PECOS, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 7, 1922

$2.00 PER YEAR, $1.25 FOR SIX MONTHS.

DISTRICT MEET TO BE HELD HERE APRIL 14-15TH

Pecos will be host to between 150 and 200 High School pupils, teachers and patrons next Friday and Saturday during the annual district meet of the five counties of Midland, Ector, Ward, Reeves and Martin.

This meet was secured from the State Interscholastic authorities after it had been located in Midland for years, and Pecos is to be given an opportunity to show the visitors how well the town can entertain them.

The program for the meet is being drawn up by Professor P. J. Rutledge, superintendent of the local schools, who is to be in charge of all arrangements, and the details will be arranged early next week as soon as all entries are in. At the present time five boys' and five girls' debating teams have entered, declamation teams of four each, including a junior boy and girl, and a senior boy and girl from each of the five counties, have entered. In addition tennis teams and track teams of from five to ten and fifteen men each will be entered from each county.

The event is the big spring school term, and a large crowd of home folks is expected to accompany each team.

Plans for the meet will follow in some ways the plans used by Midland. The visiting contestants and teachers will be entertained in the home of Pecos citizens, and on Monday the pupils of the High School will be formed into committees to arrange for the food and board for the visitors in local homes.

An expense of about $200 is expected to be needed for incidental costs, and arrangements are to be made to sell patrons tickets at $1.00 each to raise this sum. Walter N. Sutherland has been placed in charge of the work of raising this fund.

Most of the arrivals are expected on the evening trains on Thursday of next week. The present plans are to open the program Friday morning with the preliminary debates, which will be open only to the members of the various schools, and the tennis events.

Friday afternoon will be given over to the track and field and athletic events, and Friday evening the finals in the debates and the declamation contests will be held.

On Saturday morning such events as were not decided the previous day will be cared for, and the tennis finals will probably take place at that time.

G. E. Whitehead of Saragosa, is in charge of the athletic events. Judges for the literary events will be brought to Pecos from towns outside the district.

Under present understandings with the State Interscholastic authorities the meet will probably be alternated between towns in the eastern and western end of the districts and it is hoped that Pecos will live up to its previous reputation as a good host and make the events so pleasant that the authorities will again be glad to return the meet to this city.

It is probable that the main literary events will be held in the Baptist church.

SHOULD CORE DRILL RED BLUFF SITE IN NEXT THIRTY DAYS

From the superintendent directing core drilling at a proposed irrigation dam site north of Fort Sumner, it is apparent that those interested in the drilling of the Red Bluff site should be rewarded for their patience within the next thirty days.

This information was conveyed this week in a letter from the superintendent to the secretary of the Pecos Chamber of Commerce. The informant advised that possibly a week longer would be consumed in the test north of Fort Sumner, after which the drill would be removed to a site north of Carlsbad, where it would be engaged for perhaps twenty days. The drill then will be moved to the Red Bluff project.

SADDLE SHOP BURGLARIZED. The saddle and harness shop of G. H. Pinkston was burglarized Sunday night and a number of articles taken, such as spurs, straps, quirts, leather belts, bridle, etc. Entrance to the building was gained by prying off the latch and padlock fastening one of the doors. No arrests have been made in the case.

TOYAH HIGH SCHOOL SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA RENDERS RECITAL

The initial recital of the Toyah Symphony Orchestra was given to a capacity house at the school auditorium on last Friday evening. Long before the opening number "standing room only" was in evidence, and when the organization played the first selection, the pessimistic implication that small town musical talent cannot be developed en bloc was gloriously shaken. The orchestra has over thirty active members and with the exception of four or five grown persons, they are all students at the High School. Their ages range from eleven to seventeen and all have a talent and taste for music. To Mrs. Gage VanHorn should be given the credit for suggesting this organization as a possibility. She visited many mothers who co-operated with the hope that if the young boys had some diversion that would interest them and amuse them at home, the result would have a noticeable effect on their morals, deportment and bearing, and help to create a refining influence in the home.

The rendition of the solos, ensemble and full orchestra numbers were given by the young players without embarrassment and timidity and to specialize on any solo number would be superfluous. Everyone knew his or her part and played it effectively. Never before was so large an audience packed in the auditorium and the spontaneous applause for each number was an inspiration to the performers.

The following solos were rendered:

Valse—Carlotta	Ga Quiros
Jack Hayes
Novelette—BoPeep	Papini
Tootie Seay
Marche Militaire	C. W. Kern
Bernice Johnson
Waltz—Beauty	L. Rinquet
Ether Harkness
Waltz—Tripping Measure	Franklin
Floyd Hosie
Waltz—Marguerite	Haesche
A. H. Bruce
The Palms—Cornet Solo	F. Faure
Gage VanHorn

Three young piano pupils of Mrs. E. L. Harp, wife of the director of the orchestra, rendered the Festival March, a piano trio by Behr, which was well received. The young pianists were: Annie Sue, Beulah Ben and Nadine Caruthers. The selections by the full orchestra were: March—Graduation Day Mackie Valse—All for Love Beyer Melody in F Rubenstein March—Home Guard Beyer

The violin section is divided into solo, obligato, first and second violin parts. The entire personnel under the efficient direction of Mr. E. L. Harp is as follows:

Violins.
Mrs. Mat Grissom	Thelma Carnahan
A. H. Bruce	Tootie Seay
L. Harkness	Jack Hayes
Floyd Hosie	Lora Collins
Bernice Johnson	Frank Floyd
Ether Harkness	Catherine Morton
Cornets.
Gage VanHorn	Bud Hayes
Sydney Holmes	Bishop Humphreys
Bas.	Saxophone.
Ted Seay	A. O. Harris
Alts.
J. L. Duncan	Byron Johnson
Clarence Scholz
Clarinet.
Wendel Powell	J. T. Henderson, Jr.
Odell Collins	Catherin Bernard
Ira Belcher	Janie Joe Duncan

Drums and Bells.
Mrs. E. L. Harp
Piano.
Corinne Humphreys

The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. E. L. Harp, a Reeves county cattleman. Mr. and Mrs. Harp, the latter of whom played on the piano accompaniments to the above solos, lived in Toyah five years before the people were cognizant of the fact that both were highly educated and accomplished musicians. Their recent tireless work with these young people can hardly be expressed by praise and commendation. Mr. Harp is known as a trombone, cornet and euphonium soloist to many of the best band leaders, and his compositions have been published and sold by many of the largest publishers. To these good people is due the promised success of the undertaking, and Toyah is proud of them, and the progress their children have accomplished under their direction. Mr. E. B. Daniels, president of the Toyah Valley State Bank, addressed the audience and read many letters from prominent colleges and band leaders highly commending the director as a musician and orchestra leader.

Their Beauty Brings Them Fortunes

Child innocence and child beauty are admired everywhere, be it in home or movie. These four little beauties have just left their home to pose before the camera for French movie fans. They have been declared the four most beautiful children in Europe and the highest salaried. Upper left, is Claude Albert, who won a $25,000 contest as the most beautiful child. Upper right, Lina LeLong; lower left La Petite Louise and lower right, Bebe Lilliane.

YOUNG MEN WILL FORM AUXILIARY TO PECOS C. OF C.

Invitations have been sent out to nearly a score of young men of Pecos requesting their presence at the Johnston Cafe Tuesday evening next, when an effort will be made to form a young men's business league, as an auxiliary to the Pecos Chamber of Commerce.

