TRY COTTON SEED CASE

Merchants Cotton Oil Co. Sue Acme Gin Co. of Roscoe Failure Deliver 650 Tons Seed

The civil case, Merchants Cotton Oil Co., Shreveport, vs The Acme Gin Co., Roscoe, which got under way in District Court Friday, continued through out Saturday and was completed late Saturday evening when Judge W. P. Leslie ordered that all evidence relative to the market value of cotton seed be excluded, and instructed the jury to render a verdict in favor of the defendant. The case will be appealed, according to J. H. Beall, who with W. W. Hamner, represented the plaintiff. Ed Hamner was the attorney for the defendant.

Several witnesses were placed on the stand Friday and Saturday, including members of the cotton oil firm and the gin company, it was stated. The Merchants Cotton Oil Co. was suing the Acme Gin Co. for damages, alleging that 650 tons of cottonseed bought from the gin were not delivered.

Had the trial not been completed late Saturday, it would probably have been continued through Sunday, it was stated, in order to have the civil docket cleared for the special venire drawn for Monday in the Ayers trial.

Ayers, who has been confined in jail since his trial resulted in a hung jury last term, will be tried Monday for robbery with fire arms. His attorney from San Angelo, and also a number of witnesses from that city who testified in the first trial, will be here Monday, it was reported. A special venire of approximately 40 men has been drawn for the trial.

The criminal docket will open Monday with the Ayers case. Over a score of criminal trials are scheduled for hearing during the remainder of the session, to be climaxed on March 30 with the beginning of the murder trial State of Texas vs. P. Hicks, transferred here from Upton county.

Permits Issued To Fish in Lake Trammell—Oh No!

Permits were written out and signed at the rate of one every three minutes for fifteen minutes before a lull came, and the water commissioner had a short time to open a fresh bottle of ink before other nimrods began trickling in.

Honors go to W. F. Belcher, local salesman, as being the first man in the world to obtain a Lake Trammell fishing permit. Belcher headed the list of five who lined up, plunked down ten spots and received the little red cards that practically guarantee one year of real fishing. One day permits are also sold.

It is expected that the rush for permits will continue right up to Wednesday when the Lake is thrown open to permit holders.

House Sends Resolution to Amend Constitution on Free Text Books To Senate.

By United Press.

AUSTIN, March 14.—The Wood Teer bill providing for relocation of the State Prison system will come before the Senate Monday. An appropriation of $500,000 and provisions for location of the State Prison system within a seventy-five mile radius of Austin were included in the measure passed by the House.

The Senate will meet in executive session Wednesday to pass on appointments for notary public.

The House today refused to take up the Teer bill out of regular order, providing for equal tax assessments among counties of the state. A resolution proposing an amendment to the state constitution to abolish the authority to levy an income tax failed but another reducing from 15c to 5c the maximum levy for free text books passed and was sent to the Senate.

The House finally passed the miscellaneous appropriation bill today carrying a total of $340,000 which was however $60,000 below the mark set by the committee headed by Rep Webster of Lubbock.

WAS NOTED FOOTBALL EXPERT

For Years Was Author "All American Football Eleven"—Highest Honor.

By United Press.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Walter Camp noted athlete athletic coach and author of the widely used "Daily Dozen" exercises for keeping well, was found dead in his bedroom at Hotel Belmont here today. Camp was in New York to attend the annual meeting of football coaches. Coach Roper of Michigan found the body.

"I felt worried when Camp failed to keep an appointment and went to his room" Roper said. "He apparently had been dead since last night. There is no doubt but what it was a heart attack."

The Camp family at New Haven, Conn. were notified at once.

Camp was in his 66th year. He was born in New Haven April 7, 1859, was graduated from Yale and for years was active in management of athletics of that university. His business interests were largely centered in the New Haven Clock Co. of which he was, at one time, president treasurer and general manager.

Camp's literary activities have won everlasting fame in sport annals. To be named in his All-American eleven was the highest honor a gridiron star could obtain. Camp was a contributor of many magazines and edited a column in Colliers in which the "All-American" list was published annually.

Camp's widow is a sister of Professor W. G. Sumner of Yale.

By United Press.

GENEVA, March 14.—As the Council of the League of Nations adjourned tonight, delegates admitted that Austen Chamberlain, British representative, not only killed the Geneva protocol, but rendered doubtful the success of any security pact.

The failure of the council policy forecasts a return of the pro-war system of national alliances rather than universal peace conception as it had wished.

AT LAST

Occasionally a wizard comes to his own. For a time it appeared that the witch doctors and the dreamers, or the prophets who had discovered a sure road over which to transport humanity to the millennium, were getting all the celebrations and acclaim. But now and then little stories find their way into the newspapers that a genius who has done something real is attracting the attention and plaudits of his fellows. California has just organized a birthday party for Luther Burbank, who has coaxed marvels and mysteries from nature. Then there are occasional banquets and homecomings for an Edison, and all of the kind who have achieved wonders with iron, steel, tin wire and labor. There is likewise a big demonstration for a New Jersey couple who have remained happily married for 75 years. It is an excellent thing when humanity takes a day off to give recognition to the real values of life, instead of paying court to fakirs whose only capital and work shop is a portion of the blue sky.

