PLAINVIEW MUST HAVE A LARGE AUDITORIUM

NEEDED TO TAKE CARE OF CONVENTIONS, FAIR, REVIVALS, CHAUTAUQUA

Plainview has secured the 1922 convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and it is estimated that fully two thousand delegates will be in attendance, from all over the Western half of the state. Most of them will come in Pullmans, which they will use to sleep in while here, besides the local hotels and the private residences will take care of delegates.

But, a meeting place for the convention must be provided, and Plainview people should set to work at once to erect an adequate auditorium in Plainview.

A permanent auditorium should be built. The structure should be ample to seat 3,000 people. It need not be constructed out of brick but could be constructed of iron truss work, the arched roof covered with reinforced glass, and the sides made of stucco. The cost would not be so very heavy. The need of such an auditorium is great, and if provided it could be used on many occasions.

It could house the Northwest Texas State Fair, which is held in Plainview in September.

It could be used for the Northwest Texas Poultry show which is held here each December, and which has outgrown any building in the town.

It could be used for protracted meetings of churches, for the county and district inter-school athletic meets each year, for sales of hogs, cattle and other livestock.

It could be used for the annual chautauqua.

It could be used for conventions, for basket ball and other contests, and for many other meetings.

All of these attractions would pay for the use of the building, which would more than take care of its upkeep.

By having a large auditorium, Plainview would secure many conventions which it could not otherwise get.

The Board of City Development, the Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations should at once take up the matter of erecting a large auditorium.

Bumper Wheat Crop for Plains

The editor of the News made a trip yesterday through the country from Hereford to Plainview, by way of Dimmitt, Nazareth, Tulla and Kress. Everywhere the wheat acreage is large and it looks as good as could be wished for. The season in the ground followed by the recent heavy snows has almost assured a bumper crop for this year.

There is much new ground being broken, in some cases as much as a section, which will be planted in crops this year. Here and there new farm houses are being erected.

Hereford is a goodly town, with paved streets, good brick business houses, fine churches, a handsome public auditorium, and all modern conveniences.

The highway from Plainview to Hereford is exceptionally good, the roughest road being between the depot and the Harvest Queen Mills in Plainview and on the public square in Tulla.

Exceptionally Good Tax Collections

George Saigling, collector of city and school taxes, reports exceptionally good collections of taxes, considering the money stringency.

All the city taxes were paid except $362, which have become delinquent and all of the school taxes except $4943.

A ruling has been made which will permit the delinquents to pay their taxes before April 1st without much additional penalty, and those who have not already paid should avail themselves of this opportunity to save me money.

Will Attend Hereford Conference

Secretary John Boswell of the Chamber of Commerce, Commissioners E. B. Shankle and H. R. Tarwater, F. E. Rissler and Col. R. P. Smyth, and possibly other Plainview citizens will attend this afternoon for Hereford to attend a banquet of the Chamber of Commerce there tonight, and be at conference relative to a direct and highly improved highway from Plainview to Dimmitt, Hereford and Tular.

Buy What You Need Now

A "Buy It Now" campaign might be started, and with greater show of reason and good sense, than was exhibited in the popular "overall clubs" a few months ago. The prices have dropped, the deflation has occurred, and the merchandise is available at right figures.

RAT KILLING CAMPAIGN WILL SOON BE WAGED

Prizes Will be Offered—Dowden Will Tell How to Make Trap

Washington, Feb. 10.—It keeps 200,000 men working full time to support the national rat population. The biological survey bureau figures issued today show that there are as many "common brown rats" as humans in the United States and each of the 100,000,000 of more destroys $2 worth of foodstuffs a year. They also maintain an efficient transportation system for "black death" and other plague germs, the bureau adds in urging a starve and slay campaign to check "a real hazard against American lives and property."

E. T. Coleman, chairman of the rat extermination committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is preparing plans to carry on a campaign here soon. He proposes to raise two or three hundred dollars to be offered as prizes and bonuses for the killing of rats.

E. Dowden tells us he knows a plan that will soon catch all the rats on any farm or about any building. His plan is an infallible rat trap, made without cost from an old oil barrel. Those interested see him at the Dowden Hardware Co. store, and he will instruct them just how to make the trap.

Hale County Singing Convention

The Hale County Singing Convention, which met at Liberty school house the fourth Sunday in November was poorly attended on account of the bad weather. At the request of the people of that community the convention will again meet there on the fourth Sunday in February.

They have a splendid new school house with a large auditorium, comfortably seated with new opera chairs. They assure everyone a cordial welcome and a sumptuous dinner.

We hope every community in the county will be well represented. Come with a smile on your face and a song in your heart and help to make this a joyous occasion and one long to be remembered. Come bright and early. We promise that you will be well entertained every minute of the day.

PRESIDENT.

M. C. Hamilton Dies

M. C. Hamilton died at his home in Hereford this city Friday night just after 12 o'clock. He was sixty-nine years of age, and had lived here for about four years.

The funeral was held at the cemetery Saturday afternoon, Pastor G. W. Davis, of the First Christian church conducting the service. He was a member of the Christian church for forty-five years.

He leaves a widow and two daughters and three sons—Mrs. H. I. Holt, of Plainview, T. H. Hamilton and Mrs. L. E. Crews of Post, C. H. Hamilton, of Pecos, and Will Hamilton, who could not be reached. All were present at the funeral except Will.

Says Feb. 14 Ground Hog Day

J. D. Trobaugh, who lives just north of the freight depot, declares that he came from the home of the ground hog up north, and that Feb. 14 and not Feb. 2 is the real ground hog day, when the animal comes out and looks for his shadow. No matter, this year both days were sunshiny, and he saw his shadow alright.

Feeding Considerable Livestock

F. J. Martin, who lives out on Rt. 2, is feeding four hundred hogs and about one hundred cattle.

Mr. Martin tells us that he freighted from Lockney to Amarillo twenty-five years ago, when there were very few settlers on the Plains and the towns were but cross-roads affairs. Later he moved down in the state, but returned here several years ago.

Will Enforce Sunday Laws

The ministers of San Antonio have joined in a fight for a more strict enforcement of the Sunday law. It is not only a local issue, but part of a state-wide movement which was started some months ago, and which has been pushed in many of the larger as well as smaller cities of the state.

Baker Arrested in Eastland

E. F. Baker, indicted by the grand jury of Hale county on a charge of embezzling the amount being more than $50, has been arrested in Eastland, where he is being held to answer a charge of forgery. As soon as he is tried there he will be brought to Hale county.

W. M. Turner's Sister Dies

A message was received last night by W. M. Turner of the Texas Oil Co. saying that his sister, Mrs. Valentine, had died in La Junta, Colo., and he left this morning for that place. Burial will likely be at the old home in Leonard, North Texas. She leaves a husband and seven children.

PEOPLE ARE URGED TO AUTHORIZE $125,000 SCHOOL BONDS SATURDAY

Superintendent and Board President Tell of Overcrowded Condition of Buildings--Must Be Relieved

To the voters of the Plainview Independent School District:

Justice to all concerned demands that we offer some explanations concerning the pending bond issue. In the beginning we wish to make the broad statement that our public schools have outgrown our present facilities.

We have enrolled up to date, according to January report, 1345 pupils. Of these 351 are high school pupils, 401 enrolled at Lamar school, 550 enrolled at Central school, and 443 primary pupils enrolled at the high school.

Our primary pupils from three rooms are on half-day attendance. To properly provide for these pupils would require three more rooms. At present we are using the offices in Central and Lamar schools for class rooms for an overcrowded fourth grade in each of these buildings. To properly provide for these pupils would require two additional rooms. We badly need for laboratory purposes the room at the high school that is now being used for primary pupils. These pupils should be transferred to Central school. Thus you see that six additional rooms are needed at present and under present conditions to take care of the actual needs in Central and Lamar schools—and we made no mention of the crowded conditions running through the grades that would require at least an extra room in each of the buildings to relieve this badly overcrowded condition.

At the high school our needs are many, but we most need a large study hall centrally located. The only place to get such an arrangement is to use the larger portion of the present auditorium. This can be done and the auditorium wing of the building extended west so as to provide a suitable auditorium. This would give us a room for our commercial department which is now occupying the rear of the auditorium. This would greatly help us in planning the work of the high school as a whole. Under this new auditorium could be constructed a modern gymnasium, a facility that is much needed in this climate.

