"VOLUNTEER ROAD DRAGGING IS A FAILURE," SAYS LEWIS

But Roads Can Be Kept in Good Condition at Cost of Eighteen Dollars Per Mile Per Annum.

Volunteer dragging of public roads is a failure in Hale County, according to County Judge W. B. Lewis. Judge Lewis says that a number of farmers promised to drag the roads if the county would furnish the drags, but that whenever they get busy they forget to drag the roads.

Judge Lewis hopes to arrange to pay for road dragging. The county has eighteen big drags, and wherever work has been done it has kept public highways in fine condition. J. W. Longstreth, of the Texas Land and Development Company, estimates that it costs his company less than $18 a mile a year to keep their roads in first-class condition. Just as soon as possible after each rain a man and team are put to work, and along that part of the road so treated an automobile can go within two or three hours after a heavy rain.

An automobile trip around Lockney shows up Hale County roads in comparison with those from the crossing of the Lockney branch of the Santa Fe this way. Across the railroad track the highway is mired and full of ruts. One fairly good path has been worn down, with ruts on either side; when two people meet it is necessary for one or the other to pull out onto ground covered with chug holes and big clods of hard mud. This ground is almost impassable now. For three or four days after a rain neither wagon, buggy nor automobile can make headway through it. The water does not drain off, but sinks into the earth and "eats" the bottom out of the road. Experts estimate that less than $18 a year for each mile of road will make highways in comfort within half a day with loaded wagon after the heaviest rains we have.

"The time has come when Plainview can't brag about good roads unless we keep them up," said a business man today.

PANHANDLE IS INTERESTED IN FARMING EXPOSITION

Hale County Was Only Texas Representative in International Dry Farming Congress Last Year.

Texas was represented at the International Dry Farming Congress and Exposition held at Wichita, Kansas, last fall only through the action of Hale County, which sent a splendid exhibit, which won first premium as a county exhibit and many firsts for individual entries. Texans at the big event declared then that they would take steps to see to it that representation was more general at the next Congress and Exposition. The proximity of Denver and its direct availability by railroad makes the prediction they made more easily carried out.

Hale County took the lead in interesting Texas in the big exposition, and the publicity she derived last year is worth much to the country. Hale County is planning to be in the exposition again this fall with an exhibit bigger and better than the one last year.

Texas' direct line to Denver and the International Dry Farming Congress and Soils' Products Exposition give great opportunity to the State, and especially the Panhandle portion, this year.

Arrangements are now being made for representation. They are in charge of H. M. Bainer, agricultural demonstrator for the Santa Fe Railroad, and members of the Board of Governors of the Congress.

The action of El Paso, already taken, whereby the Chamber of Commerce, through HSAC, has secured a contract for the use of $500 to begin work, has greatly encouraged the other counties and communities, according to Mr. Bainer.

Mr. Bainer, who is constantly making trips through the State, has met with generous response to his efforts.

The Exposition is not confined merely to dry-farmed products, any more than the sessions of the Congress are confined to dry-farming methods; but irrigation is now within the scope of both the Congress and Exposition. That fact, therefore, gives Texas and the Panhandle country ample opportunity to make a fine showing.

The premium list of the Congress, on which the Denver offices are now working, will be out in July, and will contain some fine surprises for prospective individual exhibitors.

The dates of the Congress are October 4-7, at Denver; and those of the Exposition are September 26-October 10.

Railroads have signified their intention to make attractive rates to these events.

Governor Ferguson is already interested in the progress of these plans, and is helping all he can officially. In due time he will designate a list of some proportions of those whom he deems it advisable to represent the Lone Star State in the Congress sessions.

"Texas certainly has a great opportunity ahead of it," declared Secretary R. H. Faxon of the Congress offices at Denver. "And from what I hear from Mr. Bainer and others, there is going to be no doubt of the State's embracing this chance."

LOCKNEY BANKER SAYS THIS IS MOST PROSPEROUS COUNTRY

Bank Deposits of Lockney Bank Have Doubled Since This Time Last Year.

V. N. Dillard, cashier of the Lockney State Bank, was in Plainview yesterday en route to Galveston, where he and his wife and baby will spend the summer vacation.

Mr. Dillard says the South Plains country has more money than it ever had before, and states that the fact that the bank in which he works has twice as large deposits now as it had last year at this time is proof of this assertion so far as Lockney is concerned. The good crops of last year and the splendid small grain crops already assured will indeed make this a prosperous country, Mr. Dillard thinks.

CARRANZA SAYS HE WILL NOT TREAT WITH VILLA ON PEACE

Holds Campaign Is Not to Eliminate Personalities, but for Principles of the Revolution.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.—General Carranza has informed the United States Government that under no circumstances will he treat with General Villa; that he will not compromise with his opponents, and that he will continue his plan to crush his adversaries by military campaign.

President Wilson had before him today a long report on General Carranza's views as given in informal conversations with an American consular officer at Vera Cruz. He found in it little hope for an accommodation of differences as between the Mexican factions.

General Carranza gave the same argument for refusing to enter into peace negotiations with General Villa that he had made on many occasions recently, reiterating that his was no campaign for the elimination of personalities, but for the principles of the revolution; that his opponents were reactionaries and desirous only of satisfying personal ambitions.

