Open Letter to America's Students:

EISENHOWER ADVISES "STAY IN SCHOOL. LEARN HOW TO BE A GOOD AMERICAN"

(Editor's Note.—The skipper of the News Review is in receipt of an interesting communication from a loyal lady challenging him to write an editorial about a matter of utmost importance currently. The lady didn't write the letter for publication, she said, but asked that the editor write an article from the material submitted. At the risk of violating her wishes, we are reprinting parts of her letter and enclosures, since she has covered the subject so well and has done a much better job than the editor could have done.)

Dear Mr. H:

I am exercising the rights of an American citizen when I make this request of you. I'd like to see an editorial on the front page of our "Hico News Review" written to—and about—the students of Hico High School.

I have been closely connected with our high school group, in that I was Chapter Mother of the Homemaking classes last year, attending their parties, teas, Dallas Fair trips, etc.; also have helped with their social affairs for the four years I have lived here.

On a larger scale, I have worked directly with the Texas youth for five years (three as State Recreational Director for the Home Demonstration Association, and two as State 4-H Chairman for rural boys and girls). At present time, I am teaching a Sunday school class of 25 mixed young people in my own community. I feel that I understand young folks and their needs—hence this request.

Recently there has been an epidemic of marriages in and around Hico. Three girls, ages 15 and 16, who would now be Hico juniors married just before school began. Many others of like age in nearby communities "married out of school." I believe, to combat this "fad" school spirit must be aroused—and school as a whole be made more attractive and desirable to the students.

"An Open Letter to America's Students" by Dwight D. Eisenhower on Page 1 of October "Reader's Digest" has a wealth of material to draw from—for an editorial.

Recognition and commendation to the Hico High School students who have been directly responsible for four new improvements (or ideas) would show encouragement and appreciation.

THINGS DONE

1. Promoted the writing of, and vote the acceptance of a new school song.
2. Started a weekly chapel program (each grade arranging and giving the program as their time comes).
3. Beginning a down-town pep rally before each football game.
4. Re-doing and painting the auditorium stage walls and props. (The Junior Class did this).

In closing, let me say as a parent, I'm one hundred per cent for encouragement, recognition, and backing in any way—to keep our youth in school and happy!

The kind lady's enclosure of the Reader's Digest article probably has been read by a great many, but so that our readers may have benefit of Eisenhower's ideas, the following condensed version is reprinted:

AN OPEN LETTER TO AMERICA'S STUDENTS
By DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER
President of Columbia University

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—I receive many letters from young people. Mostly they ask a question that could be put like this: Shall I keep on with school? Or shall I plunge right off into "life"? But I sometimes feel that I would like to write a general answer to the problem of "school" versus "life."

I think I would say: Dear Jack—or Margaret: You say you wonder if it is worth while for you to go on with high school. You particularly wonder if it is worth while to enter college. I know how deeply it must worry you. I worried me when I was your age.

In a small Kansas town, 40 years ago, a reasonably strong case could be put up in favor of leaving school early. We could be good farmers, good storekeepers, good mill hands, without much book learning. The quickest road to practical knowledge was to do. We would have been right if there were no more to successful living than plowing a straight furrow, wrapping a neat package, keeping a machine well oiled.

WORTH WAITING FOR.
Fortunately, we came of stock that set the school on the same plane as the home and church. The value of education, above and beyond the immediate return in dollars and cents, had been bred into us. Our families stinted themselves to keep us in school a while longer; and most of us worked hard, to prolong that while. Today the business of living is far more complex than it was in my boyhood. Each day profitably spent in school will help you understand better your personal relationship to country and world. If your generation fails to understand that the human individual is still the center of the universe and is still the sole reason for the existence of all man-made institutions, then complexity will become chaos.

Consequently, I feel firmly that you should continue your schooling—if you can—right to the end of high school and right to the end of college. You say you are "not too good at books." But from books—under the guidance of your teachers—you can get a grasp on the things that you most ought to understand before you go to work.

It is expressed in a moving letter I got the other day from a young girl halfway through high school. She said that in her studies she seemed to be a failure all along the line, always trailing everyone else. But then she ended by saying: "I still think I could learn to be a good American."

That's the vital point. Never forget that self-interest and patriotism go together. You have to look out for yourself, and you have to look out for your country. Self-interest and patriotism, rightly considered, are not contradictory ideas: They are partners.

