Jordan denies Syrian conditions accepted

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan's information minister said today that King Hussein had not accepted Syria's conditions for ending the border crisis, denying earlier reports by Jordanian officials that Jordan had agreed to Syrian terms for defusing tension between the two Arab states.

Mediation efforts were still under way and Syria was reported to have pulled back some of the troops it massed at the Jordanian border. But Information Minister Adnan Abu Audeh told reporters: "Syria has submitted no conditions and the king has accepted none."

The crisis had appeared to ease on reports that Jordan agreed to Syrian demands for a statement that Jordan was not aiding terrorists of the Moslem Brotherhood trying to oust the Syrian government of President Hafez Assad and that Jordan recognized the Palestine Liberation Organization as representative of the Palestinian people.

Syria pulled back some of the 50,000 troops it had concentrated on the Jordanian border when tension built up over conflicting positions the two countries have taken on the Iran-Iraq war and Syrian charges that Jordan aided the Moslem Brotherhood. Jordan sent 30,000 of its troops to the border and there was no word any of them had withdrawn.

Meanwhile, Prince Abdullah Bin Abdul-Aziz, the Saudi Arabian deputy premier, flew to Damascus to continue his mediation efforts. He was reported carrying Jordan's response to the Syrian conditions.

Lights, carols spread joy on Howard College campus

Approximately 4,000 lights were illuminated at Howard College Tuesday night in what may become a yearly tradition for the school.

"Luminaria," a song of lights, was presented to about 250 people present on the college campus. The HC Lab Band and the New Dimension singers provided Christmas music, and were joined by the crowd later for a medley of Christmas carols. A cut-off of power, resulting in the loss of music, didn't stop the singers. After a brief delay, power was returned, and the singers, under the direction of Joe Whitten, sang several more selections.

Then, 4,000 multi-colored lights around the administration building and student union building were illuminated. Dr. Charles Hays, president of HC, told the crowd gathered that he hopes the event will become a yearly affair, and that more buildings will be lighted each year.

More than 2,000 sacks containing candles lit up the streets within the campus, and members of the Howard College Rodeo team rode their horses around the area, serving as auxiliary firemen in case of an accident.

Also making an appearance at the program was Santa Claus, who mingled with children throughout the event.

Jordanian officials who did not wish to be identified, reported Hussein had accepted the Syrian demands, noting that Hussein has denied the Syrian charges. Hussein has said he was "open to all reasonable suggestions for resolving this pointless crisis."

But in saying that Jordan had not bowed to the Syrian conditions, Abu Audeh told reporters: "Acceptance of the two Syrian conditions would signify that we accept the Syrian assumption that we are guilty of the false charges leveled against us."

Other sources said Hussein signaled his readiness to accept a settlement provided it was not taken as a Jordanian capitulation to Syrian demands or an admission of the truth of the Syrian charges.

Political observers said the Syrian demands were a device for Assad to defuse the crisis he began last month without losing face.

One-time student radical leader Dohrn surrenders

CHICAGO (AP) — Bernardine Dohrn, the one-time student radical leader who had eluded authorities for 11 years, surrendered today and pleaded innocent to charges stemming from a series of violent demonstrations in Chicago.

Ms. Dohrn, once named on the FBI's "most wanted" list, refused to talk to reporters but smiled and seemed calm as she appeared before Circuit Judge Richard J. Fitzgerald. After arraignment, she was taken away for booking, and a bond hearing was set for later in the day.

Ms. Dohrn appeared at the court-house with her lawyer and William Ayers, a former member of the Students for a Democratic Society.

After the court hearing, Ayers, 35, talked briefly with reporters and said he had remained in hiding, even though there were no charges against him, "because I was living with Bernardine Dohrn." He said they have two young children, who are staying with friends in New York.

stemming from the Days of Rage demonstrations led by the Weatherman faction of SDS in Chicago in October 1969.

The new state's attorney, Richard M. Daley, said Tuesday that his office had been in touch with Ms. Dohrn's lawyer, but that there would be no plea bargaining until she surrendered.

Part of the charges against her stem from an alleged assault on a policeman during the 1969 demonstration. Scores of policemen were injured, windows were smashed in cars and businesses as demonstrators surged from a North Side park into the downtown area.

Ms. Dohrn, 38, is the most famous in a series of radical figures to surface after going underground rather than face criminal charges in the late 1960s and early 1970s. Others include student leader Mark Rudd and Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman.

"It's a little like the Japanese soldier who comes out of the Philippine jungle to find out the war is over," Ayers said of returning to public view.

Ayers is the son of Thomas G. Ayers, retired chairman of Commonwealth Edison Co. and one of the city's most respected business leaders.

Four Polish Politburo men purged

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Polish Communist Party's central committee purged four more Politburo members and brought Wladyslaw Gomułka's hard-line police boss back into the inner circle in its attempt to cope with the independent labor movement and the country's acute economic crisis.

Meanwhile, the Soviet Union denied rumors of threatening troop movements, and the Carter administration warned Moscow against military intervention.

Ending a two-day meeting Tuesday, the central committee ousted Wladyslaw Kruczek, a former trade union boss; Alojzy Karkoszka, another former associate of purged party leader Edward Gierek; former Interior Minister Stanislaw Kowalczyk, and Andrzej Werblan, a longtime party ideologist.

The central committee also stripped Gierek of all party and public posts.

Two Politburo positions were left empty but the other two were filled by Gierek's foe Tadeusz Grabski and Gomułka's interior minister, Mieczyslaw Moczar, whose police were used in the bloody suppression of worker riots in 1970 that resulted in Gomułka's replacement by Gierek.

Gierek himself was purged Sept. 5 and replaced by Stanislaw Kania after the massive strike wave during the summer.

The latest purge was another step by Kania to consolidate his power and deal with the nation's $20-billion foreign debt, food and consumer goods shortages and the restive free labor movement led by Solidarity, the first big union formed free of party control in the Soviet bloc.

Ms. Dohrn's name was on the FBI's "most wanted" in the early 1970s after she was indicted by federal grand juries, accused of conspiracy to bomb and kill, and traveling and using interstate facilities to organize and incite disorders in Chicago. The federal charges have since been dropped.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Iodine important

Q. Why is iodine so important to the system?

A. It is necessary for the production of thyroid hormone, which regulates metabolism. Its primary sources are iodized table salt and seafoods.

Low cloudiness. Fair and warm through Thursday. High today in the mid 50s, low tonight in the mid 30s. High Thursday in the upper 60s. Winds will be from the south and southeast 15 to 20 mph today, southeast 5 to 10 mph tonight.

Items 2, 6 and 7 of bond issue

Animal shelter, cemetery, vehicle storage needs cited

Several relatively small but important buildings are proposed under the City of Big Spring Capital Improvements program.

One of these is Item No. 6, proposing a new animal shelter at an estimated cost of $30,000. Plans are to locate this on city property on high ground near the landfill and city sewer treatment plant. The present location is in the lowlands which flood frequently, backing water into the crowded cages. While no stray animals or lost pets have been drowned, they have had to stand in water for long periods of time, according to attendants.

City workers say the new shelter should be designed for humane treatment of animals and should have concrete runs and cages that can be cleaned easily and regularly. Fencing, they add, should be strong enough to be secure and offer other accommodations so that a lost pet can get good care until it is reclaimed.

If a new permanent water office is approved by the electorate, the present metal building housing the water office, located at 305-07 Johnson Street, would be moved to the new shelter location and serve as a service center and offices for the shelter, according to Don Davis, the city manager.

Item No. 2 on the proposed bond issue calls for a structure which would be used for vehicle storage. The cost would run upward to $70,000.

City officials contend that many items of expensive equipment now kept in the open at the city service center.

City officials contend that if this protection adds just one year to the life of a equipment units, the facility will more than pay for itself in a few years. They also point out that because this makes good business sense but does not constitute an emergency, plans call for the project not to be undertaken before 1985.

Item No. 7, if approved by the voters, would authorize improvements to Mount Olive Memorial Park, the city-owned cemetery.

The cemetery was begun before the turn of the century although the city did not inherit it until about four decades ago.

City money has been used in recent years to upgrade it and convert it on the perpetual care plan but officials say a new irrigation system is urgently needed in order to keep the cemetery attractive.

Mount Olive improvements would also include a simple new marker at the main cemetery entrance plus repaving of key drives so that all areas will remain accessible in all kinds of weather, in contrast to puddles and mud wallows in parts of the cemetery during and after inclement weather.

Such improvements would cost an estimated $275,000.

What would the three items mean in the way of a tax increase to the voters, if they are approved by the constituency?

Approval of the animal shelter would add .0012 cents per $100 valuation to the property owner's bill. Approval of the vehicle shelter would boost tax levies .0029 cents per $100 valuation while the improvements to the cemetery would cost tax payers .015 cents per $100 valuation.

That compares to .1914 cents per $100 valuation for the proposed street improvements, which were discussed in a front page article appearing in Tuesday's Herald.

NOT FIT FOR A DOG — This building is now being used as an animal shelter by the City of Big Spring. Those favoring the bond issue which will be voted upon here Dec. 13 are proposing that the city spend $30,000 for a shelter for stray animals. Located in the lowlands, the present structure is frequently flooded during heavy rains, with the result that water backs up into the overcrowded cages. (See related photos, page 2-A).

Bomb in London

LONDON (AP) — Two bombs exploded outside an army building in west London, injuring five people. Police warned it could be the start of a Christmas bombing campaign by Irish nationalists.

Hours after the blasts Tuesday night nobody had claimed responsibility. But Scotland Yard refused to rule out the possibility that it was the work of the Irish Republican Army.

One of the bombs damaged a building used for the training of part-time troops and teen-age army cadets. The other wrecked a nearby car.

Space shuttle test coming

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Kennedy Space Center officials are optimistic there will be no more hitches before the first complete test of the delay-plagued space shuttle orbiter Columbia.

The astronaut-manned orbiter will be tested over a two-week period beginning Thursday. The tests were set to begin Tuesday but were postponed by ground equipment problems, the officials said. The shuttle's March 14 launch date is now three years behind original estimates.

The shuttle, which will carry astronauts and scientists into orbit, is designed to return to Earth gliding on airplane-type wings for reuse in other missions.

Artistic programming

NEW YORK (AP) — Two communication companies say they will join forces next year to provide about 3.5 million cable TV subscribers with at least two hours of artistic programming each night.

The joint venture beginning April 5 of ABC and Warner Amex Satellite Entertainment Co. will mark ABC's entry into the cable TV field as a supplier of specialty programs, officials said in a Tuesday announcement.

CBS, through its CBS Cable division, also is involved in the preliminary stages of programming for the burgeoning cable television market, though ABC's newly announced effort is the most ambitious to date. A total of 17 million homes now receive programming by cable.

Boston bond rating down

NEW YORK (AP) — A major municipal bond-rating service has reduced the city of Boston's rating, citing recent passage of a property tax-cut measure. The move by Standard & Poor's Corp. will make it harder and more expensive for the city to borrow money.

"Boston faces substantial service cuts and increases in fees to replace those funds," Frank Rizzo, Standard & Poor's vice president for municipal ratings, said Tuesday in announcing the action. "It could have severe impact on the city's ability to deliver essential services and means a loss of financial flexibility."

Rizzo said the service's decision to drop Boston's rating of "A-minus" to "BBB-plus" on general obligation bonds was based solely on the passage of the tax law called Proposition 2½. The bonds are used by municipalities to raise funds for construction and other expenses.

Missing San Angelo man admitted to hospital

SAN ANGELO — Grady Sims, 48, who has been sought since October on felony theft charges, has been admitted to Shannon Hospital here for treatment of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Two unidentified men reportedly found Sims, 46, slumped behind the wheel of a car at a roadside park on US 83 near Eden in Concho County.

DPS Patrolman Travis Hall of Eden said he noticed a hose leading from the car's exhaust to the interior of the vehicle when he arrived at the park. Sims had already been removed from the car by the time he got there, Hall stated.

A hospital spokesperson said Sims was moved out of the intensive care unit Monday but declined to offer a condition report on the patient.

Sims formerly was manager of the San Angelo Blood Services. He offered for the city council in San Angelo in 1978 but lost. He was reported missing by his wife Oct. 8.

About a month later, a Tom Green County grand jury indicted Sims on felony theft charges.

The indictment alleges a man with whom Sims shared a business office gave Sims a $500 check to pay rent, but Sims never made the payment to the landlord.

Three days following the San Angelo indictment, Sims was charged with felony theft in Abilene in connections with chartered trips to Dallas Cowboy football games that never materialized.

Sims allegedly gave two worthless checks to Sunset Motor Lines of Abilene for two chartered buses to Texas Stadium Aug. 23.

Malpractice suit filed

Dr. James Matthews and Dr. W.A. Riley, both of Big Spring, have been named as defendants in a malpractice suit filed by former patient Robert Ernest Jones.

Jones is maintaining in his petition that complications arising from a condition in his right leg led to amputation of the leg to the mid-thigh. He maintains the physicians delayed treatment on the leg too long after his problem was diagnosed, with the result that the leg had to be amputated in October of 1979. Jones is also charging negligence and departure from standards of medical care on the part of the physicians.

No monetary figure for a settlement was mentioned by Jones' legal representation.

Farm meeting in Midland

All area farmers are invited to a meeting 7 p.m. Thursday at the Greenwood School in Midland. Alternatives for the 1981 Farm Program will be discussed.

