T. & P. HEAD ON A COLLISION CALL TO ARMS YOU ARE NEEDED

No. 6 and Freight Crash Together Near Kent Injuring Many—None Seriously

Local Red Cross Chapter Hear First Lecture—More Recruits Needed for Good Work

Tuesday about 12 o'clock, moon, No. 6 and a west-bound freight train collided about a half-mile west of Kent. There seemed to be a misunderstanding of orders in some way, as the freight pulled out from Kent to make a siding about three-quarters of a mile west, but failed by about 300 yards, as the rear of the passenger train was in the switch yard.

The Pecos Red Cross Chapter had their first lecture on Monday evening with a very gratifying attendance.

The passenger train was going down hill running about 25 miles an hour, we are informed by Homer Powers of Hope, N. M., who was on his way home from El Paso. He was in the front end of the smoker, heard the alarm whistle, looked out of the window in time to see that the trains were coming together, saw some of those on the engines jump, but did not have time to get out himself.

Dr. Jim Camp lectured on Structure and Mechanics of the Body, also touched on hemorrhage in a lucid manner, free from the technical details that only serve to confuse the average First Aid student, yet without he covered every vital point.

The passenger engineer says that he saw the freight train just as his engine topped the hill, tried to apply the brakes, but was unable to do so in time to avert the crash.

The call to arms has come to our men, in the city and hamlet they are rallying to the flag, neither are our womenkind dilatory in action, realizing that this is not a war for war's sake, but for a greater humanity, to free a people from the thrall of autocracy, to hold inviolate the beautiful intangible freedom that is our own, the women freely giving of their time, their money, their sympathy, their loved ones.

The reports state that about thirty were injured, none seriously, being scratched and bruised. The engineer of the freight train and the baggage man of the passenger train received the worst injuries. Homer Powers' neck and the back of his head were somewhat hurt by contact with the window casing.

For the women and men enrolled with the local Chapter we are deeply appreciative and we invite the cooperation and membership of all our townspeople; your loyalty is unquestioned, this is merely the outward token.

The engines were badly demolished, but the drivers of the freight engine were still revolving rapidly after the collision, nearly cutting through the rails before they were stopped, as the escaping steam rendered it impossible to reach the cab for some time.

The American National Red Cross Society needs you, your town needs you, your family needs the added knowledge that will be yours; you fill a triple want by becoming a member of the local Red Cross Chapter.

Three cars on each train were telescoped and it was a miracle that none were killed nor fatally injured. There were three pairs of trucks under the tender of the freight engine.

Lectures Monday and Thursday evenings at 7:30, in the basement of the Carnegie Library.

Dr. Jim Camp was hurried from Pecos to the scene, and was accompanied by the T. & P.'s special attorney, John B. Howard. We understand that all of the injured are getting along nicely.

MRS. WILLIE WOODS KING,
President, Pecos Red Cross Chapter.

When No. 6 arrived in Pecos Wednesday morning, Tote Drummond was pressed into service as baggage man, making the run from here to Big Springs. He returned home on No. 6 in the afternoon.

Students' Medals Are Here

Clem Calhoun and E. Humphreys, of Toyah were visitors in the city Saturday.

Artistically displayed in the window of the Brady-Camp Jewelry Co., are the gold medals that have been donated to the Pecos school by enterprising citizens of Pecos. Each medal is displayed on a separate card bearing the name of the donor and for what branch it will be donated.

They are beauties, every one and we insist that all our citizens, young and old take a look at them. They will prove an incentive to the students, we are sure.

W. D. Hudson left Wednesday for his Diamond and a half ranch in New Mexico to see how everything was getting along up there.

LARGER FEED CROP CAMPAIGN

Enthusiastic Meeting in Valley. Generous Offers Made By Patriotic Business Men

A number of Pecosites autoed out to Balmorhea Monday, and met with the people of the Toyah Creek country, to boost the "More Feed Crops Campaign," and a rousing meeting was had in the school building of that enterprising little city.

Judge Meier was elected as chairman of the meeting, and the first speaker introduced was Hon. W. A. Hudson, who stated the purpose of the meeting and his conclusion was an urgent appeal that each person plant larger acreages of feedstuffs.

Judge Jas. F. Ross, Judge Ben. Palmer, W. H. Browning, Jr., Col. S. E. Waskom and others made patriotic speeches further urging the farmers and others to plant feed stuffs on a large scale.

A proposition of the banks to loan $500 each for the purpose of assisting those who desire to buy seed and of the Balmorhea Mercantile Co., of Balmorhea, Pecos Mercantile Co., and Leader Cash Store of Pecos to sell the farmers their seed at cost, was announced and earnestly applauded.

There was a large and enthusiastic crowd present, and one feature that deserves especial mention, and which indicates the sentiment of those of other nationalities who have adopted this as their land was a body of Mexicans, who marched to the meeting carrying a large American flag. A hearty ovation was tendered them.

The following committees to pass upon seed loans were appointed:

Saracosa—W. R. Black, Col. S. E. Waskom, C. M. Honaker, and Marcello Hinojosa. Balmorhea—W. W. Stewart, Sol Mayer, E. W. Backus, and Tomas Alvarez.

The following went out from Pecos: Jas. F. Ross, I. J. Sims, Ren Palmer, T. B. Pruett, B. T. Biggs, J. W. Jackson, M. H. Schermerhorn, Jno. Lilley, Byran McKeown, W. A. Hudson, and W. H. Browning, Jr. They were all well pleased with their reception and report that much good will come from this meeting for everyone out there was ready to do all he can to comply with the request of President Wilson.

Mrs. B. P. Wheat Visiting With Mrs. R. S. Johnson

Mrs. B. P. Wheat, of Louisville, Ark., arrived in Pecos Tuesday from a visit in El Paso and stopped over here with her niece, Mrs. R. S. Johnson, for a short time. Mrs. Wheat was on the wrecked train but was not injured. She stated that a baby on the train was thrown fully ten feet but was uninjured. Mrs. Wheat left yesterday on her trip home and was accompanied as far as Fort Worth by Mrs. R. S. Johnson, who is on her way to Keatchie, La., for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Everett Johnson.

Mrs. Sam Hall arrived in Pecos last Friday from Big Spring for a visit with her mother, Mrs. E. S. Alley, and other relatives and friends. She returned home Monday afternoon accompanied by Mrs. Alley, who will visit with her during the summer. The latter will be greatly missed by her many friends here, but one and all trust that she may be greatly benefited during her stay in that city.

Dr. Homer Powers and county judge, Howell Johnson, of Fort Stockton, autoed over to Pecos, remaining here Monday and Tuesday. They report that things about their city are in pretty fair condition.

RECRUITING OFFICERS HERE

Up to Date Reeves County Has Furnished Five Men To Country's Cause

A recruiting office, with Lieut. C. P. Duson and Corporal Cooper in charge, was opened in Pecos this week, at the Commercial Club rooms, and up until noon today five recruits have been secured for Co. B., 1st New Mexico Infantry, of Carlsbad.

Those who have answered the call and, after a physical examination were accepted, were L. W. Windham, Will Poitervient, John Swofford, Dan McGuire and Ben Dearing. The first three went up yesterday and the others today.

On account of Texas being "long" and New Mexico being "short" on men, permission of the government was granted to allow recruiting from Texas.

Lieut. Duson informed us that they have a large number of Texan in the New Mexico infantry. They will remain in Pecos a day or two longer.

