CITY COUNCIL VOTES TO BUY PROPOSED MARKET

WILL MEET OFFER MADE BY OWNER PROVIDED TERMS CAN BE SUITABLY ARRANGED.

TWO ORDINANCES ADOPTED

Committee to Confer With Ladies of Library Association Regarding Library Building.

The City Council, in regular session, with all members present except J. B. Maxey, last night authorized the purchase of the nine lots from W. G. Phillips which have been considered for the establishment of a market place. These lots are located near the News office.

The purchase was conditioned upon the acceptance by Mr. Phillips of the original offer made the city by him. This offer provided that the purchase could be made for $2,700. Of this amount, $1,750 was to be paid in cash and the city assume a note for $950 with interest at ten per cent provided the note could be extended for at least one year. On motion to purchase, El-lerd, Humphreys and Frye voted aye; Simmons voted no.

The city attorney was ordered to draft ordinances to prohibit trespassing upon the right of way of the Santa Fe Railroad Co. within the city limits, and to assess a tax upon all transfer and dray wagons operating in the city. The council is also considering a tax upon all automobiles owned in the city.

The committee appointed to confer with the ladies of the Library Association regarding a location for the library reported that nothing acceptable had been found. Action was deferred until the next meeting of the Association, at which time the committee is instructed to confer with the ladies regarding the possibility of building a permanent library. Frye and Simmons constitute this committee.

Ordinance 102 was adopted. This is the Pound Ordinance. It is identical with the old ordinance in every respect except that livestock which has been sold out of pound at the end of ten days may be reclaimed by the owner upon payment to the purchaser of the purchase price and a reasonable amount for the keeping of the animal or animals from date of purchase to date of redemption, redemption to be made within 30 days after impounding. Also each animal impounded must be sold separately, and not with other animals, as formerly permitted.

It was ordered that after March 1st the salary of the driver of the fire truck is to be $65 a month.

The city health officer reports a single isolated case of measles.

REV. I. E. GATES IS ASSISTING IN EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

In the absence of Rev. I. E. Gates, who is assisting in the State-wide campaign to raise $1,000,000 for the Baptist educational institutions of Texas, Rev. A. B. Roberts filled the pulpit at the Baptist Church Sunday morning. Rev. O. L. Halley, president of Wayland Baptist College, preached in the evening.

OFF TO DISTRICT MEETING OF BANKERS AT ABILENE.

W. A. Donaldson and L. G. Wilson, vice presidents of the Third National Bank, left yesterday morning for Abilene, where they will attend the annual meeting of the bankers of the Seventh District.

WILL SELL HORSES.

G. A. King is going to have a carload of bred mares and fillies on sale at the Overall barn Saturday, commencing at 1:30 p. m. W. A. Nash will auction them off.

MISS IRICK TAKES POSITION WITH CARTER-HOUSTON CO.

Miss Adoline Irick has accepted a position with the Carter-Houston Dry Goods Co., and assumed her duties this morning.

SCHOOL RALLY AT LAKEVIEW.

Under the direction of Professor D. H. Stovall, a school rally was held Friday at the Lakeview School. Many people from Plainview attended.

Subscription for S. W. Dormitory Reaches $6,500

Rev. J. D. Young, vice president of the Texas Woman's College, at Fort Worth, preached at the Methodist Church Sunday morning and evening, renewing the interest in the $12,000 campaign to rebuild the boys' dormitory at Seth Ward College.

At noon today the five committees at work on the subscription report an amount a little in excess of $4,000. Of this amount, $3,000 was subscribed at the Sunday services. This sum is in addition to the $2,500 raised when Rev. Young first instituted the campaign, on a former visit here. Rev. J. W. Story reports that the prospect of completing the entire amount this week is bright.

At the morning service Rev. Young had as his subject "Christian Education." At the evening service he spoke on the "Making of Manhood and Womanhood."

HARP MOVES OFFICE TO CALLAHAN RANCH PROPERTY.

A. E. Harp today moved his office furniture to the Callahan Ranch, twelve miles southeast of Plainview and six miles from Aiken, where he will establish a temporary office for the recently formed Alfalfa Farms Company. Mr. Harp's family will move to the ranch in about two weeks, as soon as accommodations are prepared for them.

Permanent headquarters for the new enterprise have not yet been determined. At present the officers of the company are arranging sales agencies throughout the state and preparing to bring in prospectors. The famous ranch will be cut up into units from forty acres up and sold with such improvements as the purchaser may desire.

BIRTHS.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wilson, a girl, February 17.

COURT OFFICERS TO FLOYDADA AFTER A STRENUOUS TERM

But Few Cases Settled in Closing Days of District Court; Six Appealed.

District Court adjourned Saturday. Judge R. C. Joiner, Geo. L. Mayfield and W. N. Baker left Sunday afternoon for Floydada, where District Court convened yesterday morning.

In addition to cases reported, the following cases were disposed of before adjournment here:

Third National Bank vs. P. B. Snyder, et al.; suit on note and foreclosure. Dismissed at cost of plaintiff. C. S. Woodrow, et al., vs. The Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co.; suit for insurance. Continued by operation of law.

A. B. Rosser vs. Commonwealth Bonding and Casualty Co.; cancellation of note and deed of trust. Continued by operation of law.

M. D. Leach vs. Commonwealth Bonding and Casualty Co. Continued by operation of law.

J. C. Brown vs. Commonwealth Bonding and Casualty Co. Continued by operation of law.

C. A. Robertson vs. E. A. Cram, et al.; trespass to try title. Judgment for plaintiff as prayed for.

J. P. Flake vs. J. E. Caffee; trespass to try title. Continued by operation of law.

J. J. Simpson vs. Pecos and North Texas Railway Company; damages. Continued by operation of law.

C. W. Rinehart vs. B. B. Huguley; trespass to try title. Continued by operation of law.

The First National Bank of Plainview vs. C. H. White; suit on note.

EXCITING RUNAWAY CAUSES BUT VERY SLIGHT DAMAGE.

Little damage was done by the runaway team of S. R. Brannon this morning. The team was hitched to a wagon that was being loaded with lumber in the Fulton Lumber Yard. They became frightened and ran several hundred yards up Broadway, colliding with a farm wagon and with the Texas Company's oil wagon, scattering oil cans over the street.

GRAND JURY RETURNS BILLS FOR GAMING AND SPEEDING

Thirty-Five Stand Indicted—Sheriff and Other County Officers Commended.

The grand jury in the District Court of Hale County, through its foreman, J. C. Woolverton, has returned thirty-five bills. In their report to Judge R. C. Joiner, the jurymen say:

"We wish to commend our county officials, and especially the Sheriff, for their vigilance in the enforcement of the law, and recognize the disadvantage they are at in apprehending those who have violated the gaming law and other violations, and request all citizens to assist them all they can in enforcing the law.

