They Do Not Want To Be Drafted

Women of Pecos Are Called Upon to Volunteer For Service.

When war crashed upon the European countries it came suddenly, the people were dazed and slow to respond.

But this is not true of us, for months we have had the truth forced upon us that we were drifting into the turmoil.

If we fail in this great conflict it will be due to our slow awakening for which we will have no reasonable excuse.

That must not be said of us, nor will it be.

It certainly will not be said of the American woman, for at the first call her hands were ready.

But the work must not be left to the few; the task that faces us is the work of all.

Not a girl or woman who calls herself American, or whose home is in this land, and the benefits of which she has enjoyed, can place herself apart. It is a time when every man must be a man, but also a time when every woman must be a woman. It is the time to give of what we know.

There are those with much to give, and others with little. But the mite is as valuable as the much is desirable. We give what we have; we do what we can; more than that none can do.

It is our chance; the greatest chance that the American woman has ever had for service.

The above appears in a recent issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, and so aptly applies to our local situation that we use it as a call to our women of Pecos to awaken, shoulder your weapons, for they may be nothing more than scissors, needle and thimbles, to be used for the benefit of suffering humanity.

Believing that our women were all anxious to serve, a Supply Committee has been appointed by the chairman of the Red Cross, composed of the following: Mrs. Stine, chairman; Mrs. Jim Camp, Mrs. H. N. Lusk and Mrs. T. Y. Casey.

The duties of this committee will be to look after purchasing of material for sewing, distributing of garments and all preliminary arrangements.

The town has been divided into four districts, as follows: Fourth street, running east and west, Willow street north and south.

Remember the dividing lines and avoid confusion. The district work will be under the supervision of the ladies, as follows: Southwest District, Mrs. Monroe Kerr, F. W. Johnson, M. W. Collie and Mrs. Glover; South East District, Mrs. J. Y. Leavell, G. B. Finley, R. N. Warn and G. B. Rowden; North West District, Mrs. J. F. Ross, Wm. Garlick, M. A. Churchill and E. J. Moyer; North East District, Mrs. R. N. Couch, Sam Prewit, Ben Randalls, and Max Krauskopf.

North Pecos, Mrs. Bob Har- graves, S. C. Vaughan. These ladies will make an effort to in some way reach every woman in Pecos, but don't wait for them to phone or call help them by volunteering. Find out where they will meet in your district and be on hand, Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

Above all don't feel slighted if for some reason they don't reach you, rise to the occasion and help them. It's a very difficult matter to organize and not make some mistakes or overlook some one. But let us all assume the burden of this work and feel proud to have a part in it.

It will just cost you extra in proportion to the amount of service you have received.

Remember that Under Inflation, Improper Alignment, Skidding, Bruises, Snags, Overs and other causes, peculiar to the conditions of our roads will cause troubles not due to a defect of the Casing.

A Crate of Cantaloupes for The Reporter.

We have a most esteemed friend over in the Pecos Valley, near Pecos. He is Bill Arp Oden and a former townsman. Used to be that he was a stockman. He is yet, but not exclusively so. Now he raises cantaloupes over there, and they are especially fine or he would have nothing to do with them. We further know, for the reason that one day recently this office received a whole crate of them. The whole force enjoyed them, and pronounced them second to none, not even the famous Rockyford product. Further proof of quality is that Mr. Oden furnishes cantaloupes to the Paso del Norte of El Paso, the Adolphus of Dallas and Warnock's Cafe and the Yeakel Hotel of Midland. But, thanks, old man, for your remembrance to The Reporter force. The whole outfit will testify to the quality of your product.—Midland Reporter.

Mr. Oden informs us that Reeves county cantaloupes are gaining such a reputation for quality that he cannot fill the demand for them. The railroads have under consideration the raising of them in large quantities so as to be able to ship them by the carload, knowing they will find a ready sale for them at good prices. The soil of Reeves county is especially adapted to the growing of cantaloupes of the very best. In fact, no better are grown anywhere. The quality and flavor is all that can be asked for in this luscious edible, and the leading hotels of the State have discovered this fact.

The Biggs Irrigation Canal in Ward county, was sold at Barstow Tuesday under Sheriff's sale, and was bought in by Messrs. Lee, Monroe and Lyons who paid $5000 for it. We are informed that these parties are going to turn this property to the farmers along the canal. At the same time three sections of land were bought in by Judge Monroe for $1,715.

Junior Girls Organize A Red Cross Society.

Thursday afternoon the members of the Junior Girl's "42" club resolved itself into the Junior Girl's Red Cross Society, and met with Miss Alice Hankins and spent the afternoon learning to knit under the able supervision of Mrs. Woody Johnson. After the busy fingers had wrought for some hours refreshing lemonade was served. This is surely an unselfish and commendable move on the part of these young ladies who propose to meet twice a week and spend the time in knitting mufflers for our soldier boys across the waters in the world's war for humanity. The following were present, others will join from time to time: Misses Zara Sims, Frances Linton, Myrtle Ruhlen, Lillian Wells, Kathryn Baty, Gussie Richburg, Jessie Heard, Helen Duncan, Frances Hubbard and Alice Hankins.

Notice to Automobile Owners.

The law requiring the dimming of automobile lights, recently passed at a regular session of the Legislature, is now in effect, and all automobile owners are hereby notified to dim the lights on their cars at once. The Fourth Payment.