The objects of the organization will be for the conservation of the social and athletic activities of the young men of the city, as well as affording an avenue for their first steps in commercial and civic development.

Most well regulated Chambers of Commerce of progressive towns and cities provide such an auxiliary for the development of their young men, as the tomorrows of our existence will call for their assuming the direction of public affairs.

LUCKY FORT STOCKTON
The Legion "Follies" which is coming to be an institution of Pecos, has been booked for an appearance at Fort Stockton Saturday evening, the engagement being booked this week by Ralph Sparks and Chas. Kendall. It is said that these gentlemen figured "as how" they could annex about fifty perfectly good dollars to the legion fund by securing engagement at Fort Stockton, and as the novelty of the comedian's role has not subsided with quite all the cast, they are game to try it on.

PECOS REMAINS DRY
The rains which have visited West Texas the past week or ten days have reached the vicinity of Pecos, in directions south-west, north and west, within a radius of fifteen to twenty miles. While reports indicate that the major part of the range country embraced in West Texas has been visited by these rains, yet a considerable area remains to receive the much desired moisture which will be necessary before this section takes its step with the new season's progress. There is nothing which will inspire the people of West Texas with as much pep as a genuine chunk-floating rain.

SOFT WATER ICE
F. H. Wagner, of New York, is in Pecos to direct the installation of some machinery for the local power and ice company, which will purify and soften the water from which they will manufacture ice. While Pecos water is comparatively pure, it is surprising how much "foreign" matter, which resembles lava, can be extracted from the distilling process such as the utility company is installing. A company further up the valley who prided itself in the manufacture of pure ice, made a visible demonstration of the extracted matter from Pecos Valley water in assembling a great chunk of this lava-like substance for exhibition in their show window.

CITY ELECTION INSPIRES 421 TO VISIT POLLS

Pecos electorate were in a mood for voting Tuesday, as evidenced by the number of ballots cast in the city election, a total of 421 being counted, about evenly divided between the two sexes according to those curious enough to determine this factor in present day elections.

The only race in which there was a contest was that for the office of marshal, and as each aspirant had a very considerable following, it is presumed that this rivalry inspired the heavy voting at the polls. The candidates for marshal were M. L. Roddy, seeking re-election, and Joe Hudgens, new to the local political arena, though a citizen of the town for more than a score of years. Roddy won the race by a majority of 45 votes.

The election result very decisively puts the stamp of approval of the electorate upon the administration of Judge Ben Palmer as mayor, as his unopposed choice Tuesday places him in the office for the third term, counting the first partially unexpired term in which he took up the reins of city government as one of the cycles of his tenure.

The vote as unofficially recorded and reported to the Enterprise for each candidate was as follows:
For Mayor—
Ben Palmer 409
For Marshal—
M. L. Roddy 231
Joe Hudgens 186
For Aldermen—
S. M. Prewitt 408
R. E. Williams 393
H. H. Johnson 387
City Secretary—
E. Easterbrook 418

WHEN DOES SUCCESS COME?

So highly individualistic are men that no definite rule can be established by which to determine when success may come to a person. Some have declared that opportunity knocks but, once at the door of an individual, but the facts seem to contradict this statement.

The following editorial written by a well known editorial writer, will prove interesting to those who have thought of the three men whose names are mentioned:

"Henry Ford was 40 years old when he organized his auto company. It took him that long to 'get onto the cures' of the spitball pitchers, success.

"Some people would never do as well if they lived forever. It all depends on the person, his brain and the environment into which he is rolled as one of fate's dice.

"Andrew Carnegie was only moderately successful at 35. He was 66 when he consolidated the United States Steel Corporation and retired.

"An exception was John D. Rockefeller, who owned an oil refinery when he was 26 and founded the Standard Oil Co., when he was 31.

"Age means nothing. What counts most is how much you cram into that most important year—when opportunity knocks."

Opportunity is often recurring, and with physical and mental strength there is a promise of success, attending right thinking and attitudes and application to intensive efforts along any definite line.

WATER USERS' TO MEET

The directing body for the Pecos Valley Water Users' association will meet at Barstow Monday of next week at 1 p. m., for the purpose of perfecting some unfinished work begun at its annual meeting held here.

LEIGON "FOLLIES" A SUCCESS AT CARLSBAD

The presentation of the Legion "Follies" at Carlsbad last Saturday evening by a cast comprised chiefly of members of the local post of the American Legion, was said to have been about all that could have been desired in the elements of success in such enterprises. The attendance was better than expected, the door receipts being in the approximate sum of $265, while the reception of the presentation on the part of the City Beautiful folk was an inspiration to the visitors.

ELECT SCHOOL DIRECTORS

Only twenty-eight voters of Pecos Independent School district presented themselves at the court house last Saturday to express their choice in the election of four school trustees. Those elected were: O. T. Norwood, C. B. Jordan, Albert Sisk and Dr. O. J. Bryan.

A DIGEST OF THE WEEK'S PROGRESS IN PECOS OIL FIELD

BELL WELL NO. 1
The Bell well No. 1, being drilled by the Dixieland Syndicate, has effectually shut off the immense volume of gas which was struck three weeks ago. This was accomplished in the manner reported in last week's Enterprise. Today the crew began straight reaming the hole, when 5 3-16 inch casing will be set to shut off water which is above the level of the last gas strike.

It is the belief of many oil authorities that this well, if handled properly, will make a good producer. The immense volume of gas which was struck in the hole three weeks ago, contained high petroleum content, proving that it was escaping from some oil horizon. As soon as the hole is reamed and the casing set to effectually shut off the water, drilling will be resumed.

RIVER WELL NO. 2

The River No. 2, drilling by the Arthur Pitts Oil Co., in Ward county, has reached the 3600-foot level, after setting 6-inch casing at 3482 feet. C. A. Owen, in charge of the operations at this test, when asked this morning by an Enterprise reporter as to the formation in which they were working, stated that while they were more or less flattering, nothing counted with them except the strike of the real fluid in commercial quantities, and that this would be all they thought worth while to give out for publication.

PECOS-ANGELES

The Pecos-Angeles, section 68, block B, H. & G. N. Ry. survey, is drilling after the installation of a new cable and strengthening of its derrick for the deeper levels which they are fast negotiating with night and day shifts.

TOYAH-BELL

No report could be obtained today from the operations at the Toyah-Bell, being managed by the Standard Oil Co. B. H. Ramsey, one of the managing heads of the test, when asked this morning by a representative of The Enterprise for a report on the work, stated that there would be no further public reports made as to developments at this location. It is currently reported that in an effort to start the line of 5 3-16 inch casing from its setting at the 4,270-foot level, it parted at a point below 550 feet and the efforts of the crew were today directed toward picking up the remaining string.

The work at this test has been placed in charge of Geo. W. Jennings, who came here several weeks ago from Ranger, taking the place of Munce & Wolf. The plan of this authority has understood to contemplate the placing of a cement plug from the bottom of the hole up to 4,485 feet and will be cushioned with sand pumpings, after which the 5 3-16 inch casing set to 4,270 feet, will be drawn. Next 720 feet of 6-inch casing, with a disc wall packer attached, will be run and cement will be poured between this pipe and the 8 1/4 inch casing, which goes to 610 feet. After water, which has been leaking around the 8 1/4 inch casing is shut off, the well probably will be shot in soon.