SEIZE CARS

Although the United States supreme court has upheld the law which gives the government the right to seize and sell motor cars that are being used for liquor, the government finds no difficulty providing parking room for cars taken in this manner. Rum runners have found a way to beat the law. The court's decision declared that prohibition agents may search and seize automobiles without warrant. But in most cases it has been found that all the cars thus taken were in the control of drivers who had purchased them upon the well-known installment plan. Since it also has been held that a car cannot be confiscated against the innocent holder of the title, those who use them have taken care that there is very little equity for the government after the claim of the mortgagee has been satisfied. Good intentions may make laws but crooked cleverness often finds ways to beat them.

MITCHELL WINS AGAIN

Brig. Gen. Mitchell has a steadfast friend in Congressman O'Sullivan of Connecticut, who represented the house aircraft committee in the recent anti-aircraft maneuvers at Fortress Monroe. Congressman O'Sullivan has reported to the house that the demonstrations were conclusive in that they proved first that warfare is a radically different thing from a series of heroic episodes which made this republic possible; and secondly it devolves upon the nation's military experts to meet this changed condition. The Congressman reported further that the only defense against modern enemy airplanes is a substantial air force, and he reproved the strategy board of the army and navy for failing to be abreast of the times in this regard. Indeed, what the Connecticut statesman said in criticism of the specialized methods of the general strategy board somewhat atoned for the board's rough and discouraging treatment of General Mitchell.

"I am not concerned" the O'Sullivan report declared, "with the jealous rivalry which exists between one army corps and another; let that be settled in a game of quarts. What concerns me is—the people of the United States protected against all kinds of military aggression? Our only defense is an adequate fleet of airplanes to meet possible enemy attacks. To General Mitchell belongs all the credit for arousing the public mind to a knowledge of the true state of our national defense. In the recent demonstration to prove the truth of his allegations, his position will not be challenged, except perhaps by those in high military circles, who still cling to the bow and arrow method of waging warfare."

Now that this controversy has been transferred from the zone of professional jealousy and suspicion to the floor of congress it is to be hoped that it will be settled in the country's interest. The best way to do this will be to devote to aviation a few million of the hundreds of millions that every year are applied to other branches of service. This will not be courting war with any other nation and the country will be on the safe side. The very stubbornness with which bureaucratic influences have insisted upon trying anything new, while favoring unstinted appropriations for costly equipment that is not only not needed but soon outdated, has done more than anything else to bring the popular sentiment of the country to the support of General Mitchell in his controversy with gold-braid superiors.

Good-bye Youth
no, no-darken gray hair

Don't let gray hair suggest age. It often comes long before age is due. Keep your dark hair glossy. Keep it looking like a girl's. The way is quick and easy.

Do it, if you wish, like the women of oldtimes—by brewing sage tea and adding sulphur and alcohol. But there is now a better way.

The preparation is ready-made. It has some additions of great value. All druggists supply it under the name Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound.

It is not sticky or greasy. It is easy to apply. The results are quick, and so even, so natural that nobody knows you have used it.

This old way is still the best way to darken gray hair. Generations of women have used sage tea, but never so many as today.

Apply it as right as directed, and morning brings an amazing change. Apply it once or twice more and the hair returns to the darkness, the luster, the softness of youth.

The result is a trifle—not more than 10 cents for every year that it makes you look younger. Think what that means to you.

TO ALL VOTERS!

Your city waterworks is a big business. It requires experience and skill if it is to render the service you expect and function efficiently. There have been many extensions and improvements since you have trusted direction of your waterworks to me. These extensions will be continued as rapidly as an economical and efficient administration will permit—if I am once more placed in charge.

Strict attention to the duties to which you have elected me will prevent me from seeing all voters—so please consider this a personal appeal for your continued support which I have so much appreciated always.

If elected Water Commissioner, you can expect me to favor a businesslike administration—with the best interests and progress of Sweetwater always the first consideration

Again thanking you for your support in the past and depending on your vote and influence on April 7.

Very Truly,

L. E. Musgrove

Candidate for City Water Commissioner

(Political Advertising)

Dear Friends:

It will not be possible this year for me to call on very many of the voters whose generous support has been so much appreciated by me. I will not take time from the proper performance of the duties of city secretary and my health has not improved sufficiently since my recent accident to enable me to make a personal canvass after office hours. And so I am using this method of asking your vote and influence in the city election April 7, if you believe me worthy of a continuation of your confidence. I am basing my campaign on strictest efficiency in office and utmost care in attention to the many important duties that fall to the city secretary, tax assessor and collector. As you know, experience is a big factor in the proper fulfillment of these duties and in conserving the city's—your—interests.

Thanking you most sincerely for your vote in the past and hoping that, after careful consideration, you will select me as being best fitted for the position for another term.

Very Truly,

W. H. Bartlett

Candidate for City Secretary, Tax Assessor and Collector

Standing Of Candidates In Reporters Mammoth Drive For New Readers

The list of candidates in the Reporter's mammoth drive for circulation and the votes that have been placed to their credit are listed today.