The fourth payment of 30 per centum on Liberty Loan Bonds purchased on installments is due on August 15th. The payment must be made on or before that date according to the official statement of the terms and conditions of the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds issued by Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury, at the time subscriptions to the bonds were invited. Whether the bonds were purchased from the Treasury Banks or through other banks or agencies it is important that these and succeeding installments must be paid promptly.

Moved Here From North Carolina.

Ira M. Hawkins and family of Lenoir, N. C., arrived in town last Friday morning with the view of locating on an irrigation ranch as soon as they learn more of the new methods that obtain here. Mr. Hawkins is a native of New York, but has lived in North Carolina for seven years. He has advised his friends to get into a more bracing climate where opportunities are more alluring than in the east, where farming at best pays a meagre profit. They are church workers and hope to locate where the moral tone is wholesome. Mr. Hawkins is a graduate of the University of Michigan, but prefers the free life in the open to office life. They are gratified with the kindly reception extended to them by the people they meet. It is hoped that they will find a home nearby. The trip through Texas revealed a desolation of parched vegetation until the irrigation section was reached.

The Enterprise job department turned out two briefs of 175 pages each this week for Jno. B. Howard and Clay Cooke, which were highly satisfactory to these gentlemen, and they complimented The Enterprise force on the neatness, accuracy and dispatch of the work.

TWO Rules for Exemption Drawn Tighter

If Wifey's Parents Can Support Her Hubby Must Go and Fight for Country

More than 200,000 men of the selective draft forces will be called to the colors on September 1, to go immediately to their divisional cantonments.

Brigadier General Crowder, provost marshal general, dispatched the following telegrams to the governors of the states today, cautioning them to make certain that the first one-third of their quotas of the first increment of registered men are ready in time:

"New regulations governing mobilization and the certification of men from the district boards to adjutants general will be mailed to you August 9. In the meantime, the local boards should certify to district boards daily those who have been discharged either because they failed to file any claim or because their claim had been decided adversely.

"Strict compliance with this rule is necessary since on September 1 the war department will call for not to exceed one-third of the quota of men from each state, to be entrained for mobilization camps, between September 1 and September 5. Unless we wish to be put in a position of not furnishing men as fast as the war department is ready to receive them, each state should have accumulated by September 1 a minimum of one-third of its quota not exempted or discharged. This can only be attained if local boards certify these lists up with great expedition."

General Crowder also sent this additional caution to examining physicians of the local boards:

"Surgeon general advises in order to prevent the terrible ravages which result from that introduction into the army of that dread disease of the eyes known as trachoma, the lids of every recruit be everted to insure the absence of this disease and that any border line or suspicious cases be referred to an ophthalmic surgeon especially qualified in this line."

The messages were followed by a new ruling regarding exemptions because of dependents, which is expected to decrease considerably the loss of men from the military service for this reason. Boards are authorized hereafter to deny exemptions to married men whose wives are solely dependent upon them, but where the parents or other relatives of either the wife or husband are willing to assume the burden of her support during his absence. The same course is to be followed where any drafted man's employers agree to continue his salary as a patriotic duty.

A third supplemental ruling provides that where a man has supported his dependents by his own labor on land which he owns and the board finds that the land could be rented to advantage so as to continue the support for the wife derived from the rental, exemption may be denied.

The telegram to the governors follows:

"Under presidential regulations the term 'dependent for support' has given rise to several further questions of principle affecting large numbers of persons.

"The general basis for ruling upon such questions should be the spirit and purpose of the act in providing for such discharge whatever the terms of the act and of the regulations are not in themselves conclusive. The act authorizes the president to discharge wherever the parties drafted are in a status with respect to persons dependent upon them for support which renders their exclusion or discharge advisable."

"Such dependence ordinarily renders discharge advisable because since the drafted person loses his means of support the wife is left without support and this lack of support is the effect which the act aims to avoid. But wherever such effect does not in fact follow, and the wife is not left without reasonably adequate support, but will receive such support from other sources, there is no real dependency rendering the discharge advisable."

"Life and Death" Messages

The Navy Department has arranged for the expedition of "life and death" messages passing between the officers and enlisted men of the Navy and their families. Telegrams of such a nature are to be dispatched to the Bureau of Navigation at Washington and will be forwarded by telegraph or cable immediately to the proper naval station or ship, no matter in what waters the latter may be at the time. Other messages will pursue a slower means of transmission.

In explanation of the plan, Commander D. W. Todd, Director of Naval Communications, has sent the following letter to the presidents of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Cos.:

Dear sir: Orders have been issued to all naval personnel, serving in the fleet, directing them to inform their families that life and death telegrams are to be forwarded addressed to ships, care of the Bureau of Navigation, Washington, D. C. For example:

John Smith, U. S. S. Texas, c-o Bureau of Navigation, Navy Dept. Washington, D. C.

Telegrams of less importance are to be forwarded from distant points with the same form of address with the understanding that such telegrams will be forwarded by the Bureau of Navigation to the addressee by mail. The above orders have been issued to prevent land line messages from disclosing the location of ships of the navy.

It is requested that proper steps be taken in your organization to notify senders of telegrams of this order of the Navy Department.

Publicity is being given this matter in the press.

Very respectfully, D. W. TODD, Commander U. S. Navy, Dir. Naval Communication

New Yorkers Want to Come Here to Fish.

