Orthopedic surgeon opens new offices

By CAROL HART
 Dr. Carroll T. Moore, a local orthopedic surgeon, has moved his offices to 1700 W. FM 700, southwest of Malone-Hogan Hospital and Clinic.

Dr. Moore had been conducting his practice out of a mobile home behind Malone-Hogan since Jan. 1, 1979, and made the move into the new building several days ago.

Prior to opening his own offices, Dr. Moore was a staff physician at Malone-Hogan, coming to the hospital directly from the Army.

A native of San Antonio, Dr. Moore graduated from Jefferson High School there, and attended the University of Texas at Austin. He obtained his medical degree from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas in 1967, and served as an intern at University Hospital in Jackson, Miss.

Dr. Moore did his residency at Queen's Medical Center in Honolulu, and Tripler Army Medical Center, also in Honolulu. He served as a resident in orthopedic surgery at Crippled Children's Hospital in Tempe, Ariz., and is licensed by the National Board of Medical Examiners in Texas and Hawaii.

While he was at Queen's Hospital, he served as emergency room physician, and received on-the-job training in orthopedic surgery at General Leonard Wood Army Hospital, Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. He served as chief of orthopedic surgery while stationed at Fort Leonard Wood.

Dr. Moore and his wife, Danna, are active in the First Methodist Church, and he serves on the Board of Directors for the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and the Girl Scout Council.

Mrs. Moore, a graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio, is actively involved with the Community Concert series, and several other city organizations. She also works part-time in his offices in the bookkeeping department.

The couple have two children, Jenny Malia, 7, and Craig Truett, 3.

The new building occupied by Dr. Moore includes an X-ray area, a cast room doubling as a minor treatment room, a reception area, private office and four examining rooms. Land for the building was purchased from the Hospital Corporation of America.

Working with Dr. Moore, in addition to his wife, are Nadine Lambright, a certified surgical technologist; Peggy Crooks, office manager; Barbara Reilly, secretary-receptionist; and Janie McLaughlin, X-ray technician.

Seeking to unseat Republicans

Demos developing 'hit list'

WASHINGTON — Some House Democrats are setting up a "hit list" of conservative Republicans they want unseated in 1992.

The attack plan emerged from a post-election flurry of activity in which Democratic congressmen met among themselves and with their leadership in an attempt to strengthen their party.

Spearheading the campaign is Connecticut Democratic Rep. Toby Moffett, who would like to target a small group of right-wing Republicans.

Moffett said Friday "the list is not yet drawn up," but added "you can be sure there will be names and they will be very specific persons."

The approach is similar to the one taken by the National Conservative Political Action Committee, worked to unseat Democrats, spending about $3.2 million.

Some of the congressmen who have participated in the sessions include Reps. James Shannon, D-Mass., Robert Edgar, D-Penn., Charlie Rose, D-N.C., Floyd Fithian, R-Ind., Nyche Fowler, D-Ga., Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., Tony Colbo, D-Calif., Timothy Wirth, D-Colo., and Tom Harkin, D-Iowa.

The Democrat's loss of control of the Senate and the White House prompted House members to hold strategy sessions with House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill and Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Tex. Neither could be reached for comment Friday.

"Since election day the focal point of all the Democratic Party (has been) in the House of Representatives," said Shannon. "What we are saying is we can't afford the fragmentation that has existed in the past. We don't have a president to look to. We don't have a senate...we're it."

"We ought to take a lesson from the effectiveness of the Republicans this election," Miller said. "There's obviously been some discussion that they have people who are also vulnerable."

Included in the liberal's game plan is financial support of candidates challenging Republican conservatives.

Funds may be made available since the Democratic National Committee is mounting an aggressive fundraising effort for 1982 Treasurer Peter Kelly of the DNC said the committee will call on unseated Democratic senators to undertake major fundraising efforts throughout the country.

The DNC will join forces with liberal Sen. George McGovern's proposed Coalition for Common Sense, Kelly said. McGovern was defeated in his reelection bid this year after he was targeted by so-called New Night political organizations.

But a separate group of conservative Democrats, largely from the south, are vying for a more active role and have also met with O'Neill.

Who are the Democrats? The party, it will be remembered, is the one that lost the White House, lost its seats in the House.

A character in the discontinued comic strip Pogo once said "We have met the enemy and he is us," and Charles Stenholm (D-Tex.) was not too far off when he paused outside the Speaker's dining room in the House last Tuesday: "The loyal opposition of the party is in control."

The words came after a meeting with Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill, an old-line Massachusetts liberal who has spent the weeks since the election tugged by the left and right both in and out of his party. First came a meeting with House Democratic Liberals more than a week ago in the southern Maryland home of Californian Pete Stark. Toby Moffett of Connecticut was there, along with Tim Wirth of Colorado and James Shannon of Massachusetts.

Sources say the meeting was both a mourning over political losses and a planning session of ways to keep the liberal bloc solid and informed of issues. There was also discussion of a possible "hit list" of Republican members who should be targeted for defeat in 1992.

There is no indication what part O'Neill will play in this planning, although he has attended at least two of the four or more meetings of the group.

Upstairs, the lame duck Congress was going through the last days of his life and the center section where a group of Texas freshmen sat quickly together was empty, perhaps for good.

Next it was the conservative's turn with O'Neill, a group with no mourning to do and two years to turn their party around.

"The Speaker realizes the party must moderate. He can't help it," said Leath, after the conservative's meeting.

O'Neill lingered in the dining room after the session early last week and Stenholm stood in his boots in the hall and predicted a fight.

"One area where conservatives have been derelict is in the direction of the party and this we intend to change," Stenholm said. "We are prepared to meet the liberal element on the political battlefield and fight to gain their control over the party that they have held so long."

Another wildcat has been scheduled in Howard County.

Regal Development Inc., Eldorado, will drill the No. 1 Florence Hall, a 7,600-foot wildcat and as a 3 1/2-mile south and slightly east outpost to the upper Wolfcamp oil opener and lone producer from that pay, a 1 1/2-mile outpost to the two-well Clearfork oil area and as a 3/4-mile west-southwest outpost to Wolfcamp oil production in the Hutto, South field of Howard County, eight miles southeast of Big Spring.

Oldest divorcee?

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — Harold Bidwell, 101-years-young, says he is looking for a new bride after divorcing his wife Lucy, 65, "because she wasn't domesticated enough." They married when he was 92.

"At my age, I need care and comfort," Bidwell said, adding that he is seeking a place in the Guinness Book of Records as Britain's oldest divorcee.

He was granted a divorce on grounds the marriage had broken down because Lucy walked out when he complained about the way she did the housework.

Oil, gas price lids on way out

Breeder reactors making comeback

WASHINGTON (AP) — Breeder reactors are making a comeback. Oil and gas price controls are on their way out. Drilling on federal lands and on the Outer Continental Shelf is in. And gasoline rationing? Don't even think about it.

That's how the energy legislation picture is shaping up as President-elect Ronald Reagan prepares to take office and Republicans get ready to take over the Senate in January.

The new, heavily conservative 97th Congress is likely to be far more energy production-oriented than its predecessor and far less sympathetic to legislation designed to force conservation.

"We will tend toward those programs that recognize that the government doesn't produce energy and isn't a very good program director," said Sen. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, who takes over from Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., as chairman of the Senate Energy Committee in January. "We will reduce the controls. We will tend toward a freer market."

Reagan is likely to have an easier time getting his energy bills through Congress than did President Carter.

Some of Carter's major energy initiatives — including a proposed 50-cent-a-gallon tax on excess gasoline consumption in 1977 and a trimmed-down 10-cent-a-gallon version in 1980 — were overwhelmingly repudiated on Capitol Hill.

But the energy dilemmas that haunted Carter's four years will confront Ronald Reagan as well — many in the first year of his term.

The basic law governing petroleum prices and distribution and giving the president power to deal with energy shortages — the Energy Production and Conservation Act — expires in mid-1981.

Without the law, a president's ability to manage serious shortages would be sharply limited — just around the time that shortages from the Iran-Iraq war might develop, if that conflict persists.

And even though Reagan and other GOP candidates campaigned for deregulation, it is doubtful they would allow all controls to expire.

Even McClure says he expects a renewal of some energy controls when they all expire next Sept. 30.

He said the current standby rationing plan — which took two years of negotiations between the White House and Congress to draft — will almost surely be junked in favor of one with a higher "trigger" than the 20 percent shortage required to set the plan in motion.

McClure also said he expects more development of resources in federal lands in the West and in offshore fields soon, and more state and local control over these federally owned areas.

And, nuclear energy, dealt a double blow by the 1978 Three Mile Island accident and Carter's diminishing of its role in the nation's energy mix, is likely to undergo a revival under the Republicans. The breeder reactor — which Carter sought to kill, saying it would lead to proliferation of weapons-grade nuclear material — likely will be one of the first beneficiaries.

Breeders have the potential to produce more fuel than they consume.

Horsing around Of Kennedy assassination
at roadside rest

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — It's not quite home on the range, but horses traveling through western Oregon soon will have a place to take a load off their hoofs.

A rest area for horses has been built off Interstate 5 about 12 miles south of Salem for horse-haulers who otherwise would have to find friendly farmers or nearby fairgrounds to rest and water their steeds. The rest area will be dedicated Tuesday.

"Oregon will be the first to have one on a major national highway," said Earl Flick, 78, of Salem, who spearheaded the effort to establish the rest stop. "I know of no state that has a rest stop for horses in conjunction with a people rest stop," Flick said Friday.

The equestrian lounging area is a corral 80 by 120 feet. Flick said the horse stop has a hitching bar and owners can exercise their mounts or let them roam. The corral was built on unused state land behind the Santiam Rest Area.

A group of Oregon equestrian clubs helped build the stop and will clean up after messy horses, say Highway Division officials.

Heritage Museum will be closed for the Thanksgiving Holidays.

Special groups visiting the museum recently were a group of 50 kindergarten students from Coahoma School with their teachers Linda Dick and Karen Helton.

