CATTLE, HORSES MULES, RANGES

There is Nothing More Profitable and Surer of a Good Market than Cattle, Horses and Mules and They Bring Good Prices

There has been considerable doing in Reeves county and Pecos during the past few days as will be seen by the following items.

Sid Kyle sold to H. F. Anthony 100 cows and 8 bulls out of his herd of fine full-blooded Herefords. Prices are not given but it is understood that they were in keeping with the prevailing prices.

W. L. Ross sold to and will deliver 400 cows and calves to W. T. Arnott of Monohans, in July. They are all high grade Herefords.

There have been two horse buyers in Pecos the past two weeks and they have purchased five carloads and shipped them to Fort Worth. One of the buyers is still here. This ought to encourage the horse raisers to raise more good horses. They are paying good prices for the right kind of horses.

Fred Snyder has purchased the J. B. Roberts ranch North of Pecos and has moved his cattle onto the same.

Robbins, Anderson and Boyd shipped in 500 head of stock cattle last week and will receive 400 more in July.

Jno. DeRacey purchased 100 head of good cows from A. B. Cooksey, which were delivered last week.

Marcus Snyder has purchased the Armstrong Ranch North of Pecos.

A. B. Cooksey bought 100 head of mules from Will Bolton and has placed them upon his ranch North of Toyah. They were a fine bunch ranging from 1 to 5 years of age, and undoubtedly Albert will sure make good on this purchase.

Henry Avant purchased from Messrs. Barber & Deops 250 head of choice yearlings—heifers and steers, which were delivered last week.

Albert Tinnin, of Toyah, bought of Jay and Jess Heard 150 head of splendid steer yearlings, which are to be delivered this month.

Bill Collins, of Toyah, purchased from Julius Eisenwein about 200 head of yearling steers which will be delivered this month.

B. H. Snyder, Jr., of Collins, is here this week looking after his ranch interests near Pecos.

Oscar King, from the King Bros. ranch in Loving county, is on the sick list and is at the Orient Hotel.

O. Keen shipped in 12 cars of Mexican cattle from El Paso Wednesday which were transferred to the Santa Fe pens, held over and fed, and Thursday they were carried to Portales, New Mexico.

Thursday J. Z. Means & Co. loaded out from Pyote 50 cars of yearlings which were consigned to American Loan & Live Stock Co., and shipped to Gillette, Wyoming. Mr. Geo. Wilson, of Denver, was at Pyote to receive the stock.

RETURNED FROM AN OVERLAND TRIP

Messrs. G. C. Parker and R. C. Hatch returned last Friday from their overland trip in the former's auto to Fort Worth and other points in North Texas. They went via Midland, Sweetwater and Abilene, and they report splendid roads near Big Springs for a few miles also near Sweetwater they had a long stretch, but say that the best roads they struck while gone were in Tarrant County.

Mr. Parker visited the home folks at Milford and Mr. Hatch visited a sister at Lorena.

They report everything and crops in fine shape along the route. They were gone about two weeks, traveling over 1200 miles on the trip. They returned via Waco, San Angelo and Fort Stockton, over quite a stretch of the "Great

ATTENDED PIERCE-FORDYCE OIL AGENTS MEETING

Geo. B. Landrum, the hustling agent for the Pierce-Fordyce Oil Company here, went to Sweetwater last Friday to be in attendance upon the meeting of the Oil Agents of his company for the North Texas Division.

He went on over to San Angelo from there. Geo. lived in that city for many years and knows all the old-timers in that whole Tom Green county and adjoining country and will undoubtedly have a great time swapping yarns about olden times. He was Sheriff of that county for some time.

MRS. M. J. LEEMAN PASSES TO HER REWARD

Word was received here Tuesday that Mrs. M. J. Leeman had passed to her reward in the great beyond. The remains were embalmed and carried to Pyote where the train was taken for Honey Grove, the old home where the burial will take place beside the remains of her husband who preceded her some 20 years ago.

Mrs. Leeman was a native of Kentucky, and with her husband moved to Texas some 50 years ago, and resided a greater portion of the time at or near Honey Grove, where her husband died. She was converted while a child and has been a consistent christian and did valient work for her Master in the Methodist Church, having sown the seeds of love and helpfulness among her neighbors and friends, always behind ready to pass a good deed along.

Since the death of her husband she has made her home almost constantly with her son, M. M. Leeman, who came to Pecos in 1906, remaining a few months after which in 1907 they removed to their ranch in Loving County, where she died.

The following children were with her when she breathed her last: M. M. Leeman, C. A. Leeman, of Guymon, Oklahoma, W. B. Leeman of Bonham, Texas. She also leaves two daughters, Mrs. Alice D. Templeton, of Merkle, and Mrs. J. M. Terry, of Sentinel, Oklahoma, who were unable to be present at the time of her illness and death. The two sons with M. M. Leeman and family accompanied the remains to Honey Grove.

Grandma Leeman leaves hosts of friends who with relatives, mourn her departure from among them, but one and all know that she has gone to join loved ones who have gone on before and be with her dear Savior to enjoy her just reward.

The sympathy of the entire community joins with the Times in extending sympathy to those who remain.

ANNUAL REPORT CARNEGIE LIBRARY

The Librarian and Others Make Their Reports Upon Different Phases of the Work. A Grand Work Has Been Accomplished

About 25 members of the Library Association attended the annual meeting last Thursday, June 3, 1915. The report of the year's work was read by Mrs. J. C. Wied, secretary of the association, showed that the library had grown wonderfully, both in size and popularity under the splendid management of its president, Mrs. T. Y. Casey.

The Women's Clubs of Pecos have contributed largely toward the support of the undertaking during the past year.