A Country Club is Being Organized in Pecos

Just as we go to press we are requested to announce that the move to organize a Country Club is nearing its goal. On account of lack of space the detailed account will necessarily be postponed until next week. It will be located at the Mrs. Mitchell place just north of town and will contain 20 acres.

Bought and Sold Fine Bunch of Heifers

Ad Owens last week purchased a fine bunch, 94 head, of choice two-year-old heifers from Mrs. W. W. Hubbard. They were dandies and would have made the nucleus for a splendid herd of cattle.

Mr. J. T. Smith, who lives about 110 miles northwest of Pecos in the Guadalupe mountains was here Monday and he persuaded Ad to part with them at a good advance in price. Mr. Smith is ranching up there near Friole, and is assistant postmaster there. He reports to us that things up there are in fine shape, and that garden truck, of which there is no finer flavor anywhere, is doing as well or better than ever before. He usually makes about five or six trips to Van Horn, his nearest point with vegetables and other truck, realizing over $200 for what he sells.

Shipped His Cattle to Pueblo

Sid Kyle shipped out nineteen carloads of choice two-year-old heifers from his Lovine county ranch Tuesday. They were loaded out at Riverton, and were shipped via the Santa Fe.

Those who saw them say that they were as fine a bunch as has been shipped from this section in many months. They were consigned to the Colorado Live Stock & Loan Company.

NOTICE

All parties interested are requested to be present at a meeting of the Pecos Valley Farm Loan Association at the Pecos Commercial Club, 8:00 p. m., Tuesday, May 8th.

R. N. Grisham of Sweetwater, was in Pecos the first of the week looking after his clients' interests in the Elzada McDaniels vs. Grant Lauchner suit to try title and damages. He being one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, Judge Palmer being the other attorney for the plaintiff.

REV. H. O. MOORE IS INSTALLED

The Installing Session Largely Attended and The Services Greatly Enjoyed.

The session of the Presbytery of El Paso met in called session at the Pecos Presbyterian church Wednesday, May 2, 1917, at 4 o'clock, p. m., and placed the call of the congregation in the hands of Rev. O. H. Moore, Ph. D. Dr. Moore accepted the call and the Presbytery took recess until 8:15, after having arranged the program for the installation services.

Those present at the afternoon session were Rev. W. L. Downing of Barstow, Rev. W. M. Fairley of El Paso, Rev. H. O. Moore and Rev. J. F. Lloyd, of Pecos; Ruling Elders, Dr. W. D. Black, of Barstow, E. B. Daniel of Toyah, and H. A. Wren of Pecos.

The Presbytery convened at the appointed hour, Moderator Rev. Fairley, conducting the opening exercises, and preaching the required sermon, propounded the constitutional questions to the pastor-elect and to the congregation, and declared the installation of Dr. Moore as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Pecos. Rev. W. L. Downing then delivered the charge to the pastor, and Rev. J. F. Lloyd charged the congregation, after which the report of the Ladies' Missionary work was reported and accepted, the benediction pronounced and congratulations extended to Rev. Moore.

The sermon by Rev. Fairley was listened to intently by the large audience and one and all enjoyed it most heartily. It certainly was a patriotic sermon and showed most conclusively that he believed that the present war with Germany is proper, not because Germany has sunk a number of our ships and killed many of our people, but principally because of the manner in which she has rode over the peaceful country of Belgium and trampled it in the dust. Could we have had his remarks taken down we would gladly have published them. He was earnestly congratulated upon his remarks at the close of the services.

Both Revs. Downing and Lloyd did themselves proud in their messages to the pastor and to the congregation, and we feel sure that if they harken to and practice the advice given them the church will be a great factor in bringing the sinners to the Master's feet.

The Times desires to congratulate this congregation and Bro. Moore that they will have each other to work for, with, and all together for the spiritual and moral uplift of Pecos and vicinity, and may their lights be found ever shining.

Sam Bell, who had been in Pecos for a couple of weeks visiting his sister, Mrs. Brown and family, left Wednesday for his home at Honey Grove. He had accompanied Mrs. Brown, who came to join her husband, who is warehouse man for the Jas. McCord Company, in Pecos. We are pleased to welcome this new family and trust that they may never regret having cast their lot among us.

T. J. Stephen, of El Paso, was in Pecos the past week visiting his brother W. F. and family and other relatives and friends. He is working for the Electric Railway Co., and returned home Monday. He states that El Paso, though lively, is not so much so as it was during the sojourn of the State Militia.

Homer L. Magee went over to Odessa Sunday afternoon to attend the Fifth Sunday meeting of the Christian church there, and preached at the evening hour. He returned home Monday afternoon.

Community Food Supplies.

In the campaign for more food and feed there is apt to be much waste effort; many of the plantings will yield no returns; much that grows will be wasted for lack of means of conserving; there may be a surplus here and a scarcity there, even within the state, and inadequate transportation for exchange. Therefore it is suggested:

That mayors, county judges, and county superintendents or county commissioners, proceed at once to make careful surveys or investigations and ascertain:

1. From local merchants the volume of each staple food product normally required to feed the county for a year.

2. From farmers by school districts, of by tax rolls, the probable supply of each product on the basis of present plantings and herds of live stock.

This will require some time—two or three weeks, or a month—and it will cost some money, but in no other way can a county or community obtain information upon which to work intelligently.

With this information in hand, the community can take such steps as are necessary and possible to supply its needs. It will exhibit the best means of procedure, such as:

A. Country neighborhood cooperation and town neighborhood cooperation—rural school districts or clubs with city wards or clubs—for direct dealings and distribution of produce and supplies.

B. A central bureau of information, a sort of community exchange for local cooperative support. Chambers of Commerce may easily serve for this purpose.

C. Municipal, village and neighborhood plants for canning and drying all perishable products.

More than a thousand young women in the colleges are now receiving demonstrations and instructions in these processes. They will be out of school by the first of June and can be called into service. The A. and M. College and other institutions will be prepared to furnish instructions and recipes.

The important point is for each community to organize at once to sustain itself. It cannot do so without ascertaining first what it needs.

CLARENCE OUSLEY,
Director of Extension, A. and M. College of Texas.

The Secret Code

By Elizabeth Schoen Cobb

(Copyright, 1916, by W. G. Chapman.)

"You understand, Mollie?"

"Yes, father."

"There isn't likely to be much out of the ordinary in this dull town, but you can't always tell. If there should be a strike or a big fire or a murder, telegraph Bridgetown for help. Be sure to sign the message 'D. D. L.' That's the regular police code and makes it official."

"There won't anything come up that I can't handle, father," declared Mollie Crawford. "D. D. L. I'll remember. You take two good days' vacation, now. Throw everything off your mind. Brother and I can take care of everything."

John Crawford, marshal of Painesville, proceeded to the door. He halted for a moment to fix a quizzical eye on his daughter.

"Fear you've got a new beau, Mollie," he chuckled—"who is he?"

"Oh, only a stranger passing through the town, that's all, father. I knew his sister at school."

"Just so. Well, good-bye."

Mollie was left alone in the little building that was the telegraph office of Painesville, where she was on night duty. Her father was marshal of the village and had been for several years. Painesville was a quiet respectable place, but it had a large mill population and sometimes there were disorders. There was a day and night watchman, however, and these had been directed by the marshal to come to his son or Mollie in case of any trouble.

"How Much—Rush?"

