SEVERAL MEASURES OF IMPORTANCE RECEIVE ATTENTION FROM BOTH HOUSES.

Several Bills are Put Up to the Governor. Suggested that He Will Allow Some to Become Law Without His Signature.

Austin, Texas, March 26.—As indicated would be done in yesterday's dispatches, Representative Harris late yesterday afternoon obtained the final passage of the bill creating a school of mines and metallurgy, to be established at El Paso as a branch of the University of Texas. When the bill came up for consideration, Mr. Harris substituted the senate bill for his bill, both being identical, and in presenting it to the house, he made his maiden speech. The bill now goes to the governor for approval.

Congressional Districts.

No agreement has yet been reached by the free conference committee on the congressional redistricting bill. The committee is scheduled to either reach an agreement this evening or be discharged.

Railway Consolidation.

The senate today passed finally the Texas & New Orleans railway consolidation bill. It also passed finally the house supreme court relief bill, and the house bill by Ritchie known as the bogus check bill. The senate also adopted a proposed constitutional amendment increasing the membership of the supreme court to five.

Special District Judges.

The governor proposed amendment giving the governor authority to appoint special district judges in order to relieve congested dockets was also adopted.

A proposed amendment to the constitution to allow Confederate veterans in Texas prior to 1900 to obtain pensions was adopted.

Liquor Shipments.

The governor today sent a message to the legislature suggesting that the bill prohibiting interstate shipment of intoxicating liquors into prohibition territory be withdrawn for consideration. He suggests that the bill should be amended so as to provide equal punishment to the person receiving liquor in local option territory and the person bringing or selling it.

9:30 Closing for Saloons.

The house passed finally today the 9:30 closing law. The senate has already passed a bill on this subject but the house bill today is not the same bill. The senate may act on this house bill and then the measure will become a law.

The house also passed finally the senate bill creating a state highway commission, also the Collins employes compensation bill and Brulford's senate bill giving owners the right to purchase land back when it has been declared forfeited for non-payment of interest.

No Game Law Amendment.

By a vote of 55 to 62 the house yesterday afternoon killed the bill which sought to amend the game laws. The bill had been loaded with amendments which rendered it inoperative, when it was defeated.

The enabling act, which is to carry into effect the home rule constitutional amendment, was yesterday afternoon referred to a free conference committee and an agreement later was reached.

On Redistricting Work.

Representative Fuller was appointed yesterday afternoon in place of Representative Humphrey on the free conference committee which is conducting the congressional redistricting work. This is considered a victory for the house members.

Both branches of the legislature yesterday finally passed the bill for the establishment of a state training school for feeble-minded.

Bond Measure Signed.

The governor yesterday afternoon signed the proposed constitutional amendment which authorizes the issuance of university and A. and M. college bonds, penitentiary bonds and public warehouse bonds. The amendment will be voted on next July. The senate passed to engrossment bill, after adopting an amendment prohibiting Sunday baseball.

Senate Passes Many Bills.
The senate finally passed the following bills: The act for the acceptance of the Gonzales battleground, with an appropriation of 1500 for the erection of a state park.

The bill authorizing the formation of corporations for the purpose of constructing public toll roads.

The bill for creating the office of bond inspector, to be appointed by the board of education, with power to inspect county and municipal bonds.

"DRY" OIL WELL BROUGHT IN AT DAYTON: 500 BARREL FLOW

Pecos Valley Oil and Gas Company Now Has Two Oil Wells, and Great Things Expected.

(Roswell Daily Record.)

Artesia, N. M., Mar. 26.—Late yesterday afternoon, the Pecos Valley Oil and Gas company brought in their second oil well, which is proving far better than the first and as can best be judged it is producing about 100 barrels of oil a day. They will continue to drill in this hole until the present strata of oil sand is gotten through, then they will again case off the water and put on a pump and it is believed that it will go above 500 gallons a day if water is properly cut off. There is an immense gas pressure in the well which causes it to act peculiar, but with each blow out the oil flow is increased. The depth at which this was struck is not known at this writing, but Mr. J. W. Lovejoy, president of the above company states that they have located the deep pool and will drill to it with their new rig which is in operation on the Martin land.

This company now has the Brown well, the Everest well, both producers, and are drilling the third. Excitement reigns supreme and such activity has never before been witnessed in this vicinity. Both of the producing wells were sunk for artesian water formerly but the third will be sunk for oil and gas as it proceeds down. There is now five rigs at work for oil and the sixth to start within a few days.

Policeman Given New Horse.

Within a few days mounted policeman Tom York will be streaking the streets on a pacing paint pony. The horse is a gift from a boyhood friend, Henry Avant, a cattleman from Pecos, Texas, who was here attending the stockmen's convention. York said he and Harry used to punch "dogies" in the early days, sleeping under the same tarpaulin.—El Paso Times.

MINING MAGAZINE WILL BE PUBLISHED IN VALLEY.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dinsmore, Former Residents of the Valley, Return and Will Reside at Artesia.

Artesia, N. M., Chas. A. and C. A. Dinsmore closed a contract with an Artesia printer last week for the publication of the El Paso Mining Journal for a period of one year. The offices will be moved to this place and the Dinsmores will make their home here in the future.

For the past six years this magazine has been published in El Paso but on recent trips here Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmore grew to like the Pecos Valley so well that they decided to move here and make their home. Not counting the benefits of securing these people for citizens the magazine will be a great thing for Artesia and the middle valley.

Mr. Dinsmore left Saturday for El Paso to make final arrangements for moving the office here and the first issue of the magazine to be published here will be the March number, which will be off the press the latter part of this month.

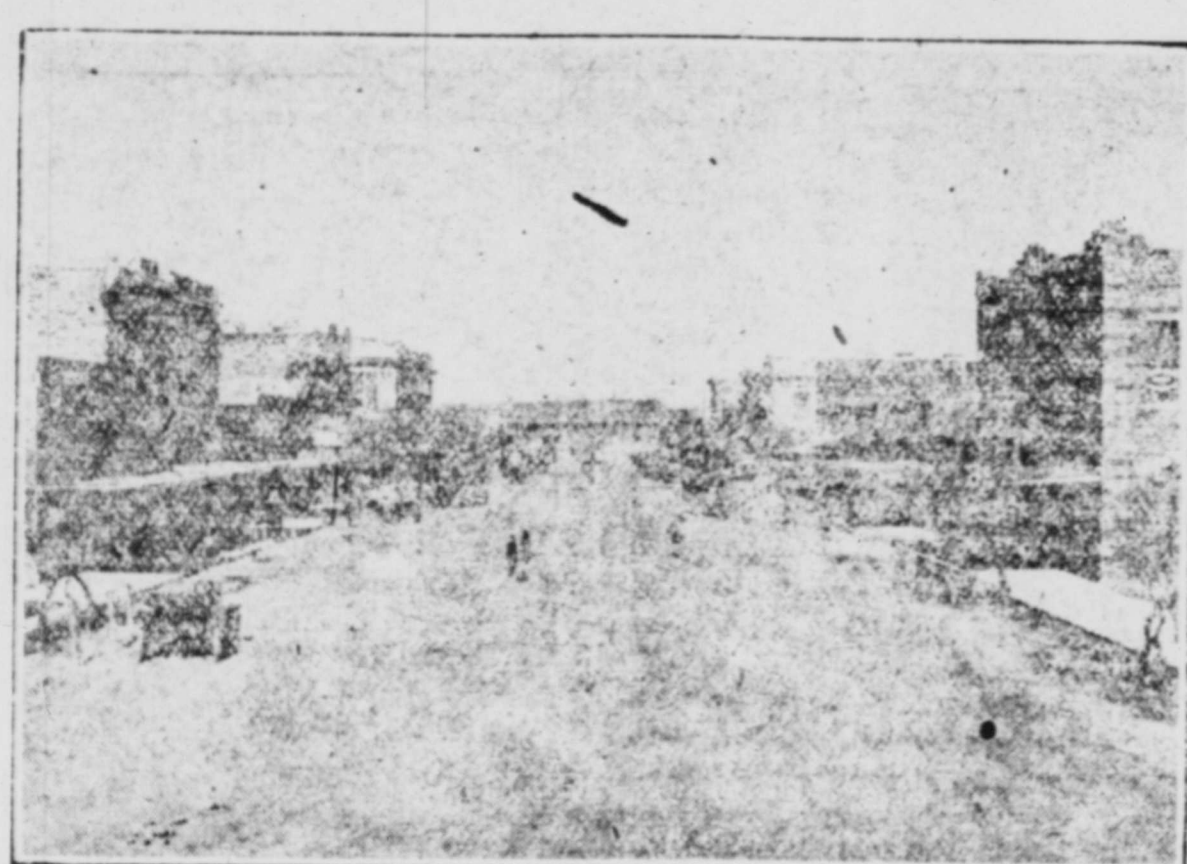

BURBANK'S NEW FREAK.

The Cucumber-Lemon Gives Nature the Laugh and Mankind a "Vegetable-Fruit."

Nature never intended that cucumbers and lemons should grow together, but Luther Burbank, the horticultural wizard, cares not for nature—he labors for science, and one of his latest patent freaks is a cucumber within a lemon.

Burbank worked on this novelty for several years, but only recently has he perfected it to the extent of having an active trade call for the commodity. From outer appearances the "what is it" looks extremely like a lemon. When it is sliced it is just like a cucumber.

The vegetable fruit has a delicious flavor, being considerably sweeter than

City Development Notes

Contractor Hugh Roberson began the first of the week laying the new sidewalks along Seventh street towards the fair grounds and will push the work to early completion. This will add greatly to the convenience of the residents of the southwestern part of the city, as they have had to "split the mud" for several blocks during the wet weather.

T. J. Sisk is having a well drilled on his residence property in the southern part of the city, and will have his own water supply when he moves into his new home.

Sam Prewit is having considerable work done on his residence property on Cypress street, and his family will enjoy the comforts added.

Vickers & Collings have had a suspended awning built on the front of their store building on Oak street, adding much to the appearance and comfort of the same.

The work of locating the obstruction in the drainage system was finished Wednesday and the obstruction removed and the drain is now in good shape again.

Work is progressing nicely on the residence of John Camp on Fifth street.

