'Carter punishing Texas'

Clements, Connally campaign here

By DON WOODS

Former Republican presidential candidates John Connally Tuesday described the $13 billion windfall profits tax as a device used by President Carter to punish Texas.

"How many of you believe this was a profits tax?" he asked, at the approximately 1,000 in attendance at the Round Up for Reagan-Bush luncheon at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum Tuesday.

Guests paid $4 a plate for the luncheon. Those who didn't eat were admitted free to hear Reagan supporters Connally and Clements verbally flog President Carter and offer kudos for Reagan. Texas Supreme Court Judge Garwood and Texas Round Up Chairman John Armstrong were among others in attendance. Armstrong is on the King Ranch board of directors.

Connally, former Texas governor, received applause and an enthusiastic "Right on!" from a member of the audience, when he accused Carter of creating an excise tax under the guise of a profits tax.

The $13 billion collected through windfall profit tax revenues is $2 billion more than the cost of running Texas' government, said Connally.

Connally said he is for "courageous" and "intelligent" use of alternate energy sources. "We have to stop taking scientific advice from Jane Fonda and Ralph Nader," he said.

Connally refuted suggestions in a press conference later from anti-nuke forces that nuclear energy was dangerous by pointing to the 188 deaths last year related to the oil and gas industry. He said the Three Mile Island plant performed exactly as designed under the circumstances and there have been no nuclear power-related deaths.

Carter has "politicized the defense department" "to create an impression in the minds of people" that he is a military man, said Connally, referring to the recent disclosure of the "stealth bomber." He accused Carter of creating the impression that America is equal to the Soviet Union in military power.

Connally credited Texas Gov. Bill Clements with the development of the bomber while he was in the defense department. Connally said the bomber would not be developed for 20 years.

Connally said he wasn't asking people to do anything for Reagan or for himself but for their own benefit.

"I didn't pick Reagan as a first choice myself," he jested, referring to his unsuccessful bid as party candidate.

He said his first choice was to "turn the country around."

He said in the press conference that he didn't foresee that one man could make the necessary changes in the country. He said it would take changes in the congress over a 20-year period.

Connally jested about his "conversion" from the Democratic party to Republican, that when he first emerged from a voting booth after voting Republican, he heard no thunder and lightning, but "I felt cleansed and purified."

Connally said in a press conference that he changed parties because the Democrat party changed.

He said Japanese were saving 25 percent of their disposable income and Germans were saving 15 percent, but Americans were saving only one and a half percent. Clements said in the press conference that the Carter administration tax policies destroy incentive to save. He also said current judicial activity doesn't create an "environment" for savings.

Connally blamed Carter for the highest prime rate in history, 15

THE RALLY — An estimated 1,000 persons showed up at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum Tuesday for an opportunity to eat lunch as they heard speeches by Governor Bill Clements (at podium) and former Governor John Connally (left). Shannon Gilley, an employee of the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf was one of two interpreters at the rally. Sitting in the center is former Big Spring Mayor Wade Choate, who has been named chairman of the Reagan-Bush campaign in Howard County.

Beer sales ordinance revised

By RICHARD HORN

A first reading of an ordinance amending the Sunday beer sales ordinance was held last night at a meeting of the Big Spring City Council.

The ordinance would prohibit the sale of beer on Sunday by holders of wine and beer permits for on-premise consumption. City Attorney Elliott Mitchell felt the current ordinance, prohibiting the Sunday sale of beer for on-premise consumption, was "unenforceable as written" because establishments with an on-premise sales permit were selling a closed can of beer to customers who could not be forbidden from drinking it on premises.

The new ordinance would forbid the sale after midnight on Saturday by establishments with an on-premise permit.

Restaurant owner David Gomez appealed to the Council to not pass the ordinance, saying that it discriminated against the holders of on-premise permits. "I'll be the first to go out of business if this thing passes," he said.

Local attorney Roy Ford appeared before the council on this matter, on behalf of several late-shift workers, and asked that the ordinance not include private clubs.

"The people I represent want to have a place where they can go for recreation after they get off work," said Ford. "These are all good citizens who pay taxes and spend money in Big Spring. If we take away their recreation, they'll be happy to go to Midland or Odessa and spend their money there."

Councilmen voted to approve the first section of the ordinance, forbidding the Sunday sale of beer for on-premise consumption, but did not pass the second section, which would have repealed an earlier ordinance allowing private clubs to stay open until 2 a.m.

A second reading on the ordinance will be held at a later date.

The Council awarded two bids last night for mineral leases in the area.

Bids were awarded to Texaco Inc. and Mark M Investments Inc. for land at Powell Lake and land near the municipal golf course. Total amount the city will receive is $32,871, plus a bonus.

Texaco will pay a one quarter royalty on oil and gas, and Mark M Investments will pay a one-half royalty. There were no competitive bids.

The council also considered bids on vacant lot clearing in the area. One bid was awarded to Jack Bennett for the moving of 30 lots for $1,039.50. The council also considered bids for the

Steward appointed director of local VA Medical Center

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen on Tuesday was notified by VA Administrator Max Cleland of the appointment of John Steward as director of the VA Medical Center in Big Spring.

Steward is a graduate of the State College of Arkansas, where he received a bachelor's degree in Education in 1951.

A US Air Force veteran, Steward began his VA career in 1958 as an education therapist at the VA Medical Center in Sepulveda, Calif. Steward progressed through positions of increasing responsibility and was serving as a management analyst when selected for the VA Assistant Hospital Director training program in 1972.

After completing that training, he served as assistant director at the VA Medical Center in Fayetteville, N.C. He also has served as assistant director at VA Medical Centers in Tacoma, Wash., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Sepulveda, Calif.

Steward replaces Garlond Evers, who has been reassigned to the VA Medical Center in Baltimore, Md., as director.

21-year-old Big Spring man killed in car-cycle crash

A 21-year-old local man died after his motorcycle collided with a car at the intersection of Fourth and Birdwell, 10:41 p.m. Tuesday.

Joe Riherd, 21, 1604 Kentucky, sustained massive head injuries and two broken arms when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Rosemary Garza, Lubbock. Riherd was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital in a private vehicle, following the accident, and was being transferred to Odessa Medical Center by Shafter Ambulance Service when he died en route.

According to police reports, both the victim and Ms. Garza had been east-bound in the north lane of East Fourth. Riherd allegedly attempted to pass the car on the left at the same time that the car turned left onto Birdwell, when the collision occurred.

Reports stated that the victim was not wearing a helmet.

Ms. Garza was also taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital where she was treated for minor injuries and released.

Petroleum lifelines threatened

Iraq-Iran battle intensifies

By The Associated Press

Iraq claimed its ground forces made "substantial thrusts" today into western Iran along a 300-mile invasion front, pushing 10 miles beyond a northern city on a key road to Tehran. As the air, sea and land war between the Persian Gulf oil giants intensified, the United States advised Americans to leave bomb-stricken areas of Iraq.

An Iraqi military communique broadcast by Baghdad radio said ground troops, who on Tuesday captured Qasr-e-Shirin — a border town in the north 350 miles west of the Iranian capital — today encircled Sar-e-Pol-Zahab, 10 miles inland, and added, "The fall of Sar-e-Pol-Zahab is imminent."

In the central sector of the invasion front, the Iraqi command said Iraqi forces captured the Iranian border town of Mehran, 100 miles south of Qasr-e-Shirin, and then advanced eastward.

The 300-mile front extends from Qasr-e-Shirin to the beleaguered oil city of Abadan in the south. Iraq claimed Tuesday to have penetrated nine miles into Iran at some points and captured all Iranian border posts. It said Iraqis killed 21 Iranian soldiers and captured 121.

Iran's Abadan oil refinery, one of the world's biggest, was reported in flames and Iran admitted it was not operating. Radio Abadan appealed for trucks to carry sandbags to burning oil lines, for blood donations and for private cars to help deliver wounded to hospitals.

Iraq also claimed it shot down 21 Iranian jets and sank nine Iranian navy vessels in the third day of the war.

Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr vowed to defend Iran to the "last drop of blood" and told a news conference in Tehran that the United States and the Soviet Union had assured him they would stay neutral in the conflict. Tehran radio reported in a broadcast monitored in Beirut, Lebanon.

War flared after months of sparring along the border. Iraq last week scrapped the 1975 border treaty with Iran. The two nations long have argued over the Shatt al-Arab waterway that separates them and an ethnic dispute between them dates back centuries.

Iraq's ambassador to Japan, Mohammed Amin al-Jaff, was quoted as saying his country was preparing to take control of the Strait of Hormuz, the Persian Gulf outlet, and would guarantee safe passage for foreign tankers. He made the comment during a meeting in Tokyo with an official of Japan's ruling Liberal Democratic Party but did not elaborate, a party spokesman said.

The Japanese government expressed "deep concern" over the Iraqi-Iranian war. Japan gets more

Action/reaction: Bank crimes counted

Q. The Herald had an editorial recently about 'white collar' crime. How many internal bank crimes are committed, say in a year's time?

A. According to figures released by the FBI, 80 percent of the bank crimes investigated by that agency are committed by employees, with the loss averaging $18,600.

Calendar: Membership luncheon

TODAY

The Spring City Dance Club will meet from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. in the Eagles Lodge. Whittaker's Tumbleweed Band will provide the music. Admission is $1 for members and $1.50 for guests.

THURSDAY

Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon, Dorothy Garrett Coliseum East Room, noon. Contact Chamber of Commerce by 5 p.m. Tuesday for reservations, $3.75 per person.

Pro-American rally sponsored by Eagle Forum will be at the Dora Roberts Community Center at 7 p.m.

The American Heart Assn. will conduct a free blood pressure screening at the Medicine Shoppe, 1001 Gregg, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Tops on TV: 'Rumor of War'

Vietnam is the focus of CBS's special presentation of "Rumor of War," airing at 8 o'clock tonight. Brad Davis, star of the movie "Midnight Express," plays the part of an idealistic college student who becomes a proud and enthusiastic Marine. In part-1, tonight, the story follows his early training and transformation into a battle-hardened veteran in Vietnam. This competes with NBC's "Act of Love," airing at the same time. Ron Howard, "Happy Days" fame, stars as a young man who is put on trial for murder after honoring the wishes of his permanently paralyzed brother who did not want to continue living in that condition.

Inside: Economy woes

AMERICAN CONSUMERS, who last month swallowed the biggest rise in grocery prices in five years, can expect another "significant increase" in food costs this month — although things may ease a bit in the next three months, the federal government says. See page 8-B.