Mollie had blushed when her father referred to "a new beau." There was some substance to the intimation. Vernon Beardsley had passed through Painesville twice in the past month and each time he had called on Mollie. This time he had spent half the afternoon with Mollie and had spoken some decidedly tender words.

He was a brother of a former favorite school mate of Mollie and was making his mark as special solicitor for a leading law firm of Matteson, fifty miles east of Painesville, working on an important counterfeiting case. He had hinted at gathering up some valuable evidence, and that some outside members of the gang he was after had threatened to obstruct, or "get even" with him.

Mollie was a trifle anxious over this. She reflected sweetly over the pleasant compliments Vernon had bestowed upon her. She was engrossed in a captivating day dream when two men entered the place.

"This the telegraph office?" inquired one of them. Both were strangers in Painesville and were hard-looking characters. Mollie nodded assentingly.

"Sure he's gone on to Bridgetown?" inquired the other.

"Oh, sure of that, and I've found out where he's staying. Better wire the boys."

"Yes, they'll be sure of him, with your tip."

The two men proceeded to the standing desk where the telegraph blanks were. They were there a long time. They conversed in low-guarded whispers and Mollie noticed constantly consulted a written sheet of paper. Finally they brought the completed telegram to Mollie at her little window.

"Bridgetown," spoke one of the men. "How much—rush?"

Mollie counted the words. The message was directed to Barney Graff, Brown's Hotel, Bridgetown. These were the only words Mollie could understand. Then she comprehended the telegram was written after a secret code. Mollie told the men the cost of sending it, proceeded to rush it and, as the money was paid, the two trains going in contrary directions that met at Painesville every evening at that hour arrived, and the men rushed out to catch one of the other, none did not know which.

In the body of the message two initials were written: "V. B." Mollie smiled, for they were those of her lover. Of course they did not apply to him, but they reminded her of him that was a pleasure. She sent the message, being careful to repeat to terminus, for the words made no sense. Then she read a little and did some crochet work, and then went out of her little den to close the door, for the night was growing quite chilly.

As Mollie started back for her operating desk she noticed a stray sheet of paper lying on the floor. She picked it up.

"Why!" she murmured, as she carried it to the light, "this is the same sheet of paper those men consulted so much. Yes, this is the key code to the funny wire which those men sent."

Mollie was glad to have something to break the monotony. She set herself to work to compare the telegram with the code. First, it was idle curiosity. Then it became sheer interest and then—alarm! For this is what the message, translated, read:

"Barney Graff, Brown's Hotel, Bridgetown. V. B. was here. Left on afternoon train. Is at his regular hotel at Bridgetown. Get him. He has the evidence with him and it's do him right or the pen for the gang."

In a flash quick, intelligent Mollie comprehended. The two men who had sent the telegram had arrived at Painesville too late to find Vernon. They had inquired about him and had learned his destination. They had wired some accomplice to do what?—rob Vernon of the evidence of their evil doings and to murder him—oh, that was certain! and Mollie was distracted.

What should she do, what should she do? How could she warn Vernon? She did not know the hotel he usually stopped at. Mollie paced the floor in an agony of apprehension and distress. She had about made up her mind to run to the house, half a mile away, and apprise her brother Herbert of the situation when a sudden thought came to her.

"The very thing!" she cried and sprang to the telegraph instrument. Her nimble fingers quivered as she clicked out the message that might mean life or death to the man she loved, according to the dispatch with which its mandate was executed:

"Jacob Bull, Chief of Police, Bridgetown:

Arrest at once Vernon Beardsley, lawyer, staying at some principal hotel in your city. Hold without bail till advised. Wanted for burglary. JOHN CRAWFORD, Marshal. D. D. L."

Then Mollie sped home. She got her brother to take her place, waited three hours and caught the midnight express for Bridgetown.

"I am the daughter of Marshal Crawford of Painesville," she announced to the chief of police, whom fortunately she found at headquarters. "I came about the arrest of Vernon Beardsley."

"Yes, he's jugged, and a fine row he's raising," responded the official and then stared hard, as, blushing, palpitating, the pretty young miss told her story.

"Barney Graff, eh?" he observed, pricking up his ears. "That's a fine tip. Brown's hotel? Good for you, little one, you're a trump!"

Within an hour Graff and two other wanted members of the counterfeiting gang were behind the bars and the astounded Vernon Beardsley outside of them.

"Can you ever forgive me?" meekly asked the penitent Mollie.

"You glorious girl!" was the ardent reply. "You have saved my life, so it is yours for the rest of my days—if it's worth having," and, promptly and tenderly, Mollie insisted that it was.

Oldest Lighthouse.

The celebration by the United States government and the Boston chamber of commerce of the two hundredth anniversary of the first use of Boston light, calls public attention to the oldest lighthouse in the United States. From 1916 to 1716 may seem a long way back, but what are a mere 200 years compared with the centuries that thought must cross to reach the oldest lighthouse in the world? This belonged to the fifth century B. C., and was mentioned by one of the Greek poets, who located it in the Troad. Its most famous successor was the lighthouse of Egypt, built in the first century B. C., and classed as one of the seven wonders of the world. It was called the Pharos, because located on an island of that name in Alexandria bay. Though finally destroyed in the thirteenth century, it still survives in the word of "pharology."—Christian Science Monitor.

Pneumatic Crutch.

A crutch that shall not press painfully upon the armpit has been devised by R. C. Pierce, a London engineer, and is in effective use in at least one of the British Red Cross hospitals. As the Lancet describes it, it is a pair of ordinary crutches from which the tops have been removed and a new top made.

This consists of a cross-piece of bass-wood with two upright ends, between which is a piece of rubber tube with its ends closed by wooden disks. Part of an inner tire is used for this and it is covered with canvas fire hose to prevent it from stretching. To this is attached a bicycle tire valve with which to inflate the tube to a pressure of about two or three pounds to the square inch.

The Bigger Fish.

"Mike," said Plodding Pete, "what would you do if you had a million dollars?"

"I guess," answered the laughing Mike. "But I'm suspicious dat I'd be sittin' up nights worryin' fur fear some o' dese billion-dollar boys 'ud freeze me out an' git it away from me."

Texas Must Feed Herself or Go Hungry

The zone map printed below, suggestions for crops and time for planting, are reproduced from matter prepared under the direction of Clarence Ousley, director Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, with the Texas Bankers' Association assistance.

Preparation and Cultivation

The serious, far-reaching nature of world developments and the possible consequences are so grave that Texas farmers are urged to plant every available acre not otherwise utilized to food and feed crops.

Upon many farms there are small plots of land that can be made to grow many tons of food and feed. If the soil is prepared immediately and kept in good condition by harrowing until planted, small grain crops will soon be harvested, and this land should be planted to a follow crop preferably cow peas, which in Zones 1, 2 and 3 should be planted after every acre of small grain. Plant dry if moisture is not available. In Zones Nos. 1 and 2 use one bushel broadcast per acre. For Zones Nos. 3, 4 and 5 plant peas in drill 1 peck per acre and cultivate.

In harvesting the small grain, the disc harrow should immediately follow the mowers and binders and the section harrow should be run behind the disc. This will help to conserve any moisture that may be in the soil if the harrowing is properly done, and will prevent soil crusting. By following this method, planting may be deferred until the rush of harvest season is over. Late planted crops respond as readily

PLANTING DATES FOR FIELD CROPS

Zone No. 1.—Plant cow peas and peanuts up to June 15. Plant sweet potatoes up to June 1; June corn to June 15; sorghums (sowed broadcast for hay) to July 1; Sudan grass to July 1; millet to June 15; fall Irish potatoes Aug. 5 to 15.