The following letter was received by "Dad" Baker from Edward Cave, editor of "Recreation," a great out-of-door magazine, dated August 1: Pecos, Texas.

Mr. W. T. H. Baker, Dear Sir:—In reading a recent copy of the Pecos, Texas, Enterprise, I came across an item stating that you had landed a catfish weighing 37 lbs. I assume from this that you are an experienced angler, and I wonder if you would be willing to write us a letter telling how and where you caught the fish, the kind of tackle and bait used, and other information, which you think "the other fellow" would like to have. We could publish this in one of the departments of our magazine, a copy of which I am sending you. We would be glad to prepare your letter for publication and send you galley proofs of it before it is printed. Have you a photograph to go with it?

As you may imagine, we have a number of inquiries from subscribers and readers who like to fish in that section, and who want to know of really worth while places to go. I would appreciate it very much if you would send us information as to where these sportsmen could go.

Thanking you for your courtesy in this matter, I am, Sincerely yours, EDWARD CAVE.

The Pecos River is a fine fishing stream and furnishes the country tributary to it lots of fine fish. The ordinary tackle, such as is found most anywhere, is used. As for the bait, minnows, frogs, birds and beef liver are used, and nearly everyone that tries his luck in the Pecos River get fish.

10 Commandments to Keep the Baby Alive

Ten commandments for the care of the babies during hot weather has been issued by the New Jersey Department of Health in a warning against "summer complaints," and are as follows:

Give the the baby its mother's milk, nature's own food, that it's days may be long.

Feed the baby regularly, but not oftener than every 3 hours, that its digestion may be good.

Keep the window open in the room where baby sleeps so it may have fresh air.

See that the baby takes its nap out of doors, that it may have more fresh air.

Have every window and door screened and keep a net over baby's crib and coach, so that flies may neither annoy it nor pollute its food.

Bathe the baby every day, and, if the weather is hot, several times a day, that it may be clean and cool.

Do not put any tight bands or other tight clothes on the baby.

Let all its clothing be light, loose and soft, that it may exercise its limbs and be comfortable.

Do not tickle the baby nor toss it in the air, or trot it on your knee, lest it become nervous.

Put the baby to bed early, that it may get plenty of sleep.

Do not give the baby patent medicines, soothing syrup, or other drugs without the doctor's advice, lest it be poisoned and die.

Summer Complaint.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can be done only when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scoot, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer the complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose of it relieved me. Other members of the family have used it with like results.—Adv.

That Texas and Pacific Train.

They sure are having a not time at Tioga, Grayson county's famous watering place, on account of the change of schedule of "that T. & P. train."

Read this story from Col. Rudolph's Tioga Herald.

"Say Bill, old boy, what's the matter this morning?"

"Matter, did you say! Well everything has gone wrong. You know, John, I landed here twenty years ago on the T. & P. train, with Sallie and the kids from Alabama. Each day since then Sallie and the kids have gone down to see the T. & P. train pass, for they felt like it was just from dear old Alabama. Every thing at my house was regulated by that T. & P. train; the clock was set each day, the cows were milked, the pigs fed, the horses watered, meals were eaten, the children sent to church and to school, in fact everything was done by that T. & P. train. Now, they have been running that T. & P. train in the afternoon and it has upset everything down home. We don't know how or when to start anything. Sallie and the children went down to the depot Sunday morning and after waiting two hours asked the agent if that T. & P. train had been wrecked, and he said no, that they had changed it from a morning train to an evening train. So Sallie waited until that T. & P. train came at 1:52 so I had no dinner and the family is upset.

"You see, John, I can't go anywhere and get back the same day. If I go to Collinsville, six miles away, it will take me a day and a half to make the trip. I can't go to Sherman to pay my poll tax of $1.75, without being away from Sallie all night. I am all out of sorts, John, and I will have to begin all over again from where I started twenty years ago. For my part I do not see what they want to run the T. & P. train at that time a day for; nobody can go anywhere on it. I asked one of the telegraph operators why they changed the T. & P. train to the afternoon for, and he said the main guy what started the train wanted to sleep late in the morning and had the T. & P. train set up four hours so he could finish his morning nap. I am sure, John, if he knew what a terrible comotion he has caused by changing the T. & P. train from morning to evening he would go to bed earlier so that he could send her out on her usual time and serve the people as of yore."—Honey Grove Signal.

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS
 Tells How to Loosen a Tender Corn or Callous So it Lifts Out Without Pain.

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callous the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or callous, root and all, lifts off with the fingers.

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callous without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will positively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus. If your druggist hasn't any freezone he can get it at any wholesale drug house for you.—Adv't.

 Kidney Troubles Attack Pecos Men and Women, Old and Young.
 Kidney ills seize young and old. Often come with little warning. Children suffer in their early years—Can't control the kidney secretions. Girls are languid, nervous, suffer pain. Women worry, can't do daily work. Men have lame and aching backs. If you have any form of kidney ills You must reach the cause—the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys—Have brought relief to Pecos people. Pecos testimony proves it. John F. Grogan, Oak St., Pecos, says: "A younger member of the family suffered for a long time with kidney weakness. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and often could not be controlled. There was also a lot of complaint from a weak and sore back. I had heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I got a box at the Pecos Drug Co. The first box seemed to help and continued use made a cure. There has not been any complaint for quite a long time, and I can sincerely advise anyone to get Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys." Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Grogan recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv't.