It will be noted that the race is still an exceptionally even one with no candidate holding a commanding lead in any district. There is still ample opportunity for any candidate to step out and with a little work securing votes, win the Chevrolet Sedan that is offered in the district with the highest vote or one of the two Chevrolet touring cars offered as first prizes in the other two districts.

Hassen Hats

Your French Toque

French toques are going especially well. Some of the most effective of these are made of pebbled silk or vivid satin. They have somewhat the effect of a peaked skating cap. The apex of the crown is in many cases, simply twisted into folds or turned over and caught with bejeweled pins. Toques of this type have little or no brim, and are very chic indeed. A particularly smart toque is one made of vertical alternating strips of black and red ribbon, the crown enlarging into a tam-o-shanter effect. At the center several small red feather heads are placed. A quartette of black bills forms the indispensable peak.

In millinery, lace again plays an important part. It is used in a great many instances as trimming although some ultra-charming toques are made entirely of narrow ruffled lace, and trimmed with bright flowers at the center top.

The Cloche is Again With Us

The round-crown cloche, with its small curved brim, is by no means removed from the spring fashions. This chic type now invariably is supplemented with trimmings at the top of the crown. Such cloches are very attractive in striped satin and grosgrain ribbon of various shades. The stripes merge at the top in a loop of ribbon with fringed ends hanging toward the front.

Small, snug and simple hats in felt and bangkok also are items well to be considered. These were extremely popular in the southern resorts, and already are widely seen in the north. Soft pastel or sombre coloring effects are choicest in the small hats. A combination straw and felt hat is also a striking affair, the crown being of straw and the brim of colored felt. Novelty plaited straws of imported origin are having a popular swing for spring, as a walk along any fashionable avenue in any city will reveal.

Leather in hats also makes its appearance to an appreciable degree.

Shades and Chapeaux

There is a great deal to be said for colors in millinery at the present time.

Brilliant color undoubtedly will be employed to a marked degree, with pastel shades, especially for sports wear, running a close second. Fuchsia color in hats will indeed be popular, but this shade is only good on those possessing youth and slim lines. French dressmakers, who have employed a great deal of fuchsia in their art, undoubtedly have influenced this shade to assume an important part in the millinery field. The use of violets as a flower trimming also has done much to bring fuchsia into vogue.

Velours are a most promising part of the spring trend. Light-weight velour is good, in dark tones as well as in pastel shades, for sports.

A comparatively new touch to millinery is the employment of tiny rhinestone pins on hats. These add a touch of chic hardly to be gained in any other way.

The Picture Hat for Festive Occasions

For formal wear, large, drooping shapes will be worn. These may be in hydrangea shades of pink and blue, used with harmoniously blended trimmings. It should be carefully noted that a great deal more trimming will be used on formal hats this season than was the case last spring. Profuse flower trimmings are quite the thing, with rose and fuchsia colorings being stressed to augment the hydrangea tones.

St. Patrick's Party

One of the most elaborate parties enjoyed by the younger social set of the city with which Misses Edna Yonge and Rita Brashear favored almost half a hundred of their friends. The party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Moore on E. N. 2nd street.

A green and white motif was featured in honor of the old Irish Saint Patrick, in the score cards, refreshments, home decorations and guest favors very cleverly. Shamrocks were used in the invitations and tallies. Ten tables were in play and at the close of the five games it was found that Mrs. George Gray had won the highest score prize, a vanity; Joe Will Oates, men's first prize, smoker; Miss Besie Beall, the girl's second prize, hanging basket and Dent Beall, the men's second prize, a cigar par, while to Jack Yonge fell the booby prize.

Each table was centered with white bowls of green and white divinity and guest favors were great St. Patrick hats filled with white mint. At the close of the games, refreshment plates were passed holding a fruit salad, green and white angel food, cheese sandwiches, coffee and whipped cream.

Endeavors Enjoy Weiner Roast.

The Christian Endeavors of the Presbyterian Church enjoyed a jolly party Thursday evening when they roasted "Weinies" at the city park. After the supper was disposed of the remainder of the evening was spent playing games and telling stories. Merie Patterson and Margaret Morrow played their akeles and furnished songs, which added to the pleasure of the party. Rev. and Mrs. E. B. Hestir and Master Bluford acted in the capacity of chaperones.

CHURCH CENTENNIAL

To Celebrate 100th Anniversary of Church of God

By United Press.

HARRISBURG, Pa. aMch 14—The 100th anniversary of the Church of God in North America will be celebrated in this city in connection with the quadrennial meeting of the General Eldership beginning May 20 and last one week.

The General Eldership appointed a committee eight years ago to launch a movement for eight years of spiritual and material advancement to culminate in the centennial of 1925. It has completed its duties and succeeded in increasing the membership of churches, Sunday schools and Christian Endeavor societies and in raising hundreds of thousands of dollars for benevolences.

Rev. J. L. Updegraph, at the head of the movement, visited every local church in the general body from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Speakers at the ceremonies will include former governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, president of Juniata College, Huntington, Pa., Dr. S. A. Yahn editor of the Church Advocate, Harrisburg, Governor Pinchot, and prominent clergymen of use cauren throughout the country.

