"MY TURN"

By Carol Ellis

THE PERSON WHO thought up women's lib and/or the equal rights movement, is probably sitting at home alone by the telephone right now, as we speak. She probably doesn't get asked out on dates anymore, and I'm sure she doesn't bother shaving her legs or bathing very often.

Frankly, I never did find very much that was wrong with the old Unequal rights system. I did not mind having fellows open doors for me, take my arm when crossing the street, or stand up when I entered the room. I thought all of that was kind of sweet. Even getting whistled at was not too offensive. In fact, it was rather flattering in a crude sort of way. Of course, getting whistled at is just part of my dim memory of the past, since it's been quite awhile.

I always thought that having a guy order the meal for me in a restaurant was sort of sophisticated. Lighting the lady's cigarette for her used to be one of the most seductive scenes in all the old movies. They don't do that much now, since smoking is a big no-no, and seductive scenes in movies today don't leave very much to the imagination.

Another well-used scene in old movies was the "save the women and children first" scene in disaster movies such as sinking cruise ships or burning high-rise buildings. I'm sure that it must be "every man for himself" now.

Fellows used to remove their hats in elevators if a female was present. A lot of guys today don't even remove their hats when they sit down to eat in a restaurant and I've seen some who fail to remove their hats (or caps) when the flag is passing by during a parade. But that's a whole other column right there; one I should have written for the fourth of July.

Anyway, being put up on a pedestal wasn't so bad back in the days before equal rights came along. I think it is only human nature, or perhaps animal nature in general, for the male of the species to feel that he should protect the female. Small gestures, such as the ones just mentioned here, evolved as a way of showing the ladies that they were being protected. That's why women should not be allowed to serve in combat situations in the military. Men would automatically try to protect women in the line of fire, while putting themselves in jeopardy. (Yes, I listen to Rush Limbaugh, but I form my own opinions.)

Of course, equal pay in the work force is a completely different situation, entirely. There was a time when it wasn't necessary for the wife to bring home a paycheck in order to make ends meet. Now everyone is having to work at two jobs, if they can find them. The solution to equal salaries is so simple that I am surprised that no one has thought of it before. Men's salaries should be lowered a little bit, and the extra money should be used to raise women's salaries. Then everybody would be getting equal pay.

Of course, giving birth is the great equalizer for women. Imagine yourself spread out like a Thanksgiving turkey in the roasting pan, with all your most intimate possessions on display. Strange men and women whom you've never seen before drop by to "just check on your progress here, Mrs. Ellis." Then they all stand around smiling under their surgical masks while you try to push a watermelon through a soda straw. It's enough to topple a gal right off that pedestal real fast and it makes up for the men being the ones who have to go fight in the wars. It is what the ecologists call "the balance in nature."

I wish someone would volunteer to look up that old dame who first thought up women's lib and offer to treat her to a round of hormone injections . . . female hormones.

Council Discusses Swim Pool Problem

Problems with unauthorized entry to the municipal swimming pool were discussed at the regular meeting of the Friona City Council Monday evening.

According to reports, there have been a number of after-hours, unauthorized use of the pool. The council is concerned with the problem due to the city's liability in case of an accident or a drowning stemming from such unauthorized use of the pool.

Entering the pool in this manner is a class B misdemeanor, which goes through county court.

The council discussed passing an ordinance that would allow such matters to be handled by the Friona municipal court. The group also discussed the possibility of installing some barbed wire around the perimeter of the pool, in an effort to keep out the trespassers.

In other business, the council discussed the situation with the city's landfill. Two companies are to meet with the council in the near future, to discuss the possibility of handling the city's trash on a private basis.

City Manager Paula Wilson said that most people have been extremely cooperative on their weed problems, although some have not.

A new policeman, Abel Aleman has been hired by the police department, and that brings the police department up to full force.

Parmer County Will Survey 14th Street To Cemetery Rd.

At the regular June 22nd meeting of the Parmer County Commissioner's Court, a motion was carried to authorize the County Judge to contact a surveyor to survey the road on 14th Street in Friona east to the City Cemetery.

Bids were received from Paterson Carpet Co. for carpeting the second floor of the County Court House. A bid of $2,907 was accepted.

A member of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce asked permission to construct a monument in the Farwell City Park, which is on county property. The monument would be in honor of all veterans in Parmer County who were killed in wartime. A motion was passed to grant this request.

A request was made by a member of the Farwell ISD for a portion of the Permanent School Fund in the amount of $83,791. A motion carried to approve this request.

County Treasurer Anne Norton presented the following certificates of deposit to be re-invested: General Fund $500,000 to mature on August 22 at 6%, $100,000 for six months at 7.05%, $250,000 to mature on Dec. 31st at 7.05%, and $70,000 to mature Dec. 31 at 6.5%.

A payment of $1,723.50 was ordered to be paid to Bailey County for the monthly increase in Special Investigators salary since October 1991. Parmer County had not been notified of this increase and the budget is to be amended to take care of this in the future. Travel benefits for the Special Investigator are to be amended to $478.99 beginning July 1st.