Zone No. 2.—Plant cow peas and peanuts up to June 15; sweet potatoes to June 15; sorghum (broadcast for hay) to June 25; Sudan grass to June 25; fall Irish potatoes Aug. 5 to 15, and June corn to June 15.

Zone No. 3.—Plant cow peas and peanuts to July 15; sweet potatoes to June 15; sorghum to July 20; Sudan grass, July 20; fall Irish potatoes Sept. 1 to 10, and June corn to June 15.

FALL IRISH POTATOES

Select your seed at gathering of first crop, usually the small ones, necessarily not larger than a walnut. Put the potatoes in a cool, well ventilated, dry place. About two weeks before planting, spread potatoes in a shallow layer and place straw or sand over them and keep damp by sprinkling water over them. As soon as sprouted, plant on land that has been thoroughly cultivated all the season before. The spring patch is an excellent place for fall potatoes. After sprouting, the potatoes should be cut before planting the same as those for spring planting. The Irish Cobbler and Triumph are the best varieties for fall planting and the Early Ohio is recommended for the sandy land of North and West Texas.

FALL TURNIPS

Summer cultivation of the turnip patch is necessary if a good crop is to be expected. The retention of the summer rain is needed to bring the turnips up and keep the small plants growing until fall rains come. Improved Purple Top, Dutch and Rutabaga are the best.

Suppression of Liquor Traffic In the Indian Country

For many years and in many localities there was a reign of debauchery when payments were made. To remedy this condition we sought and found a never before enforced Federal statute empowering the commissioner of Indian Affairs to suspend payments when it appeared to him that liquor was within the reach of Indians receiving the payments.

Perhaps the greatest abuse in this respect was among the Osage Indians in Oklahoma. Nearly two years ago, when about to make a payment there we notified the county and the city officers, the head men of the tribe, and the business men of the community that not a dollar would be paid until we had satisfactory assurance of the strict enforcement of this statute. The immediate effect was pandemonium, but when it was discovered by all concerned that there would be no relenting nor compromise, every county and city officer, the head men of the tribe, and fifteen hundred citizens, including nearly every business man in Pawhuska, the county seat of Osage county, gave us their written promise and obligation to aggressively enforce the law if we would proceed with the payment. With this assurance, the payment was made, and Osage county has since been one of the driest localities in the United States, with exceedingly gratifying results not only to the Indians but to the business men and taxpayers of the vicinity. We have since carried out this procedure everywhere throughout the Indian country.—Excerpt from an interview in Sioux City Journal, with Cato Sells, Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Entered as second class matter December 3, 1912, at the Postoffice in Pecos Texas, under Act of March, 3, 1879.

The American flag is the oldest national flag that flies in any part of the world. It was adopted by congress on June 14, 1777. England adopted her present royal standard in 1801; Spain her flag in 1785; France her tri-color in 1830; Germany, hers in 1870, and Italy in 1848. As man is more than flesh and blood, so the flag is more than bunting and color. It is the symbol of ideas, the representative of principles, the sign of the existence of the great spiritual and moral kingdom, which is the true America. Old Glory stands for a spirit of nationalism that our people share in common with other people. It stands, also, for more—for something peculiar, for something that sets us apart in the family of mankind. Our ancestors did not come to this side of the ocean for material reasons. They took ship because they wished to take part in the great experiment of organizing human society on a new and better basis. Ruled by the past they sought a region where the past would have least sway. Their minds had been opened to formulas that they thought were of universal applicability and which, if applied, would mean a re-union of all peoples and the triumph of justice and righteousness. Faith has sometimes grown weak. The blessings of bountiful nature have wooed us into forgetfulness of great and abiding truths. In recent years it has seemed at times as if our hearts had grown cold. But the new crisis has brought an awakening even as the crisis of 1861 put an end to a period of slumber. There is gratifying evidence that America at heart is still sound and in gratitude over the discovery, we salute the flag. God grant that America may always be sentimental if this is its fruit.—Copied.

"If a baby finds a cup of coal oil it will drink every drop of the nauseating stuff, but it requires an hour's work of mother, doctor, and nurse to force a spoonful of sweet medicine down the same baby's goozle," laments Jim Lowry of the Honey Grove Signal. "A 14-year boy will work four hours the hottest day in summer cleaning off a baseball ground, but it requires two lickings to make him carry in a small load of stove wood. A woman will stand for four hours with her feet encased in glove-fitting shoes and serve punch at a reception, who can't possibly stand up twenty minutes at an ironing board in carpet slippers. A man will sit on a berr keg and listen for three hours to a demagogic spiel on saving the country, who couldn't stay awake one hour in church to save every soul in christendom. The world, however, is not without beautiful examples of consistency, faithfulness and common sense. Consider the birds, the dogs and the horses.—Baird Star.

The leaders of the prohibition movement see in the declaration of war the hastening of a dry United States. Booze is one little item that all can get along without, and it's manufacture disposes of billions of bushels of grain a year. In the conservation of the nation's food supply we think that the saving of this vast amount of grain should receive first attention. The brewers who are always ready with an alibi, state that the grain serves its original intent, in the fattening of cattle, after its use in liquor manufacture. The Public Health Departments state that they are opposed to feeding any of this slop to cattle, their reasons being strictly from a sanitary viewpoint. Leaving all science out of the controversy, every one knows that booze and efficiency will not mix, and right now the latter element is needed in the highest sense, and the exodus of booze will be a source of rejoicing, not only on our part, but by the majority of the population of these United States.

Our common enemy, the fly, is again with us, in numbers. War unrelentless, unrestricted, should be declared this messenger of filth. There are many ways to go about destroying the pests, a good one is published in this issue. We have another, our own patent, which we think will help. It's this: Many parents do not like to cuff and box their offspring, but at the same time, know they deserve it often. Just purchase a fly swatter, and as punishment have them swat a designated number of flies. In this way the gun, so to speak, is loaded both ways: the child is punished, and at the same time is hailed as a benefactor of humanity.

A near shower last week put a little life into us all. Just a foretaste of how sweet we all would be should a real old-time gully washer romp along. One of neighbors seeing the clouds gather last week rushed to the back yard and began to fumble with his tank, adjusting it to the proper angle, etc., aided and abetted by his wife. We were too late to warn him not to make undue preparations, and besides he's been here long enough to know that any such fool capers would run off the gentles rain that's headed this way.