It is dangerous to assume that our country's welfare belongs "alone to their mysterious mechanism called 'the government.'" Every time we allow or force the government, because of our own individual or local failures, to take over a question that properly belongs to us, by that much we surrender our individual responsibility, and with it a comparable amount of individual freedom.

START IT NOW.
Our last war was not won by one man or a few men. It was won by hundreds of thousands and millions of men and women of all ranks. Audacity, initiative, the will to try greatly and stubbornly characterized them. Great numbers of them, if for only a few minutes in some desperate crisis of battle, were leaders.

You will find it so in the fields of peace. We have the world's best machines, because we ourselves are not machines; because we have embraced the liberty of thinking for ourselves, of imagining for ourselves, and of acting for ourselves out of our own energies and inspirations. Our true strength is not in our machines, splendid as they are, but in the inventive, inventive, indomitable souls of our people.

To be that kind of soul is open to every American boy and girl; and it is the one kind of career that America can live without. Start on it now; don't think that you are too young. Loyalty to principle, readiness to give of one's talents to the common good, acceptance of responsibility—these are the measures of a good American, not his age in years.

Farmers to Discuss Means of Utilizing Savings Bond Plan

Agricultural leaders of Texas will meet in Dallas on Wednesday, October 13, to discuss how farmers and ranchers can utilize the U. S. Savings Bonds program for the sound management of their financial affairs.

The conference was called by Nathan Adams of Dallas, chairman of the Treasury Department's advisory committee for Texas. It will be held at the Baker Hotel from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Mr. Adams said that representatives of nearly every farm agency and organization in the state had signed their intention of attending the meeting. Tom Leadley of Lincoln, Nebraska, widely-known editor of the Nebraska Farmer, will preside at the conference. C. N. Sheppard, dean of the School of Agriculture at Texas A&M College will preside.

Mr. Sheppard also will conduct a forum discussion on means for educating farmers and ranchers to the value of regular investments in U. S. Savings Bonds as a factor in sound agricultural management.

Mr. Adams said that the conference would consider problems involved in the Treasury Department's fiscal policies and management of the nation's $252 billion public debt as they affect the farming and ranching industries of Texas.

Participation of the American people, including farmers and ranchers, in management of the debt through their investments in Savings Bonds tends to create healthy economic conditions in which continued prosperity has a better chance to prevail, Mr. Adams said.

"At the same time, people who are regularly investing a part of their income in these securities are establishing a strong financial reserve for themselves," he said. "This reserve can frequently mean the difference between success and failure in farming and ranching, particularly in time of emergency or economic recession."

Mr. Adams said that a special effort is being made to impress upon farmers and ranchers the necessity for building cash reserves during these times of high income, as a hedge against future developments. The effort is being made during the fall months, he said, because this is the time of the year most farmers and ranchers are marketing their crops and planning their investments.

Dallas Brags About State Fair of Texas Opening Saturday

The $30,000,000 State Fair of Texas—hailed as the largest annual exposition in the United States—opens Saturday in Dallas for another breath-taking 16-day run.

The "big berth" of the world's state fairs, which covers 187 acres, is expected to draw two million visitors before it closes. Nearly a quarter million are expected on opening day.

To tell what visitors will see and enjoy at the 1948 Fair has all the earmarks of a gigantic "Texas brag." But the Fair, as "The Show Window of the Southwest" will truly reflect the many facts of life, industry and economy of this section.

Agriculture and livestock will occupy choice positions, but sharing the spotlight will be scores of entertainment features both on and off the Fair's ten-acre Million Dollar Midway.

More giveaways and free attractions will be featured than at any previous State Fair.

The Five Eltons, performing on trapeze and rings 125 feet in the air, will give their sky ballet twice daily, followed by the unparalleled and hazardous mid-air feats of Les Kimris, famous aerial gymnast.

Art Linkletter will originate his nationwide daily "House Party" broadcasts from Fair Park auditorium the week of October 11. These attractions and many other broadcasts will be free.

In the Auditorium Jimmy Durante and Harry James will head an all-star revue. At the Grandstand will be the "Flying L" Rodeo with Jimmy Wakely, cowboy singing star. The Ice Arena will contain the third, all-new edition of "Ice Cycles of 1948."

Eleven special shows and new thrill rides, including the complicated new double ferris wheel, will dot the Midway, the greatest number of such attractions ever assembled in Texas.

