WILLOUGHBY NO. 2 WELL CHANGES HANDS—OMAHA CAPITALIST AND BUSINESS MAN ENTERS FIELD

For the past two weeks the representatives of Mr. J. W. O'Connell, a capitalist and hustling business man of Omaha, Nebraska, have been in Toyah, working quietly with C. H. Willoughby and R. G. Ferguson, both of whom are well known to the readers of the Enterprise and the report made to Mr. O'Connell resulted in his arrival in Toyah Sunday morning accompanied by his geologist, Mr. T. W. Rodebaugh and after having gone over the thousands of acres belonging to the Willoughby Petroleum Company and controlled by C. H. Willoughby and R. G. Ferguson. Mr. O'Connell entered contract to take over and rush to completion the well known as the Willoughby No. 2, drilling on section 16, block C-13, P. S. L. Reeves county on the Casey ranch.

He secured 3,520 acres of leases upon advice of his geologist and Mr. Willoughby, checkerboarded around the 3,000 acres belonging to the Willoughby Petroleum Company and while on the ground the location for their second well was made but for the time this will not be made public.

Mr. Rodebaugh after having spent some considerable time on the ground concurred with the officials of the Willoughby Petroleum Company in their opinion that the expected oil will be found at not to exceed 750 feet and after having studied the log of the Willoughby No. 1 well, predicts that this well will find the oil within the next 100 feet and the log of the No. 2 well running true to form when compared with the No. 1 well excepting that the blue shale is found around 100 feet shallower in the No. 2 well and this is taken to mean that the oil will be found at a lesser depth while the surface indications, which are very pronounced also indicate the oil will be shallower in the vicinity of the No. 2 well and possibly will be found at very shallow depths on the lands further south.

After having made all arrangements for speedy work in drilling Mr. O'Connell arranged for his brother, Frank A. O'Connell and one C. Allison to remain on the ground to help push the work and attend to the field office. Dr. J. H. Atkinson also with the party but being especially interested in further development in the Toyah shallow field will also remain on the ground and expects to soon have a well drilling on leases owned by himself and associates.

Mr. O'Connell and Mr. Rodebaugh left for their homes Wednesday but will return when the well has reached the black line and will co-operate with the Willoughby Petroleum Company in an aggressive drilling campaign which will start immediately upon the completion of either well now drilling.

These men came quietly and left quietly but they mean business and a race is on for the honors of the first well in the Willoughby field and while the No. 2 well has the advantage of being financed the No. 1 well seems ready to be drilled in from all indications and the editor, as well as all Southwest Texas welcome these men who say they have had faith in Reeves county for twenty years, and so as one, the country is united in hoping their faith will be quickly rewarded with success and without the delays and hardships of our many men who are giving the best of their lives backing the never dying faith that the greatest oil field in the United States lies at our door.

CAR LOAD OF MATERIAL ARRIVES FOR S. W. BELL

In reporting the progress of the long distance line coming into Pecos, Mr. Sparks of the Pecos and Northwestern Telephone Company tells us that there has been received at the depot sixty-five barrels of insulators and a carload of copper wire to be used in the line. He also says that within the next few days we ought to see a construction gang at work between Pecos and Barstow and east, bringing the line in.

DEER HUNTERS RETURN WITH THE EVIDENCE

B. H. Palmer and Oscar Buchholz returned the early part of the week from a hunting trip in the mountains and Mr. Palmer says, "with the biggest buck I ever saw."

Claude Elkins, Pecos Mercantile oil man, and Herbert Holloway, Pecos Mercantile bookkeeper, came in Thursday from a hunting trip of a few days in the mountains bringing with them a fine buck with horns like a brush heap. They exhibited this beautiful animal in front of the Pecos Mercantile to a large crowd of Pecos citizens.

SENATOR HARRISON'S OBITUARY ON THE LATE SESSION OF CONGRESS

When the second session of the Sixty-seventh Congress lay upon its deathbed, Senator rat Harrison (Dem., Miss.), reflecting the sadness, the disappointment and disgust of the people throughout the country delivered this obituary, summarizing the record of that body.

"Mr. President, this Congress closes in a shroud of disappointment. Its failure to solve vital and pressing problems is pathetic. Democrats are not hilarious, because they have the interest of the country at heart. It is a case of disappointment, sympathy and chagrin more than delight.

"The Congress ends with a record of increased taxes on the already burdened masses.

"It ends with increased costs of living to the consumers.

"It ends with a failure to carry out pledges to the valiant soldiers of the late war.

"It ends with reorganization and efficiency in Government untouched.

"It ends with stronger guarantees and broader freedom to the protected interests to extort in greater degree higher prices to enslave and rob the many.

"It ends with the assurance to the laboring man that the Republican party will continue to favor the employer against him, and to disregard his every interest with respect to reasonable hours, fair wages, and humane consideration.

"It ends in an orgy of extravagance and a reckless disregard of economy.

"It ends with an utter repudiation of civil service and preferential rights to the heroes of the late war.

"It ends as the most reactionary Congress since the time of Aldrich, and the most subservient to executive dictation since the days of Roosevelt.

"It has proven itself to be spineless, leaderless, without courage, program or purpose.

"It adjourns in a blaze of broken promises, with a silent and disconsolate procession of mourners returning to their respective constituencies with their morals broken, their lines divided, and their hopes dissipated. A sad reception awaits you—an insurmountable task of explanation confronts you."

FIRST REAL FREEZE OF SEASON SUNDAY NIGHT

It was cold all day Sunday and Sunday night the mercury fell low enough to make a considerable lot of ice form over standing water in yards and Old Sol got in his work early by turning black all vegetation which had frozen the night before. There was also a heavy frost Monday night.

Since there was a fairly good crop of green tomatoes and peppers on the vines, making mince meat has been the order of the day by many of Pecos' matrons.

General Pershing Goes And Gets 'em

Gen. John J. Pershing would have been quite a boy in the front line trenches with a rifle—had he not been busy bossing our A. E. F. in France. Last week on the lower Mississippi he went duck hunting with Gov. Parker and Bernard Baruch, using a 10-gauge gun, dropping his first eight birds without a miss. Then he posed for this exclusive photo.

SMOKE EATERS FROLIC ENJOYED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

The Smoke Eaters Frolic given by home talent last Saturday night at the Rialto theatre to a crowded house was a big success. Mrs. Lucy Mitchell, an accomplished musician presided at the piano throughout the performance, playing all accompaniments with her usual skill and ability. I. J. Sims who played the part of the interlocutor in the minstrel proved himself to be an adept in asking questions of the end men, M. N. Erlenbach, W. E. Bell, H. B. Prickett and N. F. Chapman, which furnished much amusement during the entire evening. The opening chorus, "Some Sunny Day," was sung by the entire cast, customized in minstrel attire.

Mrs. Sam Johnston, M. N. Erlenbach, H. B. Prickett, Frank Cavett, Miss Evelyn Slack, Donald S. Bell, N. F. Chapman and W. E. Bell also in minstrel costume rendered character solos which were well received by the audience.

Mrs. Stella Levy, Misses Warren Collings, Aileen Love, Jane Looby, Mable Smith, Jessie Seay, Corrine Miller, Amanda Bean, and Messrs. Ralph Sparks, Chas. Young, Chas. Bell, Reuben Johnson, M. W. Collie and Ralph Williams were the supporting chorus during the evening program.

"Rapid Fire cartooning" by Chas. F. Bell and M. N. Erlenbach was much appreciated by the audience as was also the description of Andy Gump and other "leading citizens."

Spanish song—"You Gave Me Your Heart" was sung by Miss Collings and W. E. Bell. "Crow Bells" was sung by Misses Love and Collings, each supported by a chorus and was greatly appreciated.

"Ten minutes in the Bull Ring" was enacted by N. F. Chapman, M. N. Erlenbach, H. B. Prickett and W. E. Bell.

The Peeries Quartette—"Back Among The Home Folks" sung by Miss Collings, Mrs. J. C. Wilson and Messrs. Cavett and Williams was one of the most enjoyable numbers of the evening.

Character song "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean" by M. N. Erlenbach and W. E. Bell probably elicited more applause than any other number of the evening.

