NINETY DAYS' INDUSTRIAL PEACE IS PROPOSED

NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE MAKES SEVERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

Washington, Oct. 9.—Concrete proposals designed to bring about better relations between employers and the employed, were laid before the national industrial conference today by members of the various groups making up the gathering. The proposals included:

Arbitration of the nation-wide steel strike with return of the men to work pending settlement; an industrial truce starting immediately and continuing three months; creation of an arbitration board by the president and congress including among its members all ex-presidents; and a comprehensive plan for adjudication of industrial disputes through boards of arbitration in the various industries.

The conference today also took its first concrete action in adopting a motion, offered by Thomas L. Chadbourne, a representative of the public, providing that a committee consisting of three members from each of the groups of employers, labor and public, be appointed to investigate the high cost of living.

The proposal for settlement of the steel strike introduced by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and one of the delegates soon after the conference met in the first of the day's two sessions, came as a surprise to the groups representing the public and employers.

In offering the proposal Mr. Gompers explained that it had the support of the labor delegates, including the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods.

The proposal, like all others submitted today, under the conference rules, was referred to the general committee, composed of five representatives of each group.

The Hale County Exhibit

The Hale county exhibit in the agricultural section of the Dallas fair, is creating much interest among the visitors. It is said that the competition for first prize as county exhibit lays between Hale and one other county. Telegrams are expected at any time telling of winnings of ribbons.

Speaking of the Hale county exhibit the Dallas News says: "Hale county in the heart of the shallow water belt is back with its irrigated alfalfa and other crops, after being absent from the state fair competition for several years. It has been taking first prize at the Waco Cotton Palace and other fairs. The exhibit is in charge of Col. R. P. Smyth and J. O. Brown. They have both been in charge of exhibits to the state fair in past years."

Another Quarter-Inch Rain

From four to six o'clock Wednesday morning a quarter-inch rain fell in Plainview. It was heavier over the county, and was accompanied by lightning, which killed a number of cattle here and there. This rain makes a total of 2.75 inches since Sunday, and 30.71 inches since January 1st.

The rains this week were heavy all over the state, and greatly damaged cotton and other crops. Near Abilene twelve inches fell one night.

Arch Is Taken Down

The archway at the corner of the square, put up for the Fourth of July celebration, and later used for the Clark Trails meeting, was torn down Wednesday, on account of it impeding traffic.

Take Agency for Stephens Cars
E. H. Perry & Son have taken the Plains agency for the Stephens automobiles. They have in some cars, which they are showing.

A very heavy rain fell last night between Slaton and Hale Center, said passengers who came up on today's train.

Contractor Lewis of Slaton, who has the contract for remodeling the front of the Plainview Mercantile Co. building, is here looking after the work.

MAY MAKE TEST FOR OIL NEAR PLAINVIEW

Local Party and Associates Trying To Line Up Enough Leases To Justify Drilling

It may be that a test for oil will be made near Plainview at an early date.

A local citizen and his associates are trying to line up about seven or eight thousand acres of leases, for the purpose of sinking a test well at an early date. They wish to lease three-fourths of each property owners' land in the desired territory, so as to get the leases as close together as possible. They are having a hard time securing more than half of each tract.

If the proper leases are secured, so the local promoter tells us, the test well will be sunk soon.

City Council Approves Rolls

The city council at its meeting Monday night, approved the work of the equalization board, and passed the tax rolls to the tax collector who will at once begin collecting this year's city and school taxes. Each member of the board was allowed $12.50 for services.

Three street lights of 250 candle power were ordered added to the present number.

As the Texas Utilities Co. has ceased to do wiring in work, its bonds to the city as such was ordered canceled.

Cement walks and approaches were ordered laid on westside of block 62 O. T., and crossings at East 7th and Date streets.

It was ordered that the city pay the expenses of Mayor Vincent to Dallas to attend a meeting of the mayors of the state to be held there Oct. 15.

President's Recovery is Very Slow

Washington, Oct. 9.—Although President Wilson continued to improve today his physicians indicated that they expect his recovery to progress very slowly, and that it might be a considerable time before they would permit him to resume work.

Rear Admiral Grayson, the president's personal physician, would make no prediction as to when Mr. Wilson might return to his desk but said it would not be soon if he followed the advice of those in attendance upon him. The president is most anxious to get back into the swing of affairs, however, and it is with difficulty that he is persuaded to remain in confinement.

Decrease in Great Fortunes

Washington.—Despite the popular belief that the number of large fortunes has increased during the last few years, income statistics made public by the bureau of internal revenue showed a considerable decrease for 1917 in those reporting increase in excess of $150,000, but a marked increase in those reporting net income of less than $150,000. The figures were considered even more surprising as regards incomes of a million dollars and over. There was a decrease of sixty-five in such incomes, 206 being reported in 1916 and only 141 in 1917.

Plainview Chickens Won Prizes

Several Plainview poultry growers had chickens on exhibition at the Floydada Fair last week, and the following winnings were made: T. O. Collier, first prize on cocks and pullets and second on pen in the single-comb White Leghorn class. E. B. Miller, first pen, second cockrel, first and second pullets, and sweepstakes champion pen of the show on White Leghorns. A. L. Anderson, first cocks, pullet and pen, and second and third pullets, on single-comb Anconas.

