

FACT

Local Evidence. Evidence that can be verified. Fact is what we want. Opinions are not enough. Opinions differ. Here's a Pecos fact. You can test it. Ask your neighbor. George C. Bero says: "About three years ago my back was in bad shape. I had to do heavy lifting and such pains would catch me in the small of my back that I had to lay off work for a few days. My back was very lame and sore and when I bent over to pick up anything everything would get black. I would be so dizzy I would have to catch hold of the first thing I could reach to keep from falling. The kidney secretions passed freely and were highly colored. A friend of mine told me about them. Doan's back the soreness and lameness out of my back and rid me of the dizzy spells; in fact they entirely cured me of kidney trouble. Write at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., 211 E. Buffalo, N. Y.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Frezzone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

"I decided to try it," continues Mrs. Ray. "I took eight bottles in all. . . I regained my strength and have had no more trouble with womanly weakness. I have ten children and am able to do all my housework and a lot outdoors. . . I can sure recommend Cardui."

Ozark Trails Convention Meets October 7

Monte No. Ark, Sept. 30.—W. H. Harvey, president of the Ozark Trails Association, made the following announcement today. "Our annual convention to meet at Pittsburg, Kansas, October 7, promises to be one of the largest and most important conventions we have ever had. The governors interested have all appointed delegates and thousands of other delegates have been appointed by chambers of commerce, county commissioners, other civic bodies and mayors; and the secretary of Agriculture at Washington is sending to the convention, Mr. J. D. Fauntleroy, one of the government's best road engineers, to address the convention. The convention, educationally and otherwise, will be of intense interest to all who attend."

Report on Price of Cotton and Cottonseed

Price of cotton and cotton seed in the several cotton states as given by the monthly crop reporter of the government of September, 1920. By the State Department of Agriculture.

Table with columns for COTTON and COTTON SEED, listing prices for various states like Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

Compare the above prices of Texas cotton and cotton seed with those of other states and see what Texas farmers are doing to the market by selling as fast as harvested.

Oklahoma farmers are now offered 45 cents for strict middling, 1 1/8 inch staple; but demand 60 cents. Here it is about 25 cents.

One farmer in Mississippi says the buyers are quoting "cheap cotton" in Texas, which is affecting the price in Mississippi and probably other states.

Stand by your State Farmers' Institute. Refuse to sell cotton for less than 48 cents middling basis and cotton seed for less than $50 per ton. Strong holding in other states. Stop selling and help to put the price up. Do not sell another bale at the market or exchange price, which represents a loss of $75 to $125 per bale.

Yours respectfully, J. W. NEILL, Director Institutes.

TEXANS TO HEAR COX AT OKLAHOMA CITY

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 30.—Thousands of Texas democrats, including many county chairmen of the Texas democratic finance committee are making arrangements to hear Governor Cox speak at Oklahoma City October 1, according to a statement from the Texas headquarters today. Plans are being made for a large delegation from Texas and inquiries as to accommodations, rates, etc. are being received from all sections of the state. Governor Cox is on his return trip East after a most successful speaking tour through California.

"He feels confident he will carry California in November," according to J. A. Kemp, state chairman of the finance committee, "following the tremendous reception he received everywhere in the state, and because of the applause given upon his discussion of the League of Nations."

"The League of Nations is becoming the dominant issue in the present campaign, and the action of the League Council in Paris last week in preventing war between Finland and Sweden and bringing Poland and Lithuania together for arbitration, has concretely demonstrated the arguments made by Governor Cox, President Wilson and other national figures for the league's adoption. This action has meant hundreds of thousands of votes to the democratic party and greatly weakened the opposition of the republican leaders."

The democratic finance committee of the state, through Royall R. Watkins, secretary-treasurer, report a noticeable increase in contributions recently and the successful efforts of county chairmen to secure $500 amounts to match President Wilson's personal contribution. Following Governor Cox's speech in Oklahoma City and the return of many county chairmen it is expected that every county in the state will have been organized and the campaign for contributions actively started. Mail contributions should be sent to Mr. Watkins, 327 Western Indemnity Building, Dallas.