The Merry Wives Club gave a book shower which netted the Library 80 books and $10 in cash. Besides this they have held monthly teas, the proceeds of which have gone toward the furnishing of the club rooms.

The Twentieth Century Study Club have also held monthly teas, to aid in the further furnishing of the club rooms. The Euterpean Club has placed a piano in the club rooms, and have purchased a set of Musical Encyclopedia, and two Musical publications for the Library.

The Mother's Club have placed chairs and benches in the club rooms and conducted a course in nature study under the directions of Mrs. Hindley. The teachers of the High School have donated money for magazine subscriptions.

The Civic League, which is now disbanded, donated the money left in their treasury for the purchase of tables and chairs for the reading room. Committee composed of the presidents of the various womens clubs of the city have charge of the club rooms and their furnishings.

A committee composed of Mrs. Casey, Mrs. Warn, Mrs. Looby and Mrs. Wilson drew up a set of rules governing the use of the reading room, club rooms and the library building in general.

The City Council will pay the Librarian's salary for the ensuing year, so that the donations may be used for the purchase of books and equipment.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Stine, showed the Library's financial standing to be in fine condition.

Total assets of Library	$1372.28

The report of Mrs. Looby, the Librarian, showed a remarkable growth of the undertaking in the past ten months.

No. of volumes, 1018; Borrowers, 318; Circulation, 4244; Estimated value of books, $841.91.

This is a very conservative estimate of the circulation as most of the books were read by friends of the persons to whom the books were charged. There has been a loss of 13 from the subscription list.

Mrs. Looby collected $21.79 in fines and $13.05 in book rent. The report of the book committee which is composed of Mrs. Looby, Mrs. Parker and W. W. Hubbard was read by Mrs. Looby, and is as follows:

"Commencing with about 540 volumes, there have been daily additions to the shelves, given by friends of the library. But it was not till the first of November, that the Association felt that their finances warranted the purchase of new books. Since then 176 books have been bought by the book committee. These as well as the books donated have been carefully censored, and those deemed unfit have been withdrawn. During the next year an effort will be made to increase the circulation of non-fiction and to provide reading for the purpose of study and improvement, as well as diversion. We hope to greatly enlarge the children's department and to put in suitable books for the large girls and boys. In addition to the Juvenile books we aim to secure the best in standard English Literature for the shelves."

The work of the Ways and Means committee, which is composed of Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. W. M. Collie and Mrs. L. W. Anderson, was reported by Mrs. Douglas, its chairman, as follows:

"The first donation to the Library was in the nature of a shower given by the Merry Wives Club. They placed 80 books on the shelves besides donating $10.50 in cash.

"Then a committee composed of Mrs. Jack Love, Mrs. R. R. Smothers, Mrs. E. C. Canon and Mrs. Sam Prewit, collected books from the citizens of Pecos and by the time the library was ready to open they had collected over 500 books and many magazines.

"Through the contributions of the following the library was screened: T. B. Pruett, Mrs. T. Y. Casey, Groves Lumber Co., H. C. Zimmer and Mr. Hendricks, carpenter.

Mrs. W. H. Moore collected $59.25 in cash for the month of July and turned in a monthly subscription list of $41.00. The Civic League expended $26.30 for tables and chairs: The City Council purchased the supplies and equipment for starting the work. Under the auspices of the Ways and Means Committee, Miss King presented "The Blue Bird," which netted the library $12.50. $4.50 was realized from the tea held in the library during the plant sale conducted by the Mothers' Club, making a total

IRRIGATION IN-JUNCTION SUIT

Barstow, Texas, May 25, 1915.
Editor Ward County News,
Barstow, Texas.

Dear Sir:
Since many reports have been circulated in reference to the decision concerning the injunction suit against the Irrigation District, I wish you would publish the following:

Yours truly,
Robert L. McKnight,
Secretary.

No. 489.
Appeal from District Court of Ward County.
Geo. E. Barstow et al., Appellants, vs.
Ward Co. Irr. Dist. No. 1, Appellee.

OPINION
Plaintiffs filed their petition for injunction, seeking to enjoin the sale of certain bonds issued by the defendant. The cause was set down for hearing, notice given to defendant to appear and show cause why the injunction should not issue.

Hearing was had in vacation and ordered entered denying the writ, from which this appeal is taken.

The petition alleges that the defendant is a public irrigation corporation, organized under Chap. 172, Acts of 33rd Legislature of Texas.

That prior to the organization of the District, plaintiffs were the owners of certain lands, now incorporated in the District, with established water rights issued by the Barstow Irrigation company, a private corporation, and which said company had contracted to furnish water to all of plaintiffs' lands at $1.50 per acre.

The defendant purchased the said irrigation Company's plant and thereupon said Barstow Irrigation Company went out of existence, and thereafter refused to further comply with its contracts with plaintiff. That by the purchase of aforesaid, the defendants assisted the said company in breaking contracts and thereby seeks to take from plaintiffs their valuable water rights acquired aforesaid, and now seeks to force defendants to pay a much larger price for their water and now seeks to force plaintiffs to pay the same price for water that people owning nonriparian lands have to pay, and by this means, has divested the plaintiffs of important vested rights.

The said lands have been assessed at fictitious and excessive valuation for the purpose of issuing bonds in excess of the constitutional limit, to wit, one fourth of the actual value of the lands included in the district. That the bonds to the amount of $525,000 have been issued and a portion of them sold the balance are now to be sold. That because of the excessive valuation and consequent tax levy, plaintiffs lands are materially depreciated in value, etc., and pray that the proposed sale of the bonds not be enjoined. The defendants answered by plea in bar, res adjudicate and special denials of the allegation in the petition.

