NATION CALLED UPON TO PAUSE AND RESPECT DAY

PRESIDENT REQUESTS BELLS BE TOLLED IN ALL CHURCHES OF LAND

Washington, Nov. 5.—A proclamation setting aside Nov. 11, next, as a legal holiday, "as a mark of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the World war, as typified by the unknown and unidentified American soldier who is to be buried in Arlington National cemetery on that day," was issued tonight by President Harding. It follows:

"By the President of the United States of America, a proclamation:

"Whereas, a joint resolution of congress, approved Nov. 4, 1921, 'to declare Nov. 11, 1921, a legal public holiday' provides as follows:

"Whereas, Armistice day, Nov. 11, 1921, has been designated as the appropriate time for the ceremonies incident to the burial of the unknown and unidentified American soldier in the Arlington National cemetery; and

"Whereas, this unknown soldier who gave their lives to defend its integrity, honor and tranquility against any enemy; and

Other Nations Assist
"Whereas, the nations of the earth are on that date joining with the United States in paying respect and homage to this unknown soldier, therefore) be it

"Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the President is hereby authorized to issue a proclamation declaring Nov. 11, 1921, a holiday, as a mark of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the late World war, as typified by the unknown and unidentified American soldier who is to be buried in Arlington National cemetery on that day and the president is respectfully requested to recommend to governors of the various states that proclamations be issued by them calling upon their people to pause in their pursuit as a mark of respect on this solemn occasion."

"Now therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States of America, in pursuance of the said joint resolution of congress, do hereby declare Nov. 11, 1921, a holiday as a mark of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the late World war, as typified by the unknown and unidentified American soldier, who is to be buried in Arlington National cemetery on that day; and do hereby recommend to the governors of the several states that proclamation be issued by them calling upon the people of their respective states to pause in their usual pursuits as a mark of respect on this solemn occasion.

Church Bells to Toll

"And, in order that the solemnity of the occasion may be further emphasized, I do hereby furthermore recommend that all public and church bells throughout the United States be tolled at intervals between 11:45 o'clock a. m. and 12 o'clock noon of the said day, and that from 12 o'clock noon to two minutes past that hour, Washington time, all devout and patriotic citizens of the United States indulge in a period of silent thanks to God for these valuable, valorous lives and supplication for His divine mercy and for His blessing upon our beloved country.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington this fourth day of November in the year of our Lord, 1921, and of the independence of the United States of America of the one hundred and forty-six.

WARREN G. HARDING,

By the President,
Charles E. Hughes,
Secretary of State."

O. V. Anderson, who lives several miles north of town, fell from the tower of his windmill Monday afternoon, and was seriously injured. His collar-bone was broken and it is feared he was also internally injured.

MAN BURNED TO DEATH UNDER CAR

Machine Catches on Fire Immediately After Turning Over Near Tulia Last Thursday

Tulia, Nov. 5.—William B. Cain, who resides in the northeast part of Swisher county, was burned to death under his automobile when it turned over in the road near his home Thursday. Mr. Cain was driving his car when one of the wheels broke and upset the machine. His body was pinned underneath the wreckage. Fire broke out immediately after the accident.

Persons living near the scene of the accident saw the flames and hurried to the scene, but were too late to be of any assistance. The gasoline tank has exploded and the machine burned very quickly. Mr. Cain's body was burned beyond recognition. He leaves a family.

BAT MASTERSON WAS IN THE ADOBE WALLS FIGHT

FAMOUS SPORTS WRITER WAS IN BATTLE OF ADOBE WALLS

Because of its relation to the famous Adobe Walls battle near Canadian, the following story from The Fourth Estate of New York City is of interest to many Panhandle people.

William Barclay Masterson, better known as "Bat" Masterson, sports editor, died at his desk in the editorial rooms of the New York Morning Telegraph shortly before noon Tuesday from heart disease. He was writing an article for Wednesday issue of the Telegraph at the time. He had been connected with the paper for the last 15 years as sports writer, and recently as sports editor.

At one time Mr. Masterson was said to have been the best known man between the Mississippi and the Pacific coast, and his exploits and his ability as a gun-fighter became a part of the tradition of the Middle West.

The two men who helped to shape his career after he left the frontier, were Theodore Roosevelt and Alfred Henry Lewis, the author of western short stories, who made Mr. Masterson the hero of many a yarn.

The late Colonel Roosevelt appointed Mr. Masterson a deputy United States marshal in New York in 1905. This brought him to New York from Denver.

He was born at Fairfield, Ia., in 1854, and when 15 years old left his home in Wichita, Kans., to become a buffalo hunter at Dodge City.

When he was 20 years old he rode into Adobe Walls, a little desert town, with two companions, and after supper took a hand in a poker game. One of the players complained of Masterson's luck, and drew his revolver threateningly. The "lucky" player shot before the disgruntled man could take him and young Masterson's quickness saved his life. This was the first time his gun caused death.

That same night 300 Indians, made up of Cheyennes, Arapahoes, Comanches and Kiowas, led by a negro deserter from the United States army, descended on the town. The red men were repulsed day after day, until on the 14th day of the siege Masterson had a hand-to-hand encounter with the negro, whom he killed. The spirit of the Indians was broken and they fled.

That Indian fight made Masterson famous. Gen. Nelson A. Miles sent for him and made him second command of a body of scouts. A year later he became sheriff of Dodge City, and later marshal of Trinidad, Colo.—Amarillo News.

Richmond Terrace Farm Home Burns

The two-story farm house, also the pump house on the Richmond Terrace farm, also known as the Crockett ranch, eight miles south of town, was burned Monday afternoon. The loss was considerable, as the improvements on this place were very costly.

Recently Mr. Pruett of Eastland bought the farm from J. O. Crockett of El Paso, and Mr. Burns and family occupied the place.

Floydada Man Killed by Fall

M. F. Swaine, who lived at Floydada fell from his windmill on which he was working Monday about noon, and was killed instantly. His neck was broken.

He leaves a widow and nineteen children.

Littlefield Woman Shot

Mrs. J. E. Brazeal was accidentally shot at Littlefield Sunday morning by a twelve gauge shotgun as she was entering her car. She was taken to a sanitarium in Lubbock, and is now recovering from the wound.

OIL TEST WELL MAY BE FINISHED WITHIN 20 DAYS

BLED SOE IS OPTIMISTIC AS TO FINDING OIL AND GAS DOWN 1250 FEET

The Bledsoe oil well being drilled five miles west of Abernathy, may be finished within twenty days, is the opinion of Mr. Bledsoe. He expects to find oil or gas in paying quantities at 1,700 feet, and if there is no trouble of a serious nature, at the present rate of drilling, this depth will be attained within twenty days.

The well is now down 1250 feet, and the indications of oil are reported good.

There is much interest being manifested in the drilling operations and many people visit the well each day. There is considerable activity in the sale of leases on lands near the well, the price being $10 an acre.

The American Drilling Co. of Breckenridge has selected a site near the Bledsoe well, and is awaiting developments with the intention of erecting a tower, installing a rig and drilling a well.

Rotary Club

Lynn Pace had charge of the program at the luncheon of the Rotary club today at noon at the Ware hotel. J. C. Anderson, Jr., had as his subject "What Rotary Should Be," and in the course of his talk read the Rotary code of ethics, and stated that each member will be furnished with a copy of same and be urged to have it framed and hung in his office or place of business.

Meade F. Griffin talked on "How We Can Make Rotary the Best." He urged that members should attend the weekly luncheon regularly, take part cheerfully on the program when so assigned, help in every work the club attempts to do, and boost for the organization.

Short talks were also made by Judge Fletcher and Rev. Gambrell of Canyon, who were guests.

Freight Rates Cut

The Southern Pacific railroad Thursday announced a sharp cut in freight rates on traffic moving east and west. Some rates were cut as much as 50 per cent, the average being around 20 per cent. Rates on dry goods, machinery, beverages, canned goods, vehicles, glass, drugs, iron and steel, tin plate, glose products, refrigerators, turpentine, rosin, furniture, paint, cash registers, coal, linoleum, and soap are affected, together with rates on miscellaneous articles too numerous to mention. The rates will become effective as soon as new tariff sheets can be issued. Announcement of the reduction came unexpectedly. Agitation for reduced freight rates has been going on for several months, financial writers urging that the situation called for reduced prices for merchandise to enable consumers to buy, and that reduced prices for merchandise would be possible only with reduced freight charges in a number of highly important instances.

Oil Famine Declared Looming

Chicago, Nov. 7.—According to a report today by the gas and oil committee of the American Gas Association at its annual convention here, the United States will face an oil famine, which will restrict the use of automobiles and increase the cost of gasoline unless immediate steps are taken to increase the supply. The committee has just completed a year's survey of the oil situation.

The report declared that placing a duty on petroleum would curtail shipments from Mexico and greatly aggravate the situation. Duties would "prove ruinous," the report declared.

Soldier Bonus Voted Down

Washington, Nov. 5.—By a vote of 38 to 28, the senate rejected the Reed amendment to the tax bill proposing to enact the soldier bonus bill and retain the excess profits as a means of financing adjusted compensation for former service men.

