Flames engulf Saudi jet; all 265 aboard perish

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Flames engulfed a Saudi Arabian jetliner after it made an emergency return to the Riyadh airport and all 265 persons aboard perished, the official Saudi press agency reported today. It was the fourth-largest death toll in aviation history.

The plane was on a flight from Karachi, Pakistan, to Riyadh, to Jidda, Saudi Arabia.

About 75 percent of the victims were Saudi Arabians who boarded the plane in Karachi, said Saudi airline officials in the Pakistani city. Earlier, officials in Karachi said most of the passengers were Pakistanis returning to work in Saudi Arabia after visits home for the Eid festival at the end of the Moslem holy month of Ramadan. There were no immediate official reports that any Americans were aboard. "As the tongues of flames shot out the windows of the plane, it became impossible to open the doors from outside or inside," said a statement from the Saudi Civil Aviation Department. "The whole plane was engulfed in flames." The Saudi state radio said the Tristar caught fire Tuesday night a few minutes after taking off from Riyadh, the Saudi capital on the east side of the country. The flight was headed for Jidda, the Red Sea port 500 miles west of Riyadh.

The plane turned back. As it approached for an emergency landing, the broadcast report said, fire brigades and ambulances were rushed to the runway and rescue helicopters took to the air. A "fierce glow of fire" could be seen.

The pilot told the control tower he was trying to rush his 249 passengers to safety through the emergency exits, the report continued, but radio contact was cut and the body of the plane became wrapped in flames.

"We are from Allah and unto him we return," said the Saudi government radio, quoting from the Koran, the holy book of Islam.

In addition to the passengers, the plane carried a crew of 16, the airline said.

The airport compound was guarded by security men, while a team of experts began the investigation to determine the cause of the fire. Reporters were barred from the area.

The worst accident in aviation history occurred on Tenerife in the Canary Islands in March 1977, when 582 persons were killed in the collision on a runway of two Boeing 747s operated by Pan American and the Dutch airline KLM.

The second worst, and the greatest loss of life in a single-plane accident, was the crash of a Turkish Airlines DC-10 northeast of Paris in March 1974 in which 346 people perished.

The crash of an American Airlines DC-10 in Chicago in May 1979 killed 273 people.

COMING THROUGH — Matt Robertson, 15, of Forest, Ind., is knocked down by a runaway calf at the Indiana State Fair FFA Heifer Chase Tuesday. Matt suffered a bloody nose as several heifer calves went over him but he managed to hold onto the calf under him to claim him as his own. Future Farmers of America members tried to hogtie the calves and get them in a pen. The first 16 claimed the calves as their own.

Israelis bomb Palestinian targets for second day

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli fighter jets bombed Palestinian targets in southern Lebanon today for the second consecutive day after guerrillas pounded Israel's northern Galilee panhandle with a barrage of rockets, the military command announced.

A brief communique said all Israeli planes returned safely after bombing "forward and organizational bases used for strikes" against Israel. It did not identify the targets.

Officers here said Palestinian crews fired several Soviet-made Katyusha rockets at settlements in Galilee, but no one was injured.

Military sources in Tel Aviv said Israeli-backed Christian militias in southern Lebanon shelled guerrilla strongholds in the areas of Arnoun and Beaufort Castle, targets of a major raid by Israeli troops and planes late Monday and early Tuesday.

The Israelis claimed up to 60 Arab guerrillas were killed in the earlier operation. They said three Israeli soldiers were killed.

A spokesman for Israel's military command denied a report from the Palestinian news agency Wafa that Israeli border gunners shelled guerrilla strongholds in three southern Lebanese towns.

Wafa said Israeli border gunners and right-wing Christian militiamen this morning launched a 30-minute artillery barrage on the port city of Tyre, the town of Nabatiyeh and the neighboring village of Aishieh, all southern Lebanese towns controlled by Palestinian guerrillas. Wafa which is controlled by the Palestine Liberation Organization, said one Palestinian woman was wounded in the attack.

After Monday night's major Israeli raid against Palestinian strongholds in southern Lebanon, Lt. Gen. Raphael Eytan, the Israeli chief of staff, said his forces would continue to take the initiative and carry the fight to their foes north of the Israeli-Lebanese border.

In Washington, the State Department was less specific, saying: "We are deeply concerned by rising tensions and violence in that area. We call on all parties to act with restraint."

The raid was the third attack on Palestinian positions in south Lebanon in a week and the biggest Israeli operation across the border since the 90-day invasion in 1978.

$200 gift helps

boost Bible Fund

A $200 gift from the First United Methodist Church's Men's Bible Class has helped to boost the 1980 Bible Fund past the $6,100 mark.

Only $3,900 stands between the Howard County Ministerial Alliance and its goal of $10,000 but time is getting short. The sponsoring organization hopes to wind up the drive no later than Aug. 31.

Checks can be made out to the Bible Fund and forwarded either to Dr. Kenneth Patrick, First Baptist Church, Big Spring, or to the Herald, which always helps coordinate the campaign.

The money is used to pay salaries and other expenses of the classes offered in Bible at Howard County's three high schools. The program, by law, cannot be supported by tax dollars.

Carter on shaky ground with American veterans

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his first act as president on his first day in office, Jimmy Carter antagonized the powerful organizations which claim to speak for America's 31 million veterans. His relationship with veterans has been rocky ever since.

This week, the first post-convention week of the election campaign, Carter is trying to patch matters up with veterans' groups; Ronald Reagan, his Republican rival, is capitalizing on their coolness toward the White House.

Reagan addressed the VFW convention Monday in Chicago and was to speak before the American Legion convention in Boston today. Carter flies to Boston to address the Legion on Thursday. Independent candidate John B. Anderson went before the Legionnaires Tuesday.

Back on Jan. 21, 1977, the Veterans of Foreign Wars called Carter's inaugural day "probably one of the saddest days in the history of our country" because the new president, fulfilling a campaign promise, in his first act pardoned almost all Vietnam draft evaders.

On Monday, the VFW, having since found additional grievances with Carter, handed out its first political endorsement. In backing Reagan, the VFW ended an 80-year history of political neutrality.

Reagan, accepting the endorsement, went on the attack. He told the VFW, "This anti-veteran administration has stacked the deck against you."

Veterans Administrator Max Cleland, who lost both legs and his right forearm in Vietnam, replied: "I am surprised and alarmed at Governor Reagan's distortion of the facts about our nation's veterans. Once again his rhetoric has overtaken reality."

Although veterans groups are unhappy with the administration's record, privately some of their leaders concede that, given the temper and the budgets of the times, they probably would be unhappy with any administration.

Cleland himself comes under criticism when officials of veterans groups speak on a not-to-be-quoted basis.

Brilab tapes roll on in court

HOUSTON (AP) — As an FBI informant's Brillab bait splashed into a pool of politicians and labor leaders, the fishing expedition got bigger and more expensive, government tape recordings show.

The tapes made public Tuesday in U.S. District Judge Robert O'Connor's courtroom revealed a plan to spend from $2 million to $4 million in "seed" money to obtain lucrative union and state employee health insurance contracts.

In addition to millions of dollars in losses, the strike in the shipyards and elsewhere is expected to ruin production plans and delivery timetables and scare away much-sought Western customers.

First indoor frisbe contest will be held in Big Spring

The First International Indoor Frisbe Contest will get under way Saturday at 10 a.m. at Citizens Federal Credit Union here. The contest, first such recorded contest of its kind to be held anywhere, is being sponsored by the credit union and will feature frisbes designed specifically for indoor competition.

The idea of a frisbe contest is not a new one. Frisbe contests have been popular since the first outdoor frisbes were introduced on the market and on college campuses more than ten years ago. However, the idea of holding an indoor frisbe contest — a new one. As a result, many records could be set this weekend with the competition being held in Big Spring. In addition to having the opportunity of being recorded in the record books, contestants will also be competing for cash prizes in four different age groups. The 15 to 18 and 11 to 14 age groups will receive $50 for first place, $25 for second place, and $10 for third place. Winners in the 7 to 10 and 3 to 6 age groups will receive $25 for first place, $10 for second place, and $5 for third place. Each contestant will be allowed to make a total of three throws. The three throws will be measured and added together for a total score. The top three total

Corporate profit decline will mean more layoffs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharp drop in corporate profits from April through June means that companies will continue to cut back their spending and lay off more workers in coming months, private economists say.

