No Covenanted Peace With Germany

REASONS WHY RECENT PEACE "FEELERS" FROM ENEMY RECEIVED NO RESPONSE IN ALLIED COUNTRIES

America, unless we repudiate civilization and abandon humanity and put a premium on savagery and brutality, can make no covenanted peace, no peace by agreement or negotiation with Germany. It would be a covenant with hell, a partnership with infamy.

Nor would such a peace secure peace, except so long as it suited Germany. We can judge the future only by the past, and to Germany sacred treaties are scraps of paper only. Germany's whole history is a record of national treachery, national bad faith, national dishonor, national murder, and national infamy.

Article 56 of The Hague Convention, to which Germany solemnly subscribed, is: "Family honor and rights, the lives of persons and private property, as well as religious convictions and practice, must be respected. Private property cannot be confiscated."

The world knows how Germany has observed this Article. There are millions of individual witnesses to her flagrant breaches of it. Every acre of foreign soil Germany has occupied bears mute, but unimpeachable evidence of it. There is plenty of German evidence of it, too.

The goods of different sorts that were seized in the enemies' territories are in such large quantities that the difficulty of knowing where to put them increases day by day. At the request of the Prussian Minister of War, all chambers of commerce have been asked to give all possible information with regard to "storehouses, sheds, etc., which could be used temporarily to store the spoil." (From the Frankfurter Zeitung, of January, 1918.)

The German papers have been crowded with advertisements of the sale of property taken from France and Belgium. Members of the German Reichstag have boasted of, others have censured, the amount of booty brought to Germany from the occupied territory, and the destruction has been far greater than the confiscation.

Of the old men and children murdered, of the women and girls ravished, of the non-combatants taken from their homes and deported to work for their conquerors, of the merchant ships sunk and the passengers and crews murdered, of the hospital ships sunk, the hospitals and unfortified cities bombed, of the mutilation and murder by crucifixion and otherwise—of all this beastliness there is plenty of evidence, evidence that no one can disbelieve.

The best answer to the German peace propaganda is the sinking of more U-boats, sending more men to France, speeding up our work along every line, and a heavy subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Peace must mean the triumph of right and justice, the defeat of Germanism, not a truce with it, not a compromise with it.

Our soldiers in France are gloriously doing their part toward victory; the Liberty Loan subscription must show them that the people at home are doing theirs.

INSTALLING COTTON GIN IN THE TOYAH VALLEY

A cotton gin, to take care of the Toyah Valley's crop, is being erected at Saragosa by a stock company of business men in that section.

The company capital stock is $3000 dollars, divided into 60 shares which are being sold at $50 a share, all of which has been practically subscribed to, and work has already started. It is the company's intention to have everything ready in time to handle this year's cotton crop.

The directors of the company are S. T. Hobbs of Saragosa, T. M. Delaney, of Balmorhea, and R. P. Verhalen, of Verhalen.

Exciting Chase for Deserter Ends Here

IS CAPTURED AT BALMORHEA AND LODGED IN PECOS JAIL MILITARY PURSUERS ONLY FEW HOURS BEHIND

On Tuesday of this week the citizens of Pecos were aroused and excitement ran high when three autos loaded with soldiers drove into town. These gentlemen, led by Capt. R. G. Taylor of the Quartermaster's Department, with Lieuts. Coalson and Weeks, had just ended a very exciting chase for the capture of a deserter by the name of Cobb, who had escaped from the hospital at Marfa Monday.

Cobb, it appears, is a private and at the time of his escape had a sentence hanging over his head for peddling opiates—he being a "fiend", was apparently full of dope at the time.

In making his get-away he secured a pistol and the very best car he could find, a Saxon belonging to a private citizen, and before leaving he and the guards exchanged several shots. He is said to be a very "bad map from Bitter Creek" and the officers in pursuit expected to return with him in a sack, for he had said he would never be captured. Cobb started down Limpia Canyon and officers were notified to look out for the man.

Deputy sheriff Bob Wigley was notified by Sheriff Harrison and in less than thirty minutes the fugitive showed up at Balmorhea. Wigley called on Will Moore for assistance and while the man was out of the car fixing a flat tire they leveled their guns on him and ordered "hands up!" The request was complied with and he was immediately brought to Pecos and landed in jail.

A half hour later the soldiers appeared and came on to Pecos where they secured their man and started on their return after satisfying the inner man at the Moorhead restaurant.

COMMUNITY SING-SONG FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

Announcement was made last Sabbath at the different churches that a "Community Singing" would take place at the fountain Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. "The songs of our soldiers" and other patriotic songs will be sung and everybody is invited to be present and participate.

This singing, The Enterprise understands, will be continued each Saturday evening. The Enterprise is not informed as to whom the blams is attached for this song service, but wishes to say that it approves the spirit which prompted it.

PLANS FOR LOANING FEDERAL FUNDS ON CATTLE

Plans for the War Finance Corporation to loan money direct to cattlemen to meet the problem of preserving the stocker or breeder herds of cattle in Texas, has been announced by the United States Cattle Loan Agency. A. C. Williams of Fort Worth, assistant secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, was appointed secretary of the Loan Agency at a meeting of the directors at Dallas Tuesday. The Loan Agency is part of the War Finance Corporation.

Much of Williams' time will be spent at Dallas where his office as secretary of the Agency will be located, though he will be in Fort Worth in the afternoons and nights. He is to continue as secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association.

Loans will be made upon proper application where such loans cannot be obtained through the regular channels, and when the application shows the proper facilities, possession of, or ability to secure the necessary feed and range. The financial statement of the applicant must accompany his application for a loan.

All applications for loans must be finally approved by the War Finance Corporation. Property offered as security will be examined and inspected by a regularly selected appraiser whom the corporation will name.

Cattlemen are urged to make no application for a loan less than $2,500, but to make every effort to secure this size loan, or smaller through the regular channels.—Star-Telegram.

The Man Who is Raising Our Big Army

HAS NO OTHER INTEREST BUT TO WIN THE WAR—THE BEST LEGAL TALENT OF COUNTRY ARE HIS AIDES

The American public know Enoch Herbert Crowder mainly as the man who reached into the homes of the United States for material to build up the great American Army that has been pouring into France to the fighting lines. That he did it in a masterly manner and in record time stamped him as a shining example of efficiency, and as efficiency is usually regarded as a mechanical rather than a human attribute, these same people were a good deal surprised when Provost Marshal-General and Judge Advocate-General E. H. Crowder declined the Congressional offer to advance him from the rank of Major-General to Lieutenant-General, thus not only showing a very human but unusual sense of modesty and justice.