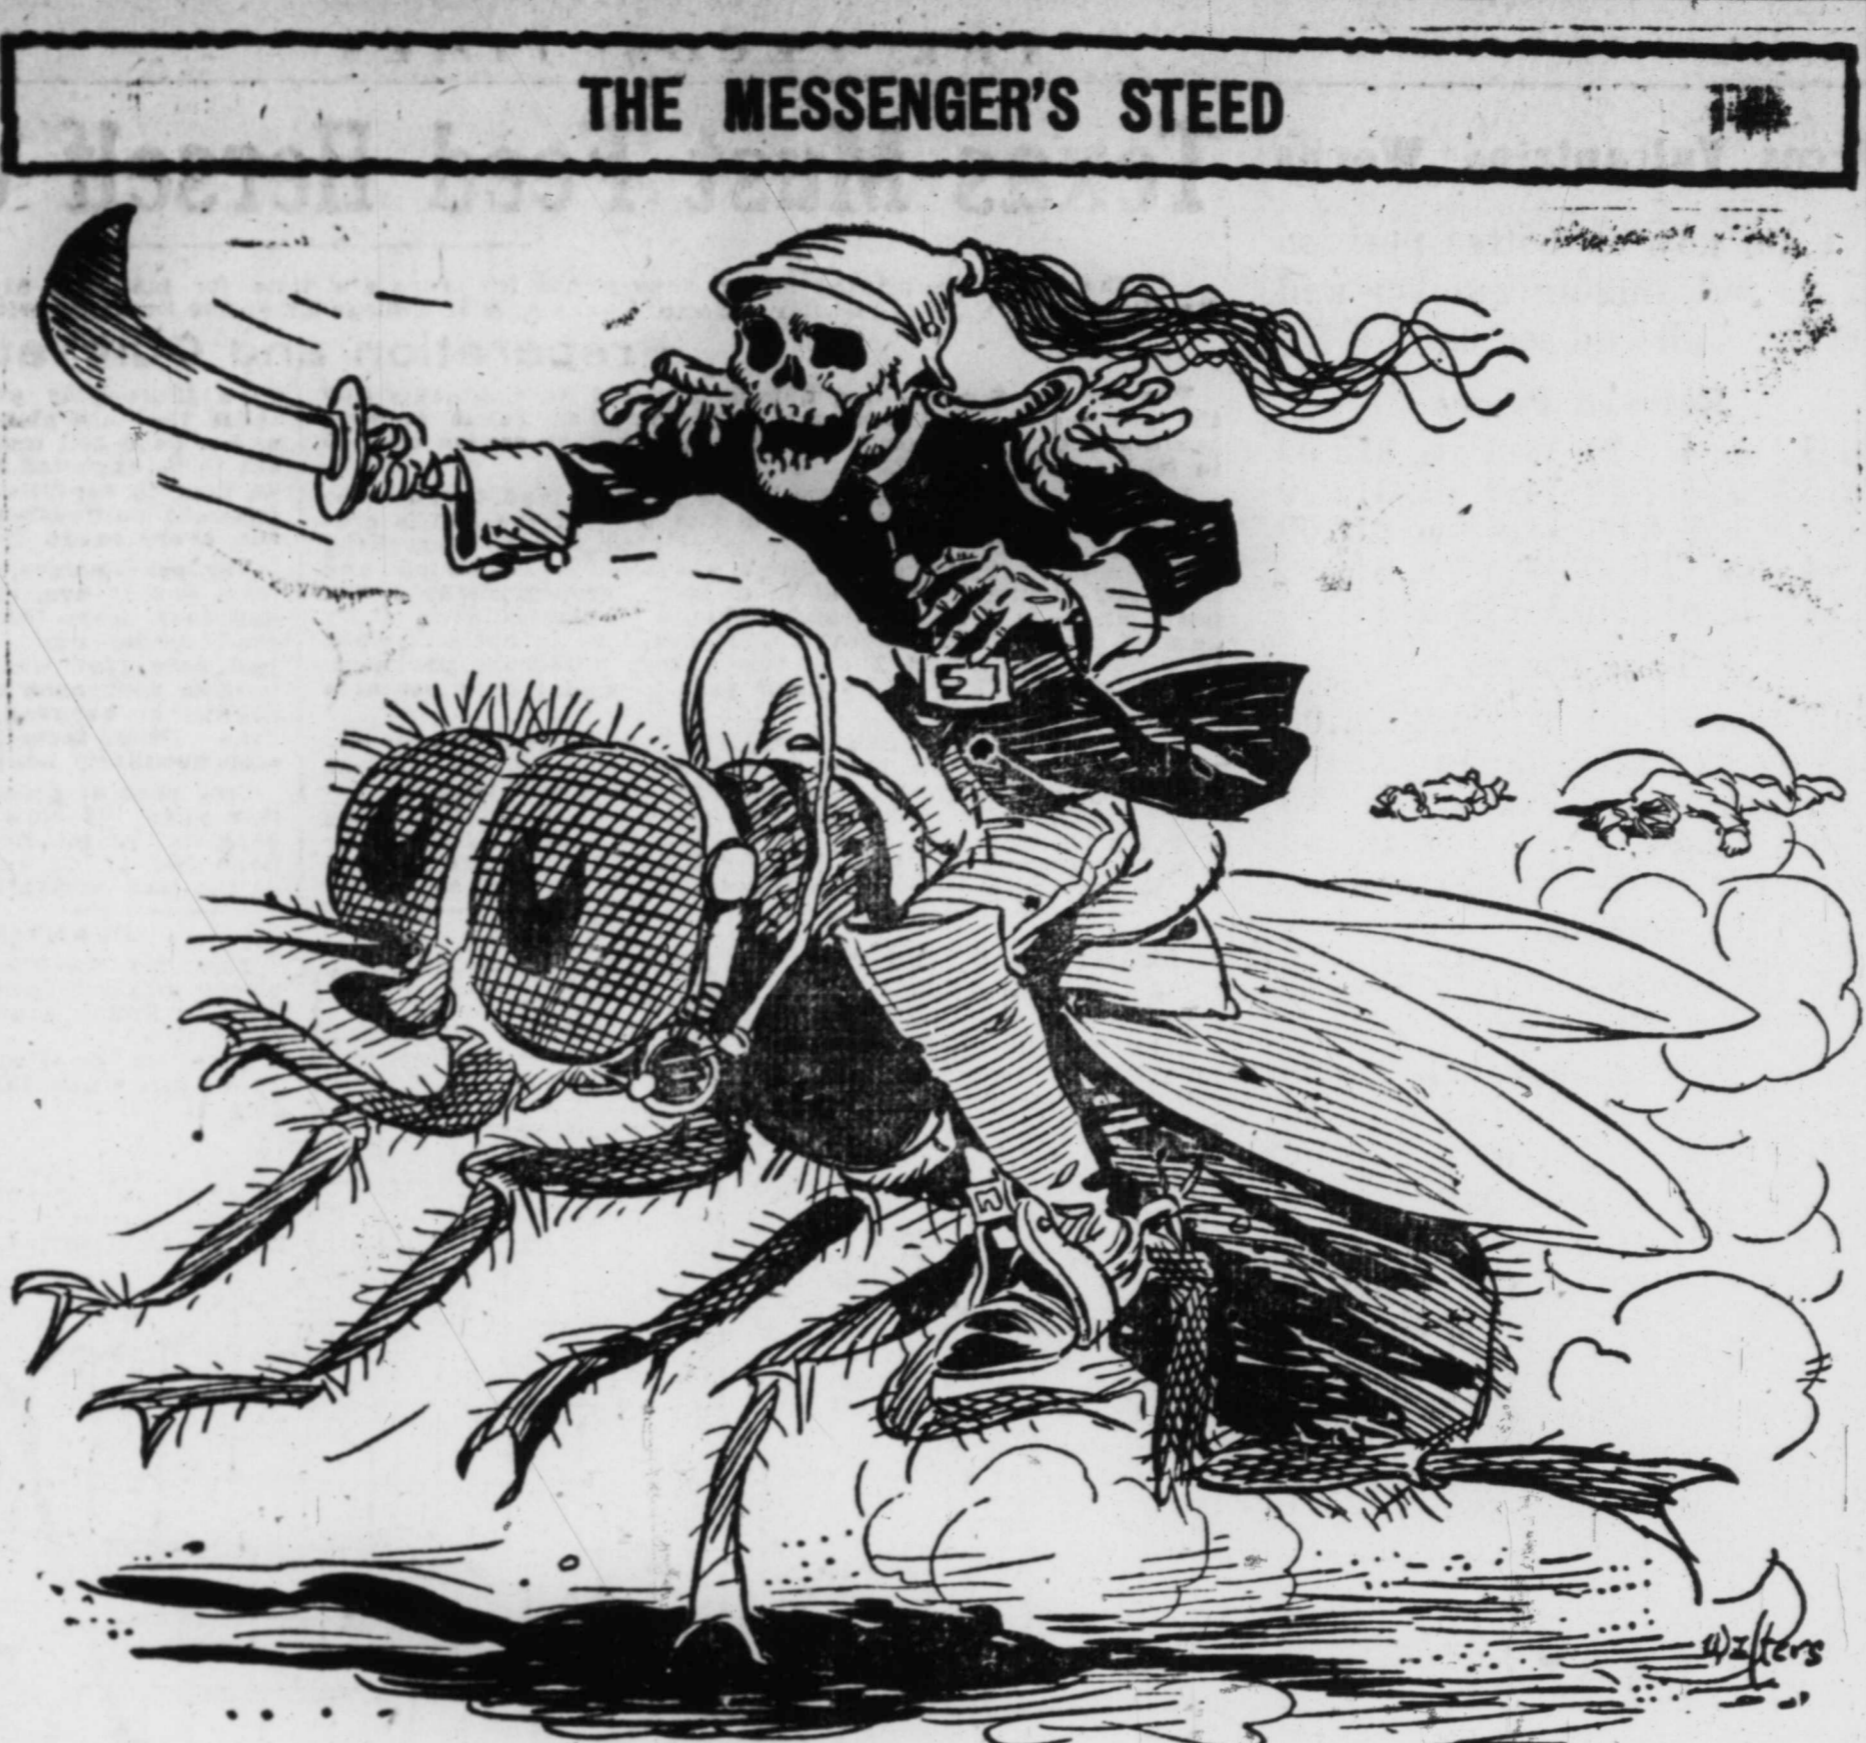

About the worse example of inconsistency we have noticed in many a long day comes from a source least expected: The Texas Weekly Review. In its issue of April 14, it dwelt upon the pettiness of Miss Rankin for voting against war. It's issue of April 28 contains a masterly apology for Jeff: McLemore who also voted against the war measure. The Review was recently consolidated with State Topics; McLemore used to be editor of the latter. Maybe that's the answer. O Tempora O Mores! O Rats!

We can hardly believe the story of German soldiers being boiled for what little oil may be extracted from their bodies. The rumor, however, will make us look askance at any of the exported goods labeled "Made in Germany" should there be a semblance of oil in its composition. And, as one hold a bar of soap in his hand, he can hardly keep from wondering how old he was, and how he died.

The campaign has started in many of our Texas cities for the annual clean-up. The mayors of these cities have officially set aside days for cleaning up. Pecos should fall in line.

Teddy is still pawing the ground to go to Europe and take a hand in the melee. Fearing that some one objected to his being in command, he stated that he would go as a 2nd Lieutenant.

Many of our young men are getting acquainted with old maids about their ages. Wonder why?

War Declared! The Enemy of Our Homes Must Be Destroyed For Health's Sake

Housewife Should Screen All Windows and Doors Very Carefully

GET RID OF DIRT, TOO

Summer is a season of trial to the housewife. Not only does the heat do much to add to her discomfort, especially if she must spend a good deal of her time in a hot kitchen cooking the family meals, but that summer pest—the fly—comes to make her life miserable. It is a menace and a danger to the health of her family. While it remains in her house she is not free from the possibility and probability of catching some dread disease given her by the harmless little insect that lingers on her food.

Almost everyone knows nowadays that flies are bred in the filthiest spots imaginable; that they live on filth and carry germs of typhoid and other dread diseases from one place to another. Therefore their extermination is necessary to the good health of the family, and every one that enters the house must be killed immediately.

While screening every window in the house is undoubtedly expensive, still money is well spent for this purpose, for by shutting out the pests you are safeguarding the health of the whole family. The most convenient screens are those made on adjustable wood or steel frames, for these may be inserted in the windows at will and taken out when wanted. Or a wooden frame may be made the full size of the outer casing of the window and covered with wire screening. This may be inserted in the spring and removed in the autumn, or, if desired, the screen may be left in all the winter, especially in the upper rooms, to prevent children from falling out when the windows are open.

If you do not feel that you can afford to spend money on screens of this sort, you can bar the house fly effectively by tacking mosquito netting, which costs but a few cents a yard, to the outer window casing so as to cover the whole window. This will last one season, can easily be torn down and replaced cheaply and easily the next spring.

Many housewives who take the precaution of screening all their windows and doors are still troubled by the presence of flies. They cannot understand where the pests come from, as all apparent entrances to the house are cut off. But if there are open fireplaces in the houses flies will come down these, even though a fire may be burning at the time. Screen the fireplace by tacking up mosquito netting. This will keep the pests out.

