CATTLE CREDIT PLAN NO GOOD, SAYS KELL

Harry Bengé Crozier, Staff Correspondent of the Dallas News, has the following interesting article in that splendid newspaper relative to the relief of the Stockmen which will be read with interest by our people. It comes from Wichita Falls under date of July 16 and follows:

If the live stock industry is to be brought out of the mough of economic depression, extension of credit to live stock growers must be predicated upon the "recognition of the stock raisers' reputation for business integrity and business capacity." Any plan of extending credit that falls short of that principle will fail to render a full measure of benefit, in the opinion of Frank Kell. Mr. Kell, though being a director of the Eleventh District Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas and possessed of first-hand information through extensive holdings in the cattle business, has interested himself in furtherance of the hopes of Texas cowmen for financial assistance.

Upon his return to Texas from New York a few weeks ago Mr. Kell addressed a letter to Governor W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, offering an analysis of the situation confronting the live stock industry and suggesting again that aid be extended through a liberalization of the War Finance Corporation plan or Government backing of private banking institutions that would guarantee them against losses at final liquidation.

Against Loans on Steers.
In that letter, written while the banking pool plan was still in a nebulous stage, Mr. Kell offered this idea: "I am quite thoroughly convinced that unless some aid is extended in some way so that the steers, calves and yearlings can be preserved without being forced upon the market and butchered, that there is in the end going to occur a serious condition, as this character of cattle should be conserved for the ranges and future meat supply of the country. I am, however, fully convinced that steer cattle over 1 year old should not be made eligible for any public financing, as these cattle should be made to take care of themselves."

The reply of Governor Harding indicated that his private views may be believed to be generally in accord with those of Mr. Kell, and he suggested that the matter be taken up with Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon. The ideas of Mr. Kell are fairly indicative of the views of the cattlemen of West Texas generally. Practically the only hope that West Texans have professed to the News correspondent to see in carrying out of the bankers' pool project is that private trading may be stimulated to the point where there may be a more or less free movement of Southwestern range cattle to the green feeding grounds of the Northwestern States.

Some Relief in Pool.
Mr. Kell has given the matter deeper study than the average cowman, and he believes that some relief will be afforded by the plan unfolded in The News this morning. "This plan, while offering some relief to the cattle industry, will not go far enough to save a large per cent of the mother cows and calves," he wrote. His own disinterestedness in the matter is attested by his reference in the letter to Secretary Mellon of the view that the relief measures should not be made to extend to beef cattle, and the notation that although he is quite extensively in the cattle business, "our holdings are steer cattle more than 1 year old, and according to our idea, paper given against this class of cattle should not be eligible through either of the plans herein suggested."

The loans of the Stock Growers' Finance Corporation will not be limited to breeding stock, and will be made to apply as well to stocker and feeder cattle, according to the outline of the plan sent from Chicago yesterday.

Little Help For Needy.
It is further at variance with the ideas of Mr. Kell, Governor Harding, Judge W. F. Ramsey of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank and Texas cattlemen generally in that it demands the showing of a "substantial equity and value over the amount advanced." Mr. Kell points out in his letter to "Secretary Mellon that little may be expected by the man who really needs relief for the reason that his herds are already mortgaged for as much "if not in most instances considerably more than the actual value of the stock."

In his San Angelo address and again in his Dallas address Governor Harding declared with emphasis that these conditions must be met by whatever agency attempted to grant relief to the cattle industry. Those three conditions in the order assigned and the sound judgment and capacity of the borrower; a liberal conception of the value of his live stock and means for absorbing with land mortgages whatever over-margin remains

FAINT HEART NEVER WON FAIR LADY

ed. He explained that in placing a value upon live stock holdings their growing value in pounds of meat and increase a year hence and not their sacrificial value on the stockyards should be taken into consideration.

Divergence in Plans.
Recalling Governor Harding's pronouncement at the time, Mr. Kell in the interview today pointed out the wide divergence between Governor Harding's plans for relief and the plan that it had been announced will be put in operation Monday morning.

In elaboration to his belief that steers should be considered as a bale of cotton or any other farm product and not be given preferential treatment, Mr. Kell advances an argument for governmental recognition of the plight of the cattle industry. He admits the dangers of setting a precedent in the favoring of a single industry unless a national interest is involved, but calls attention to the imminence of a domestic meat famine unless the slaughter of mother cows and young cattle is halted. Already, he declares, banks are influencing persons whose paper they hold to move their cows and calves to Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska for fattening and sale for immediate slaughter. The continuance of the present situation would bring about a shortage of beef cattle so acute that it would take from three to five years to restore depleted herds to the point where the Nation's current meat supply could be furnished, he said.

Moral Security.
He suggests to Mr. Mellon that the pool now ready for operation be allowed to continue, but that early recognition be taken of the fact that it will not solve the problem nor avert "what it is quite apparent will become a national emergency," and that some plan sufficiently liberal "that the question of security behind the loan would not always be the controlling factor, but the cattle growers' reputation for business integrity and business capacity should be largely considered in extending this financial support."

He protests also against the terms of the loans proposed by the pool that would extend only a moral obligation to renew the note after its maturity at the end of six months. "The time of the maturity of the paper should be made not less than twelve months and in most instances eighteen months and two years, and the rate of interest should not be exorbitant," he said.

If there is doubt in the mind of the administration leaders of the wisdom of seeking relief through the War Finance Corporation, the belief is expressed that Congress can be made to see the justice of enacting legislation to enable bankers to extend real relief without the fear of loss finally. He offers also to cooperate to any degree that may be necessary to furnish full and adequate information on the subject.

DRS. CAMP AND BRYAN IN OLD OFFICE

During the oil boom here in the spring of 1920 Dr. Camp sold his office building and moved up-stairs over the Green Mercantile store. After some litigation Dr. Camp has again been put in full title to and possession of his property and this week he and Dr. Lusk moved back into their old quarters. In the future you will not have to climb a flight of stairs to get to them when you have an ache or broken limb. Just call at their old office and really feeling better themselves and are undoubtedly, under these conditions better able to take care of your tired and sick bodies.

THE T. & P. ROAD TO BE OILED

Crude oil is being assembled at Toyah and other points along the Texas & Pacific railway preparatory to oiling the dirt track, to keep down the dust and add to the pleasure of the traveling public.

The tracks will be oiled all the way from Sierra Blanca to Fort Worth, the work to start immediately. A patent sprayer which can be attached to the tank cars will spray the ground for a distance of probably twenty feet on each side of the track. The work will be started at Sierra Blanca and oil is now being assembled at the rate of four and five car loads per day.

With the oiled track to eliminate dust and dirt, the using of oil burning engines to eliminate smoke and cinders and the new equipment on the fast trains, the equal of any in the country and a dining car service that just can't be excelled, the old reliable Texas & Pacific is going to take a big step forward.—Big Spring Herald.

"CALIFORNIA OR BUST"

On Tuesday of this week as E. L. Stratton started out with his family and purp in his automobile he hailed the editor and said: "Bound for California this time or Bust." This was about 1 p. m. About two or three hours later they were all in Pecos again after having gone about ten miles out. At a point near Hermosa he "busted" a tire and tube—in other words had a blowout. Another rim was put on and another blowout or "bust" and Stratton returned to the city.

They all left early Wednesday morning and The Enterprise hopes they will have a pleasant trip.
Later—After getting a forty mile start on his journey to California Mr. Stratton again "busted" something about his car and he sent to Pecos for another to trail him back home—reaching home sometime Wednesday night. He is still in Pecos and, undaunted, will make another start as soon as needed repairs are made on his car. The first start he made ten miles, the second forty miles. Who will attempt to guess how far he will go on the third lap? Evidently he needs Pecos or Pecos needs him, or at least the opportune time for his departure has not arrived. At any rate The Enterprise is betting that Stratton gets there just the same. He never fails.

WHAT MR. SHERROD THINKS OF THE ENTERPRISE

Very few of the many compliments received from readers outside the county (none are ever heard from inside) are ever referred to in these columns, although they are numerous and very gratifying to the editor. However the writer cannot refrain from publishing a little excerpt from a letter under date of July 16, 1921, from Mr. Benjamin Sherrod, vice-president and manager of the Thebes-Sherrod Lumber Co., of El Paso, which is as follows:

"In this connection, I can truthfully say that your paper (The Enterprise) is more ably edited and better gotten up than any small town paper we have ever perused and when those oil fields materialize, we hope to offer you some advertising as well as renewing our subscription."