I will accept a limited number of pupils in piano, harmony and Schwartz time language. Tuition $5 per month. Studio at Mrs. M. M. Leeman. (Miss) MARIE SMITH.

Engagement of Miss Bowen and Lieutenant Ulric Louis Bouquet

An engagement announcement of interest to hosts of friends was made yesterday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. C. E. Kelly.

About two hundred of the most intimate friends of Miss Nellie May Bowen had been bidden to the tea, but no mention had been made of the real reason for the affair, so most of the guests were surprised when five daintily robed maidens carrying baskets tied with gib bows of the Aero colors, black and green, handed each new arrival two cards bearing the names of Miss Bowen and Lieut. Ulric Louis Bouquet.

The cards were tied with a dainty bow of black and green, the card of Lieutenant Bouquet obscuring that of his fiancee.

Miss Bowen is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. James E. Bowen, and is one of the most popular girls of the younger set. Added to her social popularity Miss Bowen is a musician of more than ordinary ability.

She received her musical education partly in El Paso as the pupil of Mrs. Lizzie Averitt and later as the pupil of the celebrated Herr Thilo Becker of Los Angeles.

Miss Bowen is also a graduate of the Marlborough school for girls in Los Angeles and attended Bailey and the El Paso high school in this city in earlier years.

El Paso music lovers have listened many times to splendid concerts given by this talented pianist, who during her stay in Los Angeles achieved considerable fame as a promising artist.

Among notices that have appeared in leading musical journals a column is devoted to Miss Bowen in the Musical Courier in recent years.

An excerpt from this article, which was written of her appearance at the "Little Theater," Los Angeles, says: "Throughout this program Miss Bowen proved herself an artist of genuine musical gifts, displaying a freedom and brilliancy of technique that at times approached the virtuoso style, and was at all times filled with poetic feeling and a very real origi-ality of interpretation." This is only one of many favorable notices which have appeared.

Miss Bowen was one of the most earnest war workers during war times, giving her time without stint to the Red Cross activities.

During the past year Miss Bowen decided to include more popular music in her repertoire and spent the winter in New York, where she achieved considerable success as an artist.

Lieut. Ulric Louis Bouquet was born in New York city and was educated in that city and abroad. Lieutenant Bouquet served overseas during the world war. He is at present with the First Surveillance group at Fort Bliss.

The marriage of this interesting couple will take place early in the fall at St. Clement's Episcopal church.

A large number of affairs are being planned in Miss Bowen's honor.—Georgia Burlington in El Paso Times.

Miss Bowen was for several years during her young girlhood a resident of Pecos and has many warm friends in this county who will be pleased to note the above announcement and will be glad to note her marked accomplishments, which, however, was no more than her friends in this section expected of her. May her wedded life be a long, happy and prosperous one.

TEXAS FARM BOYS SEE MANY THINGS ON RECENT TRIP

(By T. O. Walton, Director of Extension A. and M. College of Texas.)
The conclusion of the boys' agricultural tour at College Station, August 23, marks the beginning of a new epoch in agricultural education and development.
When this enterprise was first proposed by the leaders in the extension service of the A. and M. College, there was some doubt in the minds of many that it would be possible to finance this undertaking, consequently the movement was not launched for several weeks after those interested in the promotion of the enterprise were convinced of the great possibilities for good that would come from such effort if it could be successfully carried out.
Immediately upon the announcement of plans, business men, individually and thru their organizations, rallied enthusiastically to the call for prize trips, with the result that provision was made within a short time for sending 125 boys on an educational tour of eighteen of the leading agricultural states and one foreign country, and regulations governing the awarding of the prize trips to members of the boys' agricultural organizations were outlined and announced by the extension service of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. Within a month after the plans were announced approximately ten thousand boys out of a total enrollment of thirty thousand entered into competition for the 125 prize trips, and for six months pursued a systematic study of the agricultural

BUY IN EL PASO WHAT YOU CANNOT BUY AT HOME

On August 7, 125 prize winners boarded the Texas Farm Boys' Special at College Station, and their conduct during the eighteen days tour afforded positive evidence that great care had been exercised in the selection of the boys representing the various clubs in the competition. No more earnest and zealous group of farm boys have ever been brought together than the 125 representing the fifty-two counties in which prizes were awarded.