HALE COUNTY WOMAN IN WHITE-CAPPING AFFAIR

TWO WOMEN AND FIVE BARBERS FLOGG MAN AT NIGHT

Mrs. Daisy Maddox, formerly of Plainview and Hale Center, Mrs. Grace Davis, John Short, president of the Amarillo barber's union; Walter Wilson, secretary of the union; R. R. Nation, H. S. Barker and A. B. Seaton are under $1000 to $1500 bonds in two cases each in Randall and Potter counties, on charges of having Friday night taken J. M. Denny, proprietor of a barber college in Amarillo, out into the country in a car, where they blind-folded him, whipped him with a razor strap, cut his hair, and warned him to leave the country. The men are all union barbers and the women manicurists in barber shops in Amarillo.

It is understood that considerable jealousy had been aroused in Amarillo between the union barbers on one hand and the barber college on the other side. Assertions are said to have been made that the barber college was "nothing more than a 'scab' shop."

The Maddox woman was first arrested and she gave the information upon which the others were arrested.

They were all bound over to the grand juries in Potter and Randall counties.

Nabarene Churches Report Great Growth During Past Year

Abilene, Nov. 4.—A healthy growth in the membership of the Church of the Nazarene throughout West Texas was indicated generally in the numerous reports made by the preachers attending the annual assembly of the church in Abilene this week. In its report of the state of the church the committee reported "great progress made," with a net gain of 35 per cent, with five new churches organized and two reorganized. Dr. R. T. Williams of Dallas is presiding over the assembly. The convention will continue through Sunday. About 300 preachers and delegates are in attendance.

The Church of the Nazarene throughout the country is supporting 125 missionaries in foreign fields. The report urged that more attention be paid to this essential department of the church's work. The goal for this district this year is $1,800. The report showed that the district had exceeded its quota by $229. The per capita donation for the work in the district was $1.50, and the membership of the district is 1,500. President Williams declared that the district had done better than most of the districts, and that the church as a whole was shy about $90,000 on its missionary funds.

MANY PLAINVIEW PEOPLE WILL GO ON SPECIAL TRAIN

FOUR HUNDRED FIFTY PERSONS TO ATTEND VICTORY CELEBRATION FRIDAY

A special train will leave Plainview Friday morning, Nov. 11 at 7 o'clock for Amarillo in order that some 450 Plainview people may attend the Victory Day celebration in Amarillo on that date.

Between 100 and 150 Plainview ex-service men will make the trip, accompanied by a drum and bugle corps.

One hundred and fifty high school students will accompany the Plainview high school football team, which will meet the Amarillo Savages in the afternoon of Armistice Day.

Fifty boy scouts and a thirty-piece boy scout band will also go to Amarillo. The scouts will not return to Plainview on the special train but will stay in Amarillo for the Boy Scout Roundup which will be held on Saturday.

There will be no Armistice Day celebration in Plainview.

All the stores and business houses in Plainview will be closed all the day, as per proclamation of the mayor printed below.

An agent of the Santa Fe railroad will be at G.-C. Electric co. Thursday afternoon, to take up certificates issued by the Legion boys to secure the special train.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, President Harding and Governor Neff have proclaimed Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, 1921, a national and state holiday, and

WHEREAS, the historic event of this date three years ago and the accomplishment of American and allied arms are dear to the hearts of all patriotic Americans,

BY THE AUTHORITY vested in me as Mayor of the City of Plainview, I hereby request all patriotic citizens to properly observe this day. It is requested that all places of business, except those necessary to the public health, be closed on that date. Attention is invited to the Armistice Day celebration in Amarillo, joined in by the American Legion posts throughout the Panhandle and Plains and to the potentuous ceremonies at Arlington Cemetery, District of Columbia, where the remains of the unknown American soldier is to be laid to rest as a token of esteem and respect the American people hold for their dead patriots, champions of world democracy and the inherent rights of men.

CHAS. F. VINCENT, Mayor of the City of Plainview.

PETERSBURG

Nov. 7.—We are having the loveliest weather ever and wheat looks fairly well.

Hallowe'en was celebrated here by the Juniors at the Clyde Barnes home. Such a jolly good time as the children did have!

The adults met at the L. C. Claitor home and at a late hour went on a hike and had lots of Hallowe'en fun.

The death of Barney Stagner Thursday cast a gloom over our entire community. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stagner and had been reared here. He was married over one year ago to Miss Bertha McFarland. Our sympathy goes out to the young wife in her sorrow, and to the parents and three sisters, who are so grief stricken. We bid them remember "Earth has no sorrows, that heaven cannot heal."

Geo. Thorpe and family have returned from a pleasant visit to her parents at Texhoma.

The Community club met Friday, Nov. 4th, with Mrs. R. A. Jeffries. An interesting program was rendered. Everyone enjoyed the afternoon and agreed that Mrs. Jeffries is an ideal hostess. Delicious refreshments were served, consisting of oat meal cookies, fruit salad and hot chocolate. Herman Wiese entertained the Chas. Schuler, E. W. Moss and Clyde Barnes families in his country home Sunday.

Clarence Thirpe has been sick this week but is better now.

Grandma Bickley died today at her son's home near town. She was 92 years of age.

There will be a gathering at the cemetery Saturday afternoon, Nov. 12th for the purpose of working and cleaning up the premises. Let the people take notice.

Miss Bessie Garten entertains few friends Friday night at her home on Main street.

Sam Mason will leave this morning for his old home at Temple. He has a pleasant visit.

Leoburn Claitor's threshing chine has been busy the past few days. Millet and maize are being threshed.

Premier Hara of Japan was assassinated Thursday at a railroad station federal reserve bank board in Washington to death.

This is certainly some fast age. Several days ago an army plane flew from New York City to Washington in seventy-nine minutes, an average speed of 170 miles to the hour.

So long as the majority of American people don't know whether Silesia is a country or a patent medicine what is the use of worrying about it?

Movie producers have come to the conclusion that there are too many vampires in the pictures. It is only fair to say that the public came to this conclusion some time ago. And another thing, they will some day find out that it would be profitable for them to eliminate the suggestive sex problem pictures.

Alfalfa tea is all a sick man should drink, according to the Plainview News.—Miami Chief.

If a man sprints alf-alf-a tea regularly he will never be sick. His youth and vigor will be continually restored "like that of the eagles" spoken of by the Psalmist; he will live at peace with his neighbors and be happy all the days of his life. We'll tell it to the world—alf-alf-a tea is a wonderful beverage.

The sales tax amendment by Senator Smoot was killed in the senate Friday. It proposed a straight tax of one per cent on all manufactured goods, instead of the disjointed tax system we now have, which was adopted during the rush of the war. A sales tax would be simple and would put a stop to every person who handles anything adding several times the tax, as has been the case in most instances during the past several years.

John R. Mitchell, a member of the in Tokia. A demented youth stabbed ington City, was in Texas last week. He made several speeches at dinners given in his honor. In a speech at Fort Worth he said "Recovery of the agricultural and livestock industries are the first necessary steps toward the return to normalcy. The return to normalcy is going to require time," likewise. "The industrial and manufacturing interests can not get back until agriculture gets back." This is just what the News has been declaring for a long time. Manufacturers, railroad owners, organized laborers, middlemen, retailers and bankers had as well realize that their prosperity depends upon the prosperity of the farmer and ranchman. Therefore, they should see to it that agriculture gets a fair deal. The farmer cannot prosper as long as the manufacturer charges unfair prices for his products he cannot prosper so long as labor insists on working only a few hours a day at extortionate wages; he cannot prosper while freight rates are anywhere near as high as they now are; he cannot prosper until the bankers furnish an adequate supply of money at a reasonable rate of interest.

Organized labor is pulling a lot of bone-head stunts these days, and is fast losing the respect and support of the American people. Its arrogant, brutal, domineering way of trying to do things is receiving condemnation almost everywhere. It shows its contempt for law and order. Take, for instance: About ten days ago a federal judge in Indiana granted an injunction against coal companies further using the "check off" system—that is holding out of a miner's wages his union labor dues and assessments and paying same to the union treasurers. At once the union miners began to strike, and in several days many thousands became voluntarily idle. The case was appealed by the union legal department to a higher court and Friday a stay of execution was granted, and the case will be tried in several weeks. The average citizen who respects law and order, naturally asks "Why didn't the union miners wait on their striking at least until the case had gone through the courts and been settled, in the proposed judicial way, and if the courts hold against them, to submit like all good law-abiding citizens should?" The unions are running the strike into the ground very rapidly. Public opinion has outlawed the strike, and without public opinion on its side a strike almost invariably fails.

THE MIND OF CHRIST

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Philippians 2:5-8.

THEY WANT THE MONEY

The Kansas City convention of the American Legion again put that organization on record as demanding tax money for all discharged soldiers in the form of "adjusted compensation," using, indeed, much the tone that an irate customer in a restaurant might use in addressing a slothful waiter. The resolution adopted by the would-be recipients of the bonus asked that "the Congress of the United States pass this measure without further equivocation or delay." They want the money and they want it quick.