The home cook can do much to alleviate the fly evil by keeping her kitchen immaculately clean during the summer season. Flies love to congregate in bits of food, and if there is any left lying about they are sure to take advantage of the fact. As soon as a meal is finished, clear up the dishes immediately, scrape them clean of all food and put them to soak in a dish basin. Put all extra food away in the icebox at once, leaving nothing about that may become contaminated by the pest.

If in spite of your precautions you are still bothered with flies, it is best to invest in fly paper or some other sort of exterminator, and to put these about the house. They should be placed, however, beyond the reach of children's hands, as all fly destroyers are made up largely of poison. One of the best ways of exterminating these pests is to buy one of the wire fly killers sold in any of the big stores and to go about the house "swatting" the fly until this dangerous and really deadly insect has been completely exterminated.

Thousand Raise Their Voices for Prohibition

Roaring thousands are all attending the mass meetings of Clarence True Wilson, General Secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church. And they are roaring for prohibition as a war measure.

At a recent meeting held by Dr. Wilson, the great hall that held thousands, was packed, with hundreds standing. These people were not demanding reform; they were demanding that not an ounce of foodstuffs should be wasted while bread prices are rising in America, and the women and children of the allied countries are hungry.

Meat As Well As Bread

It is mere mockery for the brewers to contend that barley is not a bread grain. Meat is made of grain just as surely as bread. And it is worse than mockery to pretend that the nutritive values of the grain used in making beer are recovered in the slops fed to cattle. There is not a Health Department in America that is not opposed to feeding beer slop to cows.

Safe Solution for Killing Flies

The following harmless and efficient solutions for killing flies have been recommended in a recent bulletin issued by the U. S. Health Bureau. Since many of the fly poisons which have been in use for many years containing arsenic, have produced fatal results in many cases where infants have eaten from these poisons, here is a method that is cheap and absolutely safe in the home in which there are children: Go to your druggist and have him fix a pint of a one per cent solution of formaldehyde or the same amount of a two per cent of salicylate of soda. Get a tumbler and fill it with water and add three teaspoonfuls of the solution to the tumbler of water; take a piece of blotting paper and cut to circular form somewhat larger in diameter than the tumbler and fit over the top. Invert a saucer then invert the whole device and insert the end of a toothpick to allow air. The blotting paper will keep in a properly moist condition until the solution is all taken up. A little sugar sprinkled around the edges of the paper will attract flies the more. Several of these devices can be set around on the shelves and places where the flies are seen to come. Hundreds and thousands of these miserable enemies of infants and mankind can be killed daily while you do not have to bother further than occasionally refill the tumbler with more of the water and solution.—Cisco Round-Up.

