PLAINVIEW VOTES $40,000.00 BONDS FOR STREET PAVING

Work Probably Under Way by May First if Bonds Sell Quickly and Materials Arrive Promptly.

The election held Saturday for the purpose of voting bonds in the amount of $40,000 for street paving in Plainview carried by the light vote of 158 for and 21 against.

Definite plans for paving have not been determined upon by the Council. Mayor W. E. Risser is of the opinion that if the bonds can be readily disposed of and that the contractors who receive the bids are not unduly delayed in receiving materials that work on the paving will be under way by the first of May.

David Drennen, associated with the Henry E. Elrod Engineering Co., of Dallas, will be here this week to confer with the City Council on final plans for proceeding with paving. The Council will meet in called session at some time within five days following the election and canvass the returns.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS CALLED TO MEET APRIL 16

President Orders Navy to Arm American Merchantmen Without Consent of Congress—Up to Germany.

President Wilson has ordered that American merchant ships be armed to protect them from Germany's submarine attacks. Within the same hour he called a special session of Congress to meet April 16th.

The President's action followed closely the action of the Senate to amend its rules to permit prompt action on important questions. It was greatly influenced also by the opinions of Lansing and Gregory, that the President has the power to arm merchantmen without action by Congress.

Details of the Government's armed neutrality plans for defending the merchant marine were withheld to avoid endangering Americans and their ships by permitting the information to reach Germany. The only statement at the White House and the Navy Department was that the President had determined to fully protect American rights.

The decision, coming at the end of a period of tense waiting, was generally hailed as the natural and unavoidable next step in the policy adopted by the President when he broke off diplomatic relations with Germany and gave warning that the United States could not tolerate attacks on American ships and citizens in violation of international law.

Fraught with the grave possibility of war with Germany, the action was taken by President Wilson only after he was convinced that Germany actually was proceeding with her campaign of ruthlessness and had made efforts to plot with Mexico and Japan against the territorial integrity of the United States.

Long before the order was given from the White House all necessary precautions for the arming of merchantmen had been completed at the Navy Department. Secretary Daniels, however, issued an appeal to the press of the Nation to refrain from discussing these preparations.

The President's action sent a thrill through the Senate, meeting in special session, and through the Government departments. Still hoping that war with Germany will be avoided, officials and Senators declared that the issue rests entirely with Germany.

Formal announcement of the Government's policy was given in the following announcement, issued from the White House:

"Secretary Tumulty stated in connection with the President's call for an extra session of Congress that he had the power to arm American merchant ships and is free to exercise it at once. But so much necessary legislation is pressing for consideration that he is convinced that it is for the best interests of the country to have an early session of the Sixty-Fifth Congress, whose support he will also need in all matters collateral to the defense of our merchant marine."

The President signed the proclamation calling the extra session of Congress and authorized the publication of the explanatory statement with Secretary Tumulty standing at his bedside. His severe cold kept him from seeing callers for three days.

In deciding that he has power to arm merchantmen, the President took the position that an old statute passed in 1819, cited in the Senate debate as prohibiting such a step without congressional action, has no application to the present situation. He is satisfied that the Nation stands behind him and accepts the overwhelming vote in the House on the armed neutrality bill and the known opinion of a large majority of the Senate, as proof of the attitude of Congress.

Although the bill which failed in the Senate provided for a bond issue of $100,000,000 to pay the expenses of armed neutrality, the Government has sufficient money available for its immediate purposes. Congress will be asked to provide more when the extra session convenes.

Under a bill passed during the last days of the last Congress, the fund at the disposal of the Federal war-risk bureau to insure American ships was increased to $15,000,000.

Armed neutrality is expected to remove the practical blockade of American ports and place the issue of eventual war squarely upon Germany.

PLAINVIEW GETS DOUBLE DAILY PASSENGER SERVICE APRIL 1

Schedule of Arrival of Trains Not Yet Made Public by Santa Fe.

Saturday the Railroad Commission of Texas issued an order directing the Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway to operate a double daily passenger-train service between Sweetwater and Amarillo. The order came following a hearing in which the towns along this division asked for increased service and the Santa Fe asked that a train each way between Clovis, New Mexico, and Amarillo be discontinued. The only opposition came from Hereford. The order provides for the operation of one additional train each way in addition to the present service. The order becomes effective April first.

Increased traffic was made the argument before the commission for the change. The Santa Fe has not yet announced its schedule for the operation of the new trains.

