VACATIONAL BIBLE SCHOOL CLOSED

The vocational bible school closed its two week course Friday of last week and Sunday evening at the Baptist church Pecos people of all denominations gathered to witness the commencement exercises. This was the first attempt in Pecos at such a school and very few towns or small cities anywhere can show a better record. The teachers laid aside everything else and did such a service under the able leadership of Mrs. Brooks that will stand as a monument to their faithful and unselfish and able work throughout the years yet to come in bettering conditions and uplifting humanity in our midst. Our people deserve some commendation as well as the teachers, for they took to the work like ducks to a pond.

The grand total, including the twelve teachers, in attendance was 314, divided as follows. Beginners, Primary and Juniors classes.

The beginners started with an enrollment of 40 and dropped three for non-attendance. Out of the 37 remaining in this class there were eleven 100 per cent pupils—or pupils present each day.

The Primary department was cut into two divisions on account of the large number enrolled. In the first division 29 were enrolled and only one dropped for non-attendance. Of this remaining 28 pupils 24 were 100 per cent pupils.

In the second division 55 were enrolled and 13 dropped for non-attendance. Of the 42 remaining 20 were 100 per cent pupils.

The Juniors enrolled 59 and dropped six for non-attendance. Out of the 53 remaining 36 were 100 per cent pupils.

The above was the Vocational Bible Training School proper and took in all up to 12 years of age. There were many above that age however who desired to take the work and these were taken care of by the pastors of the different denominations as follows:

For the Methodist church Mrs. J. W. Parker was teacher instead of Rev. Faust, the pastor, who was in attendance upon another school in El Paso. In Mrs. Parker's class there were 30 enrolled and 19 100 per cent pupils.

Bro. Moore had charge of those of the Christian denomination with an enrollment of 39 and 18 100 per cent pupils.

Bro. Garner had charge of those of the Baptist faith with an enrollment of 50 and 20 100 per cent pupils. In justice to Rev. Garner it is well to state that he had two classes—the Junior and Senior B. Y. P. U. The above is the result of his Junior class.

The Senior class was taught in the evening and the average attendance upon this class was 50. This night class was not included in the grand total of 314.

STATE PAPERS TAKE UP STATE PARK PLAN

Efforts of the Pecos and Toyah Chambers of Commerce in behalf of the State Park plan in the Davis Mountains are fast bearing fruit, and the idea seems to be taking well all over the state. Editorial expressions in such papers as the Dallas Journal, the El Paso Herald, the San Antonio Express and others have been very much in favor of the plan, while numerous letters have been received from people over the state expressing their approval of the project.

Among these was a letter from Curtis Hancock, of Dallas, the first head of the State Highway Commission, who offered his services in any way suggested in order to help the project along. Mr. Hancock states that he had just returned from a short vacation trip to Colorado and founded the keynote of the campaign when he stated that there was plenty of scenery and climate in Texas for Texans, and that he was planning to spend his next vacation in the Davis Mountain country.

The Dallas and the Automobile Clubs of Texas have approved the State Park plan in their literature, and have co-operated with the Chamber of Commerce in urging tourists to visit these mountains. Six cars from Dallas reached Balmorhea early in the week, brought there by the publicity given the mountains.

The Dallas and Fort Worth Automobile bureaus persist in routing a large number of cars by the southern route through Brownwood and Fort Stockton and Balmorhea, due to the Monahan sands, which appear to be a bugaboo to tourists. However large numbers of tourists continue to come down the Bankhead highway, and fail to find the detour around the sands the big obstacle that rumor has made it. The detour is well marked, and tourists coming from the east report no difficulty whatever in escaping the sands, and declare that the little trouble is unaccounted for.

Does not justify the additional hundred miles or more traversed when

TRAGEDY AT ROTAN ENDS LIFE OF WELL KNOWN PECOS PEOPLE

The meager and conflicting accounts of the killing of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Posey near Rotan leave doubts in some minds as to the circumstances which led up to the unfortunate tragedy. Mr. and Mrs. Posey were well known in Pecos, Mr. Posey being a member of the Masonic Order and was buried here by the Pecos lodge Monday. Mrs. Posey was a graduate of the Pecos high school and daughter of C. M. Hall, a ranchman of this county.

Frank Posey was a brother to Mrs. S. E. Wilson of Pecos and also to a Mrs. McGee of East Texas. Mrs. Posey, Franks mother, is here with Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. G. G. Breen who is a first cousin to the deceased. The Enterprise at this writing can only give theories and opinions of persons who knew the parties murdered and also the man accused of the crime, or at least half of it.

It appears that a man named Forrester and Frank Posey jointly owned a piece of land, about which they occasionally had some differences. A neighbor states that Forrester visited him some time previous to the tragedy and said he would buy Posey out and intended to make a proposition of give or take as to each other's interest. Posey took over the land. Forrester deposited a package of papers with the bank at Rotan with instructions not to let any one have them without his orders. It is not known what, if any, information can be gained from these papers. It is believed by many that Forrester was insanely infatuated with Mrs. Posey, and when she was killed she was preparing a visit to her father here. Forrester stated that he met Posey and wife on their way to the train and all three turned back to the Posey home. He states that Posey and wife went into the house and left him outside by the car. He heard screams for help and ran for the house but the front door was fastened. He gained entrance to the house from the rear and saw Posey beating his wife to death with an iron pinch bar. He attempted to interfere when Posey turned on him with the bar and he shot him. The wife had apparently died. As Posey did not bleed a theory was advanced that he had been poisoned. Dr. Camp took the stomach from the body and sent it to El Paso for a chemical examination. The poison theory is now believed to be dismissed from the mystery as Mr. Murray the undertaker at the Pecos Mercantile morgue took out of the body over a gallon of congealed blood, accumulated from a supposed bullet wound. Another circumstance which obliterates the poison theory was that J. W. Gregory met and talked with Posey for some time about one hour before the murders were reported and says Posey's condition was perfectly normal and did not appear to be suffering from a dose of poison, but was in good spirits.

From all information which can be gained it is conceded that Frank Posey and his wife led a happy and contented life. On a recent visit of Mr. Hall some few weeks ago she took occasion to assure her father of this fact, and relatives and friends cannot see any reason why Posey should beat his wife to death. There were no witnesses to the tragedy except Forrester and unless further developments and circumstances will refute the Forrester statements, the double killing will have to remain a mystery, especially that part of it which induced Posey to kill a loving and faithful wife. Most any kind of theories can be found in the vicinity of Rotan and parties interested are looking for some evidence which will clear up the mystery. This may, or may not, be divulged at the preliminary trial of Forrester. Mr. and Mrs. Posey were both buried here this week.

This article was written by Walter N. Sutherland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The hope for the completion of the roads through the Monahan sands rests with the legislation now before the National Congress and the State Legislature, according to D. E. F. Manigault, Division Highway Engineer for the State of Texas. The Townsend road bill is now before Congress, and when it is passed, as expected by both houses, the State Legislature can take action. A special session of the latter body has been called for July 18. At this time it is proposed to make additional appropriations for the construction of the Bankhead Highway through the counties of West Texas, including Reeves, who have voted bond issues for this road, and then when this work is under way it is proposed to call attention of the State Highway Commission to the inability of Ward county to issue bonds for the road work, and to circulate a petition asking that the state take this work on themselves. As the highway commission stands committed to the Bankhead Highway, the general belief is that the commission will build the road through Ward county and connect the stretches which will have been built by that time on either side.

