PLAINVIEW, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1913

NUMBER SIX

What is Plainview doing for Plainview? What are you doing for Plainview? It's "Haying Time."

"CLEAN-UP" WEEK BEGINS FEB. 17

But Many Citizens Are Moving Rubbish Before the Date Set by Mayor Dorsett.

WOMEN'S GREAT WORK

J. L. Dorsett Says Plainview Must Win "Cleanest Town" Prize for 1913.

"Education is better than legislation" is one of the slogans of the clean-up crusaders in Plainview.

Mrs. L. Lee Dye, of the head committee, announced that the work of "clean-up" set for the week beginning February 17 is fast being systematized. A leader or captain for each block has been appointed, and are now working on details of procedure.

"Plainview is going to win the 'Cleanest Town' prize this year," Mayor Dorsett says.

Undoubtedly a cleaner, prettier Plainview will greet visitors to our town after "Clean-Up"—the third week in February.

M. M. Carrick, M. D., medical director of the Hollands Cleanest Town Contest, gives the following in Hollands Magazine for February on club women and town cleaning:

"The influence of the club women and individual women workers throughout this contest can hardly be over-estimated. In every town I found they had taken an active part, and in some of the town a leading part. Down at Gonzales, where the local women's civic league was the inspiring force for the clean-up, I asked a little Mexican boy who was Governor of Texas. He replied that he thought it was either Mrs. J. B. Kennard or Mrs. J. P. Lewis. Those ladies were secretary and president, respectively, of the civic club which put Gonzales at the head of the list. They visited many of the towns in South Texas that were in the contest, and gained information about the progress of other towns in their class throughout the State.

"In Gainesville, where the civic department of the Forty-One Club has done wonders, I found a bell boy of the hotel where I stopped positive that Mrs. Elizabeth Darwin was mayor of the town.

"Everywhere the ladies greeted with enthusiasm the slogan of the contest—'Education is better than legislation.'"

CITY COUNCIL FIXES TAX RATE AT 65c.

Increase of 4c Over 1912 Made Necessary by Voting $22,000 for Streets and Water.

The City Council in meeting Monday night fixed the tax rate for 1913 at 65 cents on the $100. This increase of 4c over last year's rate is made necessary by the voting of $22,000 worth of bonds for street improvement and the extension of water and sewers.

The Council also voted an occupation tax of half the amount of tax imposed by the State of Texas upon all persons, firms or corporations following taxable occupations in Plainview.

It was voted to purchase the adding machine now in the City Secretary's office from the First National Bank at a charge of $150.

Bills amounting to $640.10 were approved, and report showing collection of $206.03 for water and sewer rents during January was accepted.

MRS. DYE PRESIDENT OF CIVIC LEAGUE.

At a meeting of the Civic League Wednesday Mrs. L. Lee Dye was made president; Miss Rosa Fowle, vice president; Mrs. W. R. Hurd, secretary, and Mrs. B. L. Spencer, treasurer.

The constitution of the Civic League is broad—men and women who are interested in a clean town may become members. They are urged to do so. The League meets the first Wednesday afternoon in each month in the rest room at the Court House.

WAR RESUMED IN TURKEY.

Bulgarians Making Desperate Attack on Adrianople; Turks Hard Pressed for Funds.

Peace negotiations have failed for the present, and the allies are bombarding Adrianople, according to a London dispatch by Associated Press. The Bulgarians have been successful in their first operations. It is reported that Bulgarian attack on Gallipoli will be supported by the Greek navy in the Gulf of Saros.

Should the Bulgarians capture the Turkish forts nothing will prevent the Greek fleet from entering the Dardanelles, where a decisive battle with the inferior Turkish fleet will be had, and, if the Turks are defeated, Constantinople will be at the mercy of the allies.

It is reported the Turkish army has captured the important town of Keritza, near Monastir.

No fresh diplomatic moves are being made about peace.

The Turks are hard pressed for money, and are attempting to dispose of the crown jewels.

A sharp engagement began late today on the Tebatalla lines, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. The roar of cannon was plainly audible in the Turkish capital.

The bombardment of Adrianople continues today. During a sortie by Turkish troops from Adrianople today thousands of them were taken prisoners.

RICH-LIER STORE FROM LOCKNEY.

Richards Bros. & Collier moved their Lockney store to Plainview this week. Most of the stock had been disposed of at special sale. This firm will concentrate capital and efforts in the growing Plainview house.

MARY FLETCHER WINS PRIZE

LOCKNEY MAN SECOND

Bargain Monday Brings Many People to Plainview; Greer Trade Heavy.

Mary Fletcher, of Plainview, won the prize of $2 for finding the missing word in a Herald advertisement last week. She claimed the award about 10 o'clock Friday morning. The prize of $1 offered for the second person finding the word was given to A. A. Whyte, from near Lockney.

Mary Fletcher has lived in Plainview about eight years. Mr. Whyte is a teacher near Lockney, and happened to be in Plainview Friday morning. He got hold of a Herald, noticed the offer and immediately began reading Herald advertisements.

The word was omitted from E. R. Williams' copy, and was the word "is." A verb was selected so that there might be no question about missing word being necessary, to make the sentence complete. "The" and "and" were picked out by many readers in numerous advertisements, but it is possible to omit such words in many places, or supply them; consequently these words could not count.

The Herald phone was busy Friday answering persons who were sure they had discovered the right word. Late Friday night a lady called Mrs. C. R. Hairfield to find out if she were entitled to the prize.

Bargain Monday brought many people into Plainview. Most of the merchant seem to think that the plan should be followed up every month. "We didn't do a great deal more business last First Monday than we have before," E. H. Humphreys, of the Donohoo-Ware Hardware Company, said, "but the plan will bring trade when the people get used to it." In this Mr. Humphreys expressed the opinion of a number of merchants. Others sold heavily. W. I. Scudder, of the Scudder Grocer Company, said Wednesday, "I have sold more goods during the past three days than I did all through January." Mr. Scudder believes that Herald advertising pays big dividends.

SENATE VOTES FOR 6-YEAR TERM

Amendment Will Affect Wilson if Adopted by Three-Fourths of States.

HOUSE IS FAVORABLE

Resolution Seems Certain of Passage, and Will Then Be Referred to Legislatures.

To the surprise of many of its own members and of outsiders generally, the Senate Saturday gave just one more vote than the necessary two-thirds in favor of the constitutional amendment limiting the President and Vice President to one term of six years, says a Washington dispatch.

If three-fourths of the states ratify the proposed change during the next four years, Woodrow Wilson will automatically serve two years longer than the term for which he was elected. He will also be ineligible for re-election. The vote was very close. Senator du Pont, of Delaware, gave the deciding vote to the affirmative.

Senator La Follette, for instance, turned up in opposition to the resolution, although its passage would be a long step in the direction of preventing Roosevelt from ever again being President of the United States. On the other hand, Senator Cummins was recorded in the affirmative, while the only Democratic Senator in opposition was Shively, of Indiana. Senators Dixon, of Montana, and Poindexter, of Washington, both ardent supporters of Roosevelt, of course, cast their votes in the negative.

Seventeen Republicans Vote "Aye."

In all, seventeen regular Republicans supported the resolution. Senator du Pont had been paired with Senator Culberson, of Texas, and so announced when he voted, but said he felt free to have himself recorded in the affirmative, because he understood that if the Texas Senator were present he would vote the same way.

There seems to be no doubt but that the House of Representatives will adopt the Weeks resolution or one practically identical with it.

It is also expected that three-fourth of the State Legislatures will be found to be in favor of the constitutional change. Owing to the fact that the constitutional amendments will extend the term of President Wilson two years beyond the four for which he was elected in November last, it is likely there will be a considerable struggle over the ratification of the amendment and that a vast amount of politics will be played in connection with the settlement of the question.

This fact is thought to have weakened the chance of the adoption of the resolution in the Senate, and when the Senate took a recess last night, many well-informed Senators gave it as their judgment that the resolution could not be adopted. That they had reason for this adverse view was demonstrated by the closeness of the vote.

How They Voted.

Senators who supported the single-term resolution on its final passage were:

Democrats—Ashurst, Bankhead, Bryan, Chamberlain, Chilton, Clarke of Arkansas, Fletcher, Gardner, Hitchcock, Johnson, Johnston of Alabama, Kavanaugh, Kern, Newlands, Overman, Owen, Payater, Percy, Perky, Pomerene, Simmons, Smith of Arizona, Smith of Georgia, Smith of Maryland, Swanson, Thomas, Thornton and Williams.

Republicans—Brandagee, Brown, Burnham, Burton, Catron, Clark of Wyoming, Cummins, Dillingham, Du Pont, Gamble, Guggenheim, McCumber, Nelson, Pearse, Perkins, Smoot, Sutherland, Wetmore and Works.

Against the resolution:

Republicans—Borah, Bourne, Bradley, Bristow, Curtis, Gallinger, Jackson, Jones, Kenyon, La Follette, Lipsett, Lodge, McLean, Oliver, Page, Richardson, Sanders, Stevenson and Townsend.