"We would call attention to all auto drivers to the law regulating the speed of cars and emphatically protest against racing on the public roads.

"We have inspected the jail and Court House and find same in good condition."

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED AT PETERSBURG.

Professor F. A. Cook and Associates Have Splendid Occasional Program Today.

Today the Petersburg school entertained the neighboring schools with a Washington's Birthday program. Professor F. A. Cook and associates had a splendidly planned rally. Many parents and patrons, as well as pupils and parents from adjoining districts, attended.

County Judge W. B. Lewis addressed the audience in the morning. J. M. Adams, of the Plainview News, spoke encouraging words to the school children and patrons. It will be remembered that the medal for the best scholar in Hale County outside of Plainview was offered by Mr. Adams and won by a girl from the Petersburg school.

In the afternoon, Professor A. L. Tarleton, teacher of history in the Plainview High School, made a talk especially to patrons of the school. He mentioned the meeting of the Interscholastic League of Hale County in Plainview early in March, and urged the pupils of the Petersburg school to attend.

Professor W. F. Ledlow, president of Lockney Christian College, made the principal address of the day, speaking for some thirty-five minutes on the topic of education, stressing especially the relations between teacher and pupil, and parents and teacher. He was followed by County Attorney Chas. Clements, who made a short address.

Professor J. C. Stephens, of Wayland Baptist College, announced the South Plains Interscholastic Meet at Wayland Baptist College April 22, and extended an invitation to the Petersburg school to attend.

The excellent program of readings by pupils of the school was enjoyed by all. The little fellows especially acquitted themselves well. The theme of the program was Washington, and the school building was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The national flag floated from the flag pole.

The ladies of the community served an unusually nice basket dinner. Abernathy and Mickey played basketball in the afternoon. Abernathy had the large end of the score at the end of the first half, but Mickey played better during the second half, and won by three points. The score was 17 to 14.

A mother's club was organized by the ladies patronizing the school. Among those from Plainview who attended were A. F. Anderson, A. L. Tarleton, Norman Halley, Professor J. C. Stephens, Harold Knupp, Vinson Lowery, J. M. Adams, Roy Irick, Judge J. E. Lancaster, Chas. Clements, Solon Clements, Claud Beck, R. E. Burch, Professor W. F. Ledlow, H. S. Hilburn, L. D. Griffin, Judge and Mrs. W. B. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Peace, and A. B. Munsey.

REV. LEDLOW WILL PREACH ON SECOND SUNDAY IN MARCH.

Rev. W. F. Ledlow, president of Lockney Christian College, will preach in Plainview, at the Church of Christ, on the second Sunday in March. The general public is invited.

SCHOOLS OF SOUTH PLAINS TO BE GUESTS OF WAYLAND

Interscholastic Meet Planned for April 22—Would Make it an Annual Event.

Invitations will soon be sent out to all the schools of the South Plains to participate in the South Plains Interscholastic Meet to be held at Wayland Baptist College Saturday, April 22. Dean J. C. Reynolds is making arrangements now for the meet.

The schools to whom invitations will be sent are to be divided into two classes. In the first class will be Canyon, Hereford, Tulia, Crosbyton, Matador, Lockney, Floydada, Hale Center and Silverton. All other schools will be placed in another class. Suitable prizes will be offered by Wayland College for the winners in each event, and the school winning the most events will be awarded a special prize.

There will be fifty-, two-hundred, and one-hundred-yard dashes, high and broad jump, sack race for boys under 14, potato race for girls under fifteen. Each school will be eligible to enter one basketball team, and short games of basketball will be played to determine the championship team. Wayland College wants to arrange for a baseball game with another college, too.

Wayland expects to make the South Plains Interscholastic Meet an annual event, and promises to be a royal host to all the schools that participate.

U. S. CATTLE AGENT STUDIES FEEDING AT HELEN TEMPLE.

T. Pryse Metcalfe, beef cattle field agent for the U. S. Government stationed at Amarillo, came in yesterday to inspect certain feeding demonstrations being conducted at Helen Temple Farm. These experiments deal principally with the cost system as applied to cattle feeding.

Mr. Metcalfe stated today that this has been an ideal season for cattle, and as a result he finds the livestock of Hale County in excellent early spring condition. He states that very few heaves are being finished for market here or elsewhere in the Southwest and that this condition promises a strong spring market.

Mr. Metcalfe will be glad to assist any farmer of this section in his feeding problems.

McCAFFREE CHILD DIES.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McCaffree died of congestion at the family home Friday, and was buried at the Plainview Cemetery Saturday. The child was five days old at the time of death.

TILSON FAVORS A FARM DEMONSTRATOR FOR HALE.

Would Represent the District Again in the Legislature—Gives Account of Stewardship.

Capt. T. J. Tilson, representative from this district to the State Legislature, was a pleasant caller at The Herald office Saturday evening. Capt. Tilson is making the race again for the legislature. During the time he has represented the district he has introduced bills relating to the judiciary and to court procedure, advocating that nine jurors govern in civil cases. This bill passed the house but was killed in the senate. He also introduced a bill appropriating $100,000 from State funds to be used as bounty for paying for rabbit ears and wolf scalps.

The county is authorized to pay half the bounty and the State half by this bill. Capt. Tilson believes the bill has been of much benefit to this section, but particularly to that part of the State where wolves prey on livestock.

Capt. Tilson states that he made the race for the legislature on a platform of economy, but he believes the educational and eleemosynary institutions should be provided for liberally, and in the main he supported the bills designed to make appropriations for these institutions. He voted for the compulsory school law.

He also introduced a bill along the principles of the Torrens' land system to provide for land titles. He believes an immense sum can be saved the land owners of the State with this system.

Capt. Tilson worked faithfully on the bill to secure $200,000 for the rebuilding of the West Texas State Normal

Chamber of Commerce Wants More Industries For City

The Chamber of Commerce met in regular meeting last night, in the County Court room, with W. E. Risser, vice president, presiding.

Boyd Toliff, of Alliance, Neb., addressed the body on "Opportunities for Chambers of Commerce." He emphasized the value of first impressions gained by visitors, and suggested that the Chamber of Commerce, with the co-operation of the Civic League, make an effort to clean and brighten the vacant lots between the Santa Fe and the business district by clearing them of debris and planting grass and flowers thereon. He thought this might best be done by interesting the children in a competitive way.

Mr. Toliff urged the co-operation of the city business men with the country business men, and suggested means of increasing the membership of the organization as well as its effectiveness.

