ANOTHER TRENT MAN TELLS HOW

Raises Family of Nine Children—Trains Them to Be Self-Reliant—Educates Them Well Enroute.

MAKES HIS FARM PAY THE WAY

"Lazy Ned" Gives a Few Of Rules Observed By Him in Conquering Soil Gives His Family Credit.

Trent, Texas, Editor Sweetwater Reporter: "You pursued a wise course when you styled 'Mrs. Hardworker's' question an 'age-old' one and passed the buck to your readers to answer it. Since 'fools rush in where angels fear to tread' and since fools are suffered to be safe in all places and conditions I am going to saunter in.

"A noted Canadian is quoted recently as having said 'the only inducement to Canadian farmers to remain on the farm is the sheer love to see things grow.' And so it is in most countries. So you might have gone on to say that this question is world wide.

"Mrs. 'Ned' would like to have me to answer to her some of the identical questions asked by 'Mrs. Hardworker', but they remain unanswered.

"No man who has spent most of his life in actual physical and mental farm operation is in a position to either give or take much advice. Such a man knows that he can't quite realize all the surroundings and various requirements of another farmer, and therefore hesitates to say what would be best for him. Such a man has tried out so much advice himself that he has concluded that he knows just about as much about the intricacies labyrinth of his own assets, soil, help and the thousand and one things of his business as any disinterested man can learn.

"We all know, of course, by now, that it is the thing to supply our own needs at home so that we need feel no concern about the price of what we have to sell, so we need not dwell on that point. We know all about the need to kill weeds and stir the soil to conserve moisture, and most of the other hobbies so simple and easy to pass out, and yet we hesitate to undertake to tell one how to make a good living on the farm—where all our livings must come from.

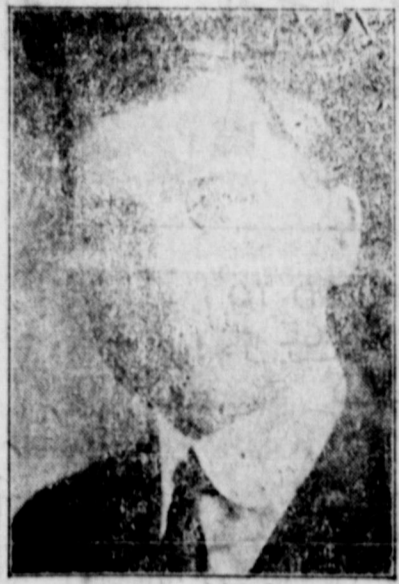

"In view of the foregoing, I should not have written but for the request of a friend who claims that he can see at least some indications of success in my case and he requested me to write and tell how I did it.

"Well, to tell the plain truth about it, if indeed, there is any success in the case, I could make a long story short and say such success is due to the cleverness of 'Mrs. Ned' and her children, and I am sure you could not get them to disclose the secrets of how it was done.

"This being the case, I shall take the credit to myself and proceed to lay down a few of my rules for general application which will fit in most cases—these same rules have worked untold hardships and privations on 'Mrs. Ned' and the children, and if they have brought such success as have rewarded our efforts, then the price we paid was too high. However, if it were to be done again I believe I would pay the price if the same results could be obtained no cheaper.

"In the first place we started the education of our children—of whom we raised only nine—at an early age, not in school, but in the home. We tried to train them to be truthful, punctual, diligent and self-reliant. Then we kept good literature for them to read, not expensive literature, but literature which gave them dependable knowledge of the more important things of the world and its people and conditions, but we kept no trashy, misleading stuff. At nine or ten years of age we put them in school and kept them there until they finished high school, after which we expected them to meet their own expenses, which they did and are still doing. They are still attending various schools as they feel the need and can pay the price.

"When it came to supplementing our income from cotton, we struck a knot. We established a credit such as we could and used it only when we had to, and that kept it strained about to the limit, but it sufficed to carry us over the harder years and keep us going by robbing the fat seasons to pay for the lean ones. We practised economy as best we could in

One case of typhoid fever exists in the city now, according to City Health Officer Dr. Fortner. The case is isolated and is thought to have been caused by infection from a water well used by the family. They are not connected with the city water mains.