HOSPITAL FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Temporary hospitals for ex-service men have been located at Whipple Barracks, Prescott, Ariz., and at Fort Bayard, Silver City, N. M., by the hospitalization committee named by the treasury department, and it is understood that the committee will now give its attention to the location of selection of sites for permanent hospitals.

Previous letters written by the Chamber of Commerce to this committee calling their attention to the Davis Mountain site have brought the reply that nothing would be done regarding a permanent location until the temporary hospitals were established. The recognition of the western plateau country in the selection of these above mentioned two locations for temporary hospitals is regarded as a favorable sign for the Davis Mountain country.

The following letter has been written by the Chamber of Commerce: Pecos, Tex., June 22, 1921.

Dr. William C. White, Chairman Hospitalization Com., Room 208 B. W. R. I., Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:—In view of the published newspaper reports to the effect that location for temporary hospitals for ex-service men have been selected, we presume that you and your committee will now be able to investigate the sites offered your committee for the larger and permanent hospitals.

Because of this we wish to again call your attention to the advantages of the Davis Mountain location offered by the people of Reeves county through the Pecos Chamber of Commerce, and especially to call your attention to the advantages of this region for those suffering from tuberculosis.

The people of the State of Texas have recognized the healthful climate and scenic beauties of this location, and a movement is now on foot in the state to secure a State Park or preserve of approximately 100,000 acres in these mountains. The sites offered your committee border on or are part of the area spoken of as a probable side for the park, and while the park plan will not interfere with the offer we made of a free site of your committee's selection, it will offer additional advantages to the patients at the hospital, which we feel sure your committee will erect after you visit the site.

We will be at your service at any time to accompany your committee over the grounds. Very truly yours, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, WALTER N. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

IRA J. BELL RETURNS

Ira J. Bell returned the early part of the week from Chicago and the East where he has been for the past month. Mr. Bell states that conditions in Chicago are rapidly getting better on account of the settlement of the recent strike in the building trade. Money is loosening up to some extent and outside of Chicago at points where he visited he noticed a spirit of optimism as to business prospects and financial interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cavett were the guests the last few days prior to their leaving for their home in the North of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Glover who showed them many courtesies and accompanied them to the train. Mrs. Cavett is a lady of many accomplishments and pleasing personality who endeared herself to many of our best people who are pleased to call her friend and who presented her with many pleasing and valuable gifts as a parting memento. Mrs. Cavett and her family are leaving for their home in the North and their altitude necessitated their change of residence.

DEVELOPMENT IN PECOS OIL FIELD CONTINUES STRONGEST IN STATE

With reports from other fields of inactivity resulting from the dropping price of oil, the development campaign in the Pecos territory continues to stand out as one of the strongest in Texas. Operations are being continued by the operators of this field in the face of handicaps that are proving too great for some of those in the older fields, and their ability to keep going is an encouragement to others as an indication of the faith of the investing public in the future oil prosperity of the Pecos Valley country.

While oil has been produced at a profit when selling for far less than $1.00 there is not an experienced oil man in Texas who believes that this price will be the one on which the industry will finally be stabilized when the readjustment period is over. They see the increased need for oil in all lines of industry, they see the big Mexico gushers playing out after a short period of big production, and they see the seas being traversed in increasing numbers by oil burning vessels. They see the instability of the coal market, and the fact that industry is turning to oil, and foresee a rush for oil burning plants when industry gets itself to the point where it will begin to spend its profits for improvements. For these reasons they are keeping on the job, with the knowledge that there will be a sufficient demand in the near future for all the oil that will come from the future wells of the Pecos territory.

Fourteen operations have been pushed downward during the past week, with interest centered in the Bell and the Trans-Pecos. The latter well continue to find oil saturated formation after having shut off the water and runny oil bearing sands in a blue shale formation. This latter formation carries considerable sand, and more than a trace of oil. B. J. O'Reilly, the manager, has just had completed a water well and pump near the drilling rig, which will supply sufficient water for drilling purposes and will avoid the necessity of hauling water to the well. The work is being pushed steadily on this week.

The Bell No. 1, is busy underreaming an exceptionally hard formation allowing only several feet a day to be drilled out and due to this condition it is impossible to say when the two additional lengths of casing will be set.

The reamer is down about 1790 feet, and the hole is down to about 1830 feet. As the casing is following the underreamer very closely most of the gas rock has been cut off and very little gas is now showing in the well.

The Helen S. near the Bell is unable to drill further until a new sand line arrives. Casing has been set at about 990 feet, and it is believed the water has been shut off but no attempt will be made to bail out until the new cable arrives and arrangements to resume work are made.

Arch Bell of the Los-Pecos Syndicate left for head office in California on Wednesday where he is to make arrangements to put a standard rig on the location a half mile north of the Bell. The hole is now down to 920 feet with a good showing of both oil and gas. A change in con-

THE LAURA

The editor had the pleasure of visiting the Laura well, the plant of which was recently burned, yesterday. The new rig is now completed and is some eight feet higher than the old one and is stronger and better in every way, with lighter and more improved parts and stands as a monument to the energy, perseverance and determination of the president of the Sunshine Oil Corporation, Alfred Tinnally, to make an actual deep test of the Laura well.

Owing to washouts on the Santa Fe they have as yet been unable to deliver soft-boiler water from Carlsbad and hence the delay in starting the drill. While this road has been repaired so as to enable trains to pass yet they are afraid to bring over heavy loads until the bridges and roadbed have been strengthened. It is hoped, however, that the water will be delivered in the next few days then the drill will be started. All machinery is in perfect condition and it is to be expected that they will have no further trouble when once started.

President Alfred Tinnally stated to The Enterprise that they have plenty of money on hand to go on with the work, although the rebuilding of the rig and repairs on machinery cost the companies some $30,000 but that in order to complete the well to 4,600 feet it will require additional funds and he will leave for the east the early part of next week to raise the necessary money. Mr. Tinnally knows no such word as failure and will leave Pecos with a determination which means nothing short of success. But for his personal pride and his obligations tractors has been made necessary, and the company has decided to standardize and be in position to meet any emergency, instead of installing another shallow rig. Mr. Bell expects to be back on the job in about two weeks.

The Toyah Bell No. 2, in Loving county has reached a depth of below 3300 feet in a good dark lime formation.

The Pinal Dome Oil company in Eastern Loving county is understood to be drilling at below 850 feet. The River well in Ward county is drilling below 2050 feet in a red clay and salt formation.

Driller Livingston of the Laura has been called to Cisco this week to appear as a witness against a man accused of stealing Mr. Livingston's automobile, and work at the Laura has been delayed until his return. He is expected home Saturday.

The Toyah Shallow Oil company has received casing for its Cowan ranch well, and attempts were to be made to haul it late this week if the road conditions permitted. Heavy rains in that section have made heavy hauling difficult. The company is still fishing on its No. 2 well near the El Paso-Saragosa.

The Owens No. 2 in Culberson county is reported to be drilling below 1800 feet in a good lime formation. The No. 1 is or was at last report endeavoring to find a way to carry the tools through an underground cave without running danger of a crooked hole.