The Toyah-Bell No. 2, is in Loving county, section 30, block 1, W. & N. W. survey.

THE FINAL DOME

The Final Dome test in Loving county has been abandoned and the hole is being plugged, according to information reaching this office. The hole was approximately 5200 feet, said to be the second deepest test in the State. Some oil was struck in this hole at 5130 feet and also at 5150 feet.

SOME FISH, THIS.

Joe Kraus, Jr., probably holds the season's record for a catch of fish, in his landing last night of a 35-pound catfish at Rock Crossing on the Pecos river. The success of the young man will likely stimulate interest in the sport, though from the number of fishing parties who have been seen to leave the city this week for the rendezvous of the finny tribe, it would seem that there is about as much pleasure in the pursuit of the game as in its possession.

HELP NATURE "DRESS UP" THIS SPRING

This is the season when nature begins its great activity and puts on a new coat, making all things beautiful by being dressed for Spring. Nothing is more beautiful than the clean, bright appearance of nature, and it is only fitting that men and women should emulate nature at this season.

The old alley, full of tin cans, baling wire, ashes, tumble weeds and other trash is not in harmony with the front yard, with a fine grassy lawn and summer blossoms. An unkept street will not look very well along the side of a well kept lawn.

The old roof will loom up before your eyes, like a storm cloud, as very unsightly if it needs paint and fail to get it. The curled shingles will advertise your negligence and slothfulness to the world.

It is the duty of every citizen to make his place so attractive that it will be a joy to himself and his family and a joy to his neighbors and fellow citizens.

If a person is afflicted with some disease and fails to try to improve his condition he will get sicker. The same will apply to the homes of the town. Unless an effort is made to improve the dilapidated conditions of the house, the barn, the back yard, the street in front of the house, or the alley behind the house, these conditions will get worse, instead of better.

Cleanliness is like many diseases, in being contagious, spreading from one neighborhood to another, when once started. If your neighbor improves his place, do not be immune and let your place look like an abandoned out-house.

OUR FALSE LEADERS

"I believe that close American contact with Europe is inevitable," declares former Governor Lowden, who aspired to the Republican nomination for the Presidency two years ago, and who has just returned from a trip to Europe.

Coming from such a source such a declaration is very significant. For this circumstance serves to emphasize its truth and to direct public attention toward it.

Watching the course of events from day to day since the armistice has forced upon us the conclusion that the chief evil of this country today is the spirit of partisan politics.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared For The Enterprise By The First National Bank in St. Louis.

The latest report of the Bureau of Census gives the total production of boots and shoes during the month of January 1922, as 25,173,437 pairs, compared with 24,241,773 pairs during December and 23,592,610 pairs in November.

Gains in output of other descriptions of shoes were only slight, with Misses' and children's shoes 3,198,410 pairs in January, 2,802,788 pairs in December and 3,150,263 pairs in November.

The Census report for January does not indicate what proportion of the shoes produced during the month was made in the New England States, but during December 9,870,900 pairs were manufactured in New England and 14,371,573 pairs in other sections of the country.

WEST TEXAS A BIG LAND OF WIDE HORIZONS

At the recent meeting of representatives of irrigation enterprises called by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and held at Austin, Texas, with the State Board of Water Engineers, it was estimated that the value of irrigation properties within the State is approximately $100,000,000; and the Chairman of the Board of Water Engineers told the writer that not more than 5 per cent of the irrigable properties in Texas are yet developed. This means, with full development, that there is a value in irrigation properties in the State of two billion dollars.

One of the most important irrigation areas lies in the valley of the Pecos river, in the State of Texas and New Mexico. There are well developed private enterprises now operating at Grandfalls, Imperial, Buenavista, Barstow, and at some other places in Texas and the government project at Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Essential elements of a successful irrigation enterprise are fertile irrigable lands, sufficient, and suitable water, and climate. All of these elements are found in the valley of the Pecos. Some of the enterprises mentioned have been in operation for more than twenty-five years, and for a sufficient time to prove, or disprove the soil, the water and the climatic conditions as they bear upon the crop, plant growth, and production. And when we say there is more land being prepared for cultivation for the coming season than ever before in this area, it would seem that experience has proven the irrigation value there.

There are thousands of acres of alfalfa, cotton, maize, kafir corn, and other crops grown there yearly. The alfalfa produced, it is asserted in official bulletins of the State, is of the best quality of alfalfa produced in Texas. The cotton is a long staple, and brings a price considerably above that paid for the rain belt cotton farther east. The boll weevil, for climatic or other reasons, is practically unknown there.

The method of putting water on the land in this district involves no pumping. Dams are built across the river and the water diverted into reservoirs, from which the water is taken off by gravity flow, to the farms. In some instances the water is carried direct from the river dam to the farms; but the reservoir system is preferable because it makes possible the retention of flood water thereby furnishing a storage and serving as a safeguard against loss by reason of periods of low water in the river. There are several reservoirs along the river; among them those of the Orient Company, and the Pecos River Reservoir Irrigation Company, near Imperial and Buenavista, Texas, under which there are now something like 10,000 acres under cultivation, with a great deal more to be developed. The Government reservoirs at Carlsbad, New Mexico, furnish supply water to about 25,000 acres of land, practically all of which is developed.

At Grandfalls, Texas, irrigation has been carried on for more than a quarter of a century without a retaining reservoir. At Fort Stockton, in Pecos county, Texas, several thousand acres are being successfully irrigated from Comanche Springs. These springs are remarkable in that they are flowing daily 35,000,000 gallons of water and there is no record of material change in the amount of their flow, notwithstanding these springs have been known since the days of the early Spanish history of the Southwest dating back more than 200 years.

Lands under these various enterprises sell at prices varying from $50 to $250 per acre, according to location and state of development, and when rented they earn more per acre than the lands in the Middle West, which have been selling from $400 to $500 per acre.

The valley soil is very rich and being naturally level, the cost of adjusting it to irrigation is comparatively small. Over much of the land is a small growth of mesquite and other plants which, at the low cost of Mexican labor, can be taken out and the land prepared for the plow very cheaply, the salvage being valuable for fuel. With adequate storage capacity, the flood water of the river will furnish sufficient water to serve vast areas of land.

And the climate! There is none to excel it; a southern latitude and high altitude, about 2,000 feet, tempers the winter's cold and the summer's heat. It is a big land—a land of wide horizons, roofed by a high, blue, clean swept sky, by day, and where, by night, the moon hangs low to meet the caress of the gentle night breezes, and where, as Flannery McLeod, the Irish muse would say, "He has strewn the outer shores of night with the pebble of the stars."

There are some small irrigation projects along the Colorado river in operation, and one of the largest proposed irrigation projects in the United States is being planned at Bronte in Coke county south of Colorado. The Colorado river, both above and below Colorado affords ample opportunity for irrigation and doubtless will be used for this purpose at some future date most extensively.

R. P. Price of this city owns a farm south of Colorado on the river which is irrigated to some extent and it is reported that the water from the Colorado river is of excellent quality for irrigation, and leaves a sediment with the land that is most beneficial.—Colorado Record.

THE DRILLERS

McKinney Courier-Gazette: The city will drill another deep well to aid the present water supply. It will tap the Woodbine sands at 1,100 feet and cost $10,000. It is worth the price. No other place in Texas has a better water supply than has McKinney. Its quality and health-giving properties are unsurpassed.

