MCBRIDE WAS DRUGGED, AFTER WILD RUN ABANDONED

CAPTURED IN HIS CAR, TAKEN TO UTAH, RETURNS AFTER SIXTEEN DAYS

Amarillo, April 8.—Driving day and night Lloyd McBride, missing since March 23, arrived home yesterday worn from a series of adventures that has nearly wrecked his mind and body.

For nine days McBride's relatives and friends feared him dead during that interval, as to his knowledge of what was taking place he might have been drugged and helpless in the hands of two strangers who were taken north insensible of his surroundings and woke Thursday morning, March 31, to find himself in an unknown country with mountains and canyon walls all about.

The Essex car he had driven was a wreck with the two rear tires torn to pieces, the front springs broken and the oil and gasoline given out. McBride believes this saved his life for his captors, unable to use him further, abandoned him and went on. This return to consciousness in the Utah mountains after going to sleep on the Texas Plains, he described as the most trying experience of his life.

Lying in bed in his home at 1410 Washington street, spent from the vigor of his nightmare McBride told his story of the trip from the time he left Amarillo bound for Perryton until his return at 1:30 yesterday.

"I had crossed the Canadian river going north," he said, "and a short distance beyond overtook two strangers walking. They were well dressed and apparently about 38 years old. I asked them to get in and they did so, both sitting in the front seat with me. 'Later' the men gave me a drink and the next thing I remember was that someone had taken me to a drink and I was trying to stop the car. The rest is a blank from that time until I awoke in Utah."

"You probably have been under ether" he said in describing his feeling on awakening. "or dreamed you were having a dream. It was just like that only it came in waves. High canyon walls were around me and mountains everywhere."

"Upon examining my car I found it was almost torn up with the back tires down and cut to pieces, the front springs broken and the back ones wrenched out of them and the oil and gasoline was out of the car."

"I started for the nearest town, but do not remember its name. Some man carried me into town in another car where I bought repairs and went back. I then drove to Ogden twelve miles away where I wired my father for money."

The wire was relayed to his father who had come to Amarillo and he immediately sent the $150 asked for. Later a wire was sent the sheriff in Ogden to hold the man who called for the money but he had received it and gone when the sheriff got the message. It was feared that McBride had been the object of foul play and some one was using this method to extort money.

He started for home Sunday morning, according to his story, but was delayed by car trouble in Pueblo, Colo., for a day. The rest of the time he literally drove day and night in his efforts to reach Amarillo.

McBride complains of nausea when he attempts to eat and says his first feeling of hunger was in Ogden but he was unable to eat but little.

Overjoyed at the safe return of her husband, Mrs. McBride is nursing him back to health again and last but not least is the little 3-year-old daughter, Alice, whose joyously says, "Daddy has come home."

McBride says he expects to resume his work as a carpenter when he recovers strength.

Big Strike in England

London, April 8.—Great Britain is face to face today with an industrial crisis of unprecedented proportion. The national union of railwaymen and the federation of transport workers decided to strike in support of the miners who have been out all week.

Hope that the miners and owners of the coal pits might meet the governments officials to discuss a means of settling the strike were apparently blasted utterly after noon when it was announced that the miners refused to meet the employers basing their refusal on the fact that the mine owners have accepted the governments proposal for conference on condition that the striking pump men and engineers return to work immediately pending negotiations.

Boxing Match Called Off

The boxing match to have been held in Plainview yesterday between "Battling Bo" Sexton of this place and "Clever Joe" Denton of Lubbock, under the auspices of the American Legion, was not held, as Denton was unable to reduce his weight down to that of Sexton, under the rules.

PLAINVIEW BOYS ARGUE OVER MERITS OF DOGS

Bull Terriers Took Honors Over Rat Terriers in Last Rat-Killing Contests

The relative merits of bull terriers and rat terriers as rodent exterminators is a much discussed topic among the boys of Plainview at present. In the recent rat killing contest here the bull terriers had decidedly the best of the argument. However, the exponents of the rat terriers state that luck was with the bull terrier and that his rats did not make as diligent effort to save their lives as did the rats turned loose for the rat terriers.

The Chamber of Commerce has decided to stage another public rat-killing contest the first Monday in May and the rivalry of dog owners is causing much interest and heavy entries. The contests are part of the program to keep alive the interest among the boys in rat killing.

Frank's Necessity store has offered a 1000-shot air rifle to the boy who brings in the largest number of rat tails dead or alive. The committee also pays 5c bonus for each rat tail.

WHERE SCENERY IS FINE AND RAINBOW TROUT BITE

PLAINVIEW PEOPLE TO ESTABLISH CAMPING GROUNDS IN NEW MEXICO

A committee of Plainview citizens composed of Col. R. P. Smyth, E. H. Perry, W. E. Risser, and possibly others representing the clubs and several lodges will leave Saturday about noon in a car for Las Vegas, N. M., to select camping sites to be secured for their organizations and for the people of Plainview. At Clovis they will be joined by a similar committee of Clovis citizens.

Under the provision of a new federal act, communities and organizations may secure camping sites for permanent use in the U. S. Forest Reserve at the headwaters of the Pecos in the Rocky mountains. This section is known as the "Switzerland of America" and is declared by many Plainview citizens who have visited that section to be equal in scenic beauty to any place in the nation.

Interest in filing for these camps sites was worked up largely by E. H. Perry of Plainview and D. W. Jones secretary of the Clovis Chamber of Commerce.

The F. F. Highway from Fort Worth through Plainview and Clovis to Las Vegas affords a splendid automobile route to the proposed camping grounds.

FIFTEEN CARS HOGS SHIPPED TO CALIFORNIA

There is Great Demand for Plains Hogs on the Pacific Coast

Hassel & Hauck, local hog buyers, yesterday shipped fifteen carloads of hogs to the Cadahy Packing Co. in Los Angeles, Calif.

They shipped seventy-six carloads of hogs to Los Angeles during the month of March, besides a number of carloads to Fort Worth and Wichita, Kans.

Five Clarendon Houses Condemned

Clarendon, April 7.—Five more Clarendon buildings have been condemned by the city authorities as a result of the tornado and fire, and are off as unsafe.

The condemned buildings add considerably to the already heavy loss, but hanging, broken awnings and twisted, unstable walls were considered too great hazard and owners are preparing to move out on order of the fire marshal.

The building that houses the Clarendon News is included in the condemned list.

Are Using Irrigation Wells

As the wheat in the Plainview country is beginning to need rain, the farmers who have irrigation wells are getting them in shape to flood their wheat lands and some are already pumping. This is where irrigation comes in best—as an insurance against rain when it does not come when needed.

Neff Bitterly Played

Sweetwater, Texas, April 7.—Resolutions condemning Governor Neff for vetoing the West Texas A. & M. College bill, were adopted here last night by representatives of scores of West Texas towns and organizations after speakers flayed the executive for his action.