Major exhibits will include the South's largest automobile show, a revolutionary agriculture show, junior and senior livestock shows with a premium list of $62,291, Palomino and Quarter Horse shows, $100,000 electric show including television, textile, culinary and antiques show, and a spectacular State Fair art exhibit.

A mile-long parade through downtown Dallas, headed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester, will precede the formal opening. The Governor will be principal speaker Saturday at the dedication ceremonies for the new $80,000 Automobile, Aviation and Recreation Building, part of the Fair's $3,000,000 "new look."

Thrilling Win Over Cranfills Gap Was Conference Second

The Hico Tigers came out on the long end of the score this past Friday night by beating the Cranfills Gap Lions 12-7 on the local gridiron.

The game, attended by one of the largest crowds ever present at the local stadium, was a thriller from start to finish.

The Tigers featured a hard running attack, led by Hill and Ross, whereas the Lions' passing attack began to click in the last five minutes, featuring the passing of Rhodes.

At half-time the score was 6-0 in favor of the Tigers, but the end of the first half found the ball a bare six inches short of a Hico touchdown with still two downs to make the goal. Again in the fourth quarter the Tigers marched 60 yards to the Lions' goal line, only to lose the ball on downs six inches from another touchdown.

With five minutes of playing time left the Lions were trailing 12-0, but took to the air and scored one touchdown, and with 15 seconds to go the Tigers dropped a touchdown pass in the end zone. On the next play Simpson intercepted a Lion pass in the end zone and ran the ball out to the Tigers' 20-yard line. The Tigers ran one play killing time, and the thrilling 12-7 ball game was over and the Tigers had won their second Class 12B football game.

On statistics the Tigers made approximately 34 first downs to five for the Lions.

Touchdowns for the Tigers were made by Hill and Ross, whereas the lone marker for the Lions was made on a quarterback sneak by Rhodes.

The Tigers go to Whitney this Friday, and even though Whitney was defeated by Cranfills Gap, a real tussle is expected. So let everyone be at Whitney yelling for the Tigers.

Probable starting line-up for the Whitney game will be:

Center—Ratliff.
Right Guard—Jaggars.
Right Tackle—Lane.
Right End—Collins.
Quarterback—Burden.
Halfback—Lively.
Fullback—Hill or Simpson.
Fullback—Ross.

Iredell to Meet Meridian Friday Night At Iredell
The Meridian Yellowjackets will travel to Iredell for a game Friday night on the Dragon Field, to renew an ancient rivalry that promises a good game for anyone. Meridian lost to Glen Rose 13-6 last Friday night, while Iredell dropped a decision to the Methodist Home of Waco by a score of 26-0. Methodist Home showed a team that would equal any of the better clubs in this area, having run over Valley Mills in practice scrimmage 21-7 earlier in the season, and Iredell showed good ball to be able to hold the score down to this figure.

Both Meridian and Iredell are eager and ready with few injuries on either club. Game time is 7:45.

Veterans' News

Prior notice from the Veterans Administration will be sent to veterans whose National Service Life Insurance term policies will start expiring on or after October 8, 1948.

The notice will be sent two months before expiration date of the original policies. This will give the veterans time to convert their term insurance for an additional five-year period. Renewals may be made without a physical examination, but at a higher premium rate based on the veterans' attained age at the time of renewal.

VA stressed the fact that veterans who plan to renew their term insurance should submit their renewal application, plus a premium payment, prior to the expiration date of the original term policy.

More than a million and a half veterans were in training under the provisions of the GI Bill on September 1, 1948, VA reported. Over half, 871,000, were studying in schools and colleges, with 267,000 enrolled for institutional on-farm training and 414,000 taking training on-the-job.

"Encouraging progress", especially in the development of new methods of diagnosis, is revealed in first reports from doctors working with the Veterans Administration's radio-isotope research program.

VA revealed that Leukemia patients are now being treated with radio-phosphorus in most of the VA hospitals having radio-isotope units. Radio-iodine is being employed to treat some thyroid diseases.

VA revealed that the business will be operated in the future under the name of Central Grain & Feed Co., it was announced, and for the present is in charge of C. M. Hedges.

In a display advertisement in this issue of the paper, announcement also is made of the firm's appointment as Red Chain dealer in Hico. The Universal Mills of Fort Worth plan to have other important announcements about the connection from time to time.