The "Whereas" clauses which purport to give the reasons why the Legions and their discharged comrades not in the Legion should be given lump sums from the taxpayers' pockets contain three proffered reasons. The first of these is that the Legion "recognizes the obligation from the American government to those of its citizens who, by reason of valiant service in the American armed forces, are today suffering an economic handicap." This reason would apply in favor of a bonus toward only such soldiers as are under an economic handicap. It would limit it further to those whose handicap is the result of military service. It would limit it still further to those whose service was actually valiant. Yet the bonus measure which the Legion has supported and urged would be received both by those under handicap and by those not under handicap, by those whose disadvantage is the result of the war and by those in difficulties as the result of their own shiftlessness, bad judgment or laziness. Finally, it would be received by those who performed valiant service in the utmost comfort far from the zone of any danger save indigestion or apoplexy. In sum, the relief the Legion asks clean overleaps the situation which is declared to demand it.

The second "whereas" avers that "the passage of the adjusted compensation act at the time when thousands of veterans of the world war are unemployed would be infinitely just." Nevertheless, it is proposed to go into the funds of the people and take from them free gifts both for the employed and unemployed and those who refuse to be employed. In short, unemployment is urged as a reason, and yet it is not provided as the prerequisite for the bonus.

The third "whereas" is unanswerable: "Whereas, the American Legion has hitherto, in convention assembled, expressed itself by resolution in favor of compensation for discharged soldiers of the recent war." There is no getting around that; the president erred and congress erred in not passing the bill because the Legion had asked for it. It is in such expressions as this that the Legion does itself and its measures least credit and least favor.

The whole attitude in the matter is based on the misconception that the country owes an ex-soldier a living, regardless of whether he needs it, earns it or would properly use it if it were given to him. The Legion asks for a free gift as "compensation." The proof that they are not really concerned with adjusted compensation is the fact that they show no concern whatever about the present compensation of the army. If an ex-soldier who served in the Quartermaster Corps at San Antonio during the war, for example, is to get "adjusted compensation" why is not every soldier now in the army entitled to a raise in pay which will adjust it to the scale which the Legion now thinks just for the arduous duties of counting socks and "shoes, field?" Again, if it is compensation that is really asked, why does the negro stevedore regiment—every member of which, perhaps, got during the war more food, quarters, medical attention and diversion than ever before in his life—get the same "adjustment" in dollars and cents as an engineer regiment some of whose members quit salaries of $10,000 and $15,000 to serve under danger and extreme discomfort at the front?

Rumors of war continues to come from various sections of Europe where there are a multitude of small governments, some apparently as keen for fighting as they have ever been. After four years of war and suffering, and several years of reconstruction and suffering, with heavy debts pressing them, trade uncertain, manufacturing disrupted and agriculture backward, it seems strange they should still wish to fall out over trivial matters.

C. W. Warwick, publisher of the Canyon News, passed through here Monday morning en route home from a business trip to Austin.

Two Villains are Slandering Us

Hereford officers captured a truck containing 55 gallons of booze, both Mexican and naturalized, as well as native home brewed. It was an El Paso car. Following this raid a New York man visiting at a Hereford ranch immediately got in the way of a rattlesnake and received one of the swiftest rattlesnake tattoos that a tenderfoot ever boasted of. The whole affair was too much for Jess Adams, editor of the Plainview News, so he left at once on a vacation to be spent in New Orleans and other famous beach side resorts. Fleeing from temptation, we suppose.—Canadian Record.

Not fleeing from temptation, but in the mouth of it; fleeing to the wilds of Louisiana and to the swamps where the wild cat is made much wilder by a scientific process in which corn is made into liquid form, and given the punch of a Texas mule; gone to his old haunts near the line of Arkansas and Louisiana, where wild cat hollers furnishes numerous stills and plenty of fire water. Jess Adams has become a regular globe trotter. National prohibition has made him restless and discontented with the Plains of Texas. Jess is due back to Plainview this week, with new inspirations, and a new supply of experience obtained in Louisiana. That experience and inspiration will cause him to write more of dress reform, and in defense of Hale county's resources.—Lockney Beacon.

THESE ARE THE FACTS

Despite the fact that prohibition has been in effect, after a fashion in the United States for a term of months, and that all public drinking places are practically closed, occasionally a "bird" will be encountered who voices the rot that "there's more booze sold and consumed today than during the time when the open saloon flourished in America."

This is extremely nonsensical, for even though there is being dispensed a considerable volume of intoxicants, certainly there is no comparison between now and the days of the open saloon. Of course it cannot be denied that there are those who steadfastly hold that prohibition is wrong in spirit and that it will never be enforced, but this is just the reason we have these wild, and senseless stories as to the quantitative measures of alcoholics now available.

When the other day, announcement was made through the press that the ruling of former United States Attorney General Palmer on alcoholics for medical purposes would prevail, there was a shout of joy from the camps of the liquor interests. While this is a fact, the following should be closely and carefully read, for it presents a phase of the situation that cannot be escaped:

"Two quarts of wine and ten quarts of real beer with a kick in it. That's what the new ruling in Washington permits a doctor to prescribe, at any one time and as frequently as necessary for patients who need "medicine" in large quantities.

Thirsty ones! Before you, rejoice, hark to Wayne B. Wheeler, head lawyer for the dry days. He says the ruling really applies only in California, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Rhode Island and certain sections of Louisiana and Maryland.

Everywhere else, state laws prohibit the use of medicinal beer, or hold it down to small quantities.

The wets have not won an important battle. Liquor is not coming back legally. Even if national prohibition were knocked out, state laws would keep most of the country a desert. Don't forget that, as far back as early 1917, of the 2,543 counties in the United States, 2,330 were on the dry list, only 213 legally wet.

Say, this makes a somewhat different story, don't it? Outside of Federal prohibition, there are fewer wet counties in the United States than are required to make up the state of Texas. That don't look so frightfully wet, does it?

No, there is not a chance in the world that the saloons will reopen in the United States. The people of this country will from year to year, and from time to time see a diminution of the total supply of alcoholic beverages and then this will take hold upon the nations across the seas, until the entire world will be drained of its liquors. It is assuredly coming, and those who feel that they cannot get along without booze would do well to get into the other countries that have not yet been brought directly within the influence of the drouth.—Amarillo News.

One thing is certain, Alex Howart, the radical Kansas labor leader, who is in jail, will hardly take any part in the walkout of union miners now pending. Alex is on the inside looking out.

Rumors of war continues to come from various sections of Europe where there are a multitude of small governments, some apparently as keen for fighting as they have ever been. After four years of war and suffering, and several years of reconstruction and suffering, with heavy debts pressing them, trade uncertain, manufacturing disrupted and agriculture backward, it seems strange they should still wish to fall out over trivial matters.

C. W. Warwick, publisher of the Canyon News, passed through here Monday morning en route home from a business trip to Austin.

Big Results From A Small Outlay of Money

The News carries the largest volume of Want Ads of any paper in this section. There is a reason for this, for if satisfactory results were not obtained people would not continue to spend their money for Want Ads in this paper.

The News is read by more farmers and other people in Plainview trade territory than any other newspaper, and these people buy lots of things. They sell lots of things. They rent rooms and houses, etc.

A Want Adv. in the News costs only 15c for fifteen words and 1c for each additional word, but it is read by possibly six to eight thousand people. Isn't that very cheap publicity? Can you beat it?

If you have anything to sell or trade, a room or house or farm to rent, there is something you want to buy or trade for; something lost or found; a cow or horse strayed, some notice you wish to give publicity to, you will get results if you use the News Want columns.

COUPLE RE-MARRIES, WIFE LEAVES IN ELEVEN DAYS

Hale Center Woman Takes Children and Car and Go Back to Amarillo

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lang, divorced couple of Hale Center, who recently remarried, are again separated.

Mrs. Lang had been in Amarillo for some time after they were divorced and had written Mr. Lang several times asking him to re-marry her for the children's sake, the children being in the care of Mr. Lang. Mr. Lang finally decided to marry her again so the children could have their mother with them again.

Mrs. Lang came back and lived with Mr. Lang 11 days and then ran away one morning with Mr. Lang's car and the children, while Mr. Lang had gone out to his farm to look after his cattle.

Mr. Lang followed them to Amarillo where he got his car back. She told him there that she married him to get the children and that she had got them.—Hale Center Record.

Plainview Team Suffers Defeat

Lubbock, Texas, Nov. 4.—Lubbock took the most brilliant game of the season Friday afternoon from her old rival Plainview by a score of six to three. The game was full of spectacular plays on both sides with two fumbles by Alexander and Saffles of Plainview that were costly. Yates of Plainview dropped kicked from thirty-five yard line in first quarter, scoring their only count. Dupree of Lubbock received a pass in third quarter after their line plunger on one yard line, failed to score. Failed to kick. Both teams featured open play with repeated attempts to pass. Plainview coaches Demeane and Taylor played six games, won four; average weight 163; Lubbock coaches Man and Sherrill, played six games, won four, tied one, average weight 148. Referee, Wheelock. Umpire, Blackmore. Weather ideal; two thousand attendance.

