BOARD ELECTS TEACHERS FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

All Details of School Management Will Be Left to the Superintendent.

The Board of Trustees of the Plainview school district met last night to consider approximately one hundred applications for positions on the teaching staff of the city schools.

The prolonged session resulted in the re-election of most of the present teachers. In the High School, Miss Margaret MacGillivray was re-elected to teach English, Miss Elizabeth Briggs to teach Latin and Miss Rebecca Longmire as general instructor. J. W. McCord, former principal of the Lamar School, was elected to teach mathematics, and Miss Mary Bullard, of Waxahachie, a graduate of Columbia University, New York, this year was selected to teach history. Professor Tarleton, who was in charge of the history department this year, was not an applicant. Prof. H. P. Webb, principal of the High School, was re-elected to that position at a recent meeting of the board.

At the Central School, which will be under separate management upon the completion of the new high school building, Miss Myrtle Jackson, of San Marcos, was elected principal. She will have as her assistants in the grade work Miss Anna Brown, who was transferred from the Lamar third grade to the Central primary work; Miss Vinny Johnson, Miss Ethel McMillan, Miss Adelaide Donnelly and Miss Kathryn Powell. Miss Callie Glenn was elected to teach the third grade at Central.

Miss Carrie Pace was elected as teacher of the third grade at Lamar School, and Misses Beulah Posten, Josie Rosson, Ursel Sanderson and Mozelle Treadaway were re-elected to their old positions.

Miss Maxie Speer, Mrs. Prudie Wright and Miss Susie Glenn were re-elected to teach in the West Side School.

There are still to be appointed a Spanish teacher in the High School and a grade teacher for Lamar.

All grade teachers have been notified by the secretary of the board that they are to be subject to transfer within the grades to meet the needs of the new organization at the time of opening the new high school building.

The newly elected superintendent, J. W. Campbell, has been made responsible to the board for the entire conduct of the schools, and the teachers in turn are to be entirely responsible to the superintendent.

Z. E. JENKINS IS ELECTED SECRETARY OF Y. M. B. L.

Will Co-operate With Extension Service in Pig-Club Work—Dr. Hare to Help.

At the regular meeting of the Young Men's Business League last night the Board of Directors reported to the League the employment of Z. E. Jenkins as secretary of the League.

The pig club committee reported to the League that conference had been held with Wm. Ganger, district agent; C. C. French, boys' and girls' club specialist, and Dr. Hare, county agent with the Extension Service, and that arrangements had practically been completed for a co-operative move between the Young Men's Business League and the Extension Department of the Federal Government in pig-club work in Hale County. Dr. Hare and the secretary of the Y. M. B. L. will have immediate charge of the work.

The president was authorized to appoint a committee on arrangements for the State Convention of the Texas Y. M. B. L., which will be held here next year. The League heard an interesting report from E. B. Miller, who was one of the party which attended the State Convention in Temple.

AVERY REPRESENTATIVE TO MOVE TO PLAINVIEW.

G. O. Culppepper, of Amarillo, district representative for the Avery Company of Texas, will move his family to Plainview in the near future. Mr. Culppepper has closed a deal for a home.

BACK FROM ELK CONVENTION.

M. D. Henderson returned this morning from Dallas, where he attended the State Convention of the B. P. O. E. Lodge.

WILL GIVE STEREOPTICON LECTURES ECONOMICS WEEK

School to Begin Monday and Will Last Through Friday, May 19.

Monday Home Economics Week will begin in Plainview, to continue through Friday, the nineteenth. In charge of the school will be Miss Jessie P. Rich and Miss Blodgett, of the Division of Home Welfare of the Department of Extension of the University of Texas. Miss Rich is a 1907 graduate of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and Miss Blodgett is a 1915 graduate of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. The Home Economics Week is given by the County Federation of Women's Clubs and The Plainview Evening Herald. Misses Rich and Blodgett are now in Anson, Texas, conducting a similar school.

In Austin, Fort Worth and Dallas the schools have been an unqualified success. Many of the smaller cities have not received the benefit of home economics weeks, and the spread of the work and the increasing demand for the experts shows that the school is conducted along thoroughly practical lines. It has the hearty endorsement of the women's clubs of the county, which organizations opened negotiations for the week.

The lectures and demonstrations will be held in the County and District Court rooms, with the exception of the stereopticon lectures, which will be held at The Ruby Theatre.

The program for the week follows:

A Hen Party Tuesday.

Wanted! Live, fat hens! Tuesday, May 16th, at the Court House!

The following invitation is extended to every woman and girl in Hale County or adjoining counties, or, indeed, any county in the Panhandle:

"Come and bring, not men, But a live, fat hen. Let us cease to hurry, And forget the worry, While we study the Rest Room's need. We will talk of the beautiful, The good and the dutiful, And how best to make it succeed."

Dear Madam:

The members of the Plainview Civic League hereby invite you to a hen party to be held on the lawn of the Hale County Court House, Tuesday, May sixteenth. An all-day meet. There will be a Home Economics lec-

To Her Who Gave Me Birth.

Unlike many of the other days of the year, Mother's Day is not founded on popular observance of long standing. It is not like Christmas, Easter or other well established days. Mother's Day dates back only to 1908. In that year it broke out sporadically at widely scattered points in the United States, as the result of a letter written to a newspaper by Miss Jarvis, the lady to whom we are indebted for the idea. But it was not until 1909 that any considerable number heard of the day.

But Mothers' Day is becoming better recognized. There are days for this and days for that, and we set aside so many "days" that the idea seems overdone. But we are a busy people and need new appointments. The idea of having a certain day for remembering mothers, living and dead, is good. It is impressive. Sunday in all parts of the country men and women will do homage to mothers living by sending bright flowers and to mothers' memory by wearing white flowers.

There is no name more endearing, more tender, or more expressive than mother. It is a title employed equally by "the royal prince, the sage philosopher, and the untutored peasant—by the savage and the civilized in all nations and generations." A mother's love is an undying feeling. Earth may chill and sever other sympathies, but no act of a child can kill the instinct of mother love. Her love is so pure that one tear from her can blot out a thousand complaints against her. Hers is a love so sincere that the strongest spirit and most stalwart heart is abashed in its contemplation. The strong Abraham Lincoln said of his mother: "All that I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

The best monument any child can raise to mother's memory, or the greatest tribute to a living mother's love, is that of a clean, upright life. If she were asked what she would prize most, her answer would relate to those for whom her life is spent—her children.

"I cannot pay my debt
For all the love that she has given;
But thou, Lord, wilt not forget
Her due reward—bless her in earth and heaven."

MINISTER-POET LIVED HERE WHEN PLAINS WAS FRONTIER.

Volume of James A. Crutchfield's Poems Will Be Placed in Plainview Library.

Rev. James A. Crutchfield, of Chicago, is in Plainview visiting friends. Some twenty years ago Rev. Crutchfield lived in Plainview, which was then a small, frontier town. He has retired from active service and has been spending the past few years among relatives and friends. He now has a second edition of his poems, which is more comprehensive than the first, copies of which are in many Plainview libraries. A copy of the new edition will be placed in the Plainview Public Library.

RADFORD REPRESENTATIVE MOVES FAMILY TO PLAINVIEW.

L. K. Gowdy, of Lubbock, has moved his family to Plainview. Mr. Gowdy is travelling representative of the Radford Grocery Co., wholesale grocers, of Abilene.

FUNERAL OF S. J. FRYE HELD YESTERDAY MORNING

Respected Citizen Has Lived in Plainview Continuously for Twenty-Three Years.

S. J. Frye died Wednesday at the family residence, on South Adams Street, of paralysis. The funeral services were held at the residence yesterday morning at ten o'clock. Interment was made in the Plainview Cemetery.

Mr. Frye was justice of the peace of precinct No. 1, Hale County, at the time of death. This position he had held four years. This year would have completed his second term. Prior to election to this office he was tax assessor of Hale County for three terms, six years.

He was born in Norfolk, Va., sixty-seven years ago. At the age of seventeen he removed with his family to Kingsport, Tenn., and later to Fall Branch, Tenn. From Fall Branch he removed to Plainview, twenty-three years ago, and has been living here continuously since.