From the first stop that was made at Wichita, Kansas, until the completion of the itinerary at New Orleans, La., practically every boy showed a keen interest in the object lessons that had been provided for their instruction. The majority of these young farmers provided themselves with diaries and kept careful notes on all subjects that were placed before them. At livestock farms, specialists who were accompanying the boys as well as specialists from the various agricultural colleges en route, gave lectures pointing out the advantages of growing livestock and upon the perfection of the subjects under consideration. At the industrial plants visited the managers of these institutions furnished careful attendants to explain in detail the different processes of manufacture practiced in the establishments. One of the very interesting plants visited was that of the Oliver Chilled Plow Works at South Bend, Ind., and all of the young farmers, most of whom had used Oliver implements, had an opportunity to learn from experienced workmen the different processes in the manufacture of these implements. Beginning at the foundries, where the iron and steel is taken from the iron ore to the shop where the finishing touches were given to the implements, these boys were fully instructed in every step in the processes of completing the implements.

In the corn belt these boys visited the fields of the most successful farmers where the different steps taken in the preparation of the land, planting, cultivation and harvesting of the crop were fully explained to them. Incidentally they had an opportunity to see some of the natural wonders in nature such as Niagara Falls, the natural bridge in Virginia, Grotto's Cavern at Groto, Va., and many other wonders that few men are permitted to see.

Every member of the group expressed himself as having acquired much valuable information which he will carry back to his club associates in his home county.

The outstanding result of this tour has in my judgment been the development of the 125 leaders of as many communities throughout the state. These young men by reason of the training they have received, will yield a larger influence for good in their respective communities and the trip will be of incalculable benefit to every community sending a representative.

The professional, business men and others who contributed funds that have made the undertaking possible can not be commended too highly for their foresightedness and progressiveness.

PASS THE FLOWERS, PLEASE!

When I cash in and this poor race is run.
My chores performed, and all my errands done.
Perhaps some folks who mock my efforts here
Will, weeping, bend above my lowly bier—
And bring large garlands worth three bucks a throw.
And paw the ground in ecstasy of woe—
And friends will wear crepe knots on their ties,
While I look down (or 'up) a million miles,
And wonder why those people never knew
How square I was before my spirit flew,
When I cash in, I shall not care a yen
For all the praises that's heaped upon me then;
Serene and silent in my narrow box,
I shall not heed the praises or the knocks,
And all the pomp and all the vain display
Will be just fuss and feathers thrown away,
So, tell me now, while I am on the earth,
Your estimate of what my friendship's worth—
Oh, tell me what a loyal chap I am
And fill me full of taffy and of jam;
Spread it good, like honey's spread on bread—
Don't wait to shoot the bunk when I am dead.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared for The Enterprise by the First National Bank in St. Louis.
The corrected figures for our foreign commerce for the month of July and for the seven months ending with July are now available. Our exports for the month totaled $651,381,827, against total exports for the same month of last year amounting to $568,687,515. Imports, on the other hand, for July of this year totaled $537,170,351, as compared with $343,746,070 last year, leaving us with an excess balance for the month of $114,211,000. For the seven months ending with July of this year our total exports amount to $4,899,254,121, while for the same period of last year they amounted to $4,626,109,000, and our imports amount to $3,381,928,379, whereas for the same period of last year they amounted to but $1,954,257,362.
Our favorable balance for the seven months of this year amounted to $1,420,117,000, against a favorable balance of $2,671,851,000 for the same period of last year. From the above figures it can be seen that our exports for the period are running at just about the same rate that they did last year, but our imports, on the other hand, have increased by about $1,500,000,000 for the first seven months of this year over those of last year.
An analysis of our imports on the basis of the various groups into which they are divided shows that almost $500,000,000 of the total increase resulted from a larger importation of foodstuffs, partly or wholly manufactured. Crude materials for use in further manufacturing contributed about $400,000,000 of the increase. The increase in manufactures for further use in manufacturing and manufactures ready for consumption each showed an increase in the neighborhood of $250,000,000. On the other hand, a similar analysis of our exports shows that we exported almost $500,000,000 less of foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured during the first seven months of this year as compared with the same seven months of last year, and that we exported over $400,000,000 more of manufactures ready for consumption this year than we did for the seven months of last year.

