HERE IN HICO

By CAROLYN HOLFORD

This week we're going to make this column really live up to its name. Here in Hico. We could crusade a bit for various needed items, such as better lighting or modernization of store fronts, but we'd rather point out a few of the recent developments that mark progress. Most of you know about these things, but perhaps you haven't added them all together in such a manner as to spell P-R-O-G-R-E-S-S.

A project that has the aspects of a major industry is the new plastic factory instituted by E. D. Goodloe on the Hamilton highway. It is now making plastic items on a small scale, and the sponsor has hired comparatively few people as yet, but it is rather hopeful to think of its future prospects.

The Remnant Shop, located in the building occupied by J. C. Rodgers in his insurance agency for so many years, is much larger than it may look on first inspection. Miss Annie Coleman revealed the other day that she has three other such shops, at Hamilton, Goldthwaite, and Clarkwood. It is a comparatively new field and she has had trouble purchasing the goods, but she said that Butler Brothers have started selling piece goods in small sizes now, which makes purchasing easier. By the first of the year she hopes to have ten remnant shops throughout Texas.

Hico has always been a good poultry-and-egg center, but Knox & Tulloh has expanded that type of business with additions to their building which cover almost the entire south half of the block facing the railroad. They recently purchased the old Petty building, and the hatchery located therein will be managed by Leonard and Lois McLendon. They will live in the building formerly occupied by Watkins Plumbing, in an upstairs apartment, newly built and modernly decorated.

J. B. Woodard, Texo feed dealer, also has a large poultry and egg establishment, which has expanded from his original location into the old News Review building too.

Main-street businesses have seen considerable change in ownership the past year, and Hico has been proud to welcome two Clairette merchants, in Salmon's Department Store and H. W. Sherrard Grocery and Market. Roberts Jewelry Store is another new business, located in the old Porter Drug Store building, previously housing Kenny's Variety Store, which has been moved to the side street adjoining Hoffman's Department Store.

The Tot-to-Teen Shop, established by Mrs. Rice Edwards and Mrs. Mildred Allison, is next door to the jewelry shop, and offers a type of goods not heretofore specialized in. Mrs. Jessie Ellington has Pickin's are good, says lovely Jill King of Tyler, who will be one of 46 beauties in the Queen's Court of the Texas Rose Festival to be held in Tyler Sept. 30, Oct. 1 and 2. Recent rains in the Tyler area have assured one of the largest rose crops on record.

Newspaper and Radio Representatives to Help Open Fair Oct. 8

More than 2000 Texas newspaper and radio men will be guests of the 64th State Fair of Texas when the $35,000,000 exposition opens Oct. 8 for a 16-day run.

Opening Day is traditionally Press and Radio Day, when newsmen gather to view the newest wonders wrought by the Fair and to report them to their readers.

Representatives of virtually all daily and weekly newspapers and radio stations in the state will be on hand for opening day festivities.

A number of Oklahoma newspaper men also have been issued invitations.

Most of the weekly newspaper editors who will attend the Fair will await until they return home to write accounts of the exposition for their readers but representatives of the big dailies will file thousands of words to their newspapers describing the glories of the 64th State Fair of Texas.

The newspaper and radio men will be guests of the Fair at the Texas-Oklahoma football classic; Spike Jones will give them a special late matinee performance of his Musical Depreciation Revue of 1950 in the Auditorium, and Joie Chitwood's daredevil drivers will entertain them with a program of "planned calamity" at the Grandstand at 8 p. m.

The visitors will have a professional interest in the exhibition of statewide winners in the competition of Texas press photographers. The display will be open to the public for the first time on Press and Radio Day at the Museum of Fine Arts.

In between these events, newsmen will find plenty to occupy their time as they nose about among the other features of the great Fair.

It is generally recognized as the wildest, fastest rodeo in the world with the most savage outlaws of the range pitted against the rugged, reckless outlaws of the Texas Prison System.

