B C D IN FAVOR OF COUNTY AGENT

Recommend to County Commissioners That Home Demonstration and Farm Agent Work Continue.

DISCUSS HIGHWAYS
Committee Appointed to Secure Right of Way—Dairying Good in County.

Recommendations to the County Commissioners that Home Demonstration and County Farm Agent work should be continued in Nolan County were made by the Board of City Development at the regular meeting Monday night. The action developed following a discussion of Nolan County's Fair. Other discussion in the board hinged around location of the new highway from the Fisher County line into Sweetwater upon which State, Federal and County engineers and County Commissioners have been working recently. A committee from the Board of City Development composed of George Sheppard, B. C. McCall, Rufus Wright and W. R. Costephens was named to work with the County Commissioners in securing right of way for the new route of the north entrance into Nolan County inside the corporation limits.

Among the advantages stressed during the discussion on County Agent work in Nolan County was the fact that less than 10 years ago Sweetwater and Nolan County did not raise enough poultry to supply its own needs. During 1923 a conservatively estimated total of $1,000,000 worth of poultry and poultry products left Sweetwater for outside markets. It was also pointed out that terraced farm lands doubled cotton production upon soil so treated. The dollars and cents value of county agent work in the county was heavily emphasized from these two as well as other factors.

Possibilities of dairying in the county were also brought out. One man present at the meeting stated that he alone purchased over 600 pounds of butter every other day to supply local demands. This butter is purchased elsewhere and shipped into Nolan County at great economic loss to Nolan, which has resources sufficiently to produce all butter needed for home consumption with a big market for all surplus.

The need of more hogs in the county was also brought out.

Should the work of the Home Demonstration Agent and County Agent be dropped at this time, it would be years before they could be resumed owing to the fact that there is not sufficient funds on hand to supply all counties of the state that want this work, it was pointed out. Many counties are already on the waiting list.

Discussion at the Board meeting also brought out the fact that paving petitions were being circulated on many residence streets of the city with every indication that before long Sweetwater would be engaged in a very comprehensive paving program.

LIQUOR HEARING OPENS

Criminal Cases Start Monday With State of Texas vs. Tom Oliver, Charged With Making Booze.

BUTLER TESTIFIES
Tells of Finding Whiskey—Jury Gets K. K. K. Question From Defendant's Attorney.

The criminal docket of District Court opened Monday with the trial of State of Texas vs. Tom Oliver, charged with possession and manufacturing of intoxicating liquor. This case was continued over from the last term of court.

Jim Butler, who was deputy sheriff at the time of Oliver's arrest, was on the witness stand during the afternoon and testified to the details of the finding of whisky and mash on Oliver's premises. The State introduced three gallon jars of whisky, lead coils, corks and other things alleged to have been found at Oliver's home and barn, as evidence.

In the cross examination by J. C. Babb, counsel for the defendant, a sharp tilt between the prosecution and defense attorneys resulted in Judge Leslie excusing the jury for a few minutes while several details in the testimony relative to Oliver's arrest and the former trial were settled.

During the morning session, jurors were examined and selected for the trial. In challenging the jury, the defense attorney asked for those who were members of the Ku Klux Klan to make the same known. Two stated that they were members of the Klan, and a third stated that he had belonged but did not belong now.

Several other witnesses took the stand Monday afternoon, and the hearing re-opened Tuesday morning when Oliver was put on the stand. The defense rested their case at noon Tuesday and it will probably go to the jury some time Tuesday afternoon.

Several other liquor cases will probably come up for hearing this term. The case of State of Texas vs. Earnest Miles, charged with unlawfully selling intoxicating liquor, was set for 9 o'clock Tuesday. The George Ayers and Dick Toland cases are set for Thursday. They are both charged with robbery with firearms, growing out of the hold-up of Santa Fe night ticket agent Dixon last winter.

Two Are Killed In Sunshine Wreck

Engineer and Fireman Die After Train Hits Horse on Bridge and Plunges Through Two Box Cars On Side Track.

PASSENGERS ESCAPE UNINJURED

Engine, Tender, Mail and Baggage Cars Turn Over—Passenger Coaches Leave Rails—Train Making Fast Time.