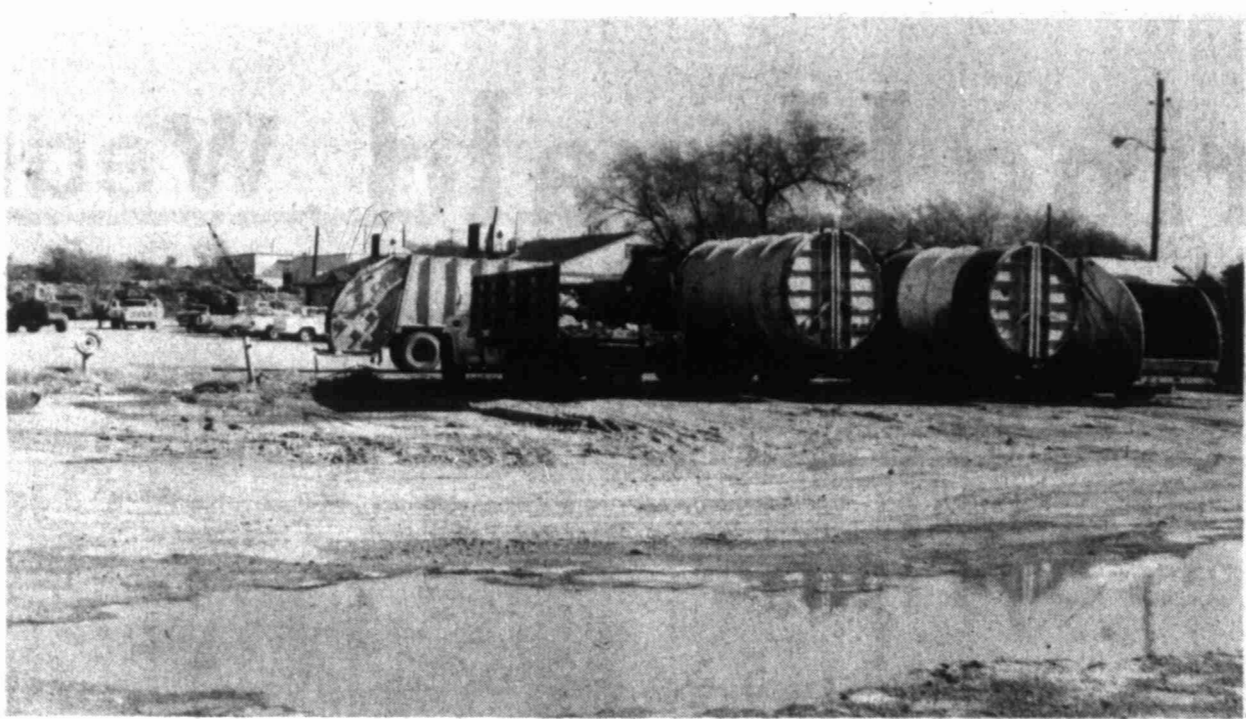

Mike Miller, Austin, will be the speaker.

EXPENSIVE EQUIPMENT PARKED OUT IN OPEN — Sheds for lots of expensive automotive equipment maintained by the city can be made available only if the voters approve a bond issue here Dec. 13. Estimated cost of such structures is $70,000. The scene here is of the area now used for parking city vehicles when they are not in use.

Carter warns Soviet Union

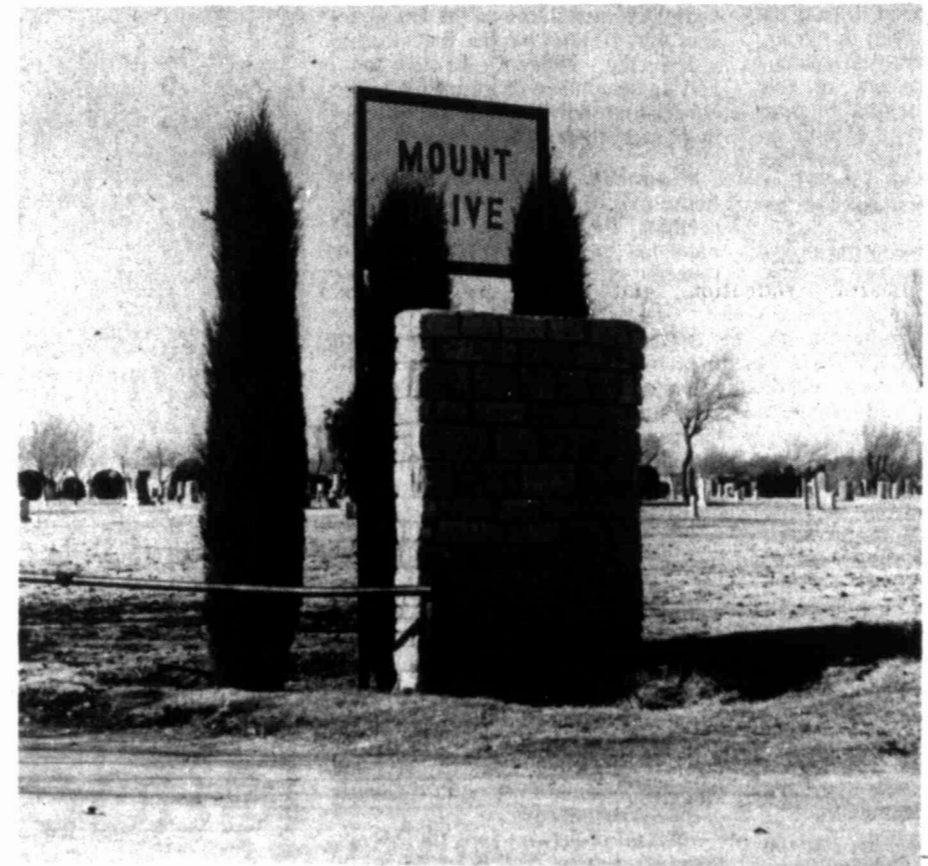

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration, declaring that the United States is not weakened just because it is changing presidents, is warning the Soviet Union that an invasion of Poland would cause "the most serious" deterioration of East-West and U.S.-Soviet relations.

The statement drew strong support from President-elect Ronald Reagan's senior foreign policy adviser, Richard V. Allen, who said "the imagination would undoubtedly be the limit" in calculating how the United States might respond to a military strike against Poland.

White House press secretary Jody Powell, speaking with reporters Tuesday, refused to say what specific steps the United States might take.

But he said: "An intervention or invasion of Poland would be most serious and adverse, both for East-West relations in general and in particular for relationships between the United States and the Soviet Union."

His statement came amid escalating labor strife in Poland and reports that Soviet army divisions have been mobilized on the Polish border.

CEMETERY WOULD BE UPGRADED — If voters approved bonds in an election scheduled here Dec. 13, the city-owned Mount Olive Memorial Park will get a new irrigation system and other improvements will be made to the facility. Several key drives within the cemetery will also be paved.

Ethics committee says Jenrette violated House code

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House ethics committee concluded unanimously today that Rep. John Jenrette, D-S.C., convicted of accepting a bribe from FBI undercover agents, had violated the House's code of ethics.

But the panel also said it would not be able to decide on recommended punishment if an individual member decided, on his own, to introduce a motion of expulsion before Friday's scheduled adjournment, of if the House remained in session past its appointed time.

Adjournment would automatically end the proceedings against Jenrette, who was defeated for re-election in November and won't be back when the new Congress convenes in January. The House has no authority to discipline former members.

Announcement of the decision came after the 12-member panel deliberated behind closed doors today. Two of the 12 — Reps. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, and Nick Joe Rahall II, D-W.Va. — did not vote on the resolution finding Jenrette guilty of rules violations.

There was no indication whether any individual House member might decide to offer a motion of expulsion against Jenrette.

The last time that happened, the House sidetracked the motion, directed against then-Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich.

Police Beat Bandit flees with $229

In one armed robbery they got away with the money; in the other they were spooked by customers entering the store.

Two black men walked into the Mid-Continent Inn, IS 20 and Highway 87, 12:45 a.m. today, pointed a blue-steeled shotgun at the desk clerk, and ordered her to clean out the cash register. After she had handed them cash and six rolls of coins totaling $229, they ordered her to lie flat on the floor for three minutes "if she knew what was good for her."

She did just that before calling police. The robbers, by that time, had fled the scene.

Two white men walked into the Seven-Eleven Store, 907 Willa, 5:18 a.m. today, and pointed a revolver at the clerk there while she was cleaning the display cases. She was about to give them the money they demanded when a car pulled into the store's parking lot, frightening the robbers, who fled east on foot without a penny.

Another man, without a gun, walked out of the Seven-Eleven Store, 300 Owens, early this morning, with a 12-pack of beer. Loss was estimated at $5.15.

Vandals punctured two tires on a 1980 Ford Bronco belonging to Dewayne Wagoner, 1403 Ayllford, while it was parked at the Big Spring Bowl-a-rama, between 6 and 8 p.m. Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $300.

Two tires, two wheels and a 12-volt battery were stolen from a car belonging to Michael Jones, 1500 Sycamore, while it was parked at 705 Cherry, Monday night. Loss was estimated at $93.

NEW CHIEF AND HIS MILIEU — If you have business at the city police station, or even if you don't, chances are you'll be seeing this man occasionally. He is Elwood W. Hoberz, who assumed his duties Monday as Chief of Police of the City of Big Spring. Hoberz, a native of Hamilton, stands in front of the police station. He came here from Waco.

Weather Clouds, cool temps throughout Texas

By The Associated Press

Cloudy skies and cool temperatures dominated Texas' weather today after a cold front finished its trek across the state late Tuesday.

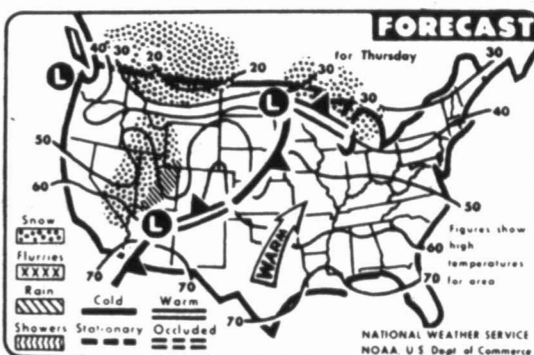

Skies over West Texas were to be mostly fair and it was windy in the Panhandle. Highs were to be in the 50s and 60s with a few readings reaching into the 70s in Southwest Texas.

Hostages Christmas card drive under way

Since there is very little chance the American hostages held in Iran will be home for Christmas, members of the Marcy PTA are initiating a city-wide Christmas Card drive in an effort to remember the people being held, according to Nelda Reagan, Marcy PTA president.

"We want to make sure everyone doesn't forget them," Mrs. Reagan said. She said the PTA had contacted Cong. Charles Stenholm's office and the local post office to clear the Christmas card drive, and received information from both on conducting the event.

"The local post office has set aside a space for the cards," Mrs. Reagan said. "People should address their cards, put the proper postage on them, and take them to the post office."

The cards should be addressed to The American Embassy, 260 Taleghani, Tehran, Iran.

Mrs. Reagan is hoping for city-wide response to the drive, and urged that people get their cards to the post office immediately. The post office will take the cards for the next seven days, she added.

Big Spring woman granted emergency naturalization

A Big Spring woman, Frances June Wiggins, was granted an emergency naturalization in Abilene Tuesday so she could obtain a passport to visit her mother, who is "quite ill" in England, said U.S. District Clerk Georgia Sanders.

Ms. Wiggins took her oath of citizenship before U.S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward at the federal courthouse in Abilene.

Agency will hear public testimony on BSSH's bid

The Projects Review Committee of the Permian Basin Health Systems Agency will hold a public hearing at 7:30 p.m., next Monday in the conference room of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, Midland Air Terminal.

Among other items, the agency will hear public testimony on a Certificate of Need Application made on behalf of the Big Spring State Hospital. The BSSH proposes to correct certain Life Safety Code deficiencies in Buildings 503 and 540 on the hospital campus. Cost of these corrections is estimated at $243,000.

The Projects Review Committee will hold a business meeting in conjunction with the Public Hearing in order to formulate recommendations to the PBHSA governing body on the projects. The PBHSA governing body will meet Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Planning Commission Office to forward the final recommendation to the Texas Health Facilities Commission.

These meetings are open to the general public and interested parties are encouraged to attend. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Jeanne Kaferle at the Health Systems Agency Offices.

Other possibilities mentioned

Haig may be top choice for Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alexander M. Haig Jr., the general who helped Richard Nixon through his worst moments in the White House, is President-elect Ronald Reagan's first choice for secretary of state, sources report.

Reagan also is turning to former Nixon administration officials Caspar W. Weinberger and William J. Casey, New York banking executive Walter B. Wriston and personal attorney William French Smith to fill key Cabinet-level posts, according to several sources close to the incoming government.

Tips listed to assure good mail service during holidays

Postmaster Frank Hardesty reminded customers that for the best service this Christmas season they should use ZIP Codes, place their return address in the upper left corner of the envelope and use proper postage.

"By following these suggestions," Postmaster Hardesty said, "you will be assured good mail service this holiday season."

It is important, the Big Spring Postmaster said that families double check envelopes and cards to be certain that proper postage is affixed. Envelopes without postage will be returned to senders, if possible, or delayed by postage-due procedures.

"When the return address is placed on envelopes bearing holiday greetings, it also helps to remind friends of one's current address," Hardesty said.

And if the family to whom a holiday message is sent moved more than a year ago, it cannot be forwarded. With a return address, Hardesty said, such letters are returned to the sender with a notation that the forwarding order has expired.

The sources, who would not speak for attribution, cautioned that the makeup of the Cabinet was not firm. Reagan remains undecided on some positions and his first choices might decline to join the new Republican administration, they said Tuesday night.

But as things stood, according to the consensus opinion, the following are the most likely choices:

STATE: Haig, 56, the former NATO commander who was White House chief of staff when the Watergate scandal forced Nixon's resignation in 1974, would become the first retired general to head the State Department since George C. Marshall, who served in the Truman administration from 1947 to 1949. Haig is now president of United Technologies Corp., a major defense contractor in Hartford, Conn.