The history of the Church of God started in this city 100 years ago when John Winebrenner, a young man of 23, decided to separate himself from the German Reformed denomination. He had served as pastor of the Salem Reformed Church in Harrisburg and three country churches. He had a faculty for evangelistic work and was successful in his revival work, almost unheard of in those days, and became a founder of the present Church of God.

Mrs. W. W. Allen of Laropapas is visiting her son, H. B. Allen.

Judge Ellis Douthit has returned to Fort Worth after a business visit here of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Wright are visiting at Fort Worth and attended the Fat Stock Show and Track Meet Saturday.

Mrs. Buckner Barry of Abilene has been spending the past several days with her father G. H. Bunton, who is improving from his illness.

Mrs. Roe Bradford is convalescing nicely following a serious operation at Temple about ten days ago. Mr. Bradford is still at Temple with her.

Mrs. T. C. Eakin will be hostess at a quilting party Wednesday afternoon when the Circles C and B will quilt out one quilt, the proceeds to go to their church fund.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Poffenbach, son Frederick and Miss Florence Poffenbach motored to Big Spring Saturday to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rix and family.

Mrs. C. B. Robinson is scheduled as hostess Monday afternoon at a meeting of the Episcopal Auxiliary.

The Order of the Eastern Star will hold their regular meeting Tuesday evening at Masonic Temple. All members and visiting members invited to be present.

Mrs. L. S. Focht and daughter Mrs. Lother Watson and daughter are visiting her mother Mrs. T. L. Arnold at Dallas for the week end.

Leslie Webster and Buddy Roy have returned from Fort Worth where they attended the Fat Stock Show.

Mrs. T. B. Stone is recovering from a recent illness.

A big vocabulary doesn't help much if you can't say no.

Nearly all the "lucky" men, however, have corns on their hands.

CURLEE CUT CLOTHES

at Whitten's Shop

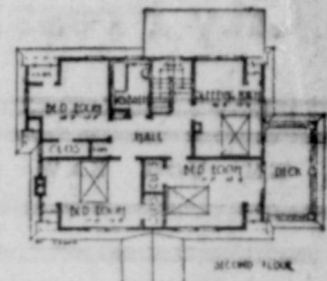

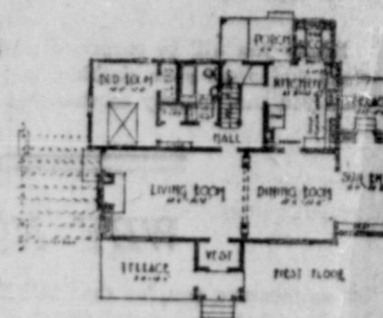

The Dutch Colonial House is always popular. In this style of house the eaves are usually close to the ground. The cornice line aids in lowering the appearance of the house and gives it that cozy, low appearance which characterizes the cottages of that period.

Note the proportions of the dormers, which give the second floor nearly as much space as the first.

The green shutters and lattice work at the entrance help to accentuate the style.

The house is admirably laid out for a large family. The kitchen is light and well ventilated with sink and cupboards on the outside wall, with entrance to rear, hall and basement. For a house facing south this is an ideal arrangement as the sun room, kitchen and dining room admit the morning sun when it is most needed.

The second floor contains three large bedrooms, bath and sleeping porch. The basement is full size of the house. Closets are provided for all sleeping rooms.

After five years of vicarious and not entirely successful warfare with the law-breakers of the coasts, the government has decided to stake everything on one big campaign.

The offensive will be dual in character:

1—Every material weapon at the command of the coast guard will be thrown into action—speedy boats, destroyers, machine guns, cannon, airplanes and radio.

2—Diplomacy will be resorted to simultaneously to enlist the support of the foreign governments whose flags the rum runners fly "to stab them in the back."

For months this winter the Coast Guard has been assembling its material and training its personnel, in preparation for the crucial effort when summer opens. The 20 destroyers obtained from the Navy have been reconditioned at the Philadelphia Navy Yard and are tugging at their anchor chains to get way and into action. Some 300-odd small speed boats are ready to ferret up and down the coast line, in sloughs and swamps, estuaries and islands, to hunt out the land bases of the booze runners.

Thousands of men have been enlisted and scores of new officers have been trained in the special college founded by the Coast Guard to man these special craft. Guard officials say the finest type of men have offered themselves for the adventurous service.

The intelligence service of the Coast Guard has been active gathering information about the "enemy". This is a triple armed service. One arm stretches into foreign ports the world over; another deals only with operations of the fleet on the seas; still another dogs the tracks of the rum smugglers ashore.

Consuls Get Busy

American consuls, who play an important part in the first arm have been turning in reports on ships sailing ports in their jurisdiction with cargoes of liquor for destinations near the United States, be they West Indies, Canada or Mexico. The State Department has put these reports in the hands of the Justice Department, which in turn has notified both the Coast Guard and its own secret agents who compose the other arms of the intelligence or secret service.

Warned in advance that certain ships may turn up along rum row, the Coast Guard is on the alert for them.