Wise Buys Stewart Farm

W. W. Wise recently sold his farm six miles north of Plainview to Mr. Warren of Collin county, and has bought the R. F. Stewart farm, three miles north of town, which he and his family will occupy. Mr. Warren will move to Plainview with his family soon, and a relative will occupy the farm. Mr. Stewart and family will move to Eastland soon.

Former Plainview Boy Dies

Edgar D. Smith, age 19 years, died at Roswell Sept. 26, from a relapse of typhoid fever. His remains were brought here Wednesday and buried beside those of his father, "Jumbo" Smith, who died about seven years ago. The family formerly lived in Plainview. The funeral service was held at Paxton & Oswald's undertaking store, Dr. E. E. Robinson conducting the service.

Edgar had recently been discharged from the army. His mother, Mrs. Aletha Smith, and two younger brothers came with the corpse.

Child Breaks Arm

Nora Mae, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edens, fell from a swing at the home Monday, breaking one of her arms near the elbow.

No Birds in County Cage

For the first time in seven years there are no prisoners in the Hale county jail this week, and it has been suggested that it be used for a wheat granary.

Never has there been but one to only a few prisoners in the jail, and of late there has been very little crime, and as no criminal business was handled at the present term of district court, and those under charges being out on bonds, the jail has become empty.

Plainview High Defeats Lubbock

In a game of football at the Floydada fair Saturday between Plainview and Lubbock high school teams, the Plainview team won by a score of 44 to 0. It was a very lively game.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS URGE EARLY RATIFICATION

Van Zandt Again Commander-in-Chief—Request Made for Federal Government to Pay Pensions

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 9.—Ratification of the German peace treaty and the league of nations covenant without amendments or textual reservations was asked of the senate in resolutions adopted here today at the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans.

The vote on the treaty and league of nations was unanimous.

Payment by congress of pensions to confederate veterans was asked in another resolution adopted.

Officers of the organization were re-elected, including:

Colonel E. M. Van Zandt of Fort Worth, commander in chief.

General C. B. Vance, commander of the army of Tennessee.

General Julian S. Karr, commander of the army of North Virginia.

General Virgil Y. Cook, commander of the trans-Mississippi department.

The request that the federal government pay pensions to former confederate soldiers was made on the ground that $68,000,000 worth of cotton was illegally confiscated by the United States government during and after the war and never paid for; that the South for more than thirty years had paid out millions of dollars towards pensions for federal soldiers and that the federal government owes the South an unpaid debt of $25,000,000 for captured property which was sold.

Can't Get School Books

Judge Chas. Clements says that the public schools are having a hard time getting books under the free text-book system, and are being handicapped. He took the matter up with Miss Blanton, state superintendent, and she writes that it will be impossible to get all the needed books this year, as the publishers do not have them on hand, and there is a lack of expert book binders to do the work, besides the printing industry is tied up with strikes, etc. She urges that there be no delay in opening schools, and that the schools must do the best they can with the books that are available, until the situation is cleared up.

Judge Clements says that otherwise the schools in Hale county are moving along nicely. Several schools have suspended so the children can help harvest the crops for several weeks.

Hale Center Sends Exhibit

W. S. Kisor and W. R. Ferguson left Monday night with the Hale Center agricultural exhibit for the Eastland County fair. They will be with the exhibit during the entire five days of the fair and tell the crowds of visitors of the many advantages offered the homeseeker in this country.

The Hale Center Chamber of Commerce feels justly proud of the exhibit sent to the Eastland fair.—Hale Center Record, Oct. 10.

Severe Storm in Kansas

Thursday was really the first business day for the bank, and the first day's deposits amounted to more than $100,000, which was very gratifying to President R. S. Beard and Cashier C. D. Hensley, so they informed the editor of the News this morning.

The bank is being conducted in temporary quarters in the old Ellerd building, until its new modern banking house shall be completed.

The Guaranty State Bank has an announcement on another page of this issue of the News.

Charged With Contempt

Certain shareholders in the Tahoka Oil & Gas Co. went to Floydada last night and swore to information alleging that M. M. Herring, secretary, and Howard and Clifford Green, drillers, for the oil company had moved a portion of the oil drilling outfit away from the Tahoka well, and taken it to Justiceburg or Post, in violation of a recent injunction issued by Judge Joiner.

Judge Joiner issued a warrant or other process against Herring and the Greens, and ordered that they be brought before him to show why they should not be punished for alleged contempt. The papers were sent to the sheriff at Tahoka this morning for service.

Isn't it about time that congress is authorizing the erection of a post-office building in Plainview?

Suppose King Solomon lived in Texas these days and had to get a poll tax receipt for all of his seven hundred wives and thousand concubines!

A Plainview soldier boy just recently returned from France says the American soldiers like the French all right, but object to sleeping with goats, greyhounds, hogs and cattle during the flea season.

Editor Lee Satterwhite of the Panhandle Herald continues to work on his farm. It is evident that he intends to run for some higher office than he now holds. He isn't doing all this work just for the material profit there is in the crops.

Jahn Barleycorn got another jolt this week. Norway adopted nationwide prohibition. Worldwide prohibition may come within a generation. As enlightenment, civilization and education advances liquor must get out. America pointed the way.