SEE THE LAST of a six-part series on teachers in Big Spring on page 2-A.

Outside: Slight chance

Considerable cloudiness this afternoon with a slight chance of rain. Partly cloudy tonight through Thursday with warmer afternoons. High today in the upper 70s, low tonight in the low 60s. High Thursday in the low 80s. Winds will be from the southeast at 5 to 10 mph through Thursday. Chance of rain is 20 percent this afternoon.

Police Beat Two Knott men stabbed

Two men were stabbed with a short-bladed pocket knife during a scuffle at the Blue Moon Lounge, 800 W. 4th, 9:15 p.m. Tuesday.

According to reports, an argument over a woman was the cause of a fight at the lounge. During the fray, Jesse Hernandez, Knott, was stabbed once in each thigh, while Max Hernandez, also of Knott, was stabbed once in the upper left chest with a pocket knife with a three-inch blade.

Max was treated at Malone-Hogan Hospital and released, while Jesse received treatment at Cowper Hospital.

Officers arrested Victoriano A. Hilario Jr., 28, 1405 Oriole, at the Blue Moon, 10 p.m. Tuesday. He faces charges of public intoxication, unlawful carrying of a weapon and aggravated assault.

Someone stole a 1963 Volkswagen Beetle from the home of Ronald Letcher, 1701 Kentucky, sometime Tuesday night. The auto was valued at $1,250.

Kevin Patterson, 1421

Tucson, became involved in an argument with a stranger near his home, 9:40 p.m. Tuesday. The man reportedly cracked the windshield of Patterson's car with his fist, and then drove off in a Chevrolet pickup. Damage was estimated at $250.

Thieves stole the lawn mower from the Westside Community Day Care Center at the Big Spring Industrial Park, sometime during last week. The mower was valued at $100.

While Tommy Lee Mitchell, 1101 E. 6th, was inside Whites Discount Store, 2 p.m. Thursday, a thief lifted his helmet which was resting on his motorcycle parked outside. The helmet was valued at $30.

Someone shot a bullet into the south wall of the home of Helen Young, 202 Circle, around 8 p.m. Tuesday. The bullet lodged in the door of a bedroom closet. Cost of damage has not been estimated.

Nicholas J. Brown, Gail Route, was treated at Malone-Hogan Hospital and released, after his motorcycle overturned on the 100 block of Birdwell, 6:39 p.m. Tuesday. According to reports, Brown had been stopped at a traffic sign on Birdwell, and when he took off, the bike slid out from under him.

Five other mishaps were reported Tuesday. Vehicles driven by Cresencios A. Ontiveros, Coahoma, and Robert E. Patterson, 1208 Sycamore, collided at 10th and Goliad, 2:32 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Thomas Nelson, 2620 Dow, and Otho Cox, 601 George, collided at 500 E. 11th, 7:52 a.m.

Vehicles driven by Sam Lewis, 1511 Stadium, and Hershel Harris, 1808 Donley, collided on the 500 block of Gregg, 9:40 a.m.

A vehicle driven by Rolando Reyes, Big Lake, struck a parked vehicle belonging to Ruby Lee, Colorado City, on the 200 block of Runnels, 12:48 p.m.

Vehicles driven by Kenneth F. Watson, Phoenix, Ariz., and Lloyd C. Nalls, 1703 Aylford, collided at 1414 E. 3rd, 1:44 p.m.

JOYCE BRADLEY PLAYS PIANO
Discipline is a part of teaching music

Thanks to Joyce Bradley Sound of music enjoyed by students at Marcy

By JAMES WERRELL
Elementary school means reading, writing and arithmetic. Thanks to Joyce Bradley, it also means music in Big Spring.

Mrs. Bradley has taught in the Big Spring Independent School District for 26 years, and for 24 of those years as a music teacher.

"I guess I have always been interested in music," she said. "I grew up here in Big Spring, and I have sung all my life. The first organized singing I did was with the Methodist Church, and I've been doing that since I was 13," she added.

She has also studied the piano since the age of five, and took up the organ as a music education major at North Texas State University. The real emphasis, however, has always been on singing.

"There was always music in our house when I was a child. My mother thought music was the epitome," said Mrs. Bradley. "She never had any formal training, but she could play the piano by ear, and sang all the time."

Mrs. Bradley learned a lot from that home environment, and now believes that a good musical atmosphere at home can instill more love for music than any outside teacher.

"If a child can hear music at home, in Sunday school and in church, his understanding will be much better. It's one of the most important things a parent can do, I think," she said.

But why is music so important? "A few years ago, we had a return to basics in education. But beyond that, people need diversions and music can provide that," said Mrs. Bradley. "Everyone needs music in some form, and if they learn something about music, it's something they can enjoy their whole lives."

In her classes, the emphasis is at an early age on "enjoyment."

"If the students enjoy music, there is a much better chance they will follow through with it when they get older," said Mrs. Bradley.

The 600 students who pass through the portals of her music room each week at Marcy School get a smattering of many different aspects of music. Children are introduced to all types of music, rhythm, histories of famous composers, a little theory, the experience of performing before an audience, and even a chance to compose some music themselves.

Mrs. Bradley has taught in just about every elementary school in the city during her 26-year career here. Since she began teaching, she has seen a number of her former students progress to careers as professional musicians.

"I hope I did something to get them interested in music, but I can't take much credit beyond that," she said, modestly.

A schedule of 600 children a week must be a pretty tough one. Doesn't her voice get tired by Friday afternoon?

"Oh, I sometimes get a tired voice, but it's not from singing, thanks to my vocal training. What gets me tired is the talking. Discipline is a part of teaching music too, you know," she answered, laughing.

Allman details operations of Big Spring Prison Camp

By JAMES WERRELL
John Allman, superintendent of the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp, offered details of just about every aspect of the camp's operation to the City Council, Tuesday night.

Allman appeared before the council during its regular meeting, 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. He presented a report that outlined the camp's population; number of employees; industrial output; employee salaries; number of visits by inmate family members; and special programs offered.

With a maximum possible population of 500 men, the camp presently houses 316 inmates. Of these, 145 are caucasians, 27 are black and 144 are Hispanics, 47 of whom are Mexican nationals.

The camp also uses inmate labor to man two factory operations at the camp, resulting in $10 million a year in sales. A total of 100 inmates assemble between 600 and 800 various electrical cable units a day, with monthly sales averaging $250,000.

In addition, 65 inmates produce 4,000 postal service bags a day, with monthly sales averaging $530,700 in this operation.

Following the report, council members had some questions for Allman. Councilman Larry Miller asked why the number of walkaways from the camp seemed to be so high.

Allman said that although there had been several walkaways, the Big Spring Camp "has the lowest escape walkaways, the Big Spring Camp" has the lowest escape record of any low security prison in Texas.

The council also questioned the policy of allowing prisoners to visit with their families when they came to Big Spring.

"I have a policy of letting a prisoner with a good record and whose term is near completion spend some time with relatives who come to motels in town," said the superintendent. "The way it is now, about 30 inmates are allowed to take advantage of this policy."

In an effort to better acquaint this community with its prison, an open house will be held there at the end of October.

"But visits by citizens won't be limited to this open house. Any interested party can come out any time they wish and see the operation," Allman added.

Johnson faces murder rap

Murder charges were filed Tuesday against Jeff Johnson, 51, 902 N.W. Second, in the firearm slaying of Alfoستر Jones Sept. 10.

Jones' body was found by police on the front porch of the duplex shared by Johnson and Jones.

Johnson was freed Sept. 11 on $15,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Bobby West.

Charges were filed in West's office by Detective J.D. Carter.

Digest

Ordinance angers clergy

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A local ordinance that puts church crosses in the same category as the golden arches at a McDonald's restaurant has outraged clergymen in this Florida city.

The ordinance, passed in November 1977, bans rooftop signs and says the cross atop the First Baptist Church is legally the same as the restaurant symbol. Both must come down by the end of 1982.

The controversy arose when one church put up a cross recently, and city officials have promised to review the ordinance. "We're not objecting to crosses," said building department director Ester Rymer on Tuesday. "The question is, how are we going to control them."

Attorney asks for dismissal

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Public Defender James Klein has asked for the dismissal of 13 murder charges and three assault indictments against Howard Unruh stemming from a shooting spree 31 years ago.

Klein asked Superior Court Judge Charles A. Rizzi for the dismissal on Monday, citing what he said was an unprecedented lapse of time in bringing the charges to trial.

Unruh, 59, has been confined to Trenton State Psychiatric Hospital since his arrest in the random 1949 shooting. He was judged incompetent to stand trial and his status has never changed.

Homosexuality no cause

NEW YORK (AP) — A person cannot be barred from jury duty because he or she is a homosexual, a judge has ruled, saying that would be "tantamount to a denial of equal protection under the U.S. Constitution."

Criminal Court Judge S. Herman Klarsfeld made the ruling Tuesday in connection with the trial of Frank Viggiani, 18, who pleaded guilty to misdemeanor assault in attacks by youths here last December on people they considered to be homosexuals.

Community Chest suspended due to apathy in Ballinger

BALLINGER — Community Chest workers in this city have suspended their operations for the next two years due to what has been described as apathy on the part of campaign supporters.

Neuman Smith, campaign chairman, said his committee was unable to even find workers for the annual drive.

It has become difficult to even get a quorum of members to attend board meetings.

The Community Chest serves as a united fund to support nine different agencies.

than 70 percent of its crude oil from the Persian Gulf area.

The Iraq National Oil Co. suspended loading oil from Iraq to foreign tankers effective Tuesday, officials of Japan's Ministry of International Trade and Industry officials said.

They said they had no word on how long the suspension would last.

Tehran radio quoted the Iranian joint staff as saying at least 34 Soviet-made Iraqi jets had been downed and four Iraqi ships sunk. It did not make clear what time period was involved.

An Iraqi communique broadcast by Baghdad radio said U.S.-made Iranian jets bombed oil installations and industrial targets in the southern port city of Basra and the northern oil cities of Kirkuk and Mosul at daybreak and midday.

The communique said 10 planes were brought down in Kirkuk, six in Mosul and five in Basra where four Americans and four British petrochemical experts were killed in a similar raid Tuesday. It also said Iranian jets raided the Kurdish-populated city of Irbil, 180 miles north of Baghdad, but made no mention of casualties.

In naval fighting, Iraq said two Iranian frigates and seven gunboats were destroyed and most of the crews drowned.

Iraq said its ground forces made substantial thrusts today into western Iran along a 300-mile invasion front from Qasr-Shirin in the north to the beleaguered oil city of Abadan in the south. Iraq claimed Tuesday to have penetrated nine miles into Iran at some points and captured all Iranian border posts. It said they killed 21 Iranian soldiers and captured 121.