The squeeze on companies is tightened further by suddenly rising interest rates that discourage borrowing for new plants and equipment, these economists explain.

Moreover, a revival of rampant inflation last month will add to the cost of new business investment and dampen any prospect of a rapid resurgence in consumer demand — a force that should exist if companies are going to risk heavy spending.

These trends — which would ensure a very sluggish recovery from the current recession — were painted in interviews Tuesday with economists from three of the nation's leading private forecasting firms.

The economists agreed that the decline in corporate profits — while not unexpected — virtually guarantees that companies will further cut back activity and lay off more workers.

"This is a trigger for cutting employment," said

Heavy rain falls in Permian Basin

By the Associated Press

Heavy rainfall was reported early today in West Texas from the Permian Basin southward into the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas.

The National Weather Service said there were indications that the area got from 1-2 inches of rain during the night. Odessa got about an inch of rainfall in only 45 minutes during a late night thunderstorm.

Forecasts called for more showers and thunderstorms over the western half of the state and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The remainder of the state was to have partly cloudy skies and hot temperatures. Highs were to range from the 90s in western and southern sections of the state to near 100 in North Central Texas and Northeast Texas.

Wichita Falls was the state's hot spot Tuesday with 101.

Low clouds spread southward from the Hill Country to the middle and lower Texas coast and into the Valley before dawn. Skies were clear over northern and northeast sections.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 70s and 80s. Extremes ranged from 67 at Marfa and 88 at Dalhart to 83 at Dallas-Fort Worth.

Men who don't register will be tracked down

DALLAS (AP) — Young men who did not register for the draft will be tracked down and prosecuted, Selective Service director Bernard Rostker told a veteran's organization.

Rostker, speaking at the annual national AMVETS convention Tuesday, said the draft registration went "extremely well." It was his first public speech since completion of the registration program.

The number of registrants has not been tabulated, but Rostker told the veterans he is confident the "vast majority" of young men required to register did so.

"We will endeavor to locate those who did not register, and if necessary they will be prosecuted," he said. "We believe that is the only fair thing to do."

"Failure to register is not a trivial act. It is not a victimless crime," Rostker said. The victims, he said, are young men who registered and stand greater chance of being drafted because others refused.

"Specifically, there are young men who registered who will be drafted because other young men violated the law and refused to register," Rostker said.

"In the name of fairness, those who fail to register will be identified, and their records will be forwarded to the Department of Justice," he added.

In an interview prior to his speech, Rostker said figures should be compiled in about two weeks to determine how many of the between 3.8 million and 3.9 million men who were supposed to register did so. Young men who were born in 1960 and 1961 were required to register by appearing at post offices and filling out a form.

"The last time we had registration not connected with a draft was in 1973. That year 77 percent of the men registered on time and 98 percent had registered by the end of a year," Rostker said. "We think we'll do substantially better than that."

Texan accused in kidnaps, rapes, robberies

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A Texan suspected of kidnapping, raping and robbing more than a half-dozen women in at least three states was held without bond today. Authorities tried to sort out a bizarre and complicated case.

About a dozen officers — FBI, Louisiana State Police and city police in both Texarkana, Ark., and Texarkana, Texas — pounced on Joseph John Varanelli Jr. as he emerged Tuesday from a motel straddling the Arkansas-Texas border.

Officers here said Varanelli, 37, from the Houston suburb of LaPorte, Texas, was preceded from the motel room by a woman he is accused of kidnapping

Monday in Baton Rouge, La. They said Varanelli was held on Louisiana warrants accusing him of aggravated kidnapping, rape and three armed robberies, but that he was arrested in Arkansas, Texas and federal action was still being discussed.

Police in Arkansas and Louisiana gave this account of the spree, which reportedly began about five weeks ago in Arkansas, spread to Texas and then to Louisiana: —A 16-year-old Texarkana, Ark., girl was taken July 10 to California, where she was later freed. She later said her abductor committed at least 12 robberies en route.

—Next, another teen-ager was kidnapped a few days later near Amarillo, Texas, then was released in Houston.

—At Houston, three teen-aged girls were abducted when their car broke down north of the city. Those girls are still missing. The third was freed in Texarkana, Texas.

—Louisiana State Police said they got involved when someone robbed a curio shop at Lafayette and kidnapped its 23-year-old clerk. They said she was driven in her car to east Texas, then to the Shreveport-Bossier City area where her abductor took another captive.

—Troopers said the second Louisiana woman, 31, was kidnapped from the Bossier City lounge where the abductor went Saturday afternoon with the woman he kidnapped at Lafayette. They said he robbed the lounge, then threatened to kill the lounge employee unless the Lafayette woman followed them in her car. They said the Lafayette woman was freed Sunday in Alexandria.

—State police said the kidnapper went with the Bossier City woman to Baton Rouge, where he robbed another shop Monday and took its lone 19-year-old employee captive. Again, they said, the Bossier City woman followed the couple in her car after the abductor threatened to kill the Baton Rouge woman. They said the Bossier City woman was released in the Alexandria area.

Texarkana police said they traced the sports car owned by the kidnapped Baton Rouge woman to a motel astride the Texas-Arkansas line, about 2 p.m. Monday. They said nearly a dozen officers waited in rooms on either side of the unit occupied by the kidnapping suspect. The woman emerged about 4:45 p.m., they said, and police pounced on Varanelli as he left the room behind her.

Although Varanelli offered no resistance, they said, a 22 Magnum was found in his boot.

Youngsters in area enjoy reading books

Recently, awards were given during a film festival at the Howard County Library. A picnic was held at Comanche Trail Park for all participants in the program.

SHAWNTE BRYANT

Who says youngsters don't like to read?

Three Big Spring youngsters were among many that defied the notion that today's children can not read and do not want to in the first place.

Jason Dwayne Porter of Elbow Elementary School, Shawnte Fae Bryant of Coahoma Elementary and Robert Scott Ferguson of Goliad Elementary finished one-two-three in the Outstanding Reading Achievement Program held this summer under the auspices of the Howard County Library.

The program, which began in June, was a contest for reading the most books at reading-level or above during the summer.

Last Saturday, awards were given during a film festival at the Howard County Library. A picnic was held at Comanche Trails Park for all participants in the program.

For his efforts, Jason won a trophy. Shawnte and Robert both were awarded gift certificates.

Each child in the program was required to give a book report on each book. The report had to be approved by personnel at the library. For each eight books read, a participant received a free paperback book from the library. For every 40, a participant was given a free hardback.

NOT INDIA RUSTICANA — The picture above might suggest a scene from rural India. In reality, it was taken not far from Signal Mount in Southeastern Howard County, where a few contented looking cows are foraging on a crop. Signal Mount got its name from fact that wandering Indian tribes used to climb to the top of the peak to send up signals to other Indians in the area. Moss Springs, a popular picnic area in the 1920s, is not too far removed from the above scene.

Hit-and-run driver being sought

Man remains in serious condition after rescuing woman from fire

DALLAS (AP) — An unemployed oil field worker who rescued a woman from a burning car remained in serious condition at a Dallas hospital early today while police searched for the hit-and-run driver that ran him down.

Michael Boyd, 22, was struck by the same vehicle that plowed into the rear of an overturned car, setting it on fire about midnight Friday. Boyd pulled 20-year-old Lori Adams out of the flaming wreckage and was hit when the fleeing driver sped away.

The impact tossed Boyd 20 feet into the air. He landed face down and slide about 60 feet along the pavement.

Police said Tuesday night they still were looking for the driver who fled on foot after hitting a second car on Dallas' Stemmons Freeway in his escape attempt.

Investigators said they obtained a name and address from license plate numbers, but that the man has not returned home or to work since the accident.

"I'd like to take him (the suspect) up here and just show him," said Boyd's wife, Johnna. She brought the couple's 13-day-old son, Michael Lee, to stay with relatives in Lewisville during her vigil at Parkland Memorial Hospital.

