WASHINGTON FACES THE SADDEST DAY IN HISTORY

East Room of White House Being Prepared for Body of Nation's President—Children Gather Flowers to Strew Path of Funeral Cortège—Special Train Hours Late In Arrival.

GOVERNMENT ACTIVITIES CEASE PENDING FUNERAL

All Stores And Offices Close And City Goes Into Mourning—Simple Ceremonies Arranged For Final Burial at Marion—The Wishes of Mrs. Harding To Be Carried Out.

(BY THE UNITED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—Lowering clouds and weeping skies will greet the body of President Harding on arrival here, according to a forecast by the United States Weather Bureau here today. Washington awoke today to one of the saddest dawns in the history of the Republic, the dawn of the day when the mortal shell of its president is borne through its streets to the White House in preparation for the state funeral.

The transcontinental special train, which has blazed a trail of sorrow across the nation is reported several hours late. Nevertheless, crowds, started gathering at daylight in the atmosphere thick and oppressive after a week of intense heat.

Stores are draped in mourning and many are closed. Government activities are at a standstill. Flags droop at half mast in the heavy air. Organized squads of school children are gathering wild flowers in fields near Washington to strew historic Pennsylvania Avenue the path of the funeral procession.

President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft, members of the cabinet and others high in government councils will participate in the ceremonies.

Upon its arrival here from San Francisco Tuesday, the funeral party will be met by Mr. Coolidge and other ranking officials, who will accompany the body to the White House behind the escort of a squadron of cavalry and a battalion of field artillery. It then will lie in the east room until Wednesday.

Wednesday morning the body will be escorted to the capitol and placed in the rotunda. After funeral services there it will lie in state until 6 p. m. and an hour later will start on the last journey to Marion, where on Friday, it will find a resting place in the soil of Ohio.

As the flag-draped casket moves from the White House over Pennsylvania Avenue, it will be escorted by several thousand troops under General John J. Pershing, and behind the automobiles carrying Mrs. Harding and members of the family, will be President Coolidge, members of his cabinet, members of the Supreme Court and Senators and Representatives. In line also will be representative groups of patriotic organizations, headed by their respective commanders, with colors and uniform as well as many civic and commercial organizations. The Masonic orders of which Mr. Harding was a member will be represented by 150 Knight Templars and representatives of the Grand Lodge, and there also will be small groups from other fraternal organizations. As the funeral cortège moves from the White House, 10,000 Washington school children will lay down a carpet of flowers for the caisson bearing the casket, and a children's chorus, recruited from the city's playgrounds, will sing the favorite hymns of Mr. Harding. Pennsylvania Avenue will be roped off from the White House to the capitol and cleared of all traffic. Cordons of police will line the broad thoroughfare, where it is estimated more than 100,000 will gather to view the procession.

After the simple services in the rotunda have been concluded the public will be admitted for a last view of the dead. They will march in from the east entrance four abreast, but reaching the bier, the line will separate, passing two abreast to either side. There will be a guard of honor at the casket and the lines will be kept in continuous motion.

When the doors have been closed, the body will be taken to the union station with a military escort and placed aboard the train. President Coolidge and many other government officers will accompany it to Marion.

The funeral train will reach Marion Thursday morning and there it again will be met by a military escort.

ARRANGEMENTS AT MARION.

By The United Press.
MARION, Ohio, Aug. 7.—Arrangements here for the burial of President Harding were complete today. The last sad rites for Marion's leading citizen will be attended by simple ceremonies, according to the wish of Mrs. Harding brought here by Dr. Carl Sawyer, as the funeral train sped across Ohio today. Dr. Sawyer obtained the details from his father Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, the personal physician of Mrs. Harding and brought them to Marion this morning. The body of the 29th president will not at once be buried. It will be placed in a mausoleum until a suitable monument can be erected. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. G. Landis, pastor of the Trinity Baptist church of which President Harding was a member, in charge of the services.

TRAIN LATE.

By The United Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The national capitol made final preparations today for receiving the body of the late president. As the hours slipped by, business houses and offices closed and the city gave itself over to mourning.

Bulletins from the special train indicated that it was steadily losing time and that the body would not reach here until late tonight, causing a revision in plans.

The East Room in the White House and the rotunda of the capitol building have been made ready for the body. In the East Chamber the casket will lay until the formal funeral tomorrow. All furniture used in the brilliant social functions of the historic room has been removed. Only a grand piano remains. In the four corners stand bronze candelabra, shedding a soft electric glow over the room. The walls are finished in cream white and above the panels are bas-reliefs of Greek goddesses.

SWIMS ENGLISH CHANNEL.

American Swimmer Awarded English Prize Time 26 Hours.
LONDON, Aug. 7.—The Daily Sketch today announced that the award of 1,000 pound sterling would be awarded to Henry Sullivan, American swimmer.