Texas Must Care for 5,000 Armenians

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 30.—Over 100,000 little helpless Christian orphans in Armenia and the Near East are looking to America for food this coming year, according to an announcement made today by Charles L. Sanger of Dallas, state chairman of the Near East Relief Organization.
"Of this number," Mr. Sanger said, "54,600 are housed in Near East relief orphanages, while 56,039 others are receiving partial support through the operation of soup kitchens, bread lines and clothing distributing centers."
The appeal to be made to the people of Texas this year for the support of these little Christian orphans will be along the lines of orphan "adoption," and with the establishment of orphan "adoption" clubs throughout the state. An orphan adoption has been figured as the pledging of $10 a month for a period of one year, which amount feeds, clothes and shelters an orphan for that period of time.
"Upon the people of Texas rests the responsibility of caring for 5,000 such orphans on this basis," O. M. Lowry, state secretary of the Near East relief said, which number has been assigned to the care of Texas. Unless food and support is furnished these little orphans for this period of time it will be necessary to close the doors of our 229 orphanages and turn these little ones out upon the streets and deserts to perish from hunger and cold as they were immediately following the atrocities of the Turk."
Contributions towards the support of Armenian orphans can be made through the state office of the Near East Relief at Dallas, and the appeal being sent to the people of Texas is for immediate support before winter sets in in the stricken area.
"At the present time," Mr. Lowry said, "there is only sufficient food for several months now in orphanage storehouses and additional flour and supplies must be rushed immediately, or else thousands of little Christian orphans will perish."

DISCARDED AS DANGEROUS
Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!
If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.
If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

TO HANDLE PORTS

Austin, Texas.—Governor Hobby has completed and submitted to members of the legislature copies of his anti-strike law to be submitted to the special session of the legislature. It vests power in the governor to handle a strike at Texas ports and also provides for procedure in the courts to punish those guilty of violence or interfering with the movement of commerce through ports. The venue may be changed; rangers and special rangers may be used in the enforcement of the act; the attorney general is to prosecute offenders, upon direction of the governor, and the governor is authorized to invoke martial law and call forth the militia.

It became known today that representatives of organized labor will be here in force to fight the bill. George H. Slater, president of the State Federation of Labor, is expected here tonight from Galveston, and many others will arrive tomorrow from various parts of the state.

TEXT OF BILL

A copy of the governor's bill follows:

Section 1. The ports of Texas were constructed, and are being maintained, at public expense, and any obstruction in or hindrance to these channels of trade affects the general business and welfare of the state. It is therefore declared to be the policy of the state that the same should be kept open at all times in order that the movement of interstate and intrastate commerce passing through said ports shall not be impeded or interfered with.

Sec. 2. The words "port" or "ports" as used in this act are defined to mean and include all places where ocean-going or coast-wise ships are loaded or unloaded for the exportation or importation of cargoes.

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person or group of persons by physical violence or by intimidation, or by harassing or molesting in any way to interfere with men engaged in loading or unloading ships at any port in Texas.

Sec. 4. The words "intimidation," "harassment" and "molesting" as used in the preceding section shall be defined to mean any act or conversation with persons engaged in loading or unloading ships at any port in Texas, or with the loved ones, such as a wife, mother, brother or sister of such men so engaged, while so engaged or during the hours of the day or night when they are not engaged in their work on the docks, the effect of which is to cause them through fear of violence to themselves, their loved ones or their property, to desist from engaging in such work.