Such a compliment, coming from such a worthy source, is enough to swell the head of any ordinary country publisher, and the Enterprise editor may be pardoned for producing this testimonial due to the fact that it is due our home people to know just what the people away think of The Enterprise.

COMMISSIONER A. W. HOSIE SERIOUSLY ILL

County Commissioner A. W. Hosie who was stricken ill in the court room about a month ago is still in a serious condition at his home in Toyah, according to E. B. Daniel of the Citizens-State Bank of Toyah who had visited Hosie Wednesday night.

After being stricken here he went to Odessa for treatment by a physician there who is also a friend of Mr. Hosie and while there was partially stricken with paralysis. He was brought to his home in Toyah Monday and while he is able to walk some with assistance he is believed to be in rather an alarming condition, yet it is not altogether improbable that he will recover.

Mr. Hosie has been county commissioner from the Toyah precinct for years, owns Toyah city and ranch property and has quite a nice herd of cattle. He has been one of the leaders in all public enterprises in Toyah for years and is a public spirited, generous, big hearted man.

The Enterprise along with a host of other friends hopes for his early and complete recovery.

EISENWINNE BUYS REGISTERED BULLS

Reeves county stockmen are determined to have only fine herds of Herefords and are this year replacing many old bulls with young registered bulls of the best breeding.

Julius Eisenwine about the 5th of the present month purchased from an Odessa breeder ten head of as fine purebred, registered Hereford bulls as there is in the county. Julius already has a fine bunch of bulls but he believes in infusing new blood into his herd and always selects the best obtainable.

INCREASING CROPS BY USE OF SULPHUR

Farmers in Oregon and Washington have greatly increased their alfalfa crops by the application of sulphur. This practice is based upon the results of investigations by the experiment stations in these States, as well as of demonstrations of the use of sulphur on alfalfa conducted by the county agricultural agents in co-operation with specialists from the agricultural college. In Deschute county last year 285 tons of sulphur were used, at a total cost of a little more than $14,000, and the increased yield, reckoned at $20 a ton, was $120,000. In Jackson county 277 tons, costing about $13,000, are estimated to have increased the yield $110,000. In Klamath county 98 tons, costing $5,400, gave an estimated increase of $40,000, reckoning alfalfa at $15 a ton. Demonstrations in Josephine, Wallowa and Wasco counties give a similar ratio of results. The first experiments in sulphur fertilization in these States were made in 1912. Rapid development of the innovation was made possible through the system of county agents and key men who were practical farmers.—Reclamation Record.

EQUALIZATION BOARD IN SESSION

The Board of County Commissioners are in session this week as an equalization board. The recent reduction in valuations of taxable property in Reeves county necessitated an alteration in assessments for the year 1921. Valuations were lowered approximately three-eighths. A working basis for assessed values on real and personal property was adopted, and which is subject to a sliding scale is as follows: Cattle $20.00 per head; stock horses, $10.00; sheep $3.00; and goats $2.00. Saddle horses, milch cows, etc. will be subject to an ad valorem valuation. Alfalfa land $25.00; cultivated land, not in alfalfa $7.50; river lands $3.50 and lands within a radius of from three to five miles of Pecos $3.50; town lots will be subject to the same reduction in valuation and will be assessed according to location.

Owing to the serious illness of A. W. Hosie, of Toyah, Mr. E. B. Daniels is acting in his place on the board. He is in an advisory capacity only and is a valued authority on valuations in the Toyah district. It is expected that at least one week will be required for the commissioners to readjust taxable valuations. The following members of the board are in session: Judge J. F. Ross, chairman and Commissioners C. C. Koontz, Julius Eisenwine, R. N. Couch and E. B. Daniels, acting for A. W. Hosie.

DAVIS MOUNTAIN STATE PARK COMMITTEE ORGANIZED

The Davis Mountain State Park Committee was organized at a meeting of more than fifty citizens of the various communities surrounding the mountains at Balmorea last Saturday.

It was decided to pursue an active publicity campaign in an endeavor to interest the present session of the state legislature in the project, and to ask that a committee be appointed from the legislature to visit the park.

The next meeting is to be held at Fort Davis on August 10, when the future course of action of the committee will be decided upon.

Officers were elected as follows: Chairman, W. W. Stewart; vice chairman, Judge James F. Ross; secretary, J. M. Pouncey, Alpine; publicity secretary, George H. Clements; of Toyah, and treasurer, C. C. Boyd, of Balmorea.

Executive committee: Luke Brite, Marfa; W. R. Bloys, Fort Davis; W. N. Sutherland, Pecos; E. B. Daniel, Toyah; J. D. Jackson, Alpine; James Rooney, Fort-Stockton; and Willis McCutcheon, Limpia.

CATTLE MARKET AND STOCK ITEMS

The latest cattle quotations on the Fort Worth Market wired to H. F. Anthony by Daggett-Keen Commission Co., are reported as follows: Cattle 3000 including 1500 calves. Slow on steers; strong on cows, yearlings and calves. Beaves 3.00 to 6.50; stockers 2.00 to 3.75; cows 2.00 to 4.50; canners 2.00 to 6.50.

Beckham Bros. shipped two car loads from Pyote to Daggett-Keen Co. William Cowan and A. Stevenson of Bisbee, Ariz. were here Saturday. Anthony sold them 2 loads of the Scarborough bulls from Midland, he also sold one car of hogs for Geo. Duncan and a bunch of young hereford bulls to Elmer Wadley from the R. W. Smith ranch at Odessa.

STANDING OF THE CHURCH LEAGUE

	W. L. Pet.
Christians	3 1 750
Baptists	2 3 400
Methodists	2 3 400

By taking the Baptists into camp by the score of 6 to 5 Thursday night the Methodist tied with their opponents for second place in the Church League. Wadley was on the box for the Methodists and let his opponents down with six hits, while Murray for the Baptists was touched for nine. Next Thursday evening the Baptists and the league leaders clash.

The Toyah Bell No. 2, passed into new hands during the past week under a contract which assures the hole being pushed down to 4,000 feet or better. The new managers, Blayton Ramsey and Frank Johnson, have been interested in the Pecos Natural Oil Company, which has been in charge of operations for several months past, and now for an interest in the completed well have agree to push the hole from its present depth of 3,500 feet to 4,000 feet or better. A new 4,500 feet cable has been ordered. The drill this week has been working in a brown formation which carries considerable oil.

C. H. Willoughby, who has been in charge of operations on the Toyah Bell No. 2, is to give his attention to another drilling proposition which he is arranging in a site selected by him in Loving county. L. M. White, treasurer and trustee for the Toyah Bell Oil Company, the original driller of the well, was here for the conference and participated in the negotiations for the contract. The new managers to be backed by Willets, California interests.

The Toyah Bell is the deepest hole in the Pecos territory, and has had a large number of very favorable showings, and the drill has penetrated several formations in which experienced oil men have reported that production would undoubtedly be found if nitroglycerine was placed in the well. However, acting on the advise of the U. S. geological survey, the management has determined to push the hole down to 4,000 feet in the belief that the oil bearing Pennsylvanian formation would be found at that depth, and that a natural flow would be discovered.

Potash in Pinal Dome.

A red salt formation at below 990 feet in the Pinal Dome's test in northeastern Loving county, has again revived hopes of making this a potash territory in addition to an oil field. The extent of the potash formation is not known, although it is understood that Drue A. Christner the U. S. geological survey potash man who has visited this field several times recently, would return during the next week and inspect the Pinal Dome find.

The red salt formation was found in a red clay formation, and its geological location is said to be well fitted for good production. This discovery is the shallowest at which potash has been discovered in any of the West Texas territory, the next shallower find being in the River well in Ward county, at 1600 feet, and these latter finds are taken to indicate that the trend of the potash deposits are in the western direction. The Pinal Dome has made a complete water shut off in the gypsum formation at slightly below 900 feet by the use of the mud shut off method advocated by government experts.