Would Soon Dominate

Outlining his plans for the future, Carranza stated that he would soon dominate the situation and would grant amnesty to all who were not guilty of crimes. General Villa and his assistants, however, according to General Carranza, must either leave the country or be tried by a military court.

General Carranza's views did not surprise officials here, as he has consistently ignored all offers of peace made by the Villa-Zapata faction, as well as suggestions of foreign mediation in domestic affairs.

DORSETT SAYS HE WON'T VETO COUNCIL'S ACTION

But Mayor Will Ask That Vote on Street Sprinkling and Watchman Be Reconsidered.

"No, I am not going to veto the measure passed by the council to take over the sprinkler and nightwatchman," said Mayor J. L. Dorsett this afternoon. "There are two reasons why: First, the kindness with which the business men of the town presented their petition asking me to reconsider, and, second, if I had vetoed the measure the council could have passed it over my head, if they had wished to, and that would have only created friction. However, I am going to ask the council to reconsider their action."

"I have always favored the city's taking over the street sprinkler," Mr. Dorsett said. In fact, I asked that a petition be presented for this, but I oppose the city's taking over the burden of the nightwatchman's salary. I believe we could afford to make a sacrifice to take the sprinkler.

"Several property owners have commended me on my stand in the matter," he continued.

"There has gone out the impression that there was friction between myself and the council at the last meeting. This is not the case. There was a difference in views, but no friction."

It is pointed out by Mayor Dorsett that if the expenses of the city for the next twelve months are the same as the average for February, March, April and May that at the end of that period, in the event that the city takes over the sprinkler and nightwatchman, the city will be in debt $6,469.

The Mayor said: "E. L. Dalton, the engineer who had charge of the installation of the sewage and waterworks system of Plainview, was here this week. Mr. Dalton says that we will have to put in a filter in connection with the septic tank in compliance with the anti-pollution act passed by the last Legislature, and that this action must be taken within the next year. The estimated cost of the needed improvements is $3,000."

"The city now has a floating indebtedness of $80,000. At the present rate of expenditure the general fund will be exhausted September 15 and the street fund October 10, and there will be no more money available until February, 1916."

TEUTONS HOLD LEMBERG; RUSSIANS IN RETREAT

ARCHDUKE FREDERICK AND GENERAL MACKENSEN MADE FIELD MARCHALS IN RECOGNITION.

EMPEROR NICHOLAS TO FRONT

British Military Experts Predict Transfer of German Troops to West, Where Army Is Pressed.

LONDON, June 23, 10:35 p. m.—The Russians have lost Lemberg. They occupied the Galician capital early in September and held it until Tuesday, when the combined German-Austro forces compelled them to retreat from the city, which is only sixty-odd miles due west from the Russian frontier. Emperor Nicholas left for the front today, according to reports from Petrograd.

Whether the fall of Lemberg means that the Russian army operating south of it in Galicia is effectively cut off from the army to the north stretching across Poland to the Baltic can not yet be said. The newspapers of both Vienna and Berlin say this is the case and that the Russian arms received a blow from which they can not recover. If the stroke proves as crushing as the Teutons predict its effect, military observers here say, soon should be felt in the transfer of vast German forces to the west, where for days they have been hard pressed by the French.

Tonight Petrograd conceded the fall of Lemberg. Previous dispatches from the Russian capital related details of what purported to be the systematic withdrawal of the Russians from the town, and it is believed in military circles here that the Austro-German booty will be not large.

Retreated in Good Order

Telegrams from Vienna say the Austrian correspondents with the Teutonic armies pay tribute to the magnificent rear guard action fought by the Russians, who are declared to have retreated eastward in good order, leaving behind few prisoners and even removing the Russian documents from the city which since the Russians occupied it has been called by them Lwow. One telegram from Vienna says Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph plan to meet soon in the captured Galician capital for "fitting ceremonies to mark the end of Russia's dominance of Galicia."

The news of the fall of Lemberg was known on the continent yesterday, but it did not reach London until late this afternoon, when bulletins arrived almost simultaneously by wireless from Berlin and Vienna by way of Amsterdam. The British press had been expecting such a development, and there was no more than passing comment on it, though it drove home, according to military observers, the fact how ample must have been the Austro-German ammunition supply to accomplish the feat. Berlin and Vienna are reported filled with joy over the victory of their forces. Archduke Frederick of Austria, commander-in-chief of the Austrian forces, and General August von Mackensen of the German army both have been made field marshals of the Prussian army in recognition of their services in the Galician campaign.

On the River Danester, south of Lemberg, the battle is still raging.

A Russian official communication received here says that the Russians on June 22 evacuated Lemberg and continued to retreat on a new front.

THE SOUTH DOES NOT GROW ALL THE HAY IT USES.

Government Bulletin Tells How to Prepare Hay for Markets So It Will Bring Best Price.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—According to the most recent figures of the United States Department of Agriculture, 1,395,000 tons of hay, valued at $17,626,000 are brought each year into the eleven Southern States. In other words, the South produces only four-fifths of the hay that it consumes, and imports the other one-fifth. This is a singular state of affairs for a great agricultural section, and the causes for it are analyzed in a new publication of the Department, Farmers' Bulletin 677. "It is practicable," says this bulletin, "for the farmers of the South to produce all the hay that they need on their own farms." For the city markets, however, Southern hays find it difficult to compete with timothy, clover, or alfalfa, none of which have done well in the cotton belt except in limited areas. Another obstacle is the likelihood of rainy weather interfering with the curing of the crop.