MISSISSIPPI FOSSIL PLANTS.
 A peculiar sandstone, which geologists have called the Catahoula sandstone, has been studied with care in Mississippi by the United States Geological Survey. Among the plants found were pines, ferns, leaves of date palms, tropical myrtles, figs, and a tree closely related to the present-day Mexican and Central American sapota, from which most of the material for chewing gum is obtained. These fossil plants show that at the time the sandstone was formed—perhaps five million years ago—the climate of this region was tropical, and bones of animals found by other geologists and the similarity of the sand composing the sandstone to certain tropical desert sands have a similar implication.

Maybe So, Sometime He'll Be A Governor.
 We've known attorney Jno. B. Howard, now of Pecos, some twenty years, we don't know how many. Always he has been an ardent champion of whomsoever and whatsoever was anti-prohibition. And so honest has he been in it that we've wondered, at times, why he has not risen high in state and national preferment by reason of such championship—especially so, since his side of the Texas democracy has known enough to hang together and has predominated in State affairs. But we never thought of a Jno. B. Jr. There is such a person, however. New? Oh, yes; on the 28th of last month he bloomed—to blush unseen? None whatever. The dad never blushed in his life and he is always seen in all scenes of activity—and heard. Now, as to the youngster, it is a little early to place him categorically, but it is safe to guess and guess ponderously—perhaps gubernatorially. Anyway, here is our congratulations—an hopin'—Midland Reporter.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING.
 Pecos People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.
 Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To cure the pain and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.
 Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Read Pecos testimony.
 H. A. Clifton, Sixth St., Pecos, says: "I have been troubled with my kidneys off and on for quite a long time. My back has always seemed to be the source of trouble. It has been weak and lame, and ached through the small of it. I have found it hard to do any bending or lifting and at times the kidney secretions have been too frequent in passage and highly colored. Every time I have been in this condition, a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Pecos Drug Co., have never failed to relieve me in a short time."
 Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Clifton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv't.

Draft Quotas Increased in State of Arizona.

Arizona's draft quotas, by counties, as reapportioned by order of the war department, are based on the number of citizens registered from selective draft in each county, instead of both citizens and aliens.

The quota of Apache county was increased from 42 to 55; Cochise from 664 to 674; Graham from 66 to 111; Maricopa from 38 to 598; Mohave from 81 to 111; Navajo from 77 to 99; Pima from 285 to 291; Yavapai from 397 to 423; and Yuma from 90 to 124.

The following quotas were reduced: Coconino from 59 to 54; Gila from 562 to 518; Greenlee from 344 to 161; Pinal from 310 to 155; Santa Cruz from 109 to 95.

Found Dead in Irrigation Field.

A. R. Von Egidy, a prosperous irrigation farmer, living a few miles north of Pecos on the river, was found dead in his field Wednesday night. He had been out irrigating his farm, and it is supposed he died from a sunstroke, and had probably been dead ten or twelve hours when his body was discovered.

His body was prepared by the undertaker for burial and shipped to Denver, Colorado, for interment.

Snap Shots.

Of course revenge is sweet, but it won't do for the dessert course in any well regulated home.

It has just gotten so in this country that if you ask a lame man what makes him limp he will tell you that one of his cylinders isn't firing.

Considering how many hundreds of things there are that are good for the complexion, is it not strange the way some women depend on paint alone.

Another good thing about being a successful moving picture actor is that one doesn't have to know how to read.

The reason why a poor young man who is going to marry a rich girl wants to keep the engagement secret is because Julius Caesar was a cigarette fiend.

Percy Noodles says that when he went to call on the capitalist's daughter last night he carried a big bouquet of roses and when her little brother let him in at the front door the kid yelled, "Come on down, sis—here's yer hot air merchant with the hothouse stuff."—Dallas News.

It was an unexpected, but a pleasant surprise to meet Mrs. John Irby of Barstow in Pecos Wednesday, and also her lovely and accomplished young daughter Mrs. Josie Wise, nee Louise Irby. We are sorry to hear that the Pecos country is going to lose the Irby family. They are people that are a credit to any section; kind, hospitable, generous and splendid all-round citizens. They are moving to Mercedes, in the vicinity of Brownsville in Southern Texas. The Enterprise bespeaks a warm and hospitable welcome for them in that community.

H. Levy, father of Tom Levy, came in Thursday morning from Alvarado, and will make Pecos his home in future. He is a pleasant gentleman, and The Enterprise extends to him a hearty welcome to our town. Mr. Levy will be connected with his son in the Elite Confectionery, which they propose to make second to none as a place for refreshments.

"SAVE THE WASTE AND WIN THE WAR."

Mrs. Lou Duncan and children and Miss Gladys Prewitt came in from the ranch the early part of the week. Mrs. Duncan came in to pay a visit to her new grandson, recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Duncan.

Mrs. Wm. Garlick returned Monday in company with Mrs. J. J. Pope of Toyah, from a six weeks visit to relatives in Virginia and North Carolina. They also visited Washington City while away, and report a most delightful trip.

H. B. Parker, foreman on the W. H. Browning, Jr., ranch lost his house by fire yesterday afternoon at about five o'clock. He and his family were away from the home in Pecos and the house and contents were destroyed by the fire.