Guest Speaker Due to Address Meeting of Garden Club Friday
Miss Mamie Roberts of Howe, Texas will be the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Hico Garden Club, according to announcement by the reporter.

The meeting will be held at the Hico Methodist Church, Friday, October 8, at 3 p. m., and is open to any who would like to attend. The public is welcome.

HICO-FAIRY ROAD NEXT ON COUNTY F-M PROPOSALS

(Hamilton Herald-News)

Eighteen miles of farm-to-market road between Hico and Fairy is on the agenda for tentative approval by the State Highway Department, following a discussion of the matter by the Commissioners Court at a called session held last Wednesday. District Highway Engineer D. M. Puckett of Waco met with the Court and was scheduled to return Thursday for an inspection of the proposed route. Application will be submitted to the State Highway Department upon his recommendation.

The program will be a two-year project and will give Commissioners Precincts No. 3 and 4 their share of representation on the highway program. Precincts No. 1 and 2 already have had their share on the farm-to-market roads. In No. 1 the road from Hamilton to Indian Gap was completed last year on a three-year basis.

Other county roads have been provided for by the $75,000,000 warrant issued last year, with each precinct receiving its pro rata part in road construction and equipment.

The proposed Fairy-Hico road is only in the planning stage but state approval is expected.

FRESHMAN NEWS
On Tuesday night, September 28, the Freshman girls were formally initiated. The next day every one of them were complaining about what happened to them.
The library was opened Monday, September 27, and is used as the study hall. Everyone enjoys it because it has lots of good books.
The boys will have their F. F. A. initiation Monday night, October 4.

SOPHOMORE NEWS
The Sophomores are busy getting ready for their chapel program. The Juniors gave a very fine and very funny one last week.
All of the Sophomores are very proud of our boys for winning the game played against Cranfills Gap last Friday night. We are sure they will do their best in the game with Whitney this week.

JUNIOR NEWS
The Juniors, as well as everyone else, are really proud of the game our boys played Friday night. We won, but it was a little close. The boys in the Junior Class that played were: Bobby Ratliff, Benny Collins, Wendell Burden, Raymond Lane, Glenn Ross, Paul Allen, Lester Simpson, Donald Davis, Valmer Norrod, Clayton Roberson, and John Henry Loudermilk.
Six of the main string are in the Junior class, and we are very proud of them. Later in the season when we know a little more about it, we will let you know who is going to play basketball.

SENIOR NEWS
We would like to take this opportunity to extend our compliments to the Junior and Sophomore classes for the very nice chapel programs they put on. Everyone seems to be enjoying the snake dances and pep rallies so join us when we have one.

We are very proud of our football boys and we hope they continue to do as well as they have been doing.
We have elected our candidate for F. F. A. Sweetheart. She is Jimmie Barnett.

HOMEMAKING NEWS
Tuesday night, September 28, the Homemaking girls had formal initiation for the Homemaking I girls. We had fun initiating all of them. They are now members of the Future Homemakers of America.
Homemaking I and II girls cooked last week. Homemaking II girls did sewing last week.
Everyone is looking forward to the masquerade party Wednesday night.

SPORTS NEWS
As everyone probably knows, Hico did it again. The Hico Tigers defeated the Cranfills Gap Lions by a score of 1-7.
As close as Hico came to scoring twice more just to lose the ball—and as close as the Gap came to scoring—it was pretty hard on everyone's nerves. It was nip and tuck all the way and I think if you ask just anyone that saw it they will say it was really worth the money.

The next game will be at Whitney, this Friday night. A little far off, but we think it will be worth all the time and money that you put out. Let's stay in there and go with the Tigers.

A POEM FOR THE "WEAK"
FOR SALE
For sale, one flivver with a worn piston ring.

Differential's dry, you can hear it squeak.
Ten bolts missing; front all bent;
Tires blown out; ain't worth a cent.
Gets lots of speed; runs like the deuce;
Burns either gas or tobacco juice.
Tires all off, been run on the rim—
But a mighty good buy fer th' shape it's in!

