IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES AT CHICAGO FOR TRAIN

Airplanes Draped in Mourning Drop Asters and Roses—All Traffic Halted For 45 Minutes While Mayor's Committee Places Wreath On Coffin Marked "Chicago's Sympathy"

PLAN TWO MILE ROSE STREWN LANE FOR FUNERAL

Former President Woodrow Wilson Accepts Place of Honor In Cortege Honoring Dead President At Washington—Regrets Lameness Will Not Permit Him at Services in Capitol.

By The United Press.
CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 6.—Activities and amusements of every description will cease here for 45 minutes this afternoon as the funeral train bearing the body of the late president passes through.

Impressive ceremonies will mark the passage of the death special.

While great multitudes of people line the path of the train, airplanes will circle overhead, dropping purple asters and roses. The planes will be draped in mourning and will mark the position of the train to the crowds below. Church bells will toll a solemn requiem for the dead.

There will be a formal salute of 21 guns from a detachment of field artillery.

Chicago's memorial committee, headed by the mayor, will board the special train and lay a wreath inscribed, "Chicago's Sympathy" on the casket.

The special train is due here about 3 o'clock. It is coming in over the Chicago Northwestern railroad and is running a few minutes late, owing to a severe storm encountered at Chap-pell, Neb.

tentative as yet. They will be sub-mitted to Mrs. Harding for her ap-proval before adoption.

It is hoped, however, that the body of the president will be permitted to lie in state in the Marion County Court House from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., on Thursday, the day before the fu-neral, so that the citizens of this town, who knew Warren G. Harding as a boy, watched him grow into manhood and then achieve greatness, may have the opportunity for a last look at his beloved features.

Marion is guarding the places made sacred through association with the late president like a father, heart broken, clasp to his breast the fiftimate possessions of a son who has passed away. Silent sentinels patrol the street in front of the home of Dr. G. T. Harding, his father, against the depre-dations of souvenir seekers. A sim-lar guard is patrolling the ceme-tery.

RAIL LINE IS THROGDED.
By The United Press.
ABOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S FUNERAL TRAIN, Aug. 6.—In an al-most unbroken line across the rolling Iowa prairies, crowds met the train being the dead body of Former Pres-ident W. G. Harding, as the American people paid tribute to their dead chieftan.

At the cities of Boone, Marshalltown and others, large throngs stood at the stations, reverently, to watch the progress of the train. In between the cities, here and there were groups of men and women, or perhaps a solitary farmer dismounted from his reaper or a group of harvest hands would stop from their tasks, and uncover to pay their respect to the dead pres-ident and to the brave widow who sat beside the flag draped casket.

Florence Harding, the remarkable woman who sat for hours in that silent rear car this morning, rested bet-ter Sunday despite the long strain. Her first thought is for the comfort of oth-ers. She sent personal inquiries to several newspaper men about cooids they had contracted in San Francisco with the admonition to take care of themselves and rest.

Mrs. Harding seemed to be deeply appreciative of the sympathy that is being poured out to her by the na-tion, as evidenced in the endless stream of telegrams. Her courage is the marvel of her friends, but they see behind the drawn face their deep anguish of her spirit. Each crowd who sees the funeral train has an added pang of sorrow for the widow.

But when she speaks it is with grat-itude for the consideration and sym-pathy shown.

"I can't ever thank these people, nor tell them how they have upheld me in this hour," Mrs. Harding said, with her hand on a large stack of telegrams that had been delivered from the last station.

WILSON WILL ATTEND.
By The United Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Former President Woodrow Wilson today in a letter to President Coolidge, stated that he would assume it an honor to take part in the funeral procession of President Harding.

"I sincerely grieve as you do over the death of one who undoubtedly won the esteem of the nation by his honorable and conscientious conduct of the office," Mr. Wilson said.

