IMPORTING RELICS

Vast Treasures Removed from Egypt, Mesopotamia and Palestine on Way To U. of Pa. Museum

By The United Press.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Vast treasures of rare gold, silver and jewelry are now on their way to the University of Pennsylvania Museum from the sites where university archeologists have excavated in Egypt, Palestine and Mesopotamia, according to Dr. George B. Gordon, director of the museum.

An entire throne room of a Pharaoh of Egypt and tons of ancient battle monuments, with priceless inscriptions will also be brought to the museum. The shipment of ancient treasures, expected to arrive about the first of the year, will contribute much to the knowledge of Egyptian art.

Dr. Gordon, who recently returned from visiting the sites the university expeditions are excavating, told of visiting the tomb of Tutankamen.

"The native population of Egypt is firmly convinced that the Ka (soul) of Tutankamen killed Lord Carnarvon for daring to open the tomb of the dead Pharaoh," he said. "Work of exploring this tomb will take about five years."

One of the most remarkable finds of the latest expedition of the university was a jar of silver coins dating back from the Roman period. The battle monuments have historically valuable inscriptions upon them and the jewelry found is of immense value.

Work of the expedition of the university and the British Museum at U. Mesopotamia, where a magnificent temple of the Moon God was found last year, will take several years, Dr. Gordon said.

COOLIDGE TALKS OF TAX PROBLEM

Says Tax Reduction Will be Impossible if Soldier Bonus Bill is Passed By Congress This Year

MUST STAY WITHIN BUDGET

Congress Must Not Pass Appropriations Beyond Budget Needs And Must Use Caution in Others

By The United Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Coolidge will tell Congress that only on certain definite conditions can taxes be reduced, it was indicated today at the White House.

Those conditions require a strict observance of the budget system and the elimination of the Soldier Bonus unless some means is found for financing the bonus.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Director of the Budget Dawes are now drafting the basis for President Coolidge's financial message to Congress, which will form the ground work for his comment on taxation.

While it is unlikely that President Coolidge will go into the tax question with much detail, it is thought that he will make the following points:

1. The country has shown a strong desire for tax reduction.
2. That it is believed possible to reduce taxes.
3. That it is up to Congress to keep appropriations within the budget limits and not pass supplementary and extraordinary expense bills.
4. There will be no tax reduction if a soldier bonus bill is passed.

Bus Makes Trip From Angelo Minus Top and Seats

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 23.—"Gimme a match," said J. A. Embrey, driver of one of the San Angelo-San Antonio busses, as he was refueling his machine at the Highway Garage.

A bystander complied and Embrey struck a flame to see how much gas he needed, as registered by the gauge on the rear tank. The fumes ignited and Embrey narrowly escaped serious burns. The fire consumed the top of the car, leaped almost to the height of a telephone pole and was rapidly eating away the upholstery of the bus when the firemen arrived and spent several tanks of chemicals on the blaze. The bus line's loss was about $100 and was not covered by insurance.

After a short delay, Embrey left on his run to Brady, minus a top and without any upholstery in his car. But this didn't stop a few passengers who had to reach various points south today. Embrey hereafter is going to use an electric searchlight and will be afraid to smoke around his bus for a while.

FRANCE TO STAY IN RUHR

Will Consolidate Position There And Remain Until Reparations Are Paid Off in Full

By The United Press.
PARIS, Nov. 23.—"It is intolerable to the peace of Europe that the ill fated dynasty of Hohenzollerns be permitted to return to power," shouted Premier Poincare at the climax to a stirring speech in the Chamber of Deputies here this afternoon.

Deputies climbed on the backs of seats and cheered themselves hoarse. When the din died down, the Premier started it again when he exclaimed "Our Allies will know tonight that we are unanimous on that."

Again bedlam broke loose. "For our security we intend to consolidate our position in the Ruhr and we will not evacuate until we are paid our reparations from Germany in full."

NOT HEREDITARY

Nearly 6000 of 107,000 Deaths by Tuberculosis in 1921 Were Children Under Age of 5

AUSTIN, Nov. 23.—Of the 107,000 persons killed in 1921 by tuberculosis in the United States, nearly 6,000 were children under five years of age. Tuberculosis is not hereditary and most authorities agree that few babies become infected in their first year. With proper food, plenty of fresh air, sunshine, intelligent health habits, proper exercise and sufficient sleep, persons who have been infected need not develop the disease.

To discover tuberculosis in time special nurses should be provided to visit schools and homes. They instruct mothers and immediately upon noting that a child is tuberculous or has any symptoms such as adenoids, tonsils, decayed teeth, poor posture, or is malnourished they would have that child examined by a physician.