THE SPOTLIGHT
Ready to go? Ready to know? Well, I'm back again to tell you who your best friend went out with last night. Guess who? Your boy friend?
Thursday night everyone seemed so happy, though. At the snake dance the boys stayed at the back of the crowd and the girls at the front. (With the exception of Paul Allen, who was with Betty Jane). But a little later you just should have seen them at the six-man football game. Glenn and Pat S., Charlotte and Buck, La Verne and Ralph, and Shirley and Vernon. The latter four were supposed to be popping popcorn.
What's this about five Hico girls yelling in the Fairy Pep Squad? Reckon they wandered over there by mistake? They were Myrna, Jimmy, Jo Nell, Barbara, and Jo. Friday night at Hico's game I saw Mildred and James. After the game in the shirt-tail line I see most of the girls talked or threatened their boy friends into the line. Patsy Jo and Glenn there; Jo and Lester; Myrna and Delbert; Betty Jane and Paul; and Charlotte and Buck. Afterwards, Milton and Jimmy got together.
You know something, when the spotlight picks up Saturday night, its light gets brighter and moves faster. I guess it, too, feels the thrill of a Saturday night date. You beg all week for the car, get it and ask the little lady. She spends the rest of the week wondering what she will wear. Saturday night finally comes, the night is warm, and everyone friendly. There's just a difference when Saturday night comes around—maybe it's the sack of popcorn you know he's going to buy you. Maybe not!
Some of the couples getting a lot of the breeze are Glenn and Patsy Jo, and Dub and Mary.
Gee, was Patsy Tooley on rose-colored clouds Saturday night. Just to look at her made you think of moonlight and roses. She and Gordon H., Jimmy and Milton, were in town Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.
Who was the tall, dark guy Pat Duzan was showing off Saturday night? With them I saw Myrna and Delbert, Jo and Tom. Also saw Louise Leeth with Billy Mc.
My, seems this Betty Lou and James Leeth affair is getting serious! At least, I saw them with Mary and Odell in the show Saturday night.
Bobby Jack Rainwater is doing fine! With Mary Nell K. on one side and Norma Ruth C. on the other. Also in the midnight show sit Shirley, Vernon, Barbara, Garland, Wendell, Ine, and Ralph and La Verne. Seems that's all to be seen, so I'll close for now.
So long!

Girl Former of Louisiana Wed in Hico

The simplicity featured in the wedding which was performed at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, October 12, at the First Presbyterian Church in Alexandria, La., Septemite Miss Mildred Gatlin of Alexandria, formerly of Hico, and Hubster Dickson Griffing, also of that city. Rev. W. G. Foster Jr. officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Pre-nuptial music was provided by Miss Dorothy Hollis, organist, and Jane Keith and Fred Ohi, vocalists.

Given in marriage by Willard L. Cobb, manager of Radio Station KALB, Alexandria, the bride wore a floor length gown of green chiffon velvet designed with long fitted sleeves, drop shoulder neckline, outlined with double fold of the velvet, basque waist and sheered peplum effect over hips. Her hat was an open crown polka bonnet of dress material with the halo trim in lighter shades of green flowers. Her accessories were brown suede and she carried a shower arrangement of green orchids atop a white prayer book.

Mrs. Ralph Griffing of Beaumont attended the bride as matron of honor and Mr. Griffing served the groom as best man. Ushers were James E. Byrom Jr. of Alexandria, La., and James S. Mims of Natchitoches, La.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Webster Griffing of Alexandria. He attended Southwestern University, Memphis, Tenn., and University of Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Griffing will be at home in Beaumont where he is associated with Griffing Nurseries as landscape architect.

Following a reception held in the parlor of the Presbyterian church immediately after the ceremony, the couple left by plane for Mexico City on a honeymoon trip. For traveling the bride chose a two-piece wool beige suit with black accessories.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO OBSERVE OIL PROGRESS WEEK IN OPEN SESSION

The youth and virility of our American way of life is typified to a startling degree by the amazing development and growth of this country's petroleum industry. We have become so accustomed to saying "fill 'er up" at the nearest service station that it comes as a shock when we realize that the modern history of oil really started in 1901—the same year that Marconi sent his first wireless message across the Atlantic.

It was January 10, 1901, that the Spindletop discovery well near Beaumont, Texas, laid loose with a deep-throated roar and started hurling skyward 100,000 barrels of crude petroleum daily. From that time petroleum became increasingly important. In 1900 it supplied only eight per cent of the power and heat requirements of the United States. True, adventurous men had explored the eastern part of the nation for 40 years, but they worked on a hit or miss basis and their shallow wells had comparatively small yields.

Then came the Spindletop and the country went wild. Here is what the Beaumont newspaper had to say about it: "The Beaumont oil boom will eclipse in significance, extent and human interest the Indian stocks, the Mississippi bubble, the gold fields of '49 and even that pathetic melodrama of the Klondike."

