PARK COMMITTEE AGAIN MOVED

An effort to inject sectional politics into the State Park project on the part of Governor Neff was defeated by members of both the senate and the house this week through the passage of a second resolution providing for a committee to visit the Davis Mountains after Governor Neff had vetoed the first.

Charges that Governor Neff had vetoed the original resolution because he did not favor the members appointed on the committee were made on the floor of the house by Representative W. W. Stewart of Reeves county, in offering his new resolution, and it was adopted by a vote of 81 to 35. Senator Dudley of this district fostered the resolution in the senate where it was passed.

Governor Neff was on the floor of the house when the charges were made, and Stewart's charges followed a severe attack on the Governor's attitude towards the appropriation bills made by Representative Hardin of Kaufman county.

Immediately after the passage of the resolutions Speaker Thomas renamed the original committee from the House and Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson did the same in the senate, although it will be necessary to add two members to the senate committee as the new resolution will bring the total up to five.

The resolution calls for appropriation of $1,000 to pay expenses of the senate committee and $500 to pay expenses of the house committee.

It is understood that the trip will not be made until some time in October, as the legislative situation at Austin does not leave much hope that the session of the legislature will be over much before that time. The senate resolution differs from the house plans in calling for an inspection trip to the Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo. This canyon has been a mecca for sightseers for years. The location of a park in that section will not be opposed by local people, who will be glad to aid in establishing parks in any section of the state where the scenery justifies, according to Walter N. Sutherland, Reeves county member of the Davis Mountains State Park committee. "But," Mr. Sutherland said, "we do not believe that a system of parks can be established in one year, or in a few years, and believe that the best method of procedure would be to establish one park in the most desirable place, and then gradually extend the system. The Davis Mountains have received recognition as the most desirable place, as is evidenced by the widespread approval of the Davis park plan. The scenery in the Davis Mountains is not limited to one canyon or a few mountains, but offers a mass of earth convulsions and upheavals so grand and beautiful that one can spend months in the mountains and see something new every day.

"With such a location in Texas, Texans should not be forced to travel to Colorado and other states for mountain air and mountain scenery, made available by the far sighted residents of those states, but should be able to find in the Davis Mountains a game preserve, and a park prepared for camping, so that they may enjoy the scenery that belongs to the people of Texas at a minimum expense."

Stewart in his statement in the house declared that Governor Neff in the privacy of the executive office had stated that he was not satisfied with the personnel of the committee, and that a report from that committee would have no weight with him (Neff). The Governor was within twenty feet of Stewart, when the latter, facing Neff declared: "I am going to tell what I know about this veto. Governor Neff is sitting there and can hear what I am saying. When I came to the special session I promised my people that I would try to get a committee to come out here to look at the Davis Mountains."

"I went to see the Governor. He said that was fine. He said it ought to be done. I told him I had in mind a concurrent resolution. He said all right, and he further said that he would violate a custom of his and assure me in advance that he would sign the resolution. Both houses passed the resolution.

"Yesterday (Monday) I went down to see him and he said that he had decided not to sign it, but would veto it instead. He said that he did not like the personnel of the committee and he said the committee would have no weight at all with him."

Governor Makes Statement. Following the speech, Governor Neff told newspaper men that "Stewart is wrong." He said the reasons for his veto were on file with the Secretary of State. They follow:

"I herewith file with you House concurrent resolution No. 17 with my veto and disapproval.

"First—For the reason that the resolution provides that the trip and inspection and investigation mentioned in said resolution shall be made no later than Sept. 1, 1921, and, as the committee is composed of members of the Legislature which is still in session, it is impossible for them to perform the work prior to Sept. 1.

"Second—Because the object of the resolution is the establishment of State parks, and directs the committee only to visit one place in Texas, when, as a matter of fact, the establishment of parks throughout the State is a matter of general interest and not partially to one particular locality, and the resolution is too sectional to be in keeping with an undertaking as laudable as the establishment of parks as pleasure resorts and breathing spots throughout the State.

"Third—Because the resolution provides for a committee of eleven, which, together with necessary secretaries and assistants, would be too cumbersome for effective work and unnecessarily expensive."

Under the Constitution the Governor has the power of veto over concurrent resolutions carrying an appropriation, and he vetoed the resolution. Stewart this morning introduced a simple resolution, and it was amended so as to provide an appropriation of $500. The Governor has no power to veto a simple resolution.

Stewart, describing the advantages of the Davis Mountains for a State Park, said that if it were made a resort that hundreds of persons who every year go to Europe and California and Colorado for vacation would remain in Texas.

It is understood that the legal effect will be that there will be two committees instead of one, but that the plans for the trip can be carried out as heretofore made.

Considerable regret has been expressed in Pecos and Balmorhea over the delay in the trip. However, the committee will continue its efforts and plans for whatever date the legislators will be able to reach this city.

HOPE IRRIGATION PROJECT COVERS 250,000 ACRES

Hope, N. M. Aug. 14—The citizens of Hope met in a large mass meeting last week to discuss plans for the construction of a large reservoir several miles northwest of the town. Several hundred people were present and enjoyed the supper that was served on this occasion.

The proposed project will cause about 250,000 acres of tillable land to be irrigated. This land is now used for grazing purposes only. The watershed for such a project is one of the largest in the western states, according to the surveyors in charge. Both Hope and Artesia will be benefited by this project in a very material way.

The Artesia band furnished the music for the occasion. Among the speakers were: Hon. Hugh Gage and Rev. Moon of Hope, Judge J. H. Jackson, president of the Artesia Chamber of Commerce, and M. H. Ferriman, also of Artesia. The speakers made special mention of several civic improvements that are outlined for the town of Hope.