PECOS COMMERCIAL CLUB NOTES

R. M. HARKEY, SECRETARY

In this article we do not wish to confine our remarks to the city of Pecos only, but we wish to impress upon the minds of every man who owns property in Reeves county that he should be a member of some organization in the county, which has for its motto "the upbuilding not only of Pecos, but all of Reeves county."

In the Commercial Club work in Pecos it is quite different to the towns in the far east from the fact that 85 per cent of all our work is on the lands in Reeves county.

The farmer of today has learned that the Commercial Club is just as much benefit to him as it is to the merchant in the town where it is located. In Reeves county, this is not to bear more plainly than in most any other country in the West. In our work, as a commercial club, we believe the farmer to be the backbone of any country, and wherever you find the thickly settled country you will find good towns springing up without much aid from the citizens themselves.

Located as Pecos is, we believe the time is not far distant when she will be the center of one of the best farming districts in the Southwest, therefore, we think it the duty of every progressive farmer to become a member of our club and as we cannot go into details, we make this assertion, we wish to state emphatically that the Pecos Commercial Club is not only for the business man in Pecos but for every progressive farmer in Reeves county. In enlisting the cattleman, the farmer and "commercial man in this work, we believe it will create a co-operative spirit that will redound to the interests of all. When the farmer and the cattle man are doing well, the merchant is prospering too, and by joining hands in this great work of developing our country, we can all do something. For example, if the farmer makes good crops, the commercial man is the first man to derive benefits of same, to use that illustration or example in setting forth the possibilities of this great irrigated valley, and when the farmer has made good crops he has more money to spend and the merchant's sales are larger, therefore, we can show to the outside world that Pecos is a good business town and by co-operation of all the farmers, the cattle men and the merchants, our increase in membership will be larger, our revenue will be greater, our scope of advertising to the new farmers to move into this country can be extended and as a whole, there is not a man in the whole of Reeves county but will derive some benefit of the Pecos Commercial Club's work.

Men are too prone to look on the direct side of the work pertaining to the Commercial Club. Some think I will not receive any benefit of the Commercial Club's work, of Pecos, why should I belong to it? For illustration, we want to show that he is standing in his own light: If you own property in Reeves county, it is thru the efforts of the advertising of the Commercial Club that the new settler is brought to this country and he builds his home beside yours and puts 40 acres of land in cultivation, he not only brings new people to this country, but he increases the value of the property you own, and that is a reason, as stated above, the man is benefited and is a reason he should donate some of his money toward this advertising fund of the Pecos Commercial Club.

In this kind of work it is very hard to show directly the benefits of any man or set of men, but it is no trouble to show a general benefit to the whole country. For example, we receive hundreds of letters from all parts of the United States, Old Mexico and Canada, and there is not a town or district in Reeves county which is not mentioned in some of these letters, and we are trying, as a commercial club, to represent all districts as near as possible, trying to help these different districts to build up on a more substantial basis, therefore, we want to ask every man who has the welfare of his country at heart, whether he resides in Pecos or not, to stop and study and ask himself the question: "Am I helping to bear my part of the burden toward the development work in this great country?" If you will do this, you will see at a glance that you are not helping as you should.

We are going to make an effort to have every part of Reeves county join in this great work and before the year 1915 closes we will show you some direct benefit you all are receiving from our labors.

Do not read the above article and cast it aside, but think what you are doing. Come in and join the Commercial Club and help do something to build up your home and country.

Prospectors from Missouri.

A party of prospectors from Poplar Bluff, Mo., visited Pecos the first of the week and after looking over the adjacent country went to Porterville Tuesday afternoon to look at that section. The party was composed of Frederic J. M. Collins and A. L. Hayden. They expressed themselves as being well pleased with the country.

Cold Weather Again.

The temperature took another drop in this vicinity Wednesday and it was quite cold Thursday morning, considerable ice forming. It is feared that fruit that was not protected with smudge pots was severely injured.

REP. RITCHIE ANSWERS HUDSPETH

POURS SOME HOT SHOT INTO THE SENATOR FROM THIS DISTRICT ON REDISTRICTING.

Also Gives Some Interesting Statistics Concerning the Population of the Present Congressional District.

Representative Ritchie, of Mineral Wells, a member of the free conference committee on congressional redistricting, gave out a statement last night, after submitting it to representatives Burges and Harris, which replies to the statement by Senator Hudspeth.

"While I consider the congressional redistricting bill, as reported by the free conference committee, and which will probably be followed to some extent in such bills as may be later reported, very unfair to many sections of the state, because of recent interviews relative to the El Paso district, I wish to say, especially with reference to the El Paso district, that I consider it altogether indefensible," says the interview.

Matter of Distance.

"It is claimed by the friends of the bill that the distance from El Paso to New Braunfels, in Comal county, about 700 miles, is no greater than the distance from El Paso to my county (Palo Pinto), which is the eastern extremity of the old 16th district. This is not correct, but if it were true, the contention would have little point to it, when we bear in mind that the population of the present 16th district has more than doubled since the district was formed, having increased from a population of 161,684 in 1900, to 366,293, according to the census of 1910.

"The bill as reported places in the El Paso district nine counties not at present in the district, as follows: Kinney, Val Verde, Terrell, Bandera, Kerr, Kendall, Gillespie, Blanco and Comal.

Hudspeth's Defense Incorrect.

"These counties alone have a combined area in excess of the area contained in probably half of the congressional districts in the state. The statement from the senator from El Paso that only six counties are placed in the district which were not before contained therein is thus seen to be far from correct.

"The counties of Coke, Reynolds and Concho, the population of which counties were anxious to be placed in the El Paso district, at present represented by Mr. Calloway, Tom Green was yielded to the El Paso district only after the most stubborn effort on the part of the house conferees. These counties have for long been in the El Paso district; there is a community of interest existing, and it seems to be the overwhelming sentiment of the people of those counties that they desire to remain where they have been heretofore.

Wanted in El Paso District.

"Neither is it true that the counties and representatives in Mr. Calloway's district wanted to retain those counties, but Mr. Ross, of Comanche county, a member of the conference committee, insisted most earnestly that they should be placed in the El Paso district.

"What is the reason for adding all the counties first mentioned on the southeast end of the district and eliminating the counties last above mentioned and others, and thus breaking away all of such counties from their old associations? It certainly cannot be because of the wishes of the people of the El Paso district, for protests have come not only from every part of the proposed district, but from every part of the old 16th district as well.

Letters and Telegrams.

"I have had numerous letters and telegrams from my district protesting against the gerrymander. My people could not in any event be put in the El Paso district and they have no direct interest in the matter, but simply want to see a square deal.

"It does not seem that the protection of the livestock industry would require that the German-American citizens of Comal, Kendall and other counties should be placed in a congressional district with El Paso county, 700 miles away.

Congressman Smith.

"A great deal has been said about the present gerrymander from El Paso district, and an effort made to appear that the opposition to the El Paso district comes solely from his friends. It from Texas has the right to object to an effort at gerrymandering him out of office; but what is vastly more important, is that the people in those sections of the west are entitled to fair treatment at the hands of the legislature in the matter of redistricting.

"The real trouble is not congressional trust, but that the interests and rights of the people are wholly lost sight of in the effort to promote the fortunes of individual and certain interests."

FAIR DIRECTORS MEET.

Annual Report Submitted and Accepted, Showing Profit of $680.62. Resolution of Thanks Tendered Retiring Sec. Whaley.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Reeves County Fair Association was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the organization in the Commercial Club building. All directors but two were present.

Report of the secretary was read and accepted. The report showed in detail the expenditures of the organization. According to same the fair made a net profit during 1912 of $680.62, all of which, however, was expended in improvements, etc.

President Brady was empowered by the directors to close all outstanding stock accounts and immediately procure a charter on the basis of $6,000 capital stock. It will be about 85 per cent paid in according to the present assets of the association.

A resolution of thanks was tendered the retiring secretary, Porter A. Whaley, who leaves with his family Tuesday for Anderson, S. C., where he has accepted a position as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city.

It was also decided to send all stockholders a printed report of the activities of the association, assets, liabilities, etc., and to hold a meeting shortly of all stockholders, to prepare plans for the 1913 fair.

REDISTRICTING UP TO HUDSPETH

Free Conference Committee Agrees To District Favorable to Smith.

Austin, Texas, March 28.—The free conference committee on the congressional redistricting bill is said to have reached a tentative agreement which takes Comal county out of the proposed 700 mile El Paso district and makes the El Paso district practically as at present. Senator Hudspeth, however, has not as yet agreed to this proposition. It is generally believed that an agreement will be reached on a redistricting bill.

The governor yesterday afternoon vetoed the central west Texas normal bill.

Senate Passes House Bills.

The senate yesterday afternoon passed the following house bills which go back to the house for concurrence in amendments, or to the governor for approval. An act providing for the establishment of state conducted homes and schools for dependent girls when donation is made for homes; the Waco normal bill, which carries no appropriation; Waco giving grounds and buildings; a bill making possible the loading of warehouses for the handling of cotton; an act creating a state market bureau; an act declaring that brands shall not be considered proof of ownership of livestock unless the brand is registered.

The anti-fee bill was engrossed by the senate after several amendments were voted down. The bill has already passed the house.

House Passes Senate Bills.

The house yesterday afternoon passed finally the following senate bills which now either go back to the senate for concurrence in the house amendments or to the governor for approval.

Lattimer's anti-club bill, which is designed to put out of business the social clubs; the El Paso & Northwestern consolidation bill by Hudspeth; Willacy's bill permitting corporations to own and operate their own toll roads; Willacy's cruelty to animals bill; Johnson's local option pool bill; Lattimer's bill regulating fraternal beneficiary associations; McGregor's bill abolishing anti-tuberculosis commission.

The Burges-Harris general mining bill was substituted yesterday afternoon in the house for the Hudspeth senate bill and passed to third reading

HER MAGAZINE STORY

How Bob Found His Long Lost Ruth.

By ADELE MENDEL.

"Come on to bed, Robert; it's past midnight," said his roommate, Ken, as he knocked the ashes from his curved meerschaum pipe.

"Just want to read one more story and then I'll be with you," answered Robert, settling himself comfortably in the huge leather arm chair.