Ray Bradley with the Texas Highway Department discussed the underpass at FM #145.

Geneva Williams' Estate Benefits Opportunity Plan

The estate of Geneva Williams has bequeathed $10,451.41 to the James Richard Fortenberry Memorial Fund of The Opportunity Plan, Inc. of Canyon, Texas.

Mrs. Williams was an active member of the Friona community, serving such groups as the American Cancer Society, the Federated Women's Club, the American Legion Auxiliary and many others. She was also the substitute writer for the Town Talk column of the Friona Star.

Mrs. Williams served as secretary for the City of Friona for several years before assuming the position of manager of Friona Texas Federal Credit Union. She remained in this position until her retirement in March of 1980. Her many activities made her a familiar face in the Friona community.

The James Richard Fortenberry Memorial Fund was created in 1971 in memory of Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fortenberry of Friona. Richard lost his life while serving in Vietnam as crew chief on a medical evacuation helicopter. Friends of the Fortenberry family made donations through the First Baptist Church of Friona to establish the memorial fund.

The memorial fund is used to

help deserving students attend the college or university of their choice. Students receive low interest loans from the fund which they repay after the completion of their course of study. The memory of James Richard Fortenberry is carried on through the educational achievements of many deserving students.

The James Richard Fortenberry Fund is one of 148 loan funds which are administered by The Opportunity Plan, Inc. Since 1954, The Opportunity Plan has MUSTANG STARS....Friona's Mustang League won the sectional tournament in Lubbock this week and will compete at Irving July 27-28. In the back row are coaches, Clay Bandy, Dee King, Rick White and David Blackburn. Players standing, l-r, are Matthew Mata, Sergio Campos, Daniel Wiseman, Landon Martin, Adrian Cruz and Noel Grajeda. Front row: Joseph Bandy, Nathan King, Tyson Neill, Toby Chaney, Colby Ingram, Cason White and Josh Burleson.

BRONCO ALL-STARS....Friona's Bronco League All-Stars won their sectional tournament at Wolfforth this week, and will compete next week at the regional tournament at Altus, Oklahoma. In the back are coaches, Raymond Hamilton, Trey Ellis and Pat Upton. Players standing, l-r: Tammy Spencer, Jesus Mata, Cecil Cooper, Quint Ellis, Landon Wiseman, and Jeff Hamilton. Front: Luis Ramirez, Aaron King, Joey Pena, Corbin Baxter, Perry Hanes, Brandon Stephens.

Friona L.L. Teams In Post-Season Play

Friona has two Kids, Inc. All-Star teams in post-season play, and both are fresh off winning performances at their sectional tournaments in Lubbock this week.

The Mustang All-Stars will compete in the Regional tournament at Irving July 27-28, for the second straight year. Last year was the first time Friona had ever advanced this far in post-season competition.

The Bronco All-Stars will compete in a similar tournament in Altus, Oklahoma July 20-25, after winning their age division at Lubbock.

The Mustang Stars won the sectional championship by winning their best two of three-game series against Frenship/Reese in two games Monday and Tuesday.

Friona won the first game, 11-6. Sergio Campos came up with three hits. Friona scored three runs in each of the first three innings to assume a 9-5 lead and were never headed.

Adrian Cruz pitched five innings for Friona and Nathan King pitched an inning.

In the Tuesday game, Friona held on for a 14-11 win. Daniel Wiseman and Cason White each had two hits for Friona. Landon Martin walked four times. King pitched three innings and Bandy four.

The Bronco All-Stars downed their Frenship/Reese opponents 9-5 on Monday, then came back for a 15-6 win on Tuesday.

In the Monday game, Friona was trailing 5-2 when they put together a six-run rally in the fifth inning. Sammy Perez singles, Jeff Hamilton had a bunt single; Brandon Stephens walked, and Quint Ellis socked a bases-clearing triple. Cecil Cooper then singled, and Perry Hanes had a bunt single, to cap Friona's scoring.

Cooper pitched the entire game for Friona, and did a good job. Aaron King, who played both outfield and infield for Friona, was outstanding on defense.

On Tuesday, Friona scored two in the second and third, and four in the fourth and fifth inning.

Ellis went the distance for Friona. He struck out three batters and allowed no hits over the final two innings, keeping his opponents at bay.

"They play under a lot of pressure. You're going to see them in a lot of places later on," said Friona Coach Ray Hamilton.

Greenhouse Gas Adds To Cotton Production

Higher carbon dioxide levels in the atmosphere may increase growth in some cotton but does not change the amount of water used, a Texas A&M University agricultural meteorologist has reported.

Some people concerned with the possible effects of global warming and increased greenhouse gases, including carbon dioxide, feared it might increase plant water use, but many scientists expected it to decrease plant water use.

Neither was the case in an experiment in Arizona, said Dr. Bill Dugas of the Blackland Research Center in Temple, a part of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dugas was one of dozens of researchers taking part in FACE—the Free-Air Carbon Dioxide Enrichment program sponsored by the U.S. departments of energy and agriculture. Field-grown cotton near Phoenix was exposed to higher levels of carbon dioxide for an entire growing season.

