CRUSTACEAN CALLERS — Crayfish (or crawdads, as they are more universally called) have been about as rare as a dodo bird in this area but these giant specimens showed up behind Tomco at 208 Bell after a week of heavy rains. Holding the creatures, which are regarded as table delicacies by many, are Bobby J. Blackshear (left) and Tommy Tompkins. The frogs are also out in force and in good voice. Unwelcome visitors to the scene will be the mosquitoes that are sure to follow.

'HOWDY, LONG TIME NO SEE' — Above is a closeup view of a giant crayfish, many of which have appeared in the wake of weeklong rains in the Big Spring area. Gourmets insist crayfish taste not unlike lobster meat. Many children, however, prefer to watch the 'crawdads' fight over territorial rights, which occasionally happens. The crayfish come out in force only when water stands in the lowlands and that has been the case in Big Spring after a week of heavy rains.

Bergland to dedicate Lamesa Cotton Classing Office Friday

LAMESA — Bob Bergland, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, will visit Lamesa Friday to dedicate the new Lamesa Cotton Classing Office and address the annual meeting of the Lamesa Cotton Growers.

Bergland will arrive in Lamesa about 11 a.m., Friday by private plane and will go directly to the classing office, where he will dedicate the new facility.

Following a luncheon with area agriculture leaders, the secretary will speak at the annual meeting of the Cotton Growers at the Lamesa High School Auditorium, beginning at 1:15 p.m.

Also on the program for the Cotton

Growers meeting will be Jesse Moore, director of the Cotton Division of the American Marketing Service for the USDA.

The Cotton Classing Office is due to open sometime late in October. It will be the first totally computerized cotton classing office in the world.

Bergland, a native of Minnesota, is a farmer on his own right. He raises small grains and lawn seeds on a 600-acre farm in his home state.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress in 1968 but was elected as a U.S. Representative two years later and was returned to the Congress three times before President Carter appointed him Secretary of Agriculture in 1976.

Those in the audience Friday will be given time to ask a limited number of questions before Bergland leaves.

Herald Classified will get new look

Herald Classified pages will take on a new look tomorrow. A versatile index, elimination of borders under three inches, and lightening up of typefaces will make the want ads cleaner and easier to read.

Readership studies indicate blocks of boldface type are difficult to read, which is a prime reason to eliminate the small, heavy type.

Classified Manager J.O. Sheid says he expects the changes will improve readership, helping the advertiser as well as the reader.

The reader's cooperation with these changes will be appreciated by Herald personnel.

Look for 'birdies' if you value cash

Three middle aged white males selling Color Portrait certificates for $7.95 won't take your picture, just your money, according to Howard County Sheriff's Office personnel.

The scam has been performed by the three in Midland, Odessa and Lubbock, and San Angelo and there is no reason to believe they won't come here, too, said a staff member.

The way the game works, the three get a room in a motel, and sell the certificates while operating out of two cars. The certificates promise an appointment and a time and place for the picture but when the victim shows the 'photographers' are gone.

Ray told FBI man he could get contract

HOUSTON (AP) — Austin attorney Donald Ray told an FBI undercover agent, posing as an insurance company representative, that he would try to get some important advanced information on the multimillion-dollar state employee insurance contract.

In a tape recording played to a federal court jury today, Ray told Michael Wachs that he would make an effort to get the new specifications on the insurance program so Prudential Insurance Co. "would have more time to work on their bid and would be far ahead of others."

Wachs was working undercover as an official of Prudential in attempting to get the bidding re-opened on the insurance contract.

In other tapes played today, labor official L.G. Moore told Wachs that Texas House Speaker Billy Clayton "needs help" on 16 to 20 House races.

Moore suggested that the insurance company come up with $10,000 to help Clayton with candidates who were pledged to support him in his bid for re-election as speaker.

The prosecution is expected to finish with the tapes today, after having played more than 50 of them.

Clayton, Ray and Austin lawyer Randall Wood, are on trial. Moore, charged with them, will be tried later.

They were indicted June 12 by a federal grand jury here on charges of extortion, bribery, conspiracy and racketeering in an alleged kickback scheme which was part of the FBI's Brilab — for bribery-labor — investigation.

Most of the evidence has consisted of tapes made by FBI informant Joseph Hauser, now serving a 30-month sentence for insurance fraud, and FBI undercover agents Larry Montague and Wachs.

Roscoe sewers still flooded; Sweetwater drought is at an end

ROS COE, Texas (AP) — Residents in this water-logged hamlet today face their 22nd day without working toilets while just eight miles down the road, folks in Sweetwater heave a sigh of relief as heavy rains fill their dwindling lakes and blot out a summer-long rationing plan.

The steady rain that fell over much of West and North Texas over the weekend slackened off Monday night, but several rivers and creeks in the area still threatened to flood out of their banks today.

The National Weather Service said a cold front moving into the Panhandle today should reach the sodden prairielands by Tuesday, bringing an end to the wet weather.

Lowland areas flooded from San Angelo north to Wichita Falls and east to Dallas, but water in many areas began to recede Monday night.

The weather service said a rancher just south of Stamford, 40 miles north of Abilene, recorded a six-day rainfall total of 17.80 inches, one of the highest recorded in the state.

San Angelo established a new rainfall record for September with 11 inches, breaking the 1959 mark of 9.20. In the 24-hour period ending at 9 p.m. Monday, Fort Worth recorded 3.44 inches, Texarkana had 3.27, Mineral Wells had 3.06 and Dallas, 2.57.

Residents of about 50 homes fled Hamlin, 40 miles northwest of Abilene, when weekend rains forced the California Creek out of its banks, but most had returned home today.

Rain fell intermittently in Roscoe Monday as workers packed sandbags around the flooded sewer system and three trunks struggled to drain the system with pumps.

"If the sandbags don't hold, raw sewage will flow into the town," said

Mayor Bedford P. "Beep" Cain. He said the dams should hold unless the town is hit by another downpour.

The sewer system was closed and Roscoe's 1,400 residents ordered not to use their toilets on Sept. 9, when rainfall from Tropical Storm Danielle seeped into the sewer system. People in this Nolan County farm town have been sharing 40 portable toilets since that day.

"Conservatively we've had 17.5 inches through the 28th," said Cain. "We've had 160 homes with water in them in the past 20 days. A lot of our cotton fields are damaged."

But in neighboring Sweetwater, where townsfolk weathered the summer under emergency drought conditions, the rain brought welcome relief.

"We increased our (water) storage capacity from 17 percent to 49 percent and caught just a little over 15,000 acre feet," said Sweetwater City Manager Joe Benton. "We now are equal to what we had back in April of 1977."

Back in June, 500 people gathered at a Sweetwater church to pray for an end to a six-year drought.

"Our prayers have been answered," said the Rev. Orvel Brantley, pastor of Lamar Street Baptist Church and one of the rally's organizers. "We never did run plumb out of water and now we've had several good rains. The Lord has well kept his promise."

An unofficial total of 9.45 inches were recorded in Sweetwater, but Benton said even if it doesn't rain until 1982, the city now has a 35-month supply of water on hand. Stiff water rates passed earlier in the summer by the city council probably will be curtailed next week, he said.

"We were in bad shape, but we're just about even now," Benton said. "Anything else we catch now is a bonus."

A few residents moved out of Roscoe, but officials said most citizens are staying at home and coping with their rustic conditions.

Mrs. and Mrs. H.L. McAdams were among those who sought higher ground.

They were flooded out of Roscoe three weeks ago, their house filled with water and their furniture ruined, so they packed up and moved to Hamlin, a city that almost never floods.

Less than 24 hours after they moved into their new house — complete with new carpet — they were flooded out.

"We spent one night and ate two meals," said McAdams, 79, as he cleaned the mud from his kitchen floor.

"They told us when we came up here it never flooded," said Mrs. McAdams, 83. "I thought it was safe here."

But the McAdams said they won't move again.

"We can't keep running," Mrs. McAdams said.

Residents in Roscoe were learning a bit about the pioneer spirit.

"We're dipping our water from the bathroom to the outside through the window," said Neida Hobbs.

"Whoever takes a bath has to empty his own water."

She said her husband rigged her washing machine so that it drains into their yard, and they wash dishes in a basin and dump it outside.

"I was raised like this — we didn't have an indoor john," she said.

Iraq survives counterattacks

Iran resumes hostage debate

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq said its troops shook off counterattacks today in all sectors of western Iran captured by invading Iraqi forces. Iranian warplanes raided Baghdad, sending a huge cloud of smoke billowing from the area where fuel tanks for electric generating facilities are located.

In Tehran, the Iranian Parliament resumed debate on the fate of the 52 American hostages in their 332nd day of captivity and appointed a seven-member committee to investigate their case, the state-run radio reported. It said Parliament would debate on Sunday the commission's powers, but decided that the final decision on the hostages would be made by Parliament, not the commission.

The Iranian command claimed that its forces destroyed six Iraqi tanks today in fighting in western Iran, Tehran radio reported. The command also claimed 140 Iraqi tanks destroyed Sunday and Monday in heavy land and air battles in the northern sector of the war front near Qasr-e-Shirin and 21 more in the southern sector.

The Iranian Phantoms concentrated their bombing runs on the southwestern part of Baghdad, where Baghdad University is situated. The Iraqis fired anti-aircraft guns and surface-to-air missiles, and witnesses said several jets were knocked down.

The raid was the first air raid on Baghdad since Saturday in the nine-day-old war between the Persian Gulf oil giants. Air attacks on major oil refineries in the southern part of both countries have halted their flow of oil to the world.

Local residents will be paying higher prices for electricity

Big Spring residents, and other customers of Texas Electric Service Company, will be paying higher prices for electricity in the future.

The Texas Public Utility Commission this morning approved a rate increase that will give TESCO about half the increase it insisted it needed.

The package approved by the commission will mean approximately a ten percent boost in monthly bills of residential customers. In that case, a resident paying $40 a month for power would henceforth be billed for $44.

Texas Electric serves 78 cities in North, Central and West Texas, including Big Spring. The firm had asked for a $123 million increase. The commission approved, with a series of changes, a hearing examiner's report recommending $67 million in increases.

Exact rates will not be known until examiner Mark Zeppa revives his report to include the changes ordered by the commission.

Under TESCO's initial request, a $40 monthly residential bill would have gone to about $50, a 25 percent boost.

Tops on TV: 'Playing For Time'

How long has it been since it has been hard to choose what to watch on TV? Unfortunately, with the actors' strike, the networks are using all their aces in the hole at the same time. NBC will present the premiere movie, "Scout's Honor," at 7 o'clock. It deals with an orphan shuffled from home to home, whose only ambition is to become a Cub Scout. This competes with what some critics have called the finest three hours ever on television. Vanessa Redgrave gives a bravura performance in CBS' "Playing For Time," the story of women in a concentration camp who must perform for their German captors in order to stay alive. And then at 9 o'clock, there's NBC's "All Commercials" starring Steve Martin. Need we say more.

Clements gives local United Way pep talk

"You've set an ambitious objective by almost doubling your goal over last year's, but with determination and hard work, I believe you can make it," Gov. Bill Clements told United Way Campaign Chairman Ron Medley, during his visit to Big Spring last week.

Gov. Clements took some time out from his campaigning tour to discuss campaign strategy with United Way President Dr. Charles Hays, and Campaign Chairman Ron Medley.

In a proclamation issued Aug. 21, Gov. Clements designated the months of September, October and November as United Way Campaign Months in Texas.