Plaintiffs contend that the statute under which the defendant is organized is unconstitutional, because in violation of Sec. 19, of Art. 1, of the Constitution of Texas in that the effects is to deprive the plaintiffs of their property rights, otherwise than by due course of law, first, because the act provides that the judgment of the District Court of this County, holding the bond issue valid is final, from which no appeal can be taken. Further, that the acts of the Legislature is violative of Sec. 17, Art. 1, of the Constitution of Texas, which is that "no person's property shall be taken, damaged or destroyed for or applied to public use without adequate compensation being made, unless by consent of such person." (a) because the act gives the board of directors unqualified and unlimited power to place a fictitious, excessive and unlimited valuation upon the property included in its territory, irrespective of its true valuation, and (b), because it authorizes the defendant to take away from the defendants, without their consent their riparian rights to take water from the stream at their own expense.

The answer to the foregoing proposition is that the act is not violative of the articles of the Constitution named, because it does not admit of an excessive valuation for the purpose of a bond issue, but provides that bonds may be issued to the amount of one fourth the actual value of the lands of the district and no more, and the facts in the record sustain the trial court in holding that there was no excessive valuation for the purpose of the bond issue. Nor is the act subject to the criticism that authorizes the directors to take property without due process and without consent of the owner. Sec. 24 of the act expressly provides the process by which same may be lawfully acquired.

As to the other question suggested, that the act is unconstitutional, because it provides for the District Court to declare the bonds valid without appeal, it is not necessary to here pass upon that part of the act, because from the showing here the bonds were lawfully issued regardless of the decree of the District Court in their favor, and if this particular provision of the act should be unconstitutional, it would not vitiate the whole act, and the bonds issued in accordance with all the other provisions become valid and binding obligations. The act for the purpose of the bond issue in question is constitutional.

We cite and approve the opinion in the case of Wharton County Drainage District No. 1, vs. Higbee, 149 S. W. 361, and refer thereto for additional reasons why the act is constitutional, in that it is authorized by Sec. 52 of Art. 3, of the Constitution of Texas.

Appellants further contend that if the act is not unconstitutional for the reasons given above, that the defendants should be restrained from selling the unsold bonds because the act does not authorize it to assess and tax plaintiffs' lands without first condemning their riparian rights. We are not sure of the point intended by this paragraph of the plaintiffs' petition but it is expressed by the above sentence, the answer is that to tax plaintiffs' lands which have been incorporated within the irrigation district in the way provided by statute, is in no sense a taking of their riparian rights, but in taxing the lands defendant is enabled to insure plaintiffs' full enjoyment of their rights. If, as asserted in another part of the petition, the trustees of the district should attempt to take water to which plaintiffs are entitled by reason of having established water rights, and undertake to give it to some other

LETTER FROM BRO. J. B. COLE

Dear Brother Strickland:
It is with regret that I am to miss the banquet of the Masonic Brethren, and not be able to make the talk they requested and am also prevented from preaching for the W. O. W. as had been arranged or Sunday afternoon June 6th.

It would have been a distinct joy to mingle with these very dear friends and say a word of encouragement to them. They are both worthy organizations that seek the good of mankind and are an encouragement that some good day near will be really brethren living up to the highest ideal of fellow helpers to the truth. More and more men are coming to the enlargement of visions and understanding that we are our brother's keepers and that the longer life can only come to these who live for others.

While narrow souls will sometimes defeat the prayers of Christian hope and fraternal orders, it is certain that thousands of good and true men work and live up to the high obligation of real brotherhood. The exceptions are only small dark spots that make the full glory of fraternal faithfulness more luminous.

As with the Savior's twelve disciples, there was one Judas and with the American Revolution, one traitor. We do not give up either our Christianity nor our fraternal orders. If we do once in a long time find men who violate their solemn and strongest oaths and obligations, we should not from this abate our faithful and ceaseless efforts for the growth and perfection of the largest brotherhood in the world. To lose confidence in men is next to losing confidence in God—forever the long neglected Father in Heaven has confidence in us and tenderly calls us to love and unity. My word of hope and good cheer to these beloved lodgesmen is press on, cherish high and holy ideals and be true to every obligation and to every brother.

"Trust in the Lord and do good so shall you dwell in the land and be bountifully fed."

Very heartily your brother,
J. B. COLE.

NOTE—This note from Brother Cole was written from the Baptist Sanatorium at Dallas, where he went for a slight operation which could be avoided entirely, and was received too late for last week's Times.

entitled, then plaintiffs would be entitled to their restraining order, unless the district acquired such rights as provided by law, but such an act could in no wise effect the legality of the bonds issued.

The order of the District Judge refusing the writ is therefore affirmed. (Signed) JAMES K. HARPER, Chief Justice.

II—Railroads

In discussing the commercial achievements of this great age, we shall approach the subject as the historian chronicling events. This series will endeavor to record in writing the supremacy of American men and industries in the world's affairs and perpetuate an appreciation of our marvelous industrial achievements by presenting simple facts, figures and comparisons that are overpowering in their convictions.

America holds her proud place among the nations of the earth today on account of her supremacy in transportation facilities. The mighty minds of the age are engaged in the problems of transportation, and the greatest men in the history of the world's commerce are at the head of the transportation systems of the United States.

In the discussion of transportation, let us consider separately our Railways, Telegraph and Telephone, Express, Public Highways, Steamships, Street Railways, Interurban and other forms of transportation, and this article will deal with railways.

The United States has the largest mileage, the best service, the cheapest rates, pays labor the highest wages, and we have the most efficiently managed of the railways of the world. They stand as a monument to the native genius of our marvelous builders, and most of the railroads in foreign countries have been built under American orders.