Guardsmen have studied the habits and practices of the veteran smugglers on rum row for a long time and know how they work, what weapons they use and what they have "up their sleeves." The rum runners may not know it, but for months past the Coast Guard has been on to their supposedly intricate and secret radio codes and has been decoding their intercepted dispatches without trouble. This source has given much valuable data about plans and movements.

Airplanes and submarines are listed among the methods of transportation which the lawless booze runners may take to this summer and with which the Guard is prepared to cope. Airplanes stationed at regular bases along the coast ready to respond like firemen to calls from guardsmen out on the front lines when suspicious planes are sighted are on the cards. Airplanes equally will be used to detect submarines as during the war.

Moveable Base

Direction of the actual offense will be in the hands of a mobile high command which probably will include Admiral Billard, commandant of the guard. This moveable headquarters will take up its base, now in New York, now in Jersey, again in Massachusetts, or perhaps in the Carolinas or Florida. Like Marshal Foch, the high command intends to deal the rum forces smashing hammer-strokes gradually beating them down and breaking them up, hitting now here, now there.

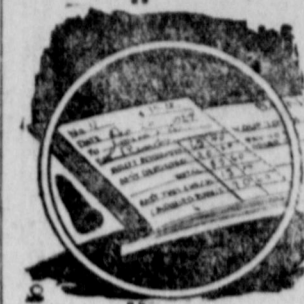

The greater part of this ware-fare nationally will be toward the shore—at least within the 12-mile limit established by the recent series of rum treaties negotiated with many foreign maritime powers. Beyond this zone little can be done by the guard for the time being, but its policy in this zone will never be to let a rum runner get to shore.

Outside the 12-mile limit the State Department will take up the drive. In formal notes to maritime government whose flags have been observed waving over the ramshackle and seedy looking scows that ply in the rum trade, this government will ask that they take steps to persuade their citizens from conspiring to break the laws of the United States.

"Seize Every Rum Ship!"

While making this maneuver with a smile on its face, the United States will be gripping its fist to deal another blow at the rum fleet if it fails. It is the intention of the government if for any reason, its request falls on deaf ears, to order the Guard into a campaign of "frightfulness" along Rum Row and let international courts of law and claims smooth out the difficulties the ensue.

FOR The AUTOIST

Promising Outlook For Automobile Industry In This Section This Year

BUICK BUSINESS STRONG Increase in Sales Shows Public Wants Old Established Cars.

In spite of talk of a general depression in business and especially in the sale of automobiles, it will be interesting to know that those companies that have become established over a period of years have not been affected to the extent that one might suppose. declares Carl Ragland, of the Western Motor Co., local Buick distributors. "The facts of the case are that those companies that are the recognized leaders have enjoyed an increase in business during the past year as evidenced by the delivery of Buick cars into the hands of owners during 1924, compared with deliveries during the two previous years.

"For instance, from July 1, to December 1, 1922, there were over 60,000 new Buick automobiles delivered to owners. During the corresponding period of 1923 there were over 75,000 new Buick cars delivered to owners, and during the same period in 1924 the deliveries of new Buick cars to owners numbered over 85,000. These figures show a steady increase in Buick business each year, and accounts for the Buick Motor Co. continuing for the seventh consecutive year being awarded first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows held at New York and Chicago, and also shows a healthy growth of business which could not help but keep Buick in its enviable position of the leader in the industry.

"These facts may seem surprising, and they are, but when one considers the fact that Buick has been a popular car for more than 20 years and is recognized as a product that represents the latest advancement in body design and mechanical construction it will be readily realized that the number of Buicks sold and in use should be in excess of any other. Another reason for Buick's steady and continuous growth is the increasing realization on the part of the buying public that it pays to buy a car of nationwide reputation for value which has been of long standing."

PLAN AUTO STUNTS

Flivver Round-Up to Climax Spring Festival March 28.

One of the features of the Sweetwater Spring Festival, March 21-28, will be the auto round-up on Saturday, the closing day of the affair, when a long list of stunts will be staged for all cars and their drivers.

Suitable prizes will be awarded in the various events planned, according to J. C. Moore, of the Donald McGregor Co. who with the Nolan County Fair association is sponsoring the festival. Awards will be given it was stated, to drivers of the oldest Ford, the most "stripped" car coming the longest distance to the Festival and the car carrying the largest load of passengers into the Fair grounds in north Sweetwater. Prizes will also be given to the oldest auto driver and the youngest.

The streets around the square will be converted into a "race track" Moore stated, and barrel races, "slow" races and other events will be staged up town.

Tour Chicago.

The Yellow Motor Coach Company, Chicago, has recently completed for the Gray line tours a number of sight-seeing motor coaches. In which three fourths of the total roof area is composed of transparent wire-glass set into a metal framework. As these coaches are used purely for sight-seeing purposes, the visitor to the larger centers of interest is able to get a view of the metropolitan architectural "Grand Canyons" without any obstruction of the sight.

FOIL AUTO THIEVES

Private Identification for Every Car Is Urged—Helps Officers

A big problem in combating automobile thieves is describing the car that is stolen and identifying the car in case it is recovered, according to officers, and in connection with this, automobile manufacturers have urged that every car owner put private marks of some sort in obscure places over the car.