"The United Way organization is more than a combined agency fundraising program," said Clements. "It has a legitimate and overriding concern for people, and the means of resolving them.

"The United Way exists to serve people. Starting in September, nearly 200 United Way campaigns with goals in excess of $98,900,000 were launched in Texas. These dollars go a long way in supporting the work of approximately 2,500 human service organizations serving a large portion of our population. The thousands of volunteers engaged in this worthy effort deserve our generous support, as well as our sincere appreciation," said Clements.

Clements told Medley that he hoped each citizen of Big Spring would work in, and contribute to the campaign in Big Spring and the community-wide effort to deliver efficient human service programs for Big Spring.

The Big Spring United Way Kick-Off Luncheon is set for Oct. 6 at 12 noon in the Cactus Room of the Howard College Student Union Building. This year's goal is set at $250,000.

MEETING OF MINDS — During his recent visit to Big Spring, Gov. Bill Clements took some time to discuss campaign strategy with United Way President Dr. Charles Hays, (left), and Campaign Chairman Ron Medley. Gov. Clements recently designated the months of September, October and November as United Way Campaign Months in Texas.

From last week's rains

Area lakes still benefit

Area lakes continue to benefit from the sustained rains who fell here all of last week.

Lake J.B. Thomas, located in Borden and Scurry County, has picked up 2.41 vertical feet since Monday morning, bringing the total in the basin to 64,540 acre feet. When full, the lake will hold 204,000 acre feet.

The Colorado River, which spills into the lake, was still running three foot deep shortly before noon. Bull Creek, who also feeds Lake Thomas, was running four feet deep.

Lake Thomas is at its highest level since 1973. The reservoir has trapped 60,000 acre feet of water this year, 40,000 in September alone.

Lake E. V. Spence has had a vertical rise of 2.2 feet since Monday morning and stands to pick up a lot more. The Colorado River going into the lake is still rising. The river is running nine feet deep above Colorado City and Lake Colorado City is over the spillway. The excess water will wind up in Spence.

Paschal Odum of the CRMWD is anticipating another 3.3 foot rise at Spence.

The lake is already a vertical foot higher than it ever has been and contains 187,300 acre feet. When full, it would hold 488,000 acre feet.

In 1975, it contained 180,000 acre feet at its peak. Spence has added 114,000 acre feet since January.

Powell Lake, also maintained by the CRMWD, is overflowing. It contains 1,465 acre feet. Moss Creek Lake is not full but has 2,700 acre feet of water now. Its dams was built 6½ feet higher in 1970.

The condition in both lakes, which are located in Southeast Howard County, is described as the best since 1973.

High water plays havoc with train schedules

High water is playing havoc with Missouri Pacific train schedules here.

An eastbound train has been stalled at Morita, located west of Big Spring. Another has tied up at Stanton. The Odessa 'turnaround' is awaiting word that it can return to work.

There are two west-bound trains tied up at Ziler, located near Cosden refinery. Another is stalled at Cosden.

There is water over the tracks west of Big Spring and a sea of water has invaded the yards in Big Spring.

Price Construction Company is moving riprap by truck to the spot about three miles west of Big Spring where some erosion has been noted. Crews are busy fighting up the area.

The water has been going down about an inch an hour since midnight, according to trainmaster Larry Henley of the local MP office. Hopefully, the trains can start moving again sometime this evening or late tonight.

The railroad shipped the riprap here to reinforce the ballast in tracks west of here.

Two sentenced for forgery

Tina Tullos Johnson and Jerry Wayne Johnson, Fort Worth, entered a guilty to forgery in 118th District Court Friday.

Mrs. Johnson received eight years probation and Johnson received 12 years in state prison.

The two were arrested Sept. 2 by Gainesville Sheriff's Office and transferred to Howard County Jail Sept. 5.

Mrs. Johnson's bond was set at $5,000 by Howard County Grand Jury and Mr. Johnson's bond was set at $10,000 by Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin.

Texas Electric's revenues up $18.5 million in August

Texas Electric's revenues this August totaled $74.6 million, an increase of $18.5 million over the total revenue for August 1979 of $56.1 million, the company announced today.

The higher systemwide revenues this year are attributable to the addition of more than 26,000 customers to the system, this summer's exceptionally hot weather and a rate increase which was put into effect in late 1979 and which affected the summer bills of some customer categories.

These factors also contributed to higher company expenses this August, compared to August 1979. The company's fuel costs increased by $9.5 million, while taxes, interest and other expenses were $4.7 million higher.

After the increased expenses were applied against the higher revenues, the company's earnings for the month of August were $4.3 million higher than for August 1979. This amount will be used for the company's construction program and for dividends on stockholders' investment.

For the record

The name of the plaintiff in the suit being heard in 118th District is not Reeves as reported in the Monday Herald, but Joe Reed. The truck damage suit, involving the Consumer Protection Act, enters its second day of testimony today and is expected to continue through the week. Nearly half a dozen attorneys have each invested hundreds of hours in the case which has been in litigation for three years.

New publisher at Stanton former Seguin ad director

STANTON — Grant Mabry brings a lot of experience to his new job as publisher-editor of the Stanton Reporter.

Mabry recently purchased the interests of Terry Neill, who has moved to Van Horn where he has acquired a newspaper.

Mabry, 31, holds a degree in Journalism from North Texas State University. He comes to Stanton from Seguin, where he was advertising director for the Seguin Daily Gazette-Enterprise.

Previously, he was editor-publisher of the Hood County News in Granbury. He has also been editor, advertising director and assistant publisher of the semi-weekly Andrews County News.

State park hours changed

Starting Wednesday, the Big Spring State Park will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. daily and will observe that schedule throughout the 'winter months'. The park has been remaining open to the public until 9 o'clock nightly.

Gross sales in Howard total $338,842,77 first quarter

Gross sales in Howard County totaled $338,842,744 for the first quarter of 1980. A total of 760 reporting outlets reported the amount. Deductions totaled $313,969,198. Use tax purchases totaled $3,611,713. Amount subject to tax was $27,465,259.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday reported that gross sales in Texas during the first quarter of 1980 totaled $60.9 billion.

He said first quarter sales this year passed 1979 first quarter sales by $12.4 billion. Martin County reported gross sales of $9,536,413 in the first quarter. Deductions totaled $8,502,925 for gross sales reported by 156 reporting outlets. Amount subject to tax was $1,040,993.

Midland reported $355,538,159 from 1,909 reporting outlets. With deductions of $210,549,793 and use tax purchases of $15,717,304, amount subject to tax comes to $160,702,265.

Mitchell County reported gross taxable sales of $12,966,215 from 170 reporting outlets. With deductions of $9,224,230 and use tax purchases of $151,746, amount subject to tax was $3,893,731.

Scurry County reported $58,082,047 from gross sales from 422 reporting outlets. With deductions totaling $43,111,107, and use tax purchases of $1,401,187, amount subject to tax was $16,572,127.

Bullock said the sales tax analysis of gross sales for January, February and March show that 250,681 outlets reported gross sales. The Comptroller's office also released a computer analysis showing reported sales for each of the state's 254 counties and a sales tax analysis broken down by the state's 25 Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

First quarter sales in 1980 for Harris County were $15.9 billion as recorded by 40,967 reporting outlets compared to $12.4 billion reported in the first quarter of 1979 by 41,727 outlets.

Gross sales reported in the state's other major urban areas included: —Dallas County, $9.2 billion, up $1.7 billion over the first quarter of 1979.

—Bexar County, $2.9 billion, up more than $600 million over the 1979 first quarter totals.

—Tarrant County, $3.7 billion, an increase of more than $500 million over the first quarter of last year.

Police Beat

Dognappers steal pups valued at $600

Criminal activity was slow in the city Monday.

Sometime over the weekend, thieves ripped a coin-operated prophylactic machine from the door of a bathroom at Meeks Texaco Station, 901 S. Gregg. Total loss, including coins and $25 worth of prophylactics, came to $100.

Vandals shot pellets into five feet of cable belonging to the Big Spring Cable TV Company in an alley near 1800 Laurie. Damage to the cable and two connectors totaled $100.

Burglars crawled through a bathroom window at the home of Paul Ballentine, 1505 Chickasaw, early Monday morning, and stole a variety of groceries from the kitchen. Value of the food-stuffs has not been estimated.

Two checks stolen from the Security State Bank, 1411 Gregg, were cashed at local stores. Sunday Loss was estimated at $95.80.

David Bosier, Golden West Motel, told police that someone he knows threatened to "blow his brains out" Saturday morning. Police will investigate further.

Three Siberian Husky puppies were stolen from the backyard of the home of Mrs. Bernard Raines, 2904 Parkway, between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday. The pups were valued at $600.

Only one mishap was reported Monday. A vehicle driven by Betty Murphy, Gail Route, struck a large hole in the road at 1100 N. Goliad and 11th, 8:39 a.m.

Digest

Four killed with one gun

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two white men, using the same gun, may be responsible for last week's fatal shootings of three black men and a black teenager, police say.

Witnesses' descriptions varied in each case but ballistics tests showed the same .22-caliber weapon was used to kill all four people, police said Monday. Police speculated that the killer or killers may be a psychopath who hates blacks.

Each of the victims was sitting in a parked car or walking on the street at the time of the shootings. Three died immediately and the fourth lingered in a coma until Sunday.

Senator pleads innocent

BOSTON (AP) — Former state Sen. James A. Kelly Jr. has pleaded innocent to a charge he extorted $34,500 from a defunct architectural firm in connection with state contracts.

Kelly was released Monday on $10,000 bail by U.S. Magistrate Peter Princi, who set four dates in October for legal filings and indicated the trial could begin in a matter of weeks.

Kelly was indicted by a federal grand jury that alleged he violated the Hobbs Act by using his state position to claim payments to which he was not otherwise entitled.

Girl ordered to hospital

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A 16-year-old Wyoming girl has been ordered by a juvenile court judge to spend two years in the State Hospital in Pueblo for kidnapping a Colorado Springs boy.

Judge Donald Campbell imposed the sentence on Letha Rose Kingsbury of Cheyenne, Wyo., in connection with last September's abduction of Jamie Mokshefski, then 2 years old.

The boy was found in Texas 17 days after his disappearance. Miss Kingsbury was arrested in July while hitchhiking near Cheyenne and was charged with second-degree kidnapping. At a hearing Monday, she acknowledged involvement in the abduction.

The business of bearing another woman's baby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Surrogate Parenting Associates Inc. is expecting its first finished product this fall.

It will be a baby boy, due sometime around the week of November 15. Surrogate Parenting is a baby-making business, signing up women willing to bear children for couples who themselves cannot produce offspring.

Katie Brophy, the organization's attorney, said this first surrogate mother who does not give her real name but goes by Elizabeth Kane in connection with her surrogate mother activities — is a 37-year-old Illinois woman with three children of her own.

She was impregnated with sperm from the male partner of a couple who cannot bear children.

That the baby is a boy — and that he is healthy — is already known because of tests necessary due to the mother's age, said Ms. Brophy.

Surrogate Parenting was established in February by Dr. Richard Levin, a Louisville infertility specialist, and Karen Zena, a former paralegal worker. Ms. Zena said the driving force behind the organization was Levin, who "has a real feeling for those couples who come here unable to have children."

"It is a service that people need to know about," she added.

Ms. Brophy said the parents in this first case have not met the surrogate mother, but have spoken to her by telephone.

When asked about how much contact the surrogate wanted to have with the child while he or she grows up, she replied, "I don't really think she (the surrogate) wants any further contact with the child, other than knowing it's healthy and happy."