Of a family of three children, Roy J. Frye alone survives, another son having died at the age of ten years. The other child was a daughter, who died in Plainview. His widow's maiden name was Sarah Crouch. Chas. Vincent is a stepson of the late Mr. Frye.

OUSLEY VISITS PLAINVIEW.

Clarence Ousley, director of the Extension Service in Texas, was a visitor in Plainview this week. Mr. Ousley is one of the most thorough students of Texas farm conditions. He is a man of much ability and is directing his efforts largely along the line of social service, not with the accepted idea of "up-lift," but in an effort to arrive at scholarly conclusions on the practical farm needs of Texas.

"There is only one thing which will keep West Texas from becoming a great dairying country," said Mr. Ousley, "and that is the fact that it is required that cows be milked twice daily. The men who have been accustomed to range conditions believe that dairying is too much trouble." This remark was addressed to L. A. Knight, who had just been drawn into a conversation on livestock. Mr. Ousley was gratified on learning that Mr. Knight also had Jersey dairy stock. He believes there is a great future for the South Plains country, expressing himself conservatively, as one in his position must. He finds in Hale County an object lesson, in that the county raises all and more feed than it uses for livestock—an unusual condition in the State at large.

AMERICANS CANNOT AGREE WITH OREGON

CONTROVERSY OVER WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS TO BE LEFT TO DIPLOMATS.

PLAINVIEW COMPANY IN CAMP

Estimated Strength of Texas Militia Is Between Five and Six Thousand.

EL PASO, Texas, May 11.—American troops have crossed the border at the point where the Great Bend raid was made. It is the general understanding that negotiations between General Scott and General Funston and Obregon depend on what the latter will do. Mexican officers at Juarez do not believe that a failure to arrive at a definite conclusion will mean more than the transfer of the controversy to diplomatic channels, which action it is stated has been taken.

Militia Encamped at Fort Sam Houston.

(Special to The Herald.)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 12.—One of the largest camps that has been arranged in the United States since the Spanish-American War is at the disposal of the Texas National Guard. As rapidly as the troops reached town they were directed to the maneuver field, northeast of Fort Sam Houston, where the mobilization camp has been laid out. Eleven companies of coast artillery have a separate camp adjoining that of the Texas National Guard. Just how long the troops will be held before sending them for border duty cannot be stated.

Members of the militia will be eligible to foreign duty if they take the oath that will be used in swearing the Texas, Arizona and New Mexico militia into the United States service. If the militia men are not willing to this agreement they will not be accepted, it is stated.

Of the West Texas companies, Troop C, under Captain John B. Golding, is encamped. The company from Plainview, Company L, Fourth Infantry, is pitching camp this morning. The personnel of Company L is L. O. Shropshire, Captain; Carl C. Brown, First Lieutenant; Nelson Perdue, Second Lieutenant; Ernest Fowler, First Sergeant; M. L. Graves, Quartermaster Sergeant; L. H. Dunaway, First Duty Sergeant; C. E. Dishon, Second Duty Sergeant; Grady M. Vaughn, Third Duty Sergeant; M. K. Warren, Fourth Duty Sergeant; Fred Mitchell, Corporal; J. K. Hooper, Corporal; A. A. Hudgins, Corporal; W. J. Klinger, Corporal; Jennings W. Anderson, Corporal; L. R. Pearson, Company Clerk; S. E. Goslee, Musician; J. K. Pratt, Cook; Chas. Ligon, Assistant Cook. Privates are J. C. Abrams, W. H. Anderson, Ted Andrews, W. F. Armstrong, Ed Blair, Tom C. Blakemore, Crompton Bull, Everett Bryan, Roy Bryan, C. C. Cornell, G. W. Dodson, Mason Dillingham, J. W. Fogerson, Paul Foster, H. R. Fluke, Caswell Franklin, R. D. Gibbs, H. H. Glisson, Craig Gilliland, Paul Golla, Tom M. Goslee, Clarence Green, Oscar Horton, Frank Hill, Willie D. Hinds, C. H. Hancock, M. G. Hilton, Lee Houser, John C. Johnson, J. D. Lockhart, J. A. Licklider, Leslie L. Morrison, Furd Moore, Lloyd Mitchell, Bain McCarroll, J. E. McVicker, Kearby Nash, Earl Gray Owens, J. V. Proctor, W. E. Palmer, Floyd S. Pearson, R. W. Patterson, Dewey H. Rutledge, G. S. Sanford, E. B. Thomas, E. E. Terry, Joe L. Wilson, J. A. Walters, T. W. Watkins and Chas. S. Wilson.

The estimated strength of Texas militia is between 5,000 and 6,000.

COUNTY BOUNDARY SUIT TO COME UP IN FALL

According to Judge L. S. Kinler, of the firm of Martin, Kinder, Russell & Zimmermann, who are representing Hale County in the suit to settle the boundary between Hale and Lubbock Counties, the case is now with the Court of Appeals at Fort Worth, and will probably come up in October or November.

OFF TO BIRMINGHAM.

Capt. and Mrs. C. W. Tandy, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nash and E. W. Wilder and small daughter left this morning for Birmingham, where they will attend the reunion of Confederate Veterans and visit with friends and relatives.

Motor News of General Interest

AUSTRALIAN RECORD IS SET BY OVERLAND.

Word has just been received by The Willys-Overland Company, of Toledo, Ohio, of another record broken by one of its cars, a 1916 Model Overland setting a new mark in Australia a short time ago by making the run from Albany to Armadale, a distance of 238 miles, in 6 hours and 32 minutes, one-third of the running time made by the express trains between the two points. The former record was 7 hours, 28 minutes and 56 seconds.

The run was made by Charlie Lewis, who holds the 150-mile championship in Australia, and Arthur Anderson, of the firm of Anderson & Adams, Overland dealers in Perth.

On the road the car had to tackle all sorts of road conditions. The greater portion of the journey was over wet sand with occasional turning out into the bush for fallen trees, wool teams, rocks and shrubs, while occasional bush fires were also encountered.

Although elapsed time was 6 hours and 32 minutes, an average speed of 36.4 miles per hour, actual running time was but 6 hours and 11 minutes, a speed of 38.6 miles per hour. The excellence of this performance can only be appreciated by motorists who know the Australian roads. Through loose sandy patches the car was sometimes forced at a speed of 40 miles per hour. In places a speed of 65 miles was attained. Spoon drains and hump backs were taken at 40 miles.

No effort was made to spare the car to get through, but on being inspected after the rough and trying journey it did not show the slightest signs of wear or tear. Throughout the run no tools of any sort were used, while the engine never stopped running at any point in the run. No extra lubricating oil was put into the engine, and only one quart of water was taken in throughout the run.

In every way the feat was a great piece of work, both for the Overland car and its occupants.

WIDE INTEREST IN AUTO RACING.

Never since Henri Fournier drove his Mors car for a mile in 51 4-5, over the Coney Island boulevard, has there been such an interest on the part of the public in motor racing as is evidenced this season. Reports from speedway managements all over the country declare the sport will be revived this spring with an unequalled enthusiasm. The drivers are particularly active, as entries for early meets are being filled daily, assuring a large field of racing cars.

The important events on the Pacific coast have all been run, and drivers of note who have been contesting there are now on their way East for the opening of the season at Sheepshead Bay Speedway, on May 13, when the chief event of four races is the Metropolitan trophy. This calls for the cars to go 150 miles and offers $15,000 in prizes. The nominations for this new classic include such names as Pullen, Cooper, Wilcox, Alley, Chevrolet, De Palma, Oldfield, Resta, Aiken and Mulford, which will establish this race in the hearts of race goers as the short-distance gem of the entire racing calendar.

Dario Resta, the Italian race driver with the English accent, is anxious to pilot his car over the two-mile board circuit. He has returned from a trip to Europe with parts for his Peugeot, which will make the machine go faster than ever. He will cut loose this year in the short-distance events, as he claims his blue racer is just suited for the sprint races. Resta had his car doing block tests when seen.

CARS WILL RACE UP THE NEW PIKE'S PEAK HIGHWAY.

