SHALLOW WELLS IN PLAINS COUNTRY

DEVELOPMENT OF WELLS FOR IRRIGATION MAKING RAPID PROGRESS IN ALL DISTRICTS.

CONDITIONS ARE IDEAL

Water Is Pure and Abundant, Lands Without Salts; No Alkali to Rula Farms.

(By FRANK BRIGGS, Staff Correspondent of The Dallas News.)

Successful irrigation in the Shallow Water Belts of the Plains is an accomplished fact. The supply of water has been proven and the economy of its use in orchards and fields has been demonstrated. There is no longer any question relative to the merits of the irrigation proposition. All that remains to be done is along lines of further development and in obtaining a more complete knowledge of proper methods of distributing the water economically and according to the needs of the crops irrigated.

Failure to irrigate at the right time; the use of too much water; bad management, and carelessness with machinery, all contribute to increase cost of irrigation, and together, and sometimes individually, bring about failure and disaster. To successfully conduct an irrigated farm requires a close study of conditions, constant attention and intelligent application. In irrigation one attempts to provide those conditions for plant life and plant growth furnished by nature in sections where crops thrive best without artificial aid, and the plants demand a duplication of those conditions before they will respond with best results.

Ideal Irrigation Conditions.

Irrigation experts have pronounced conditions in the Shallow Water Belts as ideal. There is an absence of the dangers of alkali, because neither the water nor the soil contain salts or any of any description. There is danger of water-logging the soil by the use of too much water, but the damage is quickly remedied. There is a further danger of failure from other causes, as previously referred to, but it may be stated as a fact that less trouble will confront the irrigation farmer in the Plains, because of inexperience, than in most irrigation sections.

One great advantage is found in the lay of the land. Apparently perfectly level, there is a slight slope, and, with the well located at the highest point, water is easily distributed by gravity to any part of the farm. While drainage is not easily accomplished, a ju-has been put into operation at Seminole, Gaines County.

The cost of irrigation wells and equipment varies from $1,000 for small ones to $5,000 for the large and substantially-built class. Equipment, etc., is preventing many land owners from developing. Many of these farmers, however, are irrigating small fields by windmill power, and eventually will install larger plants.

The progress of development in naturally delayed by the cost of a well and plant, but this is being overcome in some sections by the willingness of banks to loan money for establishing irrigation plants, and in other sections by large companies being formed to purchase tracts of land to be divided into forties, eighties and quarter sections, each farm equipped with a plant, and sold to settlers on time. Near Plainview a large syndicate has started work on a tract of 60,000 acres, the plan being to divide into farms and equip with irrigation plants as fast as the demand for farms requires. A similar plan for 30,000 acres is announced for the shallow water district near Hereford.

Cost Per Acre.

The expense of digging and equipping a well depends largely upon size of the tract to be irrigated and the life necessary. The cost per acre for a plant will vary from $12 to $15 in the more shallow belts to $30 in other sections.

The cost of irrigating depends upon the season, the nature of the soil, the amount of cultivation and the crop grown. I saw one field of kaffir corn which was grown under irrigation at an expense of 60 cents per acre. I saw another field which cost about 90 cents per acre. Alfalfa and other crops requiring considerable water cost more.

Much depends upon the man. A man who is making a success with dry farming methods can add 50 to 75 per cent to his yield with very little irrigation, provided he conserves his moisture and follows the same methods of cultivation. The man who thinks that all his crop needs is water will use two to three times as much and produce about half a crop under favorable circumstances.

Many New Wells.

The announcement of new wells is so frequent that it is impossible to name the exact number in each development section unless daily and weekly records are kept.

At Hereford, in Deaf Smith County, twenty wells are either completed or will be ready for operation early in 1913. The water in this district varies from thirty to fifty feet in depth. The capacity of the wells thus far operated range from 800 to 2,000 gallons per minute. Plants and wells are costing from $2,000 to $5,000 each.

part of Bailey County there is said to be a district covering about 90,000 acres, all susceptible to economical irrigation. This district is some distance from a railroad.

Irrigation in Hale County is well established. This county is one of the best developed on the Plains. A large number of wells are in operation and many contracted for. Several colonization schemes backed by large capital will add largely to the prestige already obtained. The Hale County district extends into Floyd County a little to the east of Lockney. Water in this district is found at thirty-five to forty-five feet. South of Hale County is another Shallow Water Belt, or, it might be said, a continuation of the belt at Plainview and Hale Center into Lubbock County. Water here is found from thirty-five to fifty feet, mostly west of the city of Lubbock. East the depth becomes greater, until at Slaton it is sixty feet. Some little development around Lubbock has been made, and much more planned. At Slaton several wells have been contracted for. The Santa Fe wells at Slaton are producing an abundance of water, which fact is encouraging the idea of further development.

Absence of railroads will probably delay the development of other shallow water districts, but eventually, many thousands of acres will be brought under irrigation, adding materially to the production of wealth in this great and growing section of Texas.

BIG TRACTS MUST BE OPENED TO SETTLEMENT.

Lubbock Man Says Development of Oklahoma Due to Farmers on Small Tracts.

"We have a better country than Oklahoma," says Don C. Biggers, advertising manager of the Littlefield lands, "but Oklahoma is twenty years ahead of us in development. The reason is because a farmer was placed on each 160 acres of land some ten years ago."

Mr. Biggers thinks it may be possible for the South Plains, with its marvelous natural advantages, to leap across those twenty years, provided the big pastures can be cut up rapidly enough. And they are being cut up. Mr. Biggers is advertising manager for a company that is placing 70,000 on the market.

From Lubbock to the Texas-New Mexico line, a distance of eighty miles, Mr. Biggers counted seventeen houses within sight of the road—many of them ranch houses. From the line of New Mexico to Portales, thirty-five miles, five hundred homes were counted. That was last year. The men on the New Mexico side, accord-

A BANQUET FOR ALUMNI.

Southwestern University Will Entertain Former Students at State Teachers' Meeting.

Georgetown, Texas, Nov. 20.—The thirty-fourth annual session of the Texas State Teachers' Association will be held in Fort Worth, November 28, 29 and 30. Hundreds of teachers from all parts of the State are expected to attend. Southwestern University headquarters for the convenience of all former students of the University who are now teachers will be at the Westbrook Hotel.

Since the establishment in Southwestern University of the chair of education, five years ago, the University has graduated 214 students from this department. A "Home Coming" banquet has been arranged for Friday evening, November 29, at the Westbrook Hotel, for those graduates

TEXAS FACTORY INVESTMENT IS $55.00 PER CAPITA.

Lone Star State Produces One Bale Cotton Per Capita, and Manufactures Only 7 Pounds.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Data recently compiled by the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor shows that the per capita investment in manufacturing enterprises in Texas is $55.00, compared with $210.00 in Continental United States. In order that Texas may have the same average as the United States as a whole, it will require an investment of $603,898,590, and then we will only rank sixth with other states in manufacturing.

Cotton manufacturing is the most neglected industry in the State. We produce one bale per capita, and manufacture only 7 pounds per capita, per annum.

HISTORIC TREE IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Oak Under Which Masons Organized in Texas Is Damaged During Thunder Storm.

Freeport, Texas, Nov. 13.—It is reported here that the tree known in Masonic circles as the Mason's Charter Oak was struck by lightning during a thunder storm last week. The first Masonic order in Texas was organized under this tree in 1836, just fifteen years after Stephen F. Austin settled his first Texas colony at Freeport.

A Masonic lodge is to be installed at Freeport immediately following the opening of the new townsite here, on November 20-21, and the organization of a municipality is effected.

RENTS FOR $25 AN ACRE.

Irrigated Land at San Marcos in Demand for Vegetables.

San Marcos, Texas.—Interest is being manifested in irrigation projects in this section. Something like 2,000 acres near the San Marcos River are being irrigated at the present time, and Mr. J. B. Shepherd, manager of the Light and Power Company of this city, has 200 acres under irrigation, and is working a large plant in order to supply the local market and make shipments of vegetables.

M. Shepherd's plant is busy at all seasons, and he states that some of his land is renting as high as $25.00 per acre. This is only one of the towns in this section that is beginning to realize the importance of irrigation, which is proving so profitable to the farmer.

CROP VALUES $1,800 FOR EACH FAMILY.

Denton County Grows 2,750,000 Bushels Wheat; Large Yields of Oats, Corn and Cotton.

Denton, Texas.—B. M. Arnold, a prominent farmer of this county, has been investigating crop conditions in this vicinity, and states that the value of the corn, wheat, oats and cotton crop is equal to $1,800 for each family in Denton County. According to his figures, the wheat crop will exceed 2,750,000 bushels, oats will yield 1,800,000 bushels, corn will produce 1,900,000 bushels and cotton will yield a total of 60,000 bales.

MRS. JEFFRIES IMPROVES.

Mrs. W. H. Jeffries was operated on at Guyton Sanitarium Thursday of last week, for appendicitis. She was dangerously ill Saturday, but is now apparently out of danger.

C. R. Caruth, of Deleon, Texas, was in Plainview three days this week looking after his land interests.

THEOBALDI PLAYS ZISTRUM.

Great Violinist Charms Audience with Mastery of Ancient "Holy Instrument."

The zistrum, upon which Theobaldi played Monday night, is a revival of the "Holy Instrument" formerly used by the Egyptians in the worship of the god Isis. It was played in the dark or behind the scenes, and the people supposed it to be the holy spirit communing with them.

The description of the instrument was discovered by Prof. Heath, of London, in the tomb of Antony, at Cairo, Egypt, in 1883. The description of the "Holy Instrument" was written on papyrus in Egyptian hieroglyphics. Prof. Heath and Theobaldi studied on the characters and succeeded in producing the design of the zistrum, or "Holy Instrument," and manner of performing upon it.

Theobaldi's number Monday night on the zistrum showed a perfect mastery of the instrument, and his power of tone pictures is unsurpassed. The rendition of "A Mother's Last Prayer" was passionately beautiful.

LONGSTRETH TO TEXAS.

Will Develop Large Body of Land by Means of Irrigation.

J. W. Longstreth came home Monday, for a short visit before returning to Texas, where he is soon to be located.

Mr. Longstreth will finish up some details in connection with the Government-State experiment station here, where he was formerly chief irrigation officer. He has already settled largely with the State, to which he was attached as special irrigation representative.

Mr. Longstreth will be located at Plainview, Texas, headquarters, like the Good Old Town, of one of the great pumping sections of the Southwest.

"It isn't nearly so finished as the Garden City district," said Mr. Longstreth, "but it is going to be. The life is about the same; the water strata are about like those here; and general conditions closely resemble this country."

Mr. Longstreth, whose home is really at Lakin, but whose headquarters have been here for years, is agriculturist and irrigation expert for a big development company, headed by the millionaire Dr. Pearson, which is preparing to put on the market a big tract near Plainview.—Garden City Telegram.

SANTA FE TO RUN LIVE STOCK SPECIAL.

Dairy, Poultry, Swine and Sho Special Will Show Land Owners in December.

The Santa Fe live stock demonstration train will stop in Hale Center, Plainview and Kress on December 12, 13 and 14, respectively. Stop will be made at Hale Center from Thursday, December 12, from 3:15 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon; an afternoon stop will be made in Plainview on Friday, December 13, from 3:30 to 6 o'clock; the train will be in Kress Saturday morning, December 14, from 9 to 10:55 o'clock.

The train will carry dairy cows, equipment for a model dairy, a model silo, hogs, poultry and equipment for the poultry yard. Practical talks will be given on all of these exhibits. The Santa Fe railroad is operating this train as a part of a plan to co-operate with farmers in growing better crops on the South Plains. It is all free.

ORGANIZES POPULAR LIBRARY.

R. A. Long Has 200 of Latest Books; You May Read Them for $1.00.

Do you want to read the latest books; and that without buying them? Just like they are in a modern library, and are kept at Mr. Long's drug store. That is the plan of R. A. Long, druggist. Mr. Long has bought 200 copies of the latest and best books, and will start a popular library.

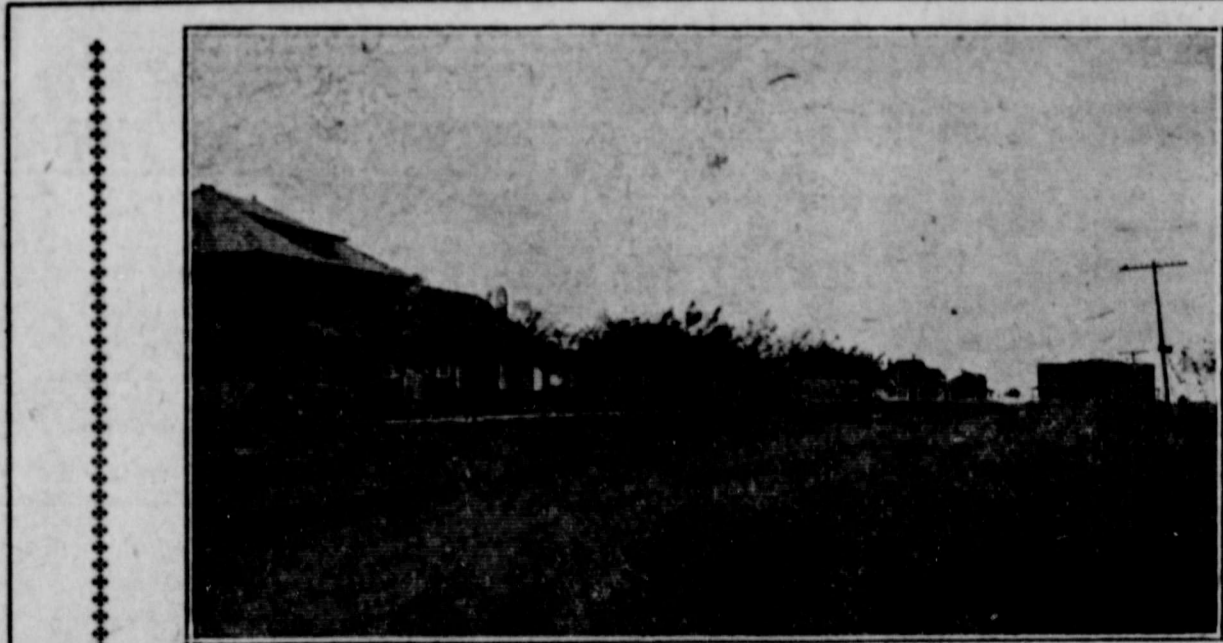

Mr. Long's plan is that any one may become a member on payment of $1. This $1 fee gives you membership for one year, and during that time you may read any book in the library. A fine of 2 cents a day is imposed for each day a book is kept out longer than five days. The books are catalogued on North Pacific Street.

ABERNATHY SHIPS 900 CARS.

Sixty-five Car-loads of Melons Forwarded; More in Fields.

Nine hundred car-loads of agricultural products and live stock is the record of shipment from Abernathy so far this year, according to A. B. DeWald. Sixty-five cars of melons have been sent to the outside consumer, and more are left in the fields, and more are left in the fields.

Abernathy is a progressive community of one bank, post office, drug store, lumber yard, hardware store, a dry goods store, two grocery stores and hotel. Nine hundred car-loads in one year, Mr. DeWald thinks, is a pretty good record for his town.

WAYLAND BOULEVARD, PLAINVIEW.

dicious use of water and proper cultivation will prevent water-logging a field, and should this occur, through carelessness or ignorance, good cultivation and a little lime will remedy it. Absence of alkali, gyp and salts make it impossible to ruin a field by over-irrigation, except by water-logging it.

Progress of Development.

Some four or five years ago the first irrigation well was put down in the Plains country. It is only about three years since the subject of irrigation began receiving serious attention. Since that time advantage has been taken of the abundant supply of water in the shallow belts, and encouraging progress has been made in Hale County, near Plainview and Hale Center; in Deaf Smith County, near Hereford; Lubbock County, near Lubbock; Floyd County, near Lockney, and Bailey County, near Hurley, while one well

The shallow district is extensive, but has never been accurately defined.

In Bailey County, in the vicinity of Hurley, through which the new Santa Fe cut-off is being constructed, are about 40,000 acres, with an abundance of water at a depth ranging from eight to forty feet. This district is just beginning to attract attention, but is already considered one of the best irrigation propositions on the Plains. It will soon have rail transportation facilities, after which its development will be much more rapid. At the present time twelve wells have either been completed or started. A large number have been contracted for. The Hurley Valley is ideal for irrigation, and the short lift gives it the advantage in one respect to other districts. There is a considerable variety of soil, some of it light sandy loam, making it particularly well adapted to fruits and melons. In the southern ing to Mr. Biggers, owe nothing and put all of their income from their farms into improvements. Many of those on the Texas side paid too much for their land, and cannot yet make improvements.

The story of the acquisition of much land in the "Lone Star State" by the cattle kings would make an interesting novel. These cattle kings discouraged immigration; but their ranches are being broken up now. And with the coming of irrigation, and companies doing practical development, like the Littlefield Company and the Peason Syndicate, very rapid development will undoubtedly follow. Mr. Biggers says the bona fide settler is what the South Plains needs now.

