

P. W. Hamilton, local M-K-T agent, sees a note of sadness in the abandonment of the "Doodlebug" passenger run by the Katy, effective after Saturday, June 3. In fact, Paul's plain downhearted about it. And doubtless he has due cause to be.

During the last score of years the editor has seen passenger service progressively cut to the present point of annihilation. Those citizens who have been here longer remember the depot as a bustling, bustling center of activity in busy seasons and a congregating place that served as a social center for those who used to go down to "see the train run."

Abandonment of the passenger service has been inevitable, it seems, for a losing proposition is never continued indefinitely by modern-day management, be it a corporation or individual ownership. And the Katy officials finally convinced the railroad commission that the local passenger run wasn't paying.

No fears are held for the continuance of the line for hauling freight, for it is an important connection and even now millions of dollars (government money) are being spent to put the bridge across the Brazos and the trestle across the new lake at Whitney. But still there is a genuine feeling of regret that the passenger trains—scantly patronized as they were—will cease operation Saturday.

Quite a few local citizens are planning to make the last run with the "Doodlebug." We hope they treat it with the respect the occasion deserves, but mark the closing of local passenger service without too much dismay, alarm, or foreboding.

Dum tacit, Doodlebug.

Without any attempt to draw a deadly parallel, the skipper of this home newspaper which might be classed as a public service institution, would like to remind local people of the importance of giving a little thought at the proper time to the perpetuation of those enterprises they might miss so sorely were they to be pulled up by their roots and discontinued.

From a purely selfish angle, we see a similar situation that could exist were the attitude of a few merchants toward their home paper to become general.

Here again, the rule of justifiable profit holds true. Printing equipment is expandable, and a situation could possibly arise that would make the time propitious for pulling up stakes and going to greener fields. In the case of the News Review, this is not contemplated, but let's use our imagination and picture what would happen. And it could happen, you know, for there is no railroad commission authority regulating such a case.

It wouldn't be any time until a few civic-minded individuals would be tearing their shirts to induce some other newspaperman to come in and fill the gap. Subscriptions and promises of huge volumes of advertising and job printing would bring results. And again Hico would have a paper—perhaps a better one—but what is the sense in going through all this routine in order to obtain what already exists?

The same condition would exist in the absence of a bank, a lumber yard, a drug store, a funeral home, or any other establishment that was needed. This is just a thought to ponder over. May the situation never arise just this way, but it doesn't hurt to consider these angles now and then.

Yes, dear friends, there are some dry goods stores in Hico. No, you haven't been reading much about them lately in the News Review, but if you fail to get a copy of their strictly commercial messages (mostly printed out of town) just scramble around on the floor of the post office lobby and fetch one that's been discarded.

Meantime there are many other progressive merchants here who place their advertising regularly in the home paper—not through sympathy, but because they have found by experience through the years that it pays.

Give them a break when making your purchases. They deserve it, for in a spirit of fair play they are supporting the only medium that publicizes worthwhile affairs of the town and community. They reciprocate by expecting and getting a square deal right here at home. They will treat customers the same way, too.

The editor may have appeared derelict to his duties in not having more to say about this year's crop of graduates. True, a short greeting was inserted at the head of this column a couple of weeks ago, but no attempt was made to tell the graduates about the facts of life.

Now we have received from our perennial correspondent, Roy Derrick, an article on this subject entitled "Mother's, Daddy's and Teacher's Hope," which we think adequately covers the subject.

I am trying to express the feelings of one parent. We believe that all parents and all real teachers are like-minded.

We think the 1948 and the 1950 classes are the greatest ever to emerge from the local school. Of course we are prejudiced toward our own sons and daughters, but how about other people? They don't share our prejudice and de-

Dairy foods step into the spotlight with the Scottold Twins of Ice Follies fame when the dairy industry observes nationally in June its 14th Annual Dairy Month. The twins, Joanne and Joyce, whose skating skill is acclaimed from coast to coast, say: "We're healthy because our favorite foods are dairy products."

With the annual per capita use of milk and its products at 249 quarts, there is still need for a 40% higher consumption of milk and its products, according to scientists, who say Americans should consume 341 quarts a year.

Among the cooperators with the dairy industry in the June Dairy Month nationwide program to develop a better understanding of dairy foods are the nation's newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations, food, drug and variety stores, restaurants, hotels and the railroad industry.