Judge and Mrs. R. E. Erwin were in from their Mountain View Farm Wednesday. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Katherine, and Miss Jennie Rooney of Fort Stockton, who is visiting this most estimable family.

M. H. Schermerhorn was taken seriously ill Monday night, and has continued so since that time. Mr. Schermerhorn is one of the best men in town and has many friends over Reeves county who will regret to learn of his illness, and who also wish for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. Joe Hudgens has a large, fine looking Jersey cow that gives an enormous quantity of the richest kind of milk. Last week the stork visited this cow and brought her two of the sturdiest, liveliest, prettiest little gentleman calves The Enterprise man ever saw.

A fishing party consisting of Dr. Jim Camp, Jno. B. Howard, Hugh Roberson, Clay Cooke, and others, were on the Pecos River Tuesday night and report a catch of something over thirty pounds of fine catfish. They went out via auto and all report a most delightful trip.

Mrs. Thos. J. Yoe and children returned home last week from a two months visit to her friends and relatives in the eastern part of the state. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Yoe's sister, Miss Ada Meador of Buda, who will visit the family for some time.

Joe Brown, son of Mrs. Jno. B. Howard, returned Tuesday from a visit to relatives at Midland. On his return, Joe Brown found a fine young brother awaiting his coming in the person of Jno. B. Howard, Jr., which Joe Brown thinks is about the finest boy in town.

Miss Katherine Erwin, after attending the summer normal school here and visiting Miss Jennie Rooney, returned to her home at Saragosa last Thursday. She was accompanied by Miss Jennie, who will visit with her for a few weeks.—Ft. Stockton Pioneer.

Ben Lewis was in Pecos Monday from the Lake House ranch, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis who has been spending a lengthy visit at the ranch. Ben is one of the old time cowboys and is an expert in the management and handling of ranch cattle, and is always on the job, rain or shine.

Archie Armstrong, son of A. G. and Mrs. Armstrong, who is with the Katy Ry. Co., came over Tuesday and visited with his father until Thursday noon. Jack, as he is better known, has fifteen days vacation, and his mother returned to Crawford with him, so as to spend part of the time with Jack.

Roy Biggs, who came home a short time ago from the State University, went to El Paso the other day to enlist as a "sojer" boy, but was a bit too light for the requirements. He is game and will make it all right in the near future, as open air, a rest-up from hard study, will build him up wonderfully.

Long Distance Forecasting

H. A. Halbert of Coleman, Texas, is acquiring quite a deal of state celebrity as a long distance weather forecaster. His predictions have been published in the public press and the frequent verifications have attracted no small amount of notice and favorable comment. His prediction as to the date of the termination of the recent protracted drouth throughout West Texas, was verified almost to a day. July 19-22 was the time Halbert fixed for the commencement of rains. Halbert makes up his predictions for one year in December, when, he claims, "the greatest attractive forces are immediately over our section." Mr. Halbert claims that the impounding of water in the small streams of the state would do much to greatly induce rain by increasing the evaporation and formation of rain clouds.

Much fun will be poked at Mr. Halbert and many crude jokes made at the expense of his long distance prophecies. So there were at the predictions of Rev. Irl Hicks when he first began the weather forecasts. But at the time of his death, no man was held in higher esteem in scientific circles than Rev. Hicks. Neither he nor any other man or agency can foretell the amount of precipitation. The condition of rain is all that can be foretold. There are hundreds of factors and contrary conditions that may militate against the actual fall of rain. But unless one can foretell the exact amount (and that a good big one) the average man puts little confidence in any prediction of rain. "How much" is of far more importance than "if any." The average recipient of these blessings cares less for the ability of the prophet to foretell the fall of rain than for the actual amount that will fall.—Colorado Record.

He Knew His Worth.

The crops were heavy and the field hands were few. Silas Warren, who owned one of the largest farms in the county, tried to induce Ned Blodgett, the laziest man in the village, to help with the harvest.

"Wal, Si," said Ned laying down his whittling, "how much will ye pay me to work for ye?" "I pay every man what he is worth," answered Silas Warren.

Ned scratched his head meditatively. Then he picked up his whittling. "No, Si," he drawled. "I can't work that cheap."—Youth's Companion.

The Neighborly Spirit.

The neighborly spirit is a good thing to cultivate, altho not, perhaps, as it is cultivated in the following story:

"How do you like your new home?" a friend asked a man who had recently moved into the village.

"Pretty well."

"Have you called on your neighbors yet?"

"No," the newcomer admitted. "I haven't. But I'm going if any more of my wood is missing."—Youth's Companion

It All Depends

Tommy—May I sit up longer?

Ethel—What do you want to stay up for?

Tommy—I want to see you and Mr. Green playing cards.

Mr. Green.—But we are not going to play any cards.

Tommy—Oh, yes you are, for I heard mamma saying to Ethel that everything depended on the way she played her cards tonight.

In Love With the World.

"I have loved to feel the grass under my feet and the running streams by my side. The hum of the wind in the tree tops has always been music to me, and the face of the fields has often comforted me more than the faces of men. I am in love with this world because by my constitution I have nestled lovingly in it. It has been home; it has been my point of lookout into the universe. I have not bruised myself against it, nor tried to use it ignobly. I have tilled its soil and I have gathered its harvests. I have waited upon its seasons and always have I reaped what I have sown. And while I delved I did not lose sight of the sky overhead. While I gather meat and bread for my body, I did not neglect to gather its meat and bread for my soul. I have climbed its mountains, roamed its forests, felt the sting of its frosts, the oppressions of its heat, the drench of its rains, the fury of its winds and always have beauty and joy waited upon my goings and comings."—John Burroughs.

