Thorn Attends AAM Meeting

SINDY PRESTON, who is one of my favorite people, had an interesting comment on a form she filled out recently for the "Student of the Month" award.

Among her non-school sports activities, Sindy listed "shopping."

At first glance, this sounds a bit strange, but think about it a minute. I think shopping definitely deserves to be listed, probably right along with contact sports.

For one thing, ye editor never has been very much punkins in any kind of participation sports. As a youngster, bowling was our favorite, and we're a golf "dropout." And shopping seems to fit the mold in ye editor's mind as to participation sports.

Shopping never has held a very prominent position when it comes to our list of favorite things.

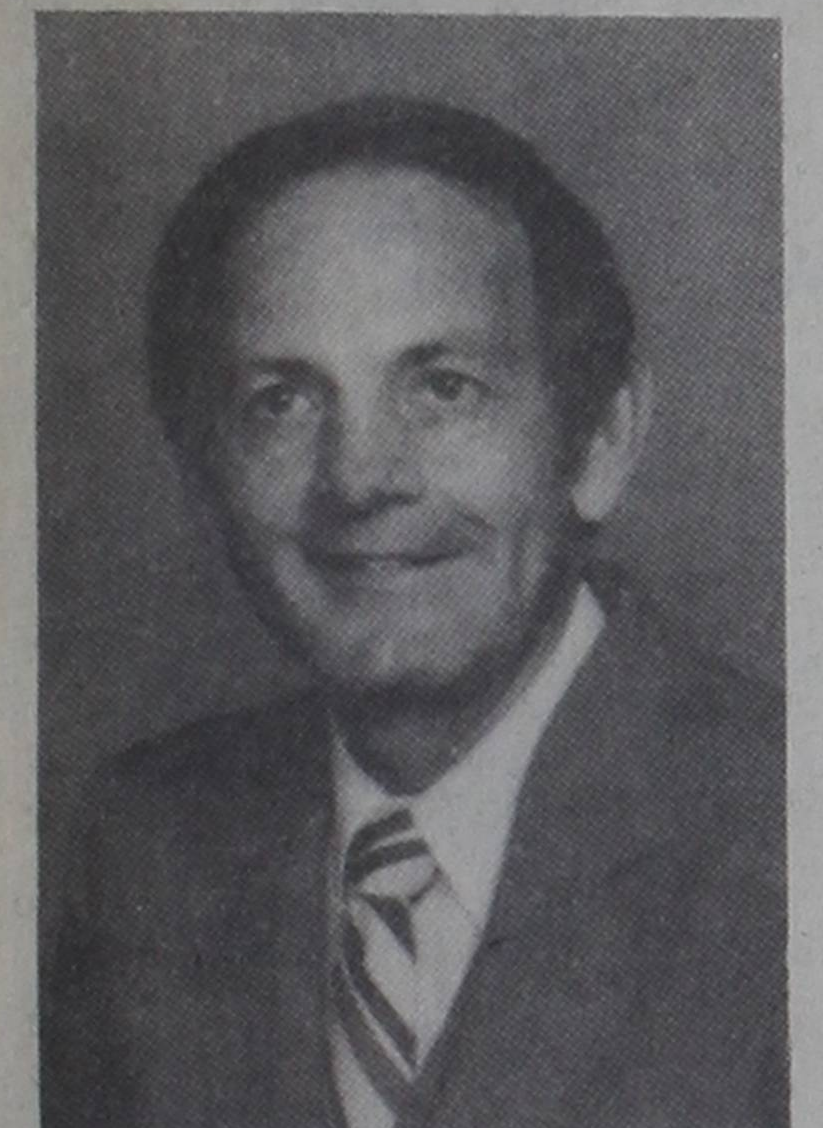

We recalled, too, that during Sindy's reign as "Miss Friona" when we did the "Miss Merry Christmas" series for the local shopping promotion, Sindy was on a tight schedule due to basketball practice.

We were needing to get the photographs taken in about an hour's time, in between the end of school and basketball workouts. We got it done, and Sindy finished strong, without a hair out of place.

Ye editor was dragging along behind. Come to think of it, if shopping was treated like other sports, we'd have had a halftime break. That would have allowed me to catch my breath.

A shopping trip with folks like Sindy, or Deena (or any of the other Maize Queens), isn't so bad. But otherwise--naw, ya'll just go on.

UNCLE AUSTIN SAYS...The best ten years of a woman's life are those she spends between the ages of 29 and 30.

REV. CHARLES BRODHURST

Broadhurst Will Return To Friona

Rev. Charles Brodhurst will return to Friona as pastor of First Baptist Church, it was announced this week.

Rev. Brodhurst said this week he would be on site as pastor on Sunday, March 19, and would be moving to Friona earlier in the week.

Broadhurst pastored the local church from 1970-74. He left to become pastor of a large church in Lubbock, Southcrest Baptist Church, and has spent the past 11 years as pastor of First Baptist Church of Littlefield.

"We have loved you for the past 19 years, and we are excited about being back with you. We have tried to leave the decision in the Lord's hands," Rev. Brodhurst told the church members this week.

Rev. Brodhurst and his wife Carolyn were present last Sunday as the church went into conference to vote overwhelmingly to recall him as pastor. The Brodhursts' three children are all married (see remarks in June Floyd's column, Page 9.)

The American Agriculture Movement went to Washington, D.C. last week, this time without their tractors. The family farm advocacy group spent the past week in Washington celebrating the tenth anniversary of the tractorcade to D.C., and meeting with members of Congress to discuss the farm agenda for 1989, a year that promises to bring several tough legislative challenges.