"Both of his legs are broke and his jaw is broke in two places. All of his front teeth are knocked out, his right arm is broke and his right wrist is crushed," said Boyd's sister, Claire Robinson.

"The doctor, she doesn't think he'll ever use his right hand like he did before," Mrs. Robinson said. "His right knee was crushed. His head, it's like a closed wound. His brain is pressing on the inside. His lungs are full of fluid."

Relatives nodded numbly and wondered how Boyd would pay his medical bills as friends told them he "saved that girl's life."

Boyd was traveling from Lewisville, north of Dallas, with his brother Terry and friend Brian Christy when they came upon the woman's overturned car.

Terry Boyd began directing traffic from behind her car when the hit-and-run driver approached and hit the car from behind.

The three men pulled Ms. Adams out of the car, seconds before it exploded, she said.

"The guy that ran into the back of me put it into reverse and floorboarded it to try and leave the scene. He pulled around the side of the car and that's when he hit Mike. He must have been going faster than 60 miles an hour."

Ms. Adams escaped with second-degree burns on one arm and singed hair.

Boyd had just lost his job with a drilling rig outside Baytown, near Houston, and was en route back to the coast to pick up his possessions when the accident occurred. He had planned to return to Lewisville to look for work.

Mrs. Boyd said her husband was anxious for news of their new baby, and "he opened his eyes this morning. About all he can do is squeeze your hand, though."

Unions want endorsement delayed

CHICAGO (AP) — Leaders of the AFL-CIO are gathered here with the intention of endorsing President Carter for re-election, but a number of disgruntled unions are fighting to postpone a vote of support because of their displeasure with the president.

In what appeared to be a clear sign of organized labor's less-than-enthusiastic feelings about Carter, leaders of several unions planned to postpone today's executive council meeting that the AFL-CIO leadership body postpone recommending an endorsement of Carter until either Thursday or perhaps until Sept. 4, when all the AFL-CIO presidents are to meet.

As the union leaders convened here Tuesday night, several indicated they want an endorsement postponed so that each union could try to negotiate concessions from the administration on issues of special concern to them.

"We're all going to eventually endorse Carter," said one union official who favored postponing an endorsement. "The only question is when," said the official, who did not want to be identified.

AFL-CIO president Lane Kirkland had planned to schedule a quick vote today with the 34-member council recommending an endorsement to its general board, which is composed of leaders of all 104 affiliated unions.

But the reluctant unions, numbering more than a half-dozen, said that enough of a groundswell might develop for a postponement, which would represent at least a partial repudiation of the president.

Among the unions whose presidents have expressed reluctance about an immediate endorsement are the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, American Federation of Teachers, Airline Pilots Association, Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, and the American Federation of Government Employees. Many of those union leaders had supported Sen. Edvard M. Kennedy for the Democratic nomination.

In past elections, with the exception of 1972, the executive council has recommended endorsing the Democratic presidential candidate right after the convention, and the general board made it official several weeks later.

Although the AFL-CIO may delay the process this time, it apparently does not want another stand of neutrality similar to 1972, when it remained neutral in the contest between Richard Nixon and Jimmy Carter.

William W. Wimpfinger, president of the International Association of Machinists, is the only council member who has stated flatly that he will not support Carter for re-election because of the president's economic and energy policies.

A few other leaders of AFL-CIO unions that had backed Kennedy in the Democratic primaries have threatened to stay neutral rather than back Carter, but their colleagues expect them to endorse Carter eventually.

As in 1976, when organized labor lined up solidly behind Jimmy Carter despite deep misgivings about him, labor leaders are returning to a candidate who has irked them repeatedly over economic issues but who seems clearly preferable to the Republican candidate.

REAGAN FANS — Construction workers at Sun Shipbuilding Company near Chester, Pa., push forward to shake hands and ask for autographs from GOP presidential hopeful Ronald Reagan, left, Tuesday after Reagan spoke of the need for more ships while campaigning at the plant.

Cubans, Haitians influx

Federal funds for bilingual education clears big hurdle

WASHINGTON — By voice vote, the House Monday approved legislation to provide aid to local school districts affected by the recent influx of Cubans and Haitians.

Covering a three-year period, the bill, sponsored by Rep. Edward Stack (D-Fla.), is expected to cost between $100 and $121 million, and provide federal funds for bilingual education, extra classrooms and school buses.

It is, however, considerably less than what Stack had originally proposed. The extra money was sacrificed, according to Stack's legislative aides, in order to expedite passage and avoid confrontation with the Republicans.

"I was fully aware that at some point, I would have to give a little," said Stack, just outside the House chambers after the vote. "It's not just half an apple. There is some reasonable recognition of the costs involved."

Under Stack's bill, as passed, school districts enrolling more than 500 Cuban and Haitian refugee children with asylum status would be entitled to federal grants calculated on a sliding scale: $750 per pupil during the first year, $500 during the second year and $350 during the third year. This money would go for the extra costs incurred for teaching a non-English speaking student. In South Florida, that averages about $1,000 per student.

"The $750 would be good. It would really be good," said Phyllis Miller, chairman of the Dade County School Board.

"These kids are going to phase into the regular educational system, and that makes the first year very important." Dade school officials predict that over 18,000 additional Cuban and Haitian students will be enrolled by September; in Broward, about 1,300 are expected.

The federal grants constitute half the allocations Stack had first suggested. The Congressional Budget Office has estimated that the revised measure would cost $18.6 million in fiscal year 1981; $12.4 million in 1982; and $8.7 million in 1983.

A second phase of the bill, which CBO says will cost $13.9 million each year, reimburses the school districts for the money they would normally pay out to educate new students. This should break down to a flat rate of $450 per child, although the figure might be reduced if the school district receives other federal refugee assistance. Earlier, Stack had asked for between $800 and $900 per student.

The third and final phase, which doesn't take effect until 1982, authorizes money for adult education programs, such as English language instruction and basic and vocational education. CBO calculates that to cost $25.5 million in 1982 and $17.4 million in 1983.

As part of the compromise maneuvering that got the bill on the House floor in a relatively short time — Stack introduced the measure in late May — the Florida congressman agreed to include Indochinese refugee children in part of the package. By Stack's account, this aligned the California and Florida congressional delegations.

MIKE SANDERS MANAGER 267-4337

Dear Abby

No Room for Girl In Men's Locker Room

DEAR ABBY: I am a 30-year-old man. Yesterday I went swimming at a local pool, and while I was in the locker room changing into my swimming trunks, I turned around to find a little girl who appeared to be 4 or 5 years old staring at me! I later learned that she had been brought there by her father, who was calmly drying himself after showering.

The locker room was crowded with men in various stages of undress. Some were completely naked. All were unaware that they were being observed by a wide-eyed girl.

I found the pool manager and complained. He got ahold of the father and asked him not to bring the child into the men's locker room again. The father blew up and said he had no one to leave his little girl with, and he wasn't about to let her wait for him outside alone. When the father was informed that the other men in the locker room might not appreciate being observed by a young girl, he said, "Any man who is embarrassed to be seen naked in front of a 4-year-old girl must have something wrong with him!"

Abby, I'd like your opinion. Who has something "wrong with him"? Me? Or a man who would bring his daughter into a men's locker room?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: The father used poor judgment in bringing his daughter into the men's locker room because in doing so he violated the privacy of others who may not have felt comfortable under the circumstances. If he had no one to leave the child with, he could have skipped the swim. He was obviously all wet to begin with.

DEAR ABBY: You suggested that "older people" should mark the backs of family pictures while they can still remember who's who, and where the pictures were taken and the approximate dates. But why only "older people"? That's something everybody should do as soon as a snapshot or picture is developed.

For years I was too busy (or lazy) to do it, and now that I'm retired and have plenty of time, I can't remember who half the people are!

My parents can't help me because my father has been dead for 25 years, and my mother is in a rest home unable to remember much of anything.

So here I sit with a big box of family pictures, beating my brains out trying to recall names, dates and places. What a mess!