DEFENSE: Weinberger, 63, Nixon's former budget director and secretary of health, education and welfare, is almost certain to head the department now that Haig, previously a strong candidate for the post, appears headed for State.

JUSTICE: Smith, 63, chairman of a Cabinet selection group composed of close Reagan advisers and friends, is expected to set aside reservations about leaving his Los Angeles law practice to become attorney general.

TREASURY: Wriston, 61, chairman of Citicorp., the nation's second-largest bank, is Reagan's first choice for this key economic post, but he may reject the job. In that event, Reagan might turn to Charles E. Walker, 56, deputy secretary of the treasury under Nixon, or Alan Greenspan, 54, former President Gerald R. Ford's chief economic adviser.

CIA: Casey, 67, an undersecretary of state and chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission during the Nixon administration, had expressed interest in being defense secretary, but now seems prepared to accept the CIA directorship, a post said to be his for the asking. Casey, like Smith and Weinberger, is a member of Reagan's inner circle of advisers. He is chairman of Reagan's transition operation.

A spokeswoman for Wriston said he would have no comment, and a spokesman for Haig said the retired four-star general had not been offered the State Department post as of Tuesday night. The other candidates previously have declined to talk about Reagan's Cabinet decisions.

The sources added that the president-elect was having considerable trouble finding a woman for the Cabinet after Anne Armstrong, former ambassador to Great Britain and close Reagan adviser, withdrew from consideration last week.

Reagan's advisers "have a significant problem in finding a woman," said one source. "Everyone is very sensitive to it."

Two women remained in the running for Cabinet posts, the sources said. Elizabeth Dole, former member of the Federal Trade Commission and wife of Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., was being considered for secretary of health and human services or secretary of housing and urban development, while Betty S. Murphy, former chairwoman of the National Labor Relations Board, was a labor secretary prospect.

It was not clear if Reagan had made up his mind on all 15 Cabinet-level jobs.

Renovating old house can offer savings

There's something to be said for renovating an old house rather than obligating yourself for a new one.

The Consumer Information Center has issued a new paper that suggests you can expect to work hard but offers a savings in money if you need to refurbish an old homestead.

The CIC also proposes before you make any decisions, you should inspect the house very carefully. You have to spend some time to recognize clues to problems that aren't obvious to the unpracticed eye.

START IN THE basement — if indeed the house has a basement. Is the foundation good? Some minor settling is normal and can usually be fixed by re-leveling floor joints and beams. But if you notice settling and cracking of the foundation walls in a number of places, take heed. This could indicate the need for major foundation work, which can be a very expensive proposition.

See if the basement is damp — not a good sign. If possible, check it both during good weather and after a heavy rain. (If you're standing in ankle deep water you know you're in trouble.)

With the point of a knife, check the wood in the beams and joints. If the wood is easy to poke or a section comes out with very little resistance, chances are there is decay. Are there mud tubes going from the ground to the wood? Then the termites have been feasting on parts of your scatter.

Throughout the house, try doors and windows to see if they open and close easily. Jamming quite likely indicates uneven settling.

The ceiling and walls of the structure can tell you a lot. If they show water spots, that would likely mean the roof is leaking, vapor is coming through the walls or gutter and downspout problems.

CALL ON A pro to inspect such things as the power hookups, the plumbing and the heating equipment. Upgrading of such things can be costly. Once your inventory is completed, get estimates. Add this cost plus about 15 percent for slippage to the price of the house. If the total is about the same or below the prices of similar houses in the same area, you have a good buy.

You can get a copy of a booklet called "Renovate an Old House" for $1 by sending along your name and addressing it to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 206H Pueblo, Colo., 81009. The government will also send along a free copy of Consumer Information Catalogue, a listing of 200 free or low cost federal publications of consumer interest.

Uncounted blessings

Joseph Kraft

WASHINGTON — It is well, the past Thanksgiving weekend, to turn attention back to President Carter. For by a strange alchemy, the parts of his record were greater than the whole. Especially for those of us who have been negative, there are uncounted blessings to count.

Style, for openers. The blue jeans and cardigan came as a welcome relief to the buttoned-up stodginess of the blue suit and white shirt worn as a uniform in the Nixon years. The cultural fare at the Carter White House ranged widely and contrasted favorably with the kitsch that went before.

HONEST GOVERNMENT found favor in the Carter years. The president may have been blind to his own deceptions and the weaknesses of his family. But corruption did not pass the bounds of self-bamboozlement. The Justice Department smeared egg all over the faces of those who sought to exculpate Nixon by finding new Watergates. The fix was out.

A vice president, for once, was in. Fritz Mondale became an all-purpose adviser, free of operational responsibilities but able to apply (usually good) judgment across the board. No other administration in modern times can make that claim.

In foreign policy, though Carter did not seek it, the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty constitutes a major plus. The president did facilitate its achievement at Camp David. Now the entente between the two old enemies is the stopper in the Middle East — the big reason the Persian Gulf war has been contained and the starting point for any healthy new developments in the area.

Bad management marred the establishment of formal relations with China. The event was staged more by Peking than by Washington, and in a way, it cast a shadow over this country's relations with Russia. Still the Chinese connection is now a fixed element in American foreign policy.

Events in Afghanistan and Iran worked to loosen the bonds of alliance with Western Europe. Achieving new understandings with Paris and Bonn at the political level constitutes the most urgent, if not the biggest, foreign policy task ahead. But the Carter Administration has provided a point of departure — a program for military modernization of the NATO Alliance. In domestic affairs, energy leads the way. Carter broke with the illusions and evasions that marked the approach of two previous presidents. He presented a comprehensive program. He followed it through the labyrinth of the Congress and emerged with probably the most significant achievement of his administration — something no Republican president could have done. He set in motion the deregulation of oil prices.

DEREGULATION IN other fields was, no doubt, initiated by the Ford Administration. But there is reason to doubt Republicans could have proceeded very far, very fast. The Carter Administration did. It freed up airline travel and truck transportation, the banking business, and communication of many kinds. We are all the beneficiaries, and there is — for some time to come — no turning back.

Inflation proved to be the Waterloo of the Carter Administration. In 1977, and again in 1978, the administration saw recession ahead. It pushed for stimulating measures, and thus reduced unemployment and excess manufacturing capacity that might have slowed the spread of higher prices. When the inflationary danger surged front and center in 1978, Carter was condemned to run before events.

But at least he didn't walk. He accepted tight budgeting. He accepted tight money. In the end, despite knowing winks, he stuck by this commitment and fought off attacks that would have left the country in poorer position than it is today for dealing with its principle domestic problems.

Migraines, little strokes: Different causes

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Could you please discuss migraines and the so-called "little strokes"? Is a migraine headache really a "little stroke"? — A.D.

I abbreviated your letter because my answer must of necessity be somewhat long.

Little strokes (transient ischemic attacks) and migraines have a few points in common, but the differences between them are so great that the similarities should not be emphasized.

A transient ischemic attack (TIA) is a temporary malfunction of the brain, lasting typically for minutes, but occasionally persisting for as long as 24 hours. It usually results when a small piece of material breaks off from a fatty deposit on the wall of one of the large arteries leading to the brain. This piece, called an embolus, enters the bloodstream and is carried to the smaller arteries serving the brain. When it reaches an artery so small that plugging occurs, blood cannot flow past that point to that area of the brain. That's what ischemia means, a stopping of blood flow. If the embolus is very tiny, the body can get rid of it in a short time and the symptoms go away.

During the brief time the blood is not getting through, the person suffers vision defects, numbness, weakness, paralysis, difficulty speaking, dizziness or any of a number of other symptoms. A TIA, as I have noted, is a serious warning of a possible future stroke. A stroke is a TIA that is not transient; it is permanent because the body has not been able to get rid of the blocking material.

Migraine headache results from a different phenomenon — the sudden spasm of an artery leading to the brain. It is a kind of arterial cramping. When the artery cramps (contracts), blood flow to the brain is diminished. The symptoms migraine sufferers have just before an attack result from this diminished blood supply. They depend on which area of the brain is affected — visual, muscular or other. After the cramping, the artery expands suddenly, causing the throbbing headache.

The percentage of the population that has experienced at least one migraine headache is placed at 20 percent. I hope this explains to you why the symptoms of migraine and TIAs can be similar while having radically different causes.

Dear Dr. Donohue: The trouble in my finger joints (fourth and fifth digits) has been diagnosed as osteoarthritis. I am very interested in having more information about arthroplasty for this and its effectiveness. Can you advise me where I might have an evaluation of my problem? — Mrs. A.W.

Orthopedic surgeons have made great strides in replacing many body joints (arthroplasty), including those of the fingers. Replacing a natural joint with an artificial one is done only after serious consideration, and only for joints where there has been so much destruction that function is seriously impaired. I hope you are using medicines for pain and control of inflammation and are applying heat to the joints. You should be on a good program of physiotherapy. Then, if all fails, joint replacement can be considered.

The methods of inserting the new joint depends on what joint is being replaced. Most artificial joints are made of heat-resistant silicone plastic. I had a milkman patient whose knees were badly deformed from osteoarthritis. He has done very well with one artificial knee joint and is about to have his second knee joint replaced. However, before you consider surgery see what can be done non-surgically for control of your symptoms.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have what my doctor calls pityriasis rosea. The doctor says it will go away by itself in time. How long should this take? Baking soda paste dabbed on seems to reduce the itching. Is there any other treatment for this? Can it be contagious? — Mr. D.F.

Pityriasis rosea ought to be over in from four to eight weeks. It begins as a single oval patch, often unnoticed. The rash spreads as similar small, pale red patches. The major problem is the itching. It is not contagious. Your treatment is fine. An antihistamine can also be used if the itching becomes intolerable.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I would like to become a Christian and know I am saved. I am presently living with a married man. Would I have to break off that relationship in order to become a Christian? — W.D.

DEAR W.D.: In becoming a Christian, one declares that he wants Christ to rule in his life. If you want to receive Christ as your Savior, you cannot say yes to him and no to his commandments. You must be willing to follow his demands of discipline. Jesus made it very clear to his disciples that their lives were to be characterized by moral purity. In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus made it clear that not only was adultery wrong, but that lustful thoughts were to be forsaken (Matthew 5:27, 28).

In an attempt to trap Jesus on one occasion, the Jewish religious leaders brought a woman to him who had just been caught in the act of adultery. At the end of the interview Jesus declared forgiveness for her, but he also commanded her to "leave your life of sin" (John 8:11).

The same must be true of you. If you want to follow Jesus, you must be willing to forsake your sin. Jesus told his followers that they must "count the cost" of discipleship. One must be willing to give up those things that do not please God. True repentance is not simply an emotional outburst, but a decision to turn from sin and follow the Savior.

Do not let the relationship hinder you from finding the peace of God and the plan for your life which you truly desire. Ask God for the strength to break it off, then commit your life to Christ. He will give you a new pattern for living and a new power to keep it. Jesus said, "I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full" (John 10:10).

The cause of pityriasis rosea is not known. The rash should not persist longer than two months. If it does, report back to your doctor.

Did you know that 80 percent of stroke victims resume to some degree their former lives? The booklet "Stroke Recovery — Hope and Help" describes the causes and treatment of stroke. For a copy write Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 50 cents and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Please tell me what causes tenosynovitis. If cortisone doesn't work, is surgery the answer? — Mrs. M.O.

Tenosynovitis is an elegantly descriptive term.

Tendons have casings around them, just as do sausages. That is the synovium. If it becomes inflamed (itis), the condition is called tenosynovitis.

The inflamed casing becomes sticky and the tendon cannot glide through it easily during muscle and joint activity. Rest is important, and if the problem is of longstanding, heat and warm soaks help. Sometimes, anti-inflammation medicines like aspirin are used. In severe cases, cortisone may be injected around the tendon and synovium (but not into the tendon) to reduce inflammation. Certainly if a joint is painful, you should rest it immediately and until pain disappears. To avoid a repeat attack, carefully-planned exercises can help. They would be tailored for the particular tendon involved.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

IF THE BUREAUCRATS were offered, say, a flat 10 percent of all the money they save, the taxpayers would save 90 percent. Thus some clerk in his cubicle could become an overnight millionaire by saving the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars. The fortunate clerk would merely need to locate the waste and convince a citizens' board that the nation could do without it.

Under my plan, the bureaucrats would have more to gain by searching for ways to reduce expenditures than looking for ways to spend money. The alternative? In 10th-century, Egypt, a slave caste called the Mamelukes was entrusted by the sultans with the public administration. The Mamelukes soon became the new line of sultans. The czars, though they could reduce a whole population to serfdom, were not able to subjugate their bureau-

But you're confused, huh? Not one, but two blizzards in West Texas in the same month? And it's not even winter yet. Has something gone haywire with that great big weather machine in the sky, or do they have a new guy operating the thing. Doesn't he know that snow in this area is somewhat of a rarity?

UNLESS YOU'RE a child (age-wise or heart-wise), undoubtedly the double-dip of white powder dumped on the city this past month has far from impressed you, especially if you moved to this normally sunny state to get away from those forsaken cold lands up north.

Your frost-bitten minds are once again clouded with dreaded visualizations like: —Slipping and skidding your rump on the ice-covered pavement before a group of amused sack boys at the grocery store; —The never-ending task of cleaning up mud and snow tracked in and out of the house by your ecstatic snowman-building kids, while at the same time, praying "let there be school tomorrow"; —Or the thought of leaving your house in the morning, already 10 minutes late for work, just to be greeted by an inch of snow and ice covering the windshield.

And if that's not enough to make your suppressed hatred for winter surface, maneuvering through the yucky, mulky slush destined to remain after the snow melts will get you every time.

For all of you out there mumbing your breath about the far-from-usual snowstorms that have painted our normally brown-toned landscape white, you can blame me for the inconvenience.