The lawyer said Surrogate Parenting had to devise its own contract between the biological mother and the prospective parents. There was no model to go by.

The birth certificate will bear the names of the father and the surrogate mother. According to Ms. Brophy, the child must be legally adopted by the wife of the father.

Ms. Brophy would not divulge how much the surrogate mothers are being paid. "We ask the women to just tell us what they're interested in," she said, adding that most of the surrogate fees range from $5,000 to $10,000.

The attorney said that in many states where it is illegal to pay for a child, the wife can apply to be the baby's stepmother.

During an initial three-hour consultation between the prospective parents and Surrogate Parenting, Ms. Brophy and Levin try to point out all the things that could go wrong: the surrogate mother could change her mind, and the child might not be born healthy, their contracts have not been tested as a legal precedent.

The session, she said, informs clients "how we got started, how our procedure works now, what kind of examinations we put those women through."

Those examinations include a fertility exam, psychiatric and psychological testing and a check of the surrogate's children to make sure they're healthy. Some couples, Ms. Brophy said, may request extra tests of the surrogate mothers, such as an IQ test.

The information about the surrogates is stored in a computer so that the organization and the parents can call up descriptions of women who would be appropriate biological mothers.

During the pregnancy, the father is required to take out insurance policies to provide for the surrogate mother's family should she die while pregnant and for the baby should the father die.

Ms. Brophy said she knows of no other such organization and that the service has heard from interested parties in some 30 states.

Effort fails to win tie

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Although he couldn't brag about a football victory over Arkansas this year, Gov. George Nigh decided that half a tie was better than nothing.

Nigh met his Arkansas counterpart, Gov. William Clinton, at the dedication of a bridge at Barling, Ark., in connection with a tour last weekend of the Arkansas River navigation system. Typical for this time of year, their talk turned to football.

Clinton commanded the bragging rights because Arkansas beat Oklahoma State University earlier this season and the Razorbacks don't play any other Oklahoma school this year.

But Nigh figured out one way to exact some revenge.

Clinton was wearing a Arkansas Razorback tie and Nigh snipped it in two while wielding his ribbon-cutting scissors.

"This is just to get even," Nigh said, handing the snipped-off piece to Clinton.

However, the Arkansas governor had the last word when the snipped-off piece came back to Nigh on Monday in a fancy box.

"To Gov. George Nigh, who tried to get even, but didn't," the note read. It was signed, "Bill Clinton."

True love never smooth

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — For television station WHO, a 10-minute interruption in its broadcast schedule was bad news.

But that was nothing compared to the ire of hundreds of fans of "Little House on the Prairie," who had eagerly awaited the wedding of Laura, a major character in the NBC-TV series.

When the station went off the air shortly before 8 p.m. Monday, taking with it Laura's wedding, fans flooded the station with calls. At one point, the deluge jammed the station's switchboard and angry callers turned to other stations to voice their displeasure.

One caller to Des Moines radio station KIOA observed in a reference to the popular television show "Dallas" that "cutting off Laura's wedding is like cutting off who shot J.R."

A WHO spokeswoman estimated the number of phone calls at about 300.

Stenholm votes against two 'superfund' bills

WASHINGTON — Here's how the Texas delegation voted the week ending Sept. 25:

SUPERFUND LEGISLATION:

Friday the House voted to establish two funds for cleaning up oil and chemical spills in U.S. waterways. That vote was 288 to 111.

The so-called "superfund" legislation provides $150 million for removing oil and hazardous chemical spills when the polluter cannot be identified or will not pay for the clean-up voluntarily. The legislation also authorizes superfund administrators to recover costs from polluters who will not pay for the waste removal.

Money for the superfunds will come from taxes on the oil and chemical industries.

VOTING FOR THE FUND: Reps. Hall, Roberts, Pickle, Leath, Hightower, White, Hance, Loeffler.

VOTING AGAINST THE FUND: Reps. Gramm, Wyatt, Stenholm.

NOT VOTING: Reps. Wilson, de la Garza, Kazen.

On Tuesday, the House passed another "superfund" measure, this one allocating $1.2 billion to clean up abandoned chemical waste sites. The vote was 351 to 23 in favor of the measure.

There are 397 abandoned chemical dumps in the United States. Under the House plan, 75 percent of the funds to clean up these sites would come from the chemical industry. The federal government would pay the rest of the tab.

The bill now goes to the Senate for consideration.

VOTING FOR THE FUND: Reps. Hall, Roberts, Pickle, Hightower, Wyatt, de la Garza, White, Kazen.

VOTING AGAINST THE FUND: Reps. Gramm, Leath, Stenholm, Hance, Loeffler.

NOT VOTING: Rep. Wilson.

CONSUMER AFFAIRS: The Senate would like to restrict the powers of the Office of Consumer Affairs.

So, by a vote of 42 to 35, the Senate Monday voted to prohibit that office from interceding on consumers' behalves during federal agency regulatory proceedings.

VOTING FOR THE PROPOSAL: Sen. John Tower.

NOT VOTING: Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D.

URANIUM SALE TO INDIA: Wednesday the Senate voted to uphold President Carter's plan to sell 38 tons of uranium to India.

By a vote of 46 to 48, the Senate failed to pass a measure to block the sale.

Carter proposed the sale in late June, over the disapproval of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. Congress had 60 days to block the controversial sale. The House voted last week for such a halt. The Senate's action means the sale will go through.

India will receive the uranium for use in power plants supplying energy to the industrial region near Bombay. Critics of the plan point to India's refusal to abide by international rules for nuclear use. In 1974, India exploded a device using nuclear materials provided by the United States.

VOTING NOT TO BLOCK THE SALE: Sens. Bentsen, Tower.

TAX CUT: The Senate refused to act on a $39 billion tax-cut measure until after the election on November 4.

By a vote of 54 to 38, the Senate killed a proposal to vote on the tax cut now, before the election.

VOTING TO KILL THE MEASURE: Sen. Bentsen.

NOT VOTING: Sen. Tower.

BUSING: The Senate Friday voted to end 20 years of busing to achieve racial balance. That vote was 49 to 42.

Judge Tune to meet with Chamber panel

County Judge Bill Tune will meet with the Business Committee of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Thursday to discuss the new Hot Check Program which has been instituted by the County Judge's office.

The meeting will take place at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Conference Room at the Chamber office.

The need for a program "cracking down" on the many bad checks being received was expressed by area merchants at a meeting with Judge Tune Sept. 11. The Commissioners Court acted last week to set up an office to process all the bad checks received by merchants.

Other business to be discussed by the committee includes plans for the city's Christmas decorations.

END OF THE DAY — Youngsters wait for instructions from a teacher as they leave a Cleveland elementary school Monday after the first day of Phase III of the city's court-ordered school desegregation plan. Minor transportation problems were the only incidents as school got under way in the state's largest school district.

George Bush, Mrs. Carter make short stopovers in Cowtown

FORT WORTH (AP) — Taking his cue from a popular bumper sticker, George Bush said he was "mad, too," during his first Texas campaign stop in two weeks, and just on the heels of First Lady Rosalynn Carter.

Bush was introduced to a political rally at Texas Christian University by Fort Worth oilman Eddie Childs, whose peppery, conservative radio commercials outlining complaints about the federal government have spawned big sales of a bumper sticker that says "I'm Mad Too, Eddie."

Those were Bush's exact words when he reached the podium at the Monday rally.

"I'm mad, too, Eddie, and I want to tell you why," said Bush, explaining he was angry at President Carter for trying to depict Bush's running mate, GOP presidential candidate Ronald Reagan, as the "war" candidate.

"I've heard Carter say that a vote for Reagan is a vote for war," Bush said. "Well, let me tell you something about peace and war."

"Ronald Reagan has the opportunity to be the real peace president. His policy, his approach is realistic, not naive. It would not take Ronald Reagan three and one-half years to understand that you do not trust the Soviet Union."

Mrs. Carter defended her husband's statement and also suggested that putting Reagan in the White House could increase the risk of war.

"Jimmy Carter is the president of peace," she said during a news conference. "Not a single U.S. serviceman has lost his life in combat since he has been in office."

Pausing, she continued, "Mr. Reagan has said some things that need to be looked into."

When asked for an explanation, she said, "Well, he has proposed that American troops be sent into about a dozen places."

Bush said he also is "mad" about Carter's economic policies, which he said have not checked inflation and have put the price of a new house out of reach of most young families.

"Jimmy Carter has failed the family in the United States," he said, insisting that the economy and Carter's handling of it should be the No. 1 issue in the campaign.

"The federal deficit — it was just announced this week — will be $65.2 billion for fiscal year 1980. He (Carter) promised to have the budget balanced by 1980. Instead, we have a deficit of $65.2 billion."

"I'm mad about that and so should every other American be."

Sharing his anger with those he meets on the campaign trail is a job he relishes, Bush said.

"I enjoy campaigning, talking to people, especially people who have been bypassed by Jimmy Carter and his promises."

Campaign organizers said fewer than 1,000 people showed up at the TCU rally, although organizers said they had expected more than 4,000. The rally was sponsored by a campus Republican club, but chaired by Democratic State Senator Bill Meier, who chairs the Texas Democrats and Independents for Reagan.

When Bush arrived at Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport, he predicted Reagan would carry Texas in November and reiterated that the former California governor is not a political extremist.

Earlier Monday, former Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski said he prefers Reagan to Carter because: "I'd rather have a competent extremist than an incompetent moderate."

"I am delighted to have Leon Jaworski's enthusiastic endorsement," Bush said, adding he disagree with Jaworski's characterization.

"I don't think he (Reagan) is an extremist at all. I do believe he's competent."

Mrs. Carter said criticism of her husband is more criticism of the office than of the man who holds it.

"There was no respect for the office of president," when Carter was sworn in, she said. "What we are trying to do is restore respect to the office of president."

She said it was important for Billy to be investigated when questions were raised about his accepting funds from the Libyan government.

"I feel sorry for Billy," she said at an appearance with House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Texas. "I love him. I think he used some bad judgement, unfortunately, in the Libyan situation. But neither Billy nor his associates have affected White House policies."

Mrs. Carter dismissed the suggestion that she is her husband's most influential advisor.

"Oh, my goodness. Jimmy Carter is a strong man. He doesn't consult me on major decisions."

Escape thwarted

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — An alleged attempt to free convicted slayer J.R. "Silas" Jones from the Bryan County Jail on Monday was thwarted when a jailer overpowered a trusty, investigators said.

Sheriff O.W. "Red" Highfill said trusty Bruce Barber, who is awaiting trial on an auto theft charge, allegedly threatened jailer Lowell Sweeten with a jailhouse kitchen knife.

Sweeten told Highfill the trusty demanded the jail keys — but Sweeten overpowered the man.

During questioning, Barber told investigators Jones promised him $30,000 if he would help get him out of jail.

Jones was convicted last week in the March 1, 1977, ambush slayings of Ernest "Catfish John" Fielder, 35, and Junior Metcalf, 32, of Calera. They were killed at a Lake Texoma fishing camp. Jones is jail awaiting formal sentencing on Oct. 6.

Federal drug-dealing suit appealed Court case tests toughest law

BOSTON (AP) — A federal judge who found a Texas man guilty of drug smuggling and immediately tossed out the conviction is urging prosecutors to appeal his ruling in a test of the toughest federal law on drug-dealing.