"When we came to Washington ten years ago on our tractors, we had no idea that the protest movement would evolve into a permanent farm organization capable of aggressively fighting for family farmers year after year," said AAM Texas State President Don Kimbrell, "but, we've done it, and we've been able to win some real victories for farmers. We intend to continue this fight until our federal farm policies once again make it possible for farmers to receive fair prices."

City's Tax Check Up From 1988

The City of Friona received a late "Christmas present" in its monthly sales tax rebate check from the state comptroller of public accounts.

The city's check for the period was $14,502.54. This was an increase of 25.29 per cent from the amount of $11,547.75 that the city had received for the same period a year earlier.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said that cities over the state averaged a 12 per cent increase, and of this, eight per cent was due to higher sales during the Christmas holidays.

The February checks represented taxes collected by monthly filers in December and reported to the comptroller's office by January 20.

The City of Friona now has received $21,654.48 in two 1989 payments, and this is up by 28.3 per cent over the total of $16,883.57 received in its first two payments in 1988.

By comparison, the city of Muleshoe received $28,311.13 for the period, which was a decrease of 8.2 per cent from its check for $30,839.95 at the same time a year earlier.

The city of Dimmitt's check for the recent period was $31,883.11, and this was up by 45 per cent from the total of $21,986.85 it had received the previous year.

Bullock said that the strong tax return added roughly $670 million to the state's coffers, and that state lawmakers could put the unexpected extra $150 million into planning the 1990-91 state budget.

cuts, farm bill reauthorization, increased excise taxes, foreign trade proposals, ground water contamination, expanded ethanol production and farm debt restructuring were among the many issues of concern discussed over the last few days, ending with a joint farm group agricultural meeting Friday.

"We've come a long way in these first ten years," said David Senter, AAM's national director. He added, "The work we did last year was crucial to win passage of the Agriculture Credit Act and the Drought Emergency Assistance Act, and to repeal the excise tax on diesel fuel for on-farm use. This puts us in a good position to carry on the fight for the family farmer in 1989."

Of particular concern to AAM is the proposed federal budget cut which would further reduce income to farmers and significantly limit the availability of farm credit.

"We're willing to do our part to solve the budget deficit," said AAM National President Harvey Joe Sanner, "but we can do that without bankrupting the family farmer. AAM will be working with congressional leaders to come up with a plan to save the necessary dollars without reducing prices farmers receive for their commodities."

Hundreds of family farmers traveled to Washington, D.C. to participate in various seminars and meetings with congressional leaders during the week. There was a total of 22 farmers from Texas including Don Kimbrell, State President from Happy; Buddie Vance, national delegate from Panhandle; Garvin Thorn, District 1 delegate from Friona; James Long, District 2 delegate from

Three Terms Expiring On City Council

Terms of three candidates are expiring this year on the Friona City Council, and one of the incumbents told the Friona Star this week that he would not seek re-election.

"Having served four years on the council, I plan to step down, and make my retirement complete," said councilman Jim Zorns. "I appreciate the opportunity to serve the residents of Friona," Zorns said.

Other council members whose terms are expiring are Mike Hanes and Joe Tongate. Holdover members include June Rhodes, Bobby Jordan and Mayor Clarence Monroe.

The sign-up period started this week at the City Hall and continues through March 22. The city election will be held on May 6.

PROPOSED FLOOR PLAN

ARTIST'S CONCEPT...This is an artist's concept of the proposed addition to Prairie Acres Nursing Home. The ten new rooms will be added on the northwest wing (upper right hand corner), and an addition is proposed to the nursing home's dining room.

Prairie Acres Will Add Ten Rooms

Prairie Acres Nursing Home is making plans to add ten rooms to the facility, as well as adding space to the dining room and other improvements.

Administrator Jo Blackwell told members of the Friona Evening Lions Club that the addition would be accomplished through General Revenue bonds, through the City of Friona.

The cost of the expansion will be roughly $350,000. The tax-free bonds were purchased by Friona State Bank, and feature a 10-year payout. The local bank will derive the benefit of the bonds, Mrs. Blackwell pointed out.

The main item will be the addition of ten new resident rooms, which would give Prairie Acres space for 20 additional residents.

In addition, it is planned to enlarge the facility's dining room as much as possible, give the entire facility a new roof, and if funds are available, enlarge the front lobby, and possibly renovate the offices.

The Prairie Acres board of directors have retained Eldon Smith of Clovis as architect for the expansion program. A contract with Smith is expected to be signed, along with the City of Friona, in the near future.

Mrs. Blackwell said she hoped to meet with the architect within the next month to finalize the plans. The actual construction may get underway within three or four months.

At the present time, Prairie Acres has a capacity for housing 65 residents, and has been full with a waiting list for quite some time.

The facility opened in 1976, and paid off its original note in 1986.

Prairie Acres at the present time has 50 employees, with an annual payroll of $450,000.

At the recent meeting, A.L. (Jake) Outland, who was city manager when Prairie Acres was conceived, said "The city is fortunate to have a nursing home of the calibre of Prairie Acres." He credited Mrs. Blackwell's astute leadership as administrator for much of the success that the facility has enjoyed.

"The nursing home started as a dream by local residents, and was built from the ground up," Mrs. Blackwell said.

Mrs. Blackwell said that recently-passed federal regulations is causing her to arrange for staff members to pass certain tests, and to attend a certain number of hours of extra training.