The possibilities of securing a mill which could handle commercially the products of peanuts was discussed. The prospects of interesting capital in a beet-sugar factory and a condensed-milk factory were also spoken of.

The next regular meeting of the body will be held Monday, March 6th.

WAYLAND AND GOODNIGHT TO DEBATE HERE MARCH THIRD.

Question Is Federal Compulsory Arbitration Between Capital and Labor.

An intercollegiate debate has been arranged between Wayland Baptist College and Goodnight College, of Goodnight, Texas. It will be held in the chapel of Wayland College on the evening of March 3. The question is, "Resolved, that a national board of arbitration with compulsory powers should be established to settle disputes between capital and labor." Wayland has the negative side and the visitors the affirmative.

AUTOMOBILE HIGHWAY TO SILVERTON NOW ASSURED

Citizens of Briscoe County Eubiose at Meeting With Y. M. B. L. Committee.

Messrs. J. W. Ryan, J. M. Waller and H. C. Howard returned this afternoon from a trip to Silverton in the interest of the automobile highway projected by the Young Men's Business League.

An enthusiastic reception is reported, after which a meeting was called to order in the Biffle Dry Goods Company's establishment. Secretary H. C. Howard addressed the meeting, explaining the purpose of the proposed highway, and asked the co-operation of the business men of Briscoe County in putting the road through.

The Silverton people subscribed liberally, and the funds will be turned over to the Young Men's Business League for completion of the Briscoe County end of the road.

The immense importance of the opening up of this territory can hardly be estimated to Plainview and Hale County.

SANTA FE OFFICIALS TO INSPECT LUBBOCK GYP FIELDS.

T. H. Sears, general superintendent of the Santa Fe, and Superintendent D. S. Farley passed through Plainview this morning to Lubbock, where they go to inspect the gyp field near there with a view to development. It is said that the quality of this rock for ballast is exceptionally good, and may meet the demand for extensive ballasting contemplated by the Santa Fe.

TO NEW MEXICO AFTER SHEEP.

C. K. Thomas and Jay Green left yesterday morning for Roswell, New Mexico. They want to buy sheep to place on their farm property near Plainview.

MRS. W. E. WINFIELD TO AMARILLO FOR OPERATION.

Mrs. W. E. Winfield, accompanied by her husband and her nurse, Mrs. Thompson, left this morning for Amarillo, where she will undergo an operation at St. Anthony's Hospital.

INTERNATIONAL OUTLOOK GROWS MORE SERIOUS

HOUSE MILITARY COMMITTEE TAKES STEPS TOWARD PREPAREDNESS.

RUSSIA CONTINUES SUCCESS

French War Office Claims Numerous Small Successes in Repulsing Germans in French Territory.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The diplomatic situation between the United States and the central powers of Europe is hourly growing more tense as the home government anxiously awaits the reply to its note to Germany regarding definite assurances of the conduct of submarine warfare. Press dispatches from Berlin indicate that the reply will be decidedly unfavorable, but government officials hope that this may not prove true.

The House military committee today indicated its intentions of preparedness when Chairman Hay was authorized to frame a measure which will compromise the plan of President Wilson and that of former Secretary Garrison. Complete federalization of the national guard was substituted for the proposed continental army.

Germans Repulsed.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—In an attempted attack near Lyons covering an area of three or four miles a German infantry force was repulsed by the French today. This is only one of several minor successes claimed by the Paris war office.

The Germans report additional repulses of the British hand grenade attacks against the captured positions on the Yser Canal and putting down an entente allied offensive on the Lens-Arras road. Numerous fights in the air have occurred between the French and Germans. Aeroplanes raided the German aviation field at Habsheim and a munitions factory at Pogy-Surmesell. Little fighting has been reported on the Eastern and Austro-Italian fronts. Indications are that Austro-Hungarians and their allies have surrounded Durrazzo, Albania. The Russians continue the pursuit of the Turks who fled from Erzerum, and are advancing northward to the Black Sea, where they will establish a base for warships and transports.

Russians Press Advantage.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 20.—The Russians are pressing the advantage gained at Erzerum on both flanks. On the right, along the Black Sea coast, by the co-operation of the sea and land forces, they are driving the Turks from one position after another to the east of Trebizond, and it is expected that active operations against that important seaport will not be long deferred.

In the last two days the Russians have occupied Witde (Widje) and pressed forward ten or twelve miles westward. The fleet has destroyed in succession several shore batteries, which might have been of assistance to the Turks, and by keeping well in advance of the land forces and by destroying bridges over several streams in the path of retreating Turks, has rendered the retreat more difficult.

Fleet Spreads Confusion.

The fleet has been working so close to the shore that the warships have been reached by rifle fire from the Turkish troops. On the other hand, the ships have spread confusion in the ranks of the Turks by dropping shells among them.

On the left flank, after the occupation of Koph, the Russians pushed on to Mush and Achlet, the latter on the north shore of Lake Van. From Koph to Mush, sixty miles over mountain roads, they fought several battles and occupied Mush by storm.

The Turks fled southward toward Diarbekr, the next objective of the Russian army. Once in possession of Diarbekr, it is only a day's march to the Bagdad Railway, the last remaining communication into Syria.

May Cut Turk Retreat.

The rapid Russian offensive beyond Erzerum, it is believed here, makes it probable that the retreat of the Turkish corps operating along the Black Sea coast, and of those troops which were active in the Mush district before the Russian occupation, will be entirely cut off and that the main Turkish armies will be surrounded.

FOLK SONGS HAVE ARTISTIC MERIT, SAYS LECTURER OF NOTE

Child Appreciates Simple Harmonies and Children Have Best Musical Taste, He Maintains.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 17.—That the artistic merit of many popular folk songs is just as great as the artistic merit of elaborate musical compositions of the great composers of the world was vigorously maintained by Thomas Whitney Surrrette, University Lecturer on Music, of Boston, Mass., at the Home Economics session this morning in the Main Auditorium of the University of Texas. Mr. Surrrette's lecture was delightfully illustrated by the actual singing of many of the greatest folk songs by Miss Saunders.

There is but one avenue, he said, through which the child of five can enjoy beauty, and that is through music. Enjoyment of form and color, of drama and literature comes later—it is through music that his first ideas are formed. Therefore, we should not subject him, declared the lecturer, to the wretched music-hall ballads, or such sickly, silly harmonies as "O Promise Me." The child does not like "rich" harmonies, he likes simple harmonies, and there are no simpler, more beautiful harmonies than those of the folk songs. Mr. Surrrette declared. In the schools of Boston the children are taught no music at all except the folk songs until the third year is passed. The speaker maintained that children have, as a rule, much better taste in music than grown people, since that of grown people has become corrupted and their appreciation of the really beautiful things in music deadened by hearing so much that is abominably poor.

KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, Feb. 18.—Cattle close the week firm today, especially butcher grades, which class maintain their strength constantly. Stockers and feeders are also stronger this week, and beef steers have gained 10 to 25 cents. Numerous droves of beef steers sold at $8.50 to $8.80, more cattle at these prices this week than altogether previously this year. Bulk of the sales ranged from $7.25 to $8.35 for native steers.

Several consignments of pulp-fed Westerns arrived, most of them selling at $7.65 to $8.05, some at the latter price from Western Nebraska whose feed-lot mates sold in Omaha same day at $7.60.

Plain Oklahoma steers sold at $6.70 to $7.50, and a shipment of cake-fed North Texas steers sold in the quarantine division today at $7.25, weighing 1,200 pounds.

Demand for stockers and feeders is good, and prices are firm. The approach of spring is a strong feature, and as there is a large section of the country east of the Mississippi River very low on cattle, a good spring trade in stockers and feeders is anticipated. Best grades sold at $7.00 to $7.75, with a large number of plain stock steers around $6.50, breeding cows and heifers at $5.50 to $7.00, a few choice heifers above the latter price.

Receipts at the markets have been moderate this week, and unless the supply increases there should continue a good market on all kinds of cattle.

Hogs are coming less liberally, and prices average higher this week, although the market is 10 cents lower today. Receipts were 6,000 head here today, and the best hogs sold at $8.22½, top paid by a packer. Order buyers paid $8.20, and bulk of sales ranged from $7.75 to $8.12½. The top was 5 cents above the nearest market, competition from order buyers being the reason for the extra strength. Light hogs sold up to $8.00. Local packers continue to ship in a good many hogs bought at other markets, and at some country points in Iowa and Nebraska, the packing house capacity here being greater than volume of supply of hogs.

Sheep and lambs close the week strong, choice lambs worth around $11.00. Sheep and yearlings sell at a reduced margin below lambs this week, best ewes selling freely at $7.70, and the $8.00 ewes not far away. Yearlings are worth $9.25 to $10.00. Feeding lambs sell at $10.00 to $10.50, and a few shorn lambs brought $9.25 this week. Prospects favor moderate receipts and higher prices.

Market Correspondent.

HALE CENTER NEWS.

SPOILED SILAGE FOR CATTLE.

Regarding feeding cattle spoiled silage, H. O. Allison, of the Missouri Experiment Station, says in the Breeder's Gazette:

"Cases of scours, acute indigestion and death among cattle receiving spoiled silage are quite common. Frequently cattle eat spoiled silage without noticeably bad results, but because of the risk involved it is not advisable to feed it. The constituent in spoiled silage which causes violent digestive disturbances is not definitely known. It is thought to be due to the development of a poisonous mold or fungus disease. Some of these molds are not poisonous, yet we are unable to tell which are and which are not."

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

When boiling macaroni or spaghetti, take small lump of butter and grease rim of vessel inside about an inch down from top. This will keep contents from boiling over.

Put some strong vinegar in your aluminum ware and heat it over the fire. This will remove all tarnish and make as bright as new.

To pull out a cork when you haven't any cork puller or knife handy, take two safety pins and stick through cork horizontally; pull on top of pins; will pull cork in a hurry.

When your wash boiler springs a leak, for quick remedy throw in a handful of corn meal; will quickly fill up the hole.

When Frying Eggs—When grease is hot, sprinkle some flour in the grease and there will be no trouble of the grease popping. It also adds to the eggs.

HUDSON SUPER-SIX

Patented by Hudson December 28, 1915. Patent No. 1165861

76 HORSEPOWER—AN ADDED 80 PER CENT, WITHOUT ANY ADDED SIZE

Officially Breaking All Stock Car Records Up to 100 Miles Also All Stock Car Records for Quick Acceleration

100 miles in 80 min., 21.4 sec., averaging 74.67 miles per hour, with driver and passenger. From standing start to 50 miles per hour in 16.2 seconds.

The previous best record of 72.49 was made by a car with more cylinders, more cylinder capacity and driver only.

75.69 miles in one hour with driver and passenger. During this speed trial laps were made at 76.75 miles per hour.

All these records made with same stock car, using same motor, at Sheepshead Bay Speedway in November, under American Automobile Association supervision.

The Most Powerful Stock Motor per Cubic Inch Displacement Which the World Has Ever Known

Mark what those records mean.

No other stock car in history has done what this car has done. No other like-size motor has developed such power.

A car almost twice better than the best of former Sixes. Which has outrivaled Eights and Twelves.

That is what Hudson engineers present in this marvelous Super-Six. And, because of Hudson patents, we control it.

Excels by 80 per cent

The Hudson 6-40 of last year stood first among Sixes. Its matchless performance made it the pattern type. It quadrupled Hudson sales in two years.

But the Super-Six excels it by 50 per cent in high motor speed capacity. It excels it 80 per cent in power. Yet the cylinder size is identical. Lightness and economy are retained. All this increase—this 80 per cent—comes through wiping out vibration.

An Enormous Reserve

The Hudson Super-Six develops 76 horsepower. That means an enormous reserve. It enables you to creep on high gear, to pick up quickly, to mount hills without effort, to avoid changing gears.

And it all comes through lack of vibration. So it brings with it bird-like motion. The motor is so quiet that one almost forgets it. The car seems to move by magic.

Old Types Discarded

This Super-Six invention led us to stop production of the former Hudson at the zenith of our success. We lost thousands of sales in consequence.

It led us to cease experiments with Eights and Twelves because the Super-Six excelled them.

It led us to double our factory to meet a doubled demand, at a cost of $1,500,000. And to buy materials for $42,000,000 worth of these new cars before the first Super-Six appeared.

For this car means Hudson supremacy, over all other cars and types. Any man who knows it will choose it if he buys a high-grade car. Also many a man would buy a cheap car were it not for this marvelous motor.

The Super-Six is resistless. Its performance will alter all your ideas of motoring. And now, for the first time, a master feature is controlled for one car by a patent.

Most Luxurious Cars

The Super-Six looks it supremacy. The body lines are perfect. The finish is superb. In the upholstery we use a rare grade of grain leather. Each compartment of the Phaeton has a rounded, finished dash.

In every detail we attain luxury's limit, regardless of the cost.

Yet our mammoth production brings the price to $1375. That for the finest motor ever built, in the finest car that's possible.

The Herald's Review of the Movies

Coming to the Movie Houses.