Revised entry blanks have been issued for what doubtless will be the most sensational motor racing event of the year—perhaps the most strutting in all racing history—the Pike's Peak national hill climb. There will be three days of this remarkable race, August 10, 11 and 12, the feature of which is the Penrose cup race. The event will serve as the mormal inaugural of the world's highest highway over a course approximately 12½ miles to the summit of the famous mountain. The new road from Cascade to the top of Pike's Peak is 18 miles in length, reaching an elevation of 14,109 feet, and the start of the contest will be made from the five-mile mark, at Crystal Creek.

Prizes of cash and plate valued at more than $7,800 are offered. The automobile events, for both amateur and professional drivers, will be run on Friday and Saturday, August 11 and 12, and the sanction for these has just been granted by the contest board of the American Automobile Association. The motorcycle events are to precede the others, on Thursday, August 10, sanctioned by the Federation of American Motorcyclists. Both sets of speed tests will be under the auspices of the Pike's Peak Auto Highway, which is responsible for the construction of the wonderful new road which winds to the summit, where only a burro trail and a mountain railroad ran in the past.

The speed tournament is bound to provide strenuous competition among those who expect to make "Pike's Peak or bust." It will be especially attractive to visiting motorists in August, the view from various points along the course being one of the grandest expanses of landscape and colorful scenery in the whole world. Arrangements are being made to entertain and care for thousands of visitors at Colorado Springs during the meet.

FUEL CONSUMPTION ECONOMY INFLUENCES MANY BUYERS.

The editor of a Western newspaper reminds us that not so long ago gasoline might have sold for a dollar a gallon without widespread comment, but "today when it advances a fraction of a cent a gallon nearly everybody talks about it."

This editorial comment tersely sets forth a big fact: that the cost of operating motor cars has become a matter of Nation-wide concern.

The director of the United States Bureau of Mines says that the prevailing gasoline prices may not only continue for some time, but undoubtedly will reach higher levels.

What are the owners and prospective owners of motor cars going to do about it?

Like other great problems, this one has educational value, in that it causes people to think. They are not spending time in reading voluminous statistics and reports about gasoline, but in common-sense fashion they are giving intelligent consideration to the situation in its most practical aspect, which involves the operating cost of one car in comparison with that of another.

The awakening, caused by the demand for gasoline having increased more than 200 per cent in the last five years, cannot help but focus attention on the car which can be operated 16 to 20 miles on a gallon of gasoline as against the car using the same quantity of fuel in traveling only 6 to 8 miles.

It would seem that the tendency is bound to result in a permanent remedy in respect to excessive cost of operation, through refinement and simplification in the design of motor cars and scientific light weights.

HINTS TO THE CAR OWNER.

In most every gas line there is a strainer or trap, either in the line itself or at the base of the carburetor. Few persons think to clean this occasionally before trouble is encountered. The present day fuel supply contains waste matter, and trouble with the carburetor can be eliminated by cleaning this trap or strainer occasionally.

Because oil has a disintegrating effect, not only on rubber, but on cotton and fabric as well, care should be taken to see that the wiring for electric lighting and engine starting system is well protected. If oil is permitted to remain on the wiring the insulation will in time be softened so that the slightest chafing will cause the bare rubber to be exposed and a short circuit or a leakage of current follow.

A motor that is subject to considerable vibration is liable to have its cylinders work loose on the crank case through the loosening of the holding-down bolts or nuts if they are not watched. A wrench should be applied occasionally to make sure that everything is tight. The trouble that arises from loose cylinders run all the way from leakage of oil to a wreck of the motor.

When a car is newly painted care should be taken to remove any mud or other foreign matter as quickly as possible. If the mud is allowed to stay on new paint over night it will be difficult to remove the mud stains. If these stains penetrate the varnish it will be necessary to retouch such places. After the varnish has become thoroughly set there is not so much danger.

A relief cock, with a handle that is vertical when the valve is closed, is liable to work open if the plug loosens through wear. The best way to remedy such trouble is to throw out the offending cock and buy a new one with a spring to keep the plug tight as it wears. Another method is to fill the hole in the plug with a piece of brass wire carefully shaped to the contour of the plug and drill a new hole in such a position that the handle will be pointing downward.

TOURING CAR USED FOR MILITARY NEEDS.

The use of motor trucks and armored automobiles has already been demonstrated in actual warfare, but it remained for the American troopers now chasing Pancho Villa, in Mexico, or guarding the border, to demonstrate the feasibility of putting ordinary touring cars to military use.

A few days ago an Overland touring car was driven north of Columbus, N. M., by United States artillerymen. A machine gun was mounted in the topneau and targets were fired at, with the machine traveling and at a standstill.

The test was reported to be very successful. It was found that a touring car was fully as logical and as feasible as a truck for the purpose. The demonstration proved that the vibration of a gun being fired does not swerve the aim a particle. In fact, the car barely is shaken. The objection to cramped quarters was also conclusively dismissed when it was shown that four men could ride comfortably in the car with the gun.

CHART SHOWS ECONOMY OF OVER-SIZED CASINGS.

An interesting chart which will appeal to all motorists, is one which has just been prepared by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, by which any tire user can readily ascertain his tire cost per mile. The device is simplicity itself. Three columns are shown denominated "A," "B," and "C," showing respectively the initial tire cost, the tire cost per mile and the tire mileage.

To find the tire cost per mile the initial cost of the tire and the tire mileage received must be known. Then by stretching a thread or rubber band from a point in the first column representing the initial tire cost, to a point in the third column representing the tire mileage received, the tire cost per mile may be read at the point of intersection in the second column.

Now that motorists are giving more attention to tires and counting the tire cost per mile, instead of considering only the first cost of the tire, the new Goodyear chart will be found helpful in showing how a quality tire, even though higher in first cost than other tires, with the additional mileage that it will probably give, will cost no more per tire mile, and in many instances will cost less.

Then the chart is valuable in showing the economy of over-sized tires. Through the use of these tires, the tire cost per mile is invariably reduced, and at the same time easier riding qualities and freedom from tire trouble gained.

The world's highest-powered motor ship has been built in Italy for the Brazilian navy, its oil motors developing 6,400 horsepower.

Operated by a gasoline engine, an Illinois inventor's post-hole digging machine is claimed to do as much work as 15 men could with hand tools.

Strong and practically fireproof artificial sandstone has been made in the Philippines from beach sand and volcanic tufa.

A German scientist has substituted other metals for mercury in a vapor electric lamp and perfected a device of that character that gives a white light.

Buick—Pioneer Builders Valve-in-Head Motor Cars

THE MODERN SIEGE GUNS ARE BUILT LIKE A BUICK VALVE-IN-HEAD MOTOR

The reason the siege guns will shoot 26 miles is because the firing chamber is so arranged that ALL the force of the powder explosion goes directly against the shell. None of the energy generated by the explosion is wasted.

In the "L" head motor part of the gas explodes in the valve pockets, which means that the piston head does not receive the full force of the blow.

In the "T" head motor there are two side pockets and one-fifth of each explosion is wasted. This is the least efficient of all types of motors.

In the famous Buick Valve-in-Head motor all the gas explodes directly behind the piston, just as all the powder is exploded directly behind the shell in the siege gun. Consider this in buying a car.

VALVE-IN-HEAD An Engineering Principle—Not An Advertising Slogan

THE VALVE-IN-HEAD PRINCIPLE REFINED AND DEVELOPED

The trend toward the Valve-in-Head is very rapid, which is only natural now that the motoring public has come to know that this is the best type of motor.

Thirteen years of experience and development finds the present Buick Valve-in-Head motor far advanced over the first one. In the first one the principal was right, but it was not as perfectly applied as we learned later to apply it.

It takes time to learn how to apply any mechanical principle to the best advantage, and in the application of the Valve-in-Head principle the Buick Motor Company has a thirteen years' start over other motor manufacturers. What we have already learned, the others will have to learn through experience. Time and service are the real tests of a motor.

All but one of the cars entered in the Indianapolis classic were Valve-in-Head type—which further confirms the correctness of a principle which has been incorporated in every one of the more than two hundred thousand motor cars that have been built in the last 13 years by the Buick Motor Company.