Long-Time Citizen And Business Man Lost In J. C. Rodgers' Death

After an active life considerably over the average span, and a period of retirement during which he had received tender, and loving care from his family, J. C. Rodgers was called by death last Friday morning at the Hico Hospital, where he had spent the last days of his 87 years on this earth.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Hico, with Rev. L. H. Davis in charge. He was assisted by Rev. J. L. Ray, local Methodist pastor. Burial was in Hico Cemetery, with Barrow-Rutledge in charge of arrangements.

Palbearers were Roy Adkinson, Richmond Herrington, Marvin Marshall, Ben Chenualt, L. T. Burden, and Jack Malone.

Job Caswell Key Rodgers, born February 22, 1862 at Carrollton, Carroll County, Arkansas, was the youngest and last survivor of a large family. He came to this community in the late twenties, settling first at Old Hico and later moving to the present site of the town. He was a charter member of the Baptist church when it was moved here from Old Hico. He and other members of his family were prominent in progressive moves which built up this section.

He was married in 1883 to Artemisia Haynie, and they were happily married for 61 years, until her death four and a half years ago. To them were born four children the eldest of whom died in infancy. Those surviving a son, Ernest Rodgers of Hico, Claude Rodgers of Tyler, and Miss Mettie Rodgers of College Station, a member of the faculty at Texas A. & M. College and formerly an instructor at Baylor University.

Mr. Rodgers was one of the true pioneers of the town. He was a large property owner, and did a thriving business until advancing age forced his retirement. In 1942 he was honored by the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. with a dinner attended by company officials and local friends, paying tribute to his half-century of direct association with that insurance firm. He had held a number of local offices, and was active in the church, civic and social life of the community before his retirement. He had been living at Waco and College Station with his daughter until July 16 of this year, when he returned to Hico to spend his last days.

Mr. Walser moved here from Abernathy last November. He was born in Lee County, Texas, Dec. 5, 1896. He married Miss Zepha Lynn Jan. 25, 1919. He was a member of the Abernathy Church of Christ.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture's OFFICIAL REPORT ON WEEKLY SWING OF FARM MARKETS OVER THE SOUTHWEST

Price trends at southwest farm markets formed a patchwork of ups and downs during the past week the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Wheat lost a cent or two for the week, but white corn advanced 3 to 4 cents a bushel, yellow corn 5 to 7, and oats and barley a fraction. Milo gained 4 cents a hundred pounds. No. 1 hard wheat closed Monday at $2.30 1/2 to $2.36 1/2, at Texas common points. No. 2 yellow milled sold from $2.21 to $2.26.

More new crop rice on the market lowered prices a little last week. Most feedstuffs brought lower prices too, but wheat mill-feeds advanced. Hay prices rose $1 to $3 a ton as wet weather slowed haying. Peanuts showed little change.

Cotton closed Monday unchanged to 10 cents lower than a week earlier. Spot middling 15-16 inch brought 29.15 cents a pound at Dallas, 29.30 at Houston, 29.25 at Galveston, and 29.90 at New Orleans.

Livestock marketings increased last week over the week before, which was cut short by a holiday. Beef and veal sold higher and pork and lamb lower for the week.

Cattle gained early last week but lost later. Monday's closing prices were mostly the same as a week earlier, but some classes showed gains. Good calves showed slight gains to $1 while others showed up to 10 per cent losses. Good calves sold up to $21.50 at Houston, $23 at San Antonio, and $23 at Oklahoma City. Good and choice made $27 at Fort Worth and $24 at Denver.

Hog prices also moved both up and down during the week, and closed Monday largely 25 to 50 cents lower at Texas markets and $1 to $1.50 lower at Oklahoma City and Denver. Feeder pigs held steady. Butchers topped at $21.50 at Fort Worth.

Spring lambs sold steady to strong for the week at Texas markets but somewhat lower at Oklahoma City and Denver. Ewes showed little change. Good ewes sold around $10 at San Antonio, and $8 to $8.50 at Fort Worth. Goats lost 50 cents to $1 at San Antonio. Common and medium goats sold Monday at $6.50 to $6.75.