"One would think you were a love sick maid, the way you devour those magazine stories," growled Kenneth. "I'm not a love-sick maid, but may be I'm that kind of a man," said Robert with a quizzical air and throwing down his magazine.

"I've no doubt of that, none at all," emphatically answered Kenneth. "Any fellow of twenty-eight who refuses to call on girls, declines all invitations to dances, dinners and parties, who never changes the color or style of his necktie, has something wrong with him, mark my word."

"Her name is Ruth Wilson," began Robert, as if he were repeating a well-known lesson. "She was a little pen-and-ink sketcher and sold some of her work to our firm; that is how I first became acquainted with her. But our acquaintance soon grew to friendship, and then it wasn't many months before we both knew we were in love with each other. I wanted to marry at once, but Ruth insisted upon waiting a year, as she felt she had a future in her artistic career and was not as yet willing to give it up. Patiently I agreed, and at the end of the allotted time she begged for six months more. And then another and yet another delay, until one evening, as we were seated in her two-by-four hall-room studio on the third story of a second-class boarding house, irritated by her seeming preference for her profession when she again asked for a postponement of our marriage, I lost my temper and hurled unkind, angry words at the girl. Naturally, she resented my attitude. One word led to another, I banged the door and dashed like a madman down the stairs and out of the house. I walked miles and miles publisher's office, where he discovered that the name signed to the story was the author's real name, and that she lived in a small suburb in the outskirts of New York. Jumping on a train, after two impatient hours he reached his destination. A pretty girl, with a twinkling eye and sympathetic voice, answered the bell. He introduced himself, explained his mission, and added:

"Tell me, please, where I can find your heroine, for find her I must."

"I'll gladly give you her address, but first I wish to explain how I came to have the story published. Ruth, after leaving New York in an unhappy state of mind, came here to visit and rest with me. Poor thing, she was so distressed that I begged her to tell me the cause. I never intended to use the story for material to sell, but just wrote it up because its dramatic possibilities appealed to me. Last fall I sprained my arm, and mother, addressing some manuscripts to my publishers, in mistake inclosed this story. I felt dreadful at the time to think that it might appear as a breach of confidence. But now, if it will be the means of bringing Ruth and you together again, I will be the happiest of girls."

Robert thanked the girl, boarded his train, and lost no time in reaching his office and writing a passionate appeal to Ruth for forgiveness.

Many and weary were the weeks that followed. Hope and despair alternated in Robert's breast, but no answer came.

"It's no use," he remarked one evening to Kenneth. "Ruth has received my letter long before this, and it is evident that she no longer cares enough for me to answer it. I don't—"

The telephone rang, and Robert stepped to the phone. He heard a soft voice say, "Is this you, Robert? I just received your letter, returned to me from England. I am stopping with my aunt, Mrs. Davenport, who, strange to say, lives in an apartment next to yours. Would you care to come over?"

"Would I care to?" cried Robert. "Oh, girl, just wait two minutes and see!"

As Robert bounded down the stairs, Kenneth said to himself: "I guess the little authoress won't be able to call her story 'Unfinished' any more." (Copyright, 1912, by W. G. Chapman.)

HIS FIRST USE FOR WEALTH

For a Millionaire, Mose's Aspirations Would Seem to the Ordinary Man Singularly Modest.

E. F. Swinney, president of the First National Bank of Kansas City, was born in the south, says the Saturday Evening Post. He goes back home twice or three a year and it is part of the homecoming program to have Old Mose polish his shoes. Old Mose prides himself on the fact that he has known "Misteh Eddie" since he was born—and "his daddy befo' him."

When Mr. Swinney was there recently Mose was polishing his shoes. He stopped and asked:

"Misteh Eddie, how much is a million dollars?"

"Well, Mose," Mr. Swinney replied, "you have seen ten silver dollars, haven't you? Now, imagine ten of those stacks and you have a hundred dollars. Then ten times that and you have $1,000. Then ten times that and you have $10,000—and 100 times that and you have a million."

"Misteh Eddie," continued Mose, exceedingly troubled, "would all them silver dollars go on that table yondah?"

"No, Mose—not if they were piled to the ceiling. What would you do if you had a million silver dollars, Mose?"

Mose stopped shining. He pondered for a minute. Then he said:

"Well, Misteh Eddie, I reckon I'd have mah cisteh cleaned out."

Deceived by Appearances.

John Melpolder, superintendent of the Boys' club, is very fond of walking. Melpolder was camping recently north of Broad Ripple and decided to walk to Indianapolis. The roads were dusty and the sun beat down unrelentingly. When Melpolder reached Broad Ripple he had covered ten or twelve miles and looked like a tramp. Coming to a fork in the road, and not being sure of the correct route, Melpolder approached two girls and a young man sitting in the shade.

"Can you tell me how to get to Indianapolis?" he asked. The correct road was pointed out and as he started to plod on one of the girls said:

"Why you are not going to walk, are you?"

"Why, yes," said the pedestrian, "I thought I would."

The young man fumbled in his pocket. "Here," he said, fishing out a dime, "you better ride the street car in. You can catch it about a square up the road."

Then each girl handed him a coin. Melpolder thanked them kindly for their proffered assistance, but declined the offer, saying that he preferred to walk. When he started on they looked after him in open-eyed astonishment.—Indianapolis News.

Real Comeback.

"Why do you spend so much care on the crease of your pants, hey?"

Examination for the Feeble-Minded Among Immigrants.

The problem of the feeble-minded is one that presses insistently for solution. Among the important phases of this problem not the least is that of the detection of the feeble-minded among immigrants. New York, being the portal of entrance of the greatest number of immigrants, is most immediately affected by this problem. The New York state board of charities, in a recent report to the governor, calls attention to the inadequate facilities for caring for the thirty thousand defectives in the state, among whom are many immigrants or the children of immigrants. There are facilities for taking care of only six thousand. The commissioner of immigration and many of the medical men and inspectors in the immigration service at the port of New York have called attention to the inadequate force and appropriation for detecting and excluding the feeble-minded among immigrants reaching that port. It has also been asserted, that the training of many inspectors is not of such specialized character as to enable them to determine, with the greatest possible degree of accuracy, the feeble-mindedness of many immigrants.

J. G. Wilson of the United States public health service, located at Ellis Island, recently called attention to the lack of trained men and interpreters and a place for them to work, and the failure of congress to provide adequate funds for these purposes. Also to the insufficiency of any particular method of determining feeble-mindedness among immigrants. All of which, says the Journal of the American Medical Association, emphasizes the importance of time, of adequate facilities and of a sufficient force of specially trained and experienced inspectors, if such effective showing is to be made in the detection of the feeble-minded who seek to enter our country as the great importance of the question demands.

Dangerous Gluten Flours.

The fraud and deception to which an unfortunate portion of the public is subjected in the purchase of so-called foods for diabetics has been often commented on. In some cases, the manufacturers are plainly to blame. They know that the stuff they sell is dangerous for the diabetic, and when national or state laws have forced them to modify their claims, they have done so in such a way as to continue to violate the spirit of the law while grudgingly obeying the letter. Other manufacturers have been misled by those who should know better—physicians. Four physicians out of five conceive "gluten flour" to be a flour from which practically all the starch, sugar, dextrin, etc., have been removed. That such is not the case is due in part to the wretched standard promulgated by the federal government, but physicians can do much to offset the harm done by the government's low standard. Very few people purchase gluten flours or foods except on the recommendation of a physician. In the present state of the law the term "gluten flour" means little or nothing. The law should require that every package of gluten flour should have printed on its label its carbohydrate percentage—a requirement no honest manufacturer could object to. If this were done it would be a great step toward the protection of sufferers from diabetes. No flour containing over 10 per cent of carbohydrates is a safe flour in the well-marked case of this disease, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association.

SCHOOL NOTES.

There is usually something of interest happens at school assembly on Monday mornings.

This week two good things were enjoyed. The first was the singing of "The Old Maid Shawl" by Miss McCarver. The second was the talk by the Rev. Mr. Cantrell, pastor of the Christian church. He took his theme from the passage of scripture "He hath done all things well." He emphasized the fact that all are in so much of a hurry to get some-where or to get something done that we can't do things well.

Plans are taking shape for the closing exercises. The High School department are already rehearsing the play for the occasion. The play selected is "A Kentucky Belle" and those who have seen the play before are very enthusiastic about it and predict that it will be better than some of the professional plays they have seen.

Jury Says That S. S. Carpenter Was Not Guilty.

S. S. Carpenter, who has been on trial in the 34th district court for the fourth time, on a charge of killing Burt Simpson at Polvo, Texas, three years ago, was acquitted by a jury Wednesday afternoon.

The case was given to the jury at 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

During the trial of the case, the testimony of many witnesses had to be read on account of their absence.—El Paso Herald.

THE RELATION OF LEGUMES TO FARM MANAGEMENT.

(Written by Hugh G. Van Pelt and read before Pecos Commercial Club by Dr. B. H. Bennett.)

Commendable agriculture results in the greatest production and not only conserves but builds greater soil fertility. Too many farmers have farmed by intuition rather than by intelligent information and good judgment.

Although it has been less than 400 years since the Pilgrims landed on American soil, millions of acres of once productive soil have been so robbed of their fertility and richness that they have been considered valueless.

In the first place they believed, as many men believe today, that their soil was so fertile and rich it would never cease to yield and in case it did they were aware that millions of fertile acres lay to the west of them that were free for the asking.

Excusable as are these farmers of the first four centuries of civilization in America, there will be no pardon for the farmer who hereafter steals from the soil that richness which nature stored there as a heritage and trusted to the protection of man to be handed down to his children and his children's children.

Although there are those who yet scoff at modern methods of agriculture as being scientific and theoretical and cry back antagonistically when admonished to conserve that which God has entrusted to their care and thereby increase their immediate gains, it is grandly to the credit of the up-to-date American farmer that he is today making greater advancement in improved farming, insuring himself greater prosperity, building a greater and more permanent agriculture and guarding closer the treasures belonging to his descendants than the world has ever known.

stantiating the value of legumes as they pertain to farm management. A bulletin from the New York experiment station demonstrates how alfalfa will return nearly half again as much digestible materials and nearly three times as much protein per acre as the corn crop, both the ear and plant considered.