J. M. Murphy and his sister, Mrs. H. M. Fletcher, returned Sunday from a visit to their mother, Mrs. M. E. Murphy, at Hughes Springs, Texas.

I want to tell you what a wonderful change a package of RUB-NO-MORE CARBO-NAPTHO SOAP and WASHING POWDER brought into my home.

I used to be tired and cross, my wash was yellow and torn and late upon the line, but now I am happy, the clothes are white and pure and early on the line. My house is clean and neat and has that nice fresh odor, which CARBO-NAPTHO gives. My bathroom, pantry and sink just shine. No other soap has the combined qualities of Carbo and Naphtho.

CROSBYTON WINS COUNTY SEAT.

Court of Civil Appeals Affirms Judgment of Court; Emma Fights.

Crosbyton has scored another vital point in the contest for the county seat of Crosby County. An opinion, signed by Chief Justice Huff, was handed down in the Court of Civil Appeals Saturday, affirming the judgment of the lower court.

The law allows a specific time in which motion for rehearing may be filed. Should this period elapse before the necessary action is taken, the final chapter in this interesting litigation will doubtless have been written.

The case which was appealed to the Court of Civil Appeals was reversed and rendered during the last term. Questions were then certified to the Supreme Court of Texas, which handed down an opinion reversing and remanding the case.

Peculiar features, centering about the exact central point of the count, made the contest an unusual one, and presented technical points for consideration of the higher courts.

The citizens of Crosby County, by a heavy vote, decided that the seat of the county should be removed to Crosbyton from Emma, and the contest, which has been keenly waged, grew out of that result.

MANY GERMANS ARE COMING TO AMERICA.

There were 66,471 Germans immigrated to America last year. Many of that number became farmers, a large per cent of them finding their way to the South and locating their new homes in Texas. They make good citizens, and are usually a prosperous, peace-loving people. The German comes to this country for the purpose of finding a permanent home, and a comparatively small percentage return to their native land.

A MILLION FOR FARMERS.

International Harvester Company Announces Gift to Aid Tiller of Soil.

One million dollars, to be used to educate the American farmer, has been voted by the directors of the International Harvester Company, according to word coming from Chicago. It seems that the company intends to enter competition with the United States Department of Agriculture in trying to introduce better methods of farming.

Agents will be sent out to distribute improved seed and scientific farming literature. The wheat belt will be broadened and the yield increased; seed corn special trains will be run; free lectures on scientific farming delivered; social and farm improvement societies organized; practical farming will be introduced in country schools; the office of county crop expert may be established, and tested seed will be furnished to farmers.

Prof. Perry C. Holden, Iowa State director of agriculture extension, will be brought to Chicago to take charge of the work.

A few months ago Julius Rosenwald, of Sears, Roebuck & Co., gave one million dollars to the farm uplift movement.

MERCHANTS BUY BROOD SOWS.

Wichita Falls Merchants Unite with Farmers in Producing Hogs.

Experiments made by the Wichita Falls business men in purchasing brood sows for the farmers of the county, to whom they are sold at cost, have proved very satisfactory, and are calculated to double the number of hogs raised in this section within a year's time.

Already three car-loads of sows have been bought, and the farmers have purchased them all. No effort was made to secure blooded stock, the ordinary type of market hogs being purchased. Wichita Falls business men propose to go after a part of the $300,000 which Texas packers are sending out of the State each month for porkers.

DAIRYING YIELDS MOST PROFIT.

Wisconsin Expert Shows How Grain Farming is "Mining the Soil."

Prof. E. H. Farrington, of Wisconsin Agricultural College, in speaking of soil exhaustion, has made a very interesting statement regarding the selling of dairy products from the farm, as compared with selling the grain productions directly off the farm.

Here is what he says: "There is a great difference in the amount of soil fertility removed from the farm by selling crops as compared with the selling of cream and butter. The constituents of the soil that become most easily exhausted by farming operations are the nitrogen, the phosphoric acid and the potash. These each have a market value per pound and can be bought in commercial fertilizers. They are also contained in farm manure.

"An analysis of different crops and of milk, butter and cheese will show how much of these various constituents are removed from the farm when a certain quantity of these products are sold. For instance, by using the same prices per pound for the following crops, etc., we find that the fertilizing constituents taken from the soil when one ton of hay is sold from the farm have a value of $4.34; one ton of corn, $5.36; one ton of wheat, $6.63; one ton of milk, $2.17; one ton of skimmed milk, $2.31; one ton of butter, 49 cents; one ton of whey, 84 cents, and one ton of cheese, $14.19.

"The value of each ton of these different products is well known. For instance, the ton of hay may be sold for $20, while the ton of butter is worth $600, and a ton of cheese, $200. These figures show, however, that if the crops raised in the farm are fed to the cows, and either cream or butter only is sold, then for every $600 worth of butter only 50 cents worth of fertility is drawn from the farm."

In encouraging the farmers to engage in dairying, Prof. Farrington says: "Dairying keeps up the fertility of the soil as already explained. Skim milk is very valuable to the farmer, not only for the reasons given, but because it is profitable for a farmer to become a stock raiser—that is, raise calves, pigs, poultry, etc., rather than a crop producer and seller of grain. Dairy products, butter and cheese, are not bulky to market, being much more concentrated, and the cost of transportation less than it is for hay and grain.

"Dairying utilizes the waste land, such as stony pastures, timber and swamp land, which may be used for pasturing the cows if these are kept, but which otherwise would give no returns. Dairying gives profitable employment during the entire year, and idleness is not god for either man or beast."

MASONS LAY CORNER STONE.

Armstrong County Has Impressive Ceremony for New $60,000 Court House.

Claude, Texas, Nov. 16.—With notable and impressive ceremony the cornerstone of the new $60,000 temple of justice of Armstrong County was laid here this afternoon in the presence of a large crowd, from this and adjoining counties.

The ceremony was under the auspices of Claude Lodge, A. F. & A. M., Rev. B. W. Dodson, of Clarendon, acting as representative of the Grand Master of Texas.

On account of threatening weather, the program preceding the chief ceremony was given in the Methodist Church, which was taxed to its capacity, by local citizens, the Masonic fraternity and visitors from various points.

The program, which was interesting throughout, and marked by two notable addresses, was as follows:

"KATY" TO EXPAND.

Purchase of Short Lines and Building Will Make System Dominant in Southwest.

Fort Worth, Texas, Nov. 20.—President C. E. Schaff, of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway has announced that new factors in the Katy system have determined to make it the dominant highway of the entire Southwest. Already the lines of the system touch most of the important points in Texas, and, with new mileage and with the purchase of short lines projected, the railroad appears to be in the way of becoming without a rival in the Southwest.

Much of the main line in Texas is to be double tracked, terminals are to be constructed in San Antonio and connections will be made on a line that will enable the Katy to reach after the trade of the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Good Bread

Is the basis of a satisfying meal. You eliminate other things from your menu--bread is eaten every meal. For the Best Bread you want the Best Flour. Milling alone can't make good flour. It requires superior wheat.

☞ Hale County Wheat won first and second prizes at the Texas State Fair.

☞ Pride of the Plains Flour is made of Hale county wheat.

☞ Order "Pride of the Plains" Flour and you may be sure of light bread or biscuits or pastry of the sort that so much delights you. It makes cakes of that "quality" texture which you so much admire.

☞ Pride of the Plains Flour is a HOME PRODUCT and is used by Plainview Housewives who select the best.

We have fresh meal all the time.

cars of peanuts from local growers. The price was 84 cents per bushel; more than $6,000 changed hands through this transaction.

Longview.—Over $1,500,000 have been expended in improvements in Longview during the past eighteen months and indications point towards a continuance of building activities. At present fifty residences, three business blocks, one five room apartment house, two hotels, one church, two ward school buildings and considerable building around the railroad yards are under construction; approximately $480,000 is being expended in this work.

Pittsburg.—The Northeast Texas Fair Association has made arrangements with a northern track man to winter fifty race horses here. Some of the finest horses in the country will be seen in action here and it is planned to hold a series of races during the winter months.

Longview.—The Longview Chamber of Commerce is advertising for a furniture factory and local people will take considerable stock in the enterprise with a competent firm.

Galveston.—Under the auspices of the Galveston Commercial Association a party of representative business men of this and other cities in Texas have sailed for ports in Central America. Their object is to invade the various Central American republics with a view of establishing closer trade relations with the countries in the vicinity of the Panama Canal.

Lubbock.—Don H. Biggers, who was at one time secretary of the Commercial Club of this city has been appointed Publicity Manager of the Littlefield Land and Townsite Company. This company has placed 70,000 acres of irrigated land on the market and will sell to settlers. The town of Littlefield was recently established by this company.

Fort Worth.—Exactly 44,681 trains were handled by the interlocking plant here during October, this year, against 31,084 for the same month in the previous year. The increased activity consisted largely of cotton traffic.

Galveston.—During the fiscal year ending June 30th, a total of 41,251,092 pounds of cane sugar was imported from Cuba through this port. This is an increase over last year's imports of $4,409,999 pounds the imports during the previous year being, 6,843,302 pounds.

Orange.—As a result of the prospects for making this place a deep water port two more ship yards have just been established here.

Longview.—The new First Baptist Church of this place is nearing completion and will open for services about December 15th. The structure will cost $50,000 when completed.

Wichita.—The average daily oil production of the Electra field for the month of October was 16,000 barrels.

Austin.—The City Council recently let contract for the construction of three bridges in this city. They will be built of re-inforced concrete, and will cost approximately $100,000.

Fort Worth.—Building permits to the extent of $101,450 were issued here during October. This is nearly twice the amount of permits issued for the previous month.

Denison.—Citizens have recently voted a $100,000 bond issue for the construction of a High School. Work will start this week.

Port Bolivar.—The $150,000 lumber terminal facilities which have just been completed at this place are now in active use. The lumber handling terminal facilities now consist of fire-proof storage sheds 800 feet long; a slanted skidway 1,200 feet long down which the heavy timbers are rolled into the water; of sunken tracks alongside the sheds, placing car floors and shed floors on a level; and a powerful locomotive derrick for handling the lumber.

Houston.—The real estate exchanges for the month of July here show a total of $1,575,036, which surpass any previous month of this year.

Port Bolivar.—The Mallory Line has definitely decided to run steamers at regular intervals from this place as well as from Galveston.

Galveston.—The Rivers and Harbors bill passed by Congress carries an item authorizing a survey of thirty-five feet of water throughout the harbor of Galveston. In addition to the survey, the bill carries the following appropriations for work in this harbor: Galveston inner channel, $100,000; repair to jetties and maintenance of channel between jetties, $75,000; Texas City channel, $100,000; Port Bolivar channel, $25,000; making a total of $300,000.

Greenville.—Kerner Brothers, of Dallas, have been awarded the contract for grading the line between this place and Dallas for the construction of the Eastern Texas Traction Company's new interurban line. The concrete construction and bridge work will be started immediately. It is to cost approximately $400,000.

Dallas.—The work on the paving of Pennsylvania Avenue from Colonial to Oakland Avenues will be begun immediately, the contract having been awarded to the Texas Bitulithic Company. The total cost of this improvement will be $29,56,54, of which the city's part will be $12,594.52.

Riviera.—A deal has been closed here whereby 5,000 acres of land in Nueces County were sold to Theo. F. Koch & Company, of this place. The land will be subdivided at once into tracts of 160 acres each.

Gainesville.—This town claims to have the champion okra grower, L. C. Hulett, who has on exhibition here a stalk of okra measuring 15 feet in height which bore over 100 pods.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation. —Adv. 48

Thanksgiving

THE annual Thanksgiving Day approaches. We have again weathered the political storms and the country as a whole is in prosperous condition.

You've not seen the best coats until you've seen ours. That is not egotistical, but a simple fact. Every good coat in our immense stock is "The PALMER Garment" trade mark, which alone is assurance of correct style, perfect fit, best fabrics, finest workmanship. We don't ask you to believe us "off-hand," although our dealing with you would warrant you in so doing. But we do ask that you come and see the garments--then make up your mind.

Our store will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, and as a special inducement to the boys, for one week, beginning on Saturday, Nov. 23rd, we will give a 20 percent reduction on all boy's suits. As you know, Hercules clothes are absolutely all wool, and are rain-proof, moth-proof, and perspiration-proof. Being rain-proof, they will not spot easily, are easy to clean and insure your boy from taking cold by getting wet.

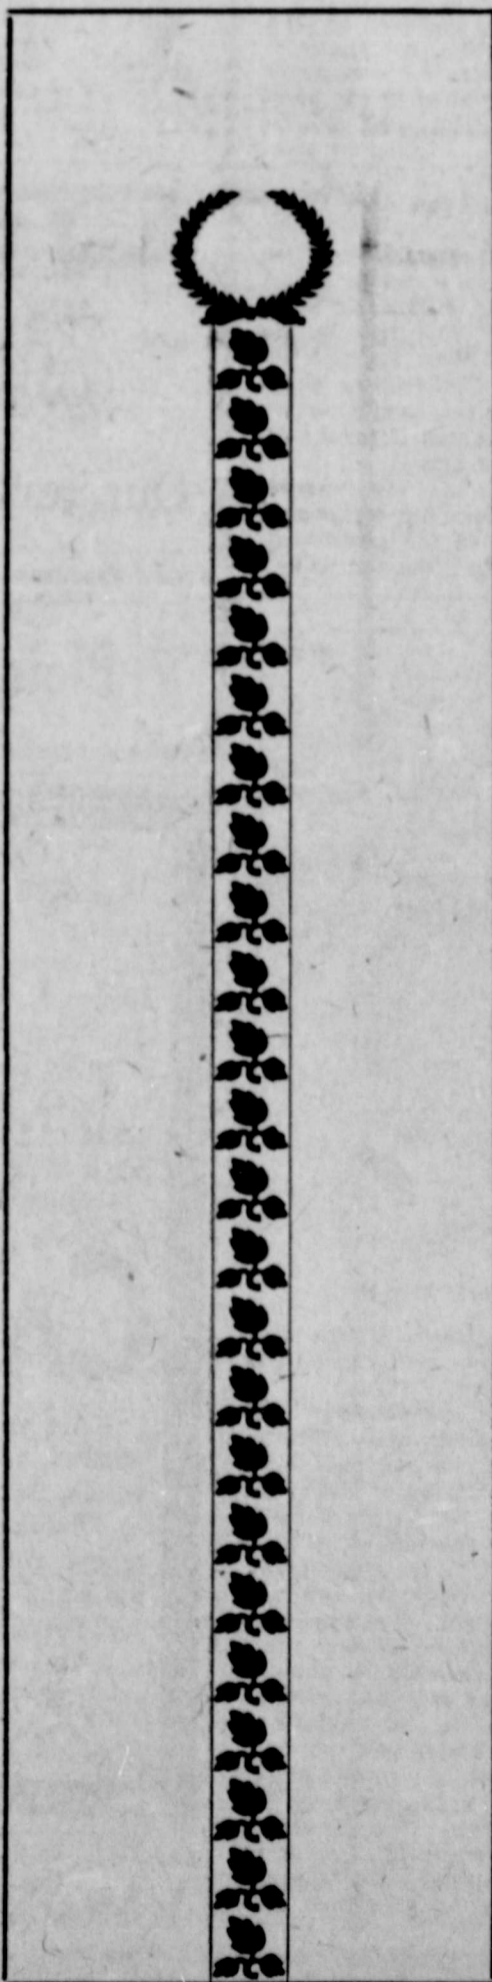

These suits are all made with the famous Bartelle pockets, which prevents that old sagging of coat pockets, and makes a coat look nice double the length of time of the old style.

Make your boy really thankful, by putting him into one of these suits, while you can get them at this price.

RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Made Strong by Vinol.

Run-down conditions are caused by overwork, worry, too close confinement, a chronic cough or cold which it is difficult to cure.

We want to say to every person in this condition—you need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, the great strength creator. It will supply iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form, create a good, healthy appetite, strengthen your digestive organs and make you eat better sleep better and feel better.

A case has just come to our attention from West Scranton, Pa., Mrs. Chas. Proper says: "For three years I was all run down, weak and had no appetite, and after all that time I am glad to say Vinol has brought back my health and strength, which is just what I was told it would do."

We are confident that Vinol is the best body-builder and strength-creator we have ever sold.

Try a bottle on our guarantee to refund your money if it fails to benefit you.

The Prodigal Judge

By
Vaughan Kester

"You are here to defend something that no longer exists. Your organization is wrecked, your signals and passwords are known, your secrets have become public property—I can even produce a list of your members; there are none of you who do not stand in imminent peril—yet understand, I have no wish to strike at those who have been misled or coerced into joining Murrell's band!"

The judge's sodden old face glowed now with the magnanimity of his sentiments. "But I have no feeling of mercy for your leaders, none for Murrell himself. Put down your guns!—you can only kill us after we have killed Murrell—but you can't kill the law! If the arch conspirator dies in this room and hour, on whose head will the punishment fall?" He swung round his ponderous arm in a sweeping gesture and shook a fat but expressive fore-finger in the faces of those nearest him. "On yours—and yours—and yours!"