That prediction came true to the letter. The new abundance of oil came just in time. The next decade saw the introduction of the Tin Lizzie and an almost limitless variety of oil-powered, labor-saving equipment. The oil age had begun, and it continues today, when petroleum and natural gas supply almost half of our heat and power needs. Methods of developing new fields, as well as those of drilling and storage, have been greatly improved since Spindletop due to the intense competition among oil producing companies. Gone are the wild boom towns where staid business men toted revolvers and where their buggies sank knee deep in the mud of unpaved streets. Gone, too, are the mad scramble for leases and locations; the well derricks crowded shoulder to shoulder like trees in some monster forest; the roaring, untamed, often blazing gushers and the wasteful open-air storage basins. Today Beaumont and other oil towns are eminently respectable, with wide paved streets and soaring skyscrapers. Leases are drawn as carefully and equitably as life insurance policies. Conservation techniques have made it possible to space wells efficiently; to prorate their production so that excessive flow does not exhaust the underground gas and water pressure which pushes oil toward them through porous rock formations. Fields are even re-pressured by pumping gas and water back into them so that much oil which previously had to be left underground can now be recovered. Gushers have been tamed by means of complicated arrangements of pipes and valves called Christmas trees. Wells which no longer flow are pumped, or "stripped" of their maximum recoverable oil. Fields are not opened for production until steel storage tank "farms" have been built and pipelines run to the nearest refinery or shipping center.

Perhaps the most interesting developments have come in drilling. In the early days most wells were put down by the percussion method. That has been largely superseded by rotary drilling, in which a bit revolves auger-fashion until it reaches great depths. Picture the difficulties of this operation in view of the fact that hundreds of holes more than 8,000 feet deep have been drilled. (The average well depth drilled in the United States last year was 3,593 feet).

At 8,000 feet the drill is on the end of a pipe composed of 400 twenty-foot sections. Whenever a bit has to be sharpened or replaced—and this happens frequently—the entire pipe must be hauled up, unjointed and stacked. This becomes doubly difficult and expensive when a well has been curved in order to strike oil deposits lying underneath a mountain, swamp, or off-shore in the ocean.

Some wells go as much as three miles deep and present even more complicated problems. Hunting for the needle in a haystack is easy compared to fishing a broken bit out of such a hole. Sometimes the task cannot be accomplished. Then the well has to be abandoned, even though it may have cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. (It should be added that four out of every five wells drilled in exploring for new petroleum have to be abandoned anyway because they turn out to be dry holes.)

The bottom of a hole gets one degree hotter for each 60 feet of depth. (In one three-mile well a thermometer registered 380 degrees—168 degrees hotter than boiling water. To lubricate and cool deep-going drills—as well as to plaster up the sides of holes so they will not cave in or blow out, and to carry out rock cuttings—force pumps circulate thick, gooey, specially-compounded mud in and out of wells. Oil drillers spend $10,000,000 a year—just for mud!

It is by the use of such progressive methods that America's 13,000 competitive production companies manage to meet a demand for oil products which is running 18 per cent higher than in 1945, at the peak of the war, and 45 per cent above 1941, the last pre-war year. It is also the way in which they have pushed our reserves of discovered petroleum to the high record of almost 25 billion barrels despite that unprecedented demand. This year they plan to drill 40,000 wells, of which more than 7,000 will be exploration wells in search of new oil sources. These will reach an aggregate depth of more than one hundred thirty million feet—a distance equal to two and a half times the earth's diameter at the Equator.

HOMEMAKING GIRLS HOLD FORMAL INITIATION

On September 23, the informal initiation of the Homemaking I girls took place. The twelve girls wore their clothes wrong-side-out to school. They couldn't comb their hair or make up their face.

On September 28, they were formally initiated into the club. The girls and club mothers were then served with frosted cake and tall house cookies. The table was laid with a white cloth, with a centerpiece of red roses; on each side of the roses there were two white and one red candles. Each girl was given a red and white ribbon. The song leader, Pat Duzan, led us in our club song.

President Betty Goughly asked if incoming members were eligible. Secretary Mary Moore stated that members were eligible. The eight purposes were read by club members.