A new series of adventure will begin at The Ruby Wednesday. The general title is "The Journals of Lord John." William Garwood, the Amarillo boy, is interesting in the character of Lord John, and when the main incidents are reached they prove well worth while. There is a clever murder mystery unraveled by Lord John. McClure's Magazine says the series is promising.

On the same day The Olympic shows "The Tables Turned," a Metro picture. Miss Emmy Wehlen takes the lead. The interest in this story is quickly created and well sustained. The settings and photography of this play elicit favorable comments from the critics.

The Mae I offers on this day "The Absentee," a five-reel Majestic production. Robert Edson plays the lead, as "Power." The play characterizes the problems of life in symbolic scenes. It is strikingly staged and acted.

Thursday The Mae I has "Inspiration," one of the most widely known features of the past few months. Audrey Munson, known as the "Panama-Pacific Girl," herself plays the role. Audrey Munson's first pose was for the statue of "Evangeline," which has been placed before the home of the immortal Longfellow in Cambridge, Mass. Then followed poses for other famous works. Her work as a model for the statuary of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, at San Francisco, is well known to those who attended the exposition and to those who have read the history of it.

"The Red Circle" is the offering on Thursday at The Olympic. This is the second chapter. Its title is "Pity the Poor." In this number we discover that the young girl, June Travis, also displays the red circle on the back of her hand, and that she steals without apparently realizing what it means. She has stolen papers from a loan shark to save a poor man from paying exorbitant interest on a loan. Ruth Roland plays the part of June Travis. An exceedingly well produced Western story, if we are to believe the critics, is "The Widow's Secret," which features Warren Kerrigan in a very appealing role. The Ruby shows the play on Thursday.

A Broadway Universal Feature is offered by The Ruby Friday. Gladys Hanson is featured as Hal Forde in "The Primrose Path."

On this day "The Immigrant" will be shown at The Olympic. The story deals with the adventures of a Polish girl who emigrates to this country. She is a girl of parts and of ambition, and rises above the squalor and pettiness of the environment into which she has been born. In its development the plot allows the introduction of varied and impressive settings. The flight of the people after the bursting of the dam, the mining and breaking of the dam, the rise of the waters is all very fine and realistic. "Indeed, all the outdoor settings are of the very best and most realistic sort, if we except the 'model' house, which is supposed to fall into the angry flood," says W. Stephen Bush in his review of the play. "Amid so much realism the 'model' looked anything but convincing."

"The Other Side of the Door" is a special five-reel drama, which, with the Cub Comedy "Jerry to the Rescue," forms The Mae I's program for Friday.

The House of Scandals. A genuine photographic treat was "The House of Scandals," at The Mae I, last night. Seldom do the modern films depict such a variety of scenes with so much attention to detail of the setting. The bill was exceptionally well staged and the photography excellent.

The story called for two distinctly and widely different themes—the one a true picturization of the evils of crowded living in the slums. Any who have visited for study in the congested centers of any big city realized the truthfulness of the slum scenes in "The House of Scandals." They were repulsively true to conditions. The pictures needed the small only to complete the environment.

The second part of the story would hardly meet with the hearty approval of Comstock or his followers. If the onlooker was willing to forget the suggestiveness of it and consider it as art surely it was exceptional in quality. Here the settings were especially good, and the dancing of the Greek colonists had in it all those elements which make for high art.

Harold Lockwood, who would undoubtedly prove a stellar matinee idol if on the legitimate stage, essayed the character of John Wright, a millionaire with a temperament. Having inherited vast estates, including slum properties, he decides to investigate his holdings. The squalor which he finds appeals to his sympathies. Especially is he attracted to Martha Hobbs, a beautiful country girl, played with feeling by May Allison. He rescues her from her miserable surroundings in the tenement and introduces her into the poetic life of a Greek colony which he has founded in an obscure country village at his villa.

A former forgetful country lover of Martha and the country gossips find objection to the new life of the colonists, and proceed to destroy the magnificent estate of the millionaire. Out of the wreckage comes the closer love of the wealthy man for the rescued girl.

MILDRED HARRIS in "THE ABSENTEE" FIVE PART MUTUAL MASTERPICTURE PRODUCED BY MAJESTIC

Miss Harris Characterizes Innocence in "The Absentee" at The Mae I Tomorrow Night.

The Mill on the Floss.

The five-reel Mutual masterpicture "The Mill on the Floss," presented Friday at The Mae I, was a capable and interesting portrayal of George Eliot's familiar story of the great love of Maggie Tulliver for her brother Tom. It was such a story as should justly delight the school children.

The Greater Will.

The fine acting of the eminent English actor Cyril Maude as the old antique dealer and of Lois Merideth as his wronged daughter, makes this film acceptable, although the theme itself, dealing with hypnotism, is more or less depressing.

Maude is a character actor of great strength. His performance in "The Greater Will" reminded the devotees of David Warfield of that actor's wonderful interpretation of "The Music Master."

A pleasing touch of animal and child acting was introduced in the picture when the little granddaughter and her dog held the stage. The work of the child was good; the training of the dog exceptional.

TEXAS FOLK LORE COMPILED IN A COMPREHENSIVE VOLUME.

Play Songs, Negro Traditions, Waco Indian Stories Form Part of Subject Matter of New Book.

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 22.—Of great interest to folk-lore in Texas is the announcement issued by Strith Thompson, Secretary of the Texas Folk Society, that publication No. 1 is now on the press and will be issued shortly.

One of the features of this publication is a paper prepared by Dr. L. W. Payne, Jr., and R. E. Dudley entitled "Texas Play-party Songs and Games." What person has grown up in Texas, especially in the small towns or rural communities, who has not played Weevilly Wheat, "Skip to My Lou," "Old Dan Tucker," and "Old Joe Clark"? The songs to nearly fifty of such games have been collected here for the first time, and they make a surprisingly interesting array.

G. L. Kittredge, of Harvard University, contributes a preface full of words of inspiration to Texas folk-lore. He says, in part:

"Texas is the happy hunting ground for folk-lore. Our working members have proved it, and this volume is the evidence. They will continue to work, for all they ask in the wages of going on." Not to them is my exhortation, but to those of us who are not yet awake to the opportunities on every hand."

Other stories of extreme interest in this volume are "The State Industrial School Boys' Slang," by W. A. Eddins, formerly superintendent of the school; "Traditions of the Waco Indians," by Dorothy Scarborough; "Wild Horse Stories of Southwest Texas," by W. Prescott Webb; "Folk-lore as an Influence in Determining Institutions," by J. E. Pearce, and "The Hell Hounds: A Negro Tradition," by W. S. Hendrix. This is but a partial bill of fare of this enterprising volume.