The cotton was exposed by means of a system of vertical vent pipes surrounding circular plots within a larger cotton field. The ring of pipes was connected to an air supply fan, which moved the carbon dioxide-enriched air through the pipes.

Atmospheric carbon dioxide has increased in the industrial age, prompting concern about its environmental impact. FACE was begun in 1986 to help predict some of the effects.

The FACE system allowed scientists to compare cotton grown within the circles to that grown outside the circles under normal atmospheric conditions. Various researchers collected data for a number of experiments, including leaf area, root measurements and yield in addition to water use.

Dugas was concerned primarily with water use. He used stem flow gauges, a technology popularized and refined by Texas A&M scientists, to directly measure water flow rates in cotton plants.

Dugas said he had actually expected to see water use go down when he measured the impact of increased carbon dioxide. While that didn't happen, an increased crop yield indicates that cotton could thrive in higher concentrations of carbon dioxide.

Data was collected over 1990 and 1991 growing seasons and presented in preliminary reports in mid-May. Measurements were made at 370 parts carbon dioxide per million (the current atmospheric level) and at 550 parts per million—approximately a 50 per cent increase over current levels.

"For those plants growing in that environment, which is very hot and dry, there was no effect of carbon dioxide concentration on transpiration," Dugas said. "Some greenhouse data suggested that it should have reduced transpiration, but for these plants, under these conditions, that was not the case."

Transpiration is passage of water from the soil through a plant. Stem flow measurements have been found to be equivalent to transpiration, Dugas said.

Dugas cautioned that the results cannot be generalized to other types of plants or even cotton in other locations.

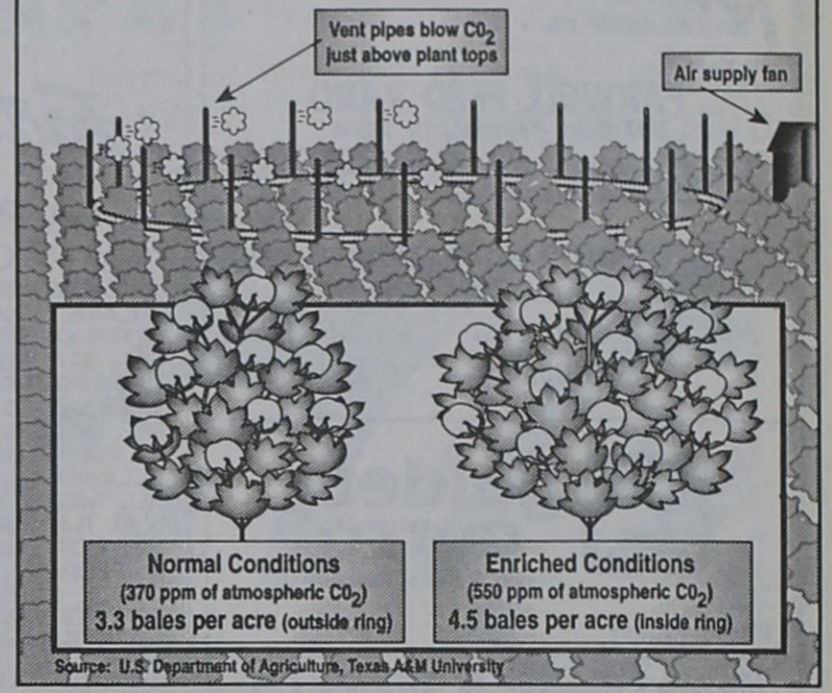

"The good news is that the plants yielded 40 per cent more lint," he said. "If water use had been 30 per cent less, that would have been two pluses, so the story is positive, but not as good as it could have been."

Still, other plants could use less water. Cotton has relatively poor control of its stomates, or holes on its leaves through which it loses water. Plants with better control of stomates could have reduced water use as well as higher yields in conditions of greater atmospheric carbon dioxide, Dugas said.

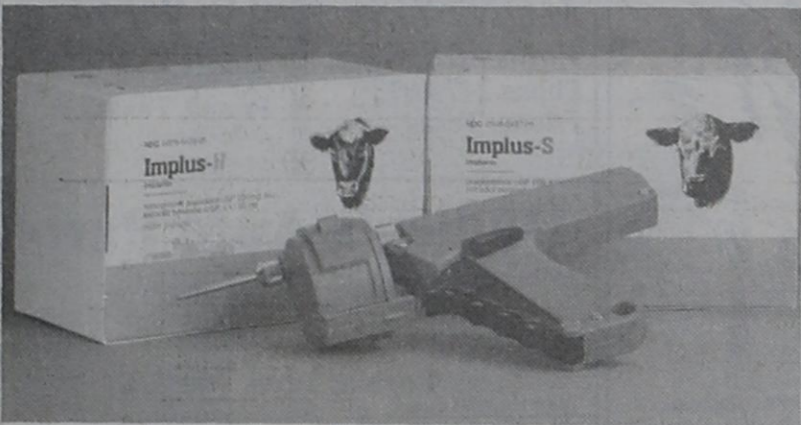

That means further research is needed on other plants, he said.