For feeding dairy cows no food stuff equals the legumes for furnishing protein economically. No dairy farmer who does not make use of these plants in his farming and feeding operations is taking full advantage of the opportunities at his disposal.

Will some one please tell us what has become of one Leon Martinez, the Mexican condemned to die for the murder of the young lady near Pecos. Honest, we want to know what has become of the brute.—Seminole Sentinel.

From what we are able to learn Leon Martinez is laying in the jail of McLennan county awaiting the action of the Supreme Court, to which his case has been appealed. Of course the taxpayers of Reeves county are footing the bills for his up-keep while the appeal is pending, and will probably have the expense of another trial to stand. But then such is the law.

WILL THEY BLUFF THE PEOPLE?

The following article appeared in the American Economist, a highly subsidized New York protection organ, being a reprint from the Pittsburgh paper as will be noted. The Record Times wants all its readers to read this article and then to reflect. Ask yourself the question. How much longer will such tomfoolery have any weight? Read the article. Here it is: "President-elect Wilson has determined to defy the fates by calling his extra session of Congress for April 1. There is fitness in the date. The country may as well prepare to be fooled to a finish. Since the election of last November the Democratic party has made no move but that has indicated certainty of popular disappointment with its achievements once it has been clothed with complete control of government. This is equally true with respect to utterances of the President-elect, the course of Democrats in the Senate and the actions of the Democratic majority which prevails in the House of Representatives.

"The extra session, of course, is called particularly to revise the tariff. This revision will be undertaken at a period when the people of the United States are generally prosperous. Every natural prospect of peace and political possibility, as represented by Democratic domination for the first time in sixteen years, are vile. If the party of Bryan and Wilson carries out pledges made in the Baltimore platform there will be immediate revision downward. To be of effect, reductions in duty must be so drastic as largely to increase importations. When this is accomplished the result will be to force readjustment of cost of production of competing commodities in the United States. That means lower wages or smaller profits for home manufacturers, or less work, with the very disturbance of business which Gov. Wilson has promised to avert. If the tariff is not reduced according to platform the Democracy will be charged again, as it was by Grover Cleveland, with an act of party perfidy and dishonor. It must do that which will injure the country or else stultify itself, and in either case the people will have been fooled. Hence the suitability of April 1 for beginning the performance."—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Mr. Reader, have you been reading about the vice commissions in Chicago and New York and elsewhere? Of course you have, though such "vile" dope offended your better sensibilities. And it has occurred to you of course that those great big high wages the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times is talking about have had nothing to do with the vast hordes of underpaid humanity in the large Eastern cities? Protection, yes, protection. The same crowd believe in all kinds of protection, some of them want to protect the vast profits of unfortunate humanity, as the same is gathered through corrupted vice; why, because there is money in it. Protect who? Why the great big manufacturers of the East, under whose lordly and humanitarian method of business there has grown up a multitude of underpaid, underfed, under-educated foreigners and Americans. The manufacturers are generous. Weefully so. Let all the South and West pay tribute to the grossly un-American, un-Christian, barbarous system of wage slavery which has made half of the average Eastern city a melting pot of hell. But says the Economist through its reprint of the Pittsburgh article, in substance, if we don't get protection the industry of the country will be ruined. Of course they know that is a lie. What they really want is to make the farmer who raises his cotton and corn in open competition with the civilized world to be forced to pay exorbitant prices for farm implements, household necessities and the thousand and one things that go to make up American commercial and agricultural life. They want the 16,000,000 farmers to continue to pay a terrific tax to these lordly and generous manufacturers, under whose system of protected industry and protected vice, the entire country is crying today! They do not want the white light of publicity to shine upon the conditions in the midst of which they thrive. But President Wilson and the Democratic party, backed up by Mr. Roosevelt's new Progressive party, want it just otherwise, as do all fair-minded people everywhere.

Mr. Pecos Valley folk, don't get fooled by this protection dope. Let that "poor" manufacturer worry. All the present protection in America is not going to get you one more cent for your cotton or your alfalfa or your small grain, and protection means the paying of a huge indirect tax to just about the most selfish bunch of men the world has yet seen. Your cotton sells now in the face of world competition with protection and it will do so without it. The manufacturer, the poor manufacturer, who has used the tariff to exploit you for fifty years, must, says he, sell his product at your expense. Don't you let him do it. The American Economist! O, how economical—let the other fellow pay.

The little cold spell of the past few days, resulted in the loss of the greater part of the peach crop in the central part of the state, according to the press reports.

The floods in Indiana and Ohio are collecting an awful toll of human lives this week.

If you didn't clean up yesterday "do it now!"

Clean up your premises and save a doctor's bill and possibly the life of some loved one. Do it NOW!

When the people of Pecos read of the terrible havoc of tornado and flood they should be thankful that they are not subjected to these horrors.

From the press reports from Austin it would appear that at last after years of hard fighting the law abiding citizen is to receive some protection from the pistol "toting" individual if the officers do their duty. Two years in jail should cool the ardor of the most pernicious "gun toter."

There is hardly a day but something happens that causes us to be thankful that we are living in the Pecos Valley. The wonderful gold strikes in the vicinity of Saragosa makes us hopeful that we may get to handle some of the precious "stuff" even if we are only a newspaper man.

A few warm days and the death distributing "typhoid fly" will be with us again. Are your premises in condition to afford them a breeding place? If so it is high time that you begin to disinfect, that you may escape the ravages of disease.

Officers have been busily engaged in serving the jurors selected for the ensuing term of the district court during the past week.

MR. WHALEY GOES TO S. C.

Accepts Position as Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Anderson, One of the Leading Cities

Porter A. Whaley, formerly editor of the Record-Times, and for several years secretary of the Pecos Commercial Club previous to his connection with this paper, also retiring secretary of the Reeves County Fair Association and Secretary of the Texas Commercial Executives Association, will leave Pecos Tuesday afternoon for Anderson, S. C., where he will assume his duties as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, to which position he was recently elected. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Whaley and the children.

There will hardly be a person in Pecos but will regret to see him leave this section, with whose growth and prosperity during the past three years he has been so prominently identified.

As secretary of the local Commercial Club for more than two years he has accomplished important far reaching results, so much so that he has from time to time been offered a number of like positions which he has heretofore declined. At the last annual meeting of the Texas Commercial Executive Association at Houston, he was elected secretary of that body, and during the year 1911 was secretary of the Texas Experimental Association. He was also secretary of the Pecos Library Locating Committee and otherwise connected with a number of civic and development associations in Pecos and this section.

We sincerely wish him every success in his new home, and bespeak for the people of Anderson a capable and enthusiastic worker for the upbuilding of their city.

LOSS OF LIFE AT DAYTON GREATLY OVERESTIMATED

Property Loss is Now Placed at about $20,000,000. Losses at Other Ohio Points Very High.

Dayton, O., March 28.—The flood situation in Dayton today is this: Previous estimates of the number drowned are greatly exaggerated.

The property loss from the fire will not exceed more than $1,000,000.

The damage caused to mercantile houses, factories and residences will run anywhere from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The water has receded from the business section of the city and a large portion of the residence section.

Residents in portions still inundated are being taken to the sections not affected by the floods.

There is no lack of food. The telephone systems are being restored.

There is much suffering from cold but all available fuel has been appropriated and there is prospect for immediate relief.

So far there has been no epidemic of sickness.

One thousand militiamen who arrived today have the city in rigid control, effectively restraining looters, sight seers that will interfere with the rescue work and all disorders.

Touring the business section today officials found the high stage of the flood was nine feet at the corner of Third and Main streets, which is in the very heart of the city. The onrush of water flooded the first floor of every store in the business district.

This constitutes the chief financial loss. The tower of steel high school was leveled and the Leonard building on Main street was undermined so that it collapsed.

Fourteen Dead at Middletown, Ohio

Middletown, O. March 28.—Fourteen persons are known to be dead here as the result of the flood. The property loss is estimated at $1,500,000. There are 150 flood sufferers in the emergency hospital. Measles has broken out among the children.

The city has no gas and no drinking water, but the electric service has been restored.

The flood is receding rapidly.

One thousand militiamen who arrived today have the city in rigid control, effectively restraining looters, sight seers that will interfere with the rescue work and all disorders.

Touring the business section today officials found the high stage of the flood was nine feet at the corner of Third and Main streets, which is in the very heart of the city. The onrush of water flooded the first floor of every store in the business district. This constitutes the chief financial loss. The tower of steel high school was leveled and the Leonard building on Main street was undermined so that it collapsed.

Fourteen Dead at Middletown, Ohio

Middletown, O. March 28.—Fourteen persons are known to be dead here as the result of the flood. The property loss is estimated at $1,500,000. There are 150 flood sufferers in the emergency hospital. Measles has broken out among the children.

The city has no gas and no drinking water, but the electric service has been restored.

The flood is receding rapidly.

"I've been selling Studebaker Wagons and Buggies for over 30 years."

"I've sold them because my reputation as a dealer has at stake and from experience I have found that Studebaker means the best."

That tells the story. Farmers bought Studebaker wagons before the Civil War and they have been buying them ever since. Because they had confidence in the name Studebaker and in the sturdy, dependable wagons and buggies they build. And that confidence has been upheld. Studebaker wagons are built on honor and the Studebaker guarantee goes with every one. There's a Studebaker for your needs—whether you live in city, town or country.

Farm Wagons, Business Wagons, Trucks, Surveys, Four Cargines, Dump Carts, Runabouts, Contractors' Wagons. —And Studebaker harness also—as well and carefully made as Studebaker vehicles.

WONDERS OF THE WORLD

Will Be Shown at America's Great Celebration at San Francisco in 1915.

The Magnificence and Grandeur of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Cannot Be Adequately Described—A Gathering of the Nations of the World.

The splendors of the world will be shown at America's Panama celebration at San Francisco in 1915. Never will so many nations have participated in an international event. Of the nations that take part, and this includes all the great powers, it is probable that each one will be more elaborately represented than at any exposition ever held outside of its own boundaries. Twenty-eight foreign countries have already responded to President Taft's invitation. More than eight hundred leading exhibitors of the world have applied for exhibit space and a number of the exhibits will range in value from $200,000 to $300,000; more than two thousand applications for concessions have been received. The responses show the spirit of appreciation with which America's sister nations regard the work at Panama.