Across the space that separated them the judge grinned his triumph at his enemy. He had known when Fentress entered the room that a word or a sign from him would precipitate a riot, but he knew now that neither this word nor this sign would be given. Then quite suddenly he strode down the aisle, and foot by foot Fentress yielded ground before his advance. A murderous light flashed from the judge's bloodshot eyes and his right hand was stealing toward the frayed tails of his coat.

"Draw, Damn You!" He Roared at Fentress.

"Look out—he's getting ready to shoot!" cried a frightened voice.

Instantly by doors and windows the crowd, seized with inexplicable panic, emptied itself into the court-house yard. Fentress was caught up in the rush and borne from the room and from the building. When he reached the graveled space below the steps he turned. The judge was in the doorway, the center of a struggling group; Mr. Bowen, the minister, Mr. Saul and Mr. Wesley were vainly seeking to pinion his arm.

"Draw—damn you!" he roared at Fentress, as he wrenched himself free, and the crowd swayed to right and left as Fentress was seen to reach for his pistol.

Mr. Saul made a last frantic effort to restrain his friend; he seized the judge's arm just as the latter's finger pressed the trigger, and an instant later Fentress staggered back with the judge's bullet in his shoulder.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

Good Times Coming.

It was not strange that a number of gentlemen in and about Raleigh yielded to an overmastering impulse to visit newer lands, nor was it strange that the initial steps looking toward the indulgence of their desires should have been taken in secrecy. Mr. Pegloe was one of the first to leave; Mr. Saul had informed him of the judge's declared purpose of shooting him on sight. Even without this useful hint the tavern-keeper had known that he should experience intense embarrassment in meeting the judge; this was now a dreary certainty.

"You reckon he means near all he says?" he had asked, his fat sides shaking.

"I'd take his word a heap quicker than I would most folks," answered Mr. Saul with conviction.

Pegloe promptly had a sinking spell. He recalled the snuffing of the candles by the judge, an extremely depressing memory under the circumstances; also the reckless and headlong disregard of consequences which had characterized so many of that gentleman's acts, and his plans shaped themselves accordingly, with this result; that when the judge took occasion to call at the tavern, and the hostile nature of his visit was emphasized by the cautious manner of his approach, he was greatly shocked to discover that his intended victim had sold his business overnight for a small lump sum to Mr. Saul's brother-in-law, who had appeared most opportunely with an offer.

Pegloe's flight created something of a sensation, but it was dwarfed by the sensation that developed a day or so later when it became known that Tom Ware and Colonel Fentress had likewise fled the country. Still later, Fentress' body, showing marks of violence, was washed ashore at a wood-yard below Girard. It was conjectured that he and Ware had set out from The Oaks to cross the river; there was reason to believe that Fentress had in his possession at the time a considerable sum of money, and it was supposed that his companion had murdered and robbed him. Of Ware's subsequent career nothing was ever known.

These were, after all, only episodes in the collapse of the Clan, sporadic manifestations of the great work of disintegration that was going forward and which the judge, more than any other, perhaps, had brought about. This was something no one questioned, and he quickly passed to the first phase of that unique and peculiar esteem in which he was ever after held. His fame widened with the succeeding suns; he had offers of help which impressed him as so entirely creditable to human nature that he quite lacked the heart to refuse them, especially as he felt that in the improvement of his own condition the world had benefited itself and was moving nearer those sound and righteous ideals of morality and patriotism which had never lacked his indorsement, no matter how inexpedient it had seemed for him to put them into practice. But he was not diverted from his ultimate purpose by the glamour of a present popularity; he was able to keep his bleared eyes resolutely fixed on the main chance, namely the Fentress estate and the Quintard lands. It was highly important that he should go east to South Carolina to secure documentary evidence that would establish his own and Fentress' identity; to Kentucky, where Fentress had lived prior to his coming to Tennessee.

Early in November the judge set out by stage on his journey east; he was accompanied by Yancy and Hannibal, from neither of whom could he bring himself to be separated; and as the woods, flaming now with the torch of frost, engulfed the little town, he turned in his seat and looked back. He had entered it by that very road, a beggar on foot and in rags; he was leaving it in broadcloth and fine linen, visible tokens of his altered fortunes. More than this, he could trust his hands deep down into his once empty pockets and hear the clink of gold and silver. The judge slowly withdrew his eyes from the last gray roof that showed among the trees, and faced the east and the future with a serenely confident expression.

Betty Malroy and Carrington had ridden into Raleigh to take leave of their friends. They had watched the stage from sight, had answered the last majestic salute the judge had given them across the swaying top of the coach before the first turn of the road hid it from sight, and then they had turned their horses' heads in the direction of Belle Plain.

"Bruce, do you think Judge Price will ever be able to accomplish all he hopes to?" Betty asked when they had left the town behind. She drew in her horse as she spoke, and they went forward at a walk under the splendid arch of the forest and over a carpet of vivid leaves.

"I reckon he will, Betty," responded Carrington. Unfavorable as had been his original estimate of the judge's character, events had greatly modified it.

"He really seems quite sure, doesn't he?" said Betty.

"There's not a doubt in his mind," agreed Carrington.

He was still at Belle Plain, living in what had been Ware's office, while the Cavendishes were domiciled at the big house. He had arranged with the judge to crop a part of that hopeful gentleman's land the very next season; the fact that a lawsuit intervened between the judge and possession seemed a trifling matter, for Carrington had become infected with the judge's point of view, which did not admit of the possibility of failure; but he had not yet told Betty of his plans. Time enough for that when he left Belle Plain.

His silence concerning the future had caused Betty much thought. She wondered if he still intended going south into the Purchase; she was not sure but it was the dignified thing for him to do. She was thinking of this now as they went forward over the rustling leaves, and at length she turned in the saddle and faced him.

"I am going to miss Hannibal dreadfully—yes, and the judge, and Mr. Yancy!" she began.

"I am to be missed, too, am I, Betty?" he inquired, leaning toward her.

"You, Bruce?—Oh, I shall miss you, too, dreadfully—but then, perhaps in five years, when you come back—"

"Five years!" cried Carrington, but he understood something of what was passing in her mind, and laughed shortly. "Five years, Betty?" he repeated, dwelling on the numeral.

Betty hesitated and looked thoughtful. Presently she stole a surreptitious glance at Carrington from under her long lashes, and went on slowly, as though she were making careful choice of her words.

"When you come back in three years, Bruce—"

Carrington still regarded her fixedly. There was a light in his black eyes that seemed to penetrate to the most secret recesses of her heart and soul.

"Three years, Betty?" he repeated again.

Betty, her eyes cast down, twisted her rein nervously between her slim, white fingers, but Carrington's steady glance never left her sweet face, framed by its halo of bright hair. She stole another look at him from beneath her dark lashes.

"Three years, Betty?" he prompted.

"Bruce, don't stare at me that way, it makes me forget what I was going to say! When you come back—next year—" and then she lifted her eyes to his and he saw that they were full of sudden tears. "Bruce, don't go away—don't go away at all—"

Carrington slipped from the saddle and stood at her side.

"Do you mean that, Betty?" he asked. He took her hands loosely in his and relentlessly considered her crimsoned face. "I reckon it will always be right hard to refuse you anything—here is one settler the Purchase will never get!" and he laughed softly.

We are sure you will be safe at Belle Plain with just the Cavendishes, I am going into Raleigh to wait as best I can until spring." He spoke so gravely that she asked in quick alarm.

"And then, Bruce—what?"

"And then— Oh, Betty, I'm starving—" All in a moment he lifted her slender figure in his arms, gathering her close to him. "And then, this—and this—and this, sweetheart—and more—and—oh, Betty! Betty!"

CHAPTER XXXV.

The End and the Beginning.

When Murrell was brought to trial his lawyers were able to produce a host of witnesses whose sworn testimony showed that so simple a thing as perjury had no terrors for them. His fight for liberty was waged in and out of court with incredible bitterness, and, as judge and jury were only human, the outlaw escaped with the relatively light sentence of twelve years' imprisonment; he died, however, before the expiration of his term.

The judge, when he returned to Raleigh, resumed his own name of Turberville, and he allowed it to be known that he would not be offended by the prefix of General. During his absence he had accumulated a wealth of evidence of undoubted authenticity, with the result that his claim against the Fentress estate was sustained by the courts, and when The Oaks with its stock and slaves was offered for sale, he, as the principal creditor, was able to buy it in.

One of his first acts after taking possession of the property was to have Mahaffy reentered in the grove of oaks below his bedroom windows, and he marked the spot with a great square of granite. The judge, visibly shaken by his emotions, saw the massive boulder go into place.

"Harsh and rugged like the nature of him who lies beneath it—but enduring, too, as he was," he murmured. He turned to Yancy and Hannibal, and added: "You will lay me beside him when I die."

Then when the bitter struggle came and he was wrenched and tortured by longings, his strength was in remembering his promise to the dead man, and it was his custom to go out under the oaks and pace to and fro beside Mahaffy's grave until he had gained the mastery of himself. Only Yancy and Hannibal knew how fierce the conflict was he waged, yet in the end he won that best earned of all victories, the victory over himself.

"My salvation has been a costly thing; it was bought with the blood of my friend," he told Yancy.

It was Hannibal's privilege to give Cavendish out of the vast Quintard tract such a farm as the earl had never dreamed of owning even in his most fervid moments of imagining; and he abandoned all idea of going to England to claim his title. At the judge's suggestion he named the place Earl's Court. He and Polly were entirely satisfied with their surroundings, and never ceased to congratulate themselves that they had left Lincoln county. They felt that their friends, the Carringtons at Belle Plain, though untitled people, were still of an equal rank with themselves; while as for the judge, they doubted if royalty itself laid it any over him.

Mr. Yancy accepted his changed fortunes with philosophic composure. Technically he filled the position of overseer at The Oaks, but the judge's activity was so great that this position was largely a sinecure. The most arduous work he performed was spending his wages.

Certain trifling peculiarities survived with the judge even after he had entered what he had once been prone to call the Portal of Hope; for while his charity was very great and he lived with the splendid air of plenty that belonged to an older order, it required tact, patience and persistence to transact business with him; and his creditors, of whom there were always a respectable number, discovered that he esteemed them as they were aggressive and determined. He explained to Yancy that too great certainty detracted from the charm of living, for, after all, life was a game—a gamble—he desired to be reminded of this. Yet he was held in great respect for his wisdom and learning, which was no more questioned than his courage.

Thus surrounded by his friends, who were devoted to him, he began Hannibal's education and the preparation of his memoirs, intended primarily for the instruction of his grandson, and which he modestly decided to call "The History of My Own Times," which clearly showed the magnificence of his mind and its outlook.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Faribault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble. A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work. For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

"PALACE OF SWEETS."

THANKSGIVING POULTRY MAY INFLUENCE STOCK MARKET.

Kansas City Correspondent Thinks Low Reserve Supply May Increase Price for Meat.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 18.—A run of 56,000 cattle came in last week, not including 7,000 calves, which was 24,000 more than came in during election week, and the same number that arrived corresponding week last year. The six leading markets were short 25,000 head from a year ago last week, a fact that put some ginger into buyers' actions, making the 15 to 25 cents advance scored on all kinds of cattle look logical. Calves were an exception, closing 25 to 50 cents lower.

The shortage in numbers of cattle marketed at the leading points does not fully express the situation, as a great many light-weight and low-grade Southern cattle were counted in at Kansas City and St. Louis.

The winter beef market is starting out strong, and with evidence of considerable reserve power. Packers have not accumulated any beef this fall, and are starting in of the winter beef campaign on a hand-to-mouth basis. Bare shelves in pork cellars add to their discomfiture, which is intensified by the prospect of slim winter supplies of hogs, sheep and lambs. The run of 22,000 cattle today is selling steady to strong.

Nebraska beef steers sold at $10.25 today, filling a post that has been vacant since September. Short fed steers bring $7.00 to $9.00, quarantine steers today up to $7.25, grass quarantines, including Southern ruff-raff, $4.25 to $6.25. Range cattle are fairly numerous today, medium killing steers at $6.40 and $6.65, good Colorado killers Friday at $7.75, heifers from Durango today at $6.25, range stock steers $5.25 to $6.75, feeders $5.75 to $7.00, top veals $9.75.

Thanksgiving poultry is beginning to move marketward, and will exert some adverse influence on live stock markets during the next week, though increase appetite of consumers at that season renders the poultry influence largely fictitious.

Hogs sold 5 cents lower today, top $7.80, bulk $7.50 to $7.75. A big run at Chicago today gave excuse for a 10-cent lower opening, but the market improved all through the session, the top load selling on the final round, typical of the strong feeling in hog circles.

Sheep and lambs are on the verge of a substantial uplift, according to dealers. Run 11,000 here today. Choice lambs are worth $7.00 to $7.50, feeding lambs lacking in quality selling around $6.00.

Market Correspondent.

MORE MEN NEEDED FOR CIVIL SERVICE.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The official report of the Director of the Census of the United States says that in many states, particularly in the West and South, the number of persons who successfully passed the examination for the Thirteenth Census force and who were willing to accept appointment when tendered, was not sufficient to fill the quotas of those states, notwithstanding the fact that a second examination was held in order to secure more eligibles from such states. It became necessary, therefore, to appoint a disproportionate number of clerks from three of the other states, namely, from Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

GERMAN LUTHERANS WILL SETTLE LITTLEFIELD LANDS.

A Dutch colony of German Lutherans, sixty-eight families in number, have purchased a league of land near the new town of Littlefield, on the Texico-Slaton cut-off, and will colonize the tract. These colonists come from La Crosse, Wisconsin.

The Development Company has given them a piece of land for a church, and they will divide their league of land into small farms. The colony is said to be wealthy.

Don C. Biggers, in charge of publicity for the Littlefield lands, says that, so far as he knows, this is the largest single colony ever located in the West.

Cottolene at Cake-Baking Time

It is mighty hard to obtain uniform results in cake making — if you use butter or lard—because both of these products vary so in quality. Cottolene is always uniform—always produces good results. With its use, you can count on a certain kind of cake being the same every time. Cottolene sells at about the price of lard, and is so rich that one-third less is required than either butter or lard.

TRY THIS RECIPE:
Cream 1/2 cup Cottolene, add 1 cup sugar and mix in alternately 1/2 cup milk and 2 cups pastry flour in which 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt have been well sifted. Beat well, add the well beaten yolks and whites of 3 eggs separately. Bake in two layers. Use any desired filling or frosting.

Mr. Cranford says, also, that the Lubbock bakery uses "Pride of the Plains" flour all the time. "Pride of the Plains" flour is a product of the Harvest Queen Mills, at Plainview, and is made from Hale County wheat—the kind which won both first and second prizes at the Texas State Fair this fall.

"THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."

During the run of "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE" in Chicago, the Chicago Record-Herald published an editorial under the caption "Things Worth While" in which the writer made the following reference to Charles Rann Kennedy's famous play: "We cannot close these remarks on 'Things Worth While' without reference to that play which is supremely worth while. 'The Servant in the House,' now in its final fortnight at Powers' Theatre. An extract from an old clergyman of the Presbyterian Church (whose name we are not permitted to disclose) will indicate how much Mr. Kennedy's drama means to people:

"I have been a minister in the Presbyterian Church for more than forty years, and have gone to the theatre but few times in my life. I confess I have been greatly disgusted with the stage as represented in the newspapers. I read the Record-Herald's review of the play 'The Servant in the House' and thought they were quite extravagant. I read the book, and my daughter persuaded me to see the play. I did not suppose that a man of my age could go through such a powerful emotional experience.

"When a student of theology in Union Seminary, New York, I had tickets to the Philharmonic concerts. I had never heard much great music, and when I heard Parepa Rosa sing the great solos in 'The Messiah' I was affected for days, and was carried completely out of myself. About the same time I heard Henry Ward Beecher, in his glorious prime, preach, and had a similar experience. I do not recall anything like these experiences until I heard 'The Servant in the House.' The powerful picture of the drain-man haunts me still. If the stage can present such plays it will be worthy of the name 'School for Morals.' I fear, however, this play is a very rare exception. Pardon me for simply pouring out myself in a few minutes under the influence of this wonderful performance."

This attraction, with an unusually strong cast, will be seen at the Schick Theater on Monday, Nov. 25. Adv.

ANDERSON COUNTY HAS CHAMPION CORN GROWER.

Earl Davis Grows 122 1/4 Bushels on One Acre, at Cost of 5 1/2 c a Bushel.

Palestine, Texas.—Earl Davis, of Palestine, is champion corn grower of Texas. He raised 122 1/4 bushels of corn off one acre of land without irrigation or fertilizer, at a cost of 5 1/2 cents per bushel. His brother Oran grew 116 2-3 bushels an acre off the same quantity of land, and at the same expense. The former high record for corn produced by a boy farmer was 114 bushels.

The farm on which this corn grew is located a few miles from here; Mr. Davis, father of the boys, has raised corn successfully for several years. His corn this year will average around 70 bushels per acre. Anderson County has produced the champion boy corn grower for two successive years, and last year a loving cup was awarded the successful contestant by the State Fair Association. Young Davis will receive the cup this year.

