J. C. Leckliter Dead

The death angel visited the Leckliter home, near Anchor, May 30th and claimed for its victim the husband and father, James C. Leckliter. That afternoon while listing in the field, he fell dead from his lister—supposed to be a third stroke of paralysis, he having had the first one seven years ago in October, and the second two years ago in September. Otherwise he was seemingly enjoying better health than for 17 years. He left the house at 3:30 in the afternoon in good spirits and was carried back at 5 o'clock dead.

James C. Leckliter was born in Mansfield, Ohio, Nov. 1st, 1853. He was married to S. E. Smithee, March 13th, 1892, in Batesville, Ark. To this union were born twelve children—nine girls and three boys, of which nine are living—eight girls and one boy—J. A. Leckliter, who is in France. Three daughters are married—Mrs. Maggie Parris, Mrs. Mabel Fort of Hale Center, Mrs. Ethel Williams of Idalou.

The Bible teaches us that "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord," and we know that he was a true husband and loving father. He was a member of the Methodist church, South, for thirty years.

He leaves a wife, nine children, two sisters, who live at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, and a host of relatives to mourn his loss.

The News extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT SUBMITTED TO STATES

Susan B. Anthony Amendment Passes Congress After Fight of Forty Years

Washington, June 4.—Action by congress on equal suffrage—subject of a fight of 40 years duration—ended late today in adoption by the senate by a vote of 56 to 25 of the historic Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment resolution.

The proposed amendment, adopted by the house by a vote of 304 to 89, May 21, as the first act of the new congress, now goes to the states, ratification by legislatures of three-fourths of which is required for its incorporation in the federal constitution.

The roll call today showed two votes more than the necessary two-thirds for the resolution, which was drafted by Susan B. Anthony in 1875 and introduced by Senator Sargent of California in 1878. Counting paired and absent members, the senate actually stood 66 to 30 for the measure.

Loud applause, unchecked by the presiding officer, swept the senate chamber when the final vote was announced, following two days' debate, and many jubilation meetings were in progress tonight at headquarters of various women's organizations which have been active in support of the measure.

Thirty-six republicans and twenty democrats voted for it. Eight republicans and eleven democrats voted against it.

Senators Sheppard and Culberson voted for it.

Fears Trap for America

Washington, June 2.—A charge that old world powers, led by Great Britain and Japan, are attempting through the league of nations to trap the United States into perpetually guaranteeing their integrity, was made in the senate today by Senator Johnson, Republican, of California. The league proposal, declared the senator, has behind it no serious purpose of maintaining peace, but instead a proposal to maintain autocratic power. He asserted the Paris delegates dared not make good their peace professions by writing into the league covenant a provision to leave war declarations to a popular vote of the peoples affected.

In a speech of more than two hours, Senator Johnson charged also that the provision dealing with the Monroe doctrine was inserted in the revised covenant of the league for the purpose of making the doctrine invalid; that the American delegates in Paris had written the "blackest page in all our history" by approving the transfer of Shantung to Japan and that in the background of the whole peace negotiations lurked the sinister influence of the Anglo-Japanese offensive and defensive alliance.

Another Anarchist Bomb Outrage

Washington, June 3.—Another attempted reign of terror directed chiefly against public officials who have been active in the prosecution was launched by American radicals shortly before midnight last night.

A bomb explosion which damaged the residence of Attorney General Mitchell Palmer, in the fashionable northwest section of Washington, but which apparently resulted only in the death of the bomb planter, was followed at brief intervals by similar explosions in seven other cities in a belt extending from Cleveland to Boston.

Besides Washington, Cleveland and Boston, cities in which bomb outrages occurred were Pittsburg, Patterson, N. J., West Philadelphia, New York and Newtonville, Mass. West Philadelphia and Pittsburg were subjected to two separate explosions.

Bombs intended by anarchists for men who had directed the force of law against them, pronounced sentence against radicals or introduced legislation intended to check their machinations, failed in every case to claim their victims. In several cases, however, families of public officials and the public officials themselves experienced narrow escapes. The death toll of two taken in the Washington and New York explosions recoiled upon instigators of the reign of terrorism, according to first conclusions reached by the police.

More Efficient Threshing

Grain saving last year filled 11,000,000 two-bushel sacks with wheat which otherwise would have been wasted in straw stacks or over fields. To increase this conservation record this year an effort to facilitate more efficient operation of threshing machines, the United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the directors of extension work in State agricultural colleges, will conduct schools of three and four days to threshers. Instructions will include studies of the proper operations, adjustment, repair and maintenance of separators and gas steam engines.

Mrs. H. M. Williams and Mrs. Crawford, living about ten miles east of Lubbock, were seriously injured one day last week, when the horse they were driving to a buggy became frightened and ran away.

SPECIAL SESSION LEGISLATURE TO ASSEMBLE JUNE 23

House Appropriation and Senate Finance Committees to Begin Work Monday

Austin, Texas, June 2.—Governor Hobby authorized the announcement tonight that the second extraordinary session of the Thirty-Sixth Legislature will be called to meet in Austin on Monday, June 23. It was further said by the Governor that when the proclamation convening the session is issued a week hence it will contain only the general appropriation bills. In addition to the announcement made tonight, the Governor today addressed letters to members of the House Appropriations Committee and the Senate Finance Committee advising them of the date fixed for the Legislature to convene. Under resolutions adopted, these two committees will meet in Austin two weeks before the session begins, to prepare the four general appropriation bills.