Also, by 1990, under present law, all nursing homes will have to meet the "Skilled Home" requirements, which would mean that the ratio of patients to LVNs can be no more than one to 15.

Regarding the present dining room, Mrs. Blackwell pointed out that at the present time it is impossible for the staff to feed all 65 of the home's residents at one time.

Prairie Acres has maintained a superior rating from the state since 1980. The facility's rates of $37.50 per day compare favorably with other homes, being lower than most.

Mrs. Blackwell has recently been given the approval to put the nursing home's records on a computer system.

"This will be a big help. Up until now, we have been able to keep track of everything through regular bookkeeping, but the computer should prove very useful," she said.

Local Area Is Teased By Moisture

The Friona area continued to receive small amounts of moisture during the past week.

Saturday's measurement, which actually was the continuation of Friday morning, February 17, was .12 inches. A rain/snow mix on Monday evening left .08 inch of moisture, and a light shower Tuesday afternoon amounted to .02 inch. This brought the month's total moisture in Friona to .80 inch, most of which fell very

Daylen Gallman Attends Conference

DAYLEN GALLMAN

On Tuesday, February 21, Daylen Gallman of Friona had the rare opportunity to see his government in action when he joined approximately 350 outstanding high school juniors and seniors from across the country at the Spring 1989 National Young Leaders Conference in Washington, D.C. Daylen has been selected for this unique honor based on demonstrated academic achievement, leadership and citizenship.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today. Throughout the six day conference, the scholars meet with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps. "It is one thing to read and learn about one's government in a textbook," says John Hines, executive director, "but it is a completely different educational experience to see, first hand, one's government at work and to witness the democratic process."

Highlights of the program will include a breakfast panel discussion led by prominent journalists at the National Press Club, welcoming remarks from a member of Congress on the floor of the United States House of Representatives, and a government relations forum comprised of lobbyists from various corporations and public interest groups. A visit to a diplomatic embassy and a foreign policy briefing at the State Department are also included among the week's activities.

Gallman will also have a unique opportunity to meet with Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Senator Phil Gramm and Representative Larry Combest or members of their respective staffs. Culminating the National Young Leaders Conference is the Mock Congress in which the scholars assume the roles of United States Representatives by debating, lobbying, and voting on proposed drug testing legislation.

The National Young Leaders Conference is sponsored by the Congressional Youth Leadership Council which was founded in 1985 by co-chairmen, Barbara Harris and Richard Rossi. The council is a non-profit, non-partisan educational organization committed to recognizing outstanding youth and providing them with a "hands-on" civics learning experience in the nation's capital. The council has over 250 members of the United States Congress who comprise its Honorary Congressional Board of Advisors joining in the commitment to educational excellence.

BREAST CANCER DETECTION UNIT

available to area women!

MONDAY, MARCH 6

City Hall

BOVINA, TEXAS

Call 238-1116 for appointment

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is, currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent five year survival rate and a 90 percent 10 year survival rate. (The cost is only $50.00)

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Judges, Commissioners Hold Annual Conference

Management systems and other ways to improve county government got a lot of attention during the 31st Annual Conference of County Judges and Commissioners at College Station recently.

The three-day conference featured about fifty speakers or panel members who assisted in 33 presentations aimed at strengthening county government.

Some pitfalls to avoid when planning county budgets were addressed by Tom Nilsen of Austin, manager of the Local Government Assistance Program in the Comptroller's Department.

"There's no substitute for biting the bullet," Nilsen said.

He said many groups try to save on costs by cutting out all maintenance funds. "This may work for a year or so, but if left too long, the maintenance fees could easily cost 5-to-10 times the amount of the original maintenance budget," he said.

Nilsen said another strategy that some agencies use is that of "drawing down a specific fund balance," but a better plan is to keep a contingency fund.

"Don't rely on bookkeeping tricks, such as shifting a payday, to balance your budget. A better approach is to make a good, sound budget based on all information available," he said.

Nilsen said county officials should review older programs and spending plans for savings, rather than new programs.

He said Commissioners Courts should test to determine if budget items are still relevant by asking:

*Why are we doing this particular project?

*Is there a more economical way to accomplish this goal?

*Is there still a need for this service or practice?

*Is this practice still required by law or regulation?

*Are other groups now providing the service, and can it be bought from them for less than it would cost us?

Another speaker, Cameron County Auditor Rayburn McNelly of Brownsville, said he did not know of any county government group in Texas that has been hurt financially by a recent bank failure.

McNelly said that every precaution must be taken by counties to avoid this difficulty and protect their investments.

Attorney Lowell Denton of San Antonio said county leaders can protect themselves and avoid lawsuits if they study federal and state labor law principles applicable to counties.

He recommended adopting practices and making decisions to avoid liability and considering practical suggestions that apply to the various situations.

Coryell County Judge Douglas H. Smith of Gatesville, president of the County Judges and Commissioners' Association of Texas, told the county officials to check on the status of their child welfare boards.

"If your county does not have a child welfare board, you need one," Smith said.

Dr. Milo J. Shult, associate director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the problem of child abuse is a very serious one in Texas and the nation.

Rob Robinson of Gilmer, vice president of the Texas Council of Child Welfare, said he and others there and in related agencies are urging county leaders "to do everything possible to stop child abuse."

He said the problem is much more widespread than many leaders realize.

"We need to concentrate on changing this situation," he said.