Women's Clothing Will Be Cheaper

New York, Nov. 4.—Prices of women's spring clothing will be 25 to 33-1-3 per cent lower than last spring through the immediate return to piece work in the garment making trades, said a statement today by the Cloak Suit and Skirt Manufacturers association. Their proposal to abandon the present weekly wage and restore the piece work payments is opposed by the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, the members of which are preparing to take a strike referendum.

Two Men Killed in Fire

Munday, Knox Co., Nov. 5.—H. C. Henson and Walter West were crushed to death under the falling walls of a burning building here at 2 o'clock this morning. The fire swept clean the principal business portion of the town. The loss will be approximately $250,000.

Stockholders' Meeting Called

The first meeting of the stockholders of the Plainview Building and Loan Association will be held in the County court room next Friday, Nov. 11th, at two o'clock. This meeting will be for the purpose of drafting by-laws for the association and electing directors for the first year and every stockholder, subscriber and citizen interested in this movement is urgently requested to be present and take part in this action for the up-building of Plainview and Hale county.

How the Santa Fe Does

The railroad strike seems to be averted for the present at least, but we predict that it will not be long until the same issue will come up again. Strikes have become fashionable in America, and we are a lot of "fashionable" people. If all roads will adopt the methods of the Santa Fe it might help some in averting a general strike. These people, when a bunch of employees walk out, simply hit them in the back with a pay check and take their seniority away from them. They drop them forever from the old age or pension list, and when they quit they have "quit for good."—Paducah Post.

NOTICE OF UNITED STATES MARSHAL'S SALE

The United States District court, for the Northern District of Texas, Amarillo Division at Amarillo.

WHEREAS, on the 6th day of June, A. D. 1921, in cause No. 81, in equity wherein Fidelity Trust Company, a corporation is plaintiff and J. T. Mayhugh, et al, are defendants, the said Fidelity Trust Company recovered a judgment and decree against the defendant J. T. Mayhugh for the sum of thirteen thousand six hundred thirty-six and 49-100 ($13,636.49) dollars, together with eight per cent (8%) interest thereon from date, and costs of suit, and a foreclosure of the Deed of Trust Lien on the hereinafter described property, situated in the County of Hale and State of Texas, as against J. T. Mayhugh, and

WHEREAS, on the 11th day of October, A. D., 1921, an Order of Sale issued out of said court, directing the United States Marshal for the Northern District of Texas, to sell the hereinafter described property at the court house door in Hale County, Texas, at public outcry to the highest secure bidder for cash, on the First Tuesday in any month after advertising said sale once a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper published or circulated in said county; said sale to take place between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me by said decree and order of sale, issued out of said Honorable District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Texas, on October 11th, 1921, by the clerk thereof in said cause, and to me directed and delivered, I will proceed to sell, within the hours prescribed by law and in said final decree set out, on the First Tuesday in December, A. D. 1921, at the court house door of Hale County, Texas, in the City of Plainview, Hale County, Texas, the following described property to-wit: All of section No. 14, in block No. JK certificate No. 376, containing 640 acres of land.

Said property levied on this the 20th day of October, A. D., 1921, as the property of J. T. Mayhugh, to satisfy a judgment and decree in favor of Fidelity Trust Company against the defendant J. T. Mayhugh and Laura V. Mayhugh, in the sum of Thirteen thousand six hundred thirty-six and 49-100 ($13,636.49) dollars with interest thereon from June 6, 1921, at the rate of eight per cent per annum, and costs of suit and a foreclosure of the Deed of Trust Lien on said land against all of said defendants, J. T. Mayhugh and Laura V. Mayhugh.

Given under my hand this the 20th day of October, A. D., 1921. JAS. A. BAGGETT, United States Marshal for the Northern District of Texas.

TRUSTEE NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Hale.

WHEREAS, by virtue of authority vested in me, as trustee, named and appointed in a certain deed of trust, recorded in Vol. 12, page 90, of the trust deed records for said Hale county, executed and delivered to me, on the 22nd day of July, A. D. 1921, by J. E. Rushing, for better securing payment of one certain promissory note in the sum of fourteen hundred dollars, ($1400) more fully described in said deed of trust, executed by the said J. E. Rushing, payable to J. M. Harris or order, at El Paso, Texas, on or before October 1st, 1921, bearing interest from maturity thereof until paid at the rate of ten per cent per annum, and providing for the payment of an additional ten per cent on the amount of principal and interest then due, as attorneys fees, if not paid at maturity and is placed in the hands of an attorney for collection or collected by suit.

And, whereas, the said J. M. Harris, is the owner and holder of said note, and the said J. E. Rushing has made default in the payment thereof, and the same is now past due and unpaid, both principal and interest.

And, whereas, I have been requested by the said J. M. Harris to enforce said trust, I will therefore offer for sale, to the highest bidder, between 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., on Tuesday, December 6th, 1921, at the court house door of Hale county, at Plainview, Texas the following described property to-wit: All of the A. H. Henson Homestead survey, situated in Hale County, Texas, containing 160 acres of land, and being more particularly described in said deed of trust, reference to which is hereby made, with all the rights and appurtenances thereunto in any wise belonging.

Witness my hand this the 2nd day of November, A. D. 1921.

ABERNATHY

Nov. 7.—Rev. Hunt preached at Lakeview Sunday afternoon in Rev. C. A. Joiner's stead. Several Abernathy people were present.

The first and second team of Abernathy boys went to Estacado Friday afternoon to play basket ball and suffered a defeat. However, they were not surprised and took the defeat nobly. The boys and "rooters" who went complimented the Estacado people on being so hospitable and entertaining. It is hoped that when the game is returned that we may entertain them in a like manner.

A large number of Abernathy people attended the play at Lakeview Saturday night. All report a very pleasant time.

The high school literary society rendered a very pleasing program Friday night at the high school auditorium. Their next meeting will be Nov. 21st and everyone is welcome.

Miss Ida Lee Singletoary happened to a very painful accident one day last week. She was driving to town in a buggy, when her horse ran away with her, breaking her collar bone and bruising her very badly.

Mrs. Clarence Dameron is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Crow, and other relatives here.

Virgil Zeman visited in Crosbyton Sunday.

J. B. Hudgins is back in school this week, after having been in the sanitarium, for an appendicitis operation, for the past two weeks. We are very glad to have him back.

The Abernathy No. 1 oil well was a great source of interest yesterday. A large number of Plainview and Lubbock people were visiting there and also many of Abernathy people were there.

Briscoe County Boy Killed

Ray Stricklan, age 14, son of Mr. Stricklan of the Rock Creek community, was killed almost instantly Saturday when he was run over by a wagon the wheels passing over his head.

He stepped off one wagon to go to another one. His foot slipped from the doubletrees and he fell, startling the horses into starting off, with the above fatal result.

Funeral services were conducted at the Silverton cemetery by Rev. E. H. Perry.—Silverton Star, Nov. 4.

Coal Miners Walk-Out Halted

Chicago, Nov. 4.—The check-off system of holding out union dues and assessments from coal miners pay, against which an injunction was handed down by Judge A. B. Anderson, of Indianapolis, will continue until further order of the United States Court of Appeals, the court held today in suspending that part of the injunction applying to the check-off.

An appeal hearing was granted for Wednesday, Nov. 16.

Citation by Publication THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any constable of Lamb county—GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to summon J. N. Morrison, T. W. Morrison, W. D. Johnson, C. C. Slaughter, Runningwater Land & Cattle Company and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of said J. N. Morrison, T. W. Morrison, W. D. Johnson and C. C. Slaughter and unknown stockholders and legal representatives of said Running Water Land & Cattle Company by making publication of this citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 64th Judicial District; to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Lamb County, Texas to be held at the court house thereof, in the town of Olton, on the 3rd Monday in November A. D. 1921, the same being the 21st day of November, A. D. 1921, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 8th day of October, A. D. 1921, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 68 wherein Leola Croft, I. L. Sablosky and I. N. Wynn and A. J. Thomas, executors of the estate of Guy Croft, deceased, plaintiffs, and J. N. Morrison, T. W. Morrison, W. D. Johnson, C. C. Slaughter, Runningwater Land and Cattle Company and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of the said J. N. Morrison, T. W. Morrison, W. D. Johnson and C. C. Slaughter, and the unknown stockholders and legal representatives of said Runningwater Land and Cattle Company, defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiff—cause of action being: A suit in trespass to try the title of the following described land situated in Lamb County, Texas, to-wit: Being all of surveys Nos. three (3), four (4), five (5) and all of the Southwest one-fourth (¼) of Survey No. Six (6), all in Sec. 8, B. R. M. Thomson original grantee, and all of the south one-half of survey No. 19, block 0-5, containing 2301.9 acres of land.