There had been previously some doubt as to whether or not Mr. Wil-son would be able to attend owing to the state of his health. In his letter, he stated as follows:

"My Dear President Coolidge—I thank you sincerely for the courtesy of your note. I grieve as you do over the death of President Harding, who undoubtedly won the esteem of the whole nation by his honorable and conscientious conduct of the office. I shall esteem it an honor to take part in the procession and will be obliged if you will reserve a place for my car which will be occupied by Mrs. Wilson and myself, and I hope by my friend, Admiral Grayson. It will be with feelings of the utmost solemn-ity and reverence that I will attend. I regret that my lameness makes it impossible for me to attend the cere-monies in the capital.

"Allow me to express the hope that your administration will abound in satisfaction.

"With cordial good wishes,
"WOODROW WILSON."

PLAN ROSE LANE.
By The United Press.
MARION, Ohio, Aug. 6.—A rose strewn lane of sorrow through which the funeral procession of the late President Harding will pass from the home of his aged father on Center street to the little cemetery, two miles from town was planned today as a tribute to the memory of the city's most illustrious citizen.

The entire route is being draped in a somber black and white.

The plans as worked out are only

CROWDS AT CEDAR RAPIDS.
By The United Press.
CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 6.—The great heart of the Mid-West pulsed in sympathy and sorrow today. All through last night and today, as the train flashed at terrific speed by countless smaller stations, groups of people stood along the route. There was not an hour that was not marked with many groups of men, women and children, standing beside the rails with heads reverently un-covered.

Senator Cummins Says President Un-able to Serve Longer.
By The United Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—A constitu-tional limit of one term for presidents was urged by Senator Albert B. Cum-mins, of Iowa, who declared that the responsibilities and strain of the office were more than one man can stand.

Cummins said that if Coolidge adopts Harding's policy, there will be no special session of Congress, as the late president had decided against it. The senator is enroute to Washing-ton to take part in the funeral.

CONFER WITH COOLIDGE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—President Calvin Coolidge conferred with John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National Committee and Will Butler, committee man from Massachusetts today at the temporary White House at the Willard Hotel.

Political observers see a new organi-zation in control in the Republican party.

Adams stated that there was no po-litical significance to the visit and that it was the express wish of Pres-ident Coolidge that none be discussed during the 30-day period of mourning.

As a result of this conference, the Abilene and Southern railroad will operate a motor car service on its tracks for passengers, express and mail. TO VOTE ON BOND ISSUE WEDNESDAY
Proposition of Issuing $35,000 Bonds For Construction Filtration Plant Is Up For Citizen's Approval.
CAPACITY 1,000,000 GALLONS DAY
Plant to Be of Rapid Sand Type, Ap-proved By State Board of Health and Similar to Dallas, Etc.
On Wednesday of this week, voter of this city will have an opportunity to vote on a proposition for the in-stallation of a filtration plant. The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. and will be in charge of Louis Polk at the City Hall.

The proposition calls for the issu-ance of $35,000 in bonds, or so much of that amount as may be necessary for the construction of the filtration plant. The amount called for in the bond election, is in accordance with the estimates of G. A. Duren, consult-ing engineer from Dallas, who has planned and supervised numerous sim-ilar projects. Before his plans are fi-nally accepted, however, the City Commission will submit the plans to John B. Hawley, the engineer who planned Lake Trammell, as an added guarantee of their correctness.

Following the adoption of plans, bids will be advertised for and the proposi-tion let on the lowest contract basis as usual.

The plant will be of one million gal-lon capacity every 24 hours, which is more than twice the present peak consumption of water in the city. It will probably be located inside the city limits.

The type of plant that will be built is known as the rapid sand type and similar to the ones at Fort Worth, Dal-las and other cities, although of course much smaller. It is the type ap-proved by the State Board of Health.

In speaking of the filtration plant, a prominent citizen stated:

"It is all right to talk about vot-ing for a filtration plant for the benefit of students of the Tech and other folks who may come in here in the future, but I think that the present citizenship of this town are just as much entitled to have their water supply safeguarded as anybody who may come here later on."