Progressives—Clapp, Dixon and Poindexter.

Democrats—Shively.

Prof. H. P. Peters, of Lockney, who has been on a business trip to Tyler and other points, returned home Wednesday.

"DEEP TILLING SAVES MOISTURE"

Trinidad, Colorado, Farmer Tells of Experiments in Irrigated and Dry Farming.

SOIL HAS PERSONALITY

Must Suit Cultivation to Needs of Land, He Says; Would Grow Trees.

J. N. Gibbs, of Trinidad, Colo., installed two Spalding deep tilling machines on Dr. Scott's ranch last week. Mr. Gibbs has these plows going six-teen inches deep, and he explains that the best results will be achieved if they do not cut a furrow more than 8 inches wide.

"I have five deep tilling machines on my own farm," Mr. Gibbs said, "and I prefer the use of all the power for depth instead of width. About all you need after ploughing this deep is to harrow your land or disc it."

Mr. Gibbs believes in deep tilling. Of course, he agrees that soil has a personality, and that for the best results a farmer must adapt cultivation to his soil. He has been experimenting with an irrigated farm and a dry farm near Trinidad for three years. For all of those three years he has been able to produce on the dry farm, with an average of only fourteen inches of rainfall, better than the average crop in his section grown on irrigated farms.

"Two years ago I made an experiment in deep tilling," Mr. Gibbs said. "One piece of ground I ploughed eight inches deep; another piece twelve inches deep. Both tracts were planted to beans and given the same cultivation. About the time these beans started growing drought set in and continued for six weeks. At the end of four weeks the beans on the tract of ground which had been ploughed only eight inches deep were beginning to die and the leaves were curling up. On the hand which had been ploughed twelve inches deep there was no distress.

This drought continued two weeks longer, and on the first piece of ground the blooms were dropping; it was not so on the piece of land which had been ploughed deeply. At harvest time we threshed 1,500 pounds of beans; to the acre on the deeper tilled land; the ground which had been ploughed eight inches produced less than 600 pounds to the acre."

Mr. Gibbs says he is trying to find out how deeply land must be ploughed to withstand a ten-week drought; ten weeks will allow sufficient time to mature any crop. Conditions around Trinidad, he says, are much the same as on the South Plains. Wind is the great enemy.

Tree planting, Mr. Gibbs thinks, will do much to break the force of the wind and will reduce evaporation. He says tree planting will be of incalculable worth to the South Plains.

Mr. Gibbs is working on a plough of his own, or a system of ploughs, which he thinks will better suit the needs of the Trinidad country and the Plains than the Spalding deep tilling machine. He hopes to have one of these ploughs on exhibition in Plainview within sixty or ninety days, and suggests that he would like to make Plainview an assembling point for the manufacture of his machine.

Plough the land deeply in the fall if you want to plant it the following spring; likewise plough in the spring what you want to plant in the fall, is Mr. Gibbs' idea.

ILLINOISAN LIKES PLAINVIEW.

Scott Gail, of Oregon, Illinois, is spending some time on the South Plains, prospecting and visiting his daughter, Mrs. T. C. Shepard. Mr. Gail likes this country very much. He says, "With the irrigation possibilities around Plainview, and the opportunity to secure another railroad, Plainview certainly ought to make a city."

BISHOP TEMPLE TO PREACH.

Bishop Temple, of Amarillo, will hold service at the Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Holy communion will be administered.

THERE IS NO PEACE.

Equilibrium does not exist. Individuals grow or decay; just so towns, cities, nations move forward or die.

Commercial supremacy follows the siezing of an opportunity. "Eternal vigilance" is a hackneyed expression; but it is no less the price of prize-winning than it was in another century.

That town wins most which works hardest for most, and works every day. The town which "sleeps at its post" is no less a traitor to its trust than is the individual who sleeps when the call of duty is upon him. But somebody must lead. "What is everybody's business is nobody's business." The most effective force for leadership is a live Commercial Club—the progressive citizenship of a town welded into an invincible unit. No town has grown continuously or reached any industrial proportions which did not have an active Chamber of Commerce.

A Chamber of Commerce is just as active as its membership; and the activity of a membership depends upon its leaders.

Are you a member of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce? Do you stand for industrial advancement; for civic improvement; for railroads and factories; for more intensive farming and better live stock production; for schools and homes? Do you expect these to come without a sustained and directed effort every day to improve existing conditions?

The hour is filled with opportunity for commercial supremacy to Plainview. Hours pass quickly, and—passing—do not return.

The time set by Judge Decker for a proposition concerning the Q. A. & P. R'y. is already half gone. The task is not yet half completed.

Plainview will prove herself larger than this opportunity if some individual citizen does not show himself too small.

What Plainview may make of the future will depend largely upon how the citizenship handles the present proposition.

A. & M. COLLEGE DISMISSES 466

Students Become Insubordinate When Fellows Are Not Reinstated, and Wholesale Suspension Follows.

RESULTS OF HAZING

Freshmen Alleged to Have Been Punished for Refusal to Provide Christmas Trees.

An order striking the names of 466 students from the rolls of the Agricultural and Mechanical College was entered on the faculty minutes of the institution Saturday, according to advices from Bryan. These students are charged with insubordination. They strapped freshmen, it is charged, because the "freshies" refused to give a Christmas tree to the upper classmen.

Tuesday of last week twenty-two students were dismissed. Friday five more were dismissed. The students dismissed were sophomores and juniors. A petition demanding their reinstatement, and signed by 466 students, was presented to the faculty. These young men admitted to hazing, and said that if their fellows were not reinstated they would attend no academic duties.

Governor Colquitt has endorsed the action of the authorities of the A. & M. College, and says it would be better to close the school than to fail to enforce discipline. This he said in answer to a telegram received Monday afternoon from Hon. Walton Petzet, president of the A. & M. board of directors. Before hearing from Mr. Petzet the Governor refused to discuss the subject with members of the Legislature other than to say that he believed in upholding the authorities.

As a consequence of the trouble at the college, a bill to prohibit hazing will be offered in the Senate tomorrow by Senator C. W. Nugent, of Montgomery County, and it will probably also be offered in the House.

ELK LODGE OPENS FINE NEW HOME

Many Visitors Attend Reception and Ball; Most Brilliant in Plainview's History.

COLLIER LEADS GRAND MARCH

Purple and White Carried out in Decorations; American Beauty Roses for Favors.

The Elks Lodge No. 1175 opened their handsome new home on Tuesday evening, with a reception and ball, the most brilliant social affair ever given in Plainview.

The spacious rooms were decorated in purple and white—colors so dear to the heart of a good Elk. American Beauty roses, carnations and ferns were massed in every available space. Programs for the exercises and for dancing were artistically carried out in the lodge colors and emblems.

Three hundred or more arriving guests were received at the lower entrance by a committee of members, and again welcomed by a receiving line in the parlors, where American Beauty roses were presented to the ladies.

Punch and cakes were served throughout the evening.

At ten o'clock the ball was opened with the grand march, lead by Es-timated Leading Knight D. R. Collier and wife.

The Plainview orchestra of eight pieces furnished the music.

There were many visiting Elks and their ladies from Lubbock, Slaton, Canyon, Lockney, Floydada, Clovis, Amarillo, Hale Center and surrounding country.

The following program was given early in the evening:

Overture—"The Conquerors" (King) Orchestra.

Address of Welcome—Jas. E. DeLay.

Fraternal Greeting—Secretary G. E. Hunt, Amarillo Lodge.

Vocal Solo—"Christina" (Penn)—Miss Mabel Wayland; Miss Hattie Hut-ton, accompanist.

Reading—Miss Kathrine Duckworth. Viola Solo—"H. Trevatore" (Verdi)—Mrs. Grady Popkin; Mrs. David Collier, accompanist.

Reading—Miss Leaa Williams.

The Elk Building was completed early in the winter. It is furnished in mission throughout. Most of the furnishings were supplied by E. R. Williams. The building, complete, cost nearly $20,000.

SAYS SOUTH PLAINS HAS GREAT FUTURE.

Gulf Coast Visitor Thinks Shallow Water Belt is "Land of Opportunity;" Should Plant Trees.

C. D. Roberts, of Palacios, Texas, was a visitor in Plainview today. He is much pleased with the appearance of things on the South Plains.

"You have a great agricultural country here," Mr. Roberts said. "The wind and cold weather bother you some, but when your highways are lined with trees the wind wont be noticed nearly so much. By all means grow trees." Mr. Roberts used to live in Kansas, and found out by experience what tree-planting means to a prairie country.

This is a better country than South-east Texas, Mr. Roberts thinks. He says that they have no advantages over us except that they may grow vegetables while we are having cold weather. On the other hand, land "in the brush" in Southeast Texas costs $150 to $200 an acre. You then depend upon getting water from the irrigation ditch, and must pay for that. On the South Plains you buy land at prices ranging from $13 to $50 an acre, put down a pumping plant to cost $1,500 up to $3,000 for a 160-acre tract, and you are independent.