The Santa Fe was not averse to giving the increased service if permitted to cancel the trains on the Clovis division.

COUNTY SCHOOL FAIR POSTPONED UNTIL APRIL 6-7.

HALE CENTER, Texas, March 13.—The large number of prospectors that came in last week with R. F. Alley and with N. M. Akeson were enthusiastic in their praise of our country. Several who came bought land, it is said.

I. M. Bailey, one of our hustling townsmen, has bought sixty head of fine steer yearlings and put them in pasture west of town.

Quite a number of Hale Center people were visitors in Plainview the last of the week. Among the number who went up on the train Saturday morning were Messrs. Henry Yates, I. M. Bailey and D. H. Stovall.

Jim Cox and family were in Plainview Saturday, trading. Bud Baker was shaking hands with friends in Plainview Saturday evening. Arthur Reed and family came up from the farm and Mr. Reed, with his brother-in-law, Mr. Cook, and J. H. Reed and son, Roy, went to Plainview on business.

The few warm days are causing Dame Nature to put on the appearance of spring.

Mrs. Will Pearce, of the Abernathy neighborhood, was a pleasant visitor at the home of D. H. Stovall a few days this week.

Mrs. Bud Baker is reported as being much better. She has been suffering from a severe case of the measles. Mrs. Will Thompson, a few miles south of town, is recovering from a severe attack of the measles.

Miss Lavegia Thomason, teacher of the Iowa Avenue school, has been down with the measles for several days.

Miss Pearl Thomas has been spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Will Harrington.

The Hale Center shoe and harness-repairing shop has been closed for a few days, on account of the proprietor, Joe Meckwe, being sick. He is getting along well.

Mr. Porter has moved his family into his new home, in South Hale Center, and is pushing the work on his grain elevator.

Ora Sanders was in Littlefield the first of the week, shipping out a car load of fat hogs to the Fort Worth market.

Mrs. J. P. Elliott, who has been visiting home folks, in Indiana, returned home Saturday.

Owing to the Woodman meeting Tuesday evening and the big prairie fire on the Spade ranch, the pie supper at the school house was not very well attended, but those who were there responded well, and the pies that were brought were sold and a nice sum of money was made to pay on the girls' basketball.

On account of the Panhandle Teachers' Association meeting, at Canyon, on the thirtieth and thirty-first of March, the County School Fair and Inter-scholastic Meet will not be held till the sixth and seventh of April.

REASONS FOR ROTATIONS.

It would be well for those who are to practice a definite system of crop rotation this year to enumerate all the reasons for rotation and investigate each reason carefully. There are many sufficient reasons, and most of them are well worth considering.

One of the reasons given for rotation of crops, and by no means an unimportant one, is the advantage it affords to control weeds. Weed pests are very annoying; they are expensive both in the labor they require and the plant food and moisture they utilize. A good farmer cannot afford to grow weeds. And one of the several ways of controlling them is to practice crop rotation, changing the crops on the various fields from year to year, or perhaps twice a year in some instances, to destroy the weed pests and to accomplish other purposes of the rotation. A cultivated crop may follow a grazing crop or a grazing crop a row crop. There are many ways the skillful manager may find to destroy weeds.

Probably the most important reason for rotation is to conserve fertility. Some crops take all the fertility they use from the soil, others take a large part of their nitrogen from the air. The last mentioned belong to the well known family of plants called legumes. Among these are some of our most useful plants, such as the clovers, alfalfa, peas, beans, vetches, etc.

It has been estimated that a crop of red clover one year old contains from 20 to 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre in the roots. A crop of cowpeas in Louisiana furnished 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre, according to Halligan. It will be seen that a crop affording so much nitrogen is worth much in rotation. As most of the nitrogen is in the roots of the plants, the tops may in many instances be cut for hay or grazed and the roots turned for fertility. This makes such a crop of considerable value.

As an example of nitrogen in growing non-legumes, it may be well to cite an experiment at the Minnesota experiment station. That station found that there was a loss of 2,000 pound of nitrogen per acre when wheat, barley, corn and oats were grown for 12 consecutive years; two-thirds to three-fourth of this was not used by the crops, but was lost in other ways. The Ohio station also found that 300 pounds of nitrogen was gained per acre in excess of what the crop used when clover was included in a five-year rotation covering a period of ten years. When timothy, a non-legume, was used instead of the clover, nitrogen was lost from the soil even more than that removed by the crop.