These two obstacles, however, do not alter the fact that, with suitable soil conditions, growing hay in the South for market should be a profitable production. The heavy clay uplands and the sandy soils along the coast are not well suited for this purpose, and the Department of Agriculture

Sticking Pins in Nutmegs

That is the expert's way of telling the good ones. The natural oil in the nutmeg is what gives it its flavoring qualities—the more oil there is the greater the nutmeg's value for flavoring.

Stick a pin in a nutmeg that is full of this oil and oil will ooze out of the pin hole when the pin is withdrawn—little or no oil will follow the pin if the nutmeg is a poor one. So you see wherein two tins of perfectly pure nutmegs may differ widely in flavoring value—the one kind being ground from oily nutmegs and the other from nutmegs that could not pass the pin sticking test.

You must be certain that besides being pure the ground nutmeg you buy is oily nutmeg. Look tell it in a way—the oily kind is a smooth, rich brown—the other kind looks more grainy and is speckled with black woody particles. Your best assurance is to buy a brand that is packed by a company of integrity and reputation—and so packed that none of the flavor is lost through evaporation. Every bit of White Swan Ground Nutmeg is made from nutmegs that have, in the highest degree, passed the pin-sticking test—that are full of the oil that flavors. That's why White Swan Nutmeg costs a little more but, because it takes so little to give a rich flavor, is so economical to use.

Your grocer sells and recommends White Swan Nutmeg—and other White Swan Goods—ask him.

ture considers it doubtful whether it is advisable to attempt to produce market hay on them. On the other hand, bottom or alluvial land, if sufficiently drained, is admirably adapted for hay production, and if there is a good market for hay in the vicinity will probably give as great a profit in this way as in any other.

Granting that the soil is suitable, another factor to be taken into consideration is the amount of land at one's disposal. To produce market hay economically requires a special equipment, the expense of which is so considerable that it is doubtful whether a farmer is justified in incurring it unless he expects to have 20 acres or more of hay to cut each year. This equipment includes a mower, rake, tedder, wagon with frame, horse fork, pitchfork, and a hay press. The press, of course, is not absolutely necessary, and, unless the farmer has 50 tons or more to bale, it will probably be more economical for him to pay for the baling than to purchase the press. A common method of overcoming this difficulty is for one farmer in a community to purchase a press and to make a business of baling hay for the others.

Among the grasses and legumes that make good market hay in the South are Johnson grass, over most of the cotton lands; Bermuda grass, on the rich bottom lands; the Arlington mixture (orchard grass, tall oat grass, and alsike), on the heavy uplands. Sudan grass is also showing much promise. In considering the relative merits of these market hays, it must be remembered that each market is likely to have its own requirements, which do not always correspond to feeding values. There is also the question of prejudice to be taken into consideration.

This is particularly true of Johnson grass, which has suffered greatly on the market from its bad reputation as a weed. It is indeed doubtful whether for this reason it should ever be sown on land not already occupied by it. Its merits in other respects, however, have been thoroughly demonstrated and on land already covered by it it may be cut with profit for market hay. It is especially satisfactory for horses in the city, many livery men considering it practically as good as timothy for this purpose.

Bermuda grass is also well known throughout the cotton region. Although used primarily for summer pasturage, it grows tall enough on rich soil to cut for hay, and may be mowed two or three times a season, yielding an average of about one ton per acre for each cutting. Lespedeza does well with it, though, like the Bermuda grass, it frequently does not grow tall enough to cut for hay.

The Arlington mixture, which consists of 10 pounds of orchard grass, 20 pounds tall oat grass and 4 pounds alsike for every acre, is not so well known as the crops already mentioned. In experiments on the Government farm at Arlington, Virginia, it has been found satisfactory in every way for horses, and for this reason should command a good price in the cities. At the present time there is a certain prejudice against orchard grass on account of its coarseness, and against tall oat grass because it is supposed to be unpalatable. These beliefs do not appear to be justified, and should disappear with better knowledge. Seeding with this mixture is rather expensive, but on the red upland soils it will make a good perennial meadow, so that this point is of little consequence.

Sudan grass is also something of a novelty as yet. There are indications that it may become a very important factor in hay production in the South.

Further details in regard to the relative merits of these various hays are contained in the bulletin already mentioned, "Growing Hay in the South for Market." This bulletin also contains an interesting table showing the kinds of hay sold in the principal markets throughout the South, the type of bale most in demand, and the common faults found in the hay supplied at the present time to these markets.

DAIRY EXPERT RECOMMENDS KAFFIR CHOPS FOR MILK COWS.

An ideal ration for the family milk cow where pasturage is not available is suggested by J. W. Ridgway, Professor of Dairy Husbandry at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. On first thought, this ration will seem expensive, but where the cow is kept in the back lot it is considered the most economical available.

Equal parts, by weight, of wheat bran, cottonseed meal and finely ground maize or kaffir chops should be fed.

Feed one pound of the above mixture for each three pounds of milk produced. In connection with this concentrated feed the feeding of 8 or 10 pounds of cottonseed hulls and about 12 pounds of alfalfa hay is advised.

LITTLE TALKS BY THE DOCTOR

OSTEOPATHY.

What is disease? Is it an external something that gets into the body?