Display by Foreign Powers.
The foreign powers will display all phases of their progress at home and in their colonies. Mr. Harcourt, colonial secretary of Great Britain, has addressed the governors of the self-governing dominions, crown colonies and protectorates requesting them to consider the question of participation with the remark that the British display should be worthy of the British empire. Japan will expend $1,000,000 upon its pavilion which, upon the conclusion of the exposition, will remain as the gift of Japan to America. The pavilion and grounds, occupying five acres, will be located upon the United States Presidio military reservation immediately adjoining the exposition site. Marquis de la Vega Inclan of Spain, who visited San Francisco, will arrange for a wonderful art exhibit to include the original paintings of the great Spanish masters and many historical trophies, tapestries, and rare pieces of sculpture.

Holland will be represented upon a scale never equaled outside the Netherlands. France cabled San Francisco requesting twelve acres as the location of a superb exhibit palace to be built by France. China, newest of the world republics, is planning to show both the China of the past and that of the future. China and Japan, and indeed all far eastern lands within the sweep of the Pacific, are planning to take part in a wonderful series of Oriental parades and pageants, during a ten days' festa in the fall of 1915. There will be assembled in these parades perhaps the greatest gathering of strange tribes and peoples of Oriental lands ever gathered in the Occident.

The World's Battleships.
When the exposition opens—February 20, 1915—the nations of the world will, in actuality, officially come to San Francisco, for the battleships of the world will be assembled off Harbor View, the exposition site, at that time. That a battleship is virtually the territory of the country it represents is a fact widely recognized in the procedure of international law, and so the nations of the world will, as it were, gather at the western gate of America. More than two hundred foreign battleships will, it is known from unofficial advices, participate in a series of spectacular maneuvers in San Francisco harbor in 1915.

Construction upon the exposition has long since begun. The service building, which will be the exposition headquarters, is completed. Machinery hall, the largest of the exhibit palaces, will be the first of the great buildings to be completed. This structure will be 967 feet long and 370 feet in width; three great naves 122 feet high will run throughout its length from north to south. Contracts upon all the main exhibit palaces, of which there are fourteen, are being let at regular intervals and the highest point of construction will be reached next fall. All the main exhibit palaces will be completed by June 25, 1914; more than nine months before the exposition opens. All contracts are being let upon that basis. The early completion of the buildings will permit the setting out and planting in the grounds and courts of several hundred thousands of rare trees, plants and shrubs now being grown in nurseries.

Early next fall the sightseer in San Francisco will be enabled to look from the rim of the encircling hills at Harbor View down upon the exposition city and see the buildings in progress of construction. To the west he may look out to the Golden Gate and to the islands in the Pacific beyond. To the north he will see the stream of traffic that passes before the exposition site.

Easy of Access.
One may easily reach the exposition in twenty minutes from the Ferry building. The site of the exposition, at Harbor View, lies within the city limits as a crescent upon the shores of San Francisco bay, just inside the Golden Gate. No more picturesque location, nor one more appropriate to the celebration of a great maritime event, could be imagined. On the south, east and west it is encircled by towering hills with varying contours rising successively from 250 to 900 feet above sea level, like the enfolding walls of a vast amphitheater. Upon the north the site opens out upon the harbor of San Francisco. The panorama at Harbor View recalls the famous Riviera upon the shores of the Mediterranean. In the harbor before the site lies Alcatraz island, the location of a military prison whose white walls are reflected in the waters of the bay. Beyond are the hills of Marin county rising up into the hundreds and in some instances into the thousands of feet, with Mount Tamalpais, loftiest of all, its summit often shrouded with a turban of fog upon which the sun shines as upon a vast bank of snow, as a background for the setting.

The central portion of the site lies slightly above the sea and is encircled on three sides by gently sloping ground; within a short distance from the boundaries of the site these slopes change to steep hillsides and thus the center becomes the floor of a huge amphitheater from whose sides the exposition will be seen stretched out below. To the east and south the residence section encircles the exposition grounds, and to the west and southwest the site is embraced by the wooded slopes of the Presidio military reservation, dark with cypress and eucalyptus and interspersed with occasional vistas of green valleys.

All told the site comprises 625 acres; it is two and one-third miles in length with a maximum width of one-half mile. Its frontage upon the harbor will be approximately two miles and further from the bay it will extend another one-third mile. Fort Mason, a military post, occupying a corner upon the extreme east and along the bay.

Faces the Bay.
The exposition buildings built upon an east and west axis will face the bay upon the north; they will parallel the stream of the great incoming traffic of the world through the western gate of the United States. The harbor itself will be a part of the great theater upon which will be staged the world's jubilee and the Golden Gate will be the entrance to the theater.

A marvelous panorama will be afforded visitors on ships coming through the Golden Gate. As one looks from the harbor he will see three main groups of exposition buildings. There will be the great central group comprising the fourteen exposition palaces to be devoted to general exhibits; there will be the group upon the left hand or east and devoted to amusement concessions and covering sixty-five acres; this will be the "midway." The right hand group upon the Presidio military reservation and nearest the Golden Gate will be devoted to the pavilions of the states and foreign governments.

The exposition site at Harbor View, with its towering amphitheaters of hills and vast distances, called for huge effects. The grouping of the fourteen great exhibit palaces will present this result. From afar the central group, facing for almost a mile upon San Francisco harbor, will seem as one colossal structure, a great Oriental city, with walls as high as the average six-story city block and with golden domes, towers and tower gateways rising to heights of 150, 270 and 400 feet. Nearer at hand it will be found that great inner courts lie between the buildings. Eight of the fourteen buildings in the main group will be joined in a rectangle to form almost a huge Oriental bazaar—a veritable walled city with its domes, towers, minarets and great interior courts.

In general the buildings of the central group are to be brought into contact with those next adjoining by arcades, courts and archways. Through this method of treatment four of the general exhibit palaces of the main group, fronting north upon San Francisco bay but set back at a distance from the water's edge, will present a single architectural design. Their walls and the adjoining arches will form the main northern facade of the exposition along the shores of the harbor, a marvelous frontage that will be first seen by visitors who reach the exposition city by water and enter San Francisco bay through the Golden Gate. By day the glittering pillars and minarets of this mile long facade will be seen as a dream city, while by night they will reflect the sheen of a million lights into the waters of the bay.

