OUR CHRISTMAS TREE.

Colored popcorn on a string,
 Candy bird, which do not sing,
 Little candles dribbling wax,
 Bangles, spangles, jumping-jacks,
 Jacks in boxes, rubber toys,
 China cupids—mostly boys;
 Fancy geegaws, globes of glass,
 Childrens watches made of brass,
 Cheap tin horses, sheep and goats,
 Paper dolls and wooden moats;
 Lots of toys that go on wheels,
 A ball which when you squeeze it,
 squeals.
 Tinsel tassels just for show,
 A candy clock which doesn't go;
 Rosy apples, gilded nuts,
 A pocket knife which never cuts,
 Horns of plenty, full of candy,
 Tooting horns for Bill and Andy;
 A drum for Tom, for sis a sled,
 A dandy pair of skates for Fred.
 A red necktie for dear old Dad—
 The prettiest one he ever had.
 A handkerchief for Mamma, too,
 And a sachet-bag for sister Lou;
 All these things and plenty more—
 On the tree and on the floor.

COURT ADJOURNED ABSCONDING BANKER APPREHENDED

District Judge S. J. Issacks adjourned the Reeves County session of the District Court which has been in session the past five weeks, and went home for Christmas. The Court stenographer, whose home is also at Midland, accompanied him. Court will again convene on Monday, December 27th.

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 23.—H. E. Moore, formerly a banker of Grandfalls, Texas, was under arrest here today, pending extradition to face a charge of having embezzled $15,000. Moore had been working as a salesman in a department store.

There were quite a number of cases decided, but on account of the rush of work on hand we are not going to publish same in this issue of the Times.

The above is not very startling news to many of Mr. Moore's acquaintances here as they felt sure that he would eventually be caught and on the Pacific coast at that.

On the convening of court again, the grand jury will again go into session.

Moore's principal method of getting money was that when a man whom he knew was sure would leave money on long time deposit, say $500.00, he would show that the man had deposited $350.00 and credit his own account with the remaining $150.00. Later he would take from some other account and fix the original deposit to its proper amount, having a seret list, so as to change the different accounts to meet emergencies.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. PITTS.

It is one of truest sayings, that in this life the "bitter is mixed with the sweet." On the eve of Christmas, it is our sad duty to chronicle the death of one who has lived among us, and who is beloved by many. Several months ago she left on the advice of doctors, who hoped a change of climate would be beneficial, but all that nature, coupled with the best medical attendance done for her was of no avail.

The final wind-up of his career came in 1912, when he got in so deep that he could no longer manipulate the many accounts in his care. He left the Falls saying that he was coming up to Pecos to see his family who were living here at the time, and would stay over Sunday. This was the last seen or heard of him until the telegram, above, told of his arrest.

From the Somerville (Georgia) News we clip the following account of her passing:

One pleasing feature of the failure of the bank that we can say is, that not a single depositor lost a penny of his savings. It was a State Guaranty Fund Bank, and no one but the stockholders lost, they having to make the shortage good from their own pockets.

The friends of Mrs. Coleman Pitts were grieved to hear of her death which occurred at a private Sanitarium in Monrovia, California, on December 6, 1915, at 4 o'clock.

Some of the stockholders were hit hard and have not yet recovered, but the patrons of the guaranty system lost nothing.

Mrs. Pitts, before her marriage, to Mr. Coleman Pitts, of Montgomery, Alabama, was Miss Josephine Pitts, of this town, the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pitts.

We understand that Sheriff Cantrell of Ward County has already been to Austin, for requisition papers, and will probably have Moore in his custody by the first of January.

After their marriage she made her home at Pecos, Texas, until a few months ago, when she went to California, hoping her health would improve, but her condition only seemed to grow worse from time to time until death came as a relief to her suffering.

ANOTHER OLD CUSTOM TIME HAS CHANGED.

Mrs. Pitts' years although numbering few, are crowded to overflowing with the Mission of her Master's business, for she early gave her life to Christ and united with the Baptist Church of this place, living a most consistent member up to her removal to Texas four years ago. She has served as organist, president of the Mission Society and leader of the young people since the marriage of her sister, Mrs. Eellen Pitts Walker, filling the places as a true soldier of the cross. She was also a prominent figure in all the religious circles and well can it be said of her, "She Hath Done What She Could."

With the passing of time has come the passing of many of the old customs; family traditions are long forgotten.

Besides the husband, she is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pitts, and two sisters, Mrs. Lucy Scruggs, of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Miss Annie Pitts of this place and a host of friends, who mourn her going away.

This is particularly true of one of the oldest customs among the lowering their mothers in the use of housewives, that of daughters following their mothers in the use of foods and housekeeping methods.

Her remains left Monrovia on Monday evening and are due to arrive here Saturday. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made known, but will be conducted from the Summerville Baptist church.

In the olden days if mother did a certain thing this way or that way, daughter did likewise, regardless of newer and improved methods.

The News extends the berfaved its heart-felt sympathy.

If mother used a particular brand of food, daughter was blinded to better kinds merely because mother had used the same brand for years.

W. J. Scarbrough, who for the past few weeks has been down on his ranch in the Barilla country, was in Pecos Wednesday and made The Times office a call while here, and set the date of his subscription up another six months. He is so well pleased with the outlook of the future in this section of Texas that he has purchased additional lands, and interested some of his friends, who will later come out and invest in lands. He lives at Saddler, and left yesterday for his home in order to spend Christmas with the home folks, but he will return accompanied by friends, in the near future, and will spend more of his time out here.

But now both mothers and daughters have changed their methods, and investigate and compare, not by price alone, but by actual results obtained.

G. B. Landrum, one of Pecos' long-time citizens, returned to Pecos after an absence of about three or four months. George closed out his picture show business here and moved to El Paso and went into business at that place. The altitude, however, was detrimental to his health, and recently suffered a complete breakdown. He reports feeling much improved, but is still very feeble and rather shaky in his limbs.

Millions of housewives have changed their brands of coffee, tea, extracts, baking powder and other foods. Calumet Baking Powder is one of the most popular brands on the market today because of the uniformly good baking results obtained by those who use it.

Mrs. T. J. Hefner, accompanied by two of her sons, Burette and Wycliffe, left Wednesday afternoon for Dallas, where they will spend Christmas with Mrs. Hefner's mother, Mrs. Morgan, and other relatives.

THE T. & P. IMMIGRATION AGENT HERE

A pleasant visitor the past week was P. B. Rogers, the Immigration Agent of the Texas and Pacific Ry. Co., with headquarters at Fort Worth. Mr. Rogers was here at the instance of Secretary Eberstadt of the Pecos Valley Commercial Club, who has had considerable correspondence regarding immigration and colonization for Reeves and surrounding counties. Mr. Rogers spent almost the entire day with Mr. Eberstadt in going over these propositions and expressed himself to the club as being in hearty accord with the Commercial Club in its plans along these lines, and its assistance and hearty cooperation. Mr. Rogers also expressed himself in very glowing terms regarding Mr. Eberstadt, pronounced as a truly live wire with splendid and original ideas.

Mr. Rogers visited Casey, the manager of the Mercantile Company, and of the Commercial Club, and the editor of The Times.

SARAGOSA.

At a meeting of the Woodmen of the World last Saturday night the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: Consul Commander, R. L. Baker; Adisior Lieutenant, Ray Arnold; Clerk, E. R. Cox; Escort, S. H. Crenshaw; Watchman, E. B. Conger; Sentry, C. J. Donoho; Managers, J. B. Woolfolk, W. R. Black, and W. W. Chandle Jr.

The Woodmen Circle, at their meeting Monday night elected the following officers: Past Guardian, Mrs. Taylor Conger; Guardian, Mrs. E. R. Cox; Advisor, Mrs. S. H. Crenshaw; Clerk, E. R. Cox; Attendant, Mrs. E. B. Conger; Chaplain, Mrs. C. J. Donoho; Inner Sentinel, Mrs. W. R. Black, Outer Sentinel, Mrs. S. A. Shellenberger; Managers, Taylor Conger and C. J. Donoho.