A broadcast by Abadan radio said Iranian forces captured four Americans and a number of Iraqi soldiers today as the Iraqis defeated Iraqi forces at Shalamshah, in western Iran. The radio gave no other details on the Americans.

Iran has claimed the U.S. was behind the recent escalation of the border conflict and has called the Iraqi troops "mercenaries."

Tehran radio carried a message today by Iranian leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini in which he called on Iraqi soldiers and officers to defect to the Iranian side. Another broadcast said 100 Iraqi troops had "joined the ranks" of the Iranian army.

Iraq said its air force and navy were repulsing an Iranian sea attack on the deep-water oil harbor of al-Faw, near Khor al-Amaya and Mina al-Bakr, the second offshore terminal, and that "five enemy war vessels have been sunk in the running battle."

A senior State Department official in Washington predicted that both the warring oil nations would cut off shipments of their chief export through the Persian Gulf today. But presumably Iraqi oil would continue to flow by pipeline to the Mediterranean.

Iran's Parliament cited the war as an excuse to freeze discussion on the fate of the 52 U.S. hostages, who began their 326th day in captivity today. Their militant captors said some of the Americans were being moved from the cities in which they were held.

Iraq said its MiGs flew nine bombing and strafing missions into western Iran at daybreak today, causing heavy damage to seven military airfields and setting ablaze four Iranian Phantoms on the ground.

A communique broadcast by Baghdad Radio said Iranian warplanes struck back with bombing raids on the oil refinery and the oil harbor of Iraq's southern city of Basra, not far from a plant where four Americans and 27 other people were killed in an Iranian air raid on Tuesday.

The communique said Iraqi anti-aircraft guns shot down one Iranian jet over Basra today and forced other Iranian warplanes to flee when they attempted to raid Arbil, some 70 miles from the northern Iraqi city of Kirkuk.

Luncheon for Reagan staged here

percent mortgage rates and $60 billion deficit spending this year.

Clements outlined the Republican plan which, he said, would attract Democrats and Independents in Texas. "I would not be standing up here as your governor if there was not a tremendous effort by Democrats and Independents," he said.

Clements said county campaign chairmen were in place in all 254 Texas Counties Thursday. Former Mayor Wade Choate is the Howard County Reagan chairman.

Clements said the Round Up was a concept of Connally's in which 25 Texas communities were selected for luncheons and speaking engagements.

In a telephone campaign, 3 million Texas households would be contacted by more than 40,000 volunteers, said Clements.

A major push is being made for Democrat and Independent votes, Republican voters by themselves

"couldn't elect a dog catcher in this state," said Clements. He said many Democrats were "fed up with the Democratic party." "I would not ask you to raise your hand, but I know there are some of you here today," he said.

"The red carpet is out" for these voters, he said.

Clements said the financial arm of the Texas campaign has already been financed through a victory dinner held in Houston last week. Over $2 million was raised by the 2,800 in attendance who paid $1,000 a plate for the dinner with Reagan.

Clements discredited a recent Texas Monthly poll as "non-professional" that showed Carter several points ahead in opinion polls. Clements said he had read nationally known polls that showed the exact opposite as far as Texas is concerned.

Clements quoted the Worthland poll as saying Reagan was nine percentage points ahead.

Texas Monthly is a liberal magazine that has "never been right" concerning its polling, said Clements during the press conference.

He also said that the "welcome mat is out" to groups such as Rev. Jerry Falwell's Moral Majority and other evangelical groups.

Clements accused the Carter administration of creating more bureaucracy to generate more Democratic delegates in national conventions. He cited a CBS-Time magazine poll of delegates in New York during the National convention. The poll showed 41.8 percent were government employees.

Connally said Sunday's debate was "enormously useful" because of the revelation of the characters of the candidates. "You can read character on that television," he said, adding that was probably the reason Carter didn't show.

He said Reagan came across as a "friendly, solid, deliberate, thoughtful, kind individual."

Big Spring measures 2.71 inches rainfall

Big Spring's 24-hour rainfall for the period ending early Tuesday afternoon totaled 2.71 inches, according to information released by Nell Rogers of the U.S. Experiment Station.

Heavier downfalls occurred in other areas, including Elbow and about 13th Street in Big Spring, where measurements of four inches and more were gauged.

Howard County's official rainfall total for the month of September now totals 9.13 inches, making it the third wettest September in recorded history here.

The total for the year has now mounted to 22.12 inches, with more than three months of the year remaining. The U.S. Weather Bureau reported there was some risk of showers in the area again today.

Hawley Supt. Womack reassignment revealed

HAWLEY — School Supt. Charles (Nig) Womack, center of a budgetary controversy recently, has been reassigned within the Hawley school system.

Womack, Hawley superintendent for the past 34 years, will henceforth be the advisor-consultant within the district.

Womack will serve in his new capacity until Dec. 31, at which time the school board reserves the right to end or extend his contract.

Earlier this month, Womack had said he was suspended for "not adequately informing the board" of a $90,000 surplus in the 1980-81 school budget, which he said was caused by a coding error. Later, however, he denied that was the matter that triggered the board's decision.

Deaths— Joe Don Riherd

Joe Donald Riherd, 21, died while en route to an Odessa hospital early this morning after he had been injured in an automobile-motorcycle accident in east Big Spring here Tuesday evening.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Thursday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with Dr. Edwin Chappell, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Riherd was born Jan. 9, 1959, in Big Spring. He grew up and attended Big Spring schools, and was active in the band while in Big Spring High School. He graduated from high school in 1977. He had attended Howard College and was working at the alkalization unit at Cosden refinery at the time of his death.

He was a member of First United Methodist Church and of the Local 826 of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Riherd, both of Big Spring; a brother, John R. Riherd, El Paso; a sister, Mrs. Richard E. (Peggy Ann) Williams, Big Spring; two grandmothers, Mrs. Rosa Modling, Big Spring, and Mrs. Joe Watkins, Abilene; and numerous aunts and uncles.

Ruth Ybanez

LAMESA — A rosary for Ruth Ellen Ybanez, 21, of Lamesa will be said at 7 p.m. today in the chapel of Branon Funeral Home here. Mass will be said at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Margaret Mary's Catholic Church here. The Rev. Pat Hoffman, pastor, will officiate at both services.

Burial with full military honors will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Miss Ybanez died early Sunday in a motorcycle accident in Chandler, Ariz. She was killed when the motorcycle on which she was a passenger went out of control after hitting railroad tracks at a high rate of speed at the end of a cul-de-sac.

She was an Airman 1st Class stationed at Williams Air Force Base near Chandler, Ariz.

The Lamesa native graduated from Lamesa High School in 1977 and joined the Air Force less than a year ago.

Survivors include her father, Israel of Lamesa; her mother, Lucy of San Angelo; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leopardo Ybanez of Lamesa; and three sisters, Sarah Garcia, Nora Nance and Dorothy Archer, all of Lamesa; and a brother, Larry of Lamesa.

Francis Vaughn

Francis L. Vaughn, 87, of Abilene died 7:20 a.m. Tuesday at Hendrick Medical Center, Abilene.

Reallocation of Funds
The City of Big Spring, Office of Housing and Community Development will hold a Public Hearing on Friday, 26 September, 1980 at 7:00 p.m. in the Northside Fire Station, 8th and Runnels Streets, Big Spring, Texas. The purpose of the Public Hearing is to discuss the progress of the current two-year Community Development Block Grant in the amount of $1,500,000, for neighborhood improvement. The City's proposal is to reallocate and transfer funding between existing projects to place more emphasis on the housing needs of the community and to commit contingency funds to direct projects. Proposals to be discussed include:
1. Paving, curb and gutter of 2.5 blocks of streets
2. Seal coating of streets
3. Day Care Center
4. Park Improvements
5. Housing Rehabilitation
As Citizen Participation is a vital portion of these Community Development Projects, input for the expenditure of funds in the target area is an important factor.

Weather

Fog reported today in Permian Basin

By The Associated Press
 Rio Grande. A few showers were reported over portions of West Texas during the night, but rainfall amounts were light. Scattered showers and thunderstorms dumped as much as three inches of rain in the Pecos Valley Tuesday and heavy rainfall was reported at Houston and northwest of Corpus Christi. Early morning temperatures ranged from the 50s in the Panhandle to the 70s over most of the rest of the state.

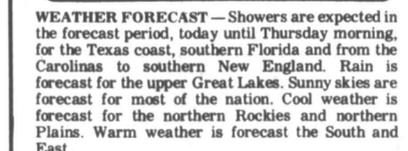

Widely scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast today along a cold front that has become nearly stationary from Southwest Texas to Northeast Texas. The remainder of the state was to have clear to partly cloudy skies and warm temperatures. Highs were to be in the 80s over the northern half of the state and in the 90s in the southern half and as high as near 100 along the coast.

FORECAST
 WEST TEXAS — Fair north through Thursday. Partly cloudy with showers and a few thunderstorms, becoming fair. Warmer most sections except the north. Highs near 80 north to mid 90s southwest. Lows near 50 north to mid 60s south. Highs mid 70s north to mid 90s southwest.

EXTENDED FORECAST
 WEST TEXAS — Fair north partly cloudy south with mild days and cool nights. Chance of showers, mainly south latter part of week. Highs in the 80s except 90s Big Bend. Lows in the 50s north and mountains to 60s south.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are expected in the forecast period, today until Thursday morning, for the Texas coast, southern Florida and from the Carolinas to southern New England. Rain is forecast for the upper Great Lakes. Sunny skies are forecast for most of the nation. Cool weather is forecast for the northern Rockies and northern Plains. Warm weather is forecast the South and East.

SS agent will visit cities

A representative of the Big Spring Social Security Office will visit Snyder, Colorado City, Lamesa, and Stanton to help citizens apply for benefits, get Social Security numbers, and answer questions.

Representatives will be available at the following times:

Snyder: Every Tuesday (except Nov. 11) from 10 a.m.-noon and 1 p.m.-2 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center.

Colorado City: October 1, 15, 29; November 12 and 26; and December 10 and 31 from 10 a.m.-noon and 1 p.m.-2 p.m. at the Wallace Community Center.

Lamesa: Every Tuesday (except Nov. 27 and Dec. 25) from 10 a.m.-noon and 1 p.m.-2 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center.

Stanton: Oct. 27, Nov. 24, and Dec. 15 from 2 p.m.-3 p.m. at the Stanton Neighborhood Center.