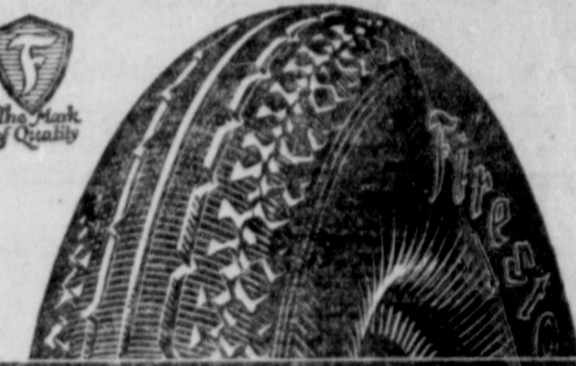

The ease with which auto thieves alter engine numbers, serial numbers, and other standard identifications make it necessary for some hidden and unique mark about the car to be made by which the owner may positively identify it.

In addition, every auto owner should have written down, his highway numbers, serial number, engine number, of his car, and serial numbers of his tires. The average car owner cannot say off hand just what the license numbers are, it is stated. A record of all numbers on the car, in addition to some secret identification mark will greatly aid authorities to trace the stolen cars and bring the thieves to justice.

Dabney Motor Co. to C. C. Porter, city, Ford truck.

In addition to the new cars sold during the week, a total of 12 used cars were registered with the tax collector.

The following item appeared in a metropolitan newspaper recently: "Rastus Johnson accidentally drove his car into the parade of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. He would have been 39 years old next September."

RHYMES OF THE ROAD

By Dudley Glass.

My Outcast.
My old car looked like a wreck; its body bent and battered;
At every mile a quart or so of bolts and nuts it scattered.
Its rings were loose, its bearings gone its differential busted,
Ignition always on the bum, its nickel plate all rusted.
The dealers laughed at thoughts of trades; they made me pretty sore.
And then I found a purchaser—that high school boy next door.
I did not want to cheat the lad; I told him to beware,
But he had saved up twenty bucks he said that he could spare.
"Perhaps 'twill teach him," I remarked, "to save his hard-earned jack,
And when he's learned his lesson well I'll give the money back."
He dragged the wreck into his yard and called in all his chums.
That Thompson boy, the alley gang, and various noisy bums.
Each afternoon when school was out they'd gather round that wreck.
"And tinker 'til they were immersed in grease up to the neck."
They took the pieces all apart, and it looked doubtful whether
The man who'd built that ancient car could put it back together.
They foraged round for missing parts; the junk yards furnished many.
While others seemed to turn up in a manner most uncanny.
They borrowed every tool in town; they traded here and there;
In some mysterious way they found four tires and a spare.
And then one day that high school boy declared the job complete,
And climbed into the seat, and said, "Let's try her on the street."
I own a brand new roadster now, a handsome shining toy,
But though she cost two thousand bucks she gives me little joy.
For every time I take a drive, that genius from next door
Goes past me, burning up the hill at sixty miles or more.
And, worst of all, when I broke down, what was it towed me in?
My outcast, driven by the lad whom I had feared I'd skin!
An Eastern tourist drove into an exclusive Winter resort filling station and received a shock when told the price of gasoline.
"Say," he remarked, "is there a constitutional amendment prohibiting that too?"
A wise wife occasionally overlooks a missing button to let her husband enjoy temporary martyrdom.

SEEK DODGE TROPHY

H. B. Allen, Heads Contingent Striving for Honors at Miami.

Loyalty to the memory of a name has moved a group of business men from every section of the country to take an unusual part in the Annual Southern boat race meeting to be held in Miami, Fla., during the week of March 15. The name is that of the late Horace E. Dodge, automobile manufacturer and pioneer in boat racing. The business men are Dodge Brothers Dealers, some 30 in number, headed by H. B. Allen, of Sweetwater, Texas.

Horace E. Dodge, Jr., president of the Horace E. Dodge Boat Works, conceived the idea from which the present plan developed. As a memorial to his father, he has put up a magnificent trophy to the winner of a special race of new and unique conditions to be run during the Miami meeting.

The race will be under the rules of the American Power Boat Association and will be open to boats of all sizes and description, large and small boats to have an equal chance. This is made possible by regulations permitting engine power in proportion to the size of the boat. The race will be run in short heats, continuing until one boat has won four.

The Dodge Memorial Trophy is a silver model of a ship of the time of Columbus designed and now being completed by Henry B. Culver of New York. Authorities declare the trophy to be one of the most magnificent ever designed.

While young Horace E. Dodge is one of the most enthusiastic of all boat racers, he refused pointedly to compete for his own trophy the first year. H. B. Allen, Sweetwater, Texas, dealer for Dodge Brothers and for many years a friend of the Dodge families, determined that a Dodge boat should be represented in the race, nevertheless. Accordingly he began quiet preparations which have now terminated in the announcement that 30 Dodge Brothers dealers, from cities in nearly every part of the country, have had a special boat built by the Dodge Boat Works and entered it in the race for the Memorial Trophy.

The Grease Hound Yowl

(To the tune of "Ain't Gonna Rain No More.")

You may have heard of dum wits,
But the dumbest I recall,
Is the Boob that saves on greasing,
He's the dumbest of them all.