Miss Wilma Mills, who has been in Plainview some weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Peret, was called home, to Skidmore, Mo., Tuesday on account of the illness of her mother.

YEAR BOOK of Stark Bro's Nurseries & Orchards Co. MAILED TO YOU FREE

Just say on a Postal Card: "Send me a copy of Stark Year Book for 1913." When writing, also tell us how many trees, shrubs, vines, etc., you will probably plant this season.

This Year Book is more than a mere catalogue of Stark nursery products, it is a practical, easy to understand text book for the guidance of the man who plants trees. Our own experience of nearly 100 years, the reports of experiment stations and the opinions of planters from all sections are condensed and reproduced for the benefit of busy people. An encyclopedia of orchard information, containing full size color illustrations of gloriously tinted fruits and many photographic reproductions in black and white; also information on many subjects in which the orchardist is interested.

Hundreds of varieties of apples, pears, peach, plum, cherry, apricot, quince, grape and all small fruits are described; weaknesses of each variety are pointed out and good points are explained. We feel that planters should know both.

Those interested in growing fruits or flowers or shrubs or shade trees will find this book of inestimable value; totally different from the average nurseryman's publications. It is a book you will keep for reference, and one on which you can depend as being absolutely accurate. Write today for your copy.

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS OF LAST WEEK.

A solid gold plate bearing an engraved invitation from the Highways Templar to the late President McKinley to attend a triennial conclave in San Francisco is now displayed in a New York pawnshop. It was sold by Mrs. Mabel McKinley Baer, vaudeville singer and a niece of the late President, for $700. Baer, who is a nephew of the coal baron, says his wife sold it because "she was tired of having it around the house." She inherited $130,000 from McKinley.

James Thorpe, a Sac and Fox Indian and champion all-round athlete of the world, has admitted that he played ball for money in Winston-Salem, N. C., and consequently is not entitled to the honors he won at the Olympian games last summer in Sweden. These and all other prizes recently won by Thorpe as an amateur must be returned and the men finishing second to him will be declared winners. Several big League ball teams have been trying to get Thorpe to sign contracts and, now that he has been barred as an amateur, he will probably go into professional baseball.

New York women who are trying to reduce the high cost of living have purchased 12,000 fresh eggs, which they are selling below the price asked by retailers. On each egg is pasted a slip, "Votes for women." A dozen of the eggs have been sent by parcel post to Governor Sulzer, and another dozen to President-elect Wilson.

Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, 92 years old, and hero of Gettysburg, was arrested by the New York City Sheriff on a warrant charging him with being $23,000 short as custodian of a State fund raised for monuments. He received a telegram at the hour of his arrest from Helen D. Longstreet, widow of General Longstreet, of the Confederate army, telling him that the men who fought against him in the Civil War would raise the money to make good his shortage. Other offers of contributions are pouring in on him, and it is expected that the shortage will be made good from these sources.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has issued a general order that all postal equipment must be painted a bright red. This includes all wagons, street boxes and free delivery vehicles. Rural route drivers are dismayed by the order, as they expect to be chased by every bull they meet in the road.

The price of sugar has dropped again, and 21 pounds for a dollar is the retail price. Another cut is expected, by which the price will be reduced so that 25 pounds for a dollar can be sold.

Stuart J. Fuller, U. S. Consul in the Putmayo rubber district of Peru, has reported to the State Department that he has not been able to learn much of alleged atrocities in that country on a recent investigation because of spies employed by the rubber trust who intimidated the Indian workmen and induced them to keep silent. However, his report strongly arraigns the rubber trust for practically enslaving the natives.

William E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, gave testimony before a Congressional committee which was so favorable to the Government that it looked as if he had some animosity toward the corporation of which he is head. In answer to a question he said that one-fourth of his fortune is invested in the steel corporation. He admits that he retired from the presidency because of friction with Chairman E. H. Gary.

Harry L. Bailey, of Cynthia, Ky., defeated Republican candidate for Congress, was killed by Newton Arnold after a quarrel about business matters.

Attorney General Wickersham was criticised by Judge Meek, of the Federal Court of Dallas, Texas, which declared it was a new thing for the head of an executive department in Washington to protect men indicted by a Federal grand jury. He referred to the indictment of John D. Archbold, head of the Standard Oil Co., and Wickersham's opinion that the evidence on which the indictment was found was too weak. A new warrant for Archbold has been issued.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in opening a campaign against the social evil, said he considered men to be largely to blame for existing conditions. In his opinion, most of the girls who go astray would lead good lives if they had a chance to support themselves comfortably. The campaign is to be extensive, with headquarters in New York, where the Bureau of Social Hygiene will have charge.

The British Cabinet has dropped the franchise bill, a decided setback to the suffragette cause. This action was taken because the measure had been so changed by amendments that the Cabinet thought a new bill should be prepared. Two thousand policemen surrounded the House of Commons when the announcement was made, to quell and outbreak of militant suffragettes. Rioting has been renewed, and 31 suffragettes were jailed in one day.

Dr. Friederich Friedman, of Berlin, is on his way to New York to try his cure for consumption on Rex Lee Paris, son-in-law of Charles E. Finlay, president of the Aetna National Bank, who offers a million dollars if the cure is shown to be effective. On the same steamer, a rival tuberculosis vaccine is being sent from the Pierkowski laboratory, Berlin, for Paris, who is staying at Saranac Lake, N. Y., for his health. There is considerable interest in this race for a fortune, but doctors are skeptical about either cure being efficacious.

Guards and strikers fought at the Rankin plant of the American Steel Co., near Pittsburg. One man was killed and twelve wounded as the result of a riot which lasted several hours. The strikers are foreigners who are paid 19 cents an hour for 10 hours a day, and are striking for an increase to 30 cents an hour.

Bishop William Boyd Carpenter, of the Baptist Episcopal Church, who is lecturing at Harvard University, says he does not see any reason why women should not smoke if they wish, and men are selfish if they wish to hold a monopoly on the use of tobacco.

Army engineers have wired the War Department that closing the levee crevasse near Greenville, Miss., is not possible until low water next summer. Not less than 1,000 square miles of cotton land are inundated.

Pastors belonging to the St. Louis E. angelical Alliance have adopted a resolution against the proposed "home rule" bills for large cities of Missouri. The pastors say they will send a committee to Jefferson City to protest against the bills, which they regard as an effort to open the saloons on Sunday.

Clarence Jesse Miller, 7 years old, made the trip from Bangor, Cal., to St. Louis, Mo., alone last September safely, but was killed by a motor truck while crossing Cass Avenue on an errand for his mother last Monday. The driver of the truck stopped after knocking the boy down and a man riding with him jumped off. The driver understood this man to tell him to move up a little. He did so and killed the boy by running a wheel of the truck over his head.

An effort is being made in East St. Louis, Ill., to raise $10,000 for the families of three firemen—Lieut. Conners, Joseph Cronies and Fred Ford—who were killed when the Elks' Building was destroyed. A week before the fire, the City Council passed an ordinance giving widows of firemen killed on duty half the husband's salary as long as they remain widows. The mother of Cronies, from whom he had been estranged from 11 years on account of her remarrying after the death of Cronies' father, came from Chicago and obtained a replevin writ for the body of her son. The funeral of the three men was public, with all business suspended for two hours and delegations from the police and fire departments of neighboring cities attending.

Lieut. Joseph L. Wier, formerly of East St. Louis, Ill., has been arrested at Sheridan, Wyo., charged with stealing dresses from Capt. J. S. Cecil. Lieut. Wier and wife occupied the quarters of Capt. Cecil at Fort McKenzie while the Cecils were absent.

Mrs. Louis J. Tichacek, of St. Louis, Mo., has nine sons. Three of them have married young women employed at the Tichacek home, and the six others will do the same if they follow the advice of their mother. She says she selects housegirls with a view to their becoming wives for her boys, and requires them to serve five years before she gives her consent to the marriage. Since the story was published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, hundreds of girls have called Mrs. Tichacek by telephone and applied for positions. In fact, these calls have become so numerous the family has little rest.

MARKETS WANT PANHANDLE CATTLE.

"Corn Belt" Feeders Take Plains-Bred Cattle at Prices Above Market; Demand Strong.

Berkeley Dawson, of Higgins, Texas, shipped seven cars of New Mexico bred Hereford, coming-three-year-old steers to Kansas City about the middle of January, which sold on the market there Monday, January 20th, at $7.25. They weighed 750 pounds each. Later that week prices of stock cattle and feeders went to smash, and sales late in the week were called 25 to 50 cents lower by yard traders.

Mr. Dawson had seven more cars of the same steers back that he wanted to have on the market the following Monday. He wisely disregarded the break in prices, knowing that corn belt farmers and grazers quit asking questions when thin Panhandle cattle are offered to them, especially if they show Hereford breeding in their faces.

The second shipment repeated the performance of their mates, selling at the same price, $7.25, they averaging 738 pounds. There was nothing extraordinary about these steers. In fact, they did not have over-much outcome, but the fact that they were "Panhandles," together with their white faces, was enough to set the break of the previous week at naught.