Wool interest last week centered in the Denver auctions, where prices held firm. Mohair remained fairly steady in Texas trading. Colorado cauliflower sold strong this week at $1.50 to $2 a crate. Onions also moved up to $1.75 a sack for 2 to 3 inch Sweet Spanish. New Mexico apples and Colorado cabbage were in liberal supply at Fort Worth, but lettuce remained scarce. Louisiana sweet potatoes steadied after early weakness, as wet weather slowed digging. Most U. S. No. 1 Porto Ricans loaded on trucks at $3 per crate.

Egg prices rose several cents a dozen as cool weather spurred demand. Canned white eggs reached 60 cents at Dallas and were headed eggs brought 55 to 58 at Fort Worth. Denver paid 55 to 58 for large whites. Poultry held steady in the southwest despite lower prices in other areas.

Jackson, an excellent chicken and dressing plate was served by Mrs. Jackie McCook and the Texan Cafe force. Business matters were transacted rapidly to make way for the entertaining program, which consisted of clarinet duet numbers by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bradley Jr. of the Hico Public School music department.

With one more week to go on the attendance contest, Lion Hitt's team gained 25 points more on the team headed by Lion Moon, making the present total stand at 985 to 890.

Appreciation Shown For Publicity On G. I. Vocational Fair

Following the outstanding success of the G. I. Fair staged at Stephenville last week end by the Erath County Vocational School, The News Review received a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Mary Sue Staig on behalf of the County Board and Department Heads, for publicity in this section.

"We wish to express our gratitude," Mrs. Staig wrote, "for the cooperation which was given to us by your newspaper in this instance, such cooperation is invaluable and the willingness to assist in publicizing our fair has proved its worth in the large number who attended even under very adverse weather conditions."

"This large crowd which attended is indicative of a well informed public, and this was due largely to the efforts of the newspapers. All in all, the fair was a great success and we wish to thank you for your very important part in making the success of the fair not only a hope, but also a reality."

WORM'S EYE VIEW
 Well hello everybody. It's been quite a long time since I have seen you, so long that is you may have forgotten who I am. Well I am Nilly, the worm who crawls around the halls at Hico High spying on you.

It's been such a long time since I have been here that I was afraid I wouldn't know all of you but the first person I met in the hall was a boy named Lester Simpson. Some I understand call him Lester the Presser. I would judge that he is about 5 feet 4 or 5 inches tall, with dark brown hair and as close as I could see his eyes look hazel color. Lester seems to be quite a sport but also has somewhat of a temper to go with it. That doesn't seem to stop people from liking him especially the girls. Maybe he gets that part from his friend Glen Ross who also seems to make a hit with the girls.

If I'm not mistaken that's the bell and if I know what's good for me I better get out of the danger zone and crawl back in a dark corner until everything calms down and then I will be out looking for my next victim. So you better be on your best behavior while I'm around.

SPOTLIGHT
 Well, school has once more started and it looks as though this will be a rather prosperous year. Several new teachers have been added and the student body is very happy to have them.

The spotlight has been out of use for the last three months, but it's focusing all right now, and there aren't many things that it misses. It's always on the go—probing the dark corners, so you'd better watch out.

Attending the show Thursday night were Roline and Myrna, Wendell and Betty Jane, Mona Ruth and Norman.

It was a little late before they got in but Mary and Odell made it to the show, Friday night.

The night of all nights, Saturday. As I focus the spotlight around, it brings into view the following couples attending the show: Glen and Patsy Jo (who left before the show was over. Oh Glen??), Myrna and Roline, Wendell and Betty Jane, Bobby and Mary, Mary M. and Odell, Wanda Jean and Don, Mary Jo and Royce, Mary Nell and Joy Ann were with Leon Herrin.

Riding around together Sunday afternoon were Roline and Myrna and Mona Ruth and Norman. By the way, they were viewing the beautiful scenery around Hico.

Mary Jo and Royce and Wanda Jean and Don were at the show Sunday afternoon.

Mona Ruth and Norman were there Sunday night. Those who attended church together Sunday were Charlotte and Buck, Wanda Jean and Don, and Mary Jo and Royce.