Abby, please remind your readers often to label their pictures. Then their grandchildren won't have to go through what I'm going through now.

KICKING MYSELF IN ASBURY PARK

DEAR KICKING: Not only should family pictures be labeled, but accounts of historical events and the newspaper clippings of births, graduations, marriages and deaths in your family should be dated and kept in a sturdy scrapbook. Fascinating family histories could be preserved if younger members interviewed older relatives at family gatherings. A tape recorder would be ideal for this purpose.

Succeeding generations will love it!

DEAR ABBY: This problem concerns my sister. She is 38, married for 12 years, and as far as I know, not very happy. Her husband is a good man, but he is "weak" and has no voice in the household, which is probably part of the problem, because my sister has become a compulsive TV watcher, compulsive eater, and now a compulsive drinker.

Her husband has tried to correct these problems, but maybe he didn't try hard enough or he gave up too easily. I am very worried about my sister. She has three young children, and God only knows how they're going to grow up, watching their mother sit in front of the TV all the time with a drink in her hand. She stays in her pajamas all day because she's overweight and doesn't care to dress up.

Everyone in the family is worried about her, but she won't listen to anyone. Please don't suggest professional help, because she tried it once and it didn't work for her.

Any ideas on how we can get her to be the positive, happy person she once was will be appreciated by me and all the members of our family.

WORRIED SISTER

DEAR WORRIED: Sorry. The only suggestion I can offer is professional help. The fact that your sister tried it "once" without success doesn't mean that it will never work for her. Therapy sometimes fails because the patient and therapist do not relate well, in which case the patient should try another therapist. Or possibly the patient expects an immediate miracle. Successful treatment takes time.

TWEEN 12 and 20

The 'facts of life'

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

The Big Spring Altrusa Club met in the Holiday Inn Patio Room at noon, Aug. 14 for a scheduled business meeting with Doris Guy, president, presiding. John M. (Sonny) Choate, introduced by Camille Patterson, s the featured speaker.

Col. Choate, a native Big Spring, is married to Eunice, also a native and is a retired Lt. Col. in the Air Force. Lt. Col. Choate spoke on the "Calendar," giving some history on how the calendar as we know it today became adopted into our society. He gave an interesting run down on the Egyptian, Hebrew and Roman contributions to our present day calendar. He stated it will remain fairly accurate until the year 4867 when we will be one day off. Col. Choate is interested in speaking to organizations, clubs and church groups.

Mrs. Vera, introduced a guest, Gery Gross, and announced a change in two committee chairmen positions and one officer. Deloris Albert took the secretary and reporter openings with the vocational chairman's position being accepted by Sarah Beth Reid.

Mamie Roberts, chairman for World Literacy Day, Sept. 8 suggested a Continental Breakfast, Sept. 6 at 7:45 a.m. This would be open for invited guests as well as Altrusa members. Carla Warrington and Nita Tarbot will be special speakers.

Everyone was reminded to leave their information for the new year books and to take time to call a member not present and let them know they are missed.

The next meeting will be at noon, Aug. 28 in the Holiday Inn Patio Room.

Bride-elect has shower

A bridal shower honoring Debbie Pegan, bride-elect of James Hattenbach, was held Sunday in the home of Peggy Willis, 2322 Brent. Co-hostesses were Margaret Wise, Gay Nell Cherry, Jan Hedges and Terrye Bradbury.

Corsages in the bride's chosen colors of pastel green, blue, pink and yellow flowers, were presented to the honoree, her mother, Sharron Pegan and the prospective groom's mother, Anna Hattenbach.

Hostess gifts were China serving pieces, an electric skillet and a Daisy carpet sweeper.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen and lace cloth and centered with a floral arrangement, bride-elect's chosen colors.

Lisa, Wendy and Patty Pegan, sisters of the honoree, registered the guests at a table also enhanced by the bride-elect's chosen colors in a enhanced by a floral piece.

The couple plan to be married Saturday afternoon in St. Thomas Catholic Church.

Jody, 15, from Hayward, Calif., wants to know about the "facts of life" and is asking where she should find this information. George Whitteson, 16, from Potstowen, Pa., and Marci Cox, 15, who lives in Valparaiso, Ind., will do the honors.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 15 and very shy. I think that I know the "facts of life" but I'd like to make sure that I'm right. What I have learned was picked up from kids at school.

My mother has never mentioned the "facts" to me and I'd feel odd in talking to her about sex. My question is should I talk to my mother or go to my school nurse who is very nice and would make me feel at ease? I'd enjoy hearing from the guest teen writers.

Jody: Talk to your mother. Wait until she is alone and in a good mood, then tell her you have heard many things about sex at school and would like to know if they are true. This will get mother started and she will take it from there and give you the straight facts. — Dr. Wallace

Hi Jody: If I were you, I'd talk to Mom. She will know exactly what to tell you. Personally, I believe that it is the parents' responsibility and moral obligation to instruct their children on matters of sex.

When the time came, my mom knew what to do and say so will yours if you ask her. — Marci, Valparaiso, Ind.

Hello Jody. Why not have the best of both worlds? Talk to both your mother and your school nurse. Chat with Mother first and what she forgets, the nurse will remember. But I'll be surprised if you learn anything new. — George, Potstowen, Pa.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and want to make a career in helping the physically or mentally handicapped. I would like to start helping or volunteering now but don't know where to go. Can you help me? — Annette, Michigan City, Ind.

Annette: Check with your school district office and offer your services to help the handicapped elementary students in the Michigan City schools. Another good source would be your local hospital which will put you in touch with those who will benefit from your assistance.

One of the leading universities in the United States in special education for the physically and mentally handicapped is located very close to you in Muncie, Ind.

— Ball State University.

If you would like to be a teen guest writer, please write to me, in care of this newspaper, stating your sex and age. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Anderson will be on Texas ballot; Demos still trying to keep him off

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Rep. John B. Anderson's name will appear on Texas' November ballot as an independent candidate for president, says Secretary of State George Strake.

However, Texas Democrats continued to check today to see if there was a way to keep Anderson off the ballot.

Anderson is expected to take away Texas votes from President Jimmy Carter, the Democratic nominee, if he appears as an independent.

Strake told a news conference Tuesday that a sample of the 80,000 signatures submitted by Anderson's supporters had been checked and 73 percent of them proved to be legitimate, which would give him the 40,719 needed to get on the ballot.

Strake also said similar checks of petitions gave the Libertarian Party a place on the ballot but denied a ballot spot to the Socialist Workers Party and the Citizens Party.

June Middlebrooks, deputy director of the Texas Democratic Party headquarters, said Anderson's petitions were being run through the Democrats' computer. If enough Democratic names show up to affect Strake's decision, then the party may sue.

Strake said most of the names removed from the Anderson petitions were either illegible or were those of voters in May 3 Republican presidential primary. "We did not remove any names of those who voted in the Democratic presidential primary," Strake said.

Strake has contended that Republican voters could not sign Anderson petitions but Democrats could, because the GOP primary was binding in selection of national convention delegates while the Democratic poll was a "beauty contest."

Attorney General Mark White issued an opinion saying persons who voted in the Democratic primary also were prohibited from signing presidential nominating petitions.

Strake said Anderson submitted almost 80,000 signatures on petitions. He said his staff verified one percent of the signatures, just as White, his predecessor, had done. The sample was tested in the 80 counties where the signatures were collected. Strake said the 800 signatures tested showed that 585, or about 73 percent, were legal.

"We feel every optimistic about our current decision," said Strake.

When asked if he expected a lawsuit, he said "If I were them, I wouldn't do it. I think it would be an expensive losing ordeal."

Ms. Middlebrooks said the Democrats will attempt to determine in comparing Anderson's signatures with their own computer files of registered Democratic voters on May 3 whether the petitions approved by Strake contain enough Democratic signatures to keep Anderson from being certified.

"If we find enough Democratic names, we will file suit," Ms. Middlebrooks said.

Multi-area plan for brucellosis control outlined

A new multi-area plan for brucellosis control in Texas is now in effect with new regulations for moving cattle, explains Don Richardson, Howard County Agent.