The conference was conducted by the V.G. Young Institute of County Government, a part of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the County Judges and Commissioners' Association of Texas. John Gilmartin and Joe Rothe, Extension specialists with the Institute, served as general chair and program chair, respectively.

Globetrotters Set Amarillo Date

When the Harlem Globetrotters arrive in Amarillo on Wednesday, March 1, to face their longtime rival, the Washington Generals, America's world-famous Magicians of Basketball will field their strongest, most exciting lineup ever. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center.

Currently riding a world-record winning streak of 6,278 consecutive games, the Harlem Globetrotters are, quite simply, a phenomenon. The fans can see pure magic when the team hits the court. Magic stars of the 1989 Trotters include: the astonishing and hilarious "Clown Prince of Basketball," "Sweet Lou" Dunbar; sensational sharpshooting marvel, Sandra "Sweetness" Hodge; the amazing hardcourt athlete, Billy Ray Hobbly; high-flying slam dunk phenomenon Robert "Skywalker" Wallace; incredible trick dribbler, Larry Coleman; three-point terror

Osbourne "The Wizard" Lockhart; the crafty young forward, Tyrone Howard and slick ball handlers, Curley Johnson and Allen Jones.

The Harlem Globetrotters will face a strong, revitalized win-hungry Washington Generals team. Reports from the General's pre-tour training camp indicate that the Washington team's squad is the most impressive ever. The average General is three inches taller and twenty pounds heavier than his Globetrotter opponent. According to Generals coach Red Klotz, it's his best ever. "We are determined to beat the Harlem Globetrotters once and for all."

Tickets to see the "Magicians of Basketball" are priced at $10.50 and $9.00 and are now on sale at the Amarillo Civic Center Box Office. To charge tickets on Mastercard or Visa, please call Robert "Skywalker" Wallace; (806) 378-3096. Youths (12 and under) and Senior Citizens (60 and over) receive $2.00 off.

S-FC Blood Drive Is Scheduled March 13

The Friona Student Council will sponsor a blood drive for the Coffee Memorial Blood Center at the Friona High School Cafeteria on Monday, March 13 between the hours of 2:30 and 7 p.m.

According to a spokesman for the blood center, the community responsibility concept of donating blood was designed to assure a safer blood supply and to eliminate the non-replacement fee, a charge to transfusion recipients who did not replace the blood used.

This non-replacement fee was in addition to the regular processing fee. Under the Community Responsibility system, the volunteer blood donors do not have any financial interest to donate blood, but do so freely to support their community.

In 1985, Coffee Memorial Blood Center adopted the Community Responsibility system and discontinued charging the non-replacement fee.

Hospitals using blood from Coffee Memorial Blood Center are charged only the processing fee, which consists partly of the costs for the recruitment of blood donors; the bag and collection of blood; mandated testing; Hepatitis B Core Antigen and ALT testing; HTLV-III test for the antibody to the AIDS virus, and storing blood for distribution.

This processing fee, which is covered by most health insurance plans, is directly related to the blood center's costs and cannot be eliminated by a donation of blood. There are other charges from the hospital not included in the center's processing fee, but are the hospital's separate and additional charges.