When it is zero weather, and the temperature in your house drops to 10 degrees above, you fire up the furnace and make the thermometer soon run to 70 degrees F. Do you have to keep the windows and doors open so the heat in the furnace can drive the cold outdoors? No, it is not done in this way. It is just a changed condition of the air in the house from cold to heat.

Thus it is with disease of the body or any organ or part of the body. Deranged function, or insufficiency in function due to an insufficient supply of good blood and nerve-energy to the part—this is disease.

The Osteopath gets at the cause of the poor blood supply and insufficient nerve-energy, giving Nature a chance to restore to a normal condition. The diseased organ or part of the body is changed from an abnormal to a normal or healthful condition.

Make Your Daughter a Lady

Trained intellect and Christian character are the two prime requisites in the making of a lady. A college education may not be necessary to intellectual training; it is practically the only place for efficient study of literature, the sciences, music, expression, and art. A Christian college is the best place for developing well-rounded Christian character.

What is Your Boy Going to Be?

The answer depends largely upon the training he has. The largest difference between Zulu and Christian; between day labor and the best paid, most influential man you know is a result of training and environment.

Maybe your boy wants to be an engineer, a doctor, a lawyer. The best technical and professional schools demand junior college training for admission; they know that a youth's intellect must have a foundation before it is "sharpened to a cutting edge" by the study of engineering, medicine, law, journalism or agriculture. Any way you take it

Seth Ward College

Seth Ward's environment is that of a Christian home; helpful, wholesome, active. Your daughter will receive the careful companionship of women who sympathize with the problems and worries of girlhood. Your boy will get that personal touch which means so much for character building. He misses this in the great universities, just as he would miss it in St Louis or Chicago.

Then doesn't it seem wise that your girl--your boy--should get preparatory school and junior college training where each one can have that personal character-building touch?

MANY NEW LAWS OF TEXAS BECAME EFFECTIVE SUNDAY.

Eighty-Two General Acts of the Thirty-Fourth Legislature in Regular Session Are Now Statutes.

Eighty-two general acts of the Thirty-Fourth Legislature in regular session became laws of Texas and effective as statutes on June 20. These are the acts of general importance that because of the failure to pass both houses by a two-thirds vote were carried for ninety days after adjournment. Aside from these general acts, there are nineteen of local importance that also became effective, making a total of 101 acts of the entire number of 156 acts passed at that session.

Although the compulsory attendance law becomes effective, there is a provision in the law itself stipulating September 1, 1916. Other educational measures require the teaching of agriculture in summer normal schools and in farmers' institutes; providing for the printing of textbooks for schools in Texas; increasing the scholastic age from 6-16 to 6-17 years, inclusive; providing that common and independent school districts may provide free textbooks for public schools.

No Betting on Elections.

One law that becomes effective prohibits betting on elections in the State under a penalty of fine upon conviction of from $100 to $1,000 and confinement of from twenty to sixty days in the county jail, or both fine and imprisonment. Another law that is of importance allows corporations to contribute to Chambers of Commerce, bona fide Commercial Clubs and associations.

A bill becomes effective which makes it compulsory for restaurants, boarding houses, hotels, etc., to sterilize their dishes, utensils, etc., in boiling water.

Other laws which became effective on June 20 are:

Preventing railroads from changing location of roundhouses, general offices, machine shops, without the consent of the Railroad Commission.

Defining loan brokers, providing they shall give bond, record all transactions, pay annual tax of $50, etc.

Providing for the incorporation of towns of 600 inhabitants or more.

Authorizing the Railroad Commission to require railroads to construct and operate switch connections with spur tracks to prevent discrimination.

Placing the general management and control of public free schools in common school districts in the hands of five trustees.

Empowering County Commissioners to provide for county parks.

Woman's fifty-four hour law. Preventing obstruction of highways, crossings or streets at railroad crossings for more than five minutes.

Providing for fish ladders where any obstruction is placed across regular flowing streams.

Requiring section foremen and hands on railroads to take description of animals found dead along railroads.

Authorizing consolidation of electric light, gas, steam, water or street railway companies upon consent of people of given city, voiced in election.

Requiring that agriculture be taught in summer normals and institutes, and defining subjects to be taught in common schools.

Providing for recording tax receipts. Providing for establishment and maintenance of State far meadow for feeble minded.

Applying nepotism law to members of the Legislature.

Allowing corporations to contribute funds to bona fide commercial organizations, etc.

Providing for taking appeal in criminal cases by giving notice in open courts.

Making it possible to prosecute for theft of auto by imprisonment in county jail for not less than six months or more than one year.

Prohibiting the use of any call, whistle, decoy, horn, pipe or red in the hunting of deer.

Regulating and providing for licensing of employment agencies and placing under Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

Providing for printing of textbooks for schools in Texas.

Providing County Commissioners may establish free libraries.

Providing for elections to determine whether free textbooks shall be provided in common and independent school districts.

Extending power of State Inspector of Masonry to public work in counties, municipalities, cities and other political subdivisions.

SOUTHWESTERN CATTLE MOVEMENT IS HEALTHY.

Increasing Confidence Is Following Late Disturbance on Account of Foot-and-Mouth Disease.