Personally, General Crowder is a gray, silent man who looks at one gravely through glasses that set upon a determined nose above a determined mouth. Here is an estimate of the General by a writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, who interviewed him in his office in Washington:

"I found General Crowder smoking a black cigar—the stump of another half-smoked cigar on the blotter on his desk—in his rather severe yet cheery room in the old Land Office Building at Seventh and E Streets. Except for the half-smoked cigar and two packets of little red tags the desk was as clear as the deck of a ship stripped for action.

"Those little red tags are General Crowder's ammunition. They carry just one printed word. That word is 'Expedite'. A good sized whisk-broom was the only article decorating the clothes-rack behind the General's desk. A huge bunch of pond lilies—whether the General's or the General's secretary's I do not know—ornamented a window ledge.

"No," General Crowder replied to a Senator who had commented that his office was not as commodious as other army officials', "But it is better than a tent, and I would have been glad to administer this law in a tent."

"Efficiency, sir, does not depend upon luxurious surroundings."

"He believes in efficiency, too, as he believes in America."

"The reason Germany wins battles is brain-power, not man power. The war will be won through a judicious expenditure of brain power rather than a stupendous expenditure of man power."

Just at present the only thing that interests General Crowder is winning the war. He gives little or no thought to anything else. He does

Moving Cattle From the Drouth Regions

STEPS BEING TAKEN TO PREVENT LOSS OF BREEDING—ALSO WILL HELP TO STOCK SECTIONS HAVING FEED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—To prevent hundreds of thousands of beef-breeding cattle from being slaughtered and removed from the country's sources of meat, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has begun work, of the same nature as that carried out last year, to aid in the removal of breeding stock from the drought regions of Texas to good grazing grounds in the Southeastern States, the corn belt, and other sections.

An agent at the Fort Worth, Texas, cattle market locates and grades good breeding cows and heifers being offered for sale in that territory. He notifies beef-cattle specialists in the states where feed is abundant, and farmers who want to buy beef-breeding stock are told by county agents of the opportunities for purchase. A 75 per cent freight rate for such cattle has been announced from Texas to points east of the Mississippi River.

Additional details given out by the Department regarding the removal of cattle from drought sections are as follows:

It is estimated that from 150,000 to 200,000 head of beef-breeding cattle were removed from Texas last year through the efforts of the Department of Agriculture, and that at least as many more, of which the department has no record, were taken to good grazing lands in other states. This movement is expected to be an important factor in building up the beef-cattle industry in the Southern states.

Arrangements have been made in a number of states whereby the administration of live stock sanitary regulations will not impede movements more than necessary.

The demand for the range-bred cattle became so great last year in the Southeastern states that a number of the beef-cattle specialists were sent to Fort Worth to handle direct the orders from their states. In many instances whole train loads, made up of small purchases, were shipped cooperatively.

ALFALFA HAY, SEED AND STOCK SHIPMENTS MADE

During the past week there has been two cars of alfalfa and two of alfalfa seed shipped from the Toyah Valley.

Wednesday a carload of yearlings and calves passed through Pecos via the T. & P. and Santa Fe for Carlsbad. They were Hereford bulls and were as fine a bunch as has been seen for many a day. They were purchased at Midland.

Thursday Sid Kyle left with a carload of horses, shipped from his ranch in Loving county, to Bryan.

OLD-TIME RESIDENTS MOVE TO CARLSBAD THIS WEEK

It is always rather sad to see old landmarks removed, but doubly so in the case of the removal of a family who have spent the best part of their lives in the town, helping to make it bigger and better.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilson have spent more than twenty-five years in Pecos and watched it grow from a mere crossroads to one of the very prettiest and best towns in West Texas. They not only watched the town grow, but helped to make it grow, and have so lived that they will be missed in many ways from Pecos.

Owing to the consolidation of the stations here Mr. Wilson was removed to Carlsbad, and he and his wife left Monday for that place. "Cap" Wilson needs no recommendation to those people for most of them know him already and will be as glad to welcome this good family into their fellowship as Pecos is sorry it was necessary for them to leave here.

OUR CANTALOUPE GET BETTER YEAR BY YEAR

The quality of the Pecos cantaloupes are famous, not only in Texas but in the markets of the far North where a ready sale is found for them at an advance in price even over the celebrated Rocky Ford variety. The only regret at present is that the acreage is woefully reduced, and if The Enterprise is correctly informed but three of our farmers are producing cantaloupes in quantities sufficient to make daily shipments.

Since the inception of the cantaloupe in Reeves county, this luscious melon has been featured on the menu cards of the T. & P. diners. That they have lost none of the flavor that have made them famous was proven yesterday when R. D. Stubblefield, manager of the dining-car from Fort Worth to El Paso, in conversation with an Enterprise man, asked how much longer the cantaloupe season would last. He also stated that they seemed to get better each year.

Mr. Stubblefield is a half-brother to our county attorney, J. A. Drane, who met him this afternoon, on his return trip.

PREACHES FAREWELL SERMON HERE LAST SUNDAY

Rev. S. E. Allison, presiding elder of this district of the M. E. Church, South, held his last quarterly conference for this year with the Pecos church Saturday night. On Sunday morning he preached a fine sermon and administered the sacrament.

This is Rev. Allison's fourth year as presiding elder and according to the rules of the Methodist church he will be retired this year from that position and given a charge.

In Pecos Bro. Allison has many friends who are sorry he cannot continue his work here as presiding elder. He has been a faithful worker, is a conscientious Christian and is courteous and obliging to all. May his work in the future be pleasant and in desirable fields.

Our Weekly Letter From Camp Travis

KNOWLEDGE OF ARITHMETIC, HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY IS ESSENTIAL TO THOSE DESIRING TO BE OFFICERS

Men about to leave their homes for Camp Travis who have any desire to become officers can increase their chances very materially by a few days review of some of the subjects they have studied in the grammar and high schools.

The questions are not such that would necessitate a thorough knowledge of any of the subjects, for the officers in charge of the examination are well aware of the fact that a great many of the men entering the camps have been out of school for some years and it would take months of review to thoroughly grasp these subjects.

Then the history of that country, its former rulers and warriors of prominence, such as Napoleon, or the Duke of Wellington. The former great battles of history that have been fought, many in the same identical spots over which our own men are fighting today are valuable to remember.

The arithmetic problems are of the simplest, but a knowledge of conversion tables from gallons to pecks, and ounces to pounds, and bushels to quarts is invaluable to all at all times.

