COMMERCIAL CLUB TO CONSIDER COUNTY FAIR

Business Men Are Urged to Come Out to Meeting of Chamber of Commerce

WOMEN READY TO HELP

Unger Will Report on Rural Routes and Possibility of Free Mail Delivery

President J. C. Anderson has called another meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Thursday night. A meeting was announced three weeks ago. Nobody came. Yes, there were a few—not enough to make a quorum.

Peculiarly, those who had been objecting most strenuously against failure to have public meetings of the Chamber of Commerce did not show up at the meeting. If these men, and others, attend the meeting Thursday night, at the Court House, they can perhaps find out something of interest about the rural routes which Mr. Unger is working on, about mail delivery in town, about the condition of the Chamber of Commerce.

Incidentally, these men may be able to suggest something which will enable the Chamber of Commerce to work more efficiently for the general upbuilding of Plainview. Merchants, bankers, business men in general, would find it worth while to attend an occasional meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

The question of a local County Fair this fall is matter of first importance for Thursday night. Many business men feel that a local fair would result in larger good than to send our exhibits away again. They think that the money which it costs us to exhibit at Dallas and Oklahoma City could be offered as prizes for better crops, and that it would result in better farming and larger profits. That would help country and town alike. But we must decide now!

Local women are anxious for a County Fair. The Civic League appointed a committee to meet with the Chamber of Commerce and tell what they are willing to do. Among other things suggested is the organization of canning clubs for girls and boys; also better-farm-crop clubs. It has been proposed that we have a "Better Babies" Show. These have proven extremely popular.

The women propose an exhibition of labor-saving machinery for farm women, and it is thought that the State Department of Agriculture will send one of its experts to help along with this work. Our women are ready to make their part of the fair a big success.

Mrs. Hickman Price is Chairman of the committee appointed for this work. Other members of the committee are Mrs. R. S. Charles, Mrs. T. P. Whittis, Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, Mrs. H. W. Harrel, Mrs. J. W. Longstreth and Miss Rosa Rowle.

The meeting is called for 8:30 o'clock. Come at that time, and you won't be robbing anybody of their time. The business can be transacted at once.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Adams passed through Plainview yesterday en route from Floydada to Amarillo. Mr. Adams was formerly the fireman on the Plainview-Floydada line, but has been moved to Amarillo.

L. A. Knight Threshing Fourteen Hundred Acres

Wheat threshing on L. A. Knight's ranch twenty miles west of Plainview is progressing rapidly. The machines will perhaps be busy for a week longer.

Up to Saturday night eight thousand bushels had been threshed. The yield, so Mr. Knight says, is much better than was expected. It is from 25 to 30 bushels an acre, and is of fine quality.

Mr. Knight has 1,400 acres in wheat.

Miss Lizzie Mayfield and Mrs. Belle Savage passed through Plainview yesterday en route from Whitfield to Port Leward to visit this summer.

CITY HAVING WEEDS CUT.

But Many Property Owners Are Extremely Negligent.

Weed cutting has been in progress almost incessantly for two weeks. Numerous individuals are having their places cleaned. The city has had three or four men busy every day.

It is unfortunate that some property owners let their places become jungles. It is a reproach upon the entire town. On North Covington Street a man could almost lose himself. On North Pacific Street, just north of The Herald Building, weeds grow rank.

Of course, in time the city will cut these weeds and charge it to the property owners. Plainview citizens ought to have too much pride to permit weeds to grow so that the town has to cut them.

Now, if the town would put down sidewalks in one or two places and make the owners pay, it would undoubtedly have a wholesome effect in helping to secure the first requisite for free delivery—sidewalks.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Merrill, of Lubbock, are visiting at the Keck home this week.

MRS. PENRY FEATURES HOME GARDEN PRODUCTS AT DINNER.

George Morgan, of El Paso; Thornton Jones, Jr., of Amarillo, and W. N. Baker, of Plainview, were cordially entertained Sunday with an elaborate noon-time dinner by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Penry.

One of the delightful features of this dinner was the abundance of Plainview products, all grown at the Penry home, on Slaton Street.

LIKES PLAINVIEW BEST.

Miss Violet May Parks, who recently graduated from Wayland Baptist College, has returned from Centralia, Mo., and Manganola, Colo., where she has been visiting relatives and friends for the past month.

Miss Parks likes the Plains country best.

GONZALES, OBREGON AND VILLA GOING TO CAPITAL

Rebel Commanders Bringing Troops Together at Queretara; Mediators Will Support Carranza

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—If Carranza and Carbajal reach agreement, according to the Niagara protocol the United States and the A. B. C. governments will immediately recognize the provisional government. This means that Carranza will have their aid against any counter revolution, whether started by Villa or others.

PUERTO, Mexico, July 21.—Mexico has probably seen the last of Huerta. With General Blanquet and their families, both men are aboard the German cruiser Dresden, en route to Jamaica.

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, July 21.—Villa is preparing to go southward with his troops to join the armies of Gonzales and Obregon at Queretaro for triumphal occupation of Mexico City.

BOATING PARTY TURNS OVER.

Boats do turn over on Lake Plainview, as well as on larger seas. This was evidenced Sunday, when the boat in which Misses Lena and Ethel Williams, Merietta Hancock, C. Hancock and Frank Bain, of Silverton, were riding capsized. The boat "just upset." Nobody was hurt.

This is the third boat to capsize this summer.

PROHIBITION CONFERENCE.

By United Press.

ALBANY, Oregon, July 20.—Plans to further State-wide prohibition will be considered at the annual conference of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church in Oregon west of the Cascade Mountains, which opened a six-day session to-day. Routine business occupied the attention of the conference to-day.

MRS. ORELIA RAY HURT WHEN HORSE RUNS AWAY

Plainview Woman's Collar Bone Broken; Shoulder Disjointed and Otherwise Injured by Fall

Mrs. Orelia Ray is in a critical condition as result of a runaway Saturday. Her children were called home yesterday.

Mrs. Ray was driving near Donohoo-Ware's, on North Covington Street. Her horse became frightened at an automobile and ran north. The horse turned into Third Street.

The injured woman's collar bone was broken and shoulder blade misplaced. She sustained several other compound fractures, which may result seriously.

Mrs. Ray was taken immediately to the Sanitarium, where she was attended by Drs. Guyton, Nichols and Flamm.

Sunday morning, while still in an unconscious condition, she was removed to her home, six miles north of town.

WOMEN PROVE JAPANESE DRESS SUPERIOR TO OURS.

Mmes. Whittis, Pipkin, Phelps and Barnes Have Interesting Debate at Methodist Church.

The large auditorium of the Methodist Church was filled with ladies afternoon who came to the "Get Acquainted" meeting given by Circle No. 1 of the Missionary Society.

Of course, there were flowers on chancel and stand. There is never anything given in Plainview without flowers, and beautiful ones at that.

For the Scripture lesson, Mrs. Pauline Shackelford read the fourth chapter of Philippians, with comments on the beautiful words of St. Paul, who, Mrs. Shackelford said, "was a friend to women." This was rather a new idea, for some of us have been taught that he was rather a crusty old bachelor.

After singing the grand old hymn, "O Mother, Dear, Jerusalem," Mrs. Cora E. Pritchett gave a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Grady Pipkin on the violin.

After that the real feature and fun of the afternoon began—the debate between Mesdames T. P. Whittis and J. W. Pipkin, for the affirmative, and Mrs. Marshall Phelps and Mrs. S. A. Barnes, for the negative, the question being, "Resolved, That the Japanese style of dress is superior to that of the United States."

The ladies on the affirmative demonstrated their theory by wearing handsome imported kimonos. Mrs. Whittis led the discussion, followed by Mrs. Phelps for the negative. Mrs. Pipkin made the third talk, followed by Mrs. S. A. Barnes. Mrs. Whittis came with the rejoinder.

Many were the forceful arguments and witty sallies made by both sides, all of which were duly appreciated by the audience.

The judges selected were Mesdames L. Lee Dye, C. W. Tandy, J. T. Finnie, R. S. Charles and W. E. Armstrong. Their decision was four for the affirmative and one for the negative.

BISHOP TEMPLE CONFIRMS EPISCOPAL COMMUNICANTS

Congregation is Urged to Importance of Striving for Higher Plane of Living

Austin Anderson and Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Jr., were confirmed Sunday morning at St. Mark's Episcopal Church by Rev. Bishop E. A. Temple, of Amarillo.