Mrs. I. W. Elliott visited in Amarillo last week.

Mrs. W. H. Phillips was in Amarillo visiting this week.

A SUGGESTION ON A PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Plainview needs an auditorium with a capacity of from eight hundred to a thousand. Outside of the churches there is no place where the people can congregate for concerts, home-talent plays, mass meetings and other public gatherings.

Just now the ladies of the Federated Clubs of Plainview are puzzled about a place for their library. They want to add to the collection of books they now have until there will be a library worthy of the name. A home for the library is needed.

Many believe there is a need in Plainview for a Y. M. C. A. One man has made a proposition to donate centrally located lots to such an enterprise. It is thought that with a few strictly modern rooms an income sufficient to maintain such an institution might be secured. There are many who would be glad to become members, paying their annual dues.

The suggestion has been offered that a public library and Y. M. C. A. could be maintained in the same building, which could be made rather a center for all civic activity.

FOR A PROGRESSIVE PLAINVIEW.

That the city of Plainview and the surrounding country will benefit from the action of the City Council last night in purchasing lots for a market place, few will doubt. This action means a cleaner Plainview, a more beautiful Plainview and at the price the city paid for the lots it is a good investment.

Incidentally, it is none too early for the city of Plainview to begin to acquire suitable ground for parks. City property will never be worth less in Plainview than it is today, and wise purchases now will mean a saving to the city later. Plainview has been so busy growing that we have not taken time to make an attractive city. We need more trees and shrubs, and it's none too early to plan for our municipal parks. We ought to have them.

Now, Plainview's progress in commercial lines is going to increase with each succeeding year. Our country is developing rapidly. It will require wise and judicious men on our City Council and at the head of the city government to make the town keep pace with the country without injuring it financially. Plainview needs a business administration—not niggardly, not extravagant, but a far-seeing administration with a vision of the Plainview of the future and an absolute knowledge of the Plainview of now. Progress is what Plainview needs.

Nor do we wish to be misunderstood as criticising the present administration, for if the achievements of Mayor Dorsett and the present council were enumerated there would be a long list. As to Plainview's past we are not so much concerned. That is for retrospection. But every citizen should take an interest in Plainview and should study the city's needs. Find out what the men who would be councilmen and who would be mayor stand for and what they will promise to work for Plainview during their tenure of office. Then cast your ballot in the city election accordingly. That's the only place where you can assert yourself forcefully. What you get after that time is just a matter of pressure and influence, and is abstract. Your vote has concrete power. Use it for all it's worth.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT AND PETTY CRIME.

The thirty-five bills returned by the grand jury in the District Court shows that that body means business. That thirty-five bills were returned, mostly on two offenses, gaming and speeding on public highways, would indicate that violations of anti-gaming and anti-speeding laws have been many.

Petty gambling in Plainview has been in a measure condoned by public sentiment, which has not been strong enough against the evil to stamp it out. It is surprising to note the attitude some well-meaning people have assumed in this regard. A friendly slap on the back, light jest, wink of the eye or open, light conversation, making light of court action to those who have been convicted or who have plead guilty, has deluded many of Plainview's boys and young men into believing their offense is light and that public sentiment subtly commends them, or at least that to a majority of their friends an indictment by a grand jury means little.

It is a serious thing to be arraigned before court for violation of law, and the effects of a grand jury indictment are not to be turned off just as so much water from a duck's back. The debonair, hail-fellow-well-met youth feels a certain pride in appearing to his fellows to be of a strong spirit. In their company he makes light of his aggressions and uses them as capital, but deep in his soul he feels that remorse of conscience which every man feels on wrong-doing; he knows there will always be on his name a stigma, a mark of disgrace. He may "come back" and overcome the evil effects and live off to a certain extent the shadow, but it remains with him and in after life someone is always ready to resurrect the skeleton. Many a man has found himself at some critical period of his life confronted with some sin of his earlier life. Sometimes an action which in itself is nothing more than indiscreet and unwise will confront him to his hurt.

There are young men in Plainview now under indictment for petty crimes with bills presented against them by the grand jury, which investigates criminal violations of the law. There is no man so indifferent to his own future usefulness and so careless of his good name that he can absolutely dismiss from his mind all thought of his offense. In his petty gaming or other petty crimes it is seldom that criminal intent impels him to act; indiscretion and carelessness lay down the bars and he steps over. But that does not lessen the stigma on his character. A grand jury is simply a body of men—just men like other men—but to that body has been delegated certain powers, and they determine whether there is evidence of guilt sufficient to arraign men before the courts. It's a serious thing to be indicted by a grand jury, and every right-thinking American will tell you the same thing.

The real idea of courts and their excuse for existence is that they shall tend to correct crime. That fines and jail and penitentiary sentences are given by the courts as punishment for crime and for that alone is erroneous. A fine does not license a crime; it is retribution to society, which has been injured by the criminal. Our courts are becoming more and more corrective in their nature every day. The stern judge or harsh officer of the law is coming to be a man of the past. It is much to the credit of the sheriff of Hale County that, in handling the cases of the thirty-five against whom bills were returned by the grand jury, his attitude toward the boys was that of an elder brother. The sound advice he gave many of those young men was the same that he would have given to his own boy under the same conditions. Men are sympathetic, but not necessarily unrelenting. The vigilance and persistency of the officers of the county and the grand jury in making investigations of crime in Hale County does not mean that these men are hostile to those whom they have arraigned, but it does show that they did just what they said they would do when they took their oaths, and the people of Hale County in general should expect no more of their officers and the jury than that they are willing to do themselves.

You can't shift the burden on those who have been indicted, but some blame rests on the people of Plainview for not asserting themselves more often and more forcefully and for not "standing hitched."

SEVERAL NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO PRESBYTERIAN SOCIETY.

Mrs. T. B. Haynie Proves Charming Hostess for Members and Their Friends.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. T. B. Haynie at the Manse. The meeting opened with devotional exercises, in charge of Mrs. T. P. Whittis, who read a part of the 14th chapter of Luke and gave a most helpful talk on our duty as members of the society, which was followed by sentence prayer.

After the business session, Mrs. Abney opened the program with a splendid paper on the home topic, "The American Indian." Mrs. S. W. Meharh then gave some interesting facts on the foreign subject, "Korea." A duet, "Follow Me," was very sweetly sung by Mrs. George Saigling and Mrs. J. W. Richards, accompanied by Mrs. W. S. Fife.

Rev. T. B. Haynie gave a short talk on what missions are accomplishing, much to the gratification of the society. The president, Mrs. Brown, then closed the meeting, with a few very appropriate remarks.