At the close of a protracted meeting at the Ater school house, near Sweet-water Sunday night, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan appeared in the building and presented a letter to Rev. R. O. Bailey and Rev. C. Moore, who were conducting the meeting, then de-parted. The letter contained $26 and a brief message.

The message praised the work done by the ministers and named some of the things which the Klan stood for as White supremacy, separation of church and state, upholding the con-stitution of the United States, free-dom of speech and of the press, pure womanhood and the enforcement of law and order.

The revival has been going on for some time and resulted in six conver-sions and two baptisms.

GOVERNOR FIGHTS THE BOOTLEGGER

Stop the Selling of Liquor During the First Five Months in That State Anyway.

TO ESTABLISH HIGHWAY PATROL

Finds That Highways Are Avenues of Crime As Pleasure And Peaceful Pursuits.

By S. P. HOLLINGSWORTH.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
By The United Press.
HARRISON, Pa., Aug. 6.—Failure of other elements to enforce prohibition in Pennsylvania may lead Governor Pinchot to a policy of apprehending bootleggers by means of his "high-way patrol" charged with the respon-sibility of regulating traffic on public highways.

A corps of 125 men will be placed on the roads of the state shortly to aug-ment the limited number of state po-lice and help relieve the burden of law enforcement the constabulary has shouldered since Governor Pinchot as-sumed the reins of state government.

Although the highway patrol has limited powers, as state police they might assume duties such as those of search and seizure as well as arrest.

Governor Pinchot finds that the highways are the avenues of crime as well as pleasure and peaceful pur-suits. To catch the bootlegger, there must be an adequate force on the roads that lead in and out of the state.

In the event that his law enforce-ment program fails because of an in-adequately manned police force, it was explained, the highway patrol may assume some of the responsibil-ity of checking the liquor traffic.

Plans are being laid now by the governor and his law enforcement of-ficers, the attorney general and the superintendent of state police to push an intensive campaign against boot-legging and crime of every descrip-tion.

"I am pleased with the progress al-ready made, and thoroughly convinced that the crooks and criminals we are fighting are going to lose and lose completely. I would be a poor Amer-ican if I doubted them," Governor Pin-chot told the United Press in stating his position on enforcement.

"We have made a good start and the state is moving along with us. There is much ground yet to be cov-ered, but I have three years and a half left to cover it in," he said.

Figures compiled by the State Po-lice for the first five months of "dry" enforcement under the Pinchot policy show nearly 2,000 arrests. Yet of this number only 241 cases reached the stage of court sentence after go-ing through the process of action by grand juries. One hundred of the 241 were fined and others given sen-tences averaging from two to six months.

The first step in drying up the state was the abolition of the saloon ob-tained from the legislature upon the insistence of Governor Pinchot. The bootleggers were next to be dealt with. Pinchot said he would run them out of the state. This he has found difficult because of the lethargic atti-tude of the judiciary over which he had no control. Elimination of the saloon was a factor in encouraging bootlegging that he did not anticipate as the revocation of licenses by the courts was a sure method of control.

Cooperation of law abiding agencies was sought and the assistance of county and local authorities enlisted. The response to this request has been negligible. Support has been prom-ised by the state W. C. T. U. in raising a $250,000 fund for the enforcement of law which was denied by the legis-lature.

Governor Pinchot maintains that prohibition deserves equal attention with the other laws of the common-wealth and the nation by enforcement agencies. He insisted that the money asked of the assembly for this purpose be placed to his credit for the "en-forcement of all laws." He would not permit it to be earmarked for prohibi-tion and thus his appropriation was lost.

LAKE TRAMMELL

It is hardly possible to stand on the shores of Lake Trammell to look over that magnificent expanse of deep blue water, and to feel the breeze cooled by its contact with the lake, without thrilling a sense of pride in living in a town so magnificently provided.