The C. W. Gossert Core drilling rotary is again drilling at below 100 feet.

It is understood that the case which is expected to clear up all legal difficulties regarding the transfer of the property rights in the Troxel well is to come up in the Dallas courts next week, and that after the settlement of this friendly suit, it is probable that efforts will be made to fully develop the oil found in that hole. Faulty transfers of interests in the well are understood to have caused lawyers to consider the title clouded, but it is also understood that a sufficient number of the men involved in the proceedings have been reached to clear the matter by a court order.

The Texoland well in Western Crane county is reported to be drilling below 800 feet in red beds. The Atlas Drilling company well in that territory is reported to be down below 60 feet with a new hole after abandoning the first hole at 300 feet due to a bad fishing job. Hard lime found just underneath the surface makes difficult drilling for the start.

The Pinal Dome in Pecos county is reported below 1800 feet in salt and red beds. The Pope Prospecting company and Bowers, Hale & Lamb are also reported to be drilling.

The Grant Oil Corporation in that county is drilling deeper in the Miracle well after a "shot" had caused a flow from an eight inch casing for about forty-five minutes. The company officials believe that the oil found by this well is rising to the surface through a fault or crack in the earth and that by drilling deeper, they will be able to find the main pool. They are considering standardizing the well if the future indications seem to justify it.

to friends who put their money with him in the project he would long since have quit the Pecos field for he has had many flattering propositions offered him which would require less effort and make him financially better off, but he has determined at all hazards to finish his work in the Pecos field and keep his faith with his people. His faith in the Pecos field has never been lessened and he believes an immense oil field will yet be developed.

LATER—Since writing the above we have received word that the Santa Fe has delivered a car of water on the Laura switch and drilling will be resumed as soon as possible.

THE MALITE

The "Malite" well in section 206, block 34, Ward county, continues to hold the attention of the local people and the oil men in general. This well is making good progress and improving with depth. A blue shale and sand formation encountered during the past week carries oil in a very noticeable manner.

Every effort is being put forth to get down and being favored with good drilling ground, it helping out considerably. The log of the "Malite" well shows that the location of same is approximately 600 feet higher on the structure than other wells in Ward county, therefore it is natural to suppose that it is only a matter of a short time until this company reaches the pay sand.

Careful, conservation management, competent crew and first class equipment coupled with the fact that this company has a large acreage makes it interesting to those who are in any way associated with this company.

PURE ADVERTISING LAW NOW EFFECTIVE

The pure advertising law, passed at the regular session of the 37th Legislature, went into effect June 16th. The act makes it illegal for anything to be advertised in such a way as to mislead the public in any material particular. It carries a penalty of $200 for each separate offense.

The pure advertising bill was introduced in the Texas Legislature by Senator Harry Hertzberg of San Antonio, and had the endorsement of the Associated Advertising Clubs of Texas.

"Section 1. Any person, firm, corporation or association who with the intent to sell or in anywise dispose of merchandise, securities, service, or anything offered by such person, firm, corporation or association, directly or indirectly, to the public for sale or distribution, or with intent to increase the consumption thereof, or to induce the public to in any manner enter into any obligation relating thereto, or to acquire title thereto, or any interest therein, makes, publishes, disseminates, circulates or places before the public, or causes directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated or placed before the public, in this State, in a newspaper, or other publication, or in the form of a book, notice, handbill, window display, card or price tag, poster, bill, circular, pamphlet or letter or in any other way, an advertisement of any sort regarding merchandise as to its character or cost, securities, service or anything so offered, to the public, which advertisement contains any assertion, representation or statement of fact which is known by said person, firm, corporation or association, or could have been known by use of reasonable diligence or inquiry, to be untrue or misleading in any material particular as to such matters or things so advertised, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $200 for each offense; provided, however, the provisions of this act shall not apply to any publisher, agent or employe of a newspaper or other publication, periodical or circular, who in good faith and without knowledge of the falsity of the character of such advertisement, causes to be published or takes part in the publication of such advertisement.

"Section 2. In a prosecution under this act, such statement, trade mark or trade name, with the name, signature, mark or identification of person, firm, corporation, partnership or association, shall be considered prima facie evidence of the publication of such statement, trade name, or trade mark by the person, firm, corporation, partnership or association referred to therein."

LOSING RESPECT FOR OUR COURTS

The grand jury of Tarrant county, Texas, recently returned an indictment for robbery in which it was charged that the offense was committed during the month of "Mch." The attorney for the defendant proved by several dictionaries that "Mar." was the correct abbreviation for "March" and for that reason the language of the indictment was obscure. The Judge before whom the case was tried sustained the objection and quashed the indictment.

This is just one of the many incidents happening in the courts of Texas which have a tendency to make judges ridiculous and which result in a loss of respect for our courts and a disregard for the law. In this case, if the newspaper reports are correct, it was not the language of the indictment that was obscure—it was the minds of those whose duty it is to administer justice. Blinded by precedent and technicality and fear of reversal by the higher courts, the judges of Texas and many other States are costing the tax payers millions of dollars annually. Worse than that, they are undermining the usefulness of the courts of the land by creating a distrust in the minds of the people for that department of Government which was erected for their protection. Justice is not only blind, but she is deaf and dumb. She has been removed from her pedestal and the little "go-v." Technicality has been set up in her place.

The attorney for the defense, in the case cited, the judge on the bench and the prisoner at the bar all knew that "Mch" was used as an abbreviation for March in the indictment before the court. Was there any sane reason for quashing the indictment? If there was it did not appear in the report of the proceedings.

District judges are often influenced by the fear of reversal. The higher courts, and more particularly the Court of Criminal Appeals, in times past, has made a record on reversals on purely technical grounds. The district judge may know the law; the defendant at the bar may have had a fair trial before twelve intelligent jurymen. The judge may be satisfied that the defendant has been given every legal advantage and his rights fully protected, and then have the case returned to his court because of some trivial infraction of technical rules that in no way was material. Such may have been the reason for the action of the court in the Tarrant county case, but to suggest this is merely to pass the indictment on.

Crime would be less rampant; our court dockets less crowded; the cost of the judiciary cut in half and justice made more sure and certain could our judges be made to understand that the exercise of even average common sense in the conduct of their courts was necessary to the maintenance of dignity and to retain the respect of the people.—Farm and Ranch.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Enterprise By The First National Bank in St. Louis.

Big iron production shows a continued declining tendency. Production during May aggregated 1,221,200 tons. For a month of 31 days this constituted the smallest production since July 1908. On June 1st but 90 furnaces were active, a net loss of 6 active furnaces through shut-downs occurred during the month of May. Current production is at the annual rate of 14,000,000 tons as compared with the output of 37,000,000 tons during 1920.

Steel ingot production showed a slight gain for the month of May over that of April. Thirty companies reporting to the American Iron & Steel Institute (contributing about 86 per cent of the entire output last year) produced 1,265,850 tons in May as compared with 1,213,958 tons in April, although it was still 50 per cent under the figures of May 1920. Steel and iron production shows a decline for May of this year of about 50 per cent from January. The January output totalling 2,416,292 tons, whereas for May the output amounted to but 1,221,200 tons. For the month of June 1920 the iron and steel production amounted to 3,943,540 tons.