Duffau Leads, Hico Gains In Bosque Loop

Hico and Duffau played one of the best games of the season last Sunday before a large crowd of people. Duffau won the game by a score of 2 to 1. The following account as submitted by Festal Elkins, president of the league:

Both pitchers went the distance with Laminack striking out 10 batters and pitching very effectively in the pinches. Only in the third inning was Duffau able to score when they got their 3 runs to win the game.

B. Gibson started his first game for Duffau and went the distance as the winning pitcher. This fellow showed very good pitching poise on the mound and has excellent control.

Duffau is leading the League standing by a whisker, and Hico is in a three-way tie for fourth place, which is very good after getting off to a very poor start.

Duffau had 3 runs, 6 hits and made 2 errors. Hico had one run, 6 hits and 2 errors.

Score by Innings:
Hico 000 000 010
Duffau 003 000 000
Winning Pitcher—B. Gibson.
Losing Pitcher—Laminack.

Iredell won their game from Johnsonville by the score of 13 to 11. Shiloh won over Alexander 8 to 5 to retain their hold on second place in the standing.

League Standing:
Won Lost Behind
Duffau 6 1 —
Shiloh 6 2 1/2
Iredell 5 2 1

Expanded Services of Barnes & McCullough Publicized This Week

In a full-page advertisement on Page 3 of this issue of the News Review, H. E. McCullough, manager of the firm of Barnes & McCullough, advises readers of expanded services which qualify his institution in every way to live up to its motto of "Everything to Build Anything."

Back in 1922, when the firm entered the local field, this motto was featured and it has lived up to admirably when operations of that era are taken into consideration. Then a lumber yard was essentially a place where one could expect to buy two-by-fours and other dimension lumber, nails, sheet iron, and occasionally a few of the other things necessary in building plans.

Today there is a vast difference, and a far greater obligation when an institution assumes responsibility for providing everything necessary to supplying the building trades. In the prime essentials there are many new products that have come on the market, and which a well equipped builders' supply house must stock if it serves fully and adequately.

Then, too, there are manifold appliances and home conveniences which are now looked upon as necessities. In this field also Barnes & McCullough have tried and have been most successful in keeping abreast of the times.

Attention is called to the new displays of added lines which have put the salesrooms up with, if not ahead of, the larger city stores. Particularly striking are the model kitchen, the lighting fixture, and sample bathroom displays, which are established in quarters directly behind the main office.

Mr. McCullough and the efficient personnel of his organization are particularly anxious to have the public call and inspect these planning aids which are available to homeowners, whether their plans call for immediate action or not. Everyone connected with the business is proud of the displays, and anxious to show them.

Stephenville Publisher Announces Award for Outstanding Gridster

Stephenville, June 1.—The Stephenville Daily Empire and Empire-Tribune will give an annual award to Tarleton State College's outstanding football player, beginning with the 1950 fall season.

This announcement was made today by Rufus Higgs, publisher of the papers, and E. J. Howell, president of the college.

To be known as the John Fielding Higgs award, it will be presented each year at the football banquet by Rufus Higgs, Lieutenant Higgs, who was a bomber pilot in the 8th Air Force during the last war, went down over Liepzig, Germany, in May, 1944. He will be remembered in Stephenville as a sports writer on his father's newspapers.

Purpose of the award, according to its donor, is to give suitable recognition and a prize to the player who during the season has shown superior ability both in games and in practice, has exhibited outstanding sportsmanship qualities, and has excelled in team leadership.

Tarleton's football coaches and the chairman of the Tarleton Athletic Council will select the winner.

Change In Ownership At Local Locker Plant Announced This Week

Consummation of a deal involving ownership of the local locker plant was announced this week, after negotiations which have been under way for several weeks were brought to a close.

M. S. (Bill) Norton, new owner and manager of the enterprise established here in the fall of 1946 as Hico Frozen Lockers, Inc., stated that the Nortons had purchased all the outstanding stock in the corporation. At its inception the corporation's stock was owned by members of the Norton family and the family of Y. C. Paschall of Brownwood.

It was only after an intensive search for a location for another point as a step in the expansion of a similar business already established at Brownwood that Mr. Paschall turned his eye to Hico. After investigation of possibilities offered elsewhere, he and Mr. Norton settled on the local field, and in spite of handicaps in securing title for the desired lot and other obstacles, through the cooperation of various local individuals the enterprise was assured and construction began.

Postwar handicaps in securing construction materials and locker plant equipment were gradually surmounted, and on Dec. 9, 1946, the institution served its first customer, H. L. Sargent, who brought in two hams and two shoulders for storage.

E. H. Couch brought in the first hog for slaughtering and processing on Dec. 16, 1946. It was not until March of the following year that the management proudly announced readiness of the lock boxes which have been in such great demand before and since that time.