Yes, it's partly my fault the schools closed down; it's partly my fault the roads were comparable to ice skating rink; and it's partly my fault you've had to turn the thermostat up several notches to keep your toes warm at night.

You see, I'm a professed worshipping of Old Man Winter, but over the last few years, my faith in him and his ability had noticeably dwindled.

The supposedly cooler months of the year just weren't meeting up to my expectations. Thus, my eyes started to wander, focusing toward the warmer months on the calendar.

If Old Man Winter wasn't going to live up to his name, then I might as well turn my allegiance over to his most hated arch-rival, Sonny Boy Sun.

I was sure I could learn to love lemonade, swimming and sailing associated with summer just as much as I had loved the hot chocolate, fireplaces and cuddling associated with winter.

At least I knew one thing for certain, with temperatures surpassing the century mark most every summer, the sun sure wasn't falling down on his job.

SINCE OLD Man Winter doesn't rate first (or 51st) in any popularity poll, the fact that one of his few, but most devout followers would even think of becoming a traitor made his cold blood boil, causing the icicles hanging from his nose to melt.

So, to make a long story short, the Lord of Ice, Sleet and Snow realized his neglect to this West Texas town and immediately went to work making amends.

Needless to say, he has the faith and trust of his most appreciative follower back.

If you're a sunworshipper, complaining about the freezing cold weather and horrible snow, just sit back and suffer. I put up with your record-breaking heat wave this past summer. Now let me enjoy winter.

And if you're listening Old Man Winter, there's nothing I would like better than a white Christmas.

WASHINGTON — Ronald Reagan won't be the first president full of righteous determination to transform and reinvigorate the bureaucracy, but he is rightly alarmed over the vast breadth of federal activity and the depth of its penetration into the once-private activities of the American people.

But if Reagan is at all like his predecessors, he will be gently doctored and bound up by the rope-knower Lilliputians of the permanent bureaucracy. So gradually and invisibly will they tighten the bonds that he may never appreciate the extent to which he is in their grip.

HIS PLEDGE to eliminate the bureaucratic deadwood won't be easy to achieve. For there is no clear standard to apply to the bureaucracy's performance, no sure way to determine either excessive cost or concrete achievement.

In private business, a standard of competence is furnished inexorably by the profit factor. If a business branch is wasteful, loses money or its profits decline, a bell goes off at headquarters and that branch is either pruned or cut off. Whether a branch manager is doing a good or a bad job will be proved definitively by the profit-and-loss figure.

But the government bureau, with no such automatic arbiter, can always claim that a poor result could be improved upon with a bigger staff and more money. The bureau chief is rewarded, not for efficiency which cannot be measured, but by the number of people he has under him.

The bureaucrats, therefore, have developed a cavalier attitude toward government appropriations. Enough is never sufficient; they must always have more. With expansion and expenditure as their motive, they are constantly maneuvering for more money which they squander with there's-more-where-that-came-from abandon.

If I may be permitted a modest suggestion, a more powerful incentive is needed to save money. So why not reward the bureaucrats for seeking out and eliminating unnecessary expenditures? Instead of the higher salaries they now get for padding the budget, why not give them bonuses for cutting the budget?

Romain Gary found dead

PARIS (AP) — French novelist Romain Gary, found dead in his Paris apartment with a bullet wound in the head, sent a suicide note to his publisher saying his act was not connected with the death of his former wife, actress Jean Seberg, 18 months ago, the publisher said today.

Editions Gallimard released the text of the note. It said in part:

"No connection with Jean Seberg. Lovers of broken hearts are kindly asked to look elsewhere."

Gary, 66, whose body was found Tuesday, said the reason for his suicide could be given as a nervous breakdown "but then, it must be said that has lasted since I reached manhood and allowed me to succeed in my literary work."

"Why, then?" he asked in the note. "Perhaps one must seek the reply in the title of my autobiography, 'The Night Will Be Peaceful.'"

Close friends said Gary had been depressed since Miss Seberg's body was found in the trunk of her car Sept. 8, 1979. Medical examiners ruled that her death at the age of 44 was caused by alcohol and barbiturates.

Gary contended she was driven to death because of a false story planted by the FBI in 1970 saying the blonde, Iowa-born film star was pregnant by a member of the American Black Panther Party, which she supported.

The FBI later admitted it spread the rumor to "cheapen her image with the general public" because she supported the Black Panthers financially.

Shortly before her death, Miss Seberg told an interviewer the shock of reading the story was so great that she went into labor and the child was stillborn.

"Jean became psychotic after that," Gary said at a news conference after her death. "Every year on the anniversary of this still birth she tried to take her life."

Gary said the child was white and believed it was his. A family member who had visited Gary shortly after the first anniversary of Miss Seberg's death found him brooding over it.

"He was very anxious and when I asked him why, he said he would never forget how his ex-wife's reputation had been dirtied," the relative said.

Miss Seberg was Gary's second wife. His first marriage to British novelist Lesley Blanch ended in 1963 when he married Miss Seberg. That marriage ended in 1970 after one child, a son, Diego who is now 17, and one month before the actress had the stillborn child.

The couple apparently remained close after their marriage ended and saw each other often, according to friends.

It was finalized Aug. 25, 1976 to pump 40 barrels of 42 gravity oil, plus one barrel of water, with gas-oil ratio of 725-1, through perforations at 9,629-635 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the north and west lines of 34-31-2n-T&D? The lower Strawn gas re-opener, Shell Oil Co. No. 1 Clay Reid, a 9,700-foot Fusselman failure, was finalized May 11, 1965 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2.1 million cubic feet of gas daily, plus 103.2 barrels of 51.8 gravity condensate, through perforations at 9,127-45 feet.

The original opener, Pan American Petroleum Corp. (now Amoco Production Co.) No. 1 Stevenson, was finalized March 2, 1956 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 3 million cubic feet of gas daily, plus 140 barrels of distillate, through perforations at 8,944-90 feet.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, DEC. 4, 1980

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are now in a good position to improve relationships with others by extending some courtesy or kindness. Be sure to carry through with plans you have made.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Situations arise that give you a better picture of your relationships with associates. Show others you have wisdom.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Plan how to establish more harmony with co-workers and everything will work out better in the future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make sure that you are handling financial matters wisely. Spare time should be spent at amusements with congenials.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to give more thought to home improvements and increase harmony with close ties. Express happiness.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't invest more money than you can afford in a new enterprise or you could regret it later. Don't neglect to pay your bills.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Look into the detailed part of a financial matter and be sure you understand it thoroughly. Sidestep a troublemaker.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Study details of any plans you have made and correct possible errors. Be sure business affairs are running smoothly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Gain favors from your friends since they are in a fine mood for such now. Make the evening a happy one.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are desirous of gaining aims that are vital to your existence, but first study every angle involved.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Put your talents to work and make a fine impression on higher-ups. Express happiness with loved one.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan to meet talented persons who can help you advance in career matters. Avoid heavy expenditures of money.

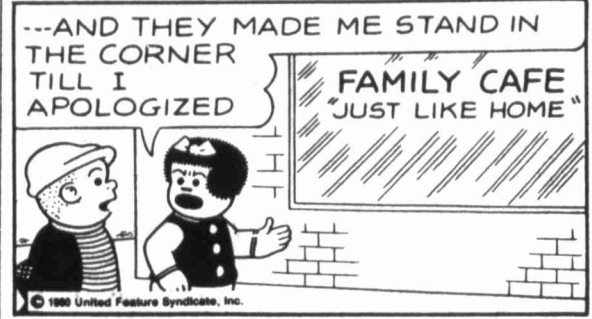

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Ideal day to keep promises made and clear the slate, be it in business or personal life. Not a good day to take risks.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... He or she will be one who likes to please others, so whether it be in the field of entertainment, nursing, or whatever, be sure to give as fine an education as you can. There's a talent for music in this chart. Don't neglect ethical training.

Boy Can Be Father, But Not Husband

DEAR ABBY: My 15 1/2-year-old grandson is nearly 6 feet tall and looks like a full-grown man, but he has two years of high school left. I'll call him Billy. Billy has always been a good boy and never gave his mother (my daughter) any trouble. Now it turns out that Billy has been seeing a friend of his mother's. She's a 30-year-old divorcee with two children. She claims she's 4 months pregnant with Billy's child!

My daughter says that this divorcee has had several affairs with other high school boys, but she's blaming this pregnancy on Billy. He admitted he had been skipping his first class at school every day and going up to this woman's place to have sex with her. He says he will quit school and marry her if that's what she wants. Abby, he is only a child himself, and this would ruin his life.

I know there's a law against having sex with a minor girl. How about sex with a minor boy? Can't this woman go to jail? And isn't there some way to find out if the baby is really Billy's?

Can you see a way out of this mess? And how can I help Billy?

BILLY'S NAMAW

DEAR NAMAW: Having sex with a minor — girl or boy — is punishable by law. Billy needs legal advice and counsel. The best present you can give your grandson is a competent lawyer to represent him.

DEAR ABBY: I just had to respond to FAT, FEMALE AND MISERABLE, as my lovely wife is also overweight. I am 6-4, she is 5-4, and we weigh about the same, but I wouldn't trade my darling for a dozen size 9's.

We've been married over 15 years and she has given me two beautiful children and more happiness than one man deserves in a lifetime.

They say there is someone for everyone in this world. I thank God that I have found someone special, and FAT, FEMALE AND MISERABLE will find hers, too. Not everyone measures people by the size of their waistline.

CAROLE'S JERRY

DEAR JERRY: What a lovely man you are. You should be cloned.

Cactus chapter ABWA hears Moore on bond elections

Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, met at Furr's Cafeteria, Nov. 24.

The speaker, Dub Moore, spoke on "Faith in our Second Century," an in depth study of the upcoming bond election Dec. 13. The bond program as presented is a comprehensive program that will provide for the needs of the city through the ensuing five year period.

The program is one that has been recommended by an eight-five member Citizens Advisory Committee and has been reviewed by the City staff and the city council. Each of the issues will be voted on separately. He urged all concerned people to get out and vote. The vocational talk was given by Eunice Homan.

Three guests were a member of Scenic Chapter, Vicky Morrow, and two daughters of Butch Cooley, Hugh Leene McElyea and Ellen Stanloski.

A new member, Joyce Phillips, was installed.

The Dec. 15 meeting will be at Bonanza at 6:30 p.m. instead of regular time of 7 p.m.

On Dec. 16, those who help at the Big Spring State Hospital Christmas party, are to take sandwiches to the Medicine Shoppe that day and meet at the Auditorium at the hospital that night at 7 p.m.

Essie Jackson received a certificate from National, recognizing her as being the group's Woman of the Year.

'Meatfacts' tells of meat industry

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The tenth annual edition of "Meatfacts," a statistical summary of key information concerning livestock and meat, was published recently by the American Meat Institute.

The 28-page report is described as a "compact, yet comprehensive, statistical survey of the U.S. meat industry." In addition to data excerpted from U.S. Department of Agriculture sources, financial details about the meat packing industry were obtained from AMI's own surveys of member firms.

Major data in chart and graph form concerns livestock numbers; slaughter and meat production; farm cash receipts from livestock; consumption and prices; processed and canned meat production; employment, earnings, sales, and costs of meat packers; and foreign production, consumption and trade.

"A major value of Meatfacts is the portrayal of trends, such as the growing impact of the American livestock and meat industry on foreign trade," said C. Manly Molpus, AMI president.

Meatfacts also documents the cyclical low of cattle on American farms in 1979, the significant increase in hog numbers and the expected record hog marketings in 1980.

Molpus said: "The American consumer cannot immediately look forward to more steaks and hamburgers as herd rebuilding takes place in the '80's. He added that because of record high hog marketings, there will be a plentiful supply of pork, bacon, hot dogs and ham in 1980. Meatfacts is available from the American Meat Institute, P.O. Box 3556, Washington, D.C. 20007. Single copies are $1.00 each; quantities of two or more are 55 cents each.

Fruit jerky is for gifts

COLLEGE STATION — Fruit leather or fruit jerky makes nutritious gifts for children at Christmas, says Rhea Tindall Postel, a foods and nutrition specialist.

They are simple and easy to prepare and make very tasty snacks, she says. Dr. Postel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Prepare this natural-fruit product in the child's favorite flavor of apple, peach, pear, apricot or fig. FRUIT LEATHER OR FRUIT JERKY

Use: 8 ounces dried fruit (peaches, pears, apples, apricots or figs).

Cook fruit as directed on package, drain and cool. Puree in a blender or press through a sieve or colander.

Cover a 15 x 10 x 1 inch pan with foil. Spread fruit pulp in a thin layer. Bake 25 minutes at 300 degrees F.

Without opening the oven door, turn off the oven and let dry eight hours or overnight.

Peel off foil, roll the fruit leather into a loose cylinder and wrap in plastic wrap to store in refrigerator until it's time to slice for the children.

Civitan's to help TARCs

The regular meeting of the Big Spring Civitan Club was held at 5:30 p.m. on Nov. 19 at Furr's Cafeteria. Micki Potter, president, presided.

The Christmas dinner for club members and their families will be held Dec. 15 in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

It was announced that the March of Dimes is in need of assistance with its drive in January. Claxton Fruitcakes have been distributed to members and sales are in progress.

Jerald Wilson volunteered to check into the assistance the club could give to the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens programs. Suggestions were made for donations to special education programs at Christmas. Members will attempt to identify needs.

The educational program for the evening was presented by Larry Bristo of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. He began with a brief history of the center since its beginning in 1961.

He discussed physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech pathology, audiology and the "Big Help for Little Folk" program.

When asked about the finances of the center, Bristo explained that about 20 percent of the funding comes from fees and charges. Other assistance comes from the city and county, the United Way and the Endowment Fund. The center is certified by Medicare and receives additional funding from this source.