The steel corporation monthly statement of orders on its books shows a decrease during May of 362,737 tons compared with declines of 439,541 tons in April, 649,102 tons in March, and 873,359 tons in December, which latter represents the maximum since the downward tendency set in. May's decrease was the smallest since August 1920 and seems to indicate that the pace of reaction is slowly slackening.

THE PECOS DRAINAGE DISTRICT

Pecos, Texas, May 31st, 1921.

Mr. John Hibdon,
Owner of Enterprise,
Pecos, Texas.

My Dear Sir—
In looking over a lot of junk, in the trash box, I found an old report of Maj. Jno. Powell, ex-director of U. S. Geological Survey. In the fall of 1890, while in his Washington office, I mentioned that I was going to West Texas with the intention of settling, he directed a clerk to get and give me his latest report on the Arid Lands, from which I will send you from time to time extracts that may be of interest to your readers as well as to yourself.

Yours to command,
MAJOR.
P. S. My letter or rather card of introduction, given me by General Gordon preferably Senate Gordon, written on his visiting card, run about like this:

"Any courtesy shown to Major Bomar will be appreciated by me."

A carte blanche like this, given me by my various Senatorial friends was not only a great compliment to my character, but was an "open sesame" to any governmental official, and hence I had the pleasure of meeting very many of the highest in the land. Among many others Major Powell.

An Epitome of the "Pecos Drainage District."

As reported by Major Powell U. S. A., and condensed by Major Bomar for the Enterprise.

Major Powell's map shows that this district is pear shaped, the small end is near Mora, N.M., and within about sixty miles of the state of Colorado.

At Red Bluff on the southern line of New Mexico, it is 225 miles wide and has an area of approximately 45,000 square miles.

You will probably be surprised to learn that this district (or as I call it Catchment Basin,) is within twenty miles of El Paso, and that it catches the water of Alamogordo, Mesalero, Apache Res., Clouderoft, Fort Stanton, Fort Sumner, Los Vegas, Hot Springs and is within twenty miles of Santa Fe. It receives the waters of the Hondo, the Rio Felix, the Penasco, Black river and Delaware creek. It includes Roswell, Carlsbad and all the towns along the Pecos Valley railroad.

The lower part (that is of no interest to us,) merges into the Rio Grand Valley near Langtry, the site of Roy Beans "Law West of the Pecos."

Respectfully submitted,
MAJOR.

In another report I will give you what he says relative to rainfall—pump irrigation—farming soils etc.

PURE RELIGION

If any man among you seem to be religious, and brideth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this: To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world.—James 1, 26, 27.

Father Abram T. Ryan, the poet-priest beloved throughout the South—taking for his text Swedenborg's pronouncement that "religion relates to life, and the life of religion is to do good"—gave to the world a poem expressive of the philosophy of the "pure religion and undefiled" commended by the apostle:

He left a load of anthracite

In front of a poor man's door,

When the deep snow, frozen and white,

Wrapped street and square, mountain and moor.

That was his deed; he did it well.

"What was his creed?" I cannot tell.

Blessed in his basket and his store,

In sitting down and rising up;

When more he got, he gave the more.

Withholding not the crust and cup.

He took the lead in each good task.

"What was his creed?" I did not ask.

He had faith in loaves of bread

For hungry people, young and old;

Hope to be inspired, kind words he said

To those he sheltered from the cold.

For we should feed as well as pray.

"What was his creed?" I cannot say.

A few days ago the Presbyterian general assembly asked Secretary Davis of the department of labor for an opinion of the practicability of church aid in solving the problems of the nation. In reply, he cited a speech by President Harding, wherein it was said: "With a membership of nearly fifty millions, our churches today constitute the greatest force in the world. If this force would help in solving the national problems, or the individual, it must be more practically applied. I should like to see the teachings of the Master interpreted in the light of modern conditions," meaning, perhaps, less doctrinism and dogma, and more practical humanity, which is the basis of what the apostle describes as pure religion. For his own task, Secretary Davis said that many ways in which the church can help solve the industrial problems will present themselves to the thoughtful study of our enlightened ministry. Let the church teach economic and social justice, and thrift; and above all, let it teach the practical application of the Golden Rule, not as a millennial theory, but as a vital principle for daily guidance in all the affairs of life—"whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them." This is religion, pure and undefiled.—San Antonio Express.

THE GOAT

Who gets the blame when prices rise? The Merchant.

Who profits—in the public's eyes? The Merchant.

And yet, who protests each advance. And at each boost looks askance.

As a most serious circumstance? The Merchant.

Who takes the loss when prices fall? Who is the biggest goat of all? The Merchant.

Who gets shelves full, at the peak Of goods which drop within the week.

Who marks them down without a squeak? The Merchant.

Who is the public blaming now? The Merchant.

Who bears the brunt in all this row? The Merchant.

Who tries, in spite of meager sales To heed the public's frequent wails

For lower prices—and who fails? The Merchant.

Who donates money in your town? The Merchant.

Who never turns committees down? The Merchant.

Whom does your Ladies Aid first land?

Who coughs up for the local band? Should he refuse, then who is panned?

The Merchant.

TO SUBSCRIBERS

This week The Enterprise is mailing out cards to subscribers in arrears for subscription. The date of expiration of your paper is printed just after your name and 7-16-21 means that your subscription expires on the 7th month and 16th day of 1921. You can readily tell by looking up your paper when your subscription expires. The Enterprise is strictly cash in advance or no paper. On account of press of business and lack of time no cards have been sent out for some time. The next two issues will be mailed to all subscribers now on the list, after that every name on the list not paid in advance will be dropped from the list. If from any cause you have paid and did not get credit you had better sit down at once and drop a line to this office stating just when and how much you paid so that the matter may be looked into and the proper credit given—otherwise your name will be dropped. So if you want The Enterprise and your dates are or will be behind on July 8th you had better send in the cash. Back numbers of the paper may or may not be supplied. Sometimes we have extra copies and sometimes we don't. Whether you receive a card or not you had better watch the dates on your paper just opposite your name and if in arrears send in the amount if you want The Enterprise. Otherwise it will not be necessary to say anything for your name will be dropped. A word to the wise is sufficient warning, so take heed.

ADVERTISING RESPONSIBLE
The Shattuck (Okla.) Monitor has the following to say in reference to subscriptions:

"The Monitor does not usually send out personal duns for subscriptions. If you owe us anything you ought to know it and your check or cash on same will be appreciated. If you think the dope is worth the price come in and pay for it, if you don't think so have the guts to tell us about it and stop the paper."

To fail to pay up when the subscription has expired is sufficient evidence of the appreciation of The Enterprise. If you want the paper kick in, otherwise if you are in arrears, your name will be dropped promptly on expiration. Watch your dates.

The next meeting of the Texas Press Association will be held at Denton which is really and truly a school town and where the moulders of public opinion in Texas will have an opportunity to see just where our future generations get their training.

If you work for a man, in heavens name work for him. If he pays wages that supply you your bread and butter, work for him, speak well of him, stand well of him, stand by him, and stand by the institution he represents. I think if I worked for a man I would work for him. I would not work for him a part of his time, but all of his time. I would give an undivided service or none. If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage, why, resign your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content. But I pray you, so long as you are a part of an institution, do not condemn it. Not that you will injure the institution—not that—but when you disparage the concern of which you are a part, you disparage yourself.—Elbert Hubbard.