We understand there is an impression amongst some of the voters that a large building is to be built at Seth Ward. We contemplate building only two rooms there to accommodate only those children who are too small to come the long distance through the winter. This is not a city proposition, but a school district one; the school district being much larger than the city, and the people in the Seth Ward community paying the same rate of school taxes as we in town.

The amount of bonds is based on the estimate of a competent architect; and of course, no more money will be spent than is necessary to provide the room needed.

We think the pupils of Seth Ward who are below the fifth grade should have school provisions made for their attendance out there. We have estimated that the number to be cared for under these conditions would require the time of two teachers, hence we are planning to erect a modern two room brick or tile building out there. This building should cost less than ten thousand dollars.

To meet the needs of Central school we have planned an addition of four rooms and an auditorium. This auditorium will be so constructed that it can be converted into school rooms at any time at a minimum expense.

At Lamar school we have planned to build two rooms and an auditorium. The auditorium in this instance will also be designed to cut into class rooms if it should become necessary at any time.

Respectfully,
W. E. PATTY, Superintendent,
BOARD OF TRUSTEES,
by C. S. WILLIAMS, President.

Election Notice

In the school bond election Saturday, Feb. 19th, 1921, all persons who have paid their poll taxes for the year 1920, prior to Feb. 1st of this year, and live within the bounds of the Plainview Independent School District and have paid a property tax, on either real or personal property, and are otherwise qualified voters, will be entitled to a vote in this election.

W. J. MITCHELL,
Presiding Officer.

WHITFIELD CITIZENS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC FOR ROAD

ARE ANXIOUS TO WIDEN AND IMPROVE FIRST-CLASS HIGHWAY

The Hale county commissioners court—Judge L. D. Griffin, Commissioners G. M. Phelps, E. B. Shankle, J. H. Hooker and H. R. Tarwater—went to Tulla yesterday afternoon to confer with the commissioners' court of Swisher county relative to the ten miles of road which extends through Plainview to Silvertown.

A large number of citizens of the Whitfield community were present, urging that the Swisher county court open up and improve the road. It seems that eight of the ten miles has already been opened up and designated as a public road, and that the other two miles has been opened but so designated. The Whitfield people promised to set back their fences where the road needs widening, and to improve it if the Swisher court does not do so. Though great pressure was brought to bear the court passed action on the matter until another time.

The people living in the Whitfield community are very much interested in the matter and say they will see that the road is properly improved, so, as one of the commissioners informs us, the highway from Plainview to Silvertown can be counted on as a sure thing.

Robber Returns Money to Woman Slaton, Feb. 12.—A robber entered the room of Mrs. Clara Mellinger, proprietor of the Singleton Hotel, between 2 and 3 o'clock Friday morning, and secured a purse containing $20. Mrs. Mellinger was awakened by the intruder and pleaded with him to return the money. He finally compromised by returning all but $5. Officers were at once notified, but no arrests have yet been made.

FUNNIEST THING THAT EVER HAPPENED

Legion Minstrel Will Be Given At the High School Auditorium Feb. 14

The date for the funniest thing that ever happened in Plainview has been set for Thursday night, Feb. 24. The place will be the high school auditorium. The event will be the American Legion Minstrel.

Director Matt Cram announced this morning that all is in readiness to give the people of Plainview a real fun feast. For more than a month the thirty people who will take part have been rehearsed regularly. They have mastered the funniest jokes, songs, dances and specialty acts. The remaining time until the show will be devoted to making them stiff funnier.

Director Cram has his worries, however. When the costumes and paraphernalia arrived yesterday it was found that Jake Burkett's trousers were about nineteen inches too short. As it is too late to order another pair, he will have to wear the short ones, says Mr. Cram. There was nothing too small about Jake's shoes though. In fact they are number fourteens. This combination of small trousers and big shoes adds nothing more handsome to the star end man's appearance, but it just can't be helped now. Anyway, Jake has been in the minstrel business so long that a little thing like a few misfits won't affect his big bass voice or his ability to spring funny jokes a bit.

D. D. Neal, who has to stand on his tip toes to measure five feet in height, somehow was shipped a suit of clothes for a six footer. Dave, too, will have to wear the oversized suit. His only fear is that he will get tangled up in his own clothes and break some of his anatomy. Dave is another "coon" with thirty years experience and director Cram is confident that he can overcome the handicap.

A. E. Boyd's full dress suit is a perfect fit so it now seems that he will present the most handsome appearance in the gang. It is such a pity too for him to have to be the target for most of the jokes and gags. He will be the middle man.

The American Legion will stop at nothing inside or outside of the law to make the minstrel show a success. A special scout has been busy digging up choice scandal and deep secrets in the lives of some of the most prominent men of the community.

Dr. S. C. Ross, the veterinarian, was in Dawson county last week on professional business. He says the people in that section are complaining of the dry weather, as there has been no moisture for four months.

F. J. Martin of near town has just returned from a visit with relatives in Borden county, having taken his wife down there to be with sick relatives, and he also reports the country very dry, and rain needed for winter season.

Mrs. Ward Acquitted
The jury in the case of Mrs. Hattie Ward, charged with having permitted her home to be used as a rendezvous for gamblers, brought in a verdict of acquittal in district court Saturday.

The case of Tom Thompson against the Santa Fe railroad was tried yesterday and is now with the jury. He sues for alleged damages to a shipment of cattle.

The court will adjourn the end of next week, and the following Monday convene in Floydada.

Pioneer Cattleman Dies

A. B. Robertson, pioneer cattleman of West Texas and owner of large ranches near Slaton, where he until a few weeks ago lived, died at his home in Abilene Saturday night. Burial was at Colorado City. He was sixty-six years of age, and was known in Hale county.

NEFF WOULD ABOLISH A THIRD OF OFFICES

DECLARES GOVERNOR IS "HOG TIED" AND ASKS POWER TO GET GOOD OFFICIALS

Austin, Feb. 14.—Declaring the Governor at present is "hog tied" in the enforcement of laws, Gov. Neff broke all precedent today by appearing before the legislature and said that if authority is given him to direct the attorney general to remove officers who do not enforce laws "we stand ready to proceed to remove these officers and put officers in their place who will enforce our laws."

Governor Neff also urged particularly that legislation for eliminating overlapping and duplicating state departments, declaring that "if I had the authority I would before sun down tonight abolish about one-third of the State boards and commissions and about one-fourth of the officers in Texas.

The governor termed his appearance before the legislature "just a brief visit to get acquainted with each other so we will work in harmony."

Is Applauded

He was cordially received and applause frequently greeted his remarks. Neff started his talk with the assertion that "he has come to talk right from the bat."

"You know," he said, "that in certain parts of Texas the lawless element is in the saddle. It will take one thousand Texas Rangers to answer the calls that come into my office by telegraph and telephone, not only to put down lawlessness, but to protect those officers who are trying to do their duty and stand for law enforcement."

It was here the governor said had recommended to the legislature that he be given just a little authority to direct the attorney general to remove unfaithful officers and check them too ready to act immediately when so authorized. Governor expressed the opinion that economy in government and enforcement should be given priority even if they are only two.

These are the only two which the Governor said he would like to see in special messages.

"I do not want it thought," he said "that my silence on great constitutional constructive legislation before you means that I am not interested. I am for education, a friend to education from the little red school house along the dusty roadside up to my alma mater, the University.

"I am for a great marketing system and the building of factories to turn our raw materials into finished product in our state. I stand for conservation of flood waters in our states."

Seeks Advice

Governor Neff declared he would not address any more special messages to the legislature until he had become acquainted with the legislators. He asked the members of the legislature to come to his office and advise with him in meeting the many new responsibilities before him even if only a brief warm handshake.

While on the subject of law enforcement, Governor Neff made his declaration, the legislature could not do anything more important than to tighten up the laws in Texas and create respect for obedience of the laws. The house this morning ordered printed a minority report on the bill by Johnson of Ellis giving the attorney general power to institute proceedings by direction of the Governor to remove from office officers who failed to enforce the law. The minority report recommended an amendment which changes the venue from the District Court of Travis county to the district court of the County of Civil Appeals where the district is located.

Robbers Loot Store at Happy

Happy, Feb. 11.—Thieves stole about $500 worth of goods from the Roberts and Oliver Hardware Store here Thursday night.