"Three O'Clock in the Morning," vaudeville song by Mrs. Sam Johnston and danced by Misses Slack, Looby and Messrs. Erlenbach and Sparks was much enjoyed.

The closing chorus by the entire company completed the program. The orchestra with Mrs. Mitchell as pianist gave several delightful selections that added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Mrs. Mattie Harbert of Saragosa has accepted a permanent position in the Home Bakery.

Jno. T. McElroy of Midland, president of the First National Bank, was in Pecos on business Friday.

Jesse Williams, merchant at Brogado was in Pecos Tuesday replenishing his stock for the holidays.

SECOND TRADES DAY WILL BE SATURDAY—NOVEMBER 25

Don't forget that the second big trades day for Pecos will be pulled off on Saturday of next week—Saturday, November 25th. Pecos merchants have been putting on special sales and will continue to do so up to and including Saturday the 25th.

The various merchants of the town are issuing tickets which will entitle you to a chance at the $75 stove to whites and $75 phonograph to the Mexicans. Don't fail to call for your tickets.

Pecos merchants are making especially low prices this year and have complete stocks from which to select. So you are playing safe when you come to Pecos to do your trading.

Don't forget the date—November 25th and also keep in mind that you can secure special bargains at nearly every business place in town up to and including that date. Now is a good time to lay in your supplies.

MEETING OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

A regular meeting of the county commissioners was held November 13th and little business of importance was transacted. There were no public road bids passed on. The county attorney was instructed to ask for sealed bids for the publication of the county treasurers' quarterly report from the three Reeves county news newspapers. The report of the county clerk and county treasurer were presented and approved. Report of W. C. Edmondson, butcher, presented and approved.

Richard Merchant and Buford Pope, two Carlsbad boys who are performing in the big rodeo contest in Madison Square Garden, New York City, under the direction of Tex Austin, write Carlsbad friends that the two boys are doing well in the contests, which are being participated in by ropers and bronco busters from all parts of the United States and Canada. In the published program of the first day's contests, Buford Pope took first prize in calf roping in both afternoon and evening contests, tying his calf in each contest in 28 4-5 seconds. Richard Merchant tied his calf in fifty seconds flat and was given eighth place among the ropers. Richard writes that they are using 350 pound animals from Bramah. He also says that the Carlsbad boys are giving a good account of themselves and having a fine time.—Carlsbad Current.

A meeting of the Farmers Independent Canal Trusting Company was called Friday evening for the purpose of ratifying and endorsing the action of the company in uniting with the other canal companies on the river in their efforts to construct the Red Bluff Reservoir with the following present: C. K. McKnight, president; Mrs. M. S. Hudson, secretary; Dr. Jim Camp, R. N. Couch, John DeRacy, Oram Green, A. J. Curtis and R. N. Sewel.

NOTHING EXCITING IN PECOS OIL FIELD BUT LOOKS LIKE BIG THINGS WILL OCCUR IN NEAR FUTURE

RAILROAD MAN SEES BIG OPPORTUNITY AND OIL BOOM FOR PECOS

Business done by the railroads shows wave of real prosperity on the way. J. H. Hadden, vice-president of the Kansas City Southern Railway, who was recently in Shreveport, declared that statistics in railroad traffic for October indicate a wave of real prosperity all over the United States in the near future. One of the chief drawbacks to business has been the car shortage, and this will be overcome within 30 days, he said. He sizes up the situation as follows:

"It is impossible to prophecy accurately, but we can judge by all indications that business is booming and the railroads are getting in a position to take care of the traffic movement. During one week in October more than 1,000,000 cars were loaded in the United States, a record which has been exceeded only once, in October, 1920. This indicates that 1922 fall business is better than that of the same period of 1921, and is on the increase.

"As for the car shortage, this is somewhat like the man in Arkansas who had a leaky roof. While it was raining, he experienced great discomfort and realized that he must fix the roof when the weather per mitted. But when the sun was shining he forgot all about it. Now, there are certain periods of the year when there is an over-supply of empty cars, and during that time the railroads fail to prepare for the rush season. When the great demand for cars can not be met, it is too late for immediate remedy.

The Kansas City Southern Railroad has ordered cars built as fast as possible, as there are no extra cars on hand. When these cars are available, the car shortage will be over and the business of the road cared for fully.—Oil World.

OMAHA OIL MEN PLEASANT VISITORS HERE THIS WEEK

Dr. J. H. Atkinson and T. W. Rodebaugh, both of Omaha, Nebraska, were pleasant visitors at the Enterprise office yesterday. These gentlemen are representatives and holders of large oil interests in Reeves county and the men who closed the deal with Mr. Willoughby for interests in that section. These gentlemen will waste no time in doing business here. They expected to start work on Willoughby No. 2 Tuesday of this week but failed to connect on a rig. They were here today to secure a rig and if plans now under way materialize, will start that work the forepart of next week, running two shifts.

These gentlemen also state that they will start operations at an early date on other wells in the Toyah Shallow oil basin. Apparently they have unlimited means and will prove a valuable addition to those already in the field who are developing the oil interests.

THIEVES TAKE CASH AND DIAMOND RING

On Wednesday of this week Mrs. Holmes who has been employed at the Home Bakery was robbed of about $7.00 or $8.00 in cash, a diamond ring valued at $100.— She had laid her purse down on the table where bread is wrapped and later she was out Mr. Glier was working in the rear and two young men came through the front and one of them asked for work. When told no more help was needed they returned by the front door and later when Mrs. Holmes had need for some change discovered that the change and ring were gone. This appears to be the only clue to the robbery. Two young men answering the description of those above were apprehended at Kent and brought back to Pecos but have denied the charge.

MRS. M. E. RAY PASSES AWAY

Mrs. A. J. Curtis received a message just as The Enterprise goes to press to the effect that her mother, Mrs. M. E. Ray, had passed away at the home of a son in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Curtis is too ill to attend the funeral which will probably be held in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Ray has been a long and patient sufferer and her passing will be a relief to the tired and worn body. She was a consistent Christian and one of the saints of the earth. The Enterprise will join a host of friends in sincere sympathy for the bereaved.

The damp weather of the forepart of the week has caused a slump in the amount of cotton coming to the Pecos gin.

HERSHENSON WELL

Drilling at the Hershenson well continues unabated. Nothing new to report.

THE BELL WELL

Excellent progress has been made at the Bell well the past week. Two drilling shifts were started Monday and drilling will continue night and day on this well until the Delaware sand is reached, and the well completed.

We understand that this well is drilling in the neighborhood of 3300 feet with considerable oil and gas showing in the oil impregnated formations from time to time. Formations indications are certainly most promising as to what may be expected when the Delaware sand is reached.

This well continues to use gas from the well for all fuel and heating purposes, and are prepared to turn part of the surplus gas into the Monce and Wheat pipe line to be carried across the river for drilling fuel on the new well, pipe for which is now being hauled to the location.

THE WHEAT WELL

Jim Wheat and "Shorty" Monce are as busy as cranberry merchants moving pipe line with which to pipe gas from the Bell well to their location and making other arrangements to begin drilling. It is hoped they will be ready to spud in this well by the first of the year, if not before.

BURCHARD NO. 1 WELL

On account of a sudden and unexpected freeze the first of the week the Burchard No. 1 well was delayed but the engine was being overhauled after having froze and bursted. This has been repaired and the well is supposed to be actually drilling as the Enterprise goes to press.

Mr. Wm. M. Hopper and his sons, Gus and Joe, are drilling this test well without pay and buying the gas and oil for drilling at their own expense in order to help prove to the world that C. H. Willoughby's oil locating magnet is all he claims it to be and they promise to do their best to reach the oil by next week.

WILLOUGHBY WELL

The president and secretary of the Willoughby Petroleum Company, Mr. C. H. Willoughby and Mr. R. G. Ferguson, made what seems to be the largest and most promising financial connection this section of the country has enjoyed for many a month when they closed with Mr. J. W. O'Connell, of Omaha, Nebraska, who is now in possession of and pushing the development of the Willoughby No. 2 well.

The Willoughby Petroleum Company retain all their acreage and the No. 1 well as owned before this connection was made and drilling will be resumed just as quickly as is possible for Mr. Hopper to complete the test well being drilled on Mr. Burchard's ranch in the shallow district.