A. G. Hemphill left yesterday for Belton, having received a message saying his mother was very dangerously sick.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOLDS CITY CHARTER IS VALID

FACT THAT THE LEGISLATURE THOUGHT CITY HAD 5,000 IS BINDING

The city council at its meeting Monday night ordered that C. S. Williams, city attorney, make a trip to Austin and interview the attorney general relative to his decision as to the validity of Plainview city charter. Mr. Williams has made the trip and after discussing the proposition with the attorney general got his opinion that the incorporation of Plainview under the more than 5,000 population law is valid, and that all bonds and warrants issued under the charter are legal and valid. The fact that the legislature in 1917 when it enacted the first charter satisfied itself that the town did have 5,000 people was sufficient and could not be gone behind, said that the people by a vote last year adopted the next charter were simply superseding the other charter. However, of course the courts might take a different view of the matter from the attorney general, though any bonds or warrants of the city he may approve are valid.

Williams also found that the city cannot issue bonds drawing more than 5 per cent interest, hence the city is having a hard time floating the $100,000 sewer and water bonds voted Dec. 1.

The council adopted a motion to remit in behalf of the American Legion the city license fees on the carnival to be here next week and permit it to be on the Slaton-Carter block of a street to the depot.

Alva Hooper was elected to membership in the fire department.

PLAINVIEW MAY BUY OLD ARMY BUILDINGS

May Be Able to Get Them for Use for Fair Buildings

The Plainview Board of City Development, with the aid of Representative Marvin Jones at Washington, has secured data on available abandoned airplane hangers and other army buildings suitable for use as exhibit halls and live stock sheds for the new permanent fair grounds here. These hangers are available in various sizes and types and it is thought that a considerable saving can be made by their purchase.

It is reported that an auction will be held soon of the buildings at some of the abandoned aviation fields in Texas, and Plainview will be a bidder. Possibly some of our farmers would like to bid for buildings and use the material to erect barns and sheds. Those interested can see the secretary of the Board of City Development.

FOUR CAR LOADS POULTRY EACH WEEK

Heavy Shipments Chicken and Eggs Being in Much Quantity to Hale County

The produce shipping business out of Plainview has certainly become a very important industry. Each week the Produce Co. each ship out a carload of live poultry and a carload of eggs, and these four carloads, besides shipments made by express, are bringing considerable money into local circulation, even if the prices are low.

Must Have More Taxes

A meeting of the members of the school board and representatives of the mothers and parents clubs of the city was held Wednesday, to devise means to raise more revenue for the Plainview public schools, as this year there will be a deficit of $6,000, and next year not less than $16,000 more will be needed to take care of the interest and sinking fund on the new bond issue, and the other increased expenses.

It is proposed to vote an increased rate for school taxes under the new law.

BAPTISTS PLANNING FOR MODERN CHURCH BUILDING

PASTOR HOPES TO BEGIN ERECTION WITHIN THE COMING YEAR

Rev. Harlan J. Matthews, pastor of the Plainview Baptist church, informs us that he and his congregation are planning to erect a modern church building within the coming year. The church has entirely outgrown its present plant, he says, and in order to take care of any further growth additional and modern facilities must be secured.

He tells us that already the matter has come up before the board and eleven men have said they will pledge $1,000 each toward a new building, if twenty persons would give that amount.

The Baptists are very strong in Plainview and Hale county, and the activities to a great extent center around Wayland college.

CENTRAL TIME FOR PLAINS ON MAY 1ST

New Time Will Be Put in Operation By Railroads On that Date

Sunday morning, May 1st, at 12:01 o'clock, Plainview and the Plains country will be put back into Central Time, passing from Mountain Time, which was put into effect three years ago. All there is to do is run your watches and clocks up one hour, and forget all about Mountain Time.

We have been pleased with Mountain Time, for it permitted five hours work in the morning and four hours in the afternoon, and Central Time will mean four hours work in the morning and five hours in the afternoon, and it is conceded by most everybody that the best work is done of a morning.

AMERICAN LEGION POST ORGANIZE BUGLE CORPS

Eight Bugles and Four Drums—Boys Saw Service in the War as Musicians

Ray Blakemore post American Legion is organizing a bugle and drum corps, of eight bugles and four drums. Already six buglers who saw service as such in the war have become members, and it is not thought that it will be hard to get two more and the drummers.

The bugle corps will furnish music when the Post goes on marches in parades, etc., and will also work in connection with the Shriner patrol, of which several are members.

Dollar Wheat Is Predicted

Wheat dropped another five cents this week, and the price yesterday was $1.30 a bushel.

Grain men predict that the drop will continue, and that we are to see dollar wheat by summer time. In Missouri, says a letter to Grain Inspector Wallace, farmers are contracting wheat for summer delivery at $1, and July wheat is now quoted in Chicago at $1.09 delivered, which means less than $1 for the farmer.

NEFF'S REASONS FOR VETOING WEST TEXAS A. & M. BILL

Pleds Democratic Platform Disapproval and Need of Economy in Starting New Enterprises

Gov. Neff, in vetoing the West Texas A. & M. college bill, gives his reasons for doing so in the following proclamation:

House Bill No. 154 has for its purpose the establishment of an Agricultural and Mechanical College in West Texas. This bill is hereby disapproved and vetoed, for the following reasons:

1st. The advisability of establishing at this time a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college was passed on by the State Democratic executive convention at Fort Worth last September. A resolution recommending that this college be established by the present legislature was rejected by the platform committee and later voted down by the convention. That a Democratic administration should do the thing it was asked not to do by the State Democratic convention, does not seem to me to be the wise and prudent thing to do. In accepting the nomination of this Democratic convention, as governor, I pledged myself to abide its dictates; now to do what it refused to endorse, after full and free discussion, would not only not be right, but such action would be fundamentally wrong. When a political party speaks as to a matter of policy or expediency, the administration created by that party should obey.

2nd. Aside from party instructions this is not the time to lay new foundations for State institutions. We should wait until times are normal and normal. Things are now uncertain and unsettled. Our people are financially hard pressed. The cattle-men are proclaiming a state of semi-bankruptcy, horses are heap, there is no market for sheep, cotton is below the price of production, and the closing of some banks is almost a daily occurrence. We should not now, while every business in the state is standing with its back to the wall, fighting to live, lay the foundations of new institutions. Neither in public nor private business should foundations for new institutions be laid, unless we can see our way clear to complete them. Years ago the state laid foundations for two educational institutions at two different places in Texas, and yet the state has never built on the foundations laid. I sincerely question the wisdom of beginning another similar institution anywhere in Texas, as provided for in this bill, until we are in financial condition to do so, and until times have become normal.

Man Hurt in Auto Accident

Mr. James, who lives west of Finney Switch, was hurt in an auto accident a mile west of that place, Wednesday night, and several stitches were necessary to close a gash in his head.

He and L. J. Halbert were in a car, the latter driving, when they ran into a grain wagon going along the road. In order to miss striking the horses the car was turned, but it sidetracked the wagon and also went through a wire fence, breaking the windshield and tearing off the top. Mr. Halbert nor the man driving the wagon were hurt.

Big Farm Machinery Sales

The local dealers in tractors and harvesting machinery are anticipating a very large volume of business between now and the beginning of the wheat harvest, in fact already there is much activity in their line.

The Perry Motor Co., which handles the Moline line, reports the sale Saturday of two Moline tractors and five binders.