Labor may be properly distributed by rotation of crops. The cotton grower requires a great deal of hand labor, in hoeing and picking. It is possible to reduce the cotton acreage by planting crops that will use the labor when not needed in the cotton fields. Animal husbandry is the best supplement, as feed crops may be grown and the animals fed and cared for when not needed in the cotton fields. There are many other examples of distributing labor by crop rotation. In fact, the labor problem on the farm is well worth special effort for its economical distribution.

It is possible to check the ravages of insects by systematic crop rotation. When there are insects that attack special crops, one of the surest ways to reduce damage is to grow other crops in the place of the one insects infest. As an example, the boll weevil in some localities and under certain conditions ruin the cotton crop. The way to outwit the weevil is to plant other crops than cotton. This is true sometimes with "green bug" and other insects, also with certain plant diseases, as root rot, blight of the potato, antracnose of cotton, wilt, etc. There are always crops that may be substituted even though market conditions are not such as to make growing them especially attractive. This is where livestock raising is important, as it affords a market for feed crops.

Another good reason why crops should be planted in rotation is for the purpose of supplying the family with a regular income. The crops planted may be for stock. Then when grazed the land may be planted in another crop. The animal's may produce the income in milk, butter, pork, beef, mutton, wool, poultry, eggs, etc. Or a short crop, such as sweet corn, Irish potatoes, radishes, lettuce, etc., may be planted as a money crop, to be followed by a summer crop, it to be followed by a grain crop.

It is a well known fact that plants differ as to their habits of growth, type of root system, etc. Some plants have long, deep tap roots, such as cotton, the clovers, peas, soy beans, etc.; others have fibrous roots, as corn, wheat, oats, grasses; still others are tuberous, as the potato; the sweet potato, beets, turnips, etc., have bulbs or fleshy roots. There is advantage in rotation to follow a tap-rooted plant with a fibrous-rooted plant and a fibrous-rooted by a tap-rooted. Some plants use more of one constituent of plant food than another; some are soil exhausters, some soil builders, as has been mentioned. By studying one's one conditions and considering the various crops, one can gain much more than has been suggested by a systematic rotation of crops on arm and Ranch.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE IS BIGGEST ORGANIZATION OF KIND

AUSTIN, Texas, March 10.—Texas now has the largest common-school organization in the United States in the University Interscholastic League, which has enrolled to date 2,010 schools of the State, representing 206 counties.

At the beginning of this school year, Director E. D. Shurter set 2,000 schools as the aim for the current session. This was an increase of approximately 800 schools over last year's record.

In each of these schools, contest in oratory, debate, spelling, essay writing, and all forms of athletics are held, with a view to selecting entries in the county, district, and State tests. It is given as a conservative estimate that an average of 25 pupils enter these five contests in each school, and upon this basis the League work will actively engage 50,000 school children this year. It is likewise estimated that a minimum of 265,000 parents and friends hear the debates and declarations in the county and district meets. These debates are all on the "Single Tax" this year, and the orations must be on some question of public interest; thus a large number of people are made acquainted with live public questions in addition to being entertained.

There are at present 32 districts in the State. At the beginning of the year it was thought that inter-district contests would have to be held in order to cut down the number of contestants in the final State contest. This plan has been abandoned, and the district winners will all be permitted to come to the final meet, at Austin. This means that there will be a 50 per cent increase in the number that came to Austin last year. During the meet the pupils are taken into the rooms of the University students and faculty and received as guests for the three days.

Thus far, Falls County leads the list, with 47 schools enrolled. The eight leading counties, each having more than 30 schools in the League, are Falls, Parker, Shelby, Washington, Eastland, Grayson, Jack and Collin.

P. B. Barber, of Las Cruces, New Mexico, is expected here Thursday. He will serve as demonstration agent for the Texas Land & Development Company.

How a Machine Does Our Bookkeeping

A short time ago we installed a remarkable machine in our accounting department—a machine which adds and subtracts, tells the date, keeps our books and gets out monthly statements. It does all this work much faster than any bookkeeper could, and has never been known to make a mistake.

The installation of this Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine means that our accounts will be handled just as accurately as those of the largest and most up-to-date banks in the country.

Insures Accuracy

the fact that our figure work is done on a Burroughs is a guarantee to our customers of absolute accuracy in the handling of their accounts. The machine method of ledger posting makes it impossible for a mistake to get past unnoticed. This accuracy insurance alone is important enough to us to justify the use of the machine method, but there are many other advantages.

Better Service to You

The Burroughs will handle our figure work in about half the time formerly needed. This gives us more time for other things—time to improve the service in every department of the bank.