How more carbon dioxide in the air affects cotton

Atmospheric carbon dioxide has increased steadily during the industrial age. An experiment to gauge effects of higher carbon dioxide levels increased cotton yields 40 percent, but did not cause an increase in water use.

TWO NEW IMPLANTS....Implus SM for steers and Implus-HTM for heifers, are the latest introduction into The Upjohn Company's line of animal health-care products. Studies show cattle implanted with either Implus formulation demonstrate improved growth, feed conversion and a 5-8 per cent body weight increase over non-implanted animals. The implants are designed for use with the Implus 20-dose implanter.

New Cattle Implants Improve Performance

(KALAMAZOO, Mich.)—Beef producers now have two new implants available to increase weight gain and improve feed efficiency in cattle. Manufactured for The Upjohn Company, Implus-HTM for heifers and Implus-STM for steers help enhance the growth of beef cattle raised for slaughter.

Studies show cattle implanted with Implus-H and Implus-S demonstrate improved growth, feed conversion and a 5-8 per cent body weight increase over non-implanted animals. Implus-H is a combination of testosterone and estradiol benzoate, while its counterpart, Implus-S, is a combination of progesterone and estradiol benzoate. All three ingredients are naturally occurring substances, so both products can be used with no need for pre-slaughter withdrawal.

According to Jim VanBuren, DVM, Upjohn technical services consultant, the implants are safe and easy to use. They are designed for use with the unique Implus controlled pressure implantation gun.

"The hand-held, Implus 20-dose implanter features a controlled pressure 'spring lock' trigger-released handle that greatly reduces improper implant placement, balling, crushing and missing pellets," said VanBuren.

The implants and implanter are available through retail outlets and veterinarians.

The Upjohn Company is a worldwide, research-based provider of human health care products, animal health care products, agronomic and vegetable seeds and specialty chemicals. Headquartered in Kalamazoo, Michigan, the company has been dedicated to improving health and nutrition for more than a century.

Life's Wheels May Come Off

By RON TRUSLER
M.Ed., L.P.C., L.C.D.C., L.M.F.T.

In golf, there are days when nothing seems to work right. Your swing is off, the ball makes bad bounces, you hit it too fat or too thin, you look up, and you can't make a putt. The list could go on and on. That's when it is said that "the wheels have come off."

I heard a true story about a person who had the "wheels come off." He was trying to start his motorcycle on his front porch. When it did start, he lost control. The motorcycle shot through the front door, spinning out of control into his living room. It knocked over furniture, lamps, wrecking everything in sight.

He was busy trying to get the cycle under control when it fell over, breaking his leg. He got it shut off. His wife called an ambulance. They came to get him and she hurriedly cleaned up the gasoline that had spilled. She mopped up what she could and put the excess gasoline in the commode and quickly rushed to see about her husband at the emergency room. She brought him home with his broken leg cared for.

RON TRUSLER

He went to the bathroom. While there, he lit a cigarette and when he finished, he dropped it into the commode. The commode caught on fire, burning him badly. His wife called the ambulance again. The same two men came to get him. While they were carrying him out on a stretcher, the family dog bit one of the men. They dropped the stretcher and broke the man's arm!!!

That story makes me cringe. If I were to be asked about what to do in a case like that when all the "wheels fall off" in life, the only thing I can think of that is left to do is start "scooting."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

A BAND OF PROPHETS

THERE WERE COMMUNITIES OF PROPHETS WHO LIVED, STUDIED, AND WORSHIPED TOGETHER. WE FIND MENTION OF IT IN FIRST SAMUEL (10:5). THESE PROPHETS LIVED IN GIBEAH AND WERE VISITED BY SAUL. IN FACT, SAUL, BEFORE HE WAS ANNOINTED KING, PROPHESED WITH THEM ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS. THE PROPHETS SPENT ALL THEIR TIME IN STUDY AND WORSHIP. THEY FARMED A LITTLE BUT MOST OF THEIR FOOD WAS DONATED BY PEOPLE IN THE COMMUNITY ROUND ABOUT. LATER IN THE NORTHERN KINGDOM MORE PROPHETIC COMMUNITIES MADE THEIR APPEARANCE FOR A BRIEF WHILE. THEY MAY HAVE BEEN FOUNDED BY ELIJAH FROM THE MODEL OF THE EARLIER SOCIETIES FROM THE DAYS OF SAMUEL. THESE LATER MEMBERS WERE DESIGNATED "SONS OF THE PROPHETS."

SAVE THIS FOR YOUR SUNDAY SCHOOL SCRAPBOOK

THIS DEVOTIONAL & DIRECTORY IS MADE POSSIBLE BY THESE BUSINESSES WHO ENCOURAGE ALL OF US TO ATTEND WORSHIP SERVICES.

Here's why working wives like the sound of Metropolitan Life's insurance.