THE YOUNG MAN'S OPPORTUNITY

Largest and Most Successful Cotton Classing School in America

There is a greater demand today than ever before for the young man who thoroughly understands the cotton business. Such as: Classing, stapling, averaging, buying, selling, exporting, shipping, keeping of gin records, merchant's cotton records, ware house records, cotton office stock books and other blanks necessary to the business. The representatives of the largest cotton concerns as well as the merchants and ware house managers, have highly indorsed our course of instruction. They say we are meeting a long felt want. Bonded warehouses alone require hundreds of young men. We have expert instructors with practical experience in every detail of the business and have installed in this department a cotton exchange board with telegraphic instrument attached. Here our students are taught to read price quotations as they come in from Liverpool, New Orleans and New York markets. They are also given the ginners' and Government reports on production and the probable effect on prices. Nothing is left undone to make our students efficient in the work. The cost of the above course complete is $23 for tuition, and $2 for books and material. Time for completing is from four to six weeks, owing to the ability of the student. Students may enroll at any time. There is such a great demand for work of this kind that we have large and enthusiastic classes of young men and boys throughout the year. Enter at once. From this time on the rules and laws governing automobiles will be rigidly enforced, as I have instructions to see that they are. I do not desire to discommodate anyone, nor incur a hardship, but there are many who flagrantly disregard the law in these respects that it must be stopped at once. Toyah Happenings By Our Special Correspondent.

Jackson-Carpenter

Mr. Lewis Jackson and Miss Annie Carpenter were happily married at the home of the bride's parents in Saragosa, on Wednesday evening, May 2, 1917, the Rev. R. L. Armor, of the Methodist church, performing the ceremony. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, dainty roses predominating. Clusters of roses almost lined the home, lending to the affair a romantic setting. As the beautiful strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Eva Stancliff filled the house the bridal procession entered, Miss Ivy Carpenter, sister of the bride, being maid of honor, and Marvin Carpenter, brother of the bride, was best man. Bridesmaids were Miss Vemla Ward of Pecos, Misses Marcia and Durrell Waskom, of Saragosa, and Miss Stella Adams of Balmorhea. The maids were daintily dressed in evening gowns of white, each carrying bouquets of roses. Then came the bride, on her father's arm. She was beautifully dressed in gown of taffeta, trimmed in georgette crepe, with her bridal veil flowing, presenting a sweet picture. The groom wore conventional black. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Carpenter, and is a very sweet young lady whose friends are numbered by the scope of her acquaintance. She is a talented musician and also possesses all the qualifications necessary to make a home what it should be. We congratulate the groom on his good fortune in winning such an estimable young lady for a life-mate.

The groom has made this section his home for several years, is well and favorably known to our people. He is a young man of sterling quality, hard working, and we trust that the wedded life of him and his bride will be a very happy one. A large number of friends of both parties witnessed the ceremony, nearly all remaining for the reception that took place afterwards, during which a number of musical selections were enjoyed. A two course luncheon was then served, the amusing feature of this being the cutting of the wedding cake as all were anxious to see what the future held for them, as predicted by the articles baked in the cake. The Toyah many friends extend to the happy couple congratulations and wish them a long, happy life.

Armor were over to Pecos Wednesday and attended the installation services at the Presbyterian church in the evening. L. Harkness and Walter Morton returned home Friday evening from El Paso where they had been for several days taking some of the higher degrees of Masonry. Mrs. Theo Andrews and Mrs. B. P. Van Horn returned Sunday from Midland where they attended the training school under the auspices of the Order of Eastern Star. Mrs. Sheppard and children of Fort Worth arrived Saturday for a visit with relatives. She and her brother, Kenneth Thompson, left Sunday for the Thompson ranch. Harry Jarrel was here the first of the week from Kent, visiting with his parents and family. Harry is nursing a badly bruised shoulder, caused by a horse falling with him. Rev. Armor, wife and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hart went over to Saragosa Wednesday evening to attend the Jackson-Carpenter nuptials at which Bro. Armor officiated. Mrs. Claude Collins and her daughter, Miss Ruth, Mrs. C. C. Cargill and Carey Thompson returned home Tuesday morning after several days spent in El Paso visiting. They made the trip in a car and they said they had a grand trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tinnin and little son left Sunday for their ranch, after several days in Toyah visiting with relatives and friends. Miss Gladys Townsend spent last Saturday with Miss Mary McElroy at the latter's ranch home near Kent. Sunday both these young ladies came to Toyah and Miss McElroy will spend several days visiting her relatives and friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Crow and baby of El Paso have moved to Toyah, and have engaged light-housekeeping rooms at Mammy Duncans. Mr. Crow works on the railroad, and the move was on account of his longest layovers were at this end of the run. Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Armor and children and A. B. Burchard drove over to Balmorhea last Wednesday and attended a social given by Mrs. A. V. Johnson. After a nice time was spent socially, a refreshment course of cake, cream and grape juice were served. Mr. Farrel of the Grapevine ranch came up from Pecos Tuesday where he visited with his daughter, Mrs. Ad Owens. He visited in Toyah with his son, Jack Farrel and family, returning to the ranch Tuesday afternoon accompanied by his daughter-in-law and her mother, Mrs. Grayson. Little Florence Burchard celebrated her seventh birthday Tuesday, and in the afternoon invited her little friends to make merry at a party in her honor. A large number accepted and merry-making held sway the entire afternoon during which children's games were played, at the close of which refreshments were served by Mrs. Burchard.

Mrs. Frank Bilingslea and daughter, Mrs. Ruth Dixon entertained the Rook Club Thursday afternoon of last week. They invited guests of the affair being Mrs. Clyde Cargill, Mrs. George Daniel, Mrs. Will Coalson, and Mrs. Harry MacTier, the latter of El Paso. A large number of the regular club members were present and all enjoyed this session very much. Sherbert and a variety of cakes were served as refreshments. The Sunday school class of Mrs. Doyle enjoyed a moonlight picnic Monday night. As each pupil had the privilege of inviting one friend or sweetheart, the result was a large, merry crowd embarked about dark, on a float, for the Bilingslea well south of Toyah, where the affair was staged. After a session of chat the feast was spread, and though there seemed to be enough for another crowd as large as this one, nothing was wasted. At a proper hour all returned to town expressing themselves as having the best time of the season. The services at the Methodist church were well attended Sunday, at both morning and evening hours. Rev. Armor, the pastor, preached able sermons both morning and evening. At both services special music was a feature: a duet at the morning hour by Misses Dial and Smith of Balmorhea, and in the evening a duet by Miss Smith of Balmorhea and Miss Vera Mitchell. The contest asking for the best answer to the question "Why I Go To Church Every Sunday," and for which $1.00 will be given the winner was extended until next Sunday night. Be sure to have your answer in by then.

Fort Worth to El Paso Highway

F. W. Johnson, Director for Reeves County.

From the reports received from Austin, it is likely that the appointments on the State Highway Commission will be made by the Governor by the time this goes to press. This means that the machinery of that department will soon be in operation.