On the same day the last shipment was at Kansas City, Baldwin & Broom, Memphis, sold six cars of 705-pound steers there at $7.05. Panhandle cattlemen require almost superhuman firmness to keep from selling their herds down too closely, but they know it will pay them to conserve their breeding stock, in view of the known scarcity of cattle that is sure to last at least five or six years.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY TO BE POULTRY DAYS.

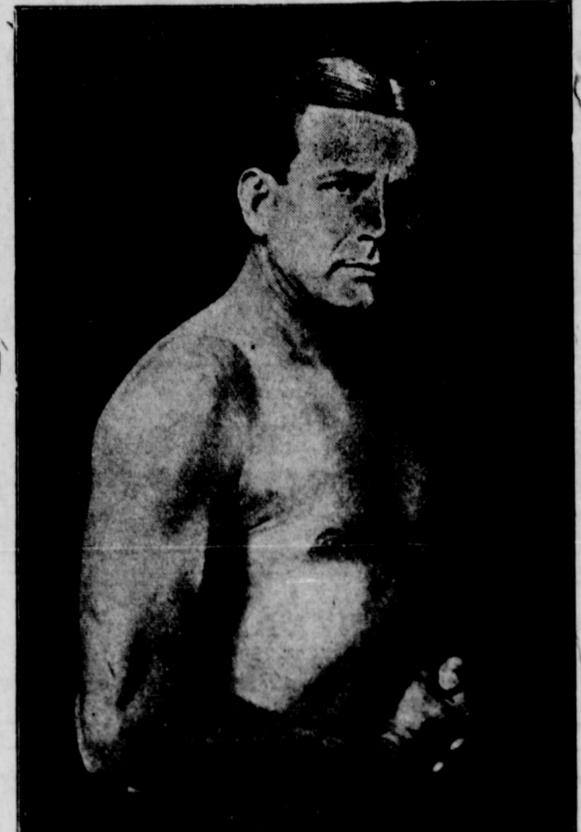

Dawson Produce Company Want Carload of Chickens, Turkeys Ducks and Geese.

Dawson Produce Company will load a car of poultry at Plainview Monday and Tuesday. A. B. Evans, representing the produce company, was in town Monday, making arrangements for shipping.

Mr. Evans says the Dawson Produce Company shipped the first carload ever loaded out of Plainview, January of last year. They have shipped out four cars from Plainview, Lockney and Floydada during the last year.

Mr. Evans thinks that poultry raising will become one of the great industries of the South Plains.

HORSE HOLDS HIS OWN.
Automobile Is Not Displacing Him from the Farm; Numbers Increase.

The introduction of the automobile on farms of the United States has not displaced the horse or mule, according to the latest estimate of the number of horses and mules on farms on January 1 of this year, made by the Department of Agriculture. There are more horses than for any previous year except 1909 and 1910, and more mules than ever before. Horses and mules are of greater value than ever before with the exception of 1911. The number of horses increased over last year 58,000, and mules increased 24,000.

While the number of beasts of burden on the farm increased, the number of food animals decreased. Milch cows decreased 202,000 since January 1, 1912; other cattle decreased 1,230,000; sheep decreased 880,000, and swine decreased 4,232,000. An average value per head compared with 1912, horses increased $4.83, mules $3.80, milch cows $5.63, other cattle $5.16, sheep 48 cents, swine $1.86. In total value, the increases were: Horses, $105,528,000; mules, $9,588,000; milch cows, $107,369,000; other cattle, $159,581,000; sheep, $21,609,000, and swine, $79,781,000.

The total value of all farm animals increased $943,865,000, or 9.9 per cent, over 1912.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN
Who are "Just Ready to Drop."
When you are "Just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an ironclad guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

WOMAN'S PROPERTY BILL IS ENGROSSED.

New Law Gives Wives Control of Earnings and Separate Estates.

The House of Representatives at Austin passed to engrossment the married woman's equal property rights bill by a viva voce vote Saturday. All amendments were rejected, except one by Mr. Buchanan, providing that the wife may contract for and have control and disposition of her separate property, but otherwise may make no contract save with the consent of her husband.

The bill, as engrossed, provides that all property of the husband before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent and increase thereof, shall be her separate property, and that during marriage the husband shall have sole management, control and disposition of his separate property, and the wife similar control of her separate property.

All property acquired by either husband or wife during marriage, save that acquired by gift, devise or descent, shall be common property, and during the coverture may be disposed of by the husband only, except the personal earnings of the wife and the income from her separate property, which may be disposed of by the wife alone.

"Provided, However—"

It is provided, however, that the separate property of the husband shall not be subject to debts contracted by the wife, either before or after marriage, except for necessities furnished to herself or children after her marriage to him. It is furthermore provided that the written consent of the husband shall be necessary to a lease, incumbrance or conveyance by the wife of lands belonging to her as her separate property, but that upon refusal of husband to give such consent the District Court may, upon satisfactory proof that such conveyance would be advantageous to the interests of the wife, grant her permission for the conveyance or incumbrance without the consent of the husband. It is provided that the separate property of the wife shall never be liable for debts contracted by the husband, but that the jointure of husband and wife shall be required for disposition of homestead, whether same shall have been separate or community property.

BEGINNER AT 67, MAKES MARKET FOR HIS PRODUCT.

"Worn-Out Preacher" Wins Fortune and Fame in 13 Years of Digging in Soil.

"If you grow something for which there is no sale, create a market," is the motto which has made success for the Rev. C. S. Y. Harrison, of York, Neb., in 13 years, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Harrison was 67 years old when he found himself a worn-out preacher and broke. At 80 years he is the "grand old man of flowers," has an ample fortune and is the most active man of his age in his section. He modestly says that he has done no more than any other man can accomplish if he engages in work that he likes.

In 1844 Harrison, a boy of 12, found himself in Chicago with a sick father and a worn-out mother. Some time later the family moved to a farm 25 miles from that city, and here the young man stayed until he was 21, working with his father. He fitted himself for college in Chicago, and then went to Beloit. In 1858 he went to Minnesota as a Congregational home missionary. In 1859 he married and went to housekeeping in a log cabin with just enough floor in it for a bed and a table to rest upon. The balance of the room was floored with earth.

Worn Out at 67.

In 1862 he moved to Illinois, and later became field secretary of the Congregational Educational Society at Boston. In 1871 he went to York, Neb., where he has since resided.

"At the age of 67 my church nerves were entirely worn out," says Harrison. "My life had been a sacrifice. The wolf was at the door."

"What show had an old preacher? Merchants don't advertise for such to be clerks. Business firms don't want him—he is a sucked orange—juice all gone. I had been too busy to make money. I did not have money enough to build a comfortable home.

"I decided to go into horticulture—ornamental horticulture," says Harrison. "Years before, while in Massachusetts, I had studied this a little as a side line. I visited the parks and nurseries and the private grounds of the rich. I pumped the nurserymen dry and absorbed all the knowledge on this line I could." Harrison went at his ornamental shrubbery scheme. He worked night and day. He took up the culture of bull pine trees, and soon had the finest stock in the country, but the evergreen did not sell well. So Harrison wrote a small book on the subject, had it published and thereafter his trade flourished.

Creates His Markets.

He became interested in peonies and obtained more than 100 varieties. But again he did not find a market, so he made one. He wrote a "peony manual," which ran through two editions, and his peonies went out by the thousands.

He bred a special line of phlox and has made a success of that flower, which was a stranger to the trans-Missouri country because of the climate. At present he is engaged in developing the iris, which he thinks is the flower of the future for this country.

Among horticulturists all over the country Harrison is known as the "Grand Old Man of the Flowers." In Nebraska he is known as the preacher who, when he got old, was turned out to die, but who surprised everybody by turning around and making such a success in business as to make him the envy of thousands of younger men who can never hope to reach the position which this old man made for himself after he was 67 years old.

SALOONS TO CLOSE EARLY.

If reports from Austin be true, the Legislature by large majority will require that saloons be closed much earlier in the evening than now. We shall watch with interest this shortening of the hours for tipping.

Perchance the Twentieth century American is so steeped in ideas of "personal liberty" that he would secure the right to consume liquor at any sort—while he may permit his right "cut out" after evening hours grow long. And, little by little, he may be weaned away from the dram-shop.

If so 'tis well. We watch with interest the growing conscience that the whiskey traffic is an evil without right except as artificially granted by law. We shall rejoice when its corpse may be hidden away and manhood shall reign.

THE INCOME TAX.

With the ratification by the Wyoming Legislature of the Federal income tax, the amendment become a law. There yet remains to be made formal announcement by the Secretary of State at Washington. Thus, three years after the proposed change passed the National Congress, does America make the first radical departure from the plans proposed by the fathers for securing revenue.

The income tax is to be collected against private incomes of $5,000 and above. Men most familiar with facts estimate that it will produce more than $100,000,000 a year. The Democrats seem to have come into possession of an effective means of making up the deficit which tariff revision might produce.