OLDEST WARSHIP

U. S. S. Rochester, Formerly New York, 30 Years in Commission Still Giving Splendid Service

By The United Press.
ANCON, CANAL ZONE, Nov. 23.—Thirty years ago the armored cruiser New York was commissioned. The headlines of the New York papers stated that she was the "Queen of the Seas," "Rival of the wind," that she ran at "a racehorse clip" and that she "broke all records." The accounts stated that the New York made record speed of 21.67 knots and described the carrier pigeon service and other wonders of another generation.

The other day, thirty years later, the old New York, now the U. S. S. Rochester, steamed out to make a speed run rehearsing for night battle practice, and within thirty minutes after starting worked up to a fraction under 18 knots under natural draft. In spite of the fact that she is now the oldest commissioned war vessel in the world, the Rochester is giving splendid service as flagship of the special service squadron.

The varied duty performed by the Rochester included the Santiago campaign as Admiral Sampson's flagship, an extended cruise in the Orient after the Spanish War, and continuous active service during the world war as escort for the troop ships going to Europe.

PAINT

Last spring this newspaper had considerable to say about paints, its value in improving the appearance of property, as well as enhancing its value. Prevalent winds in the spring of the year often make it difficult to apply a coat of paint successfully, therefore why would it not be a good idea to do it now?

There has been so much said about the value of paint that it seems useless to reiterate it here and with business conditions in general so much easier, it should not be difficult to get the movement under way.

By no means should the painting campaign be confined to the city. Its value to farm homes and farm buildings is no less evident. A little conscientious effort along this line at this time would be indeed valuable.

IGNORANCE

Ignorance is the great cause of suspicion. It is not the known that is terrible, it is always the unknown. Did you ever hear of ghosts appearing in the daytime? They always appear at night, because daylight discloses their non-existence. That is knowledge. It is not our friends and close acquaintances of whom we are suspicious; it is strangers.

BETTER FARM HOMES

Many farmers of this section, possibly for the first time in several years will have a little surplus from the proceeds of their cotton. And why wouldn't it be a good idea to invest it in a better home? The wife and family will most assuredly appreciate such a move. And money so invested is not wasted. It is invested in the farm, makes it that much more valuable in case it is desired to sell it, and makes life so much more worth living on the farm. And life on the farm is hard enough at best.

THRIFT

President Calvin Coolidge says he has never failed to save at least 10 per cent of each salary installment received. He is not a rich man and is not of the type that becomes rich, but with such a policy he will never be poor. There may be difficulty in carrying out the 10 per cent plan while occupying the White House, and yet by simple living it should be possible. If so, the end of his first term alone should find him in a position well above any fear for his financial future.

The great gain of saving 10 per cent, or any reasonable percentage of each salary installment, is not entirely in the total of money accumulated as it is also a great strengthener of character. Economy is twice blessed, for it adds to both mental and material possessions. Self-control is more than riches, and by nothing else is self-control so much developed as by saving.

If the President of the United States considers it necessary to have a system in his savings, how much more is it needed by you and me. It is not how much money we make, but rather, how much we save that ultimately decides the question, are we a financial success or a failure.

Another question is, "How do we invest our savings?" Do we sacrifice security for investment returns, or is safety our principle?

Will Simmons and Frank Phillips of the Sweetwater Cotton Oil Mill Company left for Dallas Thursday night after visiting R. M. Simmons here.

R. M. Simmons, who has just returned from a trip on the Plains reports that about 60 per cent of the cotton is out in that section and with two weeks more clear weather the entire crop will be out.

M. E. Hornish, formerly in the real estate business at San Angelo, passed through Sweetwater Thursday enroute to San Angelo after a trip on the Plains. He was in the Reporter office for a short time and during that period built a new hotel at Lubbock, reconstructed the retail business structure of the country, and intimated that he might move his family to California. He is that kind of man.

AT THE PALACE

The long awaited picturization of Jack London's famous novel "The Call of the Wild," comes to the R and R, Palace Theatre today. The hero of the story is a dog whose father was a St. Bernard and whose mother was a Scotch shepherd dog. The dog is called Buck and, from puppyhood, is raised in the luxury of civilization. Then he is stolen away to the Klondike, where he experiences a strange climate, meets strange men and adapts himself to strange habits and labors. He is a bewildered dog—until the strain of his forefathers begins to assert itself—until he feels the call of the wild.

As Jack London wrote "The Call of the Wild" around the life of a dog, so has the picture been filmed. It is Buck's joys and sorrows and career that are dominant and the human beings in the picture are there only in their relation to Buck's story. And Buck proves himself an actor. Not only does he faithfully follow the directions of his trainer, but his intelligent face seems to express emotions. Certainly, in dogdom, Buck is not a mormon.