Applications and information are available at the Social Security Office, Room 229, Federal Building, 501 Main St. in Big Spring. If benefits are already being received, faster service can be attained by phoning 1-800-392-1603.

Citizens may apply by phone by calling 915-267-5226 collect between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Secretarial development class set

A course in secretarial development will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Martha Fierro, director. Classes will meet from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 6 through Nov. 3 in Horace Garrett building.

Instructor for the course will be Doris Huijbregtse, a business instructor at Howard College. Cost of the course is $15.

Patman raps loansharking

Proposal would mean added burden to 'poor' borrowers

WASHINGTON — State Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado brought his campaign against high interest rates to Washington Tuesday, but he soon discovered that some high-ranking federal financial officials don't support him. The South Texas legislator, who made a name for himself in the Texas Senate by fighting legislation to significantly increase borrowing costs on small consumer loans, testified Tuesday against a proposed House resolution that would pre-empt all state usury limitations.

Patman told the House Small Business Oversight Subcommittee the proposal would mean an added burden to poor and middle-income borrowers. "I fear that passage (of the measure) would legalize loansharking in Texas and throughout the nation," Patman said in his prepared remarks. "Pre-empting state usury limitations on small loans will destroy important protection for borrowers."

Patman, the Democratic candidate for the congressional seat now held by retiring U.S. Rep. Joe Wyatt, D-Bloomington, said if the resolution is approved, bills perennially sponsored by finance companies in state legislatures "will be unnecessary."

"Borrowers will be subjected to a gouging from some lenders that will shock the public," Patman said. Already, Patman said, interest rates on small loans in Texas are "among the highest legal rates in the nation, if not the free world." In some cases, he told the panel, rates as high as 241 (1/4) percent on loans under $100 are legal in Texas. Loans of $100 to $2,500 currently carry an interest rate of 3.15 percent, he said, although loan companies claim that is too low.

Under the proposed resolution, state limits on all interest rates would be abolished but any state would be permitted to reimpose ceilings by enacting overriding legislation. Appearing in support of the resolution were Frederick H. Schultz, vice chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, and Lewis G. Odom Jr., senior deputy comptroller in the Office of the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency. Schultz disagreed with Patman's contention that the resolution would hurt lower-income borrowers. He said if present state laws are allowed to stand, credit may dry up for all but the most credit-worthy borrowers.

Odom said state usury laws "should be repealed, preempted or substantially modified because they create arbitrary distortions" in the country's capital market system. "Usury laws have persisted because they are widely perceived as a means of protecting small and unsophisticated borrowers from unscrupulous lenders by limiting the power of lenders to charge exorbitant interest rates," Odom said.

Personal banking, finance course begins Sept. 29

A course in personal banking and finance will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Martha Fierro, director. Classes will meet from 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays, Sept. 29 through Oct. 22 in Horace Garrett building. Instructor for the course will be James Powell, a local certified public accountant. Cost of the course is $18.

Cities on collision course with disaster

One can wander over this great nation, see all the open spaces and wonder why the world is on a collision course with a population crisis.

They say that all the people ever born could be seen from the top of the Washington Monument, if crowded together and standing.

It is true that there is a lot of land in this country but the crises are going to occur in the cities of America and the rest of the world. Nothing, it seems, can stop the growth of the great cities.

THE LEADERS of those megapolises, of course, want more growth — even if they take businesses away from smaller communities — and less congestion. They can't, of course, have both. Living conditions are becoming almost impossible, even in places like Dallas and Houston, and they are going to get worse.

By the Year 2000, according to one reliable source, half of the world's population will be living in cities. It was disclosed in a meeting held in Rome recently that 60 cities in the world will have five million or more population within 20 years.

Five million people concentrated in one community — that's over five times as many as are living in Dallas (to cite an example) and traffic conditions there have all but become impossible.

At the present time, 41 percent of the world's population lives in urban areas. Over the next two decades, the world's population is expected to increase from 4.3 billion to 6.2 billion.

Mexico City, the experts say, will have at least 31 million people by the end of this century. Sadly, it can't even manage the 12 million or so it has now. Even now, only Tokyo-Yokohama and New York-NE New Jersey are larger than Mexico City.

DELEGATES to the Rome conference, which was authorized by the International Conference on Urban Population, called for national population policy to specify national and sub-national goals on the rate of population growth.

United Nations representatives talk bravely of redistribution of urban population but officials of the great cities are constantly beckoning to people from the other areas and promising them, in effect, "come on...we'll solve your problems after you get here."

It's sheer madness to adopt the philosophy that the only thing that matters is growth, that one community should work unceasingly to outdo another community and thus win bragging rights.

Somehow we've got to turn this thing around, if man is going to maintain a semblance of independence and freedom.

Great fair

Around the rim

Robbi Crow

As my eyes gazed around the sites of Howard County's eighth annual fair, I felt like Alice in Wonderland.

The atmosphere was intriguing with fascinating exhibits over here and daring carnival rides over there.

My family and I picked Friday night to check out the fair festivities last week and come to find out, that's the night everyone else in the state of Texas decided to go. What a turnout!

sumed only an hour early wasn't enjoying being sloshed around on that ride any more than I was.

Observing others on the same mechanical monster, I listened to their moans, groans and screams.

"Could we actually be enjoying ourselves," I thought to myself as the ride took yet another dip that left me breathless.

Evidently we were. As soon as the controller calculated his riders had endured enough torture, the majority of us rushed to the booth to purchase another ticket so we could inflict a little more pain upon ourselves.

I WONDER what it is about human nature that drives people to the point of taking pleasure in self abuse?

With heads spinning from the Tilt-A-Whirl, our stomachs full of frito pie, ice cream and soda pop, we ventured back to the car, reminiscing the events of the evening.

I want to thank each person who had a hand in making Howard County's own fair such a success. You should all be commended.

(And a special thanks to the owner of that brown van that blocked our car in for an hour and a half, providing yet another way for us to remember the evening.)

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have a friend who says that if you really serve God he will bless you by making you rich. Is that what the Bible says? — D.G.

DEAR D.G.: It depends on what you mean by "rich." If you mean that God has promised to give you a large bank account if you follow Him, then the answer is no. It may be that God will give material prosperity to some people. But if that happens, it is because God has given a special responsibility to that person — a responsibility to use those resources for God's glory. They are not to be used for selfish, pleasure-seeking goals.

But there is another kind of wealth of which the Bible speaks. This is spiritual treasure — the wonderful blessings God gives to us when we open our hearts to Jesus Christ and follow him as Lord of our lives. This spiritual wealth is far, far more important than any material wealth we may accumulate on this earth. For one thing, it is eternal. That is why Jesus said, "Do not store up for yourselves treasure on earth, where moth and rust destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moth and dust do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also." (Matthew 6:19-21)

The wonderful thing about the riches God gives us in Christ is that they are available to each one of us. Only a few people are ever able to achieve great wealth on this earth, although many try. But when we come to Christ, God freely gives us spiritual blessings and treasures in his grace. He gives us the eternal life, "an inheritance that can never perish, spoil or fade — kept in heaven for you" (1 Peter 1:4). He gives you the Holy Spirit, who gives you spiritual gifts, and works in your life to bring about fruit such as love, joy and peace. He gives you the certainty of his presence and hope every day.

Have you ever committed your life to Christ, asking him to forgive you and make you his child? Invite him into your heart, and you will know true riches — the riches of Christ.

Korean tragedy

Evans, Novak

SEOUL, South Korea — The tight-lipped insistence by the men who run South Korea that a discredited dissident must die, no matter how much revulsion in the West it excites, is building toward a climax with tragic consequences for U.S. interests.

It is by no means assured that the death sentence imposed on Kim Dae Jung will be commuted by President Chun Doo Hwan. To the contrary, presidential advisers say Chun must hold firm or this country will never achieve true stability; dissidents, they say, will perpetuate political turmoil here by using Washington as a court of last appeal.

This advice fails to appreciate the consequence for South Korea of executing a former presidential candidate on sedition charges. While top officials here told us they can weather U.S. economic reprisals, they fail to realize that hysteria spawned by the execution could undercut the U.S. commitment to defend South Korea — upsetting all security considerations in Northeast Asia.

THE WINNER would then be North Korea's Stalinist dictator Kim Il Sung and his campaign to isolate South Korea. After the execution of Kim Dae Jung, the siren song from Pyongyang — that his communist Garrison state would not harm its Southern brothers if only those 39,000 American troops get out — might sound sweet in Washington.

It is ironic in the extreme that the 30-year-old U.S.-Korean alliance, forged on bloody battlefields and honed by political stress, could be imperiled by the fate of Kim Dae Jung. He may be viewed as a lion in certain Washington and Tokyo circles. But in Seoul, even opposition figures write off Kim as an opportunist and incorrigible intriguer, whose reprehensible conduct following the assassination of President Park Chung Hee last October helped provoke the army takeover.

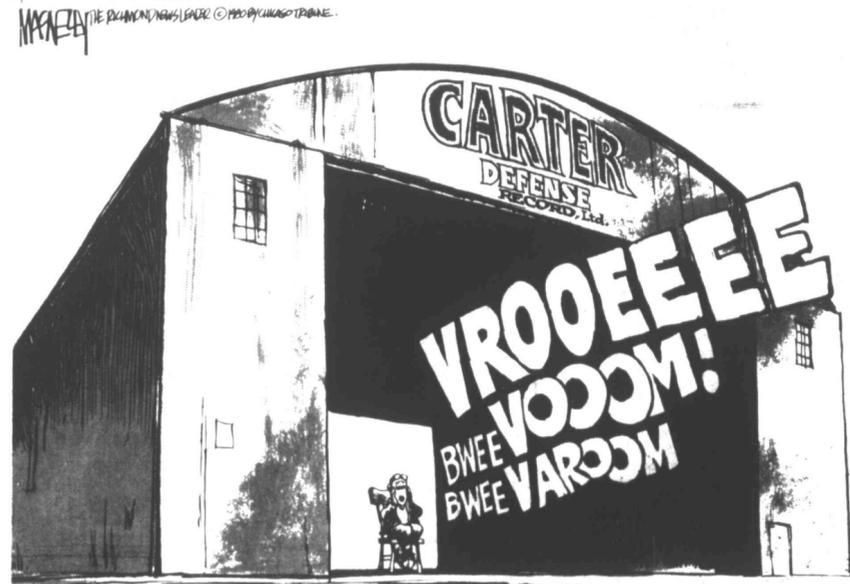

The deeper irony is that save for the Kim Dae Jung case, prospects are good for the new regime to achieve a blend of stability and democracy. Western diplomats and opposition figures, while not happy about the regime's more repressive aspects, see Chun Doo Hwan as a therapeutic leader.