The Herald's Review of the Movies

"The Society Wolves" will be shown at The Mae I. Theatre Monday. A band of jewel thieves known as "The Wolves" has committed a great many robberies in the rich suburbs of New York. Their leader is Katherine Lemoyne (Elaine Terris), a woman of dangerous charm, infatuation for whom draws young Victor La Rue into the gang. Solomon Joel, a diamond appraiser, is another member, as is Stephen Rush, who covers his tracks by simulating blindness. At a garden party given by John Donald, Carlyle, a detective in the confidence of Donald, makes a close study of the guests. He is suspicious of La Rue, Donald's private secretary, and he also doubts Roland Montague. Mavis, the daughter of Donald, is secretly in love with Montague. La Rue and Joel learn that a certain countess who is guest of honor of the Donalds will travel in her car that night. They send instructions to Rush. The robbery is pulled off and Carlyle begins to close in his operations about those he suspects. On Mavis' birthday the Donalds and Le Rue go to the city to hear Montague sing. Mavis wears a magnificent diamond necklace. The next morning the car is found in the bottom of a rocky ravine. Mr. and Mrs. Donald are dead. Mavis is missing, and suspicion falls on Montague. A warrant is sent out for the singer's arrest. Rush informs Ronald that the Wolves hold Mavis as prisoner. If Montague will give up the necklace, he shall have the girl. The singer goes with the crook. In the den of thieves, Ronald is robbed of the necklace and barely escapes with his life, through the help of Katherine, who has come to cherish for him a secret passion. Meanwhile the den is raided by the police. Katherine leads Montague to Mavis, whom he rescues. The police and the Wolves engage in a running battle. Katherine and La Rue are killed. Montague's mysterious part is at last clear. The night that her father and mother were killed, Mavis was snatched from the car just in time by the young tenor, who, fearful for her safety, had given pursuit. Mavis then entrusted the necklace to Montague, who a few minutes later run by the thieves and was knocked senseless. Mavis was carried off by the wolves and tortured for her refusal to reveal the hiding place of the necklace. In the last view, however, these tragic events are left far behind. The wolves are dead or in prison. Montague and Mavis plight their troth.

The second episode of "The Iron Claw" will be presented at The Ruby Monday.

After being rescued by that mysterious avenger of wrongs, known to the underworld as "The Laughing Mask," and returned to the father she was kidnapped from when a child, she is again threatened by the sinister master criminal Legar, alias "The Iron Claw." Legar's purpose is to wreak vengeance on Enoch Golden, the girl's father, who, years before, finding Legar, then his friend, unfaithful, had the latter's face seared with white-hot irons and his hand crushed in a vise.

To intimidate Golden into returning his daughter to his (Legar's) clutches, the master criminal, with the help of Stein's Electric Ray Projector, a deadly instrument, sets fire to many of Golden's properties and threatens further mischief should his demands not be acceded to. Majorie, the daughter, seeing that she is the cause of great misfortune to her father, voluntarily returns to "The Iron Claw."

But, by the looks of things, Legar won't have such easy sailing; for Davy Manly, Golden's secretary, has her interests at heart, and that other mysterious agent, "The Laughing Mask," promises to give further account of himself in the next chapter, called "The Cognac Cask."

"The Dumb Bandit" is the second attraction for Monday at The Ruby, a novel with rather a convincing story, despite its unusualness.

Another feature for Monday is "Their Only Son," a comedy. The last and fourth picture for Monday is "When Lizzie Disappeared." All that need be said about this comedy is that Lee Moran is a traveling magician, while Eddie Lyons and Betty Compton are country sweethearts.

At The Olympic Monday there is a Pathe Gold Rooster play, entitled "Via Wireless." The offering is in five parts, and is said to contain many thrills, one among them being the sinking of a big steamship during a tremendous storm. Miss Gail Kane and Mr. Bruce McRae, both of theatrical fame, are the featured characters.

"The Heart of the Hills," the first local talent photoplay ever shown in Plainview, has arrived from Kansas City, where it was sent for development, and will be shown at The Ruby Monday and at The Olympic Tuesday. The picture took two days to stage, and shows perhaps fifty persons you are well acquainted with. You will also know every spot in the film, unless you are confused by the artificial changes made necessary for the production.

The story is a "regular thriller." A rugged mountaineer and his daughter are living the isolated lives of the moonshiner. With them is a "black sheep," who has sought the secretive mountainside to escape the law, which he thinks is hunting him down for the supposed murder of his brother. The "black sheep" had been drinking when he struck his brother, and made his escape, thinking him dead. The brother recovers, enters the revenue service, and is sent to rout the moonshiners. In a pitched battle he kills the mountaineer and his outcast brother. When he first begins the search for the still he meets the moonshiner's daughter and falls in love with her. Following the battle, he discovers that he has killed the girl's father. Left all alone, the girl becomes more interested in the revenue officer, leaves with him for the city, and there the wedding bells ring.

"Ben Blair" will be seen on the screen at The Ruby Tuesday.

The opening incidents, showing the boyhood of the hero, are novel, human and woven together with strong dramatic effect. The mother of Ben Blair deserted John Rankin, her husband, and went to live with a worthless fellow named Tom Blair, and took the boy with her. He was known as Ben Blair. After his mother had been killed by his supposed father, Ben was raised by Rankin, a well-to-do ranch owner. Eventually, Blair kills the man he wronged, and Ben goes after him and keeps doggedly on his trail until the murderer is brought to justice. This motive of the drama is consistently and impressively brought to a conclusion. The love interest has an excellent start. The Winthrops, a wealthy New York family, move to the West for the benefit of Mr. Winthrop's health. The daughter, Florence, becomes Ben's little sweetheart, the boy's regard growing steadily with his physical growth. Florence is fond of Ben, but when she reaches the dignity of long frocks, she finds that the call of the East, with its social advantages, will not be denied. She returns to New York with her parents, giving Ben a half promise. He remains out beyond the Great Divide until he learns that Florence has agreed to marry a man in her own class. Whereupon he gets inside of his best suit of clothes, tucks his revolver in his pocket and takes the first train east. Finding that the girl's fiancée is a moral bankrupt, Ben gives her the choice of accepting him or learning that his rival has been put out of the affair by a bullet from the Westerner's trusty six-shooter. Ben wins.

The home-talent motion picture will be shown at The Olympic Tuesday, and in addition to this The Olympic will present the "Winning of Miss Constance," a fine little comedy-drama, featuring Robert Leonard, Ella Hall, Marc Robbins and others. The story centers about a department-store girl an artist and an old actor, all living in the same apartment house. The girl loses her job, through a false accusation of stealing. The manner in which the artist watches over her is extremely laughable. He leaves food at her door and the dog eats it regularly. The story is altogether one of broad appeal and has a good human touch running through it. It is a good offering.

"The Taking of the Stingaree" is the third feature on the program at The Olympic Tuesday. This is a series of Australian stories, written by George Bronson Howard especially for screen purposes. Each story is separate and complete within itself.

"The Target," a five-reel number featuring Hobart Bosworth, will be shown at The Olympic Wednesday.

Bosworth is assisted by Anna Lehr, Maude George, Jane Novak, Albert MacQuarrie, Dick Le Reno and others. This is a vigorous, well pictured story, which carries the interest along in a sweeping fashion. It shows the hard knocks a man acquires who tries to hew close to the line in the matter of personal honor. His friends desert him, his wife is untrue and he meets trying experiences, but when he emerges from a false term of imprisonment he is still a happy man. This is well acted all through and contains situations of strong appeal.

"The Vengeance of Oppressed" will be the first number on the program at The Ruby Wednesday. The opening scenes are laid in Russia, a young Jew, his wife and a Cossack officer comprising the leading characters. The familiar story of lust, brutality and murder is enacted, and the Israelite flees to this country, bereft of wife and mother. Once in the United States, the ability of the man is given free rein, and, from an humble beginning, he lifts himself to a position of great authority in the financial world. When the Russian government sends Sergius Kosloff, the brutal Cossack, to negotiate a loan, the time for Aaron's vengeance is at hand. The manner in which he plans and executes that vengeance has abundant intensity and fine dramatic effect, and the play closes with the death of the Cossack and the Jew.