With the ownership entirely at home, employment of home labor, and centralization of management, Norton looks forward to giving even better service to customers of the locker plant. He contemplates more services and a larger stock of merchandise, with promotional publicity through steady newspaper advertising, according to a full-page message on the back sheet of this paper which carries a valuable coupon deal.

The fair will include such shows, booths and games, such as dart boards and fish ponds. These will be built by the Cub Scouts and their dads. Admission will be nominal, and the proceeds will go into a fund to buy equipment for the scouts to use in their summer program.

All parents are urged to attend, and also the public.

EARLY-DAY GRADUATES HOLD 3RD REUNION, TO BE AN ANNUAL AFFAIR

NEW LOCATIONS FOR FAMILIES IN SERIES OF MOVES

When the Ray Cheeks built their new house on the lot purchased from D. F. McCarty and moved in last week, they started a succession of moves that has displaced a number of families from their erstwhile haunts.

The Cheeks are now occupying their new home, which is a model of beauty and efficiency. Their friends almost envy them. They moved out of the house in the same block, the former John Clark home, later purchased by the late E. C. Allison Jr., and now owned by Ray's father-in-law, Gus Miller.

Into the vacated premises moved Mr. and Mrs. Miller from their farm home on the Stephenville Highway, the former Waldrop Nursery property. The premises vacated by the Millers have been leased by the Bill Nortons, and the new sole-owners-of-the-locker-plant plan to really "go to town" in a country sort of a way.

Now occupying the house vacated by the Nortons is a new family in Hico, that of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woodard and son, Brent, formerly of Goldthwaite. He will work here with his brother, J. B. Woodard, at the produce house.

There have been a number of other moves in the community, but this is the major mass migration—also immigration.

Funeral Services Held Thursday for Veteran of Spanish-American War

A large crowd of relatives and friends gathered Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist Church to pay their last respects to George Roddy Holladay, 75, who died Wednesday in a veterans' hospital in Waco, where he had been a patient for some time.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p. m., with Rev. E. E. Dawson, Rev. L. H. Davis and Bro. Merle King officiating.

Mr. Holladay was born January 5, 1875 at Searcy, Alabama, the son of Jake and Emaranda Holladay. He came to Texas at the age of 21 and was married in 1906 to Miss Augusta Frances Giesecke, who preceded him in death. A veteran of the Spanish-American War, he had been a member of the local Baptist Church for 40 years. He was the youngest of his family, and the last to go.

Survivors include four of their five children. One son, Dan, preceded him in death when he was killed off the coast of North Africa, while serving as a fighter pilot in World War II. Those surviving are Mrs. Dorothea Gordin, Muleshoe; Otis Holladay, Texico, New Mexico; Mrs. Pauline Jenkins and George E. Holladay, Hico.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Prater, H. N. Wolfe, Henry Davis, Grady Hooper, Richmond Herrington and R. B. Jackson.

Participants Meet Here Last Week to Discuss Old Times

The third reunion of former Hico school friends took place here on Friday and Saturday of last week, with headquarters at the Bluebonnet Country Club.

At a meeting on Friday it was decided to go into a permanent organization, to be known as the "Hico Home-Town Club" and to meet once a year. Officers and committees appointed to serve for the next meeting were Alsey Alford, corresponding secretary; Will Hooker and Mrs. Harry Gleason, arrangements committee.

Three years ago this project was begun, with Alsey Alford as promoter, for the purpose of renewing friendships of the early-day graduates of Hico High School, and meeting at graduation time in Hico. Since then it has broadened to include many whose parents were pioneers and early residents of Hico and active in its business, social and educational development. Because of their early associations, their descendants are united in a band of love for Hico as their old "hometown" and for each other as childhood friends and classmates.

With the country clubhouse as headquarters, the program this year included luncheon at noon on Friday with Charles Wiseman of Galva, Illinois as host and dinner at night with Lester Halle and his daughter, Mrs. Eileen Felker of Whitewright, presiding as host and hostess.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Edmonds of Gladewater were hosts at a luncheon at noon, while W. F. Hooker was the genial host that night to a fish fry at the Airport Cafe in Stephenville and later in his home thus culminating two full days of activities and happy associations.

One of the highlights of the occasion was the arrival on Saturday of Harry Davis and Mrs. Thad Grace, son and daughter of J. N. Davis, who for many years was superintendent of schools here, and who occupied a prominent place in the educational and cultural life of the town.