Come in and see our machine-bookkeeping system in operation. We will be glad to show you how the machine makes entries in our books, how it automatically adds in one column, subtracts in another and so on and how it makes mistakes impossible. You will be welcome any time.

We don't want you to think of this bank just as a place to deposit your money, although, of course, we are glad to have you keep as large a balance with us as possible. It is our desire to render our patrons every service and accommodation that can be reasonably expected from us.

Talk over your business problems with us. It is part of our work to study business and financial conditions, and it may be that we can suggest some ideas that you will find worth while. Please feel free to consult us at any time.

SUDAN AND SOY BEANS.

Partnership hay crops of the rush-order variety are popular, particularly in regions that are not naturally good hay sections. Hay annuals necessitate extra labor in plowing and preparing a seed bed each season, but as a general rule in other than A-grade-hay districts they produce a better quality and a higher acreage yield than do the common farm varieties of roughage.

When a legume is one of the pals in the hay combination two important consequences follow: The fertility of the soil and the yield of the subsequent grain crop are improved; and a supply of home-grown and cheap protein is produced which is equivalent in feeding value, ton for ton, to wheat bran.

I recommend a mixture of Sudan grass and soy beans as a valuable short-notice hay crop that will produce profitable yields. I have successfully grown this mixture both for hay and for soiling purposes. I prefer Sudan grass to sorghum in the combine because it makes a finer stalk when sown broadcast with beans, and it is better relished and cleaned up by cows, steers and horses than is the sorghum.

It is advisable to sow about twelve pounds of Sudan-grass and one bushel of soy-bean seed to the acre on a well prepared seed bed after corn-planting time, when the soil is warm enough to insure rapid germination.

A field of beans and Sudan that I soiled off in Virginia during the late summer made a second crop of Sudan grass that was high enough to cut for hay, although the yield was only about a ton to the acre. After the hay was removed the Sudan still persisted to the extent that it yielded some good grazing during the late fall, and even kept green until mid-November, when severe frosts finally wilted it.

For hay purposes the Sudan-soy-bean mixture is ready to cut when the heads of the grass begin to darken and when the beans are about one-third mature. I like to let the hay stand as long as possible before cutting, in order that the bean pods and grain may develop and produce as much as possible of protein and oil, which will prove valuable in the dairy ration during the winter. But it is risky to let the hay stand too long, as the Sudan leaves and stalks will dry out and become brittle, while the leaves of the bean plants will fall off and the seed may even begin to pop from the pods. Hard frosts that come early in the season also may injure the hay crop that is sown too late in the spring.

On rich land Sudan and beans will yield two to three tons of hay to the acre, and if the major crop is removed early enough the Sudan may mature a second light cutting before the heavy frosts interfere. On an average at least one ton of hay to the acre may be anticipated from the combination hay when it is grown in the Middle Atlantic section.

It is best to leave the hay in the swath where it is exposed to a hot sun for a day or two before raking it into windrows and cocking it up. The hay may remain in the cocks for a week or ten days, when it can be removed to the barn or stack.

Winter rye and wheat are good crops to follow Sudan and soy beans in the rotation, as they are adapted to a variety of uses.—George H. Dacy, in County Gentleman.

Fresh Rubber Goods Stock

It is indeed important to purchase rubber goods which are fresh rather than such goods as have been in stock some time. Unless used frequently rubber goods become hard and will break and leak. MOTOR FUEL FROM SAWDUST?

Distilling from sawdust a true grain alcohol which can be used as a fuel for automobiles is now being worked out on the Canadian side of the international boundary, according to officials of the Madison (Wis.) Forest Products Laboratory of the Federal Forest Service, which was a pioneer in this line of experimenting.

"I am inclined to think, however," said Howard F. Weiss, director of the laboratory, "that the Canadian forester who prophesies that Canadian-made alcohol will eventually be distributed through underground pipes like clay gas is a little too enthusiastic in his view. He is, however, on the right track in the development of alcohol as a motor fuel."

The report sent out from Madison continues:

"An enormous supply of wood waste is available in the great valleys of the Willow, Nechako, Bulkley and Skeena Rivers in Central British Columbia, where the forests have been giving way to agriculture in part, but where there is still a limitless supply of big timber. This territory has recently been opened up by the new transcontinental Grand Trunk Pacific, and it is on woods taken from this region that the experiments for the production of alcohol have been carried on. The wood waste is broken down by distillation, and the wood alcohol produced converted by simple processes into a true grain alcohol.