Bell Set 5 3-16 Casing.

The Bell No. 1, will be forced to set a string of five and three sixteenths inch casing at between 1900 and 2,000 feet as a result of a break near the bottom of their 1990 foot hole of the six and five eighths inch casing. The lower two joints of this casing has parted in the well, and because of caving formations above, it was deemed impossible to pull the string and effect a repair job. The casing has been ordered, and is expected within a few days.

Laura Still Reaming.

George Livingston, when interviewed as to the progress on the Laura well this morning says: "Nothing to report except work—hard work—at the Laura. We are still straight reaming and making satisfactory headway." In further conversation Mr. Livingston says that the oil continues to come up over the top with the water and that he has been drilling oil well all his life and believes that could this water be cut off and the well shot in the sand from which this oil comes it would produce a thousand barrel well.

The Toyah Shallow Oil Company has made 320 feet of hole in their Saragosa well.

Underreaming logs have reached here for the Helen S. of the Texas Drilling & Development Company, and the hole is to be reamed out down to nearly 1100 feet where a shut off is to be made before drilling deeper. The time waiting for the arrival of the logs has been taken up in drilling a water well near the main hole.

A new crew was expected to reach the Owens No. 2 in Eastern Culbertson county this week, to replace the former contractor and crew. It is understood that the contractor has returned his contract due to difficulties he has with the No. 1 well ten miles to the east of the No. 2. The No. 2 is reported to be down below 2400 feet and to have had excellent showings.

WILL TAKE NO LONG CHANCES ON LOANS

Chicago, Ill., July 14.—The Stock Growers' Finance Corporation, as the $50,000,000 bankers' pool to aid the cattle industry is called, does not expect to "gamble too much in the way of taking chances on hazy collateral," according to John R. Washburn, its treasurer. Cattlemen whose herds are already mortgaged up to the handle and still need money will be obliged to look to their local banker or cattle company to indorse for them or guarantee the loan, according to the same authority, who says: "We must be protected before we let go any part of this $50,000,000." Mr. Washburn says that cattlemen who have loaded up on high-priced steers and have been feeding them on high-priced feed ought to get rid of them at the best price they can get, taking losses if necessary.

The pool will rediscount cattle notes for banks and cattle companies, provided these notes are eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Banks, which are expected to again discount them for the pool.

Pool Ready July 18.

Everett C. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Exchange, announces that the pool will be in operation July 18.

"The delay in getting started," said Mr. Brown, "has been due to arranging to make the advances to the pool by subscribing banks eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Bank.

"This has been accomplished and M. L. McClure, a live stock commission man, banker and ex-president of the National Live Stock Exchange, will be in charge of the corporation with offices in the Continental and Commercial Bank Building, Chicago. The executive committee, consisting of six members, will have power to make rules and regulations for the operation of the corporation and the loaning of its funds consistent with sound live stock loaning practices.

"I am glad to say that many banks subscribing to this pool have not heretofore handled live stock loans, which is indicative of the hard work which has been done in behalf of the producers of live stock. The loans will not be confined to breeding stock, but the money also will be loaned on stockers and feeders.

No Direct Loans.

"No direct loans will be made by the corporation for the reason that the machinery for making the necessary investigation of loans has not been provided. The loans will be made by local banks and cattle loan companies to the producers—the bankers and cattle loan companies indorsing and guaranteeing the paper.

"We have worked long and faithfully to get this pool in operation and I am sure a vast amount of good will result to the producer by providing him with ample funds. I can assure the live stock producers of the Southwest that Mr. McClure is thoroughly conversant with the live stock business, with current live stock conditions throughout the country and that he will make the pool a decided success from the standpoint of the producing farmer."

Officers of the Pool.

The pool operates under corporate name of the Stock Growers' Finance Corporation. The officers are M. L. McClure, president; F. H. Conner, vice president; John R. Washburn, treasurer, and John Fletcher, secretary. These, with M. A. Taylor and S. T. Kiddoo, compose the executive committee.

After two weeks' negotiations with the Federal Reserve Board and the officials of the Federal Reserve Bank, the pool has arrived at an agreement by which the Stock Growers' Finance Corporation may discount its paper. There are two methods which may be followed. All mortgages, notes and collateral will be deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago as custodian.

A participating bank in the pool may take its receipt for a contribution (to the pool) to the Reserve Bank or take its personal note to its local reserve bank. The latter will notify the Chicago Reserve Bank, which will allocate a part of the collateral sufficient to cover the amount of the loan after having it indorsed by the borrowing bank.

Must Be Secured.

President McClure said today: "Loans offered must be secured by mortgages and live stock, showing a substantial equity and value over the amount advanced, and all loans must be accompanied by the following information: Report of an inspector showing number and quality and his estimate of the value of the security; original chattel mortgage or certified copy, showing record certificate, office copy of the chattel mortgage (need not be certified), financial statement of the maker of the paper, and abstract of the record. All loans must be eligible for rediscount with the Federal Reserve Banks, and the papers should be prepared accordingly on all notes. The last as well as all previous indorsements, must waive demand notice and protest.

"Loans will be accepted with date of maturity running six months or less, and if found satisfactory will be extended or renewed for a period of six months or less, not exceeding a time of thirty months from date of loan, at which time payment will be required.

"Applications for loans should be submitted a few days in advance of the need for the money, giving sufficient time for our organization to act on applications intelligently.

Seven Per Cent Rate.

"Not having the organization to properly inspect and investigate loans, and recognizing that the situation requires that the funds be made available promptly, the policy of making no direct loans has been adopted. The rate of discount to be charged for the present is fixed by the executive committee at 7 per cent.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHIL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or digest the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

"Many banks who have never handled live stock loans are participating in this movement to assist the live stock interests and not just to relieve the banks and loan companies. Therefore, it is expected that the banks and loan companies will use the privileges of the organization freely, and having provided a method to carry this class of loans, they will continue their efforts to support the industry by new loans. We feel if this policy is faithfully carried out satisfactory results will immediately follow, and to that end we ask the co-operation of the friends of the State live stock industry.

No Hazy Collateral.

Mr. Washburn said today: "This pool of $50,000,000 has not been subscribed to by the bankers to pull chestnuts out of the fire. We've got the money and disposition to help out the cattlemen, but we don't expect to gamble too much in the way of taking chances on hazy collateral. "The best thing that can happen to a lot of these cattlemen who have bought steers at a high price, and been feeding on high-priced feed is to get rid of them at the best figure they can. If they can't get their investment out of them they must liquidate and take their loss like others who have been similarly caught.

"We are ready to receive applications for rediscount from banks and cattle loan companies. Any bank that is loaded up with loans to the cattleman can send in the paper, and if they guarantee it we will discount it and they can get more money to loan out to other needy cattlemen, but we do not intend to loan any money to cattlemen unless the security is good.

"I understand that lots of cattlemen have their herds mortgaged up to the hand and still need money. All I can say is that they must prevail upon their local banker or cattle loan company to furnish the indorsement or guarantee for them and they will be able to get more money. But we must be protected before we let go of any part of this $50,000,000.

The above list does not include many shallow wells in the Toyah field, and only those in actual operation. I know of no oil field that at the same stage of development (20 months) that had so many active wells. That migratory or seepage oil has shown to a remarkable amount proves beyond question that at the big pools it is certain that some of these operations will go into them when they get deep enough, which may be anywhere from 600 to 800 feet. ENDING WAR WITH- OUT MAKING PEACE

Rather than make the resolution declaring the war ended wait the two days he will be away from his desk, the President had the somewhat un-momentous document brought to him at Raritan, New Jersey, by a special messenger, that he might give it immediate effect. Why such haste and impatience is a question that is apt to puzzle the country, if, indeed it can be persuaded to give so much as a moment's consideration to this transaction. It is likely to wonder whether, at a time when the saving of pennies has come to be a virtue worthy even of Uncle Sam, two additional days of such a boon as the consummation of this enterprise confers is worth the cost of the messenger's ticket to Raritan and back. If it appraises that act of Congress by its practical effect, or by its own perception of its consequences, it is pretty certain to conclude that in staging this little drama on the front porch of Senator Frelinghuysen's home, the President has been signally recreant to his own excellent exhortations for Spartan-like economy in the expenditure of Government funds.