"The Guiding Hand" is another feature for Wednesday at The Ruby Theatre. This one-reel drama, written by Howard Irving Young, has a simple plot, an aged butler and the two sons of the old man's former employer being the principal characters. The story rings true and has a wholesome atmosphere all through. Richard Purdon, Arthur Albertson, Robert Ellis and Dallas Tyler form an excellent cast.

"Caught With the Goods" will also be shown at The Ruby Wednesday. The "goods" referred to in this one-reel farce is an attractive young woman, and a flirtatious married man is the "party of the first part." The complications are closely related to those found in a French farce, and lively playing by a capital cast makes the reel an amusing one.

New Yorkers Texas Dinner.

Dear Club Girls:

I returned from Houston a few days ago, where I had been attending the Texas Women Bankers' Association. I enjoyed my convention just as much as you enjoy yours, and the people of Houston planned for our pleasures just as the people of other places have planned for your pleasures. Conventions are mighty nice affairs, I think, for we hear so many things that help us.

Now, my club girls, I am getting up a big dinner to be served to the National Editorial Association, which meets in New York City June 19. This is the best chance to tell the Nation what we have in Texas, from pretty and capable club girls to the best products they ever ate. They will be from every state and point in the Union. We want to show them what we can do, so I am terribly busy with this matter and will be for the next week. I want to collect and send to New York the best products, both grown and manufactured, that can be obtained. You know I am always telling you that I believe Texas has the best products and the best opportunities in the Union. Now I am going to tell all those editors so. You know the Texas press has been so good to us and how much they have helped us in our work. We could not accomplish half what we have done without their assistance.

I will be leaving you this week, to attend the biennial to be held in New York, May 23. That is the meeting of all the women's clubs in the United States, at least of their delegates. We have a Texas woman who is the National President, and we have a Texas man who is the National President of the National Editorial Association. Isn't it a good time to tell those folks who we are and what we can do down in Texas?

I will write you every week from New York City, and you must look for my letters. I will be lonesome to hear from you, so write and tell me what you are doing. Always address the department, however. I am sending canned receipts in this lesson. Please see how much you can put up while I am gone. I want every club that I have organized to send delegates to the state convention to be held in Austin, July 16, 17, and 18. Let's don't lose this chance to attend this convention. We are making such nice plans for you. I will be back and we will have a lovely convention.

With lots of love for every girl,
MRS. LANDRUM.

RESULTS OF INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET PLEASING TO DR. SHURTER

Debate Subject Next Year Will Be Single Tax—Six Hundred Engaged in Meet.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 6.—E. D. Shurter, State Chairman of the University Interscholastic League, has expressed himself as well pleased with the State meet this year, as there are a larger number of schools represented and more contestants and visitors than ever before.

"The League has grown steadily since its organization, six years ago," said Dr. Shurter. "It seemed to fill a long-felt want, as the saying goes, judged by the immediate response to the idea on the part of the schools of the State. Our organization is now being copied in many of the Southern States. The meet which has just closed is the largest of its kind ever held in this country; that is, in point of numbers engaged and variety of contests. In several of the more populous states of the East, larger numbers of high school athletic contests have probably been assembled, but I think I am safe in saying that never before has such a number of high school contestants been assembled to participate in literary, oratorical, debating and athletic events as our League has had at the University during the past two-day meet just closed.

"There have been between six and seven hundred contestants and visitors, exclusive of Austin, and every section of the State has been represented, from Texarkana to El Paso and from Brownsville to the most distant end of the Panhandle. One result of the work of the League that is often overlooked is that sense of unity and system which schools participating in it gain—that is, they get a consciousness of being a part of the great educational system of the State, a feeling of articulation with the other schools of the system. Twelve hundred and ninety-six schools have participated this year in the League's activities, and there have been thousands of contests before.

"Another result of the League's activities that is not often brought out is that of enlisting the interest of the whole community in the work of its particular school. The element of contest, of prize-winning, is just strong enough to arouse the average citizen to an interest in observing just how strong his particular school seems to be when pitted against another of its class. It affords an excellent opportunity for comparative judgments to be formed.

"The question for debate in the League next year will involve a discussion of the advisability of adopting the single tax. Due to its bearing upon the land problem, and the claim of its advocates that it will solve the tenancy problem, we are expecting to develop many strong debating teams in the League next year. There will also be a few changes made in athletic contests, which will be announced later."

Water affects flavor of Coffee

When you visit Eastern cities the difference in water affects you.

Difference in water also affects the flavor of coffee. A blend that makes good coffee when used with Eastern river water, will make poor coffee with Western water on account of alkali and mineral content present. Several years of experimental work has resulted in a blend of high grade coffees which overcomes the peculiarities of Western water and yields an exquisite cup of coffee.

CARRIES DOCTOR TO SAVE OFFICER'S LIFE.

Word comes from Mexico of a thrilling trip from Columbus, N. M., to Casas Grandes made by Dr. W. L. Brown, of El Paso, who was called to attend Lieut. Col. Tyree Rivers, who was ill with pneumonia at the American front.

Dr. Brown was conveyed across the Mexican desert in one of the regular Dodge Brothers' cars in use in the army, and the remarkable time of six and one-half hours was made by the army car.

As reported in an El Paso paper, Dr. Brown said that the roads were in horrible shape, due both to their natural condition and to the constant travel of the heavy motor trucks used in conveying supplies to the American troops.

Official figures put Russia's petroleum production last year at about 69,000,000 barrels, a gain of 2,000,000 barrels in a year.

To enable migratory fish to rise over waterfalls, dams and other obstructions in streams, a Canadian fisheries official has invented an automatic elevator.

MAIL-ORDER HOUSES OBTAIN DATA ABOUT LOCAL DEALERS.

The following, clipped from the Piqua (Ohio) Daily Call, may shed some light on the many requests Plainview merchants have for confidential information regarding other merchants in the city:

"The attention of the officers of the Chamber of Commerce has been brought to a practice that it has been found some local merchants have fallen into. This practice, it is asserted, is directly inimical to the merchants' own interests.

"Reference is made to the custom of so-called rating bureaus in Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee and other large cities writing to a local merchant requesting confidential information respecting the commercial responsibility of 'John Smith.' It has been learned that in many cases this information will be given, instead of throwing the request into the waste basket.

"The statement is made that these rating bureaus either are associated directly with large mail-order houses or make it their business to supply rating lists to such houses. The result is that the Chicago, St. Louis and Milwaukee mail-order houses, competitors of the local merchants, are by them given valuable information with which to secure trade from the local dealer.

"An effort is to be made by the Chamber of Commerce to awaken Piqua merchants to the dangers and evils of the practice and to induce them to withhold such information hereafter when requested."

GOVERNMENT WANTS MEN WHO CAN SPEAK FOREIGN LANGUAGES

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Uncle Sam is still hunting for men qualified to act as clerks to commercial attaches in foreign countries. He also wants clerks qualified in foreign languages for service in the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, at Washington. On May 17 the Civil Service Commission is going to hold a single examination to find eligibles for these positions. Those who pass this test successfully will be placed on the eligible list for both positions. Clerks to commercial attaches are paid $1,500 a year, with expenses for travel and subsistence from Washington to the foreign post and return. Clerks qualified in foreign languages are paid somewhat less, but are in an advantageous position to qualify themselves for vacancies which may arise in the clerk-to-attache positions, or for other high-grade positions in the field service.

As the examination is to be held in a very short time, candidates are urged to write at once for application blanks, which may be had from the Civil Service Commission, at Washington, or from its district offices. Those desiring to take the examination are urged to file applications for both positions.

PASTURAGE FOR HOGS.

It is generally recognized by the more successful swine breeders that a good pasture is at all times very important, both for the pure-bred breeding stock and for the market hogs.

The common red clover is an excellent pasture, though each man should judge for himself as to which clover or grass is best adapted to his soil and climate. Alfalfa, of course, is one of the best legumes for hogs, but in pasturing it care should be taken not to crop it close and to keep the stock from it during the winter, and when there is danger of cutting it to pieces during wet weather, etc.

Dwarf Essex rape is an A1 feed for hogs, but do not turn in the hogs until it is six to eight inches tall.