MANY INJURED IN COLLAPSE.

Crowded Runway Breaks in Dallas—250 People Drop 20 Feet. By The United Press. DALLAS, June 26.—Overcrowding of the runway leading to an open air theater in Cycle Park here caused its weakened supports to give way, precipitating 250 people 20 feet to mud and water beneath. Between 40 and 50 people were slightly injured.

HARDING THEME START ARGUMENT IS EVANGELISTIC IN LUBBOCK CASE

President at Salt Lake City Uses Religion Only As Subject For Discussion—Gospel of Christianity

SPRITUAL REVIVAL IS NEEDED

President Declares That Evils of Modern Times—Social Or Political Require Religious Cure.

By The United Press. SALT LAKE CITY, June 25.—President Harding has replaced politics with religion and has become a most active evangelist, speaking the doctrine of Christianity.

The president of the United States is presenting the remarkable spectacle of speaking like a gospel circuit rider in his speeches here.

"The gospel of Christ is the greatest remedy for modern social, political, economic, national and international evils," he said.

In every speech thus far, the president has mentioned, not casually, but with emphasis his convictions on religion and that what the world needs is good old fashioned Christianity and not political remedies.

He speaks of God frequently and reverently and believes most earnestly that the solution for present problems is not a political or social but a spiritual revival.

LITTLE SPEAKS HAD A WILD RIDE

Baptist Preacher Defines Happiness at Revival Meeting Held in Lamar Street Tabernacle.

At the second night of the Baptist revival Monday night in the Lamar street tabernacle, Rev. Phil J. Little spoke to the Happy Crowd and the Inner Circle. A tall-sized congregation heard the sermon in which Rev. Little defined happiness and told of the inner circle of the church.

"If we are a happy crowd during this revival it will be for God's name and God's glory," declared Rev. Little. "Happiness is that which brings men's souls in contact with God and makes men enjoy living in the world."

He urged the people to be happy at all times, to have a happy revival and to be happy at the meetings.

He told of the "Inner Circle" of the church and defined it as the Circle in which the true Christians lived next to God. He spoke of the happiness coming from being in that circle.

"You can live in God's circle and be happy," stated Rev. Little. "or live in the devil's circle and be unhappy," he said.

"In the inner circle there is joy, peace, happiness, gladness and all that is attractive, charming and worshipful."

The speaker declared that all who would live with God must pay the price.

"It costs something to live with God, but thank God it's worth it. God wants you to live with him and when you get right with Him you are willing to pay the price."

The story telling hour for the children was held this morning at 9 o'clock and the morning sermon at 10 o'clock. Rev. Little will preach tonight on "A Search Warrant From Hell."

HILL TO SPEAK.

SHIPPING FURNITURE.

Man From Plasterco, Virginia, Probably Will Take Charge Now. Plant H. D. Humphreys of Plasterco, Virginia, has notified the Sweetwater Transfer Company that he is shipping a car of household furniture to Sweetwater.

Mr. Humphreys is understood to be the man who will have charge of the new plant of the United States Gypsum Company here.

Inability to get delivery on structural steel is causing some delay in plant construction.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. House of San Antonio are visiting in the city with Mrs. H. Campbell. They will go from here to Tucumari, New Mexico, for a short visit.

LAKE IS POPULAR

Santa Fe Lake Club Has Large Membership Who Enjoy Swimming And Fishing—Especially Fish.

The Santa Fe Lake is popular these days.

Owened by the Santa Fe Railroad, it is a beautiful body of water lying about two miles to the north of Sweetwater and furnishes an ideal place for recreation and good times, and seeing the advantages and possibilities of this beauty spot, a few Sweetwater citizens organized a club, calling it the Santa Fe Club and used the lake and grounds as headquarters for sports and recreation.

This was six years ago. Today the Santa Fe Lake Club, with over a hundred members, stands as one of the most popular organizations in the city. New members were let in from time to time and the growth of the club has gone on as the people realize more and more the advantages obtained from membership.