The sugar situation in this country is critical, and the price is due to go to 15c a pound, so experts say. It was less than 6c a pound three years ago. The American people have a sweet tooth; the per capita of consumption is now almost 100 pounds a year, and is increasing rapidly. The lack of labor has killed sugar cane growing in the Southern States, and now nearly all raw sugar must be brought from Cuba and other cane producing countries. The United States produces only one-fourth the sugar it uses. Germany before the war was by far the greatest beet sugar country of the world. Likely it will again take a leading part in the industry.

Let every man who owns an auto resolve now never to cross a railroad track without stopping and looking far up and down the track to see if there is a train coming. This simple duty can save many a life and save bloody tragedies. There is no need of these calamities. The remedy is in the hands of the autoists. There is too much reckless driving these days.

"VIRTUES OF OUR FATHERS"

Addressing the opening session of the forty-fifth annual convention of the American Bankers' association in St. Louis last week, Senator Owen of Oklahoma urged a return "to the virtues of our fathers and mothers, who regarded labor as honorable and waste as sin."

Every period of the world's history has been afflicted with some one or two dominant sins.

The love of leisure and of pleasure are the dominant sins of this period. People look upon work as a burden; they want to work as few hours as possible. People want to put in all their time following that will-o-wisp—pleasure, thinking that in pleasure they can find contentment. They spend their money for things that satisfy not, but leave them at the end of their days hungry, naked, cold. They do not seem to want to gather together, but rather their desire is to waste and scatter.

The old standards of work being honorable and economy and thrift as insurance against poverty in old age, are lost sight of.

These are times when the person who works hard, works long hours, practices thrift and economy will be the well-to-do person of tomorrow. The dollar made and saved now will be worth two dollars next year or the year following.

Senator Owen is right in urging a return "to the virtues of our fathers and mothers, who regarded labor as honorable and waste as a sin."

The excessive rains have put a 100 per cent winter season in the ground which to a great extent promises big crops for the Plains next year. With a fine winter season, never has the Plains failed to have good crops follow. With big crops next year, this section will experience prosperity such as it has never before known, for the crops of this year are putting the people in easy circumstances, and with another good year they will be in the wealthy class sure enough.

Georgia mobs do not propose to allow Yankee mobs to outdo them in outlawry. Georgia is beating all other states in lynching negroes. The editor of the News is of a long line of Southern people, and holds strictly Southern views as to the negro question. But, he can say without fear of successful contradiction that mobocracy is a mistake in dealing with negroes, for the reason that the courts can be depended upon to invariably mete out justice in its most severe form to a negro who is guilty of crime, and do it swiftly, too. Besides, mobs are never composed of the good level-headed citizens of the community, but are in every case composed of roughnecks and persons who are criminals at heart and seek such occasions to give expression to their lawless propensities. It is always a disgrace to a community to have a mob do its heinous work, and the detriment such an act does to the youth of the community cannot be measured. Mobs are always bad; always wrong. No good citizen can afford to in the least encourage or excuse mob law. The sheet-anchor of our republic and our civilization is law and order, and the least deviation from it is like sowing the wind for it will result in a whirlwind of disaster.

A few days ago a republican congressman introduced a resolution calling upon President Wilson for a list of presents received by himself and Mrs. Wilson while in Europe. The congressman then made a speech declaring that the Wilsons had received presents valued at more than a half-million dollars. Two republican senators who are opposing ratification asserted that the presents from European crowned heads amounted to more than a million dollars. The resolution was of the very cheapest variety of peanut politics and was not adopted, but President and Mrs. Wilson at once ordered an itemized list of the gifts they received published. The list is very short and includes only small personal mementos, such as photographs of kings and queens, books, pictures, pieces of old lace and such. The president says he had already prepared to ask congress to allow him to formally accept these gifts. How foolish are some congressmen!

A fellow up at Amarillo must be fond of second-hand things. He recently married a grass widow and bought a second-hand automobile to take their wedding trip.

Negroes in a town near Helena, Arkansas, organized and planned an uprising and massacre of the whites. The plot was disclosed and as a result a number of negroes were sent to Hallelujah. It was ever thus and always will be.

THE WHEAT SITUATION

The farmers of the Plains and Panhandle "are up against it" on account of the embargo of the Railroad Administration relative to wheat shipments.

Millions of bushels of threshed wheat is stacked up in open fields in the North Panhandle, exposed to the rains of the past few days, which caused many thousands of bushels to rot or sprout. Many thousands of acres of wheat is shocked in the fields, and is damaging.

In the Plainview country this state of affairs exists in an much less way, but there has been considerable damage to farmers here, and the loss will figure up many thousands of dollars. All the granaries, barns, elevators, and other storage facilities were filled with wheat weeks ago, and a great deal of wheat is left unprotected in the fields.

The railroad administration last winter and spring could easily foresee that a tremendous crop of grain would be raised. It had months to prepare for the rapid movement of this great wheat crop. It had all the power necessary to put through any system of transporting the wheat that it desired to adopt—both as to railroads and steamships.

But, the railroad administration has completely broken down in moving the wheat crop. There is ship scarcity at the ports; there is car scarcity at the Plains and Panhandle shipping points.