The engineer and fireman on the Texas and Pacific west bound Sunshine Special passenger train were killed, the engine, tender, baggage and mail cars turned over, and two passenger coaches derailed when the train struck a horse on the bridge at Stamper, five miles east of Sweetwater, at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, ran with the pony trucks, derailed until a switch 150 yards from the bridge was reached, and crashed into two box cars on the siding.

Engineer Frank Wiesen of Big Spring was killed outright. Fireman George H. Sheppard died at about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Sweetwater Sanitarium.

Mrs. George H. Sheppard and Sam Crutcher were Sweetwater passengers on the train. No passengers were injured. The train was pulled by engine No. 390 out of Baird.

The train, running four hours late, changed from the regular engine to a lighter type at Baird. Passengers said that the train was making about 60 miles an hour when the wreck occurred. The horse, pinned in the ties of the bridge, was thrown directly beneath the light engine, and the back trucks were derailed.

The engine, baggage car and three passenger coaches left the track. Only the diner and Pullmans remained on the rails. No passengers were injured.

Wiesen was instantly killed, but Pratt lived until about 4 o'clock this morning. It was necessary to chop wreckage away before he could be taken from beneath the engine. He was rushed to the Sweetwater Sanitarium, where he died.

W. S. Cooper, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce was a passenger on the wrecked Sunshine Special and stated that a malignant fate seemed to pursue the ill-fated train from the time it left Fort Worth.

He said: "We had not proceeded more than five miles outside of Fort Worth before engine trouble developed and we were delayed while a repair crew came out from Fort Worth and worked over the train. Again at Mungus we were held up by a hot box. We were nearly four hours late when we neared the scene of the wreck. I had just left the observation compartment and come forward to the day coach. While chatting with other passengers I overheard the remark that never again would a certain individual start on a trip anywhere on the 13th, for the series of troubles must surely have been due to the date. A few seconds later came the smash. The train hit a horse on a bridge. This derailed the engine trucks which followed the rails until they struck the Stamper switch. The switch deflected the derailed trucks and the engine hit some empty box cars on the siding. A relief train with doctors reached us at 2:20 o'clock this morning. Day coach passengers were brought to Sweetwater. Only the fact that the train was made up of solid steel coaches prevented at least 100 people being killed. As it was no passenger was injured. Women however were thrown clear out of their berths in the Pullmans."

Fireman Pratt, members of the engine crew of the east bound Sunshine Special held here said, had recently "bid in" for the Sunshine run on the Baird division, and had made the trip two or three times before he was killed. He had been in the T-P service for 15 years, and is survived by a wife and several children.

Engineer Wiesen had put in 35 years service on the T-P before he met his death. He is said to have a rather large family, with several sons and daughters married.

Baggage Master Tells Story.
B. N. Ralph, baggage master on the Sunshine Special, was alone in his car when the crash came. Ralph was buried but otherwise uninjured. The baggage car left the track and turned over on its side.

"It all happened so quickly that I didn't realize we had left the rails," Ralph stated. "As soon as I came to my senses, I got out of the car and went ahead, where the engine was on its side."

The engineer was dead when members of the crew reached him. The engine had left the rails on the south side of the track, and Wiesen was thrown from his side of the cab on top of the fireman. Pratt's left leg was protruding through the cab window, and he was unable to move.

SENATOR SUICIDE IN WASHINGTON

Frank Brandegee, Republican, From Connecticut, Takes Own Life in Home Near White House.

BAD INVESTMENTS NAMED
Secretary of War Weeks, at Republican National Headquarters, Gives Cause For Action.

By The United Press.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.

Senator Frank Brandegee, Republican, Connecticut, was found dead in the bathroom of his home here today, a suicide.

The body was found fully clothed in a sitting position on the bath room floor, with a tube leading from the mouth to a gas jet, and with the gas turned on. He apparently had been dead several hours.

The discovery of the body was made by the Senator's secretary and his chauffeur, who were attracted to the bath room by the odor of gas. They called a doctor, but Brandegee was beyond medical aid.

The Senator lived alone except for a staff of servants in a large old brick house near Faragut Square, a few blocks from the White House.

Made Bad Investments.
By The United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The suicide of Senator Brandegee of Connecticut was due to "personal financial troubles" caused by real estate investments, Secretary of War Weeks said here today.

"I exceedingly regret," the Secretary said at Republican National Headquarters, "to learn of the suicide. I have been entirely familiar with his personal business affairs and know that this rash step is due to personal financial trouble from investments in real estate."