There is little objection to the income tax, per se. It is only a question of enforcing the law. And that will perhaps prove more difficult than the enforcement of many existing statutes.

INCOME TAX IS NOW EFFECTIVE

Necessary Majority Completed Monday, When Wyoming Legislature Ratifies Amendment.

PASSED CONGRESS IN 1909

Secretary of State Will Announce Change in Constitution; Expect $100,000,000 Will Be Realized.

Both Houses of the Wyoming Legislature ratified the income tax amendment to the Federal constitution Monday. This completes the necessary two-thirds majority to put the amendment into effect. The United States Congress will now pass laws for collecting the income tax. Private incomes of $5,000 and up are taxable.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—The provision authorizing an income tax as now made a part of the Federal constitution will be known as the "Sixteenth Amendment," and reads as follows:

Art. XVI.—The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the states, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

Probably the most important aspect of an income tax, as now authorized by the constitution, is that it adds a new source of revenue for the Government. At present the two great sources of Government revenue are customs duties levied by tariff acts on goods imported from foreign countries, and internal revenue on tobacco, spirits, oleomargarine and certain other articles. Each of these sources at present produces a little less than half of the total revenues of the government.

In 1911 the total Government revenues were $700,100,906, and of this customs duties yielded $313,846,269, while internal revenue taxes yielded $331,759,375. The remainder came from sales of public lands, the corporation tax and various sources. Under the income tax, however, a new and far-reaching source of revenue is provided for the Government, and this will in turn reduce the amounts required from the other sources of revenue, customs and internal revenue, in order to meet the expenses of the Government. This last phase is likely to have an important bearing on tariff legislation as hereafter enacted. It is estimated that the income tax will yield $100,000,000 annually.

Before the enactment formally becomes a part of the Constitution, today's action of the Legislature must be transmitted to the Secretary of State at Washington and proclamation of the ratification made.

The first official step toward amending the constitution so as to authorize specifically an income tax was taken by the Senate on July 7, 1909. By unanimous vote that body adopted a resolution submitting this amendment to the Legislatures of the respective states. Only a few days later, on July 12, the House passed the resolution, by a vote of 317 to 14.

In 1910 Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky,

Maryland, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas and South Carolina voted to ratify the amendment.

In 1911 Arkansas, California, Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee, South Dakota, Washington and Wisconsin gave their approval.

In 1912 Arizona, Louisiana and Minnesota voted for ratification. Thus 34 states had acted affirmatively on the proposal. Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Utah by this time had rejected the amendment.

The Outlook for Plainview

It looks to us that Plainview is on the eve of great improvements and prosperity.

The people of the U. S. have their eyes this way.

Everybody is talking Plainview; this spring and summer we look to see more of them do like we did, MOVE TO PLAINVIEW!

We --as most of the readers know--bought the Montgomery-Lash Grocery and want all the people of Plainview to keep their eyes on our store, just like outsiders are watching Plainview.

We are doing our DEAD LEVEL BEST, giving our business our whole time, adding to our stock so that it will be second to none in quality, systemizing our service and studying your needs to give you the best and nothing but the best in the grocery line.

To the people who have tried us, we want to thank you and assure you that we appreciate your trade.

To those who have not tried us, we guarantee satisfaction and hope you will give us a trial.

Our business is new in Plainview, but we are old in the grocery business. In fact we know more about this business than anything else except to eat. Ask any of these people that came from Mart or McGregor about us, they know us like you will some day.

We study our business; we work our business; we want your business; give us a trial.

HOW SETH WARD COLLEGE HELPS PLAINVIEW.

We have headed this article as we have in order to avoid generalities and in order that its application may be specific. The same benefits doubtless accrue from Wayland Baptist College, and would accrue from any similar school. And we are not writing this either to heap praise to ourselves or to satisfy the curious-minded or critical; for the critical can always find more of bad than of good in anything. We simply want to let the friends and patrons of Seth Ward know, as they have a right to know, something of the condition of the school, and to call attention to several facts of which many people are entirely oblivious.

Financially. We will discuss the least important one first—financial benefits. Nevertheless this is the one most talked about.

Many of the readers of this paper know more of the financial struggles of Seth Ward College than we do, and to those who have done so nobly in saving the school to Plainview and to the Methodist Church, we lift our hat. However, there are those who consider a school as purely a money-getting machine from which there are no returns. But let us figure a little. And these are less than conservative figures, as we believe you will agree.

There are at present two hundred and five students enrolled at Seth Ward. For easy calculation, we will use two hundred. Twenty-eight of these get free tuition, leaving one hundred and seventy-two who pay tuition. One hundred of these live in and near Plainview, leaving one hundred that we may class as boarding students. You will notice in our catalogue that every student pays fifty-seven ($57.00) dollars, including fees and tuition. Multiplying 172 by $57, we have $9,804.00. Estimating the board of those who stay in the dormitories and those who board in private homes at an average of $15.00 per month, each student of the hundred would pay $135.00 per school term. Multiplying this by the one hundred students, we have $13,500.00. The twenty-eight who get free tuition pay fees of $7.00 each, and this amounts to $196.00. Allowing that each of the hundred out-of-town students only spend $50.00 each for incidentals, such as books, laundry, etc., would make $5,000.00, and adding all of these items, we have $28,500.00. You will observe that we have not considered the special departments and have counted them as regular students. Those who have attended college, or have sent children to college, know that these are very conservative estimates. And this money is spent in Plainview. Some of the teachers live here, and those who do not spend their money here.

But some one may say that the local students would spend their money here even if they did not go to Seth Ward. We do not think that is true; for, while the money might remain here, it would not be put into circulation. There is no other institution that so widely distributes its funds as does a school. We patronize the farmer, who sells us produce and feed, the plumber, the blacksmith, barber, laundryman, hardware store, grocer, drygoodsman, druggist, doctor and banker. The lawyer is about the only man in town that has a legitimate business who would starve to death if dependent upon a Christian college for business.

Again, it might be asked whether we are really getting this, or is it just due. We will state that, for the term closing at Christmas, we have collected more than ninety-six per cent of what was due, and that the remainder is covered by god notes. We are striving to put the school upon a self-supporting basis in every branch, and we believe that it will be there within another prosperous year; for, aside from necessary improvements that have been made, we are running upon a self-sustaining basis now.

When we assumed control, last June, we found the premises in good condition, but as to finances there was nothing except a few debts. Since then, in the way of improvements, we have restocked with chickens, hogs, horses and a cow. Additions have been made to the lots, barns, etc. A pit for vegetables, produce, etc., has been dug, and a new water reservoir has been put to the windmill. The large wooden posts in the auditorium have been supplanted with small iron ones, and the auditorium has been re-seated with handsome oak pews.

In connection with the financial side of our work, we will say that at the recent meeting of the Pastors' Institute and Missionary Rally, which convened at Hale Center, a resolution was unanimously adopted to make the first Sunday in March Seth Ward College Day throughout the district, and to follow that immediately with a campaign for raising the endowment fund.

Socially and Intellectually. The social and intellectual advantages of a college are more readily recognized and conceded, since they are not measured in dollars and cents.

First of all, our teachers are graduates of the best schools of the South, and their association with students and citizens is helpful. The college boy or girl thinks and talks about subjects that are altogether foreign to the mind of the average boy or girl who is not in school. The aim of the smaller college, such as Seth Ward, is to train for the larger schools and to inspire a desire to attend them. In fact, the general atmosphere coming from the several departments of art, expression, music, literary society and academic work is healthful, and tends to create a desire to know something of, and be a part of, that broader and larger world "out yonder," of which the students of today will soon be a part. And we would not forget to call attention to the entertainments, public programs, and lyceum numbers that are furnished by the college, and which have no equal or likeness in any other entertainments in Plainview.

And, aside from its financial value, some of the best class of citizens have come here because of school advantages, and others are coming. The very fact that Plainview is a school town gives it a good name. A new railroad would help Plainview tremendously, and we wish it had several, but a railroad will not bring half so desirable a class of citizens as will a college. Just compare Plainview with a railroad town, and you will note the contrast.

Morally and Religiously. A Christian college stands for the best, morally and religiously. William Jennings Bryan has said that the social problems of America must be solved by the smaller Christian colleges, and he meant by that statement that in sociology we have problems that cannot be solved except by raising the moral standard and establishing the rising generation in the principles of Christianity. The present generation must be supplanted by a better informed one. The greatest writers upon sociological questions in America say that the cancer-like gnawings of socialism and anarchy, the deception of Christian Science, and the continual upheavals of the laboring masses will never be settled except by the Church of Jesus Christ.

As to morals, no one has so good an opportunity, aside from the parent, to discuss problems of morality and shape the lives of the young men and the young women as has the Christian teacher. And oftentimes we teacher find that we have the privilege and duty of imparting information along moral lines which the parents, either from false modesty or neglect, have failed to impart. Morals are inseparable from religion, and the greatest auxiliary of the church in forwarding Christianity is the Christian college.