Sullivan completed the swimming of the English Channel in 26 hours and 43 minutes. He was the first to swim the Channel since Henry Burgess did it in 1911, the only other man to complete the feat was Captain Webb back in the year 1875.

Today's interest centers on Mrs. Clementine Corson who started yesterday morning. No official word has been received at a late hour today from her.

B. C. Cox and son, Clifton Cox, have returned from a month's trip to Galveston and other points in South Texas.

THE WEATHER.

West Texas tonight and Wednesday fair and continued warm.

Farm Bureau Special

This week's issue of The Weekly Reporter will be devoted to the Farm Bureau drive for new members of the Cotton Association. It will be enlarged and in addition will be sent to every farmer not now a member of the Farm Bureau or a subscriber to The Weekly Reporter. In view of the cotton crop already in sight, this will prove an exceptional advertising opportunity for merchants. The paper will be issued Thursday morning. Merchants who wish to take advantage of the increased number of readers, call the Advertising Department at Phone 105.

MAY NAME TECH LOCATION. SOON

Announcement of Meeting of Locating Board at Texas Hotel, Fort Worth Next Wednesday Significant.

MANY TOWNS ON ANXIOUS SEAT

West Texas Has Received Much Good Publicity As Result of College Campaign—Civic Work.

Possibility that the location for the Texas Tech College may be announced Wednesday is seen in the statement by W. R. Nabours, secretary of the Locating Board, that an executive session will be held in the Texas Hotel at Fort Worth Wednesday.

It is of course possible that the Board may not be able to reach an agreement that early in the proceedings, but in the event that no decision is reached at this meeting, announcement as to when this decision can be expected and the nature of the procedure can reasonably be expected Wednesday.

Incidentally the Board let it be known that they would appreciate it if there were no West Texas delegations on hand while the deliberations were proceeding. There are just about 37 West Texas towns that are right up on edge in these last few moments and very little urging would be required for the entire population, nearly, of all of them to pile into Fort Worth. Just a little hint and Fort Worth would find its population suddenly doubled.

It has been many months since the birth of the Texas Tech College at Austin. The trip of the Locating Board was originally planned for May. Extra sessions of the legislature interfered and college commencement added further delay. Then came the resignation of President Vinson of Texas University and the substitution of Dr. Sutton. In the meantime, briefs were being prepared in the towns that intended to compete for the new institution and hasty inventories taken of talking points that might be used as inducements to locate the said college therein. Said towns were raked over with fine tooth combs for the ubiquitous tin can and other trash, and paving and other public improvements became the order of the day.

Finally the eagerly awaited trip of the Locating Board got under way and Boerne, near San Antonio, was visited July 14. Then came the visits to the contesting towns in regular order. And the excitement came to a climax in each town as it was visited and is continuing until the final verdict is rendered.

Regardless of where the college goes, every competing town is immeasurably the gainer in the proceedings. In every one of them civic improvements have been quickened. Towns that were on the outs with themselves have discovered that they were pretty good places after all. Neighbors have forgotten their petty personal grievances and cracked down for the good of the town.

And the publicity that the entire section has received is worth millions of dollars to it. Day after day, and day after day, the various state papers have carried columns about the new college to be located in West Texas and about the different towns that were competing for it. Never has there been such wholesale advertising a section of a state. The merits and advantages of West Texas have been stressed as never before and the West cannot help but gain by the new knowledge that has been spread concerning it.

Noticeable also has been the remarkable spirit of cooperation and fair play. Each town has endeavored, almost without exception, to play up its own advantages without in any way knocking its competitors. There will, of course, be a certain amount of reaction in the towns that fail to get the college, but they can proceed to capitalize some of the advantages they discovered while fishing for the college and which possibly they did not know they had.

And no college has ever started out under more auspicious circumstances than has greeted this new institution. Town after town have pledged their support to it regardless of where located. And now will come the acid test of good sportsmanship—the wire of the Locating Board from the defeated towns, renewing this pledge of support and of congratulation to the winning town and backing up these pledges. In case Sweetwater is among the 36, it would be very good advertising for this town to get its wire in first, both to the Board and to the winner.

MELONS COMING IN

Home grown watermelons are beginning to make their appearance at local stores these days in large quantities. They are of superior quality sweet as honey and excel those which were shipped in here at the opening of the melon season. H. L. Owens sold a load of fine specimens to a local grocery Monday morning and the entire lot was nearly wiped out by noon.

Dallas Whaley of Haskell was in Sweetwater today shaking hands with friends. Mr. Whaley was enroute to Snyder on a business mission.

ASK MORE MONEY.

War Department Will Ask For Bigger Appropriation Next Year.