After the solemn rite of confirmation, the Bishop preached upon growth in grace and the great importance of striving to live on a higher plane of spirituality, and not feeding on the husks of materiality.

At the morning service, Mrs. Charles B. Myers, of West Point, N. Y., sang the offertorium. Communion was administered after the sermon.

At night the choir, in their white vestments, rendered beautiful and special music. Rev. J. S. Wicks, the rector, preached at night.

St. Mark's Church, from a small beginning, is rapidly increasing. The members feel greatly encouraged by the results obtained by their untiring efforts.

MISS NELL JONES HOSTESS.

Plainview Young People Enjoy Party at Country Home.

Such a pleasant party, so they said, was given Saturday night by Miss Nell Jones at the home of her father, Dr. J. T. Jones, ten miles east of Plainview. But what are ten miles on a star-light night over the smooth roads of the Plains country? Distance only enhances the pleasure.

Dancing to the music of the piano was enjoyed by hostess and guests.

Punch was hospitably served throughout the evening, and later dainty and delightful refreshments.

Chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fyffe the following were in the party: Misses Mae and Lucile Kinder, Laura Mastin, Marquenia Hulen, Nell Sansom, Edna Harrington, Marie and Daisy Gidney, Ruth McFadden, Grace Murray, Pattie Dalton and Dorothy Bolton, and Messrs. Jackson, Calvin, Jack Matthews, George Wyckoff, Austin and Jennings Anderson, Rob Sansom, of Fort Worth; Charlie Spencer, Beal Pumphrey, Harold and Casey Hughes, Julian Roberts, of Dallas; Lawrence Gray and Morey McGlasson.

PHILLIPS BUILDING BARN.

G. L. Phillips purchased from Fulton Lumber Company to-day material for a new barn. Mr. Phillips lives 25 miles in the country. His barn will be 30x40 feet.

HOSTESS TO I. F. E. GIRLS.

Miss Nell Sansom is hostess for the I. F. E. girls this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at her home, on Harp Street.

At the close of this amusing and unusual program, Mrs. Dan Shipley, chairman of Circle No. 1, and Mrs. W. D. Jordan served cakes and punch to the many who availed themselves of the courtesy extended.

HONORING MISS LORAIN STOVALL, OF ITALY, TEXAS.

Mrs. W. B. Armstrong's Home Is Scene of Merriment for Younger Set.

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Armstrong was the scene last night of a gay party belonging to the younger set. It was given by their sons, "Buster" and Ural, in honor of their friend Miss Loraine Stovall, of Italy, Texas, who is visiting her uncle, Rev. S. Park.

Upon arriving, the guests were served refreshing punch from a flower-decked table by Miss Alma Armstrong, assisted by Bransford Pack. This was continued throughout the evening. No games were needed to pass away the hours. Fun and merriment prevailed. Cake and cream were served by Mrs. Armstrong to her sons' guests, who included the honoree and Misses Marie and Daisy Gidney, Georgia Brashers, Ruth McFadden, of Austin; Grace Murray, Dorothy Bolton, Pattie Dalton and Flora Mae Scudder, and Messrs. Horace Lindsay, Casey Hughes, George Wyckoff, Beal Pumphrey, Bransford Pack and Morey McGlasson.

Last year the First National paid 73-4 per-cent on daily balances. This amounted to a total of $1,314.81 during the past year.

The Council voted last night to put in a curb along the east side of the public square. Of this, the property owners will pay half and the town half. The cost of curb will be $13.75 a lot.

The question of reducing water rents was taken up and deferred until next meeting of the Council.

City Attorney L. R. Pearson was ordered to draft an ordinance prohibiting small bill boards like that at the corner of the First National Bank Building unless a license fee of $5 a year is paid. This does not apply to large bill boards placed inside of the owner's property line.

The Council voted to put in a street crossing on West Third Street at the intersection of Eureka. Two alley crossings will be constructed in the east part of town. The Mayor and Aldermen made an inspection of the septic tank this morning. Certain repairs are to be made there.

The Council instructed that $2.50 a month be contributed to the maintenance of the rest room. The county pays $7.50 and the Civic League $5 a month.

OTUS REEVES TAKES FRIENDS TO FISH ON HIS RANCH.

Messrs. Otus Reeves, George Saigling and E. B. Miller enjoyed an outing recently by spending the weekend on Mr. Reeves' ranch in the Tule Canyon.

They went fishing—sure-enough fishing—and report catching a quantity of cat and black bass.

BERNICE DEVORE AND MARK GALLAWAY TIE ON FLY CATCH

Boys and Girls Bring in Nearly Seven Hundred Thousand Pests For One Week

Mark Gallaway and Bernice Devore tied for prize money going to fly trappers this week. Each one brought in 38 pints. The trappers brought in 221 pints of flies to-day—663,000 flies; 3 bushels and 19 pints.

Last week only a few more than 300,000 flies were trapped. The number practically doubled this week. That means that somebody is tolerating a breeding place. If yards, stables and outhouses are cleaned up and lime used freely there will be no flies in Plainview. Flies mean that some of your neighbors are filthy.

Money for the purchase of flies is exhausted, too. There was only $2.05 this morning. The balance had to be credited. Sufficient funds were subscribed at the beginning to take care of the fly catches. This money has not been paid in.

Mrs. Dye, chairman of the fly committee, says if the money is not paid in this week, the women will have to quit buying flies. Surely everybody will pay up. Let's get rid of flies. Let's clean up.

TO HOWARD COUNTY FOR SETH WARD.

President C. L. McDonald of Seth Ward College returned yesterday from an extended trip to Brownfield, Lamesa, Tahoka and other points on the South Plains. President McDonald says he will begin a campaign in Big Springs District for Seth Ward at once. Prospects for the college are flattering.

TO CANYON FOR BASEBALL.

E. L. Doland, Guy Ballard, Miss Pearl Harp and Miss Littleton drove to Canyon this afternoon to see Dalhart and Canyon play baseball.

M. D. Henderson went to Crosbyton to-day. He took along a man to open gates and act as company.

FIRST NATIONAL GETS CITY MONEYS FOR YEAR

Bid of Seven and Seven-Eighths Cents on Balances More Than Cent Higher Than Third

MAY REDUCE WATER RENTS

City Attorney is Instructed to Draft Ordinance Licensing Bill Boards; Will Construct Curb

The First National Bank will be depository for the town of Plainview another year. Last night when bids opened it was found that the First National Bank's bid was 7-8 per-cent on daily balances; the Third National bid 6-11-16 and the Citizens' National bid 5.6 per-cent.

Last year the First National paid 73-4 per-cent on daily balances. This amounted to a total of $1,314.81 during the past year.

The Council voted last night to put in a curb along the east side of the public square. Of this, the property owners will pay half and the town half. The cost of curb will be $13.75 a lot.

TOURISTS TO COLORADO.

Two Cars from Cleburne Stop in Plainview.

Two car loads of tourists passed through Plainview yesterday, en route from Cleburne to the mountains of Colorado.

The personnel of the party included Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Blasen-game, their two daughters, Misses Emma and Ruby, and Miss Kate Wilson, all of Cleburne; Homer Bramlett, of Alvarado, and Charlie Gordon, of McNeil, Ark. They were full of encomiums for the cool and delightful climate of the Plains.

WATSON BACK FROM OKLAHOMA.

Former City Marshal Will Stay in Plainview.

J. F. Watson and family, who moved to Frederick, Okla., in the spring, returned to Plainview Saturday.

Upon arriving, Mr. Watson said: "I have burned my bridges behind me and mean to stay on the Plains this time." Mr. Watson said that Saturday was the coolest day he had seen for two months.

Kharkoff Wheat Yields Thirty Seven Bushels

Cobb & Elliott bought 12,000 bushels of wheat from Cox Brothers. This firm also purchased 2,500 bushels from J. Hutchinson. The yield on both of these fields was from 22 to 25 bushels an acre.

Cobb & Elliott also bought 2,000 bushels from the Texas Land and Development Co.

C. H. Hoffman sold his wheat to Cobb & Elliott. Mr. Hoffman threshed 100 acres and averaged 29 bushels to an acre, according to Cobb & Elliott. He planted 10 acres of Kharkoff wheat, furnished by the Santa Fe, and threshed 37 bushels to an acre. All of this was dry farmed.

JNO. S. PATTERSON, OF DALLAS, REPLIES TO COLONEL THOMAS BALL.

Hon. Thomas H. Ball, Houston, Texas.