SEVENTY-FIVE COUNTIES FAIL TO MAKE RETURNS

Austin, Texas, Aug. 20—Returns of the constitutional amendment election held July 23 are to be canvassed by the State Canvassing Board on Sept. 1. Up to date seventy-five counties have failed to make returns to the Secretary of State. The Canvassing Board is composed of the Governor, the Attorney General and the Secretary of State.

BIG CROWD HAVING GOOD TIME AT RODEO

Big crowds witnessed the rodeo events and ball games slated here this week, and considerable interest centered in the final game of the Carlsbad and Pecos series to be played this morning.

Carlsbad took the first game by the score of 8 to 0, inability to hit and numerous loose plays and errors causing the one-sided score. Norman was in the box and pitched a good game, and was scheduled to pitch again Friday.

Playing excellent ball both teams battled in a four to one game Thursday afternoon, before one of the largest crowds of the season, and Pecos was returned the winner by the score of four to one.

The box score follows:

Twenty-two ropers participated in the rodeo events at the aviation field under the direction of A. B. Cooksey. Cose contests resulted in the first day of the breakaway contest, there being ties for first and fourth place. George Jones of Marfa and George Daniels of Toyah tied for first with 11 2-5 seconds each. Porter Fancher of Toyah was second with 12 2-5 seconds, and Curtis McFlory of Toyah and Arthur Mayes of Carlsbad, were tied for fourth with 13 2-5 seconds each.

A. B. Cooksey made his catch in 10 1-5 seconds, but was fined ten seconds because his rope caught on the saddle horn and did not break away. He is still regarded as in the running.

Elmer Jones took both the calf tying and goat roping contests, the first in 34 4-5 seconds, and the second in 20 1-5 seconds. George Jones took second in the calf contest with 28 3-5 seconds, with Arthur Mayes third in 41 3-5 seconds. G. Norton of Sierra Blanco won second on goats with 12 seconds, and Charles Oates of Saragosa was third with 14 3-5 seconds.

The finals were to be held at the close of the second contest Friday.

REPRESENTATIVE

W. W. STEWART HOME Representative W. W. Stewart came in from Austin this afternoon where he had been in attendance upon the legislature, the second called session having adjourned yesterday at noon. Mr. Stewart has been in some of the hottest fights he was even in in the legislative halls but came out on top and unscathed. He is big enough in mind, body and influence to carry his point and has done some splendid work for his people.

SHERIFF KISER CAPTURES MEN AND LOOT

Sheriff E. B. Kiser is apparently on his job at all hours, day and night, and seldom allows an offender to get clear away. He has known for some time that petty thefts were going on both in Pecos and Toyah and has kept his weather eye out for the evidence. Last Saturday he made a trip to Toyah and arrested two youngsters, and placed them in jail.

On Monday he returned to Toyah with County Attorney Clem Calhoun and arrested two others. All are charged with theft of a value more than $50 and with the exception of one are held under bond of $500 each to await the action of the grand jury. It is understood there are still others suspected of being implicated in this wholesale thieving.

Goods to the value of approximately $2,000.00 were recovered, consisting of the following:

One Ford engine and springs and Ford parts.

Two Cushman gasoline engines, probably two or three horse power.

Seventy-feet of 12 inch belting. Bath tub, shot gun, air compressor, air tank and two circulating pumps.

It might not be amiss to state here that all these boys are of fine, honest, trustworthy and honorable families, but just simply got off wrong and the writer is very sorry indeed to learn of their plight, but at the same time glad that Reeves county has officers with the energy and courage to run down and deal out justice to those who offend the law, no matter whether they be of high or low estate.

Just such thieving has been going on in and around Pecos, by whom the writer has not the slightest idea, but he is thoroughly convinced that unless it is stopped and that soon, Sheriff Kiser and County Attorney Clem Calhoun will get them and hand them out just what they deserve.

RULES ADOPTED BY LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The growing demand for books, from the Carnegie Library by people residing in the adjoining towns and country, have necessitated the adoption of the following rules governing the lending of same. The Library is supported entirely by the city and the residents and, while, we are glad to serve the people of the county in any way possible, we feel that it is only right that a nominal fee be paid for books going out of the city limits and hope that the following rules will meet with the approval of the public.

Rules adopted by Pecos Library Association:

Any now resident of the City of Pecos may borrow books from the Carnegie Library by complying with the following rules and regulations:

1. The borrower must be known by the Librarian, or their card endorsed by one known by her.

2. A charge of 10 cents will be made for all books going out of the city. This amount to be paid at the time of the borrow. Where a book is ordered by mail the postage to cover mailing together with the fee, must accompany the application.

3. The borrower must assume the responsibility of all books in transit and will be held responsible for any damage or loss of books while out of Library.

Dug Goalson accompanied by his uncle, Andy Hart, of Toyah, came down to enter the goat roping contest, but were ruled out, for fear of exceeding the speed limit.

ANTHONY CLOSES BIG CATTLE DEAL

It looks as if the cattle business might be picking up to some extent just now. The biggest cattle deal which has been pulled off in this part of the country in some time was that of the past few days when H. F. Anthony purchased steer yearlings for R. F. Jennings of San Antonio as follows:

One thousand head from W. D. Cowan and sons.

From C. W. Tudor 450 head.

From Julius Eisenwine 150 head.

From S. M. Prewitt 100 head.

From W. H. Browning, Jr., 300 head.

Through Mr. Anthony Mr. Jennings has also leased the Finley & Anderson Dixieland ranch where these yearlings are to be delivered on September 1st and where they will be pastured during the winter.

The consideration and terms are private, but it is said this is one of the largest cattle sales for some time in this section.