But it would not be difficult to find what was probably the President's motive for this performance. Ever since he and his party committed themselves to this unique task of ending a war without making peace they have been hard put to cloak the futility and vanity of their project. It is pretty likely to be in pursuance of that purpose that the President has invested his approval of this act with an appearance of exigency. His hope probably is that the country will be deluded into thinking that if the enactment of the resolution effects no ponderable results, at least it marks progress in the work of making a settlement both with Germany and Austria, who were our foes in the war, and with Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and those other nations who were our allies. But not even that is true. Such a declaration as this resolution makes is not prerequisite to a settlement with either our foes or our allies. Hence the enactment of it, instead of marking progress, is merely marking time. It is the illusion of motion which the President hopes the country will get from his act, and so be patient yet awhile until he and Mr. Hughes can find some way out of the muddle which has been brought on them and the country by the bigotry of their party.

Their problem, or at least their most difficult question, is not how to make a settlement with Germany, but how to do it without disrupting their party in the Senate. There is no doubt of their conviction that the treaty of Versailles, liberally deleted and interlined, offers the only practicable means of making peace with Germany without making chagrin among our allies. But the method which promises best to serve the country's interest also threatens most to provoke the Lodges, the Knoxes, the Borahs, the Moses and the Johnsons of the Senate into leaving the party reservation. If under the glamour cast on it by the little front porch theater at Raritan, the signing of this important act declaring the war at an end shall somewhat dull the country's sense of the fact that the President is hunting for a way to make peace with Germany without making war in his party, the President will doubtless feel that the accomplishment is worth at least the small cost of his special messenger's railroad journey.—Dallas News.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Enterprise By
The First National Bank in St. Louis.

The Fordney Tariff Bill, which has just recently been reported to the House of Representatives by the Ways and Means Committee has practically rewritten old schedules and included new provisions not previously dealt with in tariff bills. Chairman Fordney states that the average rate of duty in the new permanent tariff averages from 18 to 20 per cent. This compares with an average of about 18.5 per cent in the Payne-Aldrich bill and about 6 per cent in the Underwood tariff rates.

The new bill has a number of outstanding features. The principal one is what is called the American Valuation Plan, which constitutes a new departure in our tariff policy. Under this plan the word "value" in assessing ad valorem duties on imported merchandise is to be construed as meaning the price at which comparable and competitive products in the United States are sold or offered for sale in the markets of this country. Formerly, tariff duties were assessed on the wholesale price of the commodity in the country from which it was exported to the United States.

The new tariff bill also provides for a dye licensing feature, which in effect places an embargo on competitive German dye-stuffs, to be under the control of the United States Tariff Commission. Another important change in the new tariff is the grant of authority to the President to bargain with other countries in tariff matters in return for reciprocal advantages. Section 301 authorizes the President to negotiate reciprocity treaties without restraint of restriction, save that ratification by congress must follow.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarette aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

Probably not in the history of Pecos were mosquitoes so numerous as now. Fortunately there is no malaria in this town, or else we would all soon be blown up. If some one will come along and tell us just how to get rid and keep rid of mosquitos and flies he would just now get a willing ear.

Evidently Henry Ford is not suffering to any great extent from the money stringency. According to an Associated press report under date of July 14 from Washington Henry had made a proposal for the utilization of the Muscle Shoals, Alabama, Nitrate plant under a lease for 100 years at $1,500,000 a year and a cash payment to the government of $5,000,000 for lands and equipment. This looks as if we might all take heart and loosen up.

The State Fair Association of Dallas will get by with their free advertising scheme with some Texas newspapers. It is to be hoped that Texas Press Association members will stick to the pledge to get the money for their space. Another graft equally as bad is that of the makers of Hammernill paper who are furnishing free plates advertising their brand of paper and some Texas Press Association members are falling for it and using these ads as fillers. The Enterprise will fill such space, if no other way can be found, with wood base before it will be uncoined in this fashion. You get just what you ask for and demand in this life. If there is an editor in Texas who can explain just why he should advertise free of charge Hammernill paper, the Dallas Fair or Cotton Pallace and will charge his neighbors and townsmen for every inch of space used The Enterprise would like to know just for the information. Many country newspapers make the job department carry the paper. If a newspaper cannot carry its own expense and make a profit it should be allowed to die—likewise a job office. As a matter of fact the man or men who will run any sort of business without a decent margin of profit is a liability to the town in which he lives and not an asset. Such a one can do nothing for himself, much less his town, and in a manner cripples the business of the real live wire who demands a reasonable profit, pays his bills and donates to every good cause when called upon by his town.

FRANK KELL STRIKES KEYNOTE

Hon. Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, director of the Eleventh District Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas in an interview by Harry Benze Crozier of the Dallas News published elsewhere in this paper hits the key note of the loan fund and tells just what the stockmen now need and must have to save the cattle industry. The stage has passed when the needs of the individual must be considered but the whole industry, which is the very foundation of our nation, is now at stake. The Enterprise believes Mr. Kell has the proper solution of the whole business in a nutshell advanced in this article and that he will keep after the authorities until he gets results.

This is chiefly a cattle country and our people have millions of dollars invested in well improved ranches and Mr. Kell has proposed the best way that The Enterprise can see to save them and the live stock industry in this section of the country. If given the relief needed our stockmen will in a short time be able to meet and pay their obligations and an income as well, but if they get no relief the whole sum and substance will be that many of them will be broke and the cattle industry as an industry will suffer a set back which will take years to overcome. As the $50,000,000 loan is now offered it is no relief whatever to our people for not one in a hundred will ever be able to get one cent of it.

AN APPRECIATED COMPLIMENT

This editor has been in the newspaper game for forty years—a good portion of that time, however, working for the other fellow—but long enough in the editorial chair not to be a novice. It is so very seldom that home people ever stop long enough to compliment or thank an editor that it is almost an unknown quantity. There are many times that he gets bawled out, cussed out or knocked out for something he has or has not done. Week before last The Enterprise spent approximately ten dollars for the big cut of the Vacation Bible School which occupied the lower part of the front page. Had the space devoted to that school been charged for by the line it would probably have been worth $50. It costs money these days to set type as well as buy cuts but The Enterprise editor is going to give the people the best service of which he is capable so long as he occupies his present position, but in doing so he is only human and occasionally appreciates a compliment or word of appreciation just the same as the other fellow. The writer has no regard for the veracity of anyone who claims he does not care for compliments or appreciation for his work, hence this writer is glad to publish the following which is the only pay he has yet received in writing—for the money, time and energy spent in the behalf of Pecos and her people: The Enterprise, City, Gentlemen:—

I want to thank you heartily for the unlimited space which you have given in your paper for the publicity of the religious programs and activities of our community. Your write-up of the Vacation Bible school is adequate and generous. I am sure the church people of the community are not indifferent to this help which you have given without money and without price. Not only features community wide but your generosity for space for each denomination has been helpful and will bear fruit in its own time. I have a growing appreciation of the value of the press and sometimes wonder if there is not something I could do to repay in a small way for this splendid service. I hope you will command me.

Again thanking you,
I am most cordially yours,
FRED B. FAUST, Pastor.

The Enterprise is unable to collect enough large bills due it to make both ends meet. Often one can raise $2 when he cannot raise $200. There is enough subscriptions now due The Enterprise to meet its every obligation and those in arrears will have to come across, show good and sufficient reason for not doing so, or they will call at the postoffice some beautifully warm, sunshiny morning for their mail and the most important piece of mail—The Enterprise—will not be there. It takes money nowadays to run a newspaper and pay bills and it will take several dollars right now to put this editor in good standing with the paper houses. Look up your dates and if you are behind get busy and dig up dos peso, pronto.

HAIR SPLITTING JUDGES CARELESS JURIES ARE MOST TO BE CENSURED.

Governor Pat M. Neff brings us sharply to attention with the startling declaration that Texas is now, and for the past two years has been, experiencing the greatest crime wave in the state's history.

Or is it startling? With perhaps a slight allowance for exaggeration by the governor for sake of effect, perhaps we feel his statement to be substantially true.