Fairy

By Correspondent

We received a nice cool spell last week followed by showers the last of the week, which makes us feel that winter weather is on its way. Mr. and Mrs. Sikes, who were residing at the Wilson house in Fairy have stored their household goods and are making plans to accompany his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sikes of Jonesboro to West Texas. We did not learn whether they plan to seek a location or help in the fall harvest of crops in those parts. Walter Porterfield has moved to the residence vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Sikes.

Mrs. Gladys Cox was in Gatesville Friday of last week to meet her daughter, Mrs. Charles Price and little daughter, Cherry Kay of Austin. They visited in the V. H. Heyroth home while there. Mr. Price, who spent the week end in Waco, Dallas, and Fort Worth, on business came by for his wife and little daughter on his way home.

Mrs. E. M. Hoover and mother, Mrs. A. L. Newman visited Tuesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. Minnie McCarty, who is ill at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Oglesby of Hamilton. They report her improving from a recent stroke she was thought to have suffered.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Dickerson visited a while Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Brittle Little, who has returned home after spending several days last week in the Hico Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and children and her mother, Mrs. Jesse Massengale of Carleton spent Friday of last week at Dublin in the home of their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and family. Mr. and Mrs. Sellers attended the Stephenville Fair sponsored by the G. L. boys in the afternoon and reported seeing quite a bit of the boys' work on display.

We have been informed that Mrs. Callie Burris is very poorly again. She is a former resident of Fairy and is making her home with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Burris, who formerly resided at Olin, but we believe now reside near Goldthwaite. Next Sunday is Fairy's regular singing day, but members of the singing class have decided best to discontinue the singing here. So far as we know, this date will be open now to any of the communities who would like to organize a fourth Sunday afternoon singing.

Mrs. Prentice Newman visited Sunday afternoon in Cranfills Gap with her mother, Mrs. Dennis Pendleton and other relatives.

Rev. Allen of Hamilton filled an appointment at the Agee Baptist Church Sunday morning and he and his family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakely and Lera Jane the remainder of the day.

Probably many have been wondering what the galvanized box mounted on a post, near the west cemetery gate is all about. Well, when opened you will find maps of different sections of the Fairy Cemetery, which will enable visitors to quickly locate relatives' graves, if they are in doubt as to the location. With the addition of new graves, and enlargement of the cemetery many are confused as to location of graves. The box also contains a note from the secretary of cemetery to visitors and pencil and paper for visitors to use if they have any information to offer. There are several graves in the cemetery yet unidentified and also several in the lost class. Below we are giving the names of those as lost, with the hope that some one can give correct location of these graves.

Mrs. J. D. Walker, buried in 1892 in middle section of cemetery, near daughter of J. D. Walker, Row 7. Mr. Whitson, buried in 1901, near center of middle section. Marvin Olden, buried 1905, near center of middle section. Three Greens in middle section in rows 8 and 9 near N. L. Green. Mr. White, location unknown. Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson, south end of west section. Self girl near south end of west section.

Next Sunday, September 25, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCoy will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home four miles southwest of Fairy on the Hamilton road. Many friends and relatives are expected. Open house will be held in the afternoon and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Information Given On Distribution of AAA Potatoes Here

Delivery of surplus government potatoes through the AAA office at Hamilton has been curtailed for the time being, according to announcement by J. Doyle Love, local vocational agriculture teacher.

Due to the fact that there are no more surplus Texas potatoes, orders for carload lots of potatoes for animal consumption have been canceled until a surplus of potatoes can be declared once again. When there will be a surplus of potatoes again no one knows, Love added.

If the farmers who have already ordered potatoes or farmers who have been planning to order, will be patient, maybe this surplus will be declared soon. If and when there are more potatoes for sale for animal consumption, farmers will be notified, Love concluded.

England's King is not allowed to enter the House of Commons.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
3—Decision by arbitration.
4—Decision by neutral referee.
5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

... It is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act...

Obviously the railroads cannot be run

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

UNINTENTIONAL CRUELTY

WILLIAM RALSTON, Toronto, Canada, told me a story so distressing that I can bring myself to pass it on to you only because of the good I think it may do. Parents sometimes hurt their children unnecessarily in their thoughtlessness and in their assurance that being parents gives them the privilege of saying what they like.