U.S. District Judge Walter J. Skinner said Monday such an appeal would test the law under which Jamiel "Jimmy" Chagra was convicted. Skinner tossed out the conviction, contending the government had tried Chagra twice for the same crime.

The law, aimed at the "kingpins" of drug smuggling operations, is the toughest federal statute against drug-dealing. It provides for heavy fines and sentences of 10 years to life with no parole, and allows the government to confiscate equipment and property used in drug smuggling.

Chagra's attorney, Oscar B. Goodman of Las Vegas, said his client's case is the first in which the government prosecuted a defendant on the overall "kingpin" charge and then tried him on charges stemming from a specific alleged drug-smuggling operation.

"There's no question that this is a victory," Goodman said.

Justice Department Special Attorney Martin B. Boudreau said the case would be appealed. He refused comment on the ruling's significance.

Chagra, serving a prison sentence in Texas, was on trial with 16 other men on charges of smuggling 28 tons of marijuana from Colombia, South America, to Gloucester, Mass., in 1975.

Goodman argued the Massachusetts case was unconstitutional because Chagra had been convicted of the all-encompassing drug-smuggling charge in Texas. He contended the case amounted to double jeopardy.

Chagra, 35, a former professional gambler, was convicted in Austin, Texas, in 1979 of a continuing criminal enterprise in smuggling marijuana and cocaine from South America to the United States.

The charge covered alleged smuggling activities from 1974 through 1978. Chagra received a 30-year sentence and was fined $125,000.

Chagra, eager to test the law, waived a jury trial before Skinner and presented no defense. The judge read accounts of the alleged smuggling operation by three government informers, quickly found Chagra guilty and immediately tossed out the convictions.

Earlier Monday, two other defendants in the drug-smuggling case changed their innocent pleas to guilty. Steven Spielman, 31, of Miami, pleaded guilty to conspiring to distribute and distributing marijuana.

Rep. Findley tempting lady luck with photo in Playboy

By BILL O'BRIEN
States News Service

WASHINGTON — U.S. Rep. Paul Findley can't picture himself in Playboy — even fully-clothed on the Capitol steps.

When the Pittsfield Republican discovered his photograph might appear in a Playboy pictorial entitled "Women In Government," Findley asked Sen. Charles Percy to intercede with Playboy publisher Hugh Hefner.

The pictorial, scheduled for the November edition of the Chicago-based magazine, is to include nude photographs of women involved with government, paired with fully-clothed on-the-job shots.

Findley appeared in one of the latter with Washington lobbyist Paula Parkinson, but insisted Monday he didn't know what the picture was for when it was taken.

The congressman said he was with a group of visiting constituents on the Capitol steps June 23 when Mrs. Parkinson asked him to stand with her for a photograph.

Findley said he had no idea the young woman had posed for a nude photo in Playboy.

Mrs. Parkinson, who feels the congressman is overreacting to the Capitol steps photo with her fully clothed, said she posed for a separate nude shot because "I have a great body and I thought it would be fun to do."

The 5-foot-2 blond is slated to appear in the November issue. She is a lobbyist for the Committee for Equitable Crop Insurance Legislation.

But, locked in a tough reelection battle this year, Findley said he saw only harm in allowing even an innocuous photo of himself to be published in Playboy.

"No congressman in his right mind would want his picture in Playboy, certainly not me," he told States News Service.

Findley said he never met Mrs. Parkinson before being approached by her about the photo and has no recollection of being told the shot was for Playboy.

He said, "I was requested to be photographed with a woman introduced to me as a Washington legislative representative, and I agreed. I have never seen the woman before, nor have I since."

Findley recalled being "alarmed and astonished" when freshman Rep. Jerry Lewis, R-Calif., told him in mid-August that he understood his photo might appear in the November issue of Playboy.

Mrs. Parkinson insisted that Findley was told "up front" that the photo was for Playboy. She would not comment on what Playboy officials told her about the controversy.

Findley said he sought Percy's help "because I knew (Playboy) was a major Chicago enterprise and it would be difficult to get to the right office with my complaints and request...on the chance that Percy would know someone that might know the right people. I called him."

Don Parker, a Playboy senior vice president in Los Angeles, said Percy put no pressure on him when the senator called Aug. 21, to inquire about the Findley photo. Parker said Percy was referred to him by Hefner's office.

"It was very straight forward," Parker said. According to Parker, his subsequent call to Playboy headquarters in Chicago revealed that the Findley photo had not been chosen for the final pictorial layout.

Percy said of his call to Playboy, "They told me they would not use the picture under the circumstances...They realized and appreciated that in an election, someone could distort the situation."

Findley denied he put undue pressure on Playboy to keep his photo from appearing in the magazine.

It was just a matter of getting the facts before the (magazine) management," he said. "I was at their mercy. If they had elected to use whatever they took, they probably could have done so."

The Washington Star's "Ear" gossip column made short mention of it last week, which caused Findley's office to react nervously to inquiries about the Playboy picture, questioning the news value of the story.

Mrs. Parkinson, on the other hand, can't understand why the congressman is so worried about the photo.

"It's so innocent," she said. "It was not a lewd, erotic picture. It was a nice fully-clothed, business-like picture."

The 29-year-old lobbyist, who is married, said she considers appearing in Playboy just a lark.

Bible gifts hit $11,738

Three more gifts, including one for $600 from the First Baptist Church, has raised the total raised in the 1980 Bible Fund campaign to $11,738.

The campaign, which had an objective of $10,000, officially closed Sept. 1. The money not used in the program this year will be put in reserve for the 1981 Bible Fund.

Other recent gifts include Barbara Lu Ratliff, $25; and Adult II, Berea Baptist Church.

Condition of actress bad

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Mae West's condition has worsened after a stroke despite reports to the contrary, according to a hospital source who says the 1930s screen siren is in intensive care in Good Samaritan Hospital.

The attack last August left Miss West, 87, with impaired speech. Until last weekend, she reportedly had been in satisfactory condition in a tightly guarded celebrity suite. The hospital and Miss West's agent, Jerry Martin, have declined comment.

But a hospital source, who asked not to be identified, told The Associated Press on Monday that Miss West had been moved to the facility's intensive care unit and her condition was deteriorating.

Pryor denies cocaine story

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Pryor says he could not have been using the volatile cocaine derivative freebase the night he was critically burned because a drug delivery he was waiting on was late, according to a published report.

"I didn't have any coke to freebase," the comedian is quoted as saying in the October issue of Ebony magazine.

Pryor's shirt caught fire last June, burning him severely on the upper half of his body. Police said he told them he was using ether and cocaine to make freebase. Pryor said a bottle of rum exploded.

The comedian added that his "self-destruct" days are over.

Conviction termed victory

EXETER, N.H. (AP) — Renowned baby doctor Benjamin Spock said he considered his plea of guilty to trespassing during an anti-nuclear demonstration at the Seabrook nuclear plant a "victory."

Spock, his wife and four others were charged with criminal trespass in connection with the September 1978 protest.

A plea bargain was reached by which all six pleaded guilty to simple trespass and received $25 fines. Spock, 77, of Rogers, Ark., a well-known child-rearing specialist, his wife, Mary Morgan, and the others had been sentenced to 60-day jail terms and fined $200 each.

'Dallas' adds new twist

NEW YORK (AP) — Poor ol' Jock Ewing, head of the Ewing clan on CBS' "Dallas,"

It's bad enough he sired a son like the dastardly J.R. But viewers of the scandal-ridden horse opera will learn this season that Jock has another son, illegitimate, of course, according to a published report.

The new Ewing is none other than ranch foreman Ray, the product of a tragic affair between Jock and a lady who wound up in an insane asylum, the Daily News said.

Johnston's No-Roach still your best bet

When you buy an insecticide you want something to do the job and will continue doing the job for months — easy to use, and not something that will merely kill one bug by drowning it and smell up your whole house... your best bet is Johnston's No-Roach brush-on. You have tried many other products — now try No-Roach... it works!

No-Roach is an insecticide that is easy to use, no insecticide odor, no powder or dust or mess, stays effective for months.

No-Roach is effective against all crawling insects — cockroaches, ants, spiders, and silverfish. One application stays effective for months.

It's clean and easy to use. Just brush the colorless, odorless coating where you want it. Dries quickly to form an invisible barrier that stays effective for months. Brush Johnston's No-Roach in cabinets, on baseboards, door sills, window frames wherever you see roaches and ants.

To keep ants out of the house, brush No-Roach across window frames and door sills. Ants will not cross the coating. Use Johnston's No-Roach today... forget about bugs tomorrow.

Available at Furr's, Sav-U, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all Supermarkets. Dist. by Winn-Dixie, Ft. Worth.

JUST BRUSH IT ON and it works!

Rainbarrel has new service for patrons

A new service has been added to the already fine service offered by Steve and Amy Lewis at the Rainbarrel in the College Park Shopping Center.

Send-a-gift is the service and it has been implemented to help the customers save time and trouble. When you purchase a gift at the Rainbarrel, Steve and Amy will package and mail the gift for you anywhere you wish to send it. It will especially come in handy around Christmas time. Instead of running around trying to discover the proper way to package and seal your gift for postage, the Rainbarrel will do it for you.

The Rainbarrel has a rustic atmosphere and all customers are invited to feel at home. You can touch the merchandise and pick it up to let you see what makes it tick.

Steve and Amy have brought a little bit of the big city to their small home town. They pre-shop for their customers. They buy only what they feel their customers want and only what their customers are able to afford. Their gifts are in the medium to low price range.

Most of the gift items available at the Rainbarrel are a bit on the unusual side. Some items you can't find anywhere else in town. They have chrome kinetics, solar powered objects, pewter jewelry and other pewter items.

They also have stained glass, chimes candles and gag gifts.

Come on in to the Rainbarrel any time to shop or just to browse. And, if you need to, take advantage of the new send-a-gift service now available. Remember, the Rainbarrel is located in the College Park Shopping Center next to the Cinema Theatre.

ROSTAL AND SCHAEFER duo pianists coming to Big Spring

Concert drive in progress

Pianists to be featured

Rostal and Schaefer, acclaimed internationally for their duo-piano renditions of both popular and classical music, is just one of three concerts planned by the Big Spring Concert Association this year.

The duo will make their local debut at the Municipal Auditorium Nov. 3 at 8:15 p.m.

The local concert association is conducting its membership drive this week, and this week only says the organization's president, Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall.

Headquarters for the association is 2808 Rebecca. More information concerning costs may be had by calling 3-3948.

Rostal and Schaefer will be here as part of this British team's third American tour. Under the direction of Columbia Artists Festivals, these brilliant young men will travel with their Baldwin SF-10 grand pianos, making clear why their pianism is today applauded in much of the civilized world.

The duo-pianists are major recording artists with a discography that reflects the tremendous variety of their repertory. Since the June 1967 premiere of their "Beatles Concerto" for Two Pianos and Orchestra in London's Festival of Light Music, public enthusiasm resulted in the EMI recording of the work with the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra in November 1978.

George Martin, original producer of the Beatles, produced the album, which was launched in England in July, 1979 as aforementioned.

They have also recorded much of the traditional duo-piano music of such classical composers as Brahms, Bach, Schubert and Handel, plus numerous of their own arrangements of other "serious" music.

Titles in the field of popular music include such hits as "The Way We Were," "Send in the Clowns," as well as the theme songs of great hit films. One album brings together the worlds of Dvorak, Bach and the discoloque. Their "Brand New World" is their own arrangement of Dvorak's New World Symphony for duo-pianos, synthesizer and percussion which was released in England as their first "single."