Dear Sir:

I have read your letter of the 18th instant, wherein you ask the indulgence of the press to make reply to what you claim are various campaign falsehoods that are being circulated about you.

Then you say: "Here are some of the things which are being said in an effort to prejudice my candidacy: It is charged that I am a member of the Houston Club and the Country Club in the city of Houston; that said clubs are licensed to sell liquor and that I am a stockholder therein; that large profits are derived therefrom and dividends declared in which I participate and share."

In reply to this you enter, what you term, a denial of this charge in this language: "As to the Houston Club and the Country Club, it is true that I am a member thereof, and was when I conducted the great prohibition fight in 1911, and was, as stated by me, when I accepted the indorsement of the Fort Worth Convention. The membership fee in each one of these clubs is $100.00 and the dues of each is $50.00 per annum, payable quarterly. Neither club issues stock and neither declares dividends, nor have I or any member thereof received or shared in any profits therefrom."

Then you state: "Drinks are served, if a member desires to order them, for which the member pays." And again you say: "Liquors are served as they are by every first-class hotel in the city of Houston, or in any other wet city." It seems that you have about admitted the graveness of the charge you mention above. You have denied that it issued stock, but admitted that you held a membership fee—a distinction without a difference. You have denied that you received dividends, but your statement clearly entitles you, under the law, to a share in the surplus. I have before me the auditor's report of your club for the year ending February 28, 1914, which shows, among other things, that the bar in your club sold $10,483.15 worth of liquor to its members for the year at a profit of $2,971.96; that your club spent for the same year $361.45 for playing cards and poker chips, and that your club on that date had a surplus of $20,824.70. I have heard it charged that your club sells liquor after 9:30 in the evening, in violation of the penal laws of your State, and that it sells liquor on Sunday, in violation of both the laws of God and man. None of these charges did you deny, and I take it, from your silence,

HARRY WELCH THE DANCING BOY With The Grandi Stock Comp'y

that they are substantially true. In practice, you appear to be giving your influence and $100 annually of your money to the support and upkeep of this institution. In preaching you declare: "If by laying down my life I could write State-wide prohibition into the constitution of Texas, I would gladly make the sacrifice for my country." In private life you give your aid and succor to that, which you declare, that if the people will elect you to a public office, you will give your life to destroy. There seems to be some inconsistency in this position. The real prohibitionists of Texas do not quite understand your dual attitude. Sincerity is one attribute they demand. They are growing suspicious that the prohibition element in the Democratic party, this year, is being led like sheep to the shambles. Many of them would prefer a sincere anti to a wet pro. I am one of that number. I have consistently voted the prohibition ticket since my majority. You refer to the fact that many prominent men in Houston are members of your club. I do not doubt this, but they are not going about the State offering to die a thousand deaths for the privilege of writing State-wide prohibition in our constitution. Can you name any Houston preacher who are members of this club? you are appealing to the church and the ministry to come to your aid. You are calling on them to defend your club record, and some of them, true to their principles, but with much embarrassment, are making a feeble effort. I dare say that you have not found a minister in this great State who has commended you for your club connections. No true prohibitionist can give his endorsement to any man who contributes his influence and his money to a institution which sells across its bar more than ten thousand dollars' worth of liquor annually. Your club record is not the sole ground for the wide dissatisfaction among the real prohibitionists of Texas. They expected this year to win a real victory, but they are now apprehensive that if a victory is won it will, "like dead sea fruit, turn to ashes on their lips." By reason of your former affiliation with the prohibition cause, the rank and file were not suspicious of your position, and with blind faith eliminated all others—good men and true—that you might bear the flag of purity to the goal of victory. However, there were some who thought best that you declare yourself, rather before than after the elimination. You studiously remained silent. Ample opportunity was afforded you, but to no avail. While the delegates were assembled at the elimination convention, you were again afforded a splendid opportunity to clearly define your position on prohibition, but you dealt in generalities. Mrs. Nanine Curtis, that noble woman, who has fought her thousand temperance battles, mounted the stage in your presence and hearing and offered to that meeting a resolution favoring Nation-wide prohibition, and it was adopted by a unanimous vote. You remained silent. You walked away from that meeting with its commission in your hand, which read: "Go forth and fight for Nation-wide prohibition," while in your heart you held a secret which read: "I will go forth and fight against Nation-wide prohibition." What can you say in defense of your silence upon this occasion, knowing, as you did, that you did not intend to obey its mandate? Or is it possible that you had not yet determined in your mind as to what would be your position upon this important issue? Or is it possible that you changed your position after the elimination and before your opening speech? But your silence at and before the elimination convention is not all that grieves the real prohibitionists of Texas. The worst is yet to come. When the real anti-prohibitionists, under the name of constructive Democrats, held their meeting at Fort Worth, for the purpose of devising ways and means for the nomination of a real anti, you were there. They had their headquarters at the Westbrooke Hotel, and so did you, Colonel Ousley, Colonel Johnston, Colonel Williams, Colonel Fulton and Colonel Ball were there. Many conferences and caucuses were held.

Many things were said and many things were done that are not yet known to the real prohibitionists of Texas, and perhaps will never be. The Dallas Dispatch, one of your radical supporters, which invariably uses more zeal than judgment, announced in its columns that you were in consultation with the Colonels in room No. 111 at the Westbrooke Hotel. Like your membership in the Houston Club, this was not a crime, but rather an unexpected place to find a prohibition chieftain. The anti leaders adjourned without a nomination, announcing with some gusto that they would wait until you had made your opening speech. That speech was made, and the anti made no nomination, unless it can be said that one by one they nominated you as the choice. Like an alarm clock set upon the hour, these life-long leaders in the fight against prohibition ran to embrace and to enlist under your standard as soon as you made known your views on the prohibition question. Why should they fall down and worship a man who would give his life to slay their idol? The worst is yet to come—the "Greenville Speech." It was there you spiked the prohibition cannon, wet our powder and broke our bayonets. You declared against Nation-wide prohibition, pledged yourself to veto statutory prohibition and the five-and ten-mile laws, on the ground that they were unconstitutional. These are regulatory measures. If they are unconstitutional, all other regulatory measures of any consequence would likewise be. In other words, you stand for a reasonable regulation of the saloon. All other regulation you hold unconstitutional. The Legislature has reached its limit in so far as reasonable regulation is concerned, and from your viewpoint a constitutional amendment is about all that is left for the prohibitionists. This, you would give you life to achieve. All other laws you would veto. As Governor of Texas you would have no more voice in the passage of a constitutional amendment than you would had you remained general attorney for the Yoakum Lines. If submission is defeated, and it will be, your constitutional amendment will go to the graveyard. The Colonels at Fort Worth knew that the anti cities had paid enough poll taxes to bury submission in a potter's field this year. For this reason you do not look as dangerous to the liquor traffic as your voice would indicate. They well know that their dragon cannot be slain with the jaw-bone of an ass, the only weapon reserved unto yourself with which to fight the battle. If these be not the ties that bind you to the leading anti-prohibitionists like a brother, then name them. Is it not a fact that in years ago you have denounced these, your now anti supporters, with voting Mexicans in solid phalanx against the cause of prohibition? Why do the men come to your rescue to take the place of men who have fought for prohibition when it was a hero's job? The daily press announces that you have actually opened ontel headquarters in the St. George Hotel, in Dallas, and that your pro headquarters welcome it as a brother. In charge of one you have a life-long prohibitionist, and in charge of the other you have a life-long anti-prohibitionist. It took the daily press three days hard work to get your anti manager to admit his identity with your campaign. You, a man who would actually lay down his life for prohibition, open up anti-prohibition headquarters in the city of Dallas! If you win, whose victory will it be? In your Mineola speech you said: "They complain that so many anti are supporting me. I am the best friend they ever had." I share that opinion with you. Again you said: "I have separated 'em. I have separated the anti who don't take the money and are not on the pay rolls and have no liquor to sell, and those who are honest anti from principle." You have not separated yourself from your club, and your club has liquor to sell. You seem to have separated that bunch that you met in conference at Fort Worth from their affiliations, and they seem to have separated you from your prohibition principles and many of your prohibition friends. How was this done? Wm. Poindexter and Cone Johnson tried it and failed. Wm. F. Ramsey had no charms for them. The fight for Nation-wide prohibition has just begun. In principle you are opposed to it. Of course, you could not support a Congressman or a Senator who favored it. Richard P. Hobson, its champion in the House, was shot down in the first charge. Do you suppose the liquor interests, the brewery interests and the wine growers laughed or cried at this news? Senator Morris Shepard is pressing forward with the flag, notwithstanding the barbed-wire barricade that you and the other distinguished Colonels have been erecting in Texas. In 1918 one of these Colonels must oppose Senator Sheppard on the issue of Nation-wide prohibition. If it is Colonel Johnston, what will you say. If it is Colonel Ousley, what will be the nature of your argument? It then will be about time for you to offer up your life again. If Colonel Johnston and Colonel Ousley and Colonel Wells and Colonel Williams should one and all, by petition or otherwise, demand that you should save the country against Nation-wide and Morris Sheppard, what would you do? In the interests of the liquor traffic, can you name a more suitable man than yourself to fill a seat in the United States Senate? We shall pause here for a reply. JNO. S. PATTERSON. —Adv. Dallas, Texas.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

COL. BALL MAKES CONFESSION.
Over the Protest of His Political Advisers, Houston Candidate Admits to Gambling.
MAKES FULL CONFESSION.