Children should be taught early the following small points of table manners:

Never use the knife to carry food to the mouth.

When through using knife and fork, lay them both diagonally across the plate with the handles toward the right hand.

Keep the mouth shut closely while chewing the food.

Chew food thoroughly but silently, and be careful to take small mouthfuls.

Do not clatter the knives or forks on plates.

Take soup from the side of the spoon, not from tip, and without any sound from the lips.

Napkins should be laid in the lap and not as a bib.

Exodus in Mitchell County

As an indication of the number of people who have left Mitchell county, the decrease in the school census is interesting. In the Shepherd community there were 69 scholars last term of the school, today there are not more than 5 or 6.—Colorado Record.

"SAVE THE WASTE AND WIN THE WAR."

Make Sawdust Bread.

There is said to be a bakery in Germany that turns out 20,000 loaves of sawdust bread a day, and finds a ready market for this output.

Although this "wooden bread" is intended for consumption by horses only, it is claimed by the manufacturers that in case of famine it would furnish a nutritious and highly satisfactory food for human beings.

The sawdust is first subjected to a process of fermentation and various chemical manipulations, and is mixed with one-third part of rye flour. It is then formed into loaves and baked in an oven like any other bread.—Popular Mechanics.

Of course it is all right to tell the truth and shame the devil, but probably the truth inconveniences him more than embarrasses him.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!
Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers
You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on an aching, tender corn or callus stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.
A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.
If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you at his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and will like a charm every time.—Advt.

How One Texas Farmer Beat The Dry Weather.

He lived on the black, waxy prairie land almost due north of Dallas in a county that bordered on Red River.
His corn crop failed completely, but he never gave up.
His wheat and stubble land was untouched.

On the 20th day of July he started his wheat drill over the stubble, putting in sorghum cane.
On the same day he put four mules to a lister and began to lay off the rows, following immediately with a planter, putting in milo maize.

After the maize was in, June corn was planted.
The work was finished in three or four days.
When he planted these the earth was dry and there wasn't a shadow of a chance for the seed to come up until the rain came.

Rain fell in about one week after the last seed was sown in the dry earth.
The cane, the milo maize, and the June corn made fine yields. Early frost nipped the corn just a bit, causing it to appear shrunken, but it weighed out 25 bushels to the acre.

Cane was cut with a wheat binder; maize with a row binder.
This farmer fattened ten head of hogs and fed twelve head over until next year's crop was made.

He ran a ten-mule force and fed the animals on these crops from the time of harvest until the next year's crop was made.
Moral: Never give up. One victory is a recompense for a thousand defeats.

The corn crop of Texas is nearly nothing this year. The large areas are burned up so far as corn is concerned. Every acre of corn land that has failed and every acre of stubble land should be planted to food and feed crops.

Take a chance! Remember that the world belongs to those who never quit.
Bankers and merchants everywhere should see to it that no farmer in their locality will fail to plant fall crops by reason of lack of funds to purchase seed. Secretaries of the chambers of commerce and executive officers of other business organizations should take steps to secure seed for their various localities.

We have all seen plenty of rain in July, August and September, following a dry winter and spring. Have seen it more than once. We may see it this year.

June corn, milo maize, Spanish peanuts and soy beans will make a crop in about 100 days. Other crops mature about as follows: Sudan grass, in 65 days; feterita, 75 days; New Era, or hay pea (blue speckled) 65 days; black eyed and whippoorwill peas, 75 days; butter beans, small variety, 75 days. These crops can be grown practically anywhere in Texas. Only a little rain on them is needed. Some of them have been grown when up a little later.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.—Advt.

Wast Not, Want Not.

Those who heeded the advice of the Department of Agriculture to plant gardens this year are now wondering how best to preserve their surplus fruits and vegetables. The specialists of the Department, who have tried out various methods for canning, preserving, drying, pickling, and making jam, have recently issued bulletins showing how the work may be done successfully. Anyone can have these publications for the asking, so ignorance of the proper procedure will not serve as a legitimate excuse for allowing any garden produce to spoil this year. The bulletin on canning also gives tried and tested recipes for making jams, fruit butters, marmalades, preserves and jellies of all kinds.

When canning is not feasible or cans and jars are too expensive, drying offers a means of saving large quantities of surplus products which go to waste each year. Drying also affords a way of conserving portions of food too small for canning. Drying may be done in the sun, over the kitchen fire or before an electric fan. Farmers Bulletin No. 841 tells just how to do this, using one of the driers now on the market or a homemade apparatus.

These bulletins are sent on request to the Division of Publications, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Send for some copies for yourself and tell your neighbors about them. Fruits and vegetables preserved in any of these ways will help you in planning your three meals a day next winter.

Pet Bears Numerous

There are more pet bears than usually are found in a section. This is always an interesting topic to outsiders, especially since the animals usually have been captured in their wild state.

Both Lee and Joe Kingston, near Balmorhea, have captive bears. Lee took three of four of them prisoners a few months ago in a single tree. Joe Mather, a Frenchman, employed at the Joe Kingston place, has taught the black bear three several tricks. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Shipman of Fort Davis, also have a pet bear.—Fort Davis Post.