Crop Improvement

"The most valuable of all arts will be the art of deriving a comfortable subsistence from the smallest area of soil."
—Abraham Lincoln

SEED CORN CONSERVATION.

By J. H. Brown.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] "Behold what a great fire a little matter kindleth." Man is prince of manipulation, but as a real creator, a dismal failure. "All that a man hath will he give for his life." If he could secure this from the factory as a machine made product, he would not be quoting such unheard of prices for so common a commodity. Life is all about us, and wasted shamefully. Life then, is not a factory product. The wise farmer in view of this fact, should be reverently careful of that quality of his seed corn which he could in no wise create or restore.

Seed Corn Week.

Gather them early during "Seed Corn Week," looking carefully into all the conditions that caused your specimens to come to a state of perfection which warranted your notice and consideration. Let your work now be prompt and careful. Remove the cover at once (if left over night in a pile in which it will lose that quality, Life, which you cannot restore). Strip and hang on such racks as will hold each ear unrelated and apart. Hang where plenty of air and not too much heat can reach it. You will then be entitled to that high place that all should seek for in their specialty, "A Wise Man."

CORN PRICES.

Corn Will Always Bring a Good Price, Says Frank M. Bunch, President Chicago Board of Trade.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] "I do not believe that corn growers will ever again need to market their crop at twenty or twenty-five cents per bushel, as was the case a few years ago," said Frank M. Bunch, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, the largest grain market in the world.

"A better quality of corn is being grown today than ten years ago. Special types of corn are being grown where conditions were not naturally favorable for maturing the crop, and now the corn belt area has been considerably extended. For instance, this market now receives corn from districts in northern Iowa and South Dakota that never shipped any corn prior to the educational campaign that has been conducted the past eight or ten years by Prof. P. G. Holden of the Iowa Agricultural College."

"There are more than one hundred different commercial products now manufactured from corn. In former days when so much of the corn was below grade, the distilleries were the chief markets. Today, less than three per cent of the crop goes to the distilleries," said Mr. Bunch.

FARM TRACTOR AS TIME SAVER.

Modern Methods of Tilling the Soil—Saving Time and Money and Increasing the Yield.

By Raymond Olney of M. Rumley Co.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] Any farm machine that will save time readily appeals to the farmer.

We all know that for the heavy, laborious tasks, the working day of the horse is limited to 8 or 10 hours. The rest of the 24 hours he must be allowed to eat and rest, in order that he may store up energy for the following day.

Supplying Energy.

Now the tractor does not have to go to all this trouble. Energy is supplied as it is needed. In other words, it eats while it works. Consequently, its working day is not limited to a few hours. It will work 20 hours as well as 10, if necessary. By providing night and day crews, the farmer is able to double the work of his horses. That is to say, a 15 h. p. tractor working 20 hours per day will accomplish as much work in the same time as 30 good average horses.

WHERE TO STORE.

By Leon Robbins, Minn. College of Agriculture.

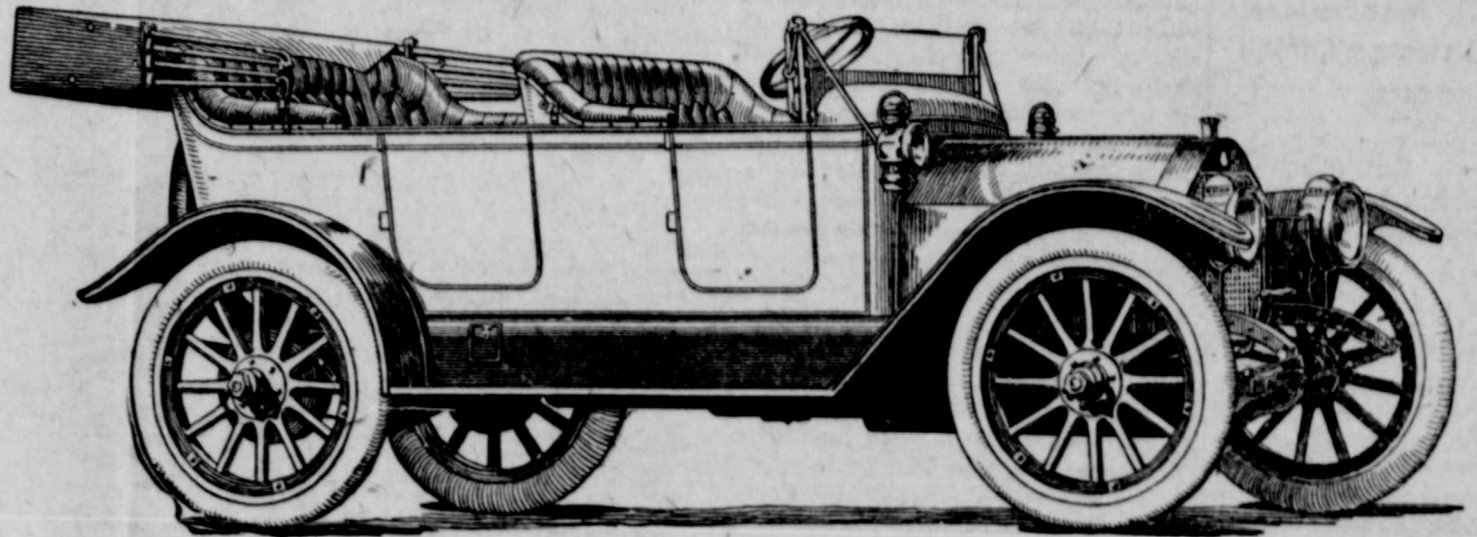

[National Crop Improvement Service.] Cellars without furnaces are usually damp and undesirable for storing. Samples of seed corn stored in oat-bins, on porches, under the eaves of barns, and in open sheds, have also been tested; and they usually gave tests too low for the seed to be of value for planting. It is easily seen that seed corn kept in an attic or an unused second story room can have the required conditions for drying; namely, good circulation of air, and an even temperature, above the freezing point.

STORING CORN.

[National Crop Improvement Service.] Corn should be stored in well-built cribs.

Rats love grain, and are always looking for a home which is handy to the corn crib. If cribs are constructed with wooden floors the advantages are favorable for the homes of rats and mice. Concrete floors are considered best for cribs. The cost does not exceed 12 cents per square foot.

1913's Biggest Value in Three Models

Beauty, luxury and comfort have been developed to the utmost in the handsome Maxwell "40." Every refinement, every detail, is the very latest. Nothing that would make the Maxwell "40" better has been spared or omitted.

The new 1913 Maxwell is the finest car we have ever built. It is larger, more powerful, finer in every way. But it remains characteristically a Maxwell. That is, it retains the mechanical features responsible for the extraordinary Maxwell durability, endurance, economy of operation and upkeep.

The "forty" is made in two body styles—the touring car $1675 and roadster $1625.

Maxwell "30"

We offer also the "thirty" touring car $1145 and the "thirty" roadster $1110. Our "thirty" made a great hit last year and we were unable to build enough to supply the demand for it. It is improved and enlarged as the leader has been and we are confident will retain its supremacy in its class.

Maxwell "22"

In the new Maxwell "twenty-two" we have the spectacular automobile value for 1913. At $785, fully equipped, including self-starter, the "twenty-two" will make an instantaneous hit. If you are interested in this model, we urge you to see the car, get a demonstration and make your selection at once in order to insure delivery. Our entire output of this model for 1913 is already sold to dealers.

You should buy a Maxwell because— It holds the World's speed record in its class. It is the national touring champion—winner of the Glidden Tour. It lasts longest—proven by actual State registrations. It costs less to maintain—proven by public demonstration.

Deliveries Now. We are ready to demonstrate any of these models and make immediate deliveries. Phone or call for appointment, or send for full particulars.

THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE

Mr. W. Fredrick Phillips, who will play "Manson" in "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE," which appears at the Schick Opera House on Monday, November 25th, was until quite recently occupying the pulpit of a prominent church at Portage, Wis. He had had considerable experience on the stage before becoming a minister, but had no intention of ever returning to the footlights until he witnessed a performance of this beautiful play last winter, in Milwaukee. He at once decided that, if given the opportunity, he could do more good by playing this part one season than he could in ten years in the pulpit. So sincere was he that it is said he offered his services free. Several newspaper critics who have seen him in this role claim that never before has it been given such a beautiful and intelligent reading.

Chamber of Commerce Will Elect Officers December 10; Dinner Comes Week Later.

A "Get-Together" dinner for Plainview, of products grown in Hale County, is proposed as the best method of making even a better showing at the Texas State Fair next fall than that of winning more prizes than any other ten counties combined. Dr. J. C. Anderson, J. W. Grant and Judge J. E. Lancaster were appointed a committee to make all arrangements. The dinner will be December 17, or thereabout, and the new officers of the Chamber of Commerce will be installed at that time.

A communication was read from the Texas Industrial Congress asking the appointment of three delegates to the Congress, in Dallas, in December. These delegates pay their own expenses, and volunteers have been asked for.

O. M. Unger, President of the Chamber of Commerce, reported a balance of something more than $500 left out of pledges made for conducting the Chamber of Commerce for this year. This balance is a handsome largely because there has been no secretary since August 1. The amount was not fixed definitely because there are a few small items yet to pay.

New officers of the Chamber of Commerce will be elected about December 10.

The committee in charge of funds raised to induce the marketing of cotton in Plainview, reported a balance on hand, and it was voted to turn this into the general fund of the Chamber of Commerce. This was done by a citizens' meeting called immediately after adjournment of the Chamber of Commerce. At this meeting a committee consisting of Messrs. Stephens, Bremley, Whitworth, Cochran and Joe Ryan was appointed to report on deficit arising from the county fair this year.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY DISCUSSES CITY PROBLEM.

The Missionary Society, Calvary Baptist Church was entertained Monday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock by Mrs. C. L. Barnes. The subject for the afternoon, "The City—An Opportunity; a Menace," proved interesting. Mrs. Harvey, the leader of the lesson well prepared a splendid report of the ladies. That the spirit of the meeting was good. Mrs. Barnes served delicious refreshments, consisting of hot chocolate, white Moutin and sliced cake.

UNGER WANTS PUMPKIN AGAIN.

President of Chamber of Commerce Offers $10 for Largest Specimen; Nash Will Give $15.

O. M. Unger, President of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, has offered $10 for the largest pumpkin raised in Hale County during 1912. Mr. Unger gave a similar prize this year, and also in 1911. Both years our pumpkin took first prize at the Texas State Fair.

Nash's Second-Hand Store has offered to give the Chamber of Commerce $15 to be used as a prize for any kind of Hale County product. This is the beginning of a plan started at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night to encourage better farming in Hale County.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM BY FOURTH GRADE PUPILS.

Pupils of the fourth grade in Mrs. Prudie Wright's room of the West Side school rendered an interesting Thanksgiving program Wednesday afternoon. A little play—"The Old Pilgrim Days"—was especially interesting. The "little Puritans" of today played well the parts of the Puritans of the Pilgrim days.

The school room was tastefully decorated with corn, pumpkins and drawings on the boards of the Puritan ships, forest leaves, fruits, grain and other Thanksgiving suggestions. The entire entertainment was well planned and executed, reflecting credit on the teacher and pupils.

SETH WARD WINS.

Methodist Boys Take "Turkey Day" Game from Wayand.

It was a fair-sized crowd who saw the final football game of the season yesterday on Wayland College campus. Of course, the colleges were out in force, and the November gale could not affect their ardor.

Neither side scored. Seth Ward, carried the ball to Seth Ward's one-yard line during the first quarter. In the second half the Methodist boys went over for two touch downs. Final score was 12-0.

FIRST WINTER COMES WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Snow Mantle Spread Over North Plains; Vanishes Quickly.

Plainview's first touch of real winter came about midnight Wednesday. A gale blew up from the north, but had quieted down Thursday morning, and, save for the dust scattered about, many sound sleepers did not know of the storm.

About 9 o'clock flurries of sleet and snow began at Amarillo, according to the Amarillo News. These continued for more than an hour, but the snow melted rapidly.

HALE CO. EXHIBIT WAS REVELATION

Dallas Chamber of Commerce Says Exhibit of Fruit, Vegetables and Farm Products Marvelous.

"SEEING IS BELIEVING"

Would Have Doubted Stories About Products; First on Alfalfa for Four Years.

The Dallas Chamber of Commerce, through its secretary, J. R. Babcock, has expressed congratulations to Plainview and Hale County on the exhibit sent to the Texas State Fair held in Dallas during October.

"I want to congratulate Plainview and Hale County," Mr. Babcock writes, "on the splendid showing that your county made at the State Fair. Thirty-six first prizes, sixteen second prizes and the retention of first prize on alfalfa for four years was indeed a fine record.

"Out of the thousands of people who examined the Hale County products that you had on exhibition, there were many who, sooner or later, will be seeking new homes, and as a result of this advertising Hale County will gain many new citizens.

Exhibit a Revelation.

"It was a revelation to me, and I am sure it was likewise to many other Texans, to see the magnificent specimens of fruit, vegetables, and farm products that were raised in your county. Should you have told me of these products without showing me, I fear that I would have discounted your statement to a certain extent. But when I saw the products I had to believe.

"Herein lies the advantage of making an exhibit of this kind; the prospective citizen does not have to take the word of any one, but can see for himself what the county raises.

Helps Make Great Fair.

"On behalf of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, I want to thank the members of the Plainview Commercial Club for having this exhibit here, and in thus helping us to build up the Great State Fair, and make it more fittingly representative of Texas. It is our hope that the County Exhibit Department of the Fair will become so large and representative that the visitors will get from it a true conception of the wonderful resources and possibilities of Texas. Your exhibit contributed to this end, and we are indeed grateful to you." Signed "J. R. Babcock, Secretary, Dallas Chamber of Commerce."

HALF-SECTION FOR $65 AN ACRE.

The Munsey half-section just south of the Pearson Demonstration Farm sold last week at $65 an acre.

YAW TO SING THURSDAY NIGHT

American Prima Donna Comes to Plainview Under Auspices of Epworth League.

A CALIFORNIA GIRL

Ellen Beach Yaw Ranks with Melba, Gaski, Nordica, Farrar, Sembrich and Eames.

Plainview is talking about the California girl, Ellen Beach Yaw, who has conquered all Europe—a girl with wonderfully sweet voice and some phenomenal high notes who has developed into one of the most brilliant coloratura singers of the day. Miss Yaw is coming to Plainview for a concert under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church next Thursday night.

Music lovers in Plainview have been favored this season. The concerts by Theobaldi and by the Ernest Gamble Concert Company were such as our "cousins on Broadway" who know really good music delight to hear. The coming of Miss Yaw is the event, not only of this season, but of a decade. It is the opportunity, perhaps, of many a life time. Frequently a dozen years go by before music lovers in the cities may hear such music as "our Ellen," because she is a child of the West, sings. There aren't very many of them during a century.

Sings Highest Note.

Miss Yaw sings the highest note ever recorded. While this is interest-

WRITES OF SOUTH PLAINS.

F. A. Briggs, Staff Correspondent of Dallas News, Tells of Irrigation by Pump.

F. A. Briggs, staff correspondent of the Dallas News, is writing a series of articles on irrigation on the South Plains. These articles cover the entire Plains country, and are written from first-hand knowledge. They will undoubtedly be of large service in acquainting people with what the South Plains really offers.

ALLEY SAYS IT PAYS.

Hale Center Man Makes Six Cuttings Alfalfa; 120 Bushels Maize an Acre.

Robt. F. Alley, Hale Center's big irrigationist, was in the city Monday, with his friend W. J. Tarbox, of Cedarville, Ohio. Mr. Alley was as busy as a bumble-bee in a barrel of tar, but we got him still long enough to learn that he is doing things down his way.

Listen to this: He has 160 acres under irrigation this year—made 120 bushels of milo maize to the acre, with two cultivations and put water on the land twice, at a cost of $2.50 per acre for the water; made 40 bushels of wheat to the acre with one scant watering; made six cuttings of alfalfa, and the 5th cutting weighed one and three-fourths tons to the acre.

Oh, yes; Mr. Alley believes in irrigation, so much so that he will have 2,000 acres under the ditch next year.

CLEAN-UP DAY WILL KILL GERMS

Mayor Dorsett Says Health Record Is Due to Laundering Given City Last Spring.