Mr. Willoughby states to the editor that upon the completion of the wells he mapped at Kosse in September, he will make known the contents of the map now in safe keeping in the Citizens State Bank, Toyah, Texas.

THE LAURA WELL

Apparently the drillers at the Laura well of the Sunshine-Federal interests are stumped. They are down to 2390 feet, according to manager Heller, and have passed below the last joint of casing.

The dynamite shots put in evidently did good since it loosened a shoulder which obstructed the hole. It took about 125 pounds of steam to handle the casing before the shot whereas now 80 pounds handles the same casing more easily than did the 125 pounds before the shot. At 2390 to 2400 feet there appears to be another obstruction of some sort but since the hole fills up with sand before the tools can be raised and the shot placed it will be necessary it is believed, to lower the casing, put in the shot and then raise the casing before shooting. It is believed this will work with the desired results, but Manager Heller states that they are now awaiting instructions from headquarters before making a further move. It is expected that they will know in a day or so and proceed in some way with the well. Manager Heller admits that it is a very puzzling proposition.

GALLEY—(11)—Mable TOYAH-BELL WELL

So far as the Enterprise is informed no new excitement has been going on at the Toyah-Bell and nothing has been done toward bringing it in. When drillers can be had evidently they will do something. But as it now stands Ramsey interests are patiently waiting for Granger & Green to get through with the Laura well and move their rig to the Ramsey No. 2, when this move is made they will more than likely, make an effort to bring in the Toyah-Bell.

WOODROW WILSON MAKES FIRST PUBLIC ADDRESS SINCE SERIOUS ILLNESS

Admirers of Woodrow Wilson will read the following utterances of Mr. Wilson with pleasure and profit and be glad to know that he is regaining his strength. The Associated Press sends out the following from Washington under date of November 11:

Woodrow Wilson told a host of friends and admirers who made an Armistice Day visit to his home here today that world peace could be brought about only by "active co-operation for justice" and "not by amiable phrases." America always has stood for justice, he declared, adding that the "puny persons" now standing in the way would find presently that "their weakness is no match for the strength of a moving providence."

The former President spoke standing on the portico of his S street residence and without manuscript or notes. His remarks consumed about five minutes. They were the first he had made on public questions since he was stricken on his League of Nations tour of the West three years ago. This was his third public appearance since he left the White House on March 4, 1921.

Wilson Accorded Ovation.
The appearance of Mr. Wilson, who was assisted to the portico by a negro servant, was the signal for prolonged cheers from the crowd that packed the street and overflowed on near-by lawns and a vacant field. The wartime President responded with a smile and raising of his conventional silk hat. Mrs. Wilson did not accompany him, but as she appeared to assist him back indoors at the conclusion of his address she, too, received an ovation.

Mr. Wilson's address was in response to one delivered to him by Henry Morgenthau, former American ambassador to Turkey, who declared that the principles enunciated by Mr. Wilson during the war would prevail and that on last Tuesday it had been demonstrated that "the American people are escaping from materialism and selfishness and are preparing again to recognize their solemn and inexorable duty toward their fellow-nations in Europe."

This reference to the elections brought a smile and a low cry of "hear, hear," from the former chief executive. In his remarks Mr. Wilson spoke clearly and distinctly and with much of his old-time rapidity. Necessarily, however, there was lacking the one characteristic vigor of delivery and his voice carried only slightly beyond the inner edges of the crowd. The text of his remarks follows:

The text of Mr. Wilson's address, which was in reply to one delivered on behalf of the delegation by Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, follows:

"I am very much moved by this wonderful exhibition of your friendship and approval, and I have been reflecting today that Armistice Day has particular significance for the United States because the United States has remained contented with the armistice and has not moved forward to peace.

"It is a very serious reflection that the United States, the great originative Nation, should remain contented with a negation. Armistice is a negation; it is a standstill of arms; it is a cessation of fighting, and we are so bent on a cessation of fighting that we are even throwing our arms away.

"It is a singular circumstance to which Mr. Morgenthau has in part adverted, that, when we prescribed the conditions of the armistice, we did not concur in the establishment of permanent peace. That, of course, was brought about by a group in the United States Senate who preferred personal partisan motives to the honor of their country and the peace of the world. Do Not Represent United States.

"They do not represent the United States, because the United States is moving forward and they are slipping backward. Where their slipping will end God only will determine.

"And I have also been reflecting upon the radical difference between armistice and peace. Armistice, as I have said, is a mere negation; it is the refraining from force.

"But peace is a very positive and constructive thing as the world stands nowadays, because it must be brought about by the systematic maintenance of common understanding by cultivation—not by amiable phrases, but the active co-operation for justice, and justice is a greater thing than any kind of expediency. America has always stood for justice and always will stand for it. Puny persons who are now standing in the way will presently find that their weakness is not match for the strength of a moving providence. If you will pardon an invalid for putting on his hat I will promise not to talk through it.

"I think then we may renew our faith in the future though we are celebrating the past. The future is in our hands and if we are not equal to it, the shame will be ours and none others. I thank you from a very full heart, my friends, for this demonstration of kindness by you and bid you and the Nation good-speed."

The singing of Southern melodies by a chorus opened the program and Mr. Wilson then appeared. He was presented with baskets of flowers from Virginia, his native State; New Jersey, his home State, and the District of Columbia. The former President shook hands with each of the little flower girls and thanked them.

Flowers For Former Executive.
The basket from Virginia was presented by Miss Helen Trinkle, daughter of the Governor of that State, and contained a message from the Governor stating that time would vindicate Mr. Wilson's memory and that his "fame, like truth, would be eternal."

Miss Edith Edwards, daughter of the Governor of New Jersey, presented the flowers from that State. With them was a message from Governor Edwards, who said his State joined in voicing "the sentiment of our Nation in devout thanks to the Almighty for your restoration to health and ability to receive in person our earnest felicitations on this anniversary of Armistice Day."

After the program of exercises had been concluded there appeared to be no disposition on the part of the crowd to break up. Soon Mr. and Mrs. Wilson appeared at an upstairs window and were cheered time and again. There was a final cheer for the League of Nations.

The former President as he looked the crowd to break up. Soon Mr. him occasionally recognized close friends in the throng. He waved to President Edwin A. Alderman of the University of Virginia and E. T. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture, and one or two others.

Before the visitors dispersed Mr. Wilson departed for his accustomed afternoon automobile ride and for several blocks his car was to pass at only a very slow pace through the crowds pressing on each side of the street.

WELL WAS DRY, SO MIKE LYVERS PAYS ALL INVESTORS BACK

El Dorado, Ark., Nov. 10.—Mike Lyvers guaranteed a gusher well in the famous Smackover-Camden field for his Camden Oil Land Owners Association.

He got what is probably the dryest well ever drilled in Arkansas. He got onto a fault line—reported the only one in Smack-over.

But—
He also guaranteed to pay back every dollar invested with him in case his well was not a gusher. So—
Lyvers, it is announced, has just notified all his unit holders to send their units, draft attached, to the First National Bank of El Dorado, Ark., where he will take up the drafts with the addition of 5 per cent interest on their money from the time they made the investment.

"It breaks me financially to do this," Lyvers said, "but I've been broke before and I cannot go back on my word. I told my people I'd get a gusher or pay their money back. I did not get the gusher, so I'm paying them their money back. But I'll come back. It isn't how hard you fall but how high you bounce that counts, after all."

So far as is known, this is the first time in the history of the oil industry that an operator has paid back the investment with interest on getting a dry hole.

MAN

(Brann's Iconoclast.)
The place to take the measure of a man is not in the forum or the field, nor the market place or the amen corner, but at his own fireplace. There he lays aside his mask and you may judge whether he's an imp or angel, king or cur, hero or humbug. I care not what the world says—whether the world crowns him with bays or pelts him with bad eggs; I care never a copper what his reputation or religion may be.