The lake itself is complete, but much can be done toward its beautification. It should be bordered with pecan trees and a driveway constructed around it. This is of course a program that will require years for its completion, but think what a magnificent driveway will be provided for future years. No city in the west would have anything to compare with it.

And while for sheer beauty of foliage probably no tree in the southwest at least will compare with the pecan, at the same time there would be an appreciable revenue accruing from the pecans produced.

The Lake itself cannot be improved upon. It might possibly be wise to enlarge it in time to come, should that step prove advisable. But no keener appreciation of its merits could be shown at this time than a program of beautification. It might be the part of wisdom for some organization of the city, with the beauty of the city as their ambition, to work out some plan along the lines suggested above and present it to the proper authorities.

THE "AGINERS"

Meetings have been held in Coke and Runnels Counties to protest against the building of a dam across the Colorado River, to conserve water for irrigation. Lawyers have been employed to tie this enterprise up in the courts and thwart the project.

There was a time when meetings were held by these people and begging committees appointed to ask charity. It has not been so long ago since they ask the legislature for money with which to buy seed for planting, because of lack of moisture. They will do it again if they succeed in destroying this enterprise. Although there is enough water that goes down to the sea each year through channels of the Colorado River to irrigate 200,000,000 acres of rich land and insure them against want, but they are "agin" it.—Sterling City News Record.

sell his eighth million. Here you have a clear-cut illustration of a principle that regulates success in nearly every field of endeavor. It is so universal a principle that it is almost a natural law.

This is the principle: Getting started is nine-tenths of the battle for success. Once we are "on our feet"—definitely progressing toward our goal—our progress increasingly becomes easier.

Every self-made rich man, looking back over his career, knows that it is more difficult to accumulate the first $1000 than $10,000 that follows. Hence, the expression: "Money breeds money."

The fastest locomotive has a lot of preliminary work, devoted to mechanical tests, inspection and getting up steam, during which period the locomotive doesn't travel at all. It stands still until ready to make its fast run to destination.

The championship prizefight lasts only a matter of minutes. But it is won or lost in the years of training beforehand.

It took the allied armies more than four years to develop the strength and momentum for the comparatively short campaign that knocked out Germany. At many times during those long years and right up to within a few months of the German surrender, it looked as if the allied preliminary work had been largely wasted. But it wasn't wasted. The tables were turned and success came, virtually overnight.

Once you get on the run, victory comes fast. So does success after we get firmly on our feet.

After the seeds sprout in the garden, comes a period in which the outlook seems almost hopeless except to the experienced gardener. The fight against weeds and cutworms and insects is a neck-and-neck contest. And then, almost overnight, the garden wins the fight. Thereafter it requires comparatively little care. The harvest is won or lost in the discouraging period early in the game.

Why, then, ever allow ourselves to become discouraged, no matter what we are attempting or how great our setback?

Night is blackest just before the dawn. And the average career is bluest just before we win.

Most of us are nearer success than we realize. Success may even be right around the corner. Trouble is, the majority of people get discouraged and slow down their efforts at the critical moment when they are on the verge of "getting across."

The leaders of men are the ones who hang on in the crisis when the others lose heart and let go.

BUILDING

In the last six months 1610 million dollars worth of new building construction was started in the 153 leading cities. It is a gain of nearly a third, compared with the first half of last year, but when you make allowances it is doubtful whether there has been more actual building than a year ago.

The average American seems to prefer to own his own auto instead of his own home.

Seasonal building operations are due to custom rather than the influence of weather, reports the Hoover committee, which has been trying to figure out a way to stabilize the building trades—give them year-round work instead of idle part of the year and overworked the rest of the time.

Quite natural. It's inherited animal instinct to build the nest or den in spring and summer. Many other of the problems that we keep fussing about are the natural workings of animal instinct, which cares little for "progress" and less for investigators.