And it is to a few members of the Methodist Church and citizens of Plainview that Seth Ward owes its existence. We solicit the support of every one. We are glad that there is another sister and rival school in the town that is doing a similar work. We hope the citizens of this section will help it and help Seth Ward. We are the best advertisers that Plainview has—not only by our very presence here, but by the literature that we send out and by the personal letters that we write. We are a part of Plainview, and we wish to do our part in forwarding its interests.

SENATE WILL PASS 9:30 CLOSING LAW.

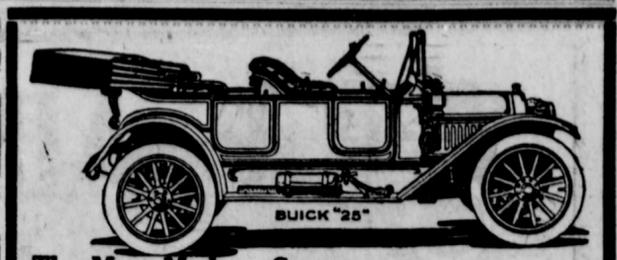

House Would Also Restrict Sale of Liquor; Preferential Primary Favored.

Liquor legislation occupied most of the time of the Legislature Tuesday, says J. A. Fernandez in a letter to The Amarillo News.

The Senate passed to engrossment the 9:30 o'clock saloon closing law, and when called up again the bill will pass finally. The bill has not as yet passed in the House. The House spent the afternoon considering the Kennedy liquor bill, which will further restrict the liquor traffic in Texas. The bill contains a clause prohibiting the sale of liquor in social clubs, and an effort to strike out that feature failed. The bill prohibits saloon keepers from assigning or transferring their licenses, and an amendment was adopted prohibiting wholesale liquor dealers from advancing money to assist in the conduct of a saloon. Consideration of the bill will be resumed Wednesday afternoon in the House. The bill is the most drastic liquor bill ever presented to the Legislature.

The Senate passed finally this afternoon a Senate bill by Senators Townsend and Westbrook which provides for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President of the United States by a preferential primary. It also provides for the nomination of delegates of political parties to a National convention by the same method.

Representative Watson, of Hayes County, introduced a joint resolution to submit an amendment to the constitution providing for the abolishment of the office of county treasurer.

MAKE IT AT HOME

Save your money and save your hair by using this perfect hair tonic, of which you can make a pint from pure ingredients for about fifty cents, the cost of a small package of other tonics.

This Quinoin hair tonic makes a healthy scalp by cleansing it of dandruff and by nourishing the hair roots. It prevents hair from falling and makes it soft, fluffy, thick and of rich, natural color.

Always use this Quinoin formula: Get 1 ounce Quinoin from druggist, dissolve in half pint alcohol (not whiskey), add half pint of cold water. Rub into scalp and hair roots twice a week, massaging gently.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Sinton.—A modern two-story hotel of forty rooms will be erected here at an early date by H. Katz, of this city.

San Antonio.—A number of the aldermen of the City Council are investigating the municipal ownership of public utilities in various towns of Texas. They propose to have San Antonio purchase the waterworks for the city.

Sherman.—The Interstate Cotton Oil Refining Company has been organized here, with a capitalization of $600,000.

Round Rock.—Work of constructing the new $4,000 brick Baptist Church has been started, and will be rushed to an early completion.

Denison.—Contracts have been closed for the erection of a new steel bridge over the Red River at this point. It will be a combination interurban and railroad bridge. The Denison district has just completed expending $500,000 in building good roads.

Mineral Wells.—Work will soon begin on the $100,000 pavilion and hotel here.

Carrizo Springs.—L. C. Malone, who recently purchased a fifty-acre farm in this section, has struck plenty of water at a depth of 455 feet, and will irrigate his entire farm from it.

Sear drift.—At a mass meeting of the citizens here a few days ago, it was unanimously decided to erect a canning factory. A. D. Powers, of the American Townsite Company, is behind the project.

Freeport.—A number of clay experts from other cities are here investigating the clay deposits in this section with a view of establishing a large brick or tile works should the clay come up to expectations.

Brownwood.—Actual construction on the million-dollar Santa Fe improvements at Brownwood has commenced. Before the work was commenced, it was necessary to move over a hundred houses.

Dallas.—Dallas is planning a most elaborate entertainment for the Southwestern Retail Saddlery and Harness Makers' Convention which will be held in this city February 11, 12 and 13. A large attendance is expected.

Seymour.—Two test wells are being sunk here in quest of oil by Russell Brothers, of Cleveland, Ohio, who have leased 1,800 acres of land for that purpose.

Denton.—A franchise has been granted in this city, to J. T. Witt and associates, for the construction of an interurban line along the west Dallas pike to Cement City.

Lampasas.—A good roads association was recently organized in this county, with J. E. Verner, of this place, as secretary.

Brenham.—Marcel Raudoux, of Ghent, Belgium, was recently in this city, on a tour of the State. His purpose is to study the Texas system of cotton raising.

Brady.—H. P. Roddie & Company, of McCulloch County, has shipped to St. Louis parties a ton and a half of turkey feathers. The turkey industry is rapidly increasing in this vicinity.

Quanah.—The Chamber of Commerce of Quanah recently held a get-together meeting, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. A. Wilhelm, president, and F. O. Griffith, vice president.

Fort Worth.—Arrangements have been completed by Manager Mussett, of the Majestic Theater of this city, with a Chicago film company, to have a moving picture made in Fort Worth, showing Fort Worth scenery, and the plot enacted by local talent.

Corpus Christi.—A bonus of $60,000 is being raised here to induce the San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf Railway to build into this city.

Galveston.—Eleven steamships in the coastwise trade sailed in a single day from this port to New York, with 65,000 bales of cotton.

Sear drift.—The Commercial Club has elected officers for the year 1913, as follows: J. L. Knight, president; P. H. Kurtz, vice president; George Rhea, secretary, and J. M. Hurd, treasurer. As a result of the recent membership campaign, the club starts the year with 69 members in good standing.

Hico.—According to data compiled by the Commercial Club, the death rate in this town during the past year was 5 per 1,000 population. The average for the United States is 15.8.

Denison.—The Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad employees will hold a safety rally here on February 23rd, to be attended by employees over the entire system. It is expected that 2,000 will attend to hear the addresses on safety methods.

Port Arthur.—According to the report of the building inspector, there was a total of $412,350 spent in building and improvements in this city during 1912, which compares favorably with any year in the history of the city.

Waxahachie.—It is understood that the Davis estate will soon begin the erection of a block of business buildings which were burned a few years

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.

For weak stomachs and the indigestion or dyspepsia resulting, and the multitude of diseases following therefrom, no medicine can be more adaptable as a curative agent than DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

Miss Minerva and William Green Hill

By FRANCES BOYD CALHOUN

(Copyright, by Reilly & Britton Co.) (Continued from last week.)

CHAPTER VIII.

Tellers of Tales.

The days flew rapidly by. Miss Minerva usually attempted to train Billy all the morning, and by the mid-day dinner hour she was so exhausted that she was glad to let him play in the front yard during the afternoon.

Here he was often joined by the three children whose acquaintance he had made the day after his arrival, and the quartet became staunch friends and chums.

All four were sitting in the swing on the warm spring day, under the surveillance of Billy's aunt, sewing on the veranda.

"Let's tell tales," suggested Jimmy. "All right," agreed Frances. "I'll tell the first. Once there's—"

"Naw, you ain't neither," interrupted the little boy. "You all time talking 'bout you going to tell the first tale. I'm going to tell the first tale myself. One time they's—"

"No, you are not either," said Lina positively. "Frances is a girl and she ought to be the first if she wants to. Don't you think so, Billy?"

"Yes, I does," championed he; "go on, Frances."

That little girl, thus encouraged, proceeded to tell the first tale:

"Once there's a man named Mr. Elisha, and he had a friend named Mr. Elijah, so his mantelpiece fell on top of his head and make him perfectly bald; he hasn't got a single hair and he hasn't got any money, 'cause mama read me 'bout he rented his garments, which is clo'es, 'cause he didn't have none at all what belong to him. I s'pec' he just rented him a shirt and a pair o' breeches and wore 'em next to his hide 'thout no undershirt at all. He was drea'ful poor and had a miser'ble time and mean Mr. Per'dventure took him up on a high mountain and left him, so when he come down some bad little children say, 'Go 'long back, bald head!' and they make pock-mocks on him. Seems like everybody treat him bad, so he cuss 'em, so I never see anybody with a bald head 'thout I run, 'cause I don't want to get cussed. So two Teddy bears come out of the woods and ate up forty-two hundred of 'em."

"Why, Frances," reproved Lina, "you always get things wrong. I don't believe they ate up that many children."

"Yes, they did too," championed Jimmy, "'cause it's in the Bible and Miss Cecilia 'splained all 'bout it to me, and she's our Sunday school sense; ev'y single hair come out." "Did you-all hear 'bout that Tallan Dago that works on the section gang eating a buzzard?" asked Frances. "Naw," said Billy. "Did it make him sick?"

"That it did," she answered; "he sent for Doctor Sanford and tells him, 'Me killa de big bird, me eat-a de big bird, de big bird make-a me seek.'"