Have You Studied Up on Conservation?

Questions of Vital Interest to West Texas.—Flood Water Control Big Item

An election will be held in Texas August 21 to decide whether the State Constitution will be so amended as to conserve our natural resources by reclamation, through flood control, irrigation, impounding waters, drainage, etc.

Under the present Constitution reclamation or improvement districts can be formed and bonds for such purposes voted, but the territory embraced cannot be for more than one county. And the administrative authority given to county officers is too limited to secure adequate results, even if this limited area would be sufficient.

The proposed amendment announces a policy that conservation and preservation of all natural resources, including flood control, irrigation, impounding waters, drainage, etc., can and should be done on a much broader basis. It provides a way for one or more counties to form a district, and for the property owners of such districts to vote bonds for these purposes, and authorizes the legislature to enact laws, that will make effective such means as aforesaid.

When bonds are voted in districts thus formed, it will place the burden in the proper proportion upon property owners, and will give such property owners a right to conserve their interests in any of the above ideas of conservation.

According to the State Reclamation Department, there are in the neighborhood of 35,000,000 acres of land in Texas that could be benefited by this general plan of conservation. This land is valued at present at something like ten dollars per acre, or a total of three hundred and fifty million dollars. If a general plan of conservation could be adopted, and this immense amount of area brought to its fullest utilization, this land would easily be worth one hundred dollars per acre, and the material addition of many millions of dollars given to the State of Texas both in land valuations and increased production annually.

In West Texas there is no special concern relative to the flood control, except for the general desire of the development of all of Texas.

But there is a serious concern in the matter of an adequate amount of rainfall and the conservation of the flood waters.

If the flood waters of winter could be impounded and a limited irrigation afforded, this alone would be worth millions of dollars to Texas.

According to every law of experience, the impounding of large bodies of water, effects climatic conditions, and would result in greater precipitation.

The adoption of this amendment would make this impounding of waters possible, from the fact that counties that form a district could vote bonds for storing flood waters, and from these sources limited irrigation could be given, and the consequent results of climatic conditions being thus affected would be realized.

With a dependable rainfall, West Texas would become the garden spot of the Lone Star State. The millions of acres of land in this empire would be more valuable, and the fondest hopes of the people of this section would be realized.

Why not permit an opportunity to reclaim the flooded lands of Texas?

Why not provide a way for the impounding of flood waters of Western Texas, thus affording a way for limited irrigation and a dependable rainfall in this section?

Why not join in the movement to make the State more rich and prosperous?

This is a day of conservation, and I desire to appeal to the people of West Texas to join in this movement because it is one of material conservation as well as constructive policy that will benefit all sections of the great State of Texas.

The date is August 21, and the cause is one of such paramount importance as to arrest the attention of all patriotic citizens of West Texas.

Your for a greater West Texas,
HOMER D. WADE.

While it is as much as a man's reputation is worth to make predictions concerning the weather it might be of interest in these trying times to know that the great astronomer Herschel, after a lifetime of actual observation held that: "The nearer the time of the moon's first change, first quarter, full and last quarter are to midnight, the fairer will be the weather during the next seven days." The nearer to midnight or noon the phases of the moon happens the more foul or wet the weather may be expected to be during the next seven days." According to the above the first change of the moon tending to bring rain will be the last quarter of the present moon, which occurs on the 9th of August, at 12:56 p. m., or about noon of that day. The other changes are August 3, full moon at 11:11 p. m., which, according to Herschel, is a dry change.—Carlsbad Current.

We have long wished to meet the man or woman wise enough to tell us where all the frogs come from so quickly after the rain. Though it may not have rained for a year, ten minutes after the water quits falling, the whole land is vocal with the rejoicing of frogs. Even if one has not been seen in months, every pool of water is fairly alive with them. Come across, ye wise men of the West and flood with light this obscure question of science.—Colorado Record.

She Objected to Change

Helen and Betty, five-year-old twins, were always dressed the same. One morning it was inconvenient for both to wear the same color stockings to kindergarten. After considerable teasing Helen cried:

"Why did you make us twins if you don't want to keep us twins?"

Notifications of Deaths of U. S. Soldiers in France.

The following memorandum approved by the Adjutant General of the Army, has been released for publication:

In case of death among officers or enlisted men of the Army, the Adjutant General's office will continue the present practice of sending individual notices to the next of kin immediately upon receipt of such notice.

The notice will generally consist of a brief notice giving the date, place, and cause of death.

The details attending the death will be given by the deceased's late organization commander.

All deaths among the troops of the Expeditionary Forces in France will be published in the Official Bulletin as soon as notice thereof has been received.

Under the law a deceased soldier's commanding officer has full jurisdiction in the matter of disposing of any personal effects that may have been in the possession of the soldier at the time of his death; and when the effects are not claimed by the legal representative within a reasonable time the proceeds of the sale are deposited in the United States Treasury subject to claim of the legal representative, and all such claims are settled by the Auditor for the War Department.

If it is desired to make claim for the personal effects an application for the same should be at once addressed to the commanding officer of the late soldier's company. This application should be accompanied by affidavits of the fact that claimant is the legal representative entitled to receive the effects of the deceased soldier.