The railroads represent a larger investment of capital than any other branch of human activity. The mileage in the United States exceeds the accepted distance from the earth to the moon. We had in 1911, the last year in which figures for all countries are available, on the earth's surface, 639,981 miles of railway divided as follows: United States 241,199, Europe 207,432 and other countries 191,350. The United States has 38 per cent of the world's mileage, seven per cent of the estimated population and about five per cent of the area. The total capital invested in the railways of the world is $50,000,000,000, divided as follows: United States $13,000,000,000, Europe $25,650,000,000 and other countries $11,350,000,000. Reduced to a mileage basis the capitalization is as follows: The world $78,000, United States $54,000, Europe $124,000, and other countries $59,000.

A comparison of rates is equally as interesting and the United States takes the lead in economy and service. The average rate per ton per hundred mile haul is as follows: United States 76c, Great Britain 2.53, France 1.44, Germany 1.44, Russia 92c, Austria-Hungary 1.30, Italy 2.30 and Switzerland 2.82.

The average yearly pay of all railroad employes in the principal countries is as follows: United States $757, Germany $392, Italy $345, Austria $322, Great Britain $279, France $260 and Russia $204.

About 30 per cent, or 188,000 miles, of the railways of the world are government owned. About half the railway mileage of Europe is government owned.

A comparison of the economy, in time and money and the convenience in travel, will be made in a later article.

"GIVE US CORN" IS THE CRY

Bullets and Bayonets Fail to Check Piteous Clamor for Food Supplies

Mexico City, Mexico, May 22.—For the last three days the sessions of the so-called national convention in the chamber of deputies building have been the scenes of the wildest disorder. Not only the galleries, but at times the floor and speakers tribune have been rushed by hordes of hungry men, women and children.

The shouts of "We want corn!" drowned all others, and even the show of bayonets and the firing of the soldiers over the heads of the mob, have not checked their vain and piteous plea for food. The Red Cross has been kept busy carrying off the women and children and, in some cases, old men, crushed or overcome in these manifestations.

Ten thousand gathered outside of the chamber today and nearly 300 were carried off on stretchers. Acting president Gen. Roque Gonzales Garga, appeared before the convention delegates and a portion of the mob to tell them that the treasury was empty, the fields laid waste by the revolutionaries, and that the only hope for the coming winter was that all Mexicans lay down their arms and begin tilling the fields. Repeatedly the crowds answered him, saying: "Give us corn. Our women and children are dying of hunger. Give us corn."

A comparatively small supply was obtained from the foreign relief committee and this assuaged the wants of the day.

Crops everywhere are short and in all save five of the 27 states of Mexico there is absolute want. The new harvest is many months away and mythical because to a large extent unplanted. Even states as productive as Morelos and Guanajuato are calling for corn, while armies turn their cavalry into anything to be found and kill cattle and other farm animals for their hides.

It is estimated that, unless relief comes from the outside, more than 13,000,000 people will be in danger of starvation. In normal times it requires approximately 1,800,000 tons of corn to feed these 13,000,000. Farmers and grain dealers say this must be obtained in the United States, but as Mexico has no money to pay for even a part of what is needed, she will be compelled to throw herself on the charity of the United States, according to these authorities.

BILLIOUS ATTACK

When you have a billious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quartet. Obtainable everywhere at all dealers. —Adv.

insisted on order. The vote was taken and the Wisconsin leader obtained recognition long enough to say:

"I wish to enter my solemn protest against tactics which shut off discussion of this most important subject."

Mrs. Upton explained that the tabling of the resolution was not due to opposition to the subject matter in it, but to the necessity of straightening out the various problems before the conference.

The Boy Who Saved Holland

You remember the story of the little Dutch boy whose courage and foresight saved his country. He spied a trickle of water on the side of the dike, where the sea had found an entrance. He knew that the hole would spread, the dike weaken, collapse, and bury the country under many feet of water.

Thrusting his hand and arm into the hole, he stopped the leak, staying at his post until found in the morning.

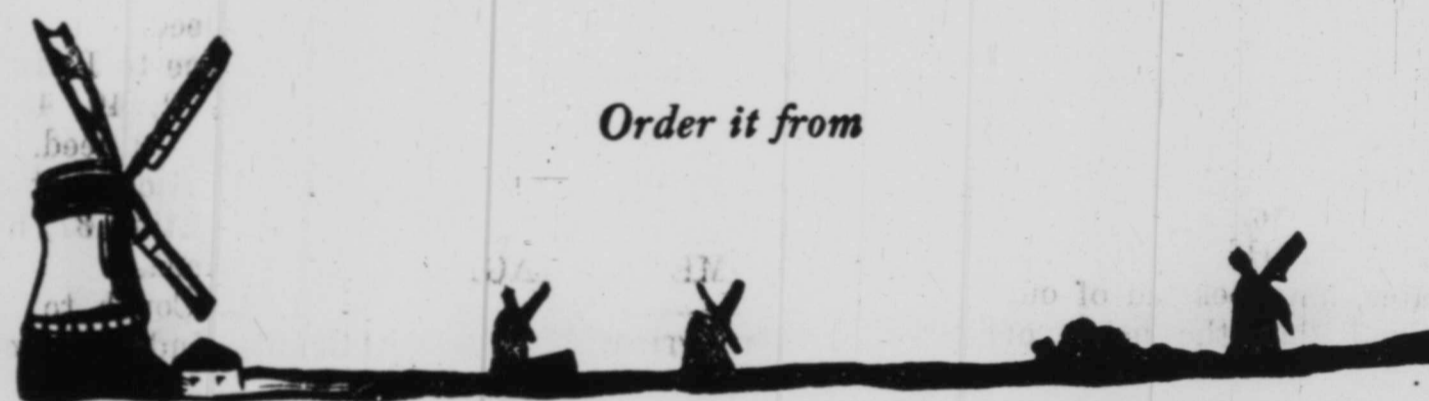

It was only a small leak, but it would have worked great havoc.