The robbers pried the casing off a door with a crowbar, and then broke the lock. They took about $350 worth of pocket knives, and $150 worth of shot-guns, rifles and small tools. The firm name was branded on the pocket knife blades.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

Best Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Laxative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that medicine for colds and influenza should be depended upon for full effect until the liver is made active. That is why the first treatment is the new, nausealess, free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)

WASHINGTON CITY SIDELIGHTS

Where U. S. and British Colonies Agree

WASHINGTON.—Informal negotiations have been going on for some time looking to a working agreement between the United States and Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa to maintain a united front against Japanese immigration.

These four British dominions are confronted with much the same problem as the California laws. It is admitted that among the problems discussed at the conference was the possibility of carrying out the idea that the five powerful countries' interests in excluding Japanese nationals are identical.

Allied With Japan.

The fact that Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa are supposed to be included with Great Britain in an alliance with Japan adds interest to the recent messages from London quoting Premier Lloyd George as saying the alliance with Japan would not be renewed until the colonies were consulted.

Women Demand the End of Militarism

WOMEN demand an end of militarism and world disarmament. Holding an unheralded demonstration at the monument of Benjamin Franklin, Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, wife of the Wisconsin senator; Mrs. Charles Edward Russell, wife of the Socialist writer, and others, delivered addresses, calling specifically for wholesale reductions in the appropriations for the United States army and navy, and for disarmament generally.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Woman's Peace society, and the speakers said they were voicing the sentiment of the women of the country. The keynote of the meeting was to urge the Brooks resolution, now pending in the house, calling for a conference of the nations in Washington to lay plans for disarmament.

Mrs. La Follette declared the women of the country would use their votes to defeat senators and representatives who stand for militarism and war.

"We women have the power," she said. "On the issue of militarism we hold the balance of power. We have the ballot. We are going to watch congress. We vow to use our votes to elect senators and representatives who stand for peace and disarmament."

Tax Revision Likely in Next Congress

SENTIMENT in the house ways and means committee following recent hearings indicates the following line of action on tax revision in the next congress:
 1.—Repeal of the excess profits taxes.
 2.—Rejection of a sales tax because of its unpopularity with consumers.
 3.—Increase in present 10 per cent tax on corporation net earnings and a moderate, possibly graduated tax on undistributed earnings.
 4.—No increase in normal taxes on individual incomes, but a reduction of surtaxes on large incomes and an increase in the amount of income exempt-

Public Markets For All the Large Cities

ESTABLISHMENT of central markets for perishable food products in all large cities, and the setting up of a federal licensing system applicable to all dealers in such foods at those markets, is proposed by the federal trade commission in its annual report to congress.

The commission's conclusions are based on an investigation covering many months, and it declares that federal action is necessary to obtain effective regulation and to avoid unfair and wasteful practices with the consequent effect on prices.

No steps have been taken by the British dominions to present the proposal to the State department. This is partly due to the brief tenure of the present administration. The only exchanges have been with Republican senators known to be in close sympathy with the Harding administration.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and Republican leader of the senate, in a speech several weeks ago in Philadelphia, made one brief reference to the Japanese problem. The paragraph suggested a union of the British dominions with the United States in dealing with Japanese immigration and land ownership, a copy of which Mr. Lodge said, found its way into the British embassy here in an astonishingly short time. Because of the Anglo-Japanese alliance there was nothing official which the embassy could do.

But a high official of the government of Australia did not feel so hampered. Moreover, he knew well that the feeling in New Zealand and Canada was precisely similar to that in Australia and the United States. So he wrote to Mr. Lodge commending the suggestion of a league of English speaking nations whose boundaries touch the Pacific.

Mr. Lodge has since consulted many of his colleagues and approval of his idea has been very general.

Women Demand the End of Militarism

who stand for peace and disarmament.

"Away with armaments; away with them now, while all the horrors and mistakes of the World war are still fresh. Now is the time for action. Now is the time for disarmament."

"We women of the United States demand that the billions congress proposed to spend in army and navy and military training shall be spent for human betterment; for food, for health, for education; for eradicating fear, prejudice and hate, the basic causes of war."

Alleging that out of every $100 spent by the national government $92 is used for war, Mrs. Russell declared it is "criminal lunacy to appropriate $92 per cent of the total revenues for destructive purposes and only 8 per cent for all constructive purposes."

Tax Revision Likely in Next Congress

ed from taxation under existing laws.
 5.—New excise taxes and increases in the tax on such articles as tobacco.
 There will be no refunding operations during the coming year. Congress will make evident its determination that the burden of the war debt shall be passed along to future generations and that the floating debt shall not be retired from the proceeds of taxation as rapidly as contemplated by the Treasury department, simply by keeping the revenues down to so low a point that no funds will be available for this purpose.

Extensive refunding operations will be undertaken in 1923, when the Victory notes mature, the Republican program being to extend the payment of the war debt over a period of from 40 to 60 years instead of paying it up in 25 years as contemplated by the Treasury department.

The belief that the substitute for the excess profits tax will be a flat tax on net earnings of corporations plus a moderate tax on undistributed earnings is gaining strength among influential members of the committee.

Public Markets For All the Large Cities

for auction marketing of food products. The commission says that "the needed reforms can hardly be expected to be accomplished by the initiative of the dealers," and asserts that state and municipal authorities lack adequate power to effectively regulate the handling of the food supplies.

The Kitchen Cabinet

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)
 Dr. Johnson was as constitutionally prone to melancholy as any man who ever lived, yet he said: "Man's being in good or bad humor depends very much upon his own will. The habit of looking on the bright side of things," he added, "is worth more than a thousand pounds a year."

MEALS FOR THE CHILDREN.

There is much on the grownups' tables which should never be given to children and the custom of having them served away from the temptation of such food is followed in most families.

The mother who takes time to study her child will in her general reading and conversation with other mothers learn many attractive ways of serving the common foods that are included in her children's diet.

Any ripe fruit or dried stewed fruit, mashed until fine and stirred through cereal such as oatmeal, cream of wheat rice or corn meal well cooked will make a pleasant change from the ordinary serving of cereal.

A different arrangement of the food, a new dish, a garnish of some well-liked food will often be an appetizer for a flagging appetite. Our stockmen tell us that the young animal should never stop growing and they see to it that they don't, for it means an increase in profits. How much more important is it that the little human animal be fed so that there may be no weak places in the body structure to appear in later life?

Some day our states will look after the feeding of our children who are to do the world's work, with as much expenditure of funds and energy as they do now on the stock, valuable as that is.

Bread and butter grows monotonous but when sprinkled with a bit of bright jelly, it is seldom refused.

Baked apples, baked pears, baked bananas, as well as baked potatoes, are all good food.

Other suggestions are—eggs carefully scrambled with milk or baked with cream and bread crumbs until just set.

Plain bread and butter cut in fancy shapes with cookie cutters and garnished in various ways.

Baked custards, flavored with caramel, tapioca with apple, rice with dates.

The yolk of a hard cooked egg, mashed and mixed with plenty of butter, spread on a slice of buttered bread, makes a most nourishing sandwich.

Plenty of good fresh apples, scraped for a young child, and for the older ones well masticated, will keep them in good health.

The budget plan is a sort of blue print of what one proposes to do with the funds at command. The builder can do his work properly only with suitable plans before him. The difference between the structure erected with a plan and that erected without one is great. The difference between the results of an income administered according to system and those spent at random is one of just about the same degree. To attempt to work without a well-formulated plan, means a haphazard and unsatisfactory result.

GOOD THINGS IN SEASON.

Sour cream is so delicious in cakes, biscuits, muffins and cookies, that not one bit should ever go to waste.

Sour Cream Cake.—Sift together two and one-fourth cups of flour with two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg. Add one and one-fourth cups of sugar, one-half cupful of nuts, and one cupful of chopped and floured raisins. Stir into one cupful of thick sour cream one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in one table-spoonful of water. Add to this one-fourth of a cupful of softened butter and stir until well mixed. Combine the flour and other dry ingredients with the cream and butter; beat together and bake in a paper-lined loaf tin. One or two eggs may be added if eggs are plentiful, making the cake richer. A cake using milk may be made with sour cream, using the cream as a substitute for the milk and counting the cream as equal to one-third cupful of shortening.