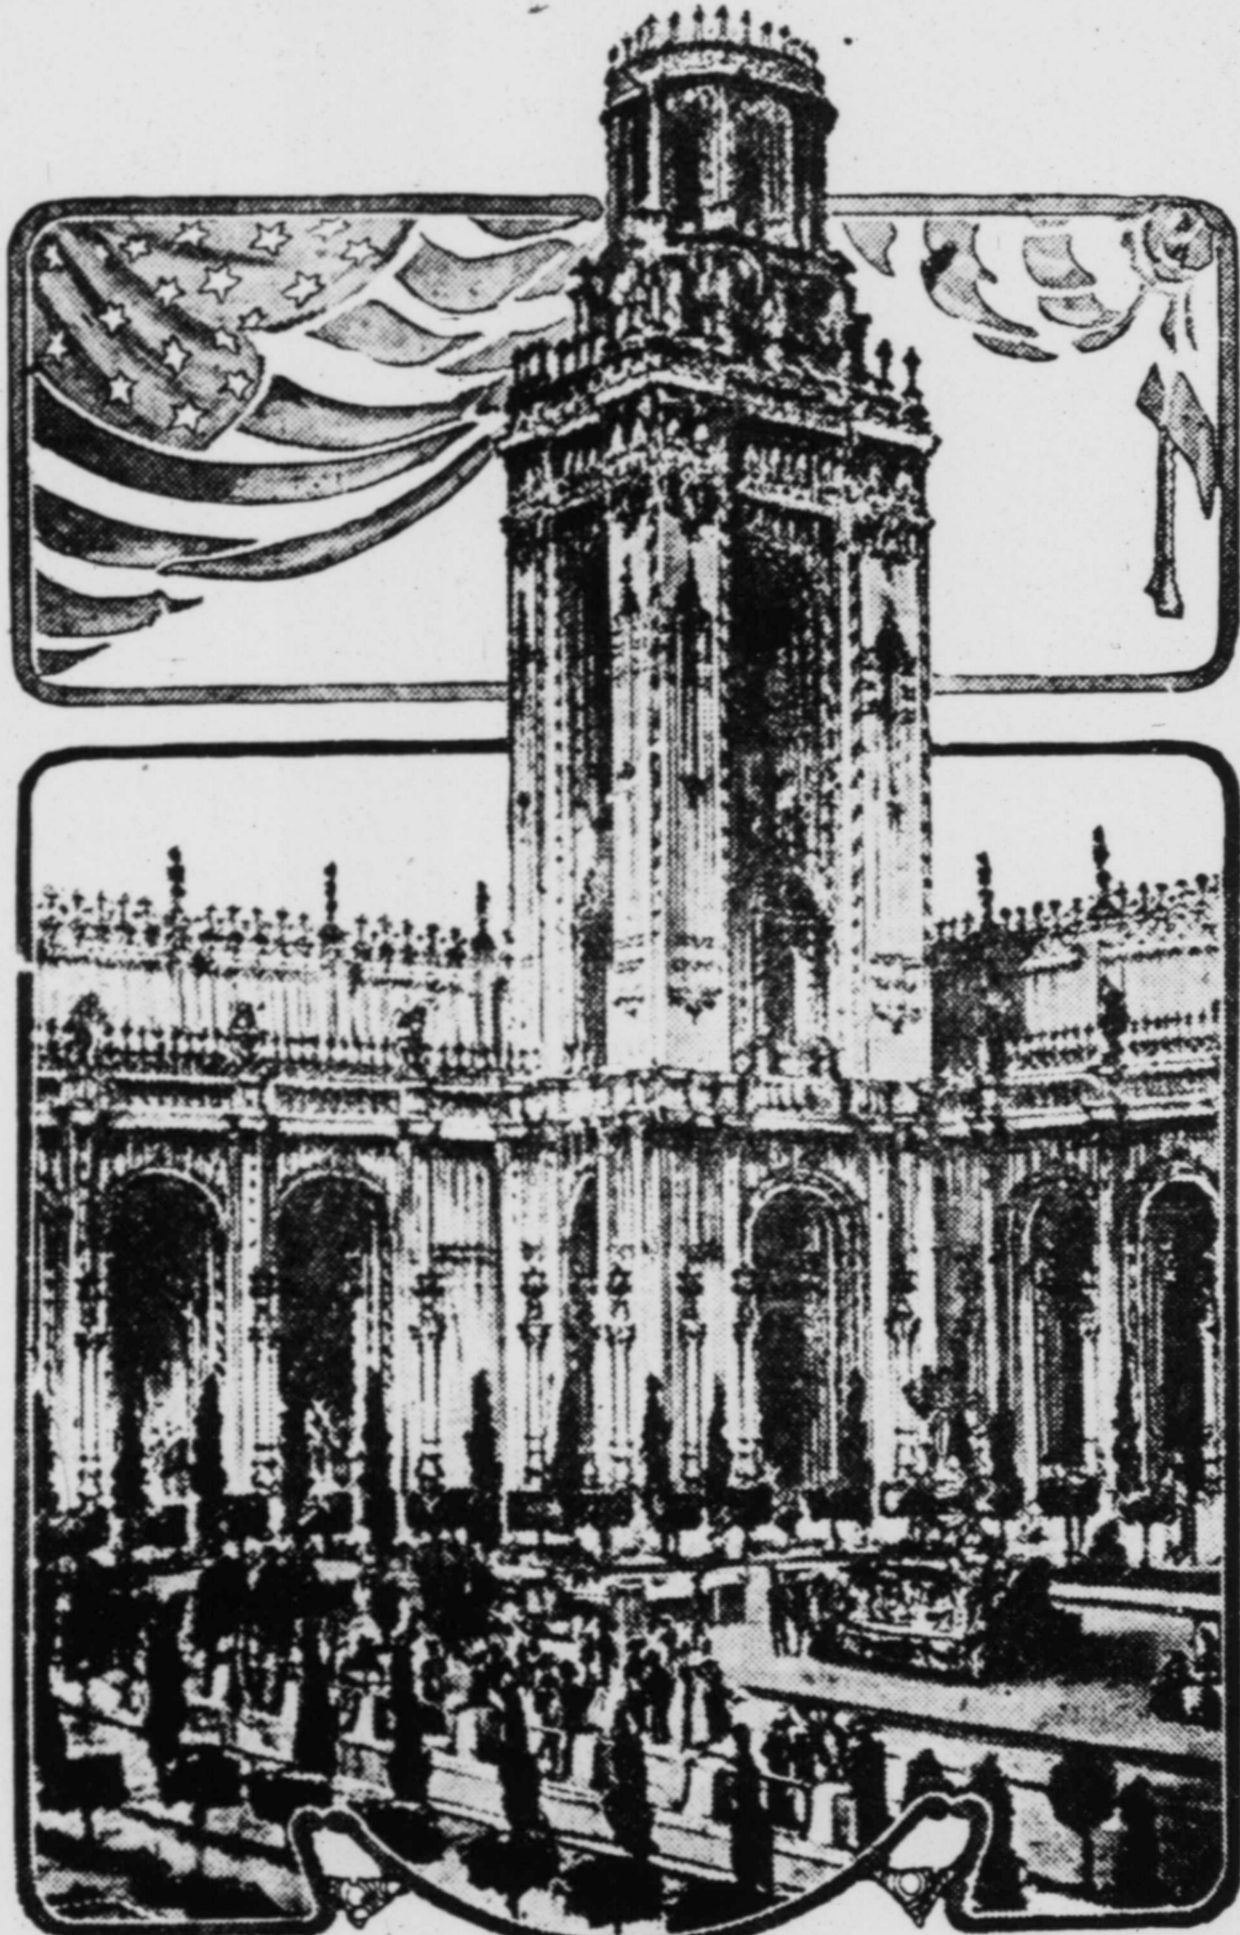

A Great Esplanade.
Before the facade and along the harbor's edge for more than a mile there will be built a great esplanade, a vast stretch of ground and terraces in which fountains will play and groups of statuary be set at intervals. Brilliant flowers and hardy flowerings the various tones. Mr. Guerin gives the following word picture of his color plan for the exposition:

"Imagine a gigantic Persian rug of soft, melting tones, with brilliant splashes here and there, spread down for a mile or more, and you may get some idea of what the Panama-Pacific exposition will look like if viewed from a distance, say from the Sausalito Heights, across the Golden Gate. For San Francisco's is to be unique among the expositions of the world in that it will be a 'City of Color.' Not that color is the chiefest value of the exposition, for its architectural features are equally remarkable. This color plan, that of making the group of buildings a veritable blaze of glory and at the same time avoiding the garish or barbaric, is the great new salient feature of the exposition."

The Court of the Sun and Stars will be 750 feet in width from east to west and 900 feet along its main axis. At the south end of the court will arise the huge tower of the Administration building, 400 feet in height, and dominating the architecture of the exposition. The upper part of the tower will take the form of terraces leading up to a group of figures surrounding a globe typifying the world; the tower will be lined with jewels which will glitter like diamonds when searchlights are turned upon them. At the base of the tower, which will occupy an acre in extent, will be a huge arcade 125 feet high, beneath which the visitor may enter into the Court of Sun and Stars from the main exposition entrance.

In the vaulted archways of the tower will be grouped a series of mural paintings designed by Jules Guerin and expressing the keynote of the exposition color scheme. But perhaps the most impressive feature of the Court of Sun and Stars will be found in a classic colonnade extending entirely around the court and

An echo tower in the Festive or East Court. At night the East Court, with its pavements of gold, its great banks of flowers, and its lofty palms, will be flooded with light. Musical masterpieces of the world will be rendered by the chimes in the towers. Great saengerfests and choral festivals will assemble upon the floors of the court.

trees and shrubs will lend warmth and color to the esplanade.

Three great courts will divide the main group of exposition buildings from north to south. Their theme will suggest the meeting of the east and west at Panama. One of the huge courts, that on the east, will suggest the Orient, rich in Oriental splendors; another on the west, will suggest the Occident, its theme exemplifying the wealth which nature has conferred upon the Saxon who has ever pushed to the west. Between these two courts will be set the greatest of all the courts, the superb Court of the Sun and Stars, its theme upon a magnified scale symbolizing the union of the east and west at Panama. This court will stand out among the most brilliant architectural expressions of America and Europe. It will be distinguished by the majestic scale of its architecture; by the splendor of its conception; and by its life, color, and spirit of joyousness. The color plan of this court, as indeed of all the great courts, is designed by Jules Guerin, undoubtedly the foremost decorative artist in America.

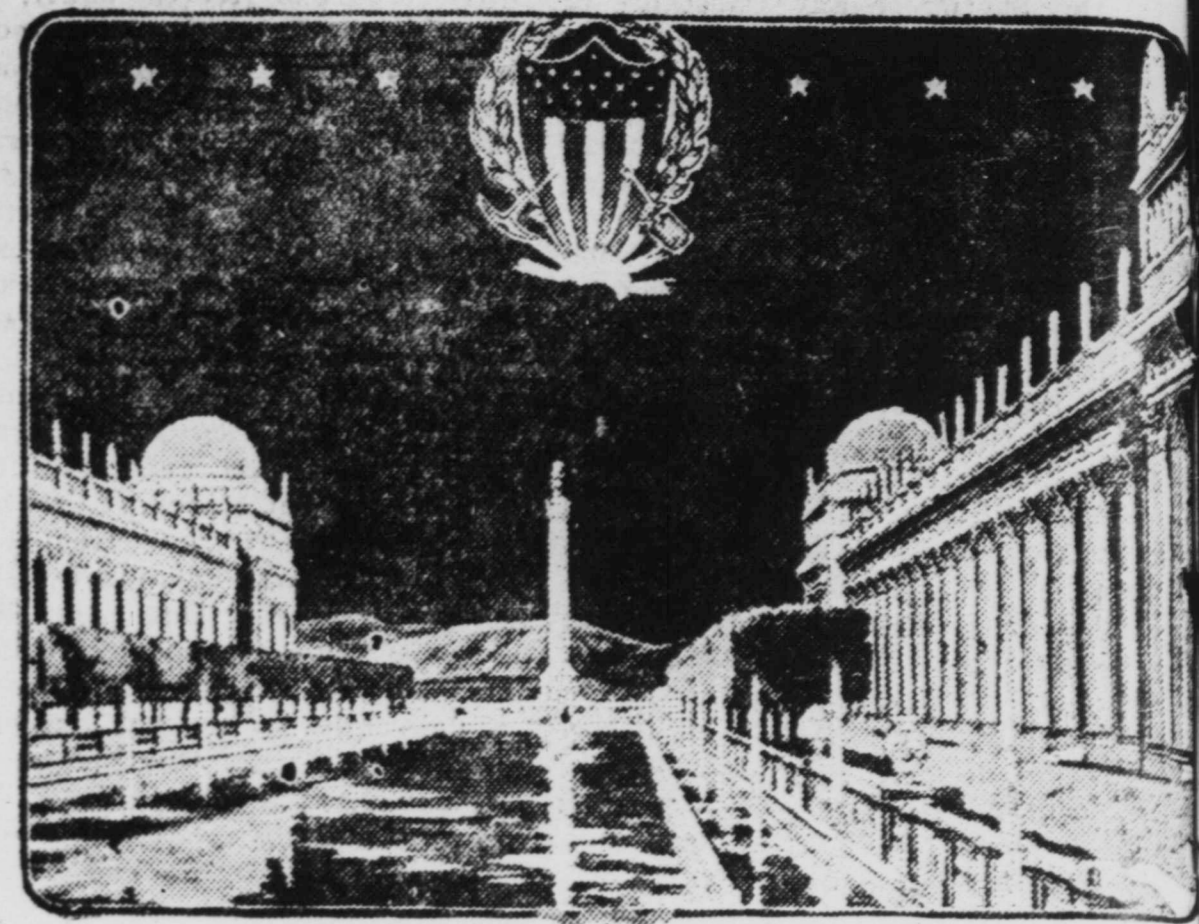

Beautiful Color Effects.
In the courts marvelous blendings of colors will be attained. Pompeian red, strong Italian blues, vermilion and orange will predominate. The courts will be covered with Spanish tile, a reddish pink. But from afar the sightseer will gain the effect of the blending of screening the walls of the environing exposition palaces. The columns will be sixty feet in height; surrounding the colonnade will be a series of 110 figures symbolizing the stars. Each figure will support a huge artificial jewel four feet in diameter. At night these jewels will glitter with dazzling lights; by day their radiance will be obscured.