And that has not been startling. Although from the pulpit, on the street and through the press men have been outspoken of late months in declaring crime was being encouraged by the verdicts of stupid juries, careless of law, and by the public's easy tolerance of lawbreaking, nothing has resulted. Interest flickered momentarily and was gone.

"The law no longer has terror for evil doers," says the governor. "We have minimized punishment for crime until it has stripped the law of its power."

"A traditional and parasitic growth of technicalities has sucked the life-blood out of the penal code."

Here the governor is hitting at hair splitting judges who throw out indictments for insignificant errors, perhaps trivial clerical errors; pettifogging judges in whose minds a legal quibble obscures justice; courts which become partners in crime, accessories after the fact, by allowing criminals to get clear on technicalities.

The delays made possible by our legal system; the new trials, retrials, and almost endless appeals from one court to another, result many times in defeating justice and allowing the guilty to escape. Far different is it from the quick positive action of the English courts.

Nothing saves us but the conscientious, clear thinking judge and jury. Were it not for them, and there are many of them, we might as well have no laws at all.

Governor Neff intends to submit a program of law enforcement legislation at the coming special session of the legislature.

Something may be accomplished thereby, but not without the determination of judges and juries not to let criminals be acquitted. If that determination were sufficiently widespread now, there would be no need for Governor Neff to go before the legislature. There are laws enough, if they were enforced.—El Paso Herald.

CORRECTION OF ERROR

In the Drilling Report of last week apparently a line was dropped out somewhere near the top in the last column which upset the whole business. The correction was made this week and it is believed to be correct this time.

Uncle John's Poem

HERE'S TO SUCCESS

We carry a smile for the winner, and rush for the shake of his hand.—no matter if saint or a sinner, he captures the fruits of the land. . . . We pay our respects to the Baron, who stands on the peak of renown, but we give our regards mighty sparins' to the lone-hearted feller that's down.

We flock whar the diamonds are gleamin' and worship the sperit of gold. . . . Let fools waste their effort in dreamin' of them that's left out in the cold. . . . Let's bask in the magnate's approval, and shun the cheap trash of the town, whose presence suggests their removal,—away with the rabble that's down!

I never could quite understand it, but I'm just as guilty as you. . . . The High-muckers demand it—to smear it as thick as we do. . . . Sometimes, when we bask in their sunshine, they could freeze us to death with a frown.—but we wouldn't be courtin' no danger, to smile with the brother that's down.

Yr. own
Uncle John.

IF YOU LIKE HIM LET HIM KNOW IT.

If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing,
If you like him or you love him, tell him now;
Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration,
And he lies with snowy lilies o'er his brow.

For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it;
He won't know how many teardrops you have shed,
If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him,
For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny,
And the hearty, warm approval of a friend;
For it gives to life a savor, and makes you stronger, braver,
And it gives you heart and spirit to the end.

If he earns your praise, bestow it, if you like him, let him know it;
Let the words of true encouragement be said;
Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover,
For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

WHEN THE BELL COMES IN.

Editor Pecos Enterprise,
Pecos City, Texas.

Dear Fellow-Sufferer:—
This morning as I came down town, I stopped at the office of the secretary of The Chamber of Commerce. The handsome young Adonis who presides over the affairs of this fair city was out chasing Billionaire Oil Investors and 10,000 acre land buyers. I found a bottle marked "Oil from Bell well, Vintage of 1920. Bottled in Bond, Stamped in the Bottle and Blowed in the Cork." Looking about me very slyly to see that no prohibition enforcement officer was near I thirstily drained a pint down the large opening in the front side of my face. It tasted like my Ford smells. It made a gusher out of me, for 15 minutes later I had committed the following atrocity:

Uncle Ben and sister Julia
Will not pay you what is due you,
Everybody tries to sue you,
And the others try to do you,
And what's left are bound to jew you;
The mosquitoes bite and chew you,
And the weather tries to stew you,
Old friends say they never knew you—
But we'll all sing hallelujah,
When the Bell comes in.

For a small consideration
We could stand our poor relation,
(Though they are no small equation,
And they are a large vexation.)
Since we'll startle all the nation,
And awake the whole creation,
As we join the jubilation
When the Bell comes in.

Ah, then we'll mix it in our bread,
On our hot-cakes for a spread,
Or shampoo our old bald head,
Drink it when we go to bed—
To the babies 'twill be fed;
We'll yell to wake the dead,
And We'll paint the old town red,
When the Bell comes in.

P. S.—Now that it's out of my system I feel like an empty can of Zerolene, or Benzene or Gasoline, but I'll doubtless feel "oil" right—
When the Bell comes in.

—Joel Frank Hedgpeh.

ROBERT LEE HEFNER.

On July 14, 1921 Robert Lee Hefner responded to the summons of the Heavenly Father and went home to his reward. The hour of time had struck and his Maker promoted him from earth to Heaven all too soon it seems to his bereaved loved ones. His death followed an explosion in the oil field at Burkburnette, where he was employed, on Wednesday morning, July 13. The body was shipped here for burial. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the mother, Mrs. T. J. Hefner, Rev. J. M. Garner in charge. The body was laid to rest in Fairview cemetery, where the grave was wrapped in beautiful flowers as token of the love and friendship of the many contributors both in Pecos and from other towns.

Robert was born February 6, 1895 in Pecos, Texas, where he resided until some two years ago when he went to Burkburnette to take a position with an oil company. He made that his home until his death. He was a son of the late T. J. Hefner, who was a long time citizen of Pecos; and ever revered as a man of integrity and worth to the community. In 1915 he was married to Miss Alfa Payne of Clyde, Texas, who is a sister of Jim and Phil Payne, Mrs. John Cowan and Miss Buena Payne of this city. She is also a niece of Mrs. F. W. Johnson. This home was marked by an unflinching devotion on the part of both husband and wife, and in the going of our beloved friend a home of sunshine and flowers has been overshadowed by a misty cloud of grief that seems almost unbearable.

Besides his wife there survives him his mother, Mrs. T. J. Hefner, who always received the tenderest care and thoughtful ministrations at his hand, five brothers, Clifteen, of Burkburnette; Charles, of Dallas; Burette, Wycliffe and Baiser of this city; two sisters, Mrs. R. G. Werner, of Chicago and Mrs. J. A. Dean of El Paso and a host of friends.

The term friends is used advisedly, for Mr. Hefner seems to have had that charm about him, that few of us are endowed with, which won its way into the hearts of those he met. The expression concerning him, as a friend to man, with a heart of sympathy, love and forgiveness have been many. Everywhere he went he won his way with that winsom wand of wonderful wholesomeness which he willingly wound about the hearts of his acquaintances.

In his home life, both as a husband and a son, he always proved himself worthy of the name, and went beyond the mark of the average man in his visible affection and faithfulness pursuant to duty.

Some years ago Mr. Hefner made a profession of faith in Christ as his Saviour. He has assured his wife and mother at various times that his faith was unshaken and that he was reliant on God. In view of this hope we would not be selfish enough to bring him back if we could, although we are sorely grieved because of his going. We will let God unfold time as he sees fit and work out His own wise plan. We can but wait with patience, as striving servants our own call to come up higher, where we expect to join our dear departed friend, Robert Lee Hefner.

E. R. SLATER DEAD

Mrs. J. W. Parker this week received a card from Mrs. Slater announcing the death of her husband, Mr. Earl Robert Slater, at Glendale, Calif., on July 8th, 1921, at the age of 47 years and four days—mausoleum burial at same place.

Mr. Slater is well known in Pecos. He came here with the Dominion Oil Co. and had charge of the drilling operations of their wells until taken over by the Arthur-Pitts Co. and with that company until the malady which took him away became so virulent as to prevent his working. Since then Mr. and Mrs. Slater have traveled extensively and consulted the most noted specialists in this country and no money or pains had been spared to relieve him, but to no avail. He was considered by those who knew him here as a splendid hightoned gentleman, worthy the confidence and esteem of his fellow men.

The Enterprise joins Pecos friends in extending to Mrs. Slater, the devoted wife, sincerest sympathy.