This is distinctly a refreshing note. It is refreshing not so much because it incidentally refers to the greatest thirst-quencher on earth, water, regular water, but refreshing in particular because it refers to a drilling operation whose object is not the bringing in of an oil well. No State can live on oil alone. Texas has the most oil wells and the prettiest oil wells, the oldest dowager oil wells and the loveliest debutante oil wells between Mesquit and Tuxpam. Even so, oil is not the summum bonum of human happiness. There are other things worth living for, worth leasing for, worth drilling for. Our water wells, little as we hear of them or read of them, are worth ten-times as much as our oil wells, much as we hear about and read about them. McKinney hasn't an oil well, but she has water wells—and it is little drinks of water, with little tubs of sams, that keep the people sober and the children clean.—Dallas News.

VANISHING INVISIBILITY

One by one the klansmen are folding their bed sheets and silently stealing away. Indeed, there is reason to believe that there is now a considerable body of ex-klansmen. Some few have severed their connection formally. Many others have simply declined to affiliate further with an organization whose membership proved to be other than what it had been represented to them to be. To the leaders of the order these defections must be a matter of concern. Secrecy is the life of the order. The publication of the roster would practically end the clan. But as things now stand those who set about it judiciously may determine with reasonable certainty whether a business or professional man is a member of the clan. That fact lays every member of the clan open to certain inconveniences which are bound sooner or later to affect his means of livelihood to some extent. It has been a powerful influence in reducing the ranks of the clan. In the legal sense the clan is a partnership, so that every member is probably liable in civil damages for the acts of every other member.

But until the announcement of the recent decision of the Court of Criminal Appeals it has been difficult to get legal evidence as to the official membership of the clan. Under the decision of the court, a klansman who refuses to obey his oath as a witness before a jury may be made to suffer for it through contempt proceedings. This can mean but one thing: No klansman can longer delude himself with the supposition that he may remain a member without the possibility of discovery. For a time the clan might succeed in so packing grand juries with members that it would be "protected," but in the end the exposure is due to come. It is bound to come. Accordingly, it may be predicted with safety that the decision of the court will be the signal for another exodus from the ranks of the clan, particularly among klansmen who would be glad to reform it, if possible, but whose business or professional connections would be injured should their relation with the clan be disclosed to the general public.

In this connection it is interesting to note that in the North and East the clan has proved a complete fizzle. In Alabama, Oklahoma and Texas the clan appears to have had its chief success. There has been a flare-up of klannishness in California also, it seems. But for the most part the clan has met a cold reception. It has been reported that at its maximum strength the clan was greater in Texas than in all the rest of the country put together. If this be a fact it indicates to what a limited extent the clan has gained a following elsewhere. For it is certain that the Texas organization has at its zenith been no more than a secret, masked, oath-bound minority. Even its minority is now dwindling, if information now available is trustworthy. Owing to quiet withdrawals of members without official notification, it may be doubted whether the clan itself is aware of the full extent of its losses. But it is sufficiently aware of the situation to regard it as rather desperate.—Dallas News.

THE TRAIN ELUDED HIM

From the Argonaut: The station master, hearing a crash on the platform, rushed out of his room just in time to see the express disappearing round the curve, and a disheveled young man sprawling out perfectly flat among a confusion of overturned milk cans and the scattered contents of his traveling bag. "Was he trying to catch a train?" the station master asked of a small boy who stood by, admiring the scene. "He did catch it," said the boy happily, "but it got away again."

The Enterprise is still standing pat in the belief which has been expressed almost every week for the past two or three years that Pecos is in the center of the greatest oil field in Texas. If it were possible to strengthen this belief the oil and gas found in the territory covering many miles in extent would suffice. The Enterprise has predicted the bringing in of a real gusher within thirty to sixty days for the past two years, and confidently expected it to come true. He is still making the same predictions, but as a matter of fact he has long since learned that he cannot gamble too strong on what is going to occur in or to an oil well before the gusher is brought in.

PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

What's the use of getting mad because you run your hand down a banister on your way down stairs and get your hand soiled by the dust that wife forgot to brush away. When you brush it off you're really only compromising—putting it somewhere else that it don't belong, so every carpet and every plant on which it falls has just as much right to kick as you have. Dirt is nothing but matter out of place, so before you lose your goat divide the dirt into its particles and put them back where they fit and you will be happy. When you've done that you qualify to growl. Before that all you ought to do is to think.

HELP MOVE THINGS

From the Atlanta Constitution: The thrift that saves for wise spending is the kind from which this country at large gets the most benefit. It helps to keep money in general circulation, for the dollars that work for the individual are also working for the welfare of the whole community.

And now that business is really on the up-grade and commercial prospects are brightening, the right thing to do is to put the idle dollar to work in the right way.

And this was never better expressed than in the following editorial paragraph from the New York Evening Mail:

"Buy what you are sure to need that others may sell. What other sell must be manufactured. They who manufacture must distribute wares. And they who earn wage will spend them. Instead of stopping the wheel of commerce, let's go. O, revolutions there is, after all, only one that brings happiness to everybody, and that is when the world as a whole revolves the right way. Let it so revolve. Let the nation be once more a going concern."

And the further optimistic word is expressed in the statement that "they whose duty it is to scan the horizon see the busy time coming," with plenty of customers at the counters.

Indeed, it is not only "coming," but has already made itself felt in many reviving branches of industry.

There is an opportunity for every one to help, in making business feel "at home" by working for and with it.

JAZZ AND ITS ANTIDOTE

We of America, as perhaps we of the entire world are ready victims of a catchy fad.

We "fell" for jazz, with a jerk! We even dragged it from the dance halls into the homes. From the homes it slipped into the churches. It swept us as a prairie fire sweeps the dry grass covered plains under a heavy wind.

But who of all us jazz-crazed, self-styled intellectuals knew or cared anything about the history or the real character of this jazzy stuff? Read the following and first blush, and then—hope:

"Jazz music, imported from the underworld dives of Buenos Aires, began to sweep America in 1913.

"Sailors brought it into New Orleans, it spread up the Mississippi river. Negro roustabouts on the levees chanted new varieties of jazz "blues."

"Tramps, in their camps, which they call 'jungles,' caught the infection. They call jazz 'snowbird music'—'snow' being the underworld name for cocaine and a 'snowbird' dope fiend.

"Infectiously the epidemic of jazz spread over the country, evolving from jazz melodies to a form of jazz characterized by fatalism, indifference, recklessness and immorality.

"Simultaneously, the jazz germ swept Europe. In 'The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse' you read Ibaner's fine description of France being worked to a high pitch of jazz emotionalism.

"Psychiatrists recognized the jazz epidemic as one of the peculiar waves of social neuroasthenia, or hysteria, which periodically sweep countries or even the whole world. The tango craze was one of these psychic epidemics.

"The international wave of social hysteria culminated in the World War, violent international insanity.

"The reaction is on. World sobers. Nerves calm slowly down. People are becoming normal again—thinking healthy thoughts. Jazz is passing.

"During the jazz epidemic there has been a lot of worrying about Young America. Youth in general seemed to have gone off on a tangent of wild prodigality.

"One morning the country woke up and was amazed to learn that the youngsters had gone crazy on wireless. The radiophone had corralled juvenile enthusiasm.