"However," the director continued, "there is a deficit budget of over $100,000. We need about $10,000 to come from small donations of $5, $10 and $15. Memorials to the center would be most appreciated."

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center has 10 full-time staff members. The medical director is Dr. Jack Woodall. They serve about 150-160 persons per week, 40 percent of which are children.

The next meeting of the Civitan Club will be today at 5:30 p.m. in Furr's Cafeteria. George Colvin will present information in the City Bond Issue.

Alpha Tau Rho meets

The Alpha Tau Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday in the home of Kathy Nichols at 7:30 p.m. Jo Anne Ezell, president, presided.

A salad supper was planned for the Christmas party to be held at the next meeting. Secret sisters will be revealed and the Christmas centerpiece decorating the table will be given as a door prize.

All committee chairmen gave committee reports.

Mrs. Nichols presented the program on sculpture, showing pictures of famous sculptures.

The next meeting will be Dec. 15 in the home of Mrs. Ezell at 7 p.m.

BSSFC will host party

The Big Spring School Food Club is hosting a Christmas party for all cafeteria workers and husbands Saturday night at 6 p.m. at Rannels Junior High School.

Ladies are asked to bring a gift for their partner. Salads, turkey, ham and desserts will be served.

Should you line it?

To line a garment or not to line a garment is often a question. Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist, has some answers.

Unlined garments are cooler, easier to launder at home and require less time to manufacture.

However, lined garments may hold their shape better and may last longer. Lining also adds a touch of elegance, she says.

Ms. Brown is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

CAFMF aids with expenses

By LOUISE COOK
 Associated Press Writer
 Most people don't like to think about death, but planning for the inevitable can save you grief and money.

A 1979 fact-sheet from the Consumer Federation of America said that people spend $5.4 billion a year on funerals — more than they spend for anything else except houses or cars. The average price of a traditional funeral is more than $2,000.

You can help yourself by learning in advance what is involved in a funeral and burial. Don't wait until a death occurs and you have to make arrangements for a family member or friend at a time of sadness and stress.

The Continental Association of Funeral and Memorial Societies, Inc., a group of non-profit organizations which help members obtain simple and economical funerals, has started a campaign to teach people about funeral costs, alternatives and laws. There are 200 societies across the country. Membership usually costs $10 to $25. Information is available from Suite 1100, 1828 L St. N.W., Washington, D.C., 20036.

The first step in funeral planning, says the association, is to decide whether you prefer burial, cremation or bequeathal.

Burial is the most common choice. The price usually depends on the cost of the casket, the services included and the cemetery charges. Contrary to popular belief, embalming is not required by state law in most cases.

Cremation is simple and usually is less expensive than burial. Ashes may be scattered, stored in an urn or buried. Caskets are not required by law for cremation.

Bequeathal of your body — or specific organs — to a medical school is economical, but you make arrangements with the school in advance. You also must make alternate plans in case the circumstances of death make bequeathal impossible. For further information, contact the Living Bank, P.O. Box 6725, Houston, Texas, 77005. The Living Bank is a non-profit registry which coordinates anatomical gifts, supplies "Uniform Donor Cards" for people to carry and keeps records of potential donors.

There are several things to keep in mind when shopping for a funeral. Among them:

—Be prepared to talk about price. Ask for an itemized price list. A handful of states require such a list, but in most places, you are on your own. Find out exactly what is included. If the standard package covers items you do not want, ask for a simpler arrangement.

—Be ready for "extras." Additional limousines, burial clothing, a grave liner, flowers and newspaper death announcements all contribute to the cost of a funeral.

—Call the cemetery and check its charges. These fees are not included in the price of the funeral and they can be substantial.

Stationery is now lined

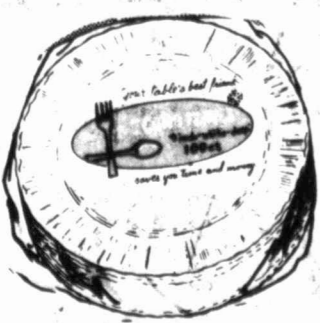

America's letter writers are sending a message to stationery manufacturers that says: "Read between the lines."

Phyllis Nolan, manager of Hallmark Cards stationery, reports that consumers are requesting more stationery designs with lines to serve as guides for their handwriting. As a result, Hallmark's extensive offering of tablets, notes and conventional stationery this year includes 11 different designs with lined writing spaces, up significantly over the usual four- or five-lined designs of previous years.

"In the past, lined paper generally appealed to juveniles and the elderly," Nolan says. "Today, however, we're finding a demand for lined papers by all ages."

Among the more unusual lined designs offered by Hallmark are strings of flowers arranged to look as if they are growing on horizontal vines, and the familiar legal pad in smart, dressed-up colors. High tech looks such as graph paper and grid patterns — a clever Peanuts design that features Snoopy planting rows of seed and Woodstock following his footsteps, devouring each tidbit — are also among the new, lined Hallmark styles.

Man obsessed with family he killed

DALLAS (AP) — Thomas Ray Walker Jr. was so obsessed with his children he often accompanied them to school and sat for hours in the back of their classrooms. That obsession, the fear his family could not survive after his planned suicide, led him to kill the children, enticing them to their deaths with the promise of a "surprise."

And in the hours Monday after he shot his wife, Linda Jo, and children — Traci, 13,

Tammi, 11, Tommy Joe, 9, and Nicholas, 8, he tried to describe his motives and his agony to a local television reporter during a series of disjointed phone conversations.

Tortured by what he had done, Walker drove from phone booth to phone booth until — as police rushed in with weapons drawn — he burst from one booth screaming, "Shoot me! Shoot me! Shoot me!"

As Walker reached for his back pocket, three officers opened fire, and he fell mortally wounded on a supermarket parking lot. He died an hour later.

"I've got a story, and it's a bad story. I need to tell it," Walker told KDFW-TV reporter Tom Steyer during one of many conversations Monday afternoon and evening. "I'm potentially dangerous. I'm armed. I'm mentally ill — obviously. I'm not joking."

"I've killed my wife, and I've killed my four kids," the 36-year-old self-employed paint contractor told Steyer. "I want the world to know I know now it wasn't right. I know I was wrong — I love them. I loved them more than anything in the world. But I couldn't cope with it anymore."

During the rambling, tape-recorded conversations — first with KDFW executive producer Kenny Boles and later with Steyer — Walker described a grisly, day-long killing spree at his southeast Dallas home.

He said he watched his wife, Linda Jo, shower Monday morning and as she began to wash her face, he stepped up on the toilet and fired over the shower stall, striking her in the back. He fired again, he said, hitting her between the eyes.

Next he went to Rylie Intermediate School and took Tammi from her Talented and Gifted class, telling school officials he was taking his family on a trip. "I shook hands with him and talked with him when he came to get Tammi," Rylie principal Richard Allen said Tuesday. "I saw nothing to be alarmed about."

Tammi's teachers said Walker attended classes with his daughter "two to three times a week" in the months before the slayings.

Walker told Steyer when he and Tammi got home, he told her to turn around and close her eyes because he had a surprise for her. When she did, he fired a single bullet into the back of her head.

It was the same with his two sons, who closed their eyes and were shot in the head, he told Steyer.

The hardest one, he said, was his oldest daughter, Traci. When she came home from school Monday afternoon, he gave her $5 and told her to go buy some candy. Watching through a window, he waited until she walked back into the living room, he left from the dining room and shot her in the head.

She let out a little scream, he said, and he fired again to make sure she was dead.

"He killed those kids because he loved them," Walker's grieving mother, Mrs. T.R. Walker said Tuesday. "My son had lost hope. That's all."

Neighbors said Walker was broke and recently had moved from a home he owned in suburban Balch Springs to a rented house. He became "paranoid" about his children and refused to let them play outside unless he was with them, said Mrs. James A. Williams, who lived across the street.

He rarely left his house, except to see his children at school, where he was almost a daily visitor, school officials said.

CAREFUL ABOUT SELECTIONS — Members of the First Grade at Immaculate Heart of Marcy thoughtfully select books for purchase during a book fair held in the school's library recently.

School's book fair termed huge success

The Immaculate Heart of Marcy school's book fair coincided with National Library Week. It was conducted in the school library.

This was the first such fair held at the school in several years and was termed a huge success. The children had an opportunity to view and purchase books and other educational articles.

Theme used in the fair was "Reading Can Be Fun."

One day of the fair was designated "Parents and Visitors Day." This provided parents with the opportunity of inspecting the books that the children chose to purchase and to make other purchases.

The library is in the process of setting up a memorial section. Books purchased for this section will be through donations made in memory of deceased persons. Special cards will be placed in these books containing the name of the donors and the persons in whose memories the donations are made.

The book fair is planned as an annual event at the school.

Farabee's bill

Competency testing of teachers proposed

AUSTIN — Competency testing may take on new meaning for Texas teachers in the coming months.

Such testing for high school students is already a requirement for graduation, but a bill prefiled this week by Sen. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, would extend the idea to the teaching profession.

The bill calls for college students to pass a basic skills test before they can enroll in any state-approved teacher education program and once more prior to certification.

Under a grandfather clause, the law would not affect those already certified or enrolled in a teacher education program, Farabee said.

In a statement released Monday, Farabee acknowledged that "teacher testing alone will not insure quality education."

"Other resources such as improved salaries and increased parent participation must be utilized to insure quality education for our children."

The legislature convening in January is expected to give a significant boost to teacher salaries and to increase the state's financial assistance to local school districts, he said.

Despite that, the 30th District senator expects a fight with various teacher groups, especially the Texas State Teachers Association, as well as criticism from some college officials.

TSTA President Dora Scott told a legislative commission in September that her group opposes competency testing for teacher certification because the validity of such tests has not been proven.

"If properly accredited, institutions training teachers should be accountable through their screening and evaluation procedures for the competency of those entering the training and for the four-year program leading to a bachelor degree and certification," she added.

However, those who will complain the loudest, Farabee said, may well be college officials who fear their education students are marginal and unable to pass such tests.

Opposition from college officials may make passage of the bill difficult, Farabee said.

But he added that he hoped opposition from teacher groups will be tempered by the grandfather clause.

The bill, Farabee noted, is a result of findings by the Commission on Standards for the Teaching Profession, created by the last legislature.

As a part of its study, the commission looked at an experimental testing program instituted by the Dallas school district. Results showed that many of the district's teachers could not pass a minimum competency test similar to one being given students.

That in itself is a good indication that some sort of testing is needed at the college level, Farabee said.

The senator also said the Texas Education Agency is now working on examples of what a teacher competency test might contain. The bill would provide $1 million during the next biennium to develop a testing program.

All test standards and starting dates would be set by the State Board of Education, according to the bill.

Not from management, but Oiler fans

Bum under heat as Steelers arrive

HOUSTON (AP) — "If anyone's gonna catch any heat," Bud Adams said with a laugh, "it's gonna be him, not me." And three floors up in the Houston Oilers' headquarters, Bum Phillips might have wondered who left the furnace door open.

This was supposed to be the Oilers' year. In Pittsburgh, the Steelers, owners of four Super Bowl rings, are talking about one for the thumb. But Bum, his team twice victimized by the Steelers in conference championship games, had already told Houston's long-suffering fans that the Oilers, having knocked on the door two times without getting it opened, were ready to kick it in.

Which is why a steel door, the brainchild of a newspaper-sponsored contest in Pittsburgh, will be hauled into the Astrodome Thursday night — and why Phillips just may not be able to deliver the Oilers into the playoffs, much less the Super Bowl.

Bum's been catching plenty of heat lately, albeit not from his boss. Losing a division lead by dropping two games in a row can rile a few people. And Houstonians are not exactly the laid-back type. They've been clattering up the radio talk show phone lines with demands for Bum's crew-cut scalp.

In a few cities, where owners have a tendency to shoot from the hip, Bum's scalp might already have a few razor cuts on it. But Adams prefers the silent partner approach. You don't find him dictating player trades or complaining about how this player cost the team a victory. He hired a coach and general manager (Bum is both) and is content to let him coach and manage.

"If we're introducing our No. 1 draft choice or making a trade or making an announcement, I don't even attend the press conference," says Adams, who has owned the club outright since he helped found the American Football League and the Houston franchise with it in 1959.

"We have some owners in our ranks, new owners, so to speak. Take Robert Irsay in Baltimore. It's kind of new to him and he's finding out the hard way what makes this thing tick. Some days he probably wishes he'd never gotten up. Other days he wishes he'd gone to bed early because he's caught a lot of flak for saying things he probably regrets saying.

"Some guys who have gotten into sports, while it's brand new to them, there's a lot of prestige, a lot of press, and they want to be a part of the action and it trips them up. It didn't take John McMullen (of baseball's Houston Astros) but one year to get tripped up. Irsay's told me he's listening now, not talking," said Adams.

He's going to be watching Thursday night to see if Houston can get that monkey known as Pittsburgh off its back. He admitted that for years — even into the opening game of the 1980 season in Pittsburgh — the Oilers victimized themselves with a tunnel vision of sorts. Beating the Steelers was the goal. While another team might concern itself strictly with getting to first place, rather than with the team occupying it, Houston had a one track mind, colored black and gold.

That's how this whole season has been viewed by many. Even the trades, particularly the one with Oakland for quarterback Ken Stabler, was interpreted as a move designed to enable Houston to beat the Steelers — because the Snake was so good at it.

"That's what everybody thinks," Phillips said, not trying to conceal a wince. "That we got him because he beat Pittsburgh. He didn't beat Pittsburgh. Oakland beat Pittsburgh. A football team does it. No one guy does something. We got Kenny Stabler because we thought he was more of a controlled short passer who would go better with our play action stuff and our running game. That was the only reason we got him, not because I thought he was any answer to beating Pittsburgh."