Sec. 5. The term, "men engaged in loading or unloading ships at any port in Texas," as used in section 2 of this act, shall be construed as including any person or persons employed in any way at the docks or wharves or on switches, railroad tracks, streets, sidewalks or alleys, or any approach or appurtenance belonging to, incident to or used where ships are being loaded or unloaded, provided that the work that such person is engaged in is a work necessarily connected with the movement of commerce through said port, even though the work be not the actual loading or unloading of ships.

Sec. 6. The provisions of section 2 shall not apply to peace officers or other persons who may, in the proper and lawful discharge of their duty, interfere with men who are engaged in work connected with the movement of commerce through the ports of Texas.

Sec. 7. Any person violating the provisions of section 3 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by confinement in the state penitentiary for not less than one year, and not more than five years.

Sec. 8. Persons convicted for violating the provision of section 3 of this act shall not be permitted to enjoy the benefits of the suspended sentence law.

Sec. 9. If at any time the movement of interstate or intrastate commerce through the ports of Texas, or any of them, is impeded or interfered with by acts of physical violence, or by the threat of physical violence, or by intimidation or by harassing or molesting, or in any way interfering with the men engaged in such work as previously defined in this act by any person or any group of persons, either in the ports or any approach or appurtenance belonging to, incident to or used where ships are being loaded or unloaded, or by interfering with the men engaged in such work as they are going to or returning from their work, or while in their homes, and the governor becomes convinced that the local authorities are failing to enforce the law, either because they are unable or unwilling to do so, the governor shall, in order that the movement of commerce may not be interfered with, forthwith issue his proclamation declaring such conditions to exist, and describing the area thus affected.

Sec. 10. Upon the issuance of the proclamation, as provided for in the preceding section, the governor shall, through the adjutant general of the state, exercise full and complete police jurisdiction over the area described in the proclamation, whether the same be within or without the limits of an incorporated city. The exercise of said police jurisdiction by the governor, as above set out, shall supersede all police supervision by any and all local authorities, provided that the governor shall not disturb local authorities in the exercise of police jurisdiction at any place outside the district described in the proclamation, the exercise of their usual and customary powers and jurisdiction.

Sec. 11. No peace officer in the state of Texas shall be permitted to make an arrest after the governor's proclamation has become effective in the territory embraced by such proclamation, except officers acting under the adjutant general of the state unless permission is first secured from the adjutant general to do so. Persons arrested within the district shall be delivered forthwith to the proper authorities for trial.

Sec. 12. When any person or persons are charged with violating any of the provisions of this act, or with the commission of any offense within the territory embraced in the governor's proclamation, the court may, of its own motion, or upon the motion of the attorney representing the state, grant a change of venue to a court of proper jurisdiction in the county, the county seat of which is the nearest to the county seat of the county in which the offense was committed, unless the county, the county seat of which is the nearest to the one in which the offense was committed, is the county in which a port is located, and in that event, the case will be transferred to some other county, the county seat of which is located not more than one hundred miles from the county in which the offense was committed.

Sec. 13. The motion for a change of venue will be sufficient if it shows on its face that the governor has issued his proclamation, as provided for in this act, and that the offense was committed within the territory embraced by such proclamation, or that the act committed was one in violation of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 14. If in any county where a port is located, it is charged that the offense described in this act has been committed, and after the grand jury of such county has been convened and dismissed, and no bill or bills of indictment returned against the person or persons charged with the violation of section 3 of this act, it shall be the duty of the district judge in any county, the county seat of which is located within one hundred miles of the county in which the offense is charged to have been committed, upon being advised by the governor or the attorney general that such persons have been charged with the violating the provisions of said section 3 of this act, and that the grand jury in the county in which the offense is charged to have been committed has met and been discharged without returning any indictment or indictments, said district judge shall, upon the convening of the grand jury in his county, or in any county in which he is district judge, charge them concerning such offenses, and such grand jury may, if in its judgment the facts warrant it, return a valid indictment against such person or persons charged with committing such offenses.

Sec. 15. The attorney general, when directed by the governor, shall assist the district or county attorney in the prosecution of all offenses committed within the territory embraced by said proclamation, and for all violations of the provisions of this act.

