierson of near Cranfills Gap brought a little limb off of a red bud tree that was in full bloom. It is a very odd thing to see these red bud trees in bloom at this time of year. They are the first to bloom in the spring. He gave the limb to Mr. Poinack Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Smith of Dallas spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Ross Cunningham.

Today (Monday) is very cool, which reminds us that fall is here and winter is on its way.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Kenneth Hughes was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. W. R. Gosdin. She was assisted by Mrs. Roy Gosdin. When the guests arrived they were told to register. Miss Marie Gosdin presided over the bride's book, and then all were served with a cold drink, potato chips and cookies by Mrs. Homer Gosdin. All the ladies were told to tell what kind of a dress they were married in, which was very different from the styles of today. The bride was given a spool with some very narrow ribbon on it, and was told to follow it. The ribbon was over the windows and doors from the living room to the back bedroom, had some very rough places along the way. Miss Betty Bradley went with her all along the route to keep her company and read the different slips of paper. While Dorris was on the trail, some ladies brought in a large basket and a box of gifts piled high. The last one of the slips told that she would find some gifts at the end of the trail, and she certainly did! She was told to unwrap the gifts so all could take a peep and all were nice and very useful, of which she was very proud. She thanked all for the nice gifts. All enjoyed the shower very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawrence and children of Duffau spent Sunday with his parents.

Mrs. Georgia Ellis accompanied her daughter home. She will visit with Mrs. Lawrence a few weeks. Her son, Bill, brought them.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bailey and son of Dallas spent Sunday night and Monday with her mother, Mrs. John Miller, and other relatives.

Hardy Lyles of Dalhart, Texas, visited here Sunday and Monday. He was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Phillips Sunday night.

Rev. Tennison was called again to be pastor of the Baptist church. All are glad he was called again.

B. L. Mitchell Jr. of Goliad, Tex. spent the week end with his parents. He was accompanied by Bob Gourley and Kirby Funderburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Myers and son spent Sunday in Cranfills Gap.

A Short Story—

THE RICH AND THE POOR

By STELLA JONES

"The rich and the poor meet together; the Lord is the maker of them all."—Proverbs 22:2.

A very rich family lived in a large city in Arkansas. They were very prominent in church and social affairs. The couple had two children, a daughter and a son. Will called them Mr. and Mrs. William Akins. The daughter's name is Beatrice, called Bee for short. She is married to Mr. Harry Johnson. The boy's name is Andy and he is a graduate of the high school there.

He is very much in love with one of his classmates. She also graduated from a high school. She is one of the salesladies in a variety store. Her name is Mary Pearl Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. Akins and children go by this verse. If the girl friend of Andy's is poor, the Lord made her in His image and she is as good as anyone. Some of their rich friends did not like for Andy to go with her, as she was a poor working girl.

Some of the proud mammas wanted Andy for their son-in-law—but nothing doing.

Andy would repeat this verse to them: "The Lord is the maker of us all, for we all meet and mingle together."

"I don't want to look down on poor people," he would say. "We are rich now and we got our wealth honestly, and I love the girl even if she is poor." This is what he told one of his friends. "We are engaged and will marry in the near future."

One night in July a social was held at the home of one of his classmates. The family was not to say wealthy, but they were well-to-do people.

A large crowd of young people were invited, Mary Pearl among the number. Some said, "Oh, that Mary Pearl will be there and no doubt will look tacky and everything." One of Mary's friends said to her, "The rich and poor meet together; the Lord is maker of us all. He loves poor people just as well as he does the rich. The Lord was poor and we should not look down on anyone that is poor."

The night of the social Andy went to the home of his friend. She was beautiful, was a brunette with dark hair and eyes. Her hair was fixed very nice, with a new permanent which became her. She had on a dark evening dress which fit in the right places. She had bought the goods and made it—would work on it at night.

Andy planted a kiss on her very pretty lips, cheeks and brow. He said, "Oh, but you are beautiful! I am so proud of you, I wouldn't give you up for any of those rich girls. I love you so much!"

She looked at him and said, "I love you too, and would hate to give you up." The rich and the poor will be at the social and the Lord is the maker of us all."

When the couple arrived, all eyes were on them. Some said, "Isn't she pretty?" One girl said to another one, "I guess she borrowed that evening dress." One of Mary's friends said to her, "I think you have her wrong. It was at her home when she was sewing on that dress one night. Remember if she is poor, she is a good nice girl, I liked very much. Remember, the Lord is maker of us all."

The social was nice and carried on nice and all enjoyed it. Some of the rich ones didn't speak to Mary. But some of them would like to of had Andy themselves. He knew some wanted him. He would tell his parents, "Son," they would reply, "if you truly love Mary Pearl Hale, we gladly give our consent for you all to marry."

She will be 18 in November and he will be 21 on Christmas Day.

The wedding was planned for New Year's Day. The poor girls that Mary chummed with were so glad that she was getting this fine young man.

Mary P. kept on working at the variety store. She got very good wages. She would buy some new things and put them in her hope chest. Andy would buy her things and she would put them in her hope chest. Her parents were glad she was getting this fine boy.

His father gave him a big allowance. He would be the head clerk in a big mercantile company after the first of January.

A new house would be ready for them when they came home from their honeymoon.

On New Year's Day Andy Akins and Miss Mary Pearl Hale were married at the home of her parents in the presence of a large crowd of friends. The rich and the poor were there, for the Lord is the Maker of all. Mr. and Mrs. Akins loved Mary, they didn't look down on her because she was poor. A reception was held there. It was a beautiful night, clear but a little cold. The old moon was shining bright.