STEWART WON GREAT VICTORY SAYS DUDLEY

The following letter is self explanatory and will be appreciated by Enterprise readers:

Pecos Enterprise, Pecos, Texas.

Dear Mr. Editor:

You have noted our troubles with the Davis Mountains Investigating Committee, and I guess you have also noted that your Representative stands out for having won a great victory in the face of such opposition as the Governor himself. And my object in writing this is, I want the people of your section of the country to know that he (Stewart) fought an honest, straightforward, manly fight, and had it not been for Mr. Stewart's stand in this matter this commission could not have been appointed.

Even after the Governor's position was known the House by a vote of over 80 to something over 30, stood behind Mr. Stewart, and in the Senate where I introduced the same resolution, our vote was unanimous. We are going to visit that section and it is going to be a great pleasure to me to be in the party.

I believe that we should carve out a very large park in these mountains to preserve for posterity and now is the time to do it, and I believe the result of this investigation will be that the State will get possession of some of that fine mountain country for a park.

Yours sincerely,

R. M. DUDLEY.

OIL OPERATORS VERY OPTIMISTIC

In a late letter sent to its customers, Steele & Company, the well known investment brokerage house of Fort Worth, Texas, has the following:

"July having passed with no further reduction posted for crude, and premiums ranging from 15 to 30 cents being paid, together with a reduction in volume of Mexican crude imports to around 3,000,000 in July, as against an average monthly total of some 17,000,000 barrels, is a source of much comfort to the independent operator, and is responsible for the wave of optimism which is sweeping the Mid-Continent field.

"Reserve stocks are sufficient to meet present demands for little less than four months, a panicky production margin for any other trade than oil. A further fact contributing to a firm crude market is the danger of curtailing drilling operations to such an extent that, before production picks up a wild scramble for oil may ensue. Drilling operations now average 40 per cent less than six months ago and production decreases are just beginning to register a small, though steadily increasing volume. The natural conclusion is that a like period will undoubtedly follow before production will increase through renewed drilling activities.

"Another favorable indication was the July increased volume of inquiries for refined products which has exercised a strengthening tone on the market. Gasoline and fuel oil show increased demand and some advances. Gasoline reserve stocks in North Texas are low. Kerosene also registered fractional advances.

"Foreign demands are picking up, as evidenced by slightly increased reports. However, due to the European credit conditions no great activity in exports can be expected for some time. It is doubtful whether domestic light oils and refined products therefrom should be exported in large quantities to foreign countries. There is danger in not curtailing supply for domestic consumption. Visioning the future the utmost conservation of domestic supply should be the rule."

PINAL DOME WELL DOWN 2150 FEET

A depth of 2150 feet had been reached in the Pinal Dome Corporation in Loving county on Friday. The drill was working in salt formation after encountering a break of twenty feet of gypsum. The red salt of the potash formation has apparently been passed in this well, although this mineral was found in alternate layers in the well for more than 800 feet. Mr. Christner, the U. S. geological survey representative, visited the well to obtain samples this week and stated that he had not received the figures on the analysis of the potash salts sent in to Washington.

Several big interests are watching the potash situation carefully and there seems to be no doubt but that if the government report declares the salts to be commercially profitable, that mining operations will soon be started.

TOYAH BELL NO. 2 REACHES 4000 FEET

The four thousand foot mark was passed in the Toyah-Bell No. 2 late this week, and the drill is being continued in search of the main pool from which the oil which has appeared in the formation of the well for the past five or six hundred feet.

This hole is one of the most remarkable in oildom, being more than 3300 feet without casing, and standing up well. No water stratum has been found in the hole since the first water found between 700 and 800 feet.

Drue D. Christner, U. S. Geological Survey field representative, spent Wednesday night at the well on his trip over this territory.

As a result of geological advice the management have determined to push the hole to greater depths in the belief that the main pool will be found in the very near future, and that the drill will soon enter the Pennsylvanian formation.

The formations during the past week have been bituminous lime, of exceptional hardness and salt rock.

FISHING JOB AT THE BELL WELL

A broken cable caused a fishing job at the Bell No. 1 on Wednesday, and due to lack of fishing tools of 5 3-16 inch size, the casing has been pulled and fishing operations were started Friday morning with every prospect for success. Forty-five feet of cable is attached to the tools in the well, and there is no doubt but that the tools will be brought to the top in short order.

Temporary water shut off at 1995 feet was obtained early in the week, and this will be tried again. Fifteen hundred feet of mud laden fluid was put in the hole.

The drill had made about twenty feet of new hole in a heavy gas rock formation, and the prospects are more encouraging than ever in this well.

F. A. BESSIRE SELLS STORE TO DEE DAVIS

A deal was closed this week whereby F. A. Bessire sold his store at Toyah to Dee Davis, only the goods going in the deal, it is understood. Mr. Bessire still holds the store building and his residence.

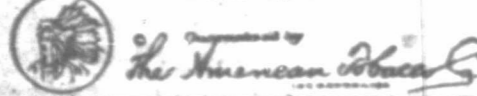

Mr. Bessire has been in the mercantile business in Toyah for something like fifteen years has run a straight forward business, dealing with all as he would wish to be dealt by. He is honest and conscientious and a good business man and christian gentleman and a splendid neighbor. At present he does not know just what he will do, but for the next few months at least he will remain in Toyah and make an effort to collect outstanding accounts incurred by the store and which he retained in the sale.

Dee Davis is an old citizen of Reeves county, having lived on his farm near Saragosa for years, and for the past year or so has been connected with the El Paso-Saragosa Oil Co., with his residence in El Paso.

HOME BREWING NOT PERMITTED IN BILL

Austin, Texas, Aug. 20.—Representative Morris of Medina county, the author of the bill making certain amendments to the Dean law passed by both Houses and now in the hands of the Governor, today pointed out that, contrary to the general impression, home brewing is not permissible under the amended act.