Plaintiffs, in addition to their record title, rely on the three, five and ten year Statutes of limitation. Plaintiffs pray judgment for title and possession of said land.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand and official seal, at my office in Olton, Texas, this 8th day of October, A. D. 1921. GUY WILLIS Clerk District Court, Lamb County Texas.

Ten More Days
NOV. 5th to 19th

This old and familiar household saying cannot but express the very spirit of the great crowds that serged up and down our aisles on opening day. For miles and miles and miles they came and all day long the store was thronged from back to front. Clerks working at top speed were unable to wait on the immense throngs—merchandise was literally rolled up and carried out in loads. It was one of the greatest days ever seen in the Panhandle in a retail way. And the most notable feature was that people caught the spirit that lay behind this great sale and they responded wonderfully. They found that truthful advertising combined with a genuine and earnest effort to give prices on seasonable merchandise that would move goods was the cause of the big sacrifices that were found on every hand. That is why they bought—for "The Proof of the Pudding is the Eating Thereof."

SILK GOODS $1.85
Another special table offering wonderful values in silk goods. There is a choice to be found in foulards, taffetas, satins, in staple and fancy colors at $1.85 the yard.

CORDUROY SUITS $16.95
Heavy weight corduroy suits of the very best material, hand tailored and finished like a woolen suit, (they are indispensable to the out door man) go at this price.

This far-reaching and drastic campaign has been inaugurated for just one purpose—namely the liquidation of an immense stock of merchandise into ready cash. The fact that the buying public would only respond to prices made so low that the passing of the opportunity would mean a clear loss of money has been appreciated and we have taken our medicine and acceded to this fact. Prices have been made so low on every article in the store that in many cases it does not represent a fraction of the cost. Volume of business in the shortest possible length of time, turning of all surplus stock into cash immediate and drastic reduction of stock, are our objectives and nothing shall keep us from attaining these things. We urge upon you to be present one of the days of this sale. Nothing is reserved—everything is included.

Extra Drastic Reductions On Ready-to-Wear

No one can appreciate more than the Woman herself the real savings that are offered her in this—one of the most complete departments. Tailored garments of the utmost worth, our coat suits, dresses, and coats appeal to the most fastidious shopper. And when you realize that right in the heart of the season prices have been reduced to a lower level than you usually find at the end of the season you can well realize the immediate need of an inspection of these garments. Coat Suits of the very latest modes of materials such as tricotine, poret twill, duvetyne, serge, nearly all trimmed with fur and self-conforming collars, await your choice at prices that do not reflect the worth of the garments. Individualistic modes in dresses of the very latest in the fashion world of canton crepe, serge, twill tricotine and other woven materials, some floss and bead embroidered, others with inserts of combination materials are reduced to ridiculously low prices. Coats of plush, marbella, polo cloth, ray-tones and other desirable materials, plain and fur collars and cuffs, appeal to the really thrifty shopper as some of the very best bargains offered. Immediate inspection is advised.

Announcement

To the People of the Plainview Country:

I have sold the entire business, stock and good will of the Dye Drug Co., stores No. 1 and No. 2, to Mr. Arthur Lamb. He has taken charge of the stores and will continue the business at the same stands.

I wish to thank the many friends and customers of the firm, who have been so very generous in their patronage during the past years, and request that they give the new firm their cordial support.

Mr. Lamb is so well known to the people of this section that he needs no introduction or recommendation from me. He will give the people the very best service and provide for all their needs in the lines the stores handle. He is genial, aggressive and accommodating.

With much gratitude to all for past favors, and with best wishes for the new proprietor, I am,

Very cordially,

The Lower Prices Don't Tell the Story

The price isn't even an important part of the story. The facts that come before the price are the real thing.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are better now than ever; the handicaps of war restrictions are removed; finer fabrics, better tailoring and prices much below those of a year ago.

We're marking our prices even lower than normal. We want to, you get more value than usual.

HE BROUGHT ANOTHER LOAD

Colored Tobacco Grower Knew What Was Expected of Him, and Had Come Prepared.

A colored man from Kentucky drove to a loose leaf tobacco sales warehouse in one of the Indiana cities on the Ohio river with a load of tobacco.

When he received his sales slip and weights he noticed the customary bank check was missing.

Approaching the cashier he said: "Look here, boss, where is my money for this here tobacco?" The sales sheet was consulted.

"It's like this; the expenses for weighing, unloading and commission for selling your tobacco amounted to more than the tobacco was worth. You still owe us just 59 cents," explained the cashier.

"Well, that's all right, I guess, but I ain't got a cent with me."

"Then next time you are coming over the river, just bring along a chicken with you and we will call the deal square."

Within a week the colored man appeared in the office with two chickens, one under each arm.

"Here are the chickens." "Sure—but you didn't have to bring two of them, one would have paid the bill."

"Yes, boss, but I've brought another load of tobacco."—Indianapolis News.

STRUGGLES ALONG ON $80,000

University of Pennsylvania Law Student Who Receives Huge Income Lives in Modest Fashion.

"Wanted, a stenographer of unimpeachable character, experienced in shorthand and taking dictation, who will be willing to devote her Sundays to indexing and preparing the cases of a struggling law student at the University of Pennsylvania."

This is the model of stenographic ability required by the university's richest student, John Jeffries V of England, who is "struggling" only in so far as his law work goes, for he came to this country with the mere trifle of $80,000 a year on which to live, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Jeffries, who is a second-year student, already has one stenographer, but his earnest delving into the intricacies of Blackstone and his ilk require more assistance and he is now looking for a suitable young woman to add to his staff.

The young Englishman, who is the fifth direct descendant of John Temple, governor general of Ireland, and has three cousins in the house of lords, is popular among his classmates, who declare that he is quite democratic, in spite of the burden of his wealth. He lives quietly and unpretentiously, and nothing in his mode of living seems to indicate that he spends even a half of $80,000 allowed him.

Japanese Remain Buddhists.

That 80 per cent of the Japanese living in the sugar plantation camps of Hawaii never have been touched by Christian propaganda, and that American plantation owners, managers and others who have helped support Japanese Buddhist missions, "did a foolish thing, if ever man did," were two of the statements made by Rev. Ulysses G. Murphy, representative of the American Bible society, in a recent address at Honolulu.

Rev. Mr. Murphy also said that the elder generation of Japanese living in the plantation camps, owing to their isolation, are forty years behind their native country in thought and understanding of modern conditions.

Any attempt at Americanization of the Japanese in Hawaii which leaves untouched their home life and fails to recognize that the key to the problem is the Japanese language schools is foredoomed to failure, Rev. Mr. Murphy declared.

Almost Had It.

One of the Terre Haute ward schools was having a contest in seeing which children could learn the airs of a number of standard songs so they could tell their names when they heard a few bars of the melody played.

After "Home, Sweet Home" and "Old Black Joe" had been played several times the teacher put on the record "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms." It was played a few minutes and she began to look expectantly at the children.

Then a fair little youngster looked triumphantly up from the list of songs he had in his hand. "Oh, it's that believe me in tears all about your charms," he hazarded.—Indianapolis News.

Would You Believe It?

The game of croquet does not develop experts and enthusiasts to the extent that golf and tennis do; but more people play it and more wood is consumed in providing the balls, mallets and stakes than in the production of golf clubs and tennis rackets combined, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. The entire playing outfit of croquet is made of wood except the arches, and sometimes these are of bent wood.

Some Large Emeralds.

One South American country has produced an emerald of 630 carats size and claimed it was the largest emerald in the world, and then learned that fields in the Ural mountains have produced emeralds that weighed six and three-quarters pounds, while the South American stone weighed only one-third of a pound. The six and three-quarter pound emerald was among the crown jewels of Russia, and its location now is unknown.

The NEW EDISON

General Wingate

commanded the 52nd Field Artillery in France. As Judge Wingate, he is now Surrogate of Brooklyn.

CHAMBERS OF SURROGATE'S COURT
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

June 2nd 1921

Mr. Thomas A. Edison,
Orange, New Jersey.

Dear Mr. Edison :

I want to tell you how highly impressed I was by the realism which the New Edison showed in the comparison test which was given before the Reville Post of the American Legion.

The quality, tone, and humanness of Miss Clark's recreated voice were the same as the quality, tone and humanness of Miss Clark's living voice. With my eyes shut, I could not tell one from the other. The same is also true when Mr. Young played in comparison with a Re-Creation of his own piano-playing. -- and when Mr. Philips sang in comparison with the Re-Creation of his own voice.

Very truly yours,

George Albert Wingate

Helen Clark Making the Test

The test General Wingate heard was made May 25th, 1921, in the 2nd Field Artillery Armory, Brooklyn, before Reville Post No. 127, American Legion,—and its friends. Miss Clark, it will be noted, stood right beside the New Edison while making the comparison.

"With my eyes shut, I could not tell one from the other."

Before You Buy, Hear the Phonograph That Had General Wingate Guessing!—Compare!

CERTAINLY,—you have never denied this:

That the ideal phonograph is the one whose reproduction of music can not be told from the original music.

Your reason, however, has probably insisted——that so perfect a phonograph can never be.