During the social hour, Mrs. Haynie served light refreshments, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Longstreth, Mrs. Wyatt Johnson and Misses Olie Dean Double-day and Sarah Sue Landers.

The meeting was well attended, several new members being added to the society, which has made such a splendid beginning!

The questions for the afternoon's study are:

Act II.

How large do you imagine the fairies to be?

Is Puck wicked or merely mischievous? What is his other name?

Why have the fairies assembled?

What mistake does Helena make in her method of seeking to win Demetrius' love?

Why doesn't the quarrel between Oberon and Titania seem real and serious?

What passages in this scene reveal Shakespeare's observation of nature?

At what time of day does the action in Scene II take place?

Tell the story of this scene.

Act III.

Is Bottom's suggestion about the prologue carried out when the play is given? (Scene V-1.)

Why are his suggestions of explaining the play ridiculous?

Why does Titania direct the fairies to bring Bottom silently?

How does Puck describe Bottom?

Is Puck's feeling about the confusion he has produced consistent with his character? What is Oberon's opinion of Puck? What lines in his speech are most poetical.

What has been accomplished in Scene II?

SYNOPSIS.

Dudley Larnigan, district attorney, because of his fight on the vice and liquor trusts, is killed by an agent of a secret society, the committee of fifteen. The fight is continued by his son, Bruce, who is elected district attorney, and by another son, Tom. Bruce is in love with Dorothy Maxwell, whose father is head of the insurance trust.

TENTH EPISODE

The Harbor Transportation Trust

Suggested by ZANE GREY,
Author of "The Light of Western Stars," "The Rainbow Trail," "Riders of the Purple Sage," etc.

BRUCE LARNIGAN and his brother Tom, who had taken up Bruce's work of exposing the machinations of the members of the graft trust, headed by Stanford Stone, after the almost fatal injury to Bruce, felt that it was even more important to protect the public against the extortion practiced by the great grafters than it was to pursue their own revenge.

"I started just for revenge," said Bruce, shaking his head, after Tom had told him of his success in getting evidence against the coal trust. "But, even if these men killed our father, we can't let our hatred of them prevent us from doing our duty."

"They're not above stealing from any one," said Tom. "And the next thing to get after is the distribution of food and supplies of all sorts right here in New York. There's a combination that absolutely controls the movement of every pound of freight in the harbor. I'm convinced that somebody in this combination goes in for smuggling too."

"Now you're talking about Grant Fisher, Tom," said Bruce.

"Good heavens! How did you know that, Bruce? For a sick man you're mighty up to date, but it's not going to be easy to get any evidence against him."

"I know that," said Bruce. "Have you got a plan at all?"

"Yes—and no," said Tom. "It's not worth being called a plan, really. It's just an idea. I want to follow a hunch I've got without telling you what it is until I know whether or not it's going to work. All right?"

"Go ahead," said Bruce. "If you fall down come back and we'll get together."

Tom had already spied out the ground, and he went straight from the flat where he lived with Bruce and their mother to the office building in which the Harbor Transportation company of which Grant Fisher was the head and the moving spirit, had its headquarters. He knew that outside Fisher's private office there was an anteroom in which those who had appointments with Fisher waited for his summons.

"So, the opium's all ashore and in Gruen's place."

In the main office, outside this anteroom, he asked some trivial questions and then, waiting for his chance, slipped through the door while the attendant was away. He was alone for a minute, and he immediately hid his hat and gloves, so that any stranger coming in might suppose that he was employed about the office in some capacity.

In a few moments the door was opened and a man who had all the earmarks of a sea captain of the old school came in.

"Just a minute, Captain Monk," said a voice. "Mr. Fisher will sound his buzzer when he's ready for you to come in."

"All right, all right!" boomed Monk in a deep voice.

The buzzer sounded; Monk went in. And right behind him was Tom. Monk, it was plain, supposed that he was attached to the office. Fisher, glancing at Tom, paid no more attention to him. As Tom had hoped, he supposed that Monk had brought some one with him.

Tom realized in a moment that luck had favored him to an almost incredible degree, for Monk, without preamble, launched into a report of the most confidential sort.

"Well, it's all right, boss!" he announced. He spoke in what he evidently believed to be a low, carefully modulated voice, but every word was audible to Tom. "I brought in the cargo all right, all right. And none of them smart Alecks of customs boys was a bit anxious to search the ship—not with the lions and tigers and critters of that sort the hold was full of. So, the opium's all ashore and in Gruen's place."

"Tom had heard all that he needed to know. Slowly and so as not to attract suspicion to himself he went out the door.

Fisher, meanwhile, had frowned slightly as he saw Tom go.

"Look here, Monk," he said, "this sort of thing ought to be kept pretty much to ourselves. The next time you have a confidential report to make don't bring any one with you."

"What?" roared Monk. "I didn't!"

"Then who was that fellow who came in with you?"

"Him? He works for you, don't he? He just followed me in, and when you didn't say nothing I supposed he was all right."

They stared at one another a moment. And then Fisher, with a sudden suspicion reached into his desk for a batch of photographs, which he studied. He cried out sharply and then handed Monk a picture of Tom Larnigan.

"That's him!" said Monk.

"Yes, and he's Tom Larnigan," said Fisher, "a government special prosecutor or agent—a spy set upon the syndicate to destroy it! A fine trick we've let him play on us!"

"The ——" said Monk, with a great deep sea oath. "I'll get him or my name's not Monk!"

"You'd better try!" said Fisher satirically. "If you don't he'll get us—I can promise you that! I'll go to work too. Go along now and warn Gruen to be careful. That wild animal store of his has been too useful to us for us to let the government get on to its real character."

Fisher, when Monk had gone, telephoned at once to Stanford Stone, telling him what had happened.

"All right," said Stone after a moment. "I suppose I shall have to pull us out of the hole that you and Monk in your stupidity have dug for us. Fine business!"

Stone set the wheels of his organization turning at once. He sent for Dunn, the man who served him in his most critical affairs and over whom he held as a constant threat his knowledge of a certain criminal episode of the past.

"As a matter of fact," said Stone, "I'm not sorry this has happened. Fisher's a fool, but his folly has turned out well this time. Larnigan will go to Gruen's. You can see to it that when he does so he walks into a trap."

Meanwhile, however, there had been a change in Tom's plans. He had gone immediately to the office of the Independent, the newspaper which was backing Bruce Larnigan's fight, with Jack Stevens as its editor. There he had found Bruce and also a telegram from Washington ordering him to go at once to Rio de Janeiro, where, it was said, the consul would be able to give him instructions concerning a special mission connected with the operations of the graft syndicate.