The meteoric career of Peter Rostal and Paul Schaefer began in 1969 when they graduated with honors from the Juilliard School in New York and returned to their native England.

Within a year they presented a Command Performance for the Royal Family to immediate acclaim throughout Great Britain. With such an auspicious debut, they were deluged with invitations to perform and quickly

Kurt Anton is born to Mr., Mrs. Robert Miranda

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miranda, 4100 Bilger, announce the birth of their second son, Kurt Anton, at Cowper Hospital.

The infant made his debut Sept. 20, at 6:25 a.m., weighing 9 pounds 9 ounces. He measured 22 inches length.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. Almazan, Big Spring and Rene Sapata, Wichita Falls

Isbel Miranda, Central, N.M., is the paternal grandmother.

Great-grandparents include Josephine Dutchover, Big Spring; and Magdalena Apodaca, Truth or Consequences, N.M.

Welcoming the new arrival home were his two sisters, Yvette, 16 and Monika, 12 and a brother, Michael, 16 months.

Dear Abby

Doors Open and Close For Neighbor Boy

DEAR ABBY: NO OPEN HOUSE wrote to say that her neighbor who lives alone has his 9-year-old grandson visiting him all summer. She said, "I don't want to sound like an old scrooge, but the boy spends most of the day at my house, playing with my two, ages 8 and 10. He helps himself to snacks, argues with my children and behaves like a typical 9-year-old. I don't want to be rude, but six hours a day, every day, in a little wearing. How do I handle this?"

Your reply warmed my heart. You said, "Please don't turn the boy away. If he gets unruly, discipline him as you would your own children. I realize that six hours a day can be wearing, but a 9-year-old who has been sent to his grandfather's all summer probably needs loving care and acceptance more than most children, so please be extra patient and understanding."

What a lovely, compassionate person you are. Bless you, Abby!

CAROLINE G., PHILADELPHIA

DEAR CAROLINE: Thanks, I needed that. Especially after this response to the same letter:

DEAR ABBY: In reference to NO OPEN HOUSE: Since the woman does not run a day-care center, she is not responsible for this little brat's welfare. And she doesn't have to be polite to him, either. Most likely this kid is pushed off on Grandpa because he's insufferable. And you feel sorry for him yet? The little monster should be made to atay with his grandfather all day. Nothing unfortunate will happen to him except maybe he will learn that life is not a bowl of cherries. If this poor woman lets him hang around her house all day, she might have to put him through college. If all else fails, why don't you take him, Abby?

JUST ASKING

DEAR ABBY: I read your advice urging joggers to carry identification. Why just joggers? Everyone should carry identification.

In spite of repeated warnings from my mother, the most my father ever had in the way of identification was his initials in his hat! Because his work kept him within earshot of our home, he thought he was safe.

But it finally happened. We spent many agonizing hours trying to locate him, during which time he died in a hospital.

Hangar 18 wardrobe lady joins the 'stars' in PTA

Gary Collins: size 11 D foot.

You become privy to many interesting statistics working as wardrobe seamstress on a movie. I learned Jan Wallace who did exactly that when Hangar 18 was filmed here.

Mrs. Wallace is one of the local celebrities who have joined Big Spring PTAs in support of the "Join the Stars in PTA" campaign undertaken by the Big Spring Council of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Some of the costumes Mrs. Wallace helped create were five extra vehicular activity suits and three flight suits used in Hangar 18. She also did some work on the alien costumes.

Telling of the imagination which went into developing costumes from available materials, Mrs. Wallace described how gloves for the space suits began life as simple black rubber gloves. Wardrobe workers then coiled and glued 100 feet of black electrical wire around the cuffs, and voila, five pair of space gloves emerged.

For most costumes in the movie it was necessary to assemble four identical outfits — two for the actor and two for his double, Mrs. Wallace spent much time scouting shops for shirts, suits, shoes and other paraphernalia she had to buy for each costume.

"James Hampton and Gary Collins were my favorites," related Mrs. Wallace. "I thought I was going to have to put Gary Collins in my car to take him to find shoes to fit."

She found most items in Big Spring, but went as far afield as Midland and Colorado City for special items, like Gary Collins' 11D basketball shoes which she scoured the country for only to take a seam ripper to them back in Big Spring to modify their $35 design.

This wardrobe lady is a special breed — one of the many persons in Big Spring who belong to two PTAs. Leigh Anne Wallace is a fourth grader at Marcy, while Libby Wallace is in kindergarten at Kentwood — so what else, but memberships in both Marcy and Kentwood PTAs for Mrs. Wallace.

"I'm Libby's home room mother this year, and I usually help with the PTA carnival," said Mrs. Wallace of her PTA activities. She was involved rather dramatically in Marcy's last fall festival, creating countless grease paint kiddy clowns in the make-up booth there.

"I feel like parents have to take an active interest in the education of their children. Working in PTA is a way to show that interest," said Mrs. Wallace.

She joins other local Hangar 18 stars in encouraging parents, relatives and friends of Big Spring students to show their support for local schools by joining PTAs in the campaign which ends Oct. 10.

Homemakers club is organizing

A group of women in the Knot, Vealmoor and Ackerly communities are organizing a new Extension Homemakers Club in Howard County. The club will be composed of homemakers who are interested in learning together.

Everyone is involved and members learn by attending club and leader training meetings. They teach skills they've learned, take part in discussions and participate in community projects sponsored by the club.

What does it cost? Almost nothing — your major investment is your time to learn and share new information about home economics. Dues are not required.

The new Extension Homemakers Club will be designed to meet the needs and interests of women in the community.

It's three-fold purpose includes helping members become more knowledgeable of skills relating to the home, developing ideals for economy and thrift by putting into practice improved methods of management, and to increase appreciation of home life and family relations.

No specific day has been designated as the club's meeting date. Meetings will be held in the homes of members or other suitable meeting places. A specific meeting time has also not yet been established.

The club will hold an organizational meeting Thursday in the home of Patsy Fryar, 399-4528. A program will be presented on making Christmas decorations. All women in the community are invited to attend.

Anyone interested in visiting or becoming a member of this new club may contact Mrs. Fryar or the County Extension Office at 267-8469.

Extension Homemaker Clubs are sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Dinner to honor delegates

The Big Spring American Legion and Auxiliary will host a dinner Thursday at 7 p.m. in honor of the Girl and Boy State delegate.

Sherri Adams and Ernie Strickland will report on their experiences at Girl and Boy State at the dinner to be held at the La Posada Restaurant.

All members are urged to attend. The next regular meeting will be Oct. 10 beginning at 7 p.m. at 422 Ryan St.

MR. AND MRS. ARCHIE B. COUCH

Reception, dinner to mark anniversary

Former residents of Luther, Mr. and Mrs. Archie B. Couch, will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary Saturday.

A family dinner and reception are planned for the event to be held in Weatherford at the Banquet Hall between 2-5 p.m.

The couple's children and their spouses will act as hosts and hostesses for the occasion. They include Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathis, Carson City, Nev.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe O. Williams, Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. Truett Couch, Irving; Mr. and Mrs. Max Winters, Euless; and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Booth, Garland.

Grandchildren of the honorees will register guests.

Born in Blackwell, Mr. Couch married the former Alice E. Keel Oct. 4, 1930, in Big Spring. Mrs. Couch was born in Wingate. The couple have 19 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Following his retirement from Irving Public Schools, Mr. Couch operated a paper route for the Irving Daily News.

Mrs. Couch retired from Texas Turnpike Authority in 1977, after which she and her husband moved to the lake at Weatherford.

Their current address is Cedar Hill Road, Lot 69 W.L.E., Weatherford, Tex. 76086.

Friends of the couple are invited to join in the celebration.

Nuptials are feted at Mexican fiesta

A Mexican fiesta buffet honoring Kathi Spannaus and her fiancé, Gary Posey, was held Sept. 26, 7 p.m. at the Big Spring Country Club.

Host couples included Mr. and Mrs. Wade Choate, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Grimes, Dr. and Mrs. John Key and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moore.

Orange cloths decorated with brown linen runners enhanced the tables. Accenting each setting were paper flowers and candles. Sombreros, pinatas and serape placed at various points in the room carried out the Mexican fiesta theme.

Decorating the head table was a wicker basket containing fresh sunflowers and the ingredients to prepare a Mexican dinner, complete with a taco buffet.

Miss Spannaus and Posey will wed Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church.

RELAXED MOMENT — World Boxing Council heavyweight champion Larry Holmes relaxes in his suite Monday along with 6-month-old daughter Kandi Lauri. Holmes meets Muhammad Ali Oct. 2 in title fight.

But don't count the 38-year old legend out Illusions will not win for Ali

By The Associated Press
"I'm the master of illusion," says Muhammad Ali.
"I've defeated myself. I defeated temptation. I'm not the same man who announced this fight."
Ali is not the blimp he was when his Thursday night fight against Larry Holmes was announced several months ago. He's trimmed off more than 30 pounds and his mustache and looks much younger than he did.
"Muhammad Ali is in such better shape than the average person of 38 that there is no comparison," says Dr. Donald Romeo of the Nevada State Athletic Commission.
But Ali is 38 and while he might be in better condition than the average man of his age, does he have the stamina and the reflexes — reflexes rusted by two years away from boxing — to beat a 30-year-old champion who has fought seven times in two years?
Is the Ali you see going to be the Ali you get Thursday night?
"Let me tell you something," says Holmes.

"He lost all that weight but he ain't hard. He's still got a lot of flab on him."
Ken Norton, who is about to practice the art of illusion himself when he comes back at age 36 against Randy Cobb Oct. 31, agrees with Holmes.
"Ali's lost a lot of weight but he's still soft," says Norton. "He hasn't had enough time to harden his body. I don't know if he's run enough."
When Holmes beat Scott LeDoux at Bloomington, Minn., last July 7, Ali showed up and held a news conference the day before the fight.
After answering several questions, Ali announced, "Now I'm going to levitate for you. I'm going to raise myself two inches off the ground."
He then got up on a table, turned his back to his audience and, sure enough, raised himself into the air. You had to be looking at just the right angle to see the toe of his right shoe on the table.
It was funny. The worst that could happen would have been Ali falling off the table.
But this latest feat of illusion — he is trying to convince Holmes, the public and himself that he is in the mental and physical shape of a fighter of 29 — might not be so funny.
He spars with a 160-pounder named Charles Carter, who has not had a pro fight, and then announces that Carter is much faster than Holmes but can't hit Ali. One afternoon after watching Ali spar with Carter and hearing Ali say how Carter hadn't hit him, grizzled Freddie Brown, who helps train Holmes, muttered: "He hit him with everything but the bucket."
If Ali gets hit with everything but the bucket Thursday night, he could be in trouble.
Ali has done the impossible before. He frustrated George Foreman to win the title in Africa. He rallied from a fearful beating to stop Joe Frazier in Manila.
And Thursday night, in order to win, he might have to fight like the Ali of Africa and Manila. He's going to have to be a master boxer, not a master of illusion.

OFF THE GROUND — Three-time heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali is airborne last week while training for Oct. 2 fight with World Boxing Council titlist Larry Holmes.

Vegas has Ali 3-2 underdog

LAS VEGAS (AP) — The magic of Muhammad Ali is spinning a web over this gambling capital and the high rollers are beginning to believe the man can work another miracle.
Ali is now a 3-2 underdog for Thursday night's heavyweight championship fight against Larry Holmes. Those are remarkably short odds against a guy who's 38 years old and hasn't thrown a punch in anger in two years. Especially when you consider that Holmes is the undefeated champion with seven straight knockouts over the 24 months since Ali's last fight.
"The first miracle has been performed," said Ali patting his midsection. "I was 254 pounds. Now I am 218. Nobody is talking about my weight. I must look good. Do I look good?"