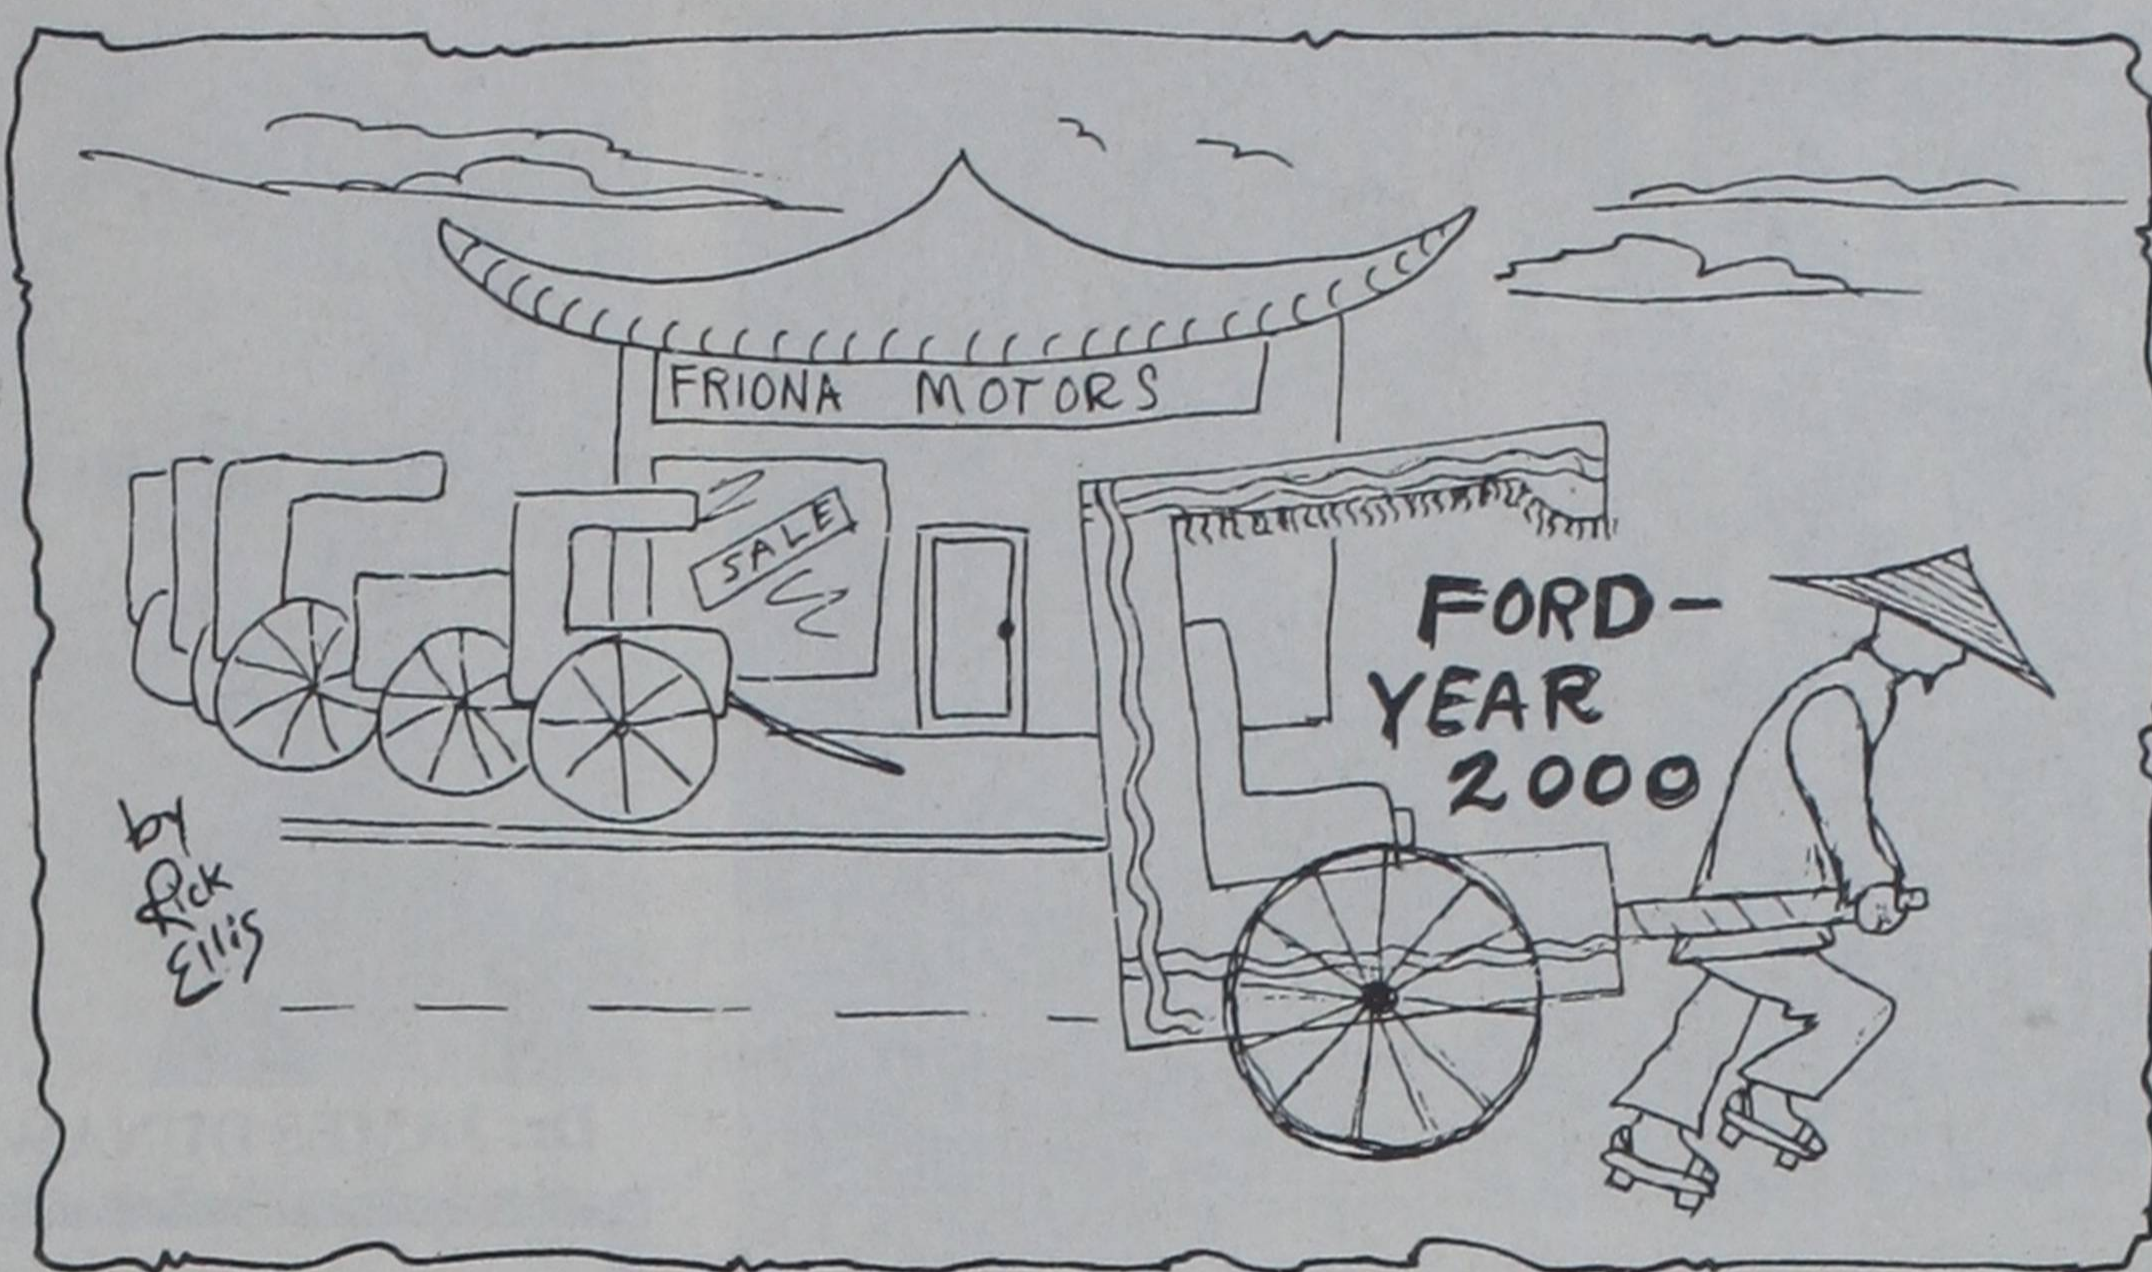

AAM Meet...

Paducah; Larry Mitchell, District 3 delegate from Arlington; and Authur Chaney, representing District 4.

AAM hosted a giant fish fry and chicken feed with live country music on Tuesday for 800 people, including many senators and congressmen, congressional aids, friends of AAM and farmers from around the country who had come to participate in the celebration.

"It's a great way to bring everyone together, introduce new folks and take care of business," said Sanner, a rice and soybean farmer from Arkansas. "This year's event is a stark contrast to our experience ten years ago, when we sat outside the capitol on our tractors in the snow."

Varsity Teams End Season Vs. Wildcats

Friona High School's varsity teams split their games at Littlefield in the final games of the season for both teams.

The Squaws won their second district game with a 62-51 decision over Littlefield, but the Chieftains fell to the playoff-bound Wildcats, 80-58.

Susie Preston had a hot hand for the Squaws. She hit four straight first-quarter baskets, and sister Cindy added one along with Kenda Atwell as the Squaws led the home team, 12-11 at the end of the quarter.

Susie came back with four points in the second quarter and Julie Howard came up with three, and the Squaws went to halftime nursing a slim, 25-21 lead.

Miss Preston (the younger) again started strong in the third quarter, hitting three from the field and one of two from the free throw line, as the Squaws opened up a little breathing room, 40-30.

Sindy Preston sank a pair of baskets and was four for four from the line in the fourth quarter, and Cindy Ureste and Brandy Ray each scored twice, as the Squaws hung on for the win, 62-51.

Susie Preston scored 21 points, her highest scoring game of the season, and Sindy closed out her varsity career with 14 points--35 points for the Preston sisters.

Burney finished his senior year with a 16-point performance. Reyes scored 14.

SQUAWS 62, Littlefield 51
Cindy Ureste 4-0-8; Jenny Procter 2-4-8; Elaine White 1-0-2; Julie Howard 1-1-3; Sindy Preston 5-4-14; Brandy Ray 2-0-4; Susie Preston 9-3-21; Kenda Atwell 1-0-2.

CHIEFS 58, Littlefield 80
Bret Bronniman 1-0-2; T.J. Sanchez 0-0-0; John E. Duke 0-2*-2-8; Cody Burney 5-1*-3-16; Andre Duran 1-0-2; Shannon Cochran 2-3-7; Michael Reyes 6-2-14; Darran Procter 2-3-7; Chuck Sutter 1-0-2.