A shower of nice gifts were given to them when they returned home from their honeymoon.

Andy said to her, "Honey, no more working so just be satisfied." "Oh, Honey Boy, I will try to be," she replied.

A maid would come down and clean house and do the laundry every week. Mary didn't do much of that at home as she had to work all the time.

Mary would go around with her crowd and some of the ones that looked down on her, because she was poor, were her friends now because she was the wife of a rich man's son. She attended clubs and other things. All of them were members of the Methodist church.

When a large crowd got together, Andy and Mary would think of the verse, "The rich and the poor meet together; the Lord is the Maker of them all;" and the Lord prospered them. In a few months Andy was in business for himself. He had plenty of money but he was a boy that didn't like to be idle. He did well with his business. They lived a long and happy life. They did a great deal of good. They would always help the poor and needy.

Mary Pearl had an easy time. She did not look down on the poor class for she had been poor. May all profit by this and not look down on anyone if they are not as well off in this world's goods. "For the Lord made them all, the rich and the poor." And He loved all classes. And we all should also.

THE END.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

THE help we get at times from unexpected sources is almost miraculous. Here's how Floyd Breyer, Allen Lane, S. W., and First Drive, New Philadelphia, Ohio, got unexpected help.

He was responsible for the successful operation of an army of trucks. He says that one of the biggest, and most constant, of worries which he has to carry is to have these trucks operate continuously under conditions over which he has no control, such as rain, ice, sleet, snow. These huge "buggies" cost anywhere from six to ten thousand dollars each, and he sends them all over the state of Ohio and in all seasons of the year. So he can't take life calmly when he has a dozen or more trailer-tractor outfits on the road.

D. Carnegie

On New Year's Eve, 1946, he attended a large party at his local country club. It was a gala occasion and everyone was in a happy holiday mood, awaiting the ending of the old year and the ushering in of the new. That is, everyone was happy except Floyd Breyer. And the reason for his distress was that the snow had been falling for hours and was piling up deeper and deeper, not only in dribs but on the main roads. And the next morning a group of his big expensive trucks were scheduled to venture out into that snow. How could he enjoy the party, engage in lively banter with his friends? He knew he was in for a sleepless night, and when he didn't sleep, business went hay-wire the next day.

Just as his unhappiness reached what must be a climax, with his imagination running riot on what would happen to those trucks, he heard his wife mention a trip they had taken to a small Georgia town the winter before. He recalled his host, a big, broad-shouldered, genial and very handsome man named Jewell, who was president of the Crystal Springs Bleachery at Chickamauga, Ga.

They had had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jewell, and during the course of the meal the conversation drifted to the weather, for it was cold and rainy. Mr. Jewell looked across the table at Mr. Breyer, then almost as if speaking to him only, he said, "I never worry about something that I can't do anything about."

Then, all of a sudden, there at the country club, Mr. Breyer dismissed from his mind all thought of the weather and the trucks. He relaxed, laughed and joked. After he got home, he kept his mind on pleasant things. As a result, he slept soundly all night and awoke refreshed the next morning. Not one of those trucks that went out and nothing go wrong!

Since then, Mr. Breyer says he has been able to eliminate, if not entirely, at least to a great extent, the worry occasioned by something he could do nothing about. When he can do something about it, he gets at it, and forgets to worry.

Interesting Sidelights On Health Given by Morbidity Report

Austin, Texas, Sept. 29. An interesting sidelight on public health in Texas was revealed in the morbidity report of the Texas State Department of Health for the week ending August 28th, which showed a total of 2 cases of smallpox for this year, while in the same period there were 588 cases of diphtheria. Commenting on these comparative figures, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer stated the diphtheria is as readily controlled by immunization as is smallpox, but that apparently the public has failed to recognize this fact, or to act upon it.

"Smallpox, which is highly contagious, is no longer considered a major health problem in Texas", Dr. Cox said, "and this is due to widespread vaccination against the disease. Diphtheria, equally contagious, can also be reduced to the point where a single case is a rarity, but only when parents awake to the fact that every child should be immunized in infancy. The baby's doctor will recommend when this should be done, and if all children were given this protection, there would be none susceptible to contract this killing disease."

Ordinarily the immunity provided by diphtheria toxoid lasts a child until he is of age, however a Schick test should be given before the child enters school. If needed, an additional shot of toxoid should be administered.

"When all children are routinely immunized against this dread disease, it can be virtually eliminated as the health hazard that it now is, to the boys and girls of Texas", Dr. Cox declared.

A Library of Religious Literature.

Lesson for Oct. 3: Psalms 119: 97-105; John 20: 30-31; II Timothy 3: 16-17.

Memory Selection: Isaiah 40: 8.

The fourth quarter we study the Bible itself. It is not one Book, but many, with different subjects and all forms of literature. It is indeed a Library of Religious Literature.

In the 119th, the longest of the Psalms, we learn that wisdom gained through the scriptures will direct man's feet in the right path and away "from every evil way." Thus the word of God may be a lamp unto his feet and a light unto his path.

The Bible has a grand peculiarity that distinguishes it from all other books—it is a revelation of God. We do not read far in it without coming face to face with God. The finest revelation of God is found in the Gospels, the books of good news, which tell us how the Son of God became the Son of Man that men through him may become the redeemed sons of God.

The two verses from II Timothy make the claim of inspiration for the great Book. It is unlike all other books in the authority it demands upon the heart and conscience, because it is the word of God. It is the record of God's revelation to men, and of his will for men. It is therefore profitable indeed "for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for instruction which is in righteousness," and "that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work." May the reader find God for himself in the great Book.