Richardson said the new program divides the state in two sections. The Class A area includes about 130 counties in the western part of the state, which is relatively free of brucellosis. The Class B area — which lies east of Class A — consists of counties which have historically had more problems with the disease.

Brucellosis, or Bangs disease, is a highly contagious disease which affects cattle and other animals, as well as humans. In people, it is called undulant fever. Richardson said that in cattle the disease may cause abortions, weaker calves, lower milk production and sterility. Failure to control the disease could result in more restrictions concerning interstate movement of Texas cattle.

Under the new regulations, Richardson explained, all breeding cattle — male and female — 18 months or older will be eligible for testing. Female dairy cattle of officially calfhood vaccinated between three and six months of age would not be tested until they are 20 months old. Female beef cattle vaccinated between three and 10 months of age would not be tested until they reach 24 months of age.

Richardson noted one exception to this is that officially calfhood vaccinated females under the ages listed above but which are six or more months pregnant or have a calf by their side would be tested.

Steers and sprayed heifers do not require tests.

CLASS A CONTROL AREA (INCLUDES HOWARD COUNTY)

The following regulations apply for movement of cattle in Texas.

Persons with test eligible cattle in the Class A control area who want to move them within that area will need a negative test within 30 days prior to movement from a premise to slaughter, quarantined feedlot, quarantined pasture, or to another premise. Cattle may move to market untested but must be tested prior to sale if they have not been tested negative within the previous 30 days.

For ranches with cattle in Class A Area who want to move them to Class B Area, these regulations apply:

From farm or ranch in Area A to farm, ranch or feedlot in Area B: cattle must be tested negative within 30 days prior to movement and must have a E permit issued by the Texas Animal Health Commission. Retest at destination is not required.

From Area A farm or ranch to livestock market in Area B: cattle may enter without test or E permit but must be tested prior to sale if cattle are to return to the country, or must be S branded prior to sale if consigned to slaughter or quarantined feedlot.

From farm or ranch in Area A directly to slaughter or quarantined feedlot or quarantined pasture: cattle may enter without test or E permit but all exposed or affected cattle will be identified and accompanied by an S or B permit, whichever is applicable.

CLASS B CONTROL AREA

Persons with cattle in Area B who want to move them within Area B, should observe these regulations:

Cattle on a farm or ranch may move to a farm, ranch or feedlot provided they have been tested negative within the previous 30 days.

Cattle on a farm or ranch may move directly to a quarantined feedlot, quarantined pasture or to slaughter without test. Such cattle will be S branded prior to entering a quarantined feedlot or quarantined pasture. Affected cattle are required to be either B or S branded and accompanied by a B or S permit.

Cattle on a farm or ranch may be consigned to a livestock market without test but they must be tested prior to sale if returned to the country or S branded prior to the sale if they are to be sold for movement to quarantined feedlot, quarantined pasture or slaughter.

Persons with cattle in Area B who want to move them to Area A, should observe these regulations:

From farm or ranch in Area B to farm, ranch or feedlot in Area A: cattle must be tested negative within 30 days prior to movement and accompanied by an E permit. The herd must be held together at the destination site until retested negative from 45 to 120 days later.

From farm or ranch in Area B direct to slaughter, quarantined feedlot or quarantined pasture in Area A: cattle may enter without a test or E permit, but all exposed or affected cattle will be identified and accompanied by the S or B permit, whichever is applicable.

Cattle coming from a livestock market from Area B to Area A have the same regulations as those from a farm or ranch.

To maintain lead in NL West Astros topple Pirates

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston first baseman Art Howe points to a team meeting as a reason for the Astros' sudden surge in the National League Western Division, including Tuesday night's 5-2 victory over defending world champion Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh third baseman Bill Madlock points to the scoreboard and wishes they'd turn it off.

Howe collected a pair of hits and drove in two runs as the Astros kept their hold by on first place ahead of the Cincinnati Reds. The victory stretched Houston's winning streak to five straight, which started after a team meeting on the road.

"We had to get everything off our chests," Howe said. "We were putting too much pressure on ourselves. If one guy would fail, the next guy would think he had to make up for it. We just tried to relax and take care of each other."

The Astros took care of Houston starter Nolan Ryan Tuesday, night after the Pirates took a 2-0 first inning lead on Madlock's two-run single.

Joe Morgan walked to open the bottom of the first off starter and loser John Candelaria and Enos Cabell singled before the Astros "took care" of Ryan by scoring three runs on Jose Cruz' double, a single by Howe and a grounder by Cesar Cedeño.

Houston scored two more runs in the sixth inning on a triple by Cedeño and a sacrifice fly by Howe.

Despite the loss, the Pirates remained two games ahead of Montreal in the NL Eastern Division because the Expos lost to Los Angeles. It was hard for the Pirates not to look at the Astrodome's $1 million scoreboard, which keeps inning by inning scores of all major league games.

"You can't watch the scoreboard and win baseball games," Madlock said. "I wouldn't care if they just turned off the scoreboard in the final month of the season. I know the fans get a kick out of it but it's hard not to watch it."

Madlock did his part in keeping the Pirates in the game with three hits and he still thinks the Pirates will repeat as National League champions.

"A lot of people thought we were lucky the way we won last year," Madlock said. "But this team has talent. We have a tremendous bench and that's what's going to win for us. It's not the team with the best nine players. It's the one with the best 25 that will win."

Ryan got the victory to even his record at 8-8 but he left with a back strain after 7 2/3 innings.

"It's something that happens to me two or three times per year, nothing to worry about," Ryan said. "I would classify it as a muscle spasm, nothing more."

Candelaria dropped to an 8-13 record with the loss.

POLISHING THE HANDOFF — Forsan quarterback Ernie Strickland tucks the ball into the stomach of Buffalo teammate Brent Nichols during picture day yesterday at the Class AA school. The Forsan gridders, as well as the rest of the area high school teams, are hard at work in preparation for the upcoming season.

Gridders reported ready to play

Harris pleased with Steers workouts

After the first five workouts of the rugged two-a-day workouts, Big Spring Coach Ralph Harris is most happy with the progress that the Steer gridders have displayed.

"I'm very pleased with how things are progressing," Harris said at noon today. "We're not at the point that we want to get to yet, but we're going to get there."

Harris had expressed concern before workouts began on Monday morning that much of the team might not report in the desired shape, but the gridders came ready to play.

"They are in better shape than I thought they would be," said a happy Harris, who is trying with his staff to help turn the program around after a drought in the win columns in past seasons.

"They have taken better care of bodies than they did for spring practice, and are very alert mentally and ready physically."

The Steers are working out twice daily through tomorrow, with a full scale scrimmage set for Friday afternoon, the first day in pads.

"We're working hard in shorts on foot reaction, body control, and all types of quickness. Not in the form of sprints, but in various drills that will be useful to us," said the new Steer head mentor.

"We're making progress physically, but we still have a long way to go," he added. Harris also praised his coaching staff, with much of this year's football mentors being new to Big Spring. "The coaching staff has done an excellent job so far. They are well prepared and organized on the field, and have really done their homework."

Another aspect of the Steer football program for the 1980 season that has really pleased Harris to this point is the amount the gridders have retained since spring training.

"We're really delighted with the amount of carry over from spring training," Harris stated. "This was my first spring training as a head coach, and the kids have retained so much mentally."

The attitude of the players has picked up since spring training, too, Harris related, and this no doubt has something to do with the knowledge the players are displaying.

"There were times when things kind of dragged in spring training," Harris said. "But I think they can see the war coming."

That first war will be just over two weeks from now, when the Steers travel to Snyder on Friday night, September 5.

Dolphins ink Lawless

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins have gone to the retirement community again to shore up the National Football League team's offensive line.

Five-year veteran Burton Lawless joined the Dolphins Tuesday. The former University of Florida standout spent five years with the Dallas Cowboys until he announced his retirement recently.

Head Coach Don Shula said Lawless joined the team on a "contingency deal. We'll take a look at him." The Dolphins would surrender an undisclosed future draft choice to Dallas if Lawless makes the squad.