The Chieftains had trouble hitting early against the Wildcats. Junior Hernandez of the 'Cats had nine first-period points to pace Littlefield to a 21-11 lead.

Cody Burney scored four points, as did Michael Reyes, in the opening quarter.

John Edd Duke sank a three-point basket in the second quarter, Burney had five points and Reyes four, as the Chieftains outscored the Wildcats, 19-17. But Littlefield held a 39-30 halftime lead.

Any hopes for an upset by the Chieftains were dashed by a 29-point third quarter by the Wildcats, whose Gonzales had a 12-point quarter, to open up a 67-40 lead.

The Chiefs didn't quit, outscoring the 'Cats, 18-13 in the final quarter, as both Duke and Burney hit from three-point range.

JV Teams Split With LHS Teams

Friona's junior varsity teams split games at Littlefield in their final games of the season.

The JV Squaws won their game, 53-51, but the JV Chiefs dropped a 90-56 decision.

Lisa Weatherly had a great scoring game for the Squaws. She scored 16 of the team's first 29 points, and ended up with 25 for the night.

Kris Hamilton added 13 points, Kendra Gordon and Alicia Widner, four each.

David Barnett scored 13 points for the JV Chiefs; Steven Dickson had 12, Lau Jensen 11 and Steven Smith 10.

Both JV teams had successful seasons.

McMurry Group Presents Concert Here March 5

The McMurry College Chanters will present a choral concert on Sunday, March 5 at 2:30 p.m. in Friona United Methodist Church, a McMurry College official recently announced. The concert will feature a variety of compositions performed by the Chanters under the direction of Dr. James Dunaway. The public is invited, and admission is free.

Dr. Dunaway, in his first year at McMurry, states, "Our philosophy at McMurry is to present a 'musical banquet' to the audience. To us, a musical banquet is a feast which consists of several courses of interesting and different flavors. We feel it very important that our concerts have lots of variety."

He also claims that those attending the concert will hear compositions which have not been performed in the Friona area. "We are certain that each member of the audience will hear several pieces which they will thoroughly enjoy."