D. Carnegie

Many children are sensitive about imposing on their parents, and this type of child, from adolescence on, is on the alert not to be in the way. Such children want to know that they are wanted, or they don't want to be there.

The story Mr. Ralston tells is about a couple we will call Mr. and Mrs. Yancy (because that is not their name).

Mr. Ralston visited in the home of this couple a few days after the war was over. Said Mr. Yancy, "Steve (their son) will be back soon and we must get back to normal life. He can run the grocery business and we will take a good long rest, maybe take a trip somewhere."

Mrs. Yancy agreed, said they'd go to some of the places she had long wanted to see. They were discussing their plans with great pleasure when the telephone rang. Mr. Yancy answered it, and after a few moments of exclamations and conversation, he turned to his wife who sat eagerly listening as she guessed who was on the other end of the line.

"It's Steve, dear," said Mr. Yancy, "he wants to talk to you about bringing a buddy home with him."

At the telephone, Mrs. Yancy welcomed her son eagerly. But when he said, "My buddy got kinda shot up at Manila and lost an arm and a leg, so I thought I'd bring him home."

His mother asked him to hold the wire while she discussed the matter with her husband, who went back to the telephone and said, "Your mother and I have been working pretty hard; and since they will care for your buddy in a veterans' home, we think he'd better go there. He'll be better off there. We need a long rest, we're not getting any younger, you know."

"All right, Dad," the boy answered. "He would be a burden on you."

The next morning came a telegram from the war department. Steve had committed suicide. His body was brought home for a fine funeral. When the casket was opened, there he was in uniform. One leg of his trousers and one arm of his sleeve lay flat—empty.

Airplane Development As Agricultural Tool Planned In Project

College Station, Sept. 21.—Texas A. and M. College has been selected as the site of a national research project to develop the airplane and its component parts as effective agricultural tools.

The development program will be under the direction of Fred E. Weick, professor and research engineer of the Aeronautical Engineering Department, A. and M. College, and director of the Personal Aircraft Research Center. Weick, who is one of the nation's outstanding engineers, is known as the designer of the simplified control, spin-proof "eroupe" airplane. He came to A. and M. College last year.

Details of the point undertaking and operating agreements were worked out in a conference of representatives of the National Flying Farmers Association, USDA, Department of Commerce, and the A. and M. College System at College Station, August 24. Formal announcement of the agreement was made at the fourth annual convention of the National Flying Farmers Association at Colorado A. and M., August 26 to 29.

The cooperative project was developed from a program set up by the Flying Farmers during their annual convention last year at Columbus, Ohio.

A new plane design suited to the needs of agriculture and development of improved methods of distributing sprays, dusts, seeds, and fertilizers from the air will be the immediate objectives of the project. The plane and its accompanying application equipment are to be designed to meet the needs of the average farmer.

Research along this line already under way at the A. and M. Personal Aircraft Research Center, a college-owned airport, wind tunnel, laboratories and shops, and outstanding personnel available in the engineering field, plus the close tie-in between engineering and agricultural work led to the selection of A. and M. College for this project, according to H. W. Barlow, dean of Engineering. Wide use of the airplane in agriculture in Texas and 12-month flying weather in the area were also factors in the selection.

Geo. Jones' Brother Buried At Pottsville Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services for William C. Jones of Amarillo, brother of George Jones of Hico, were held at the Riley Funeral Home in Hamilton Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. Burial was in the Pottsville Cemetery.

Mr. Jones lived in this community until 1917. The following notice was printed in the Amarillo-Globe: William C. Jones, 54 years old, 312-B East Twenty-third, died yesterday afternoon in St. Anthony's Hospital after an illness of five months.

He was an employe of the American Express Company for the past 31 years, and had lived in Amarillo since 1929 when he came here from Wichita Falls.

Mr. Jones was a member of the Methodist Church here and of the Brotherhood of Railroad and Steamship Clerks.