Shula said Dolphins linebacker Ralph Ortega, a teammate of Lawless at the Gainesville school, told him of the lineman's interest in playing for the Dolphins.

Lawless, a starter in his rookie season in 1975 when the Cowboys won the Super Bowl, hasn't seen much action since that first year. When he retired, he indicated he would return to pro ball only if he could play for the Houston Oilers or Miami.

"We feel he's a quality player and he has a lot of experience with a good organization, the Cowboys," Shula said.

"We're going to try him at guard and tackle," Shula added. A strong performance by Lawless would close another hole on the Dolphins' line, a line that seemed questionable two weeks ago. Shula received good news last week when veteran Bob Kuechenberg returned after his own brief retirement.

Steve Stone wins 20th, Brett's streak ends

By The Associated Press
Steve Stone is at 20 victories and counting but 30 meant the end of George Brett's hitting streak.

While Stone became the first 20-game winner this season as the Orioles downed the California Angels 5-2, Brett saw his 30-game hitting streak come to an end thanks to a fine fielding play by Texas first baseman Pat Putnam in the ninth inning of the Royals' 4-3 victory over the Rangers.

"I feel terrific," said Stone, 20-4, who flirted with a no-hitter until Bert Campaneris singled with one out in the eighth inning. "I've never even been close to 20 wins before. I brought this bottle of champagne with me from Baltimore and I didn't want to take it more than one city."

"I'm disappointed I was 0-for-3 but I'm relieved we won the ballgame," said Brett. "I would have liked to have gotten at least 32 straight (Minnesota's Ken Landreaux hit in 31 consecutive games earlier in the season) but I'm going to start another streak tomorrow."

Although he flew out, grounded out twice and walked, Brett is still batting 401 in his bid to become the first .400 hitter since Ted Williams in 1941.

In other American League action, the New York Yankees shined the Seattle Mariners 3-1, the Detroit Tigers trounced the Milwaukee Brewers 6-2, the Boston Red Sox downed the Oakland A's 7-5, the Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago White Sox 8-5 and the Toronto Blue Jays nipped the Minnesota Twins 4-3.

While Stone was mowing the Angels down to boost his record to 20-4, Eddie Murray, Doug DeCinces and Dan Graham backed him with solo homers as the Orioles remained 2 1/2 games behind the Yankees in the AL East.

Stone went 71-3 innings, allowing two runs — one unearned — on two hits. The victory made him the earliest 20-game winner in Baltimore history, surpassing Dave McNally, won his 20th game of 1970 on Aug. 25.

Royals 4, Rangers 3
Kansas City had only four hits off Jon Matlack and trailed 3-1 going into the ninth inning when U.L.

Washington reached on an error by Texas shortstop Dave Roberts, bringing up Brett with his hitting streak on the line.

He hit a hard grounder but Putnam knocked it down with a dive and crawled on his hands and knees to beat Brett to the bag. However, Hal McRae's double made it 3-2 and Amos Otis greeted Danny Darwin with a single that tied the score. After John Wathan singled, John Henry Johnson relieved but Willie Aikens singled to score the winning run.

Yankees 3, Mariners 1
Tom Underwood and Rich Gossage combined on a five-hitter and Bob Watson and Reggie Jackson hit home runs. Underwood gave up four hits before Gossage came on with the bases loaded and two out in the seventh and struck out Dan Meyer on three pitches. Watson, deprived of a home run in the first inning when his towering fly ball struck a speaker hanging from the roof of the Seattle Kingdome and fell for a double, homered in the fourth to put New York on top 2-1. Jackson broke an 0-for-15 slump with his 34th homer in the eighth.

Tigers 6, Brewers 2
Richie Hebner's two-run triple sparked a four-run third inning as Detroit, which lost six in a row, snapped Milwaukee's seven-game winning streak. Dan Schatzeder scattered seven hits to break a personal four-game losing streak. Singles by Lou Whitaker, Rick Peters and Alan Trammell accounted for the first run. Hebner tripled and scored on Champ Summers' sacrifice fly gave the Tigers a 4-0 lead against Moose Haas.

Red Sox 7, A's 5
Tony Perez began a Boston comeback with his 21st home run of the season in the seventh inning and later doubled and scored the tie-breaking run on Carl Yastrzemski's single in the ninth. Perez led off the ninth with his third hit of the game, a double off Craig Minetto. He went to third on a wild pitch as Carlton Fisk walked and Yastrzemski singled him home. Later in the inning, Rick Burleson walked with the bases loaded to force in another run.

Indians 5, White Sox 5
Mike Hargrove collected four singles and Ron Hassey's two-run single highlighted a four-run first inning that triggered Cleveland over Chicago.

STONE'S THROW — Pitcher Steve Stone of the Baltimore Orioles displays the form that led him to his 20th win of the season, most in the majors so far this year, against the California Angels Tuesday at Anaheim Stadium. Throwing a no-hitter until the eighth inning, Stone allowed only two hits before being relieved by Tippy Martinez, but Stone has credit for the win and is now 20-4. Baltimore defeated California 5-2.

Mayor repays governor

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Edward I. Koch has sent his apologies and a dime to Oklahoma Gov. George Nigh.

Nigh was at a reception at Gracie Mansion, the mayor's official home, while attending the Democratic National Convention last week and he had to make a call. Someone directed him to a pay phone, and the governor had to borrow a dime to place the call.

"It is quite true that I am running New York City in a very tight-fisted way," Koch wrote, saying he was mortified over the incident.

"Nevertheless, I don't want any governor coming to Gracie Mansion to ever have to say, 'Mayor, can you spare a dime?'"

Thai princess returns

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A popular Thai princess banished from the public eye since marrying a Los Angeles businessman has returned to the royal household to have a baby, a palace spokesman said.

Ubolrattana, 29-year-old daughter of King Bhumipol Adulyadej and Queen Sirikit, gave up her title after marrying Peter Jensen in 1971. Her name was never again mentioned in the Thai press and her pictures were eliminated from the royal photo album.

But Monday, in what appeared to be a reconciliation with her family, the princess and her husband arrived in Bangkok. They are expecting a child in February.

Known as "Julie" to her friends in the United States, the princess earned a degree in nuclear physics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dean Martin in ads

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dean Martin is sure to ring a few bells with his debut in commercials.

Martin announced Tuesday that he has signed a three-year agreement to act as spokesman for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

"I'm not interested in 'selling' packaged goods or other items," Martin said of his role in a forthcoming campaign for public telephones and credit cards.

"I'm comfortable in this role and I think it's going to be fun," the 63-year-old singer-actor said.

There was no word on how much Martin would be paid.

Ullman receives award

DETROIT (AP) — Actress Liv Ullmann says Americans ought to practice what they preach about human rights.

"The words 'human rights' is our pillow. We rest in peace knowing that we've spoken up for them," Ms. Ullmann said Tuesday after receiving the human rights award of the American Federation of Teachers.

The Norwegian-born actress told 3,000 union members at Detroit's Renaissance Center that Americans should do more than pay lip service to human rights.

'Understanding the Aged' program today at VAMC

An all-day program, "Understanding the Aged," is taking place at the VA Medical Center today.

Thomas McGovern, faculty member, Texas Tech School of Medicine, Lubbock, was to lead the discussions in the 8 a.m. to noon sessions.

Overviews of attitudes toward our aging population and how attitudes affect health care professionals in their work were themes to be discussed by McGovern.

"Who are the aging? What are their basic physical, emotional, mental and spiritual needs? What resources do our society possess? The aged in a hospital setting," were topics to be explored at length.

The afternoon session was to begin at 1 p.m. and continue until 4:30 p.m.

Dr. U. Prabhakar Rao and Dr. Jerome Smith were to lead the afternoon discussions on normal aging process, recognition of pathological change and neuropsychiatric aspects of aging.

Panel discussions were to include Dr. Oseas Sulatan, the moderator, Smith, Rao and John J. Dolenz, Ph.D.

The target audience included RNs, LVNs, medical doctors, social workers, and others engaged in activities relating to care for the aged.

Purpose of the program was to afford participants the opportunity to examine attitudes and beliefs that affect society's way of dealing with the elderly.