But when you're trying to get to the Super Bowl, and a team that's won four of them happens to be in your division (and has virtually owned it for most of the decade), beating that team

White, Cowboys face first of big tests at Oakland

DALLAS (AP) — The big test for Danny White comes in the next three weeks against National Football League bullies Oakland, Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

Roger Staubach's replacement has thrown four touchdown passes in a game and had days when he was intercepted five times.

He's had 23 touchdown passes and 21 interceptions.

But most of all, according to Dallas Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry, he's had poise.

"Danny has sort of come into the valley, and now he's working through it," said Landry. "But you don't see him worry...or panic. He's not pressing."

Landry said White, playing his first full year as the Dallas No. 1 quarterback, still makes big mistakes like "throwing into a crowd."

But Landry added "He's been a big surprise. I don't think anyone expected him to play as well as he has. Now, he's going to be tested against the highest caliber NFL teams."

The Cowboys are at Oakland Sunday then return to the West Coast for a Monday night meeting with Los Angeles. They close the regular season at home Dec. 21 against the Eagles.

Dallas trails the Eagles by a game and is on the unfavorable side of the tie-breakers. Landry watched the Raiders defeat Denver 9-3 Monday night and said "Oakland plays defense as good as anybody in the National Football League. And they are always especially tough in Oakland."

Landry said "overall we haven't played a top team since we played Philadelphia and Denver. Now, we get

Steers stop Sweetwater

SWEETWATER — The Big Spring Steers boys basketball team used a granite second quarter and some stout defensive play throughout the remainder of the way to take a 50-40 win over the Sweetwater Mustangs in a non-district affair here Tuesday night.

After a slow first stanza in which Sweetwater took a 9-7 lead, the Steers erupted for 21 second quarter points and a 28-18 halftime advantage. The two teams then played an even terms in the second half.

Big Spring Coach Ed Haller was very pleased with the defensive efforts of his team.

He singled out the efforts of inside performers Fletcher Johnson and Bobby Earl Williams as well as guards Dickie Wrightsil, James Doss, Blake Rossos and Robert Rubio.

Fletcher played excellent defense against their big man. It was the best I've ever seen him play," said Haller. "Bobby Earl really got after it on the boards, too."

"We played very, very good in the second quarter, and just mediocre the rest of the time," said Haller.

Johnson scored 12 points to lead the Big Spring scoring attack, with Doss and Wrightsil adding 10 each. Mike Gerst had 12 for Sweetwater.

The win gives the Steers a record of 2-1. Their next game will be Thursday afternoon in the Levelland Tournament, at which time they will oppose the always tough Plainview Bulldogs.

Sweetwater girls nip BSMS

The Sweetwater Mustang girls basketball team moved away from the Big Spring High School girls here in the second half en route to a 62-51 win Tuesday night in Steer Gym.

Holding a narrow 40-38 lead late in the third stanza, the Sweetwater girls used their full court press to take a more comfortable advantage.

Despite the loss, Big Spring Coach Sandra Brown was happy with the performance of the Steer fems.

"It was really a very good game by both teams," she said. "We hadn't practiced in five days, but we still played pretty well for the most part. Every game that we have played, we have shown improvement, and as long as that happens I have to be happy."

The game had only 15 fouls called, with nine whistles issued against the Big Spring team.

Brown praised the offensive play of Sylvia Randle, and expressed pleasure with the defensive efforts of Shell Rutledge, a sophomore.

Randle had 14 points for the Steer fems, with Sissy Doss adding 12. T. West and L. Kiker paced the Sweetwater effort with 18 points.

The Steer fems, now 2-5 on the year, will take the next week off against outside competition, but must face the rugged Borden County girls in the first round of the Hawk Queen High School Classic next Thursday in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

Coahoma rips by C-City

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs basketball teams proved to be very rude to the visiting Colorado City teams, winning all four of the contests played here Tuesday evening.

The Coahoma boys ended the night's action by taking a 59-38 win, their second winning decision of the season without a loss. The Bulldogs controlled the action from the beginning, with Philip Ritchey's 16 points leading the way. Randy Clanton added 12 points.

Coahoma Coach Doug Harriman was pleased with the win. "Our defense played very well," he said. "Everybody really got after it. We didn't have a good night shooting, but that's going to happen."

Harriman singled out guards Damon Harmon and Bruce Walker, as well as Clanton, who plays a post, for excellent play in the win.

Victor Jackson paced Colorado City with 18 points.

The Coahoma girls also had things their own way, using a second half explosion to break open a tie game and charge to a 53-36 win.

Forsan sweeps Robert Lee

ROBERT LEE — The Forsan basketball teams swept three games from Robert Lee High School in action here Tuesday evening. All of the contests were non-district affairs.

The Forsan boys team used a 12-foot jump shot by Andrew Alcantar with only 11 seconds left to vault past Robert Lee by a slim 37-36 margin.

The win was the second without a defeat for the Forsan boys, who were led in the scoring column by Alcantar's eight. Duncan paced Robert Lee with nine points.

The Forsan Buffalo queens girls' team managed to pull out a 55-44 win over the Robert Lee fems in a battle of a pair of regional finalists from last year.

The Forsan girls got into trouble when their two big postladies, Christi Adams and Tammy Grantman, got into foul trouble early. But Forsan's Brumley and Karla Cregar each chipped in 14 points to take up the slack and allow the Buffalo Queens the margin of difference. Lee Ann Rummier had 21 points to keep Robert Lee in the game.

The triumph left the Forsan girls with a record of 2-0. Forsan actually won the game from the foul line, connecting on 15 of 28 gratis tosses, compared to four of 14 for Robert Lee. (Continued on Page 2-B "Last second")

Green, Easley make All-America for third straight year

By The Associated Press
 Defensive end Hugh Green of Pittsburgh and safety Kenny Easley of UCLA were named to The Associated Press All-America 1980 college football team today for the third year in a row, joined by running backs George Rogers of South Carolina, the Heisman Trophy winner, and super freshman Herschel Walker of Georgia.

Alabama moved up from last year's second team. College football's most prestigious All-America team also includes quarterback Mark Herrmann of Purdue, sophomore wide receiver Anthony Carter of Michigan and offensive tackle Mark May of Pitt, winner of the Outland Trophy as the nation's top interior lineman.

The rest of the offensive unit consists of tackle Keith Van Horne of Southern California, guards Frank Ditta of Baylor and Randy Schlessener of Nebraska and center John Scully of Notre Dame.

Rogers also is a repeater from the 1979 team, as are wide receiver Ken Margerum of Stanford and linebacker Mike Singletary of Baylor. Tight end Dave Young of Purdue and outside linebacker E.J. Junior of Singletary would have a better year than he's previously had. "And he's a Heisman Trophy winner," says Coach Teaff. "And he's a Heisman Trophy winner."

Walker and Carter are only underclassmen on the team. The offensive unit consists of 10 seniors, including Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers of Alabama, Texas' junior quarterback Billy Sims, Texas' junior quarterback Billy Sims, Texas' junior quarterback Billy Sims, Texas' junior quarterback Billy Sims.

He also helped Georgia to its first perfect regular season in 34 years. Herrmann, the All-America quarterback, finished second nationally in total offense and set major college career standards by completing 717 of 1,218 passes for 9,188 yards. "No one can hold a light to him," says Iowa Coach Hayden Fry. During the 1980 campaign, Herrmann completed 220 of 340 passes for 2,923 yards and 19 touchdowns, despite missing one game with an injury.

"I said before the season started, that for Baylor to have any success at all, Mike Singletary would have to be a Heisman Trophy winner."

Borden County annihilates Hermleigh

BORDEN COUNTY — All four Borden County basketball teams scored wins over Hermleigh in action here Tuesday night.

The Borden County boys varsity took a 69-44 win to even their record at 1-1, with Bart McMeans pouring in 28 points to lead the way. Kenny Riley had 17 for Hermleigh, now 0-2.

In the girls varsity game, the Borden County team increased their record to 3-0 with a lopsided 74-13 triumph. They led 22-0 at the end of the first stanza, and 44 after three quarters.

Tally Griffin had 22 for Borden County, with Jana Edwards and Gena Faught adding 14.

Borden County's boys JV's won by a 35-12 count, with Sammy Williams and Scott Jones each scoring eight.

In the girls JV battle, Borden County took a 62-15 win. Roxie Wolf and Maria Benabidez had 16 and 12 points, respectively, for BC.

Green, Easley make All-America for third straight year

By The Associated Press

Defensive end Hugh Green of Pittsburgh and safety Kenny Easley of UCLA were named to The Associated Press All-America 1980 college football team today for the third year in a row, joined by running backs George Rogers of South Carolina, the Heisman Trophy winner, and super freshman Herschel Walker of Georgia.

Rogers also is a repeater from the 1979 team, as are wide receiver Ken Margerum of Stanford and linebacker Mike Singletary of Baylor. Tight end Dave Young of Purdue and outside linebacker E.J. Junior of Alabama moved up from last year's second team.

College football's most prestigious All-America team also includes quarterback Mark Herrmann of Purdue, sophomore wide receiver Anthony Carter of Michigan and offensive tackle Mark May of Pitt. Winner of the Outland Trophy as the nation's top interior lineman.

The rest of the offensive unit consists of tackle Keith Van Horne of Southern California, guards Frank Ditta of Baylor and Randy Schlessner of Nebraska and center John Scully of Notre Dame.

Joining Green, Easley and

Singletary on the star-studded defensive unit are end Scott Zetek of Notre Dame, tackles Leonard Mitchell of Houston and Kenneth Sims of Texas, inside linebacker David Little of Florida, outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor of North Carolina and deep backs Ronnie Lott of Southern Calif. and John Simmons of Southern Methodist.

The AP All-America squad will be featured on the Bob Hope Christmas Show on NBC-TV, Dec. 16 from 8-9 p.m., EST.

From the first game of his freshman year, when he made 11 tackles, two quarterback sacks and blocked a punt against a Notre Dame team that went on to win the national championship, Green has been a defensive terror. He made more than 100 tackles in each of his four seasons at Pitt, making second-team All-America as a freshman and first-team in each of the last three years. Earlier this week, he finished second in the Heisman balloting, a level reached by only two other freshmen who didn't double as pass-catching ends.

Easley finished second on the UCLA team with more than 100 tackles and broke the school's interception record at 1-1, with Bart McMeans pouring in 28 points to lead the way. Kenny Riley had 17 for Hermleigh, now 0-2.

In the girls varsity game, the Borden County team increased their record to 3-0 with a lopsided 74-13 triumph. They led 22-0 at the end of the first stanza, and 44-4 after three quarters.

Tally Griffin had 22 for Borden County, with Jana Edwards and Gena Faught adding 14.

Borden County's boys JV's won by a 35-12 count, with Sammy Williams and Scott Jones each scoring eight.

In the girls JV battle, Borden County took a 62-15 win. Roxie Wolf and Maria Benabidez had 16 and 12 points, respectively, for BC.

before the end of his junior year. Houston Coach Bill Yeoman calls him "one of the most dominant figures in college football."

On the offensive side of the ball, Rogers is the nation's leading rusher with 1,781 yards, an average of 161.9 yards per game. He ranks as the fourth leading rusher in history with 4,958 yards, trailing only Tony Dorsett, Charles White and Archie Griffin.

"If I were going into the NFL and I had to draft a back, the first person that I would take would be George Rogers," says Southern Cal Coach John Robinson. "I think he probably had his best game ever against us (26 carries for 141 yards). The reason I say that is that he took the beating of a lifetime and still when we gave him an inch he took it all the way. My God, he took some hits. A back that gets hit over and over again and still comes back strong is a very special person."

Walker smashed Dorsett's all-time NCAA freshman rushing record by gaining 1,616 yards. He finished third in the Heisman voting—best ever by a rookie—and became the first freshman since Dorsett in 1973 to make the first-team All-America squad. He also helped Georgia to its first perfect regular season in 34 years.

Herrmann, the All-America quarterback, finished second nationally in total offense and set major college career standards by completing 717 of 1,218 passes for 9,188 yards. "No one can hold a light to him," says Iowa Coach Hayden Fry. During the 1980 campaign, Herrmann completed 220 of 340 passes for 2,923 yards and 19 touchdowns, despite missing one game with an injury.

"I said before the season started, that for Baylor to have any success at all, Mike Singletary would have to have a better year than any he's previously had at Baylor," says Coach Grant Teaff. "And he has." Singletary helped the Bears to a 10-1 record, their best ever, and the Southwest Conference championship.

Walker and Carter are the only underclassmen on the offensive unit. The defense consists of 10 seniors and Sims, Texas' junior tackle.

Baylor, Notre Dame, Pitt, Purdue and Southern Cal were the only schools to place more than one player on The AP All-America first team. Each had two representatives.

Entire Rice defense gains SWC honor

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice University safety David Darr never played on a winning team during his collegiate career, never participated in a bowl game or helped the Owls win a championship.

But Darr, along with 22 other graduating seniors, will leave the little campus on Main Street with satisfaction and a deep sense of accomplishment concerning their athletic careers.

That feeling culminated Saturday afternoon in the Astrodome when Darr intercepted two passes, recovered two fumbles and was the most visible defensive force in the Owls' shocking 35-7 victory over Garden State Bowl-bound Houston.

Darr said he couldn't have made any of his big plays without the help of his teammates and the Associated Press agreed.

In the final selection of the season, the entire Rice defensive team has been named AP Southwest Conference Defensive Players of the Week.

Darr's satisfaction was not based solely on Rice's 5-6 finish or the fact they beat cross-town rival UH. It's more what the 1980 Owls hope they have started.

"It just all came together against Houston, the offense and the defense. Everything we did turned to gold. One of our goals was to turn this program around and I think we've got it started."