If his babies dread his homecoming and his better-half swallows her heart every time she asks him for a five dollar bill, he's a fraud of the first water, even tho he prays night and morn until he's black in the face, and howls hallelujah till he shakes the eternal hills. But if his children run to the front gate to meet him, and love's own sunshine illumines the face of his wife when she hears his footfall you may take it for granted that he's true gold, for his home's a heaven and the humbug never gets that near the great white throne of God. He may be a rank atheist and a red flag anarchist, a Mormon and a mugwump; he may buy votes in blocks of five and bet on the election, he may deal them from the bottom of the deck and drink beer till he can't tell a silver dollar from a circle saw, and still be infinitely a better man than the cowardly little hypocrite who is all suavity in society, yet makes his home a hell— who vents upon the hapless heads of wife and children the ill nature he would like to inflict upon his fellow men but he dares not. I can forgive much in that fellow mortal who would rather make men swear than women weep; who would rather have the hate of the whole world than the contempt of his wife; would rather call anger to the eyes of a king than fear to the face of a child.

GOVERNMENT ISSUES REPORT ON ODESSA DEVELOPMENT

The first official bulletin on the Odessa field by the U. S. Geological Survey came off the press this week and is now being distributed in various parts of the country.

The report is very favorable and shows that the country is banking strongly on the Farmers Oil Company Inc. core test on the Newnham ranch. The report has a very interesting analyses of some samples taken from the McDowell well No. 4 in Chascock county and the Santa Rita well in Reagan county.

The report also speaks authentically of development contemplated by other companies and it is believed that one of these is the Danciger Oil & Refining Company.

The government report also stresses the fact that it has been obliged to be especially careful in putting out reports in regard to the development. The news of the Farmers Oil Company well is given to the government agents in confidence, and this information cannot be given out. The report dated Oct. 25 reads in part as follows:

"Among the samples from the Santa Rita well are 5 that contain between 1 and 1.5 per cent of K2O. Eighteen other samples, distributed at intervals from the 1192 to the 1,683 levels, contained between 1 and 1.5 per cent of K2O.

"The samples thus analyzed, like those described in earlier announcements, were taken by standard tools from wells drilled primarily for oil. So many of the conditions attending the sampling are known that it is impossible to state whether the potash-bearing zones are a few feet or only a few inches thick. In the Santa Rita well, for example, the original sample taken from the bailer after the drill had cut the beds from 1,316 to 1,325 feet showed 8.29 per cent of potash, equivalent to 10.76 per cent of the soluble salts, yet it can not be safely inferred that there is a 9-foot bed of potash salts of the stated richness at that horizon. Continuous sampling with core drills will be necessary before accurate data can be obtained.

"Core drilling in the region is contemplated in the near future by several companies. The Farmers Oil Company, of Lancaster, Penn., is now making a core test near Odessa, in Ector county. At last reports the well was down 900 feet but not deep enough to encounter the salt zones. The samples obtained will be analyzed in the laboratory of the United States Geological Survey.

"In recent newspaper accounts the Geological Survey has been accused of maintaining an air of secrecy with regard to potash developments in Texas and of withholding information from the public. The survey, however, is obligated to protect information that it received confidentially. Further, although it is genuinely optimistic about the probable discovery in Texas of potash of commercial quality and quantity, it must exercise due caution lest its published statements be made the basis of unscrupulous stock promotion."—Odessa Herald.

I Erred In Judgment Several Weeks Ago

When I wrote our stockholders and friends that "We expect to drill in Quickly." We were forced to shoot several hundred pounds of dynamite in our No. 1 Well by which method it was finally possible to get the casing down.

But I Still Say We Confidently Expect A BIG WELL When We Drill Through The Black Lime

We have worked hard and persistently and like any human beings we want the HONOR of bringing in the first REAL OIL WELL in the Pecos country.

No living man has greater faith than I of the existence of a tremendous oil field under our holdings BUT NOW COMES A MILLIONAIRE backed with the cold hard cash and his one ambition is to BRING IN THE FIRST WELL.

I Must Rely On The Confidence And Support

Of my friends and those who know me for the MONEY TO GET BUSY. With a geologist recommending this ground; with a millionaire checkerboarding around us to the extent of 3,520 acres and ACTUALLY SPENDING HIS MONEY IN DRILLING.

WHY SHOULD YOU HESITATE

When you get 100 shares of stock and a 5 acre lease Free? The lease alone may bring you a small fortune within a few weeks AS ACTION IS NOW ASSURED on the No. 2 Well. You never had a greater OPPORTUNITY. Will you grasp it NOW?

Several exchanges are carrying on eight page supplement once a month—one colored comic picture page and seven with "feature" articles and advertising. Pages two and three are set in twelve point "feature" stuff while the other five pages carry just enough reading matter to set out the advertising matter. A representative of the Fort Worth house putting out these supplements called on the Enterprise editor recently and endeavored to close a deal for same. The eight page supplement was offered the Enterprise for fifty cents per hundred copies, or about half what the blank paper costs laid down in this office. Last week's Ward county News carried one of these supplements and a measurement of the advertisements therein disclosed the fact that it carried in the neighborhood of 250 inches. As this editor views the matter papers using this supplement are paying fifty cents per hundred copies for the privilege of distributing this advertising matter. The Enterprise does not believe this is giving his home people a square deal and therefore declined the offer. If it has any advertising space to give away the Enterprise will give it to home people.

DIDN'T KNOW HIS SALARY The Dallas News of recent date published the following editorial which is very appropriate at this time:

In the magazine section of the New York Herald recently was an article entitled "Odd Bits of Washington Life." In the course of the article reference is made to the appointment of Francis B. Harrison to be Governor of the Philippines. Mr. Harrison was very popular with the members of Congress, and his selection by President Wilson was a matter of great satisfaction in both houses. When Speaker Champ Clark met Harrison he said:

"Well, Frank, you have been digging into your prospective duties pretty thoroughly, I hear." "I have asked everybody in every department who has or might have anything to do with the Philippines every question I could think of, Mr. Speaker," replied Mr. Harrison.

"By the way, what is your salary to be?" the Speaker asked. Harrison blinked. "By Jove, Mr. Speaker, I don't know; that is one thing I did not think to ask about."

"Francis Burton Harrison," said the Speaker solemnly, "write it down in parchment, so that your children and their children may know, that of the million or more men Presidents have appointed to office, you are the only one who did not know what the salary of his office was to be."

It wouldn't make a bad epitaph for any political appointee.

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

Wealth comes only from production, and all that the wrangling grabbers, loafers and robbers get to deal with comes from somebody's toil and sacrifice. Who, then, is he who provides it all? Go and find him, and you will have once more before you the Forgotten Man. You will find him hard at work because he has a great many to support. Nature has done a great deal for him in giving him a fertile soil and an excellent climate, and he wonders why it is that, after all, his scale of comfort is so moderate. He has to get out of the soil enough to pay all his taxes, and that means the cost of all the jobs and the fund for all the plunder. The Forgotten Man is delving away in patient industry, supporting his family, paying his taxes, casting his vote, supporting the church and school, reading his newspaper and cheering for the politicians of his admiration, but he is the only one for whom there is no provision in the great scramble and the big divide. Such is the Forgotten Man. He works, he votes, generally he prays—but he always pays—yes, above all, he pays.—William G. Sumner.

It is a dangerous precedent to set to allow any officer of the law to assume the role of arresting officer, judge, jury and witness. This smacks too much of Kaiserism or Ku Kluxism to be permitted by a free American people.

TEXAS

Who does not love vast Texas? Where dream-like pass the golden days, Mid broad plains and sunny vales, That chant unconscious hymns of praise

And the dim mountains rising near, Majestic in beauty all their own, Form a picture that can be painted By fair nature's hand alone.

A land whose story is just begun; Born in a baptism of blood and tears, The names of Crockett, Austin and Houston, Are embazoned on the record of thy years, Not without the wondrous story Of these heroes brave and true, Can be writ the nation's glory, 'Tis woven into the red, white and blue.

Borrowed sons by whose blood we're bought, Their dust today, consecrates the soil. Where so peacefully they sleep, In the great state for which they fought, The tragic story of the Alamo, To all the ages will be told, The history of Goliad and San Jacinto Will ever be recorded in letters of gold.

There have been kings whose fondest dreams Of kingdoms so broad and vast, The size of this great domain, Have not in any way surpassed, The skies take on a deeper blue, In this wide and diverse State, Friendship are ever more true, The inspiration is noble and great.