PECOS BOY PLANT INSPECTOR IN NEW MEXICO

Las Cruces, New Mexico, July 21.—Ira T. Collins of Pecos, Texas, has come to Las Cruces as plant quarantine inspector for Dona Ana County, with headquarters at the offices of the Farm Bureau.

Mr. Collins' first work will be to inspect the cotton fields in this county. The acreage, which was 5000 last year, is 500 this season. The stand is reported to be in good shape, with every prospect of making more than an average crop.

"Farmers in Dona Ana county are gradually getting away from speculative crops," said Robert C. Stockdale, county agricultural agent. "This is evidenced by the small acreage devoted to cotton this year. Those who have studied the situation say it is simply a matter of time when dairy cows will occupy the land heretofore devoted to cotton and crops of that character."

ROSS-MURRAY

A wedding of unusual interest was solemnized Saturday evening at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murray, when Archie Ross and Ollie Mae were made man and wife. Rev. William Ross, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony in the presence of the families of the contracting parties.

Archie is one of the young sons of Judge and Mrs. Jas. F. Ross and has a responsible situation with the Leader Cash Store. He was the one most severely injured by falling hot bricks in the discharge of his duty as volunteer fireman when the Cowan building burned some time ago. Archie is a bright young man, energetic and full of pep and is destined to go up higher in the business world.

The bride, Ollie Mae, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murray and has for some time held the position of cashier for the Pecos Mercantile Store, is pretty, bright, accomodating and accomplished and will make her mate a splendid housekeeper and devoted helpmeet.

They are both popular with the younger set and will receive the hearty congratulations of a host of Pecos friends, with whom The Enterprise joins in wishing them bon voyage upon the matrimonial sea.

CARD OF THANKS

To Dear Friends:— We deeply and lovingly appreciate the numberless tokens of love and sympathy which you extended to us when our hearts were sorely torn. Yours comforting presence, and message of sympathy, whether spoken in letters, in words or with flowers, gave us strength to bear our burden.

Only those who have passed through these trying hours of sorrow know the gladness of heart found in the sympathy of dear friends.

May each of you see many happy years before the angel of death takes his toll of your loved ones.

MRS. T. J. HEFNER and Family.

THE DEAD LINE

The Mason Dixon line is practically a "dead line" for the mosquito that causes malaria, so prevalent in the South that it does millions of damage in lost earning power and decreased efficiency each year.

Yet 20 years ago malaria was almost as prevalent north of the Mason and Dixon line as elsewhere. The exile of the malaria mosquito from this section of the United States has been due to increased commercial activity, agricultural improvement, drainage, destruction of weeds and rank vegetation that forms a harboring place for mosquitos, elimination of stagnant water, and consistent screening of dwellings.

Malaria is contracted only and solely by the bite of a certain type of mosquito. Guard against mosquitos and you have guarded against the disease.

The mosquito bites a malaria victim, drawing some of his blood containing the malaria germ into the mosquito's stomach where it remains for a period of incubation. Later in biting a well person the mosquito infects this person with the germ. Then follows a period of incubation in the bitten person's blood of about 10 to 15 days.

The malaria germ attacks a red blood cell and matures every three or four days, breaking up the red cell and sending out into the blood numberless little malaria germs which repeat the process. Chills and fever result. Malaria is not cured without help. Always consult your physician, who can tell you how temporarily to immunize yourself against the disease. Your state department of health or the local Red Cross can give you information on the subject.

SEVEN SELLING PRINCIPLES

1. The business that merely offers its product for sale will never get anywhere. Everything has to be positively sold.

2. Energy devoted to fighting a competitor is apt to be a wasted energy. A more satisfactory return will be had by forcing one's own affairs forward.

3. One of the easiest ways to draw attention to the fact that one's product is best, is to charge a higher price than competitors charge.

4. It is not possible to let up on the advertising pressure. That must be continuous.

5. No one will buy from you simply because you want to sell. People will buy from you only because you have something that will do them good in proportion to the price you charge.

6. It is extremely difficult, as a business grows, to avoid a public expression of satisfaction in the growth—and to remember the public is interested only in superiority of service.

7. The value to my mind of the various trade-marks that we have established and the reputation of the company itself, which has been trademarked by a distinctive signature, is greater in actual business value than all the material assets we carry on our books.—William Hamlin Childs in "System."

TO THE NEAREST DRUG STORE—

When you leave the doctor's office with a prescription he has given you, the usual thought is to take it to the NEAREST drug store.

Prescriptions, however, are too important to be taken just anywhere.

BRING your prescriptions to PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS, even it happens that you may have to walk a short distance further to do so.

It is better to be safe, to know that your prescription is filled accurately with drugs of full strength.

A Drop of Ink Makes Millions Think

AN AMERICAN MAGAZINE reporter once asked John Wrigley, the fifty million gum magnate, what he attributed his huge business success to, and the man replied that it was 90 per cent advertising.

Mr. Wrigley is used as a study among journalism classes as the man who accumulated three fortunes and each time spent them for advertising, after which he started in over again.

It is a well known fact that he spent one million dollars advertising his gum products on Broadway, New York, alone.

THE FUNDAMENTAL FACT —

however, is that after the gum king had spent three fortunes on advertising he did not stop. He let drop a secret that may well be applied to any business, however big, or however small:—

"That advertising is a good deal like feeding a furnace—you have to keep shoveling in the coal in order to keep the fire alive."

A little "ad" dropped here and there in your local paper is really of little value. It is the persistent, weekly and daily call that makes the people sit up and take notice.

WHAT THE ENTERPRISE CAN DO

It can place advertising, based on the inch rate, in 2,300 homes, virtually circulated among 11,500 people for 50 cents. To attempt to reach the same number of people by post card, the only other means of communication, would cost $115.00.

It can readily be seen that there is no argument from an economic standpoint as the cheapest and most effective way of reaching the public.

FRENCHMAN WINS PRIZE BY FLYING IN LEG PROPELLED PLANE

M. G. Poulain, champion French cyclist, has won the honor of being the first man ever to fly. For this feat, he has been awarded a prize of 10,000 francs. On a leg-propelled cycleplane he hopped off the ground in a Paris exhibition the other day, raised three feet from the ground and flew a distance of 35 feet—just far enough to win the prize which has been offered so long.

NEGRO WITH RAZOR HAD GOOD INTENTIONS BUT HIS FRIEND DIDN'T KNOW IT

That intangible lacteal compendium, the milk of human kindness, got slightly mixed with the acidity of Deep Elm social repartee, near a busy downtown corner yesterday afternoon and almost curdled in the heat. People in possession of the facts still wonder if it were a case of guilty conscience or the involuntary promptings of self-preservation that started it.

However that may be, about the time the sun was making the tar in the middle of the street look like the floor around the molasses barrel in a country grocery, a long, hungry-looking negro started spitting, bare-headed and bare-armed down the sidewalk, waving his arms and whistling to a similar citizen who had a lead of about a block on him. The most noticeable thing about him after his color and the fact that he was running on a day hot enough to melt the pin feathers out of a marble dove was the fact that his feet were attired in a pair of white canvas shoes that looked like a couple of white-enamel violin cases. But the boy had speed, there was no question about it.

The pursued one finally gathered that some one behind him sought intercourse with him and he paused for one fleeting moment and looked back. Then he got pedular action in nothing flat, for the pursuing one waved in one fist a social implement familiar to every negro citizen from the days of Ham down, a large well-developed, straight-edged razor. That was enough.

Speak of the man who ran so fast his vest pocket dipped sand as he rounded the corner, or of the brother who ran so fast that the bottoms of his feet showed so often he appeared to be lying down, these two darktown representatives stepped fast enough to make an airplane look like a rowboat.

A traffic jam at Akard brought matters to a head. The pursued one, hemmed in the front, ducked, side-stepped, and found himself barred on both sides by passing automobiles. He discovered that his retreat was also cut off and a look of terror ashened his frontal stove polish as he contemplated the loss of other portions of his anatomy as well, for the other negro was passing up pedestrians like the famed passenger train passing the tramp, and he lumbered to a heaving halt, perspiring gallons.

"Beg pardon," he gasped, as bystanders crowded around, "but Ah seen you drop dis razah outen yo' pocket up de street. Thot yuh nought need it."