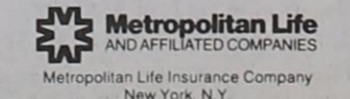

When you're used to having two salaries in the house, Metropolitan Life can protect your family against living on a solo income.

But that's only one reason why working wives come to Metropolitan Life. Getting plans that are tailored to your personal and financial needs is another good reason.

So call your Metropolitan Life sales representative today. We could add a happy note to your insurance plans.

BACKWARD GLANCES

Langes Were Great Friona Boosters

(Editor's note: Friona Star publisher Bill Ellis draws on his 30 years' experience as editor and publisher of the local newspaper. As he has the time and space this summer, he plans to do a series of articles on some local residents, or events, that stand out in his memory)

by BILL ELLIS

A good deal of Friona's success story can be attributed to a couple who came from two separate places to seek a life on the Plains of Texas--and found their place in Friona--O.F. and Rose Lange.

Lange came to Friona in 1919 as manager of the local Rockwell Bros. Lumber Company, and held that position for 56 years, until the time of his death.

He had just finished a hitch in the U.S. Army when he received a telegram from Rockwell's main office, asking if he would like to have an office to manage at Friona. He replied "yes," and says he has never regretted the decision.

"It took me less than 30 days to decide that Friona was the place I wanted to settle down. I saw the possibilities of a growing community, and wanted to be a part of it," Lange told us in a 1969 interview.

He said that in 1919 when he went to buy a train ticket to Friona, the ticket agent in Llano (his hometown) couldn't even locate the young West Texas town. The agent had to wire Austin to discover Friona's whereabouts and find out how to route Lange's connections.

After changing trains three times, he finally arrived in Friona. Lange remembers the conductor yelling "Friona!" He looked around, not seeing much, and asked the conductor which side of the tracks the town was on. "Jest don't make no difference," is what Lange remembered as his reply.

A couple of years after Lange became manager of the local Rockwell store, Friona High School, under Dr. Floyd Golden, was organizing its first football team. It was a task getting 11 men in those days, and Lange accompanied the team several times, and filled in at an end position in a couple of games.

Lange also recalled being in two or three end-of-school plays, which were one of the town's highlights. "We would take the plays around to other towns and put them on. The proceeds would go to the Congregational Church," Lange said.

There has always been a lot of grain around Friona, Lange recalled, and he spoke of the two elevator operators who were here when he came to town. There was John Gischler at the old Friona Wheat Growers' location, and the George Maurer-Dick Clennen elevator at the old Santa Fe Grain-Continental location.

"They were competitive, and kept a good market locally for grain," Lange said. He tells how people used to come from across the state line in New Mexico to sell their grain. They would unhitch their teams and stay all night on the lumber yard, then go back home the next day.

In 1924, Lange's wife Rose moved to Friona and became the town's first telephone operator. She had first moved to the Black community in 1917. They were married in 1924, and in 1926, "Os" built the house which they called home for 46 years, just across the street west of the Methodist Church.

Rose was a charter member of the Friona Woman's Club, and was instrumental in the drive which built the Woman's Clubhouse in 1941. She also was active in PTA work, local politics (serving on numerous occasions as an election official), and served as Friona's Red Cross chairman for 20 years.

In 1962, Rose was honored by the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture as its "Woman of the Year," being the fourth woman chosen for this annual honor.

"Os" served as president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Friona Lions Club, of which he was a charter member. He was the originator of Friona's "Trades Day" promotions, an early-day business stimulant.

Lange also served on the board of trustees for the Congregational Church, and had served the church in other capacities, including the building committee chairman.

A veteran of World War I, Lange was also a charter member of Friona's American Legion Post 206. He was one of the last local survivors of World War I to pass away.

One of the forms of entertainment which Frionans had in the early days was the "Chautauqua," which Lange usually had a hand in. This consisted of a company of people who would present lectures, music, short plays, etc., for a six-day run.

The Friona sponsors would go to a neighboring town, usually Dimmitt, to pick up the players. They also would put up the tent and seats, and sell advance book tickets to the performances. At the end of their week in Friona, the sponsors from the next town would come and pick up the Chautauqua company and take them to their next appointment.

Lange had a droll sense of humor, that only those who knew him well could appreciate. He enjoyed giving Ye Editor a hard time about a local "Flying Saucer" shopping promotion, where paper plates were numbered, and prizes were available in local stores. The promotion sounded good enough, except that when the plates were dumped out over Friona, the prevailing southwest wind carried most of them into Tommy Jones' field just north of town, and a horde of shoppers trampled some of Jones' corn or whatever, in a scramble to get the "saucers."

In an effort to get back at Lange, Ye Editor, along with the former Ben Franklin Store owner Kenneth Williams, paid Lange a visit at his office prior to Easter. "We're working up an Easter promotion that we're calling 'Here Comes Peter Cottontail,' and we want your participation. We're going to have prize eggs, and we want you to dress up in a bunny suit," was the wild story we told Lange. We were sort of making it up as we went along.