Just the stopping of a trickle of water saved the people of a country. Of course, all trifles are not so important as this, but they are always fraught with possibilities.

SPARKS FLY AS WOMEN CONVENTION

Heated Debate Features the Suffragist Convention; Steam Roller Used.

Chicago, Ill., June 7.—The mid-year conference of the National American Woman Suffrage association was only half an hour old today when verbal sparks began to fly. The participants were Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the association; Mrs. Thomas W. Youmans, president of the Wisconsin state organization, and, as peacemaker, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the state organization of Ohio.

Mrs. Youmans accused Dr. Shaw of flattening her out with a steam roller.

The trouble arose over the congressional union, a suffragist organization said to advocate militant methods, including attacks on parties and individuals which oppose the woman movement. This is one of the most important subjects to come before the conference.

Mrs. Youmans offered a resolution calling for an arbitration board on which the congressional union should have fair representation, to consider all matters bearing upon the subjects, the committees to report later to the conference.

A motion to table by Mrs. Stanley McCormick of New York, carried 49 to 25 above the protest of Mrs. Youmans, who insisted that she had a right to address the delegates on the subject.

"A motion to table is not open to discussion," said Dr. Shaw as she brought the gravel down and

HOW TO PREVENT TYPHOID

By Logan Wallace Page, John R. Mohler and Edwin F. Smith.

When one is compelled to live in a house or neighborhood where typhoid prevails, he should make it his infallible rule to eat and drink only such foods as have been recently heated above the scalding temperature.

Salads should be avoided and water and milk should always be scalded before use.

Fruit should be pared. The typhoid fever organism is very susceptible to heat and slight boiling or good scalding is sufficient to destroy it.

So far as possible the house fly should be screened out of the house, while any that gain access should be diligently pursued and destroyed.

A bit of wire netting attached to a wooden handle is a convenient weapon.

If these measures were consistently practiced, a large part of the new generally prevalent typhoid fever could be prevented, especially if in conjunction with these measures the discharges of the sick were thoroughly disinfected before being thrown out on the soil or into latrines.

In many cases the typhoid organism persists in the bowel discharges and in the urine for quite a number of weeks after recovery, so that great care should be taken for a month or two that these discharges are not allowed to contaminate soil or water.

In the case of the few unfortunate, known as typhoid carriers, the organism becomes acclimated and these persons then are a constant source of danger to their fellows.

To bowel and kidney discharges should be added an equal volume of 5 per cent carbolic acid solution (poison) or 5 per cent solution liquor cresol compound (United States Pharmacopoeia.)

Soiled hands should be washed for five minutes in mercuric chloride water (1:1000) colored with methylene blue to distinguish it from ordinary nonpoisonous fluids and kept out of reach of children or animals.

Tablets of this character are on the market. In no cases should mercuric chloride solution be put into metallic vessels, as it soon becomes inert.

Owing to the difficulty in carrying out these sanitary precautions in localities where house flies swarm and bad water is prevalent and the local sanitary conditions are unknown, it is advised that field men receive preventive inoculation.

This advice will hold for all well persons who find themselves in similar conditions.

Typhoid fever is a self-limited disease. By this is meant that if the patient does not die during the process of the disease, the body reacts against the invading microorganisms with the production of the various antibodies, known as agglutinins, opsonins, etc. and these antibodies limit the disease to a variable number of weeks, after which the persons recovers and the virus (the germ) disappears from the body.

The preventive inoculation for typhoid depends upon this fact.—United States Department of Agriculture.

"It were an accident, your wu-ship."

"An accident, you bullying cur? Do you mean to stand there and tell me that you struck your wife with such force as to break a chair over her by accident?"

THE EUROPEAN WAR IN BIBLE PROPHECY.

Undreamed of passions have burst forth, devouring the lands that patient hands have beautified and made fertile, and centuries have stocked with art treasures. To the entire world the war has come as a complete surprise because they have not read our book (60 pages—cloth) telling that just such conditions would exist, only to be followed by the still greater devastation of anarchy. The first edition came from the press in 1897.

Of vaster interest and importance is its promise of better things in store for this earth, when the wrath of nations has run its course. Send thirty-four cents in stamps (with this coupon) to cover postage, to The Temple, No. 23 W. 63rd St., New York City, and receive a copy promptly.

RIGHT THE FIRST TIME

While building a house Senator Platt of Connecticut had occasion to employ a carpenter, says Robert Rudd Whiting, in Four Hundred Good Stories. One of the applicants was a plain Connecticut Yankee without any frills.

"You thoroughly understand carpentering?" asked the Senator.

"Yes sir."

"You can make doors and windows and blinds?"

"Oh, yes sir!"

"How would you make a Venetian blind?"

The man scratched his head and thought deeply for a few minutes.

"I should think, sir, he finally said "about the best way would be to poke him in the eye."

Entered as second class matter Dec 2, 1912, at the Postoffice in Pecos, Texas, under Act of March, 1879.

That was a dirty fling Governor Ferguson took at the Senators who opposed the Gibson bill, when, in commenting upon his defeat, he said: "The votes of the stockholders and attorneys of Texas in surance companies in the Senate were too much for us." It was an insinuation that Senators who voted against his measure had been improperly influenced, and it was a direct insult to honorable men. It exhibited a spirit of littleness hardly to be expected in a Governor of a great State.—Ex

That reflection of some of the editors made at Governor Ferguson concerning the dirty fling he took at the Senators who were opposed to the Gibson Bill, we deem it our duty to say in behalf of the Governor that he was more than justified in his flinging dirt at the Senators for the reason that he had nothing but dirt to fling, or at least that is the presumption. His administration has been a dirty one, and that of the black kind. He also boasts of the many great things he has accomplished. You can find as great things under many of the farmers hen roosts.