NO TYPHOID FEVER

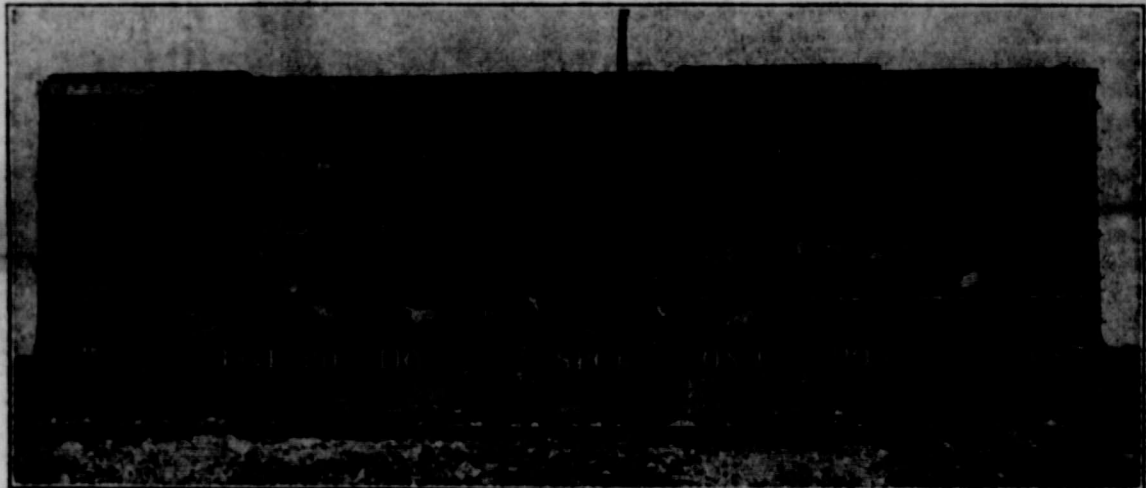

Make Alleysways Sanitary and Burn Weeds if You Want to Save Doctor's Bills.

During the past twelve months not a member among the 700 belonging to the Methodist Church has died. There were only two or three cases of typhoid fever in Plainview all summer. A remarkable health record, you say? No, it was merely the result of cleaning up the town last spring. Plainview may keep that record by keeping the town clean. It is the surest way to save doctor's bills—clean up!

"We are using all of our teams on the streets," said Mayor Dorsett Wednesday, "but you may say that if there is anybody in Plainview who just isn't able to clean up, why we will haul away their rubbish of they will get it piled up. Everybody can burn the weeds on his place."

The piles of weeds on vacant lots in Plainview are unsightly. They are hibernating places for numerous colonies of insects. Burn these weeds and you will improve the looks of your town; you will also destroy the insects which would infest your garden next spring.

What do you think of a general clean-up day for Plainview?

A CAR-LOAD OF POULTRY SHIPPED FROM PLAINVIEW. The South Plains is ideal for Poultry Raising.

gining to judge an artist by her art, ing within itself, the value and legitimate use of such notes interests Miss Yaw far more. She says she is glad to find the American people are being and not by the sensation produced by an over-zealous press agent.

The art of song, she says, is the art of expressing with a single voice every thought, feeling and emotion found in nature, and to that end alone high or low tones can be legitimately employed. High notes have their place in the voice as well as on the flute, violin or other instrument, and if other singers had them they would undoubtedly find for them the same use as does Miss Yaw.

Distinctly American.

"The United States may at last boast of a prima donna as distinctively American as Niagara Falls or the Grand Canon, or our own prairies," says an art critic. Although Miss Yaw has been praised as a grand opera star in Italy, France and England, she is everywhere and always "The American Singer."

Above and beyond the culture which her marvelous voice has received is her gift of going straight to the hearts of her listeners—a gift of which only two of the great sopranos of the past (Jenny Lind and Parepa Rosa) have been possessed; but Miss Yaw, "the California girl," in her sympathetic sweetness, is irresistible.

Pure Lyric Soprano.

In Ellen Beach Yaw we have the pure lyric soprano—a voice which stands alone in the clearness of its higher register and in its effectiveness of obtaining the genuine lyric results. Besides this dainty, mellow upper register, the height of which seems almost unfathomable, Miss Yaw has, also, a resonant, solid lower register. There runs through her voice a silver thread of bell-like vibratory power that makes it exceedingly receptive to the most sensitive musical ear.

Beautiful of face, magnetic in personality and gifted with a voice such as is heard sometimes once in a decade, is it surprising that Miss Yaw's coming to Plainview next Thursday night should create unusual interest?

ELK BARBER PARLOR HAS FORMAL OPENING.

Half Population of Plainview Visits Peace's New Place; Finest in West.

"The finest barber shop in the West"—that is the way visitors spoke of R. M. Peace's new Elk Barber Parlor yesterday. Mr. Peace formally opened his Elk Parlor Thanksgiving afternoon. Mrs. J. C. Peace and Miss Peace served at the punch bowl, and orchestra music was played during the afternoon.

"More than 2,500 people visited us," said Mr. Peace. Some of the enamel work has not been finished, but enough has been done to give one an idea of what the Elk Barber Parlor will be. All will be finished in a few days; meanwhile, Mr. Peace will be open for business tomorrow. Oscar Hill, Ed Carpenter, J. C. Peace and R. M. Peace are at the chairs; Miss Johnnie Young is cashier, and Mrs. C. E. Moore, manucure. The Cash Tailors have moved into a room fitted up for them, right in connection with the barber shop.

Mr. Peace's furnishings are of art marble. It is the newest design, and the makers say that there is only one other of this design in the United States yet. The fittings were purchased of Theo. Kochs, Chicago, through S. D. Shaw, of Wichita, Kansas.

Perhaps most admirable, among the many admirable innovations Mr. Peace has made, is the case for sterilizing all brushes and towels. When a brush is used it is immediately put in the sterilizer, and another one taken out when needed. This cleanliness must appeal to every one.

A ladies' tailoring establishment, in charge of two ladies, will also have place in connection with the barber parlor, so that no lady need hesitate to visit the place for manucure work or hair dressing. The lady cashier and lady tailors will keep any man from forgetting himself or speaking out. An electric hair drier will add much to the comfort of the ladies.

MASONS DEDICATE NEW HOME.

Sisters of Eastern Star Serve Banquet in New Lodge Rooms.

"There were gathered her beauty and her chivalry." Thus the poet might have spoken of the assembled, Masons and their sisters of the Eastern Star in the new Masonic Temple last night. They gathered to dedicate the Mason's new home, a temple complete in detail and costing nearly $20,000.

Judge H. C. Randolph, representing the Grand Lodge of Texas, made the address of the evening. Judge L. C. Perry spoke for the Blue Lodge and Col. R. P. Smyth represented the Royal Arch Masons. Just after Judge Randolph's address, the people stood and sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Miss Carter sang "In the Garden of My Heart."

Perhaps the most enjoyable feature of the dedication was the sumptuous banquet spread and served by the ladies of the Eastern Star in the new banquet hall, complete in every detail and served as only loving hands can serve.

A RUSH FOR GOLD FISH.

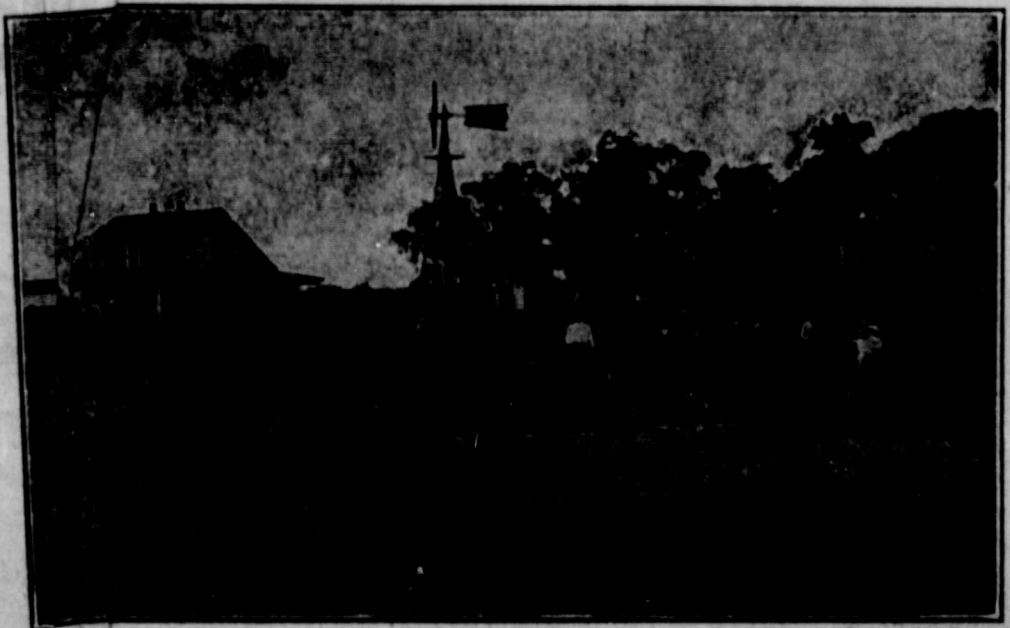

Duncan's Pharmacy Gave Away 300 Before 11 O'Clock This Morning.

Duncan's Pharmacy gave away 300 gold fish this morning in just three hours—a hundred an hour. Mr. Duncan had announced that with each 25c purchase of hand lotion prepared by him a gold fish and globe would be given.

During the first hour and a half 75 were taken; then the rush came, and the remaining 225 went in less than two hours. Mr. Duncan says that, in order not to disappoint anybody, he will get another supply of gold fish early in January and give them to his customers.

PEARSON SYNDICATE'S $1,000,000 FARMS.

Hale County Land Owners Have Received Many Checks Weeks Ago to Follow

$1,000,000 for real estate had is it, especially in a couple of ten years ago the land might be purchased at $1 to $2.50 an acre.

During the summer Pearson Syndicate began buying the County land, through the M. D. Henderson, of Plainview, continued to buy until 600 acres had been purchased, and now they are paying for it.

During the past week more than $800,000 has been paid out in cash, according to Judge H. C. Randolph, attorney for the Pearson interests. Including the money paid out at the time of purchase, this makes more than $1,000,000 brought into Hale County since last June through Mr. Henderson's influence. And the checking will continue until $1,500,000 has been paid to Hale County land owners.

All of this land is being developed into irrigated farms.

A TYPICAL PRODUCT.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Gallup, who own a fine home southwest of Plainview about nine miles, were in town Monday, on business.

With them was young Master Gallup, who lacks two weeks yet of being six months old and who tips the beam at a quarter pound less than twenty-two pounds. We claim that is some boy!

Dr. J. W. Carter, of Crosbyton, attended the Masonic services here Thursday evening.

GAMBLE CONCERT A MUSICAL HIT

Methodist Church Filled to Hear
Second Number on Seth
Ward's Lyceum.

MISS PAGE FAVORITE

Audience Much Pleased When Violinist
Played "Annie Laurie" for Encore.

A concert company that can delight its hearers with the old favorite "tunes," as well as the classics, is undeniably composed of artists. That is the only classification which might be given to the Gamble Concert Company, which played in the Plainview Methodist Church Saturday night—the second number of Seth Ward's lyceum.

It is with pleasure that The Herald turns over its columns for a review of the concert to a friend who is much more able to write intelligently concerning these artists than a mere editor:

"Seldom, if ever, may people in a town of the population of Plainview have such artists in their midst as was the case Saturday night, and seldom, if ever, are there three musicians of such sterling qualities and artistic temperament heard together. The Gamble Concert Company stands for all that is musically artistic, high class and inspirational.

"Taken as a whole, the program was composed of numbers which held the interest throughout, and, as Mr. Gamble stated, conveyed to one the various ideas of different schools and times. Mr. Shonert, a concert pianist and accompanist of 25 years' experience, who has done more of such work, perhaps, than any man in America, played the "Rigolette Fantasia," by Liszt, with bravura and technical security. The ease with which he executed the double thirds, octaves and other intricate passages of this master's pen and fancy proved him equal to the demands made upon the modern pianist.

"Miss Page next played a song without words and a Rondo by Weinowski. Miss Page is a violinist of the first rank, and shows, besides a well-schooled bow, a musicianly and artistic conception of the works in hand. As an encore, she gave Doorah's "Humoreske." This was taken a trifle faster in tempo than is usually heard, but as the metronome indication is such, it is perfectly legitimate. However, her interpretation was in keeping with the character of a Humoreske, and was greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

"Mr. Gamble's first number was 'Bandolero,' by Stuart. Words fail to express the beauty of this basso cantate. Perfect resonance, a splendid range, beautiful tones, excellent phrasing, faultless diction, extraordinary interpretation, a most gracious manner, and a splendid physique, are only weak attempts at a just report. One could not help but see the gallant, bold outlaw, as well as the tender lover. 'I'll Marry You in the Coming of the Spring' he chose as encore.

"Mr. Shonert next played a group of compositions of the present century—Smith's 'Tarantelle,' Moszkowski's 'Seranata,' and Gollschalk's 'Tremolo.' The first and last numbers showed the versatility of the pianist, while the 'Seranata' proved his poetical ability. It was perhaps the best known and appreciated."

Miss Page was then heard in three numbers—Gabriel-Marie's "La Cinqtaine," Robert Schumann's "Abendlied," and "Moto Perpetuo," by Carl Bohm. She showed a remarkably clever and artistic conception of the dainty golden wedding in the first number. The other numbers brought out her beautiful legato and showed a staccato and pizzicato technic of superb quality.

"As an encore, Miss Page gave the familiar song 'Annie Laurie' in a most artistic and original manner, and showed her marked individuality and personality as an interpretation artist.

"Mr. Gamble next sang a group of three songs of the 17th Century, of which the aria from Handel's 'Alexander's Feast' was most excellently done. This number showed his remarkable flexibility in coloratur passages, and alone would have proclaimed him master of his art. An old Scotch melody, 'The Bonnie Banks of Loch Lomond,' and an old English Sommersetshire ballad, 'Young Richard,' showed his adaptability to the lighter compositions. He responded to the applause with De Koren's 'Armour Is Long,' from the opera 'Robin Hood.' Should Mr. Gamble aspire to opera, his success is an assured fact, for his histrionic ability, as well as excellent voice, would proclaim him a prime favorite at once.

"Mr. Shonert next presented a concert waltz by Strauss, 'Vrenna Bonibus.' Although of light character, it abounded in graceful, pleasing melodies daintly and artistically executed. "We were next favored with a trio for voice, violin and piano, 'A Perfect

HARVESTING WHEAT NEAR PLAINVIEW.

Day,' by Carrie Jacobs-Bond. It was followed by 'His Lullaby,' by the same author, as encore, and seemed to meet with more spontaneous response than the first.

"Miss Page next played a 'Spanish Dance,' by Rehfell, which was truly Spanish in style and interpretation. Her encore was 'Sounds from the Bell,' most daintly, dreamily and intoxicatingly given.

"Mr. Gamble closed the program, with a 'Drinking Song,' by Chamnade, Conelius, 'Monotone,' and 'Off to Philadelphia,' an Irish song by Stanford.

"The drinking song, 'An Ode to Bacchus,' gave him again an opportunity to exhibit his powers of interpretation in the lighter songs, and his work in the 'Monotone' was exceptionally well done and to be commended. This is more difficult of rendition than would first seem, as nothing needs more careful interpretative ability and proper control of breath and voice than to sustain one tone through a great number of measures and give it artistic treatment. Although much chosen and used, it is more as a freak number than for its musical worth. 'Off to Philadelphia' left every one happy and care free, from the wit and humor of the Irish logic and philosophy exhibited.

"The applause was earnest and prolonged after this the final number of this most excellent program, and Miss Page and Mr. Gamble were recalled several times to acknowledge the applause of the enthusiastic audience.

"The attention given these artists goes to show that Plainview people can and do appreciate true worth and artistic musicianly efforts, and it speaks well for her future musical and artistic development.

"The termination of the recital brought to a close undoubtedly the season's hit. It surely is a matter of great satisfaction to the management to have been able to procure such a company of artists, and the benefit derived from the lecture courses Plainview is offered this year cannot but elevate, refine and advance the standards of the community. "All lovers of good music surely enjoyed an artistic treat, and all who were unfortunate enough to miss it surely missed the event of the year's concerts.

"A LOVER OF GOOD MUSIC."

FIRST TRIUMPH OF SINGER WAS AS A CHILD.

Ellen Beach Yaw Thrilled Methodist
Long Before She Thought of Fame.

Years ago a wee tot of a girl attended a Methodist evangelistic meeting. There she sang with the congregation. So clearly did the childish treble rise above the voices of the big audience that the minister conducting the service asked the little singer to come to the platform.

Her fresh young voice was a marvel. She could scarcely read, but the well-trained ear of the director recognized the beauty and quality of her voice above the others, and he urged her to sing a solo from the platform. This she did from the good old Moody and Sankey hymns, pausing occasionally to spell a perplexing word. Then the congregation joined in the chorus, and what a song feast it really was. It continued thus for many nights during the meetings.

The tiny soprano was Ellen Beach Yaw. When she grew to girlhood she went abroad to study, and there are none, perhaps, who have been happier at reading of her line of unbroken triumphs since the first trip to Europe, a decade ago, than those who witnessed her debut in her childhood days when she sang for the Methodist meetings.—Los Angeles Examiner.

WOMEN TRUSTEES FOR THE SCHOOLS.

Woman's Clubs Takes Initiative in the Campaign; Invite Mothers to Assist.