The lake and grounds are open to the members and their families at all times. The water of this 300-acre lake is a regular fisherman's paradise and many big catches are made there.

The lake is the home of hundreds of hungry bass and other game fish, and members of the club spend many exciting hours in attempts to hook the finny ones. And the attempts are not always futile. Some beautiful catches have been made at the lake and many real man-sized fish have been pulled from the depths after long and thrilling struggles. And any one who is any fisherman at all, is never disappointed after a fishing trip there.

There are boats of all description on the lake, and it is also well fixed for bathing, being equipped with modern bath houses and diving boards, towers, etc.

The present officers of the Santa Fe Lake Club are: Dr. K. M. Hudges, president; Otto Carter, vice-president; and L. M. Hubbard, secretary and treasurer. The board of directors consist of J. M. Arnold, P. G. Neal, W. W. Davis, J. A. Dulaney, Ben Daniels, C. F. Rogge, E. A. Ragland and Chas. Clodose.

CITIZENSHIP PROGRAM

Hamlin Planning Good Several Big Events For July 4th.

Special to The Reporter. HAMLIN, June 25.—An outline of the tentative program that will be given in Hamlin on July 4th, under the auspices of the American Legion, the Luncheon Club and the Woman's Literary Club has been given out.

There will be a parade on Central avenue led by the Legion, the band and citizens (both boys and girls) just reaching 21 years of age. The committees expect the Liter. Club all who will in both town and country to enter into the page and in the program at the tabernacle in the evening.

There will also be a Pageant of Nations in the program, featuring in costume sixteen different nations, represented by the younger set of the town, who in turn will be the New Citizens to be welcomed next year.

The committee announces that an out-of-town speaker as well as local speakers will be on the program. They will also have a "Sing Song" of National Aids, led by the band and accompanied with adequate fire works as a grand finale of the evening.

WATER BILLS HIGH.

Judging from the advances registered on the water bills being made up to send out the first of the month, June will prove one of the most profitable in recent history of the local water department. Lawns and gardens have caused an advance of from one to three dollars in almost every instance. The meters were read June 19, according to the City Water Department.

ADOPT PROGRAM OF YEAR'S WORK

Board of City Development Plans Comprehensive Work Along Rural, Civic And Other Lines.

NEW ROTAN ROAD COMPLETED

Board Chips In For Its Portion of Expense—Date of Filtration Plant Bond Issue Is Changed.

The adoption of a comprehensive program for the year's work was the principal item at the meeting of the City Board of Development at the meeting Monday night.

Included is an industrial survey to take stock of the city's present equipment and what could be profitably added thereto, civic, rural and other development work. The program was built up from suggestions from members of the Board and others as to projects that should be undertaken at this time.

Certain projects in this year's program more pressing than others will be given priority and until the said program gets under way actively, the Board will meet once a week, for the next month at least.

Only two members of the Board were absent although business of some of the others followed them into the meeting.

A committee from the Board was named by President Rufus Wright to attend the District good roads meeting to be held in Abilene Wednesday.

B. C. McCall reported for the Fisher County road deal entered into the first of the year, whereby the Board obligated itself to pay $350 toward the construction of a new road to Nolan. The road has been completed and the money paid.

Curtis Hancock, who has marked the Bankhead Highway from one end of the state to the other submitted a bill for $210 or at the rate of $7 a mile. One of the members pointed out that there is a law requiring the County commissioners to mark the highways, and inasmuch as Mr. Hancock marked the road without first making arrangements with the Board for payment, his bill was not approved.

The Board went on record as approving any assistance that it could possibly render the United States Gypsum Company and recommended to the City Commission that the city water mains be extended to their plant, and also that steps be taken to open a street to their property.

A resolution of approval was ordered prepared to be sent to Street Commissioner Walter Trammell for his work on the city streets, more especially the raising of the grade on the East Pike and Texas & Pacific crossing.

A committee composed of R. M. Simmons, H. R. Bondies and J. A. McCurdy was appointed to go into the Poultry Association refrigeration project thoroughly and to report back at the next meeting what assistance, if any, the Board could render the association.