The rather peculiar phrasing of the bill, as it finally went to the Governor, led many persons to believe says Mr. Morris, that the manufacture and transportation of any liquor capable of producing intoxication is not illegal so long as that manufacture and transportation is not "for the purpose of sale."

A careful reading of the bill, however, will show this impression to be erroneous. Section 1 reads as follows: "It shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, to manufacture, sell, barter, exchange, transport, export, deliver, solicit, take orders for or furnish spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatever, or any equipment for making any such liquors, or to possess or receive for the purpose of sale any liquors herein prohibited."

It will be noted that the words "for the purpose of sale" do not qualify any clause in the section except the last clause, and then only to make the prohibition a double one. In other words, it is (1) unlawful per se to manufacture, transport, etc., liquor capable of producing intoxication and then, (2) it is also unlawful to do these things for the purpose of sale.

Other changes made by the new bill are as follows:

"1. No person over 25 years of age convicted under any of the provisions of the act are to have the benefit of the suspended sentence, the implication being, of course, that those under this age shall be entitled to the suspended sentence.

"2. The purchaser, transporter or possessor of intoxicating liquors is not held in law or in fact to be an accomplice when a witness in a trial in which conviction of a bootlegger or moonshiner is sought."

However, in this connection, it is interesting to note that the purchaser, transporter or possessor of intoxicating liquors gains this immunity only when he is subpoenaed or when he acts as a witness in any such trial. In other words he is still guilty of a felony when he buys liquor from a bootlegger or possesses it or transports it, and may be prosecuted under the terms of the act if the necessary evidence can be adduced. But if he is called as a material witness against the man from whom he bought the liquor, then, "in law" he is held not to be an accomplice. Thus, the whole effect of this section of the bill is to aid the prosecution in securing convictions without letting the bars down at all for the purchaser, so far as he individually is concerned.

IMPERIAL RESERVOIR DAM BREAKS

Considerable excitement and uneasiness prevailed in the Imperial and Buenavista sections last Monday, when it became generally known that the dam of the Imperial reservoir had broken and the escaping water threatened to destroy considerable territory, and possibly might cause the Zimmerman dam to break, thereby doing irreparable destruction and damage to those irrigated project on the Pecos river.

For six or seven years there has been a leak in the Imperial reservoir that has been getting larger each year and indicated that a partial destruction of the dam was inevitable, sooner or later, notwithstanding several thousand dollars had been expended in an effort to stop the leak.

On last Saturday, the water succeeded in eating its way under piling that had been driven several years ago in an effort to stop the seep, and gained an advantage that was impossible to check, and cut a gap in the dam about 20 feet wide and to a depth that will let waste more than half the water in the reservoir.

The break in the dam was on the east end, about 200 yards from the main headgates and a volume of water is still flowing, which cannot be stopped until the water in the reservoir is reduced to a point where it will not run out at the break.

The estimate of the damage to the dam is not large and it is believed will not cost more than $1,500 to $2,000 to replace, and will be mended at the earliest date possible.

The farming interest of the territory served by the Imperial reservoir, it is said, will suffer but little, and possible not any as it is believed the reservoir will have left in it sufficient water for the late irrigation of alfalfa and other crops that will need irrigating—the cotton crop which is good and practically matured, will not need another irrigation.

It was the intention of the Imperial irrigation managers to empty the reservoir during the month of August for the purpose of mending the leak in the dam and all things considered, the break could not have happened at a more opportune time and will, it is said, prove a benefit to the irrigation system, as the defect that has threatened the reservoir will now be eliminated.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

LANDSLIDE FOR ROAD BONDS IN PALO PINTO

Mineral Wells, Texas, Aug. 20.—By an unprecedented vote, which broke all city and county records, the $1,000,000 bond issue, which assures Palo Pinto of her proportion of the Bankhead highway and fifty miles of additional paved roads, carried today. It was a landslide in favor of the issue throughout the country. The city of Mineral Wells polled a total of 1,233 votes, of which 1,155 favored the issue, while 77 opposed it. Eliminating two small, isolated boxes which have not been heard from, the total vote cast in the road district was 1,751, of which 1,546 favored the issue and 204 opposed it. Strawn, Palo Pinto and Lyra carried, averaging four to one.

The women's vote was the heaviest ever polled in the city and favored the issue generally. The campaign to carry the issue has been the most strenuous ever waged here. Strong opposition to the issuance of the bonds existed, but the heavy voting against the proposition which was expected did not develop and early in the day it was apparent that it would be a landslide. Crowds were awaiting the opening of the polls as early as 6 o'clock this morning and interest increased all day.

DRILLING REPORT

The following drilling report was compiled and accurate, according to best information, and was furnished The Enterprise by W. A. Bennett, and will be of much interest to the public.

Corrected to August 5, 1921.

Table with columns: Company, Well, County, Sec., Township, Block, Depth, Remarks. Lists various drilling operations across different counties and townships.

The above list does not include many shallow wells in the Toyah field, and only those in actual operation in the Pecos, Valley field. I know of no oil field that at the same stage of development (20 months) that had so many active operations, and the fact is certain that some of these operations will go into them when they get deep enough, which may be anywhere from 2500 to 4000 ft. RETRENCHERS ISSUE STATEMENT ON ATTITUDE

Austin, Texas, Aug. 20.—Late today the retrenchers issued the following statement, addressed to the people of Texas:

"We, the committee appointed by the majority caucus of the House of Representatives, beg leave to submit the following statement for your consideration:

"Realizing the precarious financial condition of the people of this State, supplemented by the earnest requests of many of our constituents, a majority of the House sought, and for about four weeks fought for, a reasonable and fair reduction in the expense of the administration of State departments and institutions.