Taylor Conger and wife left for Pecos Tuesday to meet their daughter Miss Erie, a student of Baylor College, at Belton, and is coming home to spend the holidays.

S. T. Hobos, cashier of the Toyah Valley State Bank, has purchased the Dea Davis Mercantile store, and is now in full charge.

E. P. Stuckler, manager of the U ranch left Monday for a business trip to Austin and San Antonio.

School will close Thursday until January 3rd.

$25 REWARD.

I will pay the above reward for any information leading to the identification of the person or persons who stole my mule last Sunday. W. JOHNSON.

According to the record as kept at the Pecos Experimental Station, the total rainfall for the year 1915, to date, is 10.28 inches.

PECOS K. OF P'S REMEMBER THEIR ORPHANS

The Pecos lodge of Knights of Pythias remembered their orphans at the orphanage in Weatherford, this week, by sending them a check for $38.00, to help them enjoy the Christmas cheer.

This is certainly commendable in them and there's one thing sure that you can bank on, and that is, that there is no place in the state, nay, in the whole world, where the people are more earnest and eager to do these things, as in dear old Pecos.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mrs. E. A. Farnum announces the approaching marriage of her daughter, Janie, to Mr. Robert F. Kelton, which will take place Thursday evening, December 30th, 1915, at 6:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, in Pecos, Texas.

AT HOME AT THE "FOUR BAR" RANCH.

CLEANING OUT CITY WELL.

The Breen brothers drilling outfit was placed over the city well this week and same will be thoroughly cleaned. The flow has somewhat subsided on account of the accumulation of sand and magnesia, hindering the flow.

It is again in splendid shape and flowing, if anything, better than it has ever done in the past.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. T. Y. Moorhead was at the Texas & Pacific depot when No. 5 came in and, to her surprise, her sister, Mrs. G. A. Johnson and her daughter, Miss Gladys, and sons, Otis H. and Ila, stepped from the train. They live at Cleburne and came to spend the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Moorhead, who was made very happy by the occurrence.

Mrs. Addison Wadley and baby arrived in Pecos Sunday from Midland, for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Buchholz and family. Mr. Wadley will arrive today and spend Christmas with them

LAST SATURDAY WAS TURKEY DAY

We note with much satisfaction the spirit of cooperation which was so magnificently displayed last week when the Commercial Club, thru its wide-awake secretary, S. E. Eberstadt, the Wells Fargo Express, through its progressive agent, H. H. Johnson, the business men represented through the Pecos Mercantile Company, B. G. Smith Grocery, Sam Prewit, and the good farmers of Reeves and surrounding counties. Not a singles turkey brought to town last Saturday but, thru the united help of the above mentioned, found a ready market.

Secretary Eberstadt worked hard in getting the proposition moving, and agent Johnson used the wires freely in securing a market, while the business men agreed to purchase every turkey brought here, and further agreed to pay the market price for same. These agreements were carried out to the letter.

One farmer coming here with 48 turkeys, from Eunice, N. M., ninety miles, went away smiling and $67.75 in his pocket-book. The Pecos Mercantile paid out $200, B. G. Smith, $50, Sam Prewit, $67.75, besides other mounts paid out by other merchants that we did not get any account of. The biggest shipment was made to the White Commission Co. of Denison, Texas, Messrs. Eberstadt and Johnson, looked after the weighing, loading, and also had a photo of the turkeys in the crates made, as they were ready for shipment—the photo to be used by Secretary Eberstadt in boosting Reeves County as one of the greatest places in Texas for the raising of turkeys.

There were over 300 turkeys brought in as 275 were shipped by express and about 50 disposed of in the town. The aggregate weight was nearly 6000 pounds. This is pretty good as a starter, and "Turkey Day" next year should see over a thousand shipped on that day. Start now toward making Pecos a shipping point for turkeys.

Agent Johnson informs us that there have been, altogether, about 1000 turkeys shipped out from here during the year.

I CANNOT REALIZE THAT HE IS GONE.

A precious son, husband and father from among us has gone. A voice we cherished is stilled; His place is lonely in our home which never can be filled. God, in His mercy, hath recalled, The joy his love hath given, Tho his body is mouldering here I hope his soul is safe in Heaven. A. G. HINES.

THE ROAD WORK HAS STARTED

The good road advocates and the owners of automobiles are wearing broad smiles this week, and they are smiles that won't rub off, tither, on account of the fact that contractor E. W. Clayton and a large force of men, teams and scrapers, graders etc., are at work on the Barstow road. The work was started Monday and, as the darkey said, "Dey sho an movin' some," and with a continuation of the present favorable weather, we will soon have a model road from Pecos to the river.

Tuesday a party of officials and business men went out and viewed the work, and all pronounced what has been done so far as first-class, in the automobile party were the following: Ben Randals, County Judge, T. Y. Casey president of the Pecos Valley Commercial Club, S. E. Eberstadt, secretary of the Club, Rev. G. O. Key, Baptist pastor, M. W. Collie, manager of the Tri-State Telephone Co., T. Y. illey, merchant, A. B. Cooksey, cattleman. A photo of the party and of the teams at work, with Judge Randals driving a team attached to a scraper, was taken and will be used by secretary Eberstadt in boosting Reeves County and good roads.

This work marks the beginning of good roads in Reeves County and is part of the work as voted by the people, for $100,000 worth of bonds for Road District No. 1. This particular road will be finished with a gravel top.

SOME CHANGE.

The improvement in the appearance, inside and out, of the Coon Bakery and the Farnum Millinery, must be seen to be appreciated.

From the medieval, straight front hole in the wall style of buildings, so popular in towns of frontier days, they have been converted into up-to-date, full plate glass fronts, with ample space in the windows for a neat display of the respective wares handled by the proprietors.

Though not quite finished, the change is so great as to be appreciated, and has been the object of many compliments from the citizens.

G. B. Landrum, one of Pecos' long-time citizens, returned to Pecos after an absence of about three or four months. George closed out his picture show business here and moved to El Paso and went into business at that place. The altitude, however, was detrimental to his health, and recently suffered a complete breakdown. He reports feeling much improved, but is still very feeble and rather shaky in his limbs.

NEW TEN COMMANDMENTS.

Falsification of a child's age to the car conductor, gossip and also scandal, strong drink and card party prizes, untoward friendliness with men other than the husband and other matters are barred entirely from married women in the "ten commandments" formulated by the Rev. Dr. Clayton Albert Smucker, pastor of the Stephens Memorial Methodist Episcopal congregation of Harrisburg.

Dr. Smucker promulgated these "ten commandments" in a sermon on "perils and Rules of Conduct for Mothers," the first sermon of a series of "one-man debates."

The series of laws modeled upon the decalogus is as follows:

I.—Thou shalt have no man except thy husband.

II.—Thou shalt place no club social circle, pleasure organization before thy home.

III.—Thou shalt not waste thy husband's substance on gay raiment and vain show.

IV.—Thou shalt not let the petty vexations of the household disrupt the family harmony and harass thy tired husband.

V.—Thou shalt not feed thy family with idle gossip and neighborhood scandal.

VI.—Thou shalt not fret thyself because thy neighbor's house is greater than thine, neither shalt thou repine when she smiles condescendingly from her limousine to thee in a trolley car.

VII.—Thou shalt not serve any punch to thy guests nor put up prizes at thy whist parties lest thy moral advice to thy sons and daughters become a mockery.

VIII.—Thou shalt not pronounce thyself delighted to see an unwelcome caller, neither shalt thou declare to the conductor that thy 13-year old child is only one-half fare age, lest thy heart become hollow and thy soul utterly false.

IX.—Thou shalt not wear showy dresses over shoddy underwear, nor shine with imitation jewelry, lest thy children be given to sham and false pretense.

X.—Thou shalt not allow thy Bible to gather dust and thy attendance upon divine worship to be governed by caprice or state of the weather lest the altar fires of thy heart go out and thy children become godless.—Philadelphia North American.

OBSERVE THE WARNING.