After it once gets a good start there is little danger of to close pasturing, as it is a vigorous grower, and even during the hot summer months makes good green feed. Be sure it is the true Dwarf Essex rape that you are planting, and not some obnoxious substitute. For early spring grazing, a field of green barley seems to hit the appetite of the hogs just about right, though oats and field peas are also good.

As with all other kinds of live stock, hogs need an abundant supply of succulent green food, and the careful swine raiser will so arrange his fields that he is sure of plenty of green food during the entire growing season.—Wichita Stockman.

"Look for the Lever"

The heat goes into the cooking, not into the kitchen. It does your work well and reliably, and keeps you comfortable. It requires less watching and regulating than a coal stove.

You can keep one or four burners at an intensely hot or merely simmering flame.

Come in and let us show you how these Florence Automatic Stoves work, how simple and reliable. No Wicks to burn out. No Valves to leak. Once started, each burner will keep going at the same power until you turn it out.

What is the Reason for 250 per cent Increase in Our Business?

The old saying is that goods well bought are half sold. We can go farther than that, ours are exceptionally well bought. Our purchaser is a factory representative with years of experience.

Our goods must be good goods, bought right and sold right, with the confidence of the individual customer behind the purchase, for us to have made anything like the remarkable increase of 250 per cent.

We are today unloading TWO BIG CARLOADS direct from leading factories. Another is rolling. We have received three other cars since January 1st—making six cars so far this year. These heavy shipments added to our already large stock make ours the biggest and most complete stock of house furnishings on the South Plains.

Don't chase rainbows—come and look where every dollar buys a hundred cents worth of value.

WHEN MAN IS LEAST DEPENDENT.

Here is what Prof. Richard T. Ely, of the University of Wisconsin, says: "Man is least dependent when he wants least, has least, knows least and is least." Well, professor, why not be a tramp?—Canadian Record.

And who is less dependent than the tramp? What does he owe society? What obligations has he to his fellow man? His only demand is change of surroundings and food enough to sustain and sufficient clothing to keep him comfortable. He cares nothing for appearance. Men may judge by appearance, but what cares he? He is content with existence such as costs little effort. He cares not whether the wheels of industry turn, whether the schools, churches, political government or other institutions of society progress. To these he lives in complete oblivion. If he has a comrade it is generally for some short interval. One ride together as leeches on carriers created by commerce and industry or one smoke together or a night spent together to conserve body heat in cold weather, and they separate, probably never to meet again. He even is not dependent on transportation, and would make no unusual effort to secure it if it were not available. He wants little, has little, knows little and is little.

The average man owes much to society. There is a mutual interdependence among its units which he feels. His spiritual nature is satisfied, as nearly as mortal may be satisfied, by the churches. His aesthetical sense finds enjoyment in the arts of civilization. His mental nature revels in the thought of literature, the best thoughts of all ages recorded, and in the thoughts advanced by his fellow men. He is dependent on community effort. He is but a unit co-operating by performing his peculiar task, and recognizes it. By his dependence he is able to become a greater man. He sees more, wants more, has more and is more. His is more than existence. The world owes him a living, happiness and pleasure, and he collects the debt.

MONEY FOR LAND MORTGAGES.

We have mentioned several times that New York, more than a year ago, established a State Land Bank, which in a general way is in the line of sound rural-credit development. The recent report of the State Superintendent of Banking contains some particulars of its operation.

The bank is virtually owned and managed by local savings and loan associations. There is no state aid, except that the state specially authorizes the organization and supervises it. The plan, in a general way, is that the local associations shall make loans, secured by real-estate mortgages, and turn the mortgages over to the state institution, which shall issue bonds or debentures based on the mortgages. To the time of the report the state had made only one bond issue; but it sold that on a four and a half per cent interest basis.

Certainly that cannot be considered an excessive rate. It gives the investor about what he would get from a good municipal bond; and it obviously indicates that, under attractive conditions, and without any state or Government guaranty, money can be had for investment in farm mortgages at as low a rate as anybody could reasonably expect. All that state or Government need do is to authorize a proper organization.

Incidentally, in this connection, the superintendent's report mentions that during the year fifteen local co-operative credit unions were organized in the state for the purpose of supplying their members with small short-time, personal-security loans, more or less on the Raiffeisen plan, which has been such a very important factor in rural credits in Germany.

The co-operative land bank has inspired co-operation in collateral fields. That is a probable result of any successful co-operation. The Washington drift just now seems to be away from genuine co-operation and toward Government aid—which inspires nothing worth while.—Saturday Evening Post.

A mother's hand with its tenderness, its caressing, soothing, soothing promises of warmth after cold, of comfort after privation, of happiness after pain, with its melodious, rhythmic movement which lulls and charms the troubled child, is the incomparable instrument of the corporal sequence of life; her hand strokes the child as if the whole service of the preceding ages had been to shape and perfect it as an instrument of maternal love, as if the great artist Time had bent over it, thought over it, toiled over it, planned, modeled, devised and imagined, till with the ripeness of perfection he had rested content.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY AND CONDOLENCE.

The faculty and student body of Wayland Baptist College have learned with profound sympathy and regret of the inexpressible sorrow that has come into the life and heart of our fellow student, Miss Euno Wallen, in the death of her brother, Paul Wallen, who was at one time a student in Wayland.

Death is always accompanied with deep distress, but when a family circle has been so broken as has this one, the loss of a brother becomes all the more sorrowful.

Miss Euno, by her quiet, lady-like manner and conduct, and her uniform courtesy to all the school family, has made her own place of favor among us in such way as to draw all into deep sympathy with her. And we would offer to her whatever of consolation may be within our power. Therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the faculty and student body, in chapel assembled, that—

1. We express to Miss Euno Wallen our profound sympathy and deep regret in the loss of her brother, Paul Wallen, and assure her that these feelings are intensified by the remembrance of the fact that he was at one time an honored student within these walls. Thus, the whole institution suffers with her.

2. That we humbly commend her to Him, who alone can bring rest and comfort in an hour like this, to Jesus Christ, our Saviour, who knows all the sorrow of the human heart. May He become her strong consolation.

3. That a copy of these resolutions be given to Miss Euno, and that they be offered to the press of Plainview for publication.

New Fire Marshal Is on the Job; Wants People to Help in Keeping Fire Risk Down.

E. C. Keck, the newly appointed fire marshal, is on the job, and the alleys of the city show much improvement in the way of removal of trash, wooden boxes, etc. The close prosecution of the duties of this office is of much importance to the property owners, for fire risk has much to do with the insurance rate. The insurance department, at Austin, receives reports from the local marshals, who have authority to demand removal of trash or any fire hazard on penalty of fine for non-compliance.

BENEFIT DINNER A SUCCESS.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Mark's Episcopal Church gave an elaborate turkey dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson Thursday evening. The proceeds amounted to $30.10, which will be used as a payment on the new organ for the church. The house was beautifully decorated with clusters of roses. Miss Nell Sansom gave piano selections during the evening.

C. E. Carter returned this morning from Lubbock, where he has been for two days.

WILL ANNOUNCE WINNER IN MEDAL CONTEST MAY 30.

Mrs. Barnes' Pupils Acquit Themselves Well in First Commencement Recital.

The primary class of Mrs. Eva L. Barnes gave a recital last night at the Baptist Church. The programs given by the little folks are always enjoyed, and last night their program was especially entertaining, as each one acted his part so well.

The first number was a chorus, by the smaller children, entitled "The House That Jack Built," which was especially pleasing.

Those competing for the medal appearing on the program last night were Helen Ruth Reeves, Adelbert Williams, Marguerite Dorsett, Juanita Lewis, Etoile Hatcher, Maurine Mathes, Helen Jackson, Lucy Craig, Katherine Sewell and Allene Boswell. Every piece was uniformly good, and there was not one single failure.

The judges were Misses Ford Jeter and Vera Newton and Mrs. Tom Carter.

This was the first of the series of recitals to be given by Mrs. Barnes' classes, and the medals will be awarded on the night May 30th, at the close of the last recital.

The last feature of the program was "Maidens All Forlorn," a play in three acts. The characters were Gilbert Moore, as Maude Meredith, Eleanor Fairris as Elizabeth Lyndon, Elzella Perdue as Bertha Bainsdale, all cousins, and Louisa Marston, the girls' old aunt, was Maurine Richards. Gertrude Reeves was Mrs. Maloney.