Perfect 5-AAAA volleyball marks on line as Steers host Cooper

The Big Spring Steers girls volleyball team can take a giant step toward the District 5-AAAA first half title tonight when they host the Abilene Cooper Cougars at seven o'clock in Steer Gym.
The Big Spring girls are a perfect 4-0 in district play and 10-3 on the year. But Cooper is also a perfect 4-0 in league action, so they will not doubt pose a serious threat.

The winner of tonight's game will no doubt be in the drivers seat in the first half district race, as each plays only two more games after this one.

Big Spring will battle Odessa and San Angelo to end the first half, while Cooper will play Midland and Abilene.
There will also be a freshmen and junior varsity contest. The fish will play at 5 p.m., while the JVs will meet at 6:00 p.m.

Big Spring Herald SPORTS Tuesday

BIG SPRING, TEXAS SEPTEMBER 30, 1980
SECTION B

Herald-Hawk Walk this afternoon

The Howard College-Big Spring Herald-sponsored Jog-Walk-Crawl-A-Thon, rescheduled for 5:30 p.m. today at Memorial Stadium, might be better off now than it had been run as slated on Saturday.
"We had to postpone the original date which was Saturday, Sept. 27, because of the rain. But a couple of good things did come of delaying it. First, it will give everyone a few more days to get additional sponsors and second, we can use the rain," said Howard College Athletic Director Harold Wilder.
The fund-raiser, which will last only one hour, is being held in order to raise funds for scholarships, recruiting, and un-budgeted expenses for both men's and women's athletic departments at Howard College, the HC cheerleaders and the HC rodeo teams.
"I want people to know that this is not to be viewed as a race. It is a fundraising endeavor. The success of the Hawk Walk depends on the amount of pledges a person receives per lap. It's not how far, or how fast, but how many sponsors they can get. We currently have 200 persons entered in the Hawk Walk," said Wilder.
Wilder also wants to emphasize the fact that the person doing the jogging will not have to collect the money. "All pledges are collected by a computer. Once you have asked the sponsor for the pledge, and you jog, your part is finished. I do the rest."

Patriots use aerial duo to brand Broncos

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — When Stanley Morgan of the Patriots is covered man to man, look out. And when New England quarterback Steve Grogan throws it his way, forget it.
Thus far this National Football League season, the Patriots have been able to count on either a 30-yard gain or a quick six points from Morgan.
Grogan and Morgan performed their aerial magic again Monday night before a national television audience to lift the Patriots to a 23-14 National Football League victory over the Denver Broncos, avenging an embarrassing 45-10 defeat at Mile High Stadium last year.

"We felt we owed them something from last year," said defensive lineman Richard Bishop, a free agent holdout playing in his first game since coming to terms with the club last week.
Grogan, who came into the game as the American Football Conference's top-rated passer, hit on 17 of 24 passes for 209 yards and one touchdown. Morgan grabbed three tosses for 83 yards and a score. In four games, Morgan has caught just 10 passes, but they have accounted for 336 yards and five TDs.
The victory hiked the Patriots season record to 3-1, and improved their dismal Monday night mark to 2-7.

Trailing 14-10 in the third quarter, the Patriots faced a second-down-three situation at the Broncos' 45-yard line. When Grogan noticed Morgan had drawn single coverage from Steve Foley, he knew it was time for the bomb.
"I saw Stanley was covered man-to-man," Grogan said. "I just threw the ball up there for him. No one else in this league could have caught it."
Morgan, running full speed, snared the ball with his fingertips at the goal line for the go-ahead touchdown.
"Foley came up in a bump-and-run and then had me man-to-man," Morgan said. "I ran a post and Grogan put it out there for me to run under. He put me to the test. I really had to run for it."
As the Grogan-Morgan show continued to roll, the New England defense played its best game of the season, holding Denver to just 170 yards, 52 in the second half.
Grogan said he and the club are coming into their own after several roller-coaster seasons that often left him hearing boos from the hometown fans.
"I think there's much more unity, emotion and all those other cliches on this team this year," Grogan said. "It's really fun to be out there ... personally, I quit playing for the crowd. It used to be when the crowd was up, so was I, and when the crowd was down, I was, too."
"I'm very pleased with the defense," said New England Coach Ron Erhardt. "That's the big thing. And it's just going to be nothing but better each week."
It was an especially gratifying victory for Erhardt considering last year's debacle at Denver. "This is the sweetest. There was more to this one," he said.
Denver Coach Red Miller said of his team's 1-3 mark for the season: "This is very unusual for me. I'm not used to it and I don't know how to react to it."
Asked about his club's offensive woes, Miller said, "We couldn't take the pressure off our defense. We weren't throwing the ball with authority. We weren't generating anything in the second half, and that's what cost us the game. It was poor play selection, and I'll take the blame for that."
Broncos quarterback Matt Robinson threw only 12 passes, completing eight for 83 yards and his first touchdown of the season, a 17-yarder to Haven Moses in the first quarter.
John Smith booted field goals of 28, 19, and 36 yards for New England.

Melton's 2nd place hurts shot at Player of Year

DALLAS (AP) — Nancy Lopez-Melton wasn't unhappy after picking up the second-place check at the Ladies Professional Golf Association's $150,000 tournament, but she still appeared miffed about her hopes of accomplishing two self-appointed goals.
Lopez-Melton lost her bid to win the title for the second straight year Monday when Jerilyn Britz dropped a 5-foot birdie putt on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff with the defending champion.
"I had my sights set on being No. 1 money winner and player of the year and I felt a successful defense of my Dallas title would do it," she said after settling for the $14,700 runner-up prize. "Now I must win at San Jose and Japan to clinch the money title."
Lopez-Melton blew a 1-shot lead with a bogey on the 17th and final hole of the second round of the rain-plagued tournament, which was cut to 35 holes after the third round was cancelled and water left the 10th hole unplayable.
Britz, the defending U.S. Open champion, and Lopez-Melton finished regulation play with 1-under-par 139s before halving the first playoff hole with par-4s.
But on the second playoff hole, the par-4 12th, Britz hit a 7-iron to within nine feet of the hole and rammed her putt into the middle of the cup to claim the $22,500 first prize.
Britz admitted she was nervous before the head-to-head tangle with Lopez-Melton.
"But I calmed down," she said. "When I had to make the putt, I said to myself 'if it goes all right, if not, all right.'"
A poor chip from the fringe of the 17th green and a missed 5-foot putt scuttled Lopez-Melton's bid for the win.
"I didn't have a good lie," she said. "I didn't know what Jerilyn had scored when I chipped. If I had known, I think I would have had more confidence with the putt."
Lopez-Melton upped her earnings to $200,885 for the year, some $12,000 behind money-leader Beth Daniel, who nabbed $9,000 for finishing in a third-place tie at even-par 140 with Joanne Carner.

UH ace Terry Elston lost for 1980 season

HOUSTON (AP) — The magic that Houston quarterback Terry Elston used to rally the Cougars to last-gasp victories last season didn't work on his injured left wrist and the Oxford, Ala. senior has been lost for the season.
Elston, the rallying force in the Cougars drive to the Cotton Bowl last season, was scheduled to undergo surgery today to repair a broken bone in his wrist. The wrist will remain in a cast for about six weeks, officials said.
Elston fractured the bone in the second quarter of Saturday's 24-20 victory over North Texas State in the AstroDome. Elston had just completed a 30-yard touchdown pass to Hubert Miller.

"Everyone feels badly for Terry," Yeoman said. "It's tough to go into your senior year, and have the door slammed in your face."
Wharton sophomore Brent Chinn replaced Elston in the lineup and led the Cougars their first victory of the season against the Mean Green and will now assume the starting role.
"I don't worry about Brent being able to step in," Yeoman said. "It's only a case of him getting some experience. He's got the confidence, he's just getting a little bit of an abbreviated break-in time."
Last season Elston ran for game-winning touchdowns against Florida, Texas A&M and Texas Tech and passed for the winning touchdown with 12 seconds to go in the Cotton Bowl against Nebraska.

Women welcome in Oiler lockers

HOUSTON (AP) — Female sports reporters will be welcomed along with their male counterparts for post-game interviews in the Houston Oilers' dressing room under a new policy unveiled by the club Monday.
Coach Bum Phillips said the new rule allows all reporters to visit with the players in the AstroDome dressing area for 20 minutes after the game. After that, members of the media will have to congregate in his office.
Previously, women reporters were banned from entering the dressing room and had to conduct their interviews from Phillips' office.
"I think we should be able to get it all done in that amount of time," Phillips said. "It's the only fair thing to do. I think we can all live with it."

AP college grid poll Baylor moves into Top 20 as Bama stays at No. 1

Ohio State and Nebraska closed in on front-running Alabama today in The Associated Press college football poll while all three major teams from the State of Florida appeared together in the Top Twenty for the first time in memory.
The Crimson Tide of Alabama, shooting for an unprecedented third consecutive national championship, defeated Vanderbilt 41-0 and received 96 of 65 first-place votes and 1,254 of a possible 1,300 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Ohio State, a 38-21 winner over Arizona State that knocked the losers out of the Top Twenty along with four other teams, received 22 first-place ballots and 1,245 points. Nebraska had seven first-place votes and 1,181 points for a 21-7 victory over Penn State that dropped the Nittany Lions from 11th place to 17th.

Last week, the count was 34-26-2 in first-place ballots and 1,215-1,183-1,053 in total points with 63 voters participating.
While the top three teams remained the same, there was plenty of shuffling below then as Miami, Fla., Florida and Baylor all made the Top Twenty for the first time this season while Stanford and South Carolina reappeared after a week's absence.
Washington, Michigan, Auburn, Maryland and Arizona State all dropped out.

Coaching word feud heads to NCAA committee Hayden Fry vs. Jerry Moore

DALLAS (AP) — The Jerry Moore-Hayden Fry word feud is headed toward the American Football Coaches Association Ethics Committee January meeting in Miami.
Moore, furious over Fry's charges that he supplied Nebraska with information about Iowa before the Hawkeyes took a 37-0 drubbing two weeks ago, spoke by telephone Monday with Cornhusker Coach Tom Osborne, a member of the committee.
"Tom is on the Ethics Committee and we will sit in there together on this," said Moore.
Fry also is a member of the committee.
Joining Moore in protest was North Texas Athletic Director Andy Everest, who like Moore was a former assistant under Fry.
"I would hope that the situation is indeed brought before the committee," said Everest. "We certainly don't have anything to hide."
Moore said Monday "I just wouldn't do something like that and I talked to Tom about it this morning. I've lost a lot of respect for Hayden. In fact, I've severed my friendship. It (Fry's statement) was totally uncalled for."
Moore said he was writing the captains of the Iowa football team and Athletic Director Bump Elliott to tell them how he felt.
Fry said Moore supplied Osborne with volumes of information about Fry's coaching tendencies. Moore was an aide to Fry at SMU and went to Nebraska in 1972. He succeeded Fry as head coach at NTSU when Fry moved to Iowa.