Lange looked at the two of us with his customary scowl, then said to his bookkeeper, Carolyn Dement, "Make these guys out a check Carolyn," then to us "But I'm not going to get in no rabbit suit!"

Maybe we should have followed through on the promotion. One time we had a story in the newspaper that mentioned Lange, but spelled his name Lang. He strolled into the office on Monday morning and wanted to know in his usual sarcastic tone if we had "run out of 'Es' at the Friona Star?"

The PTA was another organization which gave Friona something to do in the early days. The yearly carnival, with its king and queen booths, can no doubt be recalled by many local residents. Rose Lange had served as president of this organization.

The Lange children were Charles (Dick) Coneway, Albert Coneway, Kay Jonte, Bob Coneway, Mary, Carolyn Lynn and Doris Ann Lange.

At the time of this writing, three of the Lange children were deceased. Mary died in the 1960s, Albert died in 1984, and Kay passed away last year.

Doris A. Lange is a retired securities cashier, living in Houston. Carolyn Lynn, who had a career as an administrative assistant to a developer, lives in Kingwood.

Dick Coneway is a retired designer/builder and lives in Houston. He designed Friona's Congregational Church. Bob, a World War II veteran, is 74 and lives at Liberty, Missouri.

Rose Lange passed away October 10, 1972, and Mr. Lange died December 21, 1975. Both are buried at the Friona Cemetery.

MARY JANE CUEVAS and RAFAEL BERLANGA....Mr. and Mrs. Santos Cuevas of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. Jose Berlanga of Fort Worth announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their children, Mary Jane and Rafael. The couple will exchange wedding vows Saturday, July 25 at 11 a.m. in the Primera Baptist Church, Fort Worth. A reception will follow the ceremony. The bride-elect is a 1983 graduate of Friona High School, 1990 graduate of the Hispanic Seminary, San Antonio, with an associate degree in church music and graduated from the ATI Health Education School in Fort Worth in 1992 with a medical assistant degree. The prospective bridegroom is a 1984 graduate of Dunbar High School in Fort Worth and graduated from Texas A&M University in 1990 with a degree in environmental design. He is employed as an interarchitect with SMR Architect Firm.

Town Talk

By June Floyd
Call 247-3681 With Your News Items

During my newspaper career, I have tried to apply the same logic I used when my children were growing up. That is, when someone asks a question which I am unable to answer, I will do my utmost to find the answer then pass it on.

So, to those of you who have asked "What's going on down at the corner of Highway 60 and Main Street just north of the Post Office?" and, of course to all others who are interested, I now know the answer.

While visiting with Leroy Cox of Hometown Hardware one morning last week, I asked him the same question. He not only gave me the facts, but gave me permission to pass them on.

Hometown Hardware is outgrowing its present location, which is just south of the Post Office and there's no more room to expand, so he said, "We just had to become a 'two location' firm."

As soon as the fencing project is completed, the space will be used as an outdoor warehouse for merchandise which doesn't necessarily have to be stored inside.

By the way, Senior Citizens, by the time you are reading this it will be time to begin making plans to attend the regularly scheduled monthly covered dish luncheon at Friendship House.

Tuesday, July 21, will be the third one this month. Festivities will begin about 10:30 a.m. with a game session and there will be a blood pressure clinic in the morning.

Lunch will be served at noon and will be followed by a program, which will be presented by one of Friona's favorite soloists, Rita Beene.

Doyle Cummings, president, joins all members of the organization in inviting everyone in the area who is interested to attend.

A special feature of the meeting will be an explanation of a Golden Age Kiwanis Club or something of the sort, which should be of special interest to everyone who is interested in contributing something to our community, which has been so generous in its support of the organization since its beginning.

An afternoon game session will close the day's activities.

All seven of our Oklahoma family members visited in the Floyd homes last weekend. They are John, Geneva and Heather Osborn and Richard, Frieda, Brandon and Barrett Dickson, who live at Tipton.

Curtis Ward of Dimmitt also spent some time visiting with us.

The Okies left early Monday morning for Albuquerque, where they planned to begin an Amtrak trip to the West Coast. We're expecting them to come back by their way home in about ten days.

Little Rachel Pipes observed her first birthday Tuesday, July 7. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Pipes of the Rhea community.

Her mother honored her with a party in the family home Tuesday afternoon. Special guests were a grandmother, Ruth Gonzalo of Amarillo; and a great-grandmother, Opal Baxter of Friona.

Refreshments of birthday cake, ice cream, punch and tea were served.

Other guests were Jean Hamilton, Lorna Schueler, Nathan, Scott and Amy Schueler and Monte and Kevin Schueler.

Mrs. Raymond Cox, a niece of Martha Russell, who has been here about a week, returned to her home in Lafayette, Colorado, Friday.

Another out-of-town visitor in the Russell home recently has been Herman Sutherland of Kansas City, Missouri. Herman and Martha are cousins.