A cold that promises to "hang on all winter" is to be dreaded. Prompt action should be taken at the first warning of a cold—sneezing, chilliness, slight shivering, Foley's Honey and Tar makes quick work of colds, coughs and croup. It clears the air passages, stops the coughing, eases difficult breathing. For sale at Pecos Drug Co.—Advt.

SLOW PAY—FAST DRIVER.

"What do you know of the character of the defendant?" the judge asked a negro washerwoman subpoenaed in an accident case. A white man had been arrested for careless driving of a second-hand Ford car.

"Hit's tollable," Miranda said.

"Have you ever seen him drive his car before?"

"Yas, sah."

"Would you consider him careless?"

"Well, Judge, ez fer de car—dat little thing ain't gwinter hurt nobody, but bein' us is all here, I might ez well tell yo' dat he sho' is keerkless 'bout paying fer his wash."

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe. Sold by Pecos Drug Company. (Advt.)

WIRE

A  lifeboats  to operate  Lanta, Ca  being perfected by Earl C.  a Los Angeles youth who  his system will revolutionize life-saving methods after shipwrecks.

Hanson has applied for a patent and has received much encouragement from noted wireless students who have seen the instrument at its work.

He began the study of wireless telegraphy when he was about 12 years of age and has devoted most of his time for the past 10 years to the instrument which he says he now has near completion.

The apparatus is inexpensive and may be carried in a rowboat or in a life saving launch in a case about two feet square.

All that is necessary is for the person in the boat to place the receivers on his head and begin the conversation. Persons in small boats can talk to one another.

This feature would be especially valuable it is pointed out by Hanson, if a husband in one boat of rescued passengers wanted to locate his wife or other relatives in some other boat. Or he could talk to friends still on the disabled vessel, giving instructions as to his own safety.

Hanson claims that his instrument is especially valuable in cases of shipwrecks at sea which are attended by storm, as the usual electrical disturbances have no effect on the waves which operate his instrument. Neither do the Marconi waves affect the Hanson machine, nor can any Marconi operator pick up a wave message from it.

Besides the aid in affecting rescues at sea, Hanson asserts that his apparatus will prove invaluable to small sailing craft in that it will do away with the foghorn signal or light signal system.

By removing the transmitter from the telephone and substituting a buzzer, the captain may stand on the bridge and receive his signals.

The apparatus thus constructed may be installed for about $20, placing it within the reach of the small schooners ferry boats and the launches.

Another use to which the Hanson telephone is expected to be put is railroad signaling. The present methods used by the big railroad companies are very expensive and the operators cannot communicate with the train when it is moving.

Under the Hanson system this obstacle is removed.—Los Angeles Express.

"Does your daughter play the piano by ear?"

"No," replied Mr. Cumrox, "she uses both hands and feet. But I do not think she has yet learned to use her ears."—Washington Star.

Backache advertisement for Cardui. Miss Myrtle Cothrum, of Russellville, Ala., says: "For nearly a year, I suffered with terrible backache, pains in my limbs, and my head ached nearly all the time. Our family doctor treated me, but only gave me temporary relief. I was certainly in bad health. My school teacher advised me to TAKE Cardui The Woman's Tonic. I took two bottles, in all, and was cured. I shall always praise Cardui to sick and suffering women." If you suffer from pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, or other symptoms of womanly trouble, or if you merely need a tonic for that tired, nervous, worn-out feeling, try Cardui. For the Busy Housewife

Children will go to bed, wash and dry up much better and easier if they are sometimes allowed to make a play of the various steps of their doings.

Ink can be removed from washing material by sprinkling a little tomato juice on the stain and letting it stand a few minutes and then washing in the usual way.

Before using lemon rind for any kind of flavoring always wash it well, as you never know whose hand the lemon may have gone through before buying it.

Every poison bottle in the medicine chest should be protected in some way so that no mistakes shall be made in the dark. Pins stuck in the cork are one way.

If a fruit salad is served in the dinner menu, it should always be served last and with crackers and cheese and coffee.

The color of green vegetables can be preserved if they are put on to cook in boiling water to which a pinch of salt has been added.

Wax candles which have become dusty can be made perfectly white by rubbing them with a clean piece of flannel dipped in spirits of wine.

Never attempt to fry the ends of the bacon; it will not be good, but cut off the rough ends and boil them with vegetables or bake them with beans.

Each week all ductcloths and also scrubcloths should be washed thoroughly and dried in the sun. They will then be in good condition to use.

If a cake refuses to turn out, put it upside down on a clean cloth and allow it to remain for several minutes, when it will steam itself loose and drop out.

Cheese grated is considered more digestible than cheese sliced. Only a little should be eaten at a time, because it is concentrated nourishment.

When baking a cake a delicate flavor can be obtained by placing a few leaves from a peach tree in the bottom of the baking dish before putting in the batter.

Dust should never be swept from one room to another, but take it up in a dust-pan, and if you have previously thrown a few tea leaves down this will prevent the dust from flying about.

To test beef, press it down with the thumb; if it rises quickly it is good.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY IS LEADING THE SOUTH.

Reeves County is represented at the University of Texas this year by the following students: Roy Ivan Biggs, Grace Nelson, and Colon Prewitt, all of Pecos.

The university is now in its 33rd session and has registered a larger attendance than at any previous time in its existence. Twenty-three hundred students are now enrolled at the main University at Austin (810 girls), and 300 at the Medical Department at Galveston. It is likely that the total registration before the end of the session will exceed 2800. Of course these figures take no account of the 1200 students taking work in the University by correspondence.

COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

Mrs. Hugh Cook, Scottville, N. Y., says: "About five years ago when we were living at Garbutt, N. Y., I doctored two of my children with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it just as represented in every way. It promptly checked their coughing and cured their colds quicker than anything I ever used." Obtainable everywhere, at all dealers.—Advt.

When using a sewing machine if you have any difficulty in hemming or stitching chiffon or any other soft material, you should lay a piece of soft paper under the work and stitch through this. The paper can be torn away afterwards and it will prevent puckering and any need of pressing.

When olive oil dressing will not thicken after the necessary amount of oil has been used, beat in a small quantity of corn starch. This will prevent curdling.

Skin or leather gloves should always be mended with cotton rather than silk.

A leaf of spinach added to the water in which peas are cooked will keep them in good color.

Insects do not like either salt nor alum, and a small quantity of either sprinkled on the carpet will keep them away.

When iodine is spilled on sheets or clothing, simply soak the article twenty-four hours in cold water.

Use milk instead of water for crust of a pie that is to be served cold. It will keep crisp longer.

Hot water bottles, before being hung away, should be first dried, then inflated with air and the stopper put in securely. This prevents sticking together, which in a short time ruins the rubber.

A good all-the-year-round salad is made in this way: Spread the remains of cold butter beans evenly on a flat dish, slice two or three ripe tomatoes thinly over them, add a small shredded onion, if liked, and lastly, sprinkle some finely chopped parsley over the whole. Dress according to taste.

A glass measuring cup and a glass lemon squeezer should be in every kitchen.

Milk and cream stains should be washed out in cold water followed by soap and water.

The occasional use of a little kerosene will prevent the accumulation of grease in the sink pipe.

If you have palm plants in the house you should keep them away from gas light and from drafts if you wish them to thrive.

The housewife who wishes to always keep her hands in good condition should wear housekeepers' gloves.

Every girl should learn to take the hostess' place gracefully by a continual practice at the home table.

Don't let a coal stove get red-hot suddenly if you wish it to last. It should be heated gradually.

To keep the sleeves up when you are washing the dishes get a pair of bicycle clips and attach to rolled-up sleeves.

FRENZIED FINANCE.

"Another case of embezzlement, I see, and it is odd that they are all committed by trusted clerks."

"Not at all. The ones that are not trusted never get a chance at the money."

If there is a great deal of dandruff in the hair apply kerosene to the scalp, parting the hair and brushing the kerosene in with a small brush. After this use a rich shampoo lather and give the hair a thorough washing. If this method is followed the dandruff will not collect.

Jinks: "How did you get that paint on your trousers?"

Spinks: "I didn't. I got the trousers on the paint when I sat down."