FLUNKERS

Sixteen out of every 100 students flunk at Northwestern University's College of Liberal Arts. But Professor Howard finds the flunkers average as high in intelligence as ones who pass their examinations. Like life in general, success is as much (or more) a matter of application and work as of ability.

Regarding the college flunkers: Judgment must be reserved until later in life when some of them may outdistance the star students of college days.

Failure can be an incident, not a permanent decision, the same as an army may lose many battles and still win the war.

JAVA

In Java, which has a population a third as big as our, bubonic plague is so common that it kills half of the children before they are five years old. The Javanese take this as a matter of course, reports William Ferguson, globe trotter. He found the people of Java with the viewpoint that if the plague didn't kill half the children the island shortly would be unable to sustain the inhabitants despite its fertility. Nature is cynical in its harshness. She deals only in cause and effect, action and reaction, and the thing we call emotion is alien to her plans. Civilization is merely a banding together for mutual protection against harsh nature. Most of us have lost sight of this original purpose.

Do you really realize how gigantic our country is. In the United States are 52,000 communities large enough to have postoffices. The marvel is, that the postmen make as few mistakes as they do.

It is almost beyond imagination, to picture 52,000 communities. And, in each, the majority of the inhabitants probably think that theirs is the best community in the world.

We are a great deal like the ants, though not as prolific. Also, it is debatable which of the two, ants or men, have the superior civilization.

GAIN

Don't be too concerned about the slump in our foreign trade. In the 12 months ended June 30, exports from our country totaled $966 million dollars. This was 195 million dollars more than in the previous 12 months. While increased prices probably absorbed this gain, it's comforting to know that we're just about holding our own despite the continued economic chaos in Europe.

BUSY

The railroads wound up June by moving more cars of freight in one week than in any previous week in history. It is important, that the roads in June handled with ease more traffic than caused the big car shortage of 1920, and still had 63,000 surplus idle freight cars at the end of June. The importance of this is that business booms usually are started toward stagnation by a freight car shortage. The transportation situation never was more favorable than now.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe imposed by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

HUSBAND ENJOINED.

Wife Gets Court Protection From a Pretty Miss.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 6.—A court injunction forbidding her talking to or otherwise communicating with A. J. Ross, was issued against Miss Catherine Rathke at the request of Ross' wife here. Mrs. Ross declared she did not want a divorce, but that she wanted her husband.

Miss Rathke told of meeting Ross at a boarding house and since there was no stove in her room, often stopped in and warmed herself by Ross' stove before going to her room. Ross told her of his domestic troubles, she said, and she tried to persuade him to make up with his wife.

Now Miss Rathke is forbidden to see Ross or talk with him.

Lots Free Lots Cheap Bradford Addition

We have secured the selling of a portion of the lots in the Bradford addition and are offering you your choice of corner lots at $125.00 and inside lots at $100.00 each on terms of half cash, one fourth January 1, 1924 and one fourth January 1, 1925, with six per cent interest on deferred payments. Where we have all the lots in any block, we will give a corner lot to the person building a neat five room painted bungalow or an inside lot to one building a neat painted four room bungalow.

With the spending of more than a million dollars on this side of the city by the United States Gypsum Co. we consider this the best buy in Sweetwater as there will be a big demand for houses on this side of town.

These lots are just west, adjoining and overlook the site offered for the Texas Technological College and the location of the college here should double and treble the value of the lots in this addition.

The lots are offered under their present value, on easy terms and we expect to move them quickly.

Better see us at once and pick your lots. They won't last long at these prices. There is no chance to stage anything but a winning.

Now is the time, while opportunity knocks, to make a start toward that home you expect to own.

Prices on these lots will be changed when the "Tech" is located here.

WOMANLY TROUBLES

Twas Hard for Her to Stop Work, But This Texas Lady Says She Had to Go to Bed.—Helped by Cardui.