Scotch Soup With Prunes.—Cut into bits one pound and a half of veal and three ounces of bacon. Put into a soup kettle with one large onion, three ounces of butter, one tablespoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and one or two peppercorns. Cook until the veal is browned, add three pints of water and one and one-half dozen prunes and cook slowly for one hour. Strain, thicken with flour and serve with whipped cream.

Potatoes in Bacon.—Peel good sized potatoes and cook in boiling water for fifteen minutes. Remove from the oven and wrap each potato in a slice of bacon, fastening with a toothpick. Place in the oven and cook until the bacon is well cooked.

BARK OF TREE NOT WOOD

Scientist Corrects an Impression Which Has Long Been More or Less Widely Held.

Bark on trees and shrubs corresponds with the skin on animals. But it isn't wood, according to one scientist, and it isn't formed as wood is formed. It covers the wood, and it is generally an easy matter to separate the bark from the wood. Hemp and jute and flax are all bark—the outside covering of certain vegetable growths. Bark is composed of three layers of tissue. The inside layer conducts food to the plant, and under a magnifying glass is seen to be made up of tiny fibers. Then there is the "green zone," as it is called, and this also is fibrous and helps feed the plant. The outside layer is cork, and is really dead. That is, these cork cells develop and die immediately, so one really sees only a dead tree when he looks at the bark. The cork of commerce is the bark of a certain kind of tropical tree, but the outer layer of bark of all trees is technically known as cork, and the little cells going to make it up are called cork.

Knew His Destination.

A man who could be scathingly witty himself once met more than his match in one of the Roman Catholic priests. "Reverend father, I wish you were St. Peter."
 "And why?"
 "Because, reverend father, in that case you would have the keys to heaven, and could let me in."
 "By my honor and conscience," retorted the divine, "it would be better for you that I had the keys of the other place, for then I could let you out."—Exchange.

Why He Stayed.

Lieutenant Governor Channing Cor of Massachusetts, discussing the high cost of living in France, said the other day:
 "In Paris, you know, a good pair shoes fetched $50, and a good about as much."
 "Well, a young lawyer started brief vacation trip to Paris in and he long overstayd his tim his return in late September a who knew he was none too flus to him:
 "Why did you remain so Paris, Jim?"
 "My friends kept me there," J. answered.
 "Your friends? Why, Jim, I didn't know you had any friends in Paris."
 "I haven't. My friends are all in Oshkosh, and they refused to lend me any money."

Papa Missed Her, Too.

Priscilla had been to school a few days for the first time in her life when she met a friend on the street one day, who inquired about how she was getting along.
 "Mamma does not like to have me go very well," she said, "because she misses me at home."
 "But what does your papa say about it?" inquired the friend.
 "Oh, he is kind of uneasy in his mind, too," answered Priscilla.

The Artful Fabulist.

"Do you expect people to believe all this tummyrot about dumb animals engaging in intelligent conversation?"
 "No," replied Aesop. "But you can't get people interested when you offer to tell them simple facts. The only way to secure their sincere and undivided attention is to make believe you are going to tell 'em a whopper."

If the proposal to humanely kill all incurably insane persons is adopted, the country would soon be rid of the Bolsheviks, anarchists and other radical socialists.

Statistics show, that during the year 1920, there were 6000 suicides in the United States, or 1,000 more than the year previous. Of that number, 2604 were women and 907 children. It is the largest number of children ever recorded, nearly double any previous year.

Confiscation of every drop of liquor in the United States, irrespective of when or how it was gotten, is proposed by the Prohibition advocates in congress. This would legalize the seizure of all liquors held in private cellars, vaults, warehouses or wherever it might be held. A good idea. Why not get rid of the stuff at once. Round up every gallon and denaturize or destroy it.

During the administration of Oscar B. Colquitt, James E. Ferguson and W. P. Hobby, a total of 8,227 pardons were granted. During the Colquitt administration of four years 2,696 were granted. James E. Ferguson served as governor two and three-fourths years. He granted 2,771. W. P. Hobby granted 2,880 pardons and his administration covered a period of three and one-fourth years. The easy way Texas has of dealing with criminals has encouraged crime, and we are now suffering a wave of crime, caused by weak kneed juries failing to convict or assessing suspended sentences, higher courts reversing cases on hair-splitting technicalities and by pardons by the governor. The way to suppress crime and discourage criminals is for the law to severely punish those who break the law.

Plainview Celery Attracting Attention
 The Farm & Ranch of Feb. 12, published a picture of three fine stalks of celery, with the following comment: "From the Plainview Nursery Co. comes the celery from which the above picture was made. It is not so many years back, as time is reckoned since the section in which the beautiful and prosperous city of Plainview is situated was only considered fit for grazing cattle."
 "However, the Plainview Nursery Company and many others have provided progressive people, the kind that mostly inhabit Hale county, can grow almost anything they wish to consume, or can sell it at a profit."
 "The celery illustrated above compares favorably with the best on the Dallas market. It is a wonderful section of the great State of Texas, and its people are even more wonderful than the rich soil and fine climate."

Foster's Weather Bulletin
 Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—During early part of week centering on Feb. 17 a warm wave will come out of Alaska into the northern Pacific slope and gradually spread southeastward till it covers all the country between meridian 90 and the Pacific ocean. It will drift eastward crossing continent in four or five days. Storm wave will follow about one day behind warm wave and cool wave about one day behind storm wave. This will not be an important storm. Generally good weather will prevail; not much precipitation; no great extremes of temperatures; good crop weather for winter grain. Precipitation will be located about as past three months.

During early part of the week centering on Feb. 24 a warm wave will cover the northern Rockies and Pacific slope of western Canada. It will move southeastward into America and cover all the country west of meridian 90, drifting eastward to the Atlantic in about four days. The usual storm will follow and then the cool wave. This will not be a great storm but of more force and importance than the first wave mentioned. It will be second in importance to the storm will be about normal or near the general average of February for past years. Its crop weather will average fair and for the month better than usual. The precipitation will continue to be in about the same places as for the past two months. An important change of rainfall is expected early in April and that change will terminate the 1921 crops.

The general outlook for 1921 crops is, at least fair, but some large sections will have had crop weather after middle of April.

TULIA

Feb. 12.—Miss Elizabeth and Mr. John Lain were united in marriage Monday February 7th, at the Methodist parsonage.

Miss Verda Raymond gave a shower last Saturday in honor of her chum Mrs. W. L. McCallum (nee Sylvia George) who married a few days ago. L. H. Suggs of Plainview, was in Tulia Thursday looking after his insurance business.

The Missionary Society of First Christian church met in the new parsonage. They have completely re-organized their society and all feel that there are great things ahead for them here in Tulia.

Miss Louise E. Porter and Mr. Ernest J. Mangum were happily united in marriage Saturday, Feb. 5th, at the Baptist parsonage, Rev. Gordon Barrett officiating. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Porter.

The members of the First Christian church of Tulia have recently completed a neat parsonage on the lots just north of their church building. Rev. J. W. Archer, the pastor, accompanied by his wife and baby, arrived Tuesday and are now comfortably domiciled in their new home.

At a recent meeting of Tulia Camp, Woodmen of the World, J. R. Ward was elected as this camp's delegate to attend the protest meeting to be held in Fort Worth on Tuesday, February 15. At a subsequent meeting Mr. Ward and Consul Commander J. O. Bass were elected as delegates to attend the meeting of the Head Camp W. O. W. in Houston.—Herald.

Cold Check Givers to Jail

County Attorney A. P. McKinnon swooped down on the cold check artists Thursday and filed between 15 and 25 complaints. The list of indictments will reach 50. Mr. McKinnon says the penalty where checks are paid will be ten days in jail and $25.00 fine. Where checks are not paid it will be six months in jail.

Several men, between 6 and 10 are now in the county jail at Floydada on 10 and 6 months sentences.

There will be at least 25 Lockney boys and boys in jail before Monday night.

You givers of checks had better jump in the wind and pay these checks. The business men of Lockney are determined to stop this cold check habit.—Lockney Beacon.

Silverton Wants Plainview Road

The editor of the Lockney Beacon got on his ears last week because of the proposed Plainview-Silverton highway. He sarcastically remarked, "A few weeks ago the Plainview paper ran a bunch of bull about an electric road connecting Plainview with Silverton, this 'blew up.' Now it is a highway." Then with much lamentation, he exclaims, "Plainview is after Lockney's trade territory." But he winds up his tirade with the consolation to himself that our plans will be defeated, because, as he puts it "Tulia will hardly be made a cat paw to pull Plainview's hot chestnut out of the fire."