Before the commission can act on any application to have and roads designated as State Highways it will be necessary for the County Judges in the different counties interested, to have maps made showing their highway system, and designating those roads which they wish made State Highways.

A letter will go out within a few days to all the county judges along our highway asking that they submit maps at once for the purpose of having the Fort Worth-El Paso Highway through their counties designated as a State Highway. This letter will give the size, and other necessary information relatives to the maps needed.

Engineer J. D. Meriwether was delayed in his work last week on account of his little two-year-old girl falling into a cistern. Fortunately no serious injury, other than a broken arm was sustained.

Our financial report, which has been delayed, as explained in another letter to our directors, is now going forth.

WONDERFUL STUFF LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think of it! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.—Advt.

"Kie-Yie-Yie! Get Me 'Gets-It' Quick"

2 Drops Make Corn "Fall" Off

"I've joined the Never-Again Club. Never again will I use anything but 'Gets-It' on my corns. Put 2 drops of 'Gets-It' on, and from that time on the corn begins to shrivel."

"Oh, Don't Touch It! It's So Sore! 'Gets-It' and It Will Never Be Sore!"

Instead of swelling up like a little white sponge. Then it loosens from your toe—and, glory hallelujah! the corn comes off as though you had a glove off your hand!

Yes, "Gets-It" is the corn drug of the age. More "Gets-It" is sold by many times than any other corn remedy in existence. Try it—and you'll know the reason why. It takes two seconds to apply, and it dries at once. That's all the experiment—follow the experience of millions and use "Gets-It." "Gets-It" is sold everywhere in a bottle, or sent on receipt of price to E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The Triumphant March

A NEW CREATION OF SCIENCE AND NATURE

WHEN we announced Bevo recently, our hopes were high. We knew that we had the most unusual soft drink that had ever been offered: A beverage combining the nutritive extracts of wholesome cereals, the zest of Saazer Hops, a flavor all its own, and absolute purity. We knew this because, true to our own ideals, we had experimented for years before we were satisfied to say, "We offer you Bevo—it is a different soft drink—it is good and it is good for you."

High as were our hopes for its reception, we have realized them far and beyond our expectations.

Bevo today is an established popular success. Everywhere the same question is asked:—"Have you tried Bevo?"

Now, one final word. We promise you that, in accord with the known principles of Anheuser-Busch and all its products, Bevo not only will forever maintain its present high standard of quality, but as time goes on our great endeavor shall be to make this soft drink even more perfect in every detail of its goodness.

You will find Bevo at inns, restaurants, groceries, department and drug stores, picnic grounds, baseball parks, soda fountains, dining cars and other places where refreshing beverages are sold.

Guard against substitutes. Have the bottle opened in front of you, first seeing that the seal is unbroken and that the crown top bears the Fox.

Death of Former Eminent Citizen At Pecos.

The summons to rest has come to another man. Judge Geo. N. Gentry, whose name is indissolubly linked with the growth and development of Hamilton, and his death at his home in Pecos, Texas, April 19, at 7:55 in the evening, has bowed many a heart in sorrow for the passing of the strong, upright, gentle man who moved among his people with a broad influence for good.

George Nicholas Gentry, only son, of Frederic Browder and Rebecca Barnett Gentry, deceased, was born in Washington county, Texas, August 29, 1845. He moved with his parents to Hamilton county in 1856, and in 1860 joined the Texas Rangers and served on the frontier for some twelve months. At the end of that time he joined the Confederate army, serving to the end of the war in the Company of Capt. J. J. Callan, of Menard, J. E. McCord's Frontier regiment. It is said of him by Capt. Callan that his service in the army was characteristic of the man, brave and loyal and obedient to every command. He was married, in 1865, to Miss Clementina Snow, who bore him four children, two of whom, Fred Gentry, of Pecos, and Stroud Gentry of Crystal City, Texas, survive him. In 1874 he was married to Miss Sallie Day, and to this union were born four children, three of whom survive him. They are Mrs. Ora Taylor, Miami, Ariz., Mrs. Ida Rogers and Loss Gentry, of Artesia, N. M. Besides these he leaves two sisters, Mrs. E. E. Graves and Mrs. E. A. Shockley, of Hamilton.

He served as County Judge in West Texas towns, and about ten years ago moved to Pecos. He was sent to the Texas Legislature for one term and about three years ago was appointed postmaster at Pecos, which position he held until his death. He was converted under the preaching of Rev. George W. Truett of Dallas, and joined the Baptist church in Pecos a number of years ago and had since lived a consecrated Christian life. His last days were spent in close communion with the Master in daily Bible reading and prayer.

The body accompanied by Mrs. Gentry and Prof. T. B. Cooper of Fort Worth, arrived in Hamilton Saturday, April 21, at 1 o'clock, and was borne to the residence of Mrs. E. E. Graves, where at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. J. Fletcher, who paid beautiful tribute to the Christian life of Judge Gentry, and read comforting promises from the scriptures. After these services the remains were conveyed to the Graves-Gentry Cemetery where the Albert Sidney Johnson Camp, U. C. V. took charge, and with beautiful and impressive ceremonies concluded the burial rites, the grave being draped in the Confederate and United States flags. The floral offerings were magnificent and profuse. The funeral cortege was said to have been one of the longest ever seen in Hamilton. And while the body lay in state at the Graves home, hundreds of old friends passed around the bier for a last look at the noble face of their dead friend. Another notable incident in connection with the burial was that it occurred on San Jacinto Day, the father of Judge Gentry having fought in the battle of San Jacinto 75 years ago.

Active pall bearers were A. R. Eidson, E. A. Perry, J. E. Moore, J. T. Dempster, R. F. Scoggins, H. E. Chesley.

Honorary pall bearers were J. L. Spurlin, J. T. James, W. B. West, A. H. Watson, J. J. Durham, W. B. McAnelly, W. T. Saxon, T. C. Pierson.

There is no death! the forest leaves
Convert to life the viewless air:
The rocks disorganize to feed
The hungry moss they bear.

There is no death! the dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer showers;
To golden grain or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow-tinted flowers.

There is no death! the leaves may fall,
The flowers may fade and pass away—

They only wait through wintry hours
The warm sweet breath of May
Though disenthralled and glorified,
They still are near and love us yet;
The dear ones they have left behind
They never can forget.

And sometimes when our heart grows faint
Amid temptations fierce and deep,
Or when the wildly raging waves
Of grief and passion sweep.

We feel upon our fevered brow
Their gentle touch, their breadth of balm;
Their arms enfold us, and our hearts
Grow comforted and calm.

Proper Food For Weak Stomach

The proper food for one man may be all wrong for another. Every one should adopt a diet suited to his age and occupation. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL.

Starts Your Liver Without Making You Sick and Can Not Salivate

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed the great falling-off sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness or constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—Advt.

PECOS HAS MADE THE TEST.

Pecos People Will Get the Benefit.

There is nobody in Pecos any better known than attorney Palmer, and in giving his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, for the benefit of Pecos kidney sufferers, he has nothing whatever to gain.

Why experiment with unknown imitation kidney remedies when you have such a good reason to try Doan's?

Profit by the test Mr. Palmer has made for you.

Ben Palmer, attorney at law Cypress street, Pecos, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago and, while I have never been a great sufferer with my kidneys, I have found them to be all that I could desire. I think they are a good, reliable medicine and gladly advise anyone to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the City Pharmacy, if troubled with weak kidneys."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that attorney Palmer had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)