"Largely because of the strenuous fight and many objections on the part of the minority, the departmental and educational bills on free conference reports were not presented to the House until last Tuesday evening, the last day of the first called session of this Legislature. The departmental bill as reported and passed showed a reduction for the next two years of approximately $750,000 below the bill as presented by the Appropriation Committee. The House amendments to the educational bill largely reduced the expenditures contemplated by the bill originally presented. The Senate refused to accept these amendments, and the bill went to a free conference committee. The president of the Senate appointed a majority of said committee from the majority of the Senate which favored the original bill and the speaker of the House appointed a majority of the House conference committee from the minority of the House which favored the original bill. The Senate conferees, and a majority of the House conferees, instead of taking the original bill, took as a basis upon which to work a bill prepared at the regular session of this Legislature, which bill provided for an expenditure of $1,475,000 exclusive of matriculation fees and surplus annually for the University of Texas; while the original bill passed by the Senate and presented to the House after full consideration by the Appropriations and Finance Committees, and the heads of the educational institutions, provided for an expenditure including the available fund of $1,375,000 for the University. The majorities on said conference committee made certain deductions from the bill calling for the larger expenditure and presented a conference bill on last Tuesday evening calling for an annual expenditure for the University exclusive of matriculation fees and surplus of $1,405,000, or $31,000 more than that provided in the bill as originally presented to the House by Mr. Satterwhite, chairman of the Appropriations committee. After a bitter fight, the majority of the House refused to pass the conference bill.

"The Senate promptly passed at this session the original Senate bill and sent it to the house. We joined with the minority of the House and engrossed the House amendment as a substitute for the Senate bill, and suspended the constitutional rule, and finally passed the bill. The Senate refused to concur in this bill and asked for a conference committee.

"The majority of the House, realizing that they had the power to elect the House conferees on the conference committee to consider the bill, but deciding to show the speaker all due courtesy, submitted to the speaker a list of six names representing the views of the majority, and asked him to appoint three of them, or a majority, on the House conference committee. The speaker did not appoint such a majority, but appointed three of said conferees from the minority of the house, and appointed only two from the majority. Whereupon the two appointed from the majority resigned and substitute appointments were made by the speaker giving the entire representation on the committee to the minority of the House. The entire Senate conference committee were appointed from those representing the same views as the minority of the House. The result was that the entire membership from both houses on said committee represented the views of the minority of the House.

"The conference committee on said bill at the last called session worked two or three days before they were able to make a report. Realizing that there should be every possible effort made to adjust the differences and to expedite the adjournment of the Legislature, and that it would conserve time for the conference committee to be given a reasonable period for such adjustments and consideration the majority of the House voted today to adjourn until 1 o'clock next Tuesday.

"The House majority have done consistently everything possible to expedite the passage of a reasonable appropriation bill and shall continue so to do; but we do not desire nor propose that a bill shall be rushed through without due consideration and an honest effort to adjust the differences between the two houses. We shall await with considerable interest the report of the conference committee on the educational appropriations bill, and if the same is fair and equitable it will meet with our approval and support. However, we have insisted and shall continue to insist at this time, when all people are taking large losses, the faculties of educational institutions should not expect or demand that the emergency raises in salaries, given them temporarily for this year to meet the extraordinarily high cost of living, should remain intact when the emergency for which the same were given is passed.

"We believe we are working for the best interests of educational institutions and of the people of Texas and submit this statement in order that our position may be clearly understood."

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The First National Bank in St. Louis.

Statistics of iron and steel output for July as made public this week show that the decline in production in this industry, which has been in progress for many months continued with the result that production has the lowest level since December 1903.

In January of this year the output of pig iron was 2,401,845 tons as compared with 3,015,181 tons in January 1920. The July output of iron was only 864,555 gross tons as compared with 1,064,833 tons in June, with 3,059,603 tons in July 1920, and with 3,486,041 tons produced in October 1918 the month of maximum production.

the figures for the production of crude steel in July corresponds fully with those for the month's output of pig iron. In July 1921 there were produced 803,376 gross as compared with 1,003,406 tons produced in June with 2,802,818 tons produced in July 1920, and with 3,299,049 tons produced in March 1920, when the peak of crude steel production in the United States was attained.

As compared with the known capacity of the producing concerns, the July tonnage of both pig iron and steel fell much below 25 per cent.

The price situation in the iron and steel industry has also witnessed a phenomenal decline. In July 1921 pig iron was selling at $19.00 per gross ton with steel at $33.00. In the same month of 1920, the peak price of $46.00 for pig iron and $65.00 for steel was reached.

The statement that the iron and steel industry is both "prince and pauper," is well born out.

One of the large department stores of New Orleans has placed the ban on all employees wearing bobbed hair, lace stockings, roll down stockings, short skirts, lattice work sweaters and "make-up." Those girls who insist upon the above fads will find themselves out of employment. It is stated other department stores of that city will make similar regulations at an early date. It's a measly shame that a girl in this day and time cannot hold a job until she has first obtained from her employer just what she shall wear and how she must fix up her hair. Certainly the women folk who have contributed no little in the matter of designating just what a man shall eat, drink and wear should be allowed to dress as they wish, whether it be with many or few clothes, for the reason that they should know just as well what is good for themselves as they know the needs of man. Is it possible that these New Orleans department store heads are trying to break even?