Sec. 16. The provisions of this act shall be effective without a declaration of martial law. The state rangers will be used in the enforcement of the provisions of this act, if sufficient number is available to properly enforce the provisions of said act. If a sufficient number of rangers is not available the governor is authorized to employ any number of men to be designated as special rangers, and such men shall have all the power and authority of the regular rangers, and shall be paid the same salary as rangers are paid, and such salaries shall be paid out of the appropriation made to the executive office for the payment of rewards, and the enforcement of the law.

Sec. 17. Nothing in this act shall be construed as limiting the power and authority of the governor to declare martial law and to call forth the militia for the purpose of executing the law, when, in the judgment of the chief executive, it is deemed necessary to do so.

ADVISE FARMERS TO QUIT SELLING COTTON AND COTTON SEED

A committee of the State Farmers' Institute, selected from forty-two cotton-growing counties, found that it cost 46 cents per pound to produce the 1920 cotton crop. They recommended a minimum price of 48 cents and urged the farmers not to sell for less. Another committee of the institute recommended $50 per ton for cotton seed.

Cotton seed has already advanced in some parts from $22 to $25 per ton to $33 per ton. This is due to the fact that farmers in many sections have held meetings and refused to sell for less than $50 per ton. Although these meetings were few, their influence, together with the State Farmers' Institute, has started cotton seed towards the $50 per ton mark. If the farmers will "stand pat" and I believe they will, $50 per ton is a certainty.

At this time Commissioner Davis and his entire force are aiding the movement. The advance in seed last Saturday has been worth to the growers many thousand dollars. Let us make it many thousand more.

If you are not already holding for the farmers' price, refuse to sell another seed for less than $50 per ton, and help win the victory for your rights.

What about staple cotton?

Twenty-five dollars per ton loss on cotton seed is almost nothing when compared to $75, and $125 loss on a bale of cotton. Let us figure a little. Some few days ago cotton sold here at about 27 cents per pound, and being one and one-sixteenth inch staple, it brought a premium of one-half cent per pound, or $2.50 per 500-pound bale because of its staple. The same day this grade and staple quoted at New Orleans at 400 points on, which equals $20 per bale premium; $2.50 premium here and $20 premium at New Or-

Again, middling cotton, with staple one and one-eighth inches in length brought a premium of 1-2 cents per pound, or $7.50 per bale. This same grade and staple is quoted in New Orleans at 2000 points on, or $100 premium on the bale; $7.50 premium here and $100 premium at New Orleans. (See U. S. Market Reporter, Sept. 11, 1920, pp. 174-6.)

Now, let us make it a little clearer by supposing that Mr. A. brings in a 500-pound bale of cotton, which grades middling and staple seven-eighths of an inch; and Mr. B. brings in a bale, grade middling, and staple one and one-sixteenth inch, and Mr. C. brings in a middling grade which staples one and one-eighth inches, we have the following comparison:

A. sold at 27c per 500-lb. bale.....$135.00
B. sold his at 27c, with 1-2c premium.....137.50
C. sold his at 27c with 1 1-2c premium, or.....142.50

The premium at New Orleans would make the cotton sold by B. bring $155, and the cotton sold by C. bring $235; a loss of $17.50 to B. on his 1 1-16 inch staple, and $92.50 to C. on his 1 1-8 inch staple. This loss is borne by you, Mr. Farmer. But who is getting it?

In addition to the above, last September the spinners were paying $50 to $75 above the exchange prices. If they are doing so now, and I for one do not doubt it, then we can add another $50 to $75 loss on each bale of cotton the farmer sells.

Farmers, you are urged by the State Farmers' Institute not to sell another bale of cotton for less than 48 cents per pound middling basis, unless you are forced to do so. It is really worth much more than that. When we consider that we are buying it back at an average of $1000 per bale, leaving a clear profit of $500 to $800 per bale between the manufacturer and consumer.

It matters not if we do raise a 12,000,000 bale crop, which is doubtful, the world will be short at least 6,000,000 bales, or more, even if we count such bales as dog-tail bolls and linters. It is a fact, however, that all low grades and unspinnable cotton is counted as a part of the world's supply by the speculators to force prices down.