The wheat growers are facing great losses, instead of the good profits that were promised them three months ago.

The people across the seas are hungry and want American wheat, yet the wheat in this country is tied up as though this were an ice-locked Siberia.

There was a meeting of farmers, business men, bankers and railroad officials held in Amarillo Tuesday, and after a thorough discussion of the matter, a telegram was sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission demanding that responsibility be fixed for the awful state of affairs, and that something be done at once to move out the wheat crop of Northwest Texas. People want to know who is to blame—the government railroad administration, the government grain corporation or the government shipping board, but they want the wheat to move out at once.

STEEL STRIKE FAILS

The big steel strike has begun to fail. The workmen are going back to their jobs by the thousands each day. Mills that were forced to close at the beginning of the strike are reopening.

But, it was a foregone conclusion of most everybody at the start that the strike would fail. It was due to fail, for it was not a just strike. Organized labor had become so arrogant that it thought it could defy public opinion and get by with it. But, to its sorrow, it is being made to back-track.

To win, a strike must be justifiable; it must have just grievance. To win, a strike must be backed by public opinion; it must not fly in the face of public opinion.

The steel strike was simply a matter of testing which was the most powerful—union labor or the steel companies backed by the people. There was no matter of higher wages involved, or shorter hours or better working conditions. "Recognition of the union," was the sole question at issue. The steel companies have always had the "open shop," and this has been a thorn in the sides of the union officials. They thought that with the present unrest they could pull off a strike, stop the work of reconstruction which the country so badly needs at present, terrorize the people everywhere by the usually attendant outlawry in strikes, and force recognition of the union.

But, the strike was not popular with the rank and file of the workers to begin with, for they were getting wages ranging from about $5 to $35 a day, and wanted to keep working. Then, the action of the federal and state governments in saying that every resource of the peace officers and troops would be used to stop any outlawry put a crimp in the terrorism the leaders of organized labor had intended to resort to.

The public looked upon the strike as a species of Bolshevism, as Foster, secretary of the strike committee, has long been an advocate of direct action, syndicalism, and such anarchy though lately he claims he no longer holds such views.

In these days of reconstruction any set of men who attempt to stop or impede production are enemies to the country, and deserve no sympathy.

A FALLACIOUS ARGUMENT

One argument which many of the advocates of the highway bonds amendment are making betrays the weakness of the measure. They say that "There will be no vote upon a $75,000,000 bond issue for good roads Nov. 4," but instead only a vote to authorize the legislature to issue state highway bonds as it may see fit from time to time, the total of such issues not to exceed $75,000,000. They give assurance that if the amendment shall be adopted no large amount of the bonds will be issued in the near future, and no great tax burden will be placed upon the people.

No one ought to be deceived by these representations.

If it were not intended to issue $75,000,000 of bonds and to levy an ad valorem tax to support them, adoption of the amendment would not be advocated.

The people of this state never have ordered the legislature to levy any tax. They have authorized the legislature to levy certain taxes within defined limits. Every such tax has been levied clear up to the limit!

The people in no county of Texas ever have ordered the Commissioners' court to issue bonds. They have authorized issuance of bonds within certain limits. All such bonds have been issued up to the limit, or are in process of being issued!

The idea that the legislature will not utilize all authority conferred upon it, especially authority to spend money, is without historic support.

The legislature will issue $75,000,000 of highway bonds if given the authority. We believe that it ought not to be given such authority under the pending amendment, because it is not definitely provided that the money shall be used for a state system of highways, nor are the people given an opportunity to say where or how the money shall be expended. —Dallas News.

TYPICAL WINTER COAT

The importance of being modishly dressed makes itself felt more and more, and women who have only a limited allowance for clothing require good style without extravagance in all their garments. This puts the talent and fine taste of designers at a premium, since style becomes the first consideration when clothes are selected.

The new top coats for winter are straight-hanging and voluminous, with large collars that roll up about the face. They are ample and easy with large armholes and a variety of belts. They look warm and comfortable like the typical smart coat pictured here.

C. A. Gilbert this week received a telegram from his brother at Gainesville, saying that an oil well had been brought in at Muenster, Cooke county, at 1750 feet, that was producing 100 barrels of oil. This is in new territory, and the Gilberts are interested in it.

E. C. Nelson, Jr., of Floydada was here Saturday en route to Austin, to finish his course in the law school at the State University. He was at one time dean of Wayland college, later he was cashier of a national bank in Floydada, and then joined the army and went to France, serving as a lieutenant.

Willie Sanmann, whose farm is 8 miles northeast of Plainview, near Providence, has bought an adjoining farm of 147 acres from Mr. Gallamore, an dwill farm it. Willie has bought an International 8-16 tractor from Jarvis & Barber, and will use it on his farms. He is a very successful young farmer.

Fielding Helm, whose big farm is west of Hale Center, was here yesterday. He says the rains this week will do considerable damage to the row crops and wheat in the fields, but it puts an excellent season in the ground, which almost insures good crops for next year, so the damage is well taken care of in this way. Lots of wheat will be planted, but there will not be very many large acreages as there were this year, as each farmer will plant only enough that he can take care of himself without much hired help.