It is strange that our neighbor would have such a spell as his. In the first place let it be known that we desire this road more than Plainview. We are isolated from the rest of the world unless we can have an outlet for our products and at the same time have a common point from which we may draw our wholesale goods. Plainview fulfills both of these conditions. It is true that Tulia and Lockney are willing to be our shipping points and gladly do they take out trade when opportunity affords, but neither furnishes us a point from which to get our wholesale products.

Lockney has never made an effort to help Silverton with a highway; she has been for Lockney alone. On the contrary, Plainview has been working for the past several years to get in touch with the railroad. We understand that their plans have not been altogether altruistic, never-the-less she has worked for a railroad, for an electric road, for a highway; and because that neither has become a reality up to this time is no reason why that one or more may not become one later.

We are going to have a railroad some of these days and if Lockney loses nothing but set back and howl, our road is not likely to run that way. If Lockney really desires let her change and take up boosting.

Last year Tulia shipped more grain than any town between Amarillo and Lubbock all because she got most of her grain from Silverton territory. When Silverton gets her railroad, Tulia's and Lockney's grain shipments are certain to fall off a large percentage.

We are not Lockney's trade territory, nor never shall be. Last year she paid on an average 10 cents under other towns around us, and there

Miss Sadye Earle has remained there for several days, and will return tomorrow, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Oberthier, who will be her guest.

J. J. Caudle has begun the erection of a residence in Hale Center, which he and his family will occupy.

YOUNG WIDOW KILLS HALL COUNTY MAN

Floyd Barnham Shot to Death at Memphis by Bernice Vallance Plaska, Postmistress

Memphis, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Bernice Vallance, pretty young widow, postmistress at Plaska, twelve miles southwest of here, shot and almost instantly killed Floyd Barnham, a farm laborer twenty-three years of age, on the main street in Memphis today at noon, following a few words between them.

The woman was arrested and placed under guard pending preliminary hearing. The body of the dead man will be shipped to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Barnham of Caddo Mills, Texas.

It is alleged that young Barnham had on his person at the time he was killed a license authorizing his marriage to a young lady in a community near the one in which he has been living. Plaska post office was the center of this community, and it is said that Barnham had spent much of his time in the company of Mrs. Vallance.

The man now dead arrived in Memphis a little before noon today and soon thereafter, the meeting between him and the Plaska postmistress occurred with the tragic termination already mentioned. The facts of the fatal shooting were communicated to the bride-to-be, whose wedding was scheduled for Sunday, and it is learned that she collapsed.

But few statements are accredited to Mrs. Vallance following the shooting, the chief among them according to allegations: "My life has been ruined," sobbed out, in the presence of officers and hastily assembled citizens.

Both of the young people have lived in Hall county several years and each has a liberal number of friends. Mrs. Vallance, as a bride, came to this section from some point farther east in the state. Later her husband died since which time she has resided with his relatives and had charge of the community post office.

She has since been released on $7,000 bond.

PLAN SUBMITTED TO LIQUIDATE GERMAN INDEMNITY

Senator France Would Have United States Take Over German Cables and Colonies

Senator France of Maryland, introduced in the senate Thursday a resolution dealing with the settlement of the question of the amount of indemnities Germany shall pay the allies that will create a decided commotion among the statesmen of England and France—particularly England.

Briefly stated, the resolution provides that the United States shall purchase of Germany the four German submarine cables which cover the world, and her important colonies in Africa and elsewhere for $5,000,000,000; and to provide for a normal conference between the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan to arrange for the settlement of war debts to this country, and a reduction of the German indemnity will be proposed. The resolution would authorize the president to lay before them the plan. Senator France has formulated. This plan would:

1. Fix the German indemnity at $15,000,000,000 and provide for its payment with interest at the rate of 1% on $1,000,000,000 a year for 28 years.
2. Extend credit of $5,000,000,000 to Germany to be applied against the indemnity for the German colonies in Africa, her cables and other important possessions which were surrendered to the allies.
3. Permit the purchase of coloring and cables by the United States for a similar amount, which would be credited against the allied obligations to this country.

In this plan, which would also provide for the extension of further credits to European Nations for their rehabilitation, Senator France believes he has worked out a satisfactory method for the liquidation of the enormous debts owing the United States and the adjustment of the $5,000,000,000 Germany indemnity, which he says she can never hope to pay.

If the Allied Governments should oppose the plan and the conference fail, the Senator has provided in his resolution that the president shall act to obtain the prompt settlement of the principal and interest of their debts to the United States. Pending the settlement he shall "request factory and sufficient collateral." At present the American government holds no security for the obligations due it other than the I. O. U. of the debtor Nations.

In regard to the German indemnity, would authorize the president to purchase the principal allied and associated powers the immediate necessity for fixing the indemnity sum at such an amount as can be met by Germany without undue strain and disturbance of the international and trade arrangements, and to recommend that such an indemnity should be placed at $15,000,000,000 on one billion in gold a year for 28 years.

The German possessions for which the German government would be allowed a $5,000,000,000 credit, include the colonies in Africa, the Samoan Islands, the Pacific Islands and the important cable station on them.

PIONEER RAILROAD OFFICIAL TALKS ON THE PANHANDLE

Avery Turner, pioneer railroad official, has written the following sketch on the Amarillo country:

Texas is so big that it seems most appropriate to call the North Plains the "Panhandle," although it is nearly 200 miles square and includes forty-five counties, those of the western tier being of double size along the New Mexico line.

If it was attached to any other state it would be too big to call the Panhandle, as the handle would overshadow the pan.

Only thirty-five years ago it was the "Llano Estacado," because the Comanches drove a few stakes to indicate the trail so little used from the lower plains to their headquarters in the Yellow House Canyon, or "Casa Amarillo," the Yellow House.

During the past year we saw the chambers of commerce, congress and the interstate commerce commission, the most powerful transportation organization in the world, make strenuous effort to get cars to move the wheat crop out of the Panhandle.

In boyhood I hunted the buffalo when the Indian was not hunting me.

A few years later this country was fenced in great pastures, often including several counties like the Capital syndicate with over 3,000,000 acres; The White Deer, 600,000 acres, the Matador, L. X. and many others.

The sole industry was the cattle business. Young cattle moved from the southern plains to the Panhandle and the open ranges were closed.

Control of the vast territory was made possible by the invention of barbed wire.

Barbed wire was invented by J. F. Glidden who was in partnership with H. B. Sanborn years ago, when the townsite of Amarillo was laid out. Later they fenced the Fryer Pan ranch with it and the same wire still marks the holdings included in the ranch.

Much of the development is due to the purchase of vast acreage granted by the State of Texas to the struggling railroads for the building of lines in Central and Southern Texas, also by the grants of four leagues of land to a great many of the 252 counties for school funds. The railroads surveyed the lands and when they got possession were unable to keep them, as they needed the money. They sold them for what ever they would bring, $1.25 being a good sale because there was so much land that it was cheap. One syndicate paid 65 cents an acre, and for at least five years very much regretted the purchase.

There were very few men that had the foresight to see the agricultural possibilities of the Panhandle, but farming was an experiment that self-interest earned a profit and the most venturesome did not know how to acquire themselves with the unusual soil and climatic conditions, therefore made failures.

In the year 1888 there were good wheat crops in several counties, but dry years following convinced the farmers that wheat was a doubtful crop. In the next ten years, however, they began to see a better chance to make a crop and by 1895 they learned that by summer fallowing the end, wheat, oats, emmer and barley could be grown safely and now wheat is a staple crop in at least twenty counties.

Twentyfive years ago we knew little of the value of kaffir corn, its maize and sorghum, and when better prices were paid as outside markets learned the value of these grains, crops began to be profitable and in recent years the farmers combine the growing of wheat and row crops with livestock, and feeds the row crop to his own cattle and hogs.

Many combine dairy products of cream and butter with poultry as a side issue. This class of farmer is always successful.

Many counties like Gray, Carson, Armstrong and Potter have about one-fourth cultivation, but large acreage is still in pasture, the grass values being greatly enhanced in late years. The climatic conditions and general climatic conditions make it advisable to use proper methods of cultivation, but whenever a stock farmer has used reasonable effort and thrift he has been successful.