Soccer at the YMCA begins Sept. 20. Registration ends Sept. 27 with the season beginning Sept. 20. League games will be played Saturday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. The season continues through Nov. 15. A parents' meeting will be held Sept. 14. All persons wishing to coach or officiate will meet at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 2 at the Y, 801 Owens.

Questions can be directed to the physical director at 267-8234. Cost is $12.50 for members and $25 for non-members. Registration will be limited to grades one through six.

Emphasis is placed on skill development, participation (everyone plays at least half of every game), fun and family togetherness.

Each team will be made up of 10 girls and boys coached by an adult volunteer.

The fee includes cost of program supervision, equipment, a certificate of award, and a YMCA Youth Soccer team t-shirt.

David Smith of Big Spring is a candidate for summer graduation from the Sweetwater campus of Texas State Technical Institute.

Smith will receive a certificate in Air Conditioning and Refrigeration. Commencement exercises are scheduled for 8 o'clock this evening in the auditorium at Sweetwater High School.

Attorney general tours Texas coast

Price gouging reports unfounded

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — Some coastal merchants slashed prices on emergency items during Hurricane Allen contrary to reports of overcharging, says Texas Attorney General Mark White.

"We've heard of one grocery chain selling water and other things at cost, which is a good example of the public spirited approach taken to this crisis," White said Tuesday.

Earlier complaints of price gouging appear more rumor than fact, he said. The investigation continues but no prosecution has begun, he added.

The attorney general took an hour-long tour of the resort community.

White saw where the storm's 10-foot surge tore down many dunes and deposited them 100 yards away. The natural vegetation line where dune grass starts marks the boundary between public beaches and private property.

In some sections, the storm erased the vegetation and it will be difficult to determine where private access ends and open beaches begin, he said.

"We're going to station someone down here to make sure if problems arise with reconstruction that we can solve them quickly," he said. "We don't want any building in an area that our office considers a public beach."

Under Texas law, all beaches are public. Clad in khakis and boots, White was driven around the area by Mayor Glen McGehee.

Telephone and utility repair trucks were parked along the narrow streets and construction crews were busy at several new condominiums.

"Overall, I'm very impressed with the quick recovery," he said, adding he had expected more widespread damage.

Some motel workers were carrying out soaked carpeting to dry on balconies.

At the Sunside Condominiums, the building's foundation lay bare after the hurricane ripped away five to six feet of sand. Along another stretch of beach, six feet of old seawall had been uncovered by the fierce waves.

South Padre Island City Manager Kirby Liljedahl said local realtors would like to see the state law changed to divide public and private land according to tide levels.

"The vegetation line is very unstable," he said.

Before leaving the lower Rio Grande Valley, White stopped briefly at one of two new disaster relief centers opened Tuesday.

Surviving 'Winnie-the-Pooh' and writing books

DARTMOUTH, England (AP) — The real Christopher Robin says he was "embarrassed all my life" about being the boy in the poems and Winnie-the-Pooh stories of his father, A.A. Milne.

"But that's all finished now," he says. "I had to get into the second half of the 20th century."

Christopher Robin Milne will be 60 on Thursday. Sticking, gray-haired, bespectacled, still showing a trace of his childhood stammer, he is a bookseller turned writer, whose innate shyness doesn't start to fade until he has chatted for at least an hour.

The little boy pictured by his father kneeling at the foot of the bed to say his prayers in real life spent five years in the British army in World War II, saw half a dozen deserts, built bridges, defused bombs, survived shellfire that killed and mutilated men all around him and took a head-wound from shrapnel in Italy.

The battered teddy bear called Winnie-the-Pooh has survived too, but that bear of very little brain, as his creator said of him, now lives across the Atlantic. Pooh, Eeyore, Piglet and other members of the family are in a showcase at Dutton's, the New York publishers of the Pooh books.

Milne has been invited to visit the United States but has never gone. Would he go to see Pooh if he did?

"No, I wouldn't," he said firmly. "What would I expect to find that I don't already know?"

"I grew away from Christopher Robin when I was 8 or 9 years old. That was 50 years ago. But the tourists who come to the bookshop don't want to think of me as anyone else," he said ruefully.

Just then, a voice winged between the shelves, bringing temporary halt to the interview. "There he is. Go and shake hands and you can say you've shaken hands with Christopher Robin."

"Let's go upstairs," said Milne, leading the way to the top of his Harbor Bookshop in Dartmouth, a plot of picture-book Devon on the River Dart estuary. The harbor wall is lined with contemporary Christopher Robins dangling fishing lines for crabs.

Milne and his wife, Lesley, came to Dartmouth in 1951 after an unhappy period in which he couldn't find a job to suit him. For a time, he'd sold lampshades in a London store.

"I hadn't been trained for anything," he said. "My name was famous all over the world but it made me miserable to be pointed out as the son of my father."

"I wanted to escape from his fame and from 'Christopher Robin.' We ran away from London and the bookshop we opened was a success. We have been happy here, even if it did mean wrapping up those four books for customers."

Those four books — books which made Alan Alexander Milne and his only child famous — sold and are still selling in millions, translated into more than 20 languages.

"The first came out in 1924 — 'When we were very young' — a collection of 44 verses in which the boy and his nanny go to Buckingham Palace and the famous bear — bought at Harrods when Christopher Robin was a year old — makes his bow."

In 1925, the Milnes moved from London to the Sussex woodlands around Cotchford Farm, and there A.A. Milne set his next book — "Winnie-the-Pooh" — in what the younger Milne still fondly recalls as the beautiful setting of "my idyllic childhood."

More poems followed in 1927 with "Now we are six," and more stories in 1928 in "The House at Pooh Corner."

"Right from the start, journalists visited us to interview my father and to see me," Milne recalled. "There were a lot of silly stories. I was teased and boys did call out, 'Where's your teddy bear?'"

His father died in 1956, his mother, Dorothy, in 1971. In 1974, when he was 54, the son finally exorcised Christopher Robin.

"I did it by writing a book, 'The Enchanted Places,' which was the story of my childhood. I didn't know what I really thought until I stopped being him. Every child wants to grow up."

Farm High plains crop losses due to drought mounting (Special to the Herald) AUSTIN — Southern High Plains crop losses due to the drought are clearly evident in the Aug. 1 crop production report released by Agriculture Comm. Reagan V. Brown. Wheat, corn and sorghum production for this region is considerably less than in 1979. Brown said, "Estimates on the yield per acre on all major crops is considerably lower than that of last year."

Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates that production of wheat in the Southern High Plains dropped 1,295,000 bushels with 2,505,000 bushels produced. Corn harvest is expected to drop 1,622,000 bushels with 13,300,000 bushels produced. And sorghum production is projected to be 2,728,000 cwt., below 1979 figures with 4,007,000 cwt. this year. Cotton production is predicted to drop 465,000 bales with 1,800,000 bales produced.

Children in district must enroll in school

The Texas Educational Code directs that all children between the ages of seven and 17 who are legal residents of the Big Spring Independent School District be enrolled in the appropriate school this week.

The Education Code provides that if a parent or person standing in parental relation to a child within the compulsory school attendance ages must enroll the child in school and see that the child attends regularly.

The attendance officer who has jurisdiction in the district will see that the parent complies. Failure to comply can result in a fine (Texas Education Code 21-032).