"Did you leave anything for the cat, dearest?"

"You know I wouldn't forget him. I left a whole can of salmon and a can opener right beside it."

Sammy was not a very good scholar; therefore his mother was both surprised and delighted when he came home one noon with the announcement that he had got a hundred that morning.

"That's lovely, Sammy, exclaimed the proud mother. "What was it in?"

"Fifty in readin' and fifty in the 'rithmetic," was Sammy's prompt reply.

Only One "BROMO QUININE" is the genuine, call for full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. on each bottle. Cough and headache, and works off cold.

BEHIND THE TIMES.

"John was a good man, but he was so old-fashioned to the last," sighed the disconsolate widow.

"How so," asked the sympathetic friend.

"Why, he got killed by a runaway horse."—Albany Argus.

GOOD FOR CONSTIPATION.

Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent for constipation. They are pleasant to take and mild and gentle in effect. Obtainable everywhere at all dealers.—Advt.

Typhus fever, which has been an epidemic among the lower classes of Mexico City and vicinity for the last two months, has grown to such alarmingly proportions as to terrify the entire population. The rate of death from this disease now exceeds 130 a day, and a number of cases is constantly growing. It is estimated that there are 11,000 or more cases in the federal district and neighboring towns.

If you want to buy anything, read the Pecos Times.

WORRY, DESPITE

Kidney Disease is suspected when patients complain or suffer with irregular urination, too frequent, scanty passage. The general symptoms are: lumbago, irritability, despondency, nervousness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Many of your patients have testified to immediate relief of these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets for kidneys and backache. Druggists in town are now supplied.

From personal observation in hospital practice, Dr. Pierce knows you are suffering from uric acid and to show his faith send him a trial package of "Anuric" will give you speedy relief. "Anuric" dissolves uric acid as it melts sugar and Dr. Pierce has tested it in his hospital and found it times more potent than lithia.

LOST-REWARD

To the Public:

Forty years ago a half of a coin as shown in the illustration was lost or stolen in Gretzhoffen. This Broken Coin is of great value, not for the metal which it contains, but together with the other half, it is the key to a secret of vast importance.

The Broken Coin here shown was traced by detectives to the mate of a schooner, the Marie Belle, who pawned it in London in 1878. It was then traced to New York and from there carried by an Armenian peddler to Chicago.

It has lately been traced to this city. Here the trail ends. Someone has this Broken Coin. It may be hidden in an out-of-the-way place—possibly in an old coin collection.

Look everywhere for the Broken Coin. If you find it you will be rewarded. If you can give any information as to its whereabouts, and it is located through your information, you will receive a large reward. Search now! Look everywhere! Report any clue to the M. P. Editor of this newspaper who will immediately take up the matter with Carlos von Kapen, Consul General for Gretzhoffen, N. Y. City.

The Broken Coin is 1 1/2 inches in diameter, copper color. Above is a photograph of the one side. Identification can easily be made with illustration. The reverse side contains a portion of a strange inscription in Latin.

Story of Three Little Pigs

TOM, DICK AND HARRY
SOME STRAIGHT FACTS

One is That Trying to Raise Pigs in a Pen on Chops Alone is a Mighty Poor Business.

In last week's columns of The Times we made mention of a bulletin issued by the A. & M. College, in which the results of different methods of feeding pigs were fully discussed. From the Progressive Farmer we copy the full data of these experiments made on three pigs who, for convenience are called Tom, Dick and Harry. Here it is:

"Three of the best agricultural lecturers that we have met in a long while were busy during the whole of the recent Dallas Fair. They seemed never to tire, but repeated their lecture daily and hourly, and the farmer who missed hearing, or rather seeing this lecture missed one of the best things of the whole fair.

Professors Tom, Dick and Harry were just three ordinary pigs. So far as we know they started out in life with the same dreams and the same desires. They never dreamed that they would become expert lecturers upon the subject of raising pork. All they wanted was to be allowed to root, grow fat and sleep, and in the beginning they were upon exactly an equal footing. They were litter mates, the same blood flowed in their veins, and the sun shone with equal brightness upon all three.

But the A. & M. College decided that it would make expert swine-feeding lecturers of them. So it separated these affectionate brothers. Tom was placed in a lot across from a pasture to which he had access and was daily given milo maize chops well moistened with skim milk, all that he could eat. Dick was given the same chop and skim milk feed, but was confined in a pen with no pasture to roam over. While Tom was rooting around all Dick had to do was to eat and to sleep. Harry was also placed in a pen and, instead of the proverbial bread and water, was given milo maize chops and water and allowed all the sleep he wanted.

"They all knew that their mission in life was to eat, sleep and grow fat. Whether they knew that "Tomorrow we die," or in this instance "Tomorrow we become celebrated" we know not; but we do know that they did their duty in so far as they knew it. And at the end of 180 days they were told that they were fully qualified to lecture upon swine feeding, and were brought to the fair to give their lectures.

Tom's lecture ran as follows: "In 180 days I ate 1,648 pounds of skim milk, 39 pounds of milo maize chops and all the nice pasture grasses I cared for. I weighed 24 1-2 pounds when this started but I now weigh 330 pounds, and so gained in that time 305 1-2 pounds. They made me pay $10.89 for the feed I ate and then charged me $2.25 for care, but I have paid that, and as I am now worth $26.23, I have made a profit of $13.09.

"My brother Dick has not done so well. He weighed 27 pounds when they started educating us, and in the 180 days only put on 250 pounds, so now weighs 277 pounds. You see he missed the good green grass I got, and while he ate more chops and milk than I did it did not make up for the grass. He had to pay $15.49 for feed and care, and as he is now worth $21.88 he is only going to make a profit of $6.39.

"But they created my brother Harry scandalous. They kept him up in that old pen and gave him nothing but those chops and water. He was the largest of us and ought have done better. He weighed 30.5 pounds when they put him in that pen and in the 180 days, though he slept more than any of us, he only gained 94.5 pounds, and now he weighs 125 pounds. They made him pay $8.97 for feed and care, and as he is now only worth $8.75, he lacks 22 cents of being able to pay his board bills.

"This wasn't his fault. He was always a conscientious fellow and did the very best he could with what was given him, and if they had given him an equal chance with either of us I am sure he would have done as well. But when they shut him up in that dirty old pen and never let him out to get any exercise his appetite got poor, and besides, it takes more things than are contained in milo maize chops to make the flesh. He made all the flesh he possibly could with the materials furnished him, but he just was not furnished enough materials of the right sort to make any more. For every pound of flesh he made it took 4.3 pounds of grain.

"Now the skimmed milk that they gave Dick supplied him with more muscle-building material than Harry had. Out of the 625 pounds of chops that Dick ate he made 145 pounds of flesh, and then he made 105 more out of the 1,659 pounds of skim milk. You can see the skim milk not only gave Dick more material out of which to make flesh, but it helped his appetite and he was able to eat more chops, so between the two he beat Harry all to pieces and really paid at the rate of 45 cents a hundred for the skim milk he ate.

"But see what I did. Charge me at the same rate for the chops and the skim milk that I ate, and supposing that they made the same proportion of my gain, then the grass that I ate in addition to the other feeds was responsible for the 96 pounds of my gain. As this 96 pounds sold for $7.78, the pasture during that 180 days was worth $7.78, or about $1.30 a month.

"Now, you can't doubt this story. I have told you the facts about our feed and here we are to speak for ourselves. So if you want to raise any hogs in the future don't shut them up in a pen. Put them on a good pasture, and if possible give them some skim milk along with their chops. Remember that in a pen with nothing but chops and water Harry only gained 310 per cent of his original weight. Dick, with chops and skim milk 926 per cent, and I, with the same ration and pasture in addition, gained 1,246 per cent of my original weight.

"The class is dismissed. Next class.

DOG ATTACKED FUR

TOPPED BOOTS.