City matters came up for a lengthy discussion. Mayor Joe H. Dozhe was present and told of the progress made in the plans for filtration prior to his leaving last night on the night train with members of the City Commission for Dallas and Fort Worth to investigate the plants in operation there.

The date for the bond issue election has been changed, he said, from July 28 to August 8, to comply with certain legal requirements.

Various other matters came up for discussion and at a late hour the meeting adjourned.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The following Masonic officers were installed at a meeting last night: M. C. Manroe, W. M.; S. E. Mays, S. W.; Frank Morgan, Jr., J. W.; George McKnight, Secretary; Elmer Snow, Treasurer; R. B. Ross, Tyler.

Committees will be appointed soon. It is reported to work out a program for August first, when a Masonic celebration will take place here.

BRICKLAYING
I'm the only woman bricklayer in the country," Mrs. Florence Thompson of Long Island City, her husband runs a bricklaying school, so she thought she'd take a hand at it. "If I want a new hat I go out and lay brick for a couple of days, and then there will be no argument about it."

Here's a practical precedent for housewives who are always wondering how they could make a little pin-money in spare time.
An old-fashioned man must feel bewildered as he ponders the existence of a woman bricklayer and an industrial system so highly systematized that there's actually a school giving diplomas in bricklaying.

DISTANCE
Ojibway Indians are rehearsing "Hiawatha," which they'll stage in August celebrating the three-hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the "Sea" and Lake Superior by the white man.

The Ojibways marvel at Longfellow's accuracy in the matter of their Indian customs and their country. If they can get Longfellow on the outboard, he'll tell them that he never was near said country. He got his "stuff" from an Indian chief whom he met in New York City.

However, that's one of the essentials of an expert. Peter Witt, traction expert, says an expert is a man who lives several hundred miles away and charges $100 a day for his services. A prophet (or an expert) is not without honor, etc.

AT THE PALACE.
Love is the super-theme of Emory Johnson's unusual drama The Third Alarm, shown for the first time at the Palace Theater yesterday to a large number of Sweetwater people.
The nature and theme of the picture surprised many by its unusual and really interesting situations throughout.

Mr. Johnson, who rose to fame in picturdom some time ago with his production of "In the Name of the Law," which paid a sterling tribute to the policemen of the country, has this time paid his gratitude to the firemen and their devoted wives, sons and daughters.

The central character is a veteran fire-fighter, Dan McDowell, superbly portrayed by Ralph Lewis, of many cinema conquests. The ups and downs of Dan McDowell make story matter of the most engrossing kind, but Mr. Johnson goes far beyond the mere individuals with whom he tells his stirring tale. He makes of his production a vast canvas upon which he paints his narrative in bold and vivid strokes, pounding home to all beholders his message of love and human kindness of which we have all too little in the work-a-day world of the present.

This master production, a timely tribute to the firemen who risk their lives in millions of cases to save the lives of others from horrifying blazes as they creep from under to the ones who sleep in the dead hours of the night; and who go to many dangerous points at hours when the rest of the world is in slumberland, deserves due consideration from every dweller of Sweetwater and vicinity. "The Third Alarm" will be shown tonight at the Palace Theater for the last time. Those who fail to see this picture will miss one of the most unusual photoplays ever exhibited in Death Toll in Brooklyn "L" Accident High—30 Are Injured in Smash. By The United Press.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Seven dead and between 70 and 80 injured is the toll of the Brooklyn elevated railway accident yesterday when two cars smashed to the ground from a height of 35 feet into one of the busiest corners in Brooklyn.

Heat causing the rail to spread or buckle is one theory advanced as the cause of the accident.

WOULD EXTEND ROAD.

Boosters Meet At Cisco In Interest of Extending Katy a Railroad. Special to The Reporter.

CISCO, June 26.—A bunch of boosters met here the latter part of last week in the interest of extending the Katy Railroad west from Rotan, just where the terminus will be is not decided, but the first objective sought by those promoting the proposition is Snyder. In fact, it was to have the Katy road extend to Snyder that first inspired the movement.

Meeting with these West Texas boosters were Hon. Clarence Gilmore of the railroad commission, O. F. Ellington of the Texas & Pacific road.