The caged one straightened his quivering knees, explored his pockets and with double-distilled relief sighed. "Yeah, Ah must 'uve. C'mon ovah on Pacific while Ah buys us a drink."—Dallas News.

CHANGE MENTAL ATTITUDE, SAYS JAMES

"I do not agree with this talk of further price declines," says H. G. James, secretary of the Western Petroleum Refiners' Association, as quoted by the Oil and Gas News.

"There is no real occasion for further declines," he continued. "I can see no argument in favor of further deflation when almost 50 per cent of the Mid-Continent refineries are shut down and many others are running in the 'red.' I have a notion that what we hold in mind is very likely to happen. In other words, when everybody begins to expect something to happen, everybody prepares a way for that something to happen.

"The one thing that is giving me more concern than anything else just now is how to overcome the mental condition of the people. What we need is optimism. The whole world needs to get the idea the war is over; that the readjustment period has passed and that we are now on the up-grade.

"A big oil man said to me the other day that nothing would do as much good or would create purchasing action so much as an increase of one cent a gallon in products. That means the whole present situation today is a mental one."—Oil World.

CITY PHARMACY

PRINCIPLES PROVED BY EXPERIENCE

The reasons why you have something better to sell than the next man will not have a continuous effect unless your product is not only distinctive in quality but also has a trade-mark which stands for that distinction.

No matter how good the product or how good the reason, the public will not quickly recognize either. A solid business is slowly built.

The business building is never finished; one has to keep his product constantly—even doggedly—before the public, especially during periods when the public is not buying. The memory of the buying public is short.

Trade-mark value is hard to establish and easy to lose. Once lost it will scarcely be reestablished. Established, it is more valuable than any material asset. It is the biggest thing in business.—Texaco Star.

NEW BREED OF POULTRY DEVELOPED BY UNCLE SAM

Lamena is the name given to a new breed of poultry that has been developed at the Experimental Farm of the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md. It has been named by Secretary Wallace after the originator, Harry M. Lammon, senior poultryman of the Bureau of Animal Industry. It is a white fowl with red ear lobes that lays a white-shelled egg. White Plymouth Rock, Silver Gray Dorking, and White Leghorn were the breeds used as foundation stock.

The fowls are larger than Leghorns, with long, deep bodies, well feathered, and comb and wattles of medium size. The new breed is not ready for introduction and neither eggs or fowls can be secured. When a sufficient stock of birds has been raised specimens will be sent to State agricultural colleges and experiment stations to test their adaptability to different sections and conditions.

HEALTH PARAGRAPHS

By Dr. M. M. Carrick, State Health Officer.

When I get to be ninety, I hope that I will have so many of my colleagues about me that I shall be accepted as a matter of course.

If I can read well and have weak lungs; if I can write well and have kidney trouble; if I can figure well and have anemia—how much are the three R's worth to me.

We know that malaria is carried by a special species of mosquito and we know that if we eliminate the mosquito the spread of the disease will automatically stop.

Responsibility for accident and disease is no longer considered merely as a personal problem, it is a community problem as well. Just as we insist that every American shall have the benefits of public education, so should we insist upon the inherent right of every American to the possession of a body free from the handicap of preventable disease.

The public health is the foundation on which reposes the happiness of the people and the power of the country. The care of the public health is due first duty of the statesman.—Lord Beaconsfield.

If there is no filth, there will be no flies.

A large proportion of the diseases from which mankind suffers today are preventable. The time will come when such diseases as malaria and tuberculosis will belong only to ancient history of medicine. All work, no matter how trivial or valueless it may seem, if it has been done with honesty of purpose, has its place in the great victory over pain and pestilence. Were it possible to ask those who have fought in this cause and have died for it, "was it worth while?" they, too, would say that they rejoiced that they had not lived in vain, but had been allowed a little share in the work of alleviating the suffering of humanity.

The State Board of Health, Austin, Texas, welcome inquiries or letters from citizens interested in the promotion of community health.

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off.

When Freezone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never again tender or irritated.

THESE DAYS

We believe that the world is growing better. The doctrine of human brotherhood is spreading, and a time will come in the history of nations when the teachings of Man from Galilee will be recognized and respected from the river to the end of the earth—Waxahatchee Light.

It is fine to hear a man of Uncle Charlie Gibson's years speak in high terms of contemporary conditions. Uncle Charlie is seventy-nine and still gay. It is so frequently the case that men who have grown old have also grown disgruntled or disturbed over the way the world appears to be going. It wasn't that way when they were young, therefore it must be wrong. That is as illogical an attitude as that of the traveler in a new country who thinks it must be a bad country because it isn't like the country he was born and raised in. What alarms so many mature observers today is that things, which mean people, are going ahead so rapidly in achievement, in conquest of natural forces, in scientific discovery and practical application, in social development and independence of mind that witnesses who came up from older and slower times can not adapt their mental processes to the things their eyes behold. The world is certainly better educated today than half a century ago, better informed, as to other countries, more responsive to enlightened methods of production and living. Therefore, unless education information and responsiveness to learning are bad things, the world can not be as bad as some doleful souls believe it is.—State Press in Dallas News.

This ghost was a 1921 model

LAST MONTH, on a bet, WITH THE boys up home, I SPENT a night, ALONE IN the old, HAUNTED HOUSE, AND WHEN I heard, MOANS AND groans, I SAID "The wind," AND TRIED to sleep, I HEARD rappings, AND SAID "Rats," AND ROLLED over, THEN I heard steps, AND IN the light, OF A dying moon, A WHITE spook rose, I WASN'T scared—much, BUT DIDN'T feel like, STARTING ANYTHING, BUT THEN I caught, JUST A faint whiff,

OF A familiar, AND DELICIOUS smell, WHICH TIPPED me off, SO I gave the ghost, THE HORSE laugh, AND SAID "EM, YOU FAT guy, MAKE BUM ghosts, BUT BEFORE you fade LEAVE WITH me one, OF YOUR cigarettes, THEY SATISFY."

THAT spicy, delicious aroma of fine tobaccos, both Turkish and Domestic, makes you almost hungry for the "satisfy-smoke." And there isn't a ghost of a chance you'll ever find its equal anywhere—for the Chesterfield blend is an exclusive blend. It can't be copied.

COTTON POOL HAS BROKEN RECORDS

Dallas, Texas, July 21.—The biggest co-operative marketing organization of growers in the world is being completed at the Dallas offices of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. More than six hundred thousand bales of cotton from approximately 40,000 Texas members have been put in one pool to be disposed of through a sale agency set up by what is known as the "American Cotton Growers Exchange." Oklahoma has signed up over 400,000 bales to go into the same pool and Mississippi is contributing 210,000 bales and Arizona is also in. The total already promised for the pool is more than one and a quarter million bales. Texas cotton farmers are still signing contracts and it is expected that this state will ultimately contribute more than a million bales to the pool.

Every grower contributing to the pool has agreed to deliver all of the cotton that he produces for the next five years to the association which is composed of growers and managed by a Board of Directors elected by the growers and composed of growers. California co-operative marketing associations dwindle into insignificance when compared with this new colossal merehandising movement.

The largest association on the Pacific Coast has less than fifteen thousand members. The American Cotton Growers Exchange will have more than 70,000 members, each pledged to deliver all his cotton during the period provided for in the contract. This organization automatically becomes the largest cotton factor in the world. Its office will be located in Dallas, Texas.

Adequate financial support for the organization is now being arranged through different agencies. Letters from the War Finance Corporation indicate that this Board will render the same support to the Texas farmers that it has already rendered to the Mississippi Delta Growers Association which has five million dollars and which will be advanced to the growers while the crop is being marketed through the same exchange that will handle the Texas crop.

New York financial circles are also interested in advancing money for the financing of this crop movement as are also the larger Texas banks. The magnitude of the undertaking has attracted the attention of the keenest minds in the banking world.

SERIOUS SITUATION THREATENS

Due to the fact that many folks from other counties are flocking to Howard county hoping to secure work on the road, a serious situation threatens, as many of these people are without funds upon arrival and must be given aid when no work can be secured. Already appeals for aid have been made by folks who came here expecting to find work, and the number is certain to increase unless warnings are sent broadcast telling folks that no work is available here.