The following are H. A. Halbert's weather predictions for the month of April:

1. Minor period from 1st to 4th, but no rains, probably some clouds.
2. Major period from 9th to 12th, but of little or no importance to our section for rains.
3. Minor period but best for the month and rains can be confidently expected from the 17th to 20th over Texas and adjoining states.
4. Major period from 23rd to 25th with heavy rains along the equator and our chances will depend upon south winds.

Dogs Kill 177 Rats

J. S. Finney of Kress comes forward with the champion rat-killing story of this section. One afternoon last week he took two dogs to the barn of his neighbor, Mr. Sanders, and in the space of just a few minutes they killed 177 rats, besides about twenty little ones. They tore up the floor of the barn and the rats were so thick it seemed like they were almost packed in the holes.

Some Wheat Needing Rain

H. H. Hahlhaus of the South Plains Grain Co. says wheat can hold up ten days or two weeks yet, without hurting. There is a better season in the ground now than there was at this time last year, though the season is possibly two weeks further advanced.

Last year the wheat held up alright and the big rains beginning on May 7th saved it and gave us a bumper crop.

The trail to prosperity leads to the Plainview country.

What East Texas needs most is a good-sized dose of the Golden Rule.

Another reason why some men don't go back to the farm is, their wives won't go.

What we are kicking about is West Texas feeding the cow and East Texas getting all the milk.

Plainview is the "Queen City of the Plains," and has more possibilities than any other town in the Southwest.

President Harding and the editor of this Great Moral Guide of the Plains. Each carries a printer's make-up rule in his pocket.

It would be lots better if the bunch on the corner would quit looking at the hose, and go home and get hoes and get to work in the garden.

Job was a marvel of patience in his day, but he never experienced the supreme test, never having been the editor of a country newspaper.

The Turks are walloping the Greeks in the fighting in the Near East. Its far cry from the Greek soldiers of Phillip and Alexander to the present.

Ex-Emperor Carl should be thankful he was able to get out of Hungary with his head safely anchored to his body. Being a king in Europe "ain't what it used to be."

Speaking of the drop in the prices of cotton and wheat, they haven't any thing on Magnolia oil stock, which since last fall has dropped from $500 to $150 a share.

The meeting of the Panhandle Press association to be held in Amarillo Friday and Saturday of next week will be a humdinger. Every newspaperman and woman in North-West Texas should attend.

Gov. Pat Neff declares he was conscientious in vetoing the West Texas A. & M. bill. We don't say that he was not. But, how about his promise to give West Texas a "square deal"?

There is something radically wrong with the world when a pugilist can make a half-million dollars out of one fight, while we have been running a newspaper for twenty-five years and haven't one-fifth that amount to show for it.

The sentiment for a division of the state is growing rapidly. Of course it will not likely come for quite awhile, but some day it will come, for the state is entirely too large, and the interests of the people are too varied and oftentimes antagonistic to be administered by one central authority.

In discussing the division of the state for goodness sake cut out the sentiment talk about the Alamo, Goliad, San Jacinto, etc. In case the state is divided we would still be Texans and the sentiment relative to the beginnings of the republic would be just as sacred. We are living in 1921, not 1836, and the greatest good to the people of today is our concern.

We cannot understand why congress does not stop all immigration for a term of years. Foreigners are coming into this country by the millions and each one that comes takes a job from somebody already here. Besides, the immigrants should stay in their native lands and help pay the debts and rebuild their countries. It is hoped that the new congress will shut the door.

Rolla J. Parker, vice president and general manager of the Panhandle-Plains lines of the Santa Fe system, died last week. He didn't have any "pull." He begun railroad work at the lowest round of the ladder, and step after step worked his way to the top. The boy who has grit and ability, to do, always goes to the top. The one who doesn't want to work or whines about not having a chance always stays at the bottom.

The Tulsa Herald says farmers should burn their old straw stacks, in order to keep from breeding flies. That is alright at this time, but a better plan would have been to have last winter spread the straw over the fields. The Texas Land & Development Co., of the Plainview country puts its straw back on the land, and its manager informs the editor of the News that it pays them to do so. The straw is good for the land, and besides it catches snow during the winter and thus adds to the moisture.

We are making good prices on Duffolds.—Riley Duff & Co.

Bill Sterrett of the Dallas News is one of the oldest newspapermen in point of service in Texas. In Monday's News he analyzes the "wave" of crime in Texas, and places the blame for not punishing criminals squarely where it belongs—upon the petit juries. He says "we read the daily papers and there is but one conclusion. It is that the juries are wholly to blame. Case after case, is brought before them. The law provides the death penalty. The legislators thought in the enactment of this provision that the executions of criminals of this class would deter others of their kind. The Prosecuting Attorney asks that such penalty be inflicted. The judge charges the law as it is written. The criminal is identified by the men whom he has threatened and alarmed by firearms into giving up his money; by the victim who has been slugged and beaten; by the victim who has been cut by the knife or shot by pistol of defendant. There is no doubt about the guilt of the prisoner, and the jury goes out and, perhaps, sheds a few tears of sympathy for such defendant and assesses his punishment at two to five years in the penitentiary.

"It is a mockery and is bringing all laws enacted for our protection into contempt. And the guilt of it all is in our petit juries. It is not in our lawyers who defend criminals. It is not in our prosecuting attorney. It is not in our judges or our grand juries.

"It is in the petit juries, which may be said is our citizenship." Mr. Sterrett's conclusions very aptly apply to Hale county, for possibly in all Texas there is not a weaker jury service than in our county.

One great reason why Plainview is such a good place to live in is it is a community of home owners. The head of the family owes it to his wife and children to own a home. Any family that wants to own a home can do so. Of course, to own a home means economy, sacrifice and doing without many luxuries while it is being paid for, but of such denials is the better part of live made of. We know, for we have trod the way.

Henry Ford now employs 76,000 men, and his income is $50,000,000 a year. He was a farm boy and then for twenty-five years a hard working mechanic. He worked with his brain and his hands. He thought out a great idea while toiling, which he had the determination to put into effect. The success of Henry Ford should be an inspiration to every American boy.

Every Plainview business man who can possibly do so, should go on the annual trade excursion, which will visit the other towns of the Plains May 10, 11 and 12. Let's make it the biggest one yet.

IN A MINOR STRAIN

One way to guarantee against future war would be to kill everybody now living.

It has lately been proven that no vaches were ever burned in New England. Thus, one by one, are historical events proving to have never happened.

It is argued by a scientist that if Noah had two of each and every living thing in the world, he undoubtedly had a few billions of insects, as there are not less than a half-billion of the six-legged varieties alone.

Anoted authority declares that women do not dress to be seen by men half so much as to outshine the other women.

The editor of the News is going to have a good garden this spring. He has let a neighbor who knows how to farm have the ground to garden on the shares.

Most every traveling man who makes this territory says Plainview is decidedly the best town he visits. Really, now, we believe they tell the truth about it.

The great trouble in "getting even" with the other fellow, is that it costs more than it is worth.

An agent the other day tried to sell us an insurance policy that will pay us $100 a month if totally disabled. Pray, what good will $100 a month do us if we are totally disabled?