Great Leader of the Moral Forces Comes Clean on Poker Charge; Co-Workers Urge Him to Keep Quiet, but He Blurs It Out—Admits He Plays the Game.
CLARKSVILLE, Texas, July 12.—Last Saturday the Clarksville Times sent the following telegram to Colonel Thomas H. Ball: "Have you, within the last twelve months, played cards for money anywhere in the State of Texas? Answer yes or no."
"A. J. MARTIN,
"The Clarksville Times."

A few hours later the following reply was received from Colonel Ball: "A. J. Martin,
"Editor Times,
"Clarksville, Texas.
"Yes. Full statement will be issued from Dallas to-morrow."
"THOS. H. BALL."

The Statement Objected to.
DALLAS, Texas, July 12.—Colonel Ball's statement regarding gambling was prepared at the pro headquarters to-day, very carefully, and then submitted to a number of his speakers, who were here to confer with him over Sunday. Many of the speakers vigorously objected to the statement in which the Colonel admitted that he had played cards for money during the time specified being given to the public. One of them, Mr. Carpenter, of Greenville, resigned his engagement, and declared he would cancel his speaking dates if the statement was permitted to reach the public. So after a long session it was decided to withhold the statement.

Ball Overrules Objection.
DALLAS, Texas, July 13.—Today (Monday) Colonel Ball overruled the objection of his friends, and issued a statement admitting that he had played poker for money.
"I want all the falsehoods in this campaign to be confined to the other side. I would as soon seal a man's pocketbook as to steal his vote. If whether or not a man played cards is an issue in this campaign, I want the people to know the whole truth," said Colonel Ball as he sat in his rooms at the Southland Hotel, resting from a hard week's campaign.
"Yes, I have played poker," went on Mr. Ball.
And then entered the room some of Ball's political friends. They urged him not to tell that he had played poker, even in a social way. Ball became indignant.

"Why, I have played poker," declared Ball. "They asked me if I played and defy me to answer them. I am not making this race for Governor on a platform of lies and deceptions. Certainly I played poker."
"But the people will not understand you," one of his advisers said. "If they all knew you as well as we do, it would be all right."
"Well, it's going to be all right, anyway," exclaimed Ball. "I am not afraid of the people. I read yesterday where one of my good friends denied in a speech that I had ever played a game of poker. That friend is mistaken. I don't want to put him in the position of denying something about me that is true. If the people of Texas want to condemn me for telling them the truth, I want to be condemned right now. I tell you, the lies in this fight must be confined to the other side."
And then for two hours those who thought Ball would injure himself politically pleaded with him. Ball listened. When they had all finished, he said:
"Well, if it hurts to tell the truth, I am going to hurt myself right now," and he called in a stenographer and dictated a statement to him to be sent to all the papers of Texas. In that statement he admits he played poker.

MONASTIC LIFE STILL POPULAR.
By United Press.
ROME, Italy, July 21.—That the monastic life has lost none of its hold on present-day humanity has just been demonstrated by the report made of the growth of the Capuchin order, the general chapter of which just closed here. Despite the fact that several of the leading countries of Europe no longer permit monasteries of the order, the Capuchins now have 771 convents, scattered through 53 provinces, with 10,176 full members. In addition, they have throughout the world 5,789 congregations of "tertiaries," or members of the order who, while not living in convents secluded from the world, devote their lives to the work of the order. The total membership of these congregations falls just a little below 1,000,000.

ATLANTA SELECTED FOR UNIVERSITY SITE.
Atlanta Man, Brother of Bishop, Gives $1,000,000 to Endow New Educational Institution of M. E. Church South.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 20.—Atlanta was selected as the seat of the university to be established east of the Mississippi River by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at a meeting here of the education commission appointed by the General Conference of the church to choose a location for the proposed institution. Birmingham, Ala., and Hendersonville, N. C., were strong contenders for the university. The vote selecting Atlanta was announced as 12 to 2.
Announcement by Bishop Warren A. Candler, chairman of the commission, that Atlanta had been selected was immediately followed by official confirmation of the report that $1,000,000 had been given to the new university by Asa G. Candler, of this city, brother of Bishop Candler.

In announcing the donation, Mr. Candler said he had determined to make the gift regardless of the commission's action in selecting the location of the university. In his letter, Mr. Candler said he made the endowment because he was "impelled by a deep sense of duty to God and an earnest desire to do good to my fellow man."

It was stated on reliable authority that the university as contemplated will require an investment of $5,000,000. Work on the building will be started before next winter.

FAMILY CARES.
This Information May Be of Value to Many a Mother in Plainview.

When there is added to the many cares inseparable from the rearing of children that affliction of weakness of the kidneys and auxiliary organs, the mother's lot is far from a happy one. This condition has often been corrected by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. When relief comes the mother's burden will be lighter and her home happier.
Mrs. W. J. Mitchell, W. California Ave., Plainview, Texas, says: "I can say that Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy for weak kidneys. We got our supply from the Long Drug Co. and gave them to a child who has had trouble with the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were the only remedy that brought beneficial results."
Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mitchell had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. —Adv.

RIGGEST CANAL LOCK DONE.
The "Soo" Waterway Commerce Will Exceed Panama.
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., July 18.—With a length 350 feet greater than any other lock in the world, the new "third lock" of the Soo Canal is rapidly nearing completion, and engineers in charge of the work to-day predicted that within a month it will be open to navigation. The new lock has a total length of 1,350 feet, a width of eighty feet and a depth sufficient to permit boats of 24-foot draft to pass through it.
The completion of this new work will be epochal in the history of Great Lake navigation. With the locks already in operation here, it will permit a gross tonnage to pass through from the waters of Lake Superior to the lower lakes that is ten times greater than the expected annual tonnage of the Panama Canal. Three locks are now in operation in the canal, two on the American side of the St. Mary's River and one on the Canadian side. Two additional locks are under construction on the American side, one known as the "third lock," to be completed the latter part of August.

In the eight months of the navigation season of 1913 approximately 60 million tons of freight passed through the Soo locks. Since the start of the development of the iron mining industry of the Upper Michigan regions more than 500 million tons of iron ore have been shipped through the canal to Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana points. In addition, enormous shipments of copper ore, lumber and wheat have passed through the big locks, the wheat shipments alone now aggregating approximately 200 million bushels annually.

UNIVERSITY SHACKS.

The University of Texas has erected four more shacks—for teaching journalism, manual training, zoology and a gymnasium for girls. It is gratifying that the boys and girls of Texas are so determined to fit themselves for living that they will go to school in shacks. On the other hand, it is a matter of regret that Texas will permit her sons and daughters to house themselves in shacks.

In the long run, the people will pay more for their parsimony at this time. The University will stand a thousand years. It would have been economy if the regents might have builded for permanency.

The State Tax Board has reduced rates so as to "shave" $2,000,000 from revenues next year. Texas doesn't need them, they say. Why would it not have been good business to keep taxes where they now are and use this $2,000,000 to provide for our University, A. & M. College and Normal Schools.

President Mezes and his regents are providing admirably for the youth of Texas. They are seriously handicapped for funds.

Where Texas spends $1 on her University, Michigan spends $3 or $4, and outside states send more than $500,000 every year with their boys and girls to the University of Michigan. Michigan has found that it pays to be liberal with her educational institutions.

No people can maintain civil liberty or their capacity for self government without education. Texas boys and girls ought to be educated in Texas. They are anxious to go to school near home, if the State will provide for them out of its ample store of wealth.

A college education doesn't make a man. It helps.

POLITICAL PEACE.

"Political peace" is the call of all Texas. We are divided on the way of securing peace.