Petty thieving appears to be gaining in Pecos. Recently Capt. W. W. Dean had his car jacked up and a tire stolen as also did Lee Ligon. The Randalls have recently had several coils stolen from their car. Doubtless many other smaller thefts have been made of which The Enterprise has not heard. Pecos has been exceptionally free from this kind of thieving as compared to other towns and it is to be hoped that this petty thieving will be stopped or the guilty ones apprehended and duly punished. The Enterprise sincerely believes that the punishment for this sort of crime is entirely too light. When a man works hard all day only to have the fruits of his labor taken from him while he sleeps that is about the limit of endurance. A man cannot work all day and watch all night and when he undertakes it it almost makes a criminal of him, and sufficient punishment should be administered to put a stop to it.

Did you ever hear of William Wrigley? William is the man who got an idea into his head that he could put the American people to chewing gum instead of chewing the rag, and a little glance at his success will be enough to convince any one that he has carried out his idea. Even after Mr. Wrigley has achieved such a towering success in his chosen field, occasionally some one tries to give him some wonderful advice as to how to make further progress. Recently, so Mr. Wrigley relates, he was on a train from Chicago to his home in California. A man overheard his name called and approaching him asked if he was the Mr. Wrigley that manufactured the chewing gum. The stranger was told that he was the man. Then he said: "I have something to tell you Mr. Wrigley. I have all the respect in the world for a successful business man—understand that—but you are making a great mistake." Mr. Wrigley asked, "What it is?" always being glad to learn of his mistakes. "How much are you spending for advertising?" Mr. Wrigley said, "Ten thousand dollars per day." "Then you are losing money fast," the stranger said. "You shouldn't have to advertise any more as everyone knows your gum and it is useless to advertise any more. It wouldn't do any good. Then Mr. Wrigley said: "My friend, we are riding on this train. What would happen if the locomotive were disconnected from this car we are now riding in and should go on up the track ahead? Well, that is what would happen if I should quit advertising. When people see "Wrigley's" they think of gum, and when they want gum they think of "Wrigley's." Advertising is the locomotive that is pulling your business along. Stop advertising, disconnect the locomotive, and your business slows down to a stop, and you will lose a lot of money getting started again. An advertising splurge is seldom effective. People forget your store, your business, as soon as you forget them. Keep them thinking about your store, by thinking about the people; and the only way to reach them is through advertising. The newspaper is the most effective method of advertising for many obvious reasons. Practically everyone reads a newspaper. Once you are in business advertising becomes a necessary investment. It gets you what you always want—more business. My first advertising contract was for $300 dollars. Last year I spent in advertising "Wrigley's" just $3,500,000 and I now spend $10,000 a day. Figure out for yourself how many sticks of gum must be sold to meet this appropriation alone and see how advertising gets results."—Richardson Echo.

RECEIVED.

Regretting that he did not know how to address State Press except in care of, this newspaper office and sending a crate of the finest cantaloupes east of the Pacific Ocean, Walter N. Sutherland, secretary of the Pecos Chamber of Commerce, expresses the kind hope that S. P. will not be torn to fragments by his clamorous confreres when they see his gift and catch its fragrance. Mr. Sutherland's consideration, both in dispatching the donation and in regretting that he could not send it to a more private address, thereby obviating the chance of a fight over its custody, are deeply appreciated by the recipient for his largess. And it may be interesting to all inquiring friends to know that State Press divided the boon with a dozen or so of the most predacious members of this office organization, on their implied but unexpressed promise to refrain from pough stuff. There are several communistic-minded persons holding desks contiguous to the work bench of S. P., and it is their opinion that anybody who has anything should give it up. And after they get what is given them, on the communistic principle, they hurry to consume it lest they be required to divide it with later comers. That is fundamental in all communistic societies—to hurry to eat up whatever they have, for fear it will be commandeered by some slower moving brother with a brawnier fist. Being an authority on cantaloupes, and also being opposed to exaggeration and bombast and grandiloquence, S. P. can only say for the Pecos type of cantaloupe that it is the superlative achievement in vegetable confectionery, containing as it does the most subtle and unique delicacy of flavor, which ranges up and down into every nuance of palatability. This particular consignment came in perfect condition and it is not surprising to be told that the Pecos cantaloupes are shipped as far away as New York by express for the high-priced cafe trade.—State Press in Dallas News.

S. P. is nearly always right and in most everything he says The Enterprise most readily agrees, but this is one time he is dead wrong. Starting out S. P. says: "And sending a crate of the finest cantaloupes east of the Pacific Ocean." Pecos is shipping out a car load a day of just as fine cantaloupes as those sent you by the Secretary of Pecos' Chamber of Commerce, although The Enterprise is forced to admit that there is none either east or west, north or south of the Pacific Ocean any better or even as good. The Enterprise does not wish its good friend, S. P., any bad luck, but it is glad that other members of the News force than he had an opportunity to eat while fresh of the very best cantaloupes grown on the face of mother earth.—Jim Lowrey's buttermilk fades into insignificance when compared to them.

CHILD OR CANINE

The following from State Press is good sound horse sense and should be digested by every owner of a dog in the United States:

A lady customer at a near-by county seat asks State Press what he thinks of a mother who whipped a little girl repeatedly because the child refused to go on an errand by a route that took her past a house where three dogs occupied the sidewalk. "If people can not keep dogs without causing such suffering as this, I say kill the dogs or the children one," concludes our correspondent. That seems a rather unnecessary choice. The children we must have with us always if the world is to be of any account. To conceive of this round globe entirely bereft of child life, with only grown-ups to be considered, would be to imagine a bedlam of hatreds and a Gehenna of wars. It is love that makes the world go round and children which make love endure and refresh itself. The little girl who didn't want to go near the dogs was more afraid of them than of the whippings she got. Her mother was probably a just woman, but one woefully lacking in the finer attributes of motherhood. To lack understanding is not a crime, but it readily may cause crime. The family which insisted upon keeping three dogs may have been desirable citizens in the nationalistic sense, but they were undesirable neighbors in the local sense. It was the child that suffered, not the mother, not the neighbor, not the dogs. The children frequently pay for the sins of the parents, but they ought not have to suffer for the selfishness of their neighbors.