The Shattuck (Okla.) Monitor says:

"Shattuck can boast of as few mercantile failures as any town in the state. The reason has been we have always had a pretty fair bunch of conservative business men, and another thing is, that people in the vicinity of Shattuck are noted for paying their bills."

But, Bro. Mitchell, you neglected to mention the main reason for non-failures of Shattuck business men. They are splendid advertisers, and who ever heard of a live, wide-awake advertiser going broke?

The two weeks' vacation (bible school closed Sunday evening with appropriate commencement exercises at the Baptist church. While this is the first of the kind ever attempted in Pecos it was a start which portends no evil to the town. After two weeks of hard labor in bible study the teachers are better equipped to battle with the ills of life and many of our boys and girls have acquired a knowledge of the bible which would have taken nearly a year to accomplish in Sunday School work. It was a fine idea and is the beginning of a work of education which will grow to larger proportions as the years go by.

BUNCOMBE

San Antonio Commonwealth: While shot and shell were loaded into guns and fired away during the war—no actual cash was destroyed. The money that was in the world before the war is still on earth and a lot more, too. Why, then, do not the wizards of finance who control the world's money markets get it back into normal channels? They could do it if they would lay aside some of their greed.

One of the strangest things in this world is why folks can't get it into their heads that money will not do everything. To be sure, if there is any class that can be excused for knowing comparatively little about money, it is newspaper men—they handle so little of it. But here is a man with the experience and years of Jeff. McLemore, who is not only running a Republican paper in Texas, but who is falling for the idea that all we need in this country is more money. Long, long ago it was demonstrated that money is the medium of exchange for the things that really count. If you haven't anybody to exchange with you haven't any more use for money than an oyster has for a corn plaster. As a matter of fact, in the ultimate sense, there is more money in the United States than ever before. Compared to the rest of the world we have a heavier preponderance of monetary resources than any other country on the globe. As for material wealth in the sense of bushels and pounds, bales, boxes and feet and yards, we have more than ever before, more than any other nation. The trouble is, we can't dispose of our goods because foreign trade can't pay for them nor furnish good collateral for a future payment on them. There's nothing mysterious about that, and banking greed has nothing whatever to do with it. The banks could lend money to our manufacturers until they scraped the bottom of their vaults, but if the factories can't take their goods and find a buyer for them, the whole credit structure is bound to tumble down some time. The higher it towers the harder it must fall. Some people seem to think that it is a favor to a farmer to lend money to him when he has no prospect of paying it back. If the farmer is honest that is the poorest sort of favor. If he can pay it back or has a reasonable chance to pay it back he can get credit now. If he hasn't the probability of paying it back what he wants is not credit, but charity. There is no doubt but what there are some good men on the farms of Texas who now need a substantial portion of brotherly aid given without thought of receiving in return. And most of these unfortunates have a large 1921 crop of cotton coming on.—State Press in Dallas News.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The average person reads the home paper these days as much for the store news as he does for any other and no doubt he finds such news profitable to him. In this modern age the merchants and business firms tell the public through the columns of their local newspaper when they have anything worth while or of interest to the buying public, and on the other hand, the buying public has a right to feel that the business man or merchant who does not have anything to advertise has but little to sell.—Wills Point Chronicle.

Not to read the advertisements in the paper is to be loser. There is much that is beneficial to you in advertisements in addition to the opportunities they offer to buy necessary things with more information than might otherwise be had. Advertisements stimulate business for the advertiser because they remind the possible customer of his needs—or her needs, so to be more specific. Stimulated sales means stimulated production, and stimulated production means stimulated pay rolls. We could all get along by wearing overalls and shirts only speaking of the gentlemen, and skirts and blouses only, speaking of the ladies. But to dress meagerly would mean to manufacture meagerly, to buy and sell meagerly. Economy consists of the purchase of needed things without extravagance as to price. Advertisements afford the guidance in this matter. However it is scarcely necessary to admonish people to read advertisements. Everybody does read advertisements, everybody who reads at all. And even those who can't read can look at the pictures. Advertising is as much a force in modern business as railroads and telegraphs. The non-advertiser must depend upon large profits from low sales, for he can expect only the drop in trade of which there is always some, but never enough to pay adequate turns on the time which is invested in waiting for it.—State Press in Dallas News.

THE WEALTH OF A SMILING FACE

Did you ever think of the magic that lurks in the pleasing smile? Hain't you seen it disguise the tragic—that comes to us once in a while? . . . Why, it even disarms suspicion,—it comforts an' reassures, an' there's many a painful condition, that we know it speedily cures. . . .

The baby smiles at her kitten,—in a minnit it starts to purr. The feller is seldom bitten that smiles at the angry cur. I don't know how to explain it, this joy in life's stern chase,—but it's worth a world to obtain it,—the wealth of a smilin' face. . . .

I s'pose there's some that ignore it an' some that's inclined to scoff—these fellers that never have wore it,—the smile that can never come off. . . . But I know I'm right in insistin', which I've knowed for a long, long while,—that there simply ain't no resistin' the melting power of a smile.

THE ENTERPRISE ALWAYS RELIABLE

The following is one of the many letters received at The Enterprise office from a subscriber. Space forbids the publication of the many letters of this nature received at this office, but The Enterprise is appreciative and welcome's letters of commendation from its subscribers, and readers. The letter is from the County Superintendent of schools of Crowley county, Colorado:

Mr. John Hibdon,
Editor Enterprise,
Pecos, Texas.

Dear Mr. Hibdon:—
I am enclosing herewith post office money order for two dollars for my renewal to The Enterprise. I congratulate you upon the character of paper you are giving your patrons. I have been a subscriber for something over two years, and, altho I was never in Pecos, I feel that I know something of the kind of people living in your little city, for somehow I have always felt that the local paper could be relied upon as an index to the town. It has always been my custom upon entering a strange town to procure a copy of the local paper and read the editorials first, then the news and even the advertisements. Not until this was done did I feel that I was ready to mingle with the people.

Conscious of the newspaper's real mission, you have made The Enterprise always reliable, always on the side of justice, and never the instrument of any man or set of men. I never doubt what I read in The Enterprise. I may occasionally believe a statement to be incorrect, but never untruthful or misleading. Long live The Enterprise and all other such periodicals, whatever the political or religious beliefs of their individual publishers.

Sincerely yours,
R. E. RHINE.

NEW MEXICO CONDITIONS WORST IN 30 YEARS

An associated press dispatch from Santa Fe, N. M., states that the plains are seared, cattle being shipped out by carloads and others dying on the browned ranges of Grant, Luna and Hidalgo counties as the result of the prolonged drouth in the southwestern corner of New Mexico.

"The situation never was worse," said J. E. Saint, tax commission chairman, who recently spent some time in the stricken section. "I've been running in and out of that country for thirty years, and while it may have been worse some time, I don't remember it. Those three counties and part of Sierra are in awful shape. The plains are simply burnt up."

"I was told that 15,000 head had been moved out of Grant. I suppose a proportionate number has been moved out of Luna. Two of the biggest herds in Luna have been moved over into Mexico to get better feed."