Neff's Ears Are Tingling

If there is anything in the old saying that when a person's ears tingle people are talking about him, Gov. Neff's ears are certainly doing so, for his veto of the West Texas A. & M. college bill has stirred up a hornet's nest in West and Northwest Texas, and meetings are being held in many towns and his action denounced, also there is great sentiment for a division of the state being manifested. On the streets it is the paramount matter of discussion. However, Mr. Neff has many supporters even here on the Plains who think he did right, and lots of people concede he was conscientious in the matter.

$103.30 for Ninety-One Hens

A. T. Matsler of the Ellen community brought in ninety-one hens today and sold them at 20c a pound to the Rucker Produce Co., for $103.30. They averaged over five pounds each. That's a pretty good check for that number of hens, and shows that poultry raising is more profitable than possibly any other crop.

The editor of this paper is due an apology to Editor Pope of the Amarillo News for saying in an editorial a few days ago that his argument against dividing the state was "all rot," for nothing that Joe Pope writes is "rot", and it was not becoming to us to say it was. He was simply dead wrong in his argument—at least we think so. When the state is divided we will urge that Joe be elected its first governor, and Frank Jameson state treasurer.

NEFF UNFRIENDLY TO WEST TEXAS

It should be apparent by this time, even to the most ardent friends of Governor Neff, that he is not friendly to the needs of the Panhandle and West Texas. The veto of the bill appropriating $50,000 for the purchase of the West Texas A. & M. college is merely the last of a series of actions which should leave no doubt as to the governor's lack of interest in this section of the state.

In the campaign last year Mr. Neff was opposed by a citizen of West Texas who made the advocacy of a square deal for this section one of the principal planks in his platform. Under pressure from friends in this section of the state, Mr. Neff finally pledged himself to support a program similar to that proposed by Mr. Thomason. The Tribune and many others interested in the development of this section doubted Mr. Neff's sincerity at that time and urged the election of Mr. Thomason.

Mr. Neff's supporters pointed to his pledge to give West Texas and the Panhandle a square deal and argued that his election would mean a redemption of his pledge on this subject. Mr. Neff was elected with that pledge as a part of his platform.

His actions since taking office show that he views the problems of West Texas are very lightly and thus far there is no indication that he proposes to use his influence to give this section what it is entitled to.

The Tribune is not an advocate of the division of the state as a practical proposition but when the government at Austin makes no effort to equalize representation in congress and the legislature and continues to discriminate against this section in the matter of taxation the Tribune cannot fail to sympathize with the sentiments expressed in the mass meeting held recently at Sweetwater when the demand was made that West Texas be given a square deal or steps be taken to divide the state.

It is time citizens of West Texas and the Panhandle take steps to impress these in authority at Austin that justice be done, because it is manifestly impossible to rely on the promise of politicians from the East and Central Texas, as has been seen in the failure of Governor Neff to do what he promised to do in regard to legislation calculated to do justice to this section.

Citizens of the Panhandle and West Texas should demand that Governor Neff submit the matter of re-districting to the special session of the legislature and allow consideration of no other matter until this has been disposed of. The legislature should repeal the appropriation for the West Texas A. & M. college over the veto of Governor Neff. West Texas people should put an end to the policy of weak-kneed vacillation at Austin.—Amarillo Tribune

Crosby County Has Good Rain
 Crosbyton, April 7.—Crosby county was visited Tuesday night by a good rain which fell the most of the night. Prospects are looking good for a bumper wheat crop.

In addition to this there was a pretty stiff wind which carried away a negro tenant house and scattered the contents of the house on the farm of Chesley Smith about eight miles southwest of Crosbyton.

Plainview has established a precedent for coming elections; She has called to service on her school board two excellent ladies—citizens who are deeply interested in the welfare of the young. This is a matter upon which Plainview is to be congratulated. She has acted wisely, and will doubtless experience beneficent results from the venture. Amarillo is also to indulge herself in this same fine distinction, and the work of her school board must unquestionably be of a more intimate and comprehensive character. This is truly a woman's age, and women are participating in affairs formerly believed to be purely and solely within the sphere of men's activities. Those who formerly prated about the weakness of women, are learning that the capacities of the feminine portion of the population are far greater than was supposed, or dreamed, and still the homes are not "broken," or "abandoned", as some of the gloomy forecasters had prognosticated.—Amarillo News.

Protect Your Machinery

Why not make a new rule, you farmers who have been in the habit of leaving your machinery where you last used it? Try hauling it back to the farm yard, and if you haven't shed room, leave it on high ground and covered. At least clean it thoroughly and at your earliest opportunity construct some form of protection. Millions of dollars' worth of farm machinery is destroyed and rusted out because of carelessness and lack of attention. Stop all the leaks in your farm operations and you will narrow the difference between profit and loss.—Farm & Ranch.

PUT DOWN EGGS FOR WINTER WHILE THE PRICES ARE LOW

There is nothing mysterious in the business of egg preserving, and no great labor. Eggs are comparatively cheap this spring, a condition which should encourage thrifty housewives to put down a supply for use next winter when prices will rise again.

Rules for keeping eggs in water glass are given by the United States Department of Agriculture. To be preserved properly eggs should be put into water glasses when absolutely fresh. The eggs should be clean, but it is better not to wash them. Eggs with dirty shells can be used for immediate consumption and the clean eggs preserved. Cracked eggs, or those with thin or weak shells, should never be used for preservation. The cracked eggs will spoil and ruin the other eggs in the jar also.

Water glass can be bought by the quart from the druggist or poultry-supply men. It is a pale yellow, odorless, silupy liquid. It should be diluted in the proportion of 1 part of water glass to 9 parts of water which has been boiled and allowed to cool. Earthenware crocks or jars are best desirable, since they increase the surface, and are not subject to chemical action from the solution. The crock or reams should be calded for perfect cleanliness and allowed to cool before they are used. A 6-gallon container will hold 18 dozen eggs and will require about 22 pints of solution. Too large containers are not desirable, ince they increase the liability of breaking some of the eggs. Half fill the container with the water glass solution, put the eggs in it and add more from day to day as they are obtained, until the container is filled. Be sure the eggs are covered with about 2 inches of water-glass solution. Cover the container and place it in a cool place, where it will not have to be moved. Use wax paper under the cover to keep the jar tight. It should be looked at every 2 or 3 months to see that the water has not evaporated so that the eggs are too near the surface. If there seems to be any danger of this, sufficient cool boiled water should be added to keep them covered.

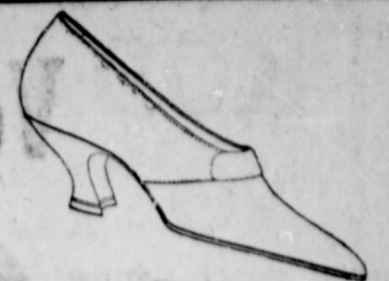

Remove the eggs from the solution as desired for use, and rinse them in clean, cold water. Before boiling such eggs prick a tiny hole in the large end of the shell with a needle, to keep them from cracking. As the eggs age the white becomes thinner and is harder to beat. The yolk membrane becomes more delicate, and it is correspondingly difficult to separate the whites from the yolks.

First Prize: J. H. Longan, Hale Center, $25, guess 57,000 acres.

Second Prize: Tom Davis, Plainview, $10, guess 57,564 acres.