Those entering training camps have the prospect, if they remain, of being made officers in the army of the United States in four or five months' time. Those whose ambitions may be to become officers can do nothing better than to brush up on some of these formerly despised and forgotten subjects and grasp the opportunity and the timely tip offered.

other fellow to get a commission. So the men who are soon to enter the training camps, especially Camp Travis, can take time by the forelock and prepare themselves. They can do more. They can pat themselves on the shoulders and congratulate themselves upon the opportunity Uncle Sam is giving them to become officers.

Hundreds of men have gone to training camps and returned as officers. Hundreds of others will go. You may be one of them if you prepare yourself.

WAR WORK TO BE UNITED AND FUNDS DISTRIBUTED

The latest decision from Washington combines all seven of the officially recognized war work societies in a united campaign for funds necessary to carry on their work for the coming year.

These recognized organizations are the Young Men's Christian Association, Young Woman's Christian Association, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, and the Jewish Welfare Board. The first four of these according to previous plans, had been combined in a campaign to be started in November, and the last three in January.

Y. M. C. A., $100,000,000; Y. W. C. A., $15,000,000; Catholic War Council (Knights of Columbus), $30,000,000; Jewish Welfare Board, $3,500,000; American Library Association, $3,500,000; War Camp Community Service, $15,000,000; Salvation Army, $3,500,000.

In announcing the plan, President Wilson declared that it was evident that services rendered by these agencies are essentially, one and all, of a kind that must be rendered in the closest cooperation.

Though this plan presents some problems in organizations of the campaign forces, it is realized by the leaders as a necessary co-ordination under war conditions.

Let your idle books help our soldiers—You can do your bit. Pay the President.

LEMONS BEAUTIFY AND WHITEN THE SKIN.

Make This Beauty Lotion Very Cheaply For Your Face, Arms and Hands

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice thru a fine cloth so that no pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen red, rough hands.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is Quicksilver and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver. Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

TO ARMS, CITIZENS!

The immortal words of the French battle cry of freedom ring out again today to the American nation.

We are called upon to take up arms and fight to the death - if need be - for freedom, Justice and Those Things that make life worth living.

In this profound crisis is the test of citizenship.

The highest form of duty is to fight with our armed forces - to have enough to eat, enough to wear, a few dollars in your pocket, and to devote the balance of your earning power - your life if need be - as an offering to your country.

The next best form of duty is to stay at home and produce - allowing yourself enough money to purchase the bare necessities of life and to conduct business, essential to the war, and to devote the balance of your earning power to your country in the form of subscriptions to Liberty Loans.

One or the other duty you must assume.

If you can bear arms you will do so.

If you are unable to bear arms you will supply the money and material for those who can - you will enable them to bear your arms for you.

TO ARMS, CITIZENS!

This paper has enlisted with the government in the cause of America for the period of the war.....

If Hindenburg dies often enough it will finally get him.—Detroit News.

The German army is homesick; that explains the route they are now taking.

"Binging on the Rhine" is nearing reality, and its the Huns that'll get binged.

Are you ready for the Fourth Liberty Loan? Remember that idle dollars are pro-Germans.

The peace-notes of the Germans are sufficient proof of their boorishness. The terse reply of the Allies spells business with a capital "B".

The new Hun helmet is especially designed to protect the neck. How wise! That is just where Germany is going to get it.—London Opinion.

For the benefit of its readers, who all these months have been groping in darkness, The Enterprise will now interpret the word "Kamerad". It means "calf rope."

The assassination of the former Czar aroused only languid interest in the Allied countries, but that is not saying that a good, discriminating assassin operating in Russia couldn't get a big hand from the Allied public.—Syracuse Herald.

Every disaster that befalls the Germans is explained away by the imperial staff. The recent retreat all along the line can easily be covered up by telling the soldiers that Hindenburg decided that the best route to Paris was by way of Asia, across the Pacific Ocean, through the United States, across the Atlantic, and, there you are! Funny, these gateways were left unprotected.

The disclosures in Russia, proving that the Bolshevik leaders enslaved that people for German gold, is just one more reason if any more were needed, why traitors in this country should be summarily dealt with. The conviction and sentencing of Eugene V. Debs, arch leader of the disloyalists in America will go far toward silencing others of like ilk, whose courage was kept alive simply by a too lenient policy.

Have you lived near or known a friend for many years? You were well acquainted, intimately, say, referring to him as "A. J." or "T. E.", etc. But did you ever know just what the initials stood for? To see how far you missed the mark just glance over the list of names in this issue of The Enterprise; you will not only become acquainted with the patriots who, if need be, will answer our country's call, but it will afford an interesting and amusing study in names, Christian and otherwise.

Readers of The Enterprise are requested to watch closely the dates printed opposite your names on each paper or wrapper. These dates indicate when your time is up. The editor, heretofore, has been to considerable expense mailing statements to subscribers whose time expired, and in many cases the expense was a total loss. In future the policy will be to stop the paper when the time is up, and this without notification. The dates on each paper are plain and it is easier for the reader to keep track of one date than for this editor to review and revise the several hundred on the list. The United States Government in its set of rules laid down for newspapers states that all subscriptions must be advance. The Enterprise has enlisted with the government for the period of the war, and though many times the wisdom of some orders are not clear to the editor, he takes it for granted that Uncle Sam knows what is best, will follow the course outlined—blindly if he must. All country papers are reaching the $2 per year mark these days, but The Enterprise, by strict compliance with the government's plans for economy of material, will not raise the price until absolutely forced to do so. However, the paid-in-advance policy will be enforced without favor. Your cooperation is earnestly invited.

MEXICANS RALLYING TO AID OF RED CROSS FUND

Mrs. W. H. Drummond, who is engineering the Red Cross work among our Mexican population, is succeeding most admirably and has raised, first and last, a considerable sum of money for this very worthy cause. The dances gotten up by her for this purpose have proven a winner and have not only been the direct cause of raising a good sum of money, but have furnished recreation and amusement for those people.

Mrs. Drummond authorizes The Enterprise to state that another of the series of these dances promulgated by her will take place on the night of the 28th, and on this occasion, at the request of many of our American citizens, there will be eats in plenty and the invitation is extended to all to attend. On this occasion, according to Mrs. Drummond, they will have enchiladas, chili, sandwiches, hot coffee, etc., and that it will be as fine as any of our citizens ever had the pleasure of eating. She is an expert cook and will personally look after the cooking and serving of these dishes. They will look for a good crowd of our citizens to turn out on this occasion.