The accounts of dead soldiers are settled by the Auditor for the War Department, at Washington, D. C., who is the official of the Treasury Department, charged by law with the settlement of claims of this character and to whom application should be made by the legal representative of the late soldier for settlement of his accounts. Any correspondence relative to the removal of the remains of the deceased soldier, for the place of burial, should be addressed to the Quartermaster General of the Army, Washington, D. C.

In cases of death among the troops in the United States the Commanding officer at the place of death communicates with the relatives of the deceased as to the disposal of the remains. In event, however, that burial has already taken place all correspondence relative to the removal of the remains of the deceased should be addressed to the Quartermaster General, United States Army, Washington, D. C.

Louisiana and Texas Furnish Most of Sulphur.

More than 98 per cent of the native sulphur now produced in the United States comes from the deposits in Louisiana and Texas, according to Phillip S. Smith, of the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, but deposits of sulphur that have been or might be productive occur in Wyoming, Colorado, Oregon and Alaska.

Louisiana and Texas apparently produce enough sulphur to supply even an extraordinary demand, for the combined output of these two States, although the production has not been vigorously pushed, has so greatly exceeded the amount sold that large stocks of sulphur have been accumulated.

"SAVE THE WASTE AND WIN THE WAR."

Army of Russian Women.

It is said that the movement for a creation of a great army of women is progressing thru Russia like wildfire, since the country heard of the heroic conduct of Miss Vera Butchmaroff's female battalion. Recruiting stations have already been opened at Petrograd, Moscow, Kiev, and other points at which barracks have been established and military instructors provided. It is also announced that arms and complete equipment has been issued by the government and that suitable uniforms for the women fighters will be immediately forthcoming.

It may be that the women of Russia will be its saviors, if not in actual combat in the long line of trenches, then by their example to the men, so many of whom have shown the white feather in the most critical time of the country's history. They may bring an actuality out of the shades of mythology and in fact put Amazons of real life and blood face to face with the Prussian cowards who have been fighting women and children who were unarmed, but who would in all probability indulge in a "strategic retreat" when they discovered their antagonists were armed and ready for battle.

There is a new hope in Russia and in the rest of the world with the women of the country taking up the cause of freedom. One "Command of Death" has given an example of heroism which will ring throughout time, and with other fearless women fighting with rifle and sabre for the liberty they so earnestly desire, the cause of Prussian autocracy will not long flourish within the land of the steppes. German spies may honeycomb the ranks of the cowardly men—those traitors of their country, their people and their cause, who have come under the spell of the monster, Nikolai Lenine—but they will find their occupation one when the Russian women march forth for civilization.

Russia has had her troubles, but the spirit of patriotism is fast consuming the people. While her enemies have succeeded for a little time in disrupting her plans, their day is about over and the end of the war will find that great nation with a record of accomplishment which will stand out in resplendent glory among the bright lights of the entente triumph.—El Paso Times.

Postage On Mail to American Soldiers in Europe.

On July 14, the following was issued from the office of the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Washington, D. C., and will be of benefit to those corresponding with members of the U. S. Expeditionary Forces in Europe:

In order to prevent delay in dispatch and secure prompt delivery of letters, post cards, and printed matter addressed to the United States Expeditionary Forces in Europe, to which the domestic rates of postage apply (See daily bulletin of June 27, 1917), it is important that the postage be fully prepaid. To this end the postmasters are requested to give the matter the widest possible publicity and advise patrons to hand in at the post office mail addressed to the Expeditionary Forces in order that it may be weighed, rated, and have the full amount of postage affixed before the sender leaves the office.

Unpaid letters from soldiers in the United States Expeditionary Forces in Europe addressed for delivery in the U. S. or its possessions are to be rated with postage due at the single rate only to be collected on delivery as prescribed by Section 406, P. L. and R.

United States Was Forced Into Present World War

"It is plain enough how we were forced into the war. The extraordinary insults and aggressions of the Imperial German Government left us no self-respecting choice but to take up arms in defense of our rights as a free people and of our honor as a sovereign government. The military masters of Germany denied us the right to be neutral. They filled our unsuspecting communities with vicious spies and conspirators and sought to corrupt the opinion of our people in their own behalf. * * *

"Much as we had desired peace, it was denied us and not of our own choice. This flag which we serve would be dishonored had we withheld our hand."—Woodrow Wilson.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warning That No Pecos Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are weak. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Disordered kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, and ill-smelling urine full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, suggest weak kidneys and in that case warn of the danger of dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by thousands. Here's Pecos' proof:

J. B. Davis, Fourth St., Pecos, says: "I had quite a bit of trouble with my kidneys. My back was weak and lame and ached. I had bladder trouble also, and the kidneys secretions were too frequent and burning in passage and highly colored. Doan's Kidney Pills did me a great deal of good, and when I have noticed any return of the trouble since, I have procured a box at the City Pharmacy. They have never failed to relieve me."

Price 60 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. DAVIS had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv't.

Opportunities for Older Men

Because of the war many of the positions formerly held by young men are open to older men. A man's kidneys may make him unfit for hard labor and clear thinking and make him old before his time, for poisons retained in the system "slow him up" physically and mentally. Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, disordered kidneys. For sale at Bozeman's Drug Store.—Adv't.

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prine, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child...I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time... I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. —about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble', so he got me 5 bottles...After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved...before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all of my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of m' vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have found relief from the same troubles. The good Cardui has done them, it should help you, too. Try it.