Uncle John's Poem

THE MIDNIGHT CALL

The doctor hears the noisy bell, and staggers to the phone, then silently he dons his garb, and marches forth, alone; a chill pervades the empty street, and stings his wary form, while others, in their cosy cots are comforted and warm. Through all the toilsome weary day he battled with his foes, anticipating in his way, a night of earned repose. But ah, how vain the doctor's hopes! The thought of peaceful rest, or happy hour to call his own, eludes his constant quest. 'Tis his to strive for competence against the rainy day, and his to heal the suffering ones, that fall beside the way; 'tis his to lend the cheering smile, and lift the wasted form,—no matter how the midnight chills, nor how severe the storm. For him, there is no peaceful dream,—no restful hour is set, wherein this silent, earnest man may rally,—or forget. God, give him strength to overcome his heartaches, one and all, and lead him gently when he makes his final midnight call!

Yr. own Uncle John.

MAN WITHIN—MAN WITHOUT

There is a man within just as truly as there is a man without.

The man within is both lord and master of the man without.

The man within is the life and power of the man without.

As the dynamo furnishes unseen power to the machine, so the man within to the man without.

The man within must first move or there can be no movement without.

The man within gives orders and the man without carries them into execution.

The man within must first speak or the man without can never talk.

The man within must first think or the man without can never act intelligently.

The man within is first pure or impure before the man without can be the same.

As the man within thinketh so will the man act without if opportunity presents.

From the abundance of the heart within the mouth speaketh without.

If the fountain source within is pure, the stream that flows without will be pure.

But if the life within is corrupt, the life without will also be corrupt.

The man without is never a thief until the man within is first a thief.

The man without can never commit murder until the man within has committed murder over and over.

The lips without can never tell an untruth until the lips within has uttered lies.

The man within must first steal before the man without can lay hands on another's goods.

The man within must first grumble and find fault before the tongue can complain.

Vile and corrupt thoughts must first be in the heart before they can fall from the lips.

The man within must first be cheerful or the man without can never smile.

Kindness must be in the heart before lips or hands can give expression.

The man within must be good long before the man without can show it to the world.

The man within must be true and faithful or the man without can never be so.

The man within must first control his passion or the man without will go to the dogs.

The man within must direct his thoughts or the man without will speak strange words.

The man within must first worship God or the man without can never do so.

The man within must first be a gentleman or the man without will be dead to honor.

The man within must be polite before the man without can ever be chivalrous.

The man within must first be a real man or the man without will be sham.—Rev. Geo. H. Givan, in Carlsbad Current.

SMALL CRAFT WARNINGS HELP POTASH WORK IN CALIFORNIA

Even the weather man like a modicum of praise occasionally, sandwiched in between the habitual grumbings of the American public as to the style and quality of weather meted out from season to season. The Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture recently received the following letter from those in charge of the work of extracting potash from kelp in southern California:

"I take this occasion to thank you and the members of your organization for the splendid service you have given us during the past four years. Your warnings have been a source of a great deal of comfort and have been of the greatest service to us in enabling us to take precautions upon the approach of storms. We have gotten by during the four years without any damage from the elements, and the success has been due largely to your kind assistance. Your cooperation is most heartily appreciated."

Storm warnings had been habitually displayed along the California coast and small craft warnings whenever they were necessary. The plant operated a barge in the open sea, and consequently it was more frequently endangered than a stauncher craft would have been under similar weather conditions. The appreciative letter, which was entirely unsolicited, is illustrative of the dependence of many industries on weather warnings.

Pay Out $100,000,000 Annually

It is a fact, perhaps not well known to the public, that the railroads of the United States are paying out annually on an average the enormous sum of $100,000,000 for claims for loss and damage to freight shipments. The major portion of this expenditure is for claims arising from loss and damage due directly or indirectly to conditions existing upon the railroads; however the writer has before him data compiled by the American Railway Association, Freight Claims Division, which show that a large part of the expenditures is for claims for loss and damage resulting from the shippers improperly packing and marking their shipments, using fragile and otherwise unfit containers, poor quality bagging, etc., in which to ship goods.

Each railroad member of the American Railway Association is paying in freight claims an average of $1000,000 a month. It will be readily seen that if this sum is saved to the railroads each month the benefit therefrom will accrue not only to the carriers, but to the public as well through the diversion of the sum as outlay for needed improvements along the line of road, extensions of the lines themselves, new shops erected, roadbed ballasted where needed new rolling stock purchased, rolling stock now in service maintained in better repair, etc., such activities resulting in increased demand for labor.

The carriers are unremitting in their efforts to eliminate the causes for freight claims insofar as such causes are due to conditions existing with the carriers themselves, but the effective co-operation of the individual shipper is necessary to complete success. Therefore it is the desire of the Claim Prevention Committee of the Rio Grande Division, Texas & Pacific Railway, to solicit through the medium of the press such co-operation upon the part of the shippers along the Rio Grande Division. It is the belief of the committee that if the cooperation of the shippers in the prevention of freight claims is forthcoming the result effected will be of benefit to both the shippers and the railroad.