The Lost Cord (Wood)

The great big meat grinder used in the kitchens of our army are dubbed the "organ" and it falls to the lot of one of the doughboys detailed for kitchen police duty to twist the crank attached, and contribute his brown to grinding whatever material goes into the hash. The following is from the diary of a Kitchen Police:

Seated one day at the "organ", I was weary and ill at ease, I was grinding up hash for supper With the "organ" between my knecs.

I do not know what I was grinding Or of what I was dreaming then, But I struck what seemed to be the remains Of a lately lamented hen.

"Great Heavens!" I cried, "'Tis a chicken," With my hand on my fevered head.

"We ordered the leg of a steer for hash And they sent us a Leghorn instead."

Alas for the dear old "organ," They broke it apart with a jick, The mess sergeant stood with a tear in his eye, As they hauled out a piece of stick.

"Found at last!" and he clasped to his bosom The lost cord of maple and ash.

"Some son of a gun put the camp on the bum When he put all my wood in the hash.

EARL WILSON LOSES RIGHT LEG FROM SHELL WOUND

Mrs. A. J. Wilson, son of Mrs. A. J. Wilson, and husband of Mrs. Earl Wilson, (nee Miss Alma Morrison), both of whom reside here, has been in France for some time, but is now on his way home, having been honorably discharged for disability.

In a letter to the folks last week Earl stated that the machine corps to which he belonged had seen some of the hottest fighting during the July offensive, and during the engagements he received no less than eight wounds. The most serious of these wounds was from a big shell which burst near him, tearing away the calf of his right leg, and which necessitated amputation. The wound, however, would not heal and complications set in which forced a second amputation six inches below the thigh.

Earl is well known to Pecos people, having resided in Pecos for several years, moving from here to El Paso. In that city he attempted to enlist in the Navy but was disqualified physically. He then went to Douglas, Ariz., with a draft contingent and, having waived exemption as a married man, was accepted.

Another son of Mrs. Wilson, Ollin J. Wilson, is "over there."

Mrs. Wilson stated to The Enterprise that Earl was wounded July 25th, but that she had no notification until she received the letter from him, in which he stated that he was getting along nicely and would soon be home. She stated, also, that he would probably come to Pecos.

W. S. S. NOTES

A reproduction of the Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island, N. Y., has been erected at El Paso by the War Savings Committee of that city. It serves a double purpose of a war savings stamp bank and a reminder to El Pasoans that they must hurry up and pay their stamp pledges. The statue which cost $10,000, was built out of material donated by El Pasoans, while all of the construction work was done without cost. The statue is one of the show places of the city.

Dallas is at work on the securing of a large war savings bank and eight small ones.

Harris county leads the State in the number of War Savings Societies. It has 744.

Cotton farmers of Texas are being urged to pay their war savings pledges out of the money received from their first cotton sales.

Maverick county, in the Big Bend country, is still leading the State with a per capita war savings stamp investment of $25.55.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 50c per bottle.

not play golf or tennis. As he is a cavalry officer he naturally likes to "feel" a horse under him, and he rides an hour in the daytime for exercise. Recently he phoned one of his aides on important business and that official was playing golf; right then General Crowder made some pointed remarks about golf and pink teas in relation to winning the war.

The General never acts on exemptions, leaving that phase of the matter within the jurisdiction of the local boards. Recently a woman called and pleaded with him for the exemption of her son.

"Madam," he said after listening patiently to her plea, "has it occurred to you that some mother working over a wash-tub must give her boy to fill your boy's place if I were to grant what you ask?" The woman left ashamed.

Another, on the same errand, he asked: "Do you love your son?" "Why, yes, of course!"

"Do you realize that you are about to do him a great injustice if you insist on his exemption? Madam, the present war is the young man's university, and every man who does not matriculate for the course will find himself suffering throughout the decades to follow."

The General's negro chauffeur recently was drafted. When General Crowder learned that the boy was accepted and ordered to entrain for camp the General summoned him before him.

"Now, damn you," he advised him, "go and make a good soldier. Don't lie; don't steal; obey orders given you by your superior officers. I don't ever want to hear of you having gone to the guard-house for any offense."

Crowder's man-power organization is a tremendous affair. On one day recently he had more than 100,000 men en route to training camps. All the Pullman cars in the world could not accommodate that number. Every one of them however, reported for duty without hitch or halt in their transition from civilian to military life.

Crowder seldom wastes words. He loves the English language too well. It's one hobby is his use of good English. It is open talk, however, that there are times when he uses expressions—not in vogue among clergymen—which charm all admirers of color and vigor in language.

Unfortunately for the General, there is one other man in Washington who is an authority on words and phrases. A good story is told—true or untrue, it does not matter—about a paper that Crowder prepared on the draft for Woodrow Wilson. The General gave great care to the phrasing of the article and sent it to the White House with the feeling that it pleased him. When that paper came back it had all the ear-marks of a cub reporter's first effort liberally blue-penciled by an exacting editor. The President's English and Crowder's English just didn't jibe. The former president of Princeton had flunked the Provost-General. No doubt about it.

It is characteristic of General Crowder that he did not hide that blue-penciled article under a heap of questionnaires. He flaunted his shame to all callers, and he chuckled appreciatively over his mauling.—Literary Digest.

LIKE AN ELECTRIC BUTTON ON THE TOES

Tells Why a Corn is So Painful and Says Cutting Makes Them Grow

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which make them grow, just step into an drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly to a tender aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right cut, root and all, without pain. This drug freezone is harmless and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

The U. S. Army Engineers

BY B. F. CAMP

Dedicated to the Officers and Men of the 109th Engineers, U. S. Army Part of the 34th Division, Camp Cody, New Mexico

You belong to the U. S. Army, the corps of the Engineer, You're only a part of the war machine, but someone holds you dear; Many a mother's heart may ache and many a girl shed tears, But Uncle Sam will take off his hat, to you men of the Engineers.

You came from the states of the middle west, where people are civilized, Where the big corn crops, and cattle and hogs, are raised and duly prized. From Canada to Mexico, the people shall know your worth, For you b'long to the army of Uncle Sam, the best on the face of the earth.

You're camping here on the desert now, here 'neath the Southern skies, And you'll do your best with the other men, for the job is just your size. You'll build 'em a bridge when the order comes and also a railroad line, The track on the wastes of No-Man's Land, the bridge o'er the German Rhine.

When you build 'em a road through No-Man's Land, you'll build 'em a road to stay, You'll use American methods and you'll work in the modern way; You'll take your own equipment and build them a road to Krupp, And when you finish the bloomin' road, you never will pull it up.