Homer E. Minor, a young man of this city, has been a cripple all his life, and has to use a wheel-chair in getting about. But he asks no odds of anybody in the race of life. He would be offended if anyone were to offer him charity in any shape or form. He makes his own living; he works every day, and has built up possibly the largest business of the kind in all West and Northwest Texas. His integrity is vouched for by the local banks and the business people of the town, and his obligations are worth a hundred cents on the dollar. He has built up and conducts a very large and lucrative magazine and periodical subscription business, and each month sends out many thousands of letters and circulars, and his stamp purchases at the local post office ranks up with those of the largest firms in the town. He is known far and near as "The Magazine Boy." He has grit and determination to succeed; he is industrious he uses his brain; he deserves success, and is achieving it. He is not a whiner; he is an optimist. He should be an inspiration to every person with whom he comes in contact.

Jim Helm of near Halfway underwent a serious operation for appendicitis at the sanitarium Wednesday night.

WOMEN MOBILIZE FOR RED CROSS DRIVE

$500,000 Produced During War
$100,000.00 in Various Articles

The war achievement of the American women who are being mobilized for the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, in but one of the numerous activities by which they backed up the country's fighting men, is revealed in the announcement by the Red Cross that in two years they produced nearly $100,000,000 worth of surgical articles and garments.

It is estimated that 8,000,000 women and girls participated in this tremendous work and it is among them largely that the Red Cross is now recruiting 1,000,000 workers who will assist in the enrollment of members for 1920.

These women, affiliated with over 3,700 chapters, toiled early and late in homes and Red Cross work-rooms throughout the land, and to their efforts was largely attributed the morale maintained in Allied countries through the assistance given the suffering civilian populations, in addition to the cheer and comfort their labor carried to the American troops.

The betterment of health conditions, the improvement in community life, and the training of children for citizenship furnish just as patriotic a motive for service today as did the making of bandages a year ago. It is hoped that the women of the 655 chapters of the Southwestern Division, comprising Missouri, Arkansas, Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma, who produced articles worth more than $13,000,000 in addition to many hours of service, will rally as valiantly to the peace call as they did to the call of war.

Proof of Death

Two Irishmen were working on the roof of a building one day when one made a misstep and fell to the ground, and the other leaned over and called:

"Are ye dead or alive, Mike?"
"I'm alive," said Mike feebly.
"Sure, yer such a liar I don't know whether to believe ye or not."
"Well, then, I must be dead," said Mike, "for you would never dare to call me a liar if I were alive."

D. M. Reedy, J. A. Chrisler, and G. W. Hay were in Tahoka the fore part of the week, making some investigations relative to the affairs of the Tahoka Oil & Gas Co. business.

Northwest Texas in next year's election. Mr. Gage has either been greatly deceived or he himself is trying to camouflage his party. Take it from the editor of the News, who was born in Central Texas more than forty years ago, lived in that section until less than ten years ago, then was transplanted on the Plains; the republicans will not get a good handful of votes in West, West-Central or Northwest Texas. Republican votes do not propagate successfully in any section of the Lone Star State, and especially in the sections which Mr. Gage has recently visited. Next year Texas democracy will roll up the usual brutal majority.

The Rockdale Reporter, speaking of a certain bald-headed editor, says "If this editor would drink Jesse Auams' Alf-alf-a tea maybe he could grow a new crop of hair." The Reporter's surmise is correct. If this were a nation of Alf-alf-a tea drinkers there would be no bald-heads. Alf-alf-a tea will eliminate bald-headedness; it will also give a man a healthy stomach, a fine appetite, a good complexion, take the cob-webs out of his brain, grouchiness out of his system and cause him to rejoice that he is living.

The Philistine who edits the paper published in the first town east of Plainview declares he has no time for scientific research, for he "is busy trying to find a personal solution of the high cost of living." That's just the way with some folks—all they think about is faring sumptuously every day and wearing glad rags. It is a notable scientific fact that most people dig their own graves with their teeth, by eating too much, and that following the fads and fashions in clothing keeps the wolf close to the door of the average family. The bible speaks out and says that people should not give so much worry to such things. We really believe that the Philistine mentioned above eats so much that to carry the load around keeps him lean, and he wears such loud and gay apparel that any one not knowing him would at once size him up for a professional poker player.

IN A MIOR STRAIN

"A girl can make a fool out of a man much easier than she can make a man out of a fool."

Very often a woman uses more good judgment in choosing a hat than she does in choosing a husband.

A New York man has invented a sled with only one runner. Why doesn't he do something worth while by inventing an automobile with only one tire?

One way to get through the world with a minimum of disappointment is to rely more on yourself and not so much on your friends.

We do not know much. But we do know that a widower has no business being disappointed when he marries the second time.

Oratory may be great stuff. But you should bear in mind the fact that the world loves a listener.

COMMON SENSE

How shall we praise common sense, and to what shall it be compared.

For its possession is beyond lands and treasure, and its value more than fine gold.

It is like the cosmic power that streams from the sun, and holds the planets in their courses.

Its strength runs through all souls, as electricity permeates all matter. No clod is without its atomic forces, and no mind is devoid of latent common sense.

It is the motive and final test of all reforms, it resolves at last all wars.

It is the balance wheel of creation, the intent of God, the mind of destiny.