While it is true that Howard county is doing some road work, there is more local labor than can be used, and County Judge James T. Brooks wishes to notify all persons from other counties who are contemplating coming to Big Spring or Howard county with the expectation of getting work, not to come. Preference is being given to local labor and there are more applicants than can be used.

Judge Brooks has asked the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce in sending notices to all papers warning folks of the situation and urging them not to come here seeking employment for they will surely be disappointed. Our county is not in a position to care for a large number of destitute people and this is going to be the resultant situation unless folks are warned not to come to our county.

If we can aid by mentioning this situation when writing to other sections of the State or if we can aid in any way in preventing folks from coming here seeking work only to become charges of the county, we should gladly do so.—Big Spring Herald.

AN APPEAL TO TEXAS VOTERS

To the editor:—
Next Saturday, July 23rd, the voters of Texas will pass upon the amendment to change our present system of prison management in Texas. The present commission should be abolished, so the state legislature will be free to make laws for the management and control of the penitentiary and the prison farms. Under the present law the governor of Texas cannot control the penitentiary, neither can he remove a prison official for flagrant violation of the law. The brutal treatment of prisoners now going on in Texas is a disgrace to civilization. No attempt is ever made to enforce the law against brutal convict guards. The abolishment of the prison commission is the first step toward redeeming the good name of our state, and the banishing of bull whips, clubs and chains as instruments of torture heaped upon helpless human beings.

Vote to abolish the prison commission.
GEORGE W. DIXON,
President Texas Better Prison League, Houston, Texas, July 18, 1921.

They are for kidney backache; And other kidney ills. Here is Pecos proof of their merit:

Mrs. M. D. Jester says: "I was in bad condition and it seemed I could get no relief. My kidneys acted irregularly, much too often, but not freely enough. I was in great pain. I was all tired out and could hardly get around. After using different remedies I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon put me on my back. Doan's regulated my kidneys and I felt better in every way. I wouldn't be without Doan's Kidney Pills."

THE PECOS LAND MAN OIL LEASES A SPECIALTY

Have just returned from a trip to San Antonio, Austin, and other points in that part of the state and find things loosening up.

I am still a booster for the Toyah Bell No. 2 and have never lost a wee bit of faith. Work will NOT stop on this well and it is my honest belief that it will be a real oil well soon. I am now on the inside and know where the money is to finish the well and what is necessary to get it and it is now ready to my certain knowledge to be used when needed, provided some of the hammers will stop knocking.

All I ask is the co-operation of the citizens and we are certain to put down more deep wells.

Cole Salling, who has been on the road for some time for the Toyah Valley Sulphur Co., came in yesterday morning and went out to the mines for a few days. Mr. Salling says he has traveled about 4200 miles in many of the States in the last two or three months and witnessed the big fight at Jersey City. He states that money matters are close everywhere he has been but that there is a general optimistic feeling all over the country that leads to the belief that there will be a general loosening up of the money of the country at an early date and that times will be better.

W. S. Mitchell and Miss Daisy Sellars of Suphur Springs, who have spent the past two weeks here visiting the family of J. G. Murray, will leave for their home Monday.

Mrs. Ed Vickers and children, Edward and Floy and Miss Julia Magee, went up to El Paso and Clauderoft last week for a two weeks visit.

Mrs. B. R. Stine and children left Tuesday for the Panhandle country where they will visit relatives for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Y. Casey went to Dallas Saturday for a few days on business and pleasure. The Enterprise understands that Mr. Casey has sold his beautiful home to Geo. B. Finley and will move to Dallas some time after the first of September. Mr. Casey has been a prominent factor in Pecos business circles for years and has been one of the most progressive spirits in the town and Pecos and her people will miss him sorely when he is gone.

Attorney Jno. B. Howard was a business visitor in El Paso the forepart of the week. He refrained from other business long enough for an examination at the Homan Sanatorium and was pronounced as sound as a dollar.

Members of the Knights of Pythias lodge of both Pecos and Toyah participated in the burial of the body of Robert Hefner Sunday, and many prominent citizens of Toyah as well as other portions of the county were present to pay tribute to the deceased. Seldom does Pecos have such a funeral procession as was that Sunday—attesting the love and esteem of our people for the deceased and his most estimable family. The Enterprise joins a host of friends all over this county in extending deepest sympathy to the bereaved.

AMERICAN LEGION AT DALLAS PLANNING TRIP TO CONVENTION IN STOCK CAR

Dallas, Texas, July 1921.—The delegates from John W. Low Post of the American Legion at Dallas are planning to make the trip to the next Convention which is to be held in El Paso in stock cars. Royall R. Watkins, the Post Commander at Dallas is now working with the railroads to this end. Mr. Watkins said today: "It will be just like a trip in France some 3 years ago, only the cars will be a bit larger and we hope the trains somewhat faster."

Along the way there will be Red Cross canteens and Salvation Army workers. We will ask the Legion Post at the principal stops to properly label the "drinking water" that is SAFE for the "American Troops." We will also ask them to dress the Red Cross workers in French costume and assemble them on the platform to shout "Vive les soldats Americains."

It may be possible to pick up delegates from the other Posts along the route to the convention.

Of course the cars will bear the familiar labels, "30 hommes, 8 chevaux," so every doughboy will know what we are and where we are going, and we will likely eat at most every stop along the way, we at least will want to, and we sincerely hope that such arrangements will be made whereby this the most important feature of the trip can be carried out.

ACTIVITIES IN FORT STOCKTON OIL FIELD

Fort Stockton Pioneer.
The Pinal Dome Oil company, operating a standard rig on the Devlin ranch, section 208, Burleson survey, has drilled none the past week, spending the time reaming the hole for replacement of casing.

Bower, Hale & Lamb, drilling with a star machine on section 24, block 26, university lands, are going along around 1,400 feet. This hole has had many favorable showings of both oil and gas, and the principals feel that they have every reason to view the future with pleasure.

Work of drilling in the Troy-Graham well on section 20, block 140, T. & St. L. railway survey, over which a standard rig has just been erected, will be resumed as soon as the work or rigging the derrick is completed and the boiler is set in place. While the operators had anticipated that things would be ship-shape ready for the pulling of casing by the close of this week, there is yet ahead of them a full week's work before they will be ready to drop tools.

Dave Humphrey is "all set" ready to spud in Luse No. 1, in the dead center of section 53, block 101, Texas Central railway survey tomorrow. The operators were insistent upon the location being made in the center of the section to keep the oil from slopping over on the other sections, when it gushes over the top, thus ruining a lot of grazing lands, and entailing damage suits. While Necessity may be the mother of Invention, Precaution is the guardian of Dollars, and the sire of Admonition: If you can't be good, be careful.

The Twin Cities Oil & Gas company, drilling on the Kokernot ranch, southwest of here, near Hovey, is busy setting 6-inch casing to the bottom in a hole now 2,450 feet deep. According to manager Smith the drilling is in the Upper Pennsylvania shale and there has been a showing of live oil sufficient to be detected plainly in the slush pit. The location of the well was made by Smith, who is accredited by his associates with being possessed of rare geological intelligence, and it is stated that the strata through which drilling has progressed harmonizes perfectly with the preliminary log compiled by Smith. Recent showings are such as to create a spirit of cheerfulness in the breasts of the operators and they really expect to secure paying production before they quit.

MEET 'UNCLE JOHN,' FOLKS

Dr. J. J. Gaines (Uncle John)

Of the few men in America today who are writing human interest, homey poetry, Dr. John J. Gaines is excelled by none. Quaintly musical, full of the human tone, disdainful of the "highbrow," they strike the responsive chord that is so charming to the ears of the great mass of American people today.

This is the man and this is the poetry that will entertain our readers through the Autocaster service, in which this newspaper holds an exclusive franchise. We will, therefore, publish a poem, or prose poem, by Dr. Gaines regularly during the next year. Watch for it.

Dr Gaines ("Uncle John") resides and thrives at Excelsior Springs, Mo., which he describes as bein' as nigh to the center of the earth as you can drive a stake."

Unlike other well-known newspaper poets, Dr. Gaines is country made, country bred, and continues in the country town life. Our readers will soon realize that he is one of them—a plain American citizen.