"With approximately 3,000,000 motor vehicles doing duty in the United States, from 1,000,000,000 to 1,200,000,000 gallons of gasoline have to be provided annually to keep them running. There are unmistakable signs that the production of this enormous volume of gasoline will become increasingly difficult, and as a consequence there is in the minds of many automobile-engine students the vague thought that gasoline, while the fuel of today, may have to give way to some other product tomorrow.

"Although the calorific power of alcohol is little more than one-half that of gasoline, its greater efficiency—alcohol 28 per cent, gasoline 16 per cent—compensates for this. This higher efficiency of alcohol is due to various causes, chief among which are the following:

"1. The volume of air required for complete combustion of alcohol is only about one-third that required by gasoline, and thus much less energy goes away in the exhaust. Moreover, this small dilution with air enables a more perfect mixture to be formed, with consequent more perfect combustion.

"3. All mixtures of alcohol and air containing from 4 to 13.6 per cent of alcohol are explosive, whereas the explosive range of gasoline is from 2 to 5 per cent, necessitating much more careful carburetor adjustment.

"4. The combustion products of alcohol are smokeless, almost odorless and do not clog up the cylinder and valves.

"The only serious difficulty encountered would be the starting of the engine in cold weather, and this could be provided for by carrying a small auxiliary gasoline tank to be used in starting.

"Of all the possible sources, the most interesting, owing to the low cost of raw material, is the waste from the lumber industry, particularly that in the form of sawdust or small chips. This material in the vicinity of sawmills or woodworking plants is often an item of loss, owing to its production in excess of their own power requirements, its value never rising above 50 cents a ton, even when used as a source of power. The disposal of this superfluous waste costs from 30 cents to 66 cent a cord of 1,800 pounds, the total annual loss from this cause amounting to about $6,000,000 annually, in addition to the value of the wood so burned. "From experiments which have been carefully conducted by various experimenters, a ton of dry sawdust has been found to yield, with proper treatment, around twenty to twenty-five gallons of 95 per cent alcohol (ethyl or grain alcohol, not wood alcohol, for this latter is useless for fuel purposes, owing to the formation of products of combustion which would wreck the cylinders) and we could have, therefore, an estimated production from this source alone of around 500,000,000 gallons annually."

TROOP ONE, LOCAL BOY SCOUTS, ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR.

The reorganized Plainview Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, has elected the following officers to serve for the coming year: Sam Harlan, president; Fay Sawyer, scribe; Edwin McMath, treasurer; Bill Bromley, sergeant-at-arms; and John Thompson, senior patrol leader.

The membership of this troop is composed of boys under fifteen years of age, and is under the direction of Scoutmaster E. B. Miller. Rev. Henry Hagemeyer has taken the members over fifteen years of age, and will organize Troop No. 2.

Put Mother, Not Baby, on Bottle

You never heard this argument before. We all know Mother's milk is best for baby. But what to give the mother to enable her to supply baby with a sufficient amount of nourishing milk is the problem.

We have found in hundreds of cases that HEMO is a nourishment that will increase the milk supply and at the same time enable mother to get much needed strength. Then too, it is so appetizing and delicious that it is welcomed at a time when most foods are not.

Makes a delicious food drink by simply adding water. We suggest that you try a 50c package with our guarantee of satisfaction.

40 CENT GASOLINE

Would you buy a car if you knew you were going to be compelled to pay forty cents per gallon for gasoline?

Would you sell your car if you knew that you were paying that price for gasoline to run it?

Thousands of motor car owners are paying the equivalent of even fifty cents and more per gallon.

Buick Valve-in-Head Six-Cylinder Touring Car Model D-45

WE are now located in our new Sales Room, first door north of Plainview Machine and Auto Shop, and ready to talk BUICK. Mr. Thomas and our Buick mechanic are again ready to serve your office or repair needs.

The BUICK Owners Pay the Actual Market Price

Records all over the country prove that the Buick D-6-45 is running on an average of from eighteen to twenty miles per gallon. Figure out the cost of driving twenty miles per gallon for one thousand miles with gasoline at twenty-three cents per gallon. Then figure the cost of driving the same distance with the car that only goes twelve miles per gallon and see if you are not paying the equivalent of over thirty-eight cents per gallon. Then consider the car that only goes nine miles per gallon and see if you are not paying over fifty cents per gallon. Economy means efficiency. A motor to be so economical must be built right. The motor that gives so high a degree of efficiency will also save in lubricating oil and the cost of upkeep in general to such an extent that your saving in actual dollars and cents at the end of the year will be stupendous; saying nothing about the added pleasure of driving a motor car that was built to give the highest degree of service.