The girls were making their home with their aunt, who claims to be a man-hater, but the girls are pinning their lives away for even the glimpse of a man. Finally the old maid aunt consents for them to invite a man to the home, so the girls send out their invitation. The man they invite cannot come, but he tells them that Doctor Jocelyn will be to see them on a certain date. Great preparation was made for his coming. On the day of his arrival each one had some misfortune demanding medical attention; even the old maid had a swollen jaw. But when the doctor arrived, how disappointed! It was a beautiful young lady doctor, who was Miss Louise Stockton.

MISS BURR GOODE HOSTESS.

Miss Burr Goode was hostess to the German class of Wayland College at breakfast this morning at her home, on Wayland Heights.

REBUILDING SETH WARD IS TOPIC OF LADIES.

Several at Meeting State That College Attracted Them to Plainview.

Not often do the ladies of Seth Ward Addition have an opportunity to enjoy themselves with such congenial friends as with those who gathered at the residence of Mrs. A. L. Moore on Thursday afternoon, May 11. At least thirty ladies, some from Seth Ward and many from the city, responded to the invitation to this little Missionary Tea.

Several hours of social conversation, in which many of the ladies gave some thrilling or exciting incidents in their past experience, passed only too quickly, and was interrupted by delicious refreshments served by Mrs. Moore, who was assisted by Mesdames Willis, Whitson and Shipley.

Attention was called to the fact that now would be an opportune time, as so many ladies were present, to give desire and opinion as to the rebuilding of Seth Ward College. Mrs. Shackelford was made chairman and Mrs. Shipley secretary. Short talks were given on the subject as follows:

Mrs. Gardner came here to educate her children, and deplores the loss of the college. She has built a beautiful little home, and would be willing to help some in rebuilding.

Mrs. Moore said that by our enthusiasm in talking and working it would help the men to be more enthusiastic. Mrs. C. G. Jordan said it would be a great calamity to them if not rebuilt, as they came here to educate their children.

Mrs. Rucker expressed great interest in the college. She has no children to educate, but was like Wesley of old, who said "The world is my parish."

Mother Harp, Mother Berry and Mrs. Spencer expressed a desire to see Seth Ward rebuilt.

Mrs. Mayhugh predicts it will injure our church, and is praying for its re-establishment.

Mrs. Byes had great hopes and expectation in educating her children there after finishing high school.

Mrs. Willis said Plainview is bound to feel its loss, and gave examples of the downfall of Old Independence and Chapel Hill rebuilding at Waco and Georgetown.

Mrs. Yates recently moved here, and said that was one reason why they came. Surely we will rebuild! Mrs. Story said "Let's get busy." Mesdames Bryan, Whitson, Wolverton and Goodwin said "Let's rebuild." Mrs. Hunter said these two colleges brought them to Plainview.

Mrs. Williamson, in her own sweet, emphatic way, said "We are going to rebuild the college."

The chairman and secretary made so many talks that everyone present will tell you how they stand. It was such an enthusiastic meeting that time was forgotten, and at last the meeting was closed by prayer by Mrs. Moore.

SAYS THAVIU'S BAND WILL BE WITH THE CHAUTAUQUA.

H. E. Clift, representing the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua, is in Plainview today. There has been a current report that Thaviu and his band will not be in Plainview. Mr. Clift states that this rumor is as unfounded as was the rumor current that Mr. Bryan would not lecture in Plainview. The complete band, as it appeared at San Francisco, will be here, we are told, with the exception of one snare drummer, who died since the Exposition. Otherwise the personnel of the band is unchanged.

THIRTEEN ARE TO COMPETE IN PEACE ORATORICAL CONTEST.

Tonight, at the chapel of Wayland Baptist College, thirteen young men will compete for the Praetorian gold medal in an oratorical contest. The subject is "Peace."

The contestants are J. W. Lawrence, K. C. Lee, Byron Clark, Jones Goode, Virgil Dodson, Paul Flake, C. F. Longstreet, David Burnett, B. Davis, Dixon Turner, David Hartley, Vinson Lowry and Frank Anderson.

Miss Flora Mae Scudder and Miss Stella Wolters will appear in piano and violin solos, respectively.

ATTENDED MEETING OF K. OF P.

R. B. Tudor returned this morning from Dallas, where he attended the meeting of the Knights of Pythias, as a representative from the Plainview lodge.

WAYLAND TAKES FOURTH GAME OF SERIES FROM SETH WARD.

Monday afternoon Wayland Baptist College defeated Seth Ward College at baseball by a score of 4-3. This is the fourth game of the series which Wayland has won from the Methodist team. Wayland's percentage in the Panhandle Athletic Association is .500.

The Family Mail Bag

By MAY KRUGER.

Awarded Gold Medal Offered by Professor Ralph Porter, Principal of Westside School.

The family mail bag is made of black and white straw arranged in checks. It was flat and nearly square, and was lined with narrow black ribbon. It had two long handles, finely made of straw, and these handles Luella and Francis were accustomed to grasp when twice a day, regularly at half past eight in the morning and half past three in the afternoon, they went after the family mail.

Their instructions were to go back and forth to the post office without stopping, always to tie the bag securely after putting in the mail, and never to open it after it was fastened, and upon returning home they were always to take it at once to the study of their father, Rev. Mr. Robinson.

The children went to the post office as usual, and were quite delighted to find a registered letter from their aunt, which was addressed to Luella and Francis Robinson. Luella felt very proud when the postmaster asked her to sign the registered receipt.

"What's that for?" asked Francis.

"It's for proof that you've received the letter. You see, a registered letter usually contains something valuable."

On their way home they talked constantly of their letter.

"It's something small, anyway," said Francis.

"Maybe it isn't anything, after all," said Francis.

"Oh, yes, it is, for the letter is registered."

So they went on talking and wondering until they had gone about half the distance toward home. Then they reached a spreading apple tree which grew by a fence near the sidewalk, and under it was a large stone, often used for a resting place.

"Let's sit down and rest," said Francis. "I feel tired; don't you?"

"Yes, but father wouldn't like us to do that."

"Oh, yes, he would, if he knew how tired we are. I'm going to rest a moment, anyway. That won't be any harm."

Luella allowed herself to follow her brother's example. So they took the first step in disobedience.

Next Luella said: "I wonder if we couldn't just open the bag and look in? It's our letter, you know."

"Of course, it is. Give me the bag and I'll open it."

Then, without more ado, Francis deliberately opened the bag. Thus the second step in wrongdoing was accomplished. Then Luella said: "I'm going to read the letter. It's all the same whether we open it here or at home."

It proved to be a very kind letter from Aunt Marie, who just lately had made them a visit. "I took pleasure in noticing your constant obedience, and as a sort of reward I enclose for you each a five-dollar gold piece. Please accept the gift with my love."

"Where are the gold pieces?" asked Francis, taking the envelope from Luella.

"Oh, here's one in the corner of this thing. I'll take this; but where is the other?"

Where was the other? It was easier to ask the question than to reply. The two children folded and unfolded the letter. They folded the letter inside out. They searched through their clothing. They inspected the grass and path. If it had been possible they would have lifted the stone upon which they had been sitting.

At length they gave up their search, and went sadly homeward.

"I wish we hadn't opened the letter," said Luella. "What are we going to tell mother when we get home?"

"Well, I think we'd better tell them the whole story. Perhaps they'll help us look for the other gold piece."

"Perhaps Aunt Marie only put one in the letter," he suggested.

"Oh, no; she's too careful for that. She never makes mistakes," said Luella.

The brother and sister awaited their father's return in silence, Luella meanwhile grasping the letter and Francis the coin.

"What's that you have?" asked Mr.

Robinson—"a letter? How did it get out of the bag?"

"It's ours," answered Luella, trembling while she spoke. "We—we—we—" Then she burst into tears.

"Let me have it," commanded Mr. Robinson. "I need not ask any more questions," said their father. "The truth is that I was calling on Mrs. Brown when you stopped under the tree. I saw the whole thing. After you left, I examined the grass and found the other gold piece. But I will have to punish you by putting the money away for a month. At the end of that time I will return it. Are you not sorry you yielded to temptation?"