SHOULD WE BE ALARMED?

Let us at present stand still and look on and listen. Most all of the great civilized powers are now engaged in a bloody war. The sword and the cannon are the commanders of the world. We, the United States, have boasted of our greatness, and that the heads of our government were able to hold our nation at peace, and that all nations should, and must, respect our colors. But at last when the greatest danger of our country being drawn into the war arises, then there comes a split. Secretary of State Bryan has handed in his resignation, which was accepted.

So long as the government was in no immediate danger of becoming entangled with the Germans, Mr. Bryan was a strong believer in the President, but when the great and strong minded President, aroused in defence of not only his own people, but in behalf of all other neutrals, then Mr. Bryan said: "I cannot support these assertions," then it was that he retired and laid down, his own heart content.

If Mr. Bryan is such a strong advocate of peace, why did he not stand by the President, even to the shedding of our blood. When the message of Mr. Bryan's resignation crossed over to the German government, then Germany recognizes, because of the split in our cabinet, that our President has reached the limit of his endurance, and has taken a firm stand, a stand which is unchangeable.

Let us stand still and look forward. When the last vote was taken in the cabinet, the vote stood 10 for the President's stand and 1 against, and this one was that of Mr. Bryan. Let everyone draw their own conclusions.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

SALVAGER OF DIVERSIFICATION

The grazing capacity of various crops was considered by Watson and Mairs in Pennsylvania. It was shown under the conditions prevailing that one acre of clover and timothy would maintain 10 cows for 16 days; an acre of flat peas, 10 cows for 36 days; an acre of soy beans, 10 cows for 36 days; an acre of rape, 37 days; an acre of sorghum, 35 days; an acre of cow-peas, 21 days, and an acre of corn, 16 days.

The most efficient crop in maintaining a flow of milk was cow-peas. For soiling purpose alfalfa proved satisfactory, producing the largest amount of protein per acre of any crop tested. Corn was second in the amount of forage produced. A mixture of sorghum and peas, field peas and oats were also satisfactory. Rape was found to be objectionable on the account of the bad flavor it gave to milk.

It has been fully established that legume hay can take the place of considerable portion of the grain ration. That is the protein in these legume hays will supplement the protein in corn and other grains.

Soule and Barns found in Tennessee that alfalfa would produce about five tons of hay per acre at a cost of from $3 to $5 a ton. They also found that alfalfa hay or cow-pea hay could be substituted for a considerable portion of the bran or cotton seed meal in the ration for cows. In this experiment 11-2 pounds of alfalfa hay or pea hay was chopped fine and substituted for each pound of bran. Estimating the alfalfa hay at $10, wheat bran at $20, the alfalfa saved $2.80 in the cost of every 100 pounds of butter and 20 cents in the cost of 100 pounds of milk. When conditions were favorable alfalfa produced a gallon of milk at a cost of 5.7 cents and a pound of butter for 10 cents.

These experiments show the advantage of growing leguminous crops to help supply the protein, the most expensive constituent in a ration.

In New Jersey a ration supplying protein in home-grown crops was fed as follows: 36 pounds of soy bean silage, 8 pounds alfalfa hay, 6 pounds of corn meal. It produced more milk and at a cost of 8 1-2 cents less a hundred pounds than a ration in which the protein was supplied in wheat bran, dried brewers' grain and cotton seed meal.

With cotton seed meal and cow-pea hay it was possible to produce milk at 5.2 cents a gallon, and butter at 10 cents a pound. Dugger, in Alabama, found that cowpea hay had a value of 86 per cent that of wheat bran with a monthly profit per cow of $4.35. The hay was fed with cotton seed meal at the rate of 6 1-2 pounds of hay a day. Another experiment in Alabama soy bean hay produced 4 1-2 more per cent of butter than cowpea hay. The ration of 6.6 pounds soy bean hay per day with cotton seed meal and wheat bran.

The pumpkin has not had a fair chance to prove its worth on the farm for feeding dairy cattle. It is one of the crops requiring very little attention so far as care in cultivation is concerned, that may be grown to supplement the dairy ration.

The experiments of Hills throws considerable light on the feeding value of pumpkins for dairy cows. Pumpkins were fed for two years and it was found that the amount fed may be 40 pounds daily with fair results. It was shown also that six percent more milk was received with more solids and fat in the milk when pumpkins were fed in the ration. The pumpkins contain 5 per cent less dry matter than the ration without them, consequently the results were even better than the figures indicate.

In comparison to silage, 1 pound of silage equals 2 1-2 pounds of pumpkins.

In another test 3,300 pounds of pumpkins with 700 pounds of silage took the place of 500 pounds of hay and 900 pounds of apple pomace. The actual feeding value of the pumpkin is about $2 a ton. Pumpkins impart no bad taste nor bad flavor to milk. According to German feeders pumpkins produce more butter but less milk than mangels.

It is pointed out by a publication of the United States department of agriculture that root-knot on plants is becoming a serious pest. This disease is caused by an insect which infests the roots of plants, causing the trouble widely known variously as root-knot, root-gall, big-root, etc. The insect that causes this trouble belongs to the nematode family and is known as the eel-worm; its presence is noted more commonly in the South than in the North.

There are other diseases of a very serious character caused by this insect. For instance, it is now claimed that the spores of cotton wilt or black-rot enter the roots of the cotton plants through the openings made by eel-worms.