O! Texas! thou wilt ever be Thy people's pride and boast, Thou art a land of opportunity, Not excelled from coast to coast, Throbbing with untold possibilities, What a future lies not afar When thy wealth of resources are developed. O! wondrous state of the Lone Star.—MRS. W. A. FULLBRIGHT.

The proposition of the Enterprise to allow all who wish to pay back dues or as far in advance as desired at $1.50 per year is meeting with many responses. Every mail brings in stacks of letters with remittance of from $1.50 to $5.00 and with these remittance many compliments and words of appreciation, all of which is highly appreciated by the Enterprise editor.

PRISON HELPS THE FARMER

Whether the officials of the International Harvester Company have been more interested in marriages than in machinery may not be decided, but figures given out by the census bureau would indicate that the trust had better pay closer attention to business if it hopes to keep up the exploitation of men who till the soil.

The census department shows that in 1921 there has been a decrease of 14 per cent in the total value of farm machinery products sold as compared with the year before. The largest percentage of decrease appears in horse-drawn vehicles and in tractors and traction engines.

This is a tremendous falling off, but while it has been in progress price reductions on farm machinery manufactured at the Minnesota State prison, cran-ed in response to a request by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, have saved farmers of that state $150,000 in a year.

A report from this prison shows that 7,108 farm machines have been sold in the last twelve months, including particularly binders, mowers and rakes. This represents an increase of 139 per cent in the use of binders, 38 per cent in the sale of mowers, and 10 per cent increase in the consumption of rakes.

The manufacture of farm machinery in the State prison comes as a result of farm bureau activity and should prove an inspiration to other states, for seemingly a way has been found to get at least the thin end of the wedge into the iron ring the Harvester trust has held around the throat of the farmer for years.

It has been contended that putting on the market the products of prison labor would unhorse business, but if the Harvester trust be unhorsed, nobody will grieve very much. The farmers pay their share for the support of the restricted criminals, so it is not a bad idea for them to get something out of the labor of their wards.

SCHOOL TO SAVE HUMAN LIFE

F.A. dwellers in New York are now to be blessed in the erection of a bacteriology building in which the public will be shown how to prevent disease.

A museum with models will demonstrate how to eradicate rats and flies, how to ditch to do away with malarial mosquitoes, and how to indulge in home pasteurizing of milk. Also the sanitary handling of food and the proper kind of plumbing that should be installed in the public safety will be shown.

Truly New York is a wonder city. Medically there is nothing like it in the world. Your millionaires pay $10,000 for an operation from skilled hands that perform the same operations on the needy free of charge. For the poor the city is a medical and surgical paradise.

Forward looking men of course have now come to see that prevention is becoming more and more necessary in the practice of medicine. In the old days doctors were taught how to cure disease. Now they are being taught how to prevent it.

It is high time the national and state governments recognized the necessity of following New York's lead.

The elections are over. Our new government officials soon will be in harness. What a relief it would be if they would spend some of the public money for the preservation of the public health.

New York has the advantage of a great concentration of medical skill that does not exist in the country, but the principles of health conservation apply alike in all districts.

Why cannot the national and state health department educate the people to health preservation through officially advertised instructions and talks to the people signed by the proper authorities. The newspaper is the vehicle to spread this knowledge. We have said this before, but sometimes it takes a surgical operation to get an idea into the head of the government.

OLD SPOONS

"I may say here," boasts Gen. Ben Butler in his own account of his occupation of New Orleans in the course of the Civil War. "And challenge contradiction, in behalf of my gallant comrades, that from the time we landed until the time I left New Orleans, no officer or soldier did any act to interfere with life, limb or property of any person in New Orleans unless acting under perfectly explicit orders to do so."

An interesting commentary, thirty years after the publication of General Butler's memoirs, come in an account of an experience on the part of two New Orleans boys who took a trip up in Maine.

According to the New Orleans Times-Picayune's correspondent at Bangor, Maine, the old toll gate keeper at the Wiscasset Bridge encountered two pedestrians and asked them where they were from. Upon learning that their home was in New Orleans he remarked:

"I stopped at New Orleans one time, when I was with General Butler." At that the pedestrians stiffened up a bit, as is the wont with the New Orleansians at the mention of Butler's name, and the elder of them retorted:

"Well, you can't be very proud of that!" "And why not, you young snip-pet?" demanded the gate keeper. "Because Butler was an insulter of women and a tyrant—that's what he was, and the boys of New Orleans who never saw him hate him. And, besides, he stole all the spoons of my grandmother's hotel."

"He did, eh?" snapped the veteran. "What was the name of your grandmother's hotel?" "The St. Charles." "You just wait a minute, young man." And the gate keeper went up stairs to his living room and brought down a heavy canvas bag. He opened it and took out a handful of spoons. On the handle of each, the Times-Picayune assures us, was engraved "St. Charles."

"What do these look like?" demanded the old man. "Why those are some of the spoons from my grandfather's hotel!" said the astonished young man. "Where did you come on these?"

"I took 'em," said the old man "and I know who took the rest of them—and we did it at the risk of our lives, for if General Butler had known it he would have stung us up."

Probably the reason General Butler was in a dense state of unconsciousness of the theft was due to the fact that his own headquarters were maintained at this same St. Charles Hotel. However that may be, the offer of the Southerner to buy back the spoons brought 'he proud response:

"Let me tell you that you could not bring money enough in a two-horse wagon to buy one of them. I'm not a thief; I'm not trying to make money by stealing. I took those spoons as plunder of war and I'm going to keep 'em."

And so, it seems, the spoons stayed in Maine.—Dallas News.

ADVERTISING

A merchant in a neighboring town states his advertising thus far this year cost him 54 cents for every $100 worth of goods sold. He used half a page of his local paper each week for his business announcement, and says that as long as people read newspapers he will continue to advertise. There's a man possessed of a good head. Just as soon as merchants begin to look upon advertising as a branch of their business which requires as much care as any part of it, then will advertising pay. Honesty, force, originality and persistency in advertising makes it a paying investment.—Merkel Mail.

Of course, someone will say that the newspapers are great advocates of advertising because it means money in their pockets. Well, certainly, the newspapers have got to provide the means for the issuance of the newspaper. The public does not realize on the other hand how much free advertising the newspaper gives and for the small price at which it sold per copy, it being known by most of the public the great expense incidental to the issuance of a weekly newspaper and the different departments which must be maintained all at great expense. And he said also that the majority of the business men realize that advertising is as much a part of their business expense as salaries of clerks, etc. In fact, most of the large businesses have regular appropriations which they set aside for advertising.—Abilene Reporter.

RECITAL OF TOYAH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA WEDNESDAY

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the music loving people of Toyah filled the school auditorium to capacity Wednesday evening. The occasion was the first public recital this term of the Toyah High School Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Mr. E. L. Harp. To critical observers and the citizens of Toyah who have noted the progress of this organization a wonderful improvement is perceptible. The toning down of the ambitious wind section, which in itself was a preponderant task, has met with deserved and gratifying results owing to the persistent efforts of the conductor. A noticeable feature in instrumentation is in the accompaniment to the solos. These were played by the full orchestra which had a tendency to give an atmosphere of confidence to the soloist and in every way his efforts were better received by the audience. Too much praise cannot be given for the perfect control Mr. Harp wields over his young pupils both in practice and deportment. There are thirty-five members in the orchestra and all were at their seats when the baton was raised for the first number on the program. There is not enough room on the auditorium stage for the entire organization and the violin section, numbering eleven, was seated in front of the raised platform. The program consisted of thirteen numbers which included some popular selections.

The solos all deserve special mention. Master William Seay, who played the cornet solo, "Dear Heart" showed he had given diligent application and study to his number. He is but nine years of age and played remarkably well. He received an enthusiastic encore. Master E. L. Harp, Jr., gave a popular trombone solo, a one step, Raggy Trombone by Keifer. The audience forced him to repeat. Master Harp has made wonderful progress on his instrument and bids to outclass his father, the conductor, who is considered a trombone artist. A trio, "Forevermore" was well rendered by Gage Van Horn, cornet, Ernest Harp, Jr., trombone, Bishop Humphreys, euphonium. This was given with full orchestra accompaniment and was enthusiastically received.

A noticeable number was the popular song, "Three O'clock in the Morning." The opening sixteen bars is played by the bells and chimes and when the clock strikes three the orchestra plays a beautiful song waltz.