As a result of the Governor's statement tonight, the two committees will assemble in Austin next Monday, June 9, to start work on the measures making biennial appropriations for the judiciary, State departments, eleemosynary institutions and educational institutions. Some work was accomplished on them during the regular session and the members expect to have the bills ready for introduction, consideration and passage when the Legislature meets three weeks from today.

Governor Hobby said tonight that he will submit a number of matters to the special session, but that as yet he had not determined in what order they would be tendered, nor had he finally made up his mind as to some of them. For that reason he will send the subject of general appropriations to the state and the others will come later, but that he would not say in advance what they will be.

There are several reports to be made to the forthcoming special session from legislative investigating committees. The one which will create unusual interest and may provoke a wide discussion is that covering the Blue Ridge farm tangle. The committee finished hearing the evidence, but is yet to formulate its report. Another committee which is to report is that in charge of the audit of the State Treasury. Its work will prove quite expensive, as an average of ten auditors at $10 per day have been employed for several weeks, besides other heavy daily expenses in connection with the audit. The committee which investigated the State Highway Department is to make a final report.

The committee which investigated the Blue Ridge farm deal is scheduled to meet five days before the session to prepare its report for submission.

Small Cyclone Visits Meadow

Last Saturday afternoon several Tahoka people noticed a small cloud hanging back in the northwest and after close watch it was soon discovered to be a small tornado. A rush was made for nearby storm houses. It has since been learned that the cloud was a twister and struck earth near Meadow, in Terry county. No damage is reported by the storm except tearing up the ground considerably wherever it came in contact with the earth.—Tahoka News.

Do not delude yourself with the thought that you are the one of the very, very few persons who cannot or are doomed not to possess in their own right a house and a home. Build a home.

REMEMBER that it is with a home as with any other purchase "The quality is remembered long after the price is forgotten." The satisfaction that comes with home ownership, even tho the home be ever so modest, is a thousand times greater than any that can come from renting a house, however pretentious it may be.

YOUR CHILDREN "will rise up and call you blessed" if you make a real home for them while they are still in their youth. Home means much to all members of the family, but most of all to the children.

Frequent moving of the household effects from one rented house to another does violence to many of the finest feelings and suppresses some of the most noble aspirations of the human heart. Do not be a nomad.

The State Health Department (By Dr. C. W. Goddard, State Health Officer, read before the Texas State Medical Association at Waco, May 14.)

In attempting to discuss this subject, it necessitates calling your attention to the several divisions of bureaus connected with the health department.

When I assumed the duties of State Health Officer, January 21st of this year, the health department was composed of the following: Bureau of Vital Statistics, Bureau of Venereal Diseases, Bureau of Rural Sanitation, Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, Laboratory Department and Coastal and Border Quarantine. I desire to say here that my appointment to the job of State Health officer was not so much a political appointment as had been the case heretofore, but was largely due to the influence and good will of many of the leading doctors of the State Medical Association. This fact makes me doubly appreciate the honor which has been conferred upon me, and I take this opportunity to say that the Texas State Medical Association has the right to expect the good will and fullest co-operation of the State Health Department.

My predecessors in office by their arduous labors had built up a good basic organization, or in other words, a good foundation upon which to build a real health department. We at once began to study closely the conditions as they existed and to devise plans to develop this basic organization, and to extend our system to cover every phase of public health.

We began to co-ordinate the work of the several bureaus one with the other, making each one assist the other in every way possible and at the same time avoid duplication.

After a careful analysis we found that only a small per cent of the people were being reached, and that the health department was so small when compared to the size of the state, and with the number of people to be reached by it that it was somewhat bewildering to even attempt to serve all the people.

The first thing taken into consideration was the facilities for disseminating from the office and to do this at a minimum expense. To accomplish this I found first that it was very necessary to get into communication with the people. With this idea in view, we began accumulating a mailing list to add to the good work already being done by Dr. H. C. Hall, Director of the Bureau of Venereal Diseases. We are now compiling from the birth certificates the name, age, race, occupation and address of the father of each new born baby, beginning this list with the birth certificates of January 1918, and when completed up to the present time we will have a list from this source alone of approximately 160,000 families.

This list will be increased by approximately 12,000 per month. When this list is completed to date we will begin sending literature to the mothers of nearly every baby in the state teaching her how to protect the health of her baby and prevent disease in her family. With this literature we will send a questionnaire requesting her to furnish us with the names, ages and conditions of health of each member of her family and also the names and addresses of all expectant mothers, who reside near her, explaining to her that the object of this request is to be able to send to these expectant mothers at the expense of the state wholesome literature which will be helpful to them, and at the same time all doctors will be circularized and requested to send us the addresses of all expectant mothers coming to their attention.

We estimate that this procedure will add to our mailing list more than 100,000 families. Under this system we will have accumulated a list of more than 300,000 families, and in less than one year we expect the list to reach one half million families, or more than 2,000,000 people.

Being able to directly communicate with such a large per cent of the people of this state furnishes us a basis for a system by which to conduct the work of each of the several bureaus in the health department. (Continued next week.)