It is claimed by the department that there are about 500 plants that are known to be more or less resistant to root-knot. Among the most common are the following: Brabham peas, barley, beggar weed, broomcorn, millet, crab-grass, corn, Iron cowpeas, peanuts, Pearl millet, redtop, rye, sorghum, timothy, velvet beans, wheat and winter oats.

The only way of utilizing soil badly infested with nematode insects, according to the department, is to practice crop rotation, planting the crops that are more or less resistant to the insects. It is believed that land badly infested can be freed comparatively speaking in a few years by systematic rotation.

It is now thought that tubers, bulbs and nursery stock are often carriers of the insects. The insects may also be carrier in soil on the feet of men and teams going from badly infested fields. Water and plows may also be carriers. Greenhouse soil is known to be a good place for them.

As to the indications of the disease known as root-knot, the department says: "Badly infested plants are dwarfed, wilt and readily in hot, dry weather, and are usually a paler green than healthy ones. With less severe attacks, however, these symptoms are not always noticeable and the reduced yield is not infrequently believed by the farmers to be a normal one. Where there is any reason to suspect the existence of root-knot, however, the roots should be examined; and in the case of some tuberous plants, like the potato, the tuber should be opened and the inside examined to detect the layer of discolored tissue usually found just beneath the skin of diseased plants.

There are several pests with which grape growers may have to contend. The most common insect that infests grape vines is the leaf-hopper. This insect sucks the juices from the leaves. The leaves then turn yellow, then brown, then fall off. If many of the leaves are infested the grape vines may be weakened considerably.

Spraying may be done with whale-oil soap, 1 pound to 10 gallons, 10 per cent kerosene emulsion, or tobacco extract. Thoroughness is necessary in spraying. The insects are sometimes on the under side of the leaves and hence hard to reach with sprays.

Every year the corn grower is asking himself the question: "How late should corn be cultivated?" This is a question that the season must determine. No rule can be given. But it is safe to say that the average man, the average season does not cultivate his corn late enough to get maximum results.

The Ohio experiment station began experiments in 1913 to determine how late corn should be cultivated in that state. While the station recognizes that two years is not enough to form definite conclusions the results of two years are given for what they are worth.

In this experiment five cultivations were given both, ordinary and late cultivated plots alike in June and early July. The ordinary cultivation then ceased and the late cultivated plots were given three additional cultivations in July and August, with a one-horse power cultivator. The gain for extra cultivation was not sufficient to pay for the labor in 1913; in 1914 the gain in yield due to late cultivation was more than enough to pay for the late cultivation. The average gain for two years in late cultivation with one-horse cultivator was 3.44 bushels per acre.

The use of phosphorus in the form of acid phosphate increased the yield of corn in Ohio, according to experiments made at the Ohio station 8.24 bushels per acre. The use of manure alone increased the yield 31.27 bushels per acre as an eight-year average. The use of acid phosphate and manure increased the yield 40.58 bushels per acre; leaving 9.31 bushels to be credited to acid phosphate.

The experiment with lime was also interesting. On acid soil at the station, Wooster, one ton of burned lime, or two tons of ground limestone, applied once in five years, increased the yield of corn on an average of 7.35 bushels per acre on unfertilized. Considering all crops of the rotation the lime was worth on the average $14.21 per acre per rotation. The lime cost $5 per acre.

A comparison of kernels from the butt, middle and tip portions of the ear showed only .57 of a bushel in yield at a 9-year average, and no difference in maturity.

It was found that the height of the plant and ear varies with the season. Selecting for high and low ears on the stalks within a variety has resulted in changing very materially the relative height of the ear and also the time of maturity. Low ears are associated with earliness. The comparative yield was not reduced by selection for earliness.

Only a short time remains till harvest time when the farm will be a very busy scene. Much will depend upon preparations for harvest. The other work of the farm should be so it can be left without detriment. The importance of saving all of the grain is apparent. It seems that prices are to be a special incentive for saving the grain in the best possible condition.

Small grain crops will mean much to the growers this year. Not in many years has the promise of a good small grain crop been of more importance. Let us make the best of it and leave nothing undone that we can do to save the crop in excellent condition. This will require plans well made and a careful execution of the plans to reduce the danger on any emergency.

White Swan

Mrs. Housewife—

A few words with you about many things you buy at your grocer's

First—What It Means to You to Buy Branded Goods—

Perhaps you don't realize it, but it's true that nearly every concern that puts up its goods in packages is doing it in an attempt to give you something cleaner, purer and better than you've been able to buy in "bulk."

They brand it with a name because they believe enough in the goods to be willing for them to be known by name—they want you to know what to ask for next time, if you liked the last lot.

Pretty much like the difference between the man who sends an anonymous letter (bulk goods) and the one who signs his letter (branded goods).

Then—as branded goods without doubt represent an attempt to give you something better it is a certainty that when it comes to a choice between unbranded and branded goods it will pay you to buy the latter.

The Difference between Branded Goods

Frankly—nine cases out of ten—the reason why one brand is better than another is simply a case of the "know how." Seldom because one manufacturer is trying harder than another to give you good stuff.

It's like the difference between cooks. For this reason. The concern with the "know how" back of it buys intelligently as well as sees that every item is prepared with skill. It doesn't depend on this section or that section to get the vegetables, fruits, fish, etc., that are put up for you. It goes to market wherever the best buying market is for each of these articles. Then, right there—right where the best of its kind is raised the product is packed for you.

All this counts for something in price—we buy in large quantities—people want to sell to us—result, we get better quality for the same or less money.

What It Means to You to Buy White Swan Goods—

We've got the "know how"—we think a little better know how in buying and in securing the best in preparation and packing than most anybody else. At the very least that's what we're trying to do every day—not only to be better than the others—but to be ourselves better today than yesterday.