A great addition to the orchestra this school term is the efficiency with which the drums and traps are manipulated. This section is operated by Mrs. Clyde Cargill. Mrs. Cargill is an accomplished musician and had little trouble in mastering the intricacies of the traps. Her rolls and other small drum parts as designated in the score are given with correctness and precision. Her playing of the bells, now so much introduced in orchestra scores, requires fine musical talent of which she is happily endowed. The Toyah High School orchestra is a credit to Toyah and Reeves county, and the tireless instruction of Mr. and Mrs. Harp by individual lessons to the members is highly commendable. An addition to the string section is to be made by substituting two more bass violins and two more violincellos. The double bass instruments will be played by Ted Seay and J. O. Crow, now playing E-flat tubas. The new violincello addition will be two accomplished musicians.

The program will be repeated at Barstow tonight, by request of the citizens of that neighborhood.

The following is the instrumentation of the orchestra which appeared Wednesday night. Violins—Mrs. M. A. Grisham, Miss Esther Harkness, Miss Florence Burchard, L. Harkness, A. H. Bruce,

Floyd Hosie, Bernice Johnson, Jack Hayes, Tootsie Seay, Edgar Ingerson, Barney Humphries. Clarinets—Wendell Powell, Odell Collins, Robert Simpson, J. T. Henderson, Miss Catherine Bernhardt, Miss Janie Duncan. Cornets Gage Van Horn, Jr., Miss Corrin Humphries, Bill Seay, Raymond Aldredge. Horns—Clarence Scholz, Tom Simpson. Richard Lloyd Jones tells About the Economic Grab Game

COMPARE the finest Oregon apple with a wild crab and you have a simple parallel of the unfolding refinements of political and economic institutions. We found the apple wild and we tamed it. We took the seed of the best fruit and planted again. By replanting only the best, protecting the trees from the insect foe, giving battle to the wrecking worm, we have through a generation of trees produced marvelous fruit. This is not an illogical picture to present in the consideration of railroads. A lot of people think that we are going to the dogs. Ex-Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, one of our brightest but most pessimistic public men, has recently written a book to tell us how topsy-turvy everything is and that we are headed for the bow-wows. We are not going to the bow-wows. The good Senator is wrong. He points to the danger of combinations in business. The very danger that he fears is bringing into life the perfected fruit of government control with ultimate government ownership of the common carriers of the country. When we reach that good goal we are going to create out of those common carriers a revenue which will greatly reduce our tax burden. It is a pruning process, a program of selection and development of that which brings promise of the better until we get the best. We used to be afraid of railroad mergers. We used to pass laws to prevent them. We thought it a terrible system for small railroads to get together and organize one large system. Now we think it fine. We're encouraging it. The trouble is, a lot of fellows who were progressives in 1889 haven't yet got the progressive view of 1922. Four big railroads, the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul are today talking merger. This is not a terrible contemplation. We should hope for its consummation. It is just making one fine, big apple out of four smaller ones. It's improving the fruit on our national economic and industrial tree. If you want to see a line of old railroad crabs just look at any passing freight train. It's a kaleidoscopic picture of a monumental mix-up, a moving panorama of the inefficiency and waste of a lot of little crab roads. On that passing freight train you will see cars marked New York Central, Southern Pacific, Boston and Maine, Denver & Rio Grande, Southern, Great Northern, Lackawanna, Illinois Central, Wabash, Florida East Coast, Soo Line, Texas and Pacific and so on to the cabooste. Every one of those cars has to be distributed back to the four corners of the continent until they get on their own little siding. Petty, little sour crabs, belonging to an ancient transportation tree. The United States mail pouch is a mail pouch anywhere from Maine to Arizona. Any railroad car should be the same. The more they merge the better and when we get one big merger of all railroads, the next step will be for the government to take them over, run them, acquire the profit and spend it in running the business of the government, thereby reducing the tax burden upon the tax payer. Railroads, like apples, get better as they get bigger. It's a great and grand grafting game just like pruning up the trees for the finer product. We are going ahead, each day nearer to a more perfect product.

GATES TIRES

The Tire with the Wider and Thicker Tread

More Good Evidence—

Just this past month 524 dealers began selling Gates Super-Tread Tires. Pretty good evidence that quality pays—and a reason, too, why our factory is oversold. Naturally, dealers want to sell the tire that gives you more miles because that's the best way to sell you the next tire. That's why you find more dealers every day recommending the tire with the wider and thicker tread—the Gates Super-Tread Tire.

MARSHALL H. PIOR

HONEY PHILOSOPHY For 1922

ONCE upon a time there was a man named Russell Sage. He died many times a millionaire. He never spent a penny he was not compelled to spend. He bought his summer underwear in the winter-time and his winter clothing in July. He paid fifty cents for straw hats, when merchants were throwing away their left overs in September. Thus he amassed a huge fortune, which two of his nephews are now spending. They buy in season with the money Sage left and enjoy the buying with the human touch Sage could not leave. He never knew it. Buying in seasons spells universal prosperity and human happiness. But buy early. The rush stimulates prices. Everything needed for Christmas is now in stock, and the early bird catches the worm. The worm may be foolish, to rest up, but he's got it now. So shop now.

poem by UNCLE JOHN

If I was a woman—as sweet as a rose—attractin' admirers wherever she goes,—I'd exercise judgment and never would fret to marry the fust man I thought I could get. . . . It's powerful reaky to marry too fast, an' fetch up in heart-breakin' tatters at last! If I was a woman—I'd shorley object to masculine drivel that's short of respect. I'd gather a brick-bat, and throw it to hurt—at the two-legged varmint that called me a "skirt," and I'd knock the face off'n the perverted swain, that chucked all politeness, to call me a "Jane." If I was a woman that pined for a mate, I wouldn't step sideways to monkey with "fate." . . . I wouldn't trust nothin' that couldn't be proved—till I fished up a jay that was fit to be loved.—An' I'd practice all virtues, an' live in restraint.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Prepared for The Enterprise By The First National Bank in St. Louis.

The forthcoming annual cotton bulletin of the Census Bureau will contain figures relative to the world cotton situation for the year ending July 31, 1922. American production for 1922 has been estimated by the Department of Agriculture at 10,135,000 bales. Indications are there will be an increase in production in a number of other countries. It would seem probable that total production of commercial cotton will be between 16,500,000 and 17,000,000 bales.

World cotton production for 1921 was 14,741,000 bales, of which the United States produced 7,954,000. American consumption was 12,293,000. The number of spindles in the world was 157,021,000 of which 36,947,000 were in the United States.

Production in British India was 3,360,000 bales; Egypt 837,000; China 1,175,000; Brazil 612,000; all other countries 808,000. The probable world's stock of American and all kinds of cotton July 31, 1922, was 9,536,000 bales, of which 5,123,000 were American. Bales of all kinds in American mills were 1,220,000 bales; in public storage in the United States 1,487,000; elsewhere in United States 125,000; in British mills 340,000; in British ports 861,000; at sea to British 121,000; in Continental mills 1,020,000; in Continental ports 508,000; at sea to Continent 211,000; at Bombay 809,000; at Alexandria 328,000; in and to Japan, Canada and other countries 2,506,000.

FAT MAN HANGS IN HOLE, BLOCKS PRISONERS' ESCAPE

Lubbock, Nov. 13.—A few pounds of excess averdupois spoiled an otherwise well-planned jail break here early Sunday. Four men had slipped quietly out to liberty, through a hole which is alleged to have been sawed in the prison door by Shorty Hunter, under conviction for larceny, when H. W. Spradling started through. He got part of the way and then his bulk held him. The four who had preceded him tried to pull him through but failed. Then they tried to push him back with the assistance of other prisoners still in jail, but they were unable to budge him either way. The four on the outside left, with the escape of others effectually blocked.

Spradling suffered severely through his experience and it is declared his injuries are serious. There is some doubt as to his recovery.

Hunter and T. A. Smith, who was awaiting trial on a larceny charge are still at large.

A negro named Rely, who shot another negro in Slaton and was awaiting trial, and Alex Sancia, a Mexican, who was awaiting trial for burglarizing Moore Brothers Hardware store June 27, were captured at Sudan by a deputy sheriff of Lamb county and returned to Lubbock by Deputies John McCoullough and T. Y. McKinney of Lubbock county.