"The wireless craze has developed far enough to show that it's going to be the most powerful antidote against jazz. The lad who is tinkering with Hertzian waves has his feet on the ground, is thinking clear thoughts, training his brain, soaking up useful knowledge.

"The wireless fan is vaccinated against jazz, just as boys of a generation ago were kept in a healthy, normal mental state by playing Indian, building shanties, collecting bones and old junk in alleys, listening to street fakers, stagg amateur minstrel shows, stringing toy telegraphs.

"We are a foolish lot of sheep, we humans. But a kindly providence shepherds us, bringing us back to the fold when we stray too far from normal."

THE BONDING-MANIA

One of the worst curses to the taxpayer is the mania for bonding for public improvements, whether needed or not.

Newspapers, in reporting the bids received for municipal bonds, boast of the good credit of the place issuing them, pointing to the premium paid by the syndicate awarded the issue. Such a premium is proof that the bonds bear too high a rate of interest. When put on the market by the broker he quotes them at a higher premium and exacts the accrued interest. That is, a bond bearing 6 per cent will cost the real investor from 4 to 6 per cent premium. Thus the municipality pays a rate 1 per cent higher than the real investor realizes, as interest. The broker pockets a profit of 1 per cent, less the insignificant premium the papers boast of as showing the high standing of the city.

It is as unwise for a political unit to run into debt as it is for an individual to do so.

Now, let us present a more sane and correct method of financing road building, with less burden attached to it. The fact should be remembered that the government of the United States can, and has the right, to issue bonds to the people to any extent for national defense and general purposes of war. Under such power, the government can issue bonds to the various states, to provide for the construction of good roads to any extent demanded. These bonds can be purchased by the various states, payable according to agreement in from 20 to 30 years in annual payments, but without interest. Please note, I say without interest, thus saving the people about one-half the expense of road building under present methods. Such bonds as are issued by the government can be deposited by the state with the government, after their purchase, and against them the government can issue the necessary currency to their full face value, this currency to be used for the cost of road building. The issuing of currency in this manner may disturb the minds of our financial people, but if you look into the subject carefully, you will quickly see that the lifting of the bonds by the various states means also the simultaneous cancellation of the currency issued against these bonds thereby leaving the amount of currency the same as before the bonds were issued, and remaining so until new bonds are needed.—Southland Farmer.

High School Holds Elimination Contest, Winners Chosen

Friday evening the auditorium was crowded because of the contest which was held in the Literary Contest. At eight o'clock R. B. Borman, principal of the school, made a short introductory talk in which he stated the purpose of the events. Following this short talk the junior declaimers took the platform. Miss Virginia Thomas was first speaker, followed by Miss Mary Magee, Louise Starley and Pal Krauskopf. The junior boys' first speaker was Howell Johnson followed by Bobby Dean, John Mann and Morris Collie. In the junior girls' contest the first place was tied between Mary Magee and Pal Krauskopf and second place was a tie between Louise Starley and Virginia Thomas. The judges could reach no agreement on the speakers so it will be necessary to hold this event again. In the junior boys, John Mann was awarded first place with Bob Dean second.

After a short interval during which a vocal selection was rendered, the senior contestants took the platform. Miss Mildred Buckle delivered her address first followed in turn by Misses Ruth Bryan, Virginia Bozeman, Willie Ruth Hines and Eleanor Biggs. Miss Hines was winner in this contest with Virginia Bozeman second. John Wilson first speaker in the boys contest followed by Raymond Norwood, Oscar Thurston, Tullis Randals, Baiser Hefner and W. D. Cowan. Cowan took first prize with Baiser Hefner second.

Following this contest the debaters were introduced and the audience was informed that the contest was not to choose the winning team, but to choose the two speakers who had the best delivery. The question for debate was, Resolved: "That all immigration should be prohibited for a term of two years." The affirmative side was represented by Brenton Root and William Kerr while the negative side was defended by Donald Runyon and Cliff Sims. The debate was very interesting and the result was in doubt until the final vote was in. Cliff Sims and William Kerr, both of last year's team, were chosen to represent this school in the event.

An admission of ten cents was charged in order to defray the expenses of the contest. Much interest has been aroused and the support of the entire town is assured. The speakers all show much promise and Pecos High School should have little trouble in eliminating all opponents in the county and district meet thereby gaining the right to enter the meet which it to be held at Austin.—Whirlwind.

SUBTERRANEAN SEA OF PURE PETROLEUM UNDERLYING TEXAS

The following unsigned article recently appeared in the Scottish Rite News as an answer to the boastful spirit of the Californian in regard to the climate and other alleged natural advantages of that State:

"A Shriner out in California seems to have been somewhat nettled by press reports of the recent golf tournament at San Antonio, wherein the wonderful winter climate of Texas was extolled as being equal to that of California.

"How do you people get that way, he asks? I admit that your State has a wonderful area and it certainly requires a wonderful area to contain all of your arrogance. Indeed, I understand that Texas assumes to be the greatest State in the Union."

"Ah, no, brother Noble, it doesn't assume to be—it is."

"There are only two things worth mentioning in the world that Texas does not contain and those are the North and South Poles."

"Texas occupies all of the Continent of North America except an ornamental ruffle of so-called States—including California—to the north and a rosette called Mexico to the south."

"It is bounded on the east by all the world except the Pacific; on the west it is bounded by the Pacific and most of the sidereal universe."

"Under Texas is a subterranean sea of natural gas and pure petroleum. Above it is most of the sky and all of the major constellations."

"Texas is so big that the sun, in five hundred million years, has never been able to travel over it in less than a day, and when it has finished its journey, it is always ready to set."

"State Senators and Representatives elected from the border counties travel for months to reach the State Capitol at Austin, and are paid millions of dollars in mileage fees alone."

"The United States with Texas separated from it would look like the tail of a dog, with the dog amputated."

Gate 150 Miles From Door.
"A map in order to convey any idea of the magnitude of Texas would have to be tattooed on the hide of the largest elephant, the tail and trunk being sufficient for the rest of the States in the Union."

"Unless your front gate is at least eighteen miles from your front door, you cannot claim to belong to the first families of Texas. Mrs. King's gate is 150 miles from her front door and she is thinking of moving her house back so that she will not be annoyed by the passing automobiles."

"Texas grows enough cotton every year to wrap California in a winding sheet three miles thick."

THE PASSION PLAY

The Passion Play, which is to be staged at Oberammergau Bavaria this year, will have a deeper significance than at any time since its inauguration in 1634 as a festival of thanksgiving for immunity from famine and pestilence. The last performance was held in 1910, the play not being repeated in 1920 because of the reactions of the war. The festival is to extend from May 14, to September 24, and thousands of people from all parts of the world have bought reservations in order to witness the most stirring tragedy the world has ever known—the life and death of Christ.

The stage which is in the historic triptych form, with the eternal hills as a background, is probably the largest in the world. From this point one gains the best impression of the size of the auditorium, the acoustic of which is so perfect that a whispered word carries to the very back row.

A few of the principal characters are Anton Long, who will take the part of the Christ; Andras Long, who will be the Apostle Peter; Alfred Bierling, who is to play the part of St. John, and Hugo Rutz, who takes the role of Judas Iscariot. At times there are as many as five hundred persons on the stage at one time, who are the chorus singers.

The Christ will have to carry the cross, which weighs 150 pounds, for fifteen minutes on the way to Gethsemane, and that in a bowed position. Only a man whose muscles have been hardened by incessant work could take the part of the Christ.