Smooth Check Artists Caught

A couple of young men from Hereford in a Ford car one day recently and purchased a 25-20 rifle and ammunition from the C. O. Lee Hardware giving a check on the Amarillo National Bank in payment. Then they drove west.

The check came back and Sheriff Purcell immediately worked the wires and got on the westward trail of the rascals. The sheriff states that another check for $7.50 was passed out at Bovina for gasoline and other things. At Bovina the Maddox Hardware Company received a check for $25.00 for a Colts automatic, and at Elida, N. M. they acquired possession of another automatic 30-30 rifle in exchange for a $61.50 check.

Sheriff Purcell came up with them at a little town of Kenna, N. M. and sided by the sheriff at Portales apprehended them. It was then ascertained that the men started from Omaha, Neb., in an alleged stolen Jordan coaster, which they traded off at Winona, Texas, for the Ford, resolving the difference. They secured a shotgun and ammunition in exchange for a check on an Oklahoma bank.

Sheriff Purcell states that their method was to secure blank checks in the various towns they passed through and use them down the line, with dif-

CHURCHES

Services at Baptist Church

There were 491 in Sunday school and enthusiasm ran high last Sunday. The Bible class with R. B. C. Howell as teacher, had 75 in attendance and Mrs. McDonald had 50 young women in her class. The pastor and superintendent are elated over the large attendance and the good work being done in the Sunday school.

The pastor preached at 11 a. m. on "The Bible Doctrine of Christian Giving," and at 7 p. m. to a great audience on "The Perils and Possibilities of Young Womanhood."

I am sure that no large body of young men ever assembled in a Plainview church than were present in this service. Mrs. S. W. Smith gave a vocal solo and Messrs. Rice and Clement a vocal duet at the morning hour. Mr. Stockton and Mrs. Watson sang at the night service and Mr. Jackson gave a violin number. There were three additions during the day. The pastor will preach both hours next Sunday on vital themes. Special music will be arranged and you are cordially invited.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Siefert Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."

—Mrs. SALLIE SIEFERT, 313 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa. The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siefert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Feel All Worn Out?

Has a cold, grip, or other infectious disease sapped your strength? Do you suffer backache, lack ambition, feel dull and depressed? Look to your kidneys! Physicians agree that kidney trouble often results from infectious disease. Too often the kidneys are neglected because the sufferer doesn't realize they have broken down under the strain of filtering disease-created poisons from the blood. If your back is bad, your kidneys act irregularly, and you feel all run-down, use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Ask your neighbor!

A Texas Case G. B. Duke, proprietor of blacksmith shop, Del Rio, Tex., says: "I had a dull pain in my back and I felt tired and worn out. My kidneys acted irregularly and I had to get up often at night. The kidney secretions were highly colored. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills, so I used them. Doan's soon regulated my kidneys and cured my backache." Get Doan's at Any Store, 60c a Box DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Uncle Sam: Bandmaster

Photos by Service Photographic Co.

By FRANK J. WEBER. Band Leader, United States Army; Lately of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

UNCLE SAM has determined to make life in every one of his 140 bands in the United States army as pleasant and profitable as is humanly possible. Hereafter, according to an announcement by Maj. Gen. P. C. Harris, the Adjutant General of the Army, a man may enlist to study music who has had no musical training, whatsoever. Army-trained bandmen find so many opportunities in civil life today that the regiments have great difficulty in keeping their men, once they have become finished musicians and have had their temperament well ordered and disciplined by their army experience. A tremendous demand exists for their services in factories and industrial plants, where easy jobs at good pay are waiting for army musicians. There they are immediately assigned to the band, now an important part in welfare work among large corporations.

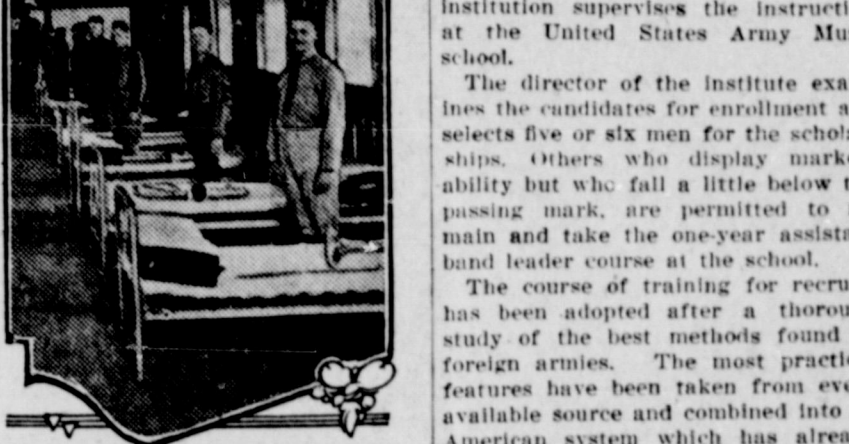

Today the army will take any man and teach him, the instrument to which he is best adapted, or the one which he may desire. The young fellow who yearns to learn march music and jazz, will be sent to the Seventh Recruit Depot band, Columbus barracks, Ohio, where preparations are now being made to train two hundred musicians for the army, under my direction.

I may say that here the road to a finished musical education lies open to any man with musical training, talent, temperament, or aspiration. For the finished musician there is the probable opportunity that he will be able some time to organize and conduct his own band—the goal that beckons every bandman who has the truly musical spirit.

To those men whose training is incomplete, or whose main quality is musical talent and a desire to develop it, the army holds out inducements that cannot be approached in civil life. These men may be accepted for enlistment in any fighting branch of the army they desire. They come to the Columbus recruit depot for enlistment, and here they are immediately tested as to their musical ability or capacity to receive instruction.

SCREENED FOR MUSICIANS, COLUMBUS BARRACKS

STUDENTS' SQUAD ROOM

If the recruit has sufficient training he is immediately reported for assignment to an army band, where his instruction continues in the higher grades of music. If he is found insufficiently schooled for immediate assignment, but has a musical temperament susceptible of training, he will be placed with the recruit depot band for instruction. In either case he receives regular, systematic training as an instrumentalist and in band routine, and gains musical experience such as is difficult to obtain in any organization outside the army. The educational feature is not confined to our recruit depot bands, but is continued in all army bands.

To men with special qualifications, who can pass the required examination, an added inducement is held out—a two-year course at the United States Army Music school. Any bandman in his second enlistment may become a candidate for the free scholarship at the Institute of Musical Art of New York city. This

Army Life a "Business" With the "Indian Heads" Division

In the nation-wide drive the War department is now making to recruit to full strength the famous Second division—the "Indian Heads," on duty at Camp Travis, San Antonio, Tex.—the regulars have not forgotten their duties toward the national guard. The army takes the position that if a man cannot join Uncle Sam's troops he ought to be a guardsman. Brig. Gen. J. M. Carter, chief of the militia bureau, is the connecting link between the regulars and the national guard and the army's foremost authority on the citizen soldier.

The main purpose of the National Guard is to teach part of the rules and plays of the military game, to keep organization equipped, and to carry men part way along the standard training program so that they can soon be made ready for unlimited service in time of national emergency. Gives Local Protection. The guard also has another function; it provides local protection. It is a safeguard against outbreaks of violence and disorder. It stands back of the municipal, the county and the state authorities. Without taking sides in disputes it stands for the enforcement of law. To receive this abbreviated course of military training, the National Guard wants earnest, hard-working men who have jobs and are busy, but who are willing to take from their recreation hours enough time to meet their obligations as to drills, the usual

Walnuts Valuable Food

Walnuts, the scientists claim, are not only a substantial article of food, but they are an excellent substitute for meat. Walnuts contain far less water than either potatoes, beefsteak, or wheat flour, while the percentage of protein and fat is far in excess. There is only just over one per cent of fat in wheat flour and 18.5 in beefsteak as compared with 64.5 per cent in walnuts. California is one of the great growing grounds for walnuts at present, the industry increasing its wealth to the extent of more than $15,000,000 a year. The California walnut industry was started by a band of British farmers some years ago, who introduced the common English walnut into that part of the world. How to Recognize Real Mahogany. Risky Raids Are Bloodless

Stills Are Destroyed in the Mountains of Kentucky Without a Casualty.