The 49-year-old career officer who seized power last December and took over as president this month has the potential to achieve what Park Chung Hee lacked in 18 years of rule: genuinely popular leadership.

While Westerners scoff at the military regime's purification program that has cracked down against both corrupt politicians and racy television programs, it is popular with Koreans. They are delighted that public officials no longer spend Sunday at the golf course followed by an orgiastic 19th hole. In place of politicians, the new cabinet is composed largely of well-regarded technocrats.

Oh Se Eung, one of the most outspoken opposition members in the National Assembly during the Park regime, was sickened by Kim Dae Jung's conspiratorial conduct the past year. Oh would have preferred true democracy, but accepts President Chun's promise of order now and democracy ahead.

SIMILARLY, CHUN has a higher rating in the U.S. Embassy than he himself might imagine. U.S. Ambassador William Glysteen, like Congressman Oh, is a realist — unlike missionaries and intellectuals who would impose American-style democracy on South Korea.

Phlebitis a potential hazard

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: My right leg swelled up and after two weeks I went to the doctor. It became quite painful. I was hospitalized and told I had deep vein phlebitis. I was put on blood thinners. The doctor says there is nothing to do but wait, maybe six months, for the swelling to go down. I am still on the thinner. What causes the swelling? Is it water, infection, or what? Am I getting the standard treatment? — Mrs. K.S.

I'll attempt a mini-course in phlebitis (flea-BITE-us).

"Phleb" refers to veins, the "itis" to inflammation. There are many reasons why veins become inflamed — injury, stagnation of blood flow and other causes about which we are uncertain. Whatever the cause, a clot (thrombus) forms in the inflamed vein. This blocks the flow of blood and the clot enlarges. Pressure builds from the blocked blood and fluid leaks out, causing the general swelling.

If we take a common place for this to happen — the calf of the leg — then the calf enlarges, becomes painful and often reddened.

If only veins on the surface of the leg are affected, simple measures like hot compresses, elastic support hose, leg elevation and rest is all that's necessary. The inflammation quiets down and the clot dissolves. Phlebitis of surface veins is not dangerous. However, if it occurs in veins deep in the muscles of the leg (your situation), the clot can break off and travel to the lung.

Therefore, deep-vein phlebitis is treated aggressively. Bedrest with leg elevation is often needed, and blood-thinning medicines have to be used and continued for up to six months after the inflammation subsides.

Both forms of phlebitis respond well to treatment. Your treatment is standard. You may need follow-up therapy of your own later on. Avoid crossing legs, use elastic hose and continue to keep your legs elevated from time to time. This will help avoid future problems.

Dear Dr. Donohue: After a physical examination recently, I was told I had some rectal polyps. They give me no trouble. I would like to know if they are what people call "piles," and if anything need be done about them. — B.F.

Rectal polyps are fleshy growths occurring in the final few inches of the large bowel. Hemorrhoids (piles) are weakened and stretched veins (varicosities) in and around the rectal opening. They are not at all the same. While rectal polyps are found

Orders optioned

Jack Anderson,

WASHINGTON — In an ominous development, President Carter has issued secret directives to the Pentagon to prepare the option of using nuclear weapons in the volatile Middle East.

There have been hints of such a possibility in the past. Carter's state of the union address last January, for example, declared that "an attempt by any outside force to gain control of the Persian Gulf will be regarded as an assault on the vital interests of the United States (and) will be repelled by use of any means necessary."

AND ROBERT KOMER, undersecretary of defense for policy, publicly stated that if conventional deterrents in the Middle East failed, the use of nuclear weapons would be considered. But in secret directives, the president has spelled out the nuclear option clearly and explicitly.

In Presidential Decision Memorandum No. 51, Carter outlined a new U.S. nuclear policy for the Middle East. But this memo was ignored in the furor over Presidential Directive 59, which changed U.S. missile targets in the Soviet Union.

The contents of PDM No. 51 and related documents, including a directive to the Strategic Air Command from Defense Secretary Harold Brown, are designed to "significantly degrade Soviet capabilities to project military power in the Middle East-Persian Gulf region for a period of at least 30 days."

To accomplish this, the president ordered the formulation of various military options, my associate Dale Van Atta has learned. The most significant of these was the "limited strategic option" for use by the commander of the Rapid Deployment Force, Gen. P. X. Kelley.

Subject to the usual presidential authorization for use of any nuclear weapons, this option involves 19 nuclear bombs carried by B-52 bombers. The aim is to keep Soviet forces from invading Iran, and the weapons include both B-57 bombs, with an explosive power about equal to the Hiroshima bomb, and the more powerful B-61 variable yield thermonuclear bombs.

SOURCES SAID Carter ordered his planners to formulate several additional limited strategic options, as well as a more far-reaching "selective attack option" that would target Russian facilities near Iran, including military bases and airfields inside the Soviet Union.

Military experts noted that with a B-52 force — the SAC's 57th Air Division at Minot Air Force Base, N.D. — already earmarked for Middle East deployment, the bombers would be the most likely vehicle for nuclear weapons, rather than long-range missiles in silos in the United States. The bombers are far more flexible, one source pointed out, adding, "If we screw around with our ICBMs, you don't know what the response would be."

"Flexible" does not mean "reasonable," however, in the view of some insiders. They contend that the concept of limited nuclear warfare confined to the Middle East is a child's dream that could become a nightmare for the whole world.

"If we initiate tactical nuclear warfare in that area, we are opening a Pandora's box," said one Pentagon source who is alarmed at the idea of preparing strategic options for the Middle East. "The Soviets could respond with tactical nuclear weapons against our warships in the Persian Gulf area, and who knows where it would go from there?"

Footnote: A White House spokesman refused to confirm or deny the contents of PDM No. 51, or to discuss U.S. nuclear policy with respect to the Middle East.

JIMMY'S LATEST — Our political odds man is out with his latest pick — and it's Ronald Reagan.

Unimpressed by the latest polls, Jimmy the Greek still makes Reagan a 2-and-a-half-to-1 favorite over Jimmy Carter to win in November. Jimmy has zeroed in on the states with many electoral votes, and here's how he sees Reagan winning:

New York (41) — Carter carried in 1976, but the unhappy Jewish voters — given John Anderson as a Liberal Party alternative — will tip the scales for Reagan.

New Jersey (17) — Ford carried last time. It's close, but Reagan has the edge.

Pennsylvania (27) — Carter and Reagan are even right now, but if Reagan can nail enough of the ethnic vote, he's got it.

Florida (17) — Carter won here four years ago, but resentment over his handling of the Cuban and Haitian refugee problem in heavily populated Dade and Broward Counties may give the state to Reagan.

Michigan (21) — Gerald Ford took the state with 54 percent of the vote. Reagan's not as strong as the native son was, but the depression in the auto industry should work to Reagan's advantage.

Ohio (25) — Carter won by an eyelash — 15,000 votes — in 1976. But unemployment in the steel, glass and rubber industries helps Reagan, and the state's Conservative Party, which sat it out last time, is working enthusiastically for Reagan.

Big Spring Herald Mailbag

Dear Editor:

At one time, I read the complete shop manual for the 1969 MGB. The manual was of compelling interest as I owned a 1969 MGB, but the reading of it did not make me a British sports car mechanic. Some time later as part of my professional responsibilities, I read from Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes but the reading of them did not make me a lawyer.

Why is it, then that numerous persons read from Holy Scriptures and write as though they are theologians, particularly in letters to the editor? What qualifies someone to write about today's events, interpreting Scripture with self-conferred infallibility? I dare to suggest that Holy Scriptures are highly complex pieces of literature written in different times, cultures, and languages and viewed through entirely different historical, cultural, and religious traditions. Indeed, after nine years of seminary training and numerous formal courses in theology, I classify myself as a novice in exegesis, (scriptural interpretation).

Thus, letters such as the one published on Sept. 16, are disappointing. The writer, who appears to love God and despise at least 10,000 of his fellow men gathered for the Willie Nelson concert, correctly points out the Christian community largely holds Sunday to be the Lord's day.

However, the commentary from there becomes highly speculative and confused, both semantically and analytically, e.g., the Sabbath-Lord's day controversy, utilization of passages from one section of Scripture to justify conclusion about which that section of Scripture did not refer, e.g. Rev. 22:18, and the vitriolic judgment against those persons gathered for an eminently Christian goal, the relief of the disabled, at the Willie Nelson concert on a Sunday evening. "I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or harm?" Luke 6:9, and quoting from the same Scripture used to condemn the concert-goers, "let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works." Hebrews 10:24.

The condemnation and presumption that all who attended the concert did not worship Sunday was uncalled for and not supported by one jot of evidence.

Neither was the infelicitous accusation that Christ's blood was desecrated by "the so-called Christians who attended." Hebrews, one should note, is a piece of theology setting out the New Covenant or New Dispensation to the Hebrew people, not a listing of novel ways of being damned.

To the writer of the Sept. 16 letter, and to those who would consider infallibly interpreting Scriptures for the benefit of the Big Spring Herald readers, I only ask that he and they "and therefore be merciful even as your Father is merciful." Luke 6:37. It is a scandal to Christians and a stumbling block to unbelievers to find such frequent and gratuitous condemnations of those who do not profess the individual writer's sectarian, denominational, or idiosyncratic views.

Dear Editor:
Coming home from a vacation last week we stopped in Big Spring and spent the night at the free camping area in your City Park. This is just to say thank you very much for providing such a nice place for us to stay at overnight.

Dear Editor:
According to President Carter, Mr. Anderson is primarily a creation of the press. He ran as a Republican and never won a primary, even in his own home state. He has not had a convention and does not have a party. He and his wife picked the Vice Presidential nominee.

The various polls show that he has not the ghost of a chance of being elected as President. Then what moral right has he to exploit some of the Kennedy Democrats, who have been wavering, and other disgruntled people who have been considering whom to vote amongst the other two presidential candidates.

It must be remembered that a vote given to the so-called independent candidate, amounts to a vote thrown in the garbage can!

In the circumstances, it is hoped that the voters would exercise their discretion properly instead of being carried away by slogans, oratory and the views of party newspaper editorials and press reports.

Two BSHS students merit semifinalists

Big Spring High School students named as semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Foundation are Glen Sitton and Letitia Hernandez.

Letitia Diana Hernandez, daughter of Mrs. Angelina A. Hernandez of 303 North Aylford, attended Big Spring schools from the first grade.