It ain't gonna run no more,
It ain't gonna run no more,
The engine's shot, it's gone to pot,
It ain't gonna run no more.

His car has lots of water,
He feeds it up on gas,
But when it comes to oil or grease
My, but he's an Ass.

It ain't gonna run no more,
It ain't gonna run no more,
The rear end's weak, just hear it squeak,
It ain't gonna run no more.

The chassis is encrusted,
With dirt and muck and grime,
To run a car in that shape,
Is a cruel and heartless crime.

It ain't gonna run no more,
It ain't gonna run no more,
Don't hit on high, transmission's dry,
It ain't gonna run no more.

The Animal Society
Should get this lowly bloke,
And make of him a watch-word
For other careless folk.

It ain't gonna run no more,
It ain't gonna run no more,
Let her rip, she's got the pip,
It ain't gonna run no more.

His car has gone to pieces
It lasted just a year,
Stranger, as you pass this way,
Just shed a friendly tear.

Oh, it ain't gonna run no more,
It ain't gonna run no more,
The old car sunk, a mess of junk,
It ain't gonna run no more.

Why Spend A Dollar To Save Two Cents!

Any woman who'd spend a dollar to save two cents on some household article would be a poor manager.

Yet many women who do the family washing each week are in the same position. Not only is the cost of washing materials and fuel considerable, the toll on their health and looks is of deep importance.

In saving a little by doing the washing a woman is spending many dollars' worth of her charm and vitality. No woman can afford to do this. Dollars are replaceable; attractiveness and energy never are.

A telephone call to us stops this drain, for our service washes and rinses everything at a low cost, and returns the bundle with the contents damp and clean, or finished.

CARTER HARDWARE

CHEVROLET

In the spring an automobile owner's fancy turns to cleaning up the old bus. During the remainder of the year the color of the car may be unrecognizable but somehow the bright sunshine and the clean breezes form a kind of tonic that gets into an automobile owner's blood and urges him to clean up the car, if for no other reason than to be in harmony with the spirit of the season.

The results of such manual labor are often real gratifying; in fact, inspire a kind of pride of ownership which may have palled during the year. But if the car chances to be a couple of years old, there are some tell-tale marks that age reveal.

It was because of the fact that rain and sunshine will form rust on most metals that the engineers of the Chevrolet Motor Company set to work to find a kind of metal that would not rust.

The results of their experiments along this line are embodied in the new Chevrolet—in an airplane metal radiator shell, which is non-rusting because of the composition of the metal used and has all the beauty of nickel. Like the Duco finish on this car, this radiator shell actually improves in lustre with rubbing and age.

There is no possibility of rubbing through the coating because the whole shell is made of the same material.

TODAY the driver of a motor car who figures in an accident has the handicap of public disapproval from the start. Juries that once dealt in hundreds now award verdicts of thousands.

Extra Attractions Feature Week At Local Theaters "Promise Surprise"

SCOUTS ACTIVE
Nebraska City Scouts Run Town For Day—Have Lots of Fun
 NEBRASKA CITY, March 14.—Acting as scouts and firemen, Nebraska City Boy Scouts "assumed control of the city" for a day.
 Their first official act was to hoist the Stars and Stripes to the city flag pole. They saluted, then went to their duties.

 The fire alarm screamed. Scout fireman rushed to the blazing pile of oil-soaked green lumber. Manning a truck and hose the boys saved the lumber while Nebraska City cheered.
 "The fire was of incendiary origin" Scout Chief Rex Werner reported. (It had been kindled for the purpose. Weighty duties continued. Scout

But the rest of Nebraska City decided the boys had done a good job of traffic cops spotted a speeder, hauled him into police court and through their spokesman informed Judge Howard King the man was "driving from thirty to forty miles an hour at great risk of life and limb to pedestrians."
 Judge King—the regular magistrate—gave the offender choice of a $1 fine or one day in jail. He went to jail protesting "this business of letting kids run the town is all bunk."

With Bebe Daniels in "Miss Bluebeard" at the Palace theater and "The Fighting American" at the Lyric the first of the week, the famous "Surprise Show" at the Queen later in the week with "Sundown" the last of the week at the Palace, local theater goers are promised an excellent array of attractions.

Talented folks of this section are going to be given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability, in connection with the series of "Amateur Nights" announced by the R and R management beginning on Friday, April 3.

It might be said in passing that Henry Rogers is a bit superstitious about Fridays especially when they happen to fall on the thirteenth. For on that date he had the film "Along Came Ruth" scheduled for showing at the Palace. Along came Friday but "Ruth" didn't live up to the name.

After the Western Union and Southwestern Bell Telephone Companies had gathered in some extra business it developed that the Dallas Film Exchange had missed a cog.

R & R folks aren't putting out much about the "Surprise Show" that they have got scheduled at the R & R Queen this week. It's called the "Last Man on Earth". Whether they've really got something worth while or whether they are just leading folks on to think they have remains to be seen. Henry Rogers says he really has got some good films on those days at the Palace and Lyric but isn't so sure about "The Last Man". He says its something they sent out from Dallas—something they had a big argument about.