Many people have asked about the Crucifixion scene. The Christ will have to remain fastened to the cross for twenty minutes, during which time the blood cannot circulate freely. Each time an actor essays this scene, there is danger of heart failure. One single false movement during the impressive descent from the cross, would cause the blood to rush to the head too suddenly and thereby cause the actor to lose his life.

According to the Oberammergau's traditions, no married women can take part in the Passion Play, but the women's role must be taken by virgins.

Everyone can only echo the wish that the "Christus Drama"—the name which the Oberammergauers give the Passion Play, may this year be a veritable feast of reconciliation.—Whirlwind.

Judge J. A. Buck was a visitor in Pecos the forepart of the week and made The Enterprise a very pleasant visit. Judge Buck is a prominent attorney in California, near Los Angeles. He says he is making some money, but that is no news to his many friends all over West Texas for it kinder seems natural for him to do that. However, the judge and his most estimable family have not forgotten Pecos and are not yet reconciled to think that they will not again be residents of our State. He states that especially his boys like Texas better than California and when asked where in Texas they would like to live promptly remarked—Pecos. The many friends of the family are glad to know that they are living happily in a delightful climate and wish them all the good things in store for people so worthy. Judge Buck went on to Fort Worth where he was called on business.

Mid-western Folks Lose Lives in Sea Plane

A determination to live up to the letter of his responsibility in caring for his passengers is the reason sea-plane pilot Robert Moore lives to tell of a thrilling 56-hour struggle in the gulf stream off the Florida coast, in which five pleasure seekers from mid-western states lost their lives.

Mr. and Mrs. August Bulte, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Kansas City, and Mrs. J. S. Dickson of Memphis were those lost after a heroic effort against waves, storm and exposure.

They were passengers on the sea-plane "Miss Miami" which made 40-minute trips between Miami, Fla., and Bimini, West India Island. When within three minutes of their destination on Wednesday, a propeller blade broke, forcing the sea-plane down.

The craft landed within a mile of a fishing boat, but, caught in the gulf stream, it was carried north, signals for help being unheeded. One of the sea-plane's pontoons sprang a leak, and in the heavy sea the plane was overturned. The passengers were thrown into the sea. Moore succeeded in getting Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Bulte back on top of the wreckage, but Mrs. Dickson and Mr. Bulte were lost.

Then started the battle against wave and a storm which came in the night. The two women died from exposure. Smith died on Thursday, Moore was found Friday by a passing fishing boat, strapped to the wreckage, and uncon-

The Mental and Physical Comfort of Your Family Depends Upon Its Eyes.

This is not only often the case with adults, but very frequently the children suffer, not knowing that the source of the entire trouble comes from some defect in vision which may readily be relieved through proper examination and the providing of proper glasses.

But care should be taken that the examination IS properly made and PROPER glasses provided. Much more is involved in the proper fitting of glasses than the simple act of getting lenses that seem to correct the errors of vision.

Experience and Scientific research have been our educators in this line and we are well equipped to render best of service.

THE EYE—the most delicate organ of the body, will, if it is not normal, give rise to baffling mental unrest which sometimes approaches and even superinduces acute physical disorder.

MOST OF OUR LIVE STOCK IS OF LOW GRADE

From the Kansas City Times: Strictly speaking, there are a few farm animals left in the United States that have not had the benefit of some improvement in breeding and on the whole we have taken long steps toward the grading up of our farm stock. But a survey of the situation will convince anyone that the average grade of American live stock is lamentably low. Only a fraction of a per cent of our animals are purebred and unfortunately in most cases only a small per cent of the sires used are of this class.

The United States Department of Agriculture kept a record for a year of the cattle sent to Chicago for slaughter and found that only 1 1/2 per cent graded prime, 4 per cent choice, 22 per cent good, 53 per cent medium, 17 per cent common and canner classes as of the choice and prime classes, and more than half of all the cattle offered graded as medium.

Without question, part of this deficiency was due to the way in which these animals were fed, but a greater part was due to carelessness and neglect in breeding. Of the two deficiencies, the one due to careless breeding is much more easily and cheaply remedied than the one due to faulty methods of feeding.

This is strikingly illustrated by the repeated results of the marketing of cattle from the breeding demonstrations at the Sni-a-Bar farms, Grain Valley, Mo., originated by W. R. Nelson, founder of the Star, provision for the maintenance of which for thirty years after his death was made by Mr. Nelson. Last Christmas first and second cross steers from this demonstration, descended from common cows and sired by purebred Shorthorn bulls, brought $10 a hundred, the top for the day, or $2.80 a hundred more and $27.37 a head more than the next highest priced load on the market that day.

The low grade of our live stock is further apparent when we realize that the production of the average cow kept for dairy purposes is about 160 pounds of butter fat a year. By the use of purebred dairy sires on scrub cows at the Iowa State College, the first cross heifers produced an average of 104 pounds more butter fat a year than their mothers, when both were fed alike and given similar care.

The average hen lays only about fifty or sixty eggs a year, mostly in seasons when eggs are cheap. The Kansas State Agricultural College more than doubled the production of a mongrel flock in two generations by the use of highly-bred cocks. The Kentucky experiment station increased the value of lambs from scrub ewes in the first generation by $1.50 each by the use of purebred rams.

It costs little more to breed these high-producing animals than those of low grade. It cost less to fit them suitably for market, and they always bring more than those of careless breeding. The narrower the margin of profit in producing farm animals, the more important it is that animals possessing superior qualities be bred. The way out of our present difficulties lies, in considerable part, in producing better animals and giving them more intelligent care.

GROWING THINGS

From the Indianapolis News: The office of foreign seed and plant introduction, Department of Agriculture, during the twenty-five years of its existence, has imported about 50,000 foreign plants and seeds to be tested in America. It can be thanked for the date industry in California, the long staple cotton of the Southwest, Durum wheat in the Northwest, Sudan grass, Peruvian alfalfa and other vegetables, fruits and grains formerly unknown in the United States. It brought the naval orange from Brazil. In one year California has shipped 13,000,000 boxes of these oranges. Rice suited to sections of California was imported at an expenditure of $200,000, and one year's crop has brought a return of $20,000,000. R. P. Crawford describes, in the Scientific American, how the office sends its experts to all parts of the world. Some of the field men have walked 10,000 miles and brought back with them 1,600 new varieties of plants.

The Japanese udo, now grown in the United States, resembles asparagus, but is much larger and thrifter. It may be similarly blanched and the shoots are good to the base. A new mango attains a weight of six pounds and has an odor not unlike a pineapple. Oriental persimmons now grow in this country. In the South bamboo-growing is on the increase. Bamboo shoots, which sometimes grow a foot a day, are edible. Another new thing is the jujube, producing a fruit. The dashen is similar to the white potato and when cooked has a chestnut flavor. Avacadoes, pistachio nuts, sweet cherries—hundreds of new growing things are being tested every year.

The Quinine That Does Not Affect the Head Because of its tonic and laxative effect, I.X.X. TIVE BRONCO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness, ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of E. W. GROVE. (Advertisement)

LITERARY STRENGTH

In the everlastin' tussle with the literary jinx, we need a heap more muscle than the average poet thinks. I allers have contended, that ther's nothin' in a "gift" when you want to build a poem that can punch as well as lift.