Lease Arizona Lines.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—

The Southern Pacific company was authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission to acquire control of the Arizona Eastern and the Phoenix and Eastern railroads by lease today. The lines aggregate 382 miles.

have left the track, it is believed. Evidently the horse was on the bridge for some time before the train approached, and was not run on the track by the train. Conductor Bennett stated that the engineer did not whistle for any stock before the wreck, and that he believed he did not see the animal until shortly before the engine struck it.

Fireman Pratt's wife and brother arrived in Sweetwater from Baird Tuesday morning.

Many See Wreck.
That portion of the Bankhead Highway east of Sweetwater to the scene of the wreck was a bee hive of automobiles throughout the morning as hundreds of Sweetwater people drove out to see the tangled mass of steel and wood.

The big steel locomotive, once polished and shiny, lay on its side, and held only a bare resemblance of its original build. Twisted and bent and broken, the entire front of the engine was completely caved in, and two box cars, splintered into kindling, told a mute story of a terrific smash. The engine, tender and baggage car, all resting on their sides, lay in a straight line along the track. A river of oil flowed along the embankment from the demolished tender which was nesting jam-up against the engine. The cab in which the engineer and fireman were riding at the fatal moment was in good condition, and was not as badly torn up as the rest of the engine. The trucks of the engine were torn loose and lay several yards from the engine.

Back of the oil tender was the baggage car on its side, with mail bags, packages and boxes of all descriptions thrown in a tumbled mass, and the condition of the interior of the car revealed the mail clerk's and baggage-man's narrow escape from death.

Coaches Stand Up.
The first passenger coach which was occupied by negroes at the time of the wreck, was standing flat on the ground at an angle across the track. All traces of wheels and steps were gone, and the ground about the car was plowed deeply, showing where the coach had slid across the earth when the switch was hit. The coach

Wyoming May Rival Texas With Woman In Race For Office
By The United Press.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 14.—Wyoming may become the rival of Texas in having a woman candidate for governor.

Mrs. William B. Roff, widow of the late governor, stands a good chance of being elected to fill the vacancy caused by his death, it appeared today as the Democrats met to choose a candidate. The Republicans are also meeting to name a candidate.

At Temple.
Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Manroe left Monday afternoon for Temple where Mrs. Manroe will undergo medical examination and treatment.

The second coach was also thrown from the track, but kept an upright position. The ground, rails and ties about the second coach were also plowed and scattered and the embankment on each side of the train was covered with twisted steel, iron and splinters.

Box Car Splintered.
The first box car struck by the crippled locomotive was little more than kindling wood, while the second box car was telescoped into about three-fourths its original length. A spectator remarked that there was enough good kindling around the wreck to start all the coal fires in Sweetwater for a year.

Telephone posts and wires along the track were slightly damaged, some of the wires being struck by the cars as they left the track. Several wires were on the ground. Electric lights in the baggage car were burning dimly after the wreck, illuminating the interior, a scene of disorder and confusion.

Five other cars of the train, including an observation car, diner and three Pullmans, were carried back about a quarter of a mile east of the wreck while a wrecking crew started in to clear the tracks.

The five cars that were not damaged in the wreck were brought to Sweetwater by a switch engine. There was an extra engine and two or three cars in the yards here, and they were all made up into a train which ran on the schedule as First No. 5. Passengers who were on No. 1 when it wrecked left on the First No. 5, it pulling out of Sweetwater at 11:05 a. m. Wiesen's remains were carried on this train to Big Spring. The regular No. 5, due to leave here at 6:05 a. m., pulled out about noon. N. 4, the east bound "plug" was held here until about 12:20 p. m., in order that Pratt's body might be carried to Baird. The Sunshine Special No. 2, east bound, arrived in Sweetwater on time, and pulled out at 10 o'clock.

NO JOBS IN ENGLAND

Great Britain's army of more than a million jobless people is facing the fifth winter of unemployment. The permanent solution of this post-war problem is as far away as ever in the opinion of economists.

Inasmuch as three different governments—Coalition, Conservative and Labor—have dealt with the question, which still awaits solution, it would appear to the detached observer that the problem is one of after war economics rather than partisan politics.

