Weak Back

Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of R. F. D. 3, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago... I got down with weak back... I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed. I read of

CARDUI

and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me get on my feet and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."

If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui may be just what you need. Take Cardui. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you.

EDITORIAL

The great exposition of road building material, methods, and machinery which now is in progress in Chicago emphasizes as never before the position which highway construction and use is to take in this country. Here, under one roof are gathered together such an educational exhibit of all that pertains to highway making as the world has never seen. Road builders from all over the country are attending; road buyers have sent their representatives to see what progress has been made in the art; road users come to see whether or not their own roads are up to the best standard, and if the money their communities are spending is being wisely spent.

Attracting a major amount of the attention of the visitors are the two exhibits which have nothing to sell; nothing to gain except the spread of an idea. The Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Agriculture, has a highly educational exhibit, showing the work of the bureau, the administration of the Federal aid road acts, and the right way to build roads. The National Highways Association, occupying a great space across the end of the gallery, shows very large and elaborate maps, illustrating the idea back of the association. It shows, with literature and other exhibits, its educational work looking to the creation of national sentiment for the theory that the National Government should build, own, control, and forever maintain a system of National Highways to which States would build feeder roads, which in turn would be served by county and township roads.

The great throngs of people coming to the Coliseum are but an indication of the interest we, as a people, take in the highway transportation problem, and the absolute necessity of this Government taking the next step in its solution, which is, of course, the creation of a National Highway Commission to locate and build the first of the truly national roads.

GOOD ROADS INFLUENCE SEEN IN MOTOR VALUES

A statistical summary of the various values possible to obtain today by the expenditure of a dollar as compared with ten years ago has been made by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. This chart shows an increase in value for both cars and tires, as opposed to a great decrease in value of such commodities as clothing, shoes, food, furniture, and house furnishings, building, crops, and live stock, and such intangibles as the cost of living and rents.

According to this summary, a dollar in 1913 purchased a dollar's worth of motor car; in 1923 it purchased $1.11 worth of motor car, whereas the dollar which bought a dollar's worth of food in 1913, today buys 68.5 cents worth of food.

A dollar's worth of tires in 1913 cost a dollar. For the same dollar in 1923 one buys $1.23 worth of tires, whereas the dollar one spent for clothes in 1913 will buy today but 51.8 cents worth of suit or overcoat.

It is not a matter of argument that one of the great factors which have raised the relative value of motors per dollar expended, is the large increase in good highways. These have been a predetermining cause in the purchase of a large amount of motor vehicles, and it is quantity production which has lowered the cost or increased the value, as you please, of the 1913 "dollar unit" of value.

The statistics are based on reports from such authorities as the National Industrial Conference Board, the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Cleveland Trust Company, the Department of Agriculture and the Federal Reserve Board.

There is quite a notion that the use of the telephone is bad for the ear. Perhaps that can be tested. In most cases it is the left ear that goes up to the telephone receiver.

According to the News Bulletin of the Kansas Committee on Public Utility Information, the left ear is the better ear. More than that it is the telephone that makes it better.

"Left ears as a result of this practice, have become far more sensitive than right ears," says the Bulletin.

WANTED TO HOLD TEXAN FOR RANSOM

Details of his release from the custody of Mexican revolutionaries, after being held prisoner on a ranch in Mexico for two days and nights were given in a telegram received by The News late Friday from Sam Webb, well known Albany (Shackelford county) banker.

Mr. Webb telegraphed that he arrived in Eagle Pass late Thursday night from the Mexican ranch where he was detained.

"Gens. Morales and Herrera and Cols. Galavis and Davila were in command of the army, which consisted of 600 rebels," Mr. Webb's telegram read.

"The troops wanted to hold me for a ransom of from $10,000 to $20,000. They were overruled in this decision by the Generals and Colonels named."

Mr. Webb was in Mexico with a hunting party of other Texans. He continues:

"After keeping us guarded for forty-eight hours, the troop finally left the ranch, traveling in the direction of Laredo.

"But being held up by rebels was just one experience. Late Thursday night a party of Federal troops detained us at a small town about 30 miles from Eagle Pass.

"We came down here to hunt and found that instead we were hunted. Mexico certainly is in a ferment of excitement over the revolution."

Mr. Webb is a veteran banker of West Texas. For some years he has been correspondent for the News at Albany.—Dallas News.

WHY TYLER COMMERCIAL COLLEGE APPEALS TO YOUNG FOLK

Would you employ a laundress to make a party dress for you? Or a blacksmith to find that knock in your roadster? No! Neither does a business man employ a housemaid to attend to his correspondence, or a mechanic to keep his books. When he looks for people to do a certain type of work, he wants those people to be trained for their particular job. He wants specialists. If you don't make a specialty of some one thing you are pretty much out of the running.

That is why so many boys and girls who want to enter the Business World are enrolling in Tyler Commercial College. They realize that there is an urgent demand for trained men and women, and it is just a question of learning something superlatively well and commanding a splendid position with commensurate salary, or following the line of least resistance and seeing yourself outdistanced by others who had more ambition and more stamina.

Tyler Commercial College is the largest business school in America and its graduates are sought after by business concerns that insist on well-trained employees. We have no trouble in finding positions for our capable graduates.

A course in Bookkeeping, Short-hand, Cotton Classing, Business Administration and Finance, Penmanship, Telegraphy, Wireless Telegraphy and Radio or Banking will put you in a position to command a better salary than you are now capable of earning and it will also fit you to hold an intelligent and important position in the Business World.

Fill in and mail the following blank to us for one of our large free catalogues. This will not obligate you in any way, but will give detailed information that may be of great value.

See editor of this paper for scholarship.

UTILITIES BELIEVE IN NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

There is no escaping a newspaper campaign of advertising and no one knows this truth better than the public utility industry, says W. Livingston Larned, well known writer on advertising subjects in an article in a booklet issued by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishing Association.

"Not such a very long time ago, great advertising campaigns were unheard of," says Mr. Larned. "We can remember when the local gas company, and the traction line, and numerous other highly essential enterprises, common to most progressive communities, suffered in silence when the public accused them of everything from piracy to petty theft. They might know they were falsely accused, but what was to be done about it? An occasional 'signed statement' in the public press, and numerous dry-as-dust form letters mailed to the stockholders, compris-

Forgives Father for Death Sentence

A little Brooklyn tailor, A. K. Lindsay, thought so highly of his solemn oath to tell the truth that he admitted his son's private confession of guilt in murder. His testimony convicted, and the son was sentenced to death in the electric chair February 14th. Owing to the jury's error, the judge could show no mercy. The case stirred the east and an appeal was made to the Pardon Court for life imprisonment. "Dad, you did right," said the 22-year-old youth in forgiveness, shown above with mother and father.