Elizabeth Shoemake, a senior at McMurry College and a soprano in Chanters, commented, "our spring tour this year should be very unique because of all the new members in Chanters and the new director. The spring tour is always one of the highlights of the year, and this year's tour should be very special."

The McMurry Chanters are comprised of students who hail from various parts of the USA and represent a wide variety of college majors. Lance Shuler, a junior at McMurry and a bass in the choir observed, "We all come from different places with different backgrounds, but share some important common bonds.

Christian values are important to each of us, we all like to sing, and we work very hard at being the best we can be."

McMurry College, sponsored by the United Methodist Church, is a private four-year college located in Abilene, Texas.

Dr. Dunaway, Associate Professor and Director of Choral Activities at McMurry, comes to Texas from the West, and he claims both California and Utah as home states. He was founding director of the Southern Utah Chorale, and his choirs in Utah received the highest honors possible. His educational background includes studies at Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts, Bakersfield College, Brigham Young University, Southern Utah State College, and the University of Utah.

An investment in Your Future ...ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

John Doe ?

During the last war Kilroy was the name of the man who had been there. John Doe, the encyclopedia tells us, is the name used in legal documents to describe a person whose real name is unknown.

You do not know the name of this darling baby, and his name may be unknown to us, but in his eyes dwell love and trust. His eyes are like doe-eyes. Yet the male deer is a young buck, rather than a doe, and he is known for his swift running and his ability to jump to high places.

Our prayer for this young man is this:

May the Lord strengthen and stablish you. Then as Isaiah says in the 6th verse of the 33rd Chapter, wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Town Talk

By June Floyd

Call 247-3681 With Your News Item

Frionans are being reminded that even though Tuesday is the last day of the month, which is being observed as American Heart Association month, members of the Friona chapter are still interested in having donations made for research and education.

The Parmer County Heart Association has planned an educational presentation by Rochelle White, Parmer County Extension Agent-Home Economics, for early spring.

The following article, "How To Incorporate Lean Beef Into Today's Diet," is part of the national AHA educational program: "It's a fact. Beef is leaner, etc., etc., etc."

It's a fact. Beef today is leaner than it was just a few years ago. Consumers demanded a leaner product and the beef industry answered with new breeding and feeding techniques and closer fat trim at the meat case. A recent study conducted by Texas A&M University showed that today's beef has 27 per cent less fat than the same cuts in 1986.

The result is a product more nutritious than ever before. But with all the controversy surrounding red meat, some people are wondering if beef fits into the American Heart Association's (AHA) dietary recommendations. The answer is yes.

The American Heart Association's recommendations for a heart-healthy diet include five to seven ounces of lean meat, fish or poultry a day. AHA's eating plan also includes four or more servings of fruits and vegetables; four or more servings of breads, cereals, and starchy foods; two or more servings of low-fat dairy products; and no more than five to eight teaspoons of fats and oils.

In addition, the AHA also recommends limiting fat to 30 per cent of your daily caloric intake. What does that mean?

An average American diet typically consists of 2,000 calories a day. Following AHA's guidelines, an individual needs to keep fat calories to 30 per cent of 2,000, which equals 600 calories a day from fat.

In calculating fat to calories, fat is most often measured in grams, one gram of fat contains approximately ten calories. Frequently, product nutrition labels list the grams of fat a product contains. For example, a "low calorie" frozen dinner nutrition label shows 300 calories from fat in the dinner, multiply 12 (found on the nutrition label) by 9, (the number of calories per one gram of fat). The calculation is 12 x 9 equals 108. Out of the 300 total calories, 108 are from fat. The individual knows the fat calorie limit per day is 600, so he will need to eat accordingly the rest of the day.

Lately, a lot of talk has centered on saturated fat. This type of fat usually hardens at room temperature. It is found in animal products such as fish, poultry, meats and dairy products, and in some vegetable sources such as shortenings, coconut oil, palm oil and palm kernel oil.

Some saturated fats raise blood cholesterol levels; therefore, the AHA recommends limiting saturated fat to ten per cent of daily caloric intake.

Can beef fit into this AHA eating plan? A composite figure for all cuts of beef shows that a three-ounce cooked serving contains 189 calories. Three-ounces is about the equivalent of the size of a deck of playing cards. Of the 189 calories, 78 are from fat. That is well within the typical 600 fat calorie a day limit.

What about the saturated fat in beef? Of the 78 calories that come from fat, only 31 of these are saturated. Using the AHA calculation once again, a 2,000 calorie a day diet allows 200 calories from saturated fat. Now, it's easy to see how beef can be incorporated into a heart-healthy diet.

For people who wish to cut fat calories further, choose the leanest cuts of beef (top round, top loin, round tip, eye of round, sirloin, tenderloin) and lean or extra lean ground beef. Trim all external fat from the meat before cooking, and use cooking methods which do not require adding fat—baking, broiling, roasting, stewing and pan-broiling.

Beef's cholesterol picture may be equally surprising.

Keep in mind there are two types of cholesterol. Serum cholesterol is the amount of cholesterol found in the blood stream. Dietary cholesterol is the cholesterol we eat. It is found in foods of animal origin like fish, poultry, meats and dairy products. There is no cholesterol in foods from plant sources.