DRIVE ONE ARMED
By The United Press.
BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, June 26.—W. B. Mason and J. A. Robbins of this city recently completed an automobile drive which, considering weather and road conditions is regarded as remarkable.
Mason received a message from Odessa that his sister-in-law was dead. Although he has but one arm, Mason took the wheel and with Robbins started on the 257 mile drive at 8 o'clock that night.
Neither of the men had been over the road before and for the most part the roads were in a very poor condition.
They arrived at Odessa at 3 a. m. driving a total of seven and a half hours, an average of about thirty five miles an hour. Only two stops were made during the trip.

OPEN MIND COLUMN.

Editor, The Reporter: It looks like the Nolan County Fair proposition has gone dead waiting to see where the Tech is going to be located. Right there is a big mistake. Tech or no Tech, this fair proposition ought to be pushed right to the front at once. It means more to the people of Nolan County than any proposition that has been put before the people of the county. Look what Dallas has accomplished in the way of growth, and this, no doubt, being accomplished by her great fair being held every year.

A fair being held in Sweetwater would bring visitors from all parts of the state, also from other states. It would bring the people together from the three counties, Nolan, Fisher, and Mitchell, (which means Trio), with their exhibits of farming, stock, poultry raising, fruit and truck farming. People would see and learn something new every year. This fair ought to be held a week before the Dallas Fair so that the choice exhibits could be placed on exhibition there.

I consider that a good fair would be more to the people of Nolan County than the Tech would, as a single proposition, while it might help to set the front at once.

There is no doubt in my mind but what a fair at Sweetwater would more than pay the running expenses, and that the investment would always be worth what it would cost to promote the fair. I have suggested the name, The West Texas Trio Fair, from the fact that it would be where the three railroads cross, and the three counties named would be most interested in the fair.

CHLIFORMS WIFE FOR HEADACHE.

My daughter has suffered with stomach trouble and headaches for 3 years. My wife had headaches so bad we had to chloroform her to relieve her. I also suffered with stomach trouble for years. My wife, daughter and I all used Ferrasol with wonderful results, together with those of my wife's headaches have left her and there has been a wonderful change in me. Anyone doubting this testimonial write or call me and I will at any time recommend Ferrasol.

our strained situation—a very poor man can't practice real economy—but we did the best we could. I am still using a cultivator bought in 1906 and another bought in 1908—adding such parts as needed from time to time instead of junking and buying a new one.

"Other things have been used about the same way. We try to keep hogs, horses, poultry and cattle enough to supply our own needs, but not primarily for market. We are told that this does not pay and we do not expect it to. If by chance we get more than we sell for whatever it will bring. "We don't try to keep 'up to date'—we can't afford it. The Apostle Paul enjoins us 'Despise not the day of small things.'"

"There have been, however, men equal to the emergencies of their own or any age without much show or expense—notably the 'Man of Galilee' whose teachings, together with those of His immediate followers, we will probably have to learn to believe and practice universally before we shall ever be able to give an encouraging and satisfactory answer to the pertinent questions of 'Mrs. Hardworker.' "No, I am not what is known as a preacher, just."

--- Seeing New York ---

NEW YORK, June 25.—Traffic is supposed to be better regulated in New York than anywhere else in the world. Any New Yorker will tell you so, pointing with pride particularly to the nice bronze towers, costing $20,000 apiece, that dot Fifth Avenue and cause traffic to halt at precisely the same moment all the way from Washington Square to Central Park.

Everywhere in New York the traffic policeman is the law for everything on wheels—with one exception.

It isn't a taxi, or a wagon, or a carriage, or a pushcart or a wheelbarrow. It hasn't been classified. It hasn't even a name. It is pushed at times, and as often it is pulled. There are three little iron wheels, two firm ones and one which acts as a rudder. The body, which is only a few inches off the ground, is a box and there is a superstructure of rods which support a rack on which dresses and coats and suits are suspended on hangers.