Out-of-town visitors in the home of Betty Louise and Lloyd Rector this week are Christi Martin of Garland, Texas, and her two younger sisters, D'Wann and Natasha, who have been visiting their Amarillo kin.

Christi spent Friday night with one of her cousins, Heather Martin, daughter of Mike and Reta Martin.

Marlene Drake and her mother, Fairrie Parker, returned home Wednesday of last week after spending about ten days visiting kith and kin and attending a Bellows family reunion in Gainesville, Texas.

This reunion, which was attended by a large number of people from all over the United States, is an annual affair and the two Frionans saw a lot of relatives they had never seen before and others with whom they had not visited in as many as seventy years.

Fairrie's brothers and sisters who were present, along with members of their immediate families and aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews were Ray Bellows and Lucille Manor, Dennison, Texas; Jack Bellows, Ector, Texas; and Opal Wortham, Tom Bean, Texas.

After the reunion, which was in the Holiday Inn and was a weekend affair, Marlene and Fairrie went to Waco to visit Bobby Drake. En route they visited in DeSoto, Texas, with Ralph and Waneta

Taylor.

Marlene reported, "We had a wonderful time and are already planning to attend the reunion next year."

This really should turn out to be quite a trip as the 1993 edition will be held in Minnesota.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reed and children, Shayli, Sawyer and Stetson, were Jay and Melody Witt and daughters, Reagan and Rachel of Alto, Texas, who were enroute to Capitan, New Mexico, and Donna Reed of Amarillo. Donna is Thomas's sister.

The ninth annual London-Truax family reunion, which was held in the home of Jerry and Raye Jene London the Fourth of July weekend, was well attended.

Cousins came from several states, as well as several different places in Texas.

Following an outdoor meal in the London back yard Saturday evening, there was a session of water balloon volleyball and several other games.

Those present, besides the host couple, were Dee Day, Dan and Laurie Day and children, Chris and Adam Day and Loren and Will Leahy, all of Dallas.

Also, Deano, June and Jack London, Amarillo; Larry and Margaret Truax, Deming, New Mexico; Doug Truax, a recent graduate of West Point, who is stationed at Lawton, Oklahoma; and Nicole Turnete, Columbia, South Carolina.

Also, Leanne, Blake and Alyssa Sanders, Houston; Beverly Robertson, Buffalo, Oklahoma; Henry, Paula, Courtney and Betsy Clark; John, M'Lynda, M'Kell and J'London Jarecki; Rick London; Micah, Melanie and Jessie London and Janie London, all of Friona.

Johnny and Carla Bandy of Plano, Texas, visited in the home of his parents, Eugene and Patsy Bandy, late last week.

Their children, Brandon and Kaci, who had been visiting here about a week, returned home with them on Saturday.

Eugene's mother, Mrs. Wayne Miegole of Amarillo, also visited in the Bandy home last week.

Last weekend was a very special one for Maybian Rhodes, who attended a get together of her family members are Greenbelt Lake. Five of her eight children were present along with children, grandchildren, spouses and a few friends.

Others present were Amber and Mendi Rhodes, Lubbock; Ross, Shayla, Brandon and Maggie Armstrong, Roy Don, Carol Ann, Brandi, Tiffany, Christi and Jared Smith and Joe Bob, Kathy and Christi Mason, Amarillo.

Also, Darrell, Pam and Justin Heinrich, Slaton, Texas; Steven, Janie and Jace Smith, Goodwell, Oklahoma; Darla and Russ Shelton,

All friends and family of the couple are invited to attend. They plan to make their home in the Lazbuddie area.

PRAIRIE ACRES PARTY LINE

By CAROL DELEON

Several staff members and residents (around nine) really enjoyed a fun time in Clovis last Friday. We had a picnic in the park and a stroll through the zoo. It was a beautiful day, with a little cloud cover for the biggest part of the time we were there. It was just beginning to get real sunny and warm as we were packing up to leave. This trip would not have been possible without the help of three special volunteers—Ruthie Hardin, Sylvia and Trisha Gibson. We very much appreciate their time and also the use of the needed transportation. I also want to mention what a fun trio they are.

The ice cream social Tuesday evening was a big success. We had a real nice turnout of family and friends and hope everyone had a nice time.

I have several thank-you's to mention, so here they are: Friona State Bank for the watermelons and the popcorn in a tin; Helen Bailey for the magazines; Zora Gaede for the delicious blackeyed peas; Willie Bea Fulgham for the pajamas; Patsy Bell (Alice Hough's daughter) for the potted plant; Mr. Miller for the Ensure supplement; 6th Street Church of Christ for the quilting scraps; Eufaula Ethridge for the beautiful flowers from her yard and also Olivia Jones for helping her arrange them to decorate the dining room.

We also have several birthdays to announce this month: Carl Hadley, 7-3-1909; Leona Watson, 7-10-1899; Robert Gore, 7-13-1902; Mabel Kale, 7-25-1900; Mary Gripp, 7-27-1896; Carlota Tarrango, 7-1-1918; Mabel DeLong, 7-11-1904; Beulah Miller, 7-20-1916. Staff members with birthdays are: Carol Jackson, Gladys Wilson, Maggie Torres, Patsy Widner and Kaye Funk. HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!