"Them Dagoes 'bout the funniest talking folks they is," said Jimmy, "but they got to talk that way 'cause it's in the Bible. They 'sputed on the tower of Babel and the Lord say 'Confound you!' Miss Cecilia 'splained it all to me and she's 'bout the dandiest 'splainer they is."

"You may tell your tale now, Jimmy," said Lina.

"I'm going to tell 'bout William Tell 'cause he's in the Bible," said Jimmy. "Once they's a man name—"

"William Tell isn't in the Bible," declared Lina.

"Yes, he is too," contended the little boy. "Miss Cecilia 'splained it to me. You all time setting yourself up to know more'n me and Miss Cecilia. One time they's a man name' William Tell and he had a little boy what's the cutest kid they is and the devil come 'long and temp' him. Then the Lord say, 'William Tell, you and Adam and Eve can taste everything they is in the garden 'cepting this one apple tree; you can get all the pears and bunnanas and peaches and grapes and oranges and plums and persimmons and scalybarks and fig leaves and 'bout a million other kinds of fruit if you want to, but don't you tech a single apple.' And the devil temp' him and say he going to put his cap on a pole and everybody got to bow down to it for a idol and if William Tell don't bow down to it he got to shoot a apple for good or evil off'm his little boy's head. That's all the little boy William Tell and Adam and Eve got, but he ain't going to fall down and worship no gravy image on top a pole, so he put a tomahawk in his bosom and he taken his bow and arruh and shot the apple plumb 'thoo the middle and never swinge a hair of his head. And Eve nibble off the apple and give Adam the core, and Lina all time 'sputing 'bout Adam and Eve and William Tell ain't in the Bible. They're our first parents."

"Now, Billy, you tell a tale and then it will be my time," said Lina with a saving-the-best-for-the-last air.

"Once they was a ol' witch," said Billy, "what got outer her skin ev'y night an' lef' it on the he'rth an' turnt herself to a great, big, black cat an' go up the chim'ly an' go roun' an' ride folks fer horses, an' set on ev'y-body's chis' an' suck they breathe an' kill 'em an' then come back to bed. An' can't nobody ketch her tell one night her husband watch her an' he see her jump outer her skin an' drop it on the he'rth an' turn to a'normous black cat an' go up the chim'ly. An' he got outer the bed an' put some salt an' pepper an' vinegar on the skin an' she come back an' turnt to a 'oman an' try to get back in her skin an' she can't 'cause the salt an' pepper an' vinegar mos' burn her up, an' she keep on a-tryin' an' she can't never snuggle inter her skin 'cause it keep on a-burnin' worsen 'n ever, an' there she is a 'oman 'thout no skin on. So she try to turn back to a cat an' she can't 'cause it's pas' twelve erlock, an' she jest swivle an' swivle tell finely she jest swivle all up. An' that was the las' of the ole witch an' her husband live happy ever after. Amen."

"Once upon a time," said Lina,

Use Cottolene For Cooking!

It Cuts Down the Butter Bills

When you shorten or fry food with butter it is needless extravagance. Butter is too expensive for use anywhere but on your table. If butter were really better, would produce better results in cooking, you would be justified in using it, but it won't. Cottolene is fully the equal of butter for shortening; it is better for frying. It makes food rich, but not greasy, because it heats to a higher temperature than lard or butter and cooks so quickly that the fat has no chance to "soak in." Cottolene is more healthful than lard, and you need to use only two-thirds as much as you would of either butter or lard.

When you stop to consider that the price of Cottolene is no more than the price of lard, you can readily figure out what a saving its use in your kitchen means.

Don't be extravagant; don't use butter for cooking; it's too expensive and no better. Don't use lard; it's too uncertain, and greasy.

Do use Cottolene, and you will have better, more healthful food, and more money in your pocketbook.

Try this recipe:

GRIDDLE CAKES

1 cup sifted flour 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg 1 tablespoon melted Cottolene
1/2 teaspoon soda 1 teaspoon baking powder
Sift together, the flour, salt, soda, baking powder, add beaten egg and Cottolene. Beat well, cook on griddle greased slightly with Cottolene.

teacher and 'bout the bullyest 'splainer they is. Them Teddy bears ate up 'bout a million chillens, which is all the little boys and girls two Teddy bears can hold at a time."

"I knows a man what ain't got no hair 't all on his head," remarked Billy; "he's a confure-man an' me an' Wilkes B' th Lincoln been talkin' to him ever sence we's born an' he ain't never cuss us, an' I ain't never got eat up by no Teddy bears neither. Hucoome him to be bald? He's out in the fiel' one day a'pickin' cotton when he sees a 'tukey buzzard an' he talk to her like this:

"I say 'tukey buzzard, I say, Who shall I see unexpected to-day?"

"If she flop her wings three times you goin' to see yo' sweetheart, but this here buzzard ain't flop no wings 't all; she jes' lean over an' 'thow up on his head an' he been bald ever

"there was a beautiful maiden and she was in love, but her wicked old parent wants her to marry a rich old man threescore and ten years old, which is 'most all the old you can get unless you are going to die; and the lovely princess, said, 'No, father, you may cut me in the twain but I will never marry any but my true love.' So the wicked parent shut up th' lovely maiden in a high tower many miles from the ground, and made her live on turnips and she had nothing else to eat; so one day when she was crying a little fairy flew in at the window and asked, 'Why do you weep, fair one?' And she said, 'A wicked parent hath shut me up and I can't ever see my lover any more.' So the fairy touched her head with her wand and told her to hang her hair out of the window, and she did and it reached the ground, and her lover, holding a rope ladder in one hand and playing the guitar and singing with the other, climbed up by her hair and took her down on the ladder and his big black horse was standing near, all booted and spurred, and they rode away and lived happy ever after."

"How he goin' to clam' up, Lina," asked Billy, "with a rope ladder in one hand and his guitar in the other?"

"I don't know," was the dignified answer. "That is the way it is told in my fairy-tale book."

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

ago. Two two-story brick buildings will be built at once.

Childress.—Three cars of immigrants from the East have arrived in this city. About twenty cars have come here in the past three months.

Fredericksburg.—Actual construction of the Fredericksburg & San Antonio Railroad will commence within a few weeks, according to the officials of the road in San Antonio.

Cuero.—The new machinery for the cotton mill has arrived and will be installed at once.

Trinity.—A great deal of building is reported to be going on in this town. Seven new residences are under construction at the present time.

Yoakum.—Yoakum will soon have a modern five-story hotel, if the plans of J. M. Haller and other local capitalists materialize. It is said that the contract is ready to be let.

Pecos.—The election on the sewerage bonds was carried unanimously. Construction will be started in a short time. The election authorizes the issuance of $35,000 in bonds.

Whitesboro.—While drilling for water, a farmer two miles from here struck a vein of gas. An explosion that followed blew 140 feet of casing 100 feet in the air. The well was 463 feet deep.

Beaumont.—The high water mark for the price of rice as established here when a local company disposed of 5,500 sack of Japan rice at prices ranging from $3.98 to $4.03 per barrel.

Houston.—According to a letter received in this city, views and scenes from Texas will be shown in stereopticons and moving pictures in the schools of New York. A large collection of Texas scenes is being forwarded to the schools.

Rock Island.—A boys' corn club has been organized in this county.

STOCK SHOW WILL HAVE NEW FEATURE.

White Arabian Horses Will Be Exhibited at Fort Worth; Pigeons and Poultry, Too.

Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 5.—White Arabian horses, a Texas product, will be one of the attractions at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, March 8th to 15th, inclusive. A special class has been made for these horses, in both the day and night shows, and some novel features have been arranged for these animals for the night exhibitions.

The White Arabian horses are raised in Texas, and their appearance at the Fort Worth show marks the first entry of this particular breed of horses into the American show ring.

The poultry show has annexed a pigeon exhibition, and the farmers and poultrymen are being offered special inducements to send their exhibits to the Fort Worth show.

A LIVER MEDICINE THAT BEATS CALOMEL.

Dodson's Liver-Tone Does the Same Work as Calomel, without Making You Sick. It is Vegetable, Tastes Good and Never Falls.

Everybody who has ever taken calomel knows what a strong drug it is. Calomel spurs the tired liver as if it were a tired horse, and, while the liver works harder for a little while, it is soon weaker than ever.

Dodson's Liver-Tone is a vegetable tonic that gently induces the most sluggish liver to work. Taking it is followed by no bad after-effects. No restriction of habit or diet necessary. For either children or grown people.

R. A. Long Drug Company sells a large bottle of Dodson's Liver-Tone for fifty cents and guarantees it to be a perfect substitute for calomel, and will give you your money back if it disappoints you.

SYSTEM WILL INCREASE PROFITS IN AGRICULTURE.

Commercial Secretaries Think Farming Will Give Largest Returns If Properly Handled.