Due to last weekend's inclement weather which interfered with the autograph party at Heritage Museum, honoring Joe Pickle, the museum will host another autograph party, Sunday, Dec. 7, from 1 to 5 p.m., at which time Mr. Pickle will autograph copies of his book, "Gettin' Started: An early history of Big Spring, according to Gerri Atwell, curator.

Out-of-town guests and their hosts visiting the museum recently included: Dr. Richard Deats of Nyack, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Baggett of Crowley, Tex., all former residents, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Moody. Richard Deats is a nephew of Martha Deats Moody. Jean Ezeard and her States News Service WASHINGTON — An overwhelming number of Texas congressmen say there is no concrete evidence of a conspiracy in the John F. Kennedy assassination and they stress there should be no further investigation, a States News Service poll on the 17th anniversary of the murder reveals.

The poll is a sharp rejoinder to the House Assassinations Committee which said last year there was a 95 percent chance of a conspiracy and asked for Justice Department to investigate the assassination.

A Justice spokesman this week said department officials have not decided whether to pursue the case. Congressional sentiment will undoubtedly play an important role in the decision. If the Texas delegation is any indicator, the case could be dead in the water.

"There has been no evidence to convince me that the Warren Commission erred. I can't see spending any more of the taxpayer's money on another investigation," said Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, who was representative of his colleagues' feelings.

Twenty three of the twenty six member delegation here participated in the poll. Nine congressmen said Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone assassin of President Kennedy, as the Warren Commission concluded in 1964. Seven members said they were not sure, but indicated there was no solid evidence of conspiracy.

Three Texas legislators — including former House Assassinations Committee Chairman Henry Gonzalez, D-San Antonio — said they believed the Billings was a conspiracy.

Four congressmen had no comment. Opinion polls have shown for several years the public believes more than one person was involved in the JFK assassinations. Different Warren Commission critics have pinned the murder on a number of groups, including the Mafia, the CIA, Fidel Castro and the Soviet Union.

Recently, a House Assassinations Committee investigator reported in a Washington magazine that Oswald frequently was seen with an unknown CIA agent in the weeks before the assassination.

But Texas' legislators say the case for conspiracy is built on hearsay and rumor.

"If it had been a conspiracy, 'they' would have never let Oswald run all over town after the assassination," said Rep. Richard White, D-El Paso. "He went to a movie, got into a fight with a policeman, went home. They would have killed him immediately before he could talk."

White, a former Marine infantryman, says Oswald passed up what would have been his best shot and this shows he was not a cold, calculating hired gun.

"The motorcade went by, right under his window at the Police seize antiquities

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Police raided a warehouse owned by a retired government employee and netted thousands of antiquities dating back to the days of the Pharaohs and valued at about $10.4 million, the Cairo daily Al Ahram reported today.

The paper did not identify the warehouse owner but said one of the objects police seized was a statue that weighed 1½ tons.

Texas School Book Depository Building, and he didn't fire," White explained. "He waited until it went down the street. He was a loner."

Rep. Sam Hall, D-Marshall, said the House Assassinations Committee did not uncover any new evidence to refute the Warren Commission.

The Assassinations Committee performed a scientific test on an audio recording of the assassination, made inadvertently by a Dallas motorcycle policeman who had left his walkie-talkie operating. In 1963, Dallas police headquarters made tapes of all police transmissions.

After examining the sound waves of the tape, investigators estimated a 95 percent chance that at least four shots were fired at Kennedy. One bullet, they said, probably came from the infamous "grassy knoll," which is across the street from where the president's motorcade passed. Oswald, everyone agrees, could not have fired more than three shots in the time available.

The Justice Department spokesman said the National Academy of Sciences is conducting an independent investigation of the recording.

Three Texas congressmen said the Dallas police tape, coupled with reports that Oswald was involved with U.S. intelligence agencies, convinced them JFK was murdered by a conspiracy.

"Oswald was seen with some mysterious figures right until the very end," said Gonzalez, who was in the Kennedy motorcade 17 years ago. "But there is no reason to believe that the intelligence agencies will ever tell about their role with Oswald and (Jack) Ruby (who killed Oswald)."

Gonzalez urged the Justice Department to investigate, but his Texas colleagues strongly disagreed.

Seventeen said the Justice Department should not pursue the matter, including Rep. Ron Paul, R-Lake Jackson, who thinks there was a conspiracy.

"It would be a waste of time. All of these investigations have just confused things, not clarified them," Paul said.

Gonzalez, Paul and Rep. Joe Wyatt said there was a conspiracy.

Today about half your electricity is made from lignite coal.

And a good thing, too, because our biggest contract for low-cost natural gas (which we also use to make your electricity) expires this year.

This contract has been in effect for almost 20 years. It's helped us keep the cost of electricity lower here than in many other parts of the country.

Next year when we have to start paying much more for natural gas, electricity is going to cost more. There's no way around it.

But your bill won't be as high as it would be if we weren't making about half your electricity with economical, abundant lignite coal from Texas.

Indian hunting site in Maine believed 11,000 years old

By DONALD J. FREDERICK
National Geographic
News Service
AZISCOHOS LAKE, Maine — A paleo-Indian site almost 11,000 years old, complete with a hearth and thousands of stone tools, has been excavated in a dry lake bed in western Maine.

Discovery of a nearby killing ground where animals were speared by the Indians makes the site on remote Aziscohos Lake unique in the East, according to archeologist Richard Michael Gramly of the Maine State Museum, who directed the excavation. "Similar paleo-Indian habitations have been found in the East, but they've never been accompanied by a killing ground," he explained. The hunting area yielded four complete fluted or grooved spear points "in mint-sharp condition" and tip sections of six more. The intrepid hunters built their first fires in the area in the shadow of a waning ice age. Most of the great ice sheets had retreated to central Canada 11,000 years ago, although scattered remnants may have lingered in the highlands around the site. Gramly pointed out that the climate at the 1,600-foot-high encampment, surrounded even today by wild hilly country, was comparable to the weather encountered at 7,000 to 8,000 feet in the Rockies or similar mountainous regions in Alaska. "We can now infer," he said, "that no part of the eastern United States was off-limits to these prehistoric peoples just because of a harsh environment." Supported by the National Geographic Society, the archeologist uncovered more than 13,000 stone artifacts at the site. Almost half of them were shaped into tools such as spear

Legionnaire's disease simple form of pneumonia

LONDON, Ontario (AP) — Legionnaire's disease, the mystery ailment that killed 28 people in Philadelphia in the summer of 1976 and has since claimed several victims worldwide, is a simple form of pneumonia, that can in most cases be cured with proper treatment, a Canadian chest specialist says.

London, Ontario, said in an interview Friday that the disease is more unusual and more severe than pneumonia. But when identified and treated with a specific antibiotic, most people recover, he said. The mortality rate with treatment has dropped to 5 percent from 15 percent, and many of those who died were old and in fragile health when they caught it, he said.

financial planning FICA TAX-A WHOPPER

The 1981 earnings subject to FICA (Social Security) axes will increase to $29,700 compared with $25,900 for 1980. In addition to the increase in wage base, the percentage of FICA withholding for the employee has increased from 6.13 to 6.65.

An employee earning the maximum in 1980 paid $1587.67. That will increase to $1975.05 in 1981; an increase of $387.37. The employer, of course, must match the employee's contribution.

A self-employed individual has the same $29,700 maximum for contributions, but he will pay 9.3 percent in 1981 compared with 8.1 percent for 1980. The self-employed person will pay a maximum in 1981 of $2762.10 compared with $2097.90 for 1980, an increase of $664.20.

The only real planning opportunity in relation to these contributions is for the self-employed person. If you are currently operating as a self-employed individual or a working partner, you will pay 9.3 percent for 1981. If you choose to incorporate your business you will be an employee of that business, and will be treated as your own employer as well. You would be subject to 6.65 as an employee and a matching 6.65 as an employer, for a total of 13.3 percent. Compared to the 9.3 percent self-employment rate for 1981, this gives you a 4 percent excess. The FICA "penalty," therefore, is $1188 for each "working shareholder" earning the maximum amount.

Remember that your benefits under the Social Security laws are determined by the wage base on which you make your contribution and not by the total dollars you contribute.

All other things being equal, the proprietor who chooses to incorporate could contribute $1188 more per year for no additional added benefits. This is one of the tax consequences that must be reviewed in determining whether you should operate your business as a corporation.

Inspectors score

Central Texas cattle theft ring cracked

FORT WORTH — Field inspectors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association literally caught "red-handed" suspects in a Central Texas cattle theft ring as they worked stolen cattle in a pasture near Fairfield, Texas, recently, says Don C. King, TSCRA secretary-general manager in Fort Worth.

Statements given to authorities by two suspects tie the ring to the theft of 81 head of cattle, four trailers, 190 square bales of hay, one posthole digger and three spare tires. A fair market value for the stolen goods has not been assessed.

The Freestone County grand jury issued indictments Nov. 10 against Danny Robert Cockerell, 33; lendell Small, 35; and C.E. "Bud" Robinson, 36, all of Fairfield, for cattle theft under $10,000. The suspects are accused of stealing two cows and eight yearlings in Fairfield from Jim Weaver of Irving, on or about Sept. 7. The cattle were sold at a Groesbeck livestock auction market. They are also accused of stealing 10 head of cattle, all yearlings, in Fairfield from Mrs. Naomi Bock of Houston. These cattle were traced to the auction market at Hubbard, Texas.

In Williamson County, Texas, Cockerell, Small and Carolyn J. White, 27, of Fairfield, face cattle theft charges under $10,000. These charges are for the theft of 46 head of heifers and steers from the Taylor livestock auction market Sept. 24. The calves, which averaged 650 pounds, carried the brand of their owner, W.A. Prewitt, a Bell County rancher who had consigned them for sale. Insurance agents place the value of the cattle at $19,136.

Twenty head of the Prewitt cattle were resold in the name of one of the suspects at a Buffalo, Texas, livestock auction Sept. 27. TSCRA inspectors have recovered 11 of them.