LYRIC
 Pat O'Malley, who plays the juvenile lead in "The Fighting American" Universal Jewel production to be shown at the Lyric Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, claims distinction because he is one of the very few actors given leading parts who has emerged from a fight a sadly defeated battler.

The story is about a youth who is far more like his rough-and-ready grandfather once a power in the trans pacific shipping business. The youth's father who desires that his son become a "cultured gentleman" much to the grandfather's disgust. The son is expelled from college and disowned by his father.

Stowing away on a China-bound vessel, the youth follows the girl he loves but from whom he has become estranged. In China the girl becomes a prisoner of the leaders of a revolution and with the aid of a general in the Chinese army, a white man whom the youth had met in the United States and rescued from a policeman who had arrested him as a drunken tramp, rescues her after a thrilling fight between two airplanes.

PALACE
 Bebe Daniels comes to the Palace Theater on Monday as the star in the Paramount picture, "Miss Bluebeard" directed by Frank Tuttle—a picturization of the Broadway stage play "Little Miss Bluebeard", by Avery Hopwood.

The screen play, by Townsend Martin, deals with a series of matrimonial adventures and gives Miss Daniels a fine opportunity to display her talents as a comedienne.

Bebe's role in the picture is one of a French actress. She goes to London on a holiday and, through a series of most amusing incidents enroute, she arrives there the wife of two men.

This piquant situation and the complications that follow are said to provide the volatile Bebe with an excellent opportunity for her comedy talent. The fun, while at times clean and wholesome, is declared to be practically continuous.

When all nations are completely converted to the world court idea, there will be little need of it.

B. & O. CENTENNIAL
 BALTIMORE, Md. March 14.—The B. & O. Railroad is planning a big centennial celebration on February 28, 1927. Charles Carroll of Carrollton then the last survivor of the signers of the Declaration of Independence participated in the laying of the "first stone" making the construction of the railroad on July 4, 1828. The charter had been granted in February, 1827, so that is regarded as the real date of the establishment of the railway.
 It may have been virtue that prevented petting parties in the old days, or it may have been whiskers.

SEPARATE PULPITS
Man and Wife Fill Separate Pulpits at Maine Town

EASTPORT, Me. March 18.—The Rev. T. S. Winslade and his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Winslade, of Eastport enjoy the unique distinction of filling separate pastorates in different denominations in the same city. While Rev. Winslade fills his regular pulpit at the Washington street Baptist church, Mrs. Winslade performs an equal service in the Central Congregational Church on Middle Street. But Mrs. Winslade goes the Reverend husband one better. She still conducts a Sunday school in the Baptist church.

COLLEGE MEN INCREASING

CHICAGO, March 14.—Universities and colleges in the United States have an 8.5 per cent larger registration this year that for the previous scholastic year, according to the annual report of President Jesse Grant Chapline of La Salle Extension University of Chicago, made public here. Most important feature of the situation is the great increase in extension and part time education, President Chapline said.

A sordid penny-pincher is especially annoying on those occasions when you must borrow money from him.

Full of Thrills -- Fight -- Laughter!

The 'Fighting American'

With
PAT O'MALLEY
 and
MARY ASTOR

From the Laemmle $1,000 Prize Winning Story by William E. Oliver

"The Fighting American"—first in war, first in peace—and first in the heart of his lady-love!

Action and adventure; love and laughter; fights and flights; daring and disaster; gurgles and gasps; fun and frolic.

A smashing, crashing, laughing, gasping, two-fisted fighting film.

Love laughs at locksmiths and villains. See "The Fighting American" and see HOW.

A handsome, red-blooded, two-fisted Fighting American accepts a challenge and travels half way 'round the world to keep his word to his lady love. Was she worth the trip? Oh, boy!

He was a villain without a conscience, a man without a soul, a crafty, scheming ev. But he got it all knocked out of him in his rip-snorting tussle with the Fighting American.

R AND R QUEEN

Wednesday and Thursday, March 18th-19th

The Two R's had a big argument over this picture. One of them said it was the kind of picture folks wanted to see and that the Queen would not be big enough to hold 'em all. The other said "applesauce" or words to that effect. To settle the argument, the film will be shown at the Queen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The name of the film is

The Last Man On Earth

Children under 16 won't be admitted unless parent or guardian is along too. What kind of a film is it? Well, just watch the Reporter tomorrow and we'll tell you some more about it. However, it is just what the name implies. There never was another picture like this one and we doubt very seriously if there will ever be another.

Be among those present. We want you to write us at Dallas just what you think. If you like this picture, say so. If you don't, we want you to say so. Address R & R Theatre Enterprises, 309 South Harwood, Dallas, Texas.

This film has played to capacity houses wherever shown. Read Tomorrow's Reporter!

Too Many Husbands

Bebe Daniels

IN

"Miss Bluebeard"

One husband plus another husband makes one husband too many. And that makes "Miss Bluebeard" one long hilarious tangle.

She married one on purpose and the other accidentally—or maybe they were both accidents. Anyway if you don't get a bushel of laughs out of the amusing complications, it will be because there is something decidedly out of order with your laughing apparatus. We dare you to attend without laughing.