The cry for industrial rest had much to do with placing O. B. Colquitt in the Governor's chair. During four years ending election day there has perhaps been more turmoil, more inefficiency, more partisanship in government than Texas has experienced since the carpet-bag days. Texas' progress has been pitifully inconsiderable.

Mr. Colquitt's partisans still call for peace. The Governor says he is going to elect Jim Ferguson his successor. Mr. Ferguson says saloon agitation must stop.

Mr. Ferguson's position gives weight to his words. He overlooks the fact that one cause has kept Texas wrought up—the licensed saloon.

There will be no rest in Texas until the saloon is closed. Neither can there be a "business administration" in Texas so long as we are spending more than $84,000,000 a year for alcoholic drinks.

The saloon undermines social life, just as it burns out the individual who drinks its potion. The saloon fills our jails; our almshouses; our insane asylums; our penitentiary. It is the mother of lawlessness; of crime; of business inefficiency.

Kansas has political quiet and industrial rest. There are 104 counties in Kansas. Forty-eight of these did not send a man to the penitentiary last year. Eighty-seven counties did not send an insane patient to the asylum. In fourteen counties no jury has been called in ten years to try a criminal case. Fifty-three counties have empty jails. Thirty-eight counties have empty poor-houses.

Bank deposits in Kansas have increased in ten years from $100,000,000 to $220,000,000. This money is in the hands of the people. There are less than a score of millionaires in Kansas. The average holding of taxable property is the largest in America. Kansas outlawed the saloon in pioneer days.

Texas will not have political peace, nor industrial prosperity until the saloon is driven out. The saloon ought to be outlawed Saturday.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 123RD REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT:

My Fellow Citizens:

Impressed with the idea as, as well as the suggestion of many of my friends, that, as this is an agricultural and stock-raising district, it should be represented in then ext Legislature by a practical and experienced farmer and stockman, and having a long life of experience along these lines and also four years' experience in the Legislature, I believe, and my friends believe, that I could intelligently and efficiently represent these great interests. And in view of the further fact that this portion of the State has never been represented by any other than a lawyer and editor, it was thought eminently just and right that a practical, successful and business farmer and stockman should be selected to represent this district. Hence my candidacy and appeal for your votes.

I was born and reared to early manhood in Virginia, and my education was from the common schools and one of the best academies in Southwest Virginia. I settled in Hunt County, Texas, in 1873, and came to the Plains in January, 1902. So I feel that I understand conditions in Texas generally and of the Plains country especially.

1st. I shall favor the most rigid economy in the expenditures of our Government consistent with an efficient administration of same. In the last twenty or twenty-five years the expenses of our State Government has increased from about $2,000,000 to $7,000,000. In other words, the cost of our State Government has increased in this time from 50 cents per capita to $1.65 per capita, or about 230 per cent. Our penitentiaries, which a few years ago were yielding the State a handsome revenue, have now fastened upon us a burden of over $2,000,000, and still going in debt.

This does not indicate good economy or good business management. The people should wake up.

2nd. I favor the fullest development of our education institutions. especially our rural schools, our Normals and the Agricultural and Mechanical College. I favor the separation of the A. & M. College from the main University and a just division of the funds between the two institutions. I also favor compulsory school attendance of all children between the ages of 8 and 12 or 14 year, and from 3 to 5 months in the year.

3rd. Our eleemosynary institutions should be properly provided for.

4th. I favor a corporation of the State with farmers in the establishment of warehouses and a good marketing system for the benefit of the farmer.

5th. I have been a life-long prohibitionist and shall vote for submission on the 25th, and in the Legislature, if a majority of the people vote for it.

6th. I favor protecting women and children from working undue hours in factories and workshops.

7th. I oppose the repeal or amendment of our stock and bond law. The same conditions and necessities that called this law into existence still exist. It was designed for the protection of honest investors in railroad enterprises, for the prevention of the issuing of watered or fictitious bonds and stocks, and to encourage railroad building in Texas—all of which it has abundantly done. Governor Hogg declared it to be the best law on this subject in the world. Its merits are not only recognized and defended by the progressive Democracy of Texas, but the following excerpt shows that it is endorsed by President Wilson and the National Democracy: "Representative Sam Rytburn, of Texas, received a letter from President Wilson commending him on the passage of the stock and bond law in the House. This is the Hogg Stock and Bond Law, and has been taken over by a Democratic administration at Washington, and to-day has the backing of leading statesmen of all parties."

Yet Judge Holmes proposes to amend this law so as to again authorize the issuance of watered or fictitious bonds and stocks.

8th. I favor the Initiative, Referendum and Recall.

I have no aspirations beyond a faith-

Dr. J. V. Guyton went to Silverton Sunday on professional business. His little niece, Catherine Gotham, went with him, and remained for the week visiting friends.

Miss Eula Bennett, of Lockney, was the guest on Saturday of Mrs. John Oswald. Little Roy Oswald accompanied her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carter and four children, of Crosbyton, came up Saturday in their Ford to visit the family of J. W. Carter, on Westmoreland Street. They returned home on Monday.

Mrs. C. J. Ault and children passed through to-day en route from Lockney to San Angelo. Mrs. Ault visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Byars.

Leona A. Long left to-day for Shattuck, Okla. Mrs. Long will visit her sister and friends in Shattuck.

Mrs. B. F. Thomas, of Hale Center, and daughter, Mrs. J. B. Batton, of San Benito, were expected to arrive to-day to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Calvert. Mrs. Thomas is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvert.

H. D. Wood, son of R. H. Wood, is attending to some business in Fort Worth this week.

Mrs. I. H. Sidden and daughters passed through Plainview to-day en route from Matador and Floydada to their home, in Gage, Okla. Mrs. Sidden visited her father, H. S. Anderson, in Matador.

Miss Olga Carter is expected to-day from Crosbyton to visit Joe Carter and family.

B. G. Lowery, of the Lowery-Phillips School, of Amarillo, returned to-day to Amarillo. Mr. Lowery is traveling in the interests of the Judson Centennial Equipment Fund. He will return to-morrow to continue his canvass of Plainview.

J. S. Wicks, Archdeacon of the Episcopal Church for the Plains, returned to Amarillo to-day. Rev. Wicks expects to move here about September first.

Harley Miller went to Abernathy to-day. Harley will visit his brother, W. E. Miller, for several days.

Claire Bell Wilson returned to-day from Canyon. Miss Wilson has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Pipkin.

NEBRASKA PROHIBS MEET.

By United Press

LINCOLN, Neb., July 21.—The prohibitionists of Nebraska are gathered here to-day in the party's annual State convention. The leaders are counting on the largest attendance of any of the party's conventions in this State during recent years.

STOVE WORKERS' CONVENTION.

By United Press

HAMILTON, Ohio, July 21.—More than two hundred delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada gathered here to-day for the biennial convention of the International Stove Molders' Union. Sessions will close July 24. Social features have an important place on the program.

MUNICIPAL MOVIES.

IT'S NOT IN THE BIBLE.

By United Press.

MADISON, Wis., July 21.—Moving pictures devoted to municipal topics, and especially to city improvements, were to be shown before members of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities, which met here to-day with about 200 city officials present. A three days' session was opened by President Joseph Fisher.

By United Press.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, July 21.—On the ground that it is contrary to biblical teaching, the Dutch women of Zoutpansberg have petitioned the South African Parliament against female suffrage. Furthermore, they say that women really do not want the vote, would not use it if they had it, and that men are amply qualified to make and administer the laws without the assistance of the other sex.

A MESSAGE TO YOU

Owing to several changes in the policy of the management, we are enabled to serve you more efficiently than ever before. We are offering you a program second to none, representing ten of the world's greatest producing companies.

We are also adding some new features weekly that will come to you as glad tidings, such as two a week of the Essany Company; famous Snakeville Comedies featuring the two funniest and most eccentric people in the pictures, "Margaret Joslin" as "Sophie", and "Victor Potel" as "Slippery Slim"; also one a week of the Biograph Company's roaring farce comedies.

With the addition of these new releases it is only a matter of a few days until we can give you a real comedy every day.

After having discontinued our orchestra we feel that it would be a step in the direction of "satisfaction to you" to put this amount into pictures and convenience. For your comfort through the hot months we have already installed fans. This with our special air washed cooling system will assure you at all times of plenty of good, cool, pure fresh air.

We are truly thankful for the liberal patronage accorded us in the past and will certainly endeavor to merit a continuation of the same. We are glad to be in a position to offer our friends and patrons the coolest and most comfortable place in town to enjoy the most select picture program on the market.