Identification was made by matching the brands with those recorded at the auction by TSCRA brand inspectors. TSCRA, who has the responsibility of brand inspection at all 185 Texas auction markets, has a network of brand inspectors stationed throughout the state. They are backed by 32 field inspectors, all certified peace officers, and the TSCRA computer in Fort Worth. This network collects brand information on more than six million head of cattle in Texas annually.

Two gooseneck trailers belonging to Don Schiller of Taylor were also stolen and later abandoned in Madison County, Texas. The trailers, valued at $3,000 each by their owner, have been recovered.

One suspect has given a statement admitting to the theft of 15 head of cattle and a stock trailer from the Bowie, Texas, livestock auction Oct. 7. Nine head were sold in Georgetown, Texas, at the local auction. Six head were in the pasture near Fairfield when TSCRA inspectors arrested the suspects. The trailer was recovered in Fairfield Oct. 31 by TSCRA.

The suspects have also been implicated in the theft of a flatbed trailer and post-hole digger from Groveton, Texas, in Trinity County. TSCRA recovered this trailer and equipment Nov. 1.

They have also been linked to the theft of 190 bales of hay from Warren Awall of Fairfield.

Cockerell has been released on bond, but faces warrants from Trinity and Montague counties. White has made bond, while Robinson and Small remain in jail at this time.

"The investigation is continuing and more cases may be cleared," King said. "More warrants are expected on the suspects."

Investigating officers were TSCRA Field Inspectors James Gregory of Fairfield; R.B. Wilson of Buda, Texas; Eddie Foreman of Hewitt, Texas; Larry Burnett of Graham, Texas; Williamson County Sheriff Jim Boutwell and Williamson County Chief Investigator Ray Hardison.

AFA reminds seniors of essays deadline

LUBBOCK — Second Lt. Steve MacLaird, the new Scholarship Awards Committee Chairman for the Lubbock, Chapter of the Air Force Association (AFA), is reminding all high school seniors in the State of Texas that the deadline for submitting essays to compete for $2,000 worth of college scholarships prizes is Nov. 30.

MacLaird stated that this year the number of essays already submitted for the Texas AFA-Earle North Parker Scholarships has exceeded the number of entries submitted by this time during past years. "This situation may reflect an increased interest in the military on the part of the civilian community that has been generated by political events throughout the world during the past few years, and by the issues raised recently during our national election." Lt. MacLaird commented. "Whatever the reason," he concluded, "We are pleased with this year's increased response." Lt. MacLaird then reiterated that all high school seniors in the State of Texas have an opportunity to compete for the three cash scholarships to be awarded for the best essays submitted during the statewide contest sponsored by the AFA. Each essay should be original, and from 500 to 600 words long, and should be written on the topic: "National Defense ... Whose Responsibility?"

The three scholarships awarded by AFA Texas will be worth $1,000, $750, and $250, respectively to the first, second, and third place winners. Any high school senior wishing to enter the contest and needing an official entry form should contact MacLaird at PSC Box 8246, Reese AFB, Texas, 79489.

"There's no question that the stone used to manufacture the tools at the habitation site came from this ridge," he said. "It's just a question of time until we can find the workshops."

Last year the archeologist had great success finding such workshops at Mount Jasper, a small mountain rising above the mill town of Berlin, N.H. Indians began digging into a cliff near Jasper's summit 7,000 years ago.

DDT still an enemy

Comeback of peregrine falcon turns out to be cliffhanger

By SUSAN LOTH
National Geographic News Service
NEW YORK — Four young falcons have been starting in a drama above the skyscrapers of Manhattan. The peregrine falcon, an aerial acrobat that was almost done in by DDT, is staging a comeback here.

It's all part of a far-reaching program to rebuild populations of this endangered bird of prey. The plan combines elements of poultry-raising with the ancient sport of falconry to breed birds in captivity, then release them to reproduce in the wild.

Manhattan is better known for wild living than wildlife. Why did the Peregrine Fund and its co-sponsors build an aerial atop a 17-story building?

"It's an artificial cliff," explained Laura Woods, one of two Cornell University seniors who looked after the birds. "Maybe it's even better, because there are no great horned owls to attack the young. The peregrines have plenty of pigeons for prey, and water, sunshine, and air — that's about all they need."

The peregrine falcon, Falco peregrinus, is probably the world's fastest animal and a veritable Red Baron. It feeds on other birds, preferring to launch its attack from heights. In a steep dive that can reach 200 miles an hour, the peregrine zeroes in and strikes with powerful, taloned feet. It may even do a loop and pick up its prey in midair.

Although full-sized, with wingspans of about 3 feet, New York's peregrines hadn't mastered hunting at age 8 weeks.

They were chasing birds from behind, not from above. "Give them a few weeks and they'll catch on," promised Miss Woods' partner, Alice Chow.

Above her flew the lone tiercel (male), distinguishable from his three "sisters" because male birds of prey are about one-third smaller. Two falcons perched on nearby rooftops within sight of their hawk box.

Hacking is a falconry method in which a bird is allowed to fly free, but is given food until it learns to hunt.

In late July, the 5-week-old peregrines were placed in a screen-fronted plywood box atop the Manhattan life Insurance Building on West 57th Street. The screen kept them out of trouble while they got used to their surroundings. Students monitored them through a one-way mirror and fed them chicken through a food chute, so the birds wouldn't think of humans as their feeders.

After a week, the screen was removed. Researchers kept track of their charges from a neighboring skyscraper terrace using binoculars, a telescope, and tiny radio transmitters attached to the birds' legs.

The bird that students nicknamed Millie — after the "Star Wars" spacecraft Millennium Falcon — soon found herself in a tight spot. "On one of her first flights she headed for a ledge and disappeared," Miss Woods said. Radio signals from Millie's transmitter let the attendants track and rescue the falcon from an air shaft she'd fallen into.

The radio transmitters were removed when the birds were 8 weeks old, but they still wear the aluminum legbands that identify them for research. Food was left at the hawk box until the birds were 12 weeks old. But even before that, Peregrine Fund Director Dr. Thomas Cade saw one of the falcons fly from Central Park to a rooftop bearing a freshly-killed pigeon.

As late as the 1940s, wild peregrines called Manhattan home; some nested outside the St. Regis Hotel suite of "Gone With the Wind" actress Olivia de Havilland. But soon many of the nation's peregrines were gone or close to extinction.

In 1946 the pesticide DDT came into wide use in the United States. DDE, a long-lived breakdown product of DDT, entered the food chain — from insects to birds — and upset the calcium balance in the falcon's blood. Falcons soon were laying eggs so thin-shelled that they broke before hatching.

By the time scientists figured out what was happening, peregrines had disappeared from the Eastern United States. A few survived in the Rockies, and a larger number in Alaska. Two subspecies, the anatum and tundra peregrines, were declared endangered in 1970. Federal restrictions on DDT were put into effect two years later.

Wild birds were having such a hard time reproducing that falcon fans decided to lend a hand. The Peregrine Fund's hawk barn at Cornell, in Ithaca, N.Y., began experiments in captive breeding in 1970. Its first birds hatched in 1973, and large-scale releases along the East Coast began in 1975.

The western branch of the Peregrine Fund, at its breeding facility in Fort Collins, Colo., used incubators to hatch both captive-bred eggs and wild eggs taken from nests. By removing a clutch of eggs, said western manager Bill Burnham, workers could stimulate peregrines to produce a second clutch. Or they could substitute dummy eggs to keep the parent birds occupied until the thin-shelled eggs were safely hatched and the young were returned to the aerie.

Since 1975 the Peregrine Fund, in joint projects with government agencies and private groups, has released more than 450 birds from sites as diverse as Western mountaintops, hacking towers in marshlands, and rooftops in Baltimore, Washington, and Norfolk, Va.

The young peregrines face tough odds after release. "We lose about 50 percent in the first year," said Cade, who is exploring ways to reduce the toll. Perhaps fewer than one in three survives to breeding age of about 3 years.

Some of those survivors became parents this year. Two captive-bred pairs in New Jersey coastal marshes successfully raised four chicks — the first Eastern peregrines born in the wild in more than 20 years.

Captive-bred birds have mated with wild peregrines and raised young in Quebec and southern Colorado. In Baltimore, a duo named Scarlett and Rhett were paired too late to produce fertile eggs, but they adopted captive-bred chicks.

The battle is expensive and slow, Cade concedes. The cost of raising a peregrine for release, once estimated at $2,000, is now "much, much more," Cade said. The Eastern program might be able in the next 10 years to establish 40 pairs of birds, a small fraction of the goal.

And the DDT problem lingers on, especially for Western peregrines in their wintering grounds. "A great deal of DDT is now being used, particularly on cotton and crops in the Mexican lowlands," Cade said. "We suspect they're picking up a great deal of contamination there."

Soap opera vs. Texas opera

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Promoters of the Texas Opera Company were not about to be upstaged by a soap opera, so they came up with an offer for "Dallas" fans who were going to stay home to watch TV and find out who shot J.R. Ewing.

Ticket sales had been slow for a Friday night performance of "Cinderella," which was scheduled to end at the same time that "Dallas" would be over.

So opera sponsors announced Thursday the popular television show would be videotaped and shown after the opera, with refreshments.

About one-fifth of the 500 people who saw "Cinderella" bought their tickets after that announcement, said Sandi Kallenberg, president of the Shreveport Regional Arts Council.

And about a hundred people gathered after the performance around the television in the lobby, drinking punch and munching cheese and watching the saga of the oil-rich Ewing family.

Attorney says police lineup publicity stunt

HOUSTON (AP) — Charles V. Harrelson's appearance in a police lineup was just a publicity stunt staged by federal investigators unable to find the killer of a federal judge, says an attorney.

Harrelson's attorney, Bob Tarrant, protested his client's appearance in a lineup Thursday before seven women, labeling the incident a "farce, circus and show staged to hassle the new media."

Tarrant reminded reporters Friday that Harrelson had been cleared of any connection with the slaying of U.S. District John H. Wood, Jr. 17 months ago.

"Charles Harrelson was in a Dallas bank at the time of the shooting and there are five witnesses to testify to that. There was no reason he was taken to the Houston police station for a lineup. It was a waste of taxpayers' time and money," the attorney said.