INTERESTING STORY

Though Numerous Shots Were Fired by Revenue Men and Mountaineers, Not a Death Is Reported—Chase Leads to Stills.

Lexington, Ky.—Raids upon moonshine stills in the mountains of Kentucky have become bloodless, according to government agents who recently conducted one of the most important raids made in years.

Whether the "shooting eye" of the mountaineer or the secret service agent has become dimmed or whether the desire for less killing has reached into the far mountain recesses is a disputed point, but the fact remains that 12 revenue agents raided and destroyed eight large stills in Whitley county, fired numerous shots and were fired at numerous times, but, so far as is known, not a casualty was recorded.

Standing in clumps of sparse shrubbery on the top of knobs along Laurel Fork, in Whitley county, sentries posted apparently by moonshiners watched the operations of federal prohibition officers during the recent sensational raid in the "South American" section of Whitley county, according to members of the party. The raiders from the office of Chief Field Deputy U. G. McFarland were reticent about the battle reported to have raged about the stills. "There wasn't a thing in it," they were unanimous in saying. "We just went in there and destroyed eight stills. There were a lot of shots fired, but how many of them were fired at us we don't know. That was all there was to it."

Number of Shots Fired.

The raiders from the local office were Steven Cornet and Charles Winfrey, who were the leaders of the raid; J. H. Reynolds and Joe Cavanaugh. They were accompanied by Sheriff Renfro of Whitley county and seven deputies.

Steve Cornet, after some persuasion, told of the raid. "We left Williamsburg on the morning of December 3 and went via Holden, Tenn., the nearest railroad point, into the section of Whitley county, known to the natives as 'South America,'" he said. "We hunted there for stills in the hollows of Laurel Fork and Olean Fork, sources of the Cumberland river. We destroyed eight stills in all."

"The first still destroyed was one owned by DeWitt Gibson. We arrested the three Gibson boys without any trouble. They were at their home. The next still we believe belonged to a man named Williams. The next two destroyed were owned by persons whose names we could not ascertain. The trouble the first day, although a number of shots were fired, was not serious. I could not say how many shots were fired at us, but possibly, they were significant in the countryside that we were about. We could see the tops of the knobs, and could see the road winding through the banks of Laurel Fork. The scene is the crookedest world. Sometimes it is which way it runs."

"The day we continued the raid, we went to the nearest to any real still. We left an old man and another man to guard a hollow while we went after we left the lineer popped out from behind a tree, fired several shots at the guards with a pistol and ran.

Chase Leads to Stills.

"We gave chase being as we ran. The man fell, but when we searched we could find no trace of him. This led to one of the amusing incidents of the trip. During the chase we found two stills of which we had had no inkling. The man led my party directly to an 80-gallon still, which we destroyed. Another section of the party (we had become divided during the chase) found the second still on the opposite side of the hill from that down which the fugitive ran. We did not find out who owned either still."

"We then went up a hollow, where we found another still. This was a rough hollow, and we had to climb over boulders and hang on to trees to get to the still. We then started in the opposite direction. Two miles down another rough hollow we found the last still destroyed."

"A lot of shots were fired on the second day by both natives and ourselves, but nobody was hurt."

MEXICAN OIL TRADE DOUBLES

Shipments for Year 1920 Expected to Exceed 125,000,000 Barrels.

Mexico City.—Figures showing that all shipments from Mexico doubled since the first of last year have been published by the department of industry and commerce, which records October shipments of 17,301,000 barrels, as against 18,061,289 barrels in January.

These figures are striking in view of the fact that in 1901 Mexico shipped out 10,345 barrels and in 1919, 3,634,000 barrels.

Shipments in 1919 totaled 87,072,954 barrels and there is reason to believe

Ancient 45-Story Stone Flat Building Is Found

Baltimore, Md.—The discovery of a stone "apartment" building 45 stories high and containing 1,000 rooms, believed to have been the home of a now extinct tribe of American Indians, was announced at a meeting of the Archaeological Institute of America at Johns Hopkins university. The "apartment" was uncovered with a group of towns representing an ancient civilization in the midst of the southwestern desert.

It was unearthed by the School of American Research conducted at Santa Fe, N. M., by the institute.

It was described by Edgar L. Hewett, director of the school, at the meeting of the institute held in conjunction with the American Philological association and the Maya society.

that this year's shipments will amount to more than 125,000,000 barrels.

Announcement was made recently that United States petroleum companies have just paid the Mexican government more than 8,000,000 pesos in taxes.

It is estimated that the petroleum industry in Mexico represents a value of $700,000,000 gold.

Costs More to Guard Whisky.

Louisville, Ky.—An authorized increase in the number of warehouse guards from 200 to 300 means that $510,000 will be required to police whisky stored in Kentucky during the coming year. The large expense involved will result in plans to centralize liquor. Withdrawal of 300,000 gallons of whisky from Kentucky warehouses during the first 20 days of December indicated preparations for Yuletide. Internal revenue records show that 1,210,918 gallons of whisky were withdrawn between October 1 and Christmas.

Styles Amaze "Silent Corkey"

Liberated Prisoner Who Has Not Spoken for Ten Years Is Shocked.

FREE AGAIN AFTER 25 YEARS

Finds Many Things That Astonish Him, Particularly Short Skirts and Gauze Stockings—Looks as if They Were on Stills.

Boston.—Free again after 25 years in Charlestown state prison, the last ten of which were spent without uttering a word, P. J. Hanley, otherwise known as "Silent Corkey," declares the things that strike him as most amazing are women's dress, the general refinement of people and the intelligence of the younger generation.

Still unwilling to talk, "Silent Corkey" says these things in writing. After "Corkey" had written the first line he stood up and embellished the observation by pantomime. He pulled the left leg of his blue serge trousers almost up to the knees. Then he pulled both legs together, signifying that skirts are also tight. Finally, he placed both hands on his hips as if the sights shocked him. Then he sat down and wrote:

Where's the Bustle?

"What became of the bustle?" The first thing "Corkey" wanted to do, apparently, was to perforate the report that he went on a silence strike at Charlestown because of some grievance. As to that, "Corkey" Hanley's first observation consisted of two words:

"Paper talk."

Asked to elucidate, the man who had been put away for 25 years wrote this: "It happened in 1910 that I was taking the air in the yard, walking about as all do who are in plant (Cherry Hill), and there was a storm and a terrific wind was blowing. I stood for a while under an old chimney at the side of C. H. (Cherry Hill). Bricks were blown down. My head was cut. (You can see the marks). I became unconscious. I have never been able to speak since that moment. I wish I could. Dr. L. Vernon Briggs (a good man) said I must have received some kind of—I think the word is—concussion."

At the prison it has been said "Corkey" became chronically silent after a fellow prisoner had repeated statements made by "Corkey" and caused him to be punished. "Corkey" wrote that he was all worn out from seeing the sights in New York, where he went on a visit after his release. "The Bowery," he said, "is not what it used to be."

A young woman stenographer thought the visitor should be more specific in his remarks about women's dresses. "Corkey" was willing. This time he wrote:

"When I went away there were no such short dresses, except (on) little girls of ten. And the thin silk stockings you wear—bare."

Then there was more pantomime to describe high heels, and Hanley sat down again and wrote four words more:

"As if on stilts."

He's No Knocker.

But he isn't a knocker. He has been just as much impressed, and very favorably, by the rising generation. He said:

"Young people today appear to be much more intelligent than the young folks of 25 years ago. Their manners are good. They look clean. They've got a go-ahead look that only one in a hundred used to have. This is a great country."

There could be only one or two questions more before Hanley had to run for his train to the suburbs.

"What are you going to do? What kind of a job do you want?"

"Anything—I don't care what. You can see how strong I am; that will help me to lead a straight life. I guess I'm the only man recently discharged over there who did not have a job waiting for him."

A few words of encouragement to the visitor and he was asked:

"Well, how does it feel to be out again and free?" Corkey wrote:

"Just like being born again."

Enjoining the Clock.

Hickman, Ky.—The custodian of the Fulton county courthouse has been instructed by the fiscal court to prevent the town clock from striking. It annoys the court, and the vibrations of the big gong threaten to crack the building.