A Cleveland woman was walking down a street, wearing a pair of new fur topped shoes. A dog saw the fur and made an energetic attack, divesting one of the shoes of its trimming. All of which is interesting. For the dog may have thought that he recognized in that fur an old-time foe—the neighbor's cat. But even if he did, woman has cause to be thankful for in that event, women who wear fur trimmed shoes may feel sure that mice, woman's old enemy, will give them a wide path.—Cleveland Press.

SOMETHING SINISTER IN IT

George Ade, like many another misogynistic bachelor, is in great demand at best man at Western weddings.

At a recent breakfast in Chicago, after the wedding, Mr. Ade said in the course of a toast:

"I have been often asked why I never have married. I came very near marrying once. The girl was beautiful and I sat down at my typewriter one night to propose to her in a passionate love poem.

"The first line of this poem ended with 'Cupid.' I made a thorough search and found that the only word that rhymes with 'Cupid' is 'stupid.' 'This made me hesitate' Mr. Ade concluded, "and I've hesitated ever since."—Ex.

STOVE SEASON IS HERE

—BE CAREFUL.

Don't wait until the well runs dry to figure on your water needs. Don't wait until our house catches fire to practice fire-prevention. A stitch in time is said to save nine. A minute's work today may save a year's worry tomorrow.

Have a care with your trash. Use sense in setting up your stoves. Good stove pipe would be cheap at $10 a joint if you can prevent a fire by using good joints. You could better afford to pay $10 a square foot for good zinc under your stove than to do without one.

It is such little things as these that play the big parts in fires and their prevention. If all the people would look after these little things there would be a different fire waste record in this country.

Are you doing your part? Are you cooperating with your neighbor? You cannot live alone socially, nor can you segregate your holdings to yourself when it comes to fire-prevention.

Be on your guard to prevent fires. Work today to put out the fire in your house that may blaze up tomorrow and the chance are that there will be no fire tomorrow.

The Voice of Now

It is the present, the today, the NOW in which we are interested. Shakespeare wisely says:

"Tomorrow never yet
On any living mortal rose or set."

It is the printed page which deals most intimately and with the greatest detail in the movements of the present. It is THE VOICE OF NOW proclaiming to the world the things that are happening today. The Government of the United States is NOW gravely concerned in certain aspects of the war in Europe and has had trust on it several serious international problems which are NOW in process of solution. The American farmer is NOW interested in this titanic struggle, for his interests are being affected by it today and will be tomorrow, and he wants to keep in close touch with it NOW.

EVERYBODY is interested in the cotton crop from the time of its planting to the days of its harvesting and marketing. They want to know "the NOW" in all that pertains to the great Southern staple; they want to know "the NOW" of all other agricultural markets, the latest in modern farming, the facts of the warehousing problem, and all else that pertains to the progress of the times in every theater of life.

The tens of thousands of men and women who know the Semi-Weekly Farm News know it is "THE VOICE OF NOW," telling in direct and positive tones of what is going on at home and abroad. A. H. BELO & CO., Publishers DALLAS, TEXAS.

HOMEMADE CEMENT.

One of the finest and most delicate of cements made is a mixture of one ounce of isinglass and a half ounce of gum arabic covered with good alcohol. This should be put in a bottle and loosely corked and set in a kettle of hot water until it is thoroughly dissolved. This cement can be used for mending the finest woods, as a piano chipped, or to set pieces that may have broken loose from an inset table top or other pieces of furniture. Jewelry is also sometimes repaired with this cement and so is polished steel.

Another simple home-made cement calls for materials always on hand in the home. It is just the white of an egg mixed to a paste with flour. This is good for common earthenware.

If iron filings are added to the mixture a cement for mending the broken part of iron are the results. A good cement which will hold labels to metal is made by dissolving one part of borax to five parts gum shellac into the whole is clear. Before applying wash the metal in hot water containing common washing soda warm the cement before using on the labels.

STRONG AND WELL AS EVER.

Fred Smith, Green Bay, Wis., says: "Foley Kidney Pills completely relieved me of all soreness and pain in the back and I now am well and strong as ever." Cold weather makes aching joints, sore muscles, and irregular bladder action more unbearable. Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys eliminate pain, that cause poisons. For sale by Pecos Drug Co.—Adv.

Pat got on the rear end of a crowded street car and was obliged to steady himself against the door.

"Move up!" shouted the conductor at the end of every street as more passengers were being taken on. Pat moved up a step every time, but at the next step he got mad and he yelled back at the conductor:

"Bedad, I paid to ride! Do you expect me to walk all the way to my house?"—Round Table.

Buck Shot
 By D. J. M.
 Wish your neighbor A Merry and a Joyous Christmas.
 A merry Christmas to all. May each of you live to see and enjoy many of them.
 A safe and sane Christmas: Safe—cut out the fire works; Sane—cut out the booze.
 The new year is fast approaching. What have you done in the way of making new resolutions? They're in order.
 I resolve to cut out chewing My cussing, and my looting; But the best resolve of all the lot I've cut out resolving.
 Listen to the turkey's gobble, while yet you may; tomorrow comes and, lo, he is no more.
 50 cents a dozen for eggs, and a long way to Kansas City. Surely, that nog will taste scrumptious.
 Now that Villa has quit, Carranza's whiskers are safe. Provided he orders Obregon's head lifted from his anatomy before the presidential bee gets to buzzing around it.
 Remember in giving, its not the intrinsic value of the gifts that count, but the spirit accompanying them. Keep this always in view, and you will find that the seemingly hard proposition of "what shall I give," will become easy.
 If you don't think you are well off this Christmas, that everybody has forgotten you, just think of the poor fellows in the trenches in Europe. The United States is the only nation in position to promulgate and spread the message delivered at this season nearly 20 years ago.
 The idea is to make somebody happy. So look around. The giver gets more and lasting happiness than does the receiver. When you give a friend a costly present and get nothing in return, you get to thinking how much shorter he is than you, and the satisfaction makes you forever happy.
 We were sad the last few days. Pecos, at Christmas time, has always arose to the occasion, and the season has, it seemed, never lacked in nuptial announcements. Certain rumors and one certainty, however, has put us at ease again. That's right, girls, don't put it off until next year, for its leap year, and we'll accuse you of doing the popping.
 If you didn't get what you wanted at the store for Christmas, remember we warned you to shop early. So just suck your thumb and hit your head against the door-knob. Merchants, if you have a whole canoodle of left-overs, which will be an expense to carry another year, and then sold at a sacrifice because they're ancient, remember we told YOU to advertise early.
 Those who accuse the Irish of being cowardly, because they are emigrating to this country to avoid the conscription to the English army, better read up on English history. A careful, nay a casual, perusal, will furnish reasons a-plenty why Irishmen distaste doing battle in the interest of Great Britain. If this doesn't exonerate them of the unjust charge, just pick a row with one of them and be fully convinced.
 We would look forward eagerly to, and enjoy this egg-nog business were it not for the fact that we one time listened to a lecture by a vivisectionist on the subject. He said that after taking it apart he found the following: grass, weeds, bran, Pecos Valley alfalfa, potato peelings, and sundry other vegetables, contained in the milk; Chickens, in the eggs; snakes, green mice, pink and blue elephants, and a few minor insects as the component parts of the Whis—yes, we'll have another: Thanks!
 Many of the teachers in the public school, among the smaller children, have introduced the idea of having christmas trees in the classroom. Its a practice that needs encouragement. We have no patience with those who designate themselves as reformers, and teach that its wrong, this idea of Christmas and Santa Claus. Pecos teachers are well selected. Merry christmas to them. We hope the children did not forget to thus greet them at the school closed for the holidays.

BAPTIST.
BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS.
 The ladies of the Aid Societd decided to omit the Bible study next Monday. The following Monday will be the regular time for the social meeting.
 Sunday morning the pastor's subject will be "God's Christmas Gift," followed by communion service. Evangelistic services at the evening hour. You are invited.
 The pastor wishes all a safe and a merry Christmas, as well as a joyous and prosperous New Year. This includes the editor and his helpers.