I never had much patience with the literary hen, that dreams of hatchin' custards while she's settin' on her pen. But the verbal sausage-stuffer, with the devil in his arm, is the everlastin' duffer than can boost, as well as charm.

I couldn't play a dew-dad that a feller has to pick. But they allers hear my hew-gag, when I welt her with a stick—an' I've got a sneakin' notion, that the rhyme the country needs, ort to sparkle with devotion an' reverberate with deeds.

P. P. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, regional organization with a logical jurisdiction including thirty-eight counties in Texas with adjoining territory in Eastern New Mexico and the Panhandle of Oklahoma, is reaching out and talking in a practical way on the problems of the people.

For years, the people of all this territory have been imposed upon through the custom of having to guarantee chautauqua and lyceum numbers, and this, the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce is opposed to, holding that the people putting on such attractions should share the responsibility, instead of playing a cinch at the expense of the communities served.

Another weakness in the prevailing custom, is that one which lays every community open to the "highway association" graft. From time to time this or that association comes through with lurid promises of marking. It proposes to so mark and advertise roads that they will become great thoroughfares traversed by immense volumes of trans-continental and other traffic year after year. It has been the custom of the communities to "dig up" and then, it may be that the "associations" will advertise and post up sign boards or markings, but in numerous instances they have done neither. The Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce is opposed to this indiscriminate "highway association" graft, realizing that where roads are made, they will be made by the people resident in the several counties and not by some aggregation with a batch of signs to sell.

Acting upon this conviction, the organization has sent out letters and questionnaires asking for expressions of the people in the various counties within the jurisdictions on these matters. These questionnaires have been returned with almost universal approval of the suggestion embodied in the suggestions of cooperation to the end of changing the present customs, for the general good—Amarillo News.

WHY

HOME TRADE FALLS OFF

It Always Slumps When Business Is Unbusinesslike

Most business men have this failing—they are swept off their feet when business booms.

We hit prosperity. Then starts the trouble. Everybody buys everything in sight and the merchants are caught in their own trap. They start advertising to beat the band. A riot of selling follows, the merchants OVER ADVERTISE and OVERSELL THE MARKET. Demand for goods keeps up and then comes the trip to the bank to borrow—for expansion. Then What? shortage and rising prices—a riot of buying before prices tilt to the top and a wild spree of advertising to keep the game going.

Suddenly there comes a halt. Buying slows up, and timid unbusinesslike merchants curtail advertising and the buying halt continues. Then advertising is stopped and business becomes stagnant.

When trade needs no stimulus the merchants buy space like drunken sailors, but when trade needs a strong push, they contract.

If business spent one-third the money in advertising when trade is booming and three times the money when trade is poor, business would find stability.

Now is the Time to Advertise Extensively

Don't throw chips on a blazing fire. The wood is needed when the fire is low. Advertising now means a real service to the buying public. The people want to know where and what they can buy economically.

THE WORLD OF WIRELESS
 The spectacular development of the wireless telephone commands more serious attention than any discovery within the recollection of the present generation. That it is bound to prove the greatest civilizing influence of the century there can be no doubt. It will far outstrip the talking machine and even the motion picture because its potentiality lies nearer to the root of things. When the American farmer can be brought into conversational contact with the remotest part of his country—things are going to move. What is to happen to the local band when the boys and girls of every town and hamlet dance to the music of the world's greatest master of the jazz broadcasted from a central point. Business men will do well to give serious and immediate thought to this new development. Already the effect of the wireless is being felt in the talking machine industry. True human nature likes to pick concerts to its own liking, to "put on" the record that pleases for the moment, but when the standard of the ready made concert, as it will, takes into consideration the variety of tastes and wishes the home reproducer is destined to the discard.

Quite apart from its commercial aspect however, let us hope the government will not let slip by unused this great potential service for the people. Wireless communication can be made to lower the death rate, it can be made to check the growth of insanity, it can be the means of making healthier and happier mothers and children, it can spell the spread of sanitation, it can cure the cold and halt the fever. Its blessings can be reflected in the remote hamlets where plain God fearing American people find their homes and do the work of the hour far removed from medical skill and simple social science. For the farmer the possibilities are limitless. Five years or even less should see in the cabinet of the United States a Secretary of Communications—the biggest job in America.

Company, A. P. Foster, J. O. Childers, George A. Rathburn, Paul C. Krank, W. C. Best and R. E. Alston, are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on or about March 28, 1914, Defendant, H. S. Dunn, executed and delivered to L. H. Lamkin, his five certain promissory notes, dated March 28, 1914, being numbered, due and in amounts as follows: Note No. 1, due March 1, 1916, for $1000.00; Note No. 2, due March 1, 1917, for $1000.00; Note No. 3, due March 1, 1918, for $1000.00; Note No. 4, due March 1, 1919, for $2,000.00; and Note No. 5, due March 1, 1920, for $4,500.00; payable to L. H. Lamkin, with interest at 6 percent per annum, and providing for 10 percent attorney's fee in case of suit thereon. Whereby defendant H. S. Dunn became bound said sums specified. That Notes Nos. 3, 4 and 5, totaling the sum of $7,500.00, interest and attorney's fee, are now due and unpaid.

That said notes were given for a part of the purchase money upon Section Thirty-five, Block Four, H. & C. N. R. R. Sur., Reeves County, Texas, save and except right of ways for the Pecos Valley Railroad, and for the Pioneer Canal, leaving 625.50 acres; and that in said deed executed upon said March 28, 1914, by L. H. Lamkin to H. S. Dunn, a vendor's lien upon said tract of land was retained to secure the payment of said notes. That said notes Nos. 3, 4, and 5 are still due and unpaid to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $7,500.00, interest and attorney's fee.

That by a series of mesne conveyances from H. S. Dunn, the defendants, Christian Dubach, Laura E. Dubach, Unknown Heirs of Emma C. Meischoffer, Reinhold Meischoffer, Charles K. McKnight, Laura A. McKnight, Jesse D. Murphy, and Henry H. Murphy assumed and became bound to pay said vendor's lien notes, and are claiming some title to said tract of land.

That defendants Charles K. McKnight and Laura A. McKnight leased by an oil and gas lease to B. T. Biggs, Alfred Tinally, and Jno. B. Howard, said tract of land above described on June 17, 1918. That said Defendants assigned said lease to the Sunshine Oil Corporation, which corporation in turn assigned portions of said lease to defendants, Federal Service & Development Systems, Inc., Federal Service Systems (not inc.), Antonio De Pasquale, Henry Deutsch and other parties.

That since the execution of said deed and notes the defendants, W. A. Hudson, M. P. Carlock, El Paso Printing Company, Krakauer-Zork Company, Ben Williams, Tom Simmons, Pecos Land Company, A. P. Foster, J. O. Childers, George A. Rathburn, Paul C. Krank, W. C. Best and R. E. Alston hold judgments against Sunshine Oil Corporation and Federal Service Systems (not inc.), duly abstracted and recorded, but that said judgment liens are inferior to plaintiff's vendor's lien which is a valid and subsisting first lien upon said tract of land, above described.

That the right, title and interest of all of said defendants named herein emanates from the equity of defendant, H. S. Dunn, in said land, under said deed from L. H. Lamkin to H. S. Dunn, and are all subordinate and inferior to plaintiff's vendor's lien. And plaintiff prays for judgment for his debt, interest, attorney's fee and costs; foreclosure of his lien upon the above described premises; and for removal of cloud upon his title, etc.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Pecos, Texas, this 24th day of March, A. D. 1922.

CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treacherous Drug Can Not Be Trusted And Next Dose May Start Trouble.

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

E. F. Fuqua of Saragosa, was a business visitor in Pecos today.

Charles Schilling left this week for Glascock, where he will spend two or three months.

Mrs. Harry Anderson left Thursday afternoon for an extended visit with relatives in San Antonio.

The ladies of the Methodist church will have a parcel post sale the latter part of April.

Pink Harbert and his newly acquired bride of Saragosa, were in Pecos Thursday visiting with friends.

Mrs. Monroe Kerr left Monday for Midland to attend the bedside of her aged mother, Mrs. W. A. King, who is critically ill.

A letter from Jerome Dolezal now living in El Paso is to the effect that he is busy and getting along nicely and that they are well.

Mrs. Mary Boatright left Wednesday morning for El Paso, where she will visit a few weeks with her cousin, Mrs. Crom Ardoin of Hamilton St.

Little Harrison Beauchamp, son of Mrs. Ora Beauchamp, is reported as doing nicely following an operation Monday afternoon for appendicitis.

Judge Harry MacTier was over from Toyah the forepart of the week shaking hands with friends and working in the interest of his candidacy for county attorney.

Messrs. R. B. Norman, W. N. Sutherland and A. W. Brooks were guests of Barstow High School one evening this week while serving as judges in a declamatory elimination contest.

W. Denny, manager for the Denny Motor Co., of Fort Stockton, who are Dodge dealers for a territory embracing Pecos, was here the first of the week looking after sales of this popular car.

Rev. and Mrs. C. S. McCarver moved from the Michigan back into their own home Saturday and Mr. Neiderkorn and family who have been occupying that residence have moved into the Kent Harrison home out near the old Experiment Station.

Word from Mrs. J. A. Leeman, and the doctors at Dallas is to the effect that nothing can be done to restore her sight. She is now in Duncan, Oklahoma, visiting a son and says she is feeling much better. Her stay in Duncan will probably be prolonged so long as she continues to improve.

W. W. Stewart, of Balmorhea, state representative from this district, is convalescing from his recent attack of pneumonia and was able to be upon the streets here Wednesday. He was compelled to stop off here several weeks ago while en-route home for the treatment of the affliction.

Miss Gladys Thurston, who was brought home by her father, Rev. L. L. Thurston, last week from San Juan, N. M., where she was stricken with appendicitis, will undergo an operation by local surgeons today for the malady. Her many friends are hoping that the ordeal through which she is to pass will mean her complete restoration to health. Later—the young lady was operated upon this morning and is said to be resting well as we go to press.

D. E. H. Manigault, division engineer of the State Highway Commission, was a Pecos visitor this week, and while here talked road projects in which this section is interested with the secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. This authority states that he is ready to make application for state aid with which to project the highway from Barstow to the river, just as soon as the Pecos district connects up with the Toyah road, funds for which have already been made available by bond issue.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank all who made possible my election last Tuesday. My gratitude will find expression in my service to the people in the future, and trust that it will not be a disappointment to my supporters. I want to especially thank the good women who used their influence in my behalf. As marshal you will find me ever ready for any call in the line of duty. Try me.
Gratefully yours,

SOCIAL EVENTS

A SURPRISE PARTY

A number of friends of Mrs. S. C. Muck gathered at her home Thursday afternoon in a surprise party to her mother, Mr. Carrie K. Rice who has been with her for several months and who possesses a pleasing personality and who is a charming lady and has endeared herself to many friends during her stay in Pecos. The occasion was Mrs. Rice's birthday as well as a farewell as she will leave soon for her home in Bloomington, Ind. The afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation and in listening to an impromptu program of music and readings.

Delicious refreshments of hot chocolate and cake were served. In taking leave the guests wished Mrs. Rice many more returns of the birthday anniversary, a safe journey home and a speedy return to Pecos.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Helen, the beautiful little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Toliver was the charming hostess to a goodly number of her friends and playmates Wednesday afternoon, April 5, from four to six o'clock in celebration of her third birthday.

On arrival each guest presented the young hostess with a pretty and pleasing remembrance, which she accepted with modest expressions of thanks. After many interesting games played in the yard and kodak pictures had been made of the assembled group, en masse, the party was ushered into the dining room where the table was prettily decorated with nests of Easter eggs and Easter chickens and one of each was given each guest as favors. Another interesting feature was the pretty birthday cake with three white lighted candles. Delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following: Mary Elizabeth and Torrence Norwood, Tom, Jr., and Lillian Crum, Pat Green, Frank, Elizabeth and Collie Jean Anthony, Monroe Slack, Jr., Ona Leah Kerr, Neil Williams, Margaret Nell Rutledge, Kenneth Lester and T. C. Slack, Billie and Clifton Fauche, Oscar Buchholz, Jr., Mary Katherine, Billie and Helen Toliver.

HONOR GUESTS

Judge A. M. Walthall, who is judge of the Court of Appeals in El Paso and Mrs. Walthall are in Pecos the guests of Mrs. T. J. Hefner and family.

The Walthalls were residents of Pecos some twenty-five years ago when the town was in its infancy. They have many friends here among the old timers who are always glad to see them on their return visit. Judge Walthall and the late Judge T. J. Hefner were at one time law partners and the families have been intimate friends of long standing. A fishing party has been arranged for them on the Pecos river consisting of the honorees, Judge and Mrs. Walthall, Judge and Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Charles Dyer of Barstow, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cowan, Mrs. Sid Kyle and Mrs. Hefner.

FIRST BIRTHDAY

Le Grand Merriman, Jr., the handsome little son of Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Merriman was at home receiving Wednesday afternoon, April 5, in honor of his first birthday anniversary. The rooms were beautifully decorated suggesting the approaching Easter occasion.

Pleasing little gifts were presented to the young host, and the guest favors were tiny Easter chickens. The birthday cake was prettily decorated and was conspicuous for its one lighted candle. The delicious refreshments were ice cream and cake. The following were the guests: Mrs. H. B. Prickett and little daughter, Jane Edith, Mrs. Vernon Hicks and little son, Vernon, Jr., Mrs. Carl Smith and little son, Walter Carl, Jr., Mrs. J. B. Sullivan and Mrs. I. E. Smith.

When Summer Comes

and the hot winds blow—and, when we come to think of it, that time is not so far away—there will be little enough of comfort and rest to be found in the ordinary bed room. Much ill health results from sleeping in stuffy, poor ventilated bed rooms during hot summer months. Growing children especially should sleep where they can breathe the pure air of the great out-of-doors. Otherwise they cannot secure the rest and sound sleep that mean so much to them so far as health is concerned.

A Sleeping Porch

will solve this important problem for you. There is no single feature that you could add to your home that will give more pure enjoyment to the entire family than a sleeping porch. It means the same vigor, the same refreshment that comes from sleeping in the open.

The hot nights are just around the corner! Be prepared. Build a sleeping porch and get a full night's sleep every night during the summer. We will be glad to help you plan this valuable improvement to your home. We can supply everything that is necessary for such an addition, either the less expensive screened porch or the more elaborate sun parlor effect with windows. Resolve now to enjoy warm weather. Come in and see us about plans, material and cost.