"Yes, we are," exclaimed both children.

"And now, what am I going to do with the mail bag? Can I let you have it after this?"

"Yes, father, you can," they both replied. And after that they were worthy of their trust.

When Aunt Marie made her next visit they told her the story of the mis-doing. Her only comment was: "You see, children, that it is necessary always to pray 'deliver us from evil,' for even when we want to do right, without help from above we shall fall."

NINE TIRE UP-KEEP HINTS.

First: Keep the tires inflated to full recommended pressure at all times, regardless of hot or cold weather.

Second: Fill all cuts promptly with the best cement and tire cut filler, but better still have the tire vulcanized, making the repair permanent.

Third: In turning around never let the front or back wheels touch the curbing. There is no surer way of ruining casings.

Fourth: Start and stop slowly, and never slide the wheels. Brakes are more effective when the wheels do not drag.

Fifth: Never run against a curb when stopping. This breaks the sidewalls of the tires and bends and breaks the rims and rim lugs or bolts.

Sixth: Use the very best inner tubes obtainable. If the inflation is lost, even to a small extent, the casing will be rapidly destroyed.

Seventh: A new case should be further inflated every few hundred miles, to offset the low pressure due to the stretch of the casing when first used.

Eighth: Jack up all four wheels when the car is not in use, and don't start tires in a new season without inflating them to full recommended pressure.

Ninth: Always turn corners very slowly.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use, therefore, results in an actual saving.

A New Use For This Word

The New Post Toasties are truly entitled to the word "delicious."

They're distinguished by the tiny bubbles found on each flake and they carry the full, rich flavour of choice, white Indian corn—not found in corn flakes of the past.

And unlike common corn flakes, they are not "chaffy" in the packages and don't grow mushy in milk or cream.

Note carefully the tiny bubbles—then try a handful dry to test the flavour. In comparison other corn flakes are as "chaff."

Plainview's Home Economics School

Will teach the ladies of the county how to economize in their labor and their expenditures. The men have no such advantage of instruction; they must learn by experience. Economy in the man as well as the woman is necessary to success but it need not necessarily mean foregoing the things needed to look the part of prosperity. For instance the man who economizes by making the old clothes give full service may have them appear almost as good as new by having them worked over in KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, May 8.—Beef steers finished last week slightly lower than the opening of the week, though showing some strength Wednesday and thereafter. Butcher stuff closed a shade lower, and stockers and feeders sold a quarter lower the last days of the week. Receipts today are 11,000 cattle, market generally 10 cents lower, except that good killing yearlings are steady, and stockers and feeders are as good as the close last week. Some mixed yearlings brought the top, $9.40, and pulp-fed Colorado steers, 1,100 to 1,400 pounds, sold at $8.75 to $9.20, including a string of 11 loads from the Sugar Company at Scottsbluff, 1,406 pounds, at $9.20, not as good by 10 cents as steers from same people last Monday at $9.35. Some short yearlings from the Panhandle brought $9.00, from Mr. Cauble, Big Springs, who also had three loads of twos, 748 pounds, at $8.60. Furneaux Bros., Trinity Mills, Texas, had two cars of yearlings in the quarantine division, 554 pounds, at $7.85. Heavier quarantines sold at $8.90 last week. Chicago overran its estimate on cattle today, and the market there is lower, but the liberal supplies around the market circle today are regarded as a temporary condition, and expectations for tomorrow is for a light run and stronger prices. Indications point to heavy steers getting into the specialty class at an earlier date than usual this year. Last year no special advance was made on finished heavy steers till July. Hogs sold five cents lower today on receipts of 14,000 head. The opening was 5 to 10 cents lower, but the hog market has a way of gaining strength all through each daily session, and the close was the best point, top $9.85, bulk $9.55 to $9.75. Receipts generally are larger than ever before, and while a big June run is assured, there is some speculation as to whether or not the customary break in prices will be effective this year, owing to the unusually strong demand on packers for all kinds of meats and products. Texas is producing more than twice as many hogs this year as last, which has its effect in supplying the Southern trade through Fort Worth, but the South is a stronger buyer this year. Receipts of sheep, lambs and goats today were 12,000 head, of which 3,000 were goats. Lambs and sheep sold strong, goats 10 cents higher. Top Colorado fed lambs brought $11.55, some 92-pound lambs $11.30, a very strong price. Arizona spring lambs 61 pounds, $11.25, Arizona clipped ewes, 110 pounds, $8.00, a record price, Texas killing goats $5.60 to $6.00, Angora brushers $5.25 to $5.60, Spanish brushers $4.00 to $5.00. A liberal run of goats will arrive all through this week. J. A. RICKART, Market Correspondent.

THREE VICTIMS OF POISON TRAGEDY BURIED WEDNESDAY.

J. A. Dingler Takes His Three Orphaned Grandchildren to His Home, in Carbon, Texas.

Three of the victims of the poison tragedy were buried Wednesday.

The funeral service of Marvin Washburn Brock, twenty-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brock, was held at the family residence, by Rev. I. E. Gates, pastor of the First Baptist Church, at ten o'clock a. m. A massive floral offering bespoke the sympathy of friends. Interment was made at the Plainview Cemetery under the direction of W. F. Garner.

A dual service was held over the remains of Joe Younger Dingler and Limuel Thomas Earnest at 3:30 p. m. in the Plainview Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. Gates.

Tom Earnest was the son of Mrs. J. D. Earnest. He was twenty-two years of age. Among the relatives who attended his funeral were Poole Earnest, of Littlefield; Mrs. Edith Fronabarger, of Big Springs; Mrs. J. D. Earnest, his mother, who was visiting in Belton; Dan Earnest, of Matador; Dudley A. Earnest, G. L. Earnest, Dave, Joe Neva and Mrs. W. A. Earnest, of Rule, and Mrs. Vaughn, of Matador.

J. A. Dingler, of Carbon, father of Joe Young Dingler, was here to perfect funeral arrangements for his son. The deceased was forty-three years old, and leaves three orphan children, who left this morning with their grandfather for Carbon.

LEMOND HAS NOT KEPT HIS AGREEMENT ON OIL-MILL DEAL.

Citizens Proffered Site and Cash Bonus Which Was Asked by Waco Man.

Many have expressed an interest in the oil-mill proposition which was before the people of Plainview a few months ago. When asked by a representative of The Herald yesterday about the oil mill, Col. R. P. Smyth, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said: "We are unable to state why the proposition has not materialized. Mr. Lemond, who had been recommended highly as able to carry out any contract he might make regarding moving the oil mill to Plainview, stated his terms to the committee on which he was willing to move the mill here. He wanted a site on the railroad track and a bonus of $5,000. The people met his proposition, willingly subscribing the required amount, and the committee having the matter in charge carried out their agreement with Mr. Lemond in every way. The last thing we heard from Mr. Lemond was that some of the parties were out of town and on their return the contract would be signed and returned to the committee. Since then we have been unable to hear anything from him."

PLAINVIEW BIDS COMPANY L FAREWELL AS IT ENTRAIN.

Whether Plainview's "soldiers," members of Company L, Fourth Infantry, Texas National Guard, will see real border service is problematical. It is highly probable that they will even be called upon to cross the border into Mexico for service with the regular army. Just how long General Funston will require their services is not known.

Plainview is proud of Company L, Thursday morning, when its sixty-eight were preparing to leave in answer to the order for mobilization, fitting expressions of the esteem in which the boys are held in Plainview were made by Judge L. S. Kinder, Rev. I. E. Gates and Rev. J. W. Story. That showed the regard of the citizenship for the boys. But more expressive was this same spirit at the station, where nearly three thousand people gathered to bid the boys farewell. The intimate farewells of friends and the anxious parting with relatives was a sight which will not soon be forgotten by those who were there. Plainview's serious mein was shown.

EAST MOUND SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTES BONDS.

EAST MOUND, Texas, May 11.—The election to vote $5,000 in bonds for the purpose of erecting a brick school building resulted in a big majority for the bonds—there being 27 votes cast, 20 votes for the bonds and seven against the bonds.