She plans to study languages at Angelo State University or University of Texas at Austin. Letitia's career goal is to be an interpreter. She is currently attending Big Spring High School and Howard College under the early admission program.

She is the vice president of the National Honor Society and a member of the student council.

Glenn Evan Sitton, son of Mrs. Georgeann M. Sitton of 1111 Ridgeroad entered Big Spring High School in the fall of 1978. He plans to study engineering at University of Texas at Austin or Angelo State University. Glenn is a member of the National Honor Society. He is in the Distributive Education program at Big Spring High School and is employed by the Big Spring Herald.

The selection of semi-finalists is based on the PSAT-NMSQT which was taken in October of 1979.

Semi-finalists represent about one-half of one percent of total graduating seniors in Texas.

Joseph Weesner was named as semi-finalist. He took the exam in Big Spring last year, but has since moved to Marion, Texas, and is attending school in Judson, Texas.

VISITING ROME — Actress Farrah Fawcett and actor Ryan O'Neal walk on one of Rome's downtown streets during a recent visit to Italy. They reportedly have said they plan to marry.

Adams Proctor receives necessities at shower

A diaper shower honoring Mrs. Cooper Proctor was held recently in the home of Mrs. Harley Bradley, 2618 S. Chanute.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Dick Helms, Mrs. Kerry Newell and Mrs. Michael Sanders.

The honoree was presented with a blue silk flower corsage decorated with baby socks. The hostess gift was a baby book.

Guests brought disposable diapers and baby care products. Attending the registry was Mrs. Rob Richardson.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served from a table draped with a blue baby quilt. An arrangement of stuffed animals and candles enhanced the setting.

Special guests in attendance were Mrs. Ralph Brooks, maternal grandmother of the new arrival; and Adams Brooks Proctor, born Aug. 15.

Torres' announce birth of daughter

Private and Mrs. Val Torres III, Weymouth, Mass., announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Jessica Ilene, Sept. 19 at 3:14 p.m.

The infant made her debut weighing 7 pounds 15 ounces and measuring 19 inches in length.

Jessica Ilene's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Austin, Weymouth, Mass. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Torres Jr., 2619 Chanute

The new arrival's great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ochotorena Sr., 405 N.W. 11 and Valentin Torres Sr., Garden City.

Dear Abby

Gift of Sight Cannot Be Bought

DEAR ABBY: When I read the letter in your column signed, SEEING AGAIN, I cried. They were not tears of sadness, but tears of joy.

SEEING AGAIN wrote in part: "As a teen-ager a few years ago, I underwent two cornea transplants — one in each eye. I want to address my feelings to my unknown donor."

"I never knew you, yet your generosity changed my life. You died, yet a part of you still lives. You gave of yourself. It was the last thing you gave, and you gave it to a stranger. My life is so different because of you. Every day I am reminded of the gift you gave me. I wonder about you often. Who were you? What wonderful things did you see through these eyes? With the help of God, you created a miracle — the miracle of sight!"

Abby, several years ago, my son was struck by a motorcycle and died six days later. So that a part of him would continue to live, we donated his corneas.

A few months later, the eye bank notified us that both corneas had been successfully transplanted. As is their policy, they did not reveal the identity of the recipient. I'm not sure I ever really wanted to know, but I did wonder what kind of person received the precious gift of sight from our son.

Now that I have read the letter in your column, I have some idea of how the recipient must feel, and I am convinced that some good did indeed result from our son's death.

I want to thank SEEING AGAIN for sharing his feelings. His letter really made my day.

MRS. M.M. TALBOTT, SUTHERLAND, VA.

DEAR MRS. TALBOTT: And thank you for writing. Your letter made my day.

Readers, the gift of sight is something we are all able to give, yet it cannot be bought. To obtain a donor's card, call your local Lions Club today. It is listed in your phone book.

Do you have questions about sex, love, drugs and the pain of growing up? Get Abby's new booklet: "What Every Teen-ager Ought To Know." Send $2 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Clint Faulkner greets new sister

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Faulkner announce the birth of their first daughter, Cassie LeeAnn, on Sept. 16 at 10 a.m.

The infant made her debut at Malone-Hogan Hospital weighing 5 pounds 15 1/2 ounces. She measured 19 1/4 inches in length.

Maternal grandparents of Cassie are Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Sundy, Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. Allen U. Faulkner, Nixon, are the paternal grandparents.

Great-grandmothers include Mrs. U.L. Harrell and Mrs. Mack Sundy, both of Big Spring.

Welcoming the new arrival home was the couple's 2 1/2-year-old son, Clint.

Nita Tarbet gives program to club

The Big Spring Child Study Club held its first meeting Sept. 17 in the home of Mrs. Janice Emerson. Mrs. Judy Moss served as co-hostess. Fifteen members and five guests were in attendance.

The program was presented by Nita Tarbet on the progress of the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf. A question and answer session followed.

Mrs. Tarbet also demonstrated two songs in sign language.

New yearbooks were distributed and refreshments were served.

Problems of going steady

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Jenny, 15, from Fort Smith, Ark., is getting pressure from her boyfriend to have sex and she is having trouble coping with the problem. Glenda Brown, 16, from Rock Island, Ill., and Brent Whitson, 17, from Marshall, Texas, will offer teen advice.

Dr. Wallace: My boyfriend and I have been going steady for eight months and I have two problems because of it. My boyfriend wants to have sex with me and it keeps getting harder to put him off. All we do is argue and fight when we are together. Even so, I still care for him very much. I'd like all the advice that I can get. — Jennie, Fort Smith, Ark.

Jennie: Your situation reminds me of the story of the girl who was very happy when she had a bad toothache because she knew it would feel so good when it stopped. It would appear that you are happier when you are not with your boyfriend. It's probably because you have the security and status of going steady but not the headaches.

You are a good example of why parents frown on going steady.

My advice — break up, both of you are too immature to handle it. — Dr. Wallace

Hi Jennie: Keep saying no to his sexual advances but Don't worry about the hassling. I believe that people in love fight with each other because they care about the other person so much that they are willing to fight for them and with them.

Whenever my parents have a fight, my mom calls it a love spat and my dad calls it a lover's quarrel. Then they kiss and make up. — Glenda, Rock Island, Ill.

Hello Jennie: Why are you punishing yourself by going steady with this guy? Obviously you two are not suited for each other. Every couple fights at times but not all the time. Besides at your age, you do not need the psychological burden of a sexual affair.

You can only say no for a certain length of time. Do yourself a favor and put the boy out of his misery — break up. — Brent, Marshall, Tex.

If you would like to be a guest teen writer, write to me in care of this newspaper stating your sex and age.

Dr. Wallace: My letter is in regards to the former pot smoker from Coos Bay, Ore., who blamed smoking marijuana for his serious automobile accident. This guy was only looking for a scapegoat and marijuana fit the bill. If you rob a bank while under the influence, then you would have robbed it if you weren't high.

In case you didn't know, more accidents are caused while under the influence of alcohol than under the influence of marijuana. — Sally, Seattle, Wash.

Sally: If one innocent human being loses his life because an automobile driver was under the influence of marijuana, then smoking pot and driving is drastically wrong and potheads who drive when high should be "locked up." The same goes for any driver who is under the influence of anything!

Write to Dr. Robert Wallace, TWEEN 12 and 20, Copley News Service, in care of this newspaper. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Patterson, Big Spring, announce the birth of a son, Steven Paul, Sept. 18 at 3 p.m., in the Health Sciences Center, Lubbock.

Harmons witnessed three military coups in Ghana

By DON WOODS
John and Phyllis Harmon witnessed the effects of three coups on the small West African country of Ghana, which became in 1959 the first African country to gain self-rule. All three coups occurred during a year's time.

"Being there with coups, electrical outages, shortages and no water it gets a bit tense. It sort of makes you appreciate what you've always taken for granted," said Phyllis, with a decidedly British accent.

The Harmons were in Ghana for three and a half years.

John Harmon worked in the American Embassy for the Foreign Service. He was a political officer. "They just sort of see what's happening locally," said Phyllis to keep the U.S. informed of local occurrences.

The Harmons met in Viet Nam, where John was acting as political officer in the embassy there and Phyllis was a nurse with International Rescue Committee. ("They employed me because I was not an American citizen.") She went there from England, where she was raised.

Though she was born in Ireland, she left Ireland when she was "quite small (eight)." Most of her family is in England though she has family in Ireland. None of her immediate family is close to the fighting there though she has strong feelings about the conflict.

She is staying in the home of Elizabeth Hale, 2602 Lynn, whom she met in Viet Nam.

She is a sort of "honorary grandmother" for the Harmons' three children. In fact, she did all the shopping for the children here in Big Spring while the Harmons were in Ghana.

One of her three pretty children is a five-year-old girl with an English accent. She also has two younger boys.

Phyllis is staying in Mrs. Hale's home while John readies their home in Washington where they will live indefinitely.

The two spent three years in Tokyo before they moved to Ghana and the government doesn't usually move a couple overseas again after two trips.

Tokyo and Ghana can't be compared, said Phyllis.

Tokyo is full of cultural opportunities. "Ghana is not the same type of a place," she said.

Accra, the capital where they were, is a smaller city with less than one million people in it.

There were some "very nice people in Ghana," said Phyllis, calling them "interesting and clever," however, "because the economy was so bad and food so scarce it cut down on social activities" for the natives, she said. Americans had the commissary to depend on, she said.

There were a number of robberies, though guns were not often used. She saw little evidence of major crimes such as murder and drug possession.

She said the Ghanaians helped stranded motorists or anyone with similar problems.

Even during the coups, "We saw no evidence of anti-American feeling there. I'm sure if there had been any danger we would have been evacuated."

"The people are very nice. They're sort of gentle," she said.

Gen. Accuffa replaced Gen.

Achenpong in 1979 in a coup. Then on May 15, 1979, Flight Lt. Rawlings attempted a coup but was not successful. On June 4 the military did succeed in a coup under Rawlings. Gen. Accuffa and seven others were tied to stakes on a West African beach and publically executed.

Though the coup was military, Rawlings turned the reins of government over to the citizens. The Harmons were never threatened and always treated hospitably.

Phyllis described the shopping as "dismal." It was very difficult to get even essentials, sugar, meat. Poultry was almost impossible," she said. At times there was no meat or bread for sale.

They never bought clothing in Ghana, always ordering it from the U.S. through the mail.

Death request granted

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Jurors spent only seven minutes before deciding to grant the request of convicted murderer Ramon Pedro Hernandez.