Young men and old men, chauffeurs of these conveyors, push and pull them with a thundering rumble through the streets. There are hundreds of them to be seen anywhere between 14th and 40th streets and Fourth and Seventh avenues, dodging in and out among taxis, colliding with pedestrians and ignoring the traffic rules generally. It is one leg of the journey milady's clothes must take between manufacturer and bargain counter.

Not yet seen in New York this summer: An old-fashioned male tourist wearing a straw hat with a trolley—that thin black cord connecting hat brim with coat lapel against the wild winds whistling around the corner of the Woolworth Building.

Price of amusement is going up. East Side youngsters who used to celebrate summer by giving diving exhibitions in the fountain of City Hall Park for a cent or two now refuse to duck under in any park fountain in town for less than a nickel. But there's always somebody in the hurrying crowds—never hurrying so fast that they can't stop a while to watch kids splashing in the water—willing to toss in a nickel to see the aquatic scramble. When a cop swears into sight the diving ends suddenly, with dripping arches streaking down the street.

Washington Square is being reclaimed. Remnants of the glory of a couple of decades ago, when it housed the city's elite, have been maintained by a few old families clinging to historic homes.

Now a block of old residences, on the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Washington Square North, has been turned into an apartment house, with rentals staggering enough to attract people with limousine incomes. In the rear is a flower garden, with a tinkling fountain—and a one-time stable that has been magically turned into two duplex apartments, one renting for a trifling $7000 a year and the other for $5000!

If you have the price you can sleep right where the horses of some proud Knickerbocker used to have their stalls.

Odd things about New Yorkers: The name of Charles M. Schwab is not in the New York Social Register!

A famous old gallows has disappeared. It was a tree on Ellis Island, used a century or two ago for the hanging of pirates and other criminals. Immigration Commissioner Tod, who has just resigned, thought the historic associations of the ancient tree were not very nice for immigrants, seeing it, to contemplate. Anyway, they were building an addition to the detention room of the immigration station. So he had the gallows tree cut down.

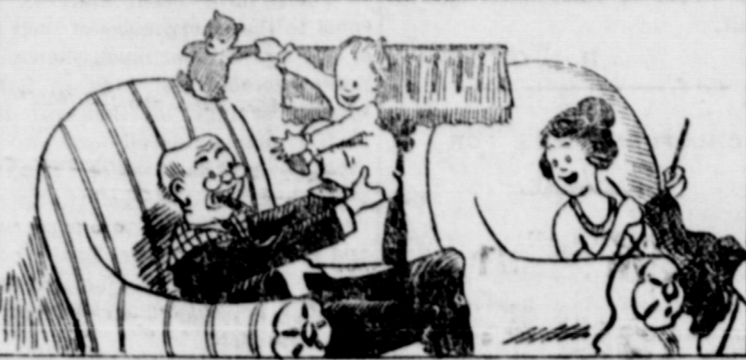

Old shirts and worn caps are at a premium in New York. For girls—stenographers, students, shop workers, society belles—have taken to taking as the great outdoor sport. On Sundays the ferries and roads leading out of the city are crowded with young hikers, women mostly. And most of them are garbed in their brothers' fathers' or uncles' hand-me-downs. With their hands under their arms, or slung across their backs in knapsacks, these young campers seek the great outdoors up in Westchester county, or over on the Palisades of Jersey. Women greatly outnumber men on these expeditions.

Coney Island is incredibly modest. Cops are arresting people who appear in bathing suits on Coney Island's new boardwalk. Most of the offenders are from out of town, who don't know that Mayor Hylan doesn't like to have persons in bathing suits show themselves off on the boardwalk. The penalty is $25 fine or five days in prison. More than 190 were arrested one Sunday.

ONCE THERE WAS A HAPPY HOME. FRIEND HUSBAND WAS THE KING PIN AND HIS COMFORT WAS THE BIG IDEA. EVERY EVENING WAS THE END OF A ETC.

THEN MA GOT A BEE IN HER BONNET AND THE PROPER BOOK. SHE WENT IN STRONG FOR ETIQUETTE, BUT BABY AND PA WEREN'T IN ON IT.

BUT WHEN MA HIT THE DON'T CHAPTER—WELL, THERE'S WHERE PA AND THE KID GOT THEIRS.