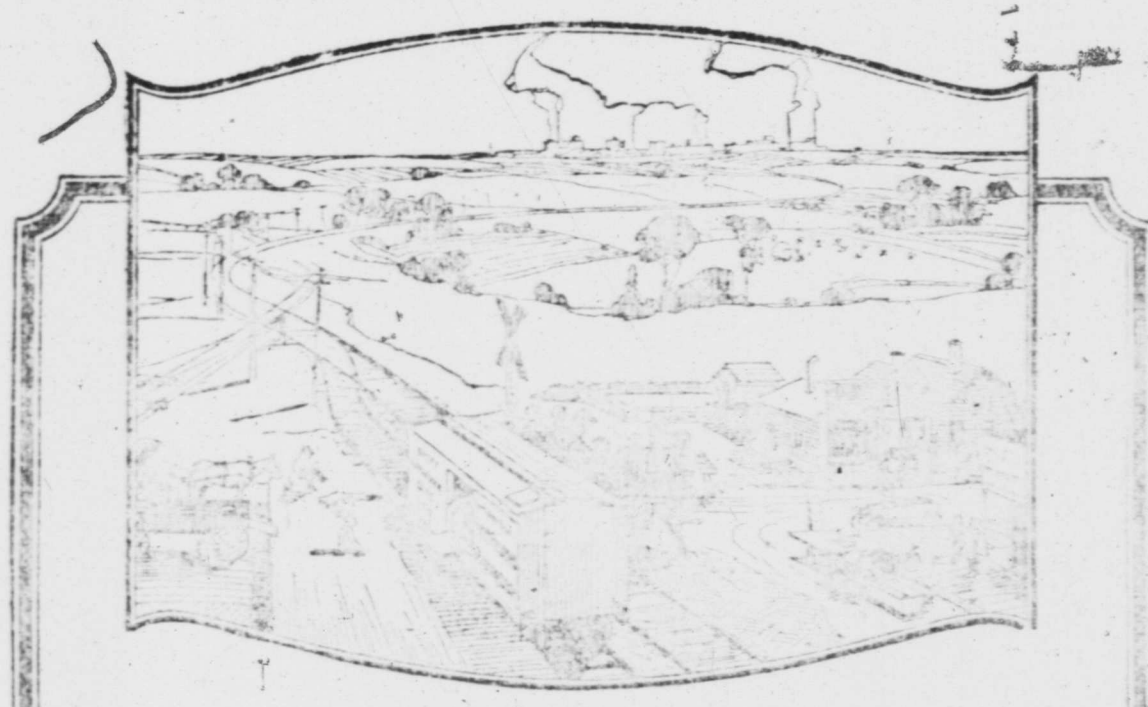

You mayn't know much about the drill the infantry must go through, Nor you ain't so wise to the six-inch guns, or what the Gatts will do, But you'll make the Kaiser clear the track and then you'll shoot her through So our soldiers can cross the German Rhine, with the old Red, White and Blue.

You'll draw 'em a map of the Flanders mud and build 'em a solid road, That will carry a million marching men and many a groaning load; You'll span the craters of big shell holes, with trestle or rocky fill, While the big shells burst in the air overhead and the slugs of the shrapnel kill.

You'll work through the night when the rockets glare and the sound of battle is high, When the bombardiers are doing their work and the flyers are in the sky; When the big guns roar and shake the ground and the bayonet is doing its work, You men of the 109th Engineers will never falter or shirk.

So here's to you men of the Engineers, a husky and fighting lot, Who are going to lick old Kaiser Bill, the man of Me and Gott; From the cords on your hats to the soles of your shoes I know that you all are men, A rip-roaring bunch of good fellows, may God bless you all, Amen.

The above was composed to honor the men of the Engineer Corps, who recently were stationed at Camp Cody, but now en route "over there" to "make good" the sentiment therein expressed—and they'll do it, too. Several from Pecos belong to the Corps.—Editor.

NOT A BOMB-PROOF JOB
 The Army Y. M. C. A. often has the job of getting food through to the soldiers when the regular supply trains are unable to cope with conditions. During the big push on the Chateau Thierry front supplies were distributed by the Red Triangle to men who had practically no rations for two days. The trucks on which supplies were transported were under fire constantly for several nights and some of them were hit by shell fragments and shrapnel but the drivers went on. Under the unusual conditions of this attack, tons of supplies were given away without any charge whatever. No soldier is ever refused what he needs because he happens to be short of funds.

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal.
 "What will get rid of my corn?" The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on, that's absolutely certain, that makes any corn on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Corn-Pain Is Eased—the Corn Is Doomed!

Country's Paper Supply Must be Conserved

SAVING MUST BE MADE BY INDUSTRY AS WHOLE—RULES LAID DOWN FOR EDITORS OF COUNTRY PAPERS

The Priority Board of the War Industries Board has placed paper mills on the priority list for coal, which in substance, classes them in the category of essential industries. This action is with the distinct understanding that paper be conserved to such an extent that by November 1, 1918, a saving of 15 per cent over last year be shown. This responsibility is shared by the owners of newspapers, who must now sign a pledge card stating that he will exercise economy in the use of paper. Those not signing such pledge will receive no paper. In connection with the conservation plan a rigid set of rules are laid down for publishers among which are the following, which The Enterprise wishes its readers will note and lend their cooperation as far as possible.

No. 2. No publisher may continue subscriptions after three months after date of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for.

No. 6. No publisher shall print extra copies for stimulating advertising or subscriptions, or for any other use other than specified in the regulations, except not to exceed 1 per cent of his circulation with a minimum of 10 copies.

No. 8. No publisher shall sell his publication at an exceedingly low or nominal subscription price.

No. 9. No publisher shall sell his publication to anyone below the published subscription price.

No. 12 clearly forbids publishers to issue holiday, industrial or other special editions.

No new papers may be started during the period of the war excepting in cases where the arrangements were made and plants purchased prior to the issuance of the order or unless it can be shown that a new newspaper is a necessity.

These are but part of the rules with which newspaper publishers must comply and sworn statements will be required from each publisher on November 1, as to how many of these rules have been put into effect by him, and what result in the matter of reducing paper consumption have been obtained.

Doings at Saragosa

Wm. Ikens came in from Weatherford Saturday on a business trip.

John Bosh has moved his family from the ranch so that the children can attend school conveniently. They are occupying the Wm. Ikens residence.

A. B. Boyd, who has been here for the past several months visiting his daughter, Mrs. H. Crenshaw and family, left yesterday for a visit in San Antonio.