For five years the unemployment question has been a sort of urchin's joy to whatever political party happened to be in the opposition. In fact it seems to be a problem that is more readily grasped by an opposition than by whichever government happens to be responsible for the conduct of affairs.

The Labor Government, not without pride, points to the latest unemployment figures available—1,149,100—as about 120,000 less than for the corresponding figures a year ago. This, however, leaves the minimum a million over a million where it has been for the last five winters and where in the view of not a few economists it is to remain permanently.

The crux of the question, according to a spokesman for the Labor Government, lies in the ship-building, cotton, and engineering industries which have never recovered from the disruption in which they were found at the close of the war.

The unemployment dole is regarded by both philanthropists and economists as a necessary evil—inadequate to take care of the needs of its recipients and demoralizing because payments are made without any return in labor.

A family consisting of father and mother and four children, if eligible to the unemployment dole will receive 31 shillings a week this winter, as against 24 shillings a week last winter.

"BROKEN OUT" FACES ARE NOT IN STYLE

The girls who can't wear clothes which are in style because they have eczema, rash, tetter, scrofula or a "breaking out" where it would show are more to be scolded than pitied, because there is no need for them to be unattractive in out-of-style dresses when they can get rid of these skin troubles so easily now.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are surprising thousands of girls who have had to deny themselves the attention which more attractive girls get, because they quickly remove all trace of these skin troubles.

They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.

An old tobacco secret re-discovered—

 Wellman's famous old secret

1921—
 revived for Granger

1924—
 a popular seller in 32 states—a quarter-million smokers

A new richness from an old-time process

Made for pipes — cut for pipes — packed sensibly to save money

NOW it can be told. Three years ago we decided to revive a famous old secret method of mellowing tobacco—"Wellman's Method", it was called.
 For three years we have been quietly trying it out—we, and about a quarter-million shrewd pipe-smokers who discovered it for themselves.
 No whirlwind campaigns, no "special offers", no extravagant claims; Granger Rough Cut has made good on its taste alone. There could be no better proof of its quality. Now we are ready to "tell the world".
 An extraordinary pipe tobacco. "Wellman's Method"—now ours exclusively—now only mellows tobacco, but "rounds it out"—gives it a new taste, richer and milder.

There's no other method like it, nor any other tobacco like Granger.
 And not only differently mellowed, but cut differently—cut for pipes. The Rough Cut burns more slowly, hence smokes cooler—and a pipe-load lasts nearly twice as long.
 And finally—notice the package. If Granger Rough Cut were packed in fancy lithographed tins, it would cost 15 cents. But wrapped in smart heavy foil, you get this fuller, longer, cooler smoke at a third less cost. Foil instead of costly tin—hence the price.
 Too good to be true? Ask any man who has tried it. Better yet—get out your pipe!

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—
 The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to "cut" slow and cool—cut for pipes, smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

The Woman Who Knows

Houston, Texas—"Because of my father-in-law having been benefited by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery while living with us, I knew about Dr. Pierce's remedies. I knew about his poor health and how he gained strength, could rest and sleep better and was more active and cheerful. Later on it became necessary for me to take a woman's tonic, and I chose Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After the first few doses I felt better, and now recommend it very highly for women during middle age."—Mrs. Fannie Dishon, 2211 Center St. All dealers. Liquid or tablet form.

What is Accomplished

by
Mrs. Chitwood
With Gebhardt's
Eagle Chili Powder
is easy of accomplishment
By You

Ladies in attendance at this week's cooking school no doubt are marveling at the many ways Mrs. Chitwood is employing Eagle Chili Powder, the beautiful finishing touch she gives to salads with it and the delightful flavor it gives every thing on which it is used.

Of course all have used Eagle Chili Powder for making home made Chili con Carne and other Mexican flavored dishes. But to many it is a revelation to find Mrs. Chitwood using this unique condiment in place of paprika, giving not only a more beautiful color and decoration to salads and other dishes, but adding a distinctive and pleasing flavor.

Be sure and get a copy of "Mexican Cookery for American Homes" and make careful notes of what Mrs. Chitwood has to say about Eagle Chili Powder. The combination of this unique cookbook and the splendid recipes of Mrs. Chitwood will enable you to secure unusually pleasing results in cookery.

Eagle Chili Powder is absolutely pure and wholesome. It is made from only selected genuine Ancho peppers that are grown especially for and under the direction of Gebhardt.