CHURCH OF CHRIST.
 It will be hardly necessary to call attention to the Christmas exercises to be given tonight (Friday). In addition to the tree with its good things for the children, and good cheer for all, we will show twenty-five stereopticon views, entitled, "Ben-Ezra's First Christmas."
 At the morning hour Sunday Bee, Ray Camp will preach and we are anxious that every member of the church be present. We owe it to our young men who dedicate their lives to the ministry, to give them all the encouragement possible. At night the regular minister will preach on "God's Unspeakable Gift" The Bible School and the C. E. meetings at the usual hours.
 A cordial invitation to all.

IN DAYS OF GOLD
 Immense Output Follows Discovery of Metal in California.
 For Eleven Years, From 1850 to 1861, the Yield Was Prodigious, Amounting in 1852 to Over $65,000,000.
 Washington.—The historically important discovery of gold in California was made in January, 1848, at John Sutter's mill on South Fork of American river, near Coloma, a point only ten or fifteen miles southwest of the town of Auburn, says a statement by the geological survey.
 "From 1850 to 1853 the greatest yield was derived from the gravels, and the largest annual output for this period was more than $65,000,000 in 1852. There was some reaction in 1854, due to previous wild speculation, but a production of about $50,000,000 a year, chiefly from placer mines, was maintained up to 1861.
 "At first the gold was won chiefly from the gravels along the present streams. Those who first got possession of the rich bars on American, Yuba, Feather and Stanislaus rivers and some of the smaller streams in the heart of the gold region made at times from $1,000 to $5,000 a day. In 1848 $500 to $700 a day was not unusual luck; but, on the other hand, the income of the great majority of miners was far less than that of men who seriously devoted themselves to trade or even to common labor.
 "The gold pan, the 'rocker,' the 'tom,' the sluice and the hydraulic giant, or 'monitor,' named in the order of increasing efficiency, were the tools successively used by the miners. Into the 'rocker' and the 'tom' the miner shoveled gravel or 'dirt,' rocking the machine as he poured in water and catching the gold, often with the aid of quicksilver, on riffles set across the bottom of his box. Sometimes a stream was diverted into a flume to lay bare the gravel in its bed so that the miner could get at it.
 "In sluicing, the gravel was shoveled into a similar but much longer box through which a stream of water was allowed to run.
 "The hydraulic giant was employed to wash into long riffle-set sluices immense quantities of gravel, especially from the higher (Tertiary) deposits, much of which was too lean to work out by hand. Water was brought for many miles in ditches and flumes from the high Sierra and conducted under great head to a nozzle, from which it was projected with tremendous force against the gravel.
 "It was the vast quantity of refuse washed into the streams by these hydraulic operations that brought about the conflict between mining and agricultural interests, finally decided in favor of the farmers."

The Pecos Times is 28 years old today. For as many years it has stood as a watch, and a beacon upon the mountain top during all these years to uphold the righteous in their efforts to do good and has never failed to expose evil. The main object of the paper, however, has been to publish the news, and at all times speak the truth about what it writes. In this it has failed not, and has advocated and upheld every good cause and has informed the dear people that have stood so faithfully by us, giving their aid, and upholdign The Times, the leading paper of the west. The Times now goes to 1200 homes and is looked for and read by its thousand of readers, and should one of them though hundreds of miles away, fail to get an issue of the paper, they write the editor to send another copy, as he looks forward to The Times as if it were a letter from the home town. No less than 6,000 people read the Times every week. It goes to the majority of the homes of Reeves County and its subscription list represents every state in the Union, South America, and Canada. Some of our subscribers believe in us so strongly that they have set up their subscriptions 1, 2, and even 5 years in advance.
 General Villa, the commander of the Revolutionists in Mexico has decided to give up the battle and has told his generals that they may now look out for themselves. He has made the statement that he is unconcerned about what will befall him, and that he has no mind to quit fighting what he believes to be a losing battle. He will take refuge in the United States if permitted to do so. If he should remain in this country, he will go to Europe. These banishments are in accord with resolutions made in The Times some time back that Villa would finally lose out. How long will peace prevail in Mexico? That is a question hard to answer. We look for trouble in Mexico as long as the European war continues and that may be for years yet. It is highly probable that the United States may be forced to take part in this the bloodiest war ever known to man.

THE GRIPPE HAS LOST ITS GRIP.
 "It's a long lane without a turn" and a "tight grip that never loosens."
 During the past two months the population of Pecos has had an epidemic of grippe, and hardly anyone escaped fully, an acquaintance with this net. Its an affectionate kind of companion, and no respecter of persons. So common and so numerous were the cases that we simply would not sympathize with one another, when aware that they had been overtaken.
 The medical fraternity have been kept on the go continually, for this malady is akin to sea-sickness in that those affected after the second day fear they will surely die.
 The malady is about run out by this time, and everybody is feeling well enough to eat a whole turkey by their lonesome. Of this we are truly glad.
 If you want to buy anything, read the Pecos Times.

PROFESSIONAL ADVICE.
 An auctioneer from Chicago was having a good time in San Francisco when some one took him into a cheap music hall just as an aged prima donna was endeavoring to render an "old favorite"
 "A thousand leaves are falling" she began; and then her voice broke into a screech and she had to stop, for she had pitched the tone too high.
 "Say, old girl," yelled the auctioneer, "you'd better start it at five hundred."—Everybody's.

BIG HAUL FOR "CRIPPLE"
 This Beggar Kept Record of Receipts—Gives Police Hard Battle.
 Allentown, Pa.—William Newbecker, a perfectly healthy man, who can twist his arms so that he looks crippled, did such a prosperous business begging in Allentown that he went on a spree and he was locked up, giving the bluecoats a fight before they landed him in a cell.
 At court it was found out that he had a roll of several hundred dollars. Newbecker, who covers the entire East, kept a book showing his daily receipts. His best day here brought $14.50, and the average for some time past was $10 a day. He was fined $5 for drunkenness and told to leave Allentown.
NO NEW JOBS AT PANAMA
 Canal Office Warns Unemployed Not to Seek Work at Isthmus.
 Washington.—The blockade of the Panama canal by earth slides has not created new work for Americans in the Canal Zone, and the canal office here issued a statement in an effort to counteract published reports which have drawn many Americans to the isthmus in search of employment.
 "General Goethals indicates," the statement says, "that the number of men continually being laid off on account of reduction of force is in excess of the vacancies which were temporarily created by the work on the slides, and the influx of men looking for employment on the isthmus is entirely unwarranted."
 They Rescued "Tige."
 Huntington, Ind.—A dog belonging to William Wilcox, living west of Andrews, followed a coon into a ten-inch tile ditch recently. Hunters spent hours in trying to call the dog back, but got no response. The owners dug up the ditch at several places and finally located the forty rods from the opening and in an eight-inch side ditch. The dog was exhausted, but still alive.
 Burned Tommy and All.
 Appleton, Wis.—Desiring to see a tomcat burn, a seven-year-old boy living on the outskirts set fire to the animal, the aftermath being the destruction of a carpenter shop. The burning of the building communicated to shavings in the building, and the structure was converted into ashes within a few minutes.

THE GRIPPE HAS LOST ITS GRIP.
 "It's a long lane without a turn" and a "tight grip that never loosens."
 During the past two months the population of Pecos has had an epidemic of grippe, and hardly anyone escaped fully, an acquaintance with this net. Its an affectionate kind of companion, and no respecter of persons. So common and so numerous were the cases that we simply would not sympathize with one another, when aware that they had been overtaken.
 The medical fraternity have been kept on the go continually, for this malady is akin to sea-sickness in that those affected after the second day fear they will surely die.
 The malady is about run out by this time, and everybody is feeling well enough to eat a whole turkey by their lonesome. Of this we are truly glad.
 If you want to buy anything, read the Pecos Times.

PROFESSIONAL ADVICE.
 An auctioneer from Chicago was having a good time in San Francisco when some one took him into a cheap music hall just as an aged prima donna was endeavoring to render an "old favorite"
 "A thousand leaves are falling" she began; and then her voice broke into a screech and she had to stop, for she had pitched the tone too high.
 "Say, old girl," yelled the auctioneer, "you'd better start it at five hundred."—Everybody's.