Vice-President Jo Matthews read the Club Creed, as follows:

We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage and high hope. For we have clear consciousness of seeking old and precious values. For we are the builders of homes, homes for America's future, homes where living will be the expression of everything that is good and fair, homes where truth and love and security and faith will be realities and not dreams. We are the Future Homemakers of America. We face the future with warm courage and high hope.

New Look In Kitchens Features Color and Convenience Details

Three modern, colorful all-gas kitchens that housewives have seen only in national magazines can be seen in reality in the Natural Gas Building at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, October 9-24.

Each kitchen will occupy its own booth in the Natural Gas Building, with one wall cut away, providing fair-goers with an unobstructed view of all features. Pamphlets will be available about each kitchen so that interested fair visitors can carry home floor plans and descriptions of the features which may be incorporated into their own building or remodeling ideas.

The City Council has instructed City Law Enforcement Officers to strictly enforce parking within the line and observance of traffic signal, both cars and pedestrians.

Natural gas cabinets, gay snack-lounges, handy snack-bars, and practical planning desks are some of the newer elements that appear in the reproductions.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Get The Truth!

Called on my good friend "Cappy" Miller, who edits the County Bee, the other day. And hanging up on the wall of Cappy's office is this slogan for his paper:

"Remember there are two sides to every question. Get both sides. Be truthful."

like beer or ale, and of those who swear by nothing but cider. And from where I sit, once you've got both sides—and faced them truthfully, you realize that these differences of opinion are a precious part of what we call Democracy—the right of the individual to vote as he believes, to speak his mind, to choose his own beverage of moderation, whether beer or cider.

Interesting Facts And Information On Texas Prison Rodeo

The Texas Prison Rodeo is the largest attraction of any penal event in the United States. Last year almost 100,000 persons paid their way into the Prison Stadium. Several performances were complete sell-outs and hundreds were turned away.

The State of Texas does not appropriate any money toward athletics, movies, or entertainment of any kind for the men and women in its penal institutions, nor are State funds available for such things as eye glasses, false teeth, artificial limbs, etc. The prisoner's own fund, into which go all proceeds from the rodeo and the prison commissaries, called the E. and R. Fund (Education and recreation) takes care of all this.

Albert Moore, manager of this year's show, planned and conducted all Texas Prison Rodeos since 1933. His success seems to be due to his knowledge of livestock plus an uncanny ability to select men who are both good riders and good showmen.

The new Prison Stadium which is being built by inmates using funds from the E. and R. account will hold 40,000 persons upon its completion. It has been falsely called the "Million Dollar" stadium, but will have cost but a fraction of that amount due to the fact that the brick is all made within the Prison System and the cost of labor amounts to only ten cents per day per inmate working on the project.

General Manager, O. E. Ellis, who took over in January was witnessing his first rodeo when he joined Governor Beauford H. Jester to witness the opening day ceremonies on October 3.

Most of the livestock, used in the Texas Prison Rodeos is owned by the Texas Prison System.

Rodeo souvenir programs, a 40 page book this year, are planned and printed by inmates. They sell for 50 cents each and last year netted more than $5,000 for the E. and R. fund.

Convict craftsmen show their wares at a special booth during "Rodeo Time" and usually sell out before the last performance. In most instances these fine hand-made articles represent a whole year of "piddlin'" in the craft shop in whatever spare time the worker may have. Prisoners must buy their own tools and materials.

Inmate rodeo contestants can win cash prizes, but otherwise are not paid for their rodeo performances. Before being accepted, each man must sign a waiver of all damages that might accrue against the Texas Prison System in case of accidents.

Due to tremendous crowds, prisoners are not allowed visitors during the month of October.

A miniature electronic device collects and transmits to ground observers 24 different kinds of information about flights of the Navy Aerabee high altitude rockets which travel at nearly 3,000 miles per hour.

Described as a "Fiesta of Fun," it will provide free entertainment for the entire family and a view of gas appliances that save time and labor and add to the health and comfort of the American home.

The exhibit will be housed in the air-conditioned Natural Gas Building amid a striking setting inspired by Modern Mexico. Among its features will be a giant mural, 17 by 26 feet, portraying cordial relations existing between the United States and Mexico. This outstanding work of art was painted by Perry Nichols of Dallas, among the leading artists of the Southwest.

A preview of the exhibit will be held on the night of October 8 and a portion of the program will be broadcast by WFAA (820) from 8:30 to 9 o'clock. D. A. Hulley, Lone Star Gas Company president, will unveil the Nichols mural. Responses will be made by R. L. Thornton, president of the State Fair of Texas, and representatives of the Texas State government and the Mexican government.