Stand by the price suggested by your farmer friends. Warehouse your cotton. Put it in a safe place. Protect it. Do not sell at the "market price," which is the exchange or speculator's price.

Yours respectfully,
FRED W. DAVIS,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

WEDDINGS

WILLIAMS-FINLEY.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett, Saturday evening, September 4, at which time Mrs. Marcella Fulcher Finley became the bride of Andrew Williams, of the Barrilla community. Only a few friends were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Cecil H. Lang, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride, who is the oldest daughter of Mrs. I. O. Hanson, has spent the greater part of her life in Pecos county. She is a most lovable and attractive young woman, who has endeared herself to a large circle of friends, and will indeed make a true helpmate to the man she has honored with her heart and hand.

The groom is an active and promising young ranchman of the Barrilla community, where he is well and favorably known. The young couple are cosily domiciled at their ranch home, where they are receiving the congratulations and hearty good wishes of their many friends.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

HEBERER-HINES.

Mr. A. L. Heberer of Hereford and Miss Vera Hines were married at Hereford September 15. Miss Vera is a daughter of Mrs. J. R. Hines, is a splendid type of womanhood, was practically reared in Pecos, where her friends are legion. She was a trained nurse and did much efficient work in that line, but for the last few years she has been doing telegraphic work, having had charge of the office at Buchanan, N. M. Mr. Heberer is unknown to the writer, but is said to be a most excellent gentleman and a wealthy stock farmer in the Hereford country.

Mr. and Mrs. Heberer were down last week for a visit to her mother, coming through the country in their car. Their home will be at Hereford.

HUDSON-OBITZ.

Rowen Hudson and Miss Mildred Obitz were quietly married Sunday, September 26, in El Paso, at the Baptist church, the pastor of the church performing the ceremony. The bride's mother, Mrs. T. Y. Casey, and a few friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson were both reared in Pecos, attended school together, each became a graduate of the Pecos high school. Rowen continued his education in the Christian university in Fort Worth and Miss Mildred attended the State university at Austin. Rowen is a son of Judge W. A. Hudson and is a splendid young business man, now holding a position in a bank in Dallas. Miss Mildred is a daughter of Mrs. T. Y. Casey and was teaching at the time of her marriage in the El Paso schools. They will make their home in Dallas.

The Enterprise extends congratulations and wishes for them all the joys and prosperity incident to life.

Rayless Goldenrod Poisonous to Stock

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Following investigations of a livestock ailment commonly known as "alkali disease" or "milk sickness," the United States Department of Agriculture has found the rayless goldenrod to be the probable cause. Experimental work with this plant produced symptoms corresponding to those characteristic of this disease. Investigations by the department included regions in New Mexico, Texas, and Arizona, where "alkali disease" has caused many fatalities among domestic animals. The rayless goldenrod is known to botanists as Isocoma wrightii; in Arizona cattlemen sometimes call it "jimmy weed."

Dr. C. D. Marsh, poisonous plants specialist for the bureau of animal industry, has found the plant to be poisonous to cattle, sheep and horses. Among cattle, typical symptoms are drowsiness and weakness. If the animals become excited or attempt to travel far their motions become jerky and their legs seem to give way. Some are unable to get up after falling. The fattest cattle are usually the ones first affected. Considerable numbers of work horses and stock horses have died in the regions mentioned from influences now attributed to the rayless goldenrod. Horses frequently died in from one to three days after showing symptoms of poison. Sheep show symptoms similar to those of cattle and horses, and it is also likely that burros are poisoned by the same plant.

The rayless goldenrod is a stout perennial herb commonly growing about two feet high, though under favorable circumstances it may reach a height of four feet or more. The heads are numerous and have yellow flowers. It grows generally on alkaline soil, and very luxuriously on the banks of irrigation ditches. In some localities the rayless goldenrod makes a thick hedge.