His body will be in state at the N. S. Griggs & Sons Funeral Home until 6 o'clock this evening.

Surviving him are his widow, Blanche; two sons, L. J. Jones of El Paso and Lt. William Jack Jones, with the US Army in Germany; four brothers, Clifton, in Odessa, George in Hico, Tex.; Frank in Hamilton, and Loy of Plainview. Five sisters also survive. They are Mrs. L. J. Franklin, Dallas; Mrs. Clark Newton, Fort Worth; Mrs. E. C. Sadler, and Mrs. Rupert Kemp, both of Hamilton; and Mrs. Bob Boling, Canyon. Three grandchildren also survive.

Hico FFA Chapter Enrollment Now Is Largest Ever

With some one hundred and thirty students enrolled in Hico High School under the administration of J. E. Lincoln, some thirty-five per cent are enrolled in either beginner or advanced vocational agriculture, according to J. Doyle Love, local vocational agriculture teacher.

Eighty per cent of the boys in Hico High School are students of vocational agriculture. There are fourteen boys in the beginner class and thirty-one in the advanced vocational agriculture class.

With the addition of shop work in the agriculture program, and with a stepped-up classroom requirement, there should be a lot of farmers developed in both of the classes, Love added.

To make class work more interesting and more enjoyable, visual aid material will be used to a great extent, Love concluded.

Sleep Is A Necessity Of Life and Health, Says State Officer

Austin, Texas, Sept. 19.—Sleep is a necessity of life and health, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and habitual loss of sleep will tend to retard the body's recovery from fatigue of the day's activities.

"We may be able to go without sleep for a night or two, but too little sleep for a prolonged period will undermine the health of a rugged person and turn a cheerful individual into a cross, irritable one," Dr. Cox said. "When good health can be protected to such a large extent merely by sleeping, and thus allow overtaxed bodies and minds to secure the proper rest, it is hard to understand why so many persons are heedless of this important health measure."

Some individuals require more sleep than others. How well we sleep is as important as how long we sleep. A good nights rest means a sufficient number of hours spent in sleep to enable each person to feel well, do efficient work, and to keep in a cheerful humor the next day.

"Some outdoor exercise each day, a comfortable bed, and fresh air in our sleeping quarters," Dr. Cox said, "will help us to sleep soundly at night. Do not mul over your problems and ideas after you have gone to bed. Make your plans early in the evening for a good night's rest by slowing down from the physical and mental work of your daily life. When you arise each morning, rested and with a feeling of general well being, you will be amply repaid for your thought in planning a good night's sleep."

Chiff Roberson of Pendleton was in Duffau this afternoon (Monday) looking for cotton pickers. He said he had 60 bales of cotton open and was looking for pickers.

This brings to mind what an old pioneer citizen of Hico said many years ago. Commenting on the small cotton yield this country makes (especially Erath Co.) this is his words: "We never make too much to handle ourselves."

W. C. Rogers was called to the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Minnie Sikes in Dallas last week. She passed away in the hospital there last Thursday and her remains were laid to rest in the Mesquite Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hanahew of Cleburne visited his daughter, Mrs. Paschall Brown and husband and family last Sunday.

Elder Teletus Cawyer of Stephenville filled his regular third Sunday appointment at the Church of Christ Sunday. There was preaching at the Baptist Church also, but we failed to get the name of the preacher, except he was not the regular pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Phillips made a trip to Denton Sunday. They placed their daughter, Annette in TSCW. Annette intends to get her degree next summer.

Mrs. Mildred Head and daughter of Iredell and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stone of Stephenville visited the ladies parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Burgan and family Sunday.

Pee Wee King of 2110 North Sixth Street in Waco is spending a few days with grandparents.

Gas Company Invites State Fair Visitors to Natural Gas Building

Visitors to the air-conditioned Natural Gas Building during the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, October 8-23, will be provided with entertainment and all the comforts of home while viewing a spectacular display of ranges and other modern gas appliances with automatic features designed to bring a "better standard of living" through maximum efficiency, convenience and economy of operation. Spacious lounges with comfortable chairs and clean rest rooms and free ice water will be available to guests. Entertainment will be provided by Organist Frank Norris who will present concerts at regular intervals during the day and night.