General Wingate tells you it can be—and IS! Read his letter.

Last month, Bamboschek told you the same thing:

—and he is principal conductor at the Metropolitan Opera House.

America's magazines and newspapers have printed numerous articles by leading musicians and music-critics—and they also said what General Wingate has said.

The proof of the New Edison's perfect realism is in black on white.

We can show it to you,—and will.

Whether all this convinces you or not, doesn't it suggest something?

Doesn't it suggest that you are overlooking the newest, most interesting and most significant development in phonographs—unless you hear the marvelous New Edison yourself?

—Unless you compare.

—Unless you try the phonograph that does sustain the comparison-test against those which do not.

Why not make sure that your Christmas phonograph is the phonograph which will bring your family music's highest pleasures and benefits?

Come in and hear the comparisons we've arranged.

Please come—any time.

Do You Know?

That Edison is first with Broadway hits?

LOCKNEY

Nov. 4.—Born—To Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Meriwether. Sunday, Oct. 30, a boy, named, G. T. Jr.,

Mrs. Archie Keys, who has been in Plainview with Mr. Keys ever since he underwent an operation some two weeks ago, spent Wednesday here. She reports Mr. Keys recovering rapidly.

Miss Gertrude Campbell entertained a host of her friends at her home Monday night with a Halloween party.

The house was beautifully decorated with jack o'lanterns and black cats. Everyone came dressed in disguise.

Mr. Madison Ayres, associated with his father, E. L. Ayres, in the dry goods business in Lockney, and Miss Whiteley drove to Plainview last Sunday afternoon, where they were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at the Methodist parsonage of that city, Rev. Clark, pastor of the church officiating.

Last Sunday afternoon an unfortunate accident occurred in the south part of town, when the three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Williams was run over by a car, occupied by two of W. W. Allen's boys, who live north of Lockney. It is reported that the child is getting along nicely. We understand that the child was attempting to cross the street when the accident occurred.—Beacon.

Love Talisman's are Unavailable
Chicago, Nov. 4.—The circulation through the mails of receipts for love potions and secret love talismans, to be secretly applied, led to the indictment today of Lucille S. Jackson, charged with using the mails to defraud. Miss Jackson is said to have already been indicted in Memphis.

She is alleged to have given the following recipe for gaining a man's heart to Pauline Bogus of Memphis and others:

"Take a small bottle and put in it a dozen pins, heads downward, and fill the bottle with rain water. Cork this and sew it into the mattress of the man to be wooed."

If it doesn't work the first year, she advised repeating the process, continuing until he proposes.

Alvin Francis, age 20, shot and killed Walter Tucker, age 5, at Dunlap, Cottle county, last week. Francis was put in the Paducah jail, but had to be removed because of the intense public feeling, as the murder was a very wanton and cold-blooded one, according to the published account.

KOREAN FOOTBALL 2697 B. C.

Players Wore Silk Stockings and Used Fans, According to Account Found in Old Book.

"Yz'uk kuk."

That's just Korea for football. Antiquarians digging around the dusty tomes of old Japan came across a document which seems to be the Police Gazette of B. C. 2697. The mole-skins of the day were made of silk. It was not uncommon to find a huge panny across the back of a stalwart tackle. Stockings were silk, too, and of variegated colors.

The Big Bill Edwards of those days was Emperor Ch'eng Ti of the Han dynasty. History relates that he backed his team to the limit. Whether he showed the devotion of the modern college student who sells his furniture to bet on the game is not known. Walter Camp was represented by Gen. Asukal Matsunoe. He got out the original rule book and guide. Whether he also picked his own crowd for the All-Mongolian or not, history does not say. At any event he was the original coach and probably won his share of moral victories while the other teams got the touchdowns.

Football in those days was like yachting now. Only those in whose veins flowed the bluest blood could make the team.

Nothing is known about the formations of that day, but we have a description of the ball. It was round and stuffed with hair. "Goat's hair" gave it resiliency. The game seems to have been all kicking. Stages were as prevalent as in a corner lots ball game of today. So long winded were the protests that the attendants used to serve tea to the players while a decision was being given.

Unnecessary roughness was frequent, and when the game was played in the army as a military exercise, a famous general protested that it was too strenuous, and the contestants were forthwith equipped with fans. A fan in the hands of the umpire replaced the whistle of today, and we can imagine him nearly waving his wrist off when things went wrong.

No goal posts as we know them to-day existed. At one end of the field there was a cherry tree and at the other end an apple tree, which served as goals. The apple tree was the more popular, as a tally was signified by a shower of fruit, at which the game was suspended while all contestants ate an apple. Once early in the spring, when the goals were in bloom a half-back of the Lu province team mistook the apple tree for the cherry and shot the ball past his own goal, thereby losing the game for his team. He was "cussed out" quite heartily by the spectators in true Yankee style.—New York Mail.

Trees for Future Generations.

Sometimes it is said that in certain European countries the law compels the planting of a tree for every tree cut down, and it is urged that such a law should be enacted in different provinces of Canada. The expression, however, is only metaphorical. What European countries do provide, is that for every acre of forest cut down, in certain areas unsuitable for agriculture, another crop of trees must be started by either natural or artificial methods of regeneration on that area. When forest trees are planted, the trees are set, say 2,000 to the acre, and when they are harvested, 50 or 70 years later, they stand from 150 to 200 to the acre. If they had been planted 200 to the acre they would have grown short and full of limbs from the ground up, and would be useless for lumber. Planted thickly they reach upward for the light, making long, clean trunks. The trees which never reach maturity are thinned out either naturally or with the ax, after they have served their purpose.—Montreal Herald.

Magnesium in Alloys.

Magnesium in massive form, as sticks or rods, is used to deoxidize other metals in foundries and is a constituent of alloys. More magnesium is now used as a deoxidizer or scavenger in metallurgy than for any other purpose, but its employment in alloys is increasing and may eventually become the largest one. An alloy of magnesium and aluminum is used in making castings for aircraft engines and parts of airplanes. The skeleton of the British airship R-34, the first dirigible to cross the Atlantic, is an alloy of aluminum and magnesium, and the yacht Resolute, the defender of the America's cup in the races in July, 1920, as well as the alternative defender the Vanite, carried gaffs made of this alloy.

Billions Go to Waste.

Three billion dollars waste a year due to smoke! This is one of the tributes America pays to the economic vice of thriftlessness, at least this prodigious sum is so specified by a leading statistician who states that the benzol, tar, ammonia and gas which yearly float away in the air is conservatively worth $1,000,000,000, while the consequent damage to property, health and comfort is placed at twice that amount.—Boston Transcript.

Ambulance for Sheep.

A motor ambulance especially designed for the care of sheep, and containing ten pens, five on each side, is an unusual but highly valuable adjunct to an enormous sheep ranch in Alberta, Canada. During the past season some 7,000 lambs were born on the ranch and the busy ambulance was the means of saving the lives of hundreds of them.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

CHINESE STUDENT WAS CALM

Slightly Disturbed by Soiled Necktie, but Not at All by Coming Important Debate.

It is only 15 years ago that Wellington Koo—to whose efforts are largely attributed the election of China to the council of the League of Nations—entered Columbia university, New York. In definite preparation for a diplomatic career he specialized in international law under Prof. John Bassett Moore, and it was in this subject that he took his Ph.D. degree, with a thesis on "The Status of Aliens in China." He was one of the most active and distinguished of the Columbia undergraduates of his time, says the Detroit News. Not only was he elected to the Phi Beta Kappa, the most famous of the American college fraternities, but he became editor in chief of the Columbia Spectator.

As a debator, too, Mr. Koo made his mark among his contemporaries. In 1908 his speech turned the tide in favor of his own university in a debate with Cornell. The story is told that when the Columbia team reached Ithaca, the seat of the rival university, most of its members were in a state of blue funk, owing to the high reputation of one of their opponents. This attack of nerves was at its height when they sought out Koo. "Yes," he told them, "I, too, am worried. I have brought only one evening dress tie with me, and look at it—soiled! What is to be done?" His fellow debaters fled to the nearest haberdasher's and returned with a half dozen ties of assorted models. Koo selected one, arrayed himself, and in it went forth to the fray with a light heart.

OVERLOOK BEAUTY OF FERNS

Choice Varieties Seem Not to Be as Greatly Appreciated as They Should Be.

One of the things which the florists of the United States have neglected to a great extent is the growing of ferns. To be sure we see many beautiful specimens in the windows of city establishments, but very few of the more choice varieties, which are really just as easy to grow, provided a little care is taken with them. How many know, for instance, that there are scores of varieties of the "maidenhair"? The baby maidenhair is one of the daintiest of these, its leaves being but little larger than the head of an ordinary pin. Another variety which is especially beautiful is the New Zealand maidenhair. The stem of this fern flattens out as it nears the leaves, and the leaves themselves are superimposed one on another, which gives the effect of several shades of green. Of course there are also the gigantic tree ferns of the tropics, which have fronds from five to fifteen feet in length, the trunks sometimes being four or five feet in diameter, but these would hardly do for a lady's bouquet.