Wood, nicknamed "Maximum John" for his stiff penalties on drug cases, was gunned down outside his posh San Antonio townhouse early on the morning of May 29, 1979.

The judge had been scheduled to preside at the drug smuggling trial of Jamie Chagra on the day he was killed. Chagra, a professional gambler from Las Vegas, now is serving a 30-year prison sentence.

No arrests have been made and no charges filed in the case. However, sources close to the investigation told The Associated Press that authorities "may be close to a solution."

Thursday's lineup was one of four conducted in the assassination and the attempted slaying of former Assistant U.S. Attorney James Kerr, who had prosecuted several drug cases in Wood's court.

Harrelson, 42, was brought from the Harris County jail to the police station under tight security. He was surrounded by armed officers as he was escorted into the station.

Tarrant, however, claimed that linking Harrelson to the Wood investigation again was "just publicity in an attempt to justify the millions of dollars spent by the FBI in the investigation of this case."

When asked if he had any idea who might have slain Wood, Tarrant sharply replied, "Oh no. I don't know and I don't care."

In October 1979, Harrelson appeared before a San Antonio grand jury investigating Wood's death. He said later he knew nothing about the shooting.

Harrelson, 42, was arrested in Houston earlier this year on a drug and gambling paraphernalia charge. He failed to appear at a court hearing last July and later was arrested in the West Texas community of Van Horn.

Pickle-Bentsen amendment to save UT $350 million

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Four Texas members of Congress will be honored by the University of Texas Dec. 11 for their part in saving the Permanent University Fund from the Windfall Profits Tax.

The UT system announced Friday that a special black-tie dinner will be hosted by the UT board of regents and the chancellor to honor Sens. Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower and Reps. J.J. (Jake) Pickle and Bill Archer. More than 1,000 UT supporters will attend from throughout the state.

Dan Williams, chairman of the UT system board of regents, noted that the Pickle-Bentsen amendment to the Windfall Profits Tax will save the Permanent University Fund about $350 million in taxes over the 10-year lifetime of the act.

"The determination and untiring efforts of Reps. Pickle and Archer and Sens. Tower and Bentsen have, in effect, added $350 million to the university's permanent fund. Payment of the windfall tax would have been devastating to the income that the UT system depends on for enrichment and expansion. Their efforts have exempted us from the tax and, consequently, all Texans will benefit," Williams said.

The Permanent University Fund is the permanent endowment of the UT System and Texas A&M University System. Its income comes from oil, gas and mineral royalties from the university's 2.1 million acres of land in West Texas. Last year, that income was more than $122 million.

Steinbrenner risk won't scare Michael

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Michael, following in the footsteps of so many, realizes the risk in working for New York Yankees owner George Steinbrenner, but he says it's worth it.

Michael became the fifth field manager of the Yankees in five years Friday, leaving his job as general manager to take over for Dick Howser, who resigned.

Howser's resignation was announced at an afternoon news luncheon in Steinbrenner's office at Yankee Stadium, less than a day after the manager made his decision to go into private business in his hometown of Tallahassee, Fla.

"I know there is some risk. I know there is some gamble," Michael said, "but it's a chance to do something in New York, and that's what I'm after."

On Friday, Michael signed a multi-year contract to manage the Yankees, Steinbrenner said. The owner said certain parts of the contract still remained to be ironed out, and he refused to be specific about terms.

Howser's resignation came after several weeks of speculation the manager was being forced out by Steinbrenner. Steinbrenner was openly critical of Howser after the American League playoffs, which the Yankees lost in three games to Kansas City.

He was particularly critical of Howser when he stood behind third base coach Mike Ferraro, who drew fire for allowing the potential tying run to be thrown out at the plate in the second game of the AL series.

"I enjoyed managing, but this other thing popped up," Howser said. "I couldn't do both. I was almost late getting in as it was. I pushed for 10 or 20 days to get in."

Howser said he could not get specific about his new job "because there are other people involved," but he did confirm it was in the area of real estate development. Howser also will stay on with the Yankees as supervisor of scouting in the Southeast.

Howser said a business group approached him after the season, and he met with them and with Steinbrenner several times, mulling over his decision until the right offer was made.

"As of right now, I'm perfectly happy with what I got," Howser said.

Steinbrenner added: "The door was open to Dick to return. He made the decision...if you only knew the deal he got. It's an unbelievable deal. I've been through every facet of it with him."

Still, Howser twice refused to comment on questions: when asked point blank if he resigned or was fired, and when asked if he was unable to accept conditions placed upon his return.

"If it didn't work out, maybe it was my fault. I don't know," said Steinbrenner, denying he had laid down any conditions for Howser. "But with what he's got now, he'll look back in five years and wonder why he ever wanted to coach."

"Dick and I had our differences. I won't hide that," Steinbrenner said, "but anyone that works with me has differences with me. That's just me."

In answer to a question, Steinbrenner replied: "Yes, Dick could still be manager of the Yankees if he wanted."

Steinbrenner said he would not hire a new general manager to replace Michael. Instead, executive vice president Cedric Tallis and Bill Bergesch, vice president for baseball operations, would handle Michael's front office duties.

A RING OF CONFIDENCE — Philadelphia Phillies first baseman Pete Rose shows off one of his two World Series rings during a news conference Thursday. He said the judges were right when they named him "Most Valuable Player" in 1975 and thinks they mistakenly overlooked him in the 1980 series.

Michigan gets Roses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John Wangler's 13-yard touchdown pass to Anthony Carter gave 10th-ranked Michigan a 9-3 victory over No. 5 Ohio State on Saturday for the Big Ten Conference football title and accompanying Rose Bowl berth.

The Wolverines, running their winning streak to eight games after a 1-2 start this season, will carry a 9-2 record against Pacific-10 champion Washington in the New Year's Day classic in Pasadena, Calif.

The Buckeyes wound up 9-2 and will face Penn State in the Fiesta Bowl Dec. 26 in Tempe, Ariz. A record Ohio Stadium crowd of 88,827 and millions more on regional television watched Wangler find Carter for the game's lone touchdown on a third-and-11 situation.

The Wolverines' quarterback found Carter just inside the end zone. The Michigan sophomore wide receiver jumped and caught the ball as Ohio State defensive back Bob Murphy cut in front of him, trying for an interception.

The bitter rivals traded first half field goals for a 3-3 standstill in the opening half.

Clemson stuns South Carolina

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Senior safety Willie Underwood ran an intercepted pass back 37 yards for a Clemson touchdown as the underdog Tigers upset 14th-ranked South Carolina 27-6 Saturday.

The aroused Clemson defense held the Gator Bowl-bound Gamecocks to a pair of field goals while its inspired offense exploded for 21 points in the second half.

In addition to Underwood's touchdown, quarterback Homer Jordan sneaked one yard late in the third period, and fullback Jeff McCall scored on a 15-yard run just before the game ended.

Tiger placekicker Obed Ariri set more records in Clemson's final game of the season as he kicked his 59th and 60th field goals from 41 and 47 yards out, both in the first half.

The loss dropped South Carolina's record to 8-3. Clemson finished 6-5.

MSU Bulldogs edge Ole Miss

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Freshman John Bond accounted for more than 300 yards and set up Michael Haddix' game-winning 10-yard touchdown run midway through the fourth quarter on a 54-yard pass completion as 17th-ranked Mississippi State trimmed Mississippi 19-14 in a Southeastern Conference football game Saturday.

The long pass play setting up the winning score went to Glen Young, who made the catch at the Ole Miss 40, eluded two defenders and raced to the Rebel 10 in the game played in a steady, drizzling rain.

On the next play, Haddix skirted right end for the touchdown with 7:40 left in the game.

The victory lifted State's record to 9-2, its best since the 1940 Bulldogs had a 9-0-1 mark before beating Georgetown in the 1941 Orange Bowl game. The victory also left State with a 5-1 conference record and assured it of a second-place finish.

duo of Amos Lawrence and Kelvin Bryant combined for four touchdowns and each went over the 1,000-yard mark for the season as the 15th-ranked Tar Heels beat Duke 44-21 and won the Atlantic Coast Conference football title Saturday.

Both backs rushed for more 100 yards against the Blue Devils. Lawrence rushed for 140 yards and one touchdown, becoming only the second man in NCAA history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in four consecutive seasons. Bryant had 199 yards and two touchdowns.

Lawrence went over the 1,000 mark with a 56-yard touchdown run. Bryant broke loose for 44 yards in the final period to pass the magic mark. Lawrence finishes the regular season with 1,117 and Bryant finishes with 1,039.

North Carolina, bound for the Bluebonnet Bowl and a match with Texas, wraps up the regular season 10-1 overall and 6-0 in the ACC. Duke finishes 2-9 and 1-5.

STRONG ARM — David Barrett (18) of the University of Houston grasp the face mask of Tate Randle (25) of Texas Tech University in an effort to shake the defender in the second quarter in Lubbock Saturday afternoon. No penalty was called on the first down play.

A & M drives past TCU

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M drove 99 yards in a steady drizzle, with Johnny Hector sprinting the final 32 yards for a touchdown as the Aggies defeated Texas Christian 13-10 in Southwest Conference Football on Saturday.

A&M's touchdown drive started on the second play of the fourth quarter after TCU punter Stan Talley had kicked 44 yards to the A&M 1-yard line.

On first down A&M quarterback David Beall threw 44 yards from his own end zone to halfback Earnest Jackson.

After Beall kept the drive alive by catching his own bobbled snapback in the air at the TCU 32, Hector exploded on fourth down behind a block by center David Bandy to score.

Hector, a 189 pound sophomore, gained a career high 191 yards on 37 carries in surpassing 100 yards rushing for a fourth consecutive game.

A&M scored its winning points after Leandrew Brown intercepted a pass by TCU quarterback Steve Stamp and returned it 12 yards to the TCU 35. On fourth down David Hardy kicked a 21-yard field goal to clinch the victory.

TCU scored its only touchdown with about three and a half minutes remaining in the fourth quarter when Stamp threw 34 yards to Phillip Epps in the end zone.