We are going to tell you about what's doing all along, but in the meantime don't forget that "Kathlyn" is here every other Friday and you can't afford to miss a single program. We have some others coming soon that you will greet with joy. So watch our announcements from time to time. Notice our posters and bill boards daily and you will always find something you would like to see. Don't take our word for these things, come and investigate, see for yourself if our assertions are true. We want you to make us prove it, and we will only take delight in doing so.

THE MAE I. THEATRE

Floydada

Floydada intends to be a clean town this summer. The weeds will be cut and burned and oil will be poured on the pools of stagnant water to kill the mosquitoes.

The Mayor, Council, Mothers' Club and all the citizens of the town, imbued with civic pride, are back of this clean-up movement, and intend to see it well done.

Mayor Montgomery of Floydada has issued the following proclamation:

"Believing that every citizen of the town realizes the need, for civic and sanitary reasons, of the destruction of the weeds which now infest our vacant lots, premises, streets and alleys, and that all desire to see concerted action of the citizenship toward this end;

"I hereby proclaim Wednesday, July 22, 'Clean-Up Day' in Floydada, when every citizen is asked to kill and rake all weeds on his own premises and on the adjacent lots, streets and alleys, to the end that the town may be a more beautiful and healthful place to live. W. T. MONTGOMERY, "Mayor."

A great prohibition rally was held at the Court House in Floydada Sunday night. All the churches were closed and preachers and people met at the Court House to pray for State-wide prohibition next Saturday.

Ramsey

Special to The Herald.

RAMSEY, Texas, July 20.—Last Sunday at 12 o'clock fire destroyed the home of Mr. Williams, 3½ miles east of Lockney, on the Shipley & Shipley farm. Most of the household goods were burned. The neighbors were quick to respond to his needs.

J. A. Russell has gone to Pampa, Texas, to work with Mr. Wise, a thresher.

Miss Annie Landrum, of Dallas, res returned home for a few days' visit. Crops are in excellent condition.

Miss Addie Russell, of Plainview, is visiting home folks, at Lockney.

Mrs. H. J. Wiley, of Lockney, is visiting W. L. Jackson and wife of Lakeview community.

SELLING CANTALOUPE.

Edw. O'Brien Has Earliest Product on Market.

Edw. O'Brien is selling cantaloupes this week. His patch is located just west of Lake Plainview.

Mr. O'Brien planted the seed in little paper boxes at the green house, and transplanted. He says he can have the melons two weeks earlier another season. He has great faith in the possibility of profitable truck growing around Plainview, and is a strong advocate of a small canning factory.

Mr. O'Brien and an assistant are camping at the patch.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES.

By United Press. CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 20.—The North Randall trotting races, the first of the Grand Circuit meets, starts here to-day. Fourteen meetings will be held. The races here, and those which follow at Detroit, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, will be conducted jointly by the Great Western and the Grand Circuit.

ALL FOR THREE CENTS.

By United Press. CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 21.—With an even dozen municipally-owned park refreshment stands in full operation selling ice cream cones, peanuts and popcorn for three cents, a large force of men are at work to-day hurrying to completion three more stands, made necessary by the heavy increase in the park refreshment trade.

Plans are now on foot to serve Sunday municipal chicken dinners at fifty cents a plate in Gordan, Brookside and Edgewater Parks, where the largest Sunday crowds gather.

WORLD FLIGHT IS OFF!

Difficult About Prize Money May Prevent Exposition Aeroplane Event.

NEW YORK CITY, July 21.—Because the Aero Club of America has not received a guarantee that the prize money set apart by the Panama-Pacific Exposition for the around-the-world race will be paid to the winners upon notification by the club's contest committee, the club is withholding its sanction to the race.

Promise to give the guarantee was made, the club states, by Arnold Krueckman, the exposition's aeronautical director, now in Europe. The $150,000 prize money was deposited by the exposition in the Anglo-London and Paris Bank. Failing to receive the guarantee in compliance with the regular conditions, the Aero Club on a cabled inquiry to-day from the Royal Aero Club of Great Britain whether it sanctioned the race, replied in the negative.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 21.—The exposition management has decided from the start that the round-the-world race be made under the rules of the International Federation of Aero Clubs, of which the Aero Club of America is the representative on this side of the water, said Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition, here to-day.

GOVERNMENT SEEK TO RECOVER THREE MILLIONS FROM WESTERN FUEL CO.

By United Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 21.—The Government will seek to recover $861,576.95 from the Western Fuel Company in a suit soon to come up in the Federal Court here. According to United States District Attorney Preston, more suits are to follow to a total amount approximating $2,000,000.

The suit already on file represents the full value of some forty ship loads of cold sold by the company to the Government, mainly for the army transport service. The Government asserts that the coal was underweight. The law allows it to confiscate such cargoes, and, as the coal is no longer available, Preston asks the money instead.

While the Government charges that when the company sold the coal it did not give as much as the recorded weights indicated, it charges, also, that in importing it, the corporation brought in more than the weights it gave, thereby defrauding the customs. These payments, together with heavy penalties, are what Preston will seek to recover through later suits. As a result of criminal trials involving the same transactions, General Manager James B. Smith, Superintendent Frederick C. Mills and Weigher Edward M. Mayer, of the company, were convicted and their cases are pending on appeal. The concern's higher officers got off on the ground that they did not know their subordinates were cheating the Government.

LEAVE FINGER PRINTS WITH UNCLE.

By United Press.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 21.—Cleveland police officials are pushing a movement to bring before the City Council legislation to widen the use of the finger-print system in the prevention of crime.

City Bertillon experts propose that every person who pawns an article be required to leave finger prints with the pawnbroker. By comparing these records with those of known criminals already on file, police hope to trace stolen property and catch pickpockets and burglars who specialize in petty "house jobs."

BEREAVED BY DIRECTORY.

By United Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 21.—The new San Francisco directory, just out, professes to publish, after the name of each married man listed, the maiden name of his wife. But by an oversight, several men who have been long happily wed and have families figure in it as bachelors. Among such are Gov. Hiram Johnson, his son, Hiram, Jr., and Mayor Rolph.

George Herbert, of Hale Center, was operated on at the sanitarium last week.

Miss Minnie Haword, who has been in the sanitarium for a week or two, left for her home, in Estacado, today.

HERALD FOREMAN SUFFERS BROKEN ARM WHEN AUTO KICKS.

H. S. Hilburn Had Serious Accident Sunday Morning En Route from Seth Ward College.

An automobile was to blame for H. S. Hilburn's broken arm Sunday morning. Mr. Hilburn was coming from Seth Ward College, where he had spent the night with his former instructor, Professor J. E. Willis.

The car stopped, and when he started to crank it the engine kicked. It threw the young man some distance. "I believe it got me," he said, and blood was dripping from his sleeve. Both bones in the forearm were broken—one of them in two places.

Drs. Anderson and Gidney set the broken bones quickly.

Mr. Hilburn has been foreman for the Herald Publishing Co. a year.

Misses Emma and Letitia Baker passed through to-day en rout from a visit to Memphis' and Childress to their home, in Floydada.

Mrs. E. Dowden left to-day for Edina, Mr. Mrs. Dowden will visit her mother, Mrs. Pugh, for several weeks.

THE AIR DASH OVER THE ATLANTIC—CAN THEY DO IT!

The Next Month May Witness Another Remarkable Achievement Featured by American Grit and Money; the World Will Watch the Start of the America and Breathlessly Await the Outcome.

RECORDS OF AEROPLANES.

Record for duration without stopping, 16 hours, 28 minutes 36 4-5 seconds, made by Poulet, April 24, 1914.

Duration without stopping, with one passenger, 9 hours 45 minutes, made by Laitsch at Johannisthal, October 28, 1913.

Altitude, with one passenger, 18,040 feet (5,500 meters), by Linnokogal at Johannisthal, March 24, 1914.

They say they will cross the Atlantic, in a half-air, half-water craft the "America."

Once before the attempt was made in a great dirigible 258 feet long and built at a cost of $250,000. Its intrepid crew sailed into that port from whence none return.

This time the trans-Atlantic flyer is built on wholly different lines. Rodman Wanamaker, who has done much to develop aviation, is backing the enterprise. For him, Glenn H. Curtiss, one of the pioneer birdmen, has launched a flying boat with a wing spread of 74 feet and a length over all of 34 feet.