Transactions in cattle on ranges of the Southwest, which are usually suspended before June, are more numerous now than ever before, as indicated by a report received today of three deals involving a total of $424,250. Local cattlemen attribute the large late transactions to increasing confidence in the industry, which was disturbed a few months ago by uncertain foot-and-mouth disease conditions. Another influence in the late deals is the abundant moisture, which, it is felt, should make this a big feed year.

One of the three deals included the purchase of all the yearling steers and 1,000 cows on the Bell Ranch, at Bell Ranch, N. M., by Landerger Brothers, of Amarillo, Texas. The price paid for the steers was $42.50 and for the cows $50 each. These cows are of uneven ages, and will be grazed and probably shipped late in the fall from grass. The Bell Ranch is one of the largest cattle-producing outfits in the whole southwestern territory. There were 4,500 of these steers. Both the cows and steers will be delivered at the Landerger Ranch, near Vega, Texas, in the fall.

O. M. Linn, of Dallam County, Texas, has just purchased from the G. M. Slaughter Ranch near Roswell, N. M., 2,000 head of long yearling steers of the good class at $46 per head, probably the highest price paid this season for cattle of that age. Mr. Linn is a rancher in the upper Panhandle country, where grass was never better and where a large forage feed crop is coming on this summer. These cattle will be received by Mr. Linn in the fall.

Bert Mitchell, who handles cattle at several points in the San Angelo country of Texas, also in Oklahoma, in the Osage country, has bought from W. M. Beuhlig, of Cuero, Texas, 1,400 head of good three- and four-year-old steers at $65 per head. Mr. Mitchell will afford an opportunity to hold—July, and if the market seems right at that time he will begin shipping them; otherwise, he will hold them. Grass is good in all that country, which will afford an opportunity to hold.—Fort Worth Live Stock Reporter.

HOW TO WATERPROOF CLOTH FOR HAY CAPS.

I have made hay caps out of stout unbleached domestic or good brown sheeting that were good for several years of use if put away after the hay was saved. Caps 40 inches square will do nicely. Measure by bulk one part paraffin to four parts gasoline and add a little pulverized alum and you have a waterproofing mixture that is the best that ever happened.

The mixture can be made a little richer by using one and one-half parts paraffin to three and one-half parts gasoline—a good prescription for coarse Osnaburgs. For water proofing, some use lead and oil, some linseed oil. Lead and oil will crack and leak; linseed oil will smell horribly and get sticky. Gasoline and paraffin do the work without changing the appearance or texture of the cloth—no cracking, no stickiness, no smell, no stiffness. The waterproofing is not accomplished by daubing up interstices of the cloth—it is done by the gasoline penetrating the center fibers of every thread, carrying paraffin with it. The gasoline dries out at once and leaves the paraffin part in the cloth. You can see light when you hold up the cloth, but a quality has been added—that of the duck's back. Water runs off in globules instead of soaking in.

To make a lot of hay caps, use a 50-pound lard tin, dip cloths and wring out, keeping several in soak while working. To make a tarpaulin or tent waterproof, paint the mixture on the stretched cloth with a good-sized paint brush, working rapidly. Some people use hay caps wrong after getting them made. The stack out to be well ventilated by cross-pieces and not too large, and should have the top of stack pole cut off and a good, rounded-off cap of hay on top. Cap should be pinned with long, slim pegs (made of straight sticks) thrust through small holes in corners of cloth into the hay. No water will run down the pole, and no hay will be rotten when the natural sweat has been cared for by the cross-piece ventilation. After hay is baled the caps should be tied in bundles and hung up with wire out of reach of rats.—Progressive Farmer.

GOVERNOR SLATON'S DILEMMA.

Monday night in Atlanta was a turbulent one for Governor Slaton. Although every public man must harden himself more or less to the passing whims of popular, or apparently popular, clamor, times like the few hours immediately following his commutation of Leo M. Frank's sentence are such as try men's souls.

There was question as to the guilt of Leo M. Frank. The jury had adjudged him guilty, but unquestionably there was unusual pressure brought to bear upon it, and prejudice has been charged. The higher courts merely passed on the legality of the trial, and their judgment was passed merely on the technical procedure of the trial.

Governor Slaton doubted the guilt of Frank and commuted the sentence because he did not want to be guilty of a legalized murder. If further developments show that Frank was innocent, there is yet avenue for repairing the wrong; if the sentence had been executed, this possibility would have been eliminated forever.

Frank has been adjudged guilty of murder and his citizenship has been deprived of him. This is severe punishment. Governor Slaton has acted as he saw best, and has dared face the denunciation of the people of Atlanta and possibly of the State of Georgia in carrying out his convictions. But no doubt the demonstration against the governor was merely by a group of extremists.

THE RAT BOUNTY.

It has been estimated that every rat costs, in feed wasted and consumed, about five dollars per year.

One penny is a small amount to pay out to save five dollars, but it will pay for the ammunition the boys might use in shooting rats. More than anything else, it shows that the city of Plainview is willing to co-operate in helping exterminate the rat.

A boy with a good rat dog can have lots of fun catching rats, and if he will work hard at the job he can make a few cents, too. And it won't cost him anything to have his dog around, for the city has remitted the tax on genuine rat terriers.