Aggie linebacker Bobby Stroger also intercepted Stamp in the second half and had a key first half tackle that enabled the Aggies to gain possession of the ball and kick a field goal for a 3-3 halftime tie.

The victory raised A&M's season record to 3-7 and its SWC mark to 2-5. TCU has won only one game — against conference foe Texas Tech — and lost 10.

UH Cougs SMU routs Hogs explode by Tech

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Houston quarterback Terry Elston winged twin touchdown passes and scored twice himself Saturday as the bowl-bound Cougars ravaged Southwest Conference rival Texas Tech 34-7.

The Cougars, tuning up for a Garden State Bowl date with Navy, mounted a swift 17-0 lead and unleashed a swarming, unruly defense to hoist their season record to 6-4.

With a 5-2 SWC record, Houston can clinch second place with a victory next week over Rice.

A shivering, wind-swept crowd of 36,386 watched Elston burn the Red Raiders with two short, swift scoring passes punctuated by the first of two field goals by David Humphreys.

Elston rifled a 5-yard TD shot to Mark Ford and a 2-yarder to Terald Clark as the Cougars rode a 17-0 first quarter cushion.

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Sophomore wide receiver Mitchell Bennett sped 106 yards on three end-around plays, including one for a 55-yard touchdown, as Southern Methodist demolished Arkansas 31-7 Saturday in a Southwest Conference game.

Quarterback Mike Ford, seeing his first action in five games, directed the Mustang triumph after freshman Lance McIlhenny was injured in the first quarter.

Holiday Bowl-bound SMU led only 10-7 at the half, but Arkansas punter Steve Cox underthrew a receiver on a fake punt at his own 31 in the third quarter and the Mustangs quickly wrapped up the game.

Craig James scored on a 3-yard run four plays later. James added a 22-yard touchdown run later in the quarter after SMU took over on downs at the Arkansas 48, and SMU moved 43 yards in six plays after a fumble to score on Eric Dickerson's 4-yard run.

Dickerson finished with 107 yards in 18 carries, James with 102 yards in 23 carries and Bennett with 106 yards in 3 carries, marking the first time in SMU history that three rushers have gained more than 100 yards.

Bennett went 21 yards on the end around to set up Eddie Garcia's 23-yard field goal in the first quarter, exploded on the 55-yard burst in the second quarter and darted 30 yards to set up James' second touchdown.

Arkansas, headed for the Hall of Fame Bowl, got its score on quarterback Tom Jones' 10-yard pass to Gary Stiggers in the final minute of the first half.

SMU raised its record to 8-3, its best year since the 1966 SWC championship team went 8-2. Arkansas fell for the fourth time in five games, evening its record at 5-5 with a game left against Texas Tech next week.

In league play, SMU is 5-3 and Arkansas is 2-5.

Tech fullback Wes Hightower blasted one yard for a TD in the second period, but Elston reopened the gap a short time later as he sneaked two yards on a fourth down scoring play.

Elston sliced 20 yards through the Raider defense for a second score in the third quarter.

The Raiders, with victories over bowl teams Texas and Southern Methodist, contributed mightily to their own demise, once collecting 48 yards in penalties during a single possession.

Their record dropped to 5-5 and 3-4.

Elston took 50 yards in nine plays and provided a 12-yard gainer on his own as the Cougars launched the landslide on their opening drive.

End Leo Truss broke through to block a Tech punt to give Houston the ball at the 25 and to set up the second aerial TD to Clark, all but unattended in the end zone.

A shanked punt led to a 29-yard Raider TD drive, but Elston guided Houston 80 yards in nine plays to hike the half-time lead to 24-7.

Houston rolled up 301 yards of total offense, while limiting Tech to 130.

UCLA wins on wild play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Backup UCLA quarterback Jay Schroeder hooked up with tailback Freeman McNeil on a 58-yard pass play with 2:07 remaining Saturday to lift 18th ranked UCLA to 20-17 Pacific-10 Conference football victory over cross-town rival Southern California.

A crowd of 83,491 at the Los Angeles Coliseum and a nationwide television audience watched as Schroeder's pass to McNeil was deflected off the hands of Southern Cal defensive back Jeff Fisher at about the USC 40-yard line. McNeil gathered in the ball and raced down the left sideline untouched for the winning touchdown.

The triumph snapped a four-game UCLA losing streak against the 12th-ranked Trojans. The Bruins are now 4-2 in Pac-10 play and 8-2 overall. USC dropped to 4-2-1 in conference action and 7-2-1 for the season.

Klondike uses big second quarter for bi-district triumph

SWEETWATER — The Klondike Cougars used three second-quarter touchdowns and then held on despite a Knox City rally to claim a 20-12 win in a Class A bi-district football battle here Friday night.

The win vaults Coach Mickey Finley's Cougar team, now 10-1 on the year, into a regional battle next week against Valley. Knox City ends its season with a mark of 8-2-1.

Klondike's first touchdown was set up when Klondike's James Martin caused a Knox City fumble, with a Cougar recovering on the opponents 45. Four plays later Lonnie Ferguson ran 39 yards to paydirt, with Martin's PAT giving the Klondike team a 7-0 lead early in the second quarter.

Klondike's next touchdown drive was from 88 yards out, with Clay Holcombe getting the honors on a nifty 63-yard run off a reverse. Martin again booted the PAT for a 14-0 lead.

Knox City was backed up to its own four on the ensuing kickoff, and moments later punts 38-yards from their own 13. But a 15-yard penalty against Knox City set Klondike up only 36 yards from paydirt.

Five plays later, Marty Trevino broke through on a seven-yard scoring run and a 20-0 Klondike lead.

Knox City dominated play in the second half, but after scoring a pair of touchdowns to narrow the Klondike lead to 20-12, interceptions by Todd Airhart and Holcombe ended the Knox City dream of a state championship.

Late Estacado rally stuns Andrews, 14-7

ANDREWS — The Lubbock Estacado Matadors used two touchdowns in the final seven minutes of the game to rally and take a 14-7 win over the state's fourth ranked team in Class AAAA, the Andrews Mustangs, in a bi-district football battle here Friday night.

The win allows the Estacado team to advance into the regional playoffs next week against Brownwood, a 27-7 winner over another state ranked team, Wichita Falls Hirsch.

Andrews struck first in the second stanza when quarterback Keith Brooks ran over from the one. Ricky Jarvis booted the PAT.

The Mustangs controlled the game in the opening half, limiting Estacado to only 17 total yards, but the final half was a different story.

Estacado advanced for a penetration in the third stanza, but couldn't score. But on their first drive of the second half, they marched 44 yards to paydirt, with Kenneth Cade getting the honors on a four yard pass from Jerry Grady. Cade booted the PAT for a 7-7 tie.

Estacado then scored the next time they had the ball, driving just 40 yards to paydirt, capped by Fred Overstreet's 18-yard gallop.

Estacado takes a 9-2 record into the regional bout with Brownwood, while Andrews finishes at 10-1.

Gardner runs wild in Stamford rout

SAN ANGELO — Edwin Gardner scored three times, two on long range punts, and the Stamford Bulldogs rolled to a 37-15 win over the Sonora Broncos in a Class AAA bi-district football battle here Friday night in San Angelo Stadium.

Stamford also took advantage of a poor Sonora kicking game in the contest, as the final stats were close to even.

Both teams had 15 first downs, with Stamford having the edge in total offense at 360-308.

After a 22-yard field goal by Bart Rosenquist gave Stamford an early 3-0 lead, the Bulldogs used a one-yard run by Gardner and a blocked punt for another TD and a 16-3 halftime lead.

Big plays in the second half then capped off the Stamford win. Gardner broke loose for a 54-yard run in the third period, and shortly after that quarterback Mike Cox passed 53 yards to Kyle Whittemore. In between Sonora scored a TD, leaving the Bulldogs with a 30-9 advantage after three stanzas.

Stamford capped the game on an 84-yard run to paydirt by Gardner.

The Bulldogs, now 11-0 on the year, advance into the regional playoffs next week against the winner of the Denver City-Canutillo game. That contest was slated for Saturday afternoon.

Plains stifles McCamey

CRANE — The Plains Cowboys put up an excellent defensive showing here Friday night in taking a 21-0 bi-district win over the McCamey Badgers in a Class AA football battle.

The win propels the Plains team into regional competition in the state playoffs next week. They will play Rotan.

Plains' rock hard defense held the high powered McCamey offense to only eight first downs and 104 total yards offensively. In fact, McCamey's two 1,000 yard rushers, Ben Ferguson and B.J. Terry, were held to just a combined net of 78 yards.

Plains struck for all the points they would need in the first quarter on a one-yard run by Mike Cheatham. The PAT failed.

Quarterback James McElroy added another TD on a 40-yard pass to Curt Randall in the third stanza, with Guy Williams finalizing the Plains win when he fell on a loose pigskin with 9:53 left in the game.

Notre Dame awakes to ground Air Force

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Phil Carter's 2-yard touchdown run capped a self-propelled 76-yard, tie-breaking drive in the third quarter Saturday to lead second-ranked and Sugar Bowl-bound Notre Dame to a 24-10 victory over Air Force.

Carter gained 71 of the 76 yards in 13 carries to finally put the Irish ahead in what had been a defensive struggle until the smaller Air Force team simply tired out. Jim Stone's 7-yard touchdown run in the closing seconds of the third quarter gave the undefeated but once-tied Irish breathing room.

Notre Dame, which had not allowed a touchdown in a school-record 23 quarters, finally yielded in the fourth quarter after Johnny Jackson intercepted a Blair Kiel pass and returned 26 yards to the Irish 21.

A pass interference call against Notre Dame's John Krimm gave the Falcons the

The Queens, behind the early shooting of Lyons and Floyd, jumped out to an early 12-2 lead, and never allowed Weatherford to come any closer in the opening half. At the intermission, the Hawk Queens held a comfortable 39-26 advantage.

Lyons ended up with 29 points in the contest to pace all scorers.

Reagan best known as the Gipper

The president-elect made 55 films, beginning with "Love Is On The Air" in 1937 and ending with "The Killers" in 1964.