H. A. Beasley and wife left Saturday for points in New Mexico and Arizona, and will later go to Iowa. Mr. Beasley recently sold his farm at this place to E. A. Humphries.

The Saragosa-Balmorhea chapter of the Red Cross will give a box-supper at the old Saragosa school building next Saturday night, September 21st. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

A cotton gin for Saragosa is practically assured. A stock company has been organized with a capital stock of $3000.00 divided into 60 shares of $50 each. Only a small amount of stock remains unsold to date but buyers for this are in view. Part of the lumber has arrived and work will commence immediately on the plant. The gin will be located on the siding near the depot. Machinery has been ordered and is expected within the next few days and will be installed on arrival, so that everything will be in shape to take care of this year's cotton crop. S. T. Hobbs, Saragosa, M. T. Delaney, Balmorhea, and R. P. Verhalen, Verhalen, are the directors of the company.

ANOTHER USE TO WHICH THE FLIVVER IS PUT

Not long ago when a Boche airplane dropped bombs indiscriminately without due regard to the life and property of Americans, the space beneath a camionette or little automobile served as a shelter for five persons, three men and two young women. TOYAH, TEXAS—HOME OF BROTHERHOOD

I have rambled about the world to the extent of about one hundred and fifty thousand miles. I have been in every state in the Union, and traveled quite extensively in Mexico, Canada, and Alaska, as well as the West Indies, and some of our island possessions in the seas. In all my travels, I am proud to say I never met a more brotherly class of loyal-hearted good fellows than I met in Toyah, Texas. During my stay there—some three months—while writing my book "The Brotherhood Book". When I came to Toyah I had been ill; when I was ill they ministered unto me; when I was in need they assisted me; when my book was completed they subscribed for a copy, saying: "Red, if you need any further assistance, you know where we all live; we will sure help you." In return for all these kinds deeds allow me to say, as Jesus, my Savior, once said, in part: "When I was dry, you gave me to drink; when I was hungry, you gave me meat. Even as you have done unto the least of them, so you have done unto me." Friends, if you will accept the blessing of a broken life, if you will accept the benediction of a body that pain has deformed, if you will accept the love of a poet's heart, you already have my thanks for your kindness to me, a poor cripple.

Thank you all; God bless you all. Remember, I will speak your name in praise around the world—both by tongue and press.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW

In normal times the fall demand for money is just getting into full swing on Sept. 1, but this year the seasonal requirements have come earlier, as a result of the early movement of the great wheat crop and the general inclination to be forehanded in replenishing stocks.

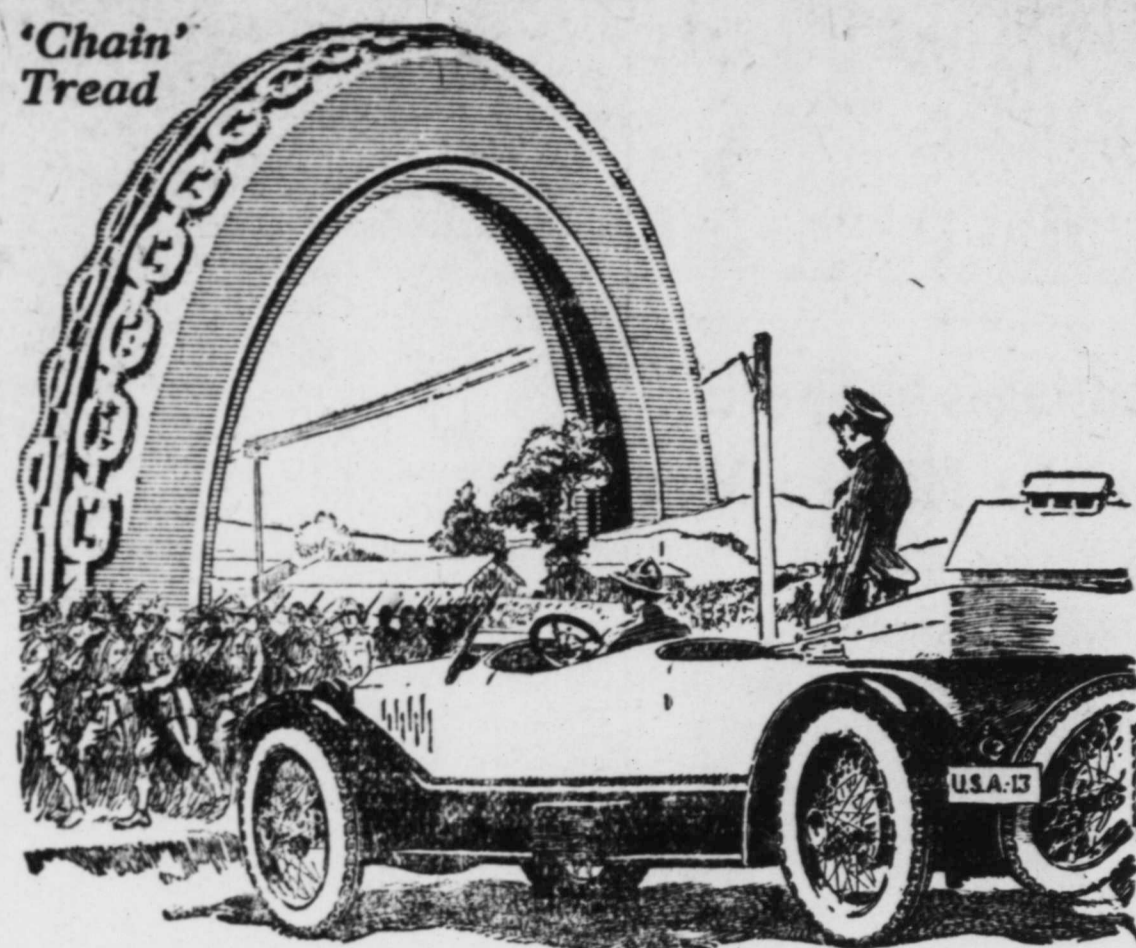

The demand for the industries has been increasing through the summer and money would be very tight if the supply was restricted to the old-time facilities, but because of the Federal Reserve Banks the pressure is hardly noticeable to the public.

Accommodations are obtainable for all approved purposes and interest rates are kept at a level which is artificially low, considered in relation to the demand for money, the general level of prices and the other conditions. The supply of "money" is increased to meet the demands by means of the credit machinery which has been provided. There is no reason to expect that the demands will fall off or that the credit machinery will fail to take care of the new demands.