First American Airway.

The "cornerstone" of America's first airway from Washington to Dayton, Ohio, was laid at Bolling field, Washington, with appropriate ceremonies, designed as a part of the celebration of the anniversary of Lincoln's birth. High officials of the army, members of congress and aviators of note attended.

Army aviation officials described the event as a "milestone in the progress of American aeronautics."

A feature of the dedication was the first public appearance of the American messenger airplane, one of the smallest in the world, which is planned to take the place of motorcycles for certain messenger work. The plane has a wing spread of only 20 feet and stands 7 feet high. It will carry a load of 240 pounds and with its 60-horse power motor makes 95 miles an hour.

Remarkable Belgian Gun.

One of the most curious products of the Belgian gunmakers' art, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, is now in the possession of a Colorado sportsman. This gun is remarkable for its arrangement of seven barrels in one, the composite tube with its cluster of parallel bores being about the size of a heavy-gauge shotgun barrel. Seven .22-caliber rifle cartridges are inserted in the breech openings, and fired simultaneously by a single firing pin and hammer. The shell ejector is a removable disk with seven holes, which swings back when the lock is opened.

Oak in Hall of Fame.

Before Basking Ridge, N. J., took its place in the world an oak stood there. The people of this New Jersey town can trace the tree's history for 400 years, but the church is only 200 years old. It has just celebrated that event. Miss Margaret Hitchcock of Morristown, and Mrs. William D. Baneker of Basking Ridge nominate the tree for a place in the Hall of Fame which the American Forestry association is compiling of trees with a history. The tree has a circumference of 15½ feet 6 feet above the ground.

Indian Chief Drives Auto.

An Indian Chief, Tony Tomny, of the Florida Seminoles, who still wear the garb of their forefathers, is the first of his tribe to buy and operate his own automobile. After a course of instruction at a garage in Miami, the chief now rolls into town each week from his village, near Fort Lauderdale, at the wheel of his machine, but with a pair of horn-rimmed glasses as his only other accessories to the ways of the paleface.

SOME LOGIC; LITTLE REASON

Examination Papers Turned in by Youngsters Proved They Gave Thought to Questions.

"Tell me all you know about centaurs."

The response of one boy to this demand in a recent examination was as follows: "A centaur was ancient cavalry and archery all in one piece. He could not be knocked out of his saddle because he didn't have any, being the same person as his horse. If he needed a stable he did not need a tent, I do not know which, and if he needed forage he did not need rations, or if he needed rations he did not need forage."

Evidently the youngster who gave that reply was of a military inclination, and had thought out for himself the advantages of centaurs on the fighting line. It was funny, but not unintelligent. Less original, with only one little slip indeed to mar its accuracy, is the version of the schoolboy of the story of the Gorgons.

"The Gorgons," he began confidently, "were three sisters that lived in the islands of the Hesperides, somewhere in the Indian ocean. They had long snakes for hair, tusks for teeth and claws for nails, and they looked like women, only more horrible."

It was a little Boston girl whose definition of the minotaur has long been remembered by the elder pupils in the school that she attended:

"The minotaur was a large bull which lived on tributes in a labyrinth. He was mythical, carnivorous and fond of young people."

FACTS ABOUT MILK AS FOOD

As an Article of Diet There Are Many Things That Are Not Properly Understood.

The use of milk as a food has been so extensively exploited by the milk interests that there exists a somewhat erroneous idea about it which a recent speaker, before the American Pediatric society, is endeavoring to correct.

These errors principally concern the group of children between the ages of 1 and 6 years. These errors might be classified under the headings: (1) Prolonged use of milk as an exclusive article of diet. (2) Increased quantities of milk given along with other foods.

Milk might not only be used too long as an exclusive article of diet and in excessive quantities with other foods, but its nutritional value might be injured by boiling.

The lalty were taught, and rightly so, that milk was an ideal breeding place for germs, and that the growth of these germs might be inhibited by keeping the milk on ice, or the milk might be brought to a boil. The use of boiled milk was becoming more prevalent, and many injuries to nutrition occurred.

Phoenix Built on Ruins.

By far the most interesting remains of the lost people of Arizona are their network of canals which prevail through all the valleys. The longest is the one tapping the Gila river, and which supplied with water the ancient city, now marked with the one standing building. This is the Casa Grande, about which so much has been written, and which has excited much interest among archaeologists in the last ten years.

The volume of water taken out by this canal must have been immense, for it supported millions of acres. In most places the canal has been filled with drifting sand, but its course is easily traced. Engineers who located the Mericopa canal made use of the old Aztec ditch, and today water runs over its pebbly bottom just as it did two thousand or three thousand years ago.

For miles and miles around mounds tell the tale of houses destroyed by the ravages of time. Phoenix was built on the ruins of this ancient city, and the relics frequently are found of this ancient civilization.—Detroit News.

Color and Light.

To get color and light is the great thing. The difficulty is to get them both. Turner, in his Italian landscapes, enhanced the color of his sky by a dark pine-tree in the foreground, sacrificing the color of the tree for the sake of accenting its value and warmth; and the old landscape painter's device of a brown tree is used for the same end—to make the blue of the sky and distance more luminous and beautiful. This is also the reason for the dark-brown foreground usual in old landscapes; and our eye is not arrested by the tree or the dark foreground, but goes past it to the point of the picture.—George Clausen.

Two Poison Antidotes.

The old method of administering an emetic in case of poisoning has given way to a lavage of the stomach which is claimed to have many advantages over the older process. This flushing of the stomach must be thoroughly done and water must be taken at close intervals until about 15 pints have been consumed. This is followed by a quantity of animal charcoal taken into the stomach to insure the absorption of any poison which may be left. This takes the place of old antidotes, although there is nothing to hinder one from adding some of the usual antidotes to the water made use of for washing purposes.

ODD DEVICES FOR PATENTS

Curiosities That Have Been Accorded Place in the Archives of Great London Office.

Some recent curiosities patented in England are described by the Illustrated London News. There are two head-washing caps, one of which is an inverted metal bowl with a rubber ring that fits it tightly to the head and a spigot by which it may be attached to a rubber tube; the other is a helmet-like device with an inlet for water at the top and an outlet back on the neck.

Others are an automobile for use on land or water. It has a propeller and a detachable hull, while the fore wheels are encased and act as a rudder.

Then there is a railway train fitted with a conduit passing from the smokestack over the roofs of the cars to the rear of the train, through which smoke, vapor and cinders are conveyed.

For bathing the face there is a basin with a recessed end for supporting the neck, and a detachable tube through which the bather may breathe while soaking her complexion in the water.

A protective garment for motorists and others is made of a double fabric containing shock absorbers, in the form of hollow rubber balls.

Another ingenious person patents a buffer to be placed on the bows of ships so as to lessen the shock of collisions. Bent plates fitting the converging sides of the ship support heavy spiral springs projecting forward to a steel plate that extends across the bows.

GUARD DIGNITY OF PRESIDENT

Washington Theatrical Managers Are Not Allowed to Advertise His Attendance in Their Playhouses.

There is a code of etiquette governing relations between the executive mansion at Washington and the playhouses. Point No. 1 in the code provides that no manager, either of the theater or of the visiting attraction, shall angle for Presidential patronage. When a company arrives at the theater its manager is handed a card which impresses this upon him, and crushes all hopes of using his pet projects for luring the President to confer indorsement upon his offering.

Another point is that a box is reserved in every theater in Washington every day until noon for the President. By that hour the White House is supposed to have notified the theater that the President will attend that evening. Reservations may be made earlier, of course, but in no event may the house or company manager make use of a paragraph in the newspapers announcing that the President will attend on such and such an evening.

The audience is always on the alert to rise when the Presidential party enters, and remains standing at the conclusion of the performance until the White House contingent makes its exit. No Presidential party was ever known to keep a curtain down for a minute through a tardy appearance.

Great Pianist Particular.

Paderewski will not permit anybody to sit behind him, says a writer in Hearst's. At some of his concerts hundreds of seats could have been added on the stage. Moreover, in every Paderewski recital no seats are sold in that part of the orchestra proper which is directly behind him. The piano is set at a 45-degree angle, which means that in the extreme left corner of the orchestra, looking toward the stage, a number of seats are directly facing Paderewski's back. Those seats are empty for Paderewski. "If they are behind me, I think they are pushing my elbows," he says.

One night he complained: "Will you go down to that woman in the seventh row at the right? She is fawning. I do not mind if she fans in time, but if she cannot do that I cannot play."

Yiddish Theater for London.

The Jewish population of London, which is about 150,000, is at last to have for the first time a Yiddish theater in the West end. It is proposed to establish a permanent playhouse for the performance of Yiddish plays in Yiddish, with Jewish actors. There is also a project under consideration for the translation of classic drama and the best contemporary plays into Yiddish for performance in the new theater. The best musical comedies will also be adapted to performance there. Jewish actors from many parts of the world have signified willingness to go to London professionally. One of the promised features is a repertoire of 50 different plays to be produced on 50 successive nights.

Light Railways in New Zealand.