Theories crumble, facts lose their potency, science changes, enthusiasms wane, love grows cold, laws and customs cease, the world and all that therein is, and men and all that men create and imagine, pour into the chasm of decay, but common sense abides.

Before ever the earth was, its seat was in the bosom of the Eternal, and when the earth shall be no more, it shall still dwell amid the thoughts of the Almighty.

It is the one thing needful to all men and women, to the physician the chief element of his skill, to the lawyer the core of his learning, to the judge the rock of his decision, to the merchant the guide and rule of his trading, to the preacher the gist of his persuasion, to the artist the secret of his appeal.

The works of our hand and brain that have it shall endure, and those that have it not shall perish.

It is the food of success, the breath of energy, the blood of efficiency, the establisher of laws, and the executioner of follies.

It is inevitable as the steps of doom.

It judges all things, even God. Having it not, passion fades, or becomes septic.

It is the universal rust, corroding all creeds.

It is the court of last resort, supreme over all supreme courts.

It is the consuming microbe that at last devours all superations, fatuities, plots and venerable frauds.

It gnaws, hollows, and destroys all outworn institutions, as the worms the ancient tree.

When hate or privilege or injustice or any conivance against human welfare succeeds and flourishes, common sense waits and smiles, and in the fulness of time breathes upon them and they are gone.

If God be the Father of All, common sense is the Mother of All, and at last she has her way, with mankind, with the virtues and vices of men, with the fears and ambitions, with their states and their smallest doings, with their hel's and heavens, with the demons they dread and the deities they adore.—Frank Crane.

Negro Plan to Stop Riots

Raleigh, N. C.—To ally distrust and to put an end to racial agitation and strife, thirty-eight leading negro educators in North Carolina have announced a definite platform upon which the negroes in the state may stand in peace with the white race and in line with the aspiration of their own race.

The platform condemns all advocacy of social equality or intermarriage between the races and opposes any appeal to force to cure injustice complained of.

"Any individual or society in or out of the state that advocates the intermingling of the races on terms of social equality and intermarriages of the races is doing great harm to the negro, for wherever this doctrine finds lodgment it stirs race prejudice in the South and threatens the well being of both races," reads the statement.

Troops Ready for Any State

Washington—Authority has been given commanding generals of military departments to furnish troops necessary for the protection of lives and property in case of disorders in the limits of their departments. Such protection can be furnished only upon request from the proper state officials, the instructions from Secretary Baker said.

Albert Flies Over New York

New York — King Albert, accompanied by Count D'Oultremont, a member of his party, flew over New York Saturday in a naval hydro-airplane, spending half an hour in the air.

"It was a fine trip and the sight was wonderful," the king said.

France Ratifies Treaties

Paris—The Chamber of Deputies Thursday ratified the German peace treaty by a vote of 372 to 53.

The chamber then took up the fronties between France and the United States and Great Britain, both of which were unanimously ratified. A total of 501 votes was cast for the two treaties.

Officers rounded up 118 I. W. Ws. at Weirton, W. Va., Tuesday, and forced them to leave the town. Several were arrested and jailed.

Will Hickey Divvy?

Tom A. Hickey, one time leader of the socialists in Texas, is reported to have become a millionaire, through the ownership of lands in Eastland county, in the heart of the oil discoveries. Now that Tom no longer has to worry about his finances, it will be interesting to observe if he will make practical application of his socialistic doctrine and "divvy" up his fortune with his less prosperous associates in the socialist party. —Temple Telegram.

Dr. J. B. Phillips of Chattanooga, Tenn., is holding a revival at the First Baptist church in Amarillo.

The Strikes Boost Prices

Washington — Growing consciousness on the part of the general public of the disastrous effect which labor agitation and strikes have on the cost of living was noted in the review of September conditions issued by the federal reserve board. # The River of Life

Say what you will of whatever part of the human anatomy you please, the river of life is the BLOOD. It is either the swift running stream of health or the germladen channel of disease, one or the other.

The new remedy for the blood is the kind that freshens and quickens the circulation, energizes the good corpuscles that fight the battles of life for the sick.

RICH-TONE, The Famous TONIC, is unlike any other known remedy. It works differently, it reaches in and through and till it penetrates to the seat of the disease and springs at the very throat of the cause of it.

It's the only remedy that does this. And doing this it gets results and effects cures that no other can.

Mr. Wimsatt says: "I bought two bottles of Rich-Tone for my mother. She thinks it is the finest tonic. She has used many other kinds, but nothing has helped her like Rich-Tone."

This famous tonic is for sale at our drug store at only $1.00 per bottle.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Plainview people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. R. L. Boruff, Plainview, says: "When I first began using Doan's Kidney Pills my back and kidneys were in an awful condition. At times I couldn't do my work and would have to be down and couldn't get around for a week or two at a time. There was a steady, bearing down pain through the small of my back and when I stooped over sharp knife-like pains would catch me in my back, so that I could hardly straighten up. I suffered day and night from this trouble and every muscle in my body was sore. I often became so tired I could hardly stand up and suffered quite a bit of the time from headaches. My kidneys didn't act right at all. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and bought two boxes at R. A. Long's Drug Store. They gave me instant relief. Two boxes of Doan's cured me of every symptom of kidney trouble."