The exhibit will include two "New Freedom Gas Kitchens," each distinct in design and with special features of comfort and convenience. Both kitchens will be complete in every detail from the gas range and refrigerator with the latest developments for efficiency, down to the new floor coverings.

The kitchen will accent color. They will include the "Pink of Perfection Kitchen" for small homes by interior decorators of the Ladies Home Journal magazine, and the "Holiday Kitchen" by interior decorators of the American Gas Association. The latter is particularly adapted to large homes.

The "Miracle of Cold Heat" may be seen at a dramatic exhibit of gas refrigerators. Dozens of other colorful exhibits will show new uses, new beauty and new conveniences provided by gas ranges, water heaters, vented heating equipment, clothes dryers and dish washers, all with automatic features. Also on display and in actual operation to bring comfortable temperatures to the exhibit building will be air conditioning units that employ the same gas flame to produce either cooling or heating by the flick of a tiny switch.

The Natural Gas Building is about a block southeast of Fair Park Auditorium and may be located by a 70-foot tower atop of which is a giant simulated blue flame, with "GAS" lettered out on four sides in neon lighting.

Master Sgt. Dawson Visiting With Parents After Overseas Duty

Master Sergeant Geoffrey S. Dawson, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Dawson of Hico, has returned home for leave and reassignment after 14 months tour of duty with the Army of Occupation in the Ryukus Command, New Mexico, and spent a week with their daughter, and the father went on to Albuquerque to pick up his son, who returned with them last week and expects to spend a 30-day furlough here before going to his new assignment at Fort Sill, Okla.

Master Sergeant Dawson arrived in Okinawa in June last year and was assigned as Sergeant Major to the 40th Military Police Service Battalion.

A former student at Howard Payne College, Sergeant Dawson served in the Asiatic-Pacific theater during World War II. He re-enlisted in the Army at Dallas in August, 1947. This is his fourth tour of duty overseas.

Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District Notes

G. W. Hurley, 5 miles south of Pottsville in the Wilson Conservation group reports a corn yield this year of 45 bushels per acre following second year Madrid clover. According to his brother-in-law, who farmed part of the place several years ago when the land was new and very productive, this is the best corn he ever saw grow on the place.

Mr. Hurley states that the physical structure is also improved. The compact condition of the soil about six inches below the surface sometimes called hard pan, has been broken up by the clover roots, and a condition which allows for easy water penetration and an increase in water holding capacity has been established. Mr. Hurley further states that this improved physical condition is perhaps more important than the increased corn yield for a single year.

Some District Cooperators continue to excavate, shape and smooth collective outlet waterway, construct diversions above cultivated fields and build terrace systems on cultivated fields as shown below:

Mrs. R. F. Seroggin, whose farm is one mile west of Hamilton and now operated by W. P. Lawson, has constructed 20291 feet of large channel type terraces, 950 feet of collective outlet waterways.

Gilbert and Marvin Sommerfeld, 15 miles southeast of Hamilton in the Ireland group, have constructed 18206 feet of large channel type terraces, 795 feet of diversions, and 830 feet of collective outlet waterway.

K. R. Jenkins, 18 miles northwest of Hamilton in the South Carlton group, has built 2935 feet of channel type terraces.

Local Boy Transferred To Fort Ord, Calif., for Army Basic Training

Bill D. Spinks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Spinks of Hico, enlisted in the United States Army recently according to S-Sgt James R. Inglis of the Stephenville U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station. He enlisted in the grade of Recruit for a period of three years.

After completing enlistment processing at the Waco U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Main Station, Recruit Spinks was transferred to Fort Ord, Calif., where he will receive basic training prior to being assigned to a duty station.

HOME BURNS SUNDAY

Felix Strader and family lost their home near the city limits on the Chalk Mountain Highway, and all their household possessions except the clothes they were wearing, when fire of unexplained origin broke out at mid-afternoon last Sunday.