Real interest in rat killing can be aroused among the boys if something worth while will be offered them for their work. The plan followed by a Texas County is worthy of consideration. A registered heifer was the prize for the boy in the county who would kill the most rats will more than pay for the prizes, and a small bounty might prizes of fancy hogs were offered. Now, wouldn't it be a good plan for the County Commissioners and the city officials and private individuals interested to get together and pool their funds and get some worth while prizes for the boys in the county who will kill rats? Can you think of anything that will stimulate better interest and more wholesome spirit than some good registered hogs?

If a boy can be interested in hog raising by giving him a hog of his own the county will be benefited. The saving effected by killing the rats will more than pay for the prizes, and a small bounty might be offered, too, so that every boy who tries may get some remuneration for his efforts.

The County Commissioners are authorized to pay for rabbit ears, and a rabbit in the field will not do nearly so much damage as a rat in the barn where the harvested grain is stored.

The boys are the best rat destroyers, and it has been proven that they will become interested and work if there is something worth the effort offered them in return.

THE COST OF WAR.

Consul H. D. Van Sant, Dunfermline, Scotland, writes:

"In view of the constant arrival of disabled officers and soldiers from the front, including the many with frost-bitten feet, and the thousands of invalids and crippled civilians in the United Kingdom, the need for a small motor or motor tricar (which should be a good hill climber for Scotland), at a comparatively low cost, is more apparent in this district and Scotland than ever. Something that will be safe to handle and inexpensive to run and at a cost not to exceed $500 would meet with ready sale in the near future, especially as no such machine has thus far been perfected, at least as far as the writer has been able to observe, in this district. An objection to the tricar type is the added danger of skidding and overturning at sudden corners or down steep streets or hills, so frequently met with in this territory.

"If a machine propelled without the need of foot action or guided and controlled entirely by hand could be constructed at a price within the range of the middle class or the coming pensioner, it would find an unprecedented sale in the British market in the near future.

"Already several inquiries have been made at this consulate as to whether such a motor car is being made in America and also if catalogue or other information regarding one is obtainable. Recently one or two British makers have been approached on the subject and have plans under consideration for the introduction of such a machine.

"If an American-made machine of the desired pattern is introduced, the demand for it is likely to prove beyond the ordinary. As the war progresses, the probability of a market for such cars has been estimated at from 10,000 to 20,000 the first year."

The toll of the dead is not the only cost of war. The strongest of the land are killed on the battlefield or maimed for life. England and France and Russia and Germany and Italy—all Europe will have its pensioners—its unproductive factors of society. The wealth of the nations in material things and in population will be terribly diminished. There will be thousands upon thousands of widows and orphans who will be forced to exert their utmost efforts to maintain themselves. The struggle for existence will preclude their pursuit of the higher and better things of life we call civilization. Education will wane.

The cost of war! The terrible degrading and enfeebling cost—did they figure it? Did they know what they were giving up and what this exorbitant purchase price would procure for them?

FORT WORTH STOCKMAN TELLS OF PANHANDLE'S PROSPERITY.

Predicts This Section Will Raise More Hogs Two Years From Now Than Does All Oklahoma.

There's a great demand for stocker hogs out in the Panhandle country—in fact, 5,000 to 10,000 could be disposed of like hot cakes within a very small territory, according to Gus Cunningham, who has just returned to the Fort Worth stock yards after an extended tour throughout the Panhandle.

"There are more hogs in the Panhandle now than ever before in history, but the farmers and stockmen are very anxious to secure more—but can't get them," he said. "In fact, stocker hogs are very scarce, and the farmers do not know where to look to get more.

"One of the greatest feed crops in history will be produced in the Panhandle. The maize and kaffir corn acreage is the largest ever. Ideal conditions prevail. Wheat will harvest 25 to 40 bushels to the acre throughout that entire section of the State. Practically no damage was wrought to the Panhandle's wheat by hail and rain during the spring.

"Back to the hog proposition. I feel free in predicting that within the next two or three years the Panhandle will be producing more hogs than the whole State of Oklahoma, and will lead all other sections of Texas by a great majority."—Fort Worth Livestock Reporter.

NEW LAW REQUIRES DISHES TO BE STERILIZED OFTEN.

County Attorney Clements Says the New Statutes Will Be Enforced.

"Sure we're going to enforce them—all of them," said County Attorney Chas. Clements in regard to the laws which went into effect Sunday.

One of the measures provides that all dishes, forks, spoons, etc., used in serving meals must be sterilized in boiling water before being used again. Napkins must not be used but once unless laundered.

The text of the part of the act applying to dealers is:

"Sec. 1. Any person or persons conducting or managing or their agents of any hotel, cafe, restaurant, or any other public place where meals are served, must after the taking effect of this act, sterilize in hot, boiling water all plates, cups, saucers, knives, forks, spoons and such other utensils as may be used in serving meals and drinks after being used and before permitting them to be used again; provided, that the water in which said eating utensils are sterilized shall be changed every two hours; provided, further, that no napkins shall be furnished for use after being used once until laundered.

"Sec. 2. Any person or persons conducting or managing or their agents of any public eating house mentioned in Sec. 1 of this act who violate the provisions thereof shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $100 for each separate offense."

KAFFIR CORN AND ENSILAGE AGAIN SCORE AS FEED STUFFS.

Canyon City Stockman Markets Herefords Which Set New Record for Texas Stuff.