In the center of the court will be a great sunken garden with benches to seat about 7,000 people, surrounding the garden. In the garden will be groupings of classic statuary, dancing figures, fauns, satyrs and nymphs; flowers, trees and vines will contrast with the statuary and with the superb colonnades and the towering golden domes.

To the east as one passes from the Court of Sun and Stars to the great east or Festive Court will be a huge triumphal arch 90 feet in height and surmounted by a colossal grouping of statuary. Camels, elephants and Oriental warriors will crown the summit of the great arch. To the east on the approach of the Court of Four Seasons will be a triumphal arch of similar size surmounted by a group representing western civilization. A huge prairie schooner will comprise the central motif of the group.

As the visitor in 1915 passes beneath either of the huge triumphal arches to the east or Festive Court, or to the west court, the Court of Four Seasons, he will traverse great avenues between the exhibit palaces whose sides will be adorned with mural decorations and screened by classic colonnades. Huge pools of water will reflect the outlines of the lofty buildings. The walkways will be in pavements of gold. Great banks of flowers and potted palms will lend color and imagery to the vista.

If this visitor passes to the east or Festive Court he will behold a vision surpassing the richest dreams of the Orient. The Festive Court is dedicated to music, dancing and acting; it is designed for pageantry surpassing the luxurious Durbar and will constitute the proper setting for Oriental or modern drama upon a colossal scale. Here will assemble many of the fascinating pageants that will come from the concessions center to draw visitors to the amusement features of the exposition. The architecture of this great court will partake of the Oriental phase of the Spanish-Moorish architecture and yet it will have that refinement which is characteristic of the architecture of the Spanish Renaissance. The main tower of the court will contain a huge pipe organ with echo organs in the smaller towers. Electric scintillators will play upon fountains at night; reflected colored lights will cast a spell throughout the court. The walls of the cloister will be decorated with mural paintings; exotic flowers, trees and vines, orange trees in fruit and in blossom, will contrast with the statuary and the huge colonnades and staircases.

Court of Four Seasons.

From the Court of Sun and Stars the visitor in passing to the west will come to the superb Court of Four Seasons of which Mr. Henry Bacon, creator of the Lincoln Memorial, is the architect. In its theme this court will typify the conquest of nature by mankind. In the center of the court will be a great grouping of statuary in which Ceres, Goddess of Agriculture, will be shown dispensing the bounties of nature. In each of the four corners of this court will be cut great niches into the encircling exhibit palaces. In each of the four niches will be four great mural paintings suggesting the seasons, spring, summer, autumn and winter; lofty colonnades will screen the niches.

The ornamentation upon the water front will be upon a colossal scale. The Court of the Four Seasons, opening upon the harbor, will be entered through a stupendous gateway, the Gate of Columbus. The visitor will pass through the gateway beneath a great tower to the esplanade upon San Francisco bay. Directly before the tower will be seen a colossal figure of Columbus, facing the water. Ornamenting the tower in recesses will be figures representing the great voyagers of the world.

Before the entrance to the grand Court of Sun and Stars upon the bay will be a colossal column whose spiral will depict man's climb toward success and at the summit of the column will be a figure representing achievement. On the left and before the Court of Four Seasons will be the gates of Balboa, before which will be a colossal statue of the discoverer of the Pacific ocean.

Each of the three main north and south courts will open out upon the esplanade on the shores of San Francisco bay upon the north and upon the great tropical garden upon the south. Vast beds of flowers in bloom will be set in the south garden; the plants will be replaced by others when their flowering season is passed.

The fourteen great buildings to be constructed by the exposition company, and to be devoted to general exhibits exemplifying the advance of the world in the arts, sciences and industries, will be the loftiest exposition structures ever erected. In addition there will be the huge series of palaces and pavilions to be erected by the states and foreign nations.

To the east of the center group will be Machinery Hall, the largest single structure of the exposition. Just south of Machinery Hall is Automobile Hall. In the south garden at the east end and near the concessions center will be located Festive Hall, and near the west end the Palace of Horticulture, a huge structure of wood and glass. Flanking the great rectangle on the west will be the Palace of Fine Arts, a classic and beautiful structure embodying the spirit of Italian Renaissance and facing upon a great pool from which its outlines will be reflected.

The following are the approximate dimensions of the buildings: Machinery Hall, 367.8x967.8, and adjacent Mines and Metallurgy, 574x451; dried Industries, 414x346, and Special Manufactures, 552x470; Transportation, 614.6x574.6; Liberal Arts, 574.6, smaller wing, 423.9x574.6; Education, 394.3x526; Automobiles, 272x752; Festival Hall, 389x219; Fine Arts (outside line), 1,100 feet.

Magnificent Illuminations.

Throughout the entire exposition the illumination will be such as to bring out the colors of the buildings in their proper tones, to sharpen and intensify the color effects. The illumination of the colonnades will be accomplished through purple light; the windows of the exposition palaces will diffuse a golden ray. Hundreds of colored searchlights will be anchored in the harbor and will play against the sky, and steam and smoke that will be sent high in the heavens. Some 500 or 600 yards out in the bay will direct batteries of light for the exposition palaces, going through more than three hundred shades in colors.

Of the three main groups on the east will be comprised the concessions or amusement center which will occupy sixty-five acres; will be the first of all parts of the exposition to be reached by those who come from the downtown section of San Francisco. Its entrance will be by way of a great plaza which the concessions district will open out upon Van Ness street. Through the concessions area will run a broad avenue which will follow an irregular course east and west; it will describe many right angles, each turn as you pass affording a new view of concessions you will have. In posing concessions structures the corner will be marked by a building. The street of concessions will be more than a mile long. The domes of the buildings will be illuminated at night and spectacular effects will contribute to the night life of the exposition and amusement center.

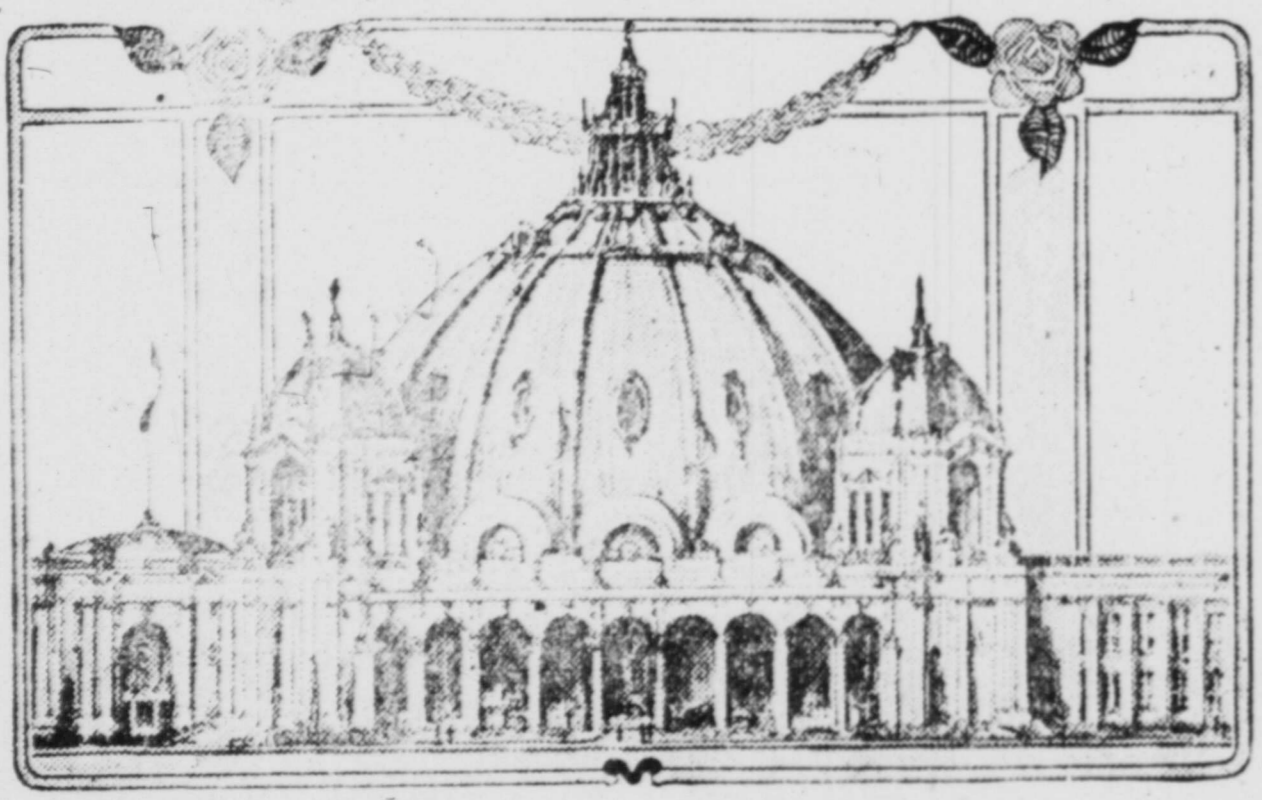

The western group will include an area occupied by the pavilions of foreign nations, by the buildings erected by the United States government and by the states. The pavilions of the foreign nations, the furthest from the bay, will rise upon tiered terraces as they ascend the gradual slope of the Presidio military reservation. Nearer the bay and closer to the water will be the buildings of the various states. The structure in this part of the exposition grounds will be surrounded by ample lawns adorned with shrubs and flowers. In its entirety the western wing will present upon a magnificent scale the effect of a superb residential district.

Great Drill Grounds.

Still further to the west of the states and foreign district will be great drill grounds, capable of accommodating at one time ten thousand troops in drill. Foreign nations will send their crack cavalry and infantry to participate in the maneuvers and trials of skill.

Encircling the drill grounds will be a race track where will be speed and harness races with a one racing association that will have a purse of $25,000 for a year-old trotting race.