Another appreciated guest was Mrs. I. R. Parks of McAllen, the former Miss Lula Wiseman, who taught school here for many years and endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact.

Those who attended from out of town were Mrs. Sidney Cupp, Kansas City, Kansas; Charles Wiseman, Galva, Illinois; Mrs. Lula Parks, McAllen, and daughter, Mrs. Roberta Lawrence, Falfurrias; Mr. and Mrs. Alsey Alford, Loving, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. John Vickrey, Porterfield, Calif.; Mrs. J. N. Stone and children, Jimmy Jr., and Donna, Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mineral Wells; Mrs. Tom Burnside, Lamesa; Mrs. C. E. Yager and grandson, Frank Weaver Yager, Miss Minnie Lockett, Abilene; Mrs. Mary Conley, Brownwood; Mrs. Estelle Burrough, Stamford; Mrs. Helen Grace Williams, Spur; Cubby Hooker, Port Worth; W. F. Hooker and Mrs. Addie Smith, Stephenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Edmonds, Gladewater; Mrs. Freeman Edmonds and Miss Donna Edmonds, Dublin; Lester Halle and his daughter, Mrs. Eileen Felker, Whitewright; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grace, Whitney; and Wesley Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Grace, Mrs. Mary Grace Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Grace Jr., and children, Martha and Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, all of Dallas.

Mrs. Lauren Johnson

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Purves Baptist Church for Mrs. Lauren Johnson of Purves, who passed away Friday afternoon, May 26, 1950 in the Dublin Hospital after several days illness. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Lanham Campbell, assisted by Rev. Fern Miller, Baptist pastor of Dublin and Rev. Chester Sylvester, Baptist pastor of Carlton.

Lauren McKenzie was born in Madison County, Feb. 18, 1868 and lived there for a number of years, later moving to this section where the Pecan Cemetery is now located. She was the daughter of the late James W. and Emeline McKenzie, pioneer citizens of Carlton. In young womanhood she met George W. Johnson and they were married June 14, 1887. To this union was born four children, James W. Johnson, Dublin, Mrs. Emma Fox,

Fort Worth; Claud W. Johnson, Purves; and Ernest Hugh Johnson, who died at the age of 11 months. Her husband, three brothers, John McKenzie, Wilson McKenzie of Carlton, Burl McKenzie of Denton, and one sister, Miss Prelia McKenzie preceded her in death. Other survivors are one sister and three brothers, Mrs. Ophelia Upham and Rev. Carl McKenzie, Carlton; Dr. Walter McKenzie, Waxahatchie and Burton McKenzie of Hopkinsville, Ky. The two latter brothers were unable to attend the funeral. Five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren and many other relatives and a host of friends also survive.

Mrs. Lauren Johnson was one of the most consistent and faithful Christians ever known, for she lived what she believed. She was converted at an early age and joined the Old Friendship Baptist Church and later moved to Purves and joined the Baptist Church there and was a member of this church when she passed to her reward. Burial was made in the beautiful Pecan Cemetery near Purves with Harrell Funeral Directors of Dublin in charge of all the arrangements. Pallbearers were Guy and Lavelle McPherson, Ernest Goodwin, Floyd Woods, Elco Stracner and Willard Akin.

The following poem was written by her heart-broken brother, Rev. Carl McKenzie as he sat by his sister's death bed, May 23, 1950 at 4 p. m. in the Dublin Hospital:

My precious Sis is dying now,
As we some day must do;
But I'll stay here as she goes on,
To wait my summons too.
She's lived a noble life, Thank God,
As every one should do;
She's seen her loved ones pass away,
And they are waiting too,
In glory land for her to come
To that bright home above;
Where pain will never come again,
You'll meet your loved ones,
Sister Dear,
With Jesus Christ your Lord;
And spend eternity with them,
According to His word.
Then Sis a lone farewell to you,
I'll see your face no more;
Until we meet again someday,
On Canaan's happy shore.

Friends from Carlton attending the funeral were Misses Mattie and Alice Rodgers, Mrs. Hendrix Cathy, Mrs. Fred Geye, Mr. and Mrs. Houston Davis, Rev. Chester Sylvester, D. W. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Vaughn and Mrs. R. H. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Coffman, a niece and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Smith, a sister-in-law; of your relatives and your teachers and your friends.

"Our country, our people, our very civilization—we mean our world's future—depends on you. Help to make this a better world in which to live. If you fail, this old world will drift back toward a darker age—the one that you read about in your history books. Don't disappoint us; and posterity through the ages to come will applaud and call you great."