"Hidalgo has better feed because it hasn't been overstocked as much as the other two counties. The feed there is dry, but there's more old grass there. It looked so to me from the train, though I didn't go out into the country."

Mr. Saint said he was told by H. A. Jastro, Bakersfield, Calif., owner of the "Diamond A" outfit, one of the biggest in New Mexico, that he had shipped all his cattle that would stand shipping to California ranges.

Contrary to the report that the recent rains brought relief to those counties Mr. Saint said little rain fell on the plains, although the mountain parts shared in the precipitation. The higher ranges were greatly benefited but those on the plains remained parched and dotted here and there by the carcasses of cattle.

Mr. Saint said he had not heard that some of the smaller cattlemen were turning their cattle over to the banks and leaving the country as recent visitors in Santa Fe from the southwest section, had stated.—Midland Reporter.

THE ENTERPRISE GIVES ALL THE NEWS

The following free and unsolicited advertisement of The Enterprise is clipped from a special news letter issued by the Texoland Leasing Syndicate of Los Angeles, California. These News letters as mailed out to the customers of this company keep them well informed of the conditions of their investments:

"We have received numerous inquiries from leaseholders asking us what paper gives the most authentic news regarding activities throughout the Pecos Valley field. In answer to these numerous inquiries and as a suggestion to others who wish to receive the news from the field weekly, we would recommend that you subscribe for the Pecos Enterprise, a weekly publication printed at Pecos, Texas. This paper is very conservative, giving out only such news as it considers authentic. If you have interests in the Pecos Valley the weekly drilling reports found in The Enterprise is well worth the price of subscription—$2.00 pays for a year's subscription—$1.25 for six months."

TRIPLE TIE IN CHURCH LEAGUE THURSDAY

A triple tie exists in the church league as a result of the defeat of the Christian by the Methodist in a ten inning game Thursday evening. The score was four to four at the end of the ninth, and a single score by the Christians put them ahead in the first inning of the tenth. In the ninth Ben Palmer, Jr., of the Methodist net a triple, Albert Sisk, hit and got to first. Palmer scored, Sisk took second and a passed ball and scored on Kerr's double to left made two scores and put the game on ice in the last half of the tenth.

Interest continues strong in the church league despite the heavy menu of baseball this week. So far the Baptists have defeated the Methodists, the Christian have defeated the Baptists and the Methodists have defeated the Christians. It will take a more experienced dopester than the sporting editor of this sheet to figure out any definite conclusion from a situation like that. The only way to find out will be to visit the ball park at five o'clock next Thursday when the Baptists and Methodists clash for their second game. Milt Wadley hurried for the Methodists, and Biggs was in the box for the Christians.

EL PASO WINS BASEBALL GAME HERE 2 OUT OF 3

Red Livingston's El Paso All Stars ended a two week trip over the Trans-Pecos region by annexing two out of three games with the Pecos team early in the week. The series provided some fast baseball to the sports-hungry populace of Pecos, and the response was fully sufficient to release the guarantors of the series from any financial responsibility.

The El Paso team also took Balmorhea into camp on Tuesday afternoon, 8 to 3 after the game scheduled at Balmorhea Sunday had to be postponed because of rain.

The El Paso boys started off with an easy victory, on Monday to the tune of eight to four. Murray pitched a good game, and had it not been for inexcusable errors at short stop, and elsewhere in the infield, the game would have been much more interesting.

On Tuesday after El Paso had cleaned up Balmorhea, Pecos stepped out and took the El Pasoites into camp to the tune of six to four. Cox was in the box for the locals this game, and with good support held the heavy hitting El Paso boys down.

The final game went to the visitors, the official record showing a score of six to one. This was probably the most interesting game of the series, and more real baseball was exhibited by the Pecos players, showing that with sufficient practice the local lads had the ability to compete with the best that El Paso has. Vernon Hicks was in the box, and pitched an excellent game, and the number of earned runs was considerably smaller than the final score, errors in tight places being responsible for several runs.

The El Paso boys came to Pecos after meeting Marfa, Alpine and Fort Stockton, and lost but three games out of thirteen on the series, losing one each to Alpine Marfa and Pecos.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

El Paso	Pecos.
Bedford	C Kerr and Slack
Fuller, Titus and Fuller	P Murray, Cox and V. Hicks.
Muat	1b M. Wadley
Hunter	2b Walter Browning
Titus and Fuller	3b Mount and Tudor
Medina	ss O. Hicks and Mount
Riggs	1f O. Hicks and Mount
Sharp	cf Jim Ross
Livingston	rf O. Johnson.

The El Paso team is to start a trip up the Pecos Valley next Tuesday, playing Carlsbad, Wednesday; Roswell, Thursday, Friday and Saturday; and a three days schedule with Clovis. Several members of the team went to El Paso, for a few days, others remaining in Pecos. It is possible that a game will be arranged, for Pecos next Monday. El Paso will have a few new faces in the line-up next week.

SARAGOSA NEWS

Last Wednesday night a farewell dance was given in honor of Miss Lanora Williams at the Saragosa school house. All present reported an enjoyable evening.

Bob Reid motored to Pecos Friday returning Saturday.

Mrs. Otto Zuber and little Dwain Arnold are on the sick list this week.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

Their many friends hope to see them up and around again soon.

Miss Lanora Williams left Friday night for Amarillo, Texas, where she will resume her work as bookkeeper and cashier in the Western Union office after six months furlough.

During the past week the farmers of the Valley have suffered great loss on account of the rain and hail. Larger lumps of hail fell during the past week than have been seen for years.

Mrs. J. W. B. Williams accompanied by her three daughters and niece motored to Pecos Friday when Miss Lanora took the train for Amarillo. E. F. Fugua and Wade Alley were Pecos visitors Friday.

Last Friday morning when the motor on P. V. S. railroad was nearing Saragosa with nine passengers on board, the motor was derailed, but fortunately no one was injured.

DIED

William Harry Otto, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Otto, died Wednesday June 22, 1921, after an illness of only one week. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the family residence conducted by Rev. H. L. Magee immediately after which burial was made in Fairview cemetery beneath a mound of beautiful flowers. Little William was just one year and three months old. He was a little sunbeam in the home, his merry prattle and the pitter patter of his foot steps was music to the ears of his loved ones. God had let them have him long enough for the heart strings to become deeply entwined about him and his going leaves a rent, an emptiness an aching heart that only the spirit of Christ and time can heal, but there is a silver lining to the darkest clouds and that is that the precious little one is safe in the arms of Jesus and will never know the sorrows and hardships of an earthly life. He, to his fond parents, is their treasure in heaven and will be a beacon light to them all along the way. The Enterprise extends deepest sympathy in this dark hour to the bereaved and commends them to the heavenly Father.

MEET 'UNCLE JOHN,' FOLKS

Dr. J. J. Gaines (Uncle John)

Of the few men in America today who are writing human interest, homey poetry, Dr. John J. Gaines is excelled by none. Quaintly musical, full of the human tone, disdainful of the "highbrow," they strike the responsive chord that is so charming to the ears of the great mass of American people today.

This is the man and this is the poetry that will entertain our readers through the Autocaster service, in which this newspaper holds an exclusive franchise. We will, therefore, publish a poem, or prose poem, by Dr. Gaines regularly during the next year. Watch for it.