"We came here so quick that we left six years of game films from North Texas State, plus the last two at SMU," Fry said. "You break down eight years of game films, throw the information in a computer, and you can get a pattern of tendencies in a hurry."
Fry said he felt like a "gutted snowbird" when he found out where the information came from.
"I did not send Nebraska any SMU film and only sent them the last two games of the 1977 season just like I would honor a request from any school," said Moore. "I spent two days at Nebraska in the spring and Iowa never came up."
"I was loyal to Hayden and worked hard for him. I guess this is a case of who do you believe."
He added, "How can you give someone 57 points worth of information?"
Everest said that Fry reached him by telephone in Houston at 6 p.m. Friday, saying there were rumors circulating and he wanted to talk to Everest and Moore before the news leaked.
Everest said, however, that Fry had already revealed the accusations to a newsman in Des Moines.
"It is very difficult for Jerry and me as former assistants of his to understand how he could make public such serious allegations without having enough confidence in our integrity to check first with us," Everest said.

Southern California defeated Minnesota 24-7 and climbed from fifth to fourth with 1,061 points. The Trojans replaced Oklahoma, which lost to Stanford 31-14 and plummeted from fourth to 12th.
Texas, a 35-0 winner over Oregon State, jumped from seventh to fifth with 1,004 points while Pitt remained in sixth place with 992 points after beating Temple 36-2.
Idle Notre Dame rose from eighth to seventh with 895 points while Georgia trounced Texas Christian 34-3 and shot from 10th to eighth with 884 points.

White probable for NY with fractured finger

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys quarterback Danny White suffered a fractured finger on his left hand during the team's 28-7 victory Sunday against Green Bay, but the injury was not expected to keep him out of action, team officials said.
White was listed as a probable starter for Sunday's 3 p.m. kickoff against the New York Giants at Texas Stadium and was expected to practice this week with the middle finger in a splint, according to Cowboys spokesman Doug Todd.
The team also listed running back Ron Springs, rookie offensive guard Norm Wells and linebacker Norm Wells as questionable for Sunday's game.
Springs and Wells were suffering from a sprained knee, while Brown was recovering from a bruised hip, Todd said.

NL Roundup

Unlikely heroes emerge as Phils, Expos take wins

By The Associated Press

In the late stages of a pennant race, you'll take your heroes from anybody. Montreal's anybody Monday night was seldom-used catcher John Tamargo while Philadelphia's savior was stellar second baseman Manny Trillo.

Tamargo pinch-hit a three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning to boost the Expos to a 5-2 victory over St. Louis and keep first-place Montreal one-half game ahead of the Phillies in the National League East.

Trillo slashed a bases-loaded single in the bottom of the 15th-inning to cap a three-run rally as Philadelphia edged Chicago 6-5.

In the only other NL game New York took 10 innings to beat Pittsburgh 5-4.

Expos 5, Cardinals 2

"When it went out, it was like a dream," said Tamargo, who hit his first homer of the season, a line drive shot to right. "I love this. Every guy on this team is picking up everybody else."

"He really stung it," said Manager Dick Williams. "I'd have to say it probably surprised him as much as us."

Bill Lee turned in a strong pitching effort for the Expos, surrendering only seven hits in eight innings.

"Lee was fantastic," said Williams. "He did a super job... vintage Bill Lee."

"If I'm healthy, I can keep the ball down and throw strikes," said Lee. "I can do the job."

Phillies 6, Cubs 5

The Cubs jumped to a 5-3 lead in the top of the 15th on Scot Thompson's sacrifice fly and an RBI-double by Carlos Lezcano. But it wasn't enough.

A walk to Lonnie Smith began the 15th off reliever Doug Capilla. Pete Rose also walked and both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Bake McBride grounded to second, Smith scoring and Rose moving to third.

Dennis Lamp replaced Capilla and Mike Schmidt popped out. But Garry Maddox singled to center, scoring Rose with the tying run. Keith Moreland and Larry Bowa walked and Trillo drilled his single.

"It came at a time when we really needed it," said Manager Dallas Green. "That's having our backs against the wall."

"I was looking for a fast ball and that's just what I got," said Trillo. "We've got to be close to Montreal."

At least until the two teams meet this weekend for a season-ending three-game series in Montreal.

Mets 5, Pirates 4

Joel Youngblood belted a two-run homer with two out in the 10th to rally the Mets before the smallest crowd in Shea Stadium history, 1,787.

But time becoming a factor

Weaver says Orioles alive

BOSTON (AP) — Time is running out, but Manager Earl Weaver and his Baltimore Orioles are still swinging away like true champs.

"The lid remains ajar," Weaver said Monday night after the Orioles kept their American League East title hopes alive with a 5-2, 4-3 doubleheader sweep of the Boston Red Sox.

"We're not out of it — we're not quitters," said slugger Eddie Murray who became only the fifth switch-hitter in major league history to crack 30 homers in a season in deciding the nightcap.

Weaver continued to try to psyche the New York Yankees, whose division lead was trimmed to 3½ games while idle.

"They can't close it tomorrow," the Baltimore manager said. "People would forget the 1964 Phillies forever if we won it."

Weaver was thinking of Philadelphia's collapse 16 years ago, when the Phillies blew a six-game lead with just 12 to play.

However, with just five games to play, one fewer than the Yankees, the Orioles are four behind in the vital loss column. New York's magic number is three, meaning any combination of Yankee victories and Oriole defeats will bury Baltimore's 1979 league chances.

In the only other games played in the American League last night, Detroit beat Toronto 8-2 and California downed Milwaukee 6-2.

With the doubleheader sweep of the Red Sox, the Orioles boosted their September record to 20-9. Since moving to within one-half game of New York on Aug. 27, they have won 22 of 33 games. The Yankees, though, have gone 24-7 in the same stretch.

A&M inquiry continues

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Sophomore linebacker Kenny Ingram has been asked to reappear before a Texas A&M hearing board investigating claims that some members of the Aggie football team use drugs.

Ingram, from Corpus Christi, is the only player called back by the board.

The investigation began last week when three players were kicked off the team after a search of some players' rooms in the athletic dorm allegedly produced some drugs.

Four Texas A&M football players were cleared of allegations Monday in the investigation triggered by Head Coach Tom Wilson.

Senior safety Jay Dale of South Houston and senior linebacker Doug Gains were cleared by the board Monday morning.

"Based on the information that has been presented, there is too little evidence to find these students guilty of any wrongdoing," said Kibler, hearing board officer and assistant director of student affairs. "And in all likelihood, no action will be taken against them."

Senior safety Leandrew Brown of Gonzales and sophomore defensive back Stuart Clark of San Antonio were cleared of all allegations Monday afternoon, he said.

The five, who were not removed from the team during the investigation, were sent letters last week instructing them to report to Kibler.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 1, 1980

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Wait until later in the day to patch up strained relationships with certain family members. A good time to organize your life so you can make rapid progress in the future.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are able to relieve yourself of pressures that have been annoying you earlier in the day. Be more optimistic.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may find it difficult to communicate properly with others during the daytime, but the evening is fine for such.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get busy with details of finance, but big investments are taboo right now, since there are sinister forces at work.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to be more cooperative with associates early in the day and get excellent results. Safeguard your health.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take positive steps to get rid of conditions that annoy you and then you can employ your time more profitably later on.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Try to please your friends more instead of criticizing them, since they could be highly sensitive at this time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Fine day for handling outside affairs that are important to you. Go after a personal desire in a confident manner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to garner information you need unexpectedly that will be helpful in getting ahead in your career.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can now gain the backing you need for a project that means much to you. Use tact and diplomacy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show others that you are an excellent citizen and gain added prestige. Take no risks with your reputation now.

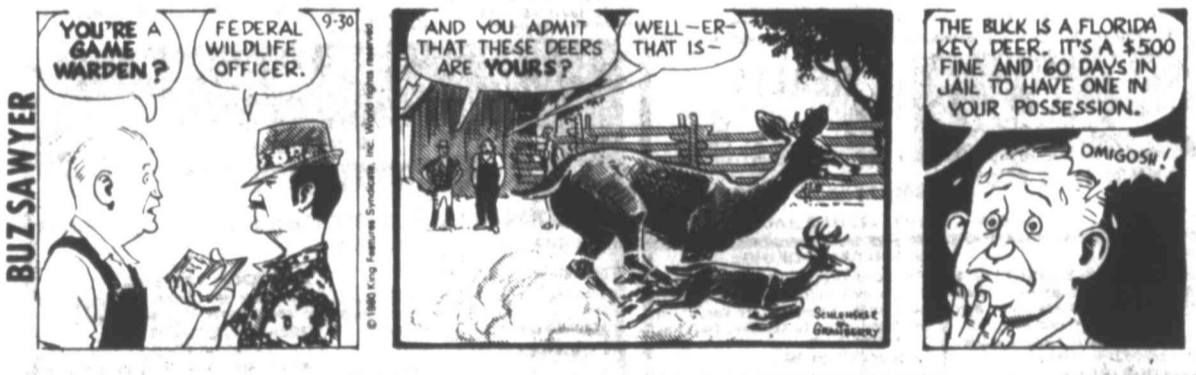

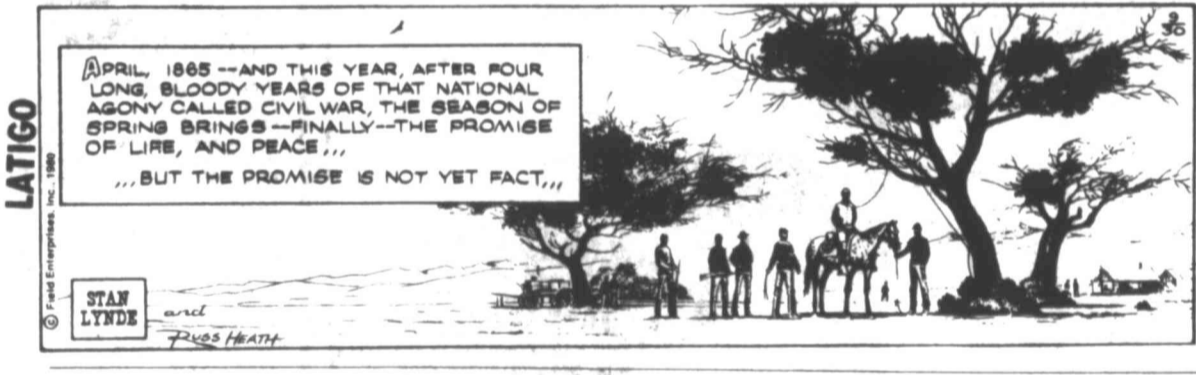

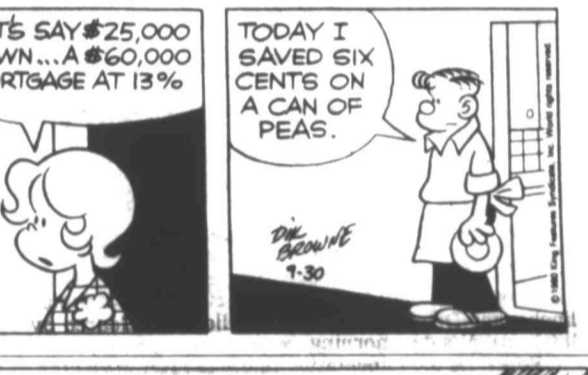

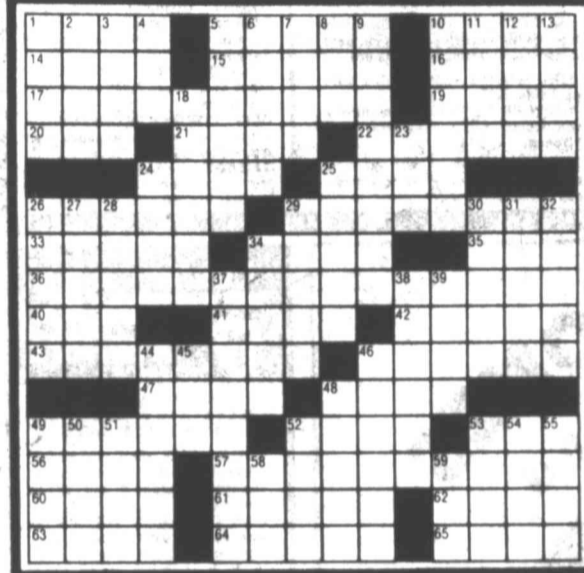

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make sure your work is well organized so that you can accomplish a great deal. Come to a better understanding with mate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) The planets are most favorable for making rapid progress in career matters at this time. Think along optimistic lines.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who will require a good education to be successful in life. A highly sensitive person here who can easily adapt to change and profit by it. Be sure to give good religious and ethical training early in life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Invests $1,000 daily

Dora Roberts Rehab Center grows from dream to reality

Every day that the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, a private, non-profit agency, is open, it invests $1,000 in salaries, equipment use, building operation and maintenance.