The number of acres plowed, disced, and drilled as shown by returned coupons were 54,457. There were only about 15 per cent of the coupons returned, so the actual work done was greatly in excess of the amount as shown by the returned coupons, however, the prizes had to be awarded upon actual count of returned coupons.

ANCHOR

April 6.—This community was visited by a shower Sunday night, which was appreciated, but we need a good rain before we can do much planting.

The winter wheat is sure looking good. The spring wheat is fine for the season.

Roy Schwantz left for Slaton a few days ago, where he went for employment.

Wm. Walker took a load of cotton to the Plainview gin Friday. The most of the cotton around here was never picked as the prices received for cotton would not pay for the picking; so the farmers disced it under, for other crops. They are and Sudan will be little thought of in these parts this year, as neither have any price.

Northside Square Phone

The tempest which Gov. Neff's veto of the bill creating a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College caused is not a passing flurry of disappointment. It antedates the provision for the West Texas A. & M. some four years ago, and its subsequent veto by legislative action.

West and Northwest Texas have felt for more than a decade that both sections were receiving scant justice at the hands of Austin statesmen. As the money turned in by those sections increased with practically no return, this sense of injustice increased.

For more than a decade redistricting has been urged by West and Northwest Texas, only to be passed over by each succeeding legislature. Nor does it seem likely that Texas will be redistricted this year, even though more than one Northwest Texas legislator is representing four or five times as many constituents as are some of his "down-state" colleagues.

With the most charitable construction placed upon the action of Governor Neff and his predecessors in office, as well as the attitude of the legislature, it is logical to conclude that they regard West and Northwest Texas, as yet, little more than the home of the cowboy and the coyote. Nor have those representatives of the "pee-pul" seen fit to inform themselves as to the error of their conception.

Governor Neff's excuse of "economy" might have more weight were it not that the vetoed proposal provided only $50,000 for the purchase of a site. At the same time the Governor authorized $1,500,000 for the purchase of land upon which to build a greater university.

State papers Sunday carried comment from many places in West Texas, urging the formation of a new state. Sentiment for this is undoubtedly strong—based upon fundamental differences in the two sections, their diverse needs, and a feeling upon the part of the great West and Northwest that it was being deliberately slighted. Governor Neff's veto of the West Texas A. & M. bill will do even more to increase this demand for division than failure to redistrict is doing.—Vernon Record.

"Handwriting on the Wall"

For the first time in the history of the motion picture industry, producers are showing a slight inclination to listen to the demands of decency and are announcing their willingness to release a small number of films which do not depict crime or base their appeal on sex. It is safe to predict that films of the latter character will finally disappear from the theaters of the country. If the producers themselves don't voluntarily bring about this desired end, the public will take a hand and force the reform upon them.

One of the worst of modern crimes was committed when decency gave way to the bizarre, the suggestive and even the obscene, and permitted the industry to fall into the hands of men with perverted ideas on moral questions.

The invention of the cinematograph opened a new field of entertainment and education. No other invention since art of printing became general equals it in its potential power to do good, to entertain and instruct. It is to be regretted that its commercial possibilities appealed to a class of men who have been largely responsible for the lowering of American standards of entertainment in our playhouses and amusement parks.

Producers claim that they have merely provided the class of films demanded by their patrons. Such a claim is unfounded. As a matter of fact, producers have created a demand for the character of films now displayed. Their theaters are crowded with children and young people who have no other place to go and who are having their minds sapped of all the moral lessons absorbed at their mother's knee. Producers do not realize that there are thousands who never enter their places of amusement who would be frequent patrons under more elevating conditions, and that, furthermore, the patrons of today would quickly become interested in plays and scenes of the better kind.

The handwriting is on the wall. The moral forces of the country will insist on respectability and decency in our places of public amusement and entertainment. If those who now control do not heed the warning, then their "blood be upon their own heads." Their places are going to be rid of the filth that has been accumulating for several years. It would be economy for them to do their own housecleaning rather than have the public do it for them.—Farm and Ranch.

The Chicago Board of Trade, which is the greatest grain trading concern in the world, has appropriated a large sum of money to fight the increased use of motor-driven farm machinery and city trucks in the displacement of horses and mules on the farm. It states that evidence proves that in most instances, such displacement is economically unsound, resulting in less reliable, less efficient service, at greater cost. Consumers, grain dealers and grain producers alike suffer from such substitution.

Literature will be sent out showing this to be a fact, and as people read this it is hoped that horses and mules will again come into general use in all zones of city hauling and farm work, where they render efficient and more economical service.

Henke Replies to Gibbs

Friend Adams: I guess there are many things Mr. Gibbs does not fully know. It seems he does not know I have been a reader of the News for nearly five years, and have met Mr. Adams a few times. I sure admire Mr. Adams' honest straight forward and fearless way of getting up a paper.

I think it was not only possible that Mr. Gibbs' article was over drawn, but probably to a greater extent than mine. I know he got the names of the two mailorder houses some what mixed up and I beg to make a correction, the one is "Montcan-be-trusted," the other is "Sears-Honest-Dealers."

I am not a bit uneasy about the merchants boarding up their stores and going to producing crops and eggs, for they are used to making more and more money than that. And if they did then the mail order houses would put up a general store in each village and supply our needs and buy our onions and eggs and leave us enough money that we could feed two preachers where we are almost starving one to death now.

Then there would be rejoicing in heaven and the preachers would not be compelled to remind us so often that "God loves the cheerful giver."

I am not an old man yet but I can well remember the time when the mail order houses just started up.

Then the range of prices between the retailer and mail order house was so great that the people could be helped but send off for lots of their needs and, as Mr. Gibbs says, the mail order houses got rich because they were satisfied with a small profit, so by that they got a big trade.

If at that time the retailers had been satisfied with a reasonable profit the people would never have started ordering now they can't stop them. Where is the blame?

I have no big fine car. I have been buying most of my things from the retailer, so he has the car and does not seem to care how long it takes me to get there, just so I bring the money when I do come.

Sears Honest Dealers also sells grocery and requirements and it would not surprise me much if some retailer sent his order to them when he wanted a good job and a fine piece of marble.

For I was in a store in Plainview that does not handle shoes only a few days ago, when the proprietor tried to sell me a pair of shoes which he said he ordered and they were heavier than he wanted. Yet he was cussing the people for patronizing the mail order houses the same time.

I think our public schools and the mail order houses are a blessing to our nation for they teach our merchants that there is a limit, and I think it my privilege to buy where I please as long as I pay for what I get.

Wonders of Wireless

The wireless is easily the eighth wonder of the world as a device of communication alone. Yet scientists look for more revolutionary innovations in the wireless of the future.

For instance, in 1914 Marconi in London-lighted electric lamps with current sent six miles by wireless. That may have been the birth of lighting cities and operating machinery by current sent by wireless from distant sources of water power.

The Prince of Monaco has a piano on his yacht played by wireless by a master musician ashore.

At the Indiana State Fair, an automobile engine was started every five seconds by wireless waves sent from a station in Indianapolis, five miles away.

Recently the 13,000-ton battleship Ohio was stripped of its crew and operated, steered and maneuvered entirely by wireless from another ship.