They did it possibly at the expense of Houston's.

Rice outplayed Houston in virtually all statistical areas. The Owls out-gained Houston 418 total yards to 256, out-passed them 226 to 147 and Rice's runners out-veered Houston 192-119.

"Those fumbles were the result of our defensive linemen putting big hits on their runners, the balls all but hit me," Darr said. "The interceptions were nothing more than a good pass rush. I had to pinch myself to make sure it was really happening. Those are the kind of games you only dream about."

All-SWC linebacker Robert Williamson, who contributed five tackles to the team effort, said the Cougars made the same mistake of other Rice victims this season — they took them too lightly.

"I think Southern Methodist was the only team that took us seriously because they came in here really ready to play," Williamson said. "Houston knew we were fighters and scrappers but they didn't think we had enough talent to beat them."

Joining Darr and

Williamson as players of the week include other starters ends Will Rub and Dennis Barry; tackles Clenzie Pierson and Tom Adams; nose guard Kyle Rice; linebacker Richard Gray; cornerbacks Rickey Thomas and David England and free safety Mike Downs, and all the substitutes that played in the fourth quarter.

SC Coach Carlen denies agent role for George Rogers

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Football Coach Jim Carlen says Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers is eligible to represent the University of South Carolina and will participate in the Gator Bowl.

Carlen also said in a formal statement Tuesday that "I am not an agent for George Rogers or anyone else."

Rogers received the Heisman as the nation's outstanding college football player earlier this week. But The New York Daily News reported Tuesday that the running back from Duluth, Ga., said his coach had offered to negotiate a pro football contract for him.

That is an apparent violation of NCAA rules, the paper said.

"As a head football coach, I certainly feel a responsibility to both my players and to the University to insure that our student-athletes not become involved in dealings that could affect their eligibility," Carlen's statement said.

"Annually I advise my senior players in order to protect themselves that any contact by agents, attorneys, etc., be channeled through me."

Carlen said the procedure was similar to his rule that after Monday of game week, all media requests for interviews be cleared through his office.

Rogers also released a statement Tuesday, saying he had talked with Carlen about not making deals with any attorneys or agents this season.

"I have said that I know I can completely trust him (Carlen). I feel that I can go to him for advice with any problem. Until the season is over, I have told anyone who has contacted me to first call Coach Carlen," Rogers said.

Hale McMenamin of the NCAA's enforcement division refused to say in a telephone interview from Mission, Kan., Tuesday whether the organization is looking into the matter.

Super Joe Carboneau is AL Rookie of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Carboneau, a sometimes-bizarre personality who brought power hitting to Cleveland and became one of the most popular Indians players in decades, was named today as the American League Rookie of the Year by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Carboneau, 25, drew 15 first-place votes from the 28-man BBWAA committee for a total of 102 points, far ahead of second-place finisher Dave Stapleton of Boston.

The runnerup spot was closely contested, with infielder Stapleton getting the first-place votes and 40 points, relief pitcher Doug Corbett of Minnesota three and 38, infielder Damaso Garcia of Toronto three and 35, and pitcher Britt Burns of Chicago four and 33.

The only other players with votes were Rick Peters of Detroit and Richard Dotson of Chicago, with three and one votes. The point totals were reached on a 3-1 basis for first, second and third-place votes.

Carboneau, signed originally by the Philadelphia Phillies and dealt to the Cleveland system in 1978, batted .289 in 131 games, with 23 homers and 87 runs batted in. A groin muscle pull in the final month kept his power totals from rising higher.

Stapleton batted .321 for the Red Sox with seven homers. Corbett had an 8-6 record with 23 saves and a 1.99 earned run average for the Twins. Garcia batted .278 and fielded brilliantly for the Blue Jays and Burns was 15-13 with a 2.84 ERA for the White Sox.

Carboneau is the first Rookie of the Year for Cleveland since Chris Chambliss in 1971 and only the third in the franchise's history. Pitcher Herb Score won in 1955.

His rugged good looks, flakey reputation and quick start made him an instant hit with the Cleveland fans and spawned his nickname, "Super Joe," a hot-selling poster, a best-selling song and a fan club.

He hit a home run in his second major-league bat in the season opener and was 3-for-3 with a double and a home run, in the home opener. The crowd of 61,753 gave him a standing ovation that day when the team was announced.

Dooley to remain at Georgia

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Vince Dooley, coach of the No. 1-ranked Georgia Bulldogs, announced today he has turned down an offer to rebuild the football program at Auburn University, his alma mater.

"There were emotional ties to my alma mater involved, and I hope everyone can understand that," Dooley told a news conference.

But he added, "There are many reasons why I have decided to remain at Georgia. I've been here 17 years, coached 17 football teams, and have built too many ties and friendships over the years to make the change now. I have spent these 17 years with Georgia people, and in the final analysis I just couldn't leave."

Government attempts tax shelter crackdowns

BOSTON (AP) — During three frantic months in 1976, a thousand well-heeled investors ranging from Elvis Presley to the attorney general of Maryland eagerly laid down $20 million to get in on a coal mining deal.

But prosecutors say they were buying income tax deductions, not mining rights, in a scheme intended solely to cheat the federal Treasury.

Now, 15 people are under indictment, including seven lawyers, two investors and two producers of the Broadway show, "Annie."

Some two dozen other investors will probably face criminal prosecution, and authorities say they are looking into similar investment deals people used to avoid paying federal income taxes.

Presley was the biggest investor in the coal deal. Like other prominent entertainers, doctors and businessmen involved in the deal, Presley claimed huge losses. The late rock 'n' roll singer paid $565,000 and deducted $2.6 million from his taxable income in 1976.

According to court records, other buyers included singer Alice Cooper, actors David McCallum and Margaux Hemingway, professional basketball players Earl Monroe and Spencer Haywood, "Candid Camera" host Allen Funt, former Maryland Attorney General Francis Burch and Frank G. Wells, president of Warner Bros.

None of these celebrities has been indicted and no charges are anticipated against them. But the Internal Revenue Service is expected to insist that they pay their taxes, for the government claims the deal was marred by a critical flaw: In their haste to avoid taxes, they bought mining rights that did not exist.

The deal began to crumble two years ago when the Securities and Exchange Commission charged in a civil suit that the organizers owned grazing rights, not strip mining rights, to most of the 22,000 acres of ranch land they claimed to control in Wyoming.

Criminal indictments were returned by a federal grand jury in Boston last month, identifying the key men in the scheme as George Osserman and Paul Garfinkle, partners in a suburban Newton law firm, and Irwin Meyer and Stephen Friedman, Broadway theatrical promoters and producers of "Annie."

In a memorandum filed in U.S. District Court, the SEC described the venture as "a device to generate vast amounts of cash for Osserman, Garfinkle, Meyer and Friedman and their associates in return for the distribution of fraudulent tax deductions in connection with a sham mining venture."

According to the government, the scheme worked this way:

The promoters bought the land rights from ranchers for $300,000 through one company, then transferred them to Prodamat, a corporation controlled by Osserman and Garfinkle.

Next, they set up a limited partnership, called S-J Mineral Associates, and sold interests in the partnership for $30,000 each.

Osserman and Garfinkle organized other tax shelters and set up a nationwide network of salesmen, lawyers, accountants and investment advisors, says the SEC. Meyer and Friedman used contacts in show business to sell interests to actors, singers and backers of Broadway shows.

Money flowed in.

"As demand for more and more participation in the coal tax shelter deal mounted, the defendants created one sham limited partnership after another to accommodate people seeking to avoid personal tax liability," according to the indictment.

In the last three months of 1976, the backers created three more partnerships and took in $20 million in cash, investigators say.

"It was getting near Christmas, and people were trying to find tax deductions," said one government lawyer. "People were jumping to get in on this."

Prosecutors say the salesman and accountants received commissions of 15 to 20 percent that totaled $4 million. Most of the other money was funneled to Garfinkle, Osserman, Meyer and Friedman. They bought cars and a jet airplane and stashed money in foreign bank accounts, the government claims.

The offering memorandum for the tax shelter said investors could write off $5 for each dollar they invested and that when mining began, they would receive an annual 43 percent return on their investments.

It worked this way: With each $30,000 cash investment, the buyers signed a $126,000 note with the understanding that the note would never have to be repaid. The $156,000 total was shown on the books as payment to Prodamat as an advance royalty for future coal production.

Under tax regulations at the time, advance royalties for coal mining could be claimed as a tax loss. But since there was no way the concern could mine coal, the government claims the tax shelter was a sham.

Defense lawyers deny this. In a memorandum filed in the SEC case, Garfinkle's attorney, Paul Holian, maintains that Garfinkle and Osserman were gripped by an "optimism amounting to coal fever" and were simply duped by the ranchers who sold the rights to the land.

Thirteen alleged organizers of the tax shelter, including Osserman, Garfinkle, Meyer and Friedman, were indicted Nov. 14 on mail fraud and conspiracy charges. Two investors, a Rhode Island businessman and Dr. Gaspar Anastase, chief of plastic surgery at Boston University Medical Center, were charged with tax evasion.

Federal Trial Attorney David Geneson said two dozen other people who bought interests in the coal deal in 1977 but claimed them on their 1976 returns will also be indicted.

"Obviously, most people bought because they saw a tax benefit," said one lawyer representing several investors. "But it was also represented as a wonderful way to make money eventually. Nobody thought it was a blue chip. But their material gave you the feeling that you could make some money after a while."

Buchanan, Wallace to offer stock at auction

Buchanan Herefords and Leland Wallace of Howard County will both have stock up for auction in the 32nd annual National Anxiety 4th Hereford Breeders sale scheduled Dec. 13 in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The show gets under way at 9 a.m., while the sale starts at 12:30 p.m.

Stanley Stout will be the auctioneer. The judges will be Cecil Sellers and W.C. Hart.

A total of 47 bulls and 32 cows will be offered for sale at Snyder.

15,000 acres of farmland needed for missile site

DALHART, Texas (AP) — He said about 20,000 acre feet of water would be needed during the peak of project construction, adding that the sprawling complex would cover 15,000 acres of Panhandle farmland.

But Col. Bill Sims told about 100 farmers from the Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico Tuesday that military officials would prefer to build the site in the Utah-Nevada area, calling the Texas-New Mexico location a secondary choice.

Sims made his remarks at a public hearing that was held as part of federal requirements for an environmental impact study on possible locations for the missiles.

Two HC students gain photography awards

Two photographers on the 1979-1980 Hawk Reporter staff have received awards from the Rocky Mountain Press Association for feature photography, according to Stephen Lacy, journalism instructor at Howard College.

Courtney Carroll won a first in feature photography and Mike Henry won a second in feature photography for colleges under 1,000 full-time enrollment.

The winning feature photograph appeared in the Sept. 17, 1979, issue of the Hawk Reporter and was a series of two pictures of Susan Martin catching a balloon during dorm competition.

The second place photograph was in the same issue and shows a student framed by the shadows of the lattice work in front of the administration building. The same photo won third place feature photograph in the Texas Junior College Press Association contest last year.

Due to a delay in judging, the photography awards were not announced last summer along with the writing and yearbook awards.

The Hawk Reporter won first place in the general excellence category for its division. The Hawk Reporter is printed by the Herald.

Peanut famine coming?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only country in the world with a peanut farmer at its helm is on the verge of a peanut famine.

And it may take Ronald Reagan, an actor to whom peanuts are just peanuts, to bail out the peanut industry and save the day.

In a nutshell, here's the problem: Because of drought in Georgia and searing heat in other peanut-growing regions, farmers harvested only about half as many peanuts this summer as the country needs.

But a Depression-era law, pushed through by agricultural interests, limits imports of peanuts to 1.7 million pounds — little more than a thousandth of what Americans eat.

The result: food manufacturers are paying up to four times last year's prices for American-grown nuts, and still can't get all they need.

The price of peanuts, peanut butter and candy made with peanuts is expected to shoot up early in 1981.

And still the shortage is so severe that manufacturers of peanut foods are curtailing production.

Planters Peanuts laid off 500 of its 2,000 employees at Suffolk, Va., and the maker of Brach brand candy says it has only 4 percent of the peanuts it will need over the next 10 months. Brach halted production of candies containing peanuts, laid off 150 workers and stands to lose $40 million in sales.

Trade sources say President Carter may act in a day or so to bring temporary relief, but it probably will be up to Reagan to decide whether Americans will eat their usual quantities of peanuts next year.

Carter is expected to accept an emergency Agriculture Department recommendation and allow 200 million pounds of imported peanuts into the country, chiefly from China and India.

Opposition came from some Virginia and Georgia peanut growers — and presumably from warehousemen who haven't sold their supplies yet and stand to profit with every rise in the price.

Even if the ITC acts fast, it cannot get a recommendation to the White House until Jan. 13, a week before Carter leaves. Normally a president touches base with the State, Agriculture and Commerce departments before acting on an ITC proposal.

So the peanut problem is one Carter will probably leave for Reagan.

On the light side

White House Fir

BRISTOL, Ind. (AP) — President Carter and his family will have a touch of Indiana in the last White House Christmas of his term.

Harry Eby of Eby's Pines won the right to provide the first family's indoor tree by being named grand champion in state and national Christmas tree contests.

Eby said he already has selected an 18-foot tree, cut from its northern Indiana roots on Monday.

"It's a beautiful Douglas fir," Eby said. "It's very symmetrical and one of the prize trees in the nation. The Douglas fir is the king of all the Christmas trees."

For ladies only

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Anna Keefe, an enterprising mortgage company employee, has compiled a book entitled "For Ladies Only" that lists a bevy of eligible bachelors — all ready, willing and able to make new friends with members of the opposite sex.

The book devotes a page to each of 85 men, offering readers a photograph and such vital statistics as age, height, weight, hair and eye color, schooling and career information.