PLENTY OF OIL SHALE IN WESTERN STATES

Washington, Aug. 8.—Recent investigations by the U. S. geological survey are held by its experts to indicate that, in the Rocky mountain states, "there are enormous quantities of oil shale which can be made to yield hydrocarbon oils to a much greater extent than we can hope to obtain from our oil wells." The shales are said to constitute a tremendous potential oil reserve. "The oil shales of this country," says the report, "contain enormous quantities of oil, but large amounts of money will have to be invested before the oil shale industry becomes of commercial importance. Estimates by various engineers of the cost of a complete retorting plant, handling 1000 tons daily, are between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. "In this country the oil shale industry cannot be developed overnight and probably can not attain success until large sums of money have been spent in perfecting mining retorting and refining methods. A company to be successful, must be able to employ the best technical, business and engineering skill available, be prepared to operate on a large scale and be financially strong enough to wait several years for any large return on the money invested." The report declares that it is "unfortunate that a large number of the many companies organized to deal with oil shale are devoting their efforts to stock selling rather than assisting in building a firm basis for an industry." A summary of the report follows: There are no commercial oil-shale plants operating in this country at the present time, although there is a well established industry in Scotland.

Many American shale deposits are richer in recoverable oil than Scotch shale now being worked, and probably nearly equal in nitrogen content, which is a measure of recoverable ammonia. Market conditions for shale products are less favorable in this country than in Scotland. Greater quantities of American shale are of greater thickness and better suited for mining than Scotch shale. As yet no process for obtaining oil from oil shale has been in commercial practice in this country. Indications are that the United States cannot continue long to depend on domestic petroleum production to supply completely the demand for petroleum products, and that sooner or later our oil shales will have to be used to help supply the deficit. The oil shale industry cannot hope to supplant the petroleum industry in a large way for many years, but will probably grow up from local industries in favorable places. Costs of shale operations can not be reliably estimated until commercial practice in this country furnishes the necessary data. The quantity, quality and value of products and by-products to be obtained from oil shale in this country are not known with any degree of certainty. The oil shale industry is a large scale, low-grade, raw materials manufacturing enterprise, requiring large capital, high technical and business ability and probably making slow returns on the investment. Once economic conditions become favorable for the development of the oil-shale industry and satisfactory mining, retorting and refining processes worked out and markets established, there should be only ordinary business risk connected with the industry.

ENGLISH LORD AMAZED AT OUR PESSIMISM

"I am amazed to find you American business men so nervous, so pessimistic. You certainly have far better reasons for feeling easy and confident than we British," says Lord Northcliffe, the greatest self-made man in the British Empire, who is now among us. "Your bank reserves are colossal, much higher than ours. You have close to one-half of all the gold in the world, and it is still rolling in on you. Except for the fact that you bankers charge more for the use of money than ours I see no legitimate reason why business should be slow in this country." Northcliffe is dead right. There is no valid reason for our stagnancy. We have contracted the pessimistic habit, that's all. And we are merely slaves of a bad habit. With the highest grade, gilt edge securities of the nation paying the highest returns on record—securities that can be snapped up now at bargain figures—the man who does not take advantage of the present moment only stands in his own way. Those who delay will wish they hadn't warned Sugarman's Indicator.—Alpine Avalanche.

GIVES OIL LEASE FOR GARAGE BILL

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 19.—The re-entry into the oil business of Joe M. Ligon, founder of the Burkburnett field, and B. J. Johnson, known as the discoverer of the Desdemona field, recalls many of the amusing details in connection with the phenomenal success of their companies two years ago. The Fowler Farm Oil Company, organized by Joe M. Ligon and S. L. Fowler, drilled the first well in the Burkburnett field, sold the properties and paid stockholders $15,000 for every $100 invested. The Hogg Creek Company, organized by Mr. Johnson, following the successful completion of the Duke well in the Desdemona field, paid its stockholders $10,000 for every $100 invested besides dividends of 150 per cent in the meantime. One of the fortunate shareholders of stock of the Hogg Creek Company was M. G. Ray, a garage owner of Waxahachie, Texas. One day late in 1918 Mr. Ray was approached by one of his customers who wished to buy two casings for his automobile. "I'm a little short of money, Ray," said the customer, "but I'll trade you $200 worth of stock in an oil company for the casings." "What company?" asked Mr. Ray. "Hogg Creek," was the reply. The garage owner thought for several minutes; looked at the certificates; cogitated long and deliberately. "Well, I'll take a chance and trade with you," he finally said. The "swap" was made and Mr. Ray laid away his stock. He did not think of the matter again for several weeks. One day he received a letter. It contained $300. It was a dividend of 150 per cent from the Hogg Creek Company. A few months later he received another letter. On opening it a crisp check for $20,000 dropped out. It was the participation in the enormous profits realized on the sale of the Hogg Creek Company's properties to the Magnolia Petroleum Company. Mr. Ray's earnings netted him exactly $20,300 on the $200 worth of stock he took in exchange for them. They were the most expensive casings in history.

Firestone

30x3 1/2 STANDARD NON-SKID

The Fastest Selling Tire In America

The increasing popular demand for the Firestone Standard 30x3 1/2 inch tire over a period of years has given us big volume. Our Plant No. 2 devoted wholly to this size tire with a capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes per day cuts costs on every operation.

On May 2, we dropped our price to $13.95 passing on to the car owner the full benefits of this big sales volume and this labor-saving plant. This tire has been our standard for years—four plies long staple fabric—extra gum between plies—heavy non-skid tread. The greatest value ever offered car owners. Insist on Firestone.

Our Cord Tire Values

Firestone Cord tires are made exclusively in Plant No. 1. Our process of double gum-dipping each ply of cord gives thicker insulation. The massive non-skid tread, with extra thickness where wear is most severe, gives real effectiveness in holding the car against slipping and adds many extra miles of service.

Firestone Cord tires are sold at the lowest prices in cord tire history: 30x3 1/2, $24.50; 32x4, $46.30; 34x4 1/2, $56.90.