By The United Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The War Department will ask for an appropriation from the next Congress of $3,500,000 in excess of the present appropriation for the fiscal year. Secretary of War Weeks announced today.

Weeks said that he included in his request an increase of $1,500,000 for the defense of the Panama Canal. Congress will be asked for an army of 125,000 men.

Mrs. Ray Climber and mother spent Tuesday in Abilene.

"VAGS" ARRESTED

Judge Yantis Handles 13 In Corporation Court In One Day—Mottley Array Faces Him On Charge.

Corporation Court is kept busy these days with the war on "vags" at its height. Seven were tried before Judge Yantis Monday afternoon, making a total of thirteen for the day. Six Monday morning were found guilty of vagrancy and are working their fines out on the streets. One man was found guilty Monday afternoon and paid a fine of $12.70. The other six were turned loose.

The seven men, who were "nabbed" in a bunch presented an oddly assorted group. Two were young boys, about 16 years old, three were brothers, from Hamlin, one was a lumberjack from Flagstaff, Ariz., bound for the lumber camps in Mississippi, and one was a man from Abilene. The two boys had served a term on the city streets some weeks before and were "broke" and hunting work. Judge Yantis gave them a dollar each and told to "get out of town."

J. Stone Rives and family went to Austin Tuesday. He says he will be back in Sweetwater September 1.

ORIENT MAKES MONEY.

By The United Press.
AUSTIN, Aug. 7.—The Orient railroad earned operating revenues of $144,914 during June and for the first time in more than a year its revenues exceeded operating expenses, according to the report filed with the State Railroad Commission.

PAY SUBSCRIPTIONS.

All Pipe Line Subscribers Urged To Pay Up at Once.

Many thousands of dollars in pipe line subscriptions have been received by the local banks and turned over to the account of the Pipe Line Company, but there is still much money that has not yet come in and everyone is being urged to pay up by officials of the company.

"We are unable to incorporate, let contract for the construction of the line or anything else until these subscriptions are paid in," an official declared today.

It was pointed out that the sooner the contract was let for the water line to the plant of the gypsum company, the quicker they would be able to get operations under way on a larger scale, with larger payroll, etc. While 35 men were on the payroll Saturday this number will be greatly enlarged when active construction gets under way, concrete poured for the buildings, etc.

MORE PIPE LINE MONEY.

Through error on my part in not reporting to the secretary, the subscription of John Meyers, for $100 was not reported. This matter is entirely my fault, inasmuch as he was depending on me to make the report and place his name on the subscription list, and my list having been turned over to the secretary at the time, I neglected to telephone in this subscription.

A. S. MAUZEY.

ORCHESTRA ARRIVES.

The R. & R. Orchestra arrived Monday morning by automobile from Dallas. The musicians are: George H. Cohen, J. L. Jacobus, L. Mahler, and A. M. Hill. The orchestra showed for the first time Monday at the R. & R. Queen Theatre, and played for a packed house at the evening performance.

Many favorable comments were heard from theater goers concerning the newly added attraction. The R. & R. Orchestra located here permanently.

Misses Willie, Nate, Mary and Ruby Elliott and Bella Dennis left for a vacation trip overland to San Antonio Corpus Christi and the Rio Grande Valley.

Mrs. J. M. Arnold and daughters, Misses Pauline and Thelma, have returned after a six weeks visit to Oklahoma points.

N. C. Nance of Lubbock was in the city Monday, the guest of his brother-in-law, S. W. Browning and family.

INSPECT SCHOOLS

Members of Sterling City School Board Look Over Sweetwater Buildings—To Build a High School.

Sweetwater's new public school buildings were inspected Tuesday by a group of interested citizens from Sterling City where construction of a High School is planned in the near future.

On Saturday, a $50,000 bond issue was voted for this purpose and members of the Sterling City School Board are now engaged in getting a plan for the proposed building.

President F. G. Robertson of the local School Board showed them the Sweetwater school buildings, both the High school and the new Ward buildings.

Included in the party from Sterling City were W. L. Foster, member of the school board and president of the First National Bank there, N. L. Douglas, president of the school board, H. L. Pearce, another member of the board and J. C. Helm, superintendent of schools.

R. S. Glenn, of Cisco, architect who designed the Sweetwater schools was also a member of the party.

E. R. COGDEN WILL ADDRESS FARMER

Will Speak at Nolan County Court House Monday Afternoon at 2 O'Clock—From Ennis.

INTERESTS OF COTTON POOL

Membership Drive to Be Started in Nolan County—Farmers Receive $25 More Per Bale Last Year.

Next Monday E. R. Cogden will speak at the Nolan County Court House in the interest of cooperative marketing. He will speak at 2 o'clock. Mr. Cogden is from Ennis and is one of the outstanding farm members of the Cotton Association. In addition to that he is a speaker of great ability.