As a result of the rapid movement of the wheat crop the sections in which it was produced will liquidate indebtedness and have some free capital, but the wheat will have to be carried somewhere until it is eaten, and the cotton crop is coming to market at the highest prices level on record.

Back the Government to the Limit

The Government has asked American business to pursue a certain course for the duration of the war.

Keep quality up and prices reasonable, —a strictly non-profiteering policy.

It is the only patriotic policy.

It is the policy this company has always adopted and the one we will continue to pursue.

We stand ready to undergo any sacrifice in order to cooperate with the Government. We believe it is best for ourselves.

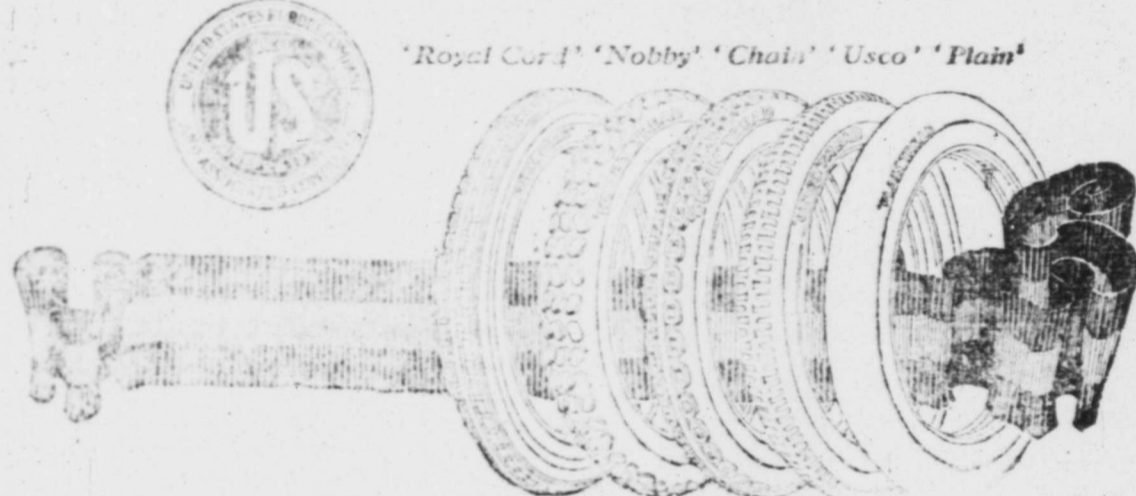

We know it is best for our country.

We appeal to all concerns—big and small—to adopt the same policy.

American business must rally as a unit to the support of the Government.

It is the surest and quickest way to win the war.

Advantages of Sports In the Modern War

DISCUS THROWING WITH HAND GRENADE A NEW WRINKLE THAT WILL MAKE OUR MEN EXPERT BOEHE KILLERS

Sports of all kinds are not neglected even at the front in France, and every program of field events at the front and behind it now contains a new event.

Everybody who takes even a casual interest in sporting events knows Jack Eller, New York City policeman and champion American athlete.

At a camp not very long ago he saw a hand grenade squad getting in its daily practice.

The boys are always wanting something different. Here's a good chance, says I, to give 'em something different, and also help Uncle Sam.

"I allow, first, a run of 15 yards—same as the javelin throw, you know. At 125 feet away from the middle of the line I make the apex of a triangle which has a sixty foot base.

"The idea is to take the 15 yards run and throw the grenade so it will land within the triangle.

"The idea is for both accuracy and distance. The old way of throwing a grenade was to stand behind a piece of canvas higher than your head and let it go over towards a bulls-eye marked on the ground.

"But our men are going in pretty got to chuck the grenade a whole lot like you'd chuck a baseball. They can see what they're aiming at in most cases.

"The boys like it, and the officers are keen for it. I always get a lot of competition in the event—both American and French when there's a meet on in a mixed camp.

The preparedness program of the United States in the present war will stand as a marvel of accomplishment for ages.

"In many ways it is little less than marvelous to note the progress we have made during the past year.

Rifle production is averaging something over 54,000 a week with pistols at 8,700 and revolvers at 6,100.

BAGS FIVE GERMAN PLANES, CRIPPLES SIXTH, CAPTURES A GERMAN, SAVES FRENCH SOLDIER—WALKS BACK

In the El Paso papers this week was a notice of a San Antonio boy, Lieut. Chamberlain, stating that he is to be decorated for bravery.

First Lieut. Edmund G. Chamberlain, of San Antonio, Texas, graduate of Princeton and of the University of Texas, an aviator attached to the United States Marine Corps, has received simultaneous recommendations for the Victoria Cross and the Congressional Medal of Honor.

On that day, over the British front, Lieutenant Chamberlain took part in an aerial battle with twelve German machines. He destroyed five of them, damaged two other, and, sweeping earthward, scattered a detachment of German soldiers.

The story, which is one of the most thrilling chapters in the drama of the war, also has been cabled to America by the London office of the Committee on Public Information.

Lieut. Chamberlain appeared at a British aviation camp on July 27, and informed the Major in command that he had personal, but not official, permission to visit the camp.

The British remainder was in need of aviators and, as there was a bombing squadron about to leave, he told Lieut. Chamberlain that he could go along.

On the next day came Lieutenant Chamberlain's wonderful exploit. He was one of a detachment of thirty aviators who went out over the battlefield through which the Germans were being driven by the Allies.

As the thirty machines circled over the fleeing Teutons, they were attacked by an equal number of German planes. It was a hurricane battle from the first, and almost at the inception of the combat the British lost three planes.

In the tempest of machine-gun bullets that roared about his machine, Lieutenant Chamberlain's engine was damaged. One of his machine guns became jammed, and he seemed to be out of the action.

His machine had lost altitude owing to the engine trouble, but when he was attacked by a German, he opened such a hot fire that the enemy went into a dive toward earth.

His engine now began to work better. He climbed up toward the enemy and, with a burst of fire, sent one of them crashing to the earth.

The Lieutenant then turned toward the British lines. His engine had "gone dead" and he was forced to volplane, carefully picking his way through the smoke clouds of shells fired at him by the enemy's anti-aircraft cannon.

As he made a wide sweep toward his destination he saw beneath him a column of German troops and into it he poured a gust of machine-gun bullets from the gun that had previously jammed, but which he succeeded in putting into action again.

The American found that he could not carry off the equipment of his machine, so he took off his compass and started across the fields. As he did so he encountered three Germans on patrol.

The Lieutenant started once more for the British lines, but came across a wounded French officer, whom he picked up and carried, driving his prisoner before him.