Other features of the gas company's show will be: An exhibit of five paintings by Clinton King who specializes in portraying Mexican life on canvas. The paintings are direct from Chicago where they have been exhibited by the Associated American Artists Galleries.

Alfredo Casares' Mexican orchestra in native costume and Carmencita Carbantes, vocalist, playing and singing fiesta music from a patio band stand in a setting copied from a Mexican street scene.

The colorful all-gas kitchens faithfully reproduced from Mexico, Better Homes and Gardens and Ladies Home Journal magazines.

The Natural Gas Building is easily recognized by a giant flame atop a seventy-foot tower painted Mexican pink. Lounges, rest rooms and ice water will be available for the comfort of visitors.

Biography in the Bible.
Lesson for October 10: Genesis 11: 31-12: 5; 17: 1-8.
Memory Selection: Proverbs 3: 6.

As an example of biography in the Bible, we have today chief events in the life of Abraham. Native of Ur of the Chaldees, the oldest city of the world, he was a city youth who became a rich sheik of the desert. After he was a man and married, his father Terah removed five hundred miles up the Euphrates River to a place called Haran.

The Lord had called Abram to leave his kindred and go into a land to the west. After Terah's death, Abram, with his nephew, Lot, and all his household journeyed to Canaan. Abram was then seventy-five.

Fifteen years later, the Lord appeared unto Abram and entered into a covenant with him—to make him the father of kings and nations and to give him and his descendants the land of Canaan as an everlasting possession. In making the covenant, God changed Abram's name to Abraham. Abraham means "exalted father," while Abraham means "father of a multitude." History records that Abraham became the father of the Ishmaelites, the Edomites, and the Hebrews, and that, in the Hebrew race, he became a blessing to "all families of the earth."

But the chief distinction of Abraham was that of being a pioneer of faith. Through faith he departed for Canaan, with rich promises of material blessings, but he was led by spiritual motives. "For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." May we learn from him to attain unto faith, and to strengthen it by obedience and service.

AAA Administrative Officer Gives Some Timely Information

The AAA Office is still issuing Prior Approvals and Purchase Orders for Winter Legumes seeds, such as Austrian Winter and Dixie Wonder Peas. Total cost of Peas would be $9.75 on Austrian Winter and not over $10.00 per 100 pounds for Dixie Wonder Peas. The AAA will pay $5.50 per 100 pounds for either of these peas.

Vetch seed cost $24.00 per 100 pounds and the Government payment is $13.80. Up until Friday, October 1, 1948 we have given Approvals to approximately 200 farmers. Each farmer keep in mind that November 15, 1948 is the final date for planting winter legumes. Payment can be made on Hubam Clover but no purchase orders will be given. The AAA office is out of funds for Phosphate at this time. We do have some terrace funds available now, but can't tell how long it will last. Remember, Approvals given on terraces is, first come, first served.

You must have your lines run and furnish this AAA office with a sketch and the measured length of each terrace, diversion or drainage ditch asked for and also tell us who is to build your terraces. Please be sure and report your terraces as soon as they are built, or if something has happened and you are not going to build them, report this, so some other farmer can get his place terraced with the money you have obligated. Please cooperate, you might be helping your neighbor, in turn he might be helping you.

It looks as though we might have Peanut and Cotton allotments for 1949. We will tell you more about this at a later date. JIM F. GILBREATH, Adm. Officer, Hamilton Co. ACA.

Teaching Prevention Of Fires In Schools Cheapens Insurance

Austin, October 4—Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, recently sent out a reminder to superintendents of public schools which receive lower insurance cost for their city or town by teaching fire prevention.

Following state requirements for the amount and type of fire prevention taught nearly 600 Texas schools earn a 3 per cent reduction in the city key rate or a 5 per cent reduction in the final rate of school building and contents for rural areas.

Attaching a sheet of minimum requirements of fire prevention to be taught in each grade, Hall also added a brief outline for use if a handbook should not be available. Lack of funds prevented the Fire Insurance Department from having the "Fire Prevention Handbook for Texas Public Schools" revised or reprinted by the beginning of the school term. He therefore asked schools to use their 1946 editions. "Texas school administrators and teachers deserve much credit for the excellent work they are doing in fire safety education," the Commissioner told superintendents. "We ask your continued cooperation for the 1948-49 term."