ONE AND ONE HALF MILLION ACRES TO GO ON MARKET.

Austin, Dec. 9th.—Approximate 1,500,000 acres of school land will be placed on the market Jan. 1, 1916, according to an announcement made today by Land Commissioner, J. T. Robison. The commissioner has just issued a list of the land showing its location and the price and class of the land.

This is the 30th list issued by the land office. While the great bulk of this land is situated in the western portion of the State and is subject to actual settlement, there are many acres on which actual settlement is not required.

All applications for the purchase of this land must be made by mail to the commissioner of the general land office. After date of purchase the land is subject to taxation.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Let us help you with your selections for that special friend. The Brady-Camp Jewelry Co. 51-2

T. C. Woodford of Balmorhea was among the numerous visitors in the city Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kingston were Pecos visitors Wednesday, having come in from their ranch in the Davis Mountains.

Mrs. G. O. Key and daughter, Kathren, left yesterday for San Angelo on a holiday visit to her daughter, Mrs. Ewing Avery and family.

W. S. Sharp and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Stephenson, who spent the past week in Pecos on business, left yesterday for their home in Elk City, Kansas.

Will Cowan, wife and their three children came in Wednesday afternoon from their ranch home in Culberson County, and will spend the holidays with Mr. Cowan's relatives.

—We clean 'em best. Hubbs and Gardner. 50tf

R. L. Murphy of Barstow was over Wednesday after a wagon load of bees which he had purchased at Balmorhea and shipped over the Pecos Valley Southern. He expects to go into the honey business quite extensively.

Mrs. Willis, mother of Mrs. Chas. Tudor, a daughter and granddaughter, from Cincinnati, Ohio, are here to spend the winter with the family. It is possible, everything suitable, that they will make this place their permanent home.

Mrs. J. M. Addington, and son, of Artesia, N. M., were pleasant callers at The Times office Saturday while waiting for belated No. 5. They were on their way to El Paso where they will spend the holidays with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Roberts arrived in Pecos Tuesday, from Marfa, for a couple of days visit with their daughter, Mrs. J. E. Cox and family and their many friends here. They were accompanied by Mrs. Jep Miles. They report that Zack and Jep and the rest of them are getting along nicely.

Ray Camp came over from Midland Tuesday for a week's visit with his mother, Mrs. Jo Camp and other relatives and friends. Ray is a teacher in the Christian College at Midland and is doing a splendid work. He has hosts of friends here who are pleased to have him in Pecos again, though only for a few days.

T. J. Sisk was up yesterday from his Valley View farm after supplies and reported that his hogs and the pigs are getting along in fine shape and that he expects to soon ship a part of them to market, possibly in January. He has a fine bunch and we will be greatly surprised if he does not "top" the market with them.

Rowen Hudson arrived in Pecos Wednesday afternoon from Fort Baird, N. M., where he has been located for some time, for a Christmas visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hudson. Rowen has been gone for two years, he being a member of Company B, 5th U. S. Infantry, and during the time he has been in China, Japan and the Philippines, and touched at numerous other points. His hosts of friends were sure glad to see him again.

"Once at a fashionable rink I saw half a dozen men trying to help to her feet a very fat young woman, who had fallen. "Don't be frightened lady," said one of the men. "There's no danger; we'll get you up in time." "Oh, I'm not frightened" gasped the fat young woman, as she lay on her back, "only the ice is so lumpy." "Then from underneath her a little voice squeaked: "I ain't a lump; I'm an attendant."—Ex.

Two friends were talking over good fortune of a mutual acquaintance who had succeeded in getting the hand of a rich girl. "I didn't think Edward had it in said one friend. "It must have taken a lot of diplomacy on his part to win out in that venture." "I don't know," said the other. "As a matter of fact, I happen to know that he told her the simple truth." "You don't say so." "Yes, he told her that he couldn't do without her."—Kansas City Journal.

CIVILIZATION'S BULWARK.

The chairman of the committee was addressing a meeting at an institute of teachers. "My friends, the school work is the bulwark of civilization. I mean—ah—"

He began to get frightened. "The bulwark is the school work of civilization."

A smile could be felt. "The workhouse is the bulwark of—"

Evidently he had it twisted some. "The school bull is the house—"

An audible snigger spread over the audience. "The bulwark—"

He was getting wild. So were his hearers. He mopped his perspiration, gritted his teeth and made a fresh start.

"The schoolhouse, my friends—"

A sigh of relief went up. Hamlet was himself again.

He gazed serenely around. The triumphant self-consciousness enthroned upon his brow. "The schoolhouse—"

His eyes closed when he lost consciousness.

DINING MEAL.

He had just been settled in the span new home just one Saturday Reginald rushed eagerly from the office. He met him on the door and he wretched in smiles. "My dear," she gurgled, "wifey you something awfully special for your dinner tonight?"

He liked good things and had off a list of about 50 favorite dishes. Then he dismays. His precious wife was weeping. "What's the matter?" he asked.

"Oh—oh" she sobbed, as she threw her arms around his neck. "My heart is broken. I-I thought you'd get me straight off that I'd m-m-made a b-b-butterscotch."—Exchange.

After the vacation a boy of seven protested earnestly against being sent back to school. "What," said his father. "Don't you want to go to school?" "Yes, but not to that school." "And why not to that school?" "Because they are trying to teach me a lot of things that I don't know anything about."—Youth's Companion.

Talks With the Boys

By J. L. HARBOUR, IN THE VISITOR.

THE BOY WHO 'RUNS TO DRESS.'

One day not long ago I was in the shop of my tailor, and there was lying on the table the most gorgeous waistcoat. It was so gorgeous that it would have been fit to have worn with Joseph's coat of many colors. I picked it up and said to the tailor: "There is a good deal of money in that, isn't there?"

"Fifteen dollars," said the tailor, and then he added: "And it is for a young fellow whose salary is just fifteen dollars a week. What is more, I have made four other of the same kind of waistcoats for him in the last six months, and none of them cost less than ten dollars. He runs to clothes with a vengeance."

Now, nothing is more necessary to a boy's success in life than neatness, and every boy should try to dress neatly; but when a young fellow spends all he earns for dress or for anything else, it is convincing proof that there is a weak spot in him that must be made strong or he will be a failure in life. The dress is greater than the man today. The shops of the tailors and the haberdashers were never more alluring, and it is hard for some boys to keep from "running to clothes."

But when a young fellow earning fifteen dollars a week spends the whole week's earning for an entirely unnecessary garment like a fancy waistcoat, he belongs to the class of young fellows who have a great deal more vanity than sense.

No boy can afford to be slovenly in dress. No boy can afford to be untidy. Neatness of appearance is a real cash valuation. No can any afford to be a fop in dress, for the fop is usually held in low esteem. He surely has a low place in the esteem of the plain man of business to whom extremes of dress are always distasteful. I have a friend who conducts a commercial employment agency and who is very successful in placing competent young fellows in the business world. He is a plain, outspoken man who really knows what business men want when they employ help. He knows all of the hindrances and help to success when a young fellow is to start out in life. One day I was in his office when a young fellow of about eighteen or nineteen years of age came in to apply for a commercial position. He has been graduated from a commercial school and his credentials were all right, but O, his dress! He was most gorgeous in his attire. His tie was an orange yellow, and in this was a stick pin of bright blue with imitation pearls around it. His waistcoat was of green and yellow stripes and the points of his collar were about four inches long. His coat was a light drab, and there was a tri-colored band of ribbon around a jaunty green hat. He wore yellow gloves with black stitching on the backs and he carried a little cane.

My friend looked over his credentials, and then he turned to the young fellow and said: "See here, my boy, I am going to be entirely frank with you and tell you something you ought to know. I don't believe that that any man would want to hire a bookkeeper who persists in dressing like you are dressed. Your dress might do for what they call the 'Board Walk,' at Atlantic City or for an afternoon at Cooney Island, but it would be out of place in any business office. To tell the truth it is proof of a certain foppishness that would not be agreeable to one business man in a thousand. It is also proof that you have extravagant tastes, and that would be against you in the estimation of some men. I know you will say its none of my business how you dress. That's true enough in a way; but it is your business to dress in a way suited to your position in life, and when you come to me for a position it becomes part of my business that I tell you if I see anything in you that will be a decided hindrance to you in securing a job. I can see that hindrance in your dress. Dress neatly by all means, but beyond that, go slow."