Ronald Reagan's movie career was built on best friend and second banana roles. Nov. 4, the movies' second banana became the country's top banana.

He is best known for his role as legendary Notre Dame football player George Gipp in 1940's "Knut Rockne — All American." But even in that movie he was the second banana. Pat O'Brien played Rockne, who uttered the famous "win one of the Gippers" line.

"Bedtime for Bonzo," made in 1951 with Walter Slezak and Diana Lynn, has become something of a campy favorite because Reagan shared the billing with a chimpanzee. It's a silly comedy about a college professor (Reagan) who takes a chimp into his home as an experiment.

A University of Texas researcher says Ronald Reagan movie posters are blue chip investments, especially if the president-elect is pictured with the movie chimp Bonzo.

"I'm getting about eight to 10 calls a day from all over the country about Reagan posters," said Edwin Neal, a research associate at the UT Humanities Research Center.

Neal is a specialist in film posters. His collection includes 150 Reagan posters from 16 films starring the president-elect.

"Bedtime for Bonzo" has always been popular on college campuses," he said.

"It was so bad, it was good. For a long time it was a cult film," Neal said.

A full-sized poster from "Bedtime for Bonzo" could be worth up to $500, he said.

"Five years ago, you could have had two boxes of Reagan posters for $10," he said.

Are Reagan posters sound investments?

"Absolutely. I would say at any price, they're deflation proof. They have crossed over the line from theater memorabilia and have become presidential memorabilia," said Neal.

Most of his movies were B-type features — many of them Westerns and war flicks — made for Warner Brothers. A few were for MGM.

During his career he appeared with some big stars, like Bette Davis, Humphrey Bogart, Jane Wyman (his ex-wife), Ginger Rogers, Barbara Stanwyck, Ann Sheridan, Patricia Neal, Doris Day, Olivia de Havilland and Errol Flynn. But more often he shared billing with names like Bob Cummings, Leo Gorcey, Rhonda Fleming, Broderick Crawford and Dennis Morgan.

As his celluloid career began to wane in the 1960s, Reagan appeared as host of two TV series — "Death Valley Days," on which he succeeded the Old Ranger, and "General Electric Theater." Also during that time, he was elected president of the Screen Actors Guild, the actors' union.

Here is a list compiled by the Associated Press of the 55 films in which Ronald Reagan appeared during his Hollywood acting career:

1. "Love Is On The Air," 1937, with June Travis.
2. "Hollywood Hotel," 1937, directed by Busy Berkeley, with Dick Powell, Glenda Farrell and Frances Langford.
3. "Swing Your Lady," 1938, with Humphrey Bogart and Penny Singleton.
4. "Sergeant Murphy," 1938.
5. "Accidents Will Happen," 1938.
6. "The Cowboy From Brooklyn," 1938, with Dick Powell and Pat O'Brien.
7. "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," 1938, with Edward G. Robinson, Claire Trevor and Humphrey Bogart.
8. "Boy Meets Girl," 1938, with James Cagney, Pat O'Brien and Marie Wilson.
9. "Brother Rat," 1938, with Wayne Morris, Eddie Albert and Jane Wyman.
10. "Girls on Probation," 1938.
11. "Going Places," 1938, with Dick Powell and Anita Louise.
12. "Secret Service Of The Air," 1939. (First of a series based on files of an ex-Secret Service chief. Reagan played Lt. Brass Bancroft.)

13. "Dark Victory," 1939, with Bette Davis, Humphrey Bogart, George Brent and Geraldine Fitzgerald.
14. "Code of The Secret Service," 1939.
15. "Naughty But Nice," 1939, with Dick Powell and Ann Sheridan.
16. "Hell's Kitchen," 1939, with Billy Halop, Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall.
17. "Angels Wash Their Faces," 1939, with Ann Sheridan and Bonita Granville.
18. "Smashing The Money Ring," 1939.
19. "Brother Rat And A Baby," 1940, with Wayne Morris and Eddie Albert.
20. "An Angel From Texas," 1940, with Eddie Albert, Wayne Morris and Jane Wyman.
21. "Murder In The Air," 1940.
22. "Knut Rockne — All American," 1940, with Pat O'Brien, Gale Page and Donald Crisp.
23. "Tugboat Annie Sails Again," 1940, with Margorie Rambeau, Jane Wyman and Alan Hale.
24. "Santa Fe Trail," 1940, with Errol Flynn, Olivia De Havilland, Raymond Massey and Reagan as George Armstrong Custer.
25. "The Bad Man," 1941, with Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore and Laraine Day.
26. "Million Dollar Baby," 1941.
27. "International Squadron," 1941.
28. "Nine Lives Are Not Enough," 1941, with James Gleason and Faye Emerson.
29. "Kings Row," 1942, with Ann Sheridan, Robert Cummings, Charles Coburn and Claude Rains.
30. "Juke Girl," 1942, with Ann Sheridan.
31. "Desperate Journey," 1942, with Errol Flynn and Raymond Massey.

EYEBING THE PROSPECTS — President-elect Ronald Reagan is shown checking out the possibilities of rolling a pumpkin down the aisle of the Reagan campaign plane just before Halloween. It sure beats playing second banana in "The Bad Man," filmed in 1941 and starring Wallace Berry and Laraine Day.

MUPPET MAKER — Actress Brooke Shields poses recently with two muppets she created herself. After taping a guest appearance on "The Muppet Show" in London, Brooke became fascinated with puppetry and took some lessons in puppet-building at Jim Henson's puppet workshop. These two puppets were the result. "They're pigs, sort of," she explains.

LEASE - WHY???
If You are business or professional, the question is WHY NOT!!

- Its a good way to fight inflation-with fixed rates and you may pay with cheaper dollars. Leasing may increase your cash flow.
- Leasing may preserve your credit lines and help you keep them "liquid".
- Leasing conserves your "cash" without depleting your capitol.
- Accounting is much easier. You don't have to figure interest or depreciation-just expense the entire amount.
- 100% financing -no down payment. Only' the first and last payment in advance.
- What to do at the end? Exercise your options: renew the lease; buy the vehicle; return it; or turn it in on a newer model!

Holidays...harvest, religion and tradition

Tracing the origins of holidays can be interesting and surprising. Many were started to celebrate an agricultural event ... sometimes the planting season, but more often, the harvest. Others trace their origins back to religious rites. Family traditions can be credited with adding unique variations to many holiday festivities.

It's these differences in customs that make holidays so fascinating, particularly when it comes to the food served. In spite of menu variations, though, one almost universal holiday food is turkey!

Its mouthwatering aroma seems to fill every nook and cranny, and half the fun of turkey at holiday meals is what you serve with the big bird!

To vary your holiday turkey dinner, here are some new ideas: for the dressing (try rice instead of bread); vegetable (carrot souffle — filled with broccoli); salad (canned Bartlett pears and other fruits with a luscious dressing); dessert (mincemeat pie, made lighter with pear slices). See how flavors are harmonized and blended by using a flavor enhancer.

Look forward to leftovers with turkey chowder ... or turkey fritters. With these new ideas you may start some new mealtime traditions of your own!

ROAST HOLIDAY TURKEY

Energy-Saving Tip: Roast the holiday turkey without stuffing ... it will be simple to prepare and cook more quickly.

In choosing a turkey for the holiday meal, plan on about one pound of bird for each person. Whole turkeys range in size from six to more than 30 pounds, are available fresh or frozen and may be prebasted. If you allow one pound of turkey per person, you will have plenty for dinner and some for your favorite leftover recipes. If the turkey is frozen, leave in original bag and thaw in refrigerator for 3 to 4 days or cover bird with cold water, changing water frequently. This will take ½ hour per pound.

Remove turkey from plastic bag, remove neck and giblets from body cavities, rinse with cold water and pat dry, tuck legs into hock lock or under skin band, turn wing tips "akimbo" under back and skewer neck skin to back. Once this is accomplished and the turkey is placed on a roasting rack in a shallow roasting pan in a 325 degree oven, you'll find that only about 6 minutes of your day have passed.

APPROXIMATE ROASTING TIME IN 325 DEGREE OVEN +

Weight	Unstuffed	Stuffed
8 to 12 lbs.	3-4 hrs.	4-5 hrs.
12 to 16 lbs.	3½-5 hrs.	4½-6 hrs.
16 to 20 lbs.	4½-6 hrs.	5½-7 hrs.
20 to 24 lbs.	5½-6½ hrs.	6½-7½ hrs.

+ Factors affecting roasting times are variations in ovens, shape of turkeys and degree of thawing. These variations make it important to begin checking for doneness about one hour before the end of the recommended roasting time.

SOUTHERN RICE DRESSING

Dress up the dressing ... with rice! Much easier to make than regular stuffing (the rice cooks right with the seasonings), yet with all of the traditional flavor.

- 1½ cups uncooked rice
- ½ pound lean fresh pork sausage
- 1 cup sliced celery
- ¾ cup sliced green onions, including tops
- ¾ cup chopped green pepper
- 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2½ cups chicken broth

Measure rice into a shallow 2-quart casserole. Set aside. In 10-inch skillet cook sausage until meat is no longer pink. Stir to crumble. Discard excess fat, if any. Add celery, onions and green pepper to skillet. Cook only until tender-crisp. Stir in seasonings and broth. Bring to a boil. Pour over rice; stir. Cover with a tight-fitting lid or heavy-duty foil. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Fluff with fork. Garnish with pecan halves, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

FRESH CARROT MOLD WITH BROCCOLI AND LEMON SAUCE

New way with colorful vegetables: A great answer to the problem of what to do with the vegetables: puree the carrots and make a souffle ring filled with broccoli and top with a lemony sauce.

- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 6 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1½ cups pureed cooked carrots
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 teaspoon Ac'cent Brand Flavor Enhancer
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 6 eggs, separated
- 3 cups cooked broccoli flowerettes

Lemon Sauce
In a 2-quart saucepan melt butter; saute onions 5 minutes. Stir in flour; cook 1 minute. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in milk. Return to heat. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Stir in carrot puree, cheese, flavor enhancer, salt, nutmeg and pepper. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolks. Stir into carrot mixture. Return to heat and cook, stirring constantly, 1 minute until mixture thickens slightly. Cool 5 minutes. In large bowl, beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold into carrot mixture. Spoon mixture into a well-greased 6½-cup ring mold. Set mold in a larger baking pan. Add enough hot water to pan to reach half way up sides of mold. Bake in a 325 degree oven 1½ hours or until firm. Remove pan from oven. Remove mold from pan and set on wire rack 20 to 25 minutes before unmolding. Carefully unmold onto heated serving plate. Arrange hot broccoli flowerettes in center of ring. Serve with Lemon Sauce. Makes 8 servings.

LEMON SAUCE

- 1½ teaspoons cornstarch
- ¼ teaspoon sugar

Section C
People, places,
things

BIG SPRING, TEXAS,
NOVEMBER 23, 1980

- ¼ teaspoon Ac'cent Brand Flavor Enhancer
  - 1 cup water
  - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
  - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
  - 1½ teaspoons dry sherry
- In a small saucepan, mix cornstarch, sugar and flavor enhancer. Gradually add water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Add butter, lemon juice and sherry. Stir. Makes 1½ cups.

HOLIDAY PEAR SALAD

The salad. How luscious you get? Delicious canned Bartlett pears (what a convenient fruit!) are layered with other fruits and a creamy homemade dressing.

- 1 can (29 oz.) Bartlett pear halves
  - 1 to 2 kiwi fruit
  - 1 egg, beaten
  - 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
  - Dash salt
  - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
  - 2 teaspoons lemon juice
  - 1 cup prepared whipped topping (or 1 cup sweetened whipped cream)
  - 1 can (16 oz.) pineapple chunks, drained
  - 1 medium banana, sliced
  - 1 can (11 oz.) Mandarin orange segments, drained
  - ¼ cup toasted sliced almonds, optional
- Drain pears, reserving 1 cup syrup. Chill pears and kiwi fruit. In a saucepan, combine egg, flour, salt and reserved pear syrup. Cook and stir over medium heat until sauce thickens. Add butter and lemon juice. Cool thoroughly. Fold in whipped topping. Cut four pear halves in half lengthwise; dice remaining pears. Layer diced pears, pineapple, banana and oranges in a 2-quart glass bowl. Spread topping over fruit. Refrigerate several hours or overnight. Peel and slice kiwi fruit; arrange with remaining pears on topping. Sprinkle with nuts, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

CREAMY TURKEY CHOWDER

Money-Saving Tip: Use every bit of the flavorful turkey. The carcass and bits of meat that remain make a hearty, flavorful soup. A touch of flavor enhancer makes this leftover taste fresh and lively.

- Turkey carcass
- 2 quarts water
- 1 teaspoon Ac'cent Brand Flavor Enhancer
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 sprigs parsley
- 2 stalks celery with leaves
- 2 medium onions, sliced
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- ½ teaspoon dried leaf thyme
- 4 carrots, pared and sliced

- One-third cup uncooked rice
- 1 can (16 oz.) cream-style corn

Remove meat from carcass; reserve. Break up carcass and place in a large, deep kettle. Add water, flavor enhancer, salt, parsley, celery, onions, bay leaf, bouillon cube and thyme. Bring to a boil. Cover; reduce heat, simmer 1 hour. Strain stock and return to kettle. Add carrots and rice. Cover and cook 20 minutes, or until rice is tender. Add corn and reserved turkey. Heat. Makes 8 servings.

TURKEY FRITTERS

These may be more in demand than the main meal ... turkey and rice in tasty, crispy fritters.

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
  - 1½ teaspoons baking powder
  - 1½ teaspoons salt
  - 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
  - 1 teaspoon Ac'cent Brand Flavor Enhancer
  - ½ teaspoon ground black pepper
  - 2 eggs, separated
  - ¾ cup turkey broth or milk
  - 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
  - 3 cups cooked rice (cooked in turkey broth)
  - 2 cups finely chopped cooked turkey
  - ¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
  - ¼ cup finely chopped green onions
  - Vegetable oil
  - 1 can (8½ oz.) Bartlett pear halves, drained and chopped
  - 1 can (8 oz.) whole berry cranberry sauce
- Sift together dry ingredients. Beat egg yolks, broth and 1 tablespoon vegetable oil together until well blended. Add to dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Stir in rice, turkey, green pepper and onions. Heat about 4 inches of oil in deep saucepan to a temperature of 370 degrees. Drop mixture by tablespoonfuls into hot oil, a few at a time. Fry until golden brown on all sides, about 3 minutes. Drain on paper towels. Repeat with remaining mixture. Serve with pears and cranberry sauce which have been heated together. Makes about 24 fritters.

MINCEMEAT PEAR PIE

New way with traditional dessert ... canned Bartlett pear slices and brandy create an extra special mincemeat pie.

- Pastry for 2-crust pie
  - 1 and one-third cups prepared mincemeat
  - 2 cans (29 oz. each) Bartlett pear slices, drained
  - ¼ cup brandy
  - Sugar
- Prepare and roll out pastry. Line a 9-inch pie plate with half of pastry. Trim pastry to edge of pie plate. In mixing bowl, combine prepared mincemeat, drained pears and brandy. Spoon into pastry-lined plate. Cut slits in top crust; fit loosely over filling. Seal and flute edge; sprinkle crust with sugar. Bake at 425 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. If necessary, cover edge of pie with foil to prevent over-browning. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Do you look like the last faded rose of summer?

The last rose of summer has long since faded. So has the flattering sun that brightened summer faces. But winter's drab pallor need not cast itself upon your face.

"Winter makeup should be as flattering and natural looking as summer's casual, healthy look," says Monica Hollister, vice president of Marketing for Merle Norman Cosmetics.

"Winter wardrobes, even in mild climates, tend to be more structured and 'serious' and less colorful than summer outfits. Consequently, some women tend to apply makeup in a more heavy-handed and structured way."

"Your winter makeup shouldn't make you look winter weary," says Hollister. "First you may want to re-evaluate your skin care program to counteract the drying effects of wind, cold and overheated homes and offices. A foundation product that adds a subtle tinge of healthy color to your skin is another essential."

"The biggest boost can come from color enhancers," she says. "Flattering copper and deep rose blushers can brighten the skin and coordinate beautifully with the copper, bronze, loden green, purply blue and rose-colored fabrics in your winter wardrobe.

"Select a soft deep blue, gray, green or brown eyeshadow to reflect the color of your blouse or dress. Choose a highlighter of a lighter color and then smudge a little navy, brown, green or gray eyeliner pencil just above your lashline to bring eyes into more dramatic focus.

"For lips and fingernails, rich copper and deep rose colors are appealing but never garish," she concluded.

Guide to buying jeans

(This article is the first in a series on how to buy jeans.)

Jeans vary greatly in price — whether for guys or gals. With so many choices, how does the female consumer decide which jean to select? The following guidelines may help.

Price of jeans is influenced by the fabric, fabric finish, cut, detailing, brand and type of store. To save money, compare fashionability, fabric quality and garment construction to intended use; select simple design details; choose brands you can trust and shop in the lowest priced store offering the quality and style desired.

Most jeans are made of denim, a twill woven fabric of cotton or a cotton blend. Look for firmly woven and durable fabric.

Generally, the heavier the weight, the more durable the fabric. All-cotton jeans tend to be more absorbent, softer and resist pulling better than blends.

However, blends tend to resist shrinkage and wrinkle less than untreated cotton denim. To maintain a neat appearance and fit, select preshrunk and wrinkle-resistant cotton denim.

Check the label for fiber content and finish information. Jeans should not shrink more than two percent. Buy a larger size if the label does not guarantee shrinkage control.

The word "sanforized" guarantees fabric will not shrink more than one percent. A shrinkage control trademark commonly used on denim is "Sanforset."

Company trademarks associated with this finish include "Lee-set," "No Fault" and "Fitting Jeans." For wrinkle-free finishes, look for permanent press or durable press information. Trademarks for these finishes will generally include the term "prest" or "press."

Cut or styling will affect the price and fit of jeans, so select the right style for your figure.

Some jeans are cut for the slender figure, while others are fuller through the hips and thighs.

Also, some jeans are cut with flared legs to wear over western boots or have a fashion cut with slim or tapered legs, or have a full "baggy" appearance.

Fashion cuts tend to cost more.

Some jeans are sized like dresses (9, 11, 13) while others are sized by waist measurement and may provide a variety of leg lengths.

Because of the variety of sizing and styling, trying on jeans in the store is essential to obtain proper fit.

Since cotton denim tends to conform to the figure, select jeans that fit snugly when new for a close fit when wearing.

Also, denim tends to contract when washed but expand with wearing. This may make freshly washed jeans uncomfortably tight when first put on.

Construction details can add to the quality of jeans and may affect price. Flat felled seams, generally used on jeans, leave no raw seam edges to ravel.

These seams are characterized by a double row of stitching which totally encases the seam allowance.

Seams not flat felled should be zig zagged or serged to prevent raveling. Check that seams are firmly stitched and neatly constructed.

Interfacing or double thickness at the waistband helps reduce stretching. Look for thread bar tacks or rivets at places of stress like pocket corners, belt loops and bottom of zipper placket.

Also, check for a quality, durable zipper which zips easily.

Special designs such as embroidery or geometric stitching on the pocket or other pant areas will add to the cost, especially when associated with a certain brand or designer.

In most cases, a designer trademark will add at least $10 to the price of the jeans.

Jeans bought in specialty stores or fashion boutiques will cost more, but these stores generally offer the latest in fashion styling.

Chain stores and discount stores buy in greater quantities, so the consumer usually pays less at these stores. (NEXT WEEK: Designer Jeans — Why Buy??)