The family had just left the home for a visit, and upon returning were unable to save anything.

another type of business which is comparatively new to Hico, in her Gift Shop adjoining the De Luxe Beauty Shop.

Coming up Main Street toward the post office, we find that Felix Shaffer is back in Hico, having bought J. L. Goodman's Clover Farm Store, and his son-in-law, Grady Vreay, is associated with him. Also the Malones have moved into the cafe formerly operated as Red's Cafe. The store front has been painted white, and many improvements have been made inside.

W. B. Coats has come over from Hillsboro to make a citizen and is adding new merchandise all the time in the furniture store formerly known as Barrow's. On the other side of Main Street, the white stucco building on the corner by the highway now houses the Petrick Insurance Agency along with its former occupants, G. C. Miller and Shirley Campbell.

Turning down the highway, you will notice Lundermilk's Cafe, Flo's Little Kitchen, and Bess Mingus' Dress Shop, among the comparatively new businesses.

Neel Truck & Tractor Store, on another side street, would be hard to recognize if you remember it from a year ago. Having taken in the Old Community Public Service Company building and added the new modern International Harvester tower, the complete structure has been repainted white.

Across the street, Blair's Hardware, Electrical Supplies and Sporting Goods store has expanded a whole lot since it was Blair's Tin and Plumbing. Jake and his kids have taken a lot of what Luther Knox left of that city block. They did leave room though, for Moon's Backhorn Cleaners, Corner Drug Company, John and Garland Barber Service, Ralph Boone's Western Auto Store, Ras Proffitt's Magnolia Station, and a few other staid establishments.

Speaking of staid establishments, the First National Bank has undergone a "new look," with its partitions being cut off at the top and the addition of fresh paint, along with the installation of modern machines and other equipment.

Off from the main business district, you will find Central Grain and Feed Company, managed by C. M. Hedges, in the old Ellington Feed Store.

The Hico Hospital has grown too, and the white frame building joining the original Austin stone structure, houses the Clinic for doctors' offices.

May Bates and Molly Wolfe are apparently enjoying and efficiently operating their Hico Florist shop just south of the hospital.

The churches around Hico have put on new additions lately too, proving either that the population is growing or folks are becoming more faithful to their religion.

Duzan's Magnolia Station near the Methodist Church sports a flying red horse that really lights up and flies. Many of the stations in large cities haven't got a claim on a horse like this one.

Orville and Sandy Ogle narrowly escaped tragedy during the past year when a truck landed head first in their station, but their station is now better than ever. And the grapevine says they still have something else up their sleeves, although they haven't verified the rumors yet for publication.

Many new homes have been built around Hico in the past few years. If you don't believe it, just drive out the highways toward Stephenville, Waco, Glen Rose, or Hamilton, and count 'em. And while you're driving out toward Glen Rose, pause to admire the Keeney Chicken Palace and new garden added for the summer. If it's big enough to attract Bob Wills, we home folks should give it some credit for being a good start toward recreation centers, so badly needed here.

Improvements on recreation facilities have also been made in the Hico Theatre, recently remodeled and sporting a brilliant neon sign, and even more recently the football stadium, where the boys now have adequately equipped dressing rooms and showers, and a well-sodded playing field.

In the line of civic improvement, we must not overlook the street-paving that has been in progress all summer, and work at the water plant. There are still streets that are rough, but you'll have to admit that the business district and a few other places are smoother now.

That includes, we believe, the most outstanding changes for the better, with the ever-present possibility of having unwittingly overlooked some deserving establishments that probably are so obvious that the regular NR force will have a hard time explaining why they were not mentioned.

And now that they have been enumerated, we wonder why we should think of leaving to seek a fortune elsewhere. Guess the North Pole just calls us, so we're going to the northernmost tip of the Texas Panhandle in Perryton, Texas, to assemble a woman's page every week for the Ochiltree County Herald. But we hope to come back to Hico soon to witness other improvements that doubtless will be made in our absence.

Meanwhile, you folks be good to Mother and Daddy and Buck, who work pretty hard on your home paper. They'll give you just as good a sheet as you'll let them—so a lot depends on your continued cooperation.