These remarkable performances suggest some of the practical uses to which wireless will be put in the future. Many of the innovations will be American, for our wireless men are in the lead. Their latest exploit is the building of the world's biggest and most powerful wireless plant at Port Jefferson, Long Island. It will open for business July 1, 1921, sending and receiving 1000 words a minute.

High Cost of Low Living

By Dr. James I. Vance It was not preacher but a lawyer who said it. He said it in an after-dinner speech, which makes it most arresting: "The high cost of low living."

Low living comes high. The most expensive thing in the world is sin.

Let the young man who has wasted his substance in riotous living go on the witness stand and tell us what he thinks about it.

Walk through an alcoholic or a syphilis ward in a hospital, and look at the rotting bodies of the poor wretches who are paying the price of sin, and reach your own conclusion.

The cheapest thing in the world is just to do right.

But the money cost is the smallest item of expense in low living.

The man who stamps on conscience and crucifies ideals and follows the beck and call of the lower side of his nature, following on in the trek of lust and sensuality, sacrifices the best and noblest thing in life.

His signature is paying the price. He is daily dropping down into the animal. The law in his members is tripping over the law in his mind.

People who live low usually drag others down with them. If the sinner could be made to pay the price of his folly, society would shut up; but the penalty widens out and the innocent suffer. This piles up the high cost of low living to a staggering sum.

Taxes Due from Colony

Austin, Texas, April 6.—Chief Justice Nelson Phillips of the Texas Supreme court awakened memories of Texas independence day in an opinion answering "no" to a certified question "must the colony of San Felipe De Austin, Austin county, pay taxes for the years 1885 to 1915."

The chief justice decided that the colony which now consists of 1813 1-3 acres of land occupied by 100 inhabitants, still enjoyed original grants and privileges exercised to it by the congress of the republic, 1837 from which it secured its incorporation.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stergall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

At times, the pains would shoot up through my shoulders. When I bent over, I would get dizzy and little black specks seemed to float before my eyes, blurring my sight. I also suffered from severe headaches. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and purchased a supply from R. A. Long's Drug Store. WEST TEXAS AND THEIR POLITICAL RIGHTS

There are more than 2,000,000 West Texans. There will be more than 4,000,000 West Texans ten years hence. They have been ignored in their political rights and they have been ignored in their educational rights. They demanded senatorial redistricting. Twenty years ago the last senatorial redistricting bill was enacted into law. For twenty years, the population of West Texas has been growing by leaps and bounds. West Texas has the same number of representatives in the upper house that it had twenty years ago. West Texas is entitled to at least six additional senators.

Politicians representing other and older sections of the state blocked redistricting all these years. Texas is entitled to an additional congressman and the West is entitled to that congressman. West Texas is entitled to a large number of additional representatives.

West Texas has been denied senatorial representation to which it is entitled, representative representation to which it is entitled.

All West Texas demanded an agricultural and mechanical college. In the city of Fort Worth when the state convention was held, the committee on resolutions was stacked and the representatives of the Bryan A. & M. college were given direct representation.

When the proposition came before the legislature the president of the Bryan A. & M. college and his political lieutenants were there to defeat the proposition or to make it important. West Texas demanded an A. & M. college—agricultural and mechanical.

First the enemies of the proposition sought to make it agricultural and military. In this they failed and then they put over a bill making the A. & M. college for the West educational.

This bill has been vetoed by the governor. West Texans should continue to demand their rights. West Texans should organize to enforce their demands. West Texas is entitled to an A. & M. college. West Texas is entitled to six additional senators. West Texas is entitled to many more representatives than she has today.

This isn't all. There is no reason why the Bryan A. & M. college should be permitted to undertake home demonstration extension service. It is the work and should be transferred to the College of Industrial Arts at Denton—the great Texas school for girls and perhaps the leading state institution of its kind in America. It should be transferred because the people should demand sound educational standards in the interest of economy and efficiency.

Now is the time to organize for work two years hence. If it is necessary to make an A. & M. college proposition for the West a platform demand, then let the people of the West and those of other sections who believe in justice and fairness, make it a platform demand.

In addition to this the paid servants of the people of the West who are employed at Bryan from the president of the A. & M. down, should be told by the powers that be to attend to their official duties, to earn his salaries which they are paid, and to keep away from Austin where they go as lobbyists or appear as lobbyists before the state convention of the Democrats of Texas.—Fort Worth Record.

Say "California" or you may not get the genuine "California Syrup of Figs" which doctors recommend for babies and children of all ages. Nothing else cleans the little bowels and regulates the child's stomach and liver so gently, so thoroughly. Direction on each bottle. But you must say "California." Don't be talked into an imitation fig syrup which hasn't the delicious fruit taste or the perfect "laxative physic" action. PAPPE'S DIAPEPSIN ENDS INDIGESTION. "Pappe's Diapepsin" has proven itself the surest relief for indigestion, gases, flatulence, heartburn, sourness, fermentation or stomach distress caused by acidity. A few tablets give almost immediate stomach relief and shortly the stomach is corrected so you can eat favorite foods without fear. Large case costs only few cents at drug store. Millions helped annually. DODSON'S LIVER TONE IN STEAD OF CALOMEL. Calomel is quicksilver. It attacks the bones and paralyzes the liver. Your dealer sells each bottle of pleasant, harmless "Dodson's Liver Tone" under an ironclad, money-back guarantee that it will regulate the liver, stomach and bowels better than calomel, without sickening or salivating you—15 million bottles sold. PLANS FOR LARGE PUBLIC AUDITORIUM MATURING

C. OF C. APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO WORK WITH OTHER LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS

The coming trade excursion, inviting the Panhandle Press association to hold its next year's convention in Plainview, public auditorium for Plainview, the rat campaign, securing gas, and asking the city council to adopt a new set of traffic rules were discussed at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held tonight, at which A. E. Boyd presided. Sid Miller of the trade excursion publicity committee said that the committees had been appointed and that the prospects for a much larger and more successful excursion than ever before in the town will be represented, and they are already preparing to secure souvenirs and other advertising. Staff correspondent Dealy of the Dallas News and Silliman Evans of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram have promised to go on the excursion. Theo. Shepard stated that he was lining up cars for the trip. A petition is being circulated asking the commissioners' court to offer a bonus for rat tails, as the funds subscribed by the business men have been exhausted. It was reported that the Kiwanis club committee had concrete plans for the erection of a public auditorium. J. M. Adams, J. G. Haltom and Geo. Bennett were appointed as a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to serve with the other committees. The Kiwanis committee is composed of C. A. Pierce, E. B. Miller, and A. E. Boyd, and the Board of City Development A. G. Hinn, R. S. Beard and R. P. Smyth. The importance of securing the Panhandle Press convention was discussed and support was promised the local newspaper people in an effort to secure it. T. C. Shepard from the automotive association stated that the automobile dealers desire the city council to adopt a new set of traffic rules, especially as to right of way for driving, also to take autos off the main streets, allowing no cars to stand in the same place for more than thirty minutes, prohibiting jay-walking, and for the securing of a public camping ground. Messrs. Shepard and Adams were appointed to discuss the matter with the city council.