Dear Abby

Slimmer Husband Would Relieve Wife's Heavy Load

DEAR ABBY: I really love my husband, but he has put on so much weight since our marriage nine years ago he isn't the same man.
 Abby, he's 5-9 and weighs at least 250 pounds. He has a history of heart disease and knows he shouldn't weigh this much, but he refuses to do anything about it. He won't go on a diet and he eats constantly.
 We have three young children, and I don't want to be left a widow to raise them alone.
 I love this man, but I can't tell him what I am going to tell you. He has become physically repulsive to me. I just hate the thought of going to bed with him. Believe me, Abby, it's the hardest work I have to do.
 Please print this letter for me and my children.
 TURNED OFF

DEAR TURNED OFF: Here's your letter, but it's not only for you and your children. It's for anyone who knows he (or she) should lose weight but keeps putting it off "until Monday" or "after the holidays" or whenever. I'm not addressing this to people who are 10 or 15 pounds overweight, but to those whose excess pounds are sufficiently excessive as to be a problem to them or to those who love them.

DEAR ABBY: We recently married off our youngest daughter at a lovely church wedding. We had a reception and six... for 220 guests. Since this was our third wedding, we were more experienced and would like to tell you how we handled 16 guests who failed to acknowledge our R.S.V.P. invitations but showed up anyway.
 First, those who failed to acknowledge our invitations were not called and asked, "Are you coming?"
 We simply prepared to serve those who responded, and we assumed that those who did not were not coming.
 Those who didn't respond but showed up anyway were not given the same cordial welcome as those who responded in the affirmative.
 No last-minute rushing around to set more places at the table, and no hastily scribbled place cards for them. They were treated like "drop in" guests, and had to wait until they could conveniently be served.
 Care to comment?
 MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: If anything could cure one who ignored an R.S.V.P. but showed up anyway, this would. But too few hostesses have the courage to follow your example.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a small town. There is this young girl who works in a doctor's office as an appointment girl, and whenever someone comes in to see the doctor, 30 minutes don't go by before everyone in town knows who came in and what the trouble was. I know for a fact that as soon as the patient leaves, the appointment girl calls her mother and tells her that Mrs. So-and-So came in and what was wrong with her. Then the mother spreads it all over town.
 It happened to me. What should be done about it?
 NEW MEXICO

DEAR NEW MEXICO: Tell the doctor that he has a leak in his office that can't be fixed by a new washer; he needs a new appointment secretary.

DEAR ABBY: I'm not surprised at the ignorance of those who still think of Hawaii as a foreign country. Obviously they aren't aware that in 1959 Hawaii became the 50th state of the union.
 I'll bet there are even more people who don't know that Puerto Ricans are American citizens, and have been since 1918!
 ME IN AUBURN, ALA.

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Letter Booklet, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

READY TO GO — It began as wishful thinking by members of the Lomax Country Girls Home Extension Club. Today it is a reality. The small farming community of Lomax now has its very own Volunteer Fire Department, something that has been needed in the area for years.

Country girls turn dream into reality

Lomax is a small farming community in the southwest corner of Howard County. Lomax population is less than 100 persons.

The community is very small with only a few scattered homes and one cotton gin. Within the last 3 years, seven families have moved in and an additional cotton gin is under construction at the present time.

Fire has always been a major problem in a community such as Lomax because the distance for a fire engine to come would be 20 miles. The community is surrounded by pasture and cotton fields. In the past 8 years the community has fought three major grass fires. Community residents have felt a great need for a volunteer fire department.

In October 1979, the younger women in the community showed an interest in getting together and establishing an Extension Homemakers Club. The women organized a small club consisting of six members and named themselves The Lomax Country Girls Extension Homemakers Club.

During the May 1980 E.H. Club meeting, the idea of organizing a volunteer fire department was discussed. Donna Adkins, president, contacted county commissioner, Bill Crooker. He informed her that community interest and a petition were needed. After securing these two things, they would have to petition county commissioner's court and enlist some citizens to speak to the court and explain why Lomax needed a fire truck, building, and trained personnel.

The Lomax Country Girls

E.H. Club called fellow citizens and set up a community meeting for June 12, 1980. Crooker came out to speak to the group and answered questions.

On June 18, 1980 a special meeting was held by the club to pass out petitions and assign members territory for getting signatures. By this time our E.H. Club membership had grown to 12.

The E.H. Club members and one Lomax citizen petitioned the community and area to be served and collected 101 names. In addition to the house calls, an ice cream supper was planned by the E.H. Club for the community on July 6 so that members of the community who had not signed the petition could do so.

A red letter day for the community of Lomax was July 14, 1980. The county commissioners accepted the petitions and listened to the speakers who represented the community. They agreed that their help was needed to establish a fire department at Lomax. Funds were granted for a fire truck and a building for the truck.

The fire department will not only serve Lomax, but will also serve the Elbow community in the southwest part of Howard County and the Carterville community in Glascock County.

New evidence on oral contraception revealed

NEW YORK, N.Y. — New evidence that reduced levels of the female hormones estrogen and progesterone in low-dose birth control pills reduce risk of cardiovascular disease previously associated with high dose formulations was reported at a recent press seminar.

At the meeting in New York City, researchers presented findings that demonstrated that the risk of blood clotting, hypertension — high blood pressure — sustained and increased blood cholesterol levels are reduced with a low-dose oral contraceptive.

Pledge ritual observed

The Alpha Tau Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Patty Johnke.

The Pledge Ritual was observed for Linda Gibson, Becky Key, Laura New and Tommie Perez.

Plans were finalized for the sorority's Thanksgiving dinner held Saturday night.

Pledge training is

The formulation used in their studies was Ovcon-35, which contains 0.4 mg. of norethindrone and .035 mg. of ethinyl estradiol.

The meeting was moderated by Martin L. Stone, MD, Professor and Chairman, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, State University of New York at Stony Brook, and immediate past president of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

Harry Rudel, MD, a clinical pharmacologist and former consultant on family planning to the Mexican government, reported that his study in more than 200 Mexican women shows that this formulation minimizes the possibility of developing hypertension.

The results were seen over a period of more than three years in a comparison study of 140 women on the low-dose combination and 65 women using an intrauterine device (IUD).

Dr. Rudel said that "it appears that overdosage of both hormones in unnecessarily high dosage levels has played a role in the adverse circulatory reactions associated with oral contraceptives."

He also noted that there was an almost immediate return to the normal fertile state of the womb in more than 100 women, indicating their ability to conceive a child soon after discontinuation of therapy.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Kathy Nichols.

Morris Notelovitz, MD, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Florida, Gainesville, presented evidence that lower levels of hormones reduced blood clotting and cholesterol level complications that have been associated with high dosage birth control pills. He reported that the low-dose combination appears to help prevent both clotting and increased cholesterol levels.

Dr. Notelovitz said that this study provides some preliminary evidence that the potential for heart disease and stroke may be minimized by use of lower levels of hormones in low-dose contraceptive preparations.

Know your medicine before you take it

Taking your medicine for granted can be hazardous to your health. Studies show that at least 50 percent of people taking medicines take them incorrectly, according to a current Family Circle magazine medical report.

Taking medicines incorrectly can decrease a drug's effectiveness, often making it nearly worthless, or can produce a dangerous, even fatal crisis.

The following tips on what you should know before you take your medicine are culled from the magazine report:

Don't crush or chew tablets before you swallow them. Crushing certain tablets could destroy the protective coating that masks any bitter-tasting substances the tablets contain.

What's more, crushing or chewing can lessen or destroy the effectiveness of some tablets by causing them to dissolve before reaching the desired body location for absorption.

Don't put medicines in your car's glove compartment, in the sun or on a window-sill. Excessive heat or cold can significantly affect a drug's ingredients.

Remove the cotton from pill containers as soon as you open them. The cotton may absorb some of the pills' active ingredients.

If you're supposed to take the medicine on an empty stomach, take it one hour before eating or at least two hours after.

When taking any drugs be on guard for side effects. Nausea, or vomiting; wheezing or shortness of breath; itching or redness of the eyes; skin rash, itching or hives; blood in the urine; severe headaches; emotional upset can be side effects of various common drugs.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. Dudley M. McKaskle, Amarillo, formerly of Martin County, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lana Jo, Albany, Ga., to David Neil Berkowitz, also of Albany. Berkowitz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Berkowitz of Quincy, Ill. The wedding date has been set for Jan. 3 in Amarillo.

Mrs. Elrod gives synopsis of 'Same Time Next Year'

The GFWC Forsan Study Club met in the home of Brenda White Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. Shirley Summers, president, presided.

Kathy Pickett, corresponding secretary read a letter of resignation from Martha Holman. She also read letters from Eldon Boyd of Big Lake discussing the cardio pulmonary resuscitation project; and Wanda Cooper thanking the club for their donations to Girl's Town.

Mrs. Thixton urged each member to help with the Big Spring State Hospital Arts and Crafts Sale on Dec. 6. Baked goods and crafts should be taken to Highland Mall on that day. All proceeds from the sale will benefit the hospital.

The Federation Counselor's Report was presented by Mrs. Parker. She listed names of organizations for which the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs was responsible, including Mother's Club (forerunner to P.T.A.), Texas Federation of Music Clubs, Texas Garden Clubs, National Organization for Women in Safety in Texas, and Home Demonstration Clubs. The TFWC has also been instrumental in organizing 85 percent of all libraries in Texas; building the Education Building on the State Fair Grounds; establishing Texas Women's University in Denton, and adding Public School Music to the curriculum.

The program, "Corner Stores and Supermarkets," was presented as a skit by Mrs. Holguin and Mrs. Parker. The remainder of the program, "Trading Stamps," was given by Mrs.

Yarbrough. The next meeting will be the Christmas supper, Dec. 8 at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Thixton. The club will furnish the meat and the hostesses will furnish dessert and bread. Each member is to bring a vegetable or a salad. Gifts will be exchanged.

For beauty, strength and enduring value, the best quality dinnerware is china. Here at Accent Shoppe, we know you are most interested in pattern and colors, but we suggest you also consider the quality. Hold your plate in front of the light. Can you see your hand through it? Then balance your plate on three fingers and tap it with a pencil. You should hear a clear, bell-like ring. Finally, run your finger around the rim or foot of the plate. This part is generally not glazed, but it should still be nice and smooth. Did your choice pass the quality test? Congratulations!