Tests have been made, and the aerial sharks who stood on the banks of the peaceful Lake Keuka, in Pleasant Valley, near Hammondsport, N. Y., where the Curtiss factory is situated, to watch the first flights, all agree that as a flying machine nothing better could be asked than the America. Thus far she has flown fast, strong, and carried aloft a great deal of weight.

But crossing the Atlantic over a route covering 2,684 miles, with but two stops to replenish fuel—

Can it be done?

The world at large will get its answer within the next month—at least, that is the hope of the builder, the backer and pilots of this strange craft, the America.

$50,000 Is the Prize.

Lieutenant John Cyril Porte, Royal

Navy, retired, a great, broad-shouldered Englishman, whose health was almost shattered by six years' service in submarines under the sea, now hopes to conquer in a trans-Atlantic journey through the uncharted air lanes, over the sea. He will be the pilot of the America, and with him will go George Hallett, an American and protege of Glenn Curtiss, and—

If they win—there is the $50,000 prize of Lord Northcliffe's London Daily Mail. This prize will go to Lieutenant Porte and Hallett.

Think of the glory that will be theirs should they land on the Irish or English coast within the seventy-two hours prescribed by the Daily Mail competition! Mr. Wanamaker is not interested in the monetary recompense. All he asks is the honor of having sent the first expedition of this sort across the broad Atlantic.

And, it will make Glenn Curtiss even more famous.

Conditions of Flight.

The conditions announced for the competition by the Royal Aero Club of the United Kingdom are as follows:

The proprietors of the Daily Mail have offered the sum of $50,000 to be awarded to the aviator who shall first cross the Atlantic in an aeroplane in flight from any point in the United States, Canada or Newfoundland to any point in Great Britain or Ireland, in seventy-two consecutive hours. (The flight may be made either way across the Atlantic.)

Qualification of competitors: The competition is open to persons of any nationality holding an aviator's certificate issued by the International Aeronautical Federation and duly entered in the competitors' register of the Royal Aero Club.

Entries: The entry, which must be accompanied by the entrance fee of $500, must be sent to the secretary of the Royal Aero Club, No. 166 Piccadilly, London, W., at least fourteen days before the entrant makes his first attempt.

Starting place: Competitors must advise the Royal Aero Club of the starting place selected, and should indicate as nearly as possible the proposed landing place. All starts must be made under the supervision of an official or officials appointed by the Royal Aero Club.

Identification of air craft: Only one air craft may be used for each attempt. It may be repaired en route. It will be so marked before starting that it can be identified on reaching the other side.

Stoppages: Any intermediate stoppages may only be made on the water.

Towing: Towing is not prohibited. Start and finish: The start may be made from land or water, but in the latter case the competitor must cross the coast line in flight. The time will be taken from the moment of leaving the land or crossing the coast line.

The finish may be made on land or water. The time will be taken at the moment of crossing the coast line in flight or touching land.

If the pilot has at any time to leave the air craft and board ship, he must resume his flight from approximately the same point at which he went on board.

Their Long Route.

Certain it is that when these daring

aviator-sailors set sail from the Newfoundland coast they will carry with them the "bon voyage" of all the civilized peoples of those countries in which the science of aviation has taken hold.

As the route now lies, the start will be from St. Johns, Newfoundland, to Fayal Island, in the Azores, a distance of 1,198 miles, the schedule for this leg being twenty hours; from Fayal Island there is a leg of 963 miles to Vigo, Spain, scheduled for sixteen hours, and from Vigo to Plymouth, on the English coast, the distance is 523 miles, a nine-hour drive. Thus, according to the schedule, the flying boat must cover the 2,648 miles in forty-five hours.

What will happen along the way—how the men will sleep and eat, replenish their fuel supply and make repairs, if such are necessary, is a story for the future to tell.

Steady as a Rock.

From Mr. Curtiss himself comes this description of the America:

The big trans-Atlantic flying boat we have been building for Rodman Wanamaker is completed—at least, to all outward seeming. She was christened America and launched at the Curtiss flying camp, on Lake Keuka, on June 23, but did not make her first flight until the next day. Then short flights were made, first by Glenn H. Curtiss, then by Lieutenant John C. Porte, and later by George Hallett.

As a flying machine, all agree that nothing better to handle could be asked for. America flies fast and flies strong, with so much reserve power that these experts have no doubt of her ability to fly with the full load of fuel and supplies contemplated. Lieutenant Porte declares that, despite her great size and weight, America handles as neatly as any machine he ever flew.

"Steady as a rock" is his expression. When he opened the throttles wide, a something that did not occur until the third or fourth flight, the machine sped up at a great rate. Lieutenant Porte said: "My, but she did roar, and she flew with her tail somewhere up in the clouds." In other words, she flew at an almost negative angle, after the fashion of the latest type of Curtiss military tractors, which have an unusual range of speed and carry very heavy loads, speed considered. Some changes will be made in the hull to make her rise more quickly to the surface in rough water. Auxiliary planes or fans will be attached to the sides of the boat to attain this end. Trials will be continued until the machine meets our requirements.

General Dimensions.

Following is a detailed description of the machine as it now stands:

- Length over all, 34 feet.
- Length of hull, 30 feet.
- Width of hull, 4 feet.
- Depth of hull, 6 feet.
- Length of cabin, 7 feet.
- Height of cabin, 5 feet.
- Spread of upper wings, 74 feet.
- Spread of lower wings, 46 feet.
- Chord, both, 7 feet.
- Gap between wings, 7½ feet.
- Weight, empty, approximately 3,600 pounds.
- Weight, fully loaded, 5,000 pounds.
- Speed, 62-65 miles per hour in still air; to this add or subtract speed of wind machine is traveling with or against.

Description of Hull.

Forward section, for twelve feet six inches is a double concave, a modification of the popular Vee-bottom hydroplane section. Aft of this is a conical tail terminating in a point twenty feet from the main body of the boat. Over the main section is a rigid top fitted with celluloid windows, forming an enclosed cabin or pilot house.

Here are seats for the two pilots; dual controls throughout, so that either may operate the machine, or both simultaneously. Within sight of the operators are the aviation instruments—tachometers, to show the two motors; aneroids, to show the altitude of the machine; wind speed gauge, showing speed of the machine through the air; inclinometers, showing the latitude and longitude flying angles; fuel and oil gauges, showing contents of tanks.

In the after part of the cabin are Lieutenant Porte's navigation instruments; his sextant, chart table, gauges for showing drift, speed over the water, etc.

The construction of the hull is over a framework of closely-spaced ash ribs, a planking of spruce, covered with heavy canvas set in marine glue. The bottom of the forward section is double skinned and then laid with Sea Island cotton set in marine glue. Fastenings are several thousand brass screws and copper rivets.

Description of Wings.

Wings are composed of seven sections; a center panel of ten by seven feet above the power plant; four main sections (two upper and two lower) approximately 18x7 feet, and two overhangs on the upper surface measuring 15x7 feet each.

The shape of the wings is known as the N. P. L. wing section, which, after exhaustive experiments made at the National Physical Laboratory, Teddington, England, was considered most efficient for this work. The wing frames are built up solidly of ash and spruce, covered with a heavy ribbed silk which is coated with a special water and fire proof dope.

The Controls.

The arial rudder for turning from left to right has a depth of five feet and a length of four and one-half feet. The flippers, or rudders for steering up or down, are located on either side of the main rudder, and their dimensions are six feet by four and one-half.

The single-acting ailerons or trailing flaps at the extremities of the wings measure fourteen feet in length by a maximum of four feet in depth. These are used to correct the lateral balance of the machine. If one side tips up the flap on that side is pulled above the normal level of the plane, with the combined result of slowing the speed of that side and at the same time depressing it through the pressure on the upper side of the flap.

These controls are operated as follows: The rudder, by turning the wheel to left or right, the flippers by pulling the wheel forward or back, the ailerons by foot pedals.

Seven gasoline tanks have a total capacity of 312 gallons of gasoline; two tanks mounted on the engine beds have a capacity of 30 gallons of lubricating oil. Six tanks are located just aft of the pilot house. These drain simultaneously and the fuel is pumped to a gravity feed tank midway between the motors by a rotary-gear pump.

A special gauge on the side of this gravity tank indicates the action of the Pump. In case the gear pump fails, the aviators have an auxiliary hand pump.

The Power Plant.