Dr. Gaines ("Uncle John") resides and thrives at Excelsior Springs, Mo., which he describes as being "as nigh to the center of the earth as you can drive a stake."

Unlike other well-known newspaper poets, Dr. Gaines is country made, country bred, and continues in the country town life. Our readers will soon realize that he is one of them—a plain American citizen.

worth $25.00 to you to see us go on down? Our company is of only $100,000.00 capitalization, par value of stock $1.00, less than $35,000.00 of stock sold, no promotion stock, no salaried officers, no lease selling scheme and no graft. We are drilling today with less than $100.00 in the bank. I have put my every dollar into the well and every dollar the company has received. These are bare facts. I also give my word of honor that not one dollar of stock will be sold after we get the oil unless we are in debt on the derrick or need tankage to care for the oil and then only enough to pay for these necessary items. We have fought for every foot and will keep the sale of stock down to the very minimum for what we are drilling for is OIL and our stockholders and my own reward after we get it.

It takes $2,840.00 yet to pay for the derrick. They granted a two week extension but said they would expect their money. You know times are hard but your business, lands and leases will make you rich if you help us to go and without immediate help we cannot. Please be convinced. It is worth $25.00 or more to you even if you have to borrow it. You will be a lot poorer if we are forced to quit for want of your help. Stock given or issued for every dollar you send. We are not trying to sell you stock. But if you do not give or buy we have to quit.

TEXAS SCHOOL LANDS TO BE SOLD SEPTEMBER 15

Austin, June 11.—Approximately 500,000 acres of public domain and school lands will be thrown on the market on September 1, 1921, according to Land Commissioner J. T. Robison, who added that the list is expected to be ready for free distribution on July 1.

The bulk of this land is situated in the western portion of the state. Virtually all of this land has been forfeited to the state for nonpayment of interest on the unpaid purchase price and is subject to recovery if the interest is paid on or before September 1, 1921.

On account of the low prices which have been prevailing on various farm products, there is apparently little chance that any of these tracts will be redeemed by the original owners. The land will be sold by competitive bids. Most of this land is classified as dry grazing.

FIRST BALE COTTON

The first bale of cotton for 1921 was picked two weeks ago, ginned and shipped from San Bonito Wednesday, May 25. It is said to be the first bale of cotton marketed in the whole world from the new crop of 1921.

Last year the first bale was raised near Edinburg and ginned there and sent out on Thursday, June 24 and was sold for $1000 at Houston.

Endinburg got the worlds record of the first bale the year before when on June 30, the first bale was shipped to Houston and sold for $1600.

Last year's first bale was six days earlier and this year this first bale is 24 days earlier.—Mission Chronicle.

Sunday School is held every Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the Dubose school house, up the river.

There are between forty and fifty in attendance each meeting. People from Pecos are cordially invited to meet with them when they can.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend? Mrs. John DeRacy, Pecos, gave the following statement October 28, 1915: "I was troubled for a long time with my kidneys. My back was weak and lame and hurt me with a dull constant ache. I was tired and languid and had dizzy spells and headaches. Black spots often seemed to float before my eyes. I was also bothered with my kidneys acting irregularly. I heard a lot about Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. I got some at the Pecos Drug Co., Inc., and it only took two boxes to cure me. I haven't been bothered since."

LASTING RESULTS.
On April 7, 1919, Mrs. DeRacy said: "I haven't needed Doan's Kidney Pills since I recommended them in 1915 for the cure they gave me has lasted. I have been in fine health."

POOR PROSPECTS FOR TAX REDUCTION

To a few it has been fairly evident for a long time, that however sincere our statesmen may be in promising to economize, they can effect no considerable easement of the heavy tax burden the country is under until they find the courage and a way to operate ruthlessly on the Army and Navy Appropriation Bills. The effort to abolish superfluous places in the civil divisions of the Government and to reduce the salaries attached to some of those that escape destruction is commendable. But it will save from disappointment all who applaud this effort to keep the fact in mind that if the utmost that has been promised should be accomplished, the lessening of the tax burden would hardly be appreciable. This is so because of every dollar which the Government collects now, 84c, according to the lowest calculation, and 93c, according to the highest, is spent in paying for wars that have been fought and in preparing for wars that are expected.

It is worth while, even if a bit discouraging, to consider just what this signifies. During the fiscal year to end with this month the Government will have taken from the pockets of the people in various ways between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000 with the likelihood that the total will more nearly approximate $6,000,000,000 than $5,000,000,000. But take the smaller sum for the purpose of calculation, and assume that, instead of 16c or 7c, ten cents out of every dollar collected goes to finance the Government's civil functions. That gives $500,000,000 as the amount that will have been spent in the works of peace, and as the amount that is susceptible to reduction by the practice of economies in the Government's civil expenditures. One would be sanguine to imagine it possible to reduce that expenditure by more than a third. But if that were done, or even if $200,000,000 were lopped off, the taxpayer's burden would be lessened by about 4 per cent. His mind could comprehend that relief, but his back would probably be insensible of it.

If the taxpayer is to get enough relief to be felt, economy must invade our war expenditures. There is an opportunity worthy of its best effort. But even that opportunity, unhappily, is not so large as it may seem to be at a glance. That part of our war expenditures that goes to the liquidation of wars already fought is not susceptible to much reduction, if any, at present, nor will it be for a long time in the future. Bonds must be paid, interest and principal, and this fixed charge will not soon diminish perceptibly. So must pensions be paid, and for a long time these will increase, despite the erasures death is now so fast making in the Civil War list. On top of this there is to be the bonus, if the congressional leaders of the party in power have their way, and for three or four years this will be quite a sensible addition to the tax burdens. Of our war expenditure, it will probably be found, when the Army and Navy Appropriation Bills emerge from the conference committees, that the amount susceptible to reduction is not more than $1,500,000,000. If that were cut in half and civil expenditures in third—achievements which every one would do well not to expect to see even approximated for a long time to come—the saving would be less than $1,000,000,000, and so less than 20 per cent of the tax burden which the country now supports.

The party in power has fostered rather a large hope of tax reduction. The country might as well reconcile itself to the disappointment of it, and substitute the smaller and more national hope that its tax burden will not be made heavier.—Dallas News.

A QUEER WORLD MY MASTERS.

Payment of interest on the Mexican foreign debt will be resumed on July 1 and the national budget of expenditures will be increased 20,000,000 pesos for that purpose. It is said the interest amounts approximately to 40,000,000 pesos per year.

President Obregon is doing his best to create a stable government. He is doing his best to pay the foreign debt of Mexico. He is doing his best to protect the lives of foreigners and their property interests. It is a queer condition of affairs, isn't it?

Peace has been declared and the peace resolution recognizes the republican government of Germany. Later along a treaty of commerce will be arranged. It cost the lives of 100,000 Americans and a treasury of $33,000,000,000 to dethrone the Hohenzollerns. Now the United States is at peace with Germany and has recognized the German government.

Mexico is our neighbor. Mexico is a friendly neighbor but before the United States government will recognize the Obregon government in Mexico the president of the Aztec republic must sign a guarantee that Mexico will be good at all times; that the lives of foreigners must be protected at all times and that the property interests claimed by foreigners must be protected and their so-called concessions not assailed in the courts or by the lawmakers of Mexico. This is a queer world, my masters.—Fort Worth Record.