This was mighty good advice. Hundreds of boys should go slow when it comes to the gorgeous in dress. The fop excites ridicule instead of admiration, and employers are inclined to think that there is a weak spot in the person given to extremes in dress. They have a right to think this. No one is highly esteemed for extravagance in dress, and a young fellow never appears to better advantage than when he is simply and neatly attired. The boy starting out in life will do well to bear this in mind.

KILLING OFF THE PRAIRIE DOGS.

Good Progress in Eradicating Pest Reported by Biological Survey Other Activities of Bureau.

The extermination of the prairie dogs over a large area has been practically completed, according to the report of the Bureau of Biological Survey, just published by the United States Department of Agriculture, and wide stretches of valuable grazing lands have been entirely cleared of these pests. In the National forests in Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Oklahoma, more than 95 per cent of the prairie dogs have already been destroyed. Active campaigns are still in progress in Arizona, New Mexico, Montana and South Dakota, and the Rio Grande forest in Colorado.

The average cost of distributing poison on areas infested by prairie dogs has been reduced to less than 5 cents an acre. In cases where reinfestation has made it necessary to go over the land again, the cost has not exceeded 3 cents an acre. Poisoned oats have been found to give the most consistent results, except in the Conconio forest of Arizona, where a species of blue-stemmed grass is abundant. The prairie dogs are so fond of this that they care little for grain.

The Biological Survey is carrying on work against squirrels, the Pocket Gophers, Jackrabbits, mountain Beavers, Pine Mice and Crawfish as well as against wolves and coyotes in the West. The Crawfish, which are so injurious in parts of Mississippi and Alabama, can be kept away at an annual expenditure, it is estimated, of 25 cents an acre or less after the lands have once been thoroughly treated.

These and other pests, the Bureau is also encouraging the increase of population of beneficial birds. The results of the second bird census in the spring of 1915 showed that bird life can be largely increased throughout the country. Where efforts are made to protect the birds the population increases rapidly.

Of the new National bird reservations established during the past, two are in Washington and one in Minnesota. In all 67 such reservations are now in charge of the Department. With few exceptions, the conditions on them are said to be very favorable to the increase in bird life.

There are probably a much larger number of farmers who this fall will be able to put up their own meat than in many long time. A good many will do this this winter for the first time in their experience, while others have not done so for so long a time that they have forgotten how to do it. So if you are going to do your own killing be sure and get a reliable recipe for curing the meat and then follow that recipe to the letter. If this is done there will be less complaint of spoiled meat next spring, and we will not be so quick to declare "You can't cure meat in this climate."

RECOMMENDED FOR CROUP.

W. C. Allen, Boseley, Mo., says: "I have raised a family of four children and used Foley's Honey and Tar with all of them. I find it the best cough and croup medicine I ever used. I used it for 8 or 10 years and can recommend it for croup." Same satisfactory results for cough and colds. For sale at Pecos Drug Co.—Adv't.

"PLANT A PIG FOR PROSPERITY" CAMPAIGN.

A Good Move Made by the Live Commercial at Forney, Texas.

The commercial club at Forney, Texas, is one of those live organizations of which the whole country stands so much in need of. It realizes that the true way to be of the greatest use in its town is to do all it can to promote prosperity among the farmers from whom its support is drawn, and so never loses an opportunity of boosting the farmers' business when doing so will insure more prosperity for those farmers. Its members believe that true prosperity can only come to their town when they will not be compelled to tie their money up in staples such as pork and flour, in order that the farmers may live during the year, but when the farmers will raise these things for themselves and will have money to spend not for the necessities of life upon which they make a comparatively small profit, but for the luxuries and finer things of civilization. For a dollar invested in a buggy or in a carpet or in an automobile, there is two or three times the profit that can be made from the same amount invested in sow belly and flour. Besides, should they sell the farmer on credit there is always some security left, while the articles of food soon vanish down the "red lane" and are gone forever.

In pursuance of the policy of encouraging their farmers to raise their own living at home this enterprising club, through its secretary, Mr. Crisp McMeans, has just now launched a "Plant a Pig for Prosperity" Campaign.

In prosecuting this campaign, circulars were first sent out to all the farmers of the Forney neighborhood, explaining to them why Texas and the Forney neighborhood needs more hogs; that, being convinced that more pigs mean more prosperity for all concerned the campaign was launched with a view of encouraging the raising of more pigs. More pigs mean more home-cured meat, and this means more money now being sent out of the community for meat to be kept at home.

The circular is to be followed up by a committee from the Commercial Club which proposes with the slogan "Plant a Pig for Prosperity," to visit the individual farmers at the homes and there discuss with them the advantage of raising more pigs and to help solve the problems that the raising of more pigs will bring with it. Arrangement have been made with the banks of Forney by which any farmer who desires to buy a pig to enter this campaign will be financed. These banks all agreed to furnish the money with which to buy pigs for such farmers as cannot afford to do so, accepting their notes for the cost thereof. These notes are to be paid in cash from the proceeds of the pig or by the return of a pig.

The commercial club proposes buying a good boar which will be kept for the purpose of service for the farmers either upon the payment of a small fee or by the return of a pig. Pigs so returned, either in payment for service or in payment for the original pig will in their turn be sold to farmers desiring them. From time to time it is proposed by the Commercial club to invite the farmers to meet with the club at luncheon, at which time the various problems that come up in regard to the raising of pigs or the methods of disposing of them will be discussed. In this way it is the plan to not only keep up the interest among the farmers but to make the club of real service to them in helping them to solve some of their problems.

Mr. McMeans states that his campaign has not been launched for a week or for a month but that they propose to continue its prosecution until the pig yield of the country has been satisfactorily increased, and this will not be until every farmer has at least pigs enough to satisfy his own needs and is raising all the feed necessary for their support.

Such an example as has been set by the Forney Commercial Club is worthy of imitation by other bodies and organizations. We are glad to say that we have been informed by Mr. McMeans that he has received numerous requests for plans of his campaign from other organizations. These requests come not only from organizations in Texas, but from over the entire South, and he assures us he will be glad to furnish all the data and suggestions available to anyone contemplating similar moves. —The Progressive Farmer.

Admiral Francis J. Higginson in talking about the war said: "But for Britain's sea power, Germany would now overrun Europe. But Britain's sea power was rather a rub and put Germany in the position of the cynical husband.

George, the evening you proposed to me, you acted—ha, ha, ha! I acted, George, just like a fish out of water."
"Well," George snarled, "that's what I was—and mighty cleverly landed, too."

John D. Rockefeller Jr. was congratulated at a Denver reception because, on learning that his Colorado properties had a deficit the year before of $400,000 he merely said that he would proceed with his welfare work on a larger scale than before.

"Well, you see," he said in response to these congratulations, "We are trying to put a new spirit into the relations of employer and employee. The old selfish relations were rather—well, rather like Mrs. Smith's relation to her husband."

Smith came home one evening, and said, dismally:
"Well, I've got to give up smoking. I saw the doctor today. One lung, he tells me, is quite gone."
"Oh, John," said Mrs. Smith, "can't you keep on until I at least get enough coupons for that near-seal jacket of mine?"

DANGER SIGNAL.

If the fire bell should ring would you run and stop it or go and help put out the fire. It is much the same way with a cold. A cough is a danger signal as much as a fire bell. You should no more try to suppress it than to stop a fire bell when it is ringing but should cure the disease that causes the coughing. This can nearly always be done by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many have used it with most beneficial results. It is especially valuable for the persistent cough that so often follows a bad cold or an attack of the grip. Mrs. Tomas Beeing, Andrews, Ind. writes: "During the winter my husband takes cold easily and coughs and coughs. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine for breaking up these attacks and you cannot get him to take any other. Obtainable everywhere. At dealers.—Adv't.