Buck is the personal property of Hal Roach, who produced "The Call of the Wild" for Pathe. The dog has been trained since puppyhood for this role for Jack London is Roach's favorite author and it has long been his desire

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
(Helen Harrington Downing)

Anyone who has ever lived in New England or ever passed the winter there will tell you that Pumpkin Pie is a great favorite. In fact, we can trace it back to Colonial Days and the times when Thanksgiving dinner was a festival to which everyone long looked forward.

In the Western states, people are told that in New England, pie is served at every meal. The present generation deny this, but if the point is pressed will admit that hot mince, apple or pumpkin pie is occasionally present at the morning meal.

After living in New England three years myself, I will add that they certainly know how to make pie. In the home where I boarded while teaching in the East a whole pie was placed on the table twice and frequently three times a day. Not only were we given one pie but often two kinds formed the center piece from which we could take our choice and cut our own piece. In the Eastern states the people look forward for weeks to Thanksgiving and Christmas, especially those living on the large farms and in the old fashioned city houses. With plenty of room to entertain the entire family there is no festival day that offers a better opportunity for a glorious time.

To see a load of golden pumpkins that the farmers gather in from the fields each fall takes one back to the days of Jack o'Lanterns and the early memories of visits to grandparents on the farm.

In the city the average housewife usually finds it easier to purchase a good brand of the canned pumpkin than to purchase the pumpkin itself, peel and cook it for hours, then can it to be used at a later day, to make it into pies and pudding, but on the farm where they are plentiful, it is preferable to prepare one's own.

There are several points to know about this canned product which are most valuable to remember. Canned pumpkin is cheaper than any other pie filling and considerably cheaper than practically all other canned foods.

Pumpkin pies have but one crust, requiring but half the flour used in other pies. The use of one level teaspoon of baking powder to each cup of flour for a light flaky crust is advisable.

Pumpkin may also be used in pudding where no crust is necessary.

Plain Pie Paste

- 3 cups flour
- 1-2 level teaspoon baking powder.
- 1 level teaspoon salt.
- 3-4 cup lard
- Cold water

Sift together dry ingredients thoroughly. Work in lard with knife or spatula. Moisten to a dough on flour ed board, and roll thin, ready for use.

Note: Pie crust is often made with out baking powder, but it requires much skill and practice, as well as more shortening to make it tender and flaky. And when a plainer and more economical crust is desired, the use of a little baking powder will produce the results required. If pastry flour is used the results will be found more satisfactory.

Pumpkin Pie

- 1 1-2 cups pumpkin
 - 2-3 cup corn and cane syrup
 - 1 teaspoon ginger
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 1-2 cups milk or diluted evaporated milk.
- Mix, pour into crust, and bake in moderate oven.

SURE IT DOES GOOD

Theford's Black-Draught Liver Medicine (Vegetable) Praised by the Head of a Louisiana Family.

Lake Charles, La.—"I don't know what we would have done had we not had Black-Draught. It sure is one of the best medicines made, and am sure the best liver medicine," said Mr. Henry Garrett, of this city.

"My whole family uses it," continued Mr. Garrett. "My wife says she believes she kept off the 'flu' by taking doses of Black-Draught regularly."

"I, myself, use Black-Draught for indigestion, and it is fine."

"We used pills and tablets and other laxatives, but they never seemed to do us good, but the Black-Draught sure has, and it has come to our house to stay. We give it to our daughter for headache and torpid liver."

"I am glad to recommend anything that has been the help to my family that Black-Draught has."

"My present health is good. Have two boxes of Black-Draught in the house now."

If your liver gets out of fix, take Black-Draught. It will help to drive the bile poisons and other unhealthful matters out of your system.

KNOX IS ANXIOUS

MUNDAY, Nov. 22.—The Munday Luncheon Club will discuss at their next weekly luncheon plans for a good road election in eastern Knox County. The Munday people are anxious to con-act up with the plans of Jones and Haskell counties for a paved highway from Abilene northward to Wichita

CHILDRESS, Nov. 22.—A movement is under way here, fathered by the Chamber of Commerce, for the construction of paving in the main residence districts of Childress. SYRUP FROM MELONS

RISEING STAR, Texas, Nov. 23.—West Texas' latest agricultural development is manifested here in the making of syrup and molasses from watermelons. J. B. Banks, who lives in the Macedonia community near Rising Star, has developed a plan by which he has made several hundred gallons of excellent syrup from ripe watermelons. Mr. Banks used to live in the sugar cane district of Texas, and states that he is of the opinion that syrup made from ripe watermelons is superior in flavor to that made from sugar cane.