Texas cattle established a new record in Kansas City Tuesday and Wednesday, when a shipment in by C. O. Keiser, of Canyon, Randall County, Texas, sold at $9.25, $9.15 and $9.10, these prices being the highest ever paid for any Texas fed cattle on any open market in the Middle West. The cattle were handled and sold by Clay, Robinson & Co., the well known commission firm with offices at all markets. These cattle were Herefords; were fed kaffir corn and sorghum silage, ground kaffir corn and milo maize and kaffir corn fodder, as well as two pounds of cottonseed meal a day during the past ninety days.

Mr. Keiser on June 18th, 1913, with the assistance of Clay, Robinson & Co., established a record of $9.00 for 965-pound yearling steers.

Following are the weights of cattle sold this week: 24 head, 1,250 pounds, $9.25; 34 head, 1,358 pounds, $9.25; 38 head, 1,255 pounds, $9.15; 46 head, 1,465 pounds, $9.10. These cattle were pronounced by experts as being the equal to cattle coming from any section of the United States.

KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL.
Canyon City Prime Fed Steers Set New Record for Texas Cattle on Kansas City Market.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, June 21.—Corn fed cattle advanced 15 to 30 cents last week, drawing away from the lower grades by just that much or more, bulk of the cattle selling steady for the week. Receipts today are 3,000 head, the supply being restricted by fears of high water, as well as crippled condition of some of the carriers. The threat of water damage has disappeared today, and clear skies remove all danger of flood. Packers are all buying, as the river has been stationary since morning, and will start falling today. The market was strong to 10 cents higher, some sales up 15 cents. Native offerings were light, as shippers feared high water, but some yearlings reached $9.25, bulk of the natives $8.15 to $9.00.

A feature today was the sale of some prime fed steers from Canyon City, Texas, at $9.10 and $9.25, weighing 1,314 to 1,444 pounds average, highest price ever paid for Texas cattle on the open market. Another leading sale today was a train of 18 cars of steers from Phoenix, Arizona, fattened on ground barley, at $7.85 to $8.25, weighing around 1,200 pounds, including a load of bulls at $6.65 and a load of stags at $7.15. These prices were very pleasing to the shippers, as was also the light shrink, the cattle taking a good fill here.

Butcher grades remain firm, account of scarcity. Quarantine arrivals were delayed by washouts, although two or three trains got in late, for which buyers were waiting.

Packers and feeders are in strong request, but supplies are limited, desirable cattle largely at $7.25 to $8.00, a few cattle above these prices.

In the hog division light receipts met a strong demand, and the 6,000 head that arrived sold 5 cents higher, most sales at $7.55 to $7.65, top $7.70. The break in prices last week looked threatening, but repair work was even more speedily done than usual recently on the occasion of breaks, which bears out the prediction that prices will work higher after the end of June. Receipts during June have been smaller than the talent predicted.

Sheep and lambs remained steady today, with some signs of strength, receipts only 1,100 head. Native spring lambs brought $9.50, and some low-grade mixed Texas stock brought $5.75, forwarded to this market from Fort Worth, where it did not get any bids. Native ewes are worth $4.50 to $5.25.

THE GREATNESS OF TEXAS.

Texas is an empire within itself. The kingdom of Germany, which now supports more people in war than reside in Texas, is no larger than Texas, and has no greater productive area than Texas. We have more varied resources than any spot on the globe. They await only the plastic hand of man to make them blossom like the rose. Therefore, we must have more people in Texas, and the right kind of people in Texas. We should welcome the patriotic man without means, because he is needed. We should welcome the man with means, because he is a necessity, and one cannot exist without the other.—Governor Ferguson.

CAN BIG LINERS DISGUISE?

Although it is fairly easy to disguise small ships, like torpedo boat destroyers, it is practically impossible to do it in the case of the great Atlantic liners.

Some people have the idea, for instance, that in the case of the ill-fated Lusitania, which flew the American flag, that German sailors would have to come quite close or even board the vessel before making sure of her identity.

That is not the case, however. The enormous bulk of all the big Atlantic liners would at once give them away as such, and each liner has its own particular shape and characteristics, which are as well known to the Germans as they are to the owner of the ship.

Though, for instance, a dummy funnel was fitted on the Emden, if the same were done in the case of the Lusitania any sailor would at once spot it, for it would throw the ship out of proportion in the eye of a sailor, though perhaps a landsman wouldn't detect the addition.

It would be no use, either, for a tramp steamer flying the United States flag along the British coasts, for the Germans would know that small tramp steamers do not come from America any more than English coast trading vessels are to be found entering New York.

SHADE FOR HOGS.

Shade for hogs in the hot summer to Jno C. Burns, professor of Animal Husbandry at Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

On the Plains country trees are rare, and except the cultivated trees there are none. Trees make good hog shade. The most economical shade is a light shed. On all of the farms of the Texas Land and Development Company there are small sheds in each five-acre pasture of alfalfa. They are an example of economy and utility.

To Prospective Land Buyers:

I have about 2,000 acres of very fine irrigated and irrigable lands in the demonstrated Shallow Water Belt near Plainview, Texas, the biggest irrigation well in the county for sale, high class improvements, of all kinds, about 200 acres of alfalfa, three 200-ton silos, about 1000 acres in cultivation; first-class residences, barns, sheds, tools of all necessary kind, the best improved and most conveniently located stock farm in Hale County for sale.