MAKING A NEWSPAPER

The Temple Daily Telegram has had a motion picture produced which was put on the screen at McAllen during the meeting of the Texas Press Association at that place with the above caption. It will undoubtedly be shown in Pecos at an early date and is well worth your time and money to see.

Few of our people understand the details and expense involved in "Making a Newspaper" and it will be educative and instructive. The picture cost the Telegram some three thousand dollars.

It might not be out of place here to state that McAllen has an up-to-date theater and that those in charge furnished the entire press gang complimentary season tickets. McAllen and her people put the big pot in the little one and left nothing undone which would make Texas editors have a splendid meeting, yet leaving them plenty of time to transact business.

THOUSAND OF CATTLE DYING IN SOUTHERN ARIZONA

Ed. Hodges, buyer for the Yuma Meat Market, has returned from an extensive trip to the cattle ranges of Southern Arizona particularly of Pima, Cochise and Pinal counties. He states that the ranges are in deplorable condition and that literally thousands of cattle are dying of starvation and for lack of water. Mr. Hodges expects a great many cattle to be shipped to feed upon the alfalfa and other feeds of the Yuma Valley.—Yuma Sun.

KIGHT TELLS HOW TO DESTROY BOLL WEEVILS

The following article may be of interest to many readers of The Enterprise who raise cotton and at the same time may be the direct cause of saving them many dollars. It was taken from the Stephenville Empire and follows:

Below will be found data relative to what is said to be a very effectual and non-expensive method of destroying a large percent of the boll weevil, which may be of interest to some of our farmer friends. H. L. Kight of Dublin who was here Tuesday gave us this information:

"Cut the top out of a large bush and fasten, top down, to the cultivator in front of the plows. Let the brush go down within 6 to 8 inches of the ground and brush the row of cotton being plowed which will shake the weevil and punctured squares to the ground and the plows will cover them. After the cotton has been laid by if there are any weevil sign take a hay rake and go over the ground every few days, the oftener the better, until cotton begins to open. Any farmer may depend on making cotton if these suggestions are followed, so far as the boll weevil interference is concerned. I personally know a man who grew 13 bales on 40 acres, who cultivated according to above method, while his neighbors made a bale to 15 acres."

After spending a most enjoyable visit at the home of J. W. Prewitt, Mrs. Dr. Halsey and her daughter, Miss Delia Halsey, left Tuesday for their home in Arizona.

Mrs. J. N. Bly of Calumet, Oklahoma, a subscriber and friend to The Enterprise, was a Pecos visitor Tuesday and Wednesday, stopping off for a visit to the oil city on her way to California where she goes to spend the summer with relatives. Mrs. Bly has interests near the Bell well.

Geo. H. Clements, secretary of the Toyah Chamber of Commerce, was in Pecos Monday on his way to the Davis Mountains, where he goes to secure photographs of scenes in the proposed State Park for advertising purpose. Clements is a versatile writer and a live wire secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eddins were guests of Mrs. Eddin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Heard of Midland, last week.

Mrs. Mary Boatright, who with her mother and little son, spent last summer at Eureka Springs, Arkansas, has a very interesting letter in the "Flash-light," a newspaper of that town under date of June 10th. In this letter she does not fail to give Reeves county farming and oil interests a deserved boost.

A. E. Hayes returned Saturday from a three week's business trip in San Antonio. Arthur is a live wire business man and is doing business despite the hard times.

Jim Wheat left Wednesday on a business trip to Kansas City. Jim remarked to The Enterprise that "I am going to Kansas to help harvest the wheat crop." Jim is very hopeful that the Toyah Bell No. 2 will be a real oil well before his return, which will be only a few days and The Enterprise suspects his harvesting will be confined to the fields of Reeves and Loving counties and that after he starts he will have his hands full of real "Williams" and of large denominations. Jim is a booster and has never slackened in his faith that the Toyah Bell would be a real gusher when it was put down to the proper depth.

Miss Ida Breeding has returned to her home in Carlsbad, N. M., after a few days visit to her sister, Mrs. W. Dean. Miss Breeding was enroute home from El Paso where she had been teaching the past year.

Mrs. Cavett will visit in Poseyville for a few weeks longer then join her husband in Chicago, her old home, and where her parents reside. These are good people and have made many friends while residing in Pecos who regret to lose them, but wish for them much success and happiness in their home in Chicago.

Arch W. Bell left yesterday for California and other parts of the northwest in the interest of the Los-Pecos Syndicate. Work on his well has ceased for the present while the company is preparing to standardize the rig. Arch is an indefatigable worker and hustler and has been on the job all the while.

C. W. GIFFIN ILL

The many Reeves county friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Giffin will be grieved to learn that Mr. Giffin is in ill health. Mr. Giffin was a resident of Reeves county for many years and a successful fruit grower and a splendid booster and live wire. He and his good wife are held in the highest esteem by our people. The following letter from Mrs. Giffin to Mrs. R. S. Johnson is self explanatory and will explain his condition, which our people hope will be much improved and this good man restored to his health at an early date. The letter follows:

Rochester, Minn, June 2, 1921.

Dear Mrs. Johnson:—
Doubtless you will be surprised at my writing from here. Doctor in San Antonio advised an operation, in fact, told us an immediate operation was necessary, so we came right on here from San Antonio. Have been here two weeks and they have been xraying and testing him every day for the past two weeks. The last time we were in to the examining Doctor he said, so far, they had not found anything to operate for and sent him to a nerve specialist. So we don't know just what they will decide on. He has been much better since he came here, but still weak from a long spell in bed. XXX
With love,
MARY E. GIFFIN.

Takes the nervous strain out of Dressmaking

*Have you sometimes had to rip out a carefully sewed seam and do the work all over again?

Have you ever taken sleeves out and put them in again three or four times before they were right? Many women have.

Have you bothered over a collar, trying to make it right, until you wished you had never started the garment?

Have you fussed over revers, trying to attach them right and make the right connection with the collar?

You need the Deltor, the Butterick invention that has revolutionized dressmaking.

The DELTOR takes the nervous strain out of dressmaking.

It tells you explicitly what to do and how to do it.

It leaves nothing to chance from the moment of laying the pieces on the goods for cutting, all through the putting together and up to the last finishing touch.

THE DELTOR

is simply a picture story of each step in making a garment.

It covers cutting, putting together and finishing.

It is prepared for each new Butterick pattern and enclosed in the envelope with the pattern.

It shows how to lay out each piece of the pattern on whatever width of goods you use.

It guards against cutting any piece on the wrong grain of the cloth.

And with the pieces cut, its directions for putting together are so plain, so clearly shown, so carefully worked out, that collars and revers and sleeves and everything else go together in a way that seems like magic.

Only it isn't magic but accuracy, perfect planning, simply followed out by you.

The DELTOR has eliminated all risk. It means wonderful economy in the cost of your clothes.

It means style — style that reflects the last word of fashion — style carried out with a note of authority that stamps the garment instantly for its up-to-date character.

It means the lovely French finish for everything you make, as the Deltor carefully explains just how to get that matchless French effect in finishing—special directions for every pattern.

The Deltor is furnished exclusively with Butterick Patterns