Chamberlain then reported "ready for duty," asked the Major in command not to make any report of the affair and refused to give his name.

—Pay the President— GET RID OF THE WEEDS

For appearance and health, cut the weeds. They are unsightly and a nuisance generally and many doctors attribute to them the rapid spread of hay fever which has almost become an epidemic.

Weeds advertise laziness or at least carelessness. They look bad, and they give a slovenly aspect to the neighborhood and are a reflection upon the owner of the premises they infest.

Most cities and, in fact, most of the towns, have ordinances making it a misdemeanor to allow premises to become unsightly.

Action by the city should not be necessary here, unless in the case of non-resident owners. People ought to have pride enough in their homes to see that the weeds are removed and some regard for the hay fever victims, among whom they themselves may soon be numbered.

But if the people will not cut the weeds through pride, then the city officials should see that they are cut. Our present ordinances are sufficient for the city officials to operate under. Get rid of the weeds!—From El Paso Herald.

NOT AN ISOLATED CASE

Many Similar Cases in Pecos and Vicinity. The Pecos woman's story given here is not an isolated case by any means; week after week, year after year, our neighbors are telling similar good news. Mrs. John DeRacy, Cypress St., says: "I was troubled for a long time by my kidneys and my back was weak and lame and had a dull ache constantly. I was tired and languid, and had dizzy spells and headaches. Black spots seemed to float before by eyes and kidney weakness also annoyed me. It only took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at the Pecos Drug Co., to cure me, and I have never been bothered since." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy-get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. DeRacy had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs. Buffalo, N. Y. Advt. 6

Keep Well Do not allow the poisons of undigested food to accumulate in your bowels, where they are absorbed into your system. Indigestion, constipation, headache, bad blood, and numerous other troubles are bound to follow. Keep your system clean, as thousands of others do, by taking an occasional dose of the old, reliable, vegetable, family liver medicine. Thedford's Black-Draught Mrs. W. F. Pickle, of Rising Fawn, Ga., writes: "We have used Thedford's Black-Draught as a family medicine. My mother-in-law could not take calomel as it seemed too strong for her, so she used Black-Draught as a mild laxative and liver regulator... We use it in the family and believe it is the best medicine for the liver made." Try it. Insist on the genuine—Thedford's. 25c a package. E-75

PARISIANS ENJOY BASEBALL

The Frenchman plays no favorites in his applause at the Paris Baseball League games, conducted under the auspices of the American Y. M. C. A. If the shortstop makes a good play, the Frenchman applauds. If, in a play a moment later, the same shortstop lets an easy one roll through his legs, the Frenchman applauds just the same. It's all the same to him, but he likes the game as he does everything else American.

OUR PART AS INDIVIDUALS IN THE GREAT WAR

Some optimists think that the most characteristic thing about the Americans in France, something that astounds the enemy and excites the admiration of our Allies, is the capacity of the American soldiers to do individual fighting and thinking. The German fights successfully only when in mass formation, in organized bodies. Every American soldier has an initiative and independence of action which gives him remarkable efficiency in open fighting. They are not senseless cogs but each is an individual working unit in a great fighting machine.

Every American at home should feel an individual responsibility and do his or her individual part in winning the war. There is not an American citizen who can not help to win the war. The Fourth Liberty Loan drive, which begins September 28, offers a great opportunity for concerted action and for individual action, and the loan will be a tremendous success if each American will do his or her individual part as each American soldier in France does his part. Our soldiers deserve such support from the people at home. —Pay the President—

"BIG CHIEF" LEARNS ENGLISH

When "Big Chief" Henry Wolf went into the army from his reservation in the Cheokee Nation in Delaware county, Okla., he did not know a word of English. That was last March. Now he carries on a fair-sized conversation with his pale-face brothers in khaki; he has been studying English in one of the Army Y. M. C. A. classes.

The Indian is handy with the boxing gloves. He gets into the Y. M. C. A. prize ring in Camp Beauregard every evening and once in a while cleans up two or three of his opponents of an evening.

ELLINGTON FIELD NOTES

Orders from Washington indicate that Ellington Field will be one of the busiest and largest aviation fields the coming winter. It has been reorganized into a big bombing field with six new steel hangars. Three hundred and thirty-three additional acres have been leased by the government for use by the field.

Mrs. E. B. Parilli arrived at Ellington Field recently to visit her son, Lieut. N. M. Parilli, having come all the way from Guatemala. Her trip was interrupted several times by submarines and at one instance the ship upon which she was traveling was forced to turn back because of submarine activities.

Mr. E. D. White, secretary of the lower Y. M. C. A. building at Ellington Field, Texas, says that the most popular book in his building is the State register. This volume is kept handy on the desk and all men who come into the hut have an opportunity to sign up or look for possible friends from home, town, or state. The pages are catalogued according to states, and gives a fairly accurate proportion of the distribution of the homes of the men who are assigned to the field. During the three months of summer a total of 2400 men registered. Every state in the Union was represented as was Australia, Canada, England, France, Lithuania, and Scotland. Alaska was present with four names.

Sing High Too, who has been rechristened Side Slip since assuming duties as writer in the student officers' mess at Ellington Field, armed himself with a butcher knife the other day and attempted to carve his initials on the anatomy of Nose Dive, another Celestial Wash slinger. Nose Dive defended himself with a meat cleaver and according to the officers witnessing the affray, the result was a draw with no casualties. —Pay the President—

THE SPIRIT THAT WILL GET KAISER BILL'S GOAT

Uncle Joe Preusser was over from Toyah again yesterday to look after business matters. He came over with his sons, Charlie and Philip, the latter looking after their registrations and making ready for the call. Uncle Joe is proud of the fact that he is furnishing his "ull quota toward licking the kaiser. He has two or more sons "over there" now and will have others. Uncle Joe is quite feeble and fast losing his sight, but he is still game to the core, and, like all of his sons, would today fight a grizzly bear if necessary and never flinch. —Pay the President—

ITS A BIG JOB TO CLEAN UP AFTER THE HUNS

Within twenty-four hours after the Germans were driven out of Canteau Thierry, Y. M. C. A. workers had opened a hut with a canteen and facilities for the comfort and entertainment of the soldiers. There was a big job of housecleaning to do first, for the Huns had left rubbish and filth piled high in every room of the old house. Men who had been prominent ministers and bankers back home scrubbed floors and lifted heavy cases. When the canteen opened a line of soldiers formed and continued to form until the Military Police ordered all soldiers off that street. —Pay the President—