Forty four head of high-grade Percheron mares from Colorado; a registered Percheron stallion, one of the best. A registered blue-ribbon jack, about 500 head of hogs, etc., all of which go with the property; 1668 acres of this land is in one body. About 600 acres subject to irrigation from wells on the property; 4 1-2 miles S. E. of Plainview, district school on the property. This 1668 acres will be sold as whole or subdivided to suit purchasers; no cash payment demanded. Will be sold on twenty years time.

The Syndicate, the Texas Land & Development Company, object to my advertisements and through their objections I have received a telegram from citizens of Plainview. For the information of prospective purchasers, I quote below their telegram and my reply, which states my position:

“Dr. R. R. White,
Hotel LaSalle, Chicago, Ill.

A number of your ad boards are up on main roads as follows: “See Dr. White’s irrigated farms before you buy, nearer town for less money; no cash payment required, twenty years time.” These signs are demoralizing the handling of prospectors by the Syndicate and we feel that in justice to them and the Plainview District that it would be wise for you to so change the wording of them that it will not interfere with the handling of prospectors in this territory. In making this suggestion we have only the best interest of the Plainview District at heart. We hope you can see Mr. Ayers while in Chicago and make satisfactory wording for the sign boards.

Knight, Slaton, Anderson, Hughes, Lancaster, Garrison, Gidney.”

“Anderson, Gidney and Others,
Plainview, Texas

Have no fight to make on Syndicate; appreciate their development, but realize they are not prompted by philanthropic motives, it's a business proposition. My purchases ante-dated theirs. I paid real money of my own for my property and improvements. My lands are for sale and I feel that this is the year to sell them. By right of priority of ownership I have the right to advertise and sell and propose to make an aggressive campaign to that effect. I am prepared to subdivide, improve and sell my lands on a credit. If no prospectors come to Plainview except through the Syndicate efforts I would not so advertise, but fortunately there are others and its to these others that I want to sell. I would like to comply with the request of my friends but my interests suggest that I aggressively endeavor to make such sales as I may legitimately be able to make. —R. R. White.”

I do not want to sell to anyone who is under obligations to buy from the Syndicate. I am opposed to any unfair means, but I do want to sell to anyone who wants to buy and who is not under obligations to the Syndicate.

I dare say I have spent more real money of my own in the development and therefore in the advertising of the Plainview country than any individual associated or connected with the Syndicate and I feel that they are going too far in trying to prevent me from such legitimate advertising as I may deem proper.

If you want a cracker-jack stock farm, fully equipped with stock and implements; near enough town to take advantage of the colleges for the larger children and a school on the property for the smaller ones, buy the 1668 acres; if you want a smaller farm, irrigated and improved to suit you, I will sub-divide it. If you want to go further out near the Aiken country, I will fit you out with an improved, irrigated farm first-class and to your liking at $85.00 per acre. Arrangements can be made to buy any of this property without any cash payment, twenty years time and moderate interest. If you are under financial obligations to the Syndicate, I will not sell to you unless you first discharge in full your obligation to them.

See Dan White or any reputable real estate agent in Plainview, who will receive a reasonable commission from me if he sells you this property. My business interests elsewhere prevent me from giving the property any personal attention, therefore, I desire to sell it. Buy this on a basis of paying itself out and perhaps double your money within five years.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

tarts Your Liver Without Making You Sick and Can Not Salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist—has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it. —Adv.

DR. GATES FLOOD BOUND AT LITTLE WICHITA.

President I. E. Gates of Wayland College had some real flood experiences in Central Texas during the past month. Dr. Gates says that he wanted to get across the Little Wichita River about two weeks ago; the bridge was safe, but roads were covered with water. A farmer said to Dr. Gates that he would haul him across with his team, and a start was made.

Water came up almost to President Gates' shoulders as he sat in his automobile, and finally the car mired so tight it became necessary to get a block and tackle to pull the automobile and our college president out of the mire.

Ursal Armstrong returned home from A. and M. College Thursday. Mr. Armstrong made the trip cross country from Lampasas in an Overland car. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Clements and daughters, Misses Bernice and Annie Louise.

TATT POOL HALL LAW HELD BY COURT TO BE INVALID.

Law Under Which Plainview Voted Out Play Rooms Has Been Declared Inoperative.

The Supreme Court, at Austin, has held that the local option pool hall law of the Thirty-third Legislature is unconstitutional. The opinion is by Chief Justice Phillips. Associate Justice Hawkins dissented.

This is the law under which Plainview voted pool halls out some two years ago.

The act was held unconstitutional in the majority opinion on two counts, that it amounted to a delegation by the Legislature of its own legislative power, imposed upon it by the Constitution, which it alone must exercise and which it may not commit to any other agency; and that it authorizes the suspension of a general law of the State by the voters of a county, or subdivision of a county, namely, the statute licensing the operation of pool halls generally within the State, in violation of Art. I, Sec. 28, of the Constitution, which provides that no power of suspending laws of this State shall be exercised except by the Legislature—an amendment of previous constitutions which permitted such suspension under "the authority" of the Legislature.

IN THE COUNTY COURT.

In the case of J. W. Patterson vs. the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co., et al., judgment for the plaintiff was in the sum of $231.

The case of G. H. Brooks vs. the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co., et al., was continued, on account of absence of witnesses.

The case of Clay Dunlap vs. Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co., et al., suit for damages to hogs shipped, is now on trial.