The AHA recommends limiting the intake of dietary cholesterol to 300 milligrams a day. Again, using a three-ounce portion size, beef contains 76 mg of cholesterol. Roasted chicken with the skin removed has 76 mg, pork 79 mg, lamb 78 mg, turkey 65 mg, and flounder has 59 mg. These figures show that controlling dietary cholesterol does not necessarily mean eliminating beef.

In examining the role of beef in the diet, it is important to remember that dietitians consider beef a nutrient dense food. That means that beef provides a greater share of the R.D.A. (recommended daily allowance) of nutrients than it does calories.

Beef is very high in vitamin B-12, niacin, riboflavin, zinc and iron. The iron in beef is "heme" iron, the most highly absorbable type, which works with other foods eaten at the same time to increase their contribution of dietary iron.

After examining beef's nutrient density and fat and cholesterol content, there is no longer any mystery as to why the American Heart Association says "yes" to lean red meat in a heart-healthy diet.

Kenneth O'Brian, who has been a medical patient at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo, was dismissed on Friday. He spent a few days with his son and daughter-in-law, Dwight and Gayle, before returning to his home, where he is recuperating satisfactorily.

Dismissal Day for Curtis Israel isn't too far away—if he continues to improve at the rate he has been going. He had quadruple heart bypass surgery early last week and Heart Assn. Met Mon.

Ten members of Parmer County Heart Association were present at the 7 p.m. meeting at Cora's Kitchen Monday. Following a discussion about Heart Month and the importance of raising funds for research and education, plans were made for a special program in April.

Rochelle White, Parmer County Extension Agent-Home Economics, will be presenting a program on heart healthy nutrition. The date and time of the meeting will be announced later.

Those attending were Eddie and Anita Hall, Odell and Etoile Holley, Leland Hart, Linda Black, Betty Reeve, June Floyd, June Rhodes and John Blackwell.

Blackwell, president, urges everyone interested in better heart health to become a part of this organization.

has been at High Plains Baptist Hospital since one week ago Saturday.

J.V. Houser was admitted to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Tuesday following a fall at his home. He is scheduled for surgery Thursday.

Local Baptists with whom I have visited recently seem very united in their feelings about the return of Charles and Carolyn Broadhurst, who will soon be moving back to Friona.

Charles served as pastor of First Baptist Church during the years 1970-74. At that time the couple's three children, Leslie, Lance and LaDonna were all living at home.

The Broadhurst family moved from here to Lubbock and has been living in Littlefield the past eleven years. Leslie and his wife and two sons live in Canyon. He is head basketball coach at the new Randall High School in south central Amarillo.

Lance, the second son in the family, lives in Littlefield and is general manager of the denim plant there. LaDonna and her husband live in Lubbock. They have one child.

Moving back into a community, where you have lived before, must be a heartwarming experience when there is such a warm welcome waiting.

Soil Test Determines Crop Fertilizer Needs

Soil testing should be one of the first steps in planning your 1989 crop production, and now is the time to collect soil samples from fields to be planted to spring crops, said Gary Patterson, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cost of a soil test is a minor investment to make for the peace of mind it brings when faced with making fertilizer decisions.

Limited rainfall in many areas of Texas in 1988 resulted in crop yields below the yield goals for which crops were fertilized. Thus, some soils have fertilizer nutrient carry-over that could reduce 1989 fertilizer requirements. But only soil testing can determine that carry-over.

Following soil test recommendations can effectively reduce the per unit cost of producing a commodity and increase the chances of making a profit, said Patterson.

Of course, a good fertility program can only insure optimum yields when other conditions affecting crop yields are favorable. A good plant stand, adequate moisture, good physical condition of the soil, and insect, disease and weed control are all important in obtaining profitable returns from money invested in fertilizers.

Crop producers who have not yet made a final decision about which crop to plant on which field should submit soil samples now and request fertilizer recommendations for several cropping alternatives per soil sample, Patterson said. This information can be helpful in making final cropping decisions.

Soil sampling bags and information sheets can be obtained from the county Extension office.

Prize Scams Hit Public

The U.S. Postal Inspection Service today warned the public about the increasing number of "boiler room" scams that use the telephone to pitch a variety of products, usually attached to a "free gift" gimmick.

Chief Postal Inspector Charles R. Clauson says the bogus companies flood post offices with computerized mailings notifying people "they've won a prize," usually after offering for sale everything from vitamins to office supplies. "The operators then follow up with high-pressure telemarketing," Clauson says, "usually asking for money or a credit card number to cover shipping charges." Clauson says the best way to defend against the scams is to "check out the company and call them back--without giving out your credit card number or any money--and if still suspicious get in touch with a postal inspector through the nearest post office."

Just last week, a promoter and twelve telephone pitchmen were arrested in the New York City area for misrepresenting the sale of cleaning supplies.

Several weeks ago four operators from Seattle, Washington and Las Vegas, Nevada, were arrested for mail and wire fraud for offering prizes as part of a nationwide promotion.

And in Houston, William E. Gardner, 35, operator of International Direct Mail Marketing, Ins., is awaiting sentencing after pleading guilty to mail fraud charges. He told those who responded to his mailings to call a Houston area phone number to claim a motorboat and outboard motor, he said was worth as much as $500, as part of a marketing survey. The thousands who responded--by each paying more than $120 for shipping--received an inflatable raft and motor worth $40.

Chief Inspector Clauson says, "the telephone boiler rooms have been concentrated in certain areas of the country, but the victims come from all over."

If you receive, through the mail, such material as described, or if you feel you have been a victim of such a scam, please contact the U.S. Postal Inspector at (806) 762-7821.