By that time the pain would be so severe I would have to take to bed, and suffered usually about three days... I suffered this way for three years, and got to be a mere skeleton and was so weak I could hardly stand alone. Was not able to go anywhere and had to let my house work go... ## THINK HIGHLY OF LANTERNS

Chinese Make Them in Many Attractive Forms, and Pay Big Prices for Them.

The shops of the lantern venders in the Chinese cities are usually very gay and attractive. All varieties of lanterns are to be seen—the large silken ones 3 and 4 feet high, gorgeously painted with variegated colors, embroidered in gold and silver or decorated with deep fringe of the same material, and common small horn and paper lanterns used by the coolies, according to the Philadelphia Inquirer. The mode of making horn lanterns is very ingenious; the horns are cut into remarkably thin slices, which, by means of heat and pressure, are joined together and formed into various shapes—round, square, hexagon, octagon and some shaped to resemble an hour glass.

It is usual for lantern makers to set to carry before their masters large lanterns made either of horn or highly varnished paper, with the name, title and dignities painted in large letters thereon.

At the Feast of Lanterns, which takes place in the early part of the Chinese New Year, these lantern shop proprietors reap a rich harvest, as it is customary for parents to make presents of lanterns to their children, brother to sister, friend to friend, inferior to superior, and vice versa.

Via Iceland.

The desire that centuries ago made men look to the North for closer connection between the eastern and western hemispheres may soon be realized by the shipment of Canadian grain from Port Nelson, in Hudson bay, to Reykjavik, Iceland, there to be stored in warehouses for transshipment to Europe. The ancient Icelandic capital, dating back to the coming of the Northmen in the ninth century, will thus become an important link in the international commerce. Hudson bay is unfrozen during about five months, and the grain, once stored at Reykjavik, where navigation is practically always open with Europe, can be forwarded as needed. The plan shortens the railway haul of grain moving from the new to the old world by about a thousand miles; and the grain ships crossing the bay will travel a twentieth century version of the new route for commerce which the old navigator, Henry Hudson, was seeking in the early seventeenth.

Suction Plates on Bats.

Certain bats appear to have found their hooklike thumbs and hind feet insufficient for suspension and have made use of the suction principle for this purpose. This mode of suspension has been developed independently in two distinct bats, one a native of Brazil and the other of Madagascar. In the Brazilian species the suckers take the form of stalked discs attached to the palms of the thumbs and the soles of the feet. The suckers of the Malagasy species are horseshoe like. By means of the suckers these bats are able to ascend vertical surfaces. Very curious it is to note the similarity between the suckers of these bats and those on the arms of the cuttlefishes.

First Fake Beards.

The Jews were responsible for the first false beards that were ever worn, so far as known. They did not wear them themselves, but they caused the Egyptians to do so. The Egyptians had long gone with smooth faces, but when the Jews came over to stay with them, the people of the Nile quickly absorbed the idea that a bearded man was associated with strength, nobility of character and perhaps prowess. So it quickly came about that whenever the Egyptians wanted to hold a celebration in which certain persons were to be exalted, the objects of popular acclain wore false beards.

CRAB HAS STRANGE GROWTH

Process of Replacing Shell Taken Place Three Times During "Infancy" of Creature.

The crab's equivalent to the internal bones of animals is its tough outer shell, which does not grow. The baby crab is forced to get rid of this tough, confining prison. So it breaks itself loose internally and then splits its old protecting home across the extreme back ridge, creeping out in that way. It is a very delicate operation to withdraw the terrible claws and other limbs, as these are bigger at the extreme end, but these curious creatures have the power of withdrawing the blood into the body, and this greatly reduces the bulk of the appendages. When the crab has thus escaped from his old shell he is quite soft and forms a dainty meal for his enemies; his pincers, too, are useless. So while his new outer shell is hardening he has to hide in some cranny in the rocks. This new shell would obviously be the same size as (or even a trifle smaller than) the old if the crab merely kept quiet, as he is quite unable to "grow" when once the shell has hardened. To overcome this difficulty he swells himself out by absorbing as much water as possible, and remains in this artificially distended condition till the new shell hardens; then he at once gets rid of the useful water and leaves himself plenty of room for growth. The young crab changes its shell in this way about twenty times during the first three years of its life.

PERFECT IMAGE OF HIMSELF

Japanese Wood Worker Credited With Production of Really Marvelous Work of Art.

The most marvelous wood work known in the world is Hananuma Masakichi, of Tokio, Japan, who has carved a figure in wood so like himself that when the two are placed side by side it is said to be almost impossible to tell which lives and breathes and which does not. By several connoisseurs in art this wooden figure has been pronounced the most perfect and human image of man ever made. Masakichi has faithfully reproduced every scar, vein and wrinkle to be seen on his body. The figure is composed of 2,000 pieces of wood dovetailed and jointed with such skill that no seams can be detected.

Tiny holes were drilled for the reception of hairs, and the wooden figure has glass eyes and eyelashes in which no dissimilarity to Masakichi's own can be detected.

The Japanese artist posed between two mirrors while modeling this figure and for some time after its completion he posed frequently beside it, to the confusion of spectators, who were often entirely at a loss as to which was the artist. The figure stands with a little mask in one hand and an instrument for carving in the other; the lifelike eyes are apparently gazing at the mask, and the face wears a look of intense absorption.