PETERSBURG

April 11.—According to announcement the ladies met with the Plainview committee and Mrs. Carl Goodman, president of the County Federation, on Wednesday afternoon in the L. C. Clair home. With Mrs. Goodman as chairman, a club was organized with Mrs. Ben Allen as president, Mrs. Marcus Gregory, vice president, and Mrs. Arthur McCarty, secretary and treasurer. The name of the club is the Petersburg Community Club. Mesdames Allan Waddill and Ola Legg were elected to represent the club at the Federated meeting at Abernathy April 15th. A short program was rendered at the close of the business session as follows: Duet (instrumental) Mrs. Tom Baisden and Mrs. Cleve Phillips. Reading—Mrs. J. C. Boyd. Instrumental solo—Mrs. Carl Goodman. Address—Mrs. Nine McComas. Instrumental solo—Mrs. Allan Waddill. Adjournd to meet Friday, April 15th with Mrs. L. C. Clair. Miss Lora Pearl Gray of Lamesa is the guest of her sister, Miss One-to Gray, in the L. C. Clair home. At the Methodist parsonage Wednesday evening Rev. and Mrs. Davis entertained the school faculty with a six o'clock dinner. Prof. Pinson took the play over to Abernathy Friday night and had a fairly good crowd. Mrs. M. J. Gregory gave a slumber party to the young ladies Saturday night, honoring Miss Lora Pearl Gray of Lamesa. A. O. Gregory and family and Miss Lena Darby spent Sunday in Lubbock with their brothers, Sam and Albert Darby. At the school election Saturday M. J. Gregory was re-elected and Rev. Chas. Watkins elected as trustee.

Trip to Mountains Postponed. The party of local people who expected to leave Saturday for the Rocky mountains near Las Vegas, N. M., to select a camping ground site for Plainview people, as per the offer of the forest reserve bureau of the government, were unable to get off, and the trip was postponed. It is now planned to leave here Saturday, April 23. Shipped Three Loads Cattle. John J. Simpson returned this morning from Wichita, Kans., where he had been with a shipment of three cars of cattle.

Heavy Frost in Central Texas. A heavy frost through Central Texas Sunday night did great damage to fruit and vegetable crops. The Presbyterians at Lubbock have begun work on a new church building.

The tempest which Gov. Neff's veto of the bill creating a West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College caused is not a passing flurry of disappointment. It antedates the provision for the West Texas A. & M. some four years ago, and its subsequent veto by legislative action.

West and Northwest Texas have felt for more than a decade that both sections were receiving scant justice at the hands of Austin statesmen. As the money turned in by those sections increased with practically no return, this sense of injustice increased.

For more than a decade redistricting has been urged by West and Northwest Texas, only to be passed over by each succeeding legislature. Nor does it seem likely that Texas will be redistricted this year, even though more than one Northwest Texas legislator is representing four or five times as many constituents as are some of his "down-state" colleagues.

With the most charitable construction placed upon the action of Governor Neff and his predecessors in office, as well as the attitude of the legislature, it is logical to conclude that they regard West and Northwest Texas, as yet, little more than the home of the cowboy and the coyote. Nor have those representatives of the "pee-pul" seen fit to inform themselves as to the error of their conception.

Governor Neff's excuse of "economy" might have more weight were it not that the vetoed proposal provided only $50,000 for the purchase of a site. At the same time the Governor authorized $1,500,000 for the purchase of land upon which to build a greater university.

State papers Sunday carried comment from many places in West Texas, urging the formation of a new state. Sentiment for this is undoubtedly strong—based upon fundamental differences in the two sections, their diverse needs, and a feeling upon the part of the great West and Northwest that it was being deliberately slighted. Governor Neff's veto of the West Texas A. & M. bill will do even more to increase this demand for division than failure to redistrict is doing.—Vernon Record.

"Handwriting on the Wall"

For the first time in the history of the motion picture industry, producers are showing a slight inclination to listen to the demands of decency and are announcing their willingness to release a small number of films which do not depict crime or base their appeal on sex. It is safe to predict that films of the latter character will finally disappear from the theaters of the country. If the producers themselves don't voluntarily bring about this desired end, the public will take a hand and force the reform upon them.

One of the worst of modern crimes was committed when decency gave way to the bizarre, the suggestive and even the obscene, and permitted the industry to fall into the hands of men with perverted ideas on moral questions.

The invention of the cinematograph opened a new field of entertainment and education. No other invention since art of printing became general equals it in its potential power to do good, to entertain and instruct. It is to be regretted that its commercial possibilities appealed to a class of men who have been largely responsible for the lowering of American standards of entertainment in our playhouses and amusement parks.

Producers claim that they have merely provided the class of films demanded by their patrons. Such a claim is unfounded. As a matter of fact, producers have created a demand for the character of films now displayed. Their theaters are crowded with children and young people who have no other place to go and who are having their minds sapped of all the moral lessons absorbed at their mother's knee. Producers do not realize that there are thousands who never enter their places of amusement who would be frequent patrons under more elevating conditions, and that, furthermore, the patrons of today would quickly become interested in plays and scenes of the better kind.

The handwriting is on the wall. The moral forces of the country will insist on respectability and decency in our places of public amusement and entertainment. If those who now control do not heed the warning, then their "blood be upon their own heads." Their places are going to be rid of the filth that has been accumulating for several years. It would be economy for them to do their own housecleaning rather than have the public do it for them.—Farm and Ranch.

The Chicago Board of Trade, which is the greatest grain trading concern in the world, has appropriated a large sum of money to fight the increased use of motor-driven farm machinery and city trucks in the displacement of horses and mules on the farm. It states that evidence proves that in most instances, such displacement is economically unsound, resulting in less reliable, less efficient service, at greater cost. Consumers, grain dealers and grain producers alike suffer from such substitution.

Literature will be sent out showing this to be a fact, and as people read this it is hoped that horses and mules will again come into general use in all zones of city hauling and farm work, where they render efficient and more economical service.

Henke Replies to Gibbs

Friend Adams: I guess there are many things Mr. Gibbs does not fully know. It seems he does not know I have been a reader of the News for nearly five years, and have met Mr. Adams a few times. I sure admire Mr. Adams' honest straight forward and fearless way of getting up a paper.

I think it was not only possible that Mr. Gibbs' article was over drawn, but probably to a greater extent than mine. I know he got the names of the two mailorder houses some what mixed up and I beg to make a correction, the one is "Montcan-be-trusted," the other is "Sears-Honest-Dealers."

I am not a bit uneasy about the merchants boarding up their stores and going to producing crops and eggs, for they are used to making better and more money than that. And if they did then the mail order houses would put up a general store in each village and supply our needs and buy our onions and eggs and leave us enough money that we could feed two preachers where we are almost starving one to death now. Then there would be rejoicing in heaven and the preachers would not be compelled to remind us so often that "God loves the cheerful giver."

I am not an old man yet but I can well remember the time when the mail order houses just started up. Then the range of prices between the retailer and mail order house was so great that the people could not help but send off for lots of their needs and, as Mr. Gibbs says, the mail order houses got rich because they were satisfied with a small profit so by that they got a big trade. If at that time the retailers had been satisfied with a reasonable profit the people would never have started ordering now they can't stop them. Where is the blame?

I have no big fine car. I have been buying most of my things from the retailer, so he has the car and does not seem to care how long it takes me to get there, just so I bring the money when I do come.