COW GIVES BIRTH TO THREE GOOD CALVES

Jeff Riddle, living three miles east of Winters has a cow that has proven in her seven years of life that she is willing to do her best to keep the home dairy herd stocked.

At three times heretofore she has given birth to twin calves, all of them living and doing well and last week she outdistanced her former record by bringing three well developed, healthy calves.

If anyone knows of a cow that can beat this record the Enterprise will be glad to know about her.—Winters Enterprise.

The above reminds us of a story we heard a lawyer in Eastland county tell, in relating incidents of pioneer days in this country. As we remember, this was a circumstance where an old time freighter drove an ox wagon and hauler freight from Waco to this country, making about one trip a month, and in the winter when feed was scarce and the weather too severe for the old man to drive, he struck camp for the winter and turned his four head of oxen out to rustle for themselves until spring, and often when he went out in the spring to herd in his oxen to start his freighting for the summer he would have as many as twenty head. This cow stuff has always been plentiful in Texas.—Santa Anna News.

OUTLINE OF WORK OF TEXAS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

"A very marked increase in interest has been indicated through letters and requests received from all sections of the state," according to Dr. J. H. Florence, State Health Officer, in the work carried on by the State Board of Health.

An outline of the work which the State of Texas endeavors to do through its Board of Health follows, in which the co-operation of the profession, the press and the laity is solicited:

It furnishes the profession and laity with literature on the cause and prevention of communicable diseases, written in plain language which can be understood by anyone.

If an epidemic occurs in any community, it sends an expert to investigate the cause and to recommend means for the prevention of a spread of the disease and a recurrence of same. In case the local health authorities are not able to handle the situation, control is assumed until the problem can be handled locally.

Reports on all communicable diseases are collected and tabulated by counties so that at any time information may be furnished to interested parties and the department is ready and anxious to assist in guarding against epidemics or pestilence.

It keeps accurate legal records of births and deaths, the two most important events in the life of every one, so that the identity of citizens may be established at any time.

County and City Boards of Health are furnished with expert advice and assistance at any time, without cost.

Towns and cities, institutions or individuals, may obtain advice from an expert engineer as to the most modern and safest plans in installing water systems, sewer systems, cesspools, swimming pools, etc.

Chemical and bacteriological examinations and inspections are made of public water supplies where necessary.

The water supply furnished by railroads to their patrons for drinking is inspected at regular intervals to see if it comes up to the standard required.

Its laboratories examine specimens for tuberculosis, typhoid, diphtheria, malaria, hydrophobia, venereal or any other communicable disease, or any article of food or drink as to its fitness for human consumption.

All employees of hotels, cafes, restaurants, dining cars or other public eating places, bakeries and meat markets are required to have a certificate of health countersigned by local city or county officer. There are a number of state inspectors who visit hotels, bakeries, markets and dairies, whose duty it is to report the sanitary or unsanitary condition of same.

Upon the request of proper authority any public or private institution, town, city or village will be inspected and recommendations made for a better sanitary condition. Educational material on prenatal care, maternal care and the care and feeding of infants may be had for the asking. Inspection is made of all maternity homes.

Literature in a way which can be understood by anyone may be had on sex education and venereal disease.

Lecturers and moving pictures on health questions are sent to public meetings whenever possible, without charge.

Experts employed in the different bureaus are constantly seeking to find out new facts regarding the prevention of disease, which may be of value to the health of the people of the great state of Texas.

Every possible means is used to safeguard the people against disease and to insure, through education, better health, greater happiness and prosperity, and in fact a better place in which to live.

PREACHER DEFINES KIND OF MAN SAFE FOR GIRLS TO WED

New York, Oct. 21.—In a talk on "What sort of a man is it safe to marry?" the Rev. John M. Moore, pastor of the Marcy Avenue Baptist church, at Marcy avenue and Madison street, Brooklyn, gave the following rules for girls to follow:

- 1. Don't marry a man you don't know thoroughly.
2. Don't marry a man you expect to reform.
3. Don't marry a man you don't love intelligently or who does not love you the same way.
4. Don't marry a man who doesn't respect womanhood.
5. Don't marry a man whom other men and children dislike.
6. Don't marry an egotist.
7. Don't marry a man who can't support you.
8. Don't marry a man who hasn't any sense of humor.
9. Don't marry a man who is not of approximately your own age and interests.
10. Don't marry a man who has led a fast life.
"The man whom it is positively safe to marry," added Dr. Moore, "is the man whom you know to be clean, capable and chivalrous; whom you love and who loves you; a man who has self-control, a saving sense of humor, and, most important of all, a man the stamp of whose life and church ideals and habits a good woman is willing to have her children bear."

LIFE-SAVING CAMPAIGN IN-SOUTHWEST DIVISION

American Red Cross Organized and Trained Many Corps in This Section Last Summer.

More than 34 chapters have been visited during the months of May, June and July by Captain Norbert E. Raacke, first aid and life saving representative of the Southwestern Division. While visiting these various chapters, Capt. Raacke gave first aid demonstrations before Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, as well as life saving demonstrations and instructions at Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and many outdoor pools and lakes. At the majority of the pools and lakes visited, the Captain has noted particularly that practically little or no life saving precautions are taken. A large lake at Nevada, Mo., is owned by an old Indian, who believes that if a person were drowning someone near at hand would come to the rescue.

Many letters of commendation have been received from chapters visited by Capt. Raacke. Salina, Kan., was particularly well pleased with his demonstrations at the Country Club outdoor pool. The following is an extract from a letter recently sent in by the life saving examiner of that town:

"Capt. Raacke's clever work at the large outdoor pool of the Country Club was watched in breathless silence, only to be broken by wild cheering at his many extraordinary feats of swimming and life saving. Capt. Raacke, to us, is a marvel of efficiency and his crawl stroke is still the talk of the town. He not only has been a great help in the Life Saving Department, but has given even greater interest to the Red Cross in its other lines of work."

There are several well organized life saving corps in the Southwestern Division. Kansas City, Mo., has an excellent women's corps. At the annual banquet, held in May, life saving badges were awarded to more than forty women, service medals to two and the life saving bar to one.

On July 30th the river patrol of the St. Louis Chapter gave an exhibition and races at Lincoln Beach, on the Meramec River. This exhibition was witnessed by probably the largest crowd ever gathered at Lincoln Beach. More than 500 canoes fringed the sand when the first event, the canoe singles race, was announced. Capt. Raacke had charge of the life saving demonstration, showing the various methods of breaking death holds encountered in rescuing a drowning person.

Eight life guards, after his demonstration on the barge, struggled viciously with each other in a practical illustration of life saving tactics.

The Galveston, Texas Life Saving Corps have frequently exhibited their skill in first aid and life saving. Owing to the prompt and efficient first aid administered by three members of the Galveston Life Saving Corps on June 4th, the life of John D. Wheeler, 26 years old, of Houston, Tex., was saved. Mr. Wheeler was overcome while bathing in shallow water and was found floating in an unconscious condition. The three members of the life saving corps succeeded in reviving Mr. Wheeler through the application of the Schaeffer method of resuscitation. He was taken to the hospital in a very weakened condition. As Mr. Wheeler was found in comparatively shallow water, it is believed his mishap was due to a fainting spell.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL AND CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE ARE DISTINCT

At a joint meeting of the National Committee of the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association, held recently, an agreement with regard to the campaigns conducted annually by each organization, which follows each other only a day apart this year, was reached. The American Red Cross will conduct its Roll Call from November 11th to November 30th. The National Tuberculosis Association will conduct its nation-wide sale of Christmas Seals from December 1st to January 1st.

A statement issued jointly by the two organizations says that undoubtedly the effectiveness of the mutual understanding depends in large measure upon the extent to which the local workers of both organizations adhere to the agreement. Overlapping of effort will be injurious to both causes, the two national organizations believe, and it is of great importance that this idea be thoroughly understood by the local workers in both, according to John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, and Dr. Alexander Miller, president of the National Tuberculosis Association.