A drive for members in the Farm Bureau Cotton Association will begin in Nolan County shortly, according to G. A. Lackey, of the Nolan County Farm Bureau.

The association already has over 400 members in the county.

That the cotton growers of Texas are at last coming to the realization that the only way in which a just and profitable return on their crop may be had is through a cooperative marketing plan as favored by the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, is the opinion of John T. Orr, president of the association. Mr. Orr has just completed eight speaking engagements during the past week in the interest of the "More Money for Cotton" campaign, and bases his assumption upon the enthusiastic crowds attending the speakings and the number of new members signing up in the counties visited.

Addresses were made at Sherman McKinney, Greenville, Waxahatchie, Ennis, Terrell, Corsicana and Groesbeck. Mr. C. O. Moser, secretary-treasurer of the American Cotton Growers Exchange also spoke with Mr. Orr, and likewise expressed himself highly pleased with the receptions accorded and the results obtained.

Coincident with these speaking engagements are numerous campaigns in the cotton growing counties of Texas with a view of doubling the membership in the Cotton Association and the number of bales of cotton to be marketed in a systematic manner through the Cotton Association during the year. Initial response has been exceedingly large, in view of the fact that members last year received more than $25 per bale profit on their cotton than the non-members who "dumped" their cotton on the market, according to authorities.

According to Mr. Orr, the association, last year, on warehousing and insurance alone, saved $156,684.16, and between $4 and $6 per bale on country damage.

The cost of marketing the cotton per bale through the bureau amounted to approximately $2.50 per bale as compared to approximately $12.40. It was costing them to market the same cotton without a system of marketing, and this $9 per bale savings to the members was but another means of returning them a per bale profit of over $25 as compared to street prices, said Mr. Orr.

Mr. Orr said that it was hoped that the association members this year will receive an even higher percentage of profit than the high figure of 1922.

Mrs. J. B. Holmes is in Dallas on business.

Mrs. A. S. Mauzey has returned from a visit with relatives in Fort Worth.

The term "reversing the rule" is not a breach of parliamentary procedure, but is used by publishers when specifying the column rules to be turned up-side-down, thus giving a black imprint. This is used in mourning the death of nationally prominent citizens, and the custom dates back many years.

A large number of weekly and daily newspapers throughout the United States "reversed the rule" in their papers during the last few days, mourning the death of President Harding.

Going back into the old records of Judge R. C. Crane, three copies of newspapers were found as examples of this custom, the oldest of which is "The Pennsylvania Packer and Daily Advertiser," published Wednesday, April 21, 1790. The outer border is a quarter-inch black rule. This paper mourns the death of Benjamin Franklin, and carries the artillery order signed by Andrew Summers, captain, calling the militia artillery for the discharge of the funeral guns for the burial of the remains of Dr. Franklin.

The second oldest in the "Claret County Gazette," printed January 4, 1800, mourning the death of George Washington. The column rules used in this instance were of wood, the grain being plainly visible in the impression. A large part of the news is devoted to the entombment of the remains of George Washington. One of the articles gives in complete detail the final tribute paid the Father of this Nation with the order of March.

The third is a copy of the New York Tribune dated Wednesday, April 26, 1865, with the columns less prominent as they were in the older publications. This paper mourned the death of Abraham Lincoln and its news articles give an account of the funeral and the line of march.

These lots are just west, adjoining and overlooking the site offered for Texas Technological College and the location of the college here should double and treble the value of the lots in this addition. The lots are offered under their present value, on easy terms and we expect to move them quickly. Better see us at once and pick your lots. They won't last long at these prices. # VOTE

FILTRATION BOND ISSUE

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 8

TWO PARAMOUNT

First:

The Locating Board of the Texas Tech College which visited Sweetwater a few days ago, put the following question to the local committee: "Will there be a filtration plant installed in Sweetwater?" The answer to the question was "yes." It is now up to the citizens of Sweetwater to put across the Filtration Bond Issue.

Remember, the Locating Board has still to decide the location of the "Tech" and to hear that the citizens of this city had failed in one of the most vital issues would be detrimental to Sweetwater's chances for the College.

See that you and all your friends are present at the polls voting YES for the Filtration Plant.

Second:

The State Board of Health has been very urgent in their requests that Sweetwater install a Filtration Plant, not because of any present danger, but because of some danger in the future. Sweetwater has never suffered with any epidemics, but the future can never be foretold, and a safeguard is always a guarantee for the health of its citizens.

A progressive city should always have in mind the health of its people and to protect them against any possible epidemic which might arise from the contamination of water. And, no live community will wait until such occurs.

Remember the Date, August 8, and vote for the Filtration Plant Bond Issue.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm.