It is easy to understand why the Rehab Center is so dependent upon the Howard County United Way, which is gearing up for its annual fall appeal for funds.

Only if the UW achieves its goal will all agencies, including the Rehab Center, get the money apportioned them.

Nearly 20 years ago, there was no rehabilitation center in Big Spring. Volunteers transported physical therapy patients to Midland for each treatment. Since then, the rehabilitation center has grown from a dream, to a city-wide project, to a reality.

The first rehabilitation center in Big Spring was the Howard County Rehabilitation Center. Built in 1961 north of the YMCA, the building's materials were donated by local businesses, and all labor was supplied free by local building contractors.

The center, and all those who cooperated in its construction, suffered a major blow a few months after its completion. The center was built on fill-land; when an unusually hard storm dumped eight inches of rain on Big Spring, the structure literally collapsed under the strain.

The director at this time was a dedicated physical therapist and humanitarian, Jim Thompson. He was to be director of the center in its various locations for thirteen years. Undaunted by the loss of the new building, Thompson located an old rental house on Edwards Street and made that the home of the Rehabilitation Center until 1965.

Lillian Staggs, who has worked for the center as a physical therapy assistant and receptionist since 1964, recalls that old house:

"In the winter, I would come to work at 7:30 in the morning so I could light the gas heaters and try to get the place warm. My desk was in the old living room. It was about 12' by 12', and waiting patients would be crowded into that little room.

"We put the whirlpool in the kitchen, and that was our hydrotherapy room. Next to the kitchen was the dining room — Mr. Thompson's office.

"Across the hall were two bedrooms and one community bathroom. One bedroom became the physical therapy room, with two therapy tables, and the other bedroom was the gymnasium.

"When the wind shook the windows in that old house, dust would fall down from the ceiling and the wallpaper onto the floor."

Help came from the most prominent Big Spring citizen of that time: Horace Garrett, grandson of Dora Roberts and president of the Dora Roberts Foundation. His personal interest in physical rehabilitation prompted him to make a $205,000 gift from the Foundation to build the present center at 3rd and Lancaster. Up to the time of his death in 1967 of lung cancer, Garrett was a frequent visitor to the center.

The present center, renamed the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center in honor of that pioneer rancher's wife, opened its doors Oct. 1, 1965. Mrs. Staggs remembers that day:

"We saw patients the entire morning of the move, over at the old house on Edwards. At noon we started to move our equipment over and planned to spend the entire afternoon just moving.

"But that same afternoon, a patient with a football injury came in and needed therapy, so we 'opened for business' that same day."

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center has been "open for business" ever since. It has had a succession of directors since Jim Thompson reluctantly left to move to Bryan, Texas with his family. Larry Birsto marked his second year as the center's present director in April, 1980.

The staff of the center has also changed — and grown. Until the move to the present location, the entire full time staff consisted of Thompson and Mrs. Staggs. Between them, they filled the duties of director, physical therapist, public relations manager, physical therapy assistant, secretary, receptionist, and janitor.

Fortunately, the wives of Webb AFB personnel proved to be a seemingly unending supply of licensed therapists. Air Force wives worked at the center, for varying periods, as speech, physical, and occupational therapists.

One physical therapist, in particular, helped bridge the gap in available personnel caused by the closing of Webb Air Force Base. Kathleen "Kaki" Morton, who has been with the center since September, 1971, started working there as part of an agreement with the center's board of directors. She received a $2,000 scholarship established by the board to enable her to finish her last year at Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. In return, Ms. Morton agreed to spend her first two years after graduating working at the center.

The two years are now nine, and Kaki is an integral part of the center staff.

Other staff members are Anita Morales, physical therapist; Robbie McKnight, physical therapy aide; Marianne Murphy, speech therapist; Beth Ledbetter, occupational therapist; Leslie Lacy, project director of the center's program for handicapped children; Ramona Herbert, home trainer for that program; Lori Johnson, secretary, and Jane Ray, secretary-bookkeeper.

SPIN THE PINNER — Pete Jones spins a contestant in the "Pin the Helmet" game at the Membership Luncheon held last Thursday in the East Room of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum. County Judge Bill Tune was awarded $50 at the luncheon. Former Herald Advertising Manager Oliver Cofer's name was selected to receive $250, but he was not present to claim the cash. The luncheon was sponsored by the Highland Shopping Mall and was hosted by the Kiwanis Club. Travis Floyd and Dave Wrinkle served as emcees.

American bishops want Pope to change stance

VATICAN CITY (AP) — American Roman Catholic bishops called on Pope John Paul II to take a more tolerant attitude toward the millions of Catholics who violate the church's ban on contraception.

"We cannot credibly treat the problem of contraception without clear and honest recognition of the grave demographic problem of our times," Archbishop John R. Quinn of San Francisco told more than 200 Catholic bishops holding a month-long synod on the role of the Christian family in the modern world.

Speaking on behalf of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops of the United States, Quinn said Monday: "A very large number of men and women of good will do not accept the (church's) teaching on the intrinsic evil of each and every use of contraceptives."

Asserting that these people cannot be dismissed as "obdurate, ignorant" people of bad will, he called on the Vatican to sponsor "a completely honest examination" of the birth control issue resulting in a new church doctrine of "responsible parenthood."

Russell Shaw, a spokesman for the U.S. delegation to the synod, said Quinn was not pressing for specific change in the church's rejection of contraception but rather for a more sympathetic attitude toward couples who feel they must use the mechanical and chemical methods of birth control banned by the church.

"Pope Paul VI took a very compassionate view toward people, who, for one reason or another, couldn't live up to the teachings of the church," Shaw said.

The only method of birth control accepted by the Catholic Church is the rhythm method of abstinence from sexual relations during the fertile period before a woman's menstrual period.

Quinn cited a Princeton University study which concluded that nearly 71 percent of American Catholic women used birth control methods condemned by their church. He cited another report that only 29 percent of the American priests believed artificial contraception was intrinsically immoral and only 26 percent would deny absolution to those using it.

"This widespread theoretical and practical opposition to the teaching on contraception constitutes a profound theological and pastoral problem for the church," said Quinn.

Panel suggests limit on doctors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Predicting a surplus of 70,000 doctors by 1990, a panel of medical experts today urged that medical schools limit enrollments and encourage new doctors to forgo glamorous surgical specialties in favor of general practice.

The Graduate Medical Education National Advisory Committee also recommended extra federal financial rewards for practice in areas with a shortage of doctors.

The voluminous report, to Secretary of Health and Human Services Patricia Roberts Harris, was being released today by Dr. Alvin R. Tarlov, a University of Chicago medical school professor who chaired the panel.

"There will be too many physicians in 1990. There will be substantial imbalances in some specialties," the panel predicted. "There will continue to be a marked unevenness in the geographic distribution of physicians."

The panel said the nation had 375,000 active physicians in 1978, almost 44,000 fewer than it needed.

But by 1990, it forecast, there will be 536,000, a surplus of 70,000. And at the turn of the century, the number will grow to 643,000, or 145,000 more than needed, the report said.

The ratio of physicians to population, which was 171 per 100,000 in 1978, will jump to 220 per 100,000 in 1990 and 247 per 100,000 in 2000, it said. With 67,000 students now in the nation's 126 medical schools, the report said no new schools should be opened. And it recommended that by 1984 the schools cut new enrollments at least 10 percent from the 1978-79 class or 17 percent from this fall's class.

At the same time, however, the panel urged caution not to thwart efforts to enroll more minorities.

But it said the number of foreign medical school graduates allowed to practice in this country should be severely restricted. The 40,000 to 50,000 foreign graduates expected to begin practice here in the 1980s account for the bulk of the projected surplus, the report said.

It said that to encourage students to become primary-care physicians rather than surgical specialists, the early phase of medical school should emphasize "a broad-based clinical experience" and put "a more vigorous and imaginative emphasis...on ambulatory care."

The report said medical graduates over the next decade should be urged to enter either specialties where shortages are expected by 1990 — such as child psychiatry, emergency medicine, preventive medicine or general psychiatry — or the primary-care fields of pediatrics, internal medicine and family practice.

It also urged that government fees for general practitioners be the same as for specialists, who now are paid more.

KNOW YOUR CARRIER

Stefanie St. Hilaire

Stefanie St. Hilaire is a sixth grader at Goliad where she plays in the school band. After school she has a job that takes up a few hours of her time each week. She manages Herald Route 246.

A Herald carrier is a very important part of the newspaper, for without carriers like Stephanie to deliver the paper, all of the Herald staff's efforts would be useless. Not only do the people who work at the Herald depend on Stephanie, but so do the different grocery stores, department stores, and other companies in town.

Carriers are also important to their subscribers by making sure the newspaper gets delivered to these customers daily.

Stephanie delivers the Herald to homes on the 500-900 blocks of Dallas, 500-800 Edwards and Hillside, 600-700 Mathews, and the 700 block of Texas. The profits she makes from her route are put into savings.

She is an avid swimmer, having won several awards in the sport. Stephanie is eleven years old and has a twin sister who is also a Herald carrier. They are the daughters of Dr. and Mrs. G.J. St. Hilaire of 902 Mountain Park Drive.

If you have children who are interested in learning to manage a business and earn money, call 263-7331 or stop by the Herald Circulation Department for a route application.

AWARD RECIPIENT — Dan Ramirez, CETA Youth Program Director, is shown presenting a Certificate of Excellence to Dora Garcia, outstanding young CETA worker of the 1980 summer program. The ceremony took place in the office of Donn Stringer, Glasscock County superintendent. Dora, a 16-year-old junior, was selected from among 73 participants in Howard and Glasscock counties for the honor. Dora attended the CETA-Howard College pre-vocational career workshop for eight weeks, then worked at the Division of Continued Education at Howard College for the remainder of the summer.

Probated term for child abuse

SWEETWATER — Myra Lee Harris of Sweetwater has been convicted in 32nd District Court here of injury to a child and sentenced to serve 20 years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Harris, 21, was also fined $10,000 by a jury.

The charge came following the December, 1979, death of the defendant's seven-month-old daughter, Myra Kay Harris.

Mrs. Harris' husband, is already serving a 20-year sentence after pleading guilty to injury to a child in connection with his daughter's death.