We want to extend our deepest sympathies to the family of Alice Hough. Alice had been a resident of our home since August 23, 1990. She was a very special lady.

The following donations have been made to the Love Fund:

In memory of Mrs. Virgie Burt: Katy Osborn.

In memory of Alice Hough: Katy Osborn, Clarence and Peggy Monroe, John and Jo Blackwell, Lunell and Hollis Horton, Jr.

In memory of Jack Kassahn: Lunell and Hollis Horton, Jr.

In memory of Charles Russell: Lillian McLellan, Floyd and Eva Lou Rector, John and Jo Blackwell, Ernest and Evalyn Anthony.

In memory of Ronnie Webster: Lois Weatherly.

Mrs. Shields Is Buried In Amarillo

Funeral services for Ethel Shields, 91, were held Tuesday morning at the Polk Street United Methodist Church in Amarillo, with the Rev. James E. Garrett and the Rev. Jordan Grooms officiating. Burial was in Llano Cemetery, under the direction of Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home.

Mrs. Shields passed away Saturday, July 11, 1992.

She had lived in Amarillo for the past 65 years, and was a member of the Polk Street United Methodist Church.

Survivors include a daughter, Deke Kendrick of Friona; a sister, Edith Horton of Tyler, two grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The family requests memorials be to Polk Street United Methodist Church, or to a favorite charity.

'35 Class Met In Amarillo

The Friona High School graduating class of 1935 met for their 57th annual reunion at the Fifth Season Inn in Amarillo, July 10-12.

Those attending were Ruby and C.W. Faw of Corpus Christi; Buford and Harriett Richardson of Socorro, New Mexico; Virginia Loflin of Canon City, Colorado; Wilda and Roy Hofman of San Diego, California; William Noal Garrett of Ramona, California; Ann Houlette of Dumas, Texas; Lora Callahan of Harbor City, California; John and Katherine Blackburn and Forrest and Dottie Osborn of Friona.

The group enjoyed dinner at the Red Barn, Saturday night, July 11.

Roy and Wilda Hofman were recognized as having travelled the longest distance, coming from San Diego, California.

They visited and played board games. William Noal Garrett brought a box of beautiful lemons picked from a tree in his back yard. He distributed them to those present.

Ruby Faw conducted a business session, then she and her husband, C.W., invited the group to Corpus Christi next September for the next class reunion.

YOUR EYES

What Does 20/20 Mean?

A report of "20/20 vision" means only that the person tested can see and distinguish letters on a chart at 20 feet that most normal average eyes see at that distance.

By comparison, 20/40 means the subject sees at 20 feet what most average eyes see at 40 feet and acuity is somewhat subpar. A score of 20/15--indicating the ability to see at 20 feet what most people see at 15 feet--is better-than-average vision.

But the test of visual acuity is only a part of the complete vision test that your optometrist performs.

With sophisticated instruments and special expertise, your eye doctor will also test whether you can shift focus from near to far, how well you can follow a moving object, how far you can see to the side while looking front (peripheral vision) and whether your eyes are working together as a team. In addition, your optometric examination will include vital tests of eye health.

American Innovation Is Alive And Well

We hear a lot about advancements in other nations, and many of us have forgotten that American innovation is alive and well. For example, at one time most of the rickshaws used in China were made in America, according to Dan Valentine, a columnist with the Salt Lake Tribune, who often writes about entrepreneurship.

When John H. Birch, an American, visited the Orient in the 1870s, he was fascinated by the two-wheeled vehicles pulled by manpower. Realizing the potential of such a machine, he converted his New Jersey buggy factory to rickshaws. Birch soon became the foremost manufacturer of American-made rickshaws and exported them all over the world. His bonanza continued until another American, Henry Ford, introduced his automobile.

Another product of American ingenuity and, perhaps, a bit of greed, is the U.S. nickel. During the Civil War, Americans began hoarding silver coins, making it nearly impossible to conduct small transactions. Joseph Wharton, a Pennsylvania mining tycoon, convinced two of his friends that what the country needed was a good "5-cent nickel."

In addition to answering the need for a smaller, non-silver currency, the coin also gave Wharton a needed market for his product, nickel. Strangely enough, the coin was never called a nickel. To this day, according to the U.S. Treasury, a nickel is still a "5-cent piece."

There's more to the nickel story. The first nickel was minted in 1866 and caught on immediately. When the Mint issued the second nickel in 1883, however, there was no indication of "cents" on the reverse side, only the single Roman numeral "V." With a little entrepreneurship and a lot of larceny, Wiley Yanks rounded up nickels by the thousands, gold plated them and passed them off as $5 gold pieces.

What does all this have to do with investing? Very little, except that Valentine's essays are filled with American success stories, most of which are honest. Too often we hear of major advances taking place in other countries, leaving this country following in the dust.

Not so, reports Money magazine. U.S. residents enjoy the highest standard of living in the world.