To prevent losses from this poisonous plant, the department points out the feasibility of eradicating it from pastures. When dug out to a depth of two or three inches it seldom reappears; this plan of eradication is practicable where the growth is not too extensive. Where plants are too numerous to be dug, reliance must be placed in moving the animals so that they can get no more of the poison and may receive an abundance of good feed. In the regions mentioned care should be taken not to force livestock to graze on scanty pasture containing the rayless goldenrod.

GOOD NATURES I HAVE MET

Good humor may be a very humble virtue and good humored people may not amount to very much in the eyes of the success worshippers of our times. But I like the virtue of its possessors. I remember some good humored souls in past life that are fresh in my memory. I had a good humored school teacher when I was a boy. I don't think she knew much, but she taught me more than any teacher I ever had. She taught me to study and controlled us with love. And there was a good natured grocer. Just because he was jolly he kept our trade. We preferred to lose money on him rather than get things cheaper at the Grouch Face's store. I knew a good natured husband. He was fat. His wife was thin and waspy. She became happy and contented in her old days in spite of herself. She never knew why. She thought it was her own wisdom and religion. It was her husband's good disposition. I knew a good natured mother once. People predicted her children would go to the bad. They did not. Some people think good humor is silly, at least shallow. I have come to believe that it has its roots down in the best elements of life. It draws its sustenance from the reservoirs of faith, courage and love. If any think they have failed in life, that they just amount to nothing, to them I would recommend that they just take up the business of being pleasant. Anybody can do it. Then even if you cannot do great things you can help along.

Just to be good natured is to make the world brighter for all those around you. If you think you have the blues, why, just laugh and the world will laugh with you.—Uncle Dick Sullivan in San Saba News.

DEMOCRACY'S COMPETITION.
Some fellow in Central Texas is claiming McGregor will beat Neff 100,000 votes in the November election. If this fellow comes this way and is foolish enough to back his judgment we are sure of a new hat for Christmas.—Honey Grove Signal.

The talk of beating the democratic nominee in Texas is of a piece with the talk of defeating the republican nominees in Maine. Such talk is always heard prior to each important state election, and ceases immediately after. The woman vote in Maine last Tuesday served to almost double the total number of voters, but didn't change the result, which means that the most of the women, like most of their husbands voted the republican ticket. A similar thing will occur in Texas. The chance to elect a republican or an "American" governor in opposition to the democratic nominee is about the same as for the socialists to turn that trick—and heaven knows the socialists, with all their chuckle-headedness, haven't had the least expectation of doing any better this year than they usually do. This being a justly celebrated free country, it is entirely permissible for as many parties as want to to set up establishments and make claims of one kind or another. But it is a great waste of time and money and words and whang-doodle for any party to offer formal opposition to the democratic party in Texas. It looks like the various oppositionists would learn this some time, granting that they are of the learning kind.—State Press in Dallas News.

HONOR THE PIONEERS.

It is well that we honor those men, women, boys and girls who are finding better ways of farming, better ways of raising livestock and are breeding better seed and animals. At the same time we should not forget those who have spent their life in making possible these developments. There are yet among us men and women who braved the dangers and hardships of a frontier life in order that we may be enjoying the advantages and wealth of the present. Some of these have not great wealth and do not care for great wealth in their old age. What they want more than anything else is that their lives have not been in vain; that we are actually building on the foundation they have laid; and that we appreciate just what they have done.

It has been many years since West Texas was a no-man's land. The plow was unknown. Buffalo, antelope, prairie chickens and other game were plentiful, but what we consider modern conveniences of the Indian and the wild beast. Notwithstanding these dangers, the men and women braved them and made an empire. West Texas today is a land of great aspirations, great deeds and wonderful possibilities. Without the brave men and women of half century ago, however, it would still be the home of wild animals and not be docted with big producing farms and thriving cities. Don't overlook an opportunity to make one of these patriots feel better.—Farm and Ranch.

We wish to thank the good people of Pecos and Toyah who helped in any way during the recent illness and death of our darling boy, Calvin Clyde. Your words of comfort, the handclaps and the beautiful floral gifts were like rays of sunshine in the dark hours. We and other relatives thank you and pray God to send you friends when sorrow comes.