And then there's the matter of experience. Years of study of foods and methods, of hard trying after improvement—all this experience must cut a big figure in ability to give you the best in quality. We know very well that our 43 years' hard at it have built something into White Swan Products that nothing else could take the place of.

People who've tried White Swan Goods seem to agree that we are on the right track—because they keep on buying that brand.

The result of this is that in all of Texas (and elsewhere in this section) there is not a retail grocery store whose service is built on QUALITY that does not sell, and recommend, White Swan Goods. This means that YOU can get them in your town at your grocer's.

We want to ask you to try White Swan—any article in the list—or all of them. We appoint you sole judge of the whole line by any item in it. That's fair, isn't it—and isn't it worth trying? Ask your grocer.

MARRIED

The Presbyterian Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, June 2, 1915, when Miss Frances M. Walker and Mr. Lee Dennis Kingston were united in marriage. Rev. W. L. Downing saying the marriage ceremony.

The decorations of the church were pretty in their simplicity, the rostrum being enclosed in a rustic, cedar covered fence, with an arched gateway, in which the bridal couple stood while taking the marriage vows. The bridal party entered as follows: Mrs. A. V. Johnson, Miss Mary Wilhite and Miss Fannie Kingston, who proceeded to the piano, where Miss Wilhite, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson sang "O Promise Me." Miss Kingston then played Mendelssohn's wedding march for the entrance of the bridal couple and attendants. First came Miss Cora Splitgarber and Mr. Albert Moore, Miss Jamie Walker and Mr. Will Kingston, then the bride accompanied by her father, James H. Walker and the groom accompanied by Rev. Downing. Misses Iola Holcombe and Grace Odell, school mates of the bride, acted as ushers. The bride's dress was of shadow lace over white satin messaline, she carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Splitgarber wore a white net over blue and Miss Walker wore pink brocaded satin and both carried bouquets of cape jasmynes.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Walker, she has made her home here for the past two years and by her beautiful traits of character and amiable disposition has won many friends, both old and young. The groom is a popular young ranchman, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kingston, a prominent, pioneer family of this section. Friends and relatives from Alpine, Fort Davis, Toyah, Pecos, Saragosa and other points were here to attend the wedding. They were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable gifts. On last Saturday afternoon Misses Cora Splitgarber and Florence Davis honored the bride-to-be with a linen shower at the home of Judge and Mrs. Meier. Friends from far and near came and this hospitable home was filled with guests. First each guest was requested to write some advice to the bride in the guest book. Then little Herbert Meier, dressed as cupid, entered the parlor pulling a little white wagon loaded with beautiful household linens, etc., for the honoree. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The young ladies were assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Meier, Splitgarber, Patterson and Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kingston will give a reception Friday night at their home in the Davis Mountains, in honor of the young couple, after which they will go to their home, the "Wolfert Ranch," which has been made ready for their occupancy. May the angels of love and happiness guide their craft over the matrimonial sea and at last, when the voyage is ended, may they have the memory of a life well spent, and their craft be anchored safely in the harbor of the "Haven of Rest."—C. E. G. in Toyah Valley Herald.

CHAMBERLAIN'S CHOLERA, COLIC AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY
This is a remedy that every family should be provided with, and especially during the summer months. Obtainable everywhere at all dealers.

TO SLEEP WELL IN SUMMER
Slight inflammation of the bronchial tubes causes a distressing cough and makes sleep impossible. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound stops that annoying tickling and relieves the racking, tiring cough. Good for all coughs, colds, croup and bronchial afflictions. Sold by Pecos Drug Co. —Adv.

TO PUT ON needed flesh no matter how you've lost it, take Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works wonders. By restoring the normal action of the deranged organs and functions, it builds the flesh up to a safe and healthy standard promptly, pleasantly and naturally. The weak, emaciated, thin, pale and puny are made strong, plump, round, rosy, and robust. Nothing so effective as a strength-restorer and flesh-maker is known to medical science. Practically, in everything that's claimed for the "Discovery"—in purifying the blood, and building up the flesh and strength—it never fails to benefit or cure.

Mrs. HALLMAN, of No. 608 East Richard Street, Sherman, Texas, says: "I am glad to say I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and found it to be a great help. I was under the doctor's care for one year. He said I had consumption and there was no chance for me, but one bottle of Golden Medical Discovery cured me sound and well."

Mrs. Hachel Neill of Orange, N. J., has celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of her successful management of a wood-turning mill in that city. Mrs. Neill declares that her success in business has been due to the fact that she has refused to deal in promissory notes and that she has made a scientific study of getting a maximum of product of a minimum of material.

Several women prominent in official circles in Washington, D. C., have organized a patriotic organization to be known as the Paul Jones Association, the object of which is to preserve, as a national heirloom, the old Colonial mansion near Halifax, N. C., where the great naval hero spent several years of his life.

CIVILITY

Don't try to bully the world. It does not pay. Whoever enters the ring for a rough and tumble fight with public opinion is pretty sure, eventually, to be "knocked out." Society is a Briarous, and who would think of encountering with a single pair of fists, a hundred armed fellows? Better shake the multitudinous hand of the giant, good-naturedly, than unnecessarily provoke his wrath. Despise the world if it so pleases you, but as you have to live in the world, and to lean on the world it is just as well to treat it civilly. Shrewd men, who understand their race, never seek a quarrel with society. They understand that it is possible for an individual to lead and quietly control a community, but not to fight it down and not to force it their way of thinking by means of narrow laws. If you desire to reform supposed or real evils of disabuse your fellow men of their prejudices, the surest way not to succeed is to resort to denunciation and abuse. Kindness, conciliation and the influence of a good example—these are the true and effective means of reform.—Ex.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.