The big 200-horsepower aeronautical motor for the Rodman Wanamaker hydroplane is of the Curtiss Vee type, eight cylinders, with a bore and stroke of five by seven inches. Cylinders are individual, with welded water jackets of non-corrosive Monel metal. Each cylinder has four Tungsten steel valves two and one-fourth inches in diameter with seven-sixteenths lift. All thirty-two valves are operated from a single camshaft. The cylinders are held down to a crankcase by tubular studs from the heads with extension through-bolts through main bearing caps. All outside bearings are self-lubricating of the graphite inlay type.

The crankcase consists of two aluminum castings, thoroughly bridged. The crankshaft is four feet long, two and one-fourth inches in diameter, and drilled with an oil duct one and one-sixteenth inch diameter. It is made of imported Krupp steel, formula EF60. Connecting rods are I-type forgings, with large bearings and oil ducts to piston pins.

Water circulation is by large centrifugal pump with double outlets and a capacity of forty gallons per minute. Cylinder heads and valve seats are water cooled, and exhaust valve stems are water cooled for almost their entire length.

Three rotary-gear pumps take care of the lubricating system. One large pump drives the oil under high pressure to every bearing through the main shaft, cam shaft and connecting rods; while two smaller pumps keep the lower half of the case drained. No splash system is employed, the idea being to eliminate the waste of oil and anger of flooding cylinders should the machine assume an unusual angle.

Gasoline intake manifolds are two and one-half inches in diameter, and a two and one-half inch Schebler carburetor is used. Intake manifolds are water jacketed. Ignition at present is by two-spark Bosch magneto, but this may be replaced later by two single-spark Bosch instruments of the half-speed induction type.

SALOON IS THE ISSUE SAYS REV. S. A. BARNES

Methodist Preacher Declares Prohibition Vital Effects The Home and Citizenship of Texas

BALL AGAINST FERGUSON

Fact That Houston Man Has Fought for Prohibition Twenty-Five Years Commends Him

"The saloon is not AN ISSUE; it is THE ISSUE of the present campaign for Governor," declared Rev. S. A. Barnes at the Methodist Church last night. His text was taken from Habakuk 2:12: "Woe to him that buildeth a town with his blood;" and from Eph. 2:19: "Ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens."

Brother Barnes' subject was "Scourged Back to the Pulpit." "The saloon is the godmother of unsteadiness, selfishness, cruelty and drunkenness; and the curse of God is upon any citizenship who suffers these things to exist."

"The responsibility for this town is not upon Texas, but it is upon us as individuals, and we will make this town what we wish it to be. If we want Plainview to be a law-abiding place, we will make it that. We are a part of the government under which we live."

"The government upon our shoulders is made by our vote and is established by the influence of that vote."

Effects Home and Morals.

"I want to talk to you to-night about a question which vitally effects the home and morals of this State—the vital question before us. It touches government as well as the church; it effects everything pertaining to good citizenship. It is not simply a question of 'prohibition or anti-prohibition.' It is a question of government by the law-abiding or law-breaking elements. Then it resolves itself into the question whether the good citizens of Texas will suffer government to be in the hands of law-breakers or put it in the hand of the men and women who are home-makers of Texas."

"The war is centered around two personalities—Ball and Ferguson. You cannot discuss the question and eliminate these men. Behind these men is a moral principle that carries with it the eternal welfare and perpetuity of our government."

"I do not know either Mr. Ball or Mr. Ferguson. But there is not a man anywhere who expects me to be for any one other than Tom Ball. If I were to announce that I was for Ferguson, he would not respect me. I don't like the crowd which is running Jim Ferguson."

Against Saloons and Breweries.

"When the saloons, the breweries the low foreigners line up on one side I get on the other side. I delight to throw my influence for Tom Ball."

"Much has been said about 'scourging the ministry back to the pulpit.' That has been the cry of the saloon since this fight started. Law breakers always have said, 'Drive the ministry back to the pulpit.'"

"Have you ever stopped to think that almost every reform was born in the ministry. The ministry will not be scourged back to the pulpit so long as anarchy and the saloon stalks about."

Brother Barnes said that Peter Radford and W. D. Lewis drew the ministers into this campaign. These men he called the "self-appointed leaders of the Farmers' Union to bring the farmers out of the wilderness into the light of day of the breweries. The material sent out under their signatures is written by a brewery tool."

Radford Won't Fool Farmers.

"The voice of the ministry is being raised over Texas in behalf of the most sacred principle for which men are struggling. Radford and Lewis will not turn the farmers," the preacher said. They will go to the ballot box, as they have always done, and vote for home and higher citizenship and greater prosperity."

"For four years the State has been cursed with a saloon-loving Governor, and our great State has not advanced one step. Our institutions have retrograded, our taxes have increased and our dignity has been lowered. The Colquitt administration will go down in history as the most disgraceful period of our history."

"Yet Colquitt's cry was 'Political peace.' Will the good citizens of Texas perpetuate his kind—to the disgrace of the State—or will we place in the Governor's chair a man who is clean in life and whose statesmanship has been tested for 25 years?"

Brother Barnes said that it isn't true many prohibitionists are turning to Ferguson. He called attention to a number of men who have been told about as prohibitionists, and produced evidence to show that they have always been anti.

"I was astonished when I heard Jim Cunningham say that he was a prohibitionist," Brother Barnes said. "I lived in Abilene 4 years, and never heard anything said of Cunningham except as an anti."

Ferguson Stands for Saloon.

"Jim Ferguson stands for the saloon in his own town, and always has. The only thing that has commended Mr. Ferguson to the Governorship is the fact that the 'white apron' bunch found they could make a fool out of him."

"Tom Ball's moral character is clean. If I did not know a thing in the world about him, I would take the testimony of 30 ministers of his own town, who came out over their own signatures and declared that he is a clean man and a consistent member of the church."

"I am an enemy of the Houston Club. Mr. Ball has pledged that if elected he will do his best to put these clubs out of existence. Mr. Ball has fought for prohibition since 1887. He lived in the heart of the anti's stronghold, and his character was so strong that they sent him to Congress so long as he would serve."

Brother Barnes closed with a strong appeal to men to vote for Tom Ball Saturday. Rev. A. B. Roberts asked if he might sing, and the old man pitched his tune without organ. The congregation joined heartily in the chorus of his solo: "Prohibition's Rolling On," to the tune of "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah."

BIGGEST GUN TO PANAMA.

At Eleven Miles It Will Pierce Any Armor Plate Afloat.

From the Chicago News.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When its breech-locking device has been perfected, the great 16-inch gun, the biggest piece of ordnance in the world, which has been shipped from Sandy Hook proving grounds, will be virtually ready for service on the Panama Canal fortifications.

A conception may be obtained of the tremendous power of this gun, destined to protect the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal, from the fact that it is fifty feet long, weighs 142 tons and fires a projectile about six feet long. The projectile weighs a ton and is discharged by 665 pounds of powder. It requires eight men to carry the powder charge.

This gun has a maximum range of from twenty-two to twenty-three miles, or half the distance between New York City and West Point. The elevation permitted by its carriage will enable the gun to fire a projectile about eleven miles across the Pacific Ocean. It has sufficient power, theoretically, to pierce two feet of the best armor at the muzzle. At eleven miles the gun is calculated to pierce a 12-inch armor plate, or any side armor afloat.

When the shell leaves the gun it is revolving around its axis about 4,000 revolutions a minute and develops a pressure of 38,000 pounds to the square inch. The pressure to the rear on the gun and forward on the projectile amounts to 7,600,000 pounds. The projectile's velocity of 2,250 feet a second gives a muzzle energy of more than 84,000 foot tons—that is, an energy capable of raising forty-two tons one foot every second.

Army ordnance officers believe this gun will be a tremendous instrument of peace when it is in position on the Panama Canal.

The NEW Fisk Heavy Car Type Tire

is unique in that every source of dissatisfaction heretofore a factor in all tires has been carefully eliminated in these remarkable casings. The treads, practically impervious to ordinary punctures and wear, are indivisibly united to the already famous Fisk fabric-body, forming a tire virtually trouble-free.

The Long Sought Goal of Tire Makers

Since motordom's inception, the one aim of tire makers has been to produce a tire as nearly as possible equal to the theoretically perfect standard. From time to time improvements have been announced, but now for the first time every single factor of satisfaction and mileage possible of production have been combined in

The NEW Fisk Heavy Car Type Tire

In time other tires, no doubt, will be brought up to the height first reached in the NEW Fisk Tire. In the meanwhile the only safe source of satisfaction to the motorist is to equip his car with these NEW Fisk Heavy Car Type Tires. They come in all styles to fit any rim.