THE ONE WAY by B.W. Briggs

WE CANNOT BUT SPEAK THE THINGS WHICH WE SAW AND HEARD... So boldly did Peter and John speak before the rulers in Acts 4! But was it just words without conviction? I think not! I know not! Because in Acts 5 we find them imprisoned again for speaking those same things of Jesus the Christ. In that context they make the statement, "we must obey God rather than men." Are these type of men alive today, friends? I have heard of people giving their lives and their freedoms for speaking the good news about Jesus. I know of brethren who have been imprisoned for spreading the gospel. Yes, people like Peter and John still exist. But Peter and John represent only TWO of the many who were being persecuted FOR THE FAITH! In the eighth chapter of this same letter we see the Jerusalem church under fire. They are scattered throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria. In so doing they continued to spread the gospel, in spite of Saul's threatenings and slaughters. Regardless of Saul's breaking and entering practices, they continue whole heartedly to spread that good news. Whatever the cost — they are ready to die for the message of Jesus! In Revelation 12, verse eleven, we read that the Christians in victory are those who have overcome by three principles. 1) Because of the Lamb's blood. 2) Because of the word of their testimony. 3) Because they loved not their lives — even if it brought death. The three principles mentioned in the Revelation context are common to other New Testament writings. The church has been bought with a price. (Acts 20:28.) Blood specifically! And it does not own itself, whether individually or corporately. (1 Cor. 6:19-20.) That is the initial step into Christ! Secondly, speaking the words of Christ will bring salvation and persecution. (Matt. 10:20-39.) Thirdly, faithfulness to your spoken profession will in many cases (depending as to when you have lived) bring death to you and yours. (Matt. 23:34-35; 10:21, 22; Rev. 6:9; 20:4.) Now, what kind of person are you? Are you as Peter and John or are you as Judas who totally sold out the Lord. Or maybe Peter is a better example having denied the Lord three times? However, Peter repented! I suppose most of us faultier at times. But have you ever really counted the cost and decided to finish it out. Many people are like those disciples who once walked with him but eventually ceased following. Is there something that is stopping you from making a commitment? Are you bold enough to take the challenge? Would you rather obey God than man? If you have not obeyed the following, you are unsaved. Regardless of what your "pastor" or "preacher" tells you, have you obeyed God in the following? (John 3:18; 8:23-24; Lk. 13:3, 5; Mt. 10:32-33; Rom. 10:9-10; Mk. 16:15-16; Mt. 28:19-20; Jn. 3:3-5.)

Houston: Tomorrow's city ready for today

By CONNIE SHERLEY
Texas Travel News

HOUSTON — This is tomorrow's city, ready and waiting to be enjoyed today. Houston is a bubbling metropolis, bustling with things to do.

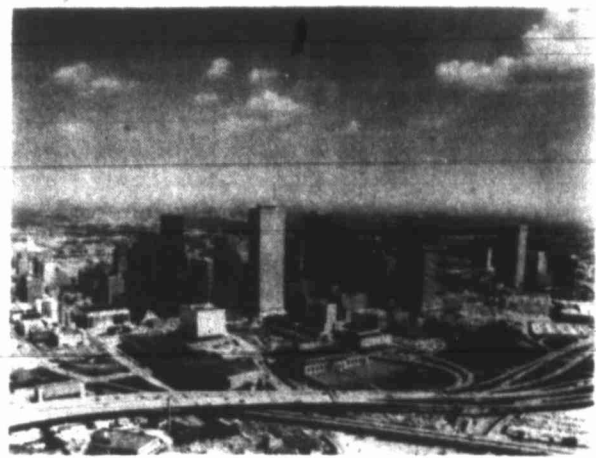

The city's name was the first word spoken by man on the moon. Astronauts aboard Apollo 11 let the world know they had accomplished their mission on that momentous day in 1969: "Houston, Eagle has landed."

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) covers 1620 acres 22 miles southeast of downtown Houston. Certain areas of the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center are open to the public without charge on every day but federal holidays 9 a.m.-4 p.m. An array of spacecraft, flight memorabilia, films and exhibits can be enjoyed at leisure. Guided tours are conducted Monday-Friday. Call 713-483-4321 for reservations.

Space City always has been a step ahead. In 1965 completion of the dream stadium, the Astrodome, gave the world baseball and football under glass. Few visitors leave without making a tour of the famed facility.

Astroworld-Six Flags, one of the Southwest's premier family amusement parks, is just across Loop 610 from the Dome. The Texas Cyclone, a devilish wooden roller coaster rated the most spine-chilling ride of its kind, is one of the park's most popular attractions, but the grounds are filled with shows and amusements for all ages.

The nation's fifth largest city has a firm place in Texas history. At San Jacinto Battlefield, a short drive from downtown's skyscrapers, Gen. Sam Houston's forces won Texas' independence from Mexico by routing Mexican Gen. Santa Anna's army on April 21, 1836. The world's tallest monumental column towers above the flat plain where the state's history was changed. From the observation deck one can see the battleship Texas moored in the Houston Ship Channel.

GIANT — Houston's growth in recent years is evident in this photo of the downtown area with its skyscrapers.

The dreadnaught has been recycled as a museum open daily from May until October.

The Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center is only one of many admission free attractions in and around Houston. Several of the offerings are within walking distance of one another, so you save gasoline as well as money while having fun.

The Port of Houston is the world's third largest port, linked to the Gulf of Mexico by the Houston Ship Channel, a one-time bayou that now has the same dimensions as the Panama Canal. Call 713-672-8221 to reserve space on the Sam Houston, an air conditioned tour boat operating from the Turning Basin to provide a duck's eye views of port activities.

Hermann Park has a chain of delights, joined by easy walking trails. The Houston Garden Center provides continuing floral displays and an ancient Chinese pavilion only a stroll away from the Museum of Natural Science and its second floor companion, the Museum of Medical Science. From late May through June, the renowned Houston Opera Co. presents free under-the-stars productions on the stage of Miller Outdoor Theater. One of the nation's few free zoos is a joy for children and adults.

Many industries that contribute to Houston's bright financial picture have tours for the public. Texas Art Glass, the Anheuser Busch brewery, Imperial Sugar mill and Dow Chemical are in the group. For information on making reservations for tours and about Houston and its numerous entertainment offerings one may write the Houston Visitors Council, which has offices at 1522 Main St., Houston, TX 77002.

"Houston has a world of entertainment for both young and old," according to Dale Young of the Visitors Council.

Fun run deadline

There will be a fun run and a competitive run beginning at the YMCA Saturday. Both are free to all ages. The events are in conjunction with the newly formed running club in Big Spring.

The fun run will begin at 8 a.m. There is a 2 and 5 mile course. Times will be announced at the finish line and no prizes will be given. The objective is to have some good fellowship with other runners, walkers or joggers. Families are encouraged to participate.

The competitive run begins at 7 a.m. in front of the YMCA. There is no charge, however ribbons will be given to those placing in their age divisions. The age divisions for the men and women's bracket is 19 and under, 20-29, 30-39 and Masters. Entry deadline is Thursday at 5:00 p.m.

Registration is at the YMCA. Both events are in conjunction with the newly formed running club in Big Spring. Applications for the club are available at the YMCA. A meeting after the fun run will be held to explain the goals of the running club and to organize September's event.

For more information, contact the YMCA at 7-8234 or Karl Wolfe at 7-6110.

Prime interest rates climbing again

NEW YORK (AP) — Interest rates on business loans and home mortgages are climbing again, and analysts say further increases are likely in the next several weeks. The upward spiral was underscored

Tuesday when Chase Manhattan Bank raised its prime rate a quarter of a percent to 11.25 percent and two major California mortgage lenders boosted their rates to 13.5 percent. Chase, the nation's third-largest commercial bank, said its action was in response to rising costs in lending. Wall Street analysts predicted other banks would soon join Chase and raise their rates from the prevailing 11 percent level.

It'll cost students more to park on BSHS lots

Students will be paying higher fees on Big Spring High School parking lots this year.

The new charges reflect sizeable increases over last year. Salary adjustments of parking lot attendants and other operating costs forced the increases, according to Craig Fischer, who will supervise the operation of the parking areas.

The last increases in parking fees occurred four years ago.

Annual fee for parking will go to $18. That figures out to ten cents a day. If the student prefers to pay by the semester, he or she will be charged $10, which figures out to 12 cents a day. Those who pay daily will be charged 25 cents each time they pass through the gates.

The fees can be paid and stickers obtained from Mrs. Doris Vines at the high school when the students pick up their schedules Friday.

The parking attendants working this year include J.I. Suggs, A.D. Meador, Price Stroud and J.T. Morgan.

Included were 25 associate degrees, 223 bachelor's degrees, 143 master's degrees and 15 special in education degrees.

Jeannie C. Wood, daughter of R.J. Wood, 505 Oak St., Colorado City, also qualified for a bachelor's degree in business administration.