Salado, Texas.—"I suffered a great deal with womanly troubles," says Miss Ira Lillian Hart, of Route 1, this place. "I would, for a day or two, feel drowsy, stupid and lifeless; didn't feel like doing my work."

"I would suffer pains in my sides and back, and very severe headaches."

"I am the housekeeper, and it was very hard for me to stop, but I would get in such a misery I would have to go to bed. I heard of Cardui, and that it was good for this suffering. The very first bottle I took seemed to help me. I did not suffer near so much, so I sent for the second. It did so much good for me, I can't say enough for Cardui, for it certainly was a friend in need."

Women who feel the need of something to help relieve, or prevent, such troubles, should profit by the experience of thousands of other women, and try this mild, harmless tonic.

Turkeys Scores Victory

Turkey, in conference with the great powers at Lausanne, has forced England, France, Italy, Japan, Greece and Rumania to most of her conditions. Ex-Premier Lloyd George says it's the most humiliating treaty England ever signed. Jugoslavia refused but probably will have to sign later. American and Turkey are making a separate pact.

When the Turks joined the Germans in the war, the allies swore they'd drive the sultan out of Europe.

Now what? Turkey's stronger than she's been in centuries. She escapes the was penalties the allies tried to impose. She gets Constantinople back, and eastern Thrace. Foreign troops must leave her soil. She evicts Greek civilians. She makes no promises concerning the Armenians. She ends extra-territoriality within her frontiers. She opens the Bosphorus and Dardanelles to such shipping as she chooses to let pass. She joins the League of Nations on equal terms with everybody else.

Filipinos Are Angry.

Declaring General Leonard Wood temperamental unfitted to govern "in a democratic manner," the legislature at Manila has demanded his recall as governor general of the Philippines.

It's a renewal of the islands' campaign for self-government. Woodrow Wilson urged it. Wood, in his first report as governor-general, expressed the opinion that the Filipinos aren't capable yet to managing their own affairs. Naturally he's disliked by the pro-independence group.

Ending 12-Hour Day.

Magnus Johnson's election as Farmer-Labor senator from Minnesota was 1923's big political event to date.

It was a stiff Republican jolt because it meant defeat of the administration's choice, Governor Preus. Democrats register joy on account of this, but their own candidate was beaten worse than Preus.

Really it was a Third Party victory—a wallop for Republicans and Democrats alike.

It may not mean a Third Party presidential nomination next year, but it increases the chances of one. With three candidates in the field it wouldn't be surprising if election failed to settle the 1924 fight, leaving the House of Representatives to choose the next president.

TAKES LONG HIKE

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flynn Are Walking From Philadelphia To the San Francisco Convention.

From Philadelphia to San Francisco is considered quite a long journey to make by auto or even by train, but according to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flynn, it is "just a nice little hike." They were in Sweetwater Sunday morning, khaki clad and dust stained on their long walk across the continent.

To attend the American Legion Convention in San Francisco is the main purpose of the trip, according to Mr. Flynn, and he expects to make Los Angeles by October 19, and from there go to San Francisco. His wife decided to walk along with him on the trip and they set out about from Philadelphia on May 15 and have averaged from 24 to 33 miles a day, when they were walking.

"Sometimes we get rides," stated Mr. Flynn, "and that helps us out a great deal."

Mr. Flynn wore a regular Army uniform and over-sea cap and carried complete camping equipment, including canteen and other necessities in his pack on his back. Mrs. Flynn wore a khaki suit and seemed not a bit tired or worn out over the "little jaunt." They camp by the roadside every night and continue on their way at sun rise next morning.

"We have had several exciting experiences while on our hike," said Mr. Flynn. "While walking through the mountains of Arkansas, I was taken for a U. S. Revenue officer and moonshiner took a couple of plugs with a long range rifle at me. After he found his mistake, he divided a bottle of 'corn' with me," Flynn said.

Mr. Flynn is a member of the American Legion and saw three years of active service overseas during the World War. He is also a boxer of national reputation.