The minister of public works announced in his annual statement to parliament that the proposal to construct privately owned light railway lines in different parts of the Dominion to connect up rural sections with the government main trunk line would be encouraged and efforts made to push the project. The construction of these lines will call for a large amount of material as well as construction machinery and rolling stock.—Scientific American.

Mrs. Wye—No, but she's so stylish I think I'll keep her. I may be able to borrow some of her clothes.—Boston Transcript.

INDIAN STORY OF CREATION

Menaboshu Made the Earth, According to the Legend—Great Lakes Are Bear Tracks.

Menaboshu, according to the legend of the Chippewa Indians, was the creator of all things. He avowed one day that he would make the earth. But the almighty creator did not find his task easy, for he wanted to make the earth larger than any other thing. Truly he rounded the soil between his powerful hands, until it grew into a great ball; but, freed from their touch, it fell in a heap. In this way he tried again and again; each time he saw the mass crumble. Then Menaboshu mixed water with the soil to form mud; and, besides, moulded it about a great rock, when behold—a still larger ball. The mass, at last, kept the chosen shape.

The creator, pausing to rest from his toil, beheld his matchless work.

Menaboshu next undertook to devise the many living things which dwell on the earth. Before the surface of the giant ball had time to dry, in fact, the lusty god began to make the animals, last of which was man—began to make the animals, one kind after another, on the broad palm of his left hand. Among others he made the bears.

The first bear soon escaped from its maker. The wild beast, with its untried strength, leaped to the earth and bounded straightaway across the continent of North America. But the land where the sprawling bear's huge paws struck the earth was still so fresh and soft that they left deep tracks. All was strangely new.

These deep marks on our continent quickly filled with water. Scarcely had the frightened bear bounded away, when the beautiful lakes—Superior, Michigan, Huron, Ontario and Erie—appeared, full to the brim. They are old as the first bear's tracks.

The creator now hastened to make rain. At sight of the water, filling the lakes, he began to fear, lest the soil again fall in a heap; and he caused the rain to fall from the sky, so long that the lakes overflowed their shores. And the water from Superior, seeking the level, flowed toward Erie, the track of the foot which struck first and settled, under the bear's weight, much lower than the others—the water, on its way to the sea dropped abruptly from Ontario into Erie. And lo! the Falls of Niagara!

And Menaboshu, ending his labors, again beheld his work.

The Power of Silence.

There is nothing in this world which works to greater advantage than to be silent. No one likes to be ignored. It hurts like the mischief to have an antagonist throw up a barricade against which we have no power. The moment the other fellow is silent, that minute all detailed plans of attack are worthless. The only thing one can do is to be silent also, and there you are! Though but an armistice, the action of conflict is over.

The one who refuses to converse may be one you have no use for. Still it bothers you. You are annoyed, your pride is injured at the realization that the one you hold in scorn has the opportunity to ignore you. The moment you resort to tantalizing banter you acknowledge the final defeat. If you fall in line and imitate you compliment. The secret is to steal the thunder first.

If one you love keeps silent it hurts twice. Once because you have no idea how deeply you may have offended to bring down upon your head such punishment, and again because the loved one could ignore you. Just think over the conquering points of this silent weapon.—New York Mail.

Tears Brighten the Eyes.

There is a very widespread belief that the process of crying tends to weaken the eyes and rob them of brightness. Actually, the truth lies in the opposite direction, according to an oculist.

The shedding of tears (provided that the weeping is not overdone) is one of the greatest aids to softness and brightness of the eyes.

The explanation is this: The eyes need a bath just as our bodies do. There is a certain quality in the "tear liquid" which does not exist in water, and that is why a tear bath is of much greater value than a mere bathing with cold or warm water.

There is a possibility that one of the reasons for the superiority of feminine eyes in point of limpidity and brightness over the male optics is the tendency of the gentler sex to indulge in more or less frequent outbreaks of tears.

The moral is that if you want to have what novelists call "eyes like the fishpools of Heshoon," give the eyes a tear bath at least once a week.

Wants a Free Trip.

Railroads require that when a body is shipped to any point the undertaker shall purchase two full tickets, but it is optional whether any one accompany the body.

The following unique proposal was sent to a New York undertaker recently:

"Within the next five weeks I am due at Santa Fe, N. M., and as I understand there are times when the near relatives of one who has passed into hazy oblivion cannot come to New York to take charge of same, I hereby hold myself open at any time within the above named period to accompany said oblivious party to any point in the West or Southwest as a matter of covering my transportation in exchange for said services."

IN THOSE GOOD OLD TIMES!

One Will No Longer Wonder Why Our Forefathers Gladly Entered into Bonds of Matrimony.

I have lately been shown (writes a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian) the first account book of a couple who set up housekeeping nearly fifty years ago. Many of the entries are interesting reading now, and certain items especially are warranted to make the modern housekeeper's mouth water. The first servant's wages for instance, were £8 ($40) a year—a servant, too, I was given to understand, who did all the washing, plain cooking and evidently had none of her successors' objection to children, for in due course she added to her duties that of pushing the baby carriage out every afternoon. It is worthy of note that the bedroom for this treasure was furnished entirely at a cost of £2 10s ($12.50). Food prices, unfortunately, cannot be readily compared with those of today, as provisions were entered simply as "grocer, butcher, etc." But what should we feel now, I wonder, on receiving a (winter) quarter's gas bill amounting to 9s 4d ($2.33). It is interesting to see that butcher's meat bulked far more largely in proportion than it would in household books today, after the frugal years of war, and that the young couple considered food of another sort worth paying for is shown by the entry: "Two tickets for concert (Patti and Sims Reeves), £1 10s ($7.50).

"PANTS" PROVED HIM HONEST

Their Frayed Condition Convinced Tailor That Man Who Wore Them Must Be Straight.

It pays to advertise one's poverty, a certain statesman thinks.

A tailor in the last campaign was quite convinced in his own mind that the statesman was a most unworthy and absolutely unfit man for public position, as a result of the campaign conducted against him.

About ten days before the election one of the bell boys of a Washington club brought to this particular tailor—by mere chance—a pair of trousers belonging to the statesman, to be pressed. It was a hurry-up job, being the only pair that the statesman had at the time. The tailor started pressing them and to his amazement discovered that the trousers were badly frayed at the edges and worn and showed other evidence that the owner was apparently not spending his money for elegance in clothes, whereupon he announced he was for him.

"I am with him from this day forward," he said. "Any statesman who is forced to wear clothes for so long a time as these have been worn is surely a square and upright man and I am for him to the limit."

Goldfish in Ohio River.

Many tons of goldfish were caught in the fishing grounds of the Portage river at Port Clinton, O., recently. According to the claims of the fishermen, the first scattering of the fish was found in 1913 after the big floods of Ohio, and the lake regions, and it was thought at that time that the fish may have been liberated from some of the park and resort aquariums, by the overflowing of the flooded artificial ponds.

The fish are not of the glass bowl variety, but seem to be more of a carp species, and will measure several inches and weigh as much as a half-pound each. They are placed in cars and brought here to be loaded into express cars and shipped in tanks, alive, to the New York markets, where they are sold to the retail and wholesale trade.

St. Paul Is Exonerated.

Men translated the Bible—and twisted St. Paul's remarks about women to suit their own ideas. That is divulged by Miss K. Raleigh to the Women's Freedom League.

The apostle's remarks about women, she said, were badly twisted in translation and it could be proved by the removal of a few dots and commas, that St. Paul did not forbid women to preach; command them to obey their husbands; insist that forever and aye, whatever the fashion of the country, they should wear hats in church; say that they should never wear jewelry and fine clothes.

"In the sentence 'Women obey your husbands,'" said Miss Raleigh, "the correct translation of the word 'obey' is 'be considerate to.'"

A Yellow Peril.

Can you read your laundry mark? Philip Terry, author of "Terry's Guide to Japan," tells the following joke on himself—a joke which emphasized the advisability of keeping on good terms with one's Chinese laundryman. The Chink in Mr. Terry's home town was inclined to be surly; so one of the guide book writer lectured him on the subject of courtesy, and urged adopt civility as a habit. Terry, who lived several years in Japan and knows something of the language, was surprised to find that the hieroglyph signifying "upstairs" was "ass."

Sounds and Sight.

"That motion picture the beautiful music."

"Yes," rejoined Miss Caye, "present we listen to the picture look at the musical show."

Hunters Look for Tagged Ducks
Letters of warning have been sent to game wardens and sportsmen through the north and south, advising duck hunters to examine all fowls shot during the present season and report their findings to the Chief Game Warden of Saskatchewan, Canada. Five hundred ducks have been released at that place as an experiment and each has leg bands and a wing band on the right side, close to the body.

The letter is as follows: "Five hundred Saskatchewan ducks have been tagged for the purpose of ascertaining their migration routes to their winter homes. Bands bear the notations: 'Manitoba Trading Co.' and are numbered. Kindly report date bird is killed, variety and exact locality."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Horne, Miss Grace Horne, and E. W. Evans of White Deer were here Sunday.