The executive committee of the San Antonio Woman's Club has launched a campaign having for its object the election of women trustees for the public schools. Before women can be admitted to membership of the board of trustees it will be necessary to amend the school charter to read "a citizen," instead of "qualified voter," in that section of the charter describing eligibles for this office.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at a meeting held recently by the Woman's Club executive committee:

"Whereas, It is an incontrovertible fact that the beneficent ends sought to be attained by our system of public schools can only be secured through the co-operation of parents and school officials; and

"Whereas, To women in the major part is left the direction and control of the education of the young outside of school hours because of their intuitive sympathy and finer understanding of the needs of the child, which can only be gained at first hand by the mothers in the closer association of the home circle; and

"Whereas, More than 90 per cent of the teachers employed in our public schools are women, who in their daily life need for the development of their charges the official assistance of those who bear, rear and, for the most part, direct their education; and

"Whereas, Believing that the presence of women as members of the governing body of our public schools will tend to the continued upbuilding of the system of free public school education, the legislative committee of the San Antonio Woman's Club, Mrs. H. P. Drought, chairman, has secured the promise of Representative D. A. McAskill to propose in the next Legislature an amendment of the present school charter, making possible the service of women upon the San Antonio School Board; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the San Antonio Woman's Club ask the Mothers' Congress, representing the various mothers' clubs of San Antonio, the City Federation of Woman's Clubs, the Equal Franchise Society and the San Antonio Free Kindergarten Association, as well as such other organizations as may be deemed expedient, to join in the endorsement of the proposed amendment making it possible for women to serve upon the San Antonio School Board as directors, if elected by the people, thus giving the mothers of the public school children a voice in the government of school affairs, as being right in justice and in equity; and be it further

"Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be presented to Hon. D. A. McAskill, Hon. Chester H. Terrell, Hon. Otto Wahrmond, Hon. Bernard Schwegmann, Representatives, to Hon. Julius Real, State Senator, and that their support in the State Legislature for the proposed law be hereby earnestly and respectfully solicited; and to the members of the School Board and to the public press of San Antonio; and be it further

"Resolved, That we ask the aid of all good citizens toward the successful passage of the proposed law."

IRRIGATION PROJECT SUPPLIES ELECTRICITY.

Power Worth $1,000,000 to Farmers of Arizona Developed in Salt River Valley.

In the Salt River Valley of Arizona the farmers have secured, at one stroke, electricity, markets and water. The farmers have had all the water they have wanted for this year's big crops, and still have enough for the next two years stored in the big Roosevelt reservoir. Their irrigation system has demonstrated the value of reclamation in three distinct ways. The water users have just closed a contract with big mines for the sale of 1,000 hydro-electric horsepower, the price agreed upon being $400,000 a year. This power is part of the supply generated by the water on its way from the dam to the farm lands. In all, there will be 27,000 horsepower, all of which can be disposed of, and sold at a higher rate. The income from power alone will be over $1,000,000 a year, and this on an investment of not more than $10,000,000, which is the cost of the irrigation works to date.

This is one phase. Add to this the great area of land, once a desert, and now a really, truly Garden of Eden in the Salt River Valley. In 1910, on 9,000 acres of this land, the crop returns were valued at over $5,000,000; each year the returns are getting larger. Over 240,000 acres will eventually be under cultivation.

What an enormous wealth this reage, with its perfect irrigation stem represents! The third phase of this splendid situation is the opportunity it affords for opening up new lands. This is made possible by means of the cheap power that is being generated through this project in the Salt River Valley and in other ways in Arizona. Many low-grade lands are awaiting development, and the introduction of cheaper power will do much to bring this about. The mines in turn are markets, and become purchasers of the products grown by the farmers on the irrigated lands.—California Cultivator.

Prima Donna a Western Girl; Says
"West is Country of the Future."

As one of the wonder-children of the Great West, Miss Ellen Beach Yaw, the Southern California soprano, is full of enthusiasm for the West, its people and its products—past, present and future. Musically, Miss Yaw believes that the West is America's country of the future.

"Music, more than any other art, demands breadth of idea, sunlight, sky, spaces, warm hearts, imagination," says Miss Yaw.

"You can make plays surrounded by four narrow walls, and write books upon the life of a cave-dweller, but everywhere that you find real music you find bigness—an expansion greater than that demanded by literature and painting.

"The significant music of today is from Germany, the land of the robust, agricultural Teuton; from Italy, with a greater wealth of impassioned history and glorious record than any other country of the modern world; and from Russia, a land of vastness, of mysterious melancholy, of concealed potency and veiled strength. Rimsky-Korsakoff, Glazounow, Borodin—to mention merely a few of the ultra-moderns—show in their glittering and oftentimes bizarre scores what a great new country, exulting in the limitless might of an unfettering youth, can do in the way of really inspirational music.

"So with America. Chicago may give us the epic of Middle West hustle which has made us a world-power, and on the banks of the Hudson may grow our distinctive school of drama, but I do feel that the great music of the Twentieth Century will come out of the mighty and as yet infantile West."

U. S. FOREIGN TRADE
AT $4,000,000,000.

Remarkable Achievement Is Recorded for Year 1912; Imports Gain Fast.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Attainment of a four-billion-dollar foreign trade by the United States in 1912 will be one of the most noteworthy facts for historians to record at the beginning of the new year. In announcing the totals of the export and import trade of the country for the ten months ending with October, the Bureau of Domestic and Foreign Commerce today stated the foreign commerce would reach this enormous total by the end of December. Its highest former record was $3,626,000,000 in 1911. It crossed the three-billion-dollar line for the first time in 1906 and passed two billion in 1899. Imports in the ten months amounted to $1,511,000,000 and exports to $1,871,000,000, making it apparent that the imports of the full year will approximate $1,800,000 and exports $2,

SEEK CHANGE IN PRESIDENT'S ELECTION.

Senator Would Elect Executive Hereafter by a Direct Vote of the People.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Senator Works of California will introduce a resolution when Congress reconvenes for the amendment to the Constitution providing for the election of President and Vice President by direct vote of the people.

The Senator will urge in support of the measure that, in addition to its directness, it would have an advantage over the present method in that it would avoid the possibility of a Presidential election by the House or a Vice Presidential election by the Senate.

INTENSIVE FARMING BEST.

W. R. Tarbox Thinks Average Farmer
Tries to Till Too Much Land.

W. J. Tarbox of Cedarville, Ohio, was in Plainview Monday. Mr. Tarbox owns a farm one mile south from Hale Center. He says that people in the vicinity of Cedarville own more than 10,000 acres of land in Hale County.

Mr. Tarbox thinks that, while the South Plains must be classed with less valuable lands by some who do not discriminate, yet when we show folks, like we did by winning more premiums than any other ten counties combined at the Texas State Fair, they must come to realize just how great a country this is. He thinks, however, that the average Hale County farmer is trying to cultivate too much land. "Intensive cultivation," Mr. Tarbox says, "is undoubtedly going to yield surest and largest profits."

THE ADVANTAGE OF A PURE-BRED SIRE.

All of us will agree that the sire is half the herd, but I maintain that he is more than half, because he is half of the first generation, three-fourths of the next, seven-eighths of the next, and so on, until, if judicious breeding and selection is maintained for a few generations, the character of the herd is fixed by the sire. The influence of the sire is seen throughout the herd, and if an inferior animal is used the bad effect is easily detected in the entire herd. If it is a large herd the loss is great, and if it is a small herd it discourages the herdsman and thus stops the development of what very likely would have been a pleasant and profitable business.

In selecting the sire, one should get one that is the product of the right kind of ancestry. If a grade sire is used his offspring might be similar to scrubs, although the sire himself might be a fairly good individual.

If the pure-bred sire is used the offspring is uniform, and it does not make so much difference whether they breed back to the sire, grandsire or great grandsire, as the results will be good just the same, while in the case of the grade or scrub sire, the offspring will more than likely trace back to an inferior class of animals.

Suppose the herd is worth $1,000, and there are thousands of herds worth more than $1,000. A pure-bred sire is used, and the offspring is worth one-half more than the original herd, as the sire is one-half of the herd. The first generation is worth $1,500, which is a gain of $500 due to the use of the pure-bred sire. Stop and figure what this amounts to, in your herd! HARRY A. NELSON.

A FEW FALL SALADS.

If we have been forehanded when pineapples were plentifully, we have a reserve of choice pineapple to use for all sorts of desserts, salads and cake filling. The flavor of the home-grown is much better than that which we ordinarily buy.

Chiffon Salad.—Take a half cup each of dates, figs, pineapple and three oranges and three-fourths of a cup of sugar. Cut the oranges in halves, remove the pulp and put the shells on the ice. Cut the fruit in small pieces and mix with a mayonnaise dressing. Fill each orange cup with the mixture of fruit, sugar and dressing and keep a tablespoonful of whipped cream on top. Serve on lettuce.

Pickles, peas and peanuts are good served with a very little salad dressing.

Date Salad.—Wash, and without paring, cut two medium-sized, good-flavored apples into dice, add a pound of stoned and quartered dates, mix with a cup of pecans and pour over the following dressing.

Two eggs well beaten, four tablespoonfuls of vinegar, a tablespoonful of butter and a tablespoonful of sugar. Season with salt and cook over hot water until thick; remove from the fire, and when cool add a tablespoonful of olive oil.

Orange and Date Salad.—This is a salad particularly nice to serve with luck this fall: Stone the dates and cut in halves lengthwise. Remove the oranges in sections, arrange in a mound on crisp lettuce leaves and surround with the dates. Serve with French dressing.

Fruit Salad.—Cut a half pound of dates into eighths, chop a half cup of figs, mix with half a cup of coconut, three oranges, three bananas, two apples and a bunch of celery, all cut fine; add a half cup of pecan meats and mix all together with mayonnaise dressing. Serve each portion on lettuce or in orange cups with a tablespoonful of sweetened whipped cream on top, decorated with a date cut in quarters.

FALL FESTIVITIES.

The pumpkin is the time-honored vegetable for the Halloween table, and many and various are the uses for it as a decorator. The little papier-mache imitations may be used as bonbon boxes or as receptacles for salted nuts. The real pumpkin, however, lends itself to almost anything the ingenuity of the hostess wishes to create.

A very happy arrangement was placed last year upon the table of a young housekeeper for a Halloween party. A round pumpkin was bored with holes and pretty chrysanthemums were thrust in, the flower resting on the rim of the pumpkin. After the flowers were all placed the centerpiece looked like a great fluffy chrysanthemum. One might have ribbons attached to the flowers, which could be drawn by each guest, and so furnish a boutonniere. The pumpkin is lined with paper and filled with fruit or bonbons.

Sandwich plates, salad bowls and meat platters may be cut from small oblong-shaped pumpkins; these lined with lace paper doilies make most fetching dishes.

Gnome Salad.—Add a half cup of chopped almonds to a chicken and celery salad, two finely chopped red peppers, half a cup of pineapple juice and the juice of a large onion. Mix well, then add mayonnaise. Garnish with olives stuffed with almonds.

Charm Cake.—Bake any desired cake and put a ring, a thimble and a dime in the batter. Cover the cake with white frosting and decorate with chocolate witches.

Serve ice cream in halves of muskmelon and decorate the cream with eyes, nose and mouth made of chocolate, melted, or citron and currants.
Goblin Pies.—These are individual pumpkin pies decorated with features and given a frill of lace paper for a hood.

TUBERCULOSIS—THE WHITE PLAGUE.

(By DR. JOHN S. TURNER, Dallas, President State Medical Association of Texas.)

What is it? It is one of the most insidious of all the diseases to which man is heir. It is also one of the most dangerous and fatal of all diseases.

The danger of the disease lies largely in its stealthiness. Like the thief in the night, it steals away the health before one is aware of it. It attacks the unfortunate victim in a number of ways and in various parts of the body—the principal of which are by inhalation of the bacilli (germs), by ingestion or taking into the system, of these same germs with food or drink, and by inoculation through the broken skin of a wound. The first of these methods of infection is the most common; therefore the large number of persons suffering from consumption or tuberculosis of the lungs being the most common, contagious and fatal form of the disease, hence becomes the most important to be understood by the people.

As has been said, it is caused by the presence of tubercule bacilli in the lungs. These bacilli are small, elongated rods, or bodies, which are invisible to the naked eye. Under the microscope (magnifying glass) millions of them can be seen in the affected lung, or in the expectation of a consumptive patient. This germ belongs to the lowest form of vegetable life, and is the actual and specific cause of all tuberculous diseases, regardless of location in the body.

The germ multiplies rapidly and feeds on the lung substance, which it gradually destroys. It does this by forming ulcers, which eat away the tissue of the lungs until there is not enough left to support life.

The important symptoms of consumption are cough, expectoration (or spitting of phlegm containing the tubercular germs), hemorrhage (or bleeding from the lungs, fever (increased temperature of the body, especially in the evening), difficulty in breathing, pains in the chest, night sweats, loss of appetite, and emaciation (loss of flesh).

When these symptoms develop, delay is dangerous. Patent medicines, drugs containing opium, and alcohol, are to be avoided; but some reputable physician should be at once consulted.

TO UNITE FARM TEACHERS.

Dean Kyle of School of Agriculture Proposes New Section of State Association.

College Station, Texas, Nov. 24—Prof. E. J. Kyle, dean of the school of agriculture, has been corresponding with a number of teachers and superintendents of public schools with a view to the organization of a special agricultural section as a part of the State Teachers' Association. The sentiment is unanimous in favor of such a course. Prof. W. F. Barnett, of Van Alstyne, writes that he will be glad to aid such a movement. Prof. J. H. Sheppard, of Winsboro, says: "I am heartily in favor of organizing an agricultural association. I expect to attend the State Teachers' Association, at Fort Worth, and shall be glad to assist you in bringing about such an organization."

Prof. Kyle is sending out the following letter to the agricultural teachers of the State:

"Dear Sir: After corresponding with a number of prominent educators interested in the teaching and development of agriculture in our public schools, I have decided to issue a call for a meeting of those interested for the purpose of organizing an agricultural section as a part of the State Teachers' Association.

"At the present time agriculture is a subdivision of the industrial art section. I am sure you will agree with me that agriculture is of sufficient importance to be in a section to itself.

"This meeting will be called to order by Superintendent W. F. Barnett immediately after the general session of the industrial section, on Friday afternoon, November 29th. You are urged to be present, to become a member, and take part in the proceedings.

"Trusting to have the pleasure of meeting you soon, I am,

"Yours very truly,
"E. J. KYLE."

Atchison, Kans., Nov. 23.—The members of the Women's Civic Club of Atchison wearied of looking at the can strewn banks of White Clay Creek, which runs through the middle of the city, so they started a cleanup crusade. They employed men to dig the stream, paying them out of their own pockets. The work is now done. Gardens will take the place of tin cans and rubbish on the bank of the creek in the future. A playground for children will be made in a vacant square through which the creek runs.

COLORADO WOMAN FIRST TO BE CALLED SENATOR.

Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson, known in private life as Mrs. Ewing Robinson, wife of a well-known Denver attorney, is the first woman in the country to have the title of "Senator." She was elected on November 5th to membership in the State Senate, and already a movement has been started to have her made president pro tempore of the Senate. Her friends say this would be a gallant compliment from her colleagues to the only woman elected among them.

"I am going to be the housewife of the senate," said Senator-elect Robinson. "There will be so many men that I shall let them look after themselves, and I shall take it upon myself to look after the women and children. I wish to be spokeswoman of women and children in Colorado in the Legislature, and I shall be honored to introduce any laws that do up for their welfare and protection. I have some bills in mind that I plan to introduce. I believe a woman who has qualified as a capable mother and housewife can qualify as a capable legislator. I hold my responsibilities to the people of the State as sacred as I hold my responsibilities to my husband and my children. Every year when she gets home from her tour she gives a benefit for these little fellows. Last year her donation was a check for $1,001.00, and after the concert was over a committee of the boys waited on the fair Prima Donna in her dressing and thanked her for her goodness; then presented her with a little work basket done with their own hands as a gift from them to her. It is needless to say this little gift is carefully treasured away in the home of the Prima Donna.

PECANS GROWN FROM SEED.

Man Residing Near Denison Demonstrates Successful Cultivation of Nuts of Extra Size.

Denison, Texas, Nov. 24.—That pecans can be successfully raised from seed was demonstrated here last week when Mrs. Dan Groman, who resides several miles southwest of Denison, exhibited a plate of fine nuts at the trades day display in the Denison Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Fourteen years ago Mrs. Groman attended the Texas State Fair, in Dallas, and was given a handful of extra large shelled pecans. She brought them home and ate a few. Her son suggested that they plant the remainder. She did, and two years ago the trees began to bear fruit. The nuts displayed were nearly twice the size of the ordinary pecan, and the shell almost as thin as paper. The kernel is of excellent flavor. "I believe that there is much money to be had in raising and selling pecans," said Mrs. Groman. "If I were a young man today I would plant a five-acre patch of pecans, and in ten years would be harvesting a big crop. Pecans bring a good price when graded and cleaned. The land need not be idle while the trees are growing. It can be used for gardening or pasture."

per cent per annum, and after maturity until paid at the rate of 10 per cent per annum until paid, interest payable annually as it accrues; and both principal and interest of said notes payable at Plainview, Texas, and each of said notes providing that all past due interest on this note shall bear interest from the maturity thereof until paid at the rate of 10 per cent per annum. And each of said notes providing that a failure to pay this note at its maturity, or any installment of interest thereon when due, shall at the option of the holders of them mature all notes given by the maker hereof to the payee herein on this date, in part payment for this land, and also providing that if this note is placed in the hands of an attorney for collection, or for the purpose of securing the same, or if collected through the Probate Courts, I, the makers of said notes, agree to pay a further and additional sum of ten per cent on the amount due as attorney's fees; and providing further that each of said notes are given in part payment for a certain tract of land, situated in Hale County, Texas, and described as all of Lots Nos. One, Two, Three, Four and Five, in Block No. Ten (10), Nob Hill Addition to the Town of Plainview, Texas, conveyed to said F. E. Brown and Eulies B. Smith, Defendants herein, by Crawford Lang and wife, and to secure the payment of said notes herein sued upon according to their tenor and effect, a vendor's lien is retained in said conveyance and is expressly acknowledged and also retained in said deed of conveyance. Each and all of said notes were executed by the said Defendants, Eulies B. Smith and F. E. Brown.