Mystery of Rain Unexplained.

The mysteries of rain are not yet cleared away. The forces of electricity, of magnetism, of radio activity, of ultra violet light and all the other agencies which may collaborate in the production of a downpour of rain are very obscure.

We know from Holy Writ that the wind bloweth where it listeth. Nothing whatever can be more expressive of the capricious and lawless character of the wind. And wind and rain come together; and the changes of temperature make what we call weather. In the South Sea Islands the natives have no word which means weather as the atmospheric conditions never change. The vast majority of human beings are in contrast and unending conflict with the weather. Hence the universal interest in its causes, whether the noise and the smoke of battle fields or the ashes from volcanoes or from the changes of temperature produced by vast conflagrations, such as are witnessed when a city is consumed in flames.

Youth and Purpose.

It is not youth alone that thinks it "knows it all"—most of us older people could with distinct advantage take our A's over again. How differently we would map out our lives and how much less censorious we would be of the failures and gauderies of others! Statistics prove that most of our own suffering and the suffering of the world is the outcome of ignorance, bearing in its wake conceit and stubbornness—a trilogy that balks progress in every form.

Education along right lines is our salvation. Then let us be patient and solicitous for the young people all over the land who are weaving bright dreams of purpose—after commencement.—New York Evening Telegram.

When Korea Was Great.

History for many years B. C. tells us that the people of Korea were among the highest in genuine civilization. About the year 1597 a general by the name of Li built the first iron fleet, composed of wooden circular vessels with iron plates on top, studded with sharp iron teeth. Because of the prosperity of the Korean nation, Japan was extremely jealous, and had therefore brought 700 boats in battle array. However, Li, with his 50 boats, succeeded in inflicting a disastrous defeat upon the Japanese, who have never forgotten that well-earned lesson given to them by a highly cultivated, happy and prosperous people.

HIGH ON SCROLL OF FAME

Is Written the Name of Frank Luke, One of the Best of American Air Fighters.

What Lieutenant Luke, famous American aviator, would, and often did, attempt was illustrated by his last fight. Starting out alone to attack three "drachens," or observation balloons, he had seen behind the German lines in front of Verdun, he was intercepted by ten enemy machines. He engaged them all, got two of them, and escaped the others by seeming himself to be disabled. His "fall" was from directly over the balloons, and before they could be lowered or protected he shot all three of them in flames. But then Luke disappeared, and what became of him was not known until after the armistice.

When the allies entered the village of Murvaux the rest of the story was learned from the peasants. The American had been forced by wounds or the disablement of his machine to descend, but he did not land until he had used his machine gun to the extent of killing eleven of the many German soldiers stationed there. Then he alighted safely in a nearby field and was seen to quit his machine and start for a little stream as if to get water. German soldiers ran up, and either by them or by a shot from further away he was killed. The German officer in command kicked the body and ordered that no one touch it. There it lay till the next morning, when the villagers were allowed to take it, uncovered, in a cart to their cemetery and bury it.

So ended Frank Luke at the age of 29. He had lived much, if not long, and down in Phoenix, Ariz., where he was born, they are justly proud of him. He does not lack appreciation elsewhere, for Captain Rickenbacker says: "Frank Luke lived he would have put me out of business long ago as America's leading ace. I wouldn't have had a show against him."

Bruges of Today.

Mrs. B. O. Tufnell, writing in reference to Bruges, says: "I think it may be of interest to you to know that Bruges is extraordinarily little changed since the war. We were most agreeably surprised to find our things left behind intact and only one case had been opened. The hotel was still well run and comfortable, and the food was good, only the pre-war prices had changed for the worse! The beautiful old city looked much the same as before. The curillon is still pealing in the belfry, and few of the public buildings have suffered. The port has been greatly altered, and there the signs of war are very evident, not only in the huge works started by the enemy, but in the occasional destruction of them by our airmen. The shops are open, and the life of Bruges goes on as it did. Only the welcome appearance of khaki-clad men or businesslike W. A. A. C.'s strikes a strange note in the cobbled spaces of the Grande Place."

C. W. Terry of Portales, N. M., has been here this week visiting his brother, J. C. Terry.

Buy Beaver Board That Is Beaver Board

YOU know what Beaver Board is—a clean, easy-working material for walls and ceilings, built of pure wood fibre into knotless and crackless manufactured lumber.

But perhaps you don't know that there is some "Beaver Board" bought and sold every year which is NOT Beaver Board at all.

How does that come about? This way:

Beaver Board is the original so-called "wallboard." When introduced there was nothing like it on the market. It made good and became popular.

Naturally, other manufacturers began to make products as nearly like it as possible. Some were good but some others, as is bound to be the case, were inferior and independable. "They look like Beaver Board but don't act like it."

There's the rub. You can't tell a good wallboard by the way it looks, smells or feels.

Accordingly when you buy "Beaver Board" that isn't "Beaver Board" you are taking a chance, and we can say to you frankly that it's a large chance. Building materials of any kind are too valuable to take that chance on quality or service.

Every panel of the real "Beaver Board" is printed plainly (on the back) with the Beaver Board trade-mark and instructions. Won't you please remember that this is done as much for your protection as for ours? If you must have the cheaper kind, we have that also.