The official statement of the two organizations follows:

- 1. There is no official connection between the campaign of the National Tuberculosis Association and that of the American Red Cross.
2. There is to be no use of the Red Cross emblem by the National Tuberculosis Association.
3. The title of the American Red Cross is not to be used in the sale of Tuberculosis Seals.
4. The dates of the American Red Cross Roll Call are to be November 11th to November 30th, inclusive; and the National Tuberculosis Association's sale of seals begins December 1st and continues until January 1st.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, County of Reeves. To the Sheriff or any Constable of Reeves County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Lee V. McEntire, William Owens, L. J. Grossblatt, D. MacKenzie, I. S. Adams, C. S. Davis, G. R. Smith, and C. T. Bates, each individually, as partners in the El Paso Saragosa Oil Company, and as trustees of the El Paso Saragosa Oil Company, a trust estate, by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Reeves County, Texas, to be held at the court house thereof, in Pecos, Texas, on the 20th day of November, A. D. 1922, then and there to answer a Second Amended Original petition filed in said court on the 20th day of October, A. D. 1922, in suit No. 2244, wherein John J. Bush is plaintiff, and the El Paso Saragosa Oil Company, an unincorporated joint stock association, Dee Davis, Lee La Rue, S. T. Hobbs, Lee V. McEntire, William Owens, C. M. Honaker, J. W. Williams, S. C. Vaughan, I. S. Adams, L. J. Grossblatt, C. S. Davis, G. R. Smith, C. T. Bates, D. MacKenzie, and W. A. Hudson, individually, as trustees of the El Paso Saragosa Oil Company, a common law trust estate, and as partners composing the firm of El Paso Saragosa Oil Company, a partnership, are defendants; and said petition alleging that from May 1, 1920, to May 1, 1921, plaintiff performed labor as general manager and as field manager, for the El Paso Saragosa Oil Company, and the said defendants, and under a contract of hire with its officers and trustees, being the other defendants herein, at the price of $300.00 per month during such period. That there was earned by plaintiff under such contract the sum of $3600.00. That there was paid to him on such account the sum of $663.02, so that there is still due and payable to him the sum of $2936.98. In addition thereto plaintiff alleges that he holds by proper and legal assignment, the account of Lee La Rue in the sum of $1,100.00, due for labor performed in guarding the property of the El Paso Saragosa Oil Company from September 15, 1920, to April 15, 1922, at a contract price of $60.00 per month. And that none of said account has been paid. That though plaintiff has made numerous demands for payment of said debt, defendants have failed and refused to pay the same to plaintiff's damage $4,036.98, for which sum with interest and costs of suit plaintiff prays judgment, etc.

In the alternative plaintiff alleges that the plaintiff and all of the defendants named above on April 15, 1919, entered into a partnership agreement to carry on the business of dealing in mineral leases, drilling oil and gas wells, and carrying on the required development under such leases in an effort to discover oil and gas strata, under the firm name of the El Paso Saragosa Oil Company. That under such agreement the partners have acquired considerable property in leases, fixtures, well machinery and casing. That no equitable division of said property can be made except by sale of the property as a whole and a division of the proceeds among the partners according to their respective interests. That plaintiff is entitled to a dissolution and accounting of said partnership because defendants are not actively carrying on the business of the partnership according to agreement;

That defendant S. T. Hobbs has failed to account for certain partnership moneys, but has appropriated same to his own use and benefit; and that the partnership is in an insolvent condition. And plaintiff prays for a dissolution of the partnership, that a receiver be appointed, and that after payment of the debts of the partnership and the costs of this suit, the proceeds remaining be divided between the parties hereto, according to their respective interests, etc.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Pecos, Texas, this 20th day of October, A. D. 1922. (SEAL) S. C. VAUGHAN, Clerk District Court, Reeves County, Texas. By H. P. KERR, Deputy.

And in the event default is made in the payment of this note and it is placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or if collected by suit or through the Probate Court, I hereby agree to pay all costs of collection, including ten per cent of principal and interest then due, as attorney fees; and it is agreed that all signers and endorsers of this note, either as principal or sureties, waive demand, protest, notice of protest and non-payment, and that this note may be renewed from time to time without notice to them. (Signed) WM. MEYER, FLOYD GOODRICH. No. 795.

Second. That thereafter on the 23rd day of December, 1920, the defendants executed and delivered to the plaintiff a promissory note in the sum of $208.90 bearing date on the date and year last aforesaid, payable to the order of plaintiff at Pecos, Texas, due 6 months after date with interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from date until paid and further providing for 10 per cent additional on the amount of principal and interest due if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection or suit is brought on same.

Whereby defendants became bound and liable to pay and promised plaintiff to pay him the sum of money in said note specified, together with all interest and attorney fees. That plaintiff has placed said note in the hands of H. G. Russell, an attorney, for collection, after maturity and contracted to pay him the 10 per cent stipulated in said note, the same being a reasonable, usual and customary fee. The said note is described as follows: Pecos, Texas, December 23rd, 1920. Six months after date, I, we or either of us, jointly and severally promise to pay to the order of Pruett Lumber Company, at their office in Pecos, Texas, the sum of Two Hundred and Eight Dollars and Ninety Cents for value received with interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum from date until paid. And in the event default is made in the payment of this note and it is placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or if collected by suit or through the Probate Court, we hereby agree to pay all costs of collection, including ten per cent of principal and interest then due as attorney's fees; and it is agreed that all signers and endorsers of this note, either as principals or sureties, waive demand, protest, notice of protest and non-payment, and that this note may be renewed from time to time without notice to them. (Signed) WM. MEYER, FLOYD GOODRICH. No. 811.

That said notes are now due and unpaid and defendant, though often requested, has hitherto failed and refused and still refuses to pay the same or any part thereof to plaintiff's damage in the sum of $201.53 with interest and attorney fees, plus the sum of $208.90 with interest and attorney fees.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays the Court that the defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition and that he have judgment for his said debt, being the sum of $208.90 and $201.53, with interest and attorney fees and costs of suit and such other and further relief to which, in law or equity, he is justly entitled.

Herein fail not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Pecos, Texas, this 19th day of Oct. A. D. 1922. (SEAL) S. C. VAUGHAN, Clerk, County Court Reeves County, Texas. By H. P. KERR, Deputy.

D. 1912, this plaintiff purchased under tax sale and obtained tax deed to Sections 7 and 19, Block 59, Public School Land, Reeves County, Texas, obtaining thereby all of the title and interest of T. THE CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH

The interest shown for last Sunday's discussion of Our Great Declaration of Independence leads me to continue further a comparative study revealing the superiority of the Christian life in point of supervisor. If Washington or Napoleon or Alexander of Meses were great, yet our Director is greater; so that we may fairly believe that though those men, and others, have led people to great things the Peerless Commander-in-chief will lead to peerless lives and living. Does your heart yearn for a life more noble? Come and hear these talks on "High Lives and High Living."

In the evening at 7:30 I plan to discuss "Power of Christianity to Displace the false Religions," particularly the "Spiritualistic" tendencies of our times. I have some practical things to say which I believe are worth while.

A cordial invitation is extended to you to attend all our services.

JUNIOR MISSIONARY PARTY

The Junior Missionary Society of the Methodist church enjoyed a most delightful party Friday afternoon of last week at the home of the efficient superintendent, Mrs. Ben Randalls. Many interesting games were played. A contest in missionary information was given and which displayed splendid training. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, Virginia Kesler; vice-president, Virginia Thomas; treasurer, Mildred Ruhlen; corresponding and recording secretary, Helen Thurston; superintendent of social service, Ruby Stephens; agent of Young Christian Worker, Elizabeth Ruhlen.

GRANDPA WILLIAMS PASSED AWAY TUESDAY

I. E. M. Williams of Saragosa passed away at his home Tuesday and the body was laid to rest in the Saragosa cemetery Thursday.

Deceased was about 84 years of age, served in the army of the South in the civil war and is one of the pioneers of the Toyah Creek country. Although he had passed his allotted time of three score and ten years he was active, energetic and faithful and all who knew him loved and admired him for his true self.

He leaves an aged wife and son, J. W. B. Williams of Saragosa to mourn his loss. The Enterprise was unable to learn if there were others. To these and all others who are bereaved by his passing the Enterprise joins their hosts of friends in deepest sympathy.