3rd. That each and all of said notes were in fact given in part payment for the property described in said notes, to-wit, all of Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, in Nob Hill Addition to the Town of Plainview, Hale County, Texas, and that said property was by deed in writing of same date of notes conveyed to defendants, in consideration, among other things, of the Three Notes herein described, and that in said conveyance a vendor's lien was retained and reserved against the said described property to secure the payment of said notes according to the tenor thereof.

4th. That by virtue of said notes Defendants herein promised and agreed and became duty bound to pay to Plaintiff herein the sum of moneys in said notes stipulated and specified, together with interest and attorney's fees on account thereof; and that by virtue of said notes and said conveyance above mentioned this Plaintiff has a valid and subsisting lien upon and against the said lands and lots, to-wit, all of Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, in Block No. Ten (10), Nob Hill Addition to the town of Plainview, Texas, to secure the payment of said notes, the interest and attorney's fees thereon according to the tenor and effect thereof.

5th. That each and all of said notes have been transferred and delivered in due course of trade by the said Crawford Lang to the Plaintiff, P. F. Bryan, and that the said Plaintiff is now the legal and equitable owner and holder of said notes, and said vendor's lien.

6th. That the first of said notes is now long past due and unpaid, and that the interest on each and all of said notes is now long past due and unpaid, and the Plaintiff herein has elected and does hereby elect and declare each and all of said notes matured and due, an account of Defendants' failure to pay the first of said notes when it was due and failure to pay the interest on said notes when due, according to the tenor of said notes, and therefore Alleges that each and all of said notes are due and payable, and that the purchase money evidenced by said notes has never been paid, and the Defendants, though often requested, have hitherto failed and refused to pay said notes, or any part thereof, and still refuse to pay said notes or any part thereof, and the same remains unpaid to the damage of this Plaintiff in the sum of Six Hundred ($600.00) Dollars.

7th. That because of the failure of Defendants to pay said notes when due, Plaintiff was forced to place said notes in the hands of Charles Clements, a licensed attorney at law, for collection, and that it was necessary that suit be filed on same, and that the Plaintiff has contracted to pay said Charles Clements for his services in collecting said notes a sum of money equal to the 10 per cent attorney's fees provided for in said notes, and that said sum provided for in said notes is a reasonable fee for his services in collecting said notes.

8th. Wherefore, premises considered, Plaintiff prays the Court that the Defendants be cited to appear in terms of law to answer this petition, that he have judgment for his debt, interest, attorney's fees, and costs of suit, and for a foreclosure of his lien on the above described property and premises, and that the same be decreed to be sold according to law, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and equity, that he may be justly entitled to, etc.

HEREIN FAIL NOT. And have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office, in Plainview, Texas, this, the 27th day of November, A. D. 1912.

(SEAL) B. H. TOWERY, Clerk District Court, Hale County, Texas.

TO THE WORKINGMAN AND WAGE EARNER:

This advertisement is written for the workingman and wage earner. We want to reach you, and take this means to do so. Here are some questions we want you to think about and act on:

If you are laid off by sickness, does your pay stop? If you happen to an accident, who is the loser? If you were to be accidentally killed, would your family receive any indemnity?

Study these questions over and let us help answer them. Here is our proposition: For the small sum of ten dollars we will write you a policy in one of the oldest and best companies in America, which pays you $25 per week for the loss of time from EITHER sickness or accident, and pays five thousand dollars to your family in case of accidental death.

Study this over and see us right away. You cannot afford to wait. Adv. HUGHES & PIPPIN.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY BY EATING ONION.

Mrs. Hetty Green Walks to Work at 78; Declines to Enumerate Wealth.

New York, Nov. 21.—On this, her birthday, Mrs. Hetty Green walked to her office. Since a man who needed $10,000 happened to select Mrs. Green's automobile to run over him, she has been a little skittish about "these new-fangled things," although she is America's richest woman.

"Jesus never rode in an automobile," she said, after she reached her office, at 111 Broadway, "and I guess I can get along without one."

"You certainly are looking fine for a woman of 77 years," was observed.

"I'm not 77," she said quickly, placing her hand on the reporter's arm; "I am 78." She asked credit for overcoming a feminine frailty in admitting her right age.

"Pardon this onion I'm chewing," she continued, "but it's the finest thing in the world for health. Perhaps that's why I live so long. I had a big tenderloin steak for breakfast, with fried potatoes, a pot of tea and the top of a bottle of milk. I don't buy cream, because it's twelve hours older than the milk. I just take off the top of the milk, set the rest in a cool place and use it for cooking."

"That's not rouge, and don't you think it for a minute. That's because I always chew a baked onion." Mrs. Green's mouth was working continuously, which might give one the impression she was chewing gum.

"Most people don't like the smell of onions," she said, "but I find that by chewing an onion—a well-baked onion—after breakfast, it kills any germs that might be in the steak or milk and keeps my digestion fine. My, yes; that piece of onion I'm chewing now will last me all day."

Asked if she was going to lay off on her birthday and enjoy herself, she stamped her foot impatiently, indicating that her interviewer did not know her well. She said she would be in the office before 10 a. m. and remain there until after 4 p. m.

"But is there no little celebration you are to have?"

"Oh, yes; all day I'll be singing my little song of gadsome praise that I've escaped the gangs of robbers, cut-throats and money thieves which infest Wall Street."

She frankly said she hadn't the least idea how much she is worth now. Asked if she intended to take stock of what she had, she said:

"I had not intended doing so, but if you want me to I will," and Mrs. Green called for her son. When E. H. R. Green arrived she said: "Eddie, this gentleman wants to know how much I am worth. I guess we better take stock."

"Eddie" whispered with his mother, and then Mrs. Green said: "We will take stock of everything we own on January 1. Not until then will we know just what we possess."

DON'T SHOCK YOUR LIVER WITH CALOMEL.

Dodson's Liver-Tone Persuades It to Work Naturally and Safely—No Restriction of Habits or Diet.

If you have a sick horse, you can not make him work by beating him, and if you try it, you are liable to ruin him forever. It's the same with your liver. When it becomes torpid and sluggish, you can take calomel and whip it into action, but the calomel will leave your body weaker and sicker than ever. Calomel is a very powerful chemical made from mercury.

A perfect substitute for calomel, that has all of its medicinal properties with none of its dangerous and uncertain follow-ups, is Dodson's Liver-Tone.

R. A. Long Drug Co.'s drug store sells Dodson's Liver-Tone with the guarantee that if you don't find it a perfect substitute for calomel, this store will give you your money back. Dodson's Liver-Tone is a true tonic for the liver, purely vegetable, and with such a pleasant taste that it is no trouble to get children to take it. It is absolutely impossible for it to do any one any harm, because it simply persuades the liver to do what it ought to do—no more and no less. (Adv.) 48

RESOLUTIONS FOR REV. BARNES.

WHEREAS, our Presiding Elder Rev. S. A. Barnes has served us the limit of time permitted by our ecclesiastical law, and at the recent Annual Conference, held at Abilene, was appointed to the Plainview charge, as its pastor, and

WHEREAS, at a general gathering of the members of First Church, Sunday School, and the various Ladies Societies of the Church, there is a general desire to give some written expression of the confidence, esteem and appreciation of Brother Barnes and his family, and particularly to voice the love and esteem we bear his faithful wife, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED by First Church and its Societies--

FIRST--That we thank the presiding Bishop of each of the past Annual Conferences for permitting Brother Barnes to remain among us as our Presiding Elder for the past four year.

SECOND--That we extend to Brother Barnes and his wife our sincere thanks for the earnest, efficient and faithful service they have at all times rendered First Church, and we shall hold in fondest memory their four years' stay with us.

THIRD--We especially desire to give expression to our keen appreciation of the faithful, earnest and effective work of Sister Barnes in the Sunday School, and in the various Church organizations and societies, where she has labored so zealously and successfully, and we give her this assurance, that her faithful work has been an inspiration to us all.

FOURTH--We commend to the good people of Plainview this excellent family, and prophesy for them a year of great prosperity in matters religious, if they but rally to the support of their pastor in charge, as he leads the way.

FIFTH--That we part with them in sorrow, and pray God's blessings upon them, assuring them that if, in the providence of God, their lot should again be thrown with us, we shall welcome their return, and gladly receive them back again with open arms.

SIXTH--That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Plainview paper for publication.

STUDENTS TO JUDGE STOCK.

Team Representing A. & M. College Leaves for Chicago to Compete in Exposition Contests.

College Station, Texas, Nov. 24.--Accompanied by Prof. J. C. Burns, of the animal husbandry department, the team that will represent the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas at the International Live Stock Exposition, to be held in Chicago, left here at noon yesterday. The team is composed of the following students, all of whom have had experience in judging live stock at the Texas State Fair, at Dallas, and the Texas Cotton Palace, at Waco: J. L. Culbertson, Waxahachie; J. A. Scofield, Hillsboro; R. E. Caldwell, Bryan; R. S. Miller, San Saba, and E. G. Eagleson, of Smithville.

The team will compete with other teams representing agricultural colleges in the United States and Canada. A trophy will be awarded to the team making the highest average score. The Armour Institute of Chicago also offers prizes amounting to $1,000 in scholarships to the teams making the best scores in judging sheep, horses, cattle and swine. Premiums will be awarded also to the winners of a contest in the judging of American saddle horses.

The team representing Texas took sixth place last year, and was third among the colleges of the United States. The men from this State, according to the professors of animal husbandry, are handicapped in competing with representatives of Northern institutions by reason of the fact that the Agricultural and Mechanical College is poorly equipped with good live stock for the use of the students.

The members of the team will visit a number of noted stock farms in Illinois, and will make a careful study of the live stock exhibits at the International Exposition.

POOR GIRL "MOST LIKELY."

Miss Yaw Says Girl Who Knows Hardships Is Most Likely to Win.

"In these days of European travel, tumultuous money-spending at home and as many 'correct schools' of music as there are days in the year, I want to say something for the girl who I think has the most chance of all to become a really great singer."

Such is the interesting beginning of a still more interesting statement by Ellen Beach Yaw, the great American prima donna who made an absolute conquest of Europe, and who, on her "grand tour" of America, is to be heard in Plainview, December 5.

"In an old-fashioned manner of speech," continues Miss Yaw, "I think that the 'most likely' girl is none other than the poor girl.

"I know she is apt to sit at home and pine when her rich sister, or those fortunate enough to interest rich people in their talents, go to Europe with parade and show, and the opportunity of studying under allegedly great masters and attending the best of opera and concert.

"But, all the same, if she keeps up heart, she has far more chance of success than the one for whom the road to success apparently lies along a flowery path of ease.

"In the first place, the realization of success usually comes only when one finds oneself. The greatest foes to triumph are not without, but within. The girl who conquers bitter poverty has it in her to conquer the world.

"Next, there is no such nurse to ambition as apparent hardship, and no such deadly drug for it as affluence. I know thousands of girls whose futures were bright with glorious promise over in Europe for a season or two--then they disappear and are heard of no more. Why? When they found that no money nor influence can buy real success--well, they simply wilted, that's all.

"Let the poor girl work and keep up heart--and she must succeed."

Cottolene for Cooking

The Happy Go-Between Cottolene

Cottolene is not for table use, but it is the best cooking fat for all shortening and frying. If you are using butter in your kitchen you are paying at least twice as much as necessary to secure the same results with Cottolene.

Another point of economy about Cottolene--use one-third less than you would of butter or lard

Cottolene is a clean, pure product, and makes wholesome, healthful, digestible food, because it is a vegetable and not an animal fat.

A GREAT RANCH TO BE CUT UP.

Maj. Geo. W. Littlefield, banker and cattleman, of Austin, Texas, owner of the famous Yellow House ranch, in Lamb and Hockley Counties, across which the Santa Fe is rapidly constructing the last link in its Pacific-Ocean-to-Gulf line, known as the Texico-Coleman cut-off, makes this offer to actual farmers:

To the first 35 men, heads of families, who buy 50 acres or more of the Littlefield Lands, deeds will be executed with these remarkable provisions:

No cash payment; no interest for first year; in lieu of first cash payment, purchaser is required to move on land by April 1, 1913, and make improvements thereon to the amount of $500; purchaser required to farm at least 40 acres during 1913. After having used the land one year purchaser pays in cash one-fourth purchase price, balance payable in one to ten years, at six per cent interest, payable annually. Price of land, $15 to $25 per acre. No grubbing; land ready for plow.

To purchaser erecting silos and preserving feed raised Major Littlefield will sell on credit all the white face cattle the land buyer has feed to fatten. These cattle are out of the famous L F D herd. You have a chance to get this magnificent land at the cheap, "ahead-of-railroad" price, and the unusual opportunity of engaging in stock farming, without investing a dollar in cattle. Can you beat it? It isn't the money the owner of these lands desires so much as it is to settle the same with a class of industrious, progressive, prosperous farmers. There isn't a body of finer land in the United States. In the great Shallow Water Belt. No country has more water or better water. Irrigation by pumpage is being planned, and you will have the advantage of increase in values from that source. In the center of this tract is the town of Littlefield, now in the making. Arrangements will be made whereby no home on the tract will be more than 2 miles from a school house.

STORK BEATS GRIM REAPER IN OCTOBER.

State Report Shows 4,797 Births and 1,945 Deaths During Month; Pellagra Kills Eighteen.

The vital statistics report for the month of October shows 4,797 births and 1,945 deaths for Texas, a decrease of 179 deaths as compared with October, 1911, and an increase of 428 births as compared with that month. Fifty-six sets of twins, an increase of nineteen sets over September and of twenty-five over October, 1911, are shown. There were also two sets of triplets born.

From Pellagra eighteen deaths were reported, decrease of four as compared with October, 1911, and an increase of three over September, 1912. Tuberculosis was the leading cause of death, with 168 victims, but showed a decrease of seventy-five as com-

GAMBLE LIKES SOUTH PLAINS.

Concert Artist Enthusias Over Big Wells in Shallow Water Belt.

The members of the Ernest Gamble Concert Company are perhaps as appreciative of Plainview and the South Plains as those who heard them are of the delightful concert given Saturday night, at the Methodist Church, by Mr. Gamble, Miss Page and Mr. Shonert.

Saturday afternoon Bryon Brown, of the Hudson Motor Company, took the Gamble party and some friends out in one of his new Hudson cars. E. Graham's big well was flowing. After seeing it, the visitors were driven over Plainview. "It is a wonderful country," Mr. Gamble said. "I should like to live here. Your pure atmosphere, your water supply, your fertile soil should make this the great agricultural country of the South and West."

Mr. Gamble thought that Hale County's feat in winning thirty-six blue ribbons and sixteen red ones at the Texas State Fair was just what one might expect after seeing the country. "If you want a recommendation for the Hudson car," he said to Mr. Brown, "or for Plainview's hospitality, the Gamble Concert Company will give you one enthusiastically."

SILVER SERVICE FOR SHIP.

Galveston Mayor Would Have School Children of State Purchase Gift for Battleship Texas.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 24.—Mayor Lewis Fisher, of Galveston, has written to the Chamber of Commerce saying that its suggestion that the women and children of Texas present to the new battleship Texas a set of flags had been referred by him to the Galveston Commercial Association.

Mayor Fisher says he has been engaged on a proposition to procure an appropriate silver service, to be paid for by the school children of Texas, and asks for the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce of Travis County in raising the fund.

Secretary Vining, of the chamber, has answered Mayor Fisher that he will be given aid here in raising the fund, and he urges Mayor Fisher to co-operate in the plan to have the flag presentation also.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

READY!

The Sturdy Stylish Maxwell "30" is now ready for your inspection

This car was last year's most popular family touring car. It is improved and enlarged this year to such an extent as to insure its continued leadership in its class.

Style and comfort have been given particular attention. The design of the Maxwell "30" is the latest all-steel flush-sided body, vestibuled and ventilated. Perfect comfort is assured by a wheelbase of 106 inches and a new spring suspension of long flat leaves of imported English steel, giving the exact resiliency needed for varying road surfaces.

The sturdy construction of this car has been proved in many ways and under all sorts of conditions. Its flexible 4-cylinder long stroke motor gives it great hill climbing ability. Its reliable and durable mechanical features are similar to those that have proved superior in many endurance contests that have been won by Maxwells.