Fort Worth Texas, Feb. 5.—A booklet entitled "Our Rural Life and Farm Problems," prepared by Mr. S. A. Lindsey, of Tyler, has just been issued by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association for free distribution. Some interesting statistics are quoted from Federal Government reports. These show that during the year of 1911 the insurance companies of the United States earned 16 per cent on investment, mercantile concerns, 10 per cent; public service organizations, 4 per cent, and manufacturing establishments 5 per cent.

Mr. Lindsey directs special attention to the agricultural production of that year, which had a total value of six billion dollars and cost seven billion dollars to market. Mr. Lindsey estimates that if the agricultural industry of the Nation had been handled in the same systematic way as that of other industries, the returns on the investment would have been 50 per cent or more.

STRONG DEMAND FOR FEEDERS.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Feb. 3.—After considerable shuffling of prices in beef grades of cattle last week, net results left the market unchanged from the close of the previous week. Exceptions were bulls, which lost 25 cents, and veal calves, which closed 50 to 75 cents lower. Stock cattle and feeders revived from any time this winter. Supply today is 11,000 head, and all kinds are steady to strong, and the market has good action.

The strong country demand has been the mainstay of the market since the first of the year. In January 58,000 cattle were taken from here to farms and feed lots, representing 36 per cent of the total receipts of cattle here. Kansas took 7,000 more than last year, Missouri 7,000 more, Iowa 4,000 more and Illinois 4,000 more. The universal impulse of the country to get into cattle is reassuring to those already in possession of breeding stock, and it is an object lesson for those who have feed, and few cattle to consume it.

Top beef steers here today were second raters, at $9.30, nothing in the first class being here; bulk of sales, first class being here; bulk of the steers, $7.25 to $8.10; quarantine steers, $6.35 to $7.40 today. Sixty cars arrived in the quarantine division here today. Oklahoma and Texas have shipped more cattle so far this year than last.

Beet sugar mill cattle and Western hay-feds have not started freely, yet they meet a good demand whenever they come.

Hogs made net gains last week, light weights coming strongly in favor. The run is 6,000 here today, market 5 cents higher, top $7.60, bulk $7.40 to $7.55. Fresh pork demand is taking almost the entire supply at all points now, leaving small chance for accumulation, and condition the reverse of indicating lower prices. Average weight here in January, 213 pounds; December, 206 pounds; January last year, 189 pounds.

Sheep and lambs are climbing slowly out of the cellar they were cast into last Tuesday. Run is 6,000 today, market 10 to 15 cents higher, lambs at $8.50, yearlings $7.50, wethers 5.60, ewes $5.00. Commission men are advising feeders that prices will be high all winter, and to make their stuff good. J. A. RICKART, Market Correspondent.

We are still in the market, and are paying the highest prices for Kaffir and Milo Heads, Bulk Grain, Millet Seed and Cane Seed. COBB & ELLIOTT.—Adv.

OAT CROP; HOW TO IMPROVE IT

Four Factors That Go to Produce an Even Crop—Some Facts Which Apply to All Sections.

UNIFORM TILLAGE-BETTER SEED

Proper Preparation of Soil, Clean, Well Selected Seed Well Drilled in Will Insure Maximum Yields—Harvesting, Shocking and Stacking.

By Prof. L. C. Burnett, Iowa State College of Agriculture, [National Crop Improvement Service.] In order to give a maximum crop of any grain, a field must present an even stand of uniform plants. Fields that look ragged sometimes yield more than the one across the fence that has been properly tended; but this is no argument that the piece in question could not have been improved by the adequate treatment.

There are four factors that go to produce an even crop:
1. Uniform land.
2. Uniform tillage.
3. Uniform seed.
4. Uniform distribution of seed.

Experience has taught that the following practices are necessary to increase the yield of oats:

- a. Preparation of seed bed to a uniform depth and surface.
- b. Grading seed.
- c. Treating seed for smut.
- d. Sowing with a drill.
- e. Sowing plenty of seed.
- f. Cutting as soon as ripe.
- g. Shocking.
- h. Stacking.

Uniform Land and Tillage.

The tillage of land for oats is one of the most neglected practices in a great many states. This is true in Iowa. Two or three times over a stalkfield with a dull disk and harrow is considered by too many farmers to be all that is necessary for oats. The ridges from the last year's cornfield are left so that they are apparent all through the season, and even the next year in the clover. The water from rains runs down into the hollows between these ridges in the early part of the season, causing the ground to pack, and thus retard the growth of the plants. The few that are able to survive get yellow and spindly. The whole piece is striped like a prison suit.

Depth to Till.

The depth to which oat ground should be tilled varies with the soil and season. Corn stubble will usually produce a fair crop if prepared well to a depth of two to two and a half inches. Our best crops, however, have been raised upon land tilled to a depth of four inches. The seed should not be put in more than one inch below the surface.

The first item in the production of good oats is to prepare the land to a uniform surface and to a uniform depth.

Uniform Seed.

Results show that grading seed improves the crop. Well graded oats will usually give a germination test above 90 per cent, but if they have at any time heated in the bin, they should be tested for vitality. This may be done easily in a box of dirt or sand, set in among the house plants, or in any light room that is not allowed to freeze.

There is another factor of importance from the standpoint of uniform seed, namely, smut. The fanning mill or grader will not eliminate smut from the seed oats.

Uniform Distribution of Seed.

It is impossible to sow oats evenly by hand, or with an endgate seeder, and it is impossible to cover to a uniform depth after any kind of a broadcast seeder. Just how much this non-uniformity will affect the uniformity of the plants lies largely with the weather conditions. If there is an abundance of rain the difference caused by depth is reduced. The spotted condition caused by uneven distribution is never entirely overcome.

Cutting the Crop.

The average farmer cuts his oats at above the proper time; that is just before the heads turn yellow. There are two or three days just before maturity when the heads are white, but are not entirely ripe. Oats cut at this period will ripen and cure in the shock, giving a brighter color, and are not so likely to "shatter" as when they are left until they get dead ripe.

How to Shock.

Opinions differ regarding the form of shock which it is best to use. This will vary with the ripeness of the bundles. Round shocks should be of medium size, open enough at the base so that they will dry quickly and sapped so as to expose the least possible amount of the heads to the sun and dew. The color of the grain depends largely upon these two points in shocking.

Shock Threshing.

Shock threshing is a pernicious practice. After a man has gone to the trouble to raise and harvest a crop of oats there is no excuse for his flogging their palatability by "putting them through the sweat" in the bin. Oats can be stacked and threshed for practically the same money as when they are hauled directly to the machine. When oats are "sweated out" in the stack there is much more air

Seeds That Are Seeds

Put your faith in the best seeds that you can buy and increase your earnings many times per acre. We sell good honest seeds that will prove their worth at harvest time. And have in stock over 500 kinds and varieties for you to choose from. All of which are tested by us; 160 kinds at one time in our seed tester.

Here is a seed house right at home that can and will supply you with any variety of seed grown at right prices and at the same time giving you a chance to see them graded, tested and the use of powerful Microscopes for your assurance of getting just what you pay for. No seed house in the southwest can serve you so well. We are in the market for all high grade home grown seed that you have to sell. After we buy it we run it through the best grader in West Texas; then test it. After we know it to be O. K. we place it on sale at a little more we pay for it. We will always pay you more than grain dealers prices for choice seed because we want them for SEED and not for "HOSS FEED". Come in and get started right this spring and you will make good growing crops in west Texas. Mail orders given prompt attention.

Yours for good seed, around the grain and it comes out bright in color and crisp in texture. There is usually at least one grade difference between stacked and shock-threshed oats.

Do not be afraid of a little wind when threshing; the light, half-filled berries are worth just as much in the straw pile as in the bin, in addition to the fact that they are eliminated from the threshing bill.

A WORD ABOUT FASHIONS

RAINBOW STYLES FOR WOMEN THIS SPRING.

(From The New York World.)
LONDON, Feb. 1.—The English women have gained "color-courage," and, when the winter bargain sales end, the great dry goods stores will become veritable rainbows, according to the managers who have had glimpses of the advance spring styles of dresses, waists, hosiery and hats.
"Parisian women always had the confidence to wear bright colors," declared a department manager, "but it is only now that the English women are finding themselves with the daring to attempt a dashing color scheme. The old tradition that the quintessence of taste lay in dressing in black and white has been broken down."
"This spring women will wear brightly colored stockings, the white blouse will give place to colored satin, and feathers and bands in hats will be vivid."
"This desire for bright colors is in part the result of reaction after wearing of black furs for months, but apart from this there is a remarkable demand among women for more daring color schemes."

BROWN SUIT FOR EASTER FASHION TIP FOR MEN.

(From The New York World.)
LONDON, Feb. 1.—London tailors have decreed brown for men's Easter lounge suits. The cloth may come in any shade to deep chocolate, but it must be brown, and the coat shall have a high breast pocket for a bright-colored silk handkerchief, and the trousers must be peg top.
The coat really should be slightly shorter than the winter one, and the slit up the back is replaced with a seam. Derby hats are still demanded for the Easter parade, but soft felts have held on this winter more than ever before, and hatters declare they will be demanded for general wear until the straw hat appears.