KANSAS CITY STOCK
MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS,
March 9.—Cattle receipts this week were 30,000 head, about the same number as last week, and 4,000 more than same week last year. Prices have worked 10 to 25 cents higher during the week. Hog receipts are 33,000 head, 14,000 less than last week, and 6,000 less than same week last year.
The market has jumped up $1.45 during the week. Sheep this week 21,000, 6,000 less than last week and 13,000 less than a year ago, market 25 cents higher.

Beef Cattle.
The best steers here this week sold at $11.50, and there was a fair number of sales at $11.20 to $11.50, prime steers quotable up to $12.00 or a little better. Medium and light native fed steers sold at $9.50 to $10.75. More than one-half the good beef steers offered this week were pulp-fed cattle,
from the Western sugar-beet districts, which sold at $10.40 to $11.25, and weighed 1,075 to 1,350 pounds, a few beet-top steers and feeders at $9.50 to $10.25, beet-pulp bulls at $8.00 to $9.00, cows $7.50 to $9.50. Butcher cattle of all grades sold strong, most of the cows at $6.75 to $8.75, bulls $7.50 to $8.50, veal calves weak, best $11.50.

Stockers and Feeders.
Packers bid strongest on fleshy feeding steers, this week, and none went to the country above $10.00.
Stock steers ranged from $7.50 to $9.50, firm prices first of the week, but country demand fell off last two days, and prices are a little lower.
Present range is considered low, in view of prospects for the spring market, traders believing that ten cents a pound for good stock steers will soon be a common price.

Hogs.
The market reached $15.00 today,
having advanced $1.45 on top hogs since last Friday, when the top was $13.55. Since January 10th the market has advanced $4.35, no doubt a record gain for sixty days. Weights below 250 pounds sold up to $14.95 today, and lights up to $14.75, bulk of sales $14.65 to $14.95. Pigs sell at $11.50 to $13.50, getting keen competition from immune stock-hog plants, which plants are selling the immunized shoats as fast as they can produce them at $14.00 to $15.50. Opinion is divided as to the immediate future of the market, though almost all agree that materially higher prices will yet be paid before a permanent decline sets in. But a temporary break following a sudden rise is usually the rule.

Sheep and Lambs.
Very light receipts elevated prices,
and leaves the market at the highest point yet reached, lambs at $14.85, heavy lambs yesterday and today, 86 pounds, at $14.40 to $14.50. Prime ewes are worth around $12.25, medium ewes $10.75 to $11.75, wethers $12.50, yearlings this week at $13.65. Not many desirable feeding lambs are available, prices $13.50 to $13.75.

YES! LIFT A CORN
OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati Authority Tells How to Dry
Up a Corn or Callus So It Lifts
Off With Fingers.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.—Adv.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE
FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts Your Liver Without Making
You Sick and Can Not Salivate.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and everybody's druggist—has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tonic is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.
Dodson's Liver Tonic is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it. —Adv.

WHAT IS

LAX-FOS IS AN IMPROVED CASCARA

In LAX-Fos the CASCARA is improved by the addition of these digestive ingredi-

combines strength with palatable, aromatic taste and does not gripe or disturb the stomach. One bottle will prove LAX-Fos is invaluable for Constipation, Indigestion or Torpid Liver. Price 50c.

Cold Days Require Coal
Why is it that some folks always delay their coal buying and the installing of their stoves until the last minute when every member of the family has run the risk of serious cold or pneumonia and until all of the coal and stove dealers are so busy they cannot give the best service? Surely the wise man will not be caught in a blizzard with his coal supply not yet laid in.
We have the supply of coal, we have the prompt service, and the prices are lower now than they will be when winter gets here. Isn't it good health insurance, isn't it good business, isn't it the sensible thing to do to place your order now?
Just phone us at 162 and we will do the rest.

The first five words are quoted, and were often on the lips of George Washington, Daniel Webster, Charles Sumner, Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and, last, but not least in this list, Abraham Lincoln.

In these days of our country's problems and anxieties, no doubt the same words are often in the minds of the President and his Cabinet.

As a Nation, we hold fast to the fundamentals of our constitution—cannot now be permitted to slip an inch. Neither can this store, built upon certain fundamental principles, cut the cable that holds it to its moorings—serving our patrons to the best of our ability.