Sears Honest Dealers also sells grain and requirements and it would not surprise me much if some retailer sent his order to them when he wanted a good job and a fine piece of marble. For I was in a store in Plainview that does not handle shoes only a few days ago, when the proprietor tried to sell me a pair of shoes which he said he ordered and they were heavier than he wanted. Yet he was cussing the people for patronizing the mail order houses the same time.

I think our public schools and the mail order houses are a blessing to our nation for they teach our merchants that there is a limit, and I think it my privilege to buy where I please as long as I pay for what I get.

ERNEST HENKE.

Wonders of Wireless

The wireless is easily the eighth wonder of the world as a device of communication alone. Yet scientists look for more revolutionary innovations in the wireless of the future.

For instance, in 1914 Marconi in London lighted electric lamps with current sent six miles by wireless. That may have been the birth of lighting cities and operating machinery by current sent by wireless from distant sources of water power.

The Prince of Monaco has a piano on his yacht played by wireless by a master musician ashore.

At the Indiana State Fair, an automobile engine was started every five seconds by wireless waves sent from a station in Indianapolis, five miles away.

Recently the 13,000-ton battleship, Ohio was stripped of its crew and operated, steered and maneuvered entirely by wireless from another ship.

These remarkable performances suggest some of the practical uses to which wireless will be put in the future. Many of the innovations will be American, for our wireless men are in the lead. Their latest exploit is the building of the world's biggest and most powerful wireless plant at Port Jefferson, Long Island. It will open for business July 1, 1921, sending and receiving 1000 words a minute.

High Cost of Low Living

By Dr. James I. Vance
It was not preacher but a lawyer who said it. He said it in an after-dinner speech, which makes it most arresting: "The high cost of low living."

Low living comes high. The most expensive thing in the world is sin.

Let the young man who has wasted his substance in riotous living go on the witness stand and tell us what he thinks about it.

Walk through an alcoholic or a syphilitic ward in a hospital, and look at the rotting bodies of the poor wretches who are paying the price of sin, and reach your own conclusion.

The cheapest thing in the world is just to do right.

But the money cost is the smallest item of expense in low living.

The man who stamps on conscience and crucifies ideals and follows the beck and call of the lower side of his nature, following on in the trek of lust and sensuality, sacrifices the best and noblest thing in life.

His conscience is paying the price. It is daily dropping down into the animal. The law in his members is trampling over the law in his mind. People who live low usually drag others down with them.

The sinner could be made to pay the price of his folly, society could shut up, but the penalty widens out and the innocent suffer. This piles up the high cost of low living to a staggering sum.

Taxes Due from Colony

Austin, Texas, April 6.—Chief Justice Nelson Phillips of the Texas Supreme court awakened memories of Texas independence day in an opinion answering "no" to a certified question "must the colony of San Felipe De Austin, Austin county, pay taxes for the years 1885 to 1915."

The chief justice decided that the colony which now consists of 1813 1-3 acres of land occupied by 100 inhabitants, still enjoyed original grants and privileges exercised to it by the congress of the republic, 1837 from which it secured its corporation.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what I did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

At times, the pains would shoot up through my shoulders. When I bent over, I would get dizzy and little black specks seemed to float before my eyes, blurring my sight. I also suffered from severe headaches. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and purchased a supply from R. A. Long's Drug Store. They gave me instant relief, regulated my kidneys and put me in fine shape."

WEST TEXAS AND THEIR POLITICAL RIGHTS

There are more than 2,000,000 West Texans. There will be more than 4,000,000 West Texans ten years hence. They have been ignored in their political rights and they have been ignored in their educational rights.

They demanded senatorial redistricting. Twenty years ago the last senatorial redistricting bill was enacted into law. For twenty years, the population of West Texas has been growing by leaps and bounds. West Texas has the same number of representatives in the upper house that it had twenty years ago. West Texas is entitled to at least six additional senators.

Politicians representing other and older sections of the state blocked redistricting all these years. Texas is entitled to an additional congressman and the West is entitled to that congressman. West Texas is entitled to a large number of additional representatives.

West Texas has been denied senatorial representation to which it is entitled, representative representation to which it is entitled.

All West Texas demanded an agricultural and mechanical college. In the city of Fort Worth when the state convention was held, the committee on resolutions was stacked and the representatives of the Bryan A. & M. college were given direct representation.

When the proposition came before the legislature the president of the Bryan A. & M. college and his political lieutenants were there to defeat the proposition or to make it important. West Texas demanded an A. & M. college—agricultural and mechanical.

First the enemies of the proposition sought to make it agricultural and military. In this they failed and then they put over a bill making the A. & M. college for the West coeducational.

This bill has been vetoed by the governor. West Texans should continue to demand their rights. West Texans should organize to enforce their demands. West Texas is entitled to an A. & M. college. West Texas is entitled to six additional senators. West Texas is entitled to many more representatives than she has today.

This isn't all. There is no reason why the Bryan A. & M. college should be permitted to undertake home demonstration extension service. It is the work and should be transferred to the College of Industrial Arts at Denton—the great Texas school for girls and perhaps the leading state institution of its kind in America. It should be transferred because the people should demand sound educational standards in the interest of economy and efficiency.

Now is the time to organize for another two years hence. If it is necessary to make an A. & M. college proposition for the West a platform demand, then let the people of the West and those of other sections who believe in justice and fairness, make it a platform demand.

In addition to this the paid servants of the people of the West who are employed at Bryan from the president of the A. & M. down, should be told by the powers that be to attend to their official duties, to earn their salaries which they are paid, and to keep away from Austin where they go as lobbyists or appear as lobbyists before the state convention of the Democrats of Texas.—Fort Worth Record.

Stuart O. Blythe writes it. He is probably as well informed as any man in the country on co-operatives of all sorts—he has just spent the better part of a year studying them in action everywhere. And he is only one of fifty investigators who keep Country Gentleman readers in close touch with every development toward more profitable farm methods. Market guidance is but one phase of the all-around service, helping in every problem of your farm business, that will come to you each Thursday of a whole year for $1.00. Better order today.

"California Syrup of Figs" is Child's Best Laxative

Beware! Say "California" or you may not get the genuine "California Syrup of Figs" which doctors recommend for babies and children of all ages. Nothing else cleans the little bowels and regulates the child's stomach and liver so gently, so thoroughly. Direction on each bottle. But you must say "California." Don't be talked into an imitation fig syrup which hasn't the delicious, fruity taste or the perfect "laxative physic" action.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN
ENDS INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapsin" has proven itself

the surest relief for Indigestion, gases, Flatulence, Heartburn, sourness, fermentation or Stomach Distress caused by acidity. A few tablets give almost immediate stomach relief and shortly the stomach is corrected so you can eat favorite foods without fear. Large case costs only few cents at drug store. Millions helped annually.

DODSON'S LIVER TONE IN STEAD OF CALOMEL

Calomel is quicksilver. It attacks the bones and paralyzes the liver. Your dealer sells each bottle of pleasant, harmless "Dodson's Liver Tone" under an ironclad, money-back guarantee that it will regulate the liver, stomach and bowels better than calomel, without sickening or salivating you—15 million bottles sold.