The 38-year-old killer begged jurors Monday to sentence him to death, saying if he were given a life prison sentence — the only other possible penalty — he would get out of prison.

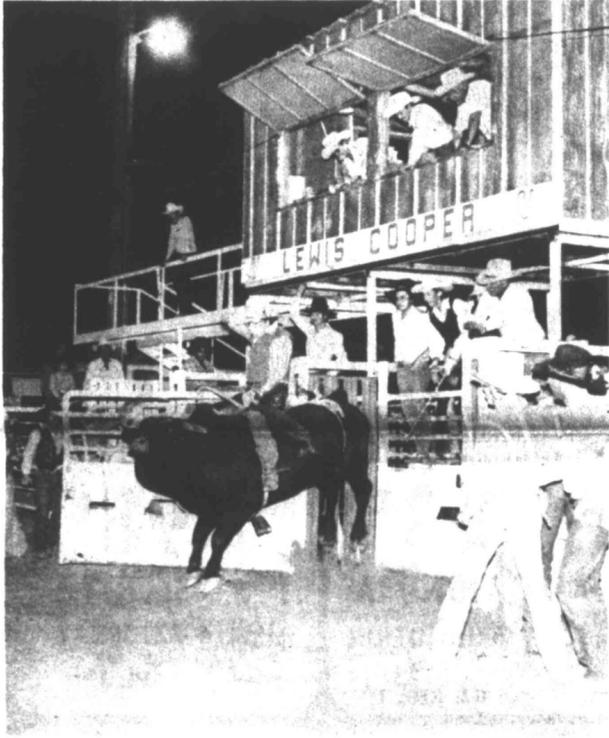

"Let me have the death penalty," Hernandez said. "I know what I've done. If I have to be waiting to die, I want it to be done soon. I realize what I'm asking. I'm not insane or crazy."

He addressed the jury against the advice of his two court-appointed attorneys.

"Don't feel guilty about it. I will get out. I'm not real good at law, but I know I can get out based on appeal," Hernandez said.

The jury deliberated seven minutes before recommending Hernandez be executed by lethal injection for shooting to death Oscar Martin Fraier, 33. Prosecutors said Hernandez was in the act of burglarizing the service station where Fraier worked when the murder occurred June 20.

Hernandez did not change expressions when the recommendation for execution was read, but his estranged wife wept. He kissed her and told her everything would be all right.

IN CHARGE — Freddie Leonard, freshman from Big Spring, takes his turn at the bull riding event during the Eastern New Mexico University Rodeo held in Portales, N.M. on Sept. 18-20. The Howard College Men's Rodeo Team took fourth place in the team standings. The HC Men's Rodeo Team is the defending regional champions.

HC men's team places fourth at ENMU rodeo

The Howard College Men's Rodeo team placed fourth in the team standings at the Eastern New Mexico University Rodeo held the past weekend at Portales, N.M., announced Skipper Driver, Howard College Rodeo Coach.

Jess Doss, sophomore from Big Spring, placed third in the calf roping event, while teammate Bill Stockton, sophomore from Big Spring, took sixth in steer wrestling. Monty Davis, sophomore from Midland, split second and third in bull riding.

Sul Ross State University placed first at the rodeo, Western Texas College came in second, and Tarleton State University took third. But according to Driver, there was only a 56 point difference between the first place finishers and fourth place Howard College.

"I was pleased with the results. This being the first rodeo of the year, everyone started on the same level and we got a good look at what we can expect in the future," said Driver. "At this point and time, we are in good shape."

The rodeo team will journey to Pampa Oct. 2-4 for a rodeo sponsored jointly by Clarendon College and South Plains College.

Course in reading improvement offered at Howard College

GETTING BACK IN SHAPE — Texas Rangers pitcher Ferguson Jenkins has a good supply of baseballs as he pitched some batting practice prior to the Rangers-Minnesota Twins game Tuesday night in Bloomington, Minn. Jenkins was ordered reinstated to the team Monday, an arbitrator overruling a suspension on Jenkins on a drug charge incident in Canada.

In battle for third place Twins crowding Texas

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — A month ago the Minnesota Twins were reeling from the resignation of Gene Mauch and a complete non-factor in the American League Western Division race.

Now, under interim manager Johnny Goryl, they are fighting not only for the prestige that comes with finishing in third place, but the extra money as well. "To finish in third place would mean something to us," said Twins' catcher Butch Wynegar, who knocked in three runs with two singles as Minnesota defeated Texas 8-2 to pull within 1½ games of the third-place Rangers. "We were down pretty low, and now we've come back a little." The Twins have won five in a row, nine of their last 11 games and 12 of 16 since Mauch resigned Aug. 24. The third-place money amounts to about $1,500-2,000 per player and both Goryl and Wynegar admit that it's nothing to sneeze at. "I don't know about you, but I could sure use a couple of thousand dollars," said Goryl.

"It's very much a factor," added Wynegar, whose two-run single in the first inning off loser Ken Clay gave the Twins a 4-0 lead. "I'm sure all the guys are aware of it. It's good money for Christmas gifts. No, the money wouldn't hurt at all." Clay, 2-3, dug himself a hole in the first by walking three batters. He also was hurt by Bump Wills' throwing error with the bases loaded, which allowed the first two runs to score. Wynegar also singled in the fourth to score Glenn Adams, who had tripled, before Texas fought back with two in the fifth on a double by Buddy Bell and Pat Putnam's sacrifice fly.

Roger Erickson, 7-12, went the first five innings, allowing eight hits, to pick up the win for Minnesota. He was relieved by Pete Redfern, who pitched four scoreless innings to post his second save.

"The best thing about this game was the pitching of Redfern," said Goryl. "Texas was about to get back in the game against Roger, but Pete stopped them."

Clay yielded only five hits in 6 & 1-3rd innings, but was charged with seven runs. The Twins scored two more in the seventh on doubles by Mike Cabbage and Rob Wilfong, and Ken Landreaux's run-scoring single.

Reliever Dan Darwin allowed the other run in the eighth on a single by John Castino and a double by Hosken Powell.

Mavs set deadline

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Mavericks have given No. 1 draft choice Kiki Vandeweghe until noon Thursday to say whether he will play for the National Basketball Association team.

"If Kiki and his father (agent Dr. Ernie Vandeweghe) don't accept the contract offer we've made them by then, we're withdrawing it," said team spokesman Allen Stone. "And the only thing offered after that will be the standard player contract. There'll be no more negotiations."

"This is fair for him and us," said Coach Dick Motta. "It's time for a decision. He's ours, anyway. A guy doesn't have to play in this league. You don't have to hold a gun to a guy to force him to make that kind of money and lead that kind of life."

Vandeweghe has expressed his desire to play for several weeks. But his father has stalled in hopes Dallas would trade his son to Los Angeles or New York, a request the Mavericks have denied him.

Steers learned a lot

The Big Spring Steers went into their contest against Levelland as heavy favorites and an unbeaten record. But by the end of the game, the home town Lobos had dealt the Steers with a 15-8 loss.

No doubt Big Spring Coach Ralph Harris and the Steers would like to have been 3-0 entering the District 5-AAAAA wars, but Harris feels the loss should help the young Big Spring crew on down the road.

"The kids learned a lot. There's no doubt that we weren't ready to play, but the loss should help us realize what it takes to get ready to play mentally," the Big Spring mentor stated.

"The worst thing that could have happened to us in the Levelland game is to have gone in there and eked out another win when we didn't play well," Harris continued. "That could have given us a sense of false security."

"It was disappointing to lose, but it should help us get ready for district," Harris said.

District 5-AAAAA action begins a week from Friday when the Big Spring crew plays host to Abilene, a team that was undefeated until running into defending state champ and the number one ranked team in Class AAAAA, Temple. Abilene lost 34-21, but before the Eagles had jumped out to a 21-0 lead over the highly touted Temple team.

Right now, the Steers are using their open week to prepare for the rest of the season, with the big emphasis on Abilene not slated to begin until later in the week.

The first five teams the Steers will play in 5-AAAAA action all run a 4-3 defense, so this week is one to concentrate on the basic fundamentals of attacking it.

Harris also foresees much more passing by the 5-AAAAA teams that the Steers will be facing than in their non-district foes of Snyder, Sweetwater and Levelland. For that reason, the defense will no doubt work on that phase of their game more this week.

"Naturally, we would like to have been 3-0," said Harris, "but as far as getting ready for what we needed to at this point, we had a good pre-district. Right now we're just taking care of our own business. We used Monday as a correction day, and had a real good workout."

Harris noted that Abilene played a very good game against Temple, but also added that Temple hurt itself a great deal with mistakes.

Races set in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne announced plans for the "Windy City" to host a pair of major auto races through its lakefront streets next summer during the July 4th weekend.

The "Chicago Grand Prix" will feature Indianapolis and Can-Am style cars and have a total purse valued at $500,000.

Race spokesmen said the four-day Chicago Grand Prix would cost about $2.5 million, with some of the expenses going to resurface streets so the sleek racing machines wouldn't be beaten to pieces.

The main events will be competition involving Indianapolis-type championship cars July 4 and a Can-Am challenge race July 5.

Americans lead in cup races

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Dennis Conner skipped Freedom to her most lopsided victory over Australia in the 1980 America's Cup yacht race, and took a commanding 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series.

Freedom's final margin of victory was 3 minutes, 48 seconds over the 24.3-mile course.

Defenses trouble him Dolphin keeps plugging

MIAMI (AP) — Miami Dolphins running back Delvin Williams has reaped the benefits and glory of playing behind a veteran offensive line that opened gaping holes in National Football League defenses.

Now the seventh-year pro from Kansas is enduring the frustration — and quite well, he says, — of hitting the line of scrimmage and finding no place to go but down to the turf in the arms of a defender.

"Twenty carries, 40 yards. That's what an inexperienced offensive line means to me," said Williams, twice a 1,000-yard rusher. "It's something you've just got to ride through and hope you stay healthy."

"I know the guys are doing the best they can and I've got to keep doing the best I can. You can't quit," Williams added.

When Williams arrived in Miami two years ago in a trade with the San Francisco 49ers, the Dolphins offensive line consisted of tight end Andre Tillman; tackles Wayne Moore and Mike Current; guards Larry Little and Bob Kuechenberg and center Jim Langer.

Feldt is honoree

By The Associated Press
When Midland tailback Jerry Zachery broke his leg and dislocated his ankle prior to last week's game against Lubbock Monterey, the burden of the offense fell to quarterback Michael Feldt.