SWEATERS ADOPT QUIET COLORS

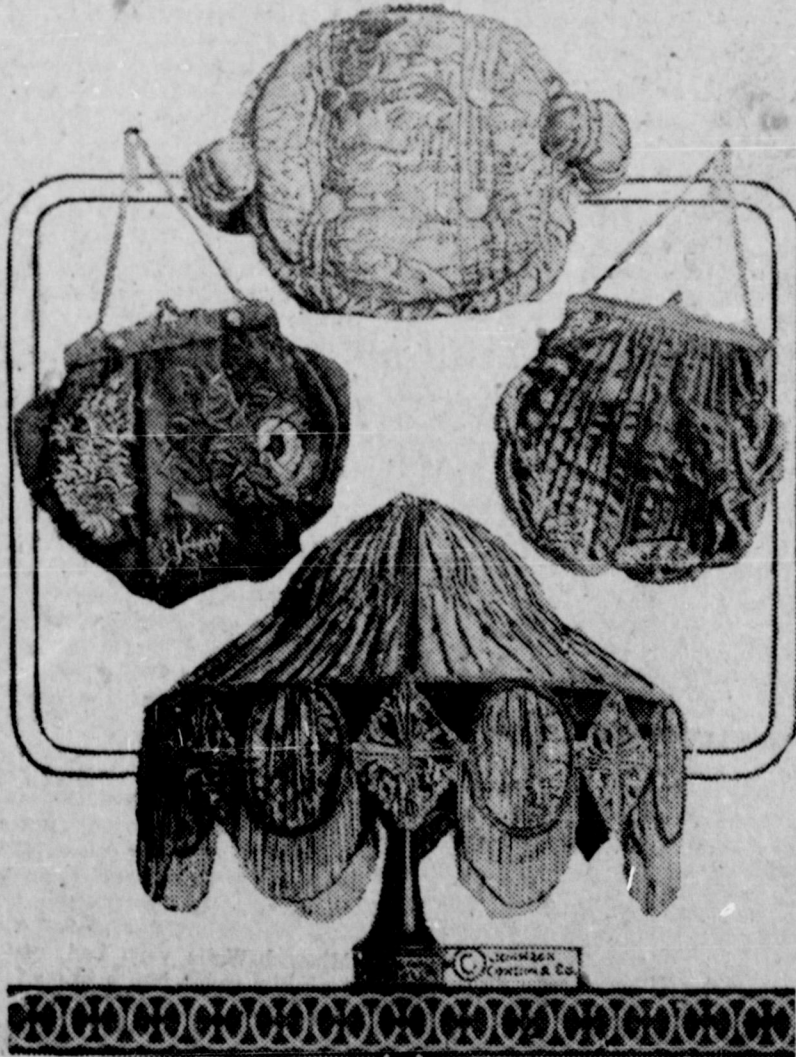

IF THIS were a dustless and smokeless world nearly all gentlemen would probably go clad in white the greater part of the time, for there is nothing that suits them quite so well. In clothes made for wear in those sunny resorts along the clean sands that border the sea we find them fairly reveling in white apparel of every character; and even sport clothes this year have swung away from vivid colors to white, or white with a dash of color thrown in. Such colors as are used are not so vivid as they were, at that.

This trend of the styles toward white and quiet tones is very noticeable in sweaters and sweater coats, where, heretofore there has been abundance of strong color. In the new displays white leads off in the most beautiful of garments and in its company are white and black combinations, followed by white and pale gold, white and emerald green, white and deep beige, white and soft purple.

Where white is not chosen tan, beige and taupe are considered, sometimes in combination with the same livelier colors that are found with white, and often with quieter tones. A typical example of good style in sweaters appears in the knitted coat sweater in tan, shown in the picture, with bands of brown angora finishing the sleeves, facing the front of the garment and forming the collar.

The descendants of the original sweater are many and varied. There is a wide difference between them and their ancestors for the element of style has grown more and more important as these garments become more and more essential in the wardrobe. Style, in fact, counts for more than anything else in those models made of silk yarn, and the most interesting thing about them this season is the marvelous knitting revealed in stitches that are managed with amazing ingenuity.

To Charm the Eyes

A GREAT many of the small ornamental furnishings that give a house its homey flavor are made of silk and satin either in the piece or in ribbons. Ribbons are more conveniently used for small furnishings—as candle and lamp shades, telephone screens, cushions, baskets and the belongings of the dressing table, because of their finished edges and highly ornamental character. Glass foundations covered with ribbon make the loveliest of powder dishes or powder bowls, bonbon dishes and vases.

A few late examples of the ribbon worker's art appear in the picture above, which includes a pillow made of plain and braided ribbons. Lengths of the brocaded pattern are joined with shirrings to form the top and bottom of the covering and a puff of plain satin ribbon extends about the sides. Odd handles are fashioned of the plain ribbon also—offering a new feature in pillows—and four buttons set on the cover are covered with the plain ribbon.

The handsome lamp shade tells its own story, except that the photograph cannot portray the lovely color values and richness of ribbon medallions set about it and finished with chenille fringe. A very wide and soft brocaded ribbon covers the top of the shade in four sections, separated by gold braid.

Two shopping bags are shown, one of black satin in a heavy quality with silk and gold motifs, one of the richest patterns. Ribbons of this kind, and the other of plain and figured ribbon is stitched in narrow tufts for the front and back of the bag for which the figured ribbon provides a series of puffs about the sides. These bags are lined with plain satin.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

MAN GETS $3.13 FOR WOOL OF 100 SHEEP

Claude Farmer Loses $12.87 Besides His Work for An Entire Year On Ranch

Claude, Feb. 12.—J. P. Reek of Claude, has marketed his wool. Since then the Reek children have covered pages of paper figuring how long it will take their father to lose all that he has accomplished by years of hard labor should he continue in the sheep business.

This is the date upon which the children are making their estimates; Mr. Reek fed his sheep high priced feed stuff and cake bought at top market prices all last winter. He turned over one of his best pastures to the sheep and gave them care the whole year through. Recently he hired a Mexican to shear 100 head, the shearer's offer being to do the work at $16 per 100 if he did not have to tie the wool. The Reek children are too thrifty to overlook an opportunity to help out the family interests. They tied the wool and the Mexican left with only $16 to show for his work. 502 pounds were shipped to Kansas City markets and in time a check for $3.13 was received by Mr. Reek. It was his yearly income from his sheep. He says that it will take 80 to 100 bushels of kaffir corn to pay for the Mexican's services without considering any other expenses.

Ira Fleming, a neighbor of Mr. Reek, walks like a millionaire since his wool returns came to him. Last March he paid $20 per head for his sheep, kept them nearly a year at some expense, paid a Mexican $20 to shear 100 head, and received a check for $40.55. His $20.55 resembles frenzied finance when compared to Mr. Reek's $12.87.

Brooks Tells of Highways

G. W. Brooks, who is down at Giddings for a few months, writes to us that he left Plainview Dec. 21 in a car and that the highway from Plainview to Albany via Sweetwater and Abilene was good, but from Albany to Mineral Wells very bad, and that it took him seven hours to go from Mineral Wells to Fort Worth, a distance of thirty-five miles. From Fort Worth to Giddings, via Hillsboro, Waco, Temple, it is well improved and good in places but rough and bad in others. He made the trip of 600 miles in a Ford in five days.

Law and Order

"If organizations seek redress for what they believe to be wrongs suffered by their members, they must invoke the law, rather than strike at society. If no law exists that affords relief, they must appeal to all the people until public opinion expressed at elections, demands and compels the enactment of such a law. If they can not, by argument and reason, convince the majority of all the people that the law they demand is just and wise, then that ultimate tribunal has decided against them; and they must submit until they can persuade the majority to reverse its judgment."—Albert J. Beveridge.

Citation of Appointment of Permanent Guardian

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the sheriff or any constable of Hale county, greeting:
You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in the newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Hale county, a copy of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To all persons interested in the estate of Robert Ferguson and Jimmie Louis Ferguson, minors, M. C. Pipkins has filed in the County Court of Hale county an application for appointment as temporary guardian of the above mentioned minors, which appointment will be made permanent at the March 1921 term of county court if not contested, and which will be heard at the next term of said court, commencing on the first Monday in March A. D. 1921, the same being the 7th day of March, A. D. 1921 at the court house thereof, in Plainview, Texas, at which time all persons interested in said estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court on the said day of the next term thereof this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court at office in Plainview, Texas, this the 7th day of February A. D. 1921,
JO. W. WAYLAND,
Clerk, County Court Hale County, Texas.