Touring Body $1145; Roadster Body $1110. Prices f.o.b. Factory

You should buy a Maxwell because—It holds the World's speed record in its class. It is the national touring champion—winner of the Glidden Tour. It lasts longest—proven by actual State registrations. It costs less to maintain—proven by public demonstration.

Maxwell "30" will please you in size, style, comfort and superb finish. We want you to see the car and ride in it. Phone or write your most convenient hour—let us bring the car to you. Or, come in today and try it on the road.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Greenville.—At a recent meeting of the Boosters' Club, arrangements were closed with the Texas Corn Growers' Association to hold their annual meeting here January 9-10-11, next year.

San Antonio.—Forty thousand acres of land in Dimmitt and Zavala Counties were recently sold for a consideration of $800,000. Upon this land will be founded a colony of 1,200 families, composed of Frenchmen, Italians, Armenians, Poles, Belgians and Swedes.

San Antonio.—Postal receipts for the month of October amounted to $28,036.43, compared with $26,987.49 for the same month last year.

Galveston.—The foundation is being put in for the plant of the Galveston Ice and Cold Storage Company. The new building, with plant installation, will cost approximately $200,000.

Port Arthur.—Plans are on foot here for the erection of a saw mill with approximate capital of $100,000. This enterprise is to be financed by local capitalists.

Wichita Falls.—The People's Ice Company is excavating for the erection of their new $100,000 plant. Work will be rushed, and it is expected to be completed at an early date.

Big Springs.—Bonds to the amount of $50,000 were recently issued to be used for water works, street and curb purposes in this city.

Wichita Falls.—This city's latest addition in industrial enterprises is a glazing factory, which will manufacture window sash already fitted with glass.

Austin.—The Enid, Ochiltree & Western Railroad, which recently passed out of receivership, is to become part of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas System, and will be extended soon. Its purchaser at the receiver's sale was Charles Hamilton, of Waco, who for many years has been vice president and general manager of the Texas Central, owned and operated by the M. K. & T. Railroad.

Texas.—The United States and Mexican Trust Company is going to build a dam in Texas, irrigate 40,000 acres of land and go into the business of putting settlers there. Its immigration headquarters will be in Kansas City.

San Antonio.—The stockholders of the San Antonio and Rio Grande Valley Interurban Railway Company has authorized the issuance of bonds to the amount of $10,000, the proceeds of which are to be used in the construction of about 250 miles of additional track. The new enterprise is distinctly a "Farmers' Transportation Enterprise," the primary purpose of which is to place every tract of irrigable land in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and Gulf Coast region within one mile of the railroad.

PENSION FOR EX-PRESIDENTS.

Carnegie Provides $25,000 a Year; Widows Given Stipend as Long as Single.

New York, Nov. 21.—Future ex-Presidents of the United States are to be pensioned in the sum of $25,000 each, annually, by action of the Carnegie Corporation of New York today. The grant is provided for with the idea of enabling former Executives of the Nation to devote their unique knowledge gained in public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care. A similar amount is to be paid widows of ex-Presidents as long as they remain unmarried.

The pensioners are to be promptly offered to the ex-Presidents or their heirs, so that no application will be required from them. Payment is to be continued so long as the recipients remain unprovided for by the Government.

SYMPTOMS OF CONSUMPTION

Yield to Vinol.

The medical profession do not believe that consumption is inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to that disease.

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes: "I was ill for five months with pulmonary trouble, and had the best of doctors; I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol, and I feel that it saved my life. It is all you recommend it to be. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol, and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. Vinol stimulates the appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

CONCRETE SILOS FOR FODDER.

Plan to Prevent Disease Caused by Feeding of Moldy or Rain Soaked Fodder—Concrete Silos on This Farm Are Erected for the Purpose of Preserving Corn Fodder—No Waste or Shrinkage and More Economical—Tanks Hold 1,200 Tons.

(National Crop Improvement Service.) Spencer Otis, one of the largest stockmen of Savanna, Ill., has built the two largest concrete silos in this state on his farm near Timbuctoo. Mr. Otis plans to put his corn fodder in his silos, believing this to be a more economical and handy method than that of leaving the fodder out all winter. After some experiments, Mr. Otis became satisfied that it is perfectly feasible to put fodder in the silos, and for that purpose built the two big tanks which will hold more than 1,200 tons.

The idea of putting fodder into the silos was original with Mr. Otis, so far as is known. By storing the fodder in this manner the usual waste in shrinkage can be avoided and the necessity removed for digging fodder out of the snow during the winter. It is argued that the practice of feeding fodder from silos would go far toward preventing spinal disease in horses, as the recent epidemic in the western states was traced directly to the feeding of moldy, rainsoaked fodder.

At the present time a number of coal mine operators in central Illinois are thoroughly investigating Mr. Otis' plan with a view to using it on the farms owned by the coal companies. Most of these farms occupy land over the coal mines on which corn is raised to feed the animals used in the mines. One of the coal companies operating in Sangamon county estimates that silos installed for the keeping of fodder would pay for themselves in one year.

SELECTING SEED OATS.

Much Grain Damaged on Account of Rain This Year—Stained, Stacked, Burned and Ground-Damaged Grain Should Not Be Used for Such Purposes.

(National Crop Improvement Service.) A period of wet weather after the harvesting of the oats crop this season caused in some states material damage to the quality of the grain," said J. C. Murray, chairman of the crop improvement committee. "This season a considerable quantity of oats was allowed to stand in the shock 30 days to 45 days, with more or less rain falling from time to time, resulting in stained, stack burned and ground-damaged grains. It is quite probable that the germinating qualities in such instances have been materially effected, and such grain should be thoroughly tested before being used for seed purposes.

"The crop of oats this year is very large, and good oats suitable for seed will be easily obtainable. Farmers should be cautioned against using their stack damaged oats for seed unless germination tests are entirely satisfactory.

"Undoubtedly a great deal of damage to the crop this season might have been avoided by proper handling of the grain after harvesting. Owing to the heavy crop, threshing machines were unable to cover the usual acreage daily, and owing to the failure to stack the grain and desire for shock threshing, a great deal of oats was allowed to remain in the shock during a period of unsettled weather, waiting for the threshers to come around. Proper stacking of large crops should be encouraged, in order to materially lessen losses in quality and quantity due to unsettled weather after harvest."

IMPROVING OAT CROP.

Selecting of the Best Varieties, Disease Resistance and the Use of Seed Plat Recommended.

By C. W. Warburton.
(National Crop Improvement Service.) The unsatisfactory yield and quality of the oat crop in recent years show the necessity for the improvement of this grain. This improvement may be along the lines of disease resistance, strength of straw, earliness, quality, or yield, or several of these may be combined. In any event, yield is the essential basis of selection. Mechanical selection and the introduction of seed from foreign countries or from sections more favorable for the production of the oat crop are but temporary makeshifts. The use of the seed plat usually gives good results, but permanent improvement is best effected by pedigreed strains produced from individual plants. A large number of these selections should be made and tested, the poorer ones discarded, and the very best increased as rapidly as possible. Where one of the pedigreed strains proves of exceptional value it should be widely tested and eventually named and introduced as a new variety.

Farmers who grow oats should make it their business to locate a variety of oats adapted to the soil and climate where it is to be grown. Farmers may locate the best varieties by writing to the experiment station of his state college. While the college may not be able to furnish the seed, sources may be named where it can be secured.

SELECTION OF SEED.

(National Crop Improvement Service.) A plump, heavy kernel will produce a stronger plant and nourish it better than a shrunken, light one, or than one which has size without proportionate weight.

SENATOR RAYNOR DIES.

Man Who Guaranteed a Democratic Majority in Senate Succumbs.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—Isidor Raynor, of Maryland, one of the leading Democratic members of the United States Senate, and a man whose name was offered to the Chicago convention by William J. Bryan as a suitable candidate for the Presidential nomination, died here early today, at the end of a long illness resulting from continued attacks of neuritis.

Senator Raynor had been ill about six weeks, dating from the efforts made in the joint political debate with Bourke Cochran at Baltimore late in September.

His death creates a vacancy in the Senate that probably will be filled by a Republican, through appointment of Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland. While the Legislature of that state is Democratic, it does not meet this winter, and the Republican Governor's appointment will hold throughout the opening sessions of next term.

Senator Raynor's death removes one of the Democrats over whom the control of the Senate depended in the new Congress.

While the Democrats still have an apparent strength of forty-eight, the death of the Maryland Senator reduces the supposed majority to a point very near the dividing line of party control.

Senator Raynor was one of the striking figures of the Senate. He had been a member of that body for almost eight years, and was one of its strongest debaters and a recognized authority on constitutional law.

Before he entered the Senate he had attained a National reputation because of his vigorous conduct of the late Admiral Schley's case before the naval court of inquiry that investigated the action of American officers in the battle with Admiral Cervera's Spanish fleet.

Raynor was a native of Baltimore, and was 62 years old. He was a member of the Maryland Legislature when 28 years old, and served three terms in the National House of Representatives, from 1884 to 1892. He was elected to the United States Senate in 1894, after having a four-year term as attorney general of Maryland.

GRAIN SMUTS.

Use of Formaldehyde Cheapest, and Easiest Applied, and the Most Effective Remedy for Oats, Wheat and Barley Smuts.

By E. M. FREEMAN,
Agricultural Exp. Station, University of Minn.

(National Crop Improvement Service.) The tribute levied by smuts upon the grain crops amounts to millions of dollars a year. The yield of oats is often decreased as much as 20 to 25 per cent. by smut. The smut of barley or oats will not affect wheat; nor will the smut of wheat affect barley or oats.

Among the various chemicals which, applied to seed-grain, will kill the smut spores formalin—a commercial preparation containing 40 per cent, formaldehyde—is said to be the cheapest, the easiest applied and the least dangerous to use. A solution should be made of one pound (one pint) of formalin to 45 gallons of water. This amount will treat about 60 to 100 bushels of wheat and 50 to 75 bushels of oats. If one hasn't a smut-treating machine, a simple method of applying the solution is to spread the seed on the granary floor and spray the solution over it with a common garden sprinkling-can. The solution is not effective at a low temperature, hence the seed should not be treated during cold weather. While the seed is being sprayed, it should be shoveled over and over, until the seed is thoroughly moistened. After the grain has been sprayed, it is a good plan to shovel it into a pile and cover the mass of seed with a few sacks or blankets, so the vapor may act on the smut spores if any have escaped the solution. In an hour the sacks or blankets may be removed and the grain allowed to dry before seeding.

It is usually best to treat seed the day before seeding, but it may be done earlier in the season if desired. When seed is treated some weeks before seeding, it should be allowed to dry thoroughly before storing in bins or sacks. When the seed-grain is stored in bins, after being treated, the bins should be thoroughly swept out and sprinkled with formalin, to avoid infection from smut-spores that may have adhered to the floor and walls of the bin. The drill-box and sacks should likewise be treated, to avoid the re-infection of treated grain.

The formalin treatment will kill stinking smut of wheat, covered smut of barley and loose smut of oats.

OUR MARKET LETTER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 25.—There was not much change in cattle prices here last week, volume of receipts about balancing the demand, 52,000 cattle and 5,300 calves being the size of the run. Some of the markets report a disposition to hurry short-fed cattle forward, though that feature was not prominent here, and trade experts are saying that winter prices will show exceptional strength, particularly after the first of February.

The undertone is stronger than a week ago, and the best-posted dealers fail to see any permanent healing of the cattle shortage in the big shipments of stock cattle and feeders from the markets to the country in the last three months. Shipments from here last week were 23,000 cattle to country points; same week last year, 25,000. Most of the country demand was for light cattle, though Eastern buyers took half-fat steers of value up to $8.65 for a thirty-day feed. Last year the top feeders brought $5.75.

Best stock steers last week sold at $6.90; a year ago, $5.15. Prime steers were lacking after Monday last week, though some good ones brought $10.25 Tuesday. Most of the fed steers sold at $7.00 to $9.40. Colorado and the Southwest sent in a lot of cattle last week, and everything sold at about the season's top prices, beef steers up to $7.35 in car load lots, odd herd $8.00, stockers and feeders $5.00 to $6.90, cows and heifers $4.50 to $6.75, bulls $4.00 to $5.00, veals up to $9.50. Quarantines advanced 10 to 15 cents last week, steers selling at $4.25 to $7.25, cows and heifers $3.50 to $6.00. The run today is 17,000 head, and the market is strong to 10 cents higher, stock cattle and feeders taking the full gain. The week promises well, though the Thanksgiving holiday is usually an adverse influence.

Packers secured temporary control of the hog market Friday and Saturday, depressing prices 15 to 20 cents, but sellers took command again today, and regained 5 cents of the loss. Run is 12,000 today, a large Monday run; top $7.75, bulk $7.50 to $7.70. Eastern states market their hogs about this time every year, and lack of demand from that quarter aids packers ordinarily in getting concessions at this season, as a rule, but that rule is not working good this year, because of the big demand for pork products, and moderate runs in the West.

Sheep and lambs today, 7,000; market 10 to 15 cents higher; lambs up to $7.65. Prices have a buoyant air that promise well for the eight-dollar lamb market predicted for early winter. Best wethers bring $4.60, ewes $3.75 to $4.50, feeding lambs around $6.00.

THANKSGIVING AT SAIGLING'S RANCH.

Saigling's ranch is again the scene of festive activities, this time to the benefit of the Plainview society. Saigling entertained a host of his friends at an elaborate five o'clock dinner on Thanksgiving, and with a dance in the evening.

The guests began to arrive at the ranch on Wednesday, and by afternoon on Thursday more than 25 of the gay crowd were enjoying the general hospitality of the popular host, Mr. Charles Saigling.

Near 5 o'clock in the afternoon the guests were brought together in the dining room, around the beautifully laden table, for the Thanksgiving dinner. The table was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and cut glass.

After dinner, to the happy strains of Jesse's Orchestra, from Amarillo, the whirl of the dance began.

At 10 o'clock luncheon was served again, consisting of turkey and its accompaniments, coffee and cake.

DINNER FOR MISS TIMMONS.

Miss May Timmons, of Amarillo, was honor guest Thanksgiving at a high-noon dinner given by Mrs. Otis Truelove, at her home, on Restriction Street. The other guests were Misses Myrtle Terrell and Hattie Sweeney and Messrs Chas. Rainey, Chas. Russell and Bailey Wilkins.

MRS. CRAWFORD HAS "JUST BOYS"

A Thanksgiving dinner, just a little unusual, was given by Mrs. J. P. Crawford yesterday, at her home, on Restriction Street, in honor of her son, Fred.

Seldom do we hear of "just boys" being given a real turkey dinner all by themselves--allowed to sit down to the table and see the "bird" before it loses its white meat, and the stuffing all pulled out by the "grown-ups"--but this is what Mrs. Crawford did for Fred and his guests.

The lucky boys to enjoy this treat with Fred were Jim and Earl Vaughn, Burk, John Curtis, W. C. Mathes, Jr., Kelly Hooper and Lawrence Armstrong.

Mrs. Crawford was assisted in serving the boys by Miss Clara Hooper.

TRAVEL STUDY CLUB ELECTS NEW MEMBERS.

The Travel Study Club held another interesting meeting Saturday afternoon, in the Club Rooms at the Court House. At this meeting the club completed the study of Norway. Miss Ella C. Mallow was leader for the afternoon.

Immediately after a short business session, the following program was rendered:

"Thirty Minutes' Reading from Stoddard's Lectures.

Paper--"Norway--Old and New"--Mrs. Joe Ryan.

"Characteristics and Customs of Norway"--Mrs. L. Lee Dye.

"Literature of Norway"--Miss Edna Mayhugh.

Round Table--Conducted by leader.

The club received two new members--Mrs. Frank Darsey and Mrs. W. B. Joiner.

"AS-YOU-LIKE-IT" CLUB STUDIES MACBETH.

Friday afternoon of last week Mrs. R. W. Brahan was hostess to the "As-You-Like-It" Club, at her home, 300 East Main Street. The first three scenes of Macbeth were studied, Mrs. J. M. Adams leader for the afternoon. Besides the regular members, Mrs. Brahan had as guests, Mrs. F. N. Catto and Mrs. Rountree. The hostess served a delightful salad course.

Mrs. J. J. Bromley will entertain the club at its next meeting.

FOR MISS TIMMONS.

One of the well-appointed parties of the season was given Monday evening by Mrs. Otis Truelove, at her home, on Restriction Street. Miss May Timmons, of Amarillo, together with about fifty young people from Miss Ansley's Sunday School class was the fortunate guest.

There was not a dull moment during the entire evening. The merry crowd went from one well-planned game to another. The contest on "hem-stitching" was intensely amusing. There was a tie between S. H. Pearson and G. Lynn for first place. Roy Palmer won the "booby."

Mrs. Truelove served refreshments, consisting of bread and butter sandwiches, perminto sandwiches, pickles, tea and angel food cake.

CHICKEN PIE BY CALVARY LADIES.

Calvary Baptist ladies will serve their "First Monday" Chicken Pie Dinner in the vacant building across from the Masonic Temple, southeast corner of the square. (Adv.)