Marking the extreme west end of the exposition structure will be the stock pavilions and the place devoted to live stock, poultry, domestic pets and other displays. The primary life saving exhibits will also be located here. Applications for exhibits have been received from all over the world. More than 100,000 square feet of space in the exhibition halls and many of the exhibits will have a value from $200,000 to $500,000. The number of applications for concessions is unprecedented and has caused a pre-exposition period. The Director of Concessions has received more than two thousand applications for concessions, many of which will be exceedingly original and interesting. Appropriately enough, among the concessions will be a $250,000 trip of twenty minutes to make the trip. The visitor in 1915 will see at the ferry building of the beach typical of the gold days. The Santa Fe will expend $250,000 on panoramas of the Grand Canyon.

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—
Letter to Mothers.

Anxious mothers often wonder why their children are so pale, thin and nervous and have so little appetite.
For the benefit of such mothers in this vicinity we publish the following letter.

J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn., says: "My little daughter, ever since her birth, had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago we commenced to give her Vinol. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance. I gave her three bottles of Vinol, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim."

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal agents extracted from cods' livers, combined with the blood-making and strength-creating properties of the Vinol, which are contained in the children, old people and the run-down and debilitated. We use the Vinol in every case where it is needed.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle?

well. I had previously used any num-

Texas as a Manufacturing State.

Victoria, Texas, March 25.—The general cry and disposition of Texas people today is "to keep Texas money in Texas."

This call of the people has not been in vain, indeed, it may well be said, the progress of Texas in the past four years has greatly exceeded that of the preceding twenty years, for in that time more ranch lands have been developed into small truck farms, and have brought more new settlers into Texas than any other industry. New towns and railroads have been built, new and better wagon roads have developed everywhere as a direct result of the opening of this new land to the general public and in the wake of all this development new manufacturing plants have sprung up throughout the entire state, that has caused the world in general and the Northern capitalist in particular to open its eyes to the wonderful opportunities for profitable investment in the greatest state in the Union.

As an illustration of such possibilities, we would cite you to the Victoria Safe and Lock Company, incorporated, under the laws of the state of Texas and located in Victoria, Victoria County, Texas.

This firm was incorporated first for two thousand dollars in September, 1909, and was re-incorporated in January of this year for forty thousand dollars. This company is the only one of its kind in the entire South.

Your correspondent in a personal conversation with Mr. H. H. Stephenson, the general manager, was advised
"his company were now, as they have always been, importing the raw material and actually constructing a genuinely fireproof safe, vault doors, safe-deposit boxes and burglar-proof chests. They have installed the most modern improved machinery, imported the best skilled labor to be had and have their goods accepted and installed by U. S. postoffices, railroads, banks and many of the largest mercantile houses in the country." Their slogan is "business getting; keeps our factory going, business building, keeps our factory growing" and it is very evident their methods of shipping absolutely nothing but what will be the very best recommendation to them, is the best method of "business building."

Vermonters' Failure.

"The inefficient are necessarily the disobolizing," said A. Munsey, apropos of a political leader who had failed.

"A middle-aged failure got a summer job in a Vermont general store last month. A boy came in one morning and asked him for half a pound of melted maple sugar, the famous Vermont dainty, at the same time laying a pot on the counter.

"The inefficient failure, without weighing the pot first, ladled a lot of the sticky syrup into it, then, of course when he set the pot on the scales, it went down with a bang. Finally, he ladled out all he could—but, again, bang went the scales.

"Then the man returned the boy
the pot and said:
"Go back home and tell your ma-sonny, we can't make a half-pound of maple sugar."

SWALLOW HAD LONG JOURNEY.

Positive Proof that Bird Traveled the Distance from England to South Africa.

The capture of a swallow bearing an aluminum ring in Natal, South Africa, the other day, has resulted in an astonishing insight into the migratory habits of birds. From a number and address stamped on the ring it was discovered that the swallow was one of the 11,483 British birds marked in a similar way last summer by enthusiasts, desiring to learn more as to the routes taken by bird migrants, and whether birds return again to their previous nesting sites. This systematic marking of birds began in 1909, since when nearly 32,000 have been "ringed." About three per cent are afterward noted, but the swallow reported from Natal appears to have made the longest flight so far. A black-headed gull ringed as a nestling in Yorkshire, in July, 1911, was found in February, 1912, in Flores, Azores. A starling ringed in Berkshire in January, 1912, reached Helsingfor, Finland, in April. A teal ringed in Staffordshire in the autumn of 1910, was found at Dalarna, Sweden, July, 1911.

PERSONAL MENTION

Judge and Mrs. J. F. Ross are the proud parents of a fine baby girl, who arrived to bless their home Tuesday, March 25.

W. W. Clarke, brother of the late R. C. Clarke of our city, who has been here for several days looking after the interests of the deceased, returned to his home in Jackson, Ala., Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. G. Beville and Miss Evie Clarke, mother and sister of the late R. C. Clarke, who were called here by the late illness of their relative returned to their home in Mobile, Ala., Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Blanche Freeman of Toyah was a visitor in Pecos Wednesday, arriving on the afternoon train.

Hon. Clay Cooke is attending to legal matters in El Paso this week, having gone down Wednesday afternoon.

H. E. (Todd) Barber, of Carlsbad, N. M., spent the first of the week in Pecos, returning home Thursday morning. While here Mr. Barber met with many old time friends and enjoyed his visit greatly.

Ves Smith has returned from a visit to relatives in the eastern part of the state and says that Pecos looks good to him. He has given out no statement as to what he intends to do further than that he expects to make his home in Pecos. Mrs. Smith and the baby will return some time next week.

Mrs. Judge W. H. Browning, who has been here several weeks the guest of her sons, Woody and Walter, returned to her home in Lampasas, on the afternoon train Thursday.

Mrs. Dr. B. H. Bennett, and children who have been spending some weeks at San Bernardino, Cal., visiting her parents, who celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding while she was there, returned home Thursday afternoon.

B. R. Stine was a passenger on the east bound train Thursday afternoon, enroute for Fort Worth where he will attend to business matters.

Mrs. G. N. Rand of Valentine, sister of Mrs. W. H. Browning, Jr., arrived in the city Thursday and will remain several days visiting her sister and other relatives.

The Street Crossings.

The city council of Pecos has accepted the proposition of the Southwestern Portland Cement company of El Paso to re-lay all cement crossings in the town originally laid by E. B. Kiser, which has disintegrated and broken up, using its own material and at their expense, and the work to be under their supervision, and to guarantee the work to withstand the action of all elements except wear and tear.

The company proposes to do this work to convince the public that their cement will stand the test when handled properly.

The work will commence within a short time and rushed to completion.

THE SEWER BONDS.

Approval is Held Up by Some Minor "Irregularities."

Mayor Gibson informed a representative of the Record Times that he was in receipt of information from the Attorney General's office that some minor irregularities in regard to the sewer bond issue was holding up their approval and instructions to remedy the faults were pointed out and the matter has been attended to and the approval of the issue is expected within a few days.

An offer has been received for the bonds from outside parties of 98 1-2 cents and interest. This being less than the face value, the price required by the law, of course the offer was declined.

An Easter Party.

Mesdames H. H. Johnson and Clay Cooke opened the season's gaieties with an elaborate "Easter Party" at the home of Mrs. Johnson Saturday afternoon in honor of their two Rook clubs and friends.

Four rooms were thrown together and tastily decorated with pots and vases of Easter lilies. In the center of the reception hall hung a large cluster of Easter lilies which held dainty greetings in white and gold, at the end of each ribbon was tied a cluster of white hyacinths, each guest drawing one to find their places at the tables for rook.

On each table were miniature nests filled with candy eggs, while watching over them stood a white bunny with large pink eyes.

The hostesses were assisted in receiving by Mesdames Col Prewitt, Buck, Weyer, and Hubbard.

At the close of nine exciting games the most delicious crystallized fruit and nut cream was served in lily cups with white bunny cakes. Mrs. T. Y. Casey cut for the royal prize with Mrs. Chas. Tudor, Mrs. Casey winning a beautiful pot of Easter lilies. Mrs. Hedgpeth was lucky in the cut for the booby prize, this also being a pot of Easter lilies.

Among those present were: Mesdames Cowan, Casey Cox, Landrum, Rowden, Harrison, Anderson, Boyd, Reib, Robertson, Dickson, Mansfield, Wadley, Gibson, Hall, Weyer, Prewitt, A. J. Wilson, Stine, Krauskopf, Terry, Pruitt, Buchholtz, Buck, Harris, Benway, Moore, Manahans, Canon, Love, Carothers, Peas, Hedgpeth, Lipscomb, CHAS. B. BOYLES.

At the Baptist Church.
Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "Weights and Wings." At night we expect to have Evangelist Finley with us on his return from Toyah.

The ladies of our church have arranged for a nursery in the large airy primary room. They will appoint two of their number each Sunday to watch over the cheery youngsters while the mothers attend the preaching service.

It is now but a few weeks until our special revival services. Let us all determine to have a larger part in this meeting than we have ever had in any meeting in the past.

Whatever else may come to Pecos this year nothing will be of as much value as a glorious good revival.

Come out and worship with us next Sunday.

J. B. COLE, Pastor.

Home Missionary Society Entertained.

Among those present were: Mesdames Wylie, Ben Randall, Frame, T. B. Smith, Jordan, Wadley, McAdams, Gage, Parker, Buchholtz, Kite, Mitchell, Taggart, Canon, Hedgpeth, T. B. Pruitt, Cooksie, Sutphin, Albert Sisk, Rumlens, Carothers, Winters, Dickson and Wilcox.

BANK BUILDING CONTRACT LET.

Last Friday at a board meeting of the Citizens State Bank of Barstow it was decided to rebuild the bank building on the old site and the contract was let to Bruce, Walker & Co., of Pecos, to erect a one story building 25 by 70 on the corner where the bank formerly stood with bank equipment in front and three office rooms in the rear of the building. The walls will be built of extra heavy thickness so that in case it is later decided to put on another story that the walls will not have to be reinforced. Work is to commence at once and in a few weeks the old bank will be at home in their old location.—West Texas Journal.

Editor Jas. D. Ramsey of the Barstow Journal announces that he has sold the paper and will retire from active work. Well, we wish you well acting the gentleman of leisure. J. D.