He didn't drop it. On the opening kickoff, Feldt made a touchdown-saving tackle and then proceeded to lead Midland to a 33-21 victory by completing seven of 12 passes for 140 yards and two touchdowns, rushing 16 times for 178 yards and two more touchdowns and making seven tackles as a defensive safety.

The performance earned Feldt, 6-2, 185, mention in this week's Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

"He started the game by saving it for us, and ended it by winning it," said first year head coach Pat Culpepper. "He's a tremendous competitor."

In late innings

Yankees rough on foes

By The Associated Press
The Baltimore Orioles are playing "scoreboard" these days, a game familiar to contenders in a pennant race.

And they didn't like what they saw Tuesday night — the New York Yankees rallying in the ninth inning to beat the Cleveland Indians 5-4.

"The Yankees have done it all this year," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver, whose own team had just beaten the Boston Red Sox 8-6. "I wonder how they got their runs this time. It's always interesting reading the next day how they did it."

It was only a couple of minutes after trooping into their Memorial Stadium clubhouse that the Orioles learned of the Yankee comeback, the 20th time they had won this year in their last turn at bat.

"It can't be any more disappointing with a win," said Weaver. "It's very disheartening, but we'll just have to keep pushing."

The night's results left the Yankees five games in front of the Orioles with 11 games remaining.

Elsewhere in the AL, Oakland defeated Chicago 6-4; Seattle beat Kansas City 7-3; Toronto outscored Detroit 9-7; California edged Milwaukee 2-1 and Minnesota turned back Texas 8-2.

Al Bumbry's two-run single with one out in the eighth inning, following two Boston errors, capped a three-run rally that helped Baltimore beat the Red Sox.

The Red Sox had taken a 6-5 lead in the top of the inning, scoring on an RBI-single by Garry Hancock and a sacrifice fly by Dwight Evans. Reliever Tim Stoddard, 5-3, gained the victory.

Yankees 5, Indians 4
Eric Soderholm's two-run pinch-single with two out capped a four-run rally in the ninth for the Yankees.

After being frustrated for eight innings by Wayne Garland and trailing 4-1, the Yankees began their comeback when Garland walked Bucky Dent and pinch hitter Bobby Murcer to start the ninth. Reliever Mike Stanton later gave up RBI-singles to Bobby Brown and Bob Watson.

Sid Monge, Cleveland's bullpen ace, replaced Stanton, 1-3, and was tagged by Soderholm's game-winning hit.

A's 6, White Sox 4
Tony Armas hit his 34th home run of the season, a three-run blast in the seventh inning, to lead Oakland over Chicago.

Armas, who increased his RBI total to 105 with the homer, helped A's pitcher Rick Langford stay on target for a 20-victory season. Langford, 18-11, is scheduled for two more starts this season.

Mariners 7, Royals 3
Jerry Narron hit a three-run homer and Dave Edler and Willie Horton added solo shots as Seattle beat Kansas City.

Seattle right-hander Jim Beattie, 5-13, scattered six hits and snapped a six-game losing streak with his first victory since July 3.

Kansas City's George Brett had one single in four at-bats, dropping his major league-leading average to .391.

Blue Jays 9, Tigers 7
Roy Howell knocked in three runs with a pair of homers and a bases-loaded walk and Ernie Whitt singled home the tie-breaking runs in the ninth inning as Toronto defeated Detroit.

SIGNS WITH DALLAS — Nancy Lieberman poses with a cowboy hat Tuesday before signing a three-year contract estimated at $50,000 to play for the Dallas Diamonds of the Women's Basketball League. The team refused to disclose the details of Lieberman's contract except to note that it was for three years.

Thanks for memories, pro golfers tell Napa

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — The Silverado Country Club, a regular stop on the Professional Golfer's Association tour, is saying goodbye to Tom Watson and other stars in the tournament which opens Thursday.

Vern Peak, chairman of the $300,000 event, said that among volunteer workers, "The mood is gung ho — with some sadness, if you know what I mean."

Watson, who has clinched his fourth consecutive tour money-winning title, must have similar feelings. His first tour appearance, when he was just a few months out of college, was the 1971 Napa tournament and he won $1,065 by tying for 28th place.

The owners of Silverado, a golf and tennis resort in the famous wine-producing Napa Valley, decided not to renew the contract with the tournament sponsor after this year. The event, the Anheuser-Busch Classic, will be played on Busch's Kingsmill course in Virginia next fall. The Napa tournament was the Kaiser International from 1968 to 1976.

This is Watson's last scheduled appearance on the 1980 tour. He'll be shooting for his seventh tour title of the season which also includes a victory at the British Open.

"I'm constantly trying to improve. Winning golf tournaments is great, but the search for perfection is more important," he said recently, and he proved himself human with a 75 in the first round of his last tournament, the Hall of Fame event two weeks ago.

Watson's official money winnings, not including $59,250 from the British Open, total a record $513,408.

College to offer unique fem course in football

Now women in the Big Spring area have an opportunity to become better informed on the game of football. Beginning Oct. 1, a course in Women's Appreciation of Football will be offered through the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College. Explained and discussed on a common-sense basis, this course could open up new channels of communication with husbands, sons, and boyfriends as well as enabling women to view a football game in a totally new light.

Don Stevens, women's basketball coach at Howard College, has coached football many years on the Junior High and High School level and has had head-coaching experience.

"I feel that there is a need for this type of course in every community. It is aimed at the female football fan but anyone may take the course. I promise it to be an enjoyable course, with the class members able to ask any and all questions. The format will be flexible and informal."

A few of the items to be addressed are football terminology, explanation of player positions, motivation and emotions of players and coaches, what goes on in the locker room at half-time, what to look for on offense and defense, football rules, why football is so popular in Texas, and much, much more.

Class will be held on Wednesday nights, from 6:30-8:30 p.m. Cost of the course is $12 and will last four weeks. Interested persons must pre-register in the Continuing Education Office located in the Horace Garrett Building. For more information, call the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College at 267-6311, ext. 70.

Runnels is impressive in volleyball matches

The Runnels Junior High girls have nothing but victories to show for their volleyball efforts this week.

Runnels' Whites rallied to defeat the Snyder Blacks Monday in Snyder, 6-15, 15-9, 15-13.

Lisa Subia scored 12 points, Teresa Martinez nine and Yvonne Smith six for Big Spring. Tonya Gilstrap was impressive with her court coverage.

The Runnels Reds turned back the Snyder Gold team, 11-15, 16-14, 15-12.

In that one, Tris Clemmons counted nine points, Bach Van Co and Debbie Holquin six each and Adriane Allen five for Big Spring.

Tuesday night, the two

Runnels teams hosted Sweetwater and easily won.

The Whites flattened the Sweetwater Whites, 15-4, 15-0. Tammie Biel had seven points and Yvonne Smith and Diane Arnold six each for Big Spring.

The Runnels Red team blanked the Sweetwater Red squad in another match-up, 15-0, 15-0.

Gloria Bustamente served 14 straight points for Runnels in that squareoff. Adriane Allen, Pam Grant and Teresa Adamson each scored four points for Big Spring.

The Runnels White team now has a 4-0 record while the Runnels Red squad is 2-2. The Yearlings oppose Colorado City next Tuesday.

Government says things may ease soon

Another increase in food prices likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — American consumers, who in August had to swallow the biggest monthly rise in grocery prices in five years, can expect another "significant increase" this month, the government says. But things may ease a bit in the year's last three months.

Grocery prices jumped 2.3 percent in August — the largest jump since July 1975 — and, overall, food prices rose 1.7 percent. Those were the biggest elements of a consumer price rise of 0.7 percent, meaning an annual inflation rate of 8.6 percent, the Labor Department said.

Howard W. Hjort, chief economist for the Agriculture Department, called the August figures "very much in line with our previous expectations."

He said the year's biggest jump in food prices is occurring in the third quarter and the rise may slow in the last three months of the year.

Overall, food prices will jump 9 percent for 1980, Hjort said. That prediction compares with the 1979 increase of 10.9 percent. And for 1981, Hjort is sticking by his earlier predictions of a 10 percent to 15 percent hike, depending partially on the weather.

Hjort said the third-quarter increase was due in part to the fact that farm prices were depressed in the spring and have since risen.

William Cox, deputy chief economist for the Commerce Department, laid part of the blame for the August jump on the midwestern heat and drought, which killed many chickens and ruined much of the soybean crop, a main component of animal feed.

In other economic developments Tuesday: —Robert Russell, director of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, said the current recession has had little, if any, long-term impact on inflation. But he cautioned that the inflation rate could skyrocket if the economy is not carefully handled.

—Manufacturers' orders for durable goods fell 2.3 percent last month, the Labor Department said, further clouding the debate about whether the recession is past. The decline ended a string of favorable government reports which led some analysts to conclude that the recession had ended last month.

The food price increase was led by poultry, which jumped 7.5 percent from July, and eggs, which rose 6.6 percent.

accounted for about half the 0.7 percent rise in the Consumer Price Index. The index last month stood 12.8 percent above the figure of one year earlier.

World champion roper to compete at Post

POST — The top three 1980 steer ropers, including World Champion Guy Allen of Santa Anna, will be among the 37 steer ropers who will compete here Sunday afternoon, Oct. 5, in the 10th annual OS Ranch Steer Roping.

Allen by winning the $8,900 first place check in the National Steer Roping Finals at Laramie, Wyo., recently walked off with the world steer roping title with a new money-winning record for the year of $20,500.

Friday night pre-roping party leading off the sale of the art which totaled $181,000 here last year. Most of the artists will be on hand personally for the three-day "OS weekend."

Team roping is scheduled for all day Friday on the Basinger Ranch with the Saturday schedule including girls barrel racing, an invitational calf roping, a NCHA championship cutting horse contest and a dance in the community center here to the music of Red Steagall and the Coleman County Cowboys.

Arnold Felts of Woodward, Okla., who is the defending OS champion, finished No. 2 in the 1980 standings with $12,400 in winnings. Jimmy Brazile of Gruver, Tex., was third in the race for the world title with $11,500.

Thirty-nine western artists will show some $500,000 worth of western art in the OS ranch house with a

Two new OS events are a fiddlers contest Saturday morning and a colt sale Sunday morning.

The "OS weekend" annually raises between $40,000 and $50,000 for the operation of West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo.

Knitting tips course shapes

A course in knitting will be offered by the Adult and Continuing Education Department of Howard College, announced Martha Fierro, director. Classes will meet from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 2 through Nov. 6 in Horace Garrett building.

Instructor for the course will be Chris Jacques, an instructor whose crafts have published in national magazines. Cost of the course is $18.