Morgan Moon says you never can tell what will happen when you make with advertising in the Hico paper.
There hasn't been a dull moment since he inserted that big question mark as a teaser in last week's ad. You'll see the answer to that riddle at the left-hand top of Page 2.

Right after that things began to pop. Friday he and Ray Cheek, Buck Whitlock and M. Hoffman witnessed play in the golf tournament at Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth. During warm-up rounds Moon noticed a stray shot of big Skip Alexander of Knoxville, Tenn., (later second money winner) plunk in waters of the Trinity's Clear Fork. Cautiously he marked the spot, and at first opportunity he hid himself riverward, shucked part of his clothes, and retrieved the ball as a souvenir. Offer him anything you like for it—he won't sell.
Then Monday he and fellow Lions Truman Roberts, Bill Norton, Weldon Pierce, Wayne Rutledge, and others on the committee began preparations for the barbecue that evening for ladies and guests along with local club members. The compliments that have been heaped upon him since that time have him almost overcome. He modestly attributes his success to an old recipe and good meat, as well as efficient help. But those who partook of the feast know he and his companions are due all the praise they have received.

Notes and letters from friends of the fraternity received lately by the Hico editor deserve personal letters in reply. But until such time as he gets caught up with other affairs at the office and the mowing at home, he hopes this will serve as acknowledgment and appreciation.

H. H. Jackson of Coleman, retired from active duty to lounge around, contests the editor's recent statement about approaching middle age. Shucks, Jack, it hasn't been long since we went to Corpus and Mexico together on a press trip. Was that '30 or '31?
Pat Holt, sassy semi-retired publisher at Gatesville, left a note on the editor's desk: "Why in the heck don't you stay at home when a fellow comes to see you? You are worse than Rufe Higgs." Perhaps Pat means worse than Rufe used to be. That daily up at Stephenville is taking too much of his time.
Chas. B. Hall, down McGregor way, whose Mirror reflects a great deal of ability, tenacity of purpose and gumption which has brought him such rewards (among them a Cadillac and a working son-in-law in his shop) proved that he is a devout reader of the Hico effort by quoting therefrom and commenting appropriately, interestingly, and encouragingly. Maybe after his cheerful prodding Hico may some day have a decent editor on its palladium of publicity.
Thanks, all youse guys, and others whom we owe theirs. If we're lucky maybe in a few more years we'll approach your state of independence and opulence.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank each individual who participated in any way in the searching parties last Friday. Should trouble overtake any of you, may we be able to assist in some way.
THE McELROYS.

WEAP, Fort Worth 6:30 a. m. Weekdays 10:15 a. m. Sundays

Naturally, the real test of a new idea is the way it works out for the people who give it a trial. So, with cotton farmers telling us every day now that this early season cotton insect dusting and spraying is the real McCoy, we believe it.

We suspected it right along, enough to make us flap our chops about it on the radio, and put it in these columns. Now we know.

One of our good friends down the country is a lady who keeps a flock of chickens who turn out good eggs, and this lady takes good care of said hen fruit after she gets them from the nest and until they leave her custody at the local retail store or some such place.

But this lady is just plain boiled at not being able to get any more for her cackleberries than folks who let the eggs get inferior before selling them.

She is also pretty unhappy on learning that Texas dealers are buying eggs right along in Minnesota, and other northern states, because they say they can't get enough top quality eggs in Texas to meet the consumer demand.

Our good lady correspondent just doesn't believe that last part is so.

We suspect a lot of others feel the same way. She also takes umbrage at the suggestion, made by one of the "experts" that egg producers should go in for volume production if they expect to get the highest prices.

Rightfully, she thinks the folks who bring only a few eggs to market should get a price in line with how good the eggs are.

Remembering that there is strength in union, etc., perhaps she should get some of her good neighbors to put their eggs with hers, or vice versa, when they go to market. And have them certified as to quality grade.

The only other way we can think of is for her to find a buyer who appreciates quality enough to pay for it and sell to him alone.

The Bosque County Farm Bureau treated us like a king just back from the crusades when we went to Valley Mills last week to show them the moving pictures we made in South America during the WEAP Cattlemen's Tour.

There had been a bad hail in the county a few days before, and some of the folks were saying they were ruined unless they could get permission to replant their cotton, and plant more cotton where the grain had been ruined.

We don't know whether census bureau is counting the snakes or not, but there seems to be more this year than ever. One pint-sized rattler even slithered into Studio A one morning recently right after our broadcast had finished. We're accustomed to having irate listeners call up, but not to having them crawl into the building.