"You'll have to go," Bruce said. "But I'm nearly well now. I'm well enough, at any rate, to take hold of this affair. So there need be no change in our plans."

And another factor was about to be introduced into the case. Dorothy Maxwell and her chum, Kitty Rockefeller, were by this time, thanks to their more or less accidental success in the past in helping the Larnigans, convinced of their own powers as detectives. Dorothy had been engaged to Bruce. Stanford Stone was in love with her, and owing to his hold upon her father and his threat if she did not yield to him to ruin him Dorothy was afraid to come out openly against Stone. In secret, however, she was his enemy.

The two girls while out walking spied Dunn and, remembering him from previous attempts against the Larnigans, determined to follow him. Dunn, however, recognized them, and when they entered Gruen's store almost on his heels they were seized and thrust into a small storeroom in the cellar. In the next cellar, although they did not know it, were some of the lions that had been imported, with the opium, by Monk.

Meanwhile Dunn made all his arrangements with Gruen. A trap door was arranged so that it would drop any one who stood upon it into a cellar, and this cellar was the one that contained the lions.

"That'll be the finish of any one who goes down," said Dunn gloatingly. "Mr. Tom Larnigan won't find it easy to argue with our friends down there."

However, Tom had decided not to go to Gruen's. He was impatient for the time of his departure for South America to come, and he and Ben Travers, his old friend, went down to the docks to see about his passage. Monk, with some of his crew, spied them, and Monk saw the chance for his revenge. At a word from him the two were seized and dragged on board his ship. They were roughly handled and were left unconscious. And Monk, gloatingly, went to the telephone and reported to Fisher, who happened at the time to be in Stone's office.

"Good enough!" said Stone. "South America? They'll be gone for months, and by the time they return we'll be invincible. It's different from what had been planned, but it will do. Tell Monk we won't forget to reward him!"

A little later Stone heard from Dunn of the capture of the two girls. His rage equaled his astonishment when he saw Dorothy. He realized then that he had no chance to win her, and his love for her turned to hate.

"Is Molly's place still running?" he asked Gruen.

"Yes," said Gruen, with a grin.

Molly's place was a dive of a singularly notorious sort. It was a resort of the worst type, a place to which the women of the streets sank when they were nearly at the end of the tether. No woman who ever entered it came out alive. Its customers were sailors and men of the roughest sort. And it was to this place that Stone ordered the two girls to be taken!

The girls had not been idle during their captivity in Gruen's cellar. They found a pick and a crowbar in their cell, but could make no impression upon the heavy door. So they turned their attention to the padlock. This was not on the door by which they had been thrust in, but on a smaller door which might lead, they thought, to the cellar of the next house. As a matter of fact, though they did not, of course, suspect it, it actually led to the cellar in which the lions were confined.

It was Bruce and Jack Stevens who came to Gruen's instead of Tom and Travers. But that made no difference to Dunn's men and Gruen. They were attacked at once, and Bruce was knocked senseless at the beginning of the fight. Jack, stepping on to the trap, fell into the cellar among the lions. In horror, he backed against the door, and it opened behind him. The two girls removed the padlock just in time and dragged him through, closing the door before the lions could enter.

But now the men who were to take the girls to Molly's place came in, and Stevens, against fearful odds, put up the best fight he could. The noise brought the police, and Stevens and the girls were rescued just in time. The police cleared out the store above as well and saved Bruce. But no one could save Fisher. Coming to see the success of his plan, he fell through the trap, and there was no one to open the door for him. The lions made him their prey instead of Stevens.

Out at sea Tom Larnigan came to his senses to see Monk's evil eyes glaring down at him.

"Well, you're here! And there's no turning back on this ship," said Monk.

"So I suppose," said Tom coolly, "where are you bound, captain?"

"Rio de Janeiro."

"Good! Look at this, captain!" Tom showed his telegram from Washington and the official papers that gave him his authority.

"We'll go with you as passengers," said Tom. "I imagine you know enough of Uncle Sam to understand that it's time for you to turn against the men you've worked for!"

Deafness Cannot Be Cured. By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever. Now comes out of us a new and wonderful discovery, a cure for deafness caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENNEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Building, at Canyon City. Through his efforts and the efforts of other friends of the institution a sufficient appropriation was secured to meet the needs of the school.

He states that he favors the compulsory feature of the Robertson law, which provides that a large per cent of money accruing to insurance companies from business in Texas must be invested in Texas. He is opposed to the Gibson bill.

Capt. Tilson states that he has no political aspirations other than the office he now holds. And he pledges to apply himself diligently to the business of the people of the district he represents.

When asked his views on the Smith-Lever Act of the National Congress, which provides for county demonstrators, Capt. Tilson said that he favored the plan of the Government and that he hoped to see the day when Hale County would employ a competent county farm demonstrator, thus bringing to our people the best of the knowledge and experience of the specialists in all parts of the world. He believes that an appropriation from the county's funds would be a just and equitable way to distribute the cost of a farm demonstrator for the county.

Dear Aunt Sally:

I would a wrote quicker but We been so bizzy a gittin straight I jest couldent.

We are all powerful pleased and ma says these is the finest folks she ever saw.

I got me a job in a store. You never saw such a store like it. Sell every thing but grub. If you and Uncle John lived close to here you wouldn't have to send off for things.

I sweep the floor and wash the glass windows. Sometimes they let me fill the candy case. That is when I get sweet. It is the best candy and just 15c a pound. Don't hurt me no moren light bread cause it's pure.

There is forty leven kinds of chocolates at 25c--so pure they won't hurt a baby. I give some to our baby and tried it.

Aunt Sally, if you got into the kitchen things and dishes you'd take off a Wagon full. It wouldn't take more than $3 and six bits to go it cause you can get a pan big as a express wagon for a dime.

I got me a pair of good stockings for 2 nickles.

Course a boy don't get big pay but I got ma a good dress that was purty and cost so little I didn't miss it.

If uncle John could turn his self loose on our tools and hardware stuff he'd leave lookin like a pack mule. His pocket book wouldn't be any lighter enough to tell it. The men folks get dippy when they see how little our tools cost.

Gousin Sue could get a whole kit of face preparations, cold cream, Almond cream, face powder and such like, for less than she used to pay for a bottle of hair tonic.

Billy wouldn't be short of neckties before the 4th of July if he got a lick at our 2 for a quarter ones.

The Boss says we'll get some fine china this week to sell at 15c & 25c that will be a delight to the lady folks.

Ma says send her a settin of R. I. Reds and turkey eggs. Hopin to hear from you soon, I am,

Your nevy,

Sammy.

P. S.--the store is in Wayland building, S. W. corner square.