The bachelors range in age from 25 to over 65. With each listing, there is also the subject's "female attribute preference," his entertainment preference, his hobbies and sports. The final entry is an editor's note with a tidbit on the man gleaned from his personal life.

Each bachelor's page also contains a mailing address so that interested ladies may contact him and request a meeting.

Ms. Keefe said she put the book together from about 200 nominations and applications she received. Published by a local company, it went on sale last week for $7.70.

Next, she said, is the inevitable sequel: "For Gentlemen Only."

Brian on the Moon

NEW YORK (AP) — An 11-year-old boy's question about the name of Earth's moon has prompted a television newsmen to begin a campaign to name the silvery orb "Brian," in the boy's honor.

In a letter to WNBC-TV meteorologist Frank Field, Brian Carmody of Woodstock, N.Y., wrote: "I realize that NASA is so busy on other planets and moons and naming them that the earth's moon doesn't have a name... I am puzzled about why the earth's moon doesn't have a name."

Actually, the moon is called "Luna" by most astronomers and is labeled as such on star charts. But WNBC reporter Chauncey Howell announced during the station's evening news Tuesday that "In honor of Brian, we have named our moon 'Brian'."

Until now, Howell said, "Our moon was simply and boringly called Moon. It's like calling your dog 'Dog.'"

"At Christmas there will fortunately be a full Brian," Howell added. "Couples will have to go on honeymoons. We will sing 'Shine on, Harvest Brian,' and rude and crude college boys from the windows of their speeding cars will no doubt be brianing."

Officials may take care of slain woman's children

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Child welfare officials may take custody today of the two young children of an Amarillo woman whose dismembered body was discovered at a auto junkyard in this Panhandle city, authorities said.

Potter County officials tentatively identified the dead woman Tuesday as Linda Sue Baker, who was reported missing on Nov. 17.

An emergency hearing was scheduled today in state district court to determine if child welfare officials should take custody of the woman's two children, ages 5 and 7.

Sheriff T.L. Baker said the children knew that their mother was dead.

A man was being held in Potter County jail late Tuesday night for investigation of murder, but no charges had been filed.

An attendant at the auto wrecking yard, located less than a mile from the dead woman's residence, said he was waiting on a customer when the customer's son saw the dog dragging a severed head onto the driveway.

The lower torso and legs were found a short time later in a search by deputies and Amarillo police officers using the city's canine corps. Two human forearm bones were found at another nearby location Tuesday afternoon, Potter County sheriff's deputies said.

"There is no doubt in my mind that it is Linda Baker," said Roy Byrd, Potter County justice of the peace and acting coroner. He said he compared the severed head with a picture of the woman, and "it was evident it was Linda Baker."

MISS CHRISTINA Single trapeze sensation

Holiday Hippodrome show scheduled here
 Holiday Hippodrome, America's "Original Stage Circus" has been scheduled in Municipal Auditorium, Saturday, Jan. 24, with an entourage of International performers.
 This lively 90 minute presentation promises to be fine family entertainment and will appear under sponsorship of the Big Spring Police Association.
 A spokesman of the Big Spring Police Association has reported advance ticket sales have been brisk and proceeds will aid in their many community activities.
 Some of the highlights of the 1981 Holiday Hippodrome, now winding its way through a 48 state National tour sparkles with a unique array of talented acts. People of all ages enjoy Miss Christina who will hold you spellbound when she performs her feats of daring and grace on the single trapeze. Danny Carey acrobat extraordinaire stuns the audience with hand balancing wizardry.
 All the way from Bulgaria the amazing Bertinis wheel onto the stage to execute unusual bicycle - unicycle novelties. You are invited to see what your eyes won't believe - the very talented Bradbury & Co. The Master of Illusion who will hypnotize you with Mysieries of Magic.
 The lovely Randa Lynn displays her fabulous feats of foot juggling, and last but not least, Kimes Pork Chop Revue hams it up with their barnyard antics.
 Tickets, which are priced the same for adults and youngsters, are still available from any member of the Big Spring Police Association and at the door on show day one hour before the 2 p.m. performance.

Pilot project to study ways to conserve energy approved
 A pilot project to study ways to conserve energy was approved recently by the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.
 The study, which will be conducted at Austin State Hospital, will involve use of a computerized energy management system to control use of electricity and natural gas.
 The computerized system will be designed to activate energy using equipment and devices as air conditioners only when there is a demand and to control the length of time the equipment is in operation.
 Results of the study will be analyzed to determine how it can be used in all facilities of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation (TDMHMR).
 The project will cost approximately $45,000. However, the system is expected to pay for itself in about six months through a savings of approximately $7,000 in fuel consumption and adjustment charges at Austin State Hospital.
 The fuel saving plan is in response to a request from Gov. Bill Clements, Jr., that TDMHMR facilities set a goal to reduce energy consumption by 10 percent.

Woodard appointed director Beaumont State Center unit
 The Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation recently approved the appointment of Martin T. Woodard of Houston as director of the Beaumont State Center for Human Development.
 Woodard replaces Vernon LeViguer who no longer is with the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.
 A 37-year-old Woodard, who has a master's degree in social work, will begin his duties Dec. 1.
 A native of Houston, Woodard graduated from the E.E. Worthing High School. He received his bachelor's degree in social work from California State University, Northridge, Calif., in June 1971. Two years later he earned his master's degree from the University of California at Los Angeles.
 Woodard has served as the supervisor of social services and clinical director of the Hope Community Mental Health Center, Lake View Terrace, Calif. He was an assistant professor in the department of recreation and leisure studies, California State University, Northridge.
 He holds a license from the Academy of Certified Social Workers and is a licensed clinical social worker and a psychiatric technician.
 Woodard and his wife, Andra, returned to Texas last summer after her graduation from the University of California at Los Angeles School of Dentistry. She expects to open a practice in dentistry in the Beaumont area.

U.S. Border Patrol opens ranks to women

The ranks of the U.S. Border Patrol are now open to women, according to Mickey Smith, Federal Women's Coordinator, for the Marfa Border Patrol Sector Headquarters.
 The nationwide examination for Border Patrol Agent positions will be open from Dec. 1, 1980 to Jan. 7, 1981 and the testing dates will be from Feb. 7 through Feb. 21, 1981.
 The Border Patrol of the Immigration and Naturalization Service is a highly trained officer corp. As a mobile, uniformed law enforcement organization, the service's primary mission is detecting and preventing the illegal entry of persons into the United States.
 Well known to residents along 8,000 miles of land and water borders, these officers work round the clock in assignments in all kinds of isolated communities.
 Initial appointments are in the Grade GS-5. First duty stations are in the southern border states as California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.
 To qualify applicants must be a high school graduate or possess a Graduate Equivalent Diploma. Must not have reached their 35th birthday and be in excellent physical condition. Be a citizen of the United States, possess a valid automobile driver's license and establish an eligible rating on the written examination.
 Examinations are open to both male and female. Any female desiring further information may contact Mrs. Smith at the Marfa Border Patrol Sector Headquarters.

GRAB THE FOOD AND RUN - Earthquake survivors in Avellino, Italy, protesting the slow distribution of relief aid, help themselves to a truck full of food and fruit Tuesday. Public disturbances and looting have been reported in Naples and elsewhere where quake-stricken areas.

Farm Drive for milk hearing escalated

WASHINGTON (AP) - Advocates of eliminating government rules that keep up the retail price of low-cost reconstituted milk are escalating their drive for a public hearing on the issue.
 Claiming the Agriculture Department has refused to deal with its complaint for more than a year, the Community Nutrition Institute has gone to federal court to have the regulations invalidated.
 "It is the only way that consumers will ever gain access to the benefits of a more competitive dairy marketplace," said Ellen Haas, director of a nonprofit group that sued Agriculture Secretary Bob Berglund in U.S. District Court Tuesday.
 "If the USDA holds a hearing," added institute spokesman Tom Smith, "we'll probably withdraw the suit. But this seems to be the only way to bring the issue to a head."
 A year ago, Berglund called for public comments on whether a hearing should be held on the institute's August 1979, petition to end the price restraints. But a decision was never formally announced. Last month the department issued an economic analysis of the request and is seeking public comment on it until Jan. 2. The analysis does not make a recommendation on whether a hearing should be held.
 "The history of this issue at USDA has been one delay after another," Ms. Haas said. "Direct legal action is the only way to cure this paralysis."
 Farmbelt members of Congress, dairy producers and their cooperatives have opposed changes that would allow reconstituted milk a price advantage over the regular kind, and it now seems almost certain there will be no administrative action on the proposal until after President-elect Ronald Reagan's farm policy administrators take over Jan. 20.

 Reconstituted milk, made by blending nonfat dry milk and butterfat with water, can be produced at a savings by shipping the dry ingredients to central marketing points and adding the water there. Expensive, long-distance transport is required for fresh milk.
 But the long standing federal regulations require all milk products sold for drinking purposes to be priced similarly. That, the institute says, requires processors to make compensatory payments to the fresh milk producers; thereby increasing their business costs so the price they charge consumers is about the same as that for fresh milk.
 Backers of reconstituted milk claim consumers can save up to 14 cents a gallon if it could be sold competitively.
 The USDA's economic analysis concludes that if the restrictions were eliminated, consumer spending on milk could be cut by $186 million a year and federal price supports for milk would decline another $165 million. But it also said that after three years reconstituted milk would account for 38 percent of fluid milk sales, costing dairy farmers $50 million.
 "The economic regulations which deny consumers access to less expensive, nutritious milk products provide a perfect example of how protectionist government regulations cause inflation for consumers," Ms. Haas said.

White House has seen it all

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first night crusty President John Adams spent in the unfinished White House he wrote home to wife Abigail, still back in Quincy, Mass., the prayer now preserved in stone in the State Dining Room.

"I pray Heaven to bestow the best of blessings on this house and all that shall hereafter inhabit it. May none but wise and honest men ever rule under this roof."

Well, maybe that was too much to ask the Lord for, but some interesting folk have occupied the premises at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue and the address is still the most sought after in the land.

As Gerald Ford used to say when he was briefly the vice president, every time he passed the historic house a subliminal real estate sign flashed in his mind: "If you lived here, you'd be home by now."

George Washington, of course never lived in the White House. Maybe that made him different from other presidents. George had this thing about hand-shaking. He hated doing it, which was passing strange for a politician. When the Executive Mansion was in Philadelphia, Washington always stood by the fireplace and received visitors with a courtly bow. Even his best friends never rated a handshake.

Two suspects sought in Tyler rape-robbery spree

TYLER, Texas (AP) — Two men who wear ski masks and brandish pistols are being sought in connection with four rape-robberies that have occurred over a four-week period, officials say.

The attacks, which Tyler police and Smith County Sheriff's investigators say began Nov. 7 with the abduction and rape of a Franks woman, were tied together by law officers after a man and a woman were abducted Sunday.

"There are similar patterns in all the cases," Tyler Detective Capt. Bob Bond said. "We are working jointly with the sheriff's office, pooling our information to see if the suspects are going to be the same."

The couple was leaving a restaurant early Sunday morning when the men budget-minded presidents. Harrison had an abiding suspicion that the White House staff was ripping him off, so he went out and did the shopping himself and caught his death of cold, the first president to die in office.

Silent Cal Coolidge made himself heard backstairs at the White House. He liked to poke his head into the ice box and offer his penny-saving menu suggestions to the cooking staff. History doesn't record what the resident Mrs. Bridges at the time replied when the president gave his considered opinion that six hams were too many for 60 dinner guests.

The Millard Fillmores were the first family to, have their meals cooked over an iron kitchen range instead of an open fire.

Wonders never cease around 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, as Benjamin Harrison cautiously discovered in 1890 when electricity was first installed in the White House. Leery of the new illumination, the president always called on the servants to flick the switches.

confronted them and forced them to drive to a spot on an isolated county road. Deputies said the woman was raped several times by the men, who then took the money and fled.

Investigators say deputies say the place where the couple was taken Sunday was about half a mile from where another couple was attacked last week.

A man and a woman were forced to stop their car after the suspects' blocked the road, deputies said. The woman was then raped and money was taken before the suspects, described as two black males in their late 20s, left the scene.

In another incident last month, a Tyler woman was raped by two men who matched the description of the suspects in the other three assaults.

Sheriff's deputies and investigators warned residents not to park on isolated roads and to use extreme caution during outings.

"We understand why young couples seek out private areas in which to park," said investigator Shantell Woodhall, "but it is dangerous. We want people to be aware that we have a problem..."

UT seeks students for minority grants

Minority and disadvantaged students who plan on attending the University of Texas at Austin may be eligible for a $1,000 grant, according to Ann Duncan, assistant financial aids officer at Howard College.

The Transfer Opportunity Grant Program at UT at Austin is available to transfer students from Texas colleges and allows for a $1,000 stipend, which may be renewed for a second year based on available funds.

To qualify, a person must satisfy admission criteria at UT, have at least 30 hours of credit and show financial need.

Any student interested in applying for the grant program should go by the financial aids office at Howard College.

TSH gains authority to use new 'bait' to lure nurses

Terrell State Hospital which depends on nearby Dallas for many of its employees was recently given authority to use a new recruiting weapon to lure nurses to the state psychiatric facility.

The Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation authorized Terrell State Hospital (TSH) to provide transportation to and from Dallas for vocational and registered nurses who want to work at TSH.

Board Chairman L. Gray Beck of San Angelo said Terrell State Hospital has encountered difficulty in recruiting nurses because of stiff competition from other health care facilities in the Dallas area. Terrell is approximately 40 miles out of Dallas.

This competition, which includes higher salaries coupled with escalating cost of gasoline and transportation, has made it virtually impossible for Terrell State Hospital to recruit nurses.

Under the plan approved by the board, the hospital will provide transportation from a central location in Dallas to and from Terrell.
